Village board checks into full time paid firefighter/EMT here

An empty driver's seat of one of Kewaskum's ambulances. EMT's and firefighters are at a critical low in the Kewaskum Fire Department. Your help is needed urgently.

The Kewaskum Village Board, along with nine officers of the Kewaskum Fire Department, held a special meeting Thursday evening to discuss a problem covering EMT and Fire shifts for the village. Fire Chief Mark Groeschel started the discussion stating the shortage of daytime EMT's and firefighters is getting alarming. He stated "It's scary when my pager goes off, I wonder if I'll have enough guys responding." Rescue Squad captain Sandy Hahn concurred stating she is having the same problem during the day with EMT's. And, it's not looking up for the department either. Hahn stated that she'll be losing another member come January. "We lost four people right off the bat this year," said Hahn. At one time 24 men and women filled the EMT roster. Currently the department has 17 EMT's on the roster and about 35 active firefighters. Chief Groeschel acknowledged that during the day, he has only enough firefighters for one engine company. Village trustee and former fire fighter Andy Pesch said he could understand where Chief Groeschel was coming from. Pesch stated, "When the Barrel Haus burned down we had six people responding." Pesch also recalled a time when the department had a long waiting list and it was an honor to be on the department. Both sides agreed, volunteerism is not what it once was. "It takes commitment," said fire officer, Jim Warnkey. "We're at a loss, we don't know what to do," stated Groeschel. The officers of the fire department came to the board to check into possibly funding a full-time person to become an EMT and firefighter; this person would also handle fire inspections, vehicle maintenance and record keeping. The village board agreed to start looking into and budgeting for a full-time person for the Fire Department. Both parties did not determine a title for the position. The idea of having a full time chief was thrown out along with administrative assistant to the chief or laborer. The whole process will be a time consuming one. Both the board and the fire department members realize that nothing would be done any more this year and would likely run into 2005. Depending on what type of employee is eventually hired, bylaws of the Fire Department would need to be edited. It could also mean the village would be handling rescue and fire department finances. Village Administrator Dan Schmidt thought the hiring of an individual would increase the fire department's budget anywhere from 18 to 30 percent. Schmidt also suggested that the village alert the townships served by the fire department as to the possibility of an increase. Both parties thought that the idea had merit and it will be taken care of. Both parties agreed to meet again after the department compiled a list of job duties. Administrator Schmidt will be checking into more specifics for costs and regulations. Another meeting was not set. Please see page 5 for a related article.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

- CIRCULATION UP AT LIBRARY- Village President Matt Heiser reported at Monday's Village Board meeting that circulation was up at the library. He said 3,005 were circulated and 27 new library cards were issued. The newly formed "Friends of the Library" will meet on Wednesday, November 3 at 6:15. For more information on the Friends of the Library, please contact the library at 262-626-4312
- ANNEXATION PROPOSAL ACKNOWLEDGED - Village Administrator Dan Schmidt announced that his office was in receipt of a proposal to annex almost 83 acres of land along USH 45 into the village from the town of Kewaskum. The board will take further action on the item at a future meeting.
- KHS ATHLETIC CODE MEETING- will be held Tuesday, Nov. 2 in the KHS Cafeteria. Only one meeting will be held for the winter sports. Any student wishing to play winter sports must attend a code meeting with his/her parent/guardian before he/she is allowed to practice. This is a one time requirement. All students planning on participating in winter sports must make sure they have the following on file BEFORE the seasons begin: Current physical exam or alternate year card; Emergency card; Code meeting attended or Code Renewal form signed and returned. Activity fee paid to the office.
- VILLAGE INVESTIGATING TIF DISTRICT- The Village of Kewaskum is spending $15,000 to develop a TIF plan for a large parcel of land that could be turned into an industrial park. The land is located along USH 45.

POLICE REPORTS

On September 20, Kewaskum Police were met by a complainant in regards to vandalism to a vehicle.

The complainant stated that when she left the middle school, she noticed her van had a scratch that was three to four feet long. She stated that the scratch was not deep enough to expose the metal and that it could probably be buffed out.

It is unknown what was used to cause the scratch. There are no suspects at this time.

On September 24, Kewaskum Police received a vandalism complaint from a Fond du Lac Avenue business in reference to a vandalism complaint.

The owner of the business stated that he observed a gate that was connected to his building had been torn off.

There are no suspects at this time.

On September 26, Kewaskum Police were dispatched to a Timblin Drive residence in reference to a theft from a vehicle.

The complainant stated her daughter's car was parked in the lot and when her daughter got into her car she noticed a CD case and backpack were missing.

There are no suspects at this time.

On September 26, Kewaskum Police were flagged down by a complainant in reference to a theft.

The complainant stated that his neighbor came to his rummage sale and took a jigsaw without paying for it. He stated it was marked at $30 and he would have taken $5 since he owed the neighbor $25.

The officer spoke to the neighbor and returned the saw.

On October 2, Kewaskum

Police spoke with a complainant who called the office.

She stated that while getting her children into her vehicle, she set her purse on top and forgot about it. When she realized it was missing, she went back to look for it and it was nowhere to be found.

There are no suspects at this time.

On October 6, Kewaskum Police were advised of a theft complaint at a Fond du Lac Avenue business.

The complainant stated that someone had a key that worked in the lock to one of his glass cases. Someone had used a key to get into his case and took three lures out of the case.

There are no suspects at this time.

Share Christmas with a Veteran

The American Legion Auxiliary of the Robert G. Romaine Post 384 is offering the opportunity to share Christmas with all Veterans. They will furnish a large Christmas tree to be displayed on the front porch of the American-Legion Post 384 decorated in red, white and blue lights. The theme of the 2004 Christmas Season and Parade this year is a Candy Cane Carnival, therefore they will decorate with candy canes, but this is where you come into the decorations.

The American Legion Auxiliary wishes to have those veterans or veterans families notify them regarding a veterans name in the following manner:

WHITE RIBBONS in memory of a deceased veteran.

RED RIBBONS for past service veterans.

YELLOW RIBBONS for those who are currently in the service.

This offer is open to any veteran or service member in the Kewaskum area (or who formerly lived in the Kewaskum area).

The American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary will provide the white, red and yellow ribbons and will make an individual bow for the Christmas tree located in front of the Legion building.

This opportunity to support our veterans is FREE to you! All they need is for you to notify the Legion either by phone at 262-626-4244, Charleen or 262-626-2073, Kathy or send veterans name to the American Legion Auxiliary Post 384, 1538 Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Please notify them as soon as possible so they can present the Christmas tree decorations in support of our veterans and troops for the Christmas season. This whole idea depends on you...act today!

Halloween Camp at Camp Matawa

YMCA Camp Matawa is celebrating Halloween! Halloween Camp, for kids ages 7-16, will correspond with the Wisconsin Teachers Convention school break. The overnight adventure begins the evening of Wednesday, October 27th and concludes on Friday evening, October 29th.

Camp counselors will lead campers through a variety of autumn activities; the haunted forest, hayrides, stories around the campfire, a costume ball and a pumpkin carving contest. Traditional camp activities such as archery, rock climbing, horseback riding, and arts & crafts will also be offered.

Halloween Camp is a great opportunity for children to build new skills, make new friends and enjoy the great outdoors. Sip hot cider and munch on roasted pumpkin seeds while spending Halloween in a setting like no other.

Lodging, meals and all activities are included in the fee: YMCA Member- $110, Community Participant- $135.

Camp Matawa offers heated dorm style cabins with indoor bathroom and shower facilities in the beautiful Kettle Moraine State Forest. YMCA Camp Matawa is a year round, residential camp facility located at N885 Youth Camp Road, Campbellport. Both YMCA members and non-members are welcome to attend. For additional information or to register call YMCA Camp Matawa at 262/626-2149.

More EMTs, firemen are needed for village's fire department

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

One number continues to go up, while another is declining, and that is definitely not good news for village residents.

What are the numbers being referred to? The first is the population of Kewaskum (approximately 3,300), which continues to grow with all the new subdivisions. And the one going down is the number of active members of the volunteer fire department and the EMTs (Emergency Medical Technicians) in the community.

"We're shorthanded all the way around," Sandy Hahn, a 13-year-veteran of the department, said recently, indicating the rescue squad currently has only two daytime drivers, which is at the stage of being a critical shortage.

Hahn recalls how a neighbor who was a volunteer fireman coaxed her into joining when she was still living at home with her mother. She remembers telling him she was pretty small, but he reassured her the other firemen would help her.

Training at that time to be a Fire Fighter 1 was 60 hours. It has since been bumped up, and to become a licensed EMT requires 144 hours of class time at the Moraine Park Technical College, which starts the course each August.

Hahn said the classes are normally held once a week, three hours a night, and a couple times during the course, there might be classes twice a week.

Hahn has moved up the ladder to the position of Rescue Captain, meaning she is in charge of scheduling the volunteers, putting in run sheets and setting up practices. The way she summed it up, it's "a lot of paper work."

Volunteering their services for the village is kind of a family affair for the Hahns. Sandy's husband Greg is a Second Lieutenant with the force.

Hahn said the rescue squad may be run with one driver and one EMT in the back, but ideally there are two EMTs in the vehicle with the driver.

The driver training is a bit more simple than what it is for being a licensed EMT, Hahn said, indicating anyone who would like to become a driver simply goes along on the runs for several months. "The regulars show the newcomers what to do."

Of course, having CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) training is advisable.

And what type of qualities are needed to be an EMT? Hahn said the individual should be a quick thinker, be able to work with a wide variety of people, stay calm in difficult situations and be able to manipulate in a small area.

EMTs and volunteer firemen must be 18 years old, ac-ording to Hahn, who said those in the department who reach 55 years of age must go for a physical each year.

The department has been advertising in local businesses for additional volunteers, and Hahn said thus far, two individuals have called and one was planning to come to the weekly practice tonight (Thursday).

Hahn stresses women are definitely welcome to volunteer for the fire department. "There are a lot of jobs to do ... you don't have to pull hoses," she said.

Concerning the amount of rescue calls the village crew responds to in a month, Hahn said, "The average is 20." On the day shift, which runs from 5 a.m. to 6 p.m., there have been 103 calls thus far in 2004, with 58 calls coming at night (from 6 p.m. to 5 a.m.).

A month ago, the total was already 30 higher than last year, according to Hahn, who said, "It's just unbelievable that many calls come during the day."

Anyone interested in becoming an EMT or volunteering for the fire department may call Hahn at 626-1320.

WB man charged with assaulting 12 year-old

Jason Van Buren has been charged in Washington County Court with repeatedly sexually assaulting a 12 year-old girl, who was hired by his wife to babysit their two children. Van Buren is also charged with exposing a child to pornography and possessing child pornography. Van Buren reportedly told investigators he knows he's a pedophile and the porn helps keep his urges in check. Police say the girl regularly stayed overnight at the VanBuren's home, because she was having family problems. Van Buren is currently in the Washington County Jail on $25,000 bond. If convicted he faces a maximum sentence of 127 years in prison.

Darrow's campaign may have received money from embezzled account

Former US Senate candidate Russ Darrow may have received money from a man accused of embezzling over three million dollars from his employer. Forty-three year old Robert Brownwell is facing felony charges of money laundering and conspiring to commit mail fraud. Brownwell, who was a top executive with Belinski Homes, is accused of taking the money and donating about $70,000 to political campaigns. Other than Darrow, Brownwell is accused of funneling money to President Bush and former Wisconsin Governor Scott McCallum. If convicted, Brownwell faces up to 20 years in prison.

West Bend and County to receive transportation aid

The State Department of Transportation has estimated the county will receive over $2 million in general transportation aid next year and West Bend $1.6 million. Overall, $385 million is being distributed throughout the state. Governor Doyle says the money helps municipalities keep their local transportation system operating safely and efficiently. Some other specific transportation amounts include over $114,000 to the Village of Kewaskum, $118,000 to the Town of Trenton, $850,000 to the Village of Germantown and $204,000 to the Village of Jackson.

Three-year-old killed in farming accident

A three-year-old boy has been killed in a farming accident in neighboring Dodge County. Sheriff's deputies say Daniel Giese got tangled in the apron of a forage wagon. The unit is a large self unloading wagon with multiple moving parts that is pulled behind a tractor. Authorities say the boy got caught up in the equipment last Wednesday morning. Emergency crews from Theresa and Kekoskee responded. The boy was pronounced dead at the scene. The Sheriff's Department says the boy was with his uncle at the time of the accident. The child was the son of Gordon and Tamera Giese of Mayville.

A fund has been set up at M&I Banks around the Washington and Dodge County areas for the family.

West Bend explores Clock Tower

Two huge trees were leveled by Badger Middle School, a tree on South Main and Vine by the Police Department has been cut down and two trees by BJ and Company have been raised. In Downtown, the big blue spruce that stood in an island in the center of North Main was leveled. The Downtown Association says they're currently working on plans to put a clock tower in place of the tree. Husars would have a hand in the making of the clock.

Downtown WB Association looks to fill position

The Downtown Association is looking for a new program coordinator. The full-time position opened when the board of directors suspended Missey Propper. The 32-year-old is facing charges of allegedly embezzling money from the West Bend Jaycees. Administrator Theresa Fuerbinger says she has received 19 applications for the job and they'll make a decision on a new hire in the coming weeks.

Business updates

Some business notes from around West Bend and Washington County:

Construction crews are starting to frame up the new 50 States restaurant which is going up near the car wash on Paradise. The independently owned restaurant will feature tables in the shape of states. They should be open by the end of the year.

In Downtown West Bend two new gift shops are opening. Inspirational Art should open within the next few days. They're at the old Jeanne's Collectibles shop at 161 N. Main and another gift shop owned by Sharon Marth and Gloria Dawn Strickland will be opening on North Main Street. The business will be at 132 North Main where Brookstone Mortgage used to be.

Doug and Barb Schalla hope to open their new jewelry store on South Main before the end of the year. The couple is currently busy remodeling the old Karl's Choice. The new store will be called Schalla's Jewelers.

Players honor Rizzardi's longevity, excellence in coaching Jobe - Hartmann

KHS Volleyball coach Dave Rizzardi accepts a plaque of recognition from former player turned coach, Kelly Marquardt while athletic director Jason Piittmann looks on.

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

When he's plotting strategy during a volleyball match, Dave Rizzardi is difficult to fool, yet the members of his 2004 Kewaskum High School team (especially Danielle DeGroot and her family) really pulled the wool over his eyes last week when they organized a celebration in honor of his 25 years coaching the sport.

"Totally ... I had no idea," Rizzardi said about being surprised. "When (Athletic Director Jason) Piittmann grabbed the microphone, I thought we were having Senior Night."

So when did it finally hit him? "The first time I realized it was for me is when they called my wife to the floor ... they even had the Plymouth coaches in on it."

Rizzardi, 49, joins a short list of KHS coaches who have stayed with one sport for 25 years or longer. Dave Drexler has been the boys and girls cross country coach for over 25 years and former KHS math teacher, Joe Harlow, was with the boys golf program for over 30 years.

Rizzardi came to Kewaskum to teach agriculture, but in 1980, Jane Vesper decided to give up coaching volleyball and the West Allis native stepped in.

"I had played volleyball in high school, back when the WIAA still recognized it as a boys sport," Rizzardi said, indicating he played at West Allis Central High School and later was on a club team at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and enjoyed playing recreational volleyball as well.

Rizzardi was quick to point out there was one colleague who was very instrumental in his getting involved in coaching, that being Mike Fifrick.

"He (Fifrick) really got me started," Rizzardi said. "I used a lot of his organization in the early years. I still plan out 99 percent of my practices."

Members of his first team included Lisa (Kempf) Perkins, Sue (Bade) Chesak, Michelle (Rodenkirch) Wiedmeyer, Barb (Matenaer) Chesak, Kara Weinreich, Jill (Peterman) Steffes, Jackie (Mueller) Borja, Heidi Edgar, Pam Stray, Cathy (Schlice) Brunquell, Donna Menzel and Jane Degnitz Meyer. (Writer's note: In some cases, obtaining the married names of some of these players was not possible.)

The team finished third in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, with Wiedmeyer named to the first team all-conference squad, Perkins earning second team honors and honorable mention picks including the two Chesaks.

"It was a nice group of kids," Rizzardi said about his first team. "If I would have had more experience, our record would have been better that year."

Over the years, Rizzardi led two KHS teams to the state tournament, one in 1986 and the other in 1991, and he has had six conference titles, coming in 1985, 1995, 1999, 2000, 2003 and now in 2004.

"Two Rivers, New Holstein and Falls were the volleyball athletic schools," Rizzardi said, indicating Two Rivers has dropped off the most, but, "New Holstein and Falls are still good rivals for us ... I think there are parents at both schools that still say hi to me," including some who keep stats or drive the team bus.

Rizzardi has easily outlasted all the other coaches in the conference. "It used to be an all-men's crowd," he said, reporting that has changed, but, "They call me the godfather," with Mary Langenfelt of New Holstein next in line as the dean of EW volleyball coaches.

Highlights of his career are definitely the state appearances, according to Rizzardi, who said, as strange as it may seem, neither won the conference title.

The 1986 club finished 6-6 in the EW, good for fourth place. Members of that team included Dawn Dieringer, Jenny (Schuster) Boegel, Angie Nowak, Kari Kurtz, Laurie Blum, Shelly (Petsch) Oelhafen, Patti Padden, Jenny Hintz, Debbie Felix, Terri Schmidt and Lisa Schneider.

The 1991 team finished 7-5 and took third in the EW. Comprising that team were Kim (Sabish) Durand, Rachelle (Krahn) Flitter, Stacey Heberer, Julie (Mertz) Wenninger, Julie Wagner, Marty Schlice, Jackie Hintz, Tina Schwartz, Beth (Kempf) Sondrol, Bonnie (Schlice) Herman, Robyn Winninghoff, Christa Schmidt and Kelly (Korth) Nerat.

What Rizzardi liked those years, before there was club volleyball, was "people were competing on an equal field ... What you brought out in your coaching is what you saw on the floor."

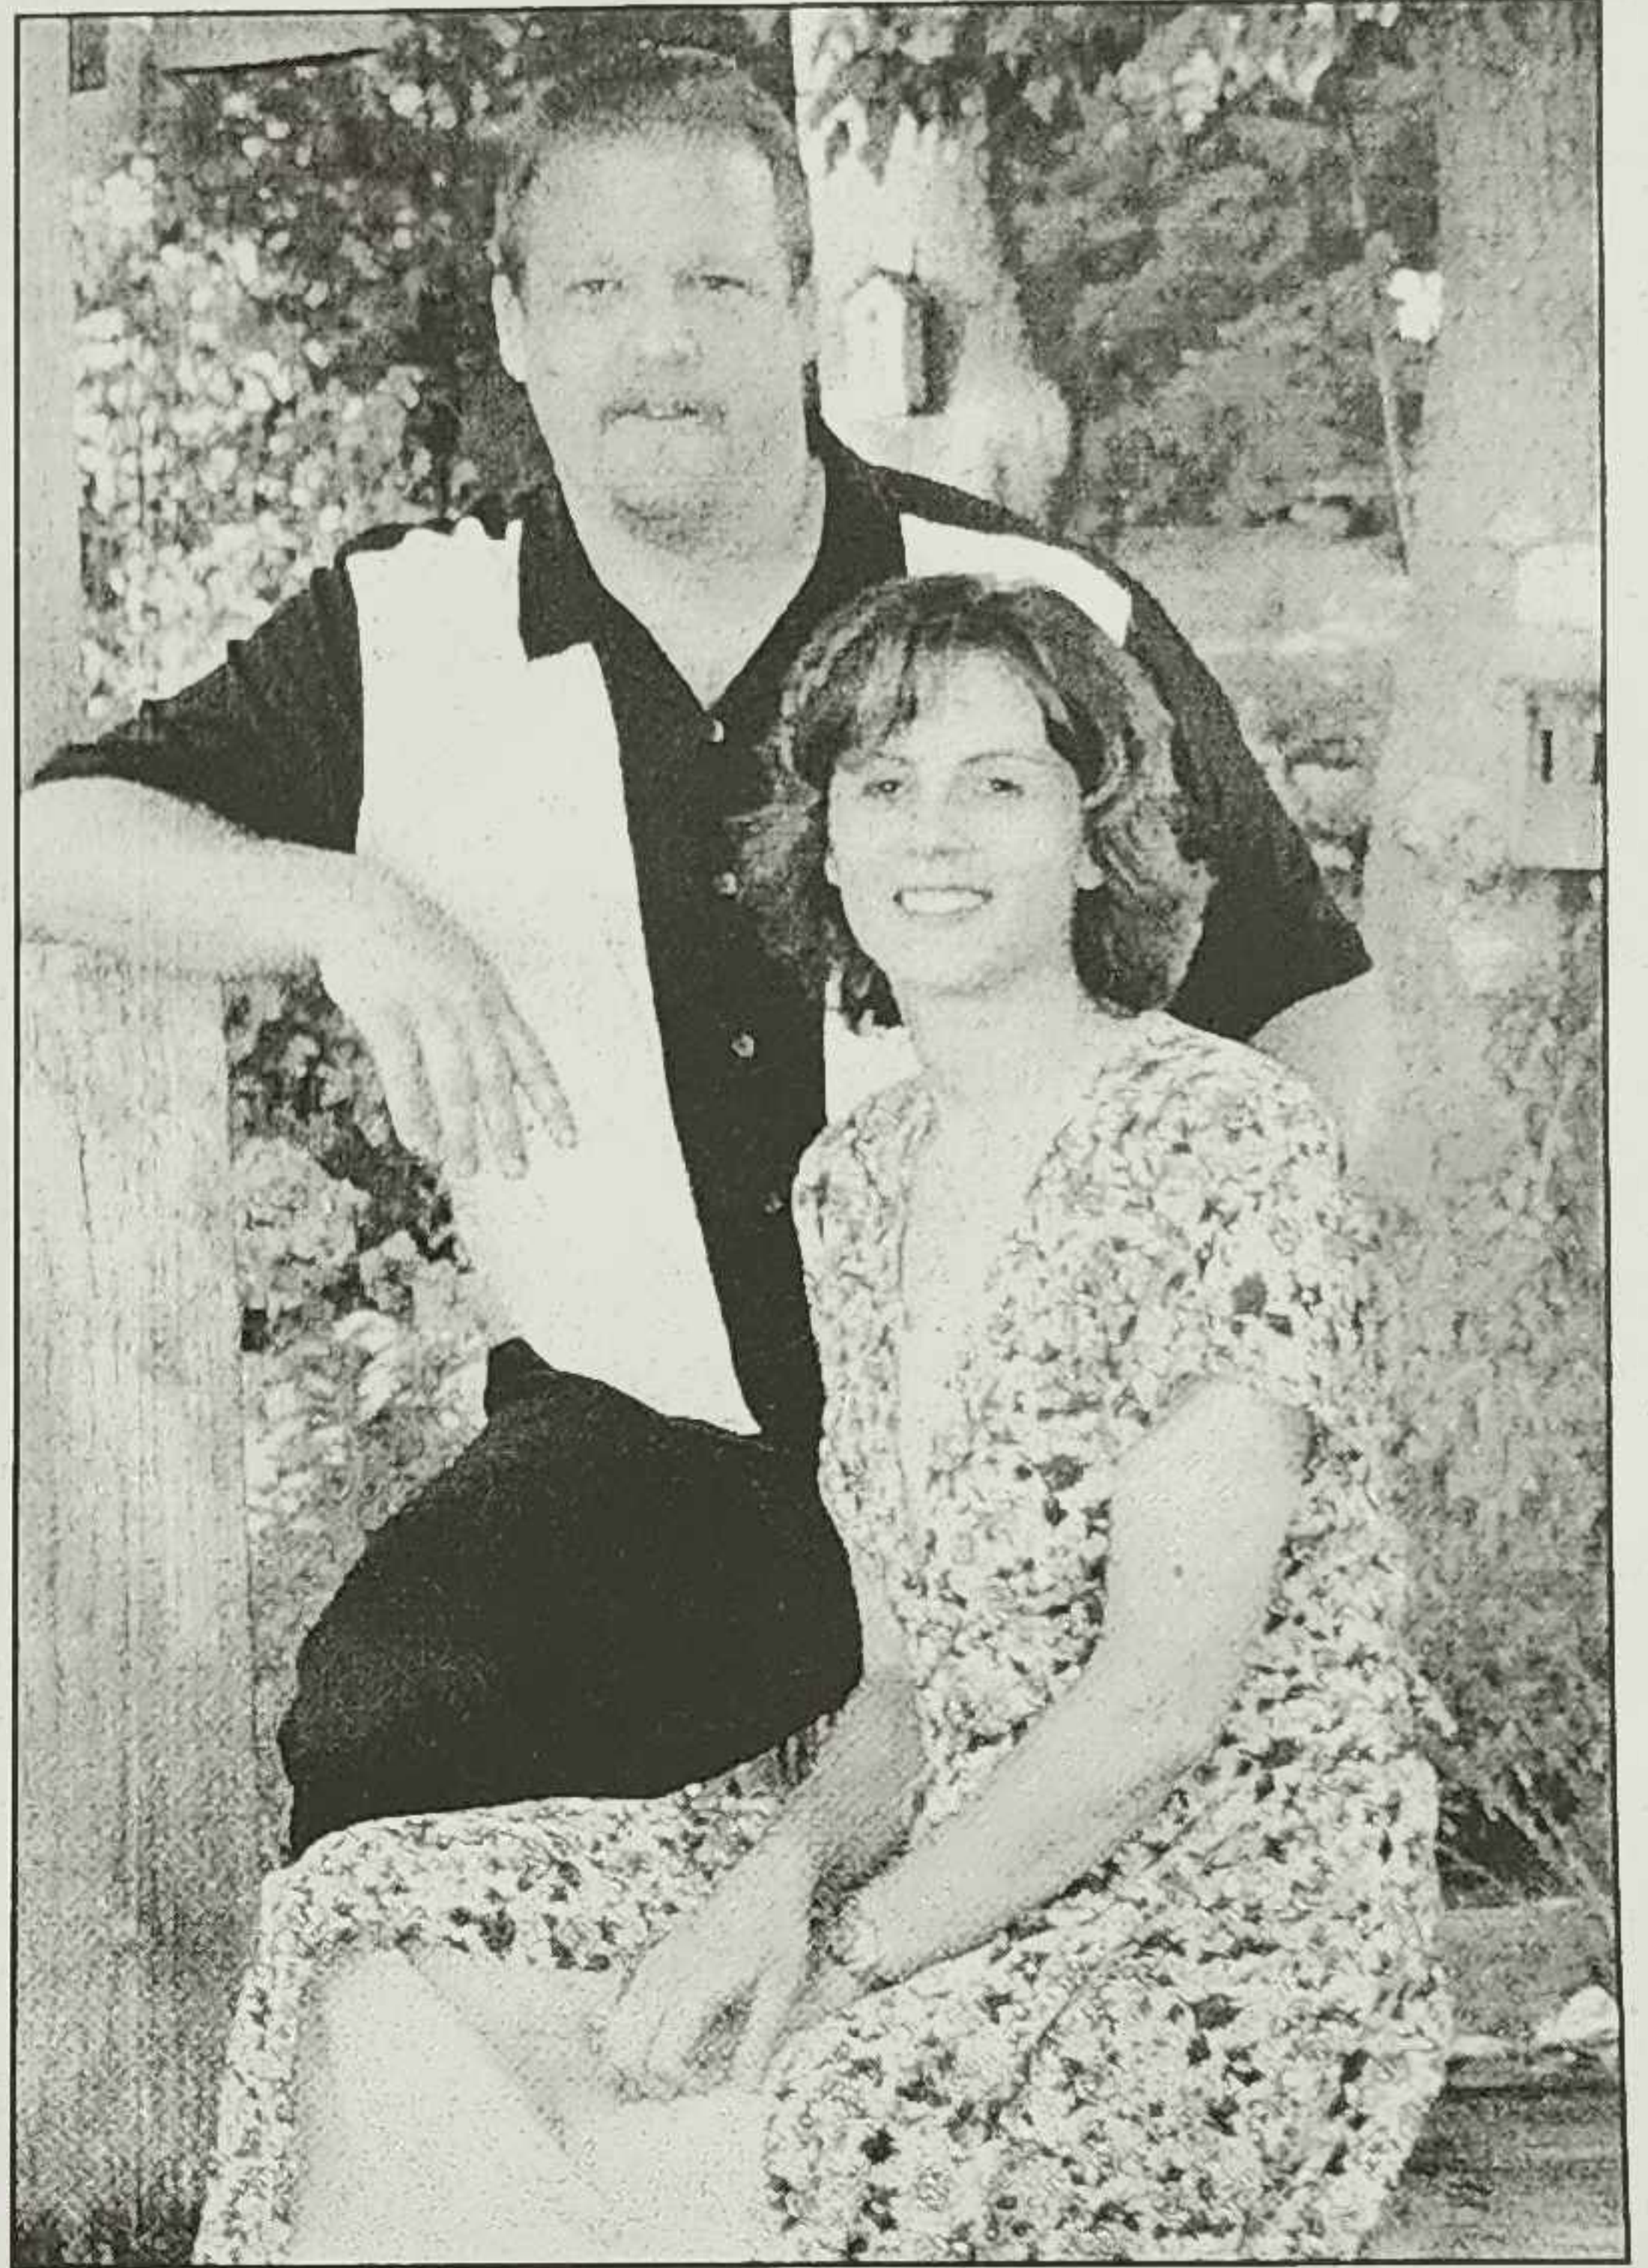

Still, Rizzardi sees that club volleyball has improved skills in the sport, and there are other changes he supports, like moving the state tournament to the Resch Center in Green Bay, adding the libero and changing to rally scoring after initially being reluctant to it.

Rizzardi has also maintained a close relationship with the volleyball coaches association and is currently the treasurer of the group. He said Lynn LaPorte, former West Bend East coach, was instrumental in getting him to stay active in the association and to strive to become a better coach.

"When Lynn was having her hay day ... watching her, who I consider a higher-level coach ... it rubs off on you," Rizzardi said, indicating also he has been fortunate to have had great assistants, like Mary Holfeltz and now Kelly Marquardt.

Lisa Perkins also assisted her former coach. "I enjoyed him. He was a very good coach, very thorough," Perkins said. "He made practices fun, yet they were to a point."

In addition to some of those already mentioned, others who came to the celebration included: Kelly Schreffler, Tanya Laubach, Beth Boedeker, Megan Butler, Lynn Wiesner, Jackie Broecker, Cassandra Steffen.

Amy Jobe of Shawano and Mark Hartmann of Appleton are pleased to announce their engagement.

Parents of the couple are Mary Ann and Timothy Jobe of Lebanon, Indiana and Leah and Glenn Hartmann of Kewaskum. Children of the bride to be are Tyler, Justin and Katlin Adams.

Amy is a graduate of North Central Technical College and is an RN for Theda Care at Home.

Mark holds a BBA degree from UW-Oshkosh and is a territory manager with Lennox Industries.

The couple is planning a September 2005 wedding in Shawano.

LOCAL EVENTS

NKMHTA fundraiser Nov. 13

The Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association (NKMHTA) is hosting its second annual fund raising dinner and dance. This event is open to everyone. You don't need to own a horse to attend! The event will be held at Amerahn's in Kewaskum featuring a buffet dinner, and music by Mozart's Cadillac.

A silent auction and raffle are also being planned with donated items from area businesses including Ziegler Lawn and Designs Company, the Forest House and the Fin 'n Feather of Campbellsport, West Bend Elevator, Jackson Feed Mill, Campbellsport Building Supply and other area businesses. The most expensive silent auction item is a two-night stay for four at Blue Harbor Resort in Sheboygan, a new indoor water park, valued at $500. Door prizes will also be awarded.

There's something for everyone so plan on helping to celebrate their second year while raising funds for equestrian-related projects in the state forest. Tickets must be purchased in advance. For more information, contact Dawn McCambridge at 262-626-4469.

The NKMHTA was founded in September 2003. The groups volunteers have been very active this year with their biggest accomplishment being the installation of lighting in the 48-stall horse shelter and pit toilets at the equestrian campground by New Prospect. Thanks to the combined effort and expertise of Rick Fink, Fink Electric and Don Woods, who donated their labor for this project, the horse campground is now a safer environment for campers and equestrian buddies. This project was funded in part by a matching grant from the Wisconsin State Horse Council Trails Committee.

The NKMHTA also worked with the DNR to install road crossing signs and mileage markers along the 33-mile linear equestrian/snowmobile trail in the state forest. And thanks to the generosity of Serwe Implement, Campbellsport, this project was completed quickly with the donated use of a gator, four-wheeler and trailer. Combined with these projects is the creation of a new trail map, which identifies the road crossings, parking areas, and mileage between roads. These maps will be available thru the park office of a NKMHTA member in the near future.

The NKMHTA is also participating in the DNR's "Adopt-A-Trail" program. Members have signed up for specific sections of the trail to trim trees, pick up garbage, remove garlic mustard, or report major repair that needs to be completed by experienced personnel. The group is proud to be involved in this program with their efforts contributing to a more enjoyable riding experience for visitors. Recently, members Jim and Cindy Lawrence, Terry, Ken and Erin Karsten, Sherry Kruschke, Karl Kirmse, and Joann and Jim Lauters spent an additional 27 hours trimming overhead branches, and encroaching brush along the trail segment between Hwy. 67 south to U. The Plymouth Trail Riders are also to be commended for their active participation in improving our state trail for the enjoyment of all.

The NKMHTA meets at 7 p.m. the second Tuesday of every month at the Community Center in Campbellsport. Everyone is welcome. Contact Joann Schill at 920-477-5782 for more information. The group is looking forward to seeing you at their dinner and dance!

Christmas Parade December 5

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will once again be sponsoring their annual Christmas Parade on Sunday, December 5, 2004. Kevin Stautz of Hollywood's Portrait studio is again chairing the event. Thanks to Kevin's dedication the event has gotten bigger and better every year.

The theme for this year's parade is Candy Cane Carnival and will begin at 5 p.m.

The parade will start in the parking lot between the middle and high schools and proceed to Third Street, Parkview Drive, west on Main Street, north on Fond du Lac Avenue and will conclude at the Municipal Annex Building. Festivities will conclude with Christmas carols sung by a local choir, the tree lighting ceremony, hot chocolate and cookies all sponsored by Thrivent Financial for Lutherans.

The Chamber will sell steak sandwiches and hot dogs at their food stand that will be located on Main Street next to the municipal parking lot. The stand will open at 10 a.m. for anyone wishing to have an early lunch.

Parade entrants will be eligible for first through fifth place in the float category and first through third in the non-float category. Entry forms are available at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, St. Francis Bank, West Bend Saving Bank, by contacting Kevin Stautz at 262-626-2995 or 262-626-6617, or following this article.

Starfish Award honorees

Starfish award recipients Mrs. Lisa Stoffel, Miss Samantha Rick and Mr. Dave Drexler with School Board President Jean Goeden.

Starfish award recipient Mr. Dan Beske with Goeden.

Starfish award recipient Mr. Dave Bertelsen with Goeden and Superintendent Wayne Graczyk.

THE STARFISH AWARD

A well-known author and poet was working and vacationing on the southern coast of Spain. One morning very early he was walking on the beach and saw a young man picking up starfish and throwing them into the sea.

"Why in the world are you throwing starfish into the water?"

"If the starfish are still on the beach when the tide goes out and the sun rises higher in the sky they will die," replied the young man as he continued tossing them into the water.

"That's ridiculous! There are thousands of miles of beach and millions of starfish. You can't really believe that what you're doing could possibly make a difference!"

The young man picked up another starfish, paused thoughtfully and said as he tossed it out into the waves, "It makes a difference to this one."

The Kewaskum School district hands out "Starfish Awards" to people who have helped the district in any number of ways. Recent recipients include the following.

Mrs. Lisa Stoffel set a new standard for the Kewaskum Middle School's annual Scholastic Book Fairs. Through her efforts, the book fair doubled their profits. She creatively and enthusiastically combines student, faculty and community members to make book fairs the most educational, motivational and profitable ever. More importantly, Mrs. Stoffel, through her dedication has provided a hands-on literacy experience to every child; she has provided inspiration for our students to become life-long readers. Thank you, Mrs. Stoffel, for making a difference!

As human beings we need to learn that one of the best gifts we can give ourselves is to learn to be accepting and respectful of others for their unique and individual differences. Samantha Rick is a very kind and caring person who has shared this gift with a special student, her peers, and the adults around her. By her example of offering friendship and patience to her special friend, Samantha taught her classmates to appreciate a fun-loving and kind-hearted person. Samantha, our sincere thanks to you for making a difference!

Mr. David Drexler was honored with a Starfish Award in appreciation for his dedication and contributions to the student athletes of Kewaskum High School as the Coach of the Boys' and Girls' Cross Country teams for the past 28 years. We're proud of Mr. Drexler for making a difference!

Mr. Dan Beske is being recognized for his 35 years of service, enriching the lives of countless students at Wayne and Farmington Elementary. He has been the Teacher-In-Charge at Wayne and has headed the children's intramural program for almost 30 years. He graciously has served as the D.A.R.E. Coordinator at Wayne and attends and supports many functions at school. By his example, he defines the true definition of a dedicated teaching professional. Thank you, Mr. Beske, for making a difference!

Dave Bertelsen has been Kewaskum's choral instructor since 1977. His student numbers speak volumes of his distinguished program and his responsive rapport with students. It is equally important to recognize Dave for the frequent and long hours he dedicates to students outside the school day directing Swing Choir and for the past 28 years providing a drama experience through our annual Kewaskum High Musical. Mr. Bertelsen...you make a difference!

FES students visit Pioneer Village

A guide from Pioneer Village explains the antiques in the blacksmith's shop.

Second grade students from Farmington Elementary School, including their teachers and many of their parents, spent a sunny October afternoon at Ozaukee County's Pioneer Village. They toured various buildings including the trading post and the one room schoolhouse.

"I liked the school house the best," said Benjamin Kelln. "We used wooden slates and if you were naughty, you had to wear a dunce cap."

"We went in Michael Ahner's house. They were wood carvers. They had to use a chamber pot for going to the bathroom at night!" said Amanda Plachinski. "I liked Pioneer Village. Thanks for letting us go."

Education... It's Everyone's Business

Six questions to be on ballot

In the upcoming November 2 General Election, there will be six questions posed to school district residents. These are advisory questions, or as one person called it, a "non-binding" set of questions. Questions 1, 2 & 3 were covered in previous issues.

Question #4 for some is what is often referred to as a "no brainer" while to others it sends up red flags. Why? Because question #4 asks if you would "support the Kewaskum School District in acquiring land for future use funded through a referendum?"

When I say some would call it a "no-brainer" I mean they see land as an investment. Sure, the district purchases the land now, but it grows in value. Property values go up and up. With the new by-pass opening this week, we have seen about 10-15 new sub divisions being built. Those who say it's a "no-brainer" would simply ask, "What was the price of an acre of land before the by-pass was announced vs. what an acre of land costs today?" They say even if the land was never developed or used by the school district, look at the profit you could have made 5-10 years later. Even if purchased at today's market value, just think of the value it will have 5 to 10 years from today. They would say, "What prudent people the board was back in the year 2004."

Those who would see "red flags" would argue that if the district wants to purchase land they may have some secret motive to circumvent the people, like some plan to build a school on it. This is a valid argument but I wonder if it equals the argument made by those who would disagree?

My hope is that residents can see that choice land, land that could or might one day be used to keep our schools within or close to the Village, is quickly disappearing. The choice land is being purchased by investors and land developers today, at today's market values. Keep in mind that this isn't bad. It's what makes America the land of opportunity. But it also means that if some day the district needs land for a building site, it will be at a distinct disadvantage in trying to get a price we can afford. Once purchased, it can always be sold and most likely at a profit for the district. How many people living in the Kewaskum School District has seen their property values go down in the last 10 years?

So, how do you respond to this question? If you would be inclined to support this type of question in a referendum, you would respond, "Yes". If you are not willing to support this question in a referendum, you would mark "No". Keep in mind your vote is advisory only!

If you wish to have a copy of the exact questions sent to you, please feel free to call 262-626-8427, Ext. 8001 and request a copy. You may also go to our School District web site shown above.

The seven members of the Kewaskum School Board are committed to the children and the taxpayers of the school district. You can help them in this ongoing commitment by reflecting on, and then answering the 6 questions on the November 2 ballot.

THE STATESMAN

Food for Thought

By Amy Swanson

aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

My seven-year old son, Ethan, came inside from playing chalk in the driveway with his best friend, Matthew the other day and announced he had given himself an extreme makeover.

"Look mom, me and Matthew gave each other extreme makeovers," he exclaimed.

I wasn't sure how to react. I'm not sure I could find parental guidelines for "extreme makeover" in my library of neurotic parenting reference materials, so I wasn't really sure what to say. Especially since his chalk makeup looked better than my expensive department store brand that takes me 30-minutes to put on just so I look "natural." I was jealous of his expert shading.

It didn't bother me so much that my boyish-boy was wearing chalk makeup, because I knew my husband would take care of that issue when he got home. As soon as his Daddy finds out, Ethan was in for an evening of testosterone-building exercises including football, basketball and sleeping in a recliner.

"Why don't you and Matthew draw dinosaurs or trucks on the sidewalk," I suggested. "Go and wrestle in the grass, or find some creepy crawly bugs or mean snakes in the grass. Go pester your brother and call him mean names."

"Because we want to do makeovers," he replied.

"But you look perfect just the way you are," I said. "But you always watch makeovers on Oprah," he said.

It's true that I am a dedicated Oprah fan and I even admit I have written to her along with millions of other desperate mommies, but at least I have the courage to admit it. I'm sure one day she will call me and pay off my house and buy me a new car...or give me a makeover.

"But mommy, wouldn't you like to have a makeover?"

I blatantly lied to my little cherub and said, "No, mommy is so happy with how mommy looks, I wouldn't have it any other way." LIE LIE LIE.

"But mommy what if I can make you look beautiful with chalk?" he said.

Wait a minute. Aren't little boys supposed to think their mommies are the most beautiful creatures that exist? Besides, I don't think he has enough chalk in his bucket to give me an extreme makeover. A magic lamp would be more useful.

At that point I wondered at what age do boys actually understand the power of the "Yes Dear" response?

"Isn't mommy beautiful already?" I asked.

There was a look of sheer panic on his face. It's the same look my husband gets when I ask him if he enjoyed his dinner. The entire evening rests on his response as he carefully chooses his words knowing he won't be fed again if he doesn't say the right thing. It's wife power!

"Yes, mommy," Ethan said with his head hung low. I could feel his guilt, so it was close enough to count!

Later that evening, when I was making dinner, Ethan came into the kitchen and asked if we could makeover our dinner. I immediately thought he meant he wanted to magically transform our dinner into a grandma-quality meal. "Let's make everyone's dinner look like a face," Ethan said. "We'll give our meal a makeover." We had a blast creating dinner monsters with the food on our plates. He was so excited for everyone to see our creations that the table was set quickly, without the usual threats that come along with having to set the table. Spaghetti hair, eyeball meatballs, garlic bread toast ears, a carrot nose and cottage cheese cheeks. It was an extreme meal.

In my constant search for easy and nutritious meals - more emphasis on easy - I found a wonderful website, Meal Makeover Moms.com. This is one of my favorites.

Chicken Mexicali

Makes 4 servings

1/3 cup dried bread crumbs
1/4 cup ground flaxseed
3/4 teaspoon ground cumin
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

Four 4-ounce skinless, boneless chicken breast halves (about 1 pound)
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 large omega-3 egg, beaten
2 teaspoons canola oil
1/2 cup salsa
1/2 cup shredded reduced-fat Cheddar or Mexican cheese

Combine the bread crumbs, ground flaxseed, cumin, chili powder, and salt in a shallow bowl and set aside. To bread the chicken, start by coating each chicken breast half in flour. Shake off excess. Dip in egg, then dredge generously in the bread crumb mixture. Heat 1 teaspoon of the oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Add the chicken and cook 4 minutes. Add the remaining oil, flip the chicken and cook until done, an additional 4 minutes. Flip the chicken one more time and reduce the heat to low. Top each chicken breast half with 2 tablespoons of salsa and 2 tablespoons of cheese. Cover and cook until the salsa is heated through and the cheese melts, about 2 minutes.

PERSPECTIVES

To the Editor and neighbors:

It is that time of year again, decorating the house inside and out with decorations. Halloween seems to be becoming extremely popular with more and more decorations, and many of our neighbors have some kind of outdoor display.

Scott and I enjoy decorating for Halloween and Christmas and hope our neighbors enjoy it as well. Unfortunately on Sunday evening someone stole our air-blown pumpkin with three ghosts on top. This was very upsetting to us since we have placed these items out every year and nothing has ever happened.

We would like to ask that if anyone knows who took part of our display return it at any time no questions asked. We don't want to know who took it, we just want it returned. Kewaskum has always been a place where residents feel safe and normally don't have to worry about having things taken from their yards and we want to make sure it stays that way!

Sincerely,
Greg Bernau
& Scott Konzal

Letter to the Editor:

Looking ahead to "Election Day", the Kewaskum school board is again having questions posed to the voters. These are non-binding referendum questions. What this means is, it is basically a survey to the voters. These questions are the result of an Ad-Hoc Community Committee that discussed the previous referendums, spot surveyed parents at school events and tried to collect community input.

What we know from previous referendums is what the public is not willing to support. We cannot make advancement progress until we know what the community will support and then pass a binding referendum that includes how it will be funded. Then likely wait another year to secure funding if it's through property tax or financed through a bond. This has proven to be a process that takes years. The challenges we face are clear to the school board and many others involved in the schools. The community is the unknown. We are trying to determine what they will support. We know we will never have it all, but we are looking for 1 or 2 specific items or directions to take the incremental steps to future progress in upgrades. There is a cost with any option, even the do nothing answer. The school board has been trying to address these issues for years. It's past time for the voters to take off the blinders and start making some representation of what they will support. One of the biggest let downs, is the entire school district is being repre-

By Bob Dohnal

One of the favorite college pranks we used to do in the dorms was to short-sheet one of our dorm buddies — we would remake his bed with the sheets doubled up halfway down so that you could not get into bed and spread out your legs.

This usually resulted in some harsh words directed to the perps — unless we had spent the night at the Hasty Tasty then the victim didn't usually know if he was even in bed at the time. College Days.

But some people never grow up from college days and it appears that Russ Feingold and most of the media are in that category. They have sold the seniors of this country the fable that the new Medicare cards are some cruel trick played upon them by the Bush administration when the opposite is true.

As a pharmacist, every day I see senior customers that could benefit from the Medicare card but have not bothered to buy one because their US Senator and the press have derided the effort to save them money. The opposite is true. Our seniors have been short-sheeted by the good senator and they don't even realize it.

For months I have spoken to seniors about the Medicare cards and the proven benefit they will give to them for only $30. They would recoup the investment on the first or second prescription. The companies that issue the cards have negotiated discounts from the drug companies and they are passing them on to the seniors in the form of generous discounts. Many drug stores have had some sort of senior discount for their customers for years, but this program is better. Take your Rx's into the pharmacy and check with the tech people on staff, they can show you the savings. They are substantial.

One wonders what kind of people we have representing us. Are they so desperate to play partisan politics that they would lie to seniors and deprive them of the savings on their drug purchases? The democrats used to be for the poor and downtrodden, or so they've said, but now they seem to be just for themselves and will sacrifice any principle in order to regain some power.

As for the media, why haven't they done some price comparison studies of Medicare card prices and the regular prices at pharmacies? It would be easy, you could do 10 pharmacies in a day on four drugs to discover how the Medicare card can really save seniors money. Are they all in a CBS meltdown mood whereby the truth is set aside for some partisan gain?

The Medicare card is a very simple program, one that will save seniors money. And the new program that will go into effect in 2006 will be a more comprehensive program that will help seniors more and will actually help reduce overall Medicare costs by keeping people out of hospitals by helping them get their needed meds.

You would think a program like that would have universal backing, but the Russ Feingolds of this world seem to be far more interested in downgrading the accomplishment of the Bush administration then helping their constituents.

Is our US Senator really representing the best interests of our seniors, or is he more concerned about partisan politics?

Letter to the Editor:

Be sure to vote!

It's time to make Election Day the other Earth Day. All the great things Wisconsin has to offer is the reason we moved here 20 years ago. Swimming is a problem in many areas. Fish are not as plentiful, and if you catch them, you should not be eating them. There has been a lot of pollution to our lakes and rivers from a variety of things. Fertilizers, pesticides and manures from farms are among some of the reasons.

In 2002 Wisconsin passed a tough environmental law reducing runoff. Unfortunately the Legislature has failed to fund the program.

There is only so much water - we must protect it.

Candidates should be taking a stand on this issue. Our rivers and lakes are in a state of emergency.

We need candidates who will promise to protect them. The environment should be a top issue on November 2nd.

Let's protect our water!

Letter to the Editor:

Taxes, who wants to pay all these taxes? Most people would prefer paying zero taxes. However, if you enjoy public schools, public libraries, public parks, public police protection, public firefighters, public garbage pickup and on and on... they are a necessary evil. Do I think taxes are too high? Yes, I do, they should be lower and yes there is waste in government. However, to attack, like Mr. Bob Dohnal did, middle class public teachers and government workers, which most are low paid, is wrong!

Tommy Thompson shifted the tax burden from big busi-

"there will be a giant sucking sound." Good jobs, big business moving out. How many items do you purchase with the proud label Made in USA?

The same problems that affect the common working class also affect small business. NAFTA does nothing for small businesses. All the people laid off from Briggs or Allis Chalmers or West Bend Co. or A.O. Smith are now your small business owners doing the same thing - NAFTA and GAT were Republican born ideas to promote big business; that is the GOP Platform.

Unfortunately some Democrats voted for it too; Clinton. That's how it passed. Bush recently signed a bill allowing Mexicans to more freely enter the U.S. Now we were just told 15,000 Hmongs entered the U.S. with over 1,000 right here in Wisconsin. Why do you suppose that is? It's simple big business, cheap labor. In 1968 the federal minimum wage was $1.60/hour, if adjusted for inflation it would have reached $8.46/hour in 2003. The Republicans have never voted to raise minimum wage. Go figure!

In reference to trade policies, Feingold has always voted down NAFTA. Feingold lives in a house of modest means, does not come from privilege, is not a rich millionaire and cares about common people. Feingold does not allow money to affect his policies. Remember our Constitution, We the people, it doesn't say we the wealthy elite few. This is a pivotal election. The next president will probably chose one or two Supreme Court Justices. They will dictate policy for the next 30 years or so. If Bush is re-elected he will appoint extreme right-wing conservative judges; they already have a 5-4 advantage. What is at stake could be the progress of human rights and social programs we have had in place for 80 years or more.

I urge everyone to read as much as possible, go to your local library and make an educated vote.

How to be Lost
 By: Amanda Eyre Ward

AUTHOR OF SLEEP TOWARD HEAVEN

HOW TO BE LOST

A NOVEL BY
AMANDA EYRE WARD

How many times has this happened: you're out somewhere, and you see someone you haven't seen in a long time. You hurry over to renew your friendship, but your friend seems aloof and confused. After a minute or two, you realize that the person you thought was your friend was someone else with an uncanny resemblance.

You almost never mean for people to disappear from your life, but they do, and in the new novel "How to Be Lost" by Amanda Eyre Ward (c.2004, MacAdam / Cage) a disappearance tears a family apart.

Caroline Winters lives in New Orleans and works as a cocktail waitress at a once-elegant-now-seedy lounge. Caroline's family - mother, Isabelle; sister, Madeline; and Madeline's husband - all live far away in New York, which is fine with Caroline, since she really doesn't want to much spend time with them anyhow.

Years ago, when growing up, Caroline was the responsible oldest daughter of an alcoholic father and a mother who always wondered what might've happened had she married her first love instead of a man who looked for the bottom of a bottle every night. The girls learned early to completely rely on one another, so, on the day they decided to run away, fourteen-year-old Caroline packed their bags, stole their mother's car and drove to pick up Madeline and precocious five-year-old Ellie.

But Ellie wasn't where she was supposed to be. Ellie was gone - vanished - and so was the last shred of "family" that the family ever had.

This is Christmas, though, fifteen years after Ellie's disappearance. Isabelle wants Caroline to come home for the annual Christmas Party, which Caroline thinks is a tradition that needs to die. Every year, Isabelle hires a bartender and makes a vibrant yellow cheese ball that nobody eats. The liquor flows freely, the guests get tipsy, and a good time is had by... no one, really. Especially not Caroline.

After the party, Madeline tells Caroline that they need to finally declare Ellie officially dead, but their mother can't bear it. Ever hopeful, Isabelle has spotted a picture in People magazine. The girl in the background looks just like Ellie.

When Caroline loses an important link to her past, she decides to find her lost sister. Through New Mexico, Colorado, and into Montana, Caroline travels with a picture and her mother's dream, wondering what will happen if she finds Ellie. Worse yet - what if Ellie wants to stay lost?

When I started the first page of "How to Be Lost", I knew I was in for something very different. Caroline Winters is funny and smart, vulnerable but with armor, wanting to be alone yet fearing it. The best parts of this book, however, are the flashbacks and asides: Caroline's memories, Isabelle's story-within-a-story, and the mysterious letters written by a stranger.

"How to Be Lost" is one of those rare books that will keep you awake, unwilling to put it down, wanting to see what happens at the end. Pick up a copy and get lost in it.

Ketchpaw earns top sales honor from PLANCO

Victor J. Ketchpaw, a registered representative with Woodbury Financial Services, Inc. in Kewaskum, has earned PLANCO's highest honor - membership in the 2004 Captain's Club. PLANCO, a wholesaler of investment and insurance products, distinguishes those representatives who produce over $1 million in sales in a calendar year with Captain's Club membership.

Victor has assisted clients with their investment and retirement planning by strategically matching their needs with corresponding investment products offered by The Hartford, one of the oldest and largest international insurance and financial services operations. In doing this, Victor has helped clients manage their assets more efficiently, work to outpace inflation, plan for a lifelong income stream, and prepare to pass assets on to their beneficiaries.

The Hartford's investment products and programs like The Director (variable annuity), The Hartford Mutual Funds, CRC (Compound Rate Contract modified guaranteed annuity), Director Life (modified single premium variable life insurance) and 402 Program, all marketed through PLANCO, have been instrumental in helping clients satisfy their short and long-term investment needs. Tim Seifert, Senior Vice President of PLANCO, believes that by using The Hartford's vast array of insurance and investment products, it is easy for PLANCO's Captain's Club members to guide clients down the right investing road.

The Captain's Club members, using the marketing materials, wholesaling resources, and the services of The Hartford and PLANCO to their fullest potential, not only make the selling process smoother, but are also able to make the client feel more at ease. And this is what Captain's Club members like Victor J. Ketchpaw do best.

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin does ordain as follows:

Section 86-14 Subdivisions of the Village of Kewaskum Code of Ordinances is hereby amended as follows:

IMPACT FEES
SECTION:

- 86-14-1: Introduction and Purpose
- 86-14-2: Definitions
- 86-14-3: Public Facilities Needs Assessment
- 86-14-4: Impact Fee Revenue Administration
- 86-14-5: Use of Impact Fees
- 86-14-6: Payment of Impact Fees
- 86-14-7: Appeals
- 86-14-8: Sewer Impact Fees
- 86-14-9: Park Facilities Impact Fees
- 86-14-10: Severability

Section: 86-14-1 Introduction and Purpose

Pursuant to the authority of Section 66.0617, Wisconsin Statutes, the local impact fees enabling legislation, the purpose of this ordinance is to establish the mechanism for the imposition of impact fees upon new development to finance the capital costs of acquiring, establishing, upgrading, expanding, and constructing public facilities which are necessary to accommodate land development. This chapter is intended to assure that new development bears a proportionate share of the cost of capital expenditures necessary to provide public facilities within the Village of Kewaskum and its service areas, as they are required to serve the needs arising out of land development.

Section 86-14-2 Definitions

A. Capital costs. The capital costs to construct, expand or improve public facilities, including the cost of land, and including legal, engineering and design costs to construct, expand or improve public facilities, except that not more than 10% of capital costs may consist of legal, engineering and design costs unless such costs which relate directly to the public improvement for which the impact fees were imposed actually exceed 10% of capital costs. Capital costs does not include other noncapital costs to construct, expand or improve public facilities or the costs of equipment to construct, expand or improve public facilities.

B. Developer. A person that constructs or creates a land development.

C. Impact fees means cash contributions, contributions of land or interest in land or any other items of value that are imposed on a developer under this chapter.

D. Land development. The construction or modification of improvements to real property that creates additional residential dwelling units within the village or its service areas or that results in nonresidential uses that create a need for new, expanded or improved public facilities within the village or its service areas.

E. Public facilities. Highways, as defined in section 340.01 (22), Wisconsin Statutes, and other transportation facilities, traffic control devices, facilities for collecting and treating sewage, facilities for collecting and treating storm and surface waters, facilities for pumping, storing and distributing water, parks, playgrounds and other recreation facilities, solid waste and recycling facilities, fire protection facilities, law enforcement facilities, emergency medical facilities and libraries. Public facilities, does not include facilities owned by a school district.

F. Residential Equivalent Connection (REC). A unit of measure for sewer or water related impact fees equivalent to the amount of sewer or water capacity needed to supply one residential dwelling unit. For the purposes of the impact fees established under this Ordinance, a REC shall be defined as a sewer or water connection of either 5/8" or 3/4" in diameter.

G. Service area. A geographic area delineated by the Village Board within which the village provides public facilities.

H. Service standard. A certain quantity or quality of public facilities relative to a certain number of persons, parcels of land or other appropriate measure, as specified by the Village.

86-14-3 Public Facilities Needs Assessment

New public facilities, or improvements or expansions of existing public facilities that are required because of land development for which impact fees will be imposed are those which are identified in this chapter and in facilities needs assessment reports prepared prior to the adoption of this chapter and any amendments hereto. All facilities needs reports that form the basis of any impact fee imposed by the village shall be kept on file in the office of the village clerk at least 20 days prior to any public hearing to be held on the creation of this chapter and any amendments. A Class 1 notice is required prior to any required hearing. All facilities needs assessment reports shall remain on file in the office of the village clerk for the entire period during which impact fees arising out of a specific report and this chapter are collected prior to expenditure, and such report shall, after expenditure of all impact fees be, maintained as a public record for such time period as required by law.

86-14-4 Impact Fee Revenue Administration

A. Revenues from impact fees shall be placed in one or more segregated, interest bearing accounts and shall be accounted for separately from other village general and utility funds. Impact fee revenues and interest earned thereon may be expended only for capital costs for which the impact fees were imposed.

B. Impact fee revenues imposed and collected but not used within a specified reasonable period of time after collection to pay the capital costs for which they were imposed shall be refunded on a prorated proportional basis, as determined by the village board, to the current record owner or owners of the property with respect to which the impact fees were imposed. Reasonable time periods for expenditure of impact fee revenues shall be within twenty years after the recommended time for commencement of construction, expansion or improvement of a specific public facility identified in a facilities needs assessment report, or within five years after the projected loan obligations undertaken for a project should be satisfied.

86-14-5 Use of Impact Fees

Funds collected from impact fees shall be used solely for the purpose of paying the proportionate costs of providing public facilities that become necessary due to land development. These costs may include the costs of debt service on bonds or similar debt instruments when the debt has been incurred for the purpose of proceeding with designated public facilities projects prior to the collection of all anticipated impact fees for that project.

86-14-6 Payment of Impact Fee

A. All required impact fees, are hereby imposed on all developments and land divisions within the Village of Kewaskum or any development subarea thereof.

B. For all unplatted lands, no final plat or certified survey map approval shall be given unless the impact fees set forth in 86-14-8 and 86-14-9 are imposed and calculated pursuant to this Ordinance. Fees may be payable at the time of final plat or certified survey map approval in full or in installments pursuant to a developer's agreement.

C. For all developments not subject to subsection (B), no plumbing or building permit shall be issued for a development unless the impact fees set forth in 86-14-8 and 86-14-9 are imposed and calculated pursuant to this Ordinance. Fee shall be payable at the time plumbing or building permits are issued.

86-14-7 Appeals

A. The developer or property owner upon whom an impact fee is imposed may contest the amount, collection, or use of an impact fee as specified herein. An appeal to contest the amount, collection or use of an impact fee may be commenced within thirty days of application for a building or plumbing permit, if applicable to the particular impact fee. An appeal to contest the use of an impact fee shall be commenced not later than thirty (30) days prior to the award of any public contract for expenditure of the collected fee revenues.

B. It shall be a condition to the commencement of such an appeal that the impact fee from which the developer or property owner appeals shall be paid as and when the fee becomes due and payable, and upon default in making any such payment, such appeal may be dismissed.

C. The appellant shall pay a filing fee of $200 at the time of filing of the appeal.

D. An appeal is commenced by filing a complaint with the village clerk. The complaint shall specify the impact fee amount or collection objected to and the basis for the objection. The appeal shall be scheduled for a public hearing before the Planning Commission at its next regular meeting. The Plan Commission shall take additional evidence and testimony on the matter, including reports from village staff, and shall make its recommendation to the village board based upon the standards set forth in section 66.0617, Wisconsin Statutes. The village board shall consider the appeal, review the record made before the Planning Commission and the recommendation of the Commission and decide the appeal, based upon the standards for impact fees in Section 66.0617. If the Village Board determines that the appeal has merit, it shall determine appropriate remedies. These may include reallocation of the proceeds of the challenged impact fee to accomplish the purposes for which the fee was collected, refunding the impact fee in full or in part, along with interest collected by the village thereon, or granting the appellant the opportunity to make the impact fee payment in installments, or such other remedies as it deems appropriate in a particular case. The decision of the village board is final.

86-14-8 Sewer Impact Fees

The basis for the imposition of sewer impact fees is the facilities needs assessment report and its attachments, "Sewer Facilities Needs Assessment" which is on file in the office of the village clerk. The sewer impact fees to be paid prior to the issuance of applicable subdivision approval or building or plumbing permits (or other approvals) are as follows:

A. For unplatted land; for undeveloped, platted land, the fee per Residential REC will increase by three percent each year as shown in the following schedule:

Year	Fee
2004	1,750
2005	1,803
2006	1,857
2007	1,912
2008	1,970
2009	2,029
2010	2,090
2011	2,152
2012	2,217
2013	2,283
2014	2,352
2015	2,422
2016	2,495
2017	2,570

2018	2,647
2019	2,726
2020	2,808
2021	2,892
2022	2,979
2023	3,069

B. Determination of REC's

1. The property owner shall be charged an impact fee based on the size of the connection to the sanitary sewer system.

2. The fee shall be calculated by multiplying the equivalent meter size ratio (as determined by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission, PSC) by the current year's REC fee to determine a fee for each meter size. The calculations for the 2004 nonresidential development are shown below:

Meter Size	Equivalent Meter Size	2004 Fee Per REC	Fee Per Meter Size
5/8" & 3/4"	1.00 X	$1,750	=$1,250
1"	2.50 X	$1,750	=$3,125
1 1/4"	3.75 X	$1,750	=$4,688
1 1/2"	5.00 X	$1,750	=$6,250
2"	8.00 X	$1,750	=$10,000
2 1/2"	12.50 X	$1,750	=$15,625
3"	15.00 X	$1,750	=$18,750
4"	25.00 X	$1,750	=$31,250
6"	50.00 X	$1,750	=$62,500
8"	80.00 X	$1,750	=$100,000
10"	120.00 X	$1,750	=$150,000
12"	160.00 X	$1,750	=$200,000

C. For redevelopment of previously developed land that results in a larger connection to the sanitary sewer system an impact fee will be imposed for the incremental increase in meter size.

86-14-9 Park Facilities Impact Fees

Nothing in this section shall limit the authority of the village to impose land dedication requirements contained elsewhere in the code on developers as part of plat and certified survey map approvals under ch. 236, Wisconsin Statutes and the ordinances of the village.

The basis for the imposition of park facilities impact fees is the facilities needs assessment report and its attachments, "Public Facilities Needs Assessment and Impact Fee Study", September 2004, which is on file in the office of the village clerk. The park facilities impact fees are to be paid in full prior to the issuance of applicable building permits, and are as follows:

A. Residential Development - per Single-Family Unit

Single-Family Unit	Impact Fee
	$1,025

B. Each dwelling unit in a multi-family structure shall be regarded as a single-family unit.

C. Any residential property with expansion, remodeling, rehabilitating, or rebuilding that results in the creation of additional dwelling units shall be subject to impact fees.

D. The park facilities impact fee must be reduced by any other fees or charges imposed for the purpose of improving or expanding park and recreation facilities, such as any park fee in-lieu of land dedication.

E. These impact fees shall be increased on January 1 of each year by 3.0% as shown in the schedule below:

Year	Fee
2004	1,025
2005	1,056
2006	1,087
2007	1,120
2008	1,154
2009	1,188
2010	1,222
2011	1,261
2012	1,298
2013	1,337
2014	1,378
2015	1,419
2016	1,461
2017	1,505
2018	1,550
2019	1,597
2020	1,645
2021	1,694
2022	1,745
2023	1,797

F. These impact fees shall be collected until all capital costs associated with specified projects in the related "Facilities Needs Assessment and Impact Fee Study", have been incurred and satisfied, unless such time period exceeds twenty years beyond the projected commencement of projects or five years beyond projected satisfaction of indebtedness for the specified projects for which these park facilities impact fees are imposed.

86-14-10 Severability

If any section, phrase, sentence, or portion of this ordinance is for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portions shall be deemed separate, distinct, and independent provisions, and such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions thereof.

Section 2. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with or contravening the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed. (Adjust as appropriate Sec. 86-98 (d) (1 thru 5) and Sec. 94-184 (b) (1 thru 5).

Section 3. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect following passage and posting.

Adopted this 18th day of October 2004.

First Zone T gun deer hunting season Oct. 28-31

MADISON — The first of Wisconsin's 2004 gun deer hunting seasons is set to open on Oct. 28 with the start of the four-day Zone T and Earn-a-Buck antlerless deer hunts in 74 of the state's 135 deer management units, and special Earn-a-Buck (Adobe® Acrobat® Reader® is needed to view and print this portable document format (PDF) file. To download Adobe Acrobat for free, please see the DNR Download Page.) hunts in another 18 chronic wasting disease units. A second antlerless only deer hunt will take place Dec. 9-12 in Zone T and Earn-a-Buck units south of Hwy. 8. The regular nine-day gun deer season runs Nov. 20-28.

All deer hunting season dates, harvest limits and tagging options are explained in the 2004 Wisconsin Deer Hunting Regulations pamphlet, which is available at license vendors, DNR Service Centers and on the Department of Natural Resources Web site.

"There are numerous carcass tagging options this year depending on which deer season you're hunting and the unit in which you're hunting," said Kurt Thiede, a rules and regulations specialist at DNR. "For all non-CWD deer management units, there is a handy table on page 11 of the 2004 Wisconsin Deer Hunting Regulations pamphlet explaining the tagging options."

Hunters in Zone T and Earn-a-Buck units may only harvest antlerless deer during the Oct. 28-31 and Dec. 9-12 hunts. Hunters who harvest an antlerless deer in Earn-a-Buck units can only use the buck permit they earn during the regular nine-day gun or muzzleloader seasons or the bow season if they are licensed archery hunters; they may not shoot an antlered deer during the four-day antlerless-only hunts.

Hunters in any Chronic Wasting Disease unit -- either Herd Reduction Zone (HRZ) or Disease Eradication Zone (DEZ) -- who harvest an antlerless deer in those units may then harvest an antlered deer from Oct. 28-31. In addition to the four days of unlimited Earn-a-Buck gun deer hunting from Oct. 28-31, hunters in the HRZ units will also have an extended unlimited Earn-a-Buck gun deer hunting season from Nov. 20 to Jan. 3, 2005.

Oct. 28 is also the start of the extended, unlimited Earn-a-Buck gun deer hunting season in DEZ units in south-central Wisconsin that runs through Jan. 3. Hunters in DEZ units may continue to harvest as many deer as they wish under the Earn-a-Buck rules continuously from Oct. 28 - Jan. 3.

Deer Management Unit-specific information can be found in the 2004 Wisconsin Deer Hunting Regulations pamphlet beginning on page 39.

"It is important that hunters shooting antlerless deer during the Oct. 28-31 gun hunting period in Earn-a-Buck (EAB) units register their antlerless deer in the unit of kill or an adjacent Earn-a-Buck unit in order to get a buck authorization sticker that they can use in the regular season," said Keith Warnke, state deer and bear ecologist.

"Only those registration stations in EAB units have the buck authorization stickers. If a hunter registers an antlerless deer in a non-EAB unit and later wants a buck authorization sticker, it's going to be difficult and time consuming to make the change. If many hunters do this, it's possible some will not have the sticker in time for the November opener."

"Each archery and gun deer license purchased includes a free Zone T antlerless deer tag in 2004," says Brad Koele, assistant deer and bear ecologist at DNR. "The antlerless tag is good for harvesting an antlerless deer in any Zone T or Earn-a-Buck unit. Hunters who shoot an antlerless deer first and have plans to also go after a buck during the regular season need to be careful to tag the antlerless deer with a Zone T or bonus antlerless deer tag. If they mistakenly use their buck tag, they won't have it for a buck, later."

"Hunters should also be aware that if they shoot an antlerless deer in an Earn-a-Buck unit during the Oct. 28-31 hunt, the buck tag they earn is good in any EAB unit outside of the CWD zones. In other words, they could kill an antlerless deer in a EAB unit in Adams County and use the buck tag during the regular season to tag a buck in a Bayfield County EAB unit.

"This is not true for buck tags earned in a CWD unit," continues Koele. "Buck tags earned in a CWD unit are good only in another CWD unit. All this is explained in the 2004 Wisconsin Deer Hunting Regulations pamphlet which hunters can find at license vendors, DNR Service Centers and online at dnr.wi.gov."

"As in past seasons, all hunters, except waterfowlers, will have to wear blaze orange during the Oct. 28-31 hunt in Zone T and Earn-a-Buck units," said Warnke. "In addition, because of the statewide Youth Deer Hunt, all hunters in every deer management unit statewide, except for waterfowlers, will have to wear blaze orange on Oct. 30.

Sturgeon spearing licenses must be purchased by Oct. 31

OSHKOSH, Wis. -- People who want to participate in lake sturgeon spearing in 2005 must buy their license by Oct. 31, 2004, unless they are military personnel home on leave or will be turning 14 years old between Nov. 1 and the last day of the 2005 spearing season.

There are separate lake sturgeon spearing seasons on Lake Winnebago and the Upriver Lakes -- Butte des Morts, Winneconne and Poygan -- for 2005. The separate license for spearing the Upriver Lakes is new for 2005, and spearers can purchase either a Lake Winnebago spearing license or an Upriver Lakes spearing licenses: they cannot purchase both, and they will not be able to spear for sturgeon on both waters in 2005, according to Ron Bruch, a Department of Natural Resources senior sturgeon biologist and fisheries supervisor based in Oshkosh.

"Spearers must tell the license vendor which license, Winnebago OR Upriver Lakes, they want at the time of purchase as part of continuing efforts to decrease harvest pressure on the fishery," Bruch says.

Previously, a spearer needed only a single license to participate in the Lake Winnebago season and the Upriver Lakes season, which has occurred every fifth year since 1971. The separate licenses and seasons, along with the fact that the Upriver Lakes season is only open for one day, Feb. 12, 2005, are the latest regulatory efforts that sturgeon biologists and the Lake Winnebago Sturgeon Advisory Committee members have made to try to reduce harvest pressure on the slow growing, late-maturing adult females.

More changes may be on the horizon for the Lake Winnebago fishery for 2005, following the 2004 season in which spearers recorded the highest one-day harvest and exceeded the harvest cap put in place to protect the fishery.

The citizens advisory committee has endorsed asking the DNR administration and the Natural Resources Board to consider closing the 2005 Lake Winnebago season after one day if spearers exceed the harvest cap. The group is exploring other methods to decrease the harvest rate and guarantee a longer spearing season and expects to make a recommendation by summer 2005, Bruch says.

If the closing change is approved, the Lake Winnebago season could potentially be one day, the same as the Upriver Lakes season. Both spearing seasons are set to open Feb. 12 at 6:30 a.m., Bruch says.

Current rules that provide for a minimum two-day season on Lake Winnebago were passed before changes in the fishery, including improved water clarity and a growing number of spearers that have resulted in the exceptionally higher harvest rates on opening weekend. Overharvest of adult females is a particular concern because they're the backbone of the lake sturgeon population and because they don't spawn until they are 20 to 25 years old, and then only every three to five years, Bruch says.

DNR plans to conduct a series of public meetings in early 2005 to discuss regulation options, Bruch says.

Three quick and convenient ways to buy a license

Sturgeon spearing licenses are $20 for resident and $50 for nonresidents. The sturgeon spearing tag has been removed from the Conservation Patron license, so people who buy those multi-season licenses will need to buy a separate spearing license.

Lake sturgeon spearing licenses can be purchased at all DNR service centers and authorized license vendors, as well as by calling toll-free 1-877-WI LICENSE (1-877-945-4236), or online through the DNR Web site. There is an additional $3 service fee for telephone and online transactions; Mastercard or Visa accepted.

Spearers no longer need to also possess a valid fishing license, but only those 14 and older are eligible to spear sturgeon. By law, all revenues from spearing license sales are directed to fund only the Winnebago System sturgeon management program, instead of being included in the general fish and wildlife account.

Young Hunters

Travis and Joey Dushek enjoying an October duck hunt.

Hello Friends,

This week's column is like many I have written the past seven falls but also very different. Read on for further details.

Friday, October 8
High 73, Low 36

I am the step father to three boys ages 11-13 and 15 and am presently going through the task of trying to help them become hunters and work around their sports schedule.

Each of the boys play football and loves it. They also thoroughly enjoy camping and duck hunting. What I have just mentioned is something that parents throughout the United States who are bringing their kids up to become hunters and play sports at the same time are very familiar with.

I chose The Meadow Valley Wildlife Area in northern Juneau County to camp, hunt, and play at this weekend.

Travis, who is 13, and Joey who is 11, would be my companions, as well as my golden retrievers Pearl and Ice. This is homecoming week at Necedah High School, and both of the boys are very into the entire week's activities.

Coming into this week, Necedah was 5-0 and has one of the best running backs in the state. Today, so the boys could make the game, I built camp and then put my canoe on a nearby cranberry marsh where I have a duck blind.

My plan was to have everything ready so we could arrive an hour before dark, make the one-mile canoe trip to the blind, and be set up before sunrise. After everything was ready for a duck hunt and camp was built, I headed out to the woods with my bow in hand and spent the last two hours of daylight sitting in a tree hoping a deer would come within range. No such luck, but the forced relaxation recharged my batteries.

After dark I changed clothes, made the 27 mile drive to Necedah, and watched the Cardinals extend their record to 6-0.

Saturday, October 9
High 65, Low 33

The alarm went off at 4:15 this morning and Travis, Ice, Pearl and myself were in a canoe with an otter sled trailing behind us loaded with decoys before first light.

Time is something that just about everyone I know is short of these days, and that includes myself. I should have been out to the blind before this morning and camouflaged it.

There were a few flocks of mallard this morning, but in almost every case, they saw us before they were in range. I bought lumber, camouflage, and the tools required to blend in with our environment. Travis and I rigged the family duck blind just about perfectly and were immediately burned by a flock of mallards that came in with their feet down.

We paddled back to the truck pretty excited about the evening hunt. About 1 p.m. my wife pulled into camp with 11-year-old Joey. Joey had a football game in Marshfield this morning. Unfortunately Joey's team is not enjoying the success that the older kids are. What impresses me about his entire team is that even though they have yet to win a game, they have a great attitude.

To save space and weight in the canoe, we had Pearl guard camp and replaced her with Joey who will enter his first hunting season next year, but has been observing for several years.

The boys are canoe veterans and are learning the art of putting out a spread of decoys, identifying ducks and working a call. As always there was plenty of joking in the blind, but not a single shot was fired.

Just like we started our day, we were paddling in the dark and then returned to camp where a fire was lit and supper was cooked. Our batteries were completely empty by 9 p.m.

Sunday, October 10
High 58, Low 25

It takes a plan and the right attitude to wake up in a tent at 4:30 in the morning with an air temperature around 32 degrees, light a Coleman lantern, and wake up two boys and their two pups.

Winter camping has seasoned Travis and Joey, and soon we found ourselves paddling in the dark toward duck paradise. Unfortunately for Travis and Ice who have been very patient, either we had bent shotgun barrels or the few birds we saw were wearing bullet proof vests.

The end result was a busy, simple weekend where the boys got their football, hunting and camping in.

Play with your kids!

Gridiron teams go
.500 in weekend play

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Moving the ball was no problem for the Kewaskum Gridiron eighth grade team in its game at Brown Deer on Saturday evening, but the young Indians only managed to cross the goal line once, resulting in a 14-6 loss.

"We probably outgained them two to one or three to one," Coach Jonesy Korth said, reporting Brown Deer scored in the first half on a pass play that covered 15-20 yards and on a short run in the second half after returning a kickoff to the Kewaskum 25-yard line.

"The Indians moved to Brown Deer's 20-yard line on its first possession, then stalled and ran out of downs.

In the second half, Kewaskum held Brown Deer, then put together a nice scoring drive capped by Ray Wollner's run on a counter play. The Indians tried the same play on the extra point run, and this time it failed.

Kewaskum had momentum on its side until the kickoff gave Brown Deer a short field to work with and they took advantage of it with a speedy runner in the backfield.

The Indians were on the move late in the game, but, "We just ran out of time," Korth said.

Nathan Westerman had a good night running the ball, according to Korth, who said linebacker Joey Paulus played well, Zack Amerling filled quickly on running plays and Brian Backhaus, who moved to defensive end, slowed down Brown Deer's outside game.

Kewaskum is 4-1 in its conference and 4-2 overall.

Seventh graders overpower foes— Scott Stelt electrified the Kewaskum fans when he returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown, and that was the first of five TDs in a convincing 32-0 victory.

Mike Eggert scored three touchdowns and Cody Lemke added one for the winners, who are now 4-1-1 on the season.

When asked if there were any defensive standouts, Coach Mike Imler said, "The whole team did well," with Steven Chapman coming up with an interception.

Sixth graders come up short— The Kewaskum sixth graders were defeated 18-2, and Coach Joe Backhaus said, "The only points we got were the two the other team conceded on a safety."

Kewaskum moved the ball at times but not consistently, according to Backhaus, who said running back/linebacker Mike Schladweiler and running back/corner back Cody Nuernberg both played well.

Kewaskum is now 3-3, which is an improvement over the record it had last year.

Fifth graders storm back— The Kewaskum fifth grade team allowed host Whitnall to score a pair of touchdowns in the first four minutes of the game, then scored four times for a 26-13 comeback victory.

Eric Perkins scored one of the TDs on a 40-yard run. Coach Mark Walcheske could not be reached for further details on the game.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grade teams will all host opponents from Whitefish Bay this Saturday.

finale, and he had company as several others were suspended because of athletic code violations, which led to a 6-3 loss to powerful Plymouth.

Kewaskum was down 0-4 at half, then Brockman, Olla and Cole all scored after the break. Olla's goal was unassisted, and Cole's came on a penalty kick, according to Hill, who said Brockman's score was quite spectacular.

"It came from a corner. The ball didn't get cleared," Hill said, reporting Brockman was just in the front of the net. "He just met it with his right foot ... the ball took off like it was jet propelled."

Defensively, "Flanders was just tremendous. It was probably his best game of the season," Hill said, also praising Ryan Nuernberg, who "did a good job" in just his second start as goalie.

KHS ended up at 3-9 in the EW and 5-14 overall. They had defeated Two Rivers back on Sept. 7 but the Indians had to forfeit that win, according to Hill, because of "a mixup with the foreign exchange student" and his eligibility.

In a meeting held Sunday night, Kewaskum was tabbed as the No. six seed in the eight-team regional which starts this afternoon. The Indians will play Slinger, the No. 3 seed, at Slinger this afternoon at 4 p.m.

The Kewaskum High girls volleyball team put the finishing touches on a perfect 14-0 Eastern Wisconsin Conference season last Thursday when it crushed Kiel in a three-game match. Members of the championship team include: Row one, left to right, Robbi Bode, Marissa Dehler, Christina DeGroot; row two, head coach Dave Rizzardi, Leanne Kison, Katie Schroeder, assistant coach Kelly Marquardt; row three Bekki Heberer, Amanda Magnus, Bry Timblin, Danielle DeGroot and Briana Bastian.

The girls from Kiel High must have felt they were playing against seven or eight players rather than the usual six in last Thursday's Eastern Wisconsin Conference finale at Kewaskum.

The host Indians stormed to a 25-13 victory in Game 1, let the second game get a little closer before winning 25-20 and clinched the perfect 14-0 EW mark with a 25-18 decision over the Raiders.

Was the 14-0 on the Indians' minds? "Oh yeah, they've been talking about that since last Thursday (the quad meet at New Holstein)," KHS coach Dave Rizzardi said, indicating once they got past Sheboygan Falls and Campbellsport, they were fired up to stay perfect.

"The girls came out strong with some great spiking by Briana Bastian," Rizzardi said. "Emotions were high as we honored the seniors for back-to-back conference championships."

Strong serving was a key, according to Rizzardi, who reported his team had eight aces in the three games, including three by both Bastian and Danielle DeGroot.

Bastian was way out front in the kill stats. She had 11, with Amanda Magnus and Bekki Heberer next with six and five, respectively. Heberer also had a pair of solo blocks.

"Kiel fought hard in the second game with some good blocking and well placed attacks, but our team held them off down the stretch," the KHS coach said.

Panthers were a test

On Tuesday night, the Indians survived a strong upset bid by Plymouth in the first two games, then coasted in Game 3 to improve to 13-0.

"Our girls were fired up from the start, wanting to continue the perfect conference run," Rizzardi said. "Plymouth played strong defense the first two games with strong defensive passing, but our offensive power took control."

What helped to turn the tide was strong spiking by Amanda Magnus and good setting by Katie Schroeder.

In Game 1, the score was tied 11 times before the Indians used a run to start putting the game away. Danielle DeGroot helped as she found a spot to drill a spike inches from the end line, then Magnus came up with a kill and later a successful block for a 15-11 advantage.

Bekki Heberer helped out with a kill from the middle, and the Indians scored several more points to go up 21-13.

The Panthers battled back to 21-18 on some fine front-line play by Stacey Volbrecht, but after Rizzardi took a time out to steady his players, they closed out the game on a kill by Briana Bastian and a couple Plymouth errors.

KHS jumped out to a 9-3 lead in Game 2 only to have the lead completely wiped out after missing on some returns which died in the net.

The Panthers surged out front 15-13 and 18-17 before the Indians regained their composure.

Heberer came up big at the end, with a tip-kill counting for the 24th point and an ace for the 25th. It turned out to be the Indians' only ace of the night, although four starters combined to go 52x52 in serving.

Jumping ahead 12-1 in Game 3, the Indians were in command to the end (25-11).

Owls will be 1st opponent

The Indians opened WIAA Division 2 regional play, hosting Slinger on Tuesday night. Kewaskum was selected to be the No. 2 seed behind top-rated Waupun. With a win — and the Indians were definitely favored — they host the winner of the Luther Prep/Mayville match tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

Schill and company charge past Indians

With his slashing style, Campbellsport senior Trevor Schill was a tough man to bring down Friday. Above, three Kewaskum players, Andy Marx (44) and Mitch Paulus (28) and Mike Pfothenauer close in on him during a play in the third quarter. The Cougars won the game 42-6.

CAMPBELLSPORT — After losing a tough battle to Sheboygan Falls, chances of winning the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title were pretty well gone for the Kewaskum High football team but a berth in the WIAA playoffs was still a good possibility.

Those hopes dimmed Friday night as the Indians were soundly beaten by host Campbellsport 42-7.

The Cougars scored on their opening possession and added three more touchdowns in the second quarter, including one on a blocked punt, to take a 27-0 half-time lead. Kewaskum was unable to put a dent in.

With the loss, the Indians still have a 5-3 overall mark but fell to 3-3 in the EW with second place Plymouth (which lost to Sheboygan Falls 21-14 Friday) their final opponent tonight (Thursday) in Plymouth. The Indians must beat Plymouth to have better than a .500 EW record, which is necessary to be considered for the playoffs.

"What a difference a week makes," a dejected KHS Coach Jason Piittmann said afterward, referring to the playoff scenario and that several of his key players sat out the game against Campbellsport because of athletic code violations.

Even at full strength, the Indians would have had their hands full Friday, with senior Trevor Schill ripping off big chunks of real estate on nearly every carry.

Schill carried the ball six times for 50 yards on CHS' first drive, which started at its 42 yard line but moved 73 yards because of two penalties. Schill got the TD on a 10-yard scamper just a little over three minutes into the game, and after Tyler Oestrich's PAT, the score was 7-0.

Kewaskum used a lot of shotgun offense on its first drive but after picking up one first down on a 10-yard pass from Chad Piwoni to Jeremy Gurholt, the Indians got called for holding and stalled.

The next Indian drive netted two first downs than sputtered, as Piwoni's fourth-down pass fell incomplete right between Jon Olla and Matt Parrent at about the Cougar 15.

Starting from their own 40, the Cougars moved 60 yards in seven plays for their second TD, which came on a fourth down pass from QB Justin Schmidt to Tyler Briggs covering 39 yards.

After Kewaskum went three and out, the Cougars used Schill and Sam Mueller to pound the ball 85 yards for a third TD, this one coming on a 7-yard run by Schill. Oestrich was perfect again for a 21-0 lead.

Then came the back-breaker. After a short run and two incomplete passes, Ross Stockhausen was ready to punt from about the KHS 20-yard line when the Cougars' Jason Lang broke through the line, blocked the kick, picked it up and ran 22-yards for another TD and a 27-0 lead.

By the break, the Cougars had 265 yards of offense to 67 for the Indians. The Indians went 0-for-6 passing the second quarter and Garrett Donath, who came into the game with 834 yards rushing was held to 21 yards in six carries.

The Indians had one chance to score about the middle of the third quarter when they moved to the CHS 25 but a fourth down pass was batted down by Lang.

With adjustments, the Indians were having a little more success stopping Schill and company until the late stages of the period when the Cougars put together a 58-yard scoring drive. It was culminated by Mueller's 6-yard run. Schill got the 2-point conversion on a run, putting the score at 35-0, meaning there would be a continuous clock the rest of the way.

Kewaskum avoided the shutout by going 60 yards early in the fourth quarter. Gurholt hauled in a 32-yard pass, which put the ball at the CHS 9, then Piwoni, who was 13 for 31 and 153 yards, found Parrent in the end zone for a 9-yard scoring strike.

Reserve Mitch Tarras scored in the final minute for the winners.

Meyer earns medal for fifth place

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

For the second year in a row, Kewaskum High's Josh Meyer earned a spot on the Eastern Wisconsin all-conference cross country team.

Meyer, a senior, finished fifth overall on a chilly Saturday run in Two Rivers. The fifth place was two spots better than his finish in the 2003 finals. He covered the 5,000 meters Saturday in a time of 17 minutes and 28 seconds (17:28).

While Meyer's effort was definitely a highlight, the Indians' overall finish, fifth place, was disappointing. All season long, veteran coach Dave Drexler was hoping his team would be among the top four but that did not happen.

As expected, powerful Sheboygan Falls captured the EW title, scoring 43 points, 12 ahead of Plymouth. Taking third with 66 was Kiel, followed by Two Rivers, 98; Kewaskum, 116; Cambellsport, 162; Roncalli, 170; and New Holstein, 238.

The overall winner of the race was Sheboygan Falls' Mike Rudebeck, who was timed in a sizzling 16: 58, 16 seconds ahead of his teammate, John Wegner (17:14).

"It was cold and windy," Drexler said. "Runners had to adjust to conditions they were not used to. Some did better than others."

Zack VanWormer had a pretty good day, placing 18th in 18:41, but the Indians had no one else among the top 25. Bob Gibson (19:25) and Jonathon Hawig (19:27) placed 29th and 30th, respectively, with Adam Janz the final counter with his 34th in 19:40.

"I felt the team overall did a good job," Drexler said. "Bobby was off his pace today, but the rest were running well. Josh, Adam, Zack and Jon pulled the team nicely."

Now Meyer and the Indians turn their attention to the Division 2 sectional meet, which will be held at Mayville Country Club on Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. To qualify for state, a team must be among the top two in the sectional and the top five individuals from non-qualifying teams also advance to Wisconsin Rapids on Oct. 30th.

Kiel won its fifth straight EW title in Saturday's competition, and it was probably the Raiders most thrilling victory since it came by a single point over Plymouth, 47-48. Sheboygan Falls was a distant third at 89, followed by Roncalli, 114; Two Rivers, 128; New Holstein, 134; and Cambellsport, 151. Kewaskum had only two runners, not enough for a team score.

The individual champion was Laurel Kleiber of Plymouth with a 15:53 clocking for 4,000 meters.

For the Indians, Nicole Stern placed 46th (19:49) and Crystal Treptow (21:59) was back in 51st.

Campbellsport gained a total of 403 yards to 186 for the Indians, with Schill responsible for 176 in 32 carries.

"They did things to us, and we did things to ourselves," Piittmann said, obviously disappointed in the defense, the blocked punt and all the dropped passes. "We dropped too many ... How many hit shoulder pads or were dropped? Last week we made those catches."

Parrent did have five catches for 48 yards, while Gurholt caught three passes for 49 yards.

Piittmann applauded the efforts of sophomore Jake

Turowski. "I was impressed with Jake on defense," he said, adding the offensive line, including Robert Weber, Brett Zimdars, Alex Herriges, Bryan Daggett and Adam Jung, gave Piwoni some pretty good pass protection. "Otherwise, there weren't too many highlights."

In the other EWC games Friday, New Holstein leveled Kiel 30-8, and on Saturday Two Rivers defeated Roncalli 22-19. The current standings are as follows: Sheboygan Falls 6-0, Plymouth 5-1, Campbellsport 4-2, Kewaskum 3-3, New Holstein 3-3, Two Rivers 2-4, Roncalli 1-5 and Kiel 0-6.
