Sun Seekers Tanning Salon To Hold Open House

Jessica Fladvid
Staff Writer/Photographer

A new way to keep your tan all year long has opened it's doors in Kewaskum. Lois Bahr opened Sun Seekers, LLC, located at 1040 Fond du Lac Ave, which shares a building with the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic. After considering the purchase of a turnkey operation, the growing community and pleasant location helped Bahr decide to open her own tanning salon in Kewaskum.

Bahr has lived in the township of Barton with her husband, Butch, for the past 17 years, so she is familiar with the Kewaskum area. She also has family and friends living in Kewaskum and the surrounding area. Bahr had 15 years of retail management experience, and was a logistic coordinator for a manufacturing company before opening the salon.

The atmosphere of Sun Seekers is delightful and encouraging to those seeking some color despite the harsh Wisconsin winter. Immediately when you walk in, you get the feeling of being on a tropical island, enhanced by the murals painted on the walls and the music floating through the air. Jami Risse of Designer's Instinct in Random Lake helped Bahr create the desired atmosphere with spectacular murals covering the walls in the entrance, hallways, and tanning rooms of Sun Seekers. Songs such as Jimmy Buffet's "Cheeseburger in Paradise" create the perfect mood.

"I believe tanning is about people," Bahr said. "Customers tan indoors to enhance their appearance quickly and effortlessly. A

PEOPLE NEWS

Martin Principal Nominee To U.S. Naval Academy

Congressman F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr., (R-Menomonee Falls) announced recently that Lanaya Martin, daughter of Larry and Louise Martin, of Kewaskum has been named his principal nominee to the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, MD. Lanaya was chosen for her outstanding academic record, diverse list of extra-curricular activities, and personal commitment to her country. She is currently a senior at Brookfield Academy where she is active in many sports, including cross country, track and field hockey as well as being involved in many extra curricular activities and organizations.

In addition to her principal nomination to the Naval Academy, Lanaya also received a nomination as a competing alternate to the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, CO.

The process for obtaining a nomination is highly competitive and the nominees were chosen from an impressive group of candidates from throughout the Ninth Congressional District. Each applicant went through a rigorous application and interview process by an Academy Selection Committee composed of community leaders from the Ninth District. Being chosen as the principal nominee to the United States Naval Academy means that if Lanaya fulfills all of the Academy's requirements, she will be offered an appointment to attend the U.S. Naval Academy in 2003.

Congressman Sensenbrenner will begin accepting applications for nominations to any of the U.S. Service Academies for entrance in 2004 this spring. Inquiries can be made to the Congressman's District Office in Brookfield.

LeMahieu Named To Four Committees

State Representative-elect Daniel LeMahieu, R-Oostburg, has been named to four Assembly committees. The committees were announced recently at the state Capitol by Representative John Gard, R-Peshtigo, incoming Assembly Speaker.

LeMahieu will serve on Urban and Local Affairs, Small Business, Rural Development and Aging and Long Term Care. He will serve as Vice-Chairman of the Urban and Local Affairs Committee.

The Urban and Local Affairs Committee deals with issues such as residency requirements, the scope of local government authority, annexation laws and the state-local government relationship. "I am excited to be part of that committee," LeMahieu said. "The relationship between state and local governments will be an important discussion which could have profound effects on local budgets and how local services are provided and funded in the future. I will be looking for input from local public officials. Having their concerns heard in Madison is critical to long term solutions."

The Committee on Rural Development deals with legislation promoting development of Wisconsin's rural economy. The Small Business Committee deals with issues relating to small business development and regulation.

Senior health care measures are the main focus of the committee on Aging and Long Term Care. Areas will include nursing homes, Senior Care, Family Care, the community options program and other long term care issues. "This is another area of concern in Wisconsin," said LeMahieu. "It is going to be hard dealing with these issues at a time when the dollars are so tight in Madison."

LeMahieu assumed his duties in the State Assembly after he was inaugurated on January 6. LeMahieu represents the 59th Assembly

District which is composed of parts of Washington, Fond du Lac, Dodge, Ozaukee and Sheboygan Counties.

Democratic Party To Hold Meeting Jan. 16

The Democratic Party of Washington County will hold its next meeting at The Threshold at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 16. Included in the meeting will be discussions of the duties and restrictions on poll watches as well as the formation of two new committees, one on membership and one for organizing elections campaign activities.

THE PEOPLE OF THE VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM
WISCONSIN

PROCLAMATION OF APPRECIATION is presented to

 Michael Neumann ***

In grateful recognition of your many hours of faithful, efficient and dedicated public service rendered to the Kewaskum Area and Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin.

The Village of Kewaskum is proud indeed of its employees and citizens who have contributed, in no small means, to the enhancement to the fair name of the Village of Kewaskum. Successive Village Boards appreciate the job you have done as the lead person in the cleaning, identifying and marking of the "Nature Trail" within the Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park for the Village of Kewaskum.

They also have realized the extra effort given to the Village over the last several months. Progress in the recreational area is predicated, for the most part, upon loyalty and dedication of the volunteers and their ability to carry out faithfully and effectively the acts of being a leader and for the youth.

WE, THEREFORE, on behalf of the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, issue this PROCLAMATION, in appreciation of your efforts as Leader of Kewaskum Youth and honorable record of service with this Community as an Ambassador of Goodwill. The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin look forward to working with you in the future and commend you on your efforts to receive your eagle Scout Badge.

BE IT FURTHER PROCLAIMED, that January 10, 2003 be declared Mike Neumann Day within the Village of Kewaskum and Area.

As I See It

By Rochelle Pennington

What do you See?

The story has been retold countless times in countless ways over the last many centuries. It happened like this:

A traveler approached a great, walled city. Before entering its gates, he stopped to talk with an old man seated beneath a tree.

"What are the people like in this city?" asked the traveler.

"How were the people from where you came?" wondered the old man.

What you see reflects your thinking, and your thinking but reflects your choice of what you want to see.

-A Course in Miracles

"A terrible lot," grumbled the traveler. "Mean, miserable, and detestable in all respects."

"You will find them here the same," responded the old man.

A second traveler soon happened by. He, too, was on his way to the great city and asked the old man about the people he would soon meet there.

We see things not as they are, but as we are.

-Anais Nin

The old man repeated the question he had asked the first traveler: "How were the people from where you came?"

To this the traveler responded, "They were fine people. Generous, compassionate, and kind."

"You will find them here the same," responded the wise, old man.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

On December 16, 2002, it was stated how Kraft, Procter & Gamble and Sara Lee are cheating South American farmers on the production of coffee beans. They are paying them 15 to 25 cents per pound, which is substantially less than the world market price of 50 cents per pound.

This is nothing new - they have been doing this to the American farmers for years. Dairy farmers are now receiving 1977 milk prices. Hog and cattle farmers are not fairing much better. The consumer is being taken on both ends - paying high prices for food and paying higher taxes because huge farmers and corporations are given subsidies while smaller efficient farms are given much, much less. The people of South America will have their land but in this country, the farmers are taking the easy way out by selling their land to speculators. We are losing two acres of prime farm land per minute in the country and are importing food by the shiploads which includes dairy protein powder and cheese. We are bringing hogs and cattle across both the Canadian and Mexican borders, and they will call this supply and demand which is held over American farmer's heads.

American farmers are being exploited along with the South American countries, and if we don't wake up soon, our American farmers will disappear from the scene. Our farmland in the Town of Wayne is being destroyed very rapidly and attitudes shown to me by some of the city folk who have moved out here is a bit unfair. I don't have to be sworn at and flipped off and have garbage thrown all over the place. The more people who move out here, the danger of a culture clash looms higher.

IN MEMORY

In memory of JEFF SABISH, who passed away three years ago, Jan. 8, 2000:

I will lend you, for a little time
A child of mine, He said
For you to love while he lives,
And mourn for when he's dead.
It may be six or seven years,
Or twenty-two or three,
But will you, till I call him back,
Take care of him for Me?
He'll bring his charms to gladden you,
And should his stay be brief;
You'll have his lovely memories,
As solace for your grief.
I cannot promise he will stay,
Since all from earth return;
But there are lessons taught down there,
I want this child to learn.
I've looked the wide world over

In search for teachers true,
And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes,
I have selected you.
Now will you give him all your love,
Nor think the labor vain,
Nor hate Me when I come
To take him back again?
I fancied that I heard them say,
"Dear Lord, Thy will be done!"
For all the joys Thy child shall bring,
The risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter him with tenderness,
We'll love him while we may,
And for the happiness we've known,
Forever grateful stay.
But should the angels call for him
Much sooner than we've planned;
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes,

And try to understand.

Wayne Crusaders 4-H News

Submitted by:
Jill Schmitt
Club Reporter

Our meeting was called to order at 6:30 p.m. at Wayne Elementary School. The 4-H and American pledges were led by Zach Janz and Ben Derge. Roll call was taken. Cindy Dornacker gave the secretary's report which was accepted. Allison Janz filled in for John Hawig, and presented the treasurer's report which was also accepted.

The club has a float in the West Bend and Kewaskum Christmas parades. The float placed second ($250) in West Bend. A tree was decorated for the competition in Kewaskum. We tied for second place ($25). Diane Banaszak received a letter from the American Cancer Society congratulating us on our achievement in the West Bend parade.

Donations for charities were brought to the meeting. Project adds have to be turned in by March 15, and drops by January 15. Literature was also handed out at the meeting.

The Old County Settlers Historical Society wants our club to put up a display at Wayne Elementary School on February 16. Music and Drama entries are due in January. The club is thinking about sponsoring a roller skating activity at Skate Country. A new project has been created. Sue Koeferl will lead a scrapbooking project.

We had our Christmas party after the meeting. Santa made an appearance, and handed out candy to the kids. We also had subs, chips, cookies and soda. A good time was had by all.

The certificate of rabies vaccination must be presented to the collecting official before a dog license may be issued.

All dogs five (5) months of age or older require a license. The minimum license fee for neutered males or spayed females is $3.00, upon presentation of evidence attesting to the same, and $8.00 for the unneutered male or unsprayed female dog or one-half of these amounts if the dog became five (5) months of age after July 1 of the license year. The governing body of any town, village, or city may raise the minimum dog license tax. Any person who keeps or operates a kennel may apply for a kennel license. The fee is $35.00 for twelve (12) dogs or less and additional $3.00 for each dog in excess of twelve (12).

Dog licenses can be obtained from your local town, village or city treasurer or designee during the course of any given year. Dog owners should notify their treasurer if their dog is given away or has died, so that you will not be considered delinquent. An affidavit of death is available.

PENALTY

Every owner of a dog 5 months of age or older who fails to obtain a license by April 1 will be assessed a late fee of $5.00.

News From The Capitol

By Rep. Glenn Grothman

Survey Results Part Three

This is the final in a series of three columns of my 2002 questionnaire, which focused primarily on ways to deal with a then $2 billion dollar problem. It now may be a $4 billion deficit.

Governor Thompson originally proposed a new $5 million a year program to tell people not to smoke when the state began receiving money from the tobacco companies. A free spending legislature increased this to currently $20 million a year. I believe part of this pressure came from various non-profit and governmental and non-governmental organizations looking for money to increase their bureaucracies. Eighty-nine percent agree with Governor Thompson that $5 million a year is enough. Given that we had extensive anti-smoking programs in schools already, many national programs, articles and newspapers and advertisements for anti-smoking products, it seems to me that everybody already knows they are not supposed to smoke. I feel Governor Thompson's $5 million a year plan was even too generous. I introduced amendments to pare this program back in the budget adjustment bill, but they were defeated in a Republican working group.

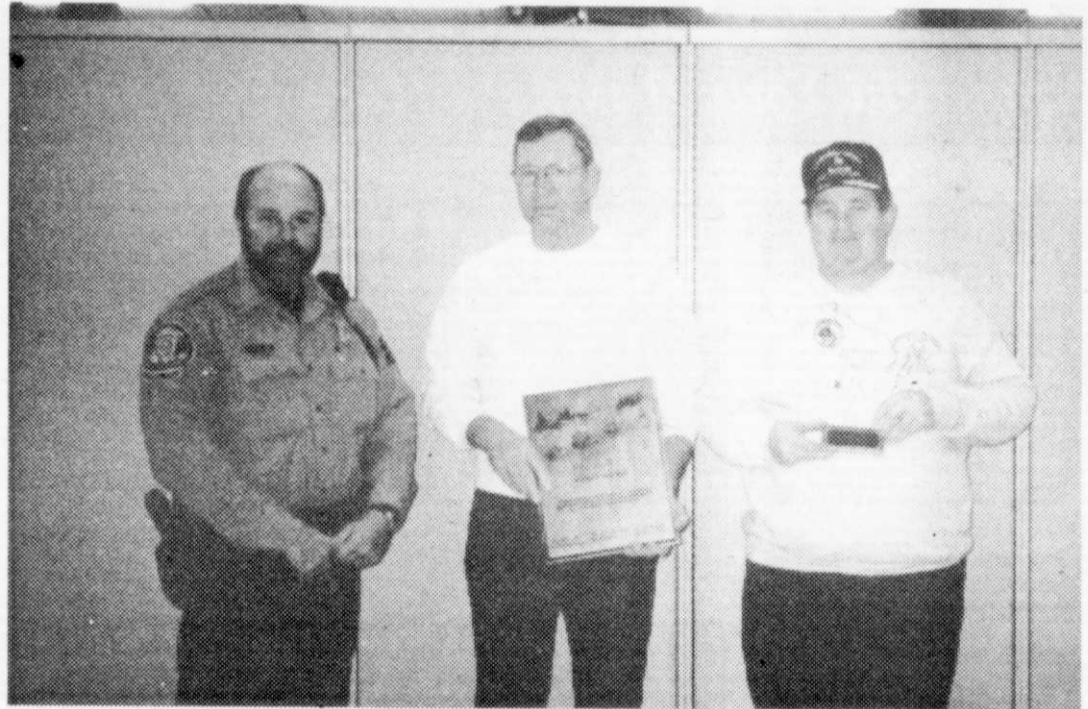

Many state employees pay no money towards their health insurance and the others pay a minimal amount. Ninety-one percent of you feel state employees should pay at least ten percent of their health insurance costs saving $39 million a year. I introduced an amendment to the Assembly version of the budget in 2001 to require at least a $10 a month payment. The State Assembly adopted this amendment, but in negotiations with Chuck Chvala and the State Senate, we reverted to current law.

Eighty-four percent of you believe the state should stop spending $700,000 per election helping pay for political ads. I tried to end this program but a Republican subgroup decided to keep it. Then a conference committee of Republican and Democratic leadership decided to increase this program to over $3 million a year. I asked Governor McCallum to veto this plan, but he did not. Fortunately, a federal judge ruled the plan unconstitutional.

During the 1990s the state was purchasing $22 million a year in new parkland. This was increased to $60 million a year in 2001. I felt this increase at a time of tight budgets was inappropriate. Only fourteen percent of you agreed we should have such a substantial increase. Forty-five percent of you wanted to leave things at $22 million a year. Forty percent wanted to stop buying new parkland.

Snowmobile Instructors Receive Awards

Local Snowmobile Safety Instructors received awards for their years of service. Conservation Warden Doug Bilgo, left, recently presented Dave Wilson, center, and Dale Prochnow, right, with Length of Service Plaques. Dave has been teaching for 20 years and Dale for 15 years with the Kewaskum Sno Chiefs Snowmobile Club. Volunteer instructors are presented awards for every five years of service. Dave has graduated 602 students since 1982 and Dale 524 students since 1984.

In policy matters, seventy-eight percent of you are opposed to a law allowing law enforcement to pull people over for not wearing a seatbelt. Half of you are in favor of a law similar to thirty-eight other states allowing people to carry a concealed weapon if they have training after a criminal background check. Seventy-five percent would like to ban affirmative action. Fifty-seven percent believe that video poker should be legal in taverns.

Ice Time

A good plan increases your chances of catching fish.

Hello friends,

This week's column is about ice fishing with tip-ups. I decided it was time to write about some of the techniques that work for me. Realizing that I would not come up with as many good ideas in my office as I would out on the ice, I put the majority of this story together while fishing.

Friday, December 27
High 38, Low 22

As usual, I have the challenge of putting lots of information into a small amount of space.

I'm in a canoe, paddling down the Wisconsin River. So far, this is not your typical ice fishing column. I recently heard about a hard-to-get-to backwater bay that held a healthy population of northern pike in the spring. I figured if there were jacks in the bay in May, they would be there in late December.

I brought a Coleman lantern along, figuring I would check out the walleye bite after dark.

For bait, I had purchased a half dozen extra large shiners, a half dozen mediums, and a couple scoops of fatheads. Big fish, not numbers, are always my goal.

To keep the $14 worth of bait alive, I use a Big Bubbles water tight air pump (about $30). Dead bait catches a lot less fish than live bait. The pump will give you peace of mind, can be used year round, and will pay for itself with use.

The bay I canoed today was shaped like a piece of pie with the mouth being about 70 yards wide and the bay maybe 150 yards in length, averaging about 6 feet deep. A strong south wind was blowing into the bay and disintegrating the 3-5 inches of ice I was calling home.

I put out three tip-ups, each baited with a six-inch shiner. So the shiner would not constantly trip the flag on the tip-up, I cut off each shiner's tail.

The following is probably the best tip in this week's column: Leave the steel leaders in your open water tackle box.

Four years ago, I learned first hand to use a quality monofilament leader in the 17-pound test class, or Spiderline Super Mono in 14-pound test for northern pike.

I was winter camping with my brother-in-law. After he had 12 flags to my one, I swallowed my pride and asked, "What am I doing wrong?"

The action of your minnow is a lot closer to normal. Give this tip a serious try, and you will leave the steel along until the open water season. The monofilament will also increase your chance of catching walleye which can be very shy of steel leaders.

Fighting a three- to 30-pound northern pike is where most ice adventurers lose their fish. Think about it: The fish you are fighting is swimming horizontally, below and away from you, and has no desire to be caught.

Remember the word smooth when you come to your tip-up, from your hook-set to the fight, and most importantly, turning your fish up the hole and then out of the water. If something can go wrong, it will. Especially for people who do not have their line tight when they set the hook, give the fish slack during the fight or try to horse the monster from below in too soon.

Remember, a rod and reel have a drag. Even with precision engineering on the rod, it is still easy to lose fish. When your flag trips, let your line blow down wind as you are retrieving it. Bring the fish in slow, but steady. Be ready for powerful runs which almost every fish over five pounds will make.

Your fingers are the drag, and you need to tire your potential trophy. Set the drag too tight, and the line is cut, too light and the fish shakes the hook loose.

Now that you have turned your gator up the hole, she's in the 10-pound range and mad as heck. Do not try to pull her weight clear of the water with the line. Use either a gaff or your hand just below the gill plate to increase your chance of icing the fish.

She's a dandy. You're going to take her picture and let her go to fight another day. Leave your fingers out of her eye sockets and keep the ice time to a minimum.

Check your tip-ups frequently, dress in layers and put lots of hours on the ice. Fish big water or hard-to-get-to spots for your best chance at the Big Kahuna.

Today, I lost two fish over 10 pounds, caught an 11-pounder and a two-pounder. I canoed back to my truck in the dark and fed my family fresh y-boned northern fillet before we went to bed.

There is so much to write, but so little space to write it.

Be safe!

Indians Welcome the New Year With Win

By Kyle Darmody
Student Reporter

The Kewaskum boys varsity basketball team took an early 11-5 lead, Friday, January 3, and maintained that lead throughout the whole game to the 67-61 win against conference foe New Holstein.

"The game was close the whole way," Indian head coach Dave Nordeng said, "but we took an 11-5 lead and held it the whole game," he concluded. "We forced them into many missed shots and then we rebounded well," Nordeng said.

However it may have been the Indians free throw shooting that won them the game, as they finished the game 12/18 from the line in the fourth quarter, and 20/30 total for the game. While the Huskies shot a terrible 5/13 from the line on the game.

overall champions, one second place finish, two third place finishes, and one fourth place finish. The team dominated the tournament with their skills and endurance.

Congratulations to all of the Kewaskum wrestling team.

Leading the way for the Indians was once again Travis Kempf who snagged 18 rebounds while chipping in 15 points. Josh Timblin led the Indians in scoring with 19 points.

While Matt Hartmann provided the outside threat needed to spark plug the Indian offense and finished with 17 points on the night. As a team the Indians dominated the boards with 40 to New Holstein's 24.

The win comes at a good time for the Indians to regain momentum, after losing two games over the Christmas break at the Hortonville Holiday Tournament to Grafton in round one, and Hortonville in round two.

The Indians traveled to Slinger, Tuesday, January 7, before coming back home Friday, January 10 to face Sheboygan Falls.

In girls basketball action the Lady Indians went 1-1 at the Mayville Holiday Tournament the weekend following Christmas. The lady Indians traveled to New Holstein, Tuesday, January 7, before having to travel to Sheboygan Falls, Friday, January 10.
