C-Sport's Hammes Wins FDL Home

Jim and Ann Hammes of Campbellsport seated inside their new home they won in Fond du Lac.

By JUDY HARLOW
 STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
 jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Jim Hammes is still pinching himself a couple of times each day, just to make sure he isn't dreaming about the call his wife Ann received last week, telling her Jim had won a new home in Fond du Lac. "It's more like unbelievable," Hammes said Saturday from the Boar's Nest Tavern (on Hwy. 45 north of Kewaskum), which he and Ann have owned since 1987.

Hammes wasn't home when the call about the winning raffle ticket in the Samaritan drawing came in. He wasn't even in the state. Still, it didn't take long for the good news to reach him.

"They called Ann from the radio station," Hammes said, explaining the chronology of events on what has to be the most exciting May 12th of his life. Ann sent word out to Jimmy, and, "I called her back on the cell phone" to hear the good news.

At the time, Hammes was cruising down the highway east of Iowa City, Iowa, heading back to Wisconsin as part of his weekly runs for Quad Graphics.

It's no wonder Hammes didn't drive right off the road. He was that excited.

The call from his wife led to two others from his daughters, who had also heard the good news.

"It was pretty busy there for a while ... I was like in shock!" Hammes said.

Until now, the biggest prize Hammes has ever won was a $400 gun in a sportsman's drawing, but he has been a raffle participant for years and annually supported the Samaritan Free Health Clinic house drawing since it started. Proceeds from the raffle help people obtain free health care in Fond du Lac, according to Hammes. The raffle is sponsored by Agnesian Health Care.

Hammes figured he bought the ticket "sometime toward the end of March," and while he normally bought the package of four, this year there were some bills to pay so he decided to take just one.

"That's all it took. It was the one!" Hammes beamed.

The home is appraised at $262,000, according to Hammes, who said it is located in a new subdivision on the east side of Fond du Lac, right near the Hwy. 151 bypass.

"It's designed so unique," Hammes said, reporting he

Nikki Airaudi Returns From Greenland

By SHERI BALDIKOWSKI
 STATESMAN FEATURES EDITOR
 sbaldikowski@kewaskumstatesman.com

Nikki Airaudi, an eighth grade science teacher at Kewaskum Middle School, recently returned from a two-week trip to Greenland. Here in Wisconsin we think of the "frozen tundra" as Green Bay Packer's land, but Airaudi is back to tell you differently! Since her trip, she is a walking encyclopedia of information about the REAL frozen tundra---Greenland.

Airaudi was discriminatedly selected for this expedition over many others, through a group called TREC (Teachers and Researchers Exploring and Collaborating), which is part of the educational program of ARCUS (Arctic Research Consortium of the United States). She joined a team of twelve scientists that worked at the summit camp in Greenland to find out how sunlight initiates reactions in the snow and affects the composition of the snow and the atmosphere above it.

These sunlight-driven reactions in snow release a number of pollutants to the lower atmosphere, including formaldehyde, nitrous acid and reactive halogens. In turn, these pollutants alter the composition and chemistry in the lower atmosphere. In order to help understand how air quality in snow-covered regions is affected by these reactions, Nikki and the research team sampled and analyzed reactive chemicals in the snow and in the air by measuring the sunlight in the snow pack, and determining physical properties of the snow.

Through Nikki's diligent documentation from this snow covered region, we are able to bring you some of the highlights of this amazing trip (in the next few issues), so we can all learn more about this remote arctic continent and the testing taking place there, as she worked alongside scientists at the peak of the ice sheet in Greenland. Nikki worked with a science team led by Jack Dibb from the University of New Hampshire and Nicola Blake from the University of California.

PART I - Preperation and Travel

In the mere seven weeks from the time Nikki found out she was chosen until departure time, she was very busy getting ready. The first thing was to get a dental and health exam and submit the paperwork to the NSF doctor. She also had to get a passport, which was difficult in that short of a time span. Nikki shopped for light, layer able, breathable clothes to keep her dry and hopefully warm in the -60 degrees F to -80 degrees F wind chills she would be facing.

One of the highlights of Nikki's pre-trip was receiving a set of Polycom speaker-phones thanks to Vision Net; so her students could call the Summit camp in Greenland and have live conference calls with her.

On Sunday, April 18, Nikki left Milwaukee airport and set out on the adventure of a lifetime. She flew to Pittsburgh, PA, where she changed planes to end up in Albany, New York. After traveling most of the day, Nikki had just enough time to go to an Albany store to pick up food, water and soda for her next morning flight on the military Herc-130 where no food or drink is supplied.

On Monday, April 19, Nikki arrived at Stratton Air Base in Albany at 5:15 AM. Once you ride in a US Air Force Herc-130, you will never complain about "coach" fares on a

Village Board Honors Stoltzmann Plaum Retires From Auburn Plan Commission

BY AMY SWANSON
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

Members of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club presented a check to the Village Board. Monday night, to assist with the restoration of the welcome sign located at the South entrance of the Village.

"This sign project has drawn a lot of support from the community," said Matthew Heiser, village president.

Now the village just needs a few dry days to put on a fresh coat of paint. Jerry Gillies, director of public works said members of the FFA scraped the paint. A birch tree will also be part of the new look as people enter the Village, thanks to the Modern Woodmen. Gillies also said the sign is already lit.

On another turf, the village board reviewed bids received for the KKCP Tennis Court reconstruction project, which will cost approximately $89,000. Trustee Kevin Scheunemann suggested the school district pay for $20,900 of the project. "I think asking them to pay one-third is not unreasonable," he said. Once the school has paid their portion of the project, the $20,900 could be restored to the open space fund, Scheunemann said.

The tennis courts, however, will have to wait in the back alley. The village board approved changing the completion date for the Riverview Drive project.

"We are not changing the cost," said Village Administrator, Daniel Schmidt. The contractor is asking for a two-week extension for the project on Main Street, to be complete by June 4. "There is no cost increase to the Village, they are just asking for an extension."

The board also approved the subdividers' agreement and final plat for Kettle Country Estates, a 71-lot development just off of Hwy. 28 on the eastern end of the Village. An in-depth article on the development will be featured in an upcoming edition.

At the close of the meeting, Heiser issued a Proclamation of Recognition in the name of the people of the village of Kewaskum to the family of Robert W. Stoltzmann.

It reads, "In grateful recognition of his 10 years, 1 month of faithful and dedicated public service rendered to the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin. The Village of Kewaskum is saddened by the loss of Trustee Robert Stoltzmann. Trustee Stoltzmann served as a Trustee for five terms (10 years) and was recently elected to his sixth term service only one month. His community involvement and concern only confirmed his loyalty and dedication to the Village of Kewaskum. Trustee Stoltzmann's untimely death has saddened the hearts and minds of all those involved in community affairs. We, Therefore on behalf of the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, issue this Proclamation, in recognition and appreciation of Robert Stoltzmann's honorable record of service with this Village.

"Even to the last day, he was thinking of others..." Heiser said. "It hurts and I'll miss him; we'll miss him...The community spirit we saw at his benefit and at his funeral prove that our lives here on this planet are shaped by how we take care of each other."

At their May meeting Town of Auburn chairman, Howard Laubenstein announced the retirement of Carl Plaum who has served on the town's planning commission since 2001. Plaum chaired the commission since 2002.

Laubenstein stated he would also be stepping down from the commission appointing Gib Beine who will serve until 2007. He also appointed town supervisor Merle Laatsch to the commission to replace Plaum as chair.

Laubenstein then appointed Camilla Butzke as secretary of the Board of Appeals. Butzke, who thought she was retired replaces Marilyn Backhaus. Kevin Rodenkirch was re-appointed as an alternate until 2006.

At their June meeting the town will open sealed bids for less than four miles of road work and another for sealing the hall parking lot.

If you see this pretty lady on the 27th, be sure to wish her a wonderful 50th Birthday!

Kewaskum Beautification Project Now Underway

The 15 Village cement flower pots have been planted by Kewaskum Women's Club members Jane Siegal, Joyce Schleif and Gwendolyn Dreher. The flowers were donated by the Village Parks Committee, the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kewaskum Women's Club, who also donated the 30 American flags (that will hopefully not be stolen this year).

Watering the flowers will be done by Women's Club members and some volunteers but if business sites would help to water that would be greatly appreciated. Maintenance will be provided by the committee.

Now is the time to get your yards ready for the Village's four Beautification Awards which will be chosen in late July by members of the Kewaskum Women's Club. Awards will be presented at a Village Board Meeting in August.

Special thanks to David Tennes of Kewaskum Tennes Ace Hardware for ordering the flowers. Also a special thank you to Jeanne Moe and Thrivent for planting flowers at the Welcome sign on Riverview Drive. Any extra flowers left from the flower pots will be planted at the Area Events sign on Hwy. 45.

County Fair Seeking Fairest Of the Fair Applicants

Would you like to serve as a media spokesperson for the Washington County Fair? Would you like to be the official host/hostess of the annual Washington County Fair? You can do just that if you become the 2004 Washington County Fairest of the Fair. The one-year experience, as an ambassador representing the Fair, will provide leadership experiences in various activities throughout the county.

The person selected will have the opportunity to promote educational, agricultural, social and economic opportunities available at the Washington County Fair as well as throughout the year. You will also represent Washington County at the Wisconsin Fairest of the Fair competition in Green Bay in January 2005. The person selected as Wisconsin Fairest of the Fair would work as an employee of the Wisconsin State Fair during the summer of 2005.

Any Washington County resident who is at least 18 years of age by January 1, 2005 is invited to apply for the position. Application forms are available at the Washington County Fair Park Office, 3000 Hwy. PV, West Bend, or call 262-677-5060.

The Fairest of the Fair is selected on the basis of personality, communication skills, poise, school and community activities and knowledge of Washington County's rural heritage. The individual chosen will serve as the official host/hostess and spokesperson at the Washington County Fair July 20-25 along with various activities throughout the year. Orientation and cable interviews will be held on Friday, July 9th. The interviews and programs will be held on Tuesday, July 20 at the Fair Park.

Applications are being accepted now through June 1.

Chamber of Commerce Launches Re-designed Website

Jake Schneider, standing, addresses the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors about the re-design his company, Blink Internet Consulting has done with the chamber site, www.kewaskum.org. The site is a great tool for residents and visitor's alike. Those living here or coming into the area will find a great picture of our Kettle Moraine. The site gives detailed information on local attractions, businesses, and events, as well as a direct connection to the Chamber. According to the Chamber they continually strive to offer their members as much as they can for their membership dues. This is just another feature the chamber can continue to offer their members and it is hoped that more businesses in the community will take advantage of this opportunity and join the organization. The site is still a work in progress and input from the community is appreciated.

T. Wayne Woman Injured In Lawnmower Accident

A 34-year-old Town of Wayne woman suffered a severely injured left leg as the result of a lawnmower accident while mowing grass at her residence on Wednesday, May 12, shortly after 5 p.m.

The victim was operating a riding lawnmower cutting the grass near a concrete retaining wall. The mower wheels drifted off the edge of the wall causing her and the tractor to fall off a 3-4 foot ledge. While overturning, the cutting blades severed the victim's left leg near the ankle.

Kewaskum Rescue, Kohlsville First Responders, and West Bend Rescue Intercept responded to the scene. A request was made for Flight For Life Helicopter, however they were not available. The victim was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend and then transferred to Froedtert by Lifestar Ambulance.

The investigation revealed that the riding mower was equipped with a seat safety switch designed to turn the power off if the rider gets off or is thrown off. The switch had been purposely modified to circumvent this safety feature.

Having over 2,100 square feet of living space will be quite a change for Ann and Jim, who have been living in a 1,000 square foot house trailer attached to the bar.

Hammes does have the option to take $170,000 in cash and says he and Ann are in the process of deciding which to take. "We're not really positive what we're going to do," he said.

Hammes will have plenty of time to deliberate on his options. He was heading out for Iowa again Sunday and will certainly have a great story for the people where he picks up his load of ink.

He still can't believe it himself, admitting he had no inking whatsoever he would ever win such a prize.

"I wasn't even aware that was the day it (winning ticket) was drawn," Hammes said. "Sometimes I just wonder if this really happened."

Cell Tower Proposed For Town of Scott

By BERNADETTE MONDLOCH
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT

Preliminary plans are underway for the installation of a cellular tower in the Town of Scott. Jim Weinmann, a Wireless Planning Consultant representing US Cellular explained that the reception is poor or almost nil in the Batavia area. He said that US Cellular is considering placing a tower at the intersection of County Road SS, A and State Highway 28. The long range plan for that location is to build a new fire house for the Batavia Fire Department on the South end of the property. The tower would go on the west lot line near County A.

The board looked at a tower at that location would be a plus for the town. Weinmann estimated that it could net the town from $6,000 to $7,000 per year for a lease of the property which would be used for the 100 to 200 foot tower. An on site meeting is being planned between the Town Board and Weinmann to look at the placement possibilities.

Bids for summer road maintenance were opened and contract letting will be done at a meeting that was scheduled for Monday, May 17 at 7:30. Bids were submitted by Northeast Asphalt, Fahrner Asphalt, Scott Construction, Struck & Irwin, and a proposal from the Sheboygan County Highway Department.

A request for a three year extension of the conditional use permit for operation of the Fechter-Hartman gravel pit on County D was turned down. Instead, the town board granted a one year extension. The original permit was a two year non-renewable permit. Supervisor Ken Willkomm was the only one voting against the extension.

A request from Norman Preder, N 230 Camp Awana Road to rezone 5.4 acres of a total 40 acre parcel from A-1 to A-2 was tabled. Preder intends to sell land to the DNR for use in the North Branch Milwaukee River Wildlife and Farming Heritage area. The denial centered around the zoning ordinance requirement which considers soil types when designating zoning classifications. Size also enters the picture. The entire 40 acres is soil type 1 & 2 which falls into the A-1 classification. A-2 classification is generally best suited for smaller farm units, such as truck farming, horse farming, hobby farming, orchards, and similar ag-related farming activity. Despite the fact that Preder said he has no intention of subdividing the 34.60 acres of remaining A-1 land, the opportunity would be there. The final decision was to table the request until the planning commission can review the zoning ordinance and consider changes which may favor Preder and all other property owners who may wish to request similar zoning changes while still maintaining the rural atmosphere of the town.

The annual town meeting is defined in state statutes as being a time when any elector may bring up an issue. With that in mind, despite the fact that only four electors attended the annual meeting several weeks ago and requested a change in the procedures for posting meeting notices, the board has taken action upon that request.

In the future all regular monthly town board meetings, must be posted no later than 72 hours (Friday night at 7:00 p.m.) preceding the Monday night regular town board meeting. State statutes require that posting be done at least 24 hours prior to the meeting. Jean Linton, one of the individuals who favored the change said that more time is needed than 24 hours to do any research on an agenda item prior to the meeting. It also requires a special trip to the town hall to view the agenda. Changing the time of posting to Friday night would make it available for anyone who brings their material to the recycling center on Saturdays, nearly 3 days prior to the meeting.

This change also means that anyone wanting an item to be placed on the agenda, would need to contact the clerk no later than Thursday (96 hours) prior to the meeting, or 24 hours prior to the posting.

Anything coming in later than that would be referred to the next month on the regular meeting night.

As part of the upcoming State Highway 28 remodeling project, Valley View Drive will no longer have an outlet to State Highway 28 at the Sheboygan/Washington County Line. Valley View will end with a cul du sac. The University of California Professor Visits Kewaskum Middle School

Nikki Airaudi and Professor Cort Anastasio at KMS.

BY SHERI BALDIKOWSKI
sbaldikowski@kewaskumstatesman.com

One of the chemists KMS teacher Nikki Airaudi got to work with at the Summit Camp she attended in Greenland was Cort Anastasio and she discussed with him the possibility of coming to her classroom in Kewaskum and teaching her students first hand about his particular area of expertise. Through Nikki's prodding and relentless efforts, she got ARCUS (Arctic Research Consortium of the United States) to sponsor Cort's visit to Kewaskum Middle School.

On Monday, May 17th, Cort Anastasio, professor of atmospheric chemistry at University of California-Davis, came to Kewaskum Middle School to address Nikki Airaudi's science class. Cort left Greenland with Nikki but he stopped in upper New York State to visit family. Thus, when ARCUS approved Nikki's request to have one of the Greenland researchers pay Kewaskum a visit, Cort was the perfect choice because he could stop on his way back to California.

In an interview with Cort, he told us he has been a professor of atmospheric chemistry at UC Davis in the department of land, air and water resources for the last eight years. Part of his job is air pollution research in United States projects along with spending four months (March to July) in Greenland. The other part of his job is teaching undergraduate and graduate students.

In Greenland, Cort's experiment was to measure the amount of hydroxyl radical (HO) in the snow. Since it only stays HO for a very short time before it reacts with something else and changes, this is a very difficult job. For this reason, one of the experiments at Summit Camp was to create their own snow. They have to do this so that they could inject a chemical called sodium benzoate into the crystals as they froze.

To make snow they took purified water and added sodium benzoate to it. They took it outside and spread it on a Teflon sheet (Teflon won't react to or give off any chemicals) to freeze. They then scraped the ice off and crushed it so that it resembled snow. After they made snow, they could measure how much sodium benzoate was still left behind and how much of it had changed to something else. They can use this information to get an estimate of how much HO was created in the snow by the sun. They analyze this on a machine called an HPLC (high-pressure liquid chromatograph).

As Professor Anastasio explains it, the hydroxyl radical acts like a vacuum cleaner and is a chemical that chews up other chemicals. It will attack almost anything and break it down. That is why it is so important to study it as it is a major way that the atmosphere cleans itself. They also tried to measure the amount of HO on clean snow to see how much is produced. This might help them to understand how important the HO is for destroying chemicals in the snow. In Greenland they could go down two miles in a hole of snow/ice and see what the atmosphere was like for over 100,000 years. This helps bring about some understanding of how the atmosphere has changed because of the human element. They can also determine the age of different ice layers.

Professor Anastasio also emphasized the importance of the sunlight as it starts all the reactions that break the chemicals apart. To test the sunlight's affects, a three-foot deep pit was made and various tubes of chemicals were placed at varying degrees in it. They then could see what reaction happens at a given depth from the sunlight. Most sunlight is gone after 20 cm (eight inches) into the snow. In comparison, in ground, sunlight penetrates only about one mm.

Because Greenland has very harsh winters, most of the work there is done from March to August, which also enables them to get a lot done because it is light so long.

The goal of Cort and other scientists is to be able to understand how reasons change ice cores. Therefore, the records of past atmospheric conditions could give us the key to knowing how it is changed so we can fix it. Secondly, to take what is learned at Greenland and apply it to United States air quality.

Professor Anastasio said, "Pollution is a major concern for these studies, as it affects climate, human health and visibility (haze)." Ozone days are another major concern, which affect people with respiratory ailments. Ozone is the bigger problem in cities from all the cars, power plants and factories. For these reasons, Cort likes his job as he feels he is doing something that may make a difference in the world. He thinks of himself as sort of a detective trying to solve the mystery of how the atmosphere works.

Cort feels ARCUS responded favorably to Nikki's request for an atmospheric chemist to come to Kewaskum, even though it is a commercial flight again! The plane is so loud that everyone uses the earplugs handed out to him or her; thus, no one talks to each other for the entire flight! This seemed so weird to Nikki since they sat in their hammock seats, face to face, in close quarters, and all you can do is stare at each other or read a book. Although it was an awesome experience, Nikki wished they had had windows instead of little portals so she could have seen something, especially since they were flying much lower than commercial airlines.

Next week's edition will feature information on Greenland itself in this series of articles about Nikki Airaudi's expedition to Greenland.

Author of Quilting Books To Speak at C-sport Library

On Thursday, June 3, from 7 - 8:30 p.m., Jennifer Chiaverini of Madison and the author of six books pertaining to quilting, will appear at the Campbellsport Public Library to talk about quilting and the writing of her books. The books will be for sale, and Jennifer has agreed to autograph books for those wishing her to do so.

Jennifer began quilting ten years ago hoping to complete a wedding quilt in time for her approaching wedding. Also ten years ago, she began her first book, "The Quilter's Apprentice." The success of this book led to a series, but it also caused her to put aside the wedding quilt and now, for her 10th wedding anniversary she hopes to complete it. Jennifer also gave birth to two children during this time. The characters who appeared in her first book continue to visit the readers in the subsequent books.

On June 3, Jennifer will share just how she manages to divide her time between her family, her writing, and her quilting. This is a program quilters and those interested in quilts will not want to miss.

Jennifer Chiaverini's program is the fourth and final of the library's year-long series of free evening programs. The library is located at 222 N. Helena St. in Campbellsport, one block north of St. Matt's Church. The program will be held in the lower level meeting room, there is no charge for the evening, refreshments will be served and the room is equipped to accommodate those with disabilities. Call the library at 920-533-8534 for additional information.

Holy Trinity to Host Book Sale

Parents of Holy Trinity School students will be holding their third annual book sale - open to all. It will include both adult and children's books.

The sale will be held on Friday, May 28th from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the church hall. All books will be priced at 50¢. Anyone willing to donate books should drop them off under the coat racks by the parking lot entrance of the church between Sunday, May 23 and Thursday, May 27.

All funds raised will go towards Holy Trinity's Reading is Fundamental program and the school library. If you need books picked-up or have any questions, please call the school at 262-626-2603.

Washington County Fair To Feature Battle of Bands

The Washington County Fair, scheduled for July 20-25, will be opening a day early this year - on Tuesday, July 20 at 5 p.m. Entertainment for the evening will include two Battles of the Bands.

On the Devenport Family stage will be the Fourth Annual Youth Battle of the Bands sponsored by STAND (Students Taking Action Not Drugs). Members of the bands performing on this stage are age 18 and under. The bands will be competing for cash and prizes.

This year the Washington County Fair will be hosting an "Adult Battle" in the Entertainment Tent. The Battle will feature bands whose members are 18 years or older.

Helping to sponsor this year's battles are White House of Music, West Bend Sunrise Rotary and TM Solutions.

Each stage will be judged by a minimum of three judges. Bands will be judged on musicianship, stage presence and crowd appeal.

The top three placing bands from each stage will win a cash prize and the first place finisher from each stage will be invited back to play in the Leinie Lodge on Sunday, July 25.

Applications along with rules and regulations for either battle are available at: White House of Music, 3218 W. Washington Street, West Bend; Washington County Fair Park, 3000 Pleasant Valley Road, West Bend and The Council on AODA, Linda Dymond, 1625 E. Washington Street, West Bend or call Linda at 262-335-6898.

Campbellsport Theater Tryouts May 26 & 27

Campbellsport Community Theater is holding tryouts for Anything Goes on May 26th and 27th at 6:30 p.m. at the Lang Auditorium in Campbellsport High School. Anything Goes is a story set on an oceanliner, making a TransAtlantic crossing with a cast of unusual and fun characters. The time period is the Roaring 20's. The music was written by Cole Porter and is some of his best and well known songs. The play will be performed on August 5th, 6th, 7 and 8th at the Lang Auditorium.

The show has a large cast with a wide range of interesting characters in the main roles as well as many small characters with lines. The chorus consists of sailors and their passengers on the ship. It is a well-written show that's lively and witty. Hope to see many at tryouts. If you have any questions, please call Rose at 920-533-4375.

The women will play 18 holes on Saturday, while the men are playing both days to determine championships of the three flights.

Craig Anderson of West Bend and Hartford's Bruce Henning will attempt to defend their 2003 title. Anderson won the "triple crown" at Hon-E-Kor last year, including the men's club championship and the Kettle Moraine Amateur title.

Dave Denis, members of the Tuesday Nite Men's League and Pro Joe Harlow coordinate the best ball.

Birds of the World Program To Visit St. Francis Bank

Youngsters throughout the Milwaukee metropolitan area will have the opportunity to take a journey across the continent when the Zoological Society of Milwaukee's Care for Critters program pays a visit to selected St. Francis Bank branches this summer and fall.

Sponsored by Pick 'N Save, the program features live birds, such as a tawny owl, a screech owl, a vulture, an augur buzzard, or red-tailed hawk, a Bateluer eagle, a tawny eagle, a falcon, a parrot, a snake and a domesticated rat.

The birds are presented in one of two ways, including a formal 45-minute sit-down program or a one to two hour "Meet and Greet" informal program in which a naturalist is present to answer questions and allow youngsters to see the animals up close.

"Audiences come away with a better understanding of and appreciation for the animals, their food source and their part of the world," said Lisa Berfmann, Care for Critters Coordinator.

Appearance dates and times at various St. Francis Bank branches are being worked out and will be announced when they become available.

St. Francis Bank is a division of MidAmerica Bank, fsb. The parent company of mid America Bank, MAF Bank corp, has $9 billion in assets with a network of 67 retail banking offices in Milwaukee and Chicago and their surrounding areas.

Buffalo Keeps You Buff

Have you heard the skinny on buffalo meat?

My husband stumbled upon buffalo meat at the butcher shop recently. Always eager to try new things – or otherwise I will cook – he bought a couple of pounds of ground buffalo and hoped to pass it off as hamburgers.

I knew something was not right by the grin on his face as he mashed and molded the burgers. He let me in on the plan, but I was sworn to secrecy not to tell our kids. I didn't think it would be an issue for our nine-year-old, but since our six-year-old only eats peanut butter for every meal, I thought he would be a harder sell. Our two-year-old daughter eats lint and Legos from the floor, so I didn't see a problem with her trying the buffalo either.

This was going to be fun. At dinner I started humming, "Give me a home where the buffalo roam..." which is probably what gave it away. "Is this buffalo meat?" nine year old, Alex asked.

Buffalo busted.

Buffalo meat is full of health benefits. It is nutrient dense because of the proportion of protein, fat, minerals, and vitamins compared to its calorie value. It is also lower in sodium, higher in iron and zinc compared to other meats.

Buffalo also provides a tasty alternative for people on a low fat, low cholesterol diet. It's no secret that there is a strong link between heart disease, fat intake and cholesterol levels. Eating buffalo can help reduce the risk of coronary artery disease by reducing the amount of fat you eat. Buffalo meat is a red meat that can be eaten by those who have been told to avoid red meats.

Buffalo meat is available at select butcher shops. Otherwise, take a quick drive north on Hwy 45 to Crystal Springs Buffalo Farm, one mile north of Eden. For the past eight years, Len and Sue Luterbach have farmed buffalo and have meat and steaks for sale.

"We have a steady flow of customers," Sue said. "A lot of people eat it because they have heart trouble. Sue said some of her customers include marathon runners, who eat the meat because it is higher in protein, lower in fat, higher in iron. "It's lower in fat than chicken breasts," she said.

The Luterbachs farm about 40 buffalo and sell the meat for $3.98 per pound for burgers and between $9.50 - $15 for steaks.

The minimal price difference between ground sirloin and ground buffalo disappears as soon as you taste the buffalo. Sue said buffalo also doesn't take as long to cook because it has less fat.

Here are a few buffalo recipes for your home, home on the range:

The Plains Indians found many uses for the buffalo. The meat was eaten, the skins were used to make clothing and coverings for the tipis and the tail was used, as a fly swatter.

BUFFALOAF

1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 tsp. salt; 1/4 tsp. pepper; 1/4 tsp nutmeg; 1/2 tsp. mixed herbs of your choice
3 eggs
1 cup whole milk
2 lbs ground buffalo
1 cup carrots, shredded
Finely chopped celery and onion to taste
1/2 cup hickory flavored catsup-may use regular instead

Place crumbs, salt, pepper, nutmeg, herbs in bowl. Add eggs and milk; mix well. Let stand 5 minutes.

Slowly blend in chopped buffalo, carrots, celery, onion. Spread evenly in 9x13-inch pan. Spread catsup evenly on top.

Bake 325°F for 1 hour or until done. Let stand 5 minutes before cutting

BUFFALO VEGETABLE STEW

2 lbs buffalo
1/4 cup oil
2 large chopped onions
2 cloves of minced garlic

2 cups of corn
8 cups water
1 tsp.salt; 1 tsp.oregano; 1/2 tsp.pepper
4 carrots, sliced
3 potatoes, cubed
1 green pepper(optional)

Cut buffalo in cubes, brown in oil. Put meat aside and saute garlic and onions in the buffalo oil.

Return the meat into pan, add water, corn, salt, pepper. Cook for 2 hours, or until meat tender.

Add the vegetables and continue to cook until done, about 30 minutes.

Town of Scott

Town has signed an agreement with the State Department of Transportation for the change.

The Beechwood Fire Department is looking into the possibility of applying for a Liquor License. The only liquor license available is a "Reserve" license which carries with it a $10,000 fee. Asked if the town would waive the fee, the answer was negative. The department will be looking into the rules and regulations before giving it more consideration.

The town is looking for someone to mow the Union Cemetery on County Road D. Interested parties are to contact the Clerk Billie Jo Richter at 262-692-9834 or Chairman Steve Jung at 262-692-9792.

Supervisor Ivan Kumrow reported that crack filling has been completed on 4 1/2 miles of Town roads and next years supply of salt has been delivered.

During the month of May, the Batavia first responders answered 1 medical call, 1 car accident, held 2 practices, and held 1 meeting.

Plans are underway for a car wash/brat fry fund raiser to be held at the Scott Community Center on May 22.

The Batavia Fire Department answered 3 fire calls, held 1 practice and 2 controlled burns.

One regular meeting was held along with 1 ISO meeting, 3 officer meetings and participated in the Brian Ramel Benefit at the Community Center.

Beechwood Firemen experienced 2 fire calls, 1 practice and 1 work detail along with 1 regular meeting and 1 officer meeting. There were 7 controlled burns and the truck committee held one meeting.

Planning for the June 12 & 13 Firemen's Picnic is now underway.

Other items before the board:

Approved a certified survey for Ron Hinz

Approved a certified survey for Daniel & Carie Domask (Ira Weber voting against)

Signed a contract with Onyx Waste Materials effective Jan. 1, 2005 thru 2007

Approved a Beer License for the June 12 & 13th Beechwood Firemens Picnic

Tabled an order to clean up the Wisconsin Pallet Co. property..More study needed

Functional Analysis And Sound Budgeting

Much has been said and written about the Virchow Krause Functional Analysis Report presented to the district in January. Unfortunately, most attention zeroed in only on potential budget reductions and not on a very important second reason for the report: An impartial, third party review of district finances.

I would like to cite passages taken directly from the report so community members will see the positives it contained. I believe that as you read them you will come to the same conclusion as I did, that the School Board and Administrative Team needs to be commended for their diligence and hard work in preparing and maintaining a fair and equitable budget, not only this year, but in past years as well. Here are some excerpts from the report.

"Throughout the review, project team members were favorably impressed by the innovative strategies already employed by the district to ensure that district resources are used in an effective manner. The district successfully reduced its budget by $648,540 for the 2003-04 school year despite a 14% increase in the cost of health benefits and these were accomplished without the elimination of activities directly related to student programming."

The report compared Kewaskum to 6 comparable school districts and cited this information: "The Kewaskum School District's total current educational costs, total education costs, and total district costs per member are 8-9% less than the average of comparable districts. Further, the total education cost and total district cost are among the lowest of all comparable districts. Compared to comparable districts, the Kewaskum School District receives 10% less revenue per member overall." I believe these comments needed to be shared with the community so I have taken the liberty of doing so in this column.

As the School Board began the process of closing the 2003-04 operating budget, administration informed them that with a milder winter than expected, combined with lower than expected increases in prices for natural gas and electricity, plus the addition of other energy savings purchases made last year, i.e., energy efficient lighting, etc., these all combined for a projected $100,000 savings in the utilities budget. There was also a projected savings of about $35,000 in the Open Enrollment budget, which came about when parents decided not to open enroll (transfer) their children to other districts, preferring to keep them in Kewaskum, etc. With these budget adjustments totaling about $135,000, the board was able to approve the purchase of several items through this year's budget that had been included in the failed referendum. Approximately $129,000 will be used for some textbooks and computers, plus a few maintenance projects. Any future budget adjustments, if possible, will more than likely be placed in the district's Fund Balance to replace monies committed in last year's budget.

I professionally believe that the School Board has been extremely diligent and efficient in the handling of the district's budget not only this year, but in the past. I hope others will recognize their efforts as well.

TWO SOULS

INDIVISIBLE

The Friendship That Saved
Two POWs in Vietnam

JAMES S. HIRSCH
Author of Hatefueled

Remember POW bracelets? For those too young to remember or those who haven't seen the recently-resurrected style, they were simple strips of aluminum or copper bent in a "C" shape. Each bracelet was engraved with the name and rank of a soldier, and below that, a date of loss. Some bracelets also had an indication of POW (Prisoner of War) or MIA (Missing in Action) or both. The idea was to wear them until "your" soldier came home, and then you were supposed to return it to him or her. "Two Souls Indivisible" by James S. Hirsch (c. 2004, Houghton Mifflin) is the story of two of those former POWs, and how their friendship changed their lives.

Porter Halyburton was a southern gentleman, born and raised in a small town in North Carolina. Halyburton was married with a baby daughter when he volunteered for duty aboard the Independence, and on one of his missions, he and his pilot were shot down over Vietnam. The pilot was killed. Halyburton was captured, and as a Navy j.g., Halyburton became one of the youngest POWs in Vietnam.

Fred Cherry was born outside Suffolk, Virginia and was raised by his mother and his eldest sister. From the first moment he saw a plane go overhead, Cherry knew he wanted to fly and as soon as he was old enough, he joined the Air Force. Fred Cherry was black and had fought racism and segregation all his life, and though the pre-civil rights-era Air Force still had its racism, Cherry was known for his leadership and skill, and he quickly worked his way up the ranks. He married a girl he met while stationed in Montana, had 4 children, and was stationed in Japan when he was shot down over Vietnam.

When Porter Halyburton was put in a prison cell with the badly injured Fred Cherry, he was puzzled to hear that his captors expected him to care for Cherry. Then reality dawned on both men: the Vietnamese thought that putting a white Southern man in charge of caring for a black man would be the worst kind of punishment for both. What they didn't reckon was that Halyburton would save Cherry's life and that Cherry would save Halyburton's spirit.

"Two Souls Indivisible" is a book that is filled with emotion, both soaring and crashing. The clever defiance of the American prisoners will make you laugh, despite yourself. Cherry's (ex)wife will infuriate you. The torture scenes will make you heart-sick. And the incredible tenacity, stoicism, and bravery you'll read about will make you shake your head in amazement and pride.

Author James S. Hirsch has written a powerful and extraordinary story of two men who became one another's salvation, though they were only cellmates for a short time. This book will leave a deep and lasting impression on you. Whether you supported the Vietnam War, avoided it, condemned it, or don't remember it... read it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

With pride in America, and our Armed Forces, I salute the vast majority of the men & women who serve our country with honor in Iraq, Afghanistan, and other parts of the world. May God bless them, and their families. To allow the few who dishonor our country to become a reflection of our entire nation, and to place the blame for their actions on their Commander N, Chief, is a form of treason. Our soldiers in Iraq are not at war with the people of Iraq, but rather, they are peacemakers who have become victims of revenge and hatred by an unseen enemy who will even kill their own countrymen if necessary. Without our military presence, mobs would rule a country which has lost the desire for peace. In comparison, allowing a political party responsible for millions of deaths through abortion, to resume power at any level of political life, is a disgrace to every American who believes in the right to life according to our Constitution, which says we are all created equal. Scandal is all around us, but the scandal of deliberate, willful abortion is the greatest scandal ever witnessed by any people - civilized, or uncivilized.

Dear Editor:

When computer technology gets too old to use, it becomes bulky, toxic, useless waste - unless you recycle it!

We are grateful to the citizens of Washington County for participating in our Spring Used Computer Recycling Drive! This collection of used computers, printers and monitors was again a success because of the many businesses and citizens who prefer to recycle than to place these items in our landfills. Hundreds of items were collected!

Our Spring Used Computer Recycling Drive took another tractor-trailer load of Washington County waste out of the landfill and into a new life! Recycling computer technology is good for us all! We reuse what can be refurbished! We breakdown and recycle what can't be used again! It takes computers out of our dumpsters and landfills. It puts reusable machines into non-profits, day care centers and schools throughout Washington County and across the state of Wisconsin.

Our Computer Recycling Drives depend on the support of many. We are particularly grateful to Kreilkamp Trucking for donating a trailer and driver for the recycling drive! Kreilkamp Trucking has helped us by gathering and transporting the used computer equipment to be recycled. We are also grateful to the Ziegler Company for their generous cooperation and assistance with this project over the past three years.

We also thank the work crew from Nova Service, Project Payback. These youth helped haul and stack hundreds of pieces of donated equipment. Project Payback is troubled kids doing good deeds! Their help was so appreciated.

As you replace your computer technology, please recycle! Call the Volunteer Center of Washington County at 262-338-8256 to get on our reminder list. We'll contact you just before our next drive.

West Bend Inn to Get New Name, Facelift

An artist's rendition of the front of the future Clairemont Suites and Meeting Center, formerly the West Bend Inn.

It was announced recently that a local investment group has reached agreement to purchase the West Bend Inn, 2520 W Washington St, West Bend. Bob Gannon, Managing Partner of Richards Insurance of West Bend LLP and Rick Schneider, CEO and owner of Coventry Homes Ltd. have formed WBHG LLC to purchase, renovate and operate the facility. WBHG LLC will be operating the new facility under the new name "Clairemont Inn and Meeting Center" and expect to close on the transaction in mid-June.

Schneider explained that the renovation will be extensive and involve all aspects of the facility and operation. "We saw that the basics were there with regard to the building and its location and felt its potential was obvious. We are confident the new facility will be well received by everyone who sees it."

The new plans call for a major updating and redecorating of every space and will be completed in 3 phases. The first phase, scheduled for completion in mid-August, will include a renovation of the Main Ballroom which will incorporate a new multi-purpose pre-function gathering / reception area, 2 new meeting rooms with state of the art media services that when combined can serve over 150 persons, new restrooms, and a new, more intimate, retro lounge and restaurant for guests and the public. As part of this phase, the front façade will get a completely new look styled to have a gracious and classic colonial look that will be much more visible and welcoming.

The second phase, scheduled for completion October first, involves a new indoor pool facility that will include a zero depth entry children's pool with numerous water park features and a slide, a new adult pool outfitted for basketball and volleyball, a new whirlpool spa, new restrooms, and a social room overlooking the pool area. The social room will be available for community groups, children's outings, birthday parties, etc. Other amenities will include a new arcade and fitness room.

The third phase is an ongoing phase for remodeling and updating the guest rooms and corridors. Most of the standard rooms will be converted to deluxe rooms with larger vanities and more in-room amenities. Most of the existing theme rooms, known over the years as "Fantasuites," will be converted into one bedroom suites better suited for families and extended stays. The last of the room conversions should be completed by fall 2005.

Schneider said the final plans have turned out better than expected. "People will not recognize the place which was essentially our goal. This is planned as a completely new operation and our purpose is to serve the community with the best facility possible."

According to Gannon, the facility will remain open during construction and all reservations and pre-reserved functions will be honored and accommodated for. "A concerted effort will be made to insure our guests comfort during construction. We will be scheduling around existing bookings and expect no inconveniences."

Social Security News

www.ssa.gov

Mary Byrns, District Manager

If you are recently disabled and have been thinking about filing for Social Security disability benefits, I have some good news for you. There is a new "Disability Starter Kit" that can help you get ready for your disability interview and guide you through the application process.

The starter kit gives general information about the disability programs and about the process we use to decide whether or not you qualify for disability benefits. And the kit provides guidelines about the specific information and documents we will ask you for during the interview. We think the kit will help take some of the mystery out of applying for disability benefits.

Each disability starter kit contains:

- a fact sheet that answers most questions people ask about filing for disability benefits;

- a checklist of documents and information we will request; and

- a worksheet to help you gather and organize the information you will need.

The fact sheet provides the legal definition of "disability" and explains how Social Security decides if your condition is severe enough to meet the eligibility criteria. It also gives tips on steps you can take to speed up the decision-making process.

The checklist provides a list of the information we need for most disability claims. That includes documents such as a birth certificate, latest W-2 form and military discharge papers, and information such as the names and addresses of all the doctors and other health professionals who have treated you.

The worksheet is designed to mimic many of the most important questions we ask during the disability application interview, such as description of your impairment(s) and the date you became disabled. In addition to the information about your treatment sources as outlined in the checklist, it also asks you to list the medications you take and the medical tests you have had. And it asks for information about the kinds of jobs you have held.

You will be sent a copy of the "Disability Starter Kit" whenever you request an appointment to file for Social Security disability benefits. Or you can find the kit online at www.socialsecurity.gov/disability, or call 1-800-772-1213 and ask that a kit be mailed to you.

Outdoor Adventures

By: Mark Walters
Living the Good Life

Hello Friends,

This past week marks the anniversary of two significant events in my life. I will be writing about both of them as well as a few things that are presently happening.

Ten years ago, my life was turned upside down when my father passed away after suffering a heart attack. My dad, Robert Walters, was my best friend and the man responsible for helping me become so involved in the outdoor world.

I had turkey hunted with him the weekend before he died. I spent two hours on the phone with him the night before his death planning a Lake Michigan fishing trip for the next weekend.

My dad was a traveling salesman, covering Iowa and Wisconsin. I traveled a great deal with him and I am well aware that his friendly, no push attitude is something I learned from him and is a key to my success with people.

My dad was just beginning to witness my success as an outdoor columnist when he passed away.

This week, An Outdoorsman's Journal celebrates its 15th anniversary. That is the other significant event I am writing about. When dad died, I was writing for about 15 newspapers and was always completely broke.

As of this week, I write for 63 papers and support a family of six. I wish my dad could have hung around a few more years to enjoy the fruits of my labor. I give 100 percent of the credit for my success to the way Robert Walters raised me. My wife, Laurie, and I are small time hobby farmers. It provides good food for our family and a little income. We are currently raising six steers, 20 ducks, and are just about to get a fresh batch of chicks and have a very large garden.

The steers, although there is little profit in them, are a way to save money. They have to be fed, but in the end they give us a lump sum of cash. The ducks are for fly control and meat. The chicks make for excellent eating in about 10 weeks. Our garden is a labor of love with this year's addition of asparagus, raspberries, blueberries and strawberries.

The cattle have helped convert what was very poor quality sand into a food producing soil that gave us an incredible yield last summer.

Laurie and I have also planted 10 apple trees that should give us a couple of bushels of apples this year. We hope to harvest even more in the coming years.

Being a syndicated columnist will never produce a big income for me. I will always have trip expenses, but in all honesty, I am happy to have enough money to cover the basics.

One thing that did bother me was that the boys had very little cash. Last summer, I came up with the idea for them to start a bundled firewood selling business. With the boys I stress quality and reliability. Their hard work is paying off. They have cash and are buying and doing things they would not otherwise be able to.

Speaking of trips, my buddies out of New Lisbon, Jeff Neitzel, Dan Berry, and I were just selected for a Montana elk and mule deer hunt this fall. I think about this trip every day.

Recently, I have been hearing a lot about wild hogs in southwest Wisconsin, near Gays Mills. Wild hogs may be the most interesting news in Wisconsin's outdoor world since Chronic Wasting Disease.

Because the hogs are considered a nuisance by the Department of Natural Resources, there is no daily bag limit or hunting season for them. So far, over 40 animals have been harvested.

Having taken part in my first hog hunt this past winter and still feeling a rush from it, I say whatever happens, happens. Either we get a handle on this rapid reproducer or with time, like the wolf, turkey and fisher, they will be a new neighbor to many of us. Wild hogs do lots of agricultural damage and would be an enemy of most farmers. My prediction is that they are here to stay and will take over the outdoor world in a smaller, but similar way that turkey hunting has.

This weekend I have a family trip planned at a cabin on Marsh Miller Lake near Bloomer. You can thank my dad for that.

Thanks, Dad!

Athletics Gain Weekend Split

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Great pitching, timely hitting and solid defense proved to be a winning combination for the Kewaskum Athletics Sunday in a Rock River League game played in the Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park.

Behind the strong arms of Jake Panzer and Steve Ketter, the A's shut out Pardeeville very convincingly. The final score was 6-0.

"Jake pitched a great game for us," A's player/manager Jason Strobel said Monday, reporting Panzer went five innings, striking out 11, walking just two and giving up only three hits.

"The pitching was great," Strobel went on, pointing to three walks from Panzer and Ketter, who came on in relief in the sixth inning and limited Pardeeville to just two hits.

Ketter was also a star at the plate, going 2x3, with a double, three runs scored and a stolen base.

This was far from a one-man show, however. Adam Sarauer had three hits in five trips to the plate. He scored once and drove in a pair or runs.

Strobel helped the A's cause with a double, an RBI and a stolen base in a 3x4 effort, while Adam Beck went 2x4 with a double, and Noah Koch and Bob Ogi each chipped in with a hits and an RBI. Also, Lee Schacht and Josh Parrent each got a hit.

"We had timely hitting and took great approaches to the plate," Strobel said, reporting his team tagged loser Jeff Jenkins for 13 hits in eight innings.

On Saturday, the A's were outgunned by the powerful West Bend Seven-Ups (formerly the West Bend Company) 17-5 in Tri-County League action.

Kewaskum came up with 10 hits, but only two of them went for extra bases. Strobel had a pair of doubles as he had a perfect 3x3 afternoon.

Ketter was the only other Kewaskum player with more than one hit. He had two singles.

Ogi started and lasted just 4 and 1/3 innings. When he left the game, the Seven-Up team already had 10 runs on the board.

Ogi only gave up four hits, but walks, 10 of them, hurt the big right-hander's cause.

Schacht finished up and allowed seven more runs on eight hits.

Jim Vielbaum was a standout for the West Bend club. He went 3x4, with a double and a home run for 6 RBI. Designated hitter Darrel Washburn added three RBI and veteran leadoff man Rick Bury drove in two runs.

Eric Bast went the distance for the mound for the winners. He struck out seven and walked four. All five runs he gave up were earned.

"We gave up too many walks," Strobel said about the 15 total free passes to first base. As far as the offense was concerned, Strobel said, "We hit the ball well but couldn't put any runs together.

The A's are currently 1-1 in Rock River action and 0-2 in Tri-County play.

Tennis Team Second At Fox Valley Tourney

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Behind a perfect 3-0 day by its No. 3 doubles team of Craig Johann and Adam Ziebell, the Kewaskum High tennis team finished second at the Fox Valley Invitational last Saturday in Appleton.

The Indians wound up with 14 teams behind, four behind the championship Green Bay East team, which came in with 18 points. Host Fox Valley Lutheran was third with 10 points, and Chilton was last with one.

Johann and Ziebell went unbeaten, and KHS Coach Dan Ross said all of his singles players had two wins and one loss.

Ross had expected the event to run using a tournament format, but instead each team played the other.

In what turned out to be the deciding match, Green Bay East defeated Kewaskum 6-1, with Johann and Ziebell the only winners as they easily topped Kris Gal and Alex Comblin 6-0, 6-4.

The Johann-Ziebell junior duo won their match against Fox Valley 6-2, 7-6 (7-5), and against Chilton, they breezed to a 6-3, 6-3 win in straight sets.

Ross said Nic Luther was unable to play in Saturday's meet, so he moved Josh Bryant up to No. 2 and Mitch Paulus up to No. 3. Austin Shirley, normally a junior varsity player, was inserted in the lineup at No. 4, and he went 2-1, "which was pretty good," according to Ross.

Results of the match against Green Bay are as follows: Singles: 1. Eric Vogt lost to D.J. Cibula, 0-6, 0-6; 2. Bryant lost to Nic Ribiers, 2-6, 0-6; 3. Paulus lost to Mike Foerster 0-6, 4-6; 4. Shirley lost to Juan Villafuerte 2-6, 0-6.

Doubles: 1. Abe Foerster-Kyle Lickel lost to Dan Wickman-Erik McElrone, 4-6, 4-6; 2. Andy Marx-John Carpenter lost to Tyler Thomas-Jesse Patrick, 0-6, 0-6; Johann-Ziebell def. Gal-Comblin, 6-0, 6-4.

No names were available for the other matches.

Weather wipes out one match, interrupts another

Kewaskum had been slated to play at Hamilton Sussex on May 10th, but rains canceled the meet. It will not be made up, according to coach Ross.

The Indians traveled to Two Rivers on Thursday and were in position to win the Eastern Wisconsin Conference competition when the rain came again. Ross said Nic Luther and his opponent were just about to start their third set when the courts became impossible to play on.

Luther prevailed in the first set, winning a 7-6 (7-4) tiebreaker, but he lost the second to Bryant Mueller, 0-6.

Those two were scheduled to finish their match on Tuesday at a neutral site somewhere between Kewaskum and Two Rivers.

The match was 3-3 when it was halted.

Ross said the Raiders' No. 1 doubles team of Steve Anschutz and Kevin Luedtke was "the best I have ever seen," according to Ross, who said, "Our guys (Abe Foerster and Kyle Lickel) played solid, and they were still beaten 6-0, 6-0."

Results of those matches which were completed are as follows:

Singles: 1. Vogt lost to Bryan Stren, 0-6, 3-6; 3. Byrant def. Tyler Vits, 6-1, 6-1; 4. Paulus def. Mike Kastnik, 6-4, 6-1.

Doubles: Foerster-Lickel lost to Anschutz-Luedtke, 0-6, 0-6; 2. Marx-Carpenter lost to Chris Dent-Mike Stren, 1-6, 1-6; 3. Johann-Ziebell def. Drew Kassner-Casey Gates, 6-2, 6-3.

Kewaskum and the other Eastern Wisconsin Conference teams will play in the EWC tournament at the Sports Core in Kohler on Friday and Saturday.

Soccer Team Swims its Way to a Win

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

It was more like a swimming meet than a soccer match, but the Kewaskum High girls scored more goals than visiting Campbellsport, so the Indians will gladly take the 2-1 overtime victory they earned last Thursday.

"It was just a mud pit," KHS Coach Marie Lippe said about the soccer field, noting, "Sometimes the ball would just stop" in the grass and water.

Despite the watery conditions, the Indians wasted little time scoring, with Krystal Cochran putting her team on the board with a goal at around 17 minutes. Assisting on the play was Danielle Yanke.

The Indians enjoyed their advantage until the second half when the Cougars tied the score, and Lippe said neither club picked up a goal the rest of the way, forcing a sudden death.

"Within the first five minutes, Erica Christie took her defender one-on-one and scored," Lippe said, happy her team was able to come away with its second Eastern Wisconsin Conference win of the season.

Cora Werdemann came up with 14 saves in this contest, the coach said.

With the win, the Indians are 2-7 in the EW with three games remaining before the Division 2 regional tournament.

Lippe said she and the other coaches involved in regional B of the Kiel sectional (Campbellsport, Grafton, Kewaskum, Kiel, New Holstein, Sheboygan Falls and Waupun) are meeting Sunday evening to determine seeds for the opening round of action.

The top-seeded team receives a bye for the first round. The other six teams square off on Thursday, May 27th, at the field of the three higher seeds. The winner advance to the regional semifinals on Saturday, May 29th at Kiel. The losing teams are eliminated from further action.

More scoring woes

The Indians did score a pair of goals in two recent games, but unfortunately they gave up a total of 11 in a 5-2 loss to Manitowoc Roncalli and a 6-0 decision at the hands of New Holstein.

Krystal Cochran scored both of the KHS goals, the first coming on a "great run" and a great shot from the top of the box," according to Coach Marie Lippe, who reported Jessica Rust assisted on the play at 72:02.

Just under three minutes later (74:52), Cochran scored unassisted, using her speed to draw a one-on-one confrontation with the keeper, which she won.

"Krystal played with intensity and determination the entire game," Lippe said, reporting Cora Werdemann stopped 16 shots, including one where she denied the Jets' best forward a try for a goal.

About the New Holstein defeat, Lippe said, "New Holstein is a quick and very skilled team."

Lauded for her work in this game was Nicole Hesprich, who "played a great defensive game," according to Lippe.

Spring 2004 Hunter Education Class Graduates

Twenty hunters recently completed the Wisconsin Hunter Education course sponsored by the KEWASKUM Police Department, the Kettle Moraine Sportsman Association, the New Fane Sportsman's Club, and Wings over Wisconsin, Kettle Moraine Chapter and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. The instructor was Richard Knoebel, a certified DNR

Hunter Education instructor. Students who successfully completed the basic course received a distinctive embroidered emblem attached to a blaze orange hunting hat, donated by Wings over Wisconsin, Kettle Moraine Chapter, and a lifetime Hunter Education Certificate, they are: Kevin Beck, Michelle Bohn, Michael Bunkelman, Kyle Jurss, Neal Jurss, Andy Kopplin, Sam Kopplin, Alan Kuehl, Alex Kuehl, Al Martin, Jared Pesch, Theresa Ratzel, Cole Roberts, Wade Roberts, Kyle Rumpling, Heather Schaller, Lacy Taylor, Lindy Taylor, Kyle Wegner and Evan Zenobia.

The course included lessons on hunter responsibilities, firearms safety in the home and a field, knowledge of firearms and hunting equipment, wild life identification and management, marksmanship and other outdoor skills.

All graduates were given the opportunity to fire rifles and shotguns at the New Fane Sportsman Club Grounds. The New Fane Sportsman Club donated the range, ammunition and facilities.

The next Hunter Education Class is scheduled to begin in August 2004. Anyone interested in taking the class should call the Kewaskum Police Department as soon as possible as space is limited.

Piwoni Named Marian's Student-Athlete of the Year

Amy Piwoni

(Fond du Lac, Wis.) – The Marian College Athletic department has announced the winners for the fourth annual Male/Female Sabre Student-Athlete of the Year Award for the 2003-2004 school year.

Amy Piwoni, a senior majoring in economics and finance from Kewaskum, Wisconsin, has been chosen as the Marian College Female Student-Athlete-of-the-Year. Jon Daigle, a junior majoring in middle secondary education and English from Richmond, British Columbia, has been selected as the Male Student-Athlete-of-the-Year.

Daigle earned the men's honor as a member of the men's hockey team, and Piwoni was named the female Student-Athlete of the Year as a member of the women's golf and soccer teams. To be eligible for the award, the student-athletes had to first be nominated by their respective coach. The Faculty Senate Athletic Advisory Committee then chooses from the nominees based on academic criteria and athletic success.

Amy Piwoni played four seasons of golf for the Sabres, and two seasons (2003 & 2002) for the women's soccer team. On the links is where Piwoni shined the brightest, as she is a 3-time LMC All-Conference golfer (2001-03). Her senior season was a success as she recorded four top-10 finishes, including a third-place finish at the LMC regular season finale and a Top-10 at the LMC Tournament. Consistency was also a part of her game. In Piwoni's final 15 LMC events over the past 3 seasons, she finished in the top ten 14 times.

Piwoni holds the Marian record for season scoring average at 98.4, set during the 2002 season. She also holds four of the Top-10 low rounds (and 6 of the Top 15) in school history. Her round of 90 at Western Lakes (9/13/02) broke the old school record of 91 and was #1 in the record book for about a month before it was topped by a teammate in 2002.

On the soccer field, Piwoni played two seasons as a midfielder for the Sabres. This past fall in the 2003 season, she was acknowledged for her play by receiving LMC Honorable Mention honors. During her two-year career, Piwoni played in 22 matches, starting 20 of them. She carries a 3.65 GPA and will graduate next month.

"Amy has really grown up both on and off of the course during her career," says Ann Felker, Marian's head women's golf coach, who coached Piwoni for 2 seasons. "She is an excellent leader who knows golf inside-and-out, and she has fun when she plays." Felker also mentioned the drive that Piwoni possesses, especially considering that she played both golf and soccer at the same time. "To play 2 sports at once and to be very successful in the classroom shows a lot of character" said Felker. "Amy will be sorely missed next season. She was our captain and the leader of our team."

KHS Golfers Take Second, Then Came the Rain

Jason Jahnke was the man-of-the-hour for the Kewaskum High golf team in the May 10th Eastern Wisconsin Conference mini-tournament hosted by Two Rivers.

With the top four golfers from Kewaskum and Two Rivers ending up in a tie for second place with 168 strokes, it was up to the fifth men from each squad to determine which team would earn the runner-up spot and take home one less point in the standings.

Jahnke's 44 easily bettered the 52 by Elliot Paulsen, so the Indians prevailed and also redeemed themselves for a couple poor showings in their latest EW tests, which had dropped them to fifth place in the standings.

Plymouth won the competition with a 162 total, keeping alive its streak of winning all five EW meets that have been played thus far.

Medalist honors went to Mike Born of the first-place team. He fired a 1-over-par 37 on the White Nine of the National Course at Fox Hills Country Club, the home course for Two Rivers.

What helped Kewaskum in this meet was its consistency. Senior Ryan Koepke and junior Luke Koch both carded 5-over-par 41s, while Adam Lehner and Chad Piwoni were two shots back at 43.

"Somehow we had enough confidence and fortitude to put together a very respectable total of 168," KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said, reporting the roughs were high because of the recent rains and because the National was being geared up for a Hooters Tour event, which is a stepping stone for golfers hoping to make it big on the PGA Tour.

Kewaskum was scheduled to host the EW teams on May 13th, but after getting in only a couple holes of play, rain pelted the Hon-E-Kor course and the match was postponed until today (May 20th).

The season is slated to conclude Saturday with an 18-hole tournament at the Badger Creek Golf Course near New Holstein. Points count double (the first place team earns two points, second place gets four, third place gets six points, etc.) in the tournament.

Final team scores at the National: 1. Plymouth, 162; 2. Kewaskum, 168; 3. Two Rivers, 168; 4. Kiel, 170; 5. New Holstein, 170; 6. Campbellsport, 172; 7. Manitowoc Roncalli, 176; 8. Sheboygan Falls, 177.

Current standings: 1. Plymouth, 5 points; 2. Kiel, 16; 3. Two Rivers, 19; 4. (tie) Kewaskum and Campbellsport, 22; 5. Sheboygan Falls, 30; 7. Manitowoc Roncalli, 31; 8. New Holstein, 32.

A's Open Season With Two Losses

Lady Indians Nipped by League-Leading Cougars

With one season under his belt, Jason Strobel is feeling a little more comfortable about serving as player/manager of the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team.

Strobel, who took over the job last year when Bob B o t h e stepped aside because of career restraints, has a little experience to rely on — he has been serving as the Kewaskum High junior varsity baseball coach since the year after he graduated. Still, the competition is a lot more intense at this level, and there are details such as recruiting players, fund-raising, scheduling meetings and diamond upkeep, which are not part of the high school scene.

"We've got more players this year ... It will be interesting," Strobel said recently, after wrapping up a junior varsity practice and heading over to the Kewaskum Kiwanis Park ball diamond to help rake the infield in preparation for an A's game.

Last year, the A's finished at 17-20 overall, including play in the Rock River and Tri-County leagues and in the SWABA (Southeastern Wisconsin Amateur Baseball Association) Tournament.

"We made the playoffs in Tri County," Strobel said, reporting his club started off with a 4-0 shutout win over the West Bend Barons before falling 6-3 to Lannon, the eventual champion.

Kewaskum also placed third in the SWABA tourney, defeating Neosho 5-4 in 12 innings for its final win.

Kewaskum looks to continue a tradition of having some strong pitching, led by former Campbellsport High standout Jim Ziegler, who is currently playing for the UW-Oshkosh team.

Ziegler was 9-5 in 2003, and he chalked up one save. He gave up 29 earned runs for a 2.62 ERA and he struck out 73 in 99 and 2/3rds innings.

Jake Panzer rejoins the As this season, and he should be in mid-season form after pitching for the Marian College team in Fond du Lac. "He played with us a couple years ago, then he went with the Sheboygan As, and now he's back," Strobel said, reporting

Bobby Ogi and Lee Schacht are two former Kewaskum High players who figure in the pitching rotation.

Ogi "struggled a bit" last year when he gave up too many walks, according to Strobel, who said, "He was more of a reliever" last summer.

Ogi did finish at 2-2. In 41 innings, he gave up 64 hits, 54 earned runs and 57 walks.

Schacht is "the only leftie we've got," Strobel said, adding, "Steve Ketter can throw and Adam Sarauer."

Ketter is having a great spring while playing for a college in Rockford, according to Strobel, who said, "He was leading the nation (In Division 3) in home runs."

When Ketter and Sarauer aren't pitching, they will see the majority of action at catcher. "They can do everything," Strobel said.

The greatest team depth appears to be in the infield where Strobel can choose between Ken Immel, Noah Koch, Jon Boedeker, Jake Wilson, Josh Parrent and Ty Schill, who is currently playing for Madison Area Technical College.

Immel was a product of the Campbellsport program, while all the rest played for Kewaskum High, including Wilson, who graduated last spring.

The A's were looking forward to having Corey Immel, who was an all-Tri-County shortstop last year, at one of the infield spots. He is currently recovering from a broken leg, according to Strobel, who said, "There's a possibility he'll make it back."

Slated for outfield play are Strobel, Brad Vetter, Keith Heberer, Tony Fitts, Matt Milonig and Adam Beck.

When asked where the offensive punch will come from, Strobel said, "Ketter and Sarauer are pretty good hitters ... We plan on playing a lot of small ball, singles, stealing bases ... We're quick."

With the league going to wooden bats last year, there is definitely a period of adjustment for the players coming out of high school where aluminum bats are permitted. "It's a tough adjustment for the kids," Strobel said, adding, "We have to strikeout less this year, be a little more patient."

Corey Immel led the team in hitting in 2003, batting at a

.404 clip with nine doubles, two triples, one home run and 16 RBI. Sarauer hit at a .296 clip, going 8x27 seeing limited action. Parrent batted .272, wit 28 hits and a team-high 10 stolen bases.

Strobel's average wasn't impressive, but he had three dingers, five doubles and 11 RBI.

A's are close in first two games

Even though they were missing some of the players still at college, the A's were competitive in their first two games, a 9-5 loss in nine innings to Clyman on May 1st and a 7-2 defeat at the hands of Brownsville on May 2nd.

The A's were up 5-4 on Clyman, but with two outs, one of the Clyman players hit a grand slam homer for the win.

"We had 10 hits. Jake Wilson was 3x4," Strobel said, adding, "We turned three double plays."

In the outing at Brownsville, Kewaskum had just five hits, including a double by Schacht, two hits by Strobel and a single by Parrent.

Ogi took the loss, and Strobel said Schacht came on in relief and, "He threw well."

Thanks to the rain, the Kewaskum High girls fast-pitch softball team had more games postponed than played last week, but the one game the Indians did get in was a dandy against host Campbellsport.

KHS junior pitcher Rachel Breese was touched for two unearned runs in the first inning, then the two Eastern Wisconsin Conference clubs settled down into a defensive struggle that finally ended in the ninth inning with the league-leading Cougars (10-1) prevailing 3-2.

"We played our best game of the year," KHS Coach Jeff Gosse said, beaming about Breese's pitching effort and the catching performance by junior Amy Holm, who only recently took over that position.

Gosse said the Cougars picked up two runs in the first inning when one of his outfielders dropped a fly ball with two out and runners at second and third.

The fired-up visitors didn't let the deficit bother them, however. They came back to score one in the top of the second, which could have been an even bigger rally if Kristin Mantz had not gotten caught in a run-down on a squeeze play.

Gosse said Mantz reached base via a hit, stole second and advanced to third on a fielder's choice.

It was supposed to be a safety squeeze, but Gosse said it ended up being a suicide squeeze and Mantz wound up in a precarious position. During the rundown, Holm kept running and wound up on second base. She eventually scored when Bekki Heberer singled up the middle.

"It was her first RBI as a varsity player," Gosse said about Heberer.

Kewaskum tied the score in the top of the third when Tiffany Hedlund reached on a fielder's choice, advanced to second on a fielder's choice and scored when Mantz singled.

"Both pitchers were in control" after that, Gosse said, reporting, "We had more chance to score" than they did.

After seven innings, the score was still deadlocked, and in the eighth, "Both teams went down quietly," Gosse said.

Holm came through with a clutch base hit in the top of the ninth and was bunted to second, but the Cougars' defense stiffened, and, "We couldn't get her in," Gosse said.

In the bottom of the ninth, with one out, Megan Pelischek doubled, and her pinch runner, Megan Gussick went to third on a passed ball.

Two batters later, Cassie Benicke, hit a ball to deep short, and Gosse said his shortstop Beth Boedeker tracked the ball down, but, "It was a long throw, and it pulled Laura Schladweiler (first baseman) off the bag."

While the game may have been over, the effort will not be forgotten. "We're playing better and better.

Rachel is getting stronger," Gosse said, and Holm has sparked behind the plate.

Campbellsport didn't waste time testing Holm's arm. In the first inning, CHS Coach Rick Simpson sent a runner, and, "She (Holm) gunned her down ... she has thrown out at least six or seven runners," Gosse said, and she has only been at catcher for the last six or seven games.

The shame of moving Holm, according to Gosse, is she "should be all-conference at second base." Still, the second-year coach will be happy to have his battery back next season.

Breese gave up four hits in the game, struck out five and while she did walk seven, "She never walked more than one in an inning," Gosse said.

The winning pitcher for Campbellsport was Kristen Muench

Tournament Time

Coaches assigned to regional A of the Division 2 Grafton sectional met last week to determine seedings for the competition. Slinger was given the top seed, and thus will receive a bye in the first round. Kewaskum, seeded seventh, will play at second-seeded Lakeside Lutheran in Lake Mills today (Thursday) at 4:30 p.m. The loser is eliminated from competition, and the winner advanced to the semifinal round.
