Infrastructure starts for TID

Super excavators started working Monday in the village to connect sewer to the new tax Incremental District on USH 45. Shown here workers prepare to install sewer line in front of Roger and Dan's Auto Service. Department of Public Works director Jerry Gilles stated that the project will last about two weeks, depending on the weather. By the start of next week workers from Heartland Construction will start installing water lines to the TID and Nature Haven Subdivision on Prospect Drive. Gilles also stated that work by the fire station is being finished by WE Energies and does not involve the village. Workers from WE Energies were installing a new regulator pit at that location. The Statesman will continue to bring updates on the TID in the weeks ahead.

Village mourning loss of Silver Platter Restaurant stalwart

By Andrew Kuehl

akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

It's been said that "the good die young." That statement rings even truer for many Kewaskum area residents after the sudden death of one local business owner. Tammy Garbisch, 40, died unexpectedly Monday after complications with a brain aneurism.

Tammy and her husband Roy opened The Silver Platter Family Restaurant in January of 1999. The two worked tirelessly to make the restaurant a success. And, they did. Dining at The Silver Platter was tradition to many of Kewaskum's seniors who claimed it as their own personal "Cheers." Many business deals and a lot of town scuttlebutt was exchanged at the booths inside the popular eatery.

Ruth Campbell met Tammy while the two worked at Buffy's Village Inn. "Her aunt, Iris (Seefeldt) and I were sort of her surrogate mothers," said Campbell who is still visibly upset over the loss. Campbell, was eluding to the fact that Tammy lost her mother when she was only 12.

Tammy and Campbell grew quite close while the two continued their employment there. After the restaurant changed hands. Tammy moved on, still keeping Campbell within arms reach. "She and Roy asked me along when they were looking for a place to open a restaurant," she said. Campbell continued her employment at what was then The Kewaskum Kafe. After leaving, her and Tammy partnered up and were working together again at The Silver Platter.

"With Tammy, life was a party, she just enjoyed life," said Campbell who fondly remembered spending time with Tammy and Roy at impromptu get togethers at their home.

Tammy's passion for life could be seen in many ways. She and Roy loved NASCAR racing. They took an annual trip to Talladega Superspeedway in Alabama. Most of all Tammy enjoyed her family and her restaurant.

Though much of her time was behind the grill she always had a quick wit and a smile for anyone who came to visit her. Tammy herself was a surrogate mother to her niece and nephews. She worked side-by-side many nights with her nephew Matt Seefeldt. It was Seefeldt who manned the grill alone while Tammy was hospitalized.

Many more teens besides her nephews considered Tammy their second mom. She was that second mom to many of the employees who she and Roy gave jobs to over the years.

Many Friday nights, she shared the grill with her "sidekick" Diane Schneider. "We did so much together. Monday was her only full day off and it was quite often on Mondays we did something together," stated Schneider.

"I accused her of nominating me for the Ms Mardi Gras contest a few years ago. She denied it, but said it sure was a good idea and she did everything in her power to get me a lot of votes," recalled Schneider.

The Silver Platter was closed Tuesday, as Tammy was the heart of the restaurant. A family friend said it would re-

Police Reports

On May 14, Kewaskum Police conducted a traffic stop for a violation on a vehicle heading south on Hwy. 45 at Hwy. H. The officer noted that there were a male and a female in the vehicle. The officer received identification from the two subjects and a record check showed three active warrants for the male. The Kewaskum officer then called for backup from the Sheriff's Department.

The Deputy noticed movement in the vehicle and thought that the male was reaching behind the driver's seat towards the floor. The officer re-approached the car and placed the male under arrest for the warrants.

The officer then asked the female subject for permission to search the car, which she granted. The officer found a baggie of Cocaine in the female subjects purse. Both subjects denied knowing where it came from. Both were taken to the Washington County Jail where the male subject was charged with a felony count of possession of cocaine and the female was charged with a misdemeanor account of possession of cocaine.

On May 20, Kewaskum police were dispatched to a Fond du Lac Avenue business in reference to a shoplifter. The complainant stated she caught the suspect at the front counter. She stated she watched the woman walk through the store carrying several pieces of merchandise when the suspect asked to use the restroom. When she came back out of the restroom she didn't have the merchandise. The woman asked the child she was with where the items had gone. The women dropped one of the items she had been hiding and removed the other items as well.

The suspect was issued a citation for retail theft.

On May 28, Kewaskum police responded to a report of an unconscious male lying on the sidewalk in the area of Edgewood and Knights Avenue. The complainant stated that when she drove by she saw someone lying on the sidewalk and was unsure if there was a problem.

The officer observed a male lying just north of the intersection and spot-lighted the individual. There was no response so the officer approached the subject and noticed a strong odor of alcohol coming from the subject.

The officer then called for a rescue squad and the subject was taken to detox. Once the subject was medically cleared he was transported to Washington County Mental Health where he was held on alcohol commitment. A citation was mailed to the subject for underage consumption of alcohol with a mandatory appearance.

On May 28, Kewaskum police observed a juvenile smoking in an alley near the intersection of Hwy. 45 and 28. When the officer approached the subject he dropped his cigarette and ran to the back of the building. The officer contacted the subject and observed him putting objects on the ground. The officer recovered a full pack of cigarettes a lighter and a bag of marijuana. The subject was issued a citation for possession of marijuana and possession/use of tobacco.

On June 1 Kewaskum Police were advised of a complaint at Holy Trinity School. The complainant stated that when she went into her office she noticed two money bags were missing from her desk. One of the bags contained checks and the other change for the school.

While talking with people at the school the janitor stated that between 10:30 and 10:45 a black male came in to use the men's restroom, which is located next to the office where the money was located.

In talking with others at the school and at surrounding businesses, nobody recalled seeing anything out of the ordinary. If anybody has further information, please call the Kewaskum Police Department at 262-626-2323.

SynergyHealth partners with County to provide free taxi service to new hospital

WEST BEND- SynergyHealth announced today that it has reached an agreement with Washington County to provide Shared-Ride Taxi Service to the new hospital at no charge to riders. SynergyHealth will provide funds to help the Washington County Taxi program increase capacity and provide service to the new hospital. The new hospital, which opens Sunday, August 7th is located at 3200 Pleasant Valley Road (Highway 45 and PV.)

"We are pleased to assist Washington County in providing transportation to the new hospital," stated John Reiling, president and CEO of St. Joseph's Hospital and SynergyHealth. "The Shared-Ride program is an important part of a comprehensive transportation plan," Reiling added. "We continue to pursue additional options for those who will need transportation to the new hospital."

The Washington County Shared-Ride Taxi Service is a countywide public shared-ride taxicab system established and operated under Washington County authority. Service areas for the taxi include all of Washington County and the northern portion of Menomonee Falls. cab operator.

"We are very excited about this public/private partnership," said Linda Olson, director of Washington County's Office on Aging. "We appreciate SynergyHealth's assistance as we work together to meet the needs of the community."

Town of Scott... Going to the birds?

By Bernadette Mondloch

Pigeons. Here, there, pigeons everywhere. That was the basis of the complaint rendered at the Town of Scott meeting by Glen Knepprath regarding homing and racing pigeons that are leaving a mess on his property. The pigeons are the property of his neighbor, Tim Kasabuske an 18-year resident of Town Scott who raises racing pigeons as a hobby.

The procedure involves training the baby birds to become acquainted with the location of their home, so later on no matter where he releases them, they return home. Mr. Knepprath says that they sit on the roof of his home, fly low as if to be attacking and defecating all over his property to the extent that the fan on his air conditioner becomes bogged down with bird droppings making it inoperable. He has contacted the Sheriff's department but their hands were tied due to the fact that there is no ordinance prohibiting the pigeons. The officer also noted that Knepprath does not own the air space above his property.

Kasabuske explained that despite the fact that he has a large flock of pigeons, he only exercises them no more than 60 at a time. This is done for two hours in the morning and again in the afternoon. In fall they are locked in the coup and the process begins all over again in February. Some disappear because they get lost and do not return, hawks and other predators capture some. Following an hour-long discussion, town attorney Ed Rigger intervened. He explained, "This type of situation in a private nuisance." The parties concerned along with the town can handle it one of two ways. It can hear the complaints and take it to court, or a brief hearing between the two parties and come to some agreement. Then if the violations continue, they can go to court.

Finally a verbal agreement was to limit the exercising hours from 8 to 10 am and 2 to 4 pm, daily, Sunday's excluded. Kasabuske will provide hawk, owl and other decoys on Knepprath's property to scare the pigeons away from that area.

The town board approved the sale of the 1982 grader to Indian Road Construction, Rubicon for $11,000.

Approval was given to apply for a $72,222 loan from the State Trust Fund to be applied to the purchase of a new tanker truck for the Batavia Fire Department.

The Batavia Athletic Association has purchased a batting cage and is installing it at the ballpark in an area that will not interfere with activities. This is being done at no cost to the town.

"Dangerous Intersection" signs targeted for the intersection of St. Hwy 28 and Brazelton, Abbot Drive intersection have arrived and will be installed shortly.

The new blue fire number signs are proving to be a huge help for the fire departments and First Responders.

Care for Critters at summer library program

Have you ever wondered which animals are active at night? Or, how animals can survive when it is dark? These questions and many more were answered for participants in the Kewaskum Library's summer reading program as they were treated to Pick N Save's Care for Critters traveling animal show. The "Animals of the Night" program teaches audiences of all ages about nocturnal animals, their senses and diets, and how successful they are when the sun goes down. Children above are shown a chinchilla. A chinchilla is a South American rodent with thick silvery fur. On Thursday, July 7 "It's Electric" will be presented by Discovery World at 10:30 am inside the Annex Building. The community is invited to attend all the summer reading programs. Care for Critters is a live-animal program presented by Zoological Society naturalists. The program, sponsored by Pick'n Save, was launched in 1994. The program introduces participants to wildlife and conservation issues.

Kewaskum Police Department receives grant to bump up security

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

When people think of a safe place many think of their local police departments. That all changed in the early evening of Friday, June 24 for residents in Germantown. That's after a 22-year-old resident there decided it was open season on police officers.

Luckily, police officers there were able to take on the man, all three only suffering minor injuries.

The bizarre chain of events unfolded as the suspect walked into the station and handed a communications officer a note, threatening in nature. He later threw a glass bong at a protective glass wall in the lobby that separates the lobby and the police office. The man's motive is still uncertain at this point in time.

Charges are being investigated for the suspect.

Kewaskum Police Department doesn't have protective glass between their lobby and office. Monday, Chief of Police Richard Knoebel stated that his department is waiting to receive a Homeland Security Grant that will be used to secure the entire building where the police station is located.

The department shares what is known as the Municipal Building with the library and village clerk. That $35,500 grant was awarded to the police department in May. Knoebel stated that they would definitely be installing a protective glass wall similar to what helped Germantown's situation unfold without a fatality.

Knoebel stated, "It shows things are changing." When asked for his reaction to the shooting in Germantown.

Washington County Sheriff, Brian Rahn stated that he's happy with the security measures his department has in place. "We have a plan ready if something like this would ever happen," he said.

Sheriff's squads get new look

The new Washington County Sheriff's Department's 2005 squad cars have a new look to them. That's after department employees gave input on what they wanted their new squads to look like. Sheriff Brian Rahn stated Monday that after getting a few requests to change the look of the vehicles he opened it up to his staff to come up with a new design. That design is shown on the new 2005 Chevy Tahoe above. The new design will be put on all new incoming vehicles for the department.

An environment designed for comfort.

Studies show that patients heal and get well faster in a comforting, home-like environment. It's why the design of the new St. Joseph's Hospital includes so many patient-centered, family-friendly amenities. Each patient room will be private, with a foldout bed for 24-hour family support. Room size and ceiling height allow more bedside procedures. And floorplans and room entrances are designed to protect the privacy and dignity of patients. It all adds up to exceptional patient care.

Moritz-Tobin house become Town of Wayne's First Landmark

The Town of Wayne recently acquired its first Washington County Landmark with the designation going to the Otto and Anna Moritz farmhouse, currently owned by Tom and Cindy Tobin. The dedication ceremony and tour took place on a perfect summer day with a wonderful turnout on Thursday, June 16. The Moritz family descendants were in attendance as well.

Nestled in a hollow on a farm just south of the hamlet of Kohlsville, this Queen Anne styled Victorian house was built in 1907 by Otto Moritz and Karl Sell, (Anna's brother), owners of the old Kohlsville Sawmill. The home is an example of fine homes of its era. The oak, maple and basswood were taken from the farm and milled in Kohlsville and great care was taken in construction of this five-bedroom home. This is evident throughout the house with tongue and groove oak, wainscoting in the dining room and kitchen, an oak china buffet with a 'serve-through' between the dining room and kitchen, maple and red oak inlaid flooring downstairs, and basswood and maple flooring upstairs. A curved wall in the upstairs hallway is a sight seldom seen in houses today, as are the original pocket doors in the formal parlour. Stained glass windows in the formal parlour and dining room, also original to the house, enhance both the inside and outside of the house and can be lit up at night.

The house has seldom changed hands throughout its history, which has helped to maintain the integrity of the house. During the 1950's the house had been turned into a duplex to accommodate Moritz family members. However, in 1979, Perry and Kathy Ankerson purchased the home and undertook the task of restoring it back to a single family home. Tom and Cindy have continued restoration on the house and farm for the last 16 years and now have the second longest history there, behind the Moritz's. It is their hope that future families and generations to come will share these feelings as well.

A historical plaque was installed at the top of the driveway, which will also help to identify the home/property.

The Tobins wish to thank the Washington County Landmark Commission, Moritz family descendants and family and friends for this honor and for a wonderful and historical day.

Taste of Kettle Moraine scheduled for July 9

For the sixth consecutive year, restaurants from the Northern Kettle Moraine will gather to tweak the palettes of visitors to Dundee on Saturday, July 9.

The "Taste of the Kettle Moraine" will be held in the clubhouse on the Sportsman's Park grounds on the south side of Hwy. 67 Dundee at the foot of Long Lake. A variety of restaurants and food vendors will prepare and serve a sample of the fine foods that can be expected when you patronize their businesses.

Start with taste-tempting appetizers. Sample the Philly cheese steak. How about some BBQ pork? Grab a slice of delicious pizza? A walking taco? All these plus a few surprises. Like homemade fudge. And more.

This is your opportunity to talk to the hosts at these popular area restaurants. And to pick up a few menus. All in preparation for your visit to their restaurants to choose from their full menus.

While you are there you will have the opportunity to browse the craft/flea booths on the grounds at Sportsman's Park. And the pavilion will be filled with treasures at the area's largest rummage sale.

You are also invited to stay for picnic fare and the Ultimate Rock 'n Roll Band, Rocket 88. The popular band will get you swinging from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. There is free parking and no cover charge.

Dunee Daze is sponsored by the Long Lake Fishing Club.

See you there!

Searching for Hidden Treasures: Geocaching

"Searching for Hidden Treasures: Geocaching" is the next program in the Evening Events series at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. The evening is sponsored by the Friends of the Kettle Moraine. The program will be held on Saturday, July 9, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Hidden treasures . . . Secret codes . . . Challenging/beautiful natural terrain . . .

Cool technology toys . . . Do these things pique your interest? Then geocaching is for you! What is geocaching? It is an up-and-coming sport that uses the technology of GPS (global position system) satellites to locate treasures hidden by fellow geocachers. Once you get the clues off the Internet, you are off on your quest to find hidden treasures or caches.

Join Brian Geoffery of the Wisconsin Geocaching Association and Jackie Scharfberg, forest naturalist, as they provide you with the tools and knowledge to begin geocaching. Jackie will cover how to use topographic maps and orienteering compasses. Brian will explain how the GPS system works and the ins-and-outs of the sport of geocaching. The evening will end with an actual treasure hunt to find nearby hidden caches.

For further information or directions to the Ice Age Visitor Center, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The staff can be reached at (920) 533-8322. The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Hartford artist opens exhibit at Schauer Center

HARTFORD - Hartford artist, Cheryl Plautz, opens her exhibit on Tuesday, July 5 at the Schauer Arts & Activities Center. The exhibit runs through the end of August.

Featuring several of Plautz's recent works, the exhibit depicts various themes in a variety of mediums.

Although she has displayed her work in area galleries, Plautz said, "I had hoped to be part of a group exhibit, but never anticipated displaying my works alone. It's very exciting." The decision to display Plautz's work was an easy one, according to Schauer Center gallery curator, Luci Saunders, who said, "Cheryl's work is very imaginative—each piece tells a story. She has great knowledge of composition, color, harmony and balance."

Beginning her career in the late 70s using keylines and paste ups, Plautz changed with the times, becoming adept at creating commercial art using computers. But the lure of becoming immersed in her work... the smell of the paint... the texture of the paper, kept calling and in 1991, Plautz decided to strike out on her own. Now she creates fine art for her pleasure, while still utilizing her skills as a graphic artist on a freelance basis. "I'm doing exactly what I've always wanted to do," Plautz said.

The Schauer Arts & Activities Center hosts a variety of art exhibits on its upper level in the Suckow Family Art Gallery. Artists from around the state have displayed their artwork, according to Tom Robbins, Executive Director. "This further reinforces our mission of becoming the cultural hub of Washington County and surrounding area."

The Schauer Arts & Activities Center is located at 147 North Rural Street in Hartford. The gallery is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and by appointment. Exhibitions are presented year-round on a rotating basis, and many works are available for sale. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Schauer Center at 262-670-0560 or by visiting the Center on-line at www.schauercenter.org.

Wifler, will present its traditional Americana Concert in the historic Joseph Schmitz bandstand at Lakeside Park in Fond du Lac on Monday, the 4th of July, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Erected and donated to the community by William McDermott, the bandstand has been home to Fourth of July concerts since 1901 and was placed on the local registry of historic landmarks in 1973.

Vocal selections by Mark Plummer will include a 19th century American hymn: At the River, and My Kind of Towns - a medley that features I Left My Heart in San Francisco, Kansas City, New York New York, Way Down Yonder in New Orleans and My Kind of Town. Plummer will also lead the audience in a sing-along of familiar American patriotic songs.

Saxophonists Lisa Pankrat and Nickole Kawleski will perform a traditional early-20th century duet, Two Little Bullfinches. Other selections by the Band include Chester Overture by William Schuman, Bugle Call Rag, a medley of hits from the 1970's, and Saints Hallelujah as performed by the Canadian Brass. Rounding out the evening of music will be Carmen Dragon's arrangement of America the Beautiful, a tribute to the U. S. Armed Forces, and four marches by America's march king, John Philip Sousa.

The Band's performance will be followed by fireworks on the lakefront. The Symphonic Band's summer concerts in Fond du Lac are sponsored by the City of Fond du Lac, and a free-will offering will be received to assist with summer concert expenses.

Meeting in the high school auditorium Monday evening, electors of the Kewaskum Community Union High School No. 2 approved an operating budget for the 1955-56 school year of approximately $109,000. Residents of the area also favored a school district tax levy of $85,000.

On Friday of this week, July 1, Helen Thom of Milwaukee, took over the Sportsman's Inn at the intersection of Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue (Highways 45 and 28) in Kewaskum, which she has leased from the owner. For the past year the tavern business had been operated by Mr. and Mrs. Gib Buechel, who succeeded Lyle and Dorothy Smith in the operation of the place.

Work has now been completed on the construction of another new permanent refreshment stand in the Kewaskum park. The stand, which is near the north end entrance to the park, will be put to use for the first time on the night of the fireworks display July 2. The new stand is 40 feet in length and 20 feet wide. The outer walls are constructed of concrete block and the bar top of the stand is removable.

While there will be no celebration at Kewaskum on July 4, there will be, however, a grand dance at the Opera House on July 5, at which time Carl B. Carlson, manager of the Jimmy Howard Orchestra of Chicago, will furnish the music.

The Vietnam War 30 Years Later

By John A. Scocos
Wisconsin Secretary of Veterans Affairs

The Vietnam Veterans War Memorial on the National Mall in Washington D.C. is one of the lasting testaments we have to our public memory of the Vietnam War. Its polished granite slabs, each representing a year of conflict, descend below the surface of the mall. The walls grow taller and quieter as the lists of soldiers killed each year expands.

The memorial, funded by veterans themselves years after the war was over, tells no story and makes no statement - except to make personal the cost of war and the scale of our losses. The mirror-like walls also quietly reflect the faces of those who visit, including those who supported the war, those who opposed it, and those learning about it for the first time.

This year marks the 30th anniversary of the end of the War in Vietnam, one of America's most frustrating and poorly understood military conflicts. (More than half all Americans today have no memory of Vietnam.)

Over the summer, I'll be revisiting the history and the stories of Vietnam. I'll revisit some of the battles, some of the Wisconsin stories, and some of the lessons of Vietnam.

My purpose is simple: America should never forget the lessons of its wars. Nor should we take for granted the dividends of security we see every day in the form of a strong economy, extraordinary personal freedoms and a unified will as a nation to work toward a better future.

As Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, the lesson from the Vietnam War I want Wisconsin to remember most is the need to honor our veterans as they return from service, despite the national debate over how our forces are used.

Memories our short, and history books are thinly read. The reality is that Vietnam is not unique in many ways. All military conflicts are politically divisive. America engaged in World War I only after huge political protests. America didn't declare war against in World War II until after Hitler had taken over most of Europe and Japan had captured most of the Asian Pacific including China, the Philippines, and almost all the island nations between Hawaii and continental Asia.

Yet Vietnam was unique. More than any war in our collective memory, Vietnam still burns hot with many of us. The 20-year-war saw social upheaval that pitted family members against each other; dominated political debate; disrupted universities, created riots and, in some cases even pitted our government against some of its own citizens.

Nearly 3 million Americans served during the Vietnam era, including 209,000 from Wisconsin. More than 300,000 were wounded, some injured forever. Of the 58,000 men and women's names engraved on the walls of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, 1,229 are from Wisconsin.

What is poorly remembered is that those who fought and survived returned to a nation that in many cases turned its back on them. Returning veterans were not treated as heroes, or even as patriotic citizens. They were seen as part of a war people didn't like. Many soldiers went so far as to remove their uniforms on their flights home to avoid harassment and ridicule.

Our young men and women served honorably in Vietnam. Soldiers don't make foreign policy, they serve America. Soldiers don't swear allegiance to the president or to a political party, they pledge to serve and uphold America and the Constitution.

That's why, this summer, I want our state to remember our young men and women who served in Vietnam -- and to remind us all that we still have veterans returning from Iraq, Afghanistan, Korea, and many other outposts around the world.

To help in that effort, the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, has created a program called "Mission: Welcome Home" a statewide effort to help our returning veterans make the transition back to society.

Vietnam taught us that we should never forget that these young men and women should be treated with honor. This summer, as we reflect on the 30th anniversary of the end of the War in Vietnam, I want to help us remember to do just that.

John A. Scocos is the Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, which serves almost half a million Wisconsin veterans.

The Kewaskum Middle School PTO sponsored three Scholastic Student Bookstores during this past school year (2004-2005). All three student bookstores were an awesome success due to the support of a student crew of 54 KMS students, office staff, maintenance men, teachers, parents and our principal. The PTO wishes to extend our appreciation to all these people for volunteering their time, creativity and hard work!

The Scholastic student bookstore's gross sales were $12,320.56 which provided the KMS PTO with a cash profit of $2,524 and $3,657 in free books and materials for our school library and individual classrooms. We must also extend our sincere gratitude towards the Kewaskum and West Bend businesses along with the numerous private individuals who generously sponsored 550 KMS students with a $5 book of their choice.

Our campaign to provide every KMS student with a $5 book of the choice came true because of the following businesses and individuals:

During the three bookstores the KMS students contributed their change, accumulating 5,252 pennies plus The Candy Tree of Kewaskum donated 1 penny from every candy stick (15¢) sold at our spring bookstore, which sold 4,848 sticks. The grand total that will be donated to the Full Shelf Food Pantry is $101. Thanks to all KMS students and The Candy Tree for their generous gift to those in need.

We wish to mention that all members of the Scholastic student crew and Mrs. Lisa Stoffel, KMS PTO rep, donated 78 Scholastic young children's books to the ambulatory day surgery for children at Synergy Health - St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of RALPH STRUEBING, who passed away five years ago, June 30th, 2000:

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
A beautiful memory he left behind.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
A heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.

*Greatly missed by,
His wife Carrie;
children, Jim & Wendy grandchildren, Orion and

THAT Might Be Useful

Exploring America's Secondhand Culture

Naton Leslie

Lately, it seems, there are an awful lot of books out that talk about de-cluttering your life. Almost every one of them will tell you that you have too much junk - as if you didn't know that - and that you need to throw out all the stuff that's making your home a mess.

Before you do that, pick up a copy of "That Might Be Useful" by Naton Leslie. You might want to think twice about throwing things away.

Years ago, Leslie found an old chest of drawers in the basement of a house he was renting, and the landlord said he could have it. It was beat-up and needed repairs, but Leslie liked the looks of it. He fixed it and put it to use.

Years later, Leslie decided that he didn't need the chest of drawers any more and he put it out in a yard sale. Almost immediately, a man drove up, bought the chest, loaded it in the back of his van and drove off.

Two weeks later, Leslie saw the same chest in an antique store, with a higher price tag on it than for which he had sold it. This got him thinking: there must be a lot of people who make their living from other people's junk.

Starting with a New York auction house where valuable antiques are put up for bid, Leslie toured the junk business, although you can hardly call a $20,000 grandfather clock, "junk". There, he learned that everything has a buyer, no matter how macabre it may be.

Speaking of antiques, Leslie says that much of what we Baby Boomers call "antiques" are not. Antiques are, by definition, anything that was made before 1850. Nostalgia fuels the "antique" trade, he says, and just because your Grandma had something doesn't make it valuable on the market. On that note, Leslie says, although we all dream of being on Antiques Roadshow, be aware that many "antiques" are really well-made reproductions that could fool all but the best experts.

Anyone who's driven through a suburb on a weekend knows that yard sale signs bloom on telephone poles like leaves on a tree. This book is almost as much fun as plucking a treasure from one of those sales. From high-priced auctions to estate sales to flea markets and yard sales, author Naton Leslie does a good job examining the second-hand trade, although I thought that this could've easily been two books. The majority of "That Might Be Useful" was about the antique industry; all other second-hand dealing was covered in the last half of the book, which was too brief. Sure, antiquing is fun, but who doesn't love a good bargain?

If you've ever fell in love with something old, if you live for a good deal, or if you just have too much junk, "That Might Be Useful" will be more than useful for you. In fact, clear off your bookshelf, sell some of that stuff on eBay and make room for this book.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I just wanted to get a note posted into the Kewaskum Statesman because of the fact that I want to thank my host family, the Piittmanns, for hosting me over this year and making me feel at home.

I thank them for loving me like their own child and i respect them like my own parents. I also want to thank the school, the town, and my circle of friends for making this year so much fun and exciting for me. I hope you enjoyed it as much as I did and maybe we'll see us next year.

Philipp Euwen

To the Editor:

What is happening with our school board? Do we have so much extra money that we can pay in excess of $100,000 to someone to not work?

The Kewaskum schools go through Superintendents like a baby goes through diapers. This district has had at least four superintendents in four years before Mr. Graczyk came. They all left with extra dollars to keep them quiet. Mr. Graczyk was selected as the best of all who applied and was given the position and did a great job. At the end of his contract he was given a two year extension less than a year ago.

He is now being paid a full year with all benefits and asked not to work or say anything. WHY? Two new board members certainly did not change all thinking, or did it?

This is not a corporation. It is a public entity and we the tax payers have the right to know and now! Without a full and honest explanation to the taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District within two weeks I suggest that a recall election for the entire board is in order.

ORDINANCE NO. 2005-05 AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN MUNICIPAL CODE

The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, do ordain as follows:

The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin wish to amend Chapter 6 ALCOHOL BEVERAGE, ARTICLE II. LICENSES, Section 6-62 Classes, (8) and Section 6-72 Fees (6)(7)(8) as follows:

WHEREAS, Section 6.62. Classes is amended as follows:

(7) Retail Regular "class B" intoxicating liquor license. (remains as is with the addition of the word Regular)

(8) Retail Reserve "class B" intoxicating liquor license. A Retail Reserve "Class B" Intoxicating Liquor License, when issued by the Village Clerk under the authority of the Village Board, shall permit its holder to sell, deal and traffic in intoxicating liquors to be consumed by the glass only on the premises so licensed and in the original package or container in multiples not to exceed four (4) liters at any time, to be consumed off the premises except that wine may be sold in the original package or otherwise in any other quantity to be consumed off premises.

a. A Retail Reserve "Class B" license means a license that is not granted or issued on December 1, 1997 (Wisconsin Act 27) and is counted under Sec. 125.51(4)(br) Wis. Stat., which authorizes the retail sale of intoxicating liquor for consumption on the premises as noted above.

WHEREAS, Section 6-72. Fees.

(6) Retailer Regular "Class B" intoxicating liquor license, $300.00. (remains as is with the addition of the word Regular)

(7) Retailer Reserve "Class B" intoxicating liquor license, $300.00. per licensing year, plus initial $10,000.00.

a. 1997 Wisconsin Act 27, effective December 1, 1997, established a new alcohol beverage license called a Retail Reserve "Class B" Intoxicating Liquor License, and required all who granted such a license pay an initial fee of $10,000.00 in addition to the Retail Regular "Class B" license fees. The number of Retail Reserve "Class B" Intoxicating Liquor Licenses available to a municipality is determined by a series of calculations described in Wis. Stats. 1125.51 (4). The Village Board finds that businesses such as restaurants, hotels and taverns make important contributions to the Village's economy and serve important public purpose, including, but not limited to, increasing the Village's property tax base, providing employment and promoting tourism. The Village Board also finds that the new initial fees for a Retail Reserve "Class B" Intoxicating Liquor License far exceeds the actual cost of licensing the activity, and the excessive license fee deters new business and contrary to the above-stated public purposes. It is the purpose of this ordinance to utilize the excess revenue generated by 1997 Wisconsin Act 27 to assist new Retail Reserve "Class B" licenses in order to achieve the important public purposes identified herein:

1. The Village Board may provide a grant to a Retail Reserve "Class B" Licensee if the following conditions are met:

2. Following the issuance of an original Retail Reserve "Class B" License and upon application, the Village Board may provide a grant to the licensee in an amount not to exceed five hundred dollars less than the amount actually paid licensee to the Village of Kewaskum for the new (initial) Retail Reserve "Class B" License. Prior to awarding the grant, the Village Board and/or the Village Clerk shall make such determination that the licensee is in compliance with the approved license. If it is found not in compliance with the approved license, no economic development grant may be authorized by the Village Board and/or Village Clerk, such finding in writing and cause thereof shall be delivered to the licensee as to the Village findings.

3. The economic development grant shall be used to improve the interior or exterior of the licensed premise and to increase the taxability of the licensed premise.

4. The renewal of the Retail Reserve "Class B" License will be subject to the normal annual fee as so noted within this ordinance.

(8) Operator's . (remains as is currently within the ordinance)

This ordinance shall take effect upon passage and publication as provided by law.

Hunter's Choice deadlines Aug. 1

MADISON -- Sportsmen and women looking forward to fall hunting seasons in Wisconsin now have one consolidated permit application deadline that applies to a number of popular hunting activities.

The deadline to apply for Hunter's Choice white-tailed deer hunting permits, fall turkey hunting permits, Horicon and Collins zone Canada goose hunting permits, sharp-tailed grouse hunting permits, and otter, fisher and bobcat hunting or trapping permits have all been consolidated to August 1 each year. Previously there were a number of different deadlines to apply to the Department of Natural Resources for these fall hunting permits.

"We are trying to simplify things for our customers by consolidating all of these fall season application deadlines into one day," says Diane Brookbank, director of the DNR Bureau of Customers Service and Licensing. "We are also working on establishing one date for applications for the spring turkey and bear hunting permits."

Hunter's Choice available in 53 DMUs and nine state park units

A Hunter's Choice Permit does not represent an extra tag - it allows the holder of an unused regular Gun Deer Carcass Tag the opportunity to harvest one deer of any sex during the gun or muzzle-loader deer seasons. A Hunter's Choice Permit may only be used in the unit for which it was issued. A permittee may hunt in other units if desired, but would be restricted to the legal deer specified for the unit.

This year there are 53 Deer Management Units (DMUs) and 9 state park units where a hunter may apply for a Hunter's Choice Permit, according to Brad Koele, Assistant Deer Ecologist with the DNR Bureau of Wildlife Management. (Permits are required to enter some state park units, listed below.)

Units that are open for Hunter's Choice Permits this year are DMUs 1, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 26, 28, 29A, 29B, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 49A, 49B, 50, 52, 53, 54A, 55, 56, 57A, 57C, 58, 59A, 60B, 72, 73B, and 73D. Park Hunter Choice Permit Units are: 23A, 52A, 57D, 61A, 69C, 72A, 73A, 77D, and 80C.

Hunters should not apply for Hunter's Choice Permits for Zone T, Chronic Wasting Disease or Mississippi River Block DMUs.

Hunters will again receive one free Antlerless Deer Carcass Tag along with the purchase of a deer hunting license. Free Antlerless Deer Carcass Tags may be used to tag an antlerless deer in any Zone T or CWD unit.

Again this year, all Antlerless Deer Carcass Tags will be issued over-the-counter on a first come, first served basis beginning at noon on Saturday, August 27 at all license sales locations and online through the DNR Web site. Antlerless Deer Carcass Tag sales will continue until all permits for a unit are issued. Residents and non-residents will have equal opportunity to purchase these permits. Antlerless Deer Carcass Tags may be purchased at a rate of two per day until the Deer Management Unit is sold out. Antlerless Deer Carcass Tags cost $12 each for residents and $20 each for nonresidents.

According to Koele, many deer management units are still above the established deer population goal. "In units above goal there are plenty of Antlerless Deer Carcass Tags available for hunters that want the opportunity to harvest additional antlerless deer. If we are going to avoid special herd control seasons in these units in 2006 we need a strong antlerless harvest in 2005."

There is a $3 application fee to apply for a Hunter's Choice Permit (Conservation Patron License holders are exempt from the $3 fee). Hunters should refer to the 2005 Wisconsin Antlerless Deer Permit Information brochure (Adobe Acrobat Reader is needed to view and print this portable document format (PDF) file. To download Adobe Acrobat for free, please see the DNR Download Page.) that includes a map and list of the units that are open for Hunter's Choice Permits this year, as well as other valuable information and instructions on applying. This brochure is available on the DNR Web site and at all license sales locations throughout the state.

Fall turkey season

The fall 2005 wild turkey season will run in one continuous season from Oct. 1 through Nov. 9. A preliminary 83,600 permits will be available. The bag limit is one turkey of either sex per turkey permit. Applications cost $3 and are available from any DNR service center, ALIS licensing agent, or from the License, Permits and Registrations page of the DNR Web site.

"Looking ahead to the fall hunt, it is difficult to predict fall hunting conditions until poult, or turkey young-of-the-year counts are completed in August," Mezera says.

Horicon and Collins zone Canada goose

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service establishes a season framework for waterfowl season and allocates the number of harvest permits that will be available to each state. The number of Canada goose harvest tags available per applicant for the Horicon or Collins Zones changes each year based on annual population survey data. Permit numbers and season frameworks are not set until late July and, as a result, Wisconsin is not able to set waterfowl season dates and bag limits until mid-August of each year. The number of harvest tags issued has ranged from one to six tags per hunter per season over the last several years.

Because of this process, the number of tags available for the Horicon and Collins zones will not be known by the August 1 application deadline.

TOWN OF KEWASKUM NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING FOR CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be held before the Town Board of the Town of Kewaskum at the Town Hall located at 9019 Kettle Moraine Drive in the Town of Kewaskum at 7:00 p.m., July 18, 2005 to consider the application of Steven Herriges for the issuance of a Conditional Use Permit to construct an accessory structure in the street yard of the parcel, and to construct an accessory structure that will exceed the maximum allowed 900 square feet in a parcel less than three (3) acres, zoned A-1 Agricultural/Open Space; provided for in Section 17.18(3)(a)1e, 17.18(3)(a)1a of the Town Zoning Ordinance. The intended use of the structure is for storage purposes. The applicant's property is located at 2893 Salisbury Lane, Section 24, Town of Kewaskum.

Spooner to Webster

This excerpt runs out of order, it was inadvertently forgotten in last week's edition.

Bicycle from Spooner to Webster, which was a good 45 mile ride. I broke a spoke on taking a 'recommended' back roads short cut. The church where I asked to spend the night set me up at the Webster Motel. It must have been fate, because the motel owner also ran a bicycle repair shop.

Bob Deering and his wife Sandy bought the motel a couple of years ago. Both worked in St. Paul, Minnesota and each commuted two and a half hours to work each day. They drove separate. Bob, who reminded me of the actor Richard Dreyfus worked for the state lottery and Sandy was a dental technician.

Bob didn't mind chatting as he changed the spoke on my rear wheel. When I initially met Bob, he was returning home from work. He drove a Spyder, the same model car as James Dean. Bob seemed 'serious' in his suit, and now in t-shirt and shorts he was easier to talk to. "Fixing bikes is relaxing for me," he said while measuring a new spoke. After talking about his previous career in the bike industry, Bob asked if I had seen his tree. "The local paper did care of it shortly."

Grandma's Marathon Duluth, MN

Didn't plan on arriving in Duluth, Minnesota the same weekend as Grandma's Marathon. Had a lot of warning the day before the run to "Get out NOW or you'll be trapped!" However, biking through Duluth I got caught up in the downtown. 3 o'clock in the afternoon and I tried to make it 30 miles north to Two Harbors. I got about three miles down the road and stopped to knock at the Congregation Church.

A big bear of a man answers the door and I don't hold out much hope. I'm tired and he listens to me stumble. "Judy, reporter, bike, Wisconsin, sleep, church floor, or I'll even sleep in your garage," I said with big doe eyes.

The door opens behind me and the pastor's wife walks in. "Listen to this," he said and looked at me to start over. I get to the part of the church hall floor and the woman stops me. "Erik, didn't you invite her in to sit down," said his wife Ann as we all stood in the entryway. It was short work and the two quickly decided to take me home.

"You can sleep in our daughter Inga's bed," said Ann about her nine year old who was having a friend visit that night for a sleepover in the basement. Ann, who was in her fifties, had arrived at the church that afternoon with a book and a bottle of wine, hoping to bust Erik out for some time in the sun on the beach. An early celebration, that weekend on their 11th wedding anniversary.

A second marriage for Ann and the third for Erik, each had two grown sons. "Inga is our chance to do this right," said Ann. However, their main challenge is Inga doesn't like having old parents. "Everyone constantly reminds her," said Erik who has a deep gentle voice and gray hair. "A couple of years ago we were at the grocery store and the woman at the register said 'Shopping with your grandpa little lady.' Erik said, "Inga clarified 'I was her father' and that's when the clerk made the correction. She basically admonished Inga and said 'don't talk that way about your grandpa.'" Erik said he was dumbfounded.

Since then, Inga keeps distance between herself and her parents, especially in public. "She'll let me walk with her sometimes," said Ann. "But you can tell she works to keep separate from Erik."

The Nordgren's make me feel very welcome in their home. As a matter of fact, they live right on the corner of the 20th mile of Grandma's Marathon. The next morning they plan on having breakfast on the lawn and cheering the runners.

I wake up that next morning in the bedroom of a nine year old. I've forgotten what it's like. A Lizzie McGuire poster is on the door. I'm not really sure who she is; the latest star from after school TV shows? Posters of lilacs and dolphins hang next to another that says 'It's all about me. Deal with it.'

Other things in the room of a nine-year-old girl: Lizzie

McGuire fruit watermelon lip shine, a photo of a boy with a mustache and glasses drawn in black marker, a stuffed sparkly brown horse sits next to a lava lamp, there's a Highlights magazine, a book by Nicholas Edwards "Santa Paws to the Rescue" and toys that have lasted generations include Lite Brite and Crayola crayons.

By the time I get up, the runners in the half-marathon are already passing the house. The 13-mile runners started at 6:30 in the morning and the full marathoners will begin at 7:30. I've been in three marathons and never really got to see the different levels of competition. Everyone wants to see the Kenyans or their friends. My admiration grew for the wheel chair participants. Their courage makes you want to cry.

Gloved hands throw the wheels on their racing chairs forward. Muscular arms, that ache as they approach mile 22 and lemon drop hill. The sad thing is watching them roll away. Their bright white socks are like two, small reflectors, barely visible under their seats. Their withered legs tucked uselessly beneath their chairs, like long hair pulled back in a braid and ponytail to keep it out of the way.

13 men and four women raced in the wheelchair marathon. Four men broke course records. 41-year-old Krige Schabert won the men's race in one hour 26 minutes. He was one second ahead of the second place finisher. In the women's division Christina Ripp from Illinois beat Cheri Blauwet by one second with a time of 1:46:46.

You should hear what you've been missing!

Philip Mlaker, 18, checking the film at The Comet, a movie cinema in Cook, MN.

The Comet Cook, MN

Left for Cook, Minnesota and that's where I found the historic Comet theatre.

"It's Minnesota's oldest, continuous run movie theatre," said Carol Carlson about the show house that opened in 1939. A pink neon lit sign glows above the building on River Street in downtown Cook. It's the original marquee for the theatre, which now sits above the building that has since been combined with a coffee and gift shop.

John Metsa bought the theatre in August 2000. "People think the place is real funky," he said. "It's like watching a movie in your living room that is if your home was designed in 1940s."

The first movie shown at the Comet was Wizard of Oz. "Gone with the Wind came out at the same time and the 1940's was actually a time when a lot of movie theatres opened," said Metsa.

"He said 'John I remember the opening night - I can't remember the movie but what I can remember is we went down by the Little Fork River to the VFW, which is two blocks north of the theatre, and they took the benches out of the second floor of the veterans club and they marched them down here and put them into the theatre for the first show, because the seats weren't in yet and everybody sat on benches."

We stood on the corner outside the theatre in the sun, Metsa and Carlson recalling stories about the people and the theatre, which they refer to as 'the jewel of Cook.' The pair are in their mid-thirties. Metsa is wearing a loud, Hawaiian shirt and somewhat resembles Robin Williams. Carlson is petite. She wears an orange spaghetti strap top, white pants and with her sunglasses and personality she could pass for Sandra Bullock.

The two walk up and down the side street, pointing out characters in the mural painted on the side of the theatre. The Wizard of Oz, Snow White, Humphrey Bogart in Casablanca, Harrison Ford from Indiana Jones, the ship from Titanic, Marilyn Monroe, Little Mermaid and the shark from Jaws are just some of the faces woven between flowing black reels of film. Carlson is responsible for the drawings which depict a history of the movies at the Comet.

While the Comet is a site for classic films, it also holds a place in Cook history for a story that dates back to the 100 year flood. "In the late 1960's the Little Fork River crossed its banks and water found its way all the way down here," said Metsa pointing to a door going to the stage area on the side of the theatre. "One of my friends, who was young at the time said, when the flood receded he went into the theatre and speared northern pike."

Metsa said the fish got trapped in the theatre, because the grade where the seats are is lower than the street, "so there was still quite a little lake inside the theatre and it had fish swimming around in there."

The Comet has one screen, it measures 24 x 14 feet and there's seating for 135. There is one show nightly, normally at 7 o'clock. Admission is $6 for adults and $4 for children and senior citizens. A small popcorn sells for $2, soda is $1.50 and candy sells for $1.

The entrance to the theatre is on the side of the building. A small glass counter top is full of crafts and clothes, also for sale, hang from the walls. A popcorn machine is hidden behind the register. On the wall is a framed color picture of Judy Garland and there's also a black and white framed photo of Betty Grable. A movie poster of Mae West wearing a skimpy red dress and black feather boa has been laminated on a black board and hangs near the unisex corner bathroom.

The theatre uses a combination of current technology with some vintage pieces. The projector is from the late 1960s, the lenses are from the late 1970s, and the projector bulb is from the 1990s. The actual base on which the projector sits is from 1939.

"The movies come on a series of reels and you have to splice everything," said Carlson who then spins the films onto a 'platter system.' "It would be nice if we were digital, but I don't see that happening unless we get some nice grants within the next couple of years," she said.

Some of the current movies playing at the Comet include the new Batman, Monster in Law, and Star Wars. Carlson is the one who orders the flicks. "It's not the profitable way to do things but it just keeps things going in a small town." When questioned whether she ever made a bad decision in bringing a movie to town, Carlson said it's not the film that decides the success as much as the forecast.

"You know the weather, if it's beautiful there may be 15 people maximum. If it's raining it will be packed." Carlson said she had four people in the audience opening night for Batman. That night I went back for my Comet experience, I was one of three people in the audience. Four, if you count 18 year old Philip Mlaker, he was the one running the projector.

A's are dominant in opening round of SWABA tourney

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team is certainly playing good tournament ball this season.

After reaching the finals of the Plymouth Tournament — the A's are still awaiting word on when and where they will play Cedarburg for the title — Kewaskum easily topped Sullivan 8-1 in the opening round of the annual SWABA (Southeastern Wisconsin Amateur Baseball Association) Tournament last week.

Bob Findley turned in a gem of a pitching effort in the game, giving up just two hits and striking out an even dozen in the seven-inning game. He did have a few control problems, walking five, but he never really got in any serious trouble and was aided by more good defense by his teammates.

Kewaskum scored a single run in the second, two in the third and four more in the fourth to take a 7-1 lead, and then added a single run in the fifth for the final margin.

The A's banged out 11 hits, including two apiece by Steve Ketter, Jake Spaeth and Tim Rowe. Rowe went two for two and scored a pair of runs for the winners.

Player/manager Jason Strobel said Sullivan didn't have the required number of players to start the game, but the A's didn't want to win by a forfeit so they agreed to play.

Their next action in the SWABA event will come Friday, July 8th against the winner of the West Bend Benders and Horicon game. The game will be played at Horicon at 6:30 p.m.

In Rock River action on Sunday afternoon in Horicon, Ketter went 4x6 with a home run and four RBI as the A's outslugged Horicon 14-8.

"He had a home run ... just a solo shot in the sixth," Strobel said about Ketter's day, further reporting Spaeth and Jake Panzer each contributed two hits in the effort. Spaeth also stole two bases and had an RBI, while Strobel's bases-loaded single was good for two RBI.

"We had 16 hits as a team ... we had a lot," Strobel said, reporting, "In the second and the seventh, we batted around." Kewaskum led 7-1 after two innings.

Once again the A's pitching was solid in this game. Jim Ziegler, now 3-2 in Rock River action, got the win. He gave up seven hits and struck out four in five innings of work. Ziegler's ERA (earned run average) is currently under 2, which is very impressive.

Ziegler didn't finish the game because, "He just wanted a little rest," Strobel said, indicating Panzer went the next 2 1/3 innings, and Jeremy Schmidt finished up the game.

"Panzer struggled with the strike zone so we put in Jeremy," Strobel said.

With the win, Kewaskum is 6-5 in the RR and 12-7 overall.

Strobel said Rock River managers were meeting Monday night to determine who will play in the upcoming All Star game that will be held Saturday, July 9th in Neosho. Several A's are expected to be named to that team.

A couple of men with ties to Kewaskum High athletics, Charlie Sparks and Matthew "Ghandi" Gundrum, competed in the Badger State Games competition in Madison this past weekend.

Sparks, who will be a senior at Indian State University in the fall, placed second in the men's 29-and-under discus throw, and his effort of 184 feet and 2 inches (184-2) was a personal best for him.

Luke Sullivan, a former collegiate standout who reportedly is training to try out for the 2008 Olympics, won the event with a toss of 188-01.

Sparks recently finished 22nd in the recent NCAA Division I discus competition held in California after having a very successful season at ISU where he is majoring in construction management. At the NCAA competition, Sparks' best toss sailed 173-3.

When he was in high school, Sparks on the WIAA Division 2 discus his junior year and placed second in the event his senior season.

Gundrum, who currently coaches the weight events for Kewaskum High, placed 13th out of 17th in the discus. His best toss measured 119-0.

The Badger State Games is an amateur sporting event for state residents. It is always held the last weekend in June.

After two losses, Indians rebound with big efforts

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The roller coaster season continued for the Kewaskum High varsity baseball team last week.

After winning five straight Eastern Wisconsin Conference games, the Indians lost three in a row, then rebounded with a convincing win over Sheboygan Falls before losing the first two games they played last week.

Monday's 2-1 loss to host New Holstein was a heartbreaker for Kewaskum because it went 11 innings before the Huskies broke the 2-2 tie.

Tuesday, it was payback time as far as the Campbellsport Cougars were concerned. After losing by 10 runs in their first meeting, Campbellsport downed the host Indians 7-3, using a fast start and the strong right arm of Nick Whitty for the victory, putting the Cougars' EWC record at 10-1. With the loss, the Indians dropped to 6-7 in the EW and 10-8 overall.

Campbellsport got after Josh Meyer early, scoring a pair of runs in the first and four more in the second, highlighted by Cameron Salter's three-run home run.

"Only four of their runs were earned," KHS Coach Dave Don-ath said, reporting Salter's shot came after two outs on a 3-and-2 count. "We threw him a 3-and-2 fastball, and he knew what to do with it."

Kewaskum's talented sophomore Matt Parrent got the Indians on the board in the bottom of the second. He hit a two-run shot off of Whitty.

Parrent also had a double, while Meyer, the Indians' leadoff man, went 2x4 in the contest.

For the winners, Austin Sarauer had a pair of hits, which produced three runs.

In Monday's game, Meyer was also the losing pitcher, after pitching just one third of an inning. The senior right-hander gave up three hits and one run.

Jon Roskopf started and went three innings, giving up three hits, striking out one and walking five. Abe Foerster came on in relief, going a full seven innings. His line score included seven hits, one run, which was not earned, while striking out three and walking two, both intentional.

Kewaskum broke the scoreless deadlock with a run in the top of the fourth. Ross Stockhausen drew a walk to get things started, then when Tim Muellenbach tried to pick him off and the ball got away from the first baseman, Stockhausen darted to second.

Jon Olla, followed with a single, advancing Stockhausen another 90 feet, then Parrent came through with a clutch RBI single.

New Holstein tied the game in the fourth, on a double by catcher Adam Olig after Kewaskum successfully pulled off a 6-4-3 double play.

Then zeroes went up on the board for the next five innings before the Huskies scored. After back-to-back singles, Donath signed for an intentional walk to load the bases, and then brought in his infield and outfield for a possible play at the plate. Andre Depies, who got the pitching win after going the final two innings, crossed up the Indians when he hit the ball over the right fielder's head to score Muellenbach.

Kewaskum got just five hits off Muellenbach and Depies, while the Huskies had a total of 13.

"They had a lot of base runners... I think it was 19," Donath said, reporting the Huskies left the bases loaded four times.

"It was a good ball game," the coach said, noting Stockhausen made an excellent, diving play at first base with runners at first and second, snuffing out one of New Holstein's early scoring chances.

In games played Thursday and Friday, the Indians needed just five innings to put away host Roncalli and Plymouth.

In Thursday's game, the Indians scored at will, beating the Jet 18-4 in a game shortened by the 10-run "mercy rule."

Abe Foerster got the win and is now 4-3 on the year. He struck out four and walked one. He gave up 10 hits and three earned runs.

There was plenty of offensive support, with Meyer going 4x5, leading off four innings and getting on base all four times and stealing four bases.

"When your leadoff man gets on, it makes a difference," Donath said, reporting Jon Olla went 2x4 with three runs scored and three RBI. Also, Chad Piwoni was 2x3, with a double and a pair of RBI.

"The rest all had one hit," Donath said, noting Jet starter Matt Rodewald lasted just 3 1/3 innings.

"We started off with a bang (against Plymouth)," Donath said about the 17-4 rout Friday night, which started with the Indians sending 12 men to the plate in the first inning, resulting in seven runs.

After a walk to Josh Meyer and a fielder's choice, Dan Shea singled, Olla tripled (2 runs), Parrent, Stockhausen and Logan Staeger all singled. Piwoni followed with a sacrifice fly scoring a run, then after a walk and strikeout, Scheel doubled two more runs in.

The second inning was pretty much the same, as the Indians had four straight singles, pushing four more runs home.

Losing pitcher James Kelling only lasted for one out in the first inning.

Meyer (4-4) got the win, yielding five hits and three earned runs. He struck out five and walked a pair.

Stockhausen was the hitting star, going 4x4, with three RBI and a solo home run in the top of the third.

The 2-2 week gives the Indians an 8-7 record in the EWC (with six games remaining). When he was asked if his team still has a chance for the title, Donath said, "No, Campbellsport is still sitting at one loss."

"We're still hitting in the neighborhood of .343 as a team," Donath said, reporting the Indians have only been held to less than 10 hits four times.

KHS is 12-8 overall.

Women have an opportunity to improve skills in outdoor activities

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Turkey hunting ... trap shooting ... archery ... and many other outdoor activities aren't just for men anymore. Women are getting involved, too, and the Gateway Gobblers, an area chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation, is putting together a program called Women in the Outdoors, which will be held Saturday, July 23rd and is designed to teach women new skills in a wide variety of outdoor activities.

"Different chapters offer different things," Jim Roe, a member of the Gateway Gobblers, said earlier this week, explaining local groups can select any courses they choose. "We're a chapter of the Turkey Federation. This is what we do."

Roe said five women have been involved in planning the July event, which is being held at the West Bend-Barton Sportsman's Club on Trap Shoot Lane near Hwy. D, between West Bend and Kewaskum. Carol Roe is working along with Pam Ludwig from Campbellsport, Jean Ott, who lives in the Town of Wayne, Rebecca Hackbarth of Adell, and Debbie Mantz.

"We've had some (programs) in the past. This is the first time the ladies have gotten involved," Rose said.

The event, which is open to women aged 14 and up, will provide opportunities for women to learn new skills and to meet other women who are interested in the outdoors.

There are 10 courses being offered on the 23rd, including trap shooting/sporting clays, cold weather dressing/first aid survival, archery, ATV safety, Thi Kung, which is a Chinese therapeutic movement; outdoor cooking, game calling, trailer backup, compass reading, using a GPS, which is a method to pinpoint locations which are good hunting spots, and rifle and pistol shooting.

Roe said in most cases, the courses will be taught by area residents who have expertise in the specific areas.

Carol Utke and Ludwig are teaching the outdoor cooking, according to Roe, who said a person from Midwest Shooting Supply is teaching the GPS class, Ott is teaching the cold weather dressing, and members of the West Bend-Barton Sportsman's Club are teaching trap shooting and sporting clays.

Steve Mantz is teaching turkey calling, and Mid Cities Motorsports will provide four-wheelers and helmets. Shamrock Archery will bring bows and provide the archery instruction.

Women have the opportunity to sign up for five different classes or courses, which will be one hour in length. The registration fee is $35 if paid by July 16th and $40 after that day. (Checks are to be made out to Gateway Gobblers.

The fee includes lunch, use of equipment, program materials, a one-year subscription to the Women in the Outdoors magazine and a Women in the Outdoor gift.

Registration will be held from 8:30 to 8:45 on the 23rd, and after a welcome and introductions, the first class will run from 9 to 10 a.m. The day will conclude by 3:30 p.m.

Brochures, complete with entry forms, were given out on the J.A.K.E.S. Fishing Day and are available at other sporting and fishing shops. For those with questions on the event, contact Hackbarth at 262-626-8144.

"We'd like to get 40 women if we could," Roe said, indicating there are already seven signed up for the event.

Hon-E-Kor golfers compete in tournaments elsewhere

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Several area members of Hon-E-Kor Country Club hit the tournament trail last week, playing in events held at Yahara Hills near Madison and at Rock River Hills GC in Horicon.

Ethan Geidel, who will be a freshman at Kewaskum High School this fall, shot rounds of 73 and 80 for a 153 total, placing him in a tie for 23rd in the Wisconsin PGA Junior Tour event at Yahara Hills.

There were 116 golfers in Geidel's division for boys from 13 to 15 years of age. The winning score was a 137.

Jason Jahnke, the MVP of the Kewaskum High team this past spring, struggled in the Madison event. He finished 113th out of 134, with his 36-hole total of 170. Jahnke started out with an 82 and followed that round with an 88.

Playing in the tournament at Rock River Hills on June 22, Jahnke came back strong, carding a 35-39-74, which placed him in a tie for fourth out of 26 golfers who are from 16 to 18.

Jeff Anderson, who is the son of Hon-E-Kor club champion Craig Anderson, finished tied for third in the boys 14-15 division with his 4-over-par 74.

Geidel's 80 put him in a three-way tie for ninth place.

The winning score in this division was 69.

Competing in the girls' 16-18 division, Katie Korth fired a 97 on nines of 49 and 47. The 97 gave her second place out of the six girls in the competition. The winner posted a 90.

After finishing third in scoring in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, junior Jason Jahnke was named as the MVP of this year's Kewaskum High golf team.

Jahnke and others were honored at a dinner held Sunday evening. Chad Piwoni and Luke Koch were named as the team captains, while Adam Lehnerz was honored for being the best team player and sophomore Andy McDonald was selected as the Most Improved Player on the squad.

The Indians finished a strong second in the EWC by finishing in second place in five of the seven mini-meets. They were third once, fourth once, and then slipped a bit in the 18-hole conference tournament held at the Quit Qui Oc Golf Course in Elkhart Lake.

Still the Indians had enough points (23) to claim second place. Plymouth ran away with the title, taking first place in six of the mini-meets and the EWC Tournament for 11 points.

KHS Coach Glenn Eischstedt was unavailable for comment on Tuesday.

Jahnke, who plays in a lot of summer tournaments and was involved in a major Junior competition held at Yahara Hills CC in Madison on Monday, had two rounds in the 30s this spring, including a 1-under-par 34 in the opening meet held at Meadow Links in Manitowoc. He averaged 40.4 in all conference action, including the 45-40-85 he shot in the EWC Tournament.

Other letter winners for the year included seniors — Koch, Lehnerz and Josh Riebe; junior — Piwoni; and

Koch and Riebe were the only other players to play in all of the EWC meets. Koch averaged 42.3 in the EWC, while Riebe's mark was at 44.2. One score in the high 50s marred his average.

The Indians reached two of their team goals, taking second in the EWC and qualifying for the Division 2 sectional tournament. Unfortunately, the season came to a sudden halt when the Indians wound up eighth out of nine teams in the sectional held at New Berlin Hills. Piwoni had the low round that day, an 84.

In other invitations, Kewaskum's best finish was a third place (out of nine teams) in the Marshland Invitational at Rock River Hills and a fourth place (out of 16) in the annual Brown-Port Tournament held at Hawthorne Hills.

Kewaskum loses three seniors, Koch, Lehnerz and Riebe, but Jahnke and Piwoni return, along with Scheel, who played in about half the varsity meets. Help will be coming from Scott Rohlinger's junior varsity team which finished a remarkable 41-1 in EWC play to win the unofficial JV title.

A couple seniors (Lehnerz and Adam Schweder), eight juniors (Eric Cain, Brandon Faber, Jake Junk, Nate Kenworthy, Jeff Paulus, Piwoni, Zach Wollner and Josh Wolfenberg) and five sophomores (Jack Breese, McDonald, Ryan Nurnberg, Scheel and Jon Wicklund) helped compile this fine record. It was the fifth straight year KHS has won the JV title.
