Kewaskum EMS Has Busy July 5 Morning

Theda Star Helicopter Called to C-Sport Motorcycle Accident

Theda Star Helicopter begins to land in a field adjacent to a motorcycle versus car accident July 5 on CTH W in the Town of Ashford. Kewaskum EMS assisted at the scene before being called to another crash in the Town of Farmington.

The Kewaskum Fire Department had no problem keeping busy this holiday weekend. As if putting on the best fireworks show in the county wasn't enough, Kewaskum EMS assisted Campbellsport Fire Department with a serious motorcycle crash and Boltonville Fire and First Responders with a two-car crash.

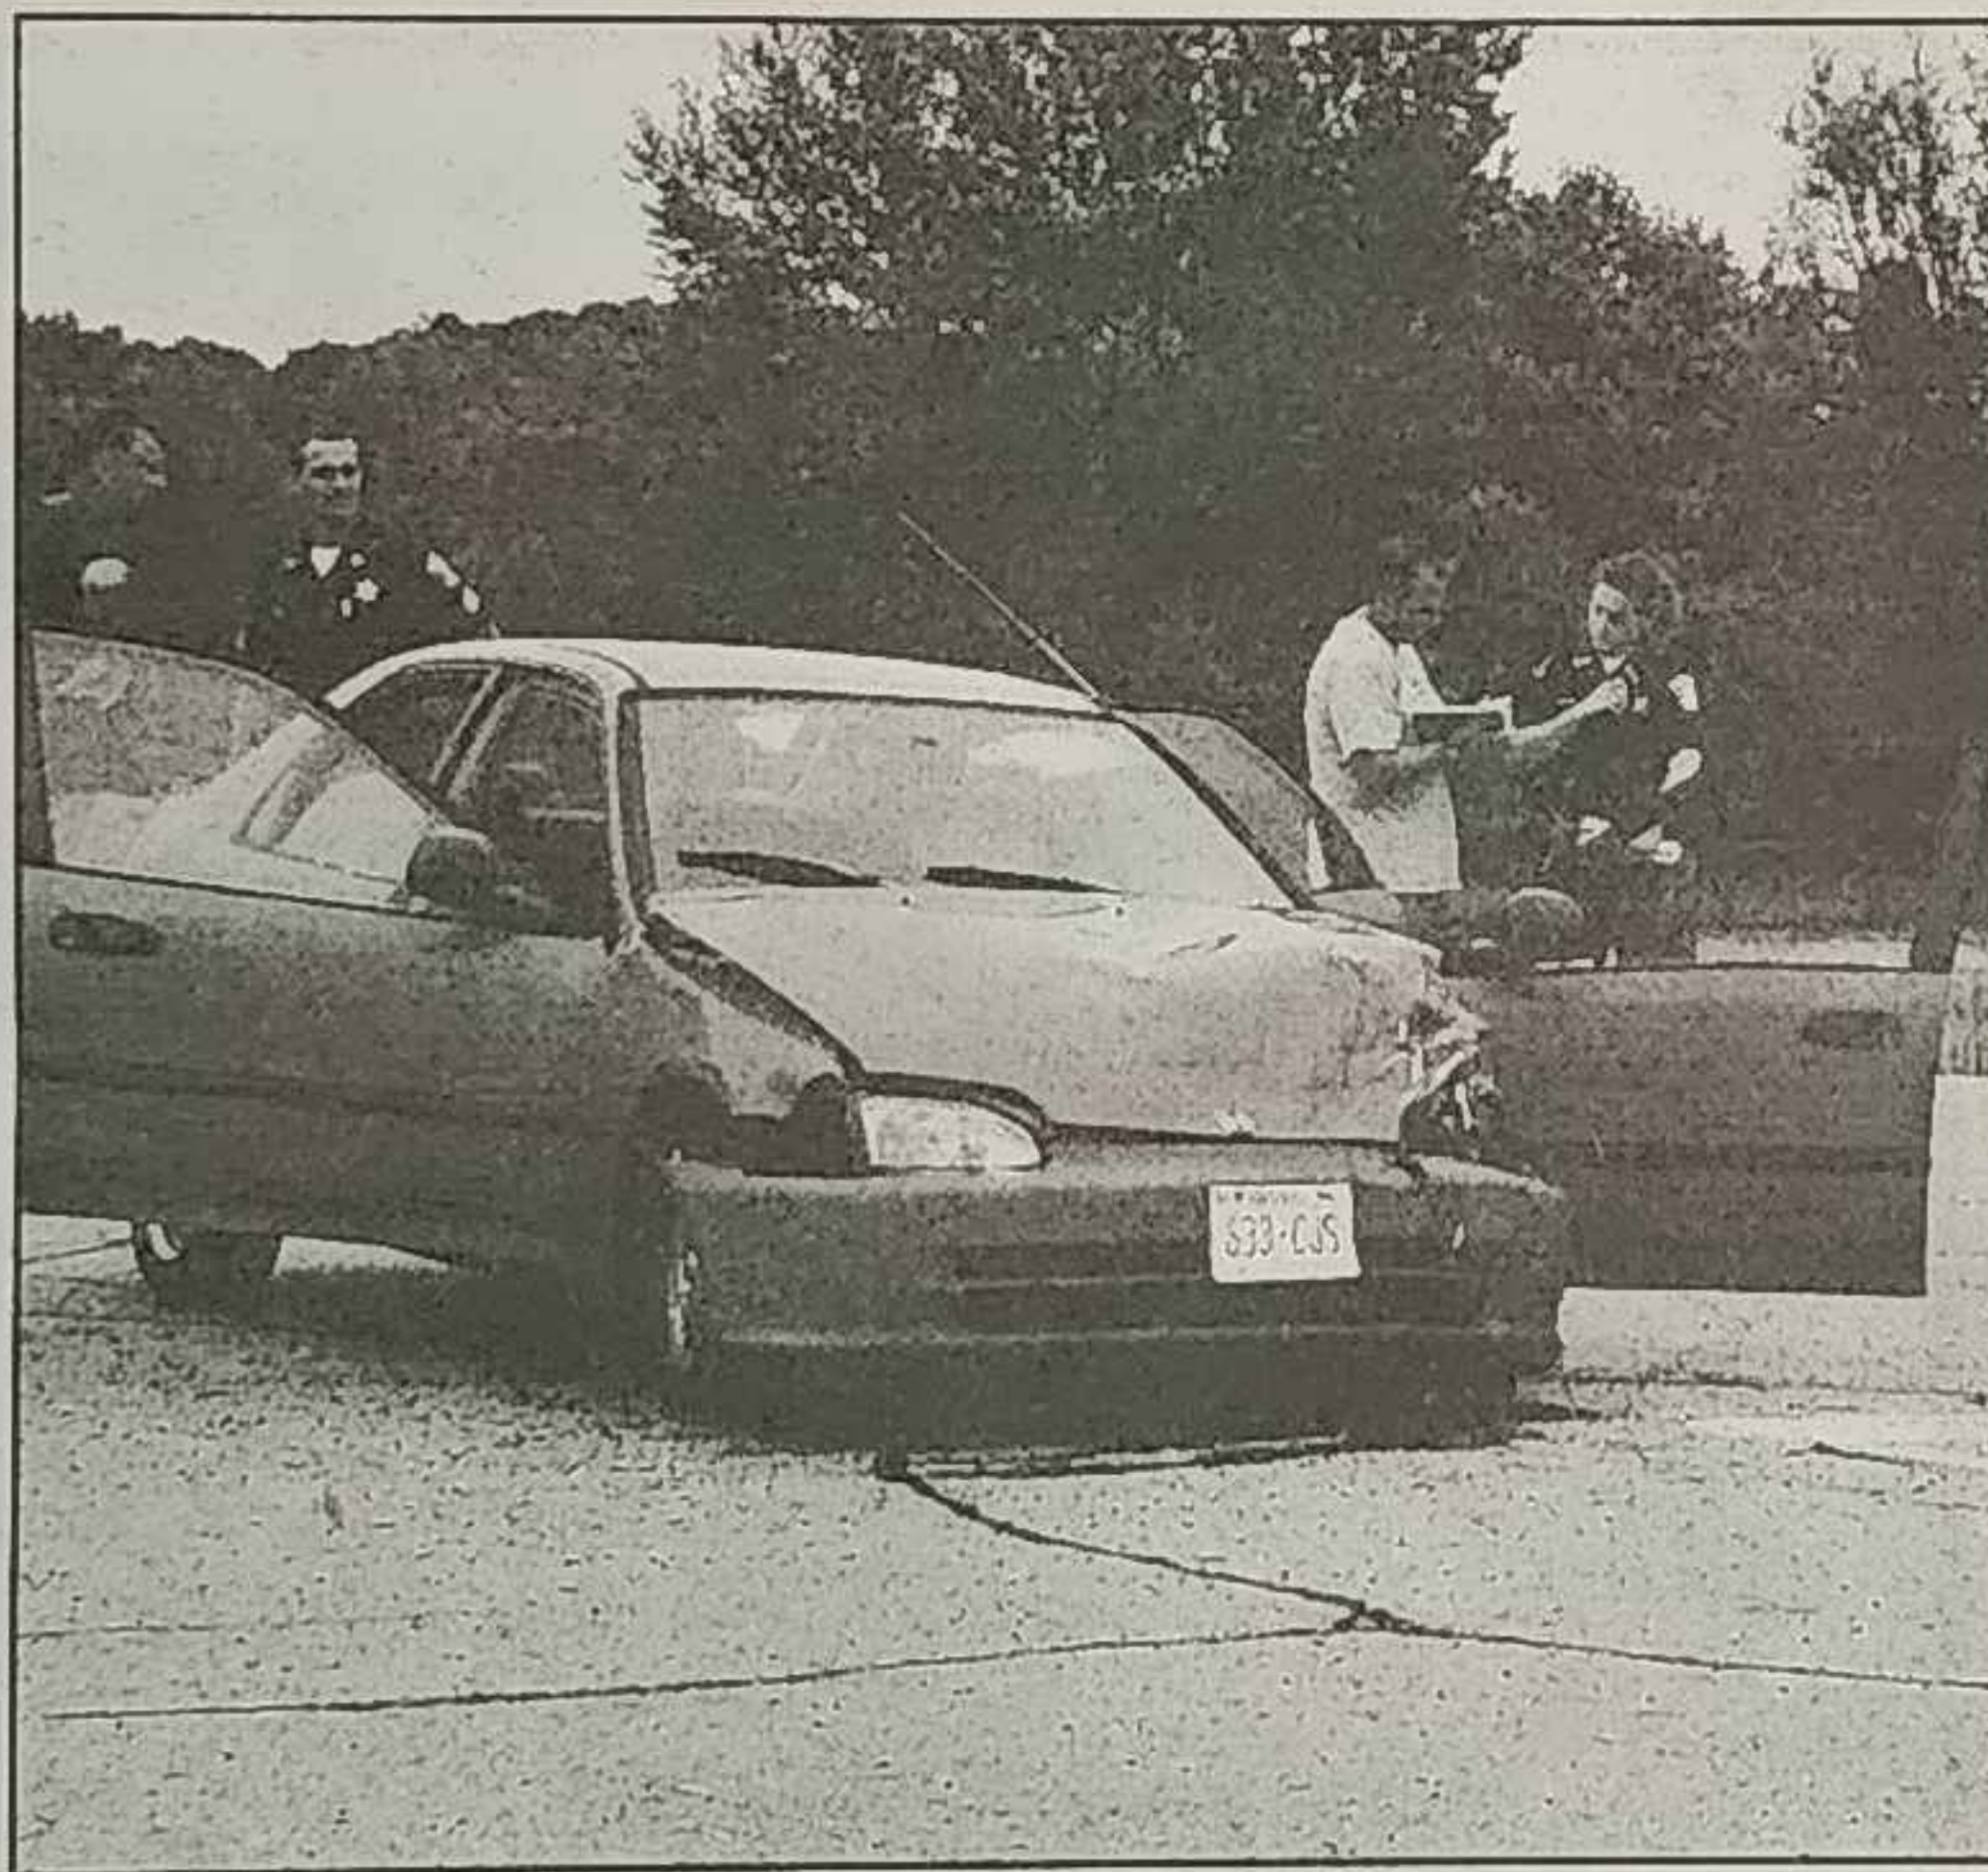

The first crash brought out Campbellsport Fire Department and EMS to CTH W just south of Elmore Drive in the Town of Ashford for a motorcycle versus car crash just before 9 a.m. on July 5.

Kewaskum EMS arrived shortly thereafter as well as Theda Star Helicopter from Neenah.

According to a report from the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department, Kevin D. Flasch, 32, of Campbellsport allegedly crossed the centerline into the path of Thomas R. Liesener, 42, of Hartford and his wife, Jacilyn L. Liesener, 42. The two hit head-on and the Lieseners were ejected from their bike.

Jacilyn Liesener was flown from the scene to Theda Clark Regional Medical Center in Neenah. As of Tuesday evening she was still in critical condition.

Thomas Liesener was taken to Froedtert Hospital in Milwaukee. According to

The Stephan vehicle that was involved in a crash CTH H at STH 144.

Froedtert Media Relations Supervisor, Kathy Siesja, Thomas Liesener has improved to satisfactory condition. Authorities were unaware of any injuries to Flasch or his passenger, Tammen J. Atkins, 11, of Eden.

Troopers from the Wisconsin State Patrol also assisted at the scene of the crash.

From the Town of Ashford, Kewaskum EMS traveled to the Town of Farmington to assist the Boltonville First Responders and a second Kewaskum ambulance with a crash at the intersection of STH 144 and CTH H.

According to Washington County Sheriff's report, in that crash, Lori A. Aegerter, 38, of Middleton was stopped at the intersection proceeding to go westbound. She went into the intersection and failed to yield to an oncoming southbound car driven by Amanda R. Stephan, 20, of Hartford.

Stephan was transported to St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend. Her condition is unknown.

Gensmer Murder Suspect Awaits Charging

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

FOND DU LAC— A 20-year-old West Bend man was taken into custody early Friday morning in connection with the apparent murder of Katie Gensmer, 18, of West Bend whose body was found Wednesday on the New Fane Hiking Trail in the town of Auburn.

David Brace is being held in the Fond du Lac County Jail, according to Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department Detective William Flood.

"We would consider him an acquaintance of the victim," Flood said, indicating the suspect's name surfaced after investigators pieced together the time line of Gensmer's final hours. "Through that, we determined we needed to question him," Flood said.

Tuesday evening, a Milwaukee television station reported that Brace confessed to the act. This newspaper was unable to verify that confession with local authorities.

The suspect was apprehended by members of the Fond du Lac County SWAT team at a campsite at Mauthe Lake.

Flood said his department worked with the Kettle Moraine State Forest-Northern Unit park rangers in arresting the man, who was being sought on a violation of his probation and DNR-related ordinances violations. The man was reportedly camping alone and had a handgun in his possession.

"We consider him the prime suspect in our case," Flood said Friday afternoon. "The investigation is continuing. That's pretty much what is happening."

Clarification

On the front of last week's edition an article written by Andrew Kuehl left out a crucial detail in a crash killing a Campbellsport woman.

The article failed to mention that the Campbellsport woman was passing a vehicle on a hill when she encountered a pick up truck.

The Statesman apologizes to the family whose vehicle encountered the woman.

David Brace

Her mother identified Gensmer, who lived on Barton Avenue in West Bend, after major Milwaukee television stations Wednesday evening gave a description of her.

At a press conference the day following the discovery of her body, the cause of Gensmer's death was determined to be the result of "a stab wound to the heart," according to Fond du Lac County Sheriff, Gary Pucker. Pucker

Friends of the Library Looking For More Volunteers

Second Annual Elmore and Lake Bernice Poker Parade Held

Steve Baker, left, head librarian receives a check from Jim Yanke, right, of the Union Pacific Employee Club #71. Yanke is the founder of the club and past president.

By JUDY HARLOW

For those who missed the initial meeting of the Friends of the Library, there will be another one, according to Steve Baker, the village's librarian.

Baker has announced the date for the next meeting as Monday, Sept. 13th.

"I think that will work pretty well," Baker said, referring to the fact summer will be over and people's schedules may be a little more relaxed to think about wanting to help the village's library.

Already this summer, one group has gone out of its way to provide additional funds for the library. Members of the Union Pacific Employee Club held a brat fry in spring and raised $500 for the library.

One of the officers of the organization will soon be presenting Baker with the check for the amount raised.

We do have a couple brat fries in August and Sept.," Baker said, reporting the one at Piggly Wiggly is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 28th, and there will be another at Mike's Meats on Sept. 18th.

All the funds raised will be used for library expenses and to add new DVD's to the library's collection, according to Baker, who said, "We budget a certain amount of fund raising each year. It just goes into our general fund."

The library currently has a booklet concerning the formation of the Friends of the Kewaskum Public Library, indicating how the group can promote public awareness of the library, what in-house projects the group could help with and the special purposes money raised by the group can be used for. In that latter area are included large print books, a Spanish language collection, educational CD-Roms, a digital camera for quick promotion photos, keeping technology upgraded and new furniture.

The booklets are available at the library. Anyone with questions on the new group should talk with Baker, contact Village President Matt Heiser, who serves on the Library Committee, or talk with any of the members of the Library Committee, including Margaret McFadden, Connie Zemlicka, David Stradtman and Coralee Henning.

Sunday, April 25 was the Second Annual Elmore and Lake Bernice Poker Parade. The fundraiser this year went towards Barb Liegl. $260 was raised and 27 people attended. The parade included three floats, many lawn mowers and four wheelers and one tractor. Three local taverns, Sandpiper Inn, Drop Anchors Inn and Bahr Time host the poker parade.

Auburn Murder

said detectives worked all day Wednesday on the case and continued into Thursday. Originally the case was steered in the direction of North Fond du Lac and a young woman who has been listed as missing from there, but the case changed course in the early evening.

"It was 7:30 ... about 7:30 p.m.," Fink said about the time the department was contacted by Gensmer's mother, who had been at her place of employment but got someone to drive her home after hearing the description of the dead woman and the clothing she was wearing. Gensmer's mother, who had seen her daughter as late as Tuesday evening, came to the Safety Building in Fond du Lac to make the identification.

When asked if there was an indication the woman had been sexually assaulted, Fink said results of those tests have not been made available to the department yet. He did say the woman was fully clothed when a Kewaskum man hiking on the trail with his dog found her shortly after 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Flood said the body was found fairly close to the parking lot of the trail, which is located in the Town of Auburn. "It was anywhere from 30 seconds to two minutes from the parking lot," Flood said.

Gensmer's home is approximately 10 miles from the trails, according to Flood, who said the young woman did not own a vehicle.

A memorial has been set up for Gensmer at the First National Bank of Hartford in Slinger. The phone number of the bank is 644-7606. A Tip Line has been set up for the case. Fink gave the number as 920-906-4777.

Flood said since 1987, there have been a dozen murders in Fond du Lac County. The last one took place in Campbellsport in 2001.

Campbellsport Takes Part in 'First Impressions' Program

Have you ever wondered how the Village of Campbellsport is perceived by visitors from other communities? What do people see and think when they visit Campbellsport for the first time? Does the Village make a good first impression?

The Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce wondered too, so they decided to find out.

"First Impressions" is a program originally developed by Andrew Lewis and James Schneider of the University of Wisconsin Extension. They realized that it can be difficult for a community to evaluate itself objectively. As stated in the program's manual, "Our views are skewed by over familiarization, lack of differing perspectives and expectations, and a reluctance to be completely honest with our neighbors when dealing with issues (i.e. the appearance of buildings, customer service, and maintenance of public facilities)."

The solution is to match up a pair of communities of roughly similar size and demographics, and have them give each other an unbiased outsider's perspective on what's good and bad.

In May of this year, the Village of Campbellsport was visited by a team of "secret shoppers" from the City of Brillion, Wisconsin. Five visitors spent a day touring the town and making an assessment of everything. At the same time, a team from Campbellsport went to Brillion and recorded what they saw. The final reports have now been completed.

At 6:00p.m. on Wednesday, July 14th, the entire community is invited to attend a 'town meeting' at the Campbellsport Public Library. Copies of the twenty-two page report completed by the team from Brillion will be provided for those in attendance. A presentation will then be made by the Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce about what the team from Brillion found.

The presentation will include photographs taken by the visiting team. There will be an opportunity for everyone to discuss the report findings, and to talk about how the community, can use the information provided. How might we improve on the things that the visiting team thought were bad, and how can we build on the things that were good? Where should we go from here?

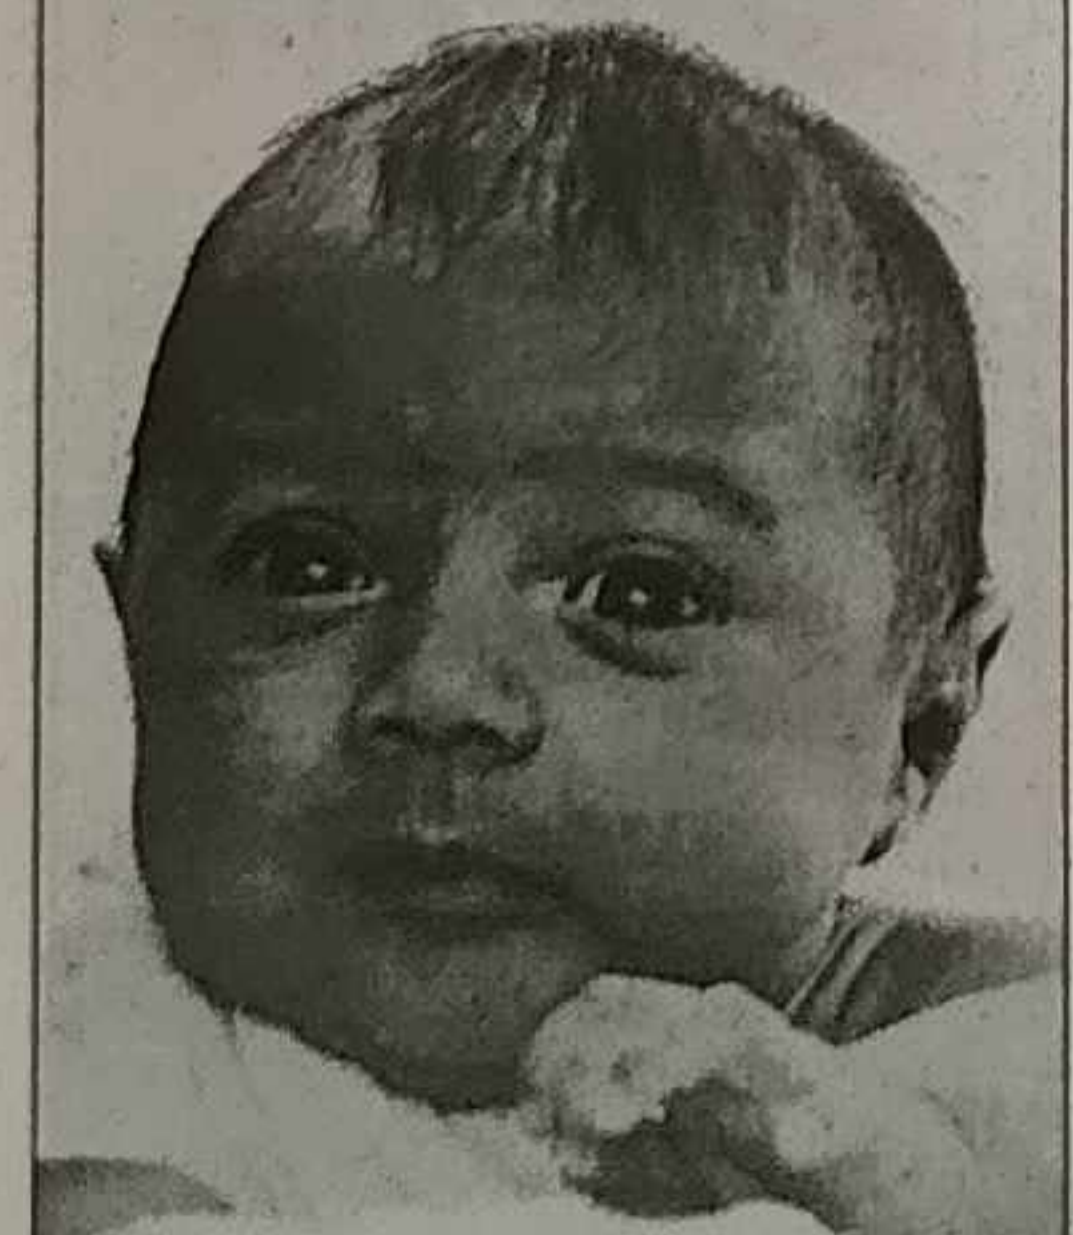

The Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce has undergone an ambitious transformation during the past two years. They're more dedicated than ever to developing and promoting the community's assets. Hopefully, "First Impressions" will be valuable in helping the chamber achieve its goals by encouraging them to consider the perceptions of others.

Perhaps more importantly, the Village of Campbellsport is about to begin its official comprehensive planning. That process is going to require considerable input from their citizens. The "First Impressions" presentation could serve as a way of initiating the public into that process.

The Chamber of Commerce encourages everyone who is curious about this unique outside perspective to attend the meeting on July 14th. They're anxious to see the public's reaction, and to get the community's feedback.

The dairy cow came to America with Christopher Columbus and was then brought to Wisconsin by the early French-Canadian trappers and lead miners of the late 1820's.

Routes to Run from Sheboygan, West Bend
 St. Mary's Springs to Offer Bussing Services

FOND DU LAC - The St. Mary's Springs High School Board of Directors approved contracting with a bus company to provide transportation for students from the Sheboygan, Plymouth, Elkhart Lake, West Bend and Kewaskum communities to St. Mary's Springs beginning with the 2004-2005 school year in an effort to meet the transportation needs of parents. Not only will the busses run before and after school, but there will also be an activity bus that runs later in the evening to allow students the opportunity to participate in after school activities.

"In the course of our recruitment visits to these communities, students and parents raised transportation and the availability of financial aid as their two biggest concerns," said Robb Jensen, Principal/CEO. "With over $150,000 of Education Freedom tuition assistance available to incoming freshmen as well as transfer students and the availability of bus transportation, we are providing parents the option to choose St. Mary's Springs for their child(ren)."

 "I am extremely pleased with the efforts of the St. Mary's Springs High School Board of Directors to reach out to surrounding communities," said Archbishop Timothy M. Dolan. "Parents in these communities should know that transportation challenges no longer prevent your children from receiving the benefits of a Catholic High School education at St. Mary's Springs."

St. Mary's Springs is the northernmost coeducational Catholic high school of the thirteen Catholic high schools in the Archdiocese of Milwaukee.

Rooted in the Catholic faith and vision of its Agnesian founders, St. Mary's Springs High School is committed to academic excellence as it serves young men and women from Fond du Lac and surrounding counties. With a student: faculty ratio of 13:1 and an average class size of 17, St. Mary's Springs prepares students for lives of service, leadership, and learning through a college preparatory curriculum based on Gospel values.

John Coulter Hangs up the Pump at Herriges Oil

John Coulter enjoying the favorite part of his job at Herriges Oil in Kewaskumm, talking with the customers. Coulter chews the fat here with Mary Ellen McElhatton.

STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT

The scenario has been repeated thousands of times during the past eight years, nine months and 26 days.

The bell rings inside Herriges Oil Station, and John Coulter pops off his chair and heads out the door to greet another gasoline customer.

"I've got a live one," Coulter said last week while carrying out the normal routine and being interviewed for this story. It was Coulter's second-last day on the job, but there was definitely no slacking off by the village's friendliest service station attendant.

With the gas pump firmly in place, Coulter heads around to the front of the vehicle to complete a couple other parts of the routine, namely to wash the windshield, and then, the part he likes best — talking with the customers.

"I joke with 'em. I kid with 'em, and they get even with me," Coulter said about his relationship with the clientele. "I do have customers who only come in when I'm working ... It makes you feel so good."

Fun is a word not usually associated with working, but it is right near the top of Coulter's vocabulary.

"For me, this has been a fun job," Coulter said, indicating he has always been of the firm belief that all jobs should be fun, and if not, "you shouldn't be there."

Sure, Coulter knows a lot of people in the village after living here the better part of his life, but he has also made a lot of friends while working at Herriges.

"There are a lot of nice people out there. After nearly nine years, they know me, and that makes it a lot easier," Coulter said. "I'd really like to thank them all."

This is actually Coulter's third retirement. First, he accepted an early retirement offer from Regal Ware, and then he went to work for Fleet Farm in West Bend before coming back to Kewaskum to work for the Herriges family.

"The only reason I quit there (Fleet Farm) is because Mark (Herriges, his son-in-law) offered me a job here," Coulter said, recalling how it only took a split second to make the decision and to ask when he could start. "This is a family place, and it's easy to work here."

Not every day on the job was like last Wednesday, however. Winter can be bru-

"I joke with 'em. I kid with 'em, and they get even with me,"

John Coulter, speaking of the clients he will miss at Herriges Oil tal for gas station attendants, according to Coulter, who said, "There would be days when you didn't know if you'd ever get warm."

The overhead canopy kept the rain and snow off of him, but nothing could help fight the northwest wind that swirls around the gas pumps.

"You live for days like this," Coulter said, looking at the blue sky above and wishing all days would follow a similar pattern.

Concerning any interesting experiences on the job, Coulter said he recalls once when a woman asked him to pump $8.18 of gas, no more and no less and she asked to charge it.

"She must have known she had just that much left on her credit card," he said.

Coulter also said when working with money and credit cards, you usually get into a pattern of taking the payment so mistakes are kept to a minimum. Still there are times ...

"The first credit card I ever forgot, I forgot hers twice," Coulter said.

Coulter has faced some health problems in recent years that have prompted his decision to retire. Fourteen years ago, he had eight bypasses, and several weeks ago, he had to have a couple stints inserted in an artery. The doctor's orders following the procedure included a few do's and don'ts, along with the suggestion to take it a little easier.

"If the body would cooperate, I'd keep on working," Coulter said. "What's shot on me is my feet and legs."

When asked what plans he has for retirement, Coulter said he doesn't have any major hobbies, but, "I like to see stuff grow," mainly flowers and tomatoes.

"I've got my dog," Coulter went on about his interests, adding, "I've got a lot of grandkids."

Of the 11 grandchildren John and Patty Coulter have, 10 live in the area, and both of them love to watch the grandkids participate in sports and other co-curricular activities. "I get just as proud and choked up as I did with my own kids," Coulter said.

And did Coulter expect July 1st, his final day, to be difficult? "I think it will be harder the next day, not coming to work," he said, indicating he has considered possibly doing volunteer work in the future.

"I'm not giving up entirely," Coulter said, indicating that tutoring is an idea he is considering.

"Yes, he was a good employee ... very good," Raynor Herriges, the owner of Herriges Oil, said about Coulter. "He was on the ball all the time."

When asked if he has had a lot of employees as good as Coulter, Herriges laughed, "We're looking for one right now."

And Herriges agreed the customers liked being waited on by Coulter. "Oh yes, very much so," he said.

Stern Family Reunion July 11

The 13th Stern family reunion will be held on Sunday, July 11, at Kiwanis Park (change of location) in Kewaskum. The event will begin with a potluck luncheon at noon and all descendants of Gottlieb and Fredricke Stern are invited to attend. The luncheon will be followed by a relaxing afternoon of music, a silent auction, bingo, scavenger hunt, pinata, baseball, swimming ($2 per person), tennis courts, and horseshoes. In addition, family members will have time to reminisce as well as look over old photographs that family members care to share. Come and meet that unknown relative in the family tree.

Attendees are asked to bring a dish or dessert to pass plus their own dinnerware, sandwiches and refreshments. Coffee will be provided. For further information, contact Mary Zinda 262-628-9779, Judy Ruhnke 262-306-3563, Gladys Tackes, 262-626-4596, Kathy Fies, 262-644-8375 or Lila Mueller, 262-285-3320.

The Stern family tree starts in the United States with Fredricke and Gottlieb Stern.

Both were born in Germany. Gottlieb, a shepherd in Germany, was born on November 9, 1898. Fredricke was born on March 27, 1822. Both Fredricke and Gottlieb died in Kewaskum. Known descendant family names include: Adermann, Anderson, Aupperle, Backhaus, Bartram, Beasley, Bertram, Bose, Deschmitt, Duke, Ebert, Ertle, Fillibrown, Famis, Foley, Foyse, Funk, Gast, Gavin, Giese, Glamann, Gudex, Gundrum, Hart, Heider, Herbst, Heitt, Hollister, Holz, Johann, Johnston, Justman, Kelly Klalbenstein, Klein, Koch, Koepe, Kolber, Krier, Kuester, Kuts, Laubenstein, Leigle, Leitz, Lennop, Lepp, Lohse, Maciejweski, Marquardt, Mathwig, Maurer, Maxey, Meinecke, Merinert, Meyer, Mielke, Mueller, Murray, Nance, Nitzke, Olson, Ofgood, Patterson, Perona, Piekenpol, Pope, Petry, Radder, Ramel, Ramthun, Roell, Repolge, Sabish, Sanders, Scannell, Schaeffer, Schladweiler, Schank, Schmidt, Schulz, Schwaller, Schwinn, Seehaver, Shauer, Slangenhoup, Spannle, Sponsel, Stanowsky, Stern, Tackes, Tay-

The community is invited to a delightful afternoon of music and singing on Friday, July 16 at 1:30 p.m.

The following week Meadow Creek invites the community to a hay ride at Shalom Wildlife Sanctuary. The event will take place on Thursday, July 22 at 2 p.m. All interested in attending should please call Marie Cochran for reservations at 262-626-8411. The cost is $6 per person and the group will meet in front of Meadow Creek Apartments at 1:15-1:30 to car pool. The ride will be two hours and snacks and refreshments will be served upon return.

Mauthe to Long Lake Bike Trail

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources is planning to construct a bike trail connecting the Mauthe and Long Lake Recreation Areas in the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. The Forest Master Plan calls for an eight-mile route connecting the two recreation areas.

Jerry Lieterman, forest superintendent, will provide a brief overview of the project during the annual Dundee Daze celebration held in Dundee at Sportsman's Park on July 10, 2004. The presentation will be held at 1 p.m. at the Dundee Sportsman Club. Department staff will be available to answer questions and gather comments on the plan. Maps will be provided outlining the proposed route of the trail.

The Long Lake Fishing Club, spearheaded by late former director Basil Sawyers, proposed the bike trail to the DNR in the late 1980's. The LLFC has continued to encourage the building of the trail and invites all to come to help celebrate this kickoff by the DNR.

This information will be presented at the Sportsman's Park in Dundee during the Taste of the Kettle Moraine. The Taste will begin at 12 noon and continue through 5 p.m., featuring many area restaurants. As part of Dundee Daze, the evening entertainment will be the Ultimate Rock and Roll Band, Rocket 88 beginning at 7 p.m. and ending at 11 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Old-Fashioned Fun At Mauthe Lake

Everyone is invited to take a step back in time with the Old-fashioned Day in the Park on Sunday, July 25. The event will be held at the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area in the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit from 11:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Come enjoy a Sunday afternoon next to beautiful Mauthe Lake and celebrate the 100th Anniversary of Dept. of Natural Resources Forestry and Smokey Bear's 60th Birthday.

You'll be able to play some old-time games including Hoops and Sticks, Graces, Egg and Spoon Races, and Sack Races. Create a craft from the past such as a silhouettes, wooden toys (small fee charged for toys) and pine cone wreaths.

Visit with old-time artisans demonstrating their skills such as flint knapping, spinning, wood carving, and rope making. You may even try your hand at shelling corn, scrubbing clothes on a washboard, or throwing a spear. Don't forget to visit the "Logging Camp" to test your lumberjack skills including sawing a log with a cross-cut saw, learning how to make maple syrup or identifying Wisconsin trees.

From 11:30 to 12:30 p.m., enjoy the old-time music of Banish Misfortune, a group of talented musicians from the Kettle Moraine area. At 1:00 pm Wisconsin folksinger, songwriter and storyteller, David HB Drake, will take the stage with his family-fun performance. David plays a wide variety of instruments including the guitar, banjo, and squeeze-box. He combines these instruments with lively songs and storytelling to provide an entertaining and educational program for young and old alike. From 3:00 to 4:00, strap on your dancing shoes for some folk dancing fun. This will be a great time to learn a new step or two. It will be a day full of music that is sure to bring a smile to the faces of young and old alike.

The Mauthe Lake Concession Stand will be selling food and drinks. The event is free, but a state park vehicle admission sticker is required to enter the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area. A daily resident sticker is $5 and an annual resident sticker is $20.

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit is located about 45 miles north of Milwaukee and 20 miles south of Fond du Lac off of Hwy 45. To find Mauthe Lake from Hwy 45, turn north onto Hwy 67. Turn right or east onto Hwy 55. Drive through New Prospect to Hwy GGG and then turn right or south to Mauthe Lake.

For more information contact the forest staff at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center, (920) 533-8322. The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 am until 4:00 pm, and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 am to 5:00 pm.

Area Festivities

People started even earlier staking claims to prime locations for viewing the fireworks at the River Hill Park. Friday evening at 7:30 p.m., there were already close to 20 blankets and tarps on the hill, and by noon Saturday, that number had doubled.

The pending world's largest brat was an attraction at the Campbellsport Fire Department's annual picnic this past weekend in Campbellsport. Officials in Campbellsport were not taking any chances when making the monster sausage. A 37" hot dog was created at the Taste of Campbellsport last week. The Loehr brothers decided to give it another eight feet to be on the safe side, making it 45 feet instead of just 40 feet.

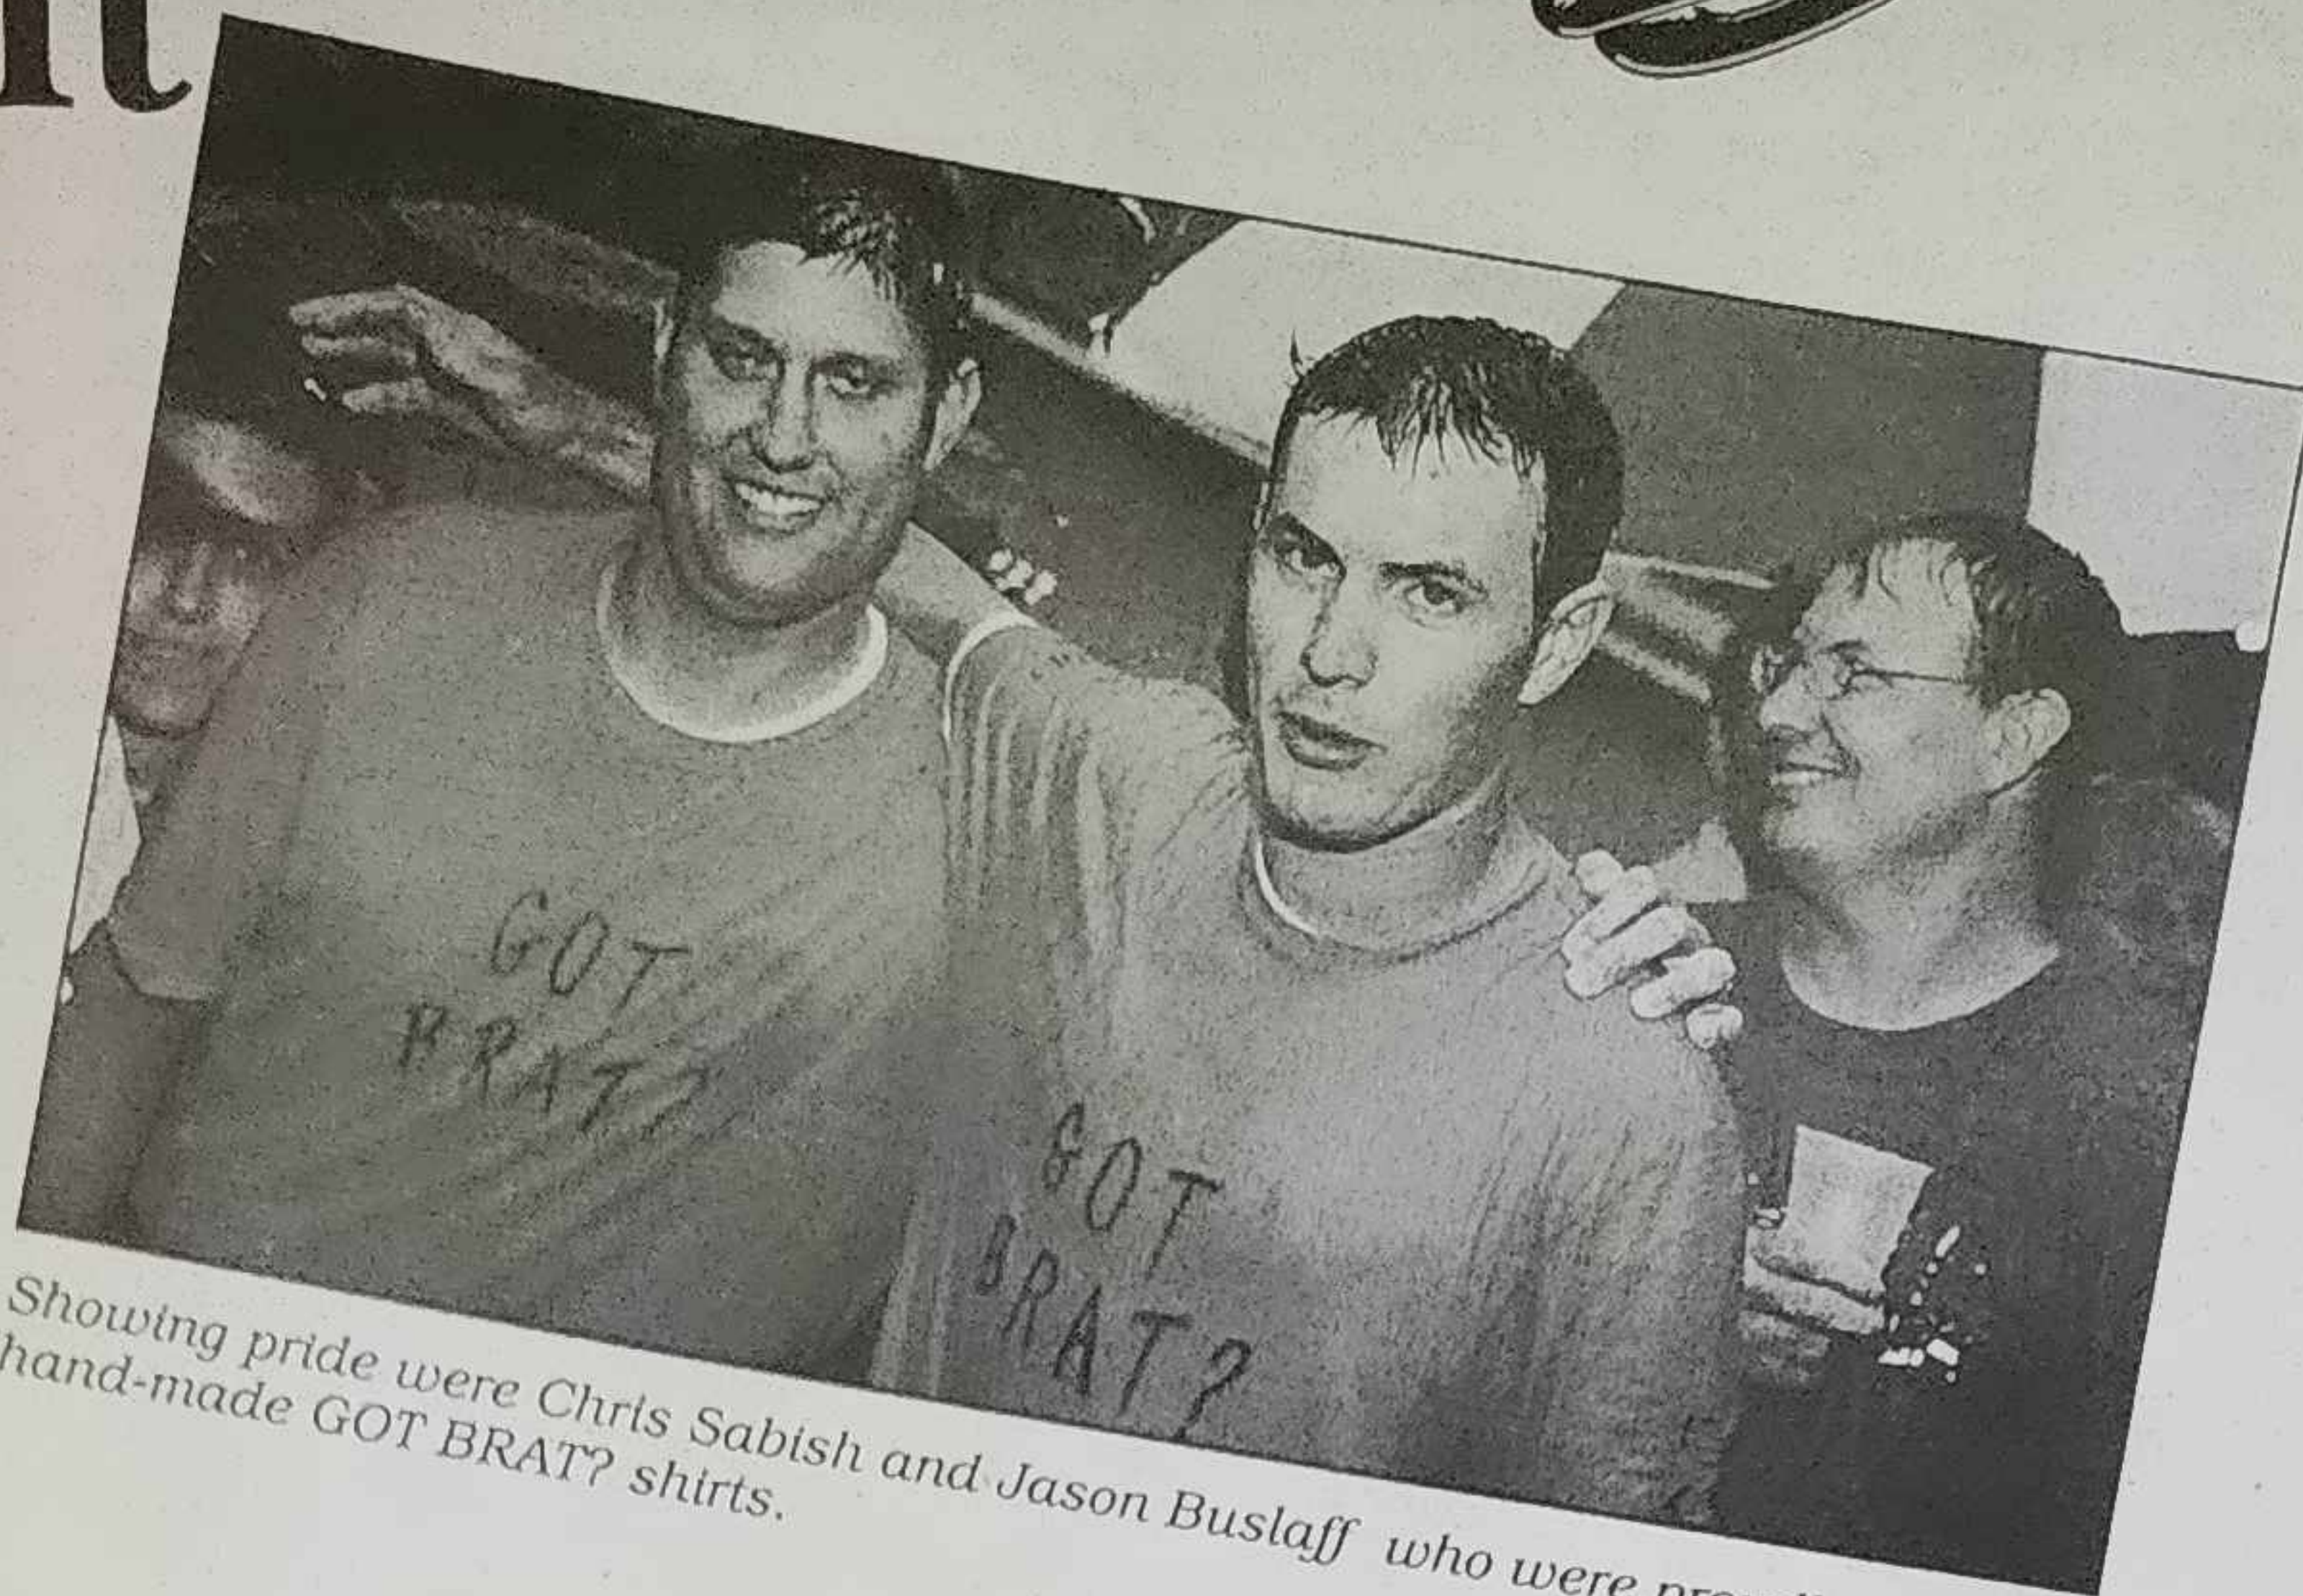

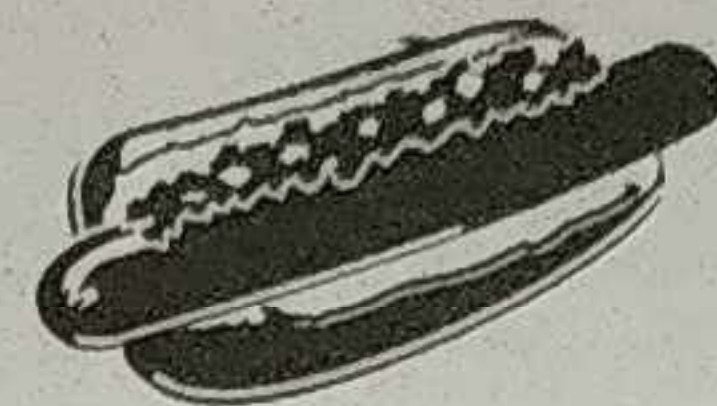

Little Ben Schellinger, age 10 and 1/2 months, gets his first taste of a seasoned hamburger from his dad, Glenn Schellinger, at the annual Fourth of July celebration in the River Hill Park. Ben's mother is the former Chris Ramthun. The family lives near Farmington.

ities a Big Hit

Showing pride were Chris Sabish and Jason Buslaff who were proudly sporting hand-made GOT BRAT? shirts.

A little rain on their parade wasn't about to stop the brat brotherhood in Campbellsport. Community members watched the brat make it's way up Main Street from Loehr's Meat Market to Firemen's Park. The brat's chauffeur was a flat bed semi truck and trailer from Perron Trucking. The Fin-n-Feather Supper Club catered the bun for this mammoth sandwich while Klotz's Piggly Wiggly provided condiments.

Area Festivities a Big Hit

People started even earlier staking claims to prime locations for viewing the fireworks at the River Hill Park. Friday evening at 7:30 p.m., there were already close to 20 blankets and tarps on the hill, and by noon Saturday, that number had doubled.

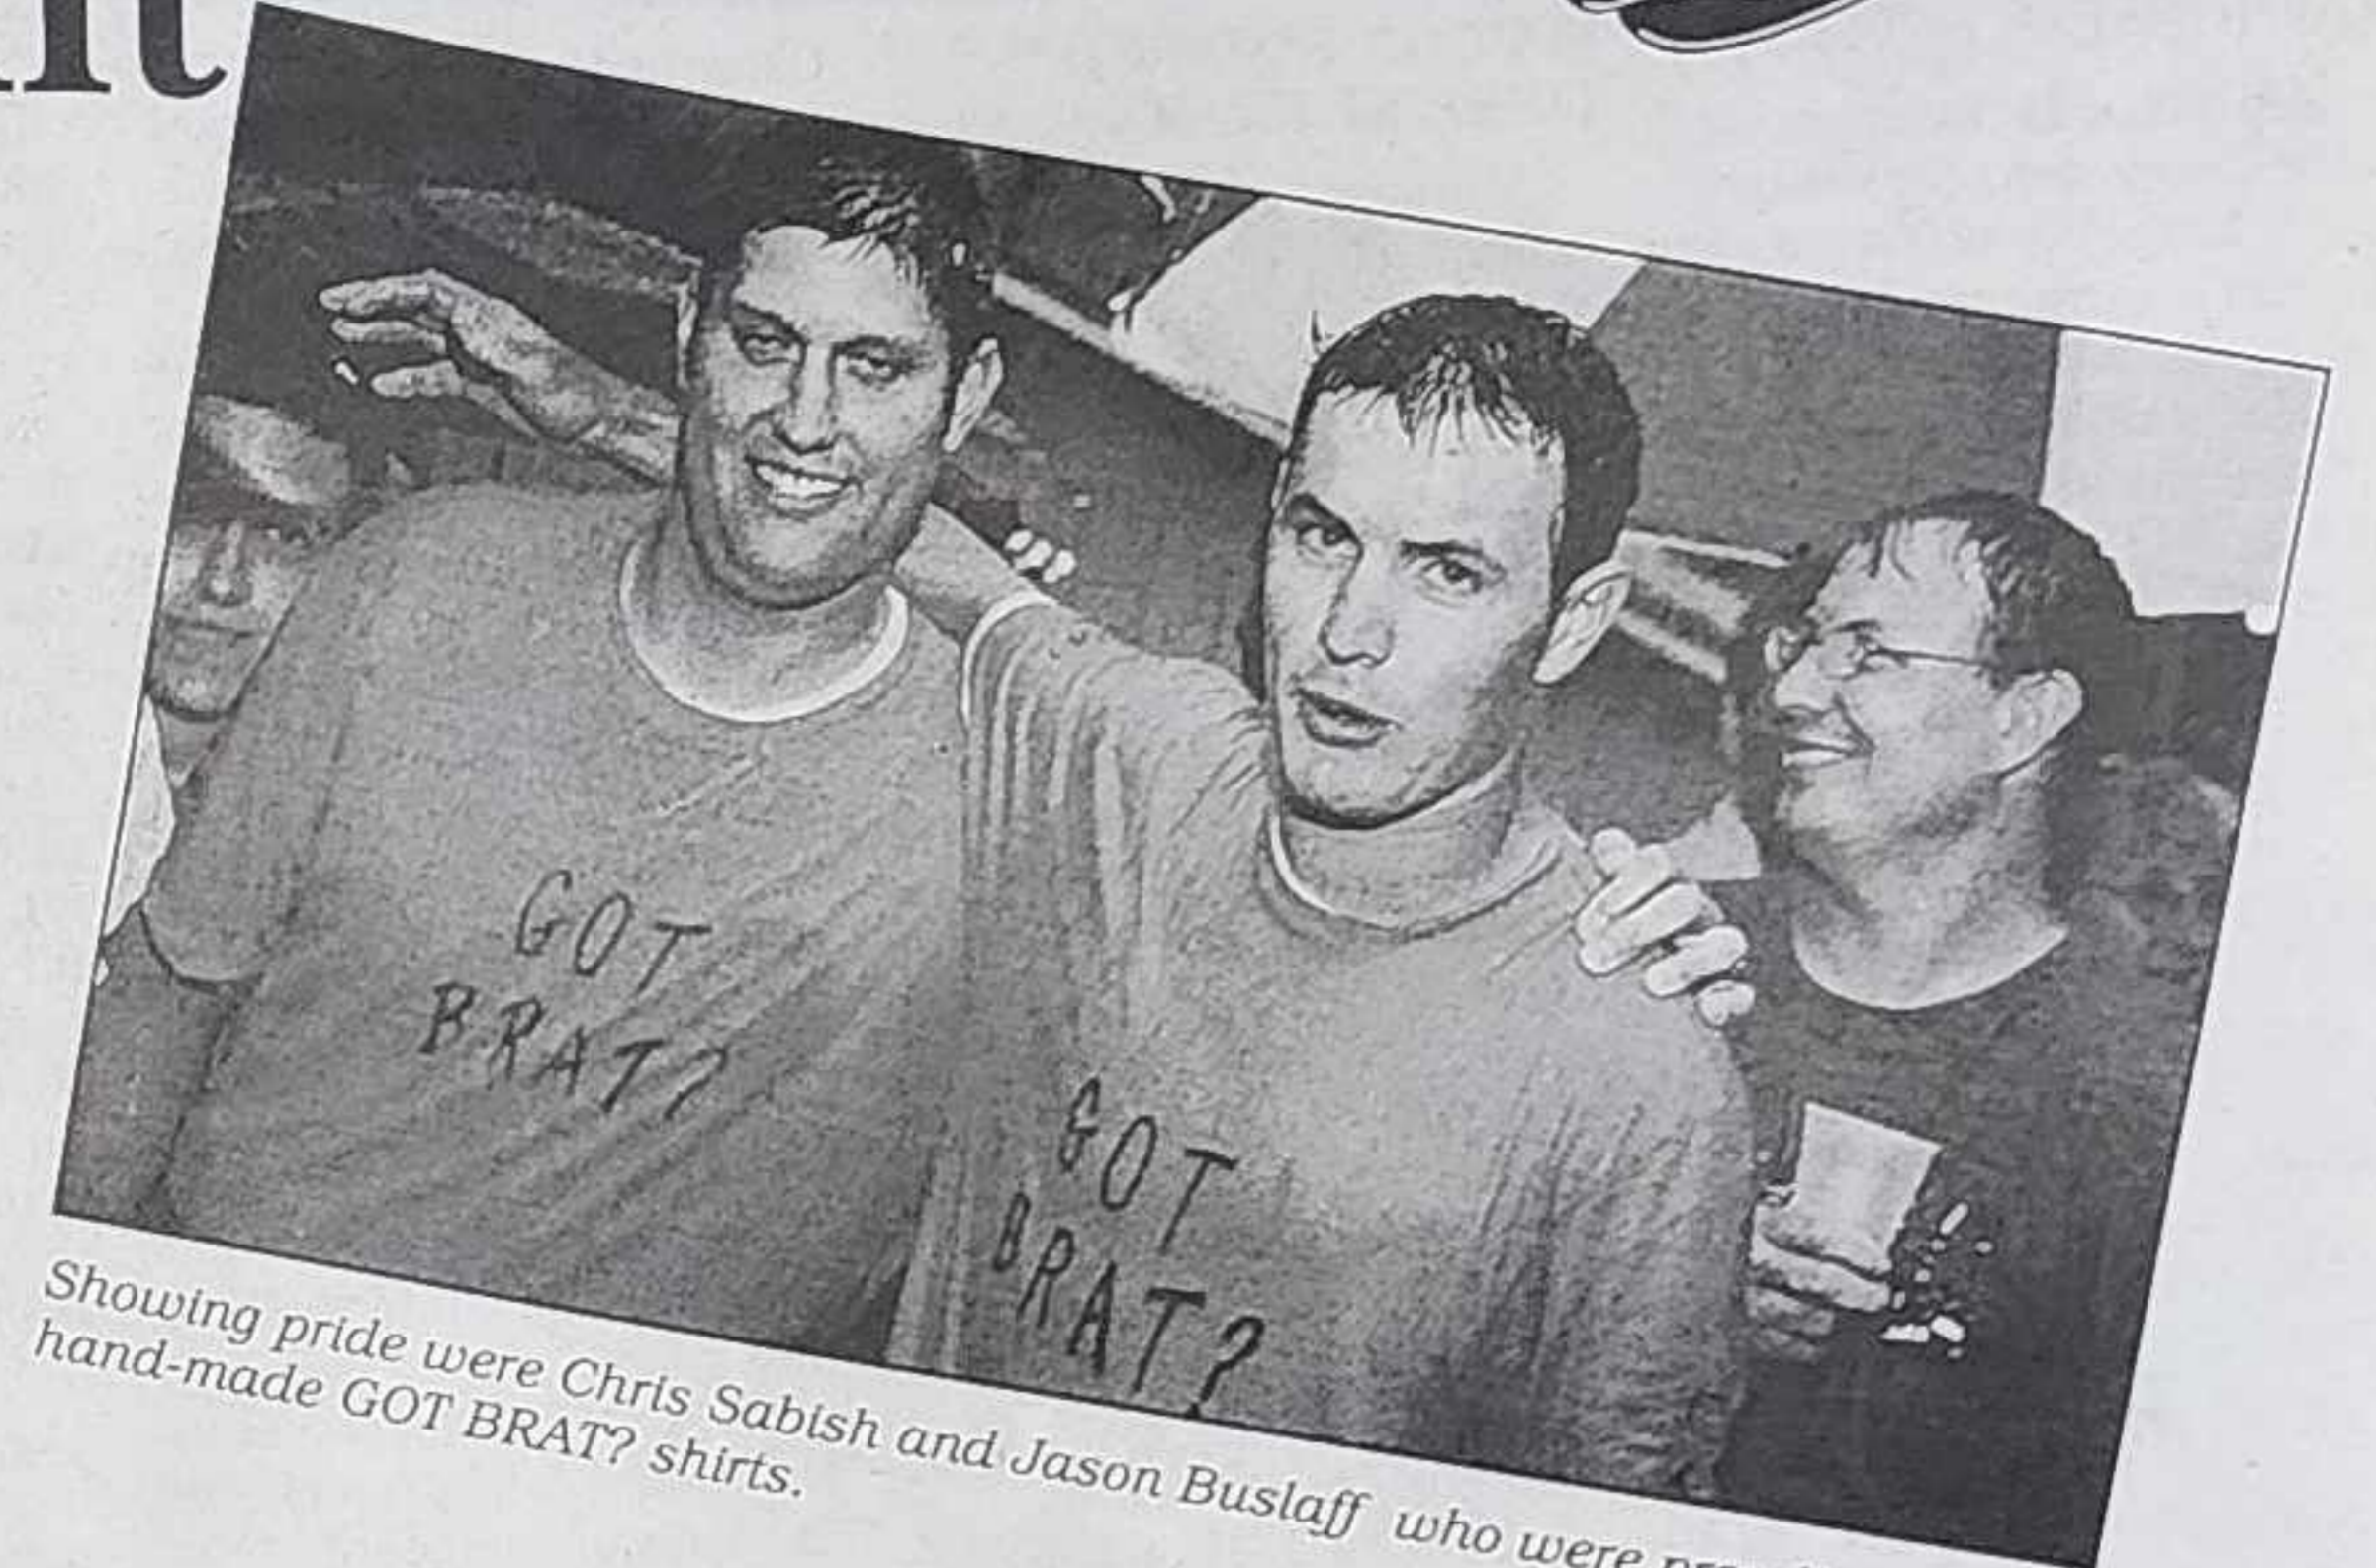

The pending world's largest brat was the main attraction at the Campbellsport Fire Department's annual picnic this past weekend in Campbellsport. Officials in Campbellsport were not taking any chances when making the monster sausage after a 37" hot dog was created at the Taste of Chicago last week. The Loehr brothers decided to give their brat another eight feet to be on the safe side making it 48 feet instead of just 40 feet.

Little Ben Schellinger, age 10 and 1/2 months, gets his first taste of a seasoned hamburger from his dad, Glenn Schellinger, at the annual Fourth of July celebration in the River Hill Park. Ben's mother is the former Chris Ramthun. The family lives near Farmington.

Tracy and Patsy Gavin, of Kewaskum, were awarded the Fire Chief Award in the Campbellsport Firemen's picnic car show. The Gavins are shown here with their 1970 Dodge Challenger and grandchildren Trenton and Hailey Schladweiler.

Showing pride were Chris Sabtsh and Jason Buslaff who were proudly sporting hand-made GOT BRAT? shirts.

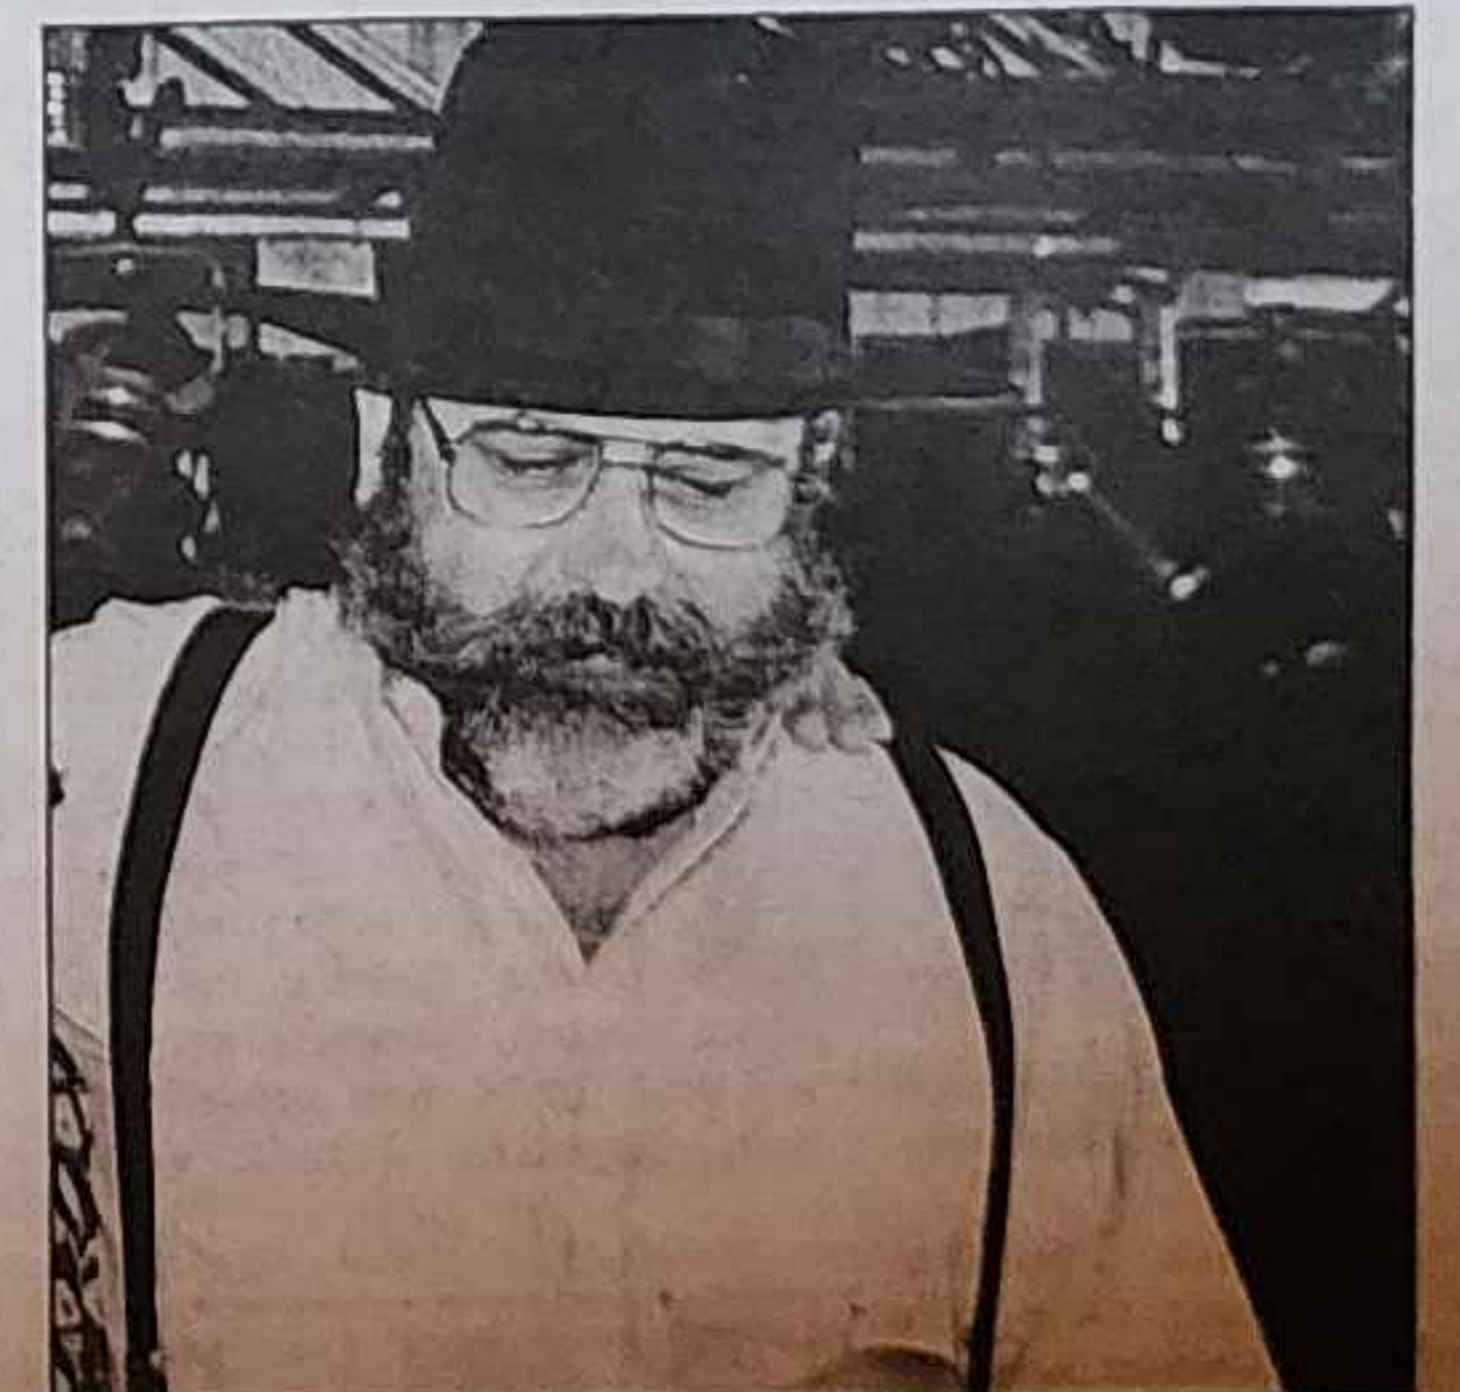

A little rain on their parade wasn't about to stop the brat brotherhood in Campbellsport. Community members watched the brat make it's way up Main Street from Loehr's Meat Market to Firemen's Park. The brat's chauffeur was a flat bed semi truck and trailer from Perron Trucking. The Fin-n-Feather Supper Club catered the bun for this mammoth sandwich while Klotz's Piggly Wiggly provided condiments.

OBITUARIES

ALPHONSE H. PETERS

Alphonse H. Peters, 85, of West Bend, died on Wednesday, June 30, 2004 at St. Joseph's Community Hospital.

He was born on Nov. 1, 1918 in the town of Polk to the late Frank and Clara (nee Ackermann) Peters, and on Sept. 30, 1944 married Erna C. Weber at St. Matthias Catholic Church in Nabob.

Together they farmed on the Peters homestead farm in the town of Polk until their retirement in 1982, at which time they moved to West Bend.

He was a charter member of St. Frances Cabrini Parish, serving as an usher and Eucharist minister for many years. He was also a member of the Father Casper Rehrl Council 1864 Knights of Columbus.

Survivors include his wife; six children, Sr. Joan Marie Peters, SSSF of Campbellsport, Tony (Judy) of the town of Trenton, Kathy (Al) Maday of Waukesha, Mary Ellen (Ray) Mathieu and Gene (Diane) Peters, both of Campbellsport, and Mark (Lynn) of the town of Polk; 13 grandchildren, Jim (Tracy) Peters, Chris Peters, Jeff Peters, Jackie (Steve) Becker, Tina (Alan) Grimmer, Cindy Maday, Tim (Melissa) Peters, Kim Peters, Kelly Mathieu, Brian Peters, Rachel Peters, Jenny Peters and Adam Peters; nine great-grandchildren; two sisters, Sally Zingsheim and Delores (Peter) Wenninger, both of West Bend; two brothers, Sylvester (Shirley) Peters and Walter (Mary) Peters, both of West Bend; three sisters-in-law, Mildred Peters of Grafton, Mable Peters and June Sommerfeld, both of West Bend; two brothers-in-law, Lloyd Roden and Gerald Backhaus, both of West Bend; nieces, nephews; other relatives and friends.

Preceding him in death were two grandchildren, Stephen and Sarah Peters; four brothers, Marvin, Hillard, Jerome and Norbert Peters; a sister, Evelyn (Victor) Brinkmann; three brothers-in-law, Willard Zingsheim, Kenneth Weber and Mark Sommerfeld; and two sisters-in-law, Kathryn "Kitty" Roden and Shirley Backhaus.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held on Friday, July 2 at 7 p.m. at St. Frances Cabrini Catholic Church.

Father Jeff Haines was the presider, and burial was Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in Holy Angels Cemetery.

Visitation at the church only was on Friday from 3 until 6:45 p.m.

The Schmidt Funeral Home, West Bend, served the family.

The family has requested memorials to St. Frances Cabrini Parish.

MARJORIE 'MARGIE' LUEDTKE KRAHN

Marjorie "Margie" Luedtke Krahn, 80, of Beechwood, passed away Monday afternoon, July 5, at Beechwood Rest Home after a courageous 11 month battle with cancer.

She was born on October 23, 1923 in Batavia, a daughter of the late Chester and Cordula Hintz Schulz.

She attended LaFollette Grade School in the Town of Sherman and graduated from Plymouth High School in 1941. She also attended Sheboygan Business College.

She was employed at Western Condensing Company in Adell, Allis Chalmers in Milwaukee and the West Bend Company in West Bend.

On June 3, 1944 she married Arno F. Luedtke at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church in Batavia. The couple farmed in the Town of Mitchell until his death on April 23, 1960.

On May 26, 1962 she married Gaylord "PeeWee" Krahn at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Cascade. The couple has resided in Beechwood for the past 42 years.

She worked for the Kewaskum School District in the Food Service for 25 years, working at the Beechwood School for 18 years and then at Farmington School until retirement in 1992.

She was active in the KAP at the schools and a charter member of the Beechwood's Fireman's Auxiliary where she held offices for many years. She loved to walk, dance (while able), bake and do ceramics. In her younger years she played the organ for Sunday School at St. Stephen's in Batavia. She taught Sunday School at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Cascade and was active in the American Cancer Drive, Chairperson of the Town of Scott Heart Fund and at one time worked for the SHARE program. She enjoyed taking care and the love of her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Survivors include her husband, Gaylord "PeeWee" of Beechwood; her children, Kay (James) Muench of Batavia, Karen Rammer of Sheboygan and Rodney (Toni) Krahn of Beechwood; five grandchildren, Bradley (Amy) Rammer of Ramsey, MN, Wanda Glander of Plymouth, Brek Rammer of Chesterfield, MO, Lisa (Joel) Kelling of Batavia and Lauren Krahn of Beechwood; nine great-grandchildren, Brock, Ethan, Spencer, Zoe, Alysa, Rachel, Morgan, Lindsey and Kayla; one brother, Ivan (Byrdell) Schulz of Campbellsport; one sister, Gayl Schmidt of Beechwood; many brothers-in-law, sisters-in-law, other relatives and many friends.

She was preceded in death by one son, Lance "Lanny" Luedtke.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, July 9 at 7 p.m. at the Suchon Funeral Home in Plymouth. Rev. Mark Eckert of St. John Lutheran Church in New Fane will officiate. Burial will be in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery in Cascade at 10 a.m. Saturday morning.

Friends may call at the Suchon Funeral Home from 3 p.m. on Friday until the time of services.

In lieu of flowers, a memorial fund is being established in Marjorie's name for the St. John Lutheran Church Kitchen Fund in New Fane and Cerebral Palsy Horse Therapy.

The Suchon Funeral Home, Plymouth, is serving the family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of
LAWRENCE GUNDRUM,
who passed away one year ago, July 9, 2003:

I am home in Heaven, dear ones;
All's so happy, all's so bright.
There's perfect joy and beauty
In this everlasting light.
All the pain and grief are over,
Every restless tossing passed;
I am now at peace forever,
Safe home in heaven at last.

Sadly missed by his wife, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

THANK YOU

Thanks to everyone for their prayers, cards, visits, phone calls and gifts. While I was a patient at Froedtert Hospital.

Thanks again.

Fibromyalgia: No Time for the Pain?

For some, it's fatigue and general soreness. For others, it's extreme sensitivity at specific trigger points in the body. Still others experience headaches and bowel problems. As nebulous as the symptoms of fibromyalgia may be, Sue Dobberpuhl, an occupational therapist at Cedar Haven Rehabilitation Agency, said the benefits of appropriate treatment are clear-cut.

Several Cedar Haven therapists recently received training in treating fibromyalgia, migraine and other chronic pain from Janet Hulme, MA, PT, a nationally known author on the disorder. The term "fibromyalgia" describes "soft tissue pain," and is considered by medical professionals to be a syndrome, not a disease. Fibromyalgia Syndrome is characterized by diffuse pain or tender points in muscle groups, including the neck, face, back, arms, legs, hands and feet. Patients experience fatigue, exhaustion and a feeling of never getting a good night's sleep. While causes are unknown, researchers hypothesize that an FMS patient's nervous system magnifies their response to sounds, light, touch, smell, taste, heat, cold and pain. Like a car engine, their bodies are always running at "high idle," affecting their entire well-being.

Therapists tailor a treatment program for an individual's specific needs, reviewing lifestyle, diet and medical history to determine potential triggers and contributing factors. "A lot of my patients respond well to specialized massage and aquatic exercises," Dobberpuhl said. Other treatments include: pain control; heat therapy, ultrasound and cold therapy; electrical stimulation; biofeedback; physiological quieting; stress management/relaxation; exercise/stretching; massage therapy and adaptive techniques.

Therapy is covered by most medical insurance with a doctor's referral. Through therapy, Cedar Haven's goal is to help patients manage their symptoms and reduce the "idle" so they can relax, rest and regain an active lifestyle. For a free handout on fibromyalgia, call Cedar Haven at 262-306-2150 or visit their website at www.cedarcommunity.org/rehab/cedarhaven. Cedar Haven provides outpatient physical, occupational, speech and massage therapy throughout southeast Wisconsin. It is a division of Cedar Community, a not-for-profit, church-affiliated provider of health care, rehabilitation, education and senior housing.

Mongo Adventures in Trash

By: Ted Botha

M O N G O

adventures in trash

T E D B O T H A

Each year, Americans throw away almost 18 billion disposable diapers. We toss out enough paper to construct a wall from New York to Los Angeles. We recycle enough aluminum to re-build a commercial air fleet a couple times over.

Amazing, isn't it? So who takes out the garbage in your house?

"Mongo: Adventures in Trash" by Ted Botha (c.2004, Bloomsbury), is a book about trash collectors, but not the guys with the big trucks. Instead, Botha found a few people who make their livings or their homes from things people discard. These are folks who know where to find real bargains: in other people's garbage.

Botha grew up in South Africa, a place where he says people are innovative. Materials that we would throw away here are cleverly used as toys, decoration, even housing there. Botha says that when he moved to the United States, he remembered what he had seen and he furnished his first apartment with cast-off furniture. While everybody loves a good bargain, Botha began to notice a whole culture based on scrounging and finding, so, with permission, he followed a few "collectors". Some of them, like the eccentric Sarah, can't pass up what she perceives might be useful or valuable. Sarah's home is packed with what many of us would consider as junk, but to Sarah, everything is saleable or has "possibilities". Others, like twenty-somethings Flo, Miles, and Channing, spend their nights going from deli to restaurant to grocery store, finding food that's still edible and taking it home to feed their housemates.

Botha is surprised to find that many eateries throw away food that is still viable - even sealed and brand new - and that the group eats an amazingly healthy diet.

Steve makes his living as a rare book dealer, finding and selling first-éditions and signed copies of books. Scott and Dan dig up old privies, looking for rare bottles. Christiana recovers cast-off computers and rebuilds them, all the while learning as much as she can about technology. Dave goes through old sewer sediment to find gold chains and jewelry. Mr. Murphy recycles cans, and makes more money in three summer months than many people make in a year.

Author Ted Botha doesn't make fun of his subjects, which is what you might expect from a book like this. Instead, he's fascinated by them, and he shows that they're just ordinary people who have quirky ways to survive or have fun. Even the people who might appear to be more than just eccentric are treated with sympathy and understanding. It's refreshing to read a book by an author who seems so darn nice. Botha also points out that we Americans really do throw away an awful lot of things that are still useful or beautiful, and that a bargain is in the mind of the beholder. Pick up a copy of this book and think: who takes out the trash in your house?

Does anyone bring it back in?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

Saturday July 3rd I came to Kewaskum to experience your fireworks display. I have not see the Kewaskum Fireworks in about 20 years. I remember watching them from the top of one of my dad's silos on the farm as a kid. He occasionally took us to the park to watch them from the hill.

Well this year, I drove up from Lake Geneva with my 2 kids to spend some time with my family and to get a chance to see the fireworks. I know the weather was not the greatest, to say the least. I wanted to let you know that those were the best fireworks I have seen in a very long time. The firemen skillfully put up the ground displays as everyone waited patiently (with their umbrellas) for the start.

As the crowd saw the flares being lit they knew it would be moments before the first boom was heard. I didn't time the fireworks, but I think they lasted a half hour or more. On Friday I went to the local fireworks near Lake Geneva and they lasted 10 minutes. Yes, they were nice but Kewaskum's were GRAND. I know I will be back next year and I am going to grab a spot on the hill with my family and let them experience The Hill. Hope mother nature cooperates next year.

WE HAVE ALL HAD ENOUGH RAIN.

Sara (Stoffel) Konkel

Dear Editor:

With pride in America, and our Armed Forces, I salute the vast majority of men & women who serve our country with honor in Iraq, Afghanistan, and other parts of the world. May God bless them, and their families. To allow the few who dishonor our country to become a reflection of our entire nation is to distort history. And to place the blame for their actions on their Commander n' Chief, is an unfair assessment of the leadership qualities of our President. Were there not far greater scandals in previous administrations?

And if George W. Bush is also to be blamed for the intelligence breakdown that contributed to our nation going to war in Iraq, then Roosevelt should be condemned for Pearl Harbor, Truman for North Korea's invasion of South Korea, Johnson for the Vietnam War, Kennedy for the failed invasion of Cuba, and Clinton for the moral decay that has infested our country.

Our soldiers in Iraq are peacekeepers that have become victims of revenge and hatred by an unseen enemy who will even kill their own countrymen should it suit their mentally twisted goal of persuasion through terrorism. Therefore the silence by much of the world community concerning the acts of terrorism that have resulted in the deaths of hundreds of innocent American soldiers makes no sense. Unlike others who are uninformed, our brave soldiers know that without our strong military presence, mobs would rule a country that has lost its desire for peace, and the entire Middle East would be affected.

Scandal takes many forms, and although it is all around us, we should not add to it through gossip or unfounded speculation.

Hahn Honored by East Central/ Select Sires

Dave Hahn

Dave Hahn of Campbell-sport was recently honored with several awards at the East Central/Select Sires awards banquet. Hahn was awarded with the Member Service Representative of the Year Award for his region, outperforming four other professional Artificial Insemination (A.I.) technicians in his area in several sales categories. In addition to being the top performer in his region, he ranked third out of 34 other technicians company-wide and he was recognized with the Direct Herd Volume award for selling 13,501 units, more than any other technician in the company.

He outranked his peers in the Diversified Product Volume category by selling the most non-semen products and he received the Total Unit Volume and EC/SS Area Contribution awards, which ranks technicians by their profitability to the cooperative. Hahn services dairy and beef producers in Ozaukee county.

"Dave Hahn has been a consistent high achiever at East Central/Select Sires. He is very skilled in his ability to not only get along with all types of people, but to make them feel better after a visit. A sincere, hard-working, friend to everyone is what Dave is to his customers," said Al Deming, General Manager, East Central/Select Sires.

East Central/Select Sires is a professional, artificial breeding cooperative serving dairy and livestock producers in southern Wisconsin. As a member-owner of Select Sires located near Plain City, Ohio, East Central helps make up the largest Artificial Insemination (A.I.) cooperative in the world. They provide highly fertile semen as well as excellence in service and programs to achieve its basic objective of supplying livestock breeders with America's best genetics at a reasonable price.

Red Cross Seeking Financial Support to Help In State

The American Red Cross is seeking public financial support to help residents throughout areas of Wisconsin recover from damage caused by recent severe weather. The Red Cross has set an initial goal of raising more than $132,000 to cover the cost of the organization's relief efforts related to this disaster relief operation. Financial contributions, rather than individual items such as clothing and canned food, enable the Red Cross to most efficiently provide assistance to individuals and families regardless of the type of disaster where it occurs.

Hundreds of homes throughout Wisconsin have been damaged by recent severe weather, including flooding and tornadoes. Immediately following these disasters, American Red Cross chapters deployed key relief workers and supplies to assist residents in the affected areas. In response to this disaster to date, the American Red Cross has:

- Immediately mobilized Red Cross workers in the affected areas to assess damage and provide comfort and care to those with immediate disaster-caused needs, including such things as vouchers for food, clothing, medications and more.

- Deployed two Red Cross emergency response vehicles to heavily affected areas to provide canteening support for residents and clean-up crews.

- Served more than 7,360 meals and snacks.

- Mobilized more than 160 trained American Red Cross disaster relief workers, a majority of who are from Wisconsin, to provide affected residents with immediate emergency assistance, care and comfort.

- Distributed clean-up kits and comfort kits to affected households.

The fastest and most effective way to assist the families affected by this and other disasters is through cash donations to the Disaster Relief Fund. The American Red Cross offers several convenient ways for the public to make contributions:

- Call 1-800-HELP NOW, or 1-800-257-7575 (Spanish).

- Make a secure online donation at www.redcross.org.

- Mail a contribution to the West Bend Chapter, 819 Schoenhaar Dr., West Bend, 53090 or to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, PO Box 37243, Washington DC 20013.

All American Red Cross disaster assistance is free, made possible by voluntary donations of time and money from the American people. You can help the victims of severe weather throughout Wisconsin and thousands of other disasters across the country each year by making a financial gift to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, which enables the Red Cross to provide assistance to those in need.

This workshop will be held in the Board Room, 1455 School Street, Kewaskum.

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

NOTICE

Slurry Seal is a weather dependent process, with good weather: Thursday, July 8th, Struck & Irwin Paving is scheduled to do slurry seal on Whisper Lane, Dream Catcher Drive, Prospect Drive and Rail Road Street. Garbage pick up has been altered so these streets will receive garbage collection at the beginning of the route. Residents should receive an informational sheet from Struck and Irwin Paving the day before slurry seal operations. In general the street will be closed to traffic, most likely over night to allow drying of the sealing material.

Please note, Milan Drive was done last year, to allow parking with this years program. The slurry seal remains somewhat soft even after traffic is allowed. Please do not turn wheels in a "stopped" position, as scuffing of the material may occur.

Thank you for your co-operation with the asphalt maintenance program.

Wildman Catches the Big One

Hello Friends,

I recently returned from a Canadian fly-in fishing trip where I spent seven days at an outpost cabin with my stepson, Joey, and good friends, Dan Gorman and Harold the "Wildman" Moll. The following are the details of one very interesting day in the boat with the Wildman.

Wednesday, June 15
High 68, Low 46

Today was the only day out of seven where we had sun all day long. Joey and Dan had already left camp, as had the Wildman in a boat by himself. I was actually drifting away from camp re-rigging three poles.

My plan for the day was to troll with a planer board with large spoons and cast with the high hopes of catching a big northern pike. My plan changed when the Wildman came idling into view.

The linkage on his outboard throttle had come unhooked - an easy fix that we figured out later, but for now, I had a partner for the day.

Harold had never used a planer board before, and I am just teaching myself. I have caught some decent gators with them, and was anxious to hook into a trophy.

My plan was a simple one: troll shorelines working my way south for five miles, spend the early evening fishing walleye, and then troll back to the cabin.

Any time in the last 30 years I have done something with the Wildman, (who is 65 years old and the father of my good buddy, Jeff Moll), there is bound to be lots of laughs and plenty of excitement. Today would be no exception.

Other than a hard hit from a big fish, our first hour was uneventful. Then the Wildman had a gator in the 15 to 20 pound range try to tear his pole out of the boat as it grabbed his two ounce antique Red Eye.

Just before snapping the line, the big fish gave us a good look and vanished with the Wildman's lure. Not to be discouraged, we picked up his planer board and Harold re-rigged with another Red Eye.

We had not been trolling five minutes when another monster from the deep grabbed the Wildman's Red Eye and began pulling Harold and his pole overboard. Once again, the Wildman's line snapped and I had to laugh at my friend's misfortunes.

Just before his engine failed, the Wildman had a bear sighting, another common thing for him.

By the time we got to the walleye honey hole, I had caught about 20 walleye and northern pike. The Wildman was having such bad luck and was trying every lure in his tackle box.

When we hit the honey hole, it was early evening, and 2- to 4-pound walleye were very hungry for the floating jug/leach combination I was using.

Dan and Joey were fishing close by. We had quite the show as Joey was having an awesome evening catching fish.

The score was nine to nothing after a short period of time, and the Wildman just couldn't figure out what he was doing wrong. He kept switching between a floating jig and a night crawler harness.

I was making a 180-degree turn to make another pass over walleye central, when the Wildman announced in a rather discouraged tone of voice that his line was snagged.

I hit reverse, and the Wildman said he thought he had on a fish, maybe a big one. I killed the motor, raised it out of the water, and grabbed the net.

Unfortunately, to save space, I had left my new musky net back at camp and only had an average sized net in the boat. After about five minutes and some very powerful line peeling runs, it was obvious the Wildman was fighting a genuine hog.

When she came to the surface, she presented an easy net job on my part. I scooped Harold's trophy up and attempted to lift her out of the water. Her length and weight outside of the net was more than inside the net and she was fighting again. I knew we had a situation.

The exact process repeated itself three times. On the fourth try, the Wildman lifted her head so she could fit better, and we had us one big fish.

The tape measure showed just under 43 inches, which is the biggest fish this gang has ever caught. We were extra careful to get her back to camp alive.

The next morning my good friend, Pete Hagedorn, did a camp check and flew her back to Red Lake and a taxidermist.

I swear, every time I fish with the Wildman, it costs me money because he wins the big fish contest.

That night we had us a good time back at the cabin telling the day's stories over and over. That's what a trip like this is all about.

You can take part in a fly fishing trip too. My good friend Pete Hagedorn can be reached at 1-800-991-4599.

Keep smiling!

Young Hunter Has Success on Wings Over Wisconsin Area

It was an exciting day for young turkey hunter Adam Kleinke, from Kewaskum, as he bagged his first gobbler on the Kettle Moraine Chapter of Wings over Wisconsin's new habitat restoration area. Adam took part in a special turkey season for first time turkey hunters. Jim Roe from the Gateway Gobblers Chapter of The National Wild Turkey Federation, was Adam's guide. The hunt was held on the new wildlife project area recently purchased by the Kettle Moraine Chapter of Wings Over Wisconsin. The property is located on the Washington-Fond du Lac County line. Adam's turkey was 20 pounds and had a 10 1/2" beard.

This is the first of what is hoped to be many youth hunts on the Kettle Moraine Chapter of Wings Over Wisconsin's new project area. The area will take several years, a lot of hard work and many funds to reach its potential. The chapter president, Richard Knoebel, said, "the chapter also hopes to hold handicap deer hunts in the future as well as hunter education field days." Knoebel went on to say that, "We hope by getting youth involved in the out of doors we can foster a desire to become enthusiasts for the rest of their lives."

Wings Over Wisconsin is a unique organization in that all of the money raised by the 21 chapters is used on projects in Wisconsin. Wings Over Wisconsin was also instrumental in the program that brought wild pheasants from the Jihlan Province in China to Wisconsin in an attempt to re-populate the wild pheasant. For more information on the organization go to www.wingsoverwisconsin.org.

Kurt Davis of Milwaukee.

Neitzel is roughly 130 points ahead, according to Kertscher, who said, "He's got a pretty good lead on us right now."

"Friday night (July 2nd) I raced the 360 (for Sippel Racing) at the T and T Speedway in Three Lakes," Kertscher went on.

We had fast time. We were second in the heat. We won the fast dash, and we finished a very, very close second in the feature," Kertscher said, indicating his qualifying time of 13.138 seconds was just off the track record of 13.105.

"I led probably 12 laps ... We went back and forth a couple of times with K.J. Skelton (of Batavia)," Kertscher said, reporting he passed Skelton on the fourth turn of the final lap when a car behind them spun out. "They threw the caution flag instead of the checkered, then they went back to the last lap and moved Skelton out front for the final lap ... We were close (at the finish line)."

Kertscher also made the long trip to the Echo Valley Speedway in West Union, Iowa for an IRA race on Saturday.

"We got qualifying in. We qualified second," Kertscher said. Then the rain started to fall, and "We didn't get to race."

The same was true Sunday night when the Midget drivers were anxious to get on the Angel Park Speedway Track in Sun Prairie.

When asked about 2004 rainouts, Kertscher said, "We've probably had a half dozen of them ... enough to make me sick of rain."

This Saturday night, Kertscher and the IRA drivers will be at Plymouth for a show, and later this month, on July 31, the World of Outlaws are scheduled to be in Plymouth, with IRA drivers hoping to make the field against the kings of the sprint car world. "That's going to be televised," Kertscher said, hopeful his recent good showings will continue right on into the Outlaw competition.

"We've been doing well. We've been running top five pretty consistently," Kertscher said.

Kertscher Claims First Feature Victory of '04

There's nothing like a feature win to boost a race car driver's confidence and also to move him up a place or two in the point standings.

Take Mike Kertscher for an example.

In an IRA competition held at the Dodge County Fairgrounds on Saturday, June 26th, the 23-year-old Kewaskum pilot proved to be the best of the 34 cars in the field of the Bumper to Bumper IRA Outlaws series.

It took a while for the competitors to get a good take on how to handle the track, but once they did, spectators who packed the stands got a great taste of highly competitive racing from five cars.

Three of the drivers fell out of contention, leaving Kertscher and his teammate (sponsored by Osborn and Son Trucking) Kim Mock left to duke it out for the top spot in the 25-lap event. The two raced side by side for several laps, until, on the 23rd lap, Mock made a mistake that allowed Kertscher to take the checkered flag.

"With two laps left, he looped 'er and handed the torch to me," Kertscher said, indicating, "This was my first feature win of the season."

Points leader Scotty Neitzel of Beaver Dam overcame some early tire problems to finish second, with Scott Uttech taking third, and Donny Goeden of Kewaskum just missing out on a top-five finish with his sixth place.

"We were running strong," Kertscher said, and it just wasn't for the one night but for several events that have taken place in the past week.

In a race held at the Sunnyview Speed Zone in Oshkosh on June 29th, Kertscher qualified second, finished third in the heat race and was fifth in the feature.

"It was a good night ... actually very quiet," Kertscher said, indicating points from these latest two IRA races have allowed him to jump into third place in the standings, just five or six behind

Indians' Woes Continue Against Top Teams

In its EWC game against Plymouth on June 30, the Indians wasted a good scoring opportunity in the bottom of the fourth inning after two batters reached on an error and a walk. Above, Garret Donath, left, is forced out at third base as Josh Sippel beats him to the bag. The next man flied out to center, and the inning ended with another force out at third.

After beating New Holstein back on June 4th, the Kewaskum High baseball team hasn't had much luck against the top three teams in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Last week, the Indians fell to 1-7 against the EW leaders after back-to-back losses to Plymouth and New Holstein.

The Indians were out of the game against Plymouth (June 30th) almost as quickly as it started. Brett Zimdars was shellshocked to the tune of six runs in the first inning, and that was really all the Panthers needed as they won the game 15-4.

The next evening, host New Holstein jumped out to a 5-0 lead after the first inning, and the Huskies used the rally toward a 6-2 victory.

In the first inning, the Huskies came with four hits, and Kewaskum kicked in with an error that didn't help its cause.

Tim Muellenbach's double was timely for New Holstein. "That scored two runs," KHS Coach Dave Donath said.

"It was better but still not what we're looking for," Donath went on about the game against New Holstein.

Brandon Prom (1-1) pitched for KHS, giving up nine hits, striking out two and walking none. Four of the Huskies' six runs were earned.

Kewaskum matched New Holstein in hits, with nine, but, "We just had trouble getting a key hit. We just didn't string the hits together," Donath said.

Ross Stockhausen and Garret Donath both went 2x3. Stockhausen had a double and drove one run in, while Donath also got credit for an RBI.

Joel Horsch went the distance for the Huskies. He struck out eight and walked just one.

One highlight for the Indians was Prom's nab of a line drive in the fifth inning, with runners on second and third base. "Prom caught a line drive about his kneecaps. That saved two runs," Donath said, indicating his team got out of the inning without giving up a run.

The Indians played the entire week without leading hitter Tim Trott, who was on vacation in Mexico with his family.

"He should be back after the weekend," Donath said.

After going 1-2 last week, Kewaskum is 7-8 in the EW and 8-10 overall, with six regular-season games left on the schedule.

Panthers had their hitting shoes on

"They had 18 hits, so they had plenty of 'em," Donath said about the game vs. Plymouth. In the first, winning pitcher Ryan Wachter doubled, and there were singles by Thomas Johns, Andy Feid and James Kelling.

The Panthers scored another six runs in the second, prompting a pitching change, and Jason Meyer gave up just three more the rest of the game. Ryan Beebe connected for a 2-run homer off Meyer in the top of the fourth.

All Kewaskum's runs were scored in the fourth, with just one base hit, Meyer's single.

The Indians only had three base hits off Wachter and Trevor Peiper. Stockhausen singled in the second and freshman J.J. Krahn came up with a single in the top of the fifth. The game ended after five innings because of the 10-run mercy rule.

One big inning is difference

The Indians wasted no time mounting a huge lead in their 10-7 win over Sheboygan Falls on Tuesday evening.

"It came down to one big inning," Donath said, reporting his squad scored eight runs on six in the second inning.

To get things started, Prom drew a walk off of starter and loser Dieter Juedes. Prom was erased, however, on a fielder's choice by Matt Parrent, and the Falcons got the second out on a grounder to third by Garret Donath.

Then the fireworks started, as Stockhausen singled to score Parrent, and Nate Steiner followed with a single, putting runners at the corners.

Abe Foerster then drew a walk to load the bases for Josh Meyer, who promptly drilled a single to score Stockhausen and Steiner. Dan Shea followed with a walk, and then Jon Olla, who has been impressive at the plate all season, singled to right-center, driving in a pair, and Prom doubled home two more runs, and Matt Parrent added an RBI single before the third out.

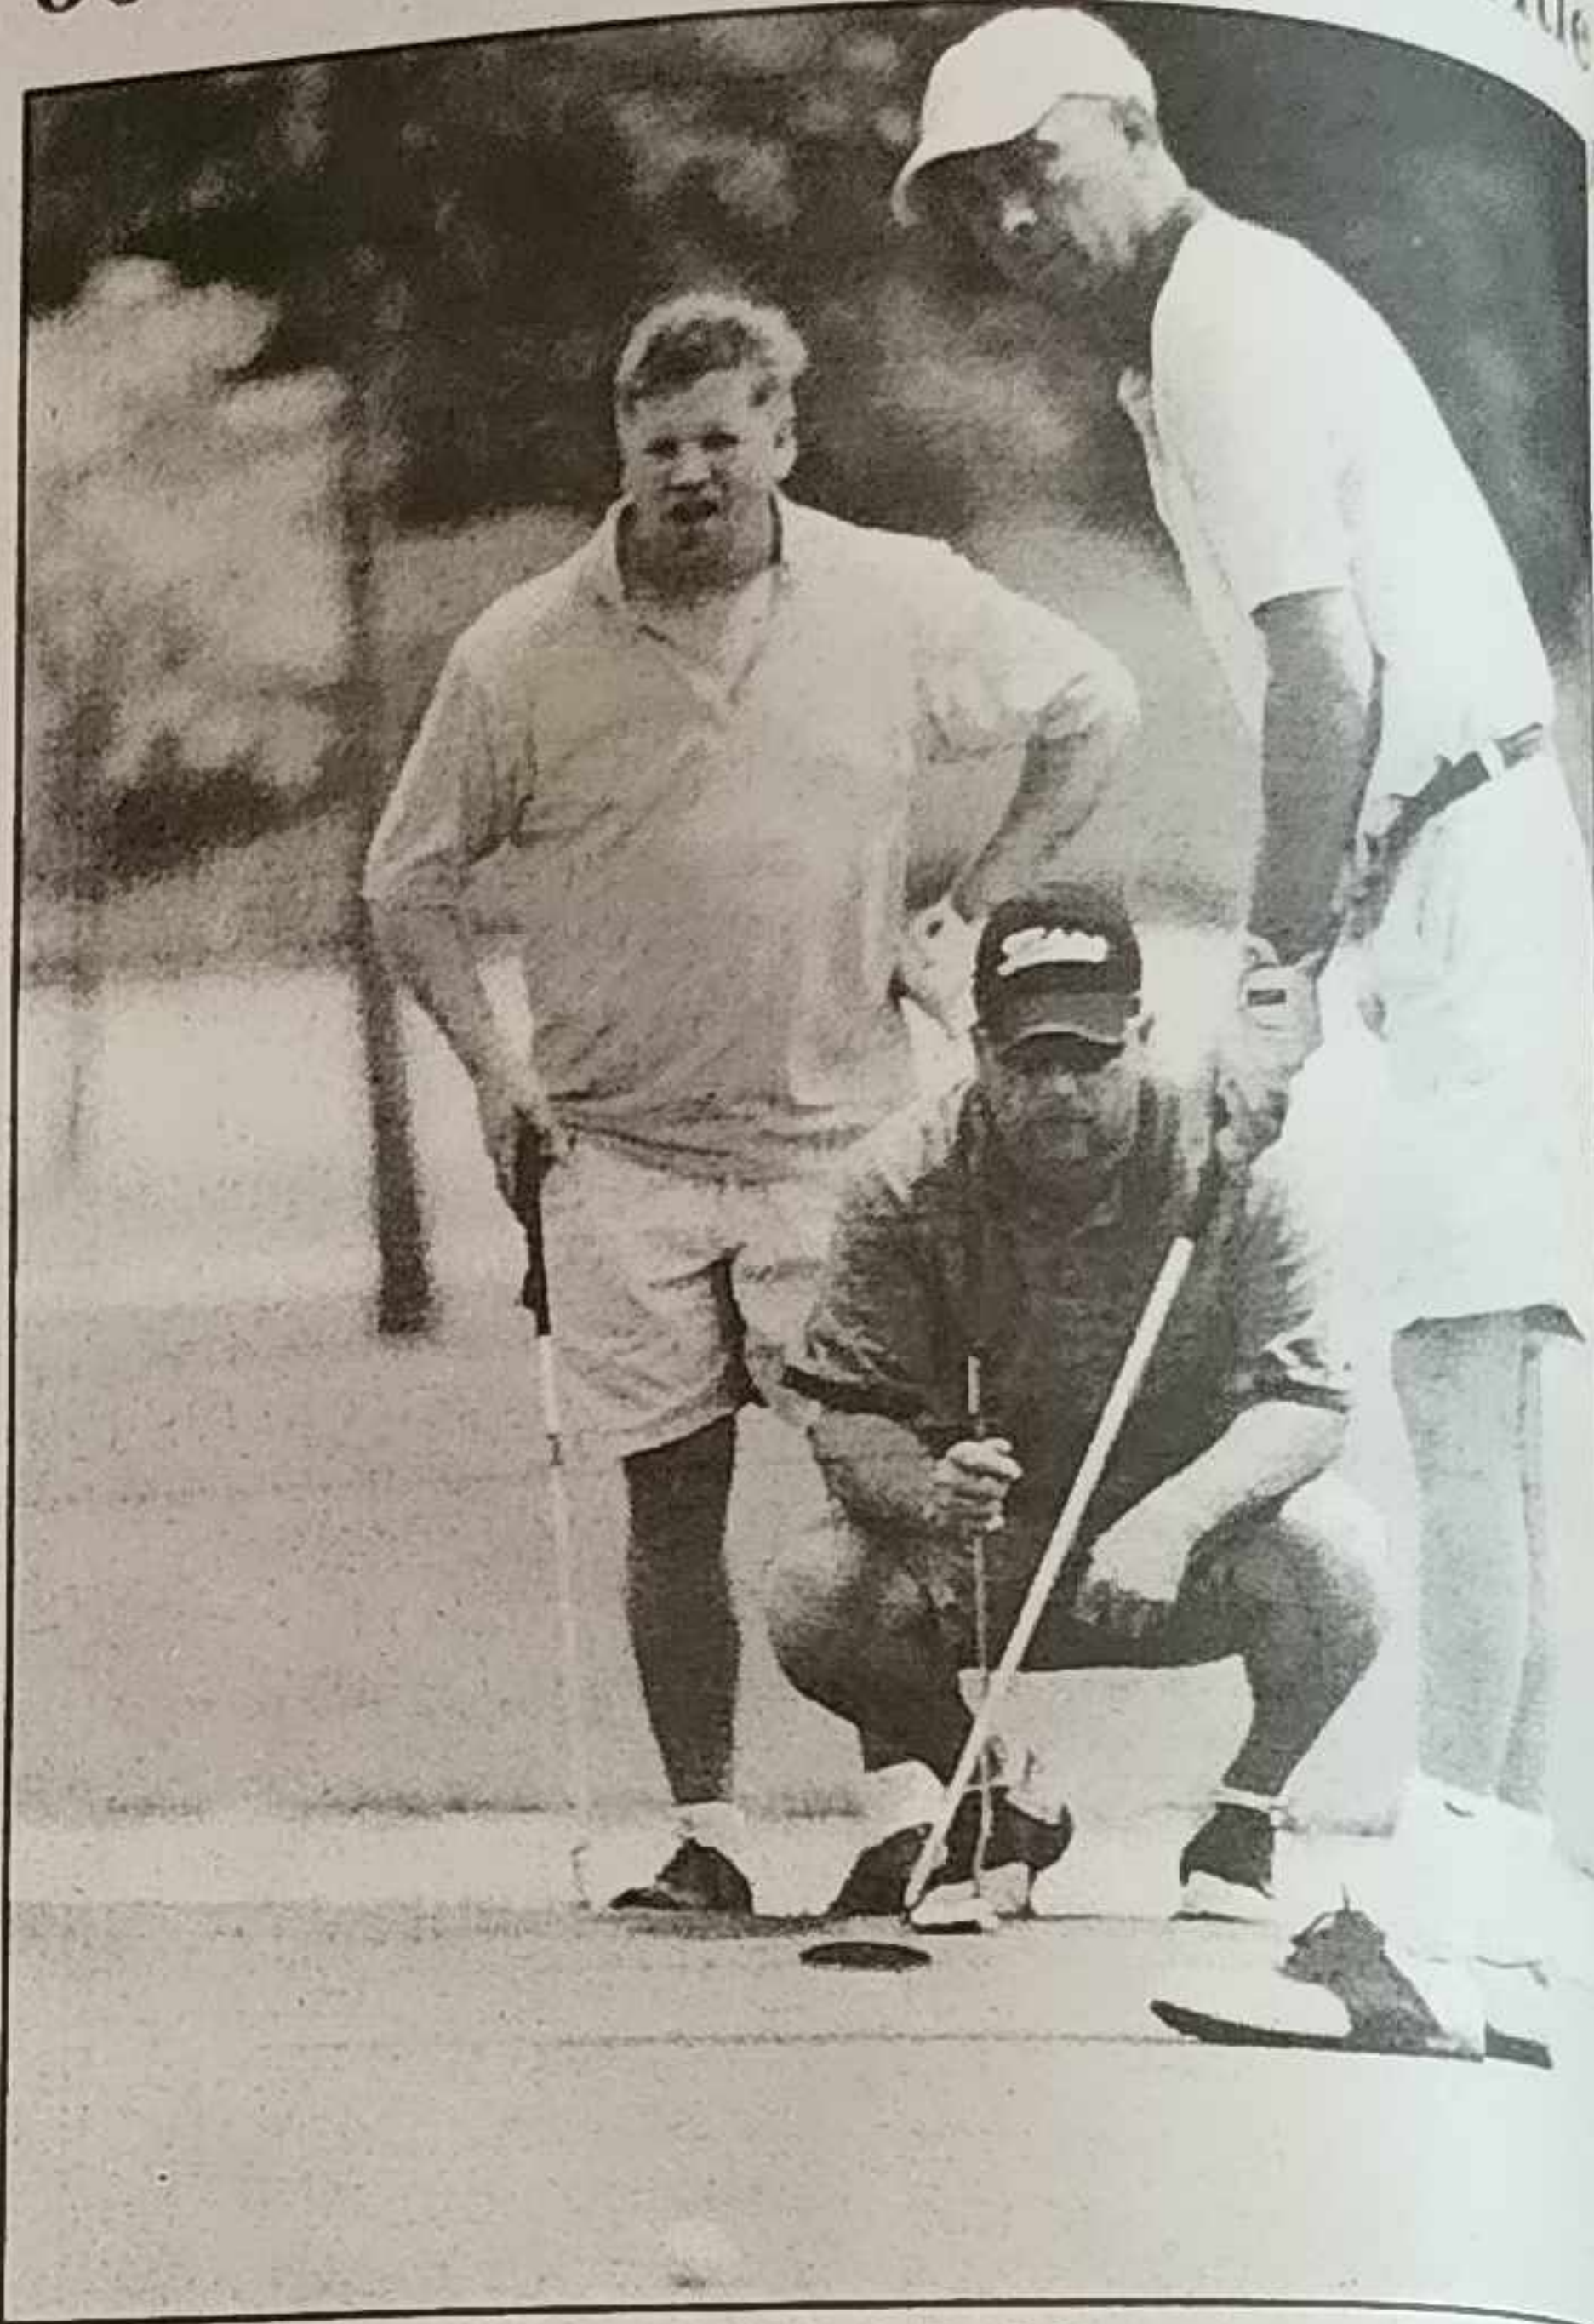

Kewaskum sent 12 batters to the plate in the inning to take an 8-0 lead.

When asked if this was the team's biggest rally of the season, Donath said, "I guess so!"

The visiting Falcons scored two runs in the top of the third, and the Indians added two more runs to their total in the bottom of the fifth for a 10-2 lead, which, at the time,

Gonring, Volesky and Young Finish 60 to Capture Three-Man Title

What do two retired West Bend East High School coaches and a United States postal worker have in common?

The three, Lee Young (WBE basketball coach); Doug Gonring (WBE baseball coach), and Jim "Jingles" Volesky (Mr. Postman) shared top honors in the annual 3-Man Scramble at Hon-E-Kor Country Club on Saturday. Actually, the trio doubled their pleasure, claiming the gross and net titles in the event.

After a relatively average 33 strokes on the Blue Nine, the Young-Gonring-Volesky threesome shot lights out on the Red, with a 7-under par 27 (No. 6 is currently being played as a par 3) for a total of 60.

They rattled off birdies on six of the last seven holes.

Finishing second in the battle for low gross honors was the team comprised of Dick Wietor, Tom Bartelt and Dan Gibbon. They came in with a 63, coming from a 31 on the Blue Nine and a 32 on the Red.

Two shots back (65), in third place were Larry Sterr, Mike Smith and Chuck Cannestra.

Young, Volesky and Gonring had a combined six handicap for this event, so they wound up with a sizzling 54 in the net scoring. That would have given them a six-shot margin of victory but because they won the one title looked pretty comfortable.

Sheboygan Falls made the game interesting when it scored five times in the top of the seventh before the third out.

With the win, Foerster improved to 3-3 in EW action.

they were not included in net competition for prizes.

Three teams finished in tie at 60, including Wietor, Bartelt and Gibbon, Roskopf, Mike Matenaer, Mike Herrick, and Brian Dreher. The tie was broken by going backward on the scorecard with Ray Roskopf, Matenaer and Herrick declared as winners by virtue of their debut on No. 16.

Wietor, Bartelt and Gibbon took runner-up honors, while Ogle, Blair and Dave Roskopf placed third.

There were 16 threesomes in the event. Both the golf and the weather were enjoyable.

"It turned out real nice," Ken "Buck" Averill, one of the organizers of the event, said.

Hon-E-Kor Pro Joe Harlow has announced the first of the Player of the Year events will be held on Sunday, July 11th. It will be a Two-Person Better Ball event.

3-Man Scramble

Low gross standings: 1. 60 — Young, Gonring, Volesky, 60; 2. 63 — Wietor, Bartelt, Gibbon; 3. 65 — L. Sterr, M. Sterr, Cannestra; 4. 65 — Scott Leitheiser, Brian Dreher, Jim Rohlinger; 5. (tie) 66 — Dan Carey, Carey Wolf, Manny Alvarez; 6. 67 — Ray Roskopf, Matenaer, Herrick; 7. 67 — Bob Roloff, Bob Faehling; 8. (tie) 67 — Wuebben, Ted Wuebben, Kim Chris Kerry, Barry Bailiff and Dan Jung; 10. (tie) 68 — Rick Averill, Schroeder and Bob Liebetrau; 11. 69 — an Ogle, Bob Blair and Dan Roskopf; Larry Nehrass, Ray Roloff and Ron Bastian; 13. 69 — Jim Kleinke, Pete Kostelac and Whitey Cross; 14. 70 — Buck Averill, Jim "Jonesy" Korth and Ken Mickson; 15. (tie) 71 — Dave Wietor, John McKay and Mike Pfeiffer; 16. 71 — Mike Lewis, Butch Ritzman and Don McBride.

gave up five hits, struck out two and walked five.

Juedes lasted just two innings before being retired in the evening. The Indians wound up with seven hits and no one had more than one.
