Campbellsport, Kewaskum F.D. Respond to Shed Fire

Firefighters from Campbellsport begin work on extinguishing a fire in a shed at N1144 County Trunk V Friday. The Campbellsport Fire Department, with mutual aid from Kewaskum Fire Department, responded to the call. The property is owned by Alex Iloncaie. The fire started when burning garbage spread to the grass, and continued to storage buildings. There was moderate damage done to two of the storage buildings. The fire was contained within thirty minutes of when the fire departments arrived. Campbellsport Fire Chief Zuehlke asked that residents refrain from burning garbage in dry conditions, and if garbage is burnt to keep a close watch on the fire at all times.

Town of Auburn Purchases New Truck, Looks at 2003 Road Projects

By Kim Survis
 STAFF WRITER

ksurvis@kewaskumstatesman.com

On Monday the Town of Auburn Board met to discuss a number of topics. One of which included the installation of a roof over the recycling center door.

This would allow townspeople to use the recycling containers in bad weather without getting wet. There will be further discussion during the April meeting regarding the price and design of the roof.

The first item of new business was the Kewaskum School District referendum that will appear on the April ballot. Kieth Kriewaldt, principal of Kewaskum Elementary School, appeared on behalf of the School District to present the referendum and answer questions.

The second agenda item of the evening included an update given on the purchase of a new one ton Ford truck that was purchased from Ewald Ford, as well as, upgraded tires, a folding box, and a rubber flap, for a purchase price of $37,834.

Next addressed were the bridges that are in need of repair in the town. A motion to proceed was made and seconded for Fond du Lac County to repair the bridges for an estimated cost of $12,922.

There was a discussion regarding the resurfacing of the north side of Prospect Lane Road. A motion to proceed was made and seconded for the Fond du Lac highway department to blacktop the Prospect Lane Road for a price of $20,719.92.

In regard to the resurfacing of Auburn-Ashford Road, west of CTH V, the following estimates were given at approximately $87,000 for the whole road, and $64,000 for resurfacing west of the railroad. Supervisor Joe Minz will be attending a road maintenance meeting on March 14. There will be further discussion regarding the resurfacing of the Auburn-Ashford road during the April meeting.

Finally, the candidates running for Town Offices in the April Election were introduced. Bonnie Berg and Karen Ramthun are running for Town Clerk. Mike Nitschke, Henry Haack, and Merle Laatch (I) are running for Town Supervisor. Jeanne Gremminger is running for Town Treasurer. Howard Laubenstein (I) and Joe Minz are running for Town Chairman.

Bausch Recommended to Fill Rodenkirch's Supervisory Term

Brian Bausch

By Lisa Lickel
 TOWNS CORRESPONDENT
 llickel@kewaskumstatesman.com

Washington County's Executive Board will present to the full County Board on March 11 Brian Bausch to fill Daniel Rodenkirch's term as a County Supervisor for District 11.

Rodenkirch passed away in January. He was serving his fifth term and would have been eligible for reelection in April of 2004.

Bausch has been retired from the Washington County Sheriff's Department for about a year and a half. He returned to work part time for the department, a post which he will most likely resign from, if approved as Supervisor, to avoid any conflict of interest. He also works part time for the DNR and the Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse of Washington County.

"I've always had an interest in the supervisory job, and thought often that if it ever came open, I might like to try for it," said Bausch. "Of course, Dan Rodenkirch was an acquaintance since I've lived out here, and I thought he would continue in his office a long time yet. I spoke with him often about the work of county supervisors. It wasn't until I attended his funeral that I started to think about what would happen, and inquired of the County Board what arrangements would be made for his replacement."

"I don't have any large agenda. I do have concerns regarding urban sprawl, increasing school enrollment and see a lot of changes coming. Through my work for the DNR, I am interested in parks and the boat landings, and hope eventually to get on a committee to help with future planning."

Bausch also said that as a former deputy working with security at the County Courthouse, he was knowledgeable about security needs, and hoped to be involved at some point with the County's long-range goals regarding a new courthouse.

"It's time I gave back to the community," said Bausch, in his first time consideration of public elected office. He taught tech ed at Homestead High School for thirteen years before joining the Washington County Sheriff's Department. Bausch lives in the Town of Farmington and has three daughters: Sarah, who recently graduated from UW-Madison; Ann, a junior at UW-Whitewater; and Lauri, a senior at Kewaskum High School.

"I have been with the County and know the county - as a patrol person, you get to know the county. I've always had an interest in county government and have ample free time to give."

Project Update

Shown above is a view of the stream being constructed along USH 45.

As one drives southbound on USH 45 you have to wonder what they are doing. Project engineer Jeanne Marchant explains this week that crews from Hoffmann Construction are working on finishing the stream that is being run along the road project.

The object of the stream is so storm run off has a place to go and water from the flood plain does not obstruct the roadway.

Marchant, on a tour of the stream, points out the stream is actually in the ditch line and during peak times the stream will be flooded, but, because the stream is in a ditchline about five feet below the adjacent roadway flooding will not be a problem. About half of that aspect of the project is completed she says.

Crews will finish up the stream around the seventeenth. But, before the project is completed crews will install bio logs.

Bio-logs are typically used for managing the changes in stream flow velocity, for providing channels, for stabilizing shorelines, or as a natural planting medium for vegetation. In this project their main emphasis is to control erosion, ensure a secure stability of vegetation and protect shorelines against the destructive power of water.

The Bio-logs are made from 100% Coir fibre and bound by a coir fibre netting to get totally biodegradable material lasting from 4 to 10 years. Length is anywhere from two to six meters. diameter/weight per meter 15 Cm.

Also aiding in erosion control are the tops of trees that were removed when the stream was created and white landscaping stone. All the materials will be pinned down by crews from sub-contractor, Straight Arrow Construction, Cottage Grove, WI.

The next project to tackle will be the installation of a temporary road. More info on that will be in next week's edition.

Marchant can be reached at the field office daily or by calling 626-4804.

Town of Wayne Hosts Settlers' Banquet

Wayne Elementary School hosted 165 people for the Washington County Historical Society's 16th Annual Revival of the Old Settlers' Banquet Sunday, February 23. This year they featured the Town of Wayne. Each year the Washington County Historical Society celebrates the history of one of the thirteen townships. This year at Wayne Elementary participants were entertained by excellent exhibits, photographs, and personal histories portraying the Town of Wayne. The goal of the Old Settlers' Banquet each year is to inform Washington County citizens about the rich heritage of Washington County Townships. Next year the Old Settlers Banquet will feature the Town of West Bend.

Shown above is one of the many displays that were on hand at the banquet. Leander Herriges, Kieth Kriewaldt, Zona and Edgar Miske, Debbie and Jeff Guthahr and Ethan and Judy Etta served on the planning committee. Kewaskum's Bound for Heaven performed at the banquet and students from Wayne Elementary provided centerpieces for the tables.

Fishing Waning on Pond

The first day of March

came in like the gentlest of lambs. Local ice enthusiast, Andy Lickel reports that there was at least 28 inches of ice out there on Boltonville Pond. It seems the fishing is waning, though, as he had no nibbles that day.

As I drove through the community, I admired the fields which looked much as they did last fall. That got me wondering about how the lack of moisture may affect our spring planting and growing season. According to Alan Linnebur, the new Farm Management Educator for Washington County, there shouldn't be any cause for alarm at this point.

"It's been an unusually dry fall and winter," he said, "but a good spring would make it so that there shouldn't be any problems from a farm management standpoint."

He also motivates youth to see the worth and value of their lives and the lives of their friends. Guest Article

The following is a guest article written by Mr. Larry Ammel.

I was very happy to see that the Kewaskum School Board has decided to include the question of an auditorium on the April referendum. Now the tough work must begin, the project needs to be sold, sold to you, the taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District.

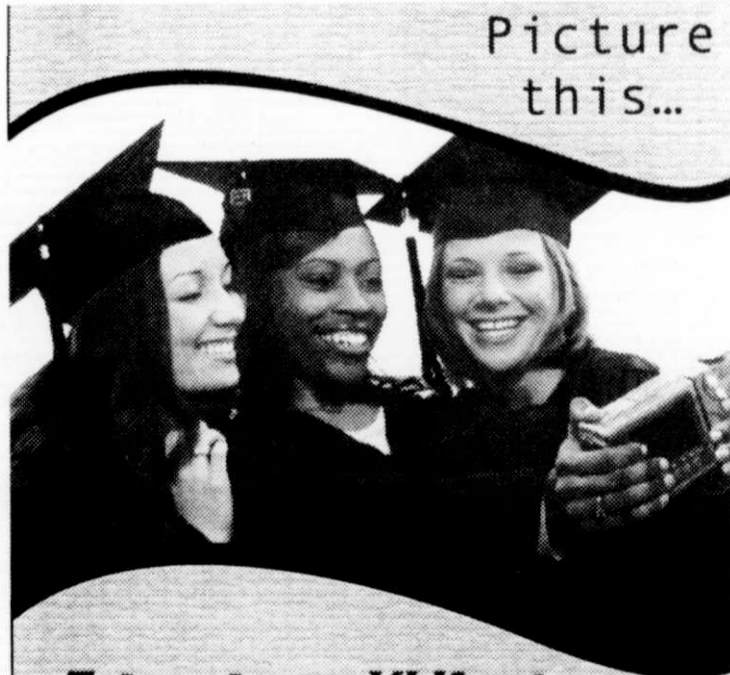

As I begin writing this article, I can't help but think of the Dave Letterman Show and his ten reasons why or why not. I know that many people in our district can easily find ten reasons (maybe many more) why not to build and I believe that they could be valid reasons. However, have you thought about how an auditorium could be used? Not only would it be wonderful for the musicals and concerts presently presented in a gymnasium, but what about our local grade school programs, concerts and plays by the middle school, large group instruction, or special programs for our students, or having groups from outside the community use this facility. There are many more uses for a performance facility and if we have one, we may find that it will be used so much more than we can imagine right now.

In a letter to the editor I asked, "When is a good time to build an auditorium?" At a recent meeting a taxpayer of our district stated that it should have been built in the 1950's. Just imagine how inexpensive it would have been then. In the 1970's Rose Hall was part of a referendum to be converted into an auditorium, but it didn't happen. In the 80's and 90's it was on referendums, but failed and not by great margins. It has failed only by the voter turnout, not because it wasn't wanted. I sincerely hope that this time the voters will turn out in response to the need of this referendum.

In closing I would like to give you six hundred seventy two reasons why to build. These large numbers of reasons are the students of Kewaskum High School. Of course one mustn't forget the students of KMS, FES, KES and WES as they grow and learn in a school district that proclaims "WHERE STUDENTS COME FIRST". Our students are our future, and they must be given the best education possible, and, believe it or not, facilities are a great part of that education.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of SHIRLEY BACKHAUS, who passed away 25 years ago, March 6, 1978:

There is a road called remembrance
Where thoughts and wishes meet;
We take that road in thought today to one we cannot meet;
You filled our life with happiness and you gave us all your love.

For the time we shared together, we thank the Lord above;

To your resting place we visit and place flowers there with care,
But only God knows the heartache.

When we turn and leave you there.

Charter Communications® Forecasts Sun Outages

Charter Communications, Inc. (Nasdaq: CHTR) a Wired World Company™ is approaching a critical time of year when satellite transmissions from space become interrupted by what is known in the telecommunications industry as Sun Outages. During the spring and autumn equinox the sun lines up directly behind the satellite in space and interferes with the signal being beamed to cable systems nationwide.

This phenomenon can cause television reception to appear sparkly and snowy to differing degrees, depending on your geographic location. This is a direct result of the energy of the sun overpowering the signal being sent from the satellite to the receivers on earth that feed the programming to the cable system.

Cable television reception will be affected by Sun Outages starting around February 25th and ending around March 9th. Interruptions and picture distortion caused by Sun Outages will mostly occur between 11:00 AM to 4:30 PM. Analog and Digital signals will both be affected by Sun Outages.

Analog television signals will exhibit sparkles and can progressively worsen to a completely scrambled picture. Digital television signals may demonstrate a tile affect and can progress to a frozen image or go totally black and digital audio will stop working for a few to several minutes.

Jeff Mohring, Operations Manager for Charter Communications admits, "This situation occurs twice a year and affects picture quality on cable systems around the country. We want all of our customers to be aware of the effects of Sun Outages and appreciate their patience through the next few weeks."

C-Sport Chamber Donates to FFA

Recently the Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce (CACC) presented a check for $1092 (half of the profits) of the Halloween Caper to the Campbellsport FFA. This year the Caper raised $2184-- a record profit for this event. News From The Capitol

By Mary Panzer
Wisconsin Senate Republican Leader

Doyle Cuts Deal of a Lifetime... Or Longer

The Potawatomi Indian Tribe announced they had signed a new compact with Governor Doyle, just days before the Legislature took action to require Legislative approval of any compact the Governor negotiated. Neither the Governor nor the Tribe notified the Legislature of the existence of the compact prior to the vote.

The greatest concern with the new compact is that it will remain in force in perpetuity. Since Indian gaming was allowed and the first compacts were negotiated, the compacts have had a time limit. These new agreements stretch indefinitely into the future. There is a very limited ability for the State to change anything within the agreement.

The new compacts also include:

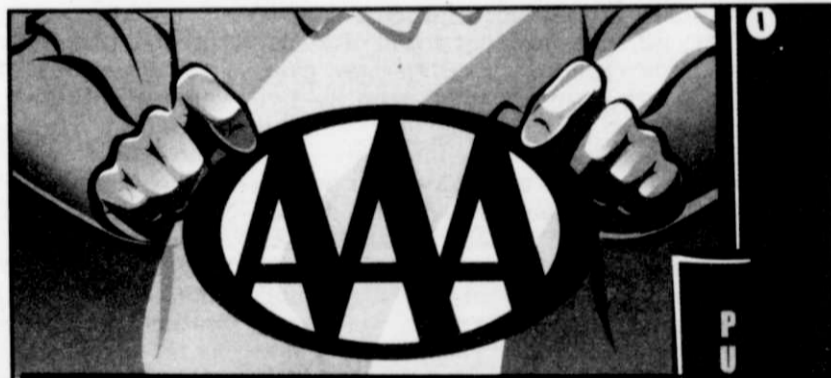

- * Expanded gaming, including craps, roulette and pari-mutuel betting.
- * Extended hours (from 18 to 24 hours) for blackjack.
- * Higher payments to the state for exclusive gaming rights.

This type of agreement has a greater impact than just the effect of expanded gaming in Wisconsin. The importance of the gaming compacts to the Tribes has made them more interested in maintaining good relations with the state during discussions on other issues. One of the most significant of these matters is environmental regulation. In 1996, for example, three tribes received permission from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to regulate water quality on their reservations. Ultimately, this proposed ordinance would have led to controls over commercial development and industries bordering or upstream of tribal lands. The tribe eventually decided to withdraw from the agreement. The issue highlighted, however, the magnitude of what is at stake in negotiating any number of matters with the tribes. Once gaming compacts are signed that will last in perpetuity, the tribes willingness to be good partners in negotiations on other issues is diminished.

The state recognizes the Tribes as sovereign nations. It will always be in both sides' interests to maintain good relations. It would be naïve, however, to assume that the tribes interest in gaming compacts that have to be renewed periodically doesn't play a role in how they negotiate with the state on other matters. Once the State gives up that right to periodic review, the relationship between the State and the Tribes is forever altered. This is not only a very serious mistake, but also one that we won't have an opportunity to correct.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

People want to be proud of what they have, and in Kewaskum fortunately we can be. Over the past two years, people from the conference and surrounding communities have come to the high school and seen, first hand, our football stadium.

The number of compliments and positive comments we received was tremendous. They like what we have done, and many wish they could have the same.

The reason I am writing this is because on April 1st we have the chance to improve our school district again. Decisions in the past, for good reasons, have always been hard to make. Afterwards though, we have been able to look back and be proud of what we've decided.

I hope we can be even more proud of our district on April 2nd.

Thank You
Tim Rohlinger

Letter to the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to talk to you about the upcoming referendum that will be on the ballot this April. First I would like to commend my fellow board members and the volunteers that have worked so hard on this issue for the past two years. It has been a long and hard journey that has brought us to this point. Be assured that we have not taken this issue lightly; we have explored every option and taken all areas into consideration.

There will be five different questions on the ballot. Today I would like to inform you of the issues included in referendum question number one. This question deals specifically with textbooks and technology. Due to budget issues from the past five years, we have not been able to replace the textbooks on a regular basis and we desperately need to create a constant replacement cycle. Executing this over five years will enable us to efficiently introduce new textbooks into the district.

The technology component of this question concerns the need to replace and add computers, printers, software, network infrastructure, and network security. The needs of today's students are different than in the past, and meeting their needs is essential to prepare them for the future.

All of the board members are well aware of the current economic situation affecting our state, as well as individual families. Yet we feel strongly that it is in the best interest of the district to pass this upcoming referendum. With the interest rate as low as it is now, financing this entire package makes great economic sense.

Failure to pass this referendum will have a devastating affect on the district and will in turn cost the taxpayers more money in the future. If this referendum does not pass, the number of students who leave the district due to open enrollment may increase, causing the district to lose state funds. Those children who stay in the district may face severe cuts in educational, extracurricular and athletic programs. This would have a destructive effect on the community.

Please attend any of the multiple upcoming meetings and open houses so we can work together to make this district as outstanding as it can be. Feel free to contact any board member or the district office if you have any questions. Each and every one of us needs to be informed and involved. We need to maintain and enhance the quality of education in our schools. We need to provide a solid, well-rounded education for the students who attend our schools, just as others did for us when we were growing up.

Thank you and God bless,
Gordie Dickman

Letter to the Editor:

Well it looks like our school board is after our money again. I just wish they would get a little financial responsibility and come down to earth. All of a sudden we need a new gym. Why? A new gym is not going to help our children learn anything. My wife went to a school that had no gym. She was an honor student, raised a family and had a very responsible job. She did not have a gym and turned out pretty well. Some of the people I know haven't gone past ninth grade and seem to be doing okay, no gym. Why do we need a better and bigger one? Let's do something to make them well educated and smarter.

With all the building going on in the school district with houses costing $100,000, $200,000 and more, you would think that there would be enough money. But every time a new house goes up the school board just sees money and wants more. I really don't know if they realize they are sucking the life out of people, especially those of us that are retired.

Now that Regal Ware moved out of Kewaskum we will be losing a lot of money and I suppose you will expect the taxpayer to make up the difference. Please wake up and smell the roses because some day your fatted calf (the taxpayers) are going to rebel and get rid of those of you who are behind this foolishness and get someone in there that knows what they are doing. I could go on and on about what you have done to the taxpayer but I guess I have said enough.

To Whom It May Concern:

The budget crisis in Wisconsin is no secret to anyone. The resolution of this problem will not be easy nor will it be without pain to both State agencies and the citizens of Wisconsin. It will require creative thinking and sacrifice.

Governor Doyle has laid out his plan for balancing the budget for the coming biennium. To his credit, he has made some bold proposals and painted some broad strokes for resolving the huge budget deficit. It is now up to the Assembly and the Senate to review and where feasible, improve upon the Governor's plan.

As Interim Campus Dean, and a 35-year faculty resident at UW-Washington County, I clearly have a vested interest in the budget process. I also recognize the problem and realize that solutions are necessary. Nevertheless, I have some concerns about the Governor's proposals to solve the states' economic crisis.

There is the need to argue for equity in the budget. The University of Wisconsin represents 9% of the State budget, yet the proposed $250 million cut represents 38% of the total proposed cuts in State spending. How is that fair and how does this percentage cut relate to other agencies which receive State funding? What does this cut say about the importance of State-supported higher education in Wisconsin? In order to preserve the UW, the state needs to spread the cuts more broadly, and equitably.

An important aspect of Wisconsin higher education is access. The proposed cut will have a significant impact on our campuses and our ability to serve students. If the budget process were to lead to even deeper cuts, the obvious challenge could become a potential disaster for the University of Wisconsin. The UW-Washington County campus has realized record enrollments for the past years, and, judging from the way applications are progressing, we could have another record year. Because of the budget situation, we potentially will have to deny students access this coming year. This will be evident throughout the UW System. Less money means fewer instructors and, thus, fewer class sections. Therefore, fewer students can be accommodated.

The impact of the Governor's proposal reflects an $8 million dollar reduction to the UW College's budget, of which UW-Washington County is part. The Governor has proposed to help the UW manage the cuts by recommending significant tuition increases throughout the UW. For UW-Washington, the increases would be $250 per semester for the 2003-04 academic year. None of us like the idea of placing the burden on students and their families. Nevertheless, the cuts cannot be managed without the tuition increases that have been proposed. Anything less will lead to further program cuts, reduced course offerings, decreased services to students, position cuts, and further reductions in access. Note, however, that despite the proposed tuition increases, UW campuses will still rank below the midpoint of peer institutions' tuition rates. The Governor has also proposed to link increased financial aid to tuition increases. This is both appropriate and laudable. Still, even with the tuition increases, the UW Colleges would take a cut of $100 million - not an insignificant amount.

The UW, including UW-Washington County campus is and will continue to be part of the needed economic growth in Wisconsin. We will continue to be part of the solution by graduating students who will, in turn, generate more revenue for the economy to grow. An investment in the UW is an investment in the State's economic recovery and growth. The linkage of both tuition increases and financial aid increases for our students are essential for this mission.

We are prepared to share in the solution to Wisconsin's budget crisis, and we expect to share the pain. However, equity and parity must be part of the solution. It is important that all recognize the importance of the UW in helping to contribute to economic recovery in Wisconsin.

Landscaping With Native Plants Seminar

Although the grass is brown and the ground frozen it won't be long before gardeners will be working in their yards in Southern Wisconsin. Many are looking at garden catalogs as they arrive at the mailbox. The Friends of Lac Lawrann Conservancy are sponsoring a seminar on Landscaping with Native Plants to help with your planning. The seminar will be held Saturday, March 22 from 9 to 3 p.m. in the council chamber of West Bend City Hall, 1115 South Main Street, West Bend.

Gary Britton, Friends President, suggested sponsoring a seminar to educate the public on the advantages of using native plants. The Friends will hold their 16th annual wildflower and perennial sale on May 10 where many prairie and wood land species are offered. Many sale patrons are unsure how to plant and where to plant the native species. This seminar is designed to answer their questions. Literature on sources for the native plants will also be available at the seminar.

In addition to herbaceous plants, native trees and shrubs will be described, such as pagoda dogwood, blue beech, native honeysuckle, and red ozier dogwood. Dan Wilson, UW Extension Community Development Educator (formerly Washington County Horticultural Agent) will talk and show slides on plant communities; dry, moist, shady, sun, etc. Zannah Crowe of Monches Farm LLC and former director of the West Bend Beautification Committee, will introduce plants and shrubs to attract birds and butterflies.

Connie Ramthun of Kettle Moraine Natural Landscaping, will show slides of the landscaping around her home in the Kettle Moraine and address the subject of natural landscaping. It is possible to have an attractive low maintenance landscape with little or no grass to mow.

The seminar will consist of two sessions in the morning with question and answer periods and one afternoon session. A box lunch and beverage will be furnished. Cost of the seminar is $28 dollars for the general public and $25 for members of the Friends organization. For more information call: Joan Rosenberger at (262) 692-2491 or the West Bend Parks Department (262) 335-5085.

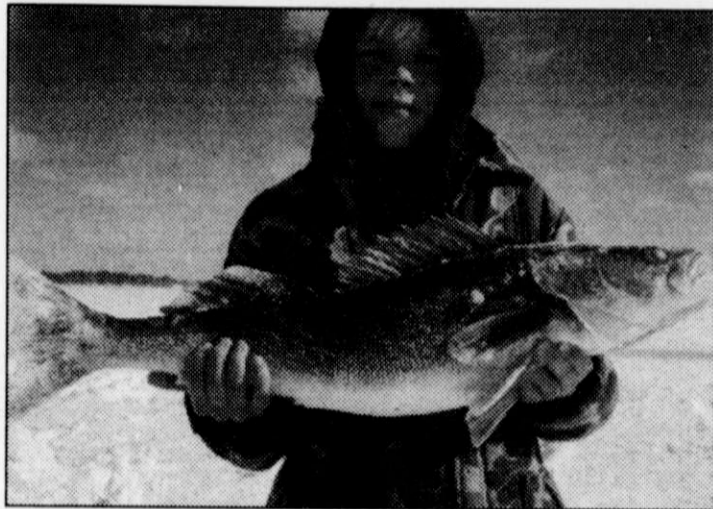

Proceeds from the seminar and flower sale are used for Lac Lawrann Conservancy, which is part of the West Bend Park system. Consisting of 104 acres of woodland, wetland, prairie, and kettle moraine formations it is located on the east side of the city on Schmidt Rd. The conservancy is open for hiking on the trails from dawn to dusk daily free of charge. Money from the Friends will be used to convert a barn on the property to a nature center, for land acquisition and education programs.

Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself.

The Last Hurrah

Joey Dushek with his first 10 pound walleye.
Hello friends,

This past week, I spent four days living and ice fishing with 17 friends and family members on the frozen water of Lake Michigan's Little Bay de Noc. As usual, there is a lot more to write about than space to put it.

Friday, February 21
High 24, Low 16

By 10:00 last night, all 18 of us had made it to camp. We are split up among five different shacks. This is the last weekend to fish walleye and northern pike in Michigan because their season would close on Feb. 28.

Last night, Ryan West from DeForest caught a six-pound walleye on a tip-up. By noon today, Wayne Tomlinson had iced an eight-pounder, and my nephew Shane Schuster, caught a five-pounder.

On a weekend like this, a person can count on catching between zero and five walleye.

What keeps us coming back is that the fish are big. Northern pike provide a nice distraction during daylight hours.

The first 24 hours of this trip were a beauty weather-wise. But by midday today, we saw the end of comfortable conditions. Dropping temperatures and falling snow pushed by 15- to 30-mile an hour winds surrounded camp for the next two days.

Saturday, February 22
High 14, Low -7

This morning, my buddy, Jeff Moll, woke me up with sad news. Some time between 4 a.m. and sunrise, Jeff's golden retriever, Sasha, has passed away. She had been a member of the gang for 11 years. Sasha was battling cancer when she died at camp, the best place for a truly great dog to begin her final journey.

Weather conditions this morning were brutal. To make matters worse, not one of the five people in my shack had caught a fish yet. The wind was blowing so hard that our tip-ups, baited with six-inch suckers, became snow covered and ineffective in minutes.

Good news came our way when 4-year-old Grant Moll iced a five-pound walleye that would later take third place in a local youth ice fishing derby. Grant received a trophy that remained in his hands the rest of the trip. Each of the six kids with us received really nice gifts.

More good news came to the guys in my shack. Harold "the Wildman" caught a 31-inch northern, and after dark, I caught a 28-inch walleye.

My brother, Mike, my stepson, Joey, and our friend, John Morris, are still patiently waiting to catch their first fish.

Sunday, February 23
High 7, Low -11

Bitter cold and hungry fish were a big part of the last day of this truly memorable camp. My brother-in-law, Dick Schuster, caught a 41-inch northern pike. It was as big around as a basketball and made me think twice about letting little kids swim in northern infested waters. The big gator will now rest peacefully on a wall in the Schusters' living room.

This morning, the gang iced a half dozen four-to 10-pound walleye. But I think my 9-year-old stepson Joey made the happiest catch. He had yet to catch a fish this weekend, but always remained upbeat.

Joey had a long fight with a big kahuna. After a five-minute tussle, he iced his first 10-pounder. Our trip could not have ended on a more positive note.

Four years ago, it was just me, all by my lonesome, on Little Bay de Noc. These days, this frozen piece of water is as important to our gang as deer camp or our Canada trip.

Respect good health!

Unique Sportsmen's Rummage at Amerahn

On Saturday, March 8th, the "Unique Sportsmen Rummage" will be hosting a Sportsmen Rummage at the Amerahn, 9480 Hwy. 45N, in Kewaskum, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Outdoor enthusiasts will be able to browse through new, used and antique hunting and fishing gear.

With the mild winter we've been having, open water fishing will be upon us soon. Many will be needing more fishing equipment and you'll be able to find more than just that at Kewaskum's Dennis Giese's booth. Dennis is a member of the National Fishing and Lure Collectors club and can also appraise your antique fishing tackle for no charge.

Also on hand this year at 1 p.m. will be award winning Great Lakes Fisherman Roger Hanson of Oak Creek. He will be giving a seminar on Lake Michigan fishing tactics with a question and answer session to follow.

Steve Wiedmeyer of West Bend will be in attendance with products from H.T. Enterprises of Campbellsport. H.T. specializes in ice fishing and now open water fishing tackle.

West Bend Waters outdoor writer, Bruce Peterson will be on hand at his booth selling fishing and hunting equipment. Bruce is always willing to give you a few tips on where the fish are biting and what techniques to use.

Campbellsport's Wally Ferber from Ferber's Archery will have on hand a variety of new and used archery equipment. Also from Campbellsport, Phil Beisber will be displaying an assortment of hunting and fishing books and manuals.

If it's a hunting excursion you want, stop in at the Wisconsin New Direction Hunting Service of West Bend to book a trip.

Don't forget to stop in at the Beechwood Cheese booth, or local venison processor, John Van Ooyen to pick up your cheese or sausage treats.

The show has expanded this year to well over 50 vendors. The show has become extremely popular this year, so if your friends or buddies are thinking of coming, sharing a ride makes parking a little easier. Just remember, there's only one "Unique Sportsmen Rummage" that can bring all this under one roof.

Admission is $2 at the door.

St. Lucas Girls A-Team Takes Second at KML Tourney

The weekend of February 7th - 9th the St. Lucas 76'ers girls seventh and eighth grade team competed in the annual Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School grade school tournament.

St. Lucas was seeded second in the tournament because of their strong performance competing in the small school bracket during regular season play. During the regular season, St. Lucas had a combined score of 299-78 in the seven league games.

The girls' teams in the Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School Federation were all put into one division for the tournament. St. Lucas' first game was against Morning Star Lutheran from Jackson as a result of Morning Star beating Calvary Lutheran in their first tournament game the night before. The girls used their speed to accumulate 36 steals along with 16 rebounds and 12 assists to cruise to a 44-16 win.

The second game for St. Lucas had them matched up against the Rams of Good Shepherd Lutheran from West Bend. At halftime the 76'ers had a 21-15 lead and tightened up the defense in the second half only allowing Good Shepherd to score six points. The girls stepped up their physical play with 25 rebounds along with 18 steals to hand the Rams their first loss in the tournament by a score of 35-21.

David Star Thunderbolts were the Sixers' opponents in the championship game. David Star had not lost a game all season while playing in the large school division in league play. St. Lucas came out strong to take a first quarter lead, 7-6. St. Lucas was unable to get into a fastbreak offense they were accustomed to with David Star getting back quickly in 2-3 zone defense and using their size advantage.

St. Lucas gave up the lead in the second quarter. The Bolts came out hot in the third quarter by extending their halftime lead of 12-9 to a score of 20-11. St. Lucas fought back to 20-19 in the fourth quarter but the Thunderbolts height was too much down the stretch. St. Lucas allowed a couple of offensive rebounds to be put in that they could not match offensively. The Sixers' were able to get some of the David Star players in foul trouble but the Bolts were able to replace them with substitutes of equal height. The 76'ers were able to only convert 2-12 free throws in the game. St. Lucas took second by losing with a score of 29-19.

Harris Knocked Out In First Round at State Tournament

By Kyle Darmody
Student Reporter

The sole Kewaskum Indian wrestler to make it to state didn't get very far in Madison before he was sent back home. Marty Harris lost to the soon to be state champion, Brad Moore of Lancaster in the first round of the State Tournament in Madison, this past Saturday, March 1.

Harris a senior, officially ends the Indians 02-03 wrestling season.

In other local wrestling news, Justin Schmidt was the only Campbellsport wrestler of eight sent to the state tourney to pick up a state championship.

Indians Snap Decades Of Losing Streak

the EWC, behind Campbellsport (second) and New Holstein (first).

With the 48-43 win over Sheboygan Falls, Friday, February 28. The Kewaskum boys varsity basketball team, finished the regular season with a 10-10 record, which is the first time since 1984 that a Kewaskum boys basketball team has finished with a 500 record or better.

In the process, another record was broken. Travis Kempf, who has already broken the KHS all-time rebounding record, broke the KHS all-time scoring record on his 12 point Friday night. Kempf ended up with 17, which leaves him at 859 career points. He passed up Bill Backhaus the former leader who had 853 career points.

The win also gave the Indians an 8-6 conference record. Due to the Kiel loss Friday night, that 8-6 record earned the Indians a third place finish in

The Indians now head into the playoffs. Sub-regional action takes place Tuesday, March 4, at 7:00, not the usual 7:30. The Indians will be traveling to Whitefish Bay to face the Blue Dukes.

The Indians have seen Whitefish Bay once before this season in their first game of the year. The Indians lost that match-up by 15 points, but are confident heading into the game. If the Indians win they will face the winner of the Slinger/Grafton game Thursday night, in Kewaskum. The winner of that contest will then go on to play in the Regional Championship game which will be held at Brown Deer, on Saturday at 1:30.

The Indians need all the support they can get in their State Tournament run, and they look forward to seeing you there!

Lady Indians End Season In Sub-Regional Game

By Kyle Darmody
Student Reporter

With Milwaukee Lutheran dominating the boards 40-27, and holding Kewaskum to just seven, first half points, the Kewaskum girls varsity basketball team lost their sub-regional game against Milwaukee Lutheran, 49-28 last Tuesday, February 25 in Milwaukee.

Kewaskum missed too many open lay-ups in order to pull off the upset game. They worked hard to cut the lead to ten in the middle of the fourth quarter (34-24), but they were unable to get any closer than that.

Poor shooting was another key to this game. "We had great looks at the basket, but we were unable to convert them into points." Indian head coach Anne Ignatowski said.

"Jenny Koth played excellent defense," Ignatowski continued. Koth had seven steals for the Indians, while Lindsay Keller led the Indians in points with 16, in their last game of the season. Along with Keller, Ashley Welch, and Katie Klug had six rebounds to lead the Indians.

The Indians end the season saying good-bye to seniors Erika Hughes, Jenny Koth, and Katie Klug. The Indians look to improve from this years 4-17 record, the Indians are expected to have a large group of returning lettermen to do so.
