Washington County authorities were notified of a one vehicle crash where the car was reported to be overturned and partially submerged in the Kohlsville River. This location is in the Town of Wayne on CTH W, just north of CTH D.

The call was received at 9:32 p.m. on May 11, after an as yet, unidentified female discovered the crash and went to a nearby tavern and had authorities notified. Patrons and nearby residents ran to where the car was overturned and discovered the occupants to be trapped under water. These individuals were successful in rescuing one of the two persons found within the car. After the first individual was removed, there was information that up to two additional persons could still be trapped. This group of individuals continued to search the car and locate a second person that was secured in the car with a shoulder harness in the passenger front seat.

Based on the initial information, the Washington County Dive Team was activated within minutes for the first time since the team was formed. Members of the Dive team that responded to the scene included Sheriff's Deputies, West Bend and Kewaskum Fire Department members. The team was instrumental in the search for any additional persons that may have been ejected from the vehicle upon impact. Investigation indicates that only the two persons originally removed were discovered to have been in the car at the time of impact. Also assisting at the scene were members of the Kohlsville Fire Department, West Bend intercept and Kewaskum Rescue.

The crash occurred as the car was southbound on CTH

Seventh Highway 45 Crash Sends Five to Hospital, Three Flighted to Milwaukee

Kewaskum Firefighters, Washington County Sheriff's Deputies and the Wisconsin State Patrol at the scene of the three vehicle crash that sent five to St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend. Three of those five were flighted to Milwaukee hospitals.

STATESMAN MANAGING EDITOR
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman.com

Three adults and two children were seriously injured in yet another accident involving three vehicles on USH 45 Thursday, May 6 at 3 p.m. This crash, just a hop, skip and a jump from the Badger Road and USH 45 intersection in the Town of Kewaskum.

The accident occurred when Dennis R. Redlich, 57, of Kewaskum was southbound on USH 45 and struck another southbound vehicle in the rear. That car was operated by Melvin O. Seibel, 75, of West Bend. His vehicle was also occupied by two Kewaskum juveniles, Ashley E. Bronkorst, 14 and Amy L. Bronkorst, 12.

Upon impact, Seibel's Buick Century was pushed into the northbound lane of USH 45 and subsequently struck by a northbound vehicle operated by Sue B. Steldt, 39, of West Bend. She was also carrying a passenger, Joyce Esselmann, 64, of West Bend.

Washington County Sheriff's Department and Wisconsin State Patrol were assisted by Kewaskum Fire Department and West Bend Fire Department Intercept.

The two departments transported five of the six individuals to St Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend. Three of the five victims were later transported to Milwaukee Regional Medical Complex by Flight for Life Milwaukee, Flight for Life McHenry IL, and Theda Star from Neenah.

According to a Froedtert Hospital official, Seibel is listed in critical condition.

Kewaskum Teens Downgraded to Serious, Stable Condition

Amid many rumors running rampant throughout the village Amy and Ashley Bronkorst's health is slowly improving. The two teens' condition at Children's Hospital, Milwaukee has been downgraded to serious, but stable condition a family spokesperson said Monday afternoon.

The two remain in the P.I.C.U. at Children's Hospital. The girls may receive cards, banners, stuffed animals and non-latex balloons.

The accident remains under investigation but speed and alcohol do not appear to be a factor in the cause of the crash.

It was rumored however that one of the victims suffered a heart attack while driving and that is how the crash unfolded. Captain Dale Schmidt of the Washington County Sheriff's Department stated that information was false.

He further stated that they have not completed investigation because of some of the victims remain hospitalized.

USH 45 was closed for approximately 4.5 hours during the preliminary investigation and clean-up of the crash. Northbound traffic was diverted to CTH H where drivers used Sandy Ridge Road. Northbound motorists exited USH 45 at Sandy Ridge Road. Both caused significant delays, up to 40 minutes.

Yellow Cycle Leads to Wedlock At MidCities Motorsports

What are the chances of someone like Lisa Somerville proclaiming her love of the color yellow in passing conversation, and one of the group of friends she was out with, Brian Dunn, picking up on it? Brian told Lisa if she liked yellow, she would love his friend Kerry's bright yellow 2003 Victory Vegas Bike.

Well, of course, Kerry Sauer offered her a ride, which further enhanced their fateful meeting. As they continued to go on various "rides" together, Lisa's love of yellow spilled over into a love for Kerry and the two were engaged at the home of Lisa's parents in North Bend, Wisconsin last October.

In making wedding plans, once again, what are the chances in Somerville's search for a Justice of the Peace, that she would find lawyer, John Grundahl, who also owns a Victory Motorcycle purchased at Sauer's place of employment, Mid-Cities Motorsports!

This clandestine relationship was so overwhelming that Mid-Cities Motorsports appropriately offered their cycle shop for the wedding ceremony with co-owner, Jeannie Schneiberg, helping to carry it off. Somerville was elated with the whole idea and actively pursued it. Mid-Cities office staff employees, Debbie Keller and Bev Berndt, wanted to be a part of this "love story" so they helped decorate the store.

Then, on Friday, May seventh, with Sauer's bike as a background, at Sauer's place of employment (Mid-Cities Motorsports), clad in his Victory motorcycle T-shirt, Kerry Sauer married Lisa Somerville and "destiny" was fulfilled.

Performing the ceremony in his own Victory Motorcycle T-shirt, John Grundahl admits, "was a first" in his wedding attire. Lisa's children, Zack, 11 and Mason, 8, were also at the wedding ceremony watching their mom gaze into the eyes of her new husband.

Who else but Brian Dunn of Hartford, who inadvertently introduced the couple, would better serve the "best man" duties? Actually Brian and Kerry's friendship goes back many years through motorcycling and snowmobiling together.

Somerville's childhood friend, Noelle Schreck, of Allenton, served as maid of honor and thought the whole wedding ceremony was a good idea since their whole relationship was based on Kerry's yellow bike.

The happy couple left Friday night, on that yellow Victory motorcycle, to honeymoon in Marinette. Sauer has served as a salesman at Mid-Cities Motorsports at 715 Friendly Drive, Kewaskum, since 2001 and Somerville works at Hartford Finishing in Hartford. Lisa and Kerry, the stars of this predestined love story, are at home in West Bend.

"We are primarily a dairy farm," Linda said. They farm 575 acres, raise corn, hay, oats and wheat. Their herd size has grown to 300 head of dairy animals, including the offspring. Enright said the milk from their cows is used to make cheese. Enright's cheese will be used in the scrambled egg recipe at Breakfast on the Farm.

"I am looking forward to seeing people from town and the community," Linda said. Advance tickets cost $5 and are available by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to Mike Strupp, 3126 Powder Hill Road, Slinger, WI 53086. their sons decided to farm on their own. They rented a stanchion barn several miles down the road and planned an expansion project for their home farm. The cows were moved in Feb. 2000 to a newly built 140-cow freestall barn and double six milking parlors. Since then, a calf barn, machine shed and heated workshop have been added to their property.

After the expansion, the Enrights formed a limited liability corporation, Highland Dairy LLC, which employs two additional full-time employees and one part-time employee. The Enright's milk about 140 dairy cows and a have a heard of 300, which includes dry cows, heifers, and other offspring.

The Enright's kept heifers, steers and other young stock at Highland Dairy while Mike continued to farm the homestead with his dad and brothers.

Lightning Destroys Shed in T. Wayne

On Saturday, May 8, 2004 at 1:19 a.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Department received a 911 call reporting a shed on fire at the Eleanor Gayan residence located at 7425 Townline Road in the Town of Wayne. The shed was approximately 30' x 60', and housed personal property, including two lawnmowers, two snowmobiles, two autos and a 300 gallon fuel oil tank.

The shed and its contents were completely destroyed, as well as a third vehicle and a boat trailer parked nearby. Loss is estimated at $50,000.

The Kohlsville Fire Department responded and extinguished the fire, assisted by the Kewaskum and Allenton Fire Depts.

The cause is believed to be a lightning strike that occurred approximately 30 minutes earlier. There were no injuries as a result of the fire.

New officers and a new member took their seats at Monday night's Kewaskum Board of Education meeting. The board held a meeting on May 3rd to decide offices. Jean Goeden was elected president, Gordie Dickman is the vice president, Mary Meisser, Clerk and Beth Steiner will serve as secretary. Neal Weare, who was just recently elected, is sitting on the board once again, after taking an eight-year break.

To start off the meeting Goeden requested a moment of silence for Amy and Ashley Bronkhorst who were critically injured in an accident this past Thursday.

Nikki Airaudi gave a presentation on her trip to Greenland. Overall she said the trip was cold, but wonderful.

She stated she learned many new and exciting things. Watch the Statesman for an article on Airaudi.

Results of the April referendum were also discussed. Tammy Weyer had asked that it be on the agenda because after the election, the board never discussed it. Steve Schmitt felt that "a pathetic number of people turned out to vote," citing the fact that only 30% of registered voters in the Village took the time to vote. He stated that he "expected to see more input from the Village of Kewaskum," and further stated that because of the low turnout, it came across like 70% of the Village didn't have an opinion one way or the other on the subject.

Mary Meisser suggested that the district pose a survey type referendum during the November election. She suggested making it a questionnaire and abide by the winning suggestions.

The board approved a policy change regarding the youth Options Program. The program gives high school students the opportunity to attend classes at ANY college at the district's cost. The policy change came due to the fact that the state mandates had changed. The changes limited the number of credits a student may take in a year, 18, and holds the parent and/or student accountable for reimbursing the district if the student fails or drops the class.

Business Manager Paul Reichert was on hand to give an update of the 2003-2004 budget. A year-end projection indicated that several accounts would have funds left in them at the end of the fiscal year. The Building and Grounds Committee looked at ways to use the money before June 30.

The reason to spend the money before the end of the fiscal year is advised because the end result would be a large surplus this year and a large deficit next year and budgeting for a deficit should be avoided.

After much discussion the board decided to spend a total of $129,118 for various items/projects. Projects will include asphalt for the Farmington Elementary playground, replacing exterior doors at Kewaskum High School, changing over of the KHS Energy Management system to the KGA/Allerton system, and for purchasing textbooks and items for a computer lab at KHS including 28 computers, software, desks, chairs and a network switch.

Reichert then answered questions regarding the 2004-05 preliminary budget. Thus far, the revenue limit is expected to increase 3.7%. A detailed list of the budget is available from the district office.

Currently the budget includes cutting one full-time special education teacher, a 5% overall budget reduction, eliminating a part-time elementary ed teacher, eliminate a .57 time KHS/FES phy ed teacher, decreasing permanent subs from three to two, and reducing the contract for the KHS Assistant Principal from 260 days to 200.

Additions include a full-time sixth grade teacher, a police liaison officer and four interns.

The next board meeting will be held on Monday, June 14 at the District Office.

The only service a friend can really render is to keep up your courage by holding up to you a mirror in which you can see a noble image of yourself.

Thiemer Recognized by Washington County

BY SHERI BALDIKOWSKI
sbaldikowski@kewaskumstatesman.com

Many people may know Richard Thiemer from Thiemer's Sip & Snip Barber-shop, one and one-half miles north of Kewaskum. But, what may not be known is that Richard has also spent the last 31 years cutting hair at the Samaritan Health Center in West Bend.

In 1972 Richard was at The Samaritan three days per week shaving with an electric razor and/or giving haircuts to approximately 110 men. In the 80's, the male population at Samaritan decreased to about 58 men, which is just about the same amount he now services.

He also started just giving hair cuts in the 80's which necessitated going to the center only once per week. Today, he continues his weekly visits and cuts the male resident's hair on an alternate six to eight week basis.

In December of 2003, Classic Hair Care of Delanco, New Jersey took over some services for the Samaritan Health Center and Richard has been paid by them ever since. Previously, however, the residents of Samaritan had a $40 expense account for soda, candy, hair cuts, and other incidentals. If they did not have a petty cash account, usually family members would do their hair during a visit.

Speaking of visiting, that is exactly what Richard does with the men while he trims. "The men there love to talk 'barbershop talk' like in the old days," Thiemer said. They seem to really enjoy having another male to talk to about sports, fishing, politics, religion and how it used to be in the past.

Richard, himself, has had episodes with his heart and other medical problems so he can relate to many of the problems the men are going through.

It takes a special "kindness" to work with nursing home residents and Richard's contributions, as well as his years of service, were recognized when he was presented with a mantel clock from Washington County. Board Chairman Ken Miller gave him the clock, thanking him for his 31 years of service.

Richard and his wife, Mary, of N188, Hwy 45, Kewaskum, have lived in the Kewaskum area for 50 years and Richard feels the clock symbolizes one of the highest honors he could receive within those 50 years.

It's an exciting time for the Dan and Joan Stoffel family. Their two children, Erin and Carrie, although two years apart in age, are both receiving their Doctoral degrees this summer. Both women attended Holy Trinity School and Kewaskum High School.

Erin received her Bachelor's degree from St. Norbert College and received her Ph.D. from Washington State University. Her Doctoral degree is in Psychopharmacology, a discipline in the Department of Psychology. She has accepted a post-Doctoral position at the University of Texas Medical College where she will continue her work studying how drugs such as heroin and cocaine interact with brain receptors to create addictions. Her position is funded by a grant from the National Institute of Health.

Carrie attended Lawrence University and will receive her Ph.D. from Colorado University in Analytic Chemistry and has accepted a Post-Doctoral position at Western Washington University. She is currently working on a project to develop an instrument which uses lasers to identify and count virus particles in blood serum. At her new position she will change her focus and will be working on revising and enriching the Middle School science curriculum for the State of Washington in order to encourage more children to think of the Sciences as a potential career and to improve student's test scores. Her position is funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Food for Thought

By Amy Swanson

Snack Attack

My kitchen floor is a Cheerio minefield. On any given day I am sure to get at least 10 hits. Sometimes, I think they purposely roll under the refrigerator and hide out until they see my bare feet, then they roll out and wait to be crushed. The pain of victory and the agony of de-feet.

Being a parent has taught me to never be without a bag of snacks. Whether it's a bag of dry cereal, trail mix or Goldfish crackers, snacks are a matter of parental sanity and child safety.

I never travel without them. I know that if my kids would ever get lost, I would find them by following the trail Goldfish crackers. People who don't like Goldfish have a major character flaw, I think. They are cute, tasty and fun.

Goldfish are also heavenly. They are an answered prayer for church. As long as we continuously feed our kids Goldfish crackers during church, we can avoid the sanctuary sneers from parishioners who are there to listen... and not disturb those who want to sleep!

The fact that they now come in a five-pound container proves how valuable Goldfish have become.

Snack foods also wear well. I'm usually sporting half-eaten Cheerios somewhere on my clothes. I do recognize, though that its not really Vogue to have a full Cheerio clinging to your backside, but once and a while it does happen. Crumbs that linger on your shoulders can also be very attractive.

The van is a great place for Cheerios and Goldfish to multiply, however, as we discovered a few years ago, mice don't really care if they are fresh or not. We're pretty sure it was the boxes of M & M's that my son was supposed to sell for Cub Scouts that first attracted them to our garage, but we think the buffet of snacks we had scattered in the van, convinced them to hang around. It wasn't until we noticed our seatbelts fraying, oh yeah and the nest behind our engine, that convinced us that we weren't the only ones eating snacks in the van. Our dealer had an easy solution, however... buy a cat! After that, my husband made me swear that I wouldn't let the kids eat in the car. What he doesn't know won't hurt him.

Snacks tame toddler's tempers, satisfy hungry stomachs and can be easily used as bribes and sometimes currency. It's amazing to me how well my kids can behave if they know a box of fruit snacks is at stake.

Fruit snacks, however, do not top my list of favorite snacks. They are sticky, come in too many varieties for a six year old to choose from in less than two hours and usually explode to the floor upon opening.

I'm also pretty sure that their only nutritional value satisfies 100 percent more of the daily-recommended amount of sugar. I guess that's what is so attractive.

Each week I pack a box full of snacks for the kids to choose from to bring to school. This has worked tremendously. They are now responsible to pack their snack. I try to be creative and fill the box with different things. Here are a few favorites:

Goldfish Fishing Poles

- Pretzel rods (large)
- Goldfish crackers
- Licorice string (narrow)

It's easy. Tie one end of the licorice to the pretzel rod. Tie the other to the tail of the Goldfish cracker. Viola!

Cheesy Wheats

- 4 cups spoon-size shredded wheat
- margarine
- 1 cup cheese, shredded

In a large saucepan, melt margarine. Add cheese. When the cheese begins to melt, add shredded wheat. Toss to coat well. Refrigerate if not to be eaten within an hour or two.

Cereal Sticks

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups flour (white, whole wheat, or a combination)
- 1/4 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 cup plus of cereal (such as Grape-Nuts, granola, or wheat germ)

Blend together the first six ingredients, plus cup of the cereal. If the dough is too soft, add more flour. Roll a small piece of dough into a stick, and then roll the stick in the extra cereal to coat. Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet and bake at 400 for 8 minutes or until slightly browned.

W and entered a gentle curve. The car failed to negotiate this area and went left of center and struck the steel bridge and guardrail spanning the river. Parts of the bridge were found to have impaled the entire length of the car from front to back.

Alcohol and speed have been deemed to have contributed to the accident. The driver will be charged with operating under the influence of an intoxicant as well as causing great bodily harm b intoxicated use of a vehicle.

Both occupants were conveyed to St. Joseph's hospital where they received treatment. One of the individuals was subsequently transported via ambulance to Froedtert hospital in Milwaukee.

The names of the victims were problematic to authorities due to the lack of identification on them and due to an initial language barrier as both were Hispanic. Their medical condition at the scene also delayed their being identified. Both were considered to have been in serious condition at the scene. A department interpreter was brought in to assist investigating officers at the hospital.

Hidden Prey

By: John Sanford

JOHN SANDFORD HIDDEN PREY

When you were a child, did you know your grandparents? Did Grandma share her secret cookie tips with you, or did Grandpa teach you the fine art of choosing a lure that a fish can't resist? Consider yourself lucky if your grandparents taught you a thing or two that were useful. Question your heritage if your grandparents taught you things like Carl Walther's taught him. Grandpa taught Carl to kill, and in "Hidden Prey" by John Sanford (c.2004, Putnam), Carl follows orders precisely.

On a dark and chilly night, on the edge of Lake Superior in Duluth, a man was shot, killed and left without identification on the edge of the dock, next to a freighter. Though this at first looked to be a horrible but routine crime, Lucas Davenport, now working with the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, is sent in to investigate. This, however, is not a routine crime.

The dead man is Vladimir Orslov, a.k.a Oleg Moshalov, a.k.a Rodion Oleshev, a former KGB operative who was now working on a freighter. The man's name and occupation aren't as important as the fact that his father is a high-level Russian oil magnate who wants to know what happened. The FBI wants to know what a former KGB spy was doing in Minnesota, and why the bullets appear to be fifty years old. Lucas Davenport wants to know why Nadya Kalin, the Russian cop sent to help him investigate, is lying to him. Is Nadya really a cop or could she be a spy,

When Davenport learns that there had been a spy ring in Minnesota years before that had ended along with the Cold War, he becomes more suspicious of Nadya's involvement in the investigation. But when a homeless woman is murdered, a local man is nearly hung to death in the back room of a bar, a strange computer code is cracked, and someone keeps calling Davenport with strange information, the whole investigation grows into one big tangle of clues. Yet the question remains: what was a former KGB agent doing in northern Minnesota, and why is he lying dead in the morgue?

Lest you think that I "gave away" the secret at the beginning of this article, don't worry. You know almost right away that Carl Walther is the killer; what you don't know is why. Author John Sanford doesn't tell you up-front either, but he lets you in on the clues almost as Davenport gets them. Lucas Davenport - if you're a Sanford fan, you've met him before - is easy-going, smart, and very human, which is refreshing. I also liked Nadya Kalin. Her struggles with the English language added a little comic relief in this book, and I'd love to see Sanford bring her back again.

"Hidden Prey" is fast-paced, full of espionage, intrigue, and a great book to take on vacation this summer. Its violence and language might make your Grandma blush, but I think you'll like this book a lot.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

Almost every day when I read the business section of the newspaper I read about how some company or corporation is moving more and more jobs out of the United States.

A few months ago my employer gave us the news that pretty much every blue-collar worker in the U.S. is waiting to hear.

We were told that 40% of the jobs performed in the plant that I work in will be going to China by 2006. The company is making the move to boost their profits. We have already been losing jobs to Mexico at a steady pace since they passed NAFTA. Then to top it all off, as soon as the government started passing the free trade agreements, the company started shipping jobs to South Korea and other foreign countries.

It wasn't long after the government passed NAFTA that we started hearing about how Social Security is paid by taxes collected from jobs performed in the United States of America. When you start taking jobs away from the workers in the US and giving them to other countries to boost the profits of big business, who do they think will pay for Social Security. The government of other countries doesn't care what will be happening to the working class of this country.

Not to mention the fact that Medicare is also paid by taxes on jobs performed in the United States and when people lose their job they also lose their medical coverage.

Having said that, let's take a look at the candidates for US Senator this year.

We have the incumbent, a Democrat, Mr. Feingold. I will admit he has done a pretty good job but has lost touch with what's important to the working class. I would like to congratulate him on his victory on soft money, it couldn't have been easy to try to put any kind of limit on how much a politician can spend on campaign for office. It must have been a long hard fight. But it's beneficial for him and has no benefits for the average citizen.

If he had only put forth half of that effort on trade treaties and the new overtime laws, maybe we wouldn't be losing jobs to foreign countries at such an alarming rate.

We need someone who will fight for us, not only for his own interest. There are also four Republicans running, a State Senator, two businessmen, and now a lawyer. The Republican Party has historically been in favor of anything that will benefit big money and big business, so you know where their loyalties will lie.

All I have heard so far from any of them is how much money they have been able to raise for their campaigns and nothing on what they will do for us. Remember YOU can choose who will represent you as US Senator, ask questions and DEMAND clear answers.

I'm NOT asking for, nor am I accepting campaign donations. I think it's just a nice way of saying, "I'll vote in favor of whoever can put the most money in my pocket."

I WILL fight to keep the jobs in the United States of America and fight for the rights of the working class of which I am proud to be a part of.

If you agree with me, I'm asking you to please show this to your friends and family, spread the word and vote for me.

I can't stress the fact enough, you can make difference. Make yourself heard, get out and vote! Thank you for your time.

Kewaskum 4-H News

The Kewaskum 4-H'ers held their monthly meeting on May 6, 2004. Before the meeting was called to order we played a game called Ellis Island. Here the kids learned how their ancestors came to America and what they had to go through to enter the States. They encountered many different stations like a medical inspector, mental inspector and legal inspector. Once they had gotten through all the inspectors they were able to go sit down and have their refreshments.

Once we had gotten everybody through we called the meeting to order around 7:30.

First on our agenda were activity reports. Here we talked about the Bowl-A-Thon, Meadowcreek Get-Together and the Brat Fry at Piggy Wiggly.

For Old Business we discussed our camping outing at Long Lake in June, Adopt-A-Highway and some summer outing ideas including Six Flags and Noah's Ark. We also had a sign up for the Kewaskum Volleyball Team, which will be playing at the fairpark against other 4-H clubs. We also decided to go to Skate Country. We briefly discussed the Washington County Fair and had sign up sheets to go around the room to sign up to work at the fair.

In announcements we talked about the formal dance for high school students, camp counselors for Wild Wacky Weekday and Soda Tabs, which we are still collecting to give the to Ronald Mc Donald Foundation.

Mary Byrns, District Manager

May is Older Americans Month, and Social Security joins the Administration on Aging and other organizations around the nation in celebrating the occasion.

The theme for this year's observance is "Aging Well, Living Well." This theme was chosen to recognize the fact that older Americans are living longer, healthier and more productive lives. As the Administration on Aging has noted, "older persons are not only adding years to their lives, they are also improving the quality of their lives."

While older Americans lead very diverse lives and many continue to work, the truth is that about four of five men over age 65 and nine of 10 women over age 65 are retired. Happiness in retirement can depend in large measure on whether retirees have enough money to enjoy themselves and "live well."

Those of us at Social Security are proud of the role that we play in providing an economic foundation for older Americans. Social Security pays monthly retirement benefits to more than 32 million retired workers and their family members. And more than nine in 10 Americans who are age 65 or older get Social Security benefits.

The average monthly Social Security benefit for a retired worker is a little more than $900; the average monthly benefit for a retired worker and his or her spouse is about $1,525. Older Americans Month might also be a good time to look to the future and to the prospects of coming generations for "living well."

A highly-respected 2004 retirement survey said that about 60% of today's workers do not expect their standard of living to decline when they retire. However, the same survey reported that 45% of all workers have total assets (excluding their homes) of less than $25,000.

Even today, an alarming number of older people still rely on their Social Security benefits for their total livelihood. For 20% of Social Security beneficiaries age 65 and older, the Social Security check is their only income, and their ability to work, save and invest has already passed.

If you are not yet retired, you should be making plans now to supplement Social Security benefits with pensions, savings and other investments. A good place to start reviewing your future retirement income needs is your Social Security. Then you can make plans to supplement your Social Security benefits with pensions, savings and other investments. For more information, you can visit the financial planning section of our website at www.socialsecurity.gov/planners.

So join with us in wishing all of today's older Americans a long and happy retirement...and also make the effort to ensure that you will also be able to one day "live well" in your retirement years.

Ramthun Honored for Outstanding Service

Kathie Ramthun, FIC, LUTC, CLU, CSA, of Kewaskum, a Catholic Knights financial service representative, was cited for outstanding life insurance service at the 54th Annual Convention of the National Association of Fraternal Insurance Counselors. ues into action. Catholic Knights members raise more than $1.5 million in support of parishes, schools and communities. If you look at the left-hand circle, you will see a Pyramid. Notice the face is lighted, and the western side is dark. This country was just beginning. We had not begun to explore the West or decided what we could do for Western Civilization. The Pyramid is uncapped, again signifying that we were not even close to being finished. Inside the capstone you have the all-seeing eye, an ancient symbol for divinity. It was Franklin's belief that one man couldn't do it alone, but a group of men, with the help of God, could do anything.

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
March 23, 2004
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

Chairman Mathew Heiser called the meeting to order. Members Frank Beesten and Lecann Butschlick asked to be excused and were absent. Members present were Andy Pesch, Richard Schmidt, Andrew Kuehl and Theodore Meilahn. A quorum was present. Mr. Kevin Scheunemann was present on the various items for the Plan Commission to review.

On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Theodore Meilahn and carried by the majority voice vote the Plan Commission approved the minutes as printed for February 24, 2004.

Mr. Rick Kania led the discussion regarding the topics brought forward at the information meeting of February 24, 2004. The maximum height limitation of 35, for dwellings was discussed. Several alternatives were reviewed and by consensus alternate # 4 was chosen and Mr. Kania will finalize the written end result. The next category was sign permitting and related requirements or limitations. Pole type signs were looked at as to the maximum height and also number of those signs on the premise. After a lengthy discussion it was by consensus that the Board leave the height at 20, but use as a base point the mean centerline of the adjacent street. The number of pole signs was allowed to be two if said premise was located adjacent to two arterial streets at the time of adoption of this proposed ordinance.

It was noted by the members present that a definition of large buildings be established and that 25,000 square feet be used. Several other sign related points were reviewed and several minor adjustments were asked to be included by the Plan Commission.

The Commission was informed that FEMA has not signed off on the proposed ordinance, but has indicated they have just a couple of points to be reviewed with the DNR. It is hopeful this will happen in the next week or so.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Andrew Kuehl and unanimously carried by voice vote the Commission set a tentative meeting and public hearing date for the Zoning Ordinance for Tuesday, May 25, 2004 at 7:00 p.m.

Chairman Mathew Heiser updated the Commission on the Comprehensive Planning effort by 14 municipalities of Washington County regarding Smart Growth.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt seconded by Andrew Kuehl and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Commission adjourned the meeting. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

Charlie Sparks in Second Year of Competition at NCAA Division I School

KHS Graduate. Charlie Sparks in a recent meet at Indiana State University.

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

If there was one thing Charlie Sparks learned in high school athletics, it was hard work always pays off. Thanks to this simple but challenging philosophy, Sparks, a 2001 graduate of Kewaskum High School, won the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association Division 2 state title in the discus as a junior and finished second his senior year.

Since then, Sparks has moved up to a higher level of competition, and yep, you guessed it, he's still working hard, and he's still succeeding.

Sparks, now 21, is currently in his second year of competition at NCAA Division I Indiana State University in Terra Haute, Ind., where he is the No. 1 discus thrower on the team and already has one regional berth under his belt.

"It's going pretty good," Sparks said recently in a telephone interview. Sparks was preparing to take his final exams and also gearing up for the Sycamores' final two outdoor meets of the 2004 season.

Sparks' best outdoor effort this season in the discus is 164 feet, eight inches (164-8), coming in a meet at Eastern Illinois University, but he still must improve that mark by nearly three feet for a crack at the NCAA regional meet in Baton Rouge, La.

"I should be able to do it," Sparks said, reporting his personal best is 170, a toss he made a year ago.

During the 2003 campaign, the qualifying mark was 165 feet, but this year it was extended to "right around 168."

When asked how the regional qualifying marks are established, Sparks said before the season starts, "They (NCAA officials) take the 100th best mark for the season," and that's the figure which is used.

One of the remaining meets is the Missouri Valley Conference test which is being hosted this weekend by Illinois State. Sparks said he and his teammates are not just looking at individual success in the conference meet. They are all aiming at the team title.

"We're hoping to do that this year," Sparks said, indicating on paper the Sycamores look like the team to beat, although they still have to perform well. In the meet, he will

KHS Girls Soccer Team Suffers Painful Losses

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT

When it comes to painful losses, not too many will come close to the 2-1 defeat the Kewaskum High girls' soccer team suffered at the hands of Two Rivers last week.

The Indians had tied the score at 1-1 on a goal by Krystal Cochran at the 62:17 mark, and were looking at going into overtime before the visiting Raiders got a ball past Cora Werdemann with just seven seconds remaining.

"The whole team played tough in the second half. We had some great combination passes up and down the field. Krystal and Danielle (Yanke) had exceptionally good games," KHS Coach Marie Lippe said, but, "We just couldn't get our shots to fall."

The shot that did find the mark was a beautiful effort, starting with Yanke taking a shot from the corner of the probably compete in the hammer throw as well as the discus.

Sparks didn't start his collegiate career at Indiana State. He went to UW-Stout his freshman year, but found out, "The track program there was not going to get me anywhere," so he contacted ISU, which had recruited him in high school and offered the major he is interested in, construction management.

"I made a decision to go here, and I'm really glad I did," he said, adding he is on scholarship. Sparks admitted the move didn't come without some difficult moments, like going to a school where he didn't know a single soul.

"I was so nervous. There I was all by myself," Sparks said, but, "Being on the track team really helped" him meet other students.

Balancing time for the books and for track practice was also a challenge, according to Sparks, who said, "It has made me stay organized."

There are at least 60 athletes who work out with the team, but, "Officially only 32 are allowed to travel," Sparks said, reporting the coaching staff is very good, also crediting his high school coaches with giving him good basic instruction.

"I'd have to say I had good coaching in high school ... better than average," he said.

One big difference from high school to college, in addition to the fact the weight of the discus is increased from 3.5 pounds to 4.4 pounds, is the weight training required. Even after the season is over, the athletes stay on campus and continue lifting for several weeks. Once the school year

Krystal followed it up with a great shot from the top of the box," according to Lippe, whose girls had momentum after that but were unable to convert again.

Lippe reported Katherine Hunter marked up the Raiders' top scorer and, "played fantastic man-to-man defense."

Also Werdemann played well, stopping 16 shots including one that amazed Lippe. "She came up on No. 10 and dove to save the ball and collided with No. 10. She had a good game," Lippe said.

Indians come up short vs. KML

In a game played on May 5, the visiting Chargers took the role of aggressors and maintained it throughout, winning 3-0.

starts, the athletes are required to be involved in workouts.

Here we go again, back to hard work paying off. Sparks said thanks to weight training he tips the scale between 210-215 pounds, compared with the 170-180 he weighed in high school. Also by being involved in a program that stresses power lifts and snatches, "I'm much more explosive."

There would be no question the KHS track team would love to have him back. Sparks said he visited the team and coach Jerry Gosa last week, and, "I was throwing the thing (discus) probably 195 feet."

Once the season and lifting period ends, Sparks will return home to Wisconsin for the summer where he has secured an internship with Voss, Jorgenson and Schueler, a Waukesha-base company that builds small sky scrapers.

Still, Sparks wants to extend his track season as long as possible. Should he make a return trip to regionals and finish in the top five, he automatically earns a berth in the NCAA finals in Texas. "That's the big game right there," he said.

KHS Girls Softball Team Lose Three in a Row

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The week started off well but didn't end that way as the Kewaskum High girls fast-pitch softball team lost three Eastern Wisconsin Conference games in a row, following a 13-10 victory over Kiel.

The May 6th 12-2 defeat at the hands of New Holstein was especially disheartening because the score was 2-1 going into the fourth inning. Then, "They hit the heck out of the ball," KHS Coach Jeff Gosse said.

The Huskies wound up with seven hits in the fourth, according to Gosse, who said Rachel Breese pitched well at the start but then, the hits started to drop for them.

Concerning how many hits the Indians had, Gosse said, "Not many. Our hitters are scared right now."

Kelli Freund handcuffed the Indians most of the way, allowing just two hits. Tiffany Hedlund had one hit, and Amy Holm had another.

On May 4, the Indians lost both ends of a double-header to host Two Rivers, a 14-4 decision in the first game and a 7-4 loss in the nightcap.

"We had 12 strikeouts, eight of which were looking," Gosse said. The Indians did get five hits off Megan Reilly. Beth Boedeker and Laura Schladweiler each had two, and Becky Junk chipped in with the other.

Kewaskum's best opportunity to have a big inning came in the third when it loaded the bases, but, "We had three girls go down looking," Gosse said.

Again, the game was close until the middle innings. "We had errors that opened the door," Gosse said, noting April Lettow pitched and took the loss.

In the nightcap, Breese pitched what Gosse said was "by far, her best game of the year," yielding just three hits. "She really was putting some zip on the ball ... she was gaining confidence."

Then the errors came and allowed the Raiders to score three late runs for the win.

Kewaskum had four hits in this game, two by Amy Holm and another two by Kristin Mantz, who socked a solo homer in the second inning.

Gosse said after the double-header, Boedeker was leading the team in hitting. "She's batting about .380," he said.

13 was not unlucky for Indians

In the win over Kiel, Kewaskum had nine hits, and what was equally as important was the number of stolen bases the Indians had.

"We got our running game going. We had eight stolen bases," Gosse said.

The leading hitters were Tiffany Hedlund and Amy Holm with three each. Holm had a double and a single and drove in four runs, including two in the first inning.

Kewaskum fell behind twice in the game, but in the third inning, took the lead for good and held on for the win. Breese was the winning pitcher.

Track Teams Both Place Fifth in Vanderpan Test

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

With weaknesses in certain events, the Kewaskum High track teams weren't able to challenge for the titles in the annual Vanderpan Invitational on May 7, but several Indians showed they definitely belong among the elite of southeastern Wisconsin.

Rachel Dums, Amanda Donath, Eric Nass, Luke Herriges, plus the individuals on several sprint relay teams, all performed admirably as the KHS girls wound up fifth overall with 90 points, while the Indian boys attained the same place with one less point.

"I was very pleased. We did some very good things," KHS Coach Jerry Gosa said, looking at the combined six first-places and three seconds.

Dums and Donath, both juniors, were standouts for the girls. Despite the cool wind coming off Lake Michigan, Dums was able to finish the 300-meter hurdles in a winning time of 48 and .7 seconds (48.7), her best of the year and just a tick off her all-time best.

"It's getting close," Gosa said about Dums nearing a time that would give her a place in the Division 2 state test in early June.

Donath was the class of the open 400, with her time of 1:00.5, which was 1.2 seconds ahead of the runner-up.

The two also earned first-place medals in the 4x400 relay (4:16.4), along with Amanda Magnus and Sam Droese. For the event, Gosa shuffled the lineup and decided to have Droese run anchor to see how she would hold up against other No. 4 runners.

Donath made up a 30-meter gap and gave the Indians a slight lead, then Droese "responded really well," holding off Sheboygan North and Oostburg for the win.

The other win by the girls came in the 4x100 relay where Jessie Butler, Katie Patterson, Magnus and Dums were clocked in 53.5.

"They ran their best time of the year. They stepped it up with some good handoffs," Gosa said, reporting Patterson added a second in the pole vault with an effort of 8 feet, 6 inches (8-6), and there were a pair of thirds. Both were provided by Magnus, who ran a 1:03.2 in the 400 and came up with a jump of 14-61/4 in the long jump, an event made very difficult by the wind.

"The long jumpers had to jump right into the wind," Gosa said.

The Indians did well in the sprints, with Butler placing third in the 100 (13.7+) and Donath added five points with her fourth in the 200 (27.4).

Amanda Donath

Droese added a fifth in the high jump (4-8) and Danielle De Groot picked up a fifth in the 800 (2:40.7) and Marissa Dehler was fifth in the pole vault (7-0).

Oostburg won the girls competition with 139 points, ahead of Howards Grove (136), Sheboygan North (110) and Sheboygan Falls (100). After Kewaskum came Plymouth (55), Elkhart Lake (39) and Southern Door (27).

HIGH JUMPERS SPARKLE

There was no question about the high jump being the headline event for the KHS boys. Luke Herriges and Adam Schlosser saw to that with their first- and third-place finishes for 16 team points.

Herriges had cleared 6-0 early in the year and he improved that mark by two inches, going 6-2.

The best Schlosser had done was 5-6, but, according to Gosa, the coaches kept telling him to be patient, and on this day, he exploded for jumps that went higher and higher until he had cleared 6-0. "He added six inches," Gosa said. "He was ecstatic."

Kewaskum's other first came in the 4x200 relay and with a new runner to boot. After Nate Steiner ran in the 100 trials, Gosa said he complained about pain in his knee and a problem with bending his leg, so he inserted sophomore Jake Sabel into the foursome.

Sabel ran in the No. 3 spot, behind Garrett Donath and Ross Stockhausen. He handed off to Josh Uelmen, and the veteran sprinter brought home the win in 1:36.5.

Uelmen also anchored the quartet of Stockhausen, Sabel and Mike Wagner to a second (45.8) in the 4x100. Individually, he chipped in with a fourth in the 100 (11.4), good for five team points and placed seventh in the long jump (17-51/4).

Gosa said Uelmen, one of only two seniors on the team, "burned" in the meet. "He ran well, equally the best he's done all year."

The veteran coach also remarked it had to be a thrill for Sabel to come home with two medals.

Nass had a good night in the triple jump, going 41-9 for second place, while Nick Bartley was third in the 800 in a fine time of 2:05.

Nass also ran anchor for the 4x400 team; comprised of Donath, Josh Meyer and Zack VanWormer, to a third place in 3:32.4.

Meyer logged close to two miles in the meet, placing fifth in the 1,600 (4:44.3) and fourth in the 800 (2:06.9).

Scott Rhoads cleared 10-6 in the pole vault for second place and Wagner high stepped over the 110 hurdles in 16.8, good for third.

One disappointment came in the 4x800 relay where one of the Indians was judged to have stepped out of his lane after completing his leg, and the team was disqualified.

Gosa said no runner was impeded, still the decision could not be appealed.

Overall, Gosa said, "There was some good progress. It's been a long time since the boys scored 89 points in this meet."

Plymouth took home the team title with 132.5 points, and Oostburg was next at 110, then came Howards Grove, 104; Sheboygan North, 99; Kewaskum, 89; Southern Door, 71.5; Sheboygan Falls, 61; and Elkhart Lake, 21.

Both KHS teams are off until May 18th, the date for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Meet at Manitowoc Roncalli.

KHS Experience a High, Two Lows

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT

The combined Wauwatosa East/West golf team easily captured top honors in the 24th annual Brown Port Invitational held at the Hawthorne Hills Golf Course on May 7th. With a score of 414, the Tosans were nine shots ahead of Brookfield East in a format where all five scores counted for the team total.

Even without one of its top players, Kewaskum had a good outing, placing seventh overall out of 16 teams with a 445.

"Our depth allows the varsity to be competitive, but our lack of sub-40 or sub-80 shooters limit our chances of winning," KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said, reporting Adam Lehnerz had to miss the meet because he was taking his advanced placement test that day. Still the Indians did well.

Sophomore Chad Piwoni played a very disciplined round, shooting 42s on both the front and back sides on the par-72 layout. His card included a birdie 3 on the 395-yard, par-4 10th hole.

Junior Luke Koch and sophomore Jason Jahnke followed with 88s. Koch opened with a 43, then slipped two shots on the back nine, while Jahnke struggled to a 48, then charged back with a 40 for his final total.

Ryan Koepke, the lone senior on the team, posted an 89, and Jake Schweder was the fifth scorer with a 96.

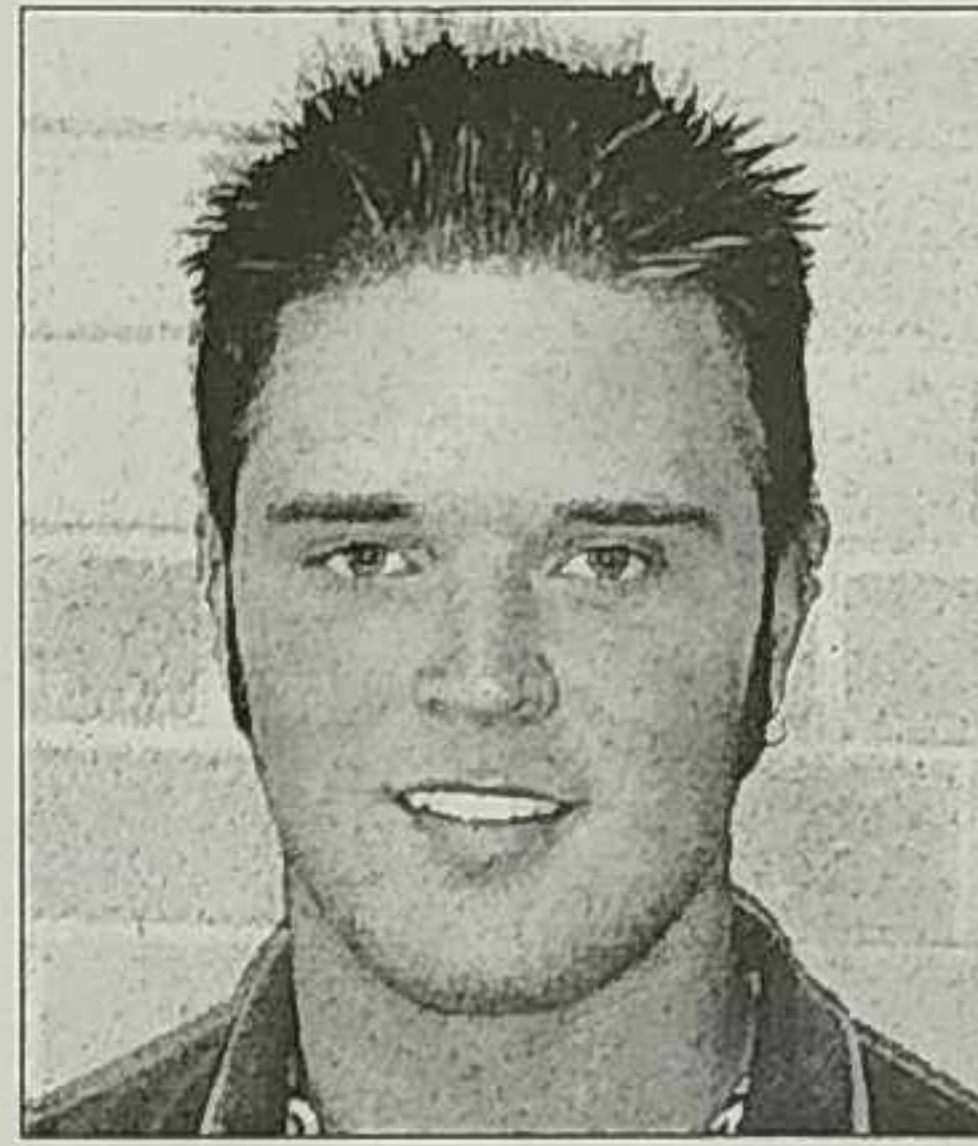

Piwoni's score put him in a tie for 16th overall. Chris Hoff of Tosa East/West earned medalist honors with his 77.

"Hopefully this non-conference contest will serve as a springboard to improved play within the Eastern Conference," Eichstedt said, looking at the fact his team finished last and fifth in its latest two EW meets.

Brown Port Invitational Team scores: 1. Wauwatosa East/West, 414; 2. Brookfield East, 423; 3. Whitefish Bay, 424; 4. Pewaukee, 429; 5. Port Washington, 431; 6. West Allis Hale, 440; 7. Kewaskum, 445; 8. Shorewood, 447; 9. Menomonee Falls, 448; 10. Nicolet, 449; 11. Brown Deer, 454; 12. Grafton, 462; 13. Brookfield Central, 466; 14. West Allis Central, 466; 15. St. Francis, 487; Germantown, disqualified.

Scores soar at the Bull
The Indians may not be quite as excited to play at the Bull at Pinehurst Farms in Sheboygan Falls the next time around. As a matter, all of the EW teams may have developed a quick fear for the course after the May 3rd match there saw team scores 10-30 strokes above their usual totals.

Ryan Koepke

Plymouth won the competition but could only muster a 185 total. Kewaskum skied to a 204, which was last out of the eight conference teams. "We fell out of grace and out of third place," the poetic Eichstedt said, reporting the lone Indians to break 50 was Koepke, who battled to a 49. The other KHS counters were Piwoni at 50, Lehnerz with a 52 and Jahnke with a 53.

Dave Serketich of Plymouth captured medalist honors with a 44.

Indians 5th at Quit Qui Oc

Coach Eichstedt was hoping the Indians would redeem themselves after the tough day at the Bull, and while their team total of 170 was an improvement, four of the other EW teams were lower, led by league-leading Plymouth, which sported a 159 for top honors.

The competition on the par-35 front nine was extremely tight. Sheboygan Falls and Two Rivers nipped the Indians by two and one strokes, respectively.

Koepke and Lehnerz led the KHS attack, with 41s, placing them in a tie for seventh overall. Piwoni and Jahnke carded 44s.

After taking eighth and fifth, Kewaskum has dropped to fifth place in the team race with four matches remaining.

KHS Tennis Team Turns In Two Good Efforts

Nic Luther returns a ball in his match against Sheboygan Falls.

By JUDY HARLOW STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Two solid performances. This would aptly describe the Kewaskum High tennis team's latest two outings, which included a 7-0 shutout win over Chilton.

Kewaskum was unable to defeat Sheboygan Falls on May 4th, but considering the Falcons are currently rated No. 10 in the state among the Division 2 teams, a 5-2 loss could be considered a good effort by the Indians.

"Sheboygan Falls' singles players were outstanding," KHS Coach Dan Ross said. The Falcons won all four singles matches, but the win by Kerry Doyle at No. 2 did not come without a fight from Nic Luther.

er, Eric Vogt, was missing, so Ross moved all the others up one place and inserted freshman Travis Bryant into the lineup.

The top three singles players, Luther, Josh Bryant and Mitch Paulus all crushed their opponents, and Bryant picked up a forfeit for a 4-0 lead.

All three of the Indians' doubles teams won, with only one match going to a third set.

David Figge and Austin Shirley moved up from the JV team to play at No. 3, and they came away with a 4-6, 6-1, 6-3 win over Jared Stroobant and Bill Stroobant.

"Chilton is very young and inexperienced. They didn't have a team last year. They'll be improved next year," Ross said.

With the split, the Indians are 1-3 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play and 2-5 overall.

"Nic Luther played the best he has all year, but came up short in the third set," Ross said.

The Indians pretty well had their own way in the doubles matches, with Abe Foerster and Kyle Lickel combining for a convincing 6-1, 6-3 victory over the senior duo of Brandon Hernandez and Tyler Liebenstein.

Juniors Craig Johann and Adam Ziebell also looked sharp in posting a 6-0, 6-3 victory.

"The doubles play was good again. They're really improved," Ross beamed.

Fast Pitch Tourney Halted by Bad Weather

By JUDY HARLOW STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

When they faced each other in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game, it rained, and early in the consolation game between the Kewaskum and Campbellsport girls' fast-pitch softball teams on May 7th, the skies rumbled and lightning was spotted.

"The game was called in the third inning because of lightning. It was 2-2 at that point," KHS Coach Jeff Gosse said, reporting on the second game of the annual Slinger Tournament.

Kewaskum's scoring came when Tiffany Hedlund was hit by a pitch, and Kristen Mantz followed with a home run.

"She hit it out of the ball park," Gosse said about Mantz's third home run of the season, noting the ball cleared the wall in right-center field.

Rachel Breese was pitching for the Lady Indians, and coach Gosse said, "She was pitching pretty well, considering we were rained on and got hailed on."

Breese has had the misfortune of drawing starts in more than one rainy contest. "She always gets the bad weather," Gosse said, noting the game will not be made up because the rest of the schedule is filled with conference games.

The Indians played good defense for the first three innings of the second game, according to Gosse, but in the first one, a couple of blunders on bunts were costly, leading to a 7-1 loss to the host Owls.

"It was 2-0 going into the fifth ... We had two errors in a row. Blown bunt coverage opened it up," Gosse said, indicating April Lettow was pitching well enough to give the Indians an opportunity to win.

Rachel Breese

Lettow, a sophomore, struck out three and walked three, while giving up seven hits.

Kewaskum managed just two hits, singles by Boedeker and Amy Holm.

Boedeker got her hit in the first inning and advanced to third before the Indians ran out of outs.

"We left quite a few stranded. I think we left eight, so we had our chances," Gosse said.

The KHS coach said Slinger was very good at bunting and used this asset to its advantage. "You've got to give them a lot of credit."
