Local deer hunters have productive opening weekend

Hugo Straub of Kewaskum shows two deer he bagged during the opening weekend hunt. Straub was hunting with his son, Steve, who also took a doe. Hugo's doe was estimated at 140 pounds and his eight point buck was around 190 pounds. According to DNR hunters during the opening weekend of gun season, hunters harvested about the same number of deer as 2004's opening weekend. Please see page 23 for a complete article and highlights from local hunters.

Village will hold budget hearing Monday; one cent tax rate increase proposed

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Village of Kewaskum residents shouldn't notice too much of a difference in their 2006 tax bill from 2005. The Kewaskum Village Board will present a balanced budget showing only a one cent increase in the tax rate for 2006 to taxpayers at the Budget Hearing on Monday, November 28.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt will be the first to say, it wasn't easy to keep his pencil that sharp. Because the legislature and the Governor have imposed a levy limit freeze for municipalities, Schmidt and Deputy Clerk Janet Knops needed to shave $231,000 from various departmental accounts.

"We went through the budget, line by line, pulling things from $5 to $115,000," said Schmidt.

Under the state mandated levy limit, a municipality may increase their levy by two percent over the previous year's levy or by a percent provided by the state, taking into account the net amount of new construction. The Village of Kewaskum's percent was 5.7% meaning the village could add $71,884 to the levy. However, in order to receive over $30,000 in expenditure restraint money from the state, the village could only increase the levy by 5.3%. At the end of the day, a levy of $1,333,232 will be collected.

The total tax rate for village residents is set to be $21.25 per $1,000 of property value. Of that total amount, $6.61 will go to the village, $9.40 will go to the school district, $1.60 will go to Moraine Park, $3.43 will go to the county and .21 will go to the state.

Village residents will have an opportunity to ask questions about the budget by attending the budget hearing that will start at 7 pm on Monday, November 28 at the Municipal Building meeting room.

Help needed for Statesman's Christmas tabloid

The Statesman will again be publishing their annual Christmas tabloid. It will appear in the December 15th edition. The staff of The Statesman asks their subscribers for submissions.

In our fast-paced world, so many family traditions have been forgotten and buried in the archives. We would like to resurrect some of them, but can only do so if you send us your story. We prefer your Christmas memories or stories to be emailed or typed and dropped off. Articles that are illegible cannot be considered.

Once again we will publish "Letters to Santa." All children should know Santa subscribes to our newspaper!

What holiday experience would be complete without your favorite holiday recipes to share with our readers? If your Christmas recipe brings "Joy" to your family, why not spread it around?

We ask that everyone who submits items enclose their name, address and phone number in case there is a question with your submission.

Please hurry, all items must be in to our office by December 1st. Items can be mailed to The Statesman, PO Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040. Emailed to newsroom@kewaskumstatesman.com.

If you care to drop off your submission visit our office at 355 Main Street, Kewaskum. We can only accept actual photographs or emailed photos in TIFF format. Our 2005 holiday issue can only be the "best ever" with your help!

COMMUNITY

Friends offering Memorial Wreath

The Friends of Kewaskum have decided to once again give local residents the opportunity to take part in the Memorial Lights that have become an annual holiday tradition.

The idea of the lights began years ago to help fund the Christmas Parade through the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, who sponsor the annual holiday festivity.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber have graciously offered to turn over this annual fund-raiser to the Friends of Kewaskum, who plan on donating all proceeds back into the community.

The Friends will erect the Memorial Wreath, keep track of the number of lights sold to be lit, and make a list of donations signifying who donated the light and for whom the light memorializes.

The Memorial Lights have always been a significant way to recognize those we love who will not be able to share the holidays with us this season.

The Memorial Wreath will be placed adjacent to the Kewaskum Statesman at 355 Main Street. The Statesman staff has agreed to maintain the wreath, turn on the lights as they are sold, and keep a list of the names that will be published in the newspaper closer to the Christmas holidays.

The cost of each light is $10 and it is hoped that at least 200 lights will shine throughout the holidays to remind us of our loved ones.

To purchase a light on the Memorial Wreath, please fill out the coupon on this page and mail it with your donation to The Statesman, P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040 or feel free to drop it off and view the Memorial Wreath at 355 Main Street.

Please make checks out to The Friends of Kewaskum. Thank you for making the holiday a little brighter.

Santa mail box at PO

Members of the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club wish to inform all area youngsters that it is time to begin preparing your "wish list" and letter to Santa. Santa and his elves enjoy very much hearing from all children.

After Thanksgiving and until Wednesday, December 14th, a special mailbox will be available in the Kewaskum Post Office lobby ready to receive all those special letters. No stamp is required on these Santa letters placed in Santa's personalized mailbox. Remember Santa is very busy checking his list and making toys, please only send one letter to him and send it early.

Santa and his elves wish to give each letter special attention and hope to hear from many children. Be sure to include your first and last name and address when writing to Santa. Santa and Rudolph look forward to visiting the Kewaskum area real soon. HO! HO! HO!

Auburn reduces tax levy 3% New recycling procedure for residents

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Town of Auburn residents will notice a tax decrease when their tax bills come in the mail towards the middle of December. Auburn officials reduced their 2006 tax levy by three percent from 2005's figures. Mild increases in state aid for transportation, recycling and shared revenue helped residents see the decrease.

Cost for running the Town of Auburn stayed the same while the town decided to spend less on roadwork for the year. No monies were spent on equipment; 2003 was the last year money was budgeted for equipment.

Spending for public safety increased by $7,600. The steep increase is due to the Kewaskum Fire Department fire/rescue service contract going up. The increase comes because of the Village of Kewaskum hiring a full-time fire chief. Kewaskum is charging the town $58,453 for fire/rescue services. Kewaskum shares responsibility for service to Auburn with Campbellsport Fire Department. The Village of Kewaskum has applied for a grant to pay the chief's salary and if the grant is awarded, the town may receive a portion of the contract money back.

Town residents will share a balanced budget of $496,481. This roughly equates to a resident with their property valued at $100,000 to pay $227.56 in town taxes. Town clerk, Bonnie Berg stated that residents of the town who live in the Kewaskum School District will also see savings on their school tax rate. The town's assessed value is $142,945,350. This is an increase of $3,479,750 from 2005.

Berg wanted to alert taxpayers in the township to be aware of the new recycling stickers that will be enclosed with the tax bills this year. Because of increased problems with non-town residents using the town recycling center to drop off bulk waste, the town board voted to have all town residents place stickers on the inside of car windows to identify themselves as town residents. Each household will receive two stickers. Residents with questions should contact a town supervisor or call the town hall.

Non-residents found using the recycling center illegally will receive citations. Chairman Merle Laatsch urged residents to watch out for non-residents using the recycling center. He stated that if non-residents are using the facility that will increase the cost for town residents.

Bud Discher of Di-Man Systems addressed the board on updating the town's computer equipment. Current equipment is approaching five years old and needs updating. Supervisors told Discher to work with the town clerk and treasurer to update as needed.

The town has also approved a resolution to apply for a TRIP funding grant to repair Mill Pond Road. The town will be assisted in paying for the project with the Village of Campbellsport. Laatsch says the town will have to pay for their portion and if the grant is approved, the state will reimburse the town. He thought it was very probable that the town would receive the grant.

Fatal fiery crash has Sheriff's Dept. stumped

The Washington County Sheriff's Department is continuing their investigation into a fatal fiery traffic accident that occurred in the Town of West Bend Tuesday, November 22, before 9:30 pm.

A passerby found the crash and when deputies arrived on the scene the vehicle was fully engulfed in flames. West Bend Fire Department extinguished the flames.

Three occupants of the vehicle perished in the fire. The Washington County Medical Examiner will be conducting autopsies to confirm identification of the occupants.

Agnesian Health Care ready to open new Campbellsport Clinic facility

CAMPBELLSPORT- The new 5,700-square-foot, one-story Campbellsport Clinic facility at 350 E. Sheboygan Street, Campbellsport will open on Monday, November 28 with Thomas Fabricius, MD, family medicine physician, and Patricia Hayes, PA, physician assistant.

The new state-of-the-art facility offers enhanced medical imaging and laboratory services. It also features nine exam rooms, a spacious waiting room with a special children's area and expanded parking.

Physicians with the Campbellsport Clinic, a satellite office of the Fond du Lac Regional Clinic, see many new prospects inherent with the new facility.

"I'm very excited about this new clinic," Dr. Fabricius says. "It will add a lot to Campbellsport, and I'm very pleased to be part of this community. I enjoy my role as physician to the entire family, and accept the responsibilities and rewards that come from this. Patty and I look to the new clinic to reinforce the quality of healthcare experience that you receive locally."

Hayes agrees. "This new beautiful facility will allow us to provide more complete healthcare services in a very efficient medical facility," says Hayes. "It offers more convenient access and will be available to more patients in the area so they do not need to travel elsewhere for these healthcare services."

Kettle Moraine YMCA opens at W.B. River Shores

WEST BEND- The Kettle Moraine YMCA is excited to open a state-of-the-art center at the River Shores development in West Bend.

The Kettle Moraine YMCA at River Shores is located at 705 Village Green Way, West Bend, WI (the former West Bend Company).

The official ribbon cutting ceremony with the West Bend Chamber of Commerce will take place on Tuesday, November 29 at 4:00pm. The Kettle Moraine YMCA at River Shores opened for operation on Monday, November 21, 2005.

The Kettle Moraine YMCA is excited to offer a center that focuses on adults who are interested in changing their lifestyle; physically, spiritually and mentally. The philosophy and programming of the Kettle Moraine YMCA at River Shores will incorporate one-on-one wellness coaching and a holistic approach to wellness. The mission of this center is to actively engage health seekers in positive lifestyle changes through a multi-faceted process toward higher levels of wellness.

One of the programs that members can participate in (at no additional cost) is The Coach

Approach™, a YMCA exercise support process designed to teach new and returning exercisers how to start and stick with an exercise program. The member will be paired up with a Personal Wellness Coach who will help him or her:

- Kick the inactivity habit
- Build their success as an exerciser

- Stay on track even when their schedule throws a curve ball

Jon Lange, Executive Director of the Kettle Moraine YMCA said that the 13,500 square-foot YMCA at River Shores will focus on attracting individuals "who are intimidated about walking into a (traditional) YMCA. This center will be geared toward assisting the adult who has had a hard time starting and sticking to a healthier lifestyle."

Membership will be reciprocal between both locations of the Kettle Moraine YMCA. For more information please contact the YMCA at 262-334-3405.

PEOPLE

Volunteer Honored for Faithful Service

Cedar Community volunteer Constance Jones has been honored as one of six Faithful Servant Award recipients by the Christian Stewardship Foundation, Inc. in a ceremony held Tuesday, Oct. 25 at the Italian Community Center, Milwaukee. The annual award is given by CSF to those volunteers "who exhibit service beyond expectation, integrity, humility, team work, service to others and commitment to improving the quality of life through their respective ministries."

Connie's service at Cedar Community began in 1997, when her mother was a Cedar Lake Health Care Center resident. Connie would commute regularly from Chicago to stay by her mother's side, often reading to her. When a nurse commented she wished more residents had someone to read to them, Connie took action.

Her weekly reading group, "Reading and Reminiscing" evolved into an opportunity for residents to hear Connie read to them, but also share their own stories. Connie continued her weekly commute to share time with a growing number of residents, and even began baking treats to complement each week's theme.

After her mother's death in 1998, Connie moved to the West Bend area and continued her volunteer service at Cedar Community, becoming an Abider's minister for dying residents and their family members. She also hosted travelogues, sharing her love of travel and photography, and in 2003 completed training as a Stephen Minister.

In 2004, she journeyed to St. Louis, Mo. to receive a week of training to become a Stephen Ministry Leader, and has since helped recruit and train dozens of other dedicated volunteers. Connie now serves as a back-up lay minister, and recently served on an advisory council to help develop Cedar Community Hospice. A member of St. Lucas Lutheran Church in Kewaskum, Connie leads Caring Hearts Outreach Program, and is active with choir and many other programs.

The Christian Stewardship Foundation, Inc. is a Christian community foundation incorporated in 2000 by area business and community leaders. Led by a local Christian board of directors and staff, CSF provides education and gift planning vehicles to Christians, who in turn will be equipped to give more effectively and efficiently to worthy ministries and organizations. Cedar Community is a not-for-profit, church-affiliated leader in providing superior health care, education, rehabilitation and senior housing to over 1,000 residents. Cedar Community is ranked among the nation's top 100 largest not-for-profit senior housing providers. For more information, visit their website at: www.cedarcommunity.org.

Water quality lecture at UWWC

Victoria Harris, a Water Quality and Habitat Restoration Specialist with the University of Wisconsin Sea Grant Institute will be the guest speaker on Thursday, December 1 as UW-Washington County presents its fifth lecture in the Nature and You series. The lecture, Great Lakes Water Quality, begins at 7pm in Room 228. Admission is free and everyone is welcome to attend. No reservations are needed.

The one-hour lecture will include discussion of the causes and consequences of water quality problems with the Great Lakes. Ms. Harris will also explain how we can prevent water pollution by reducing runoff and limiting coastal development.

Harris holds a BS and MS in Environmental Science from the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay. She has been involved professionally in water resource research, planning and management for over 20 years. Her background includes 17 years as a water resource planner and policy analyst at the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources-Northeast Region and as a Biologist for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. She has been with the UW Sea Grant program since 1999.

The Wisconsin Sea Grant Institute is part of a nationwide network of university-based programs that studies and shares research on the Great Lakes systems. It serves as a bridge between government, academia, industry, scientists and private citizens and is dedicated to enhancing the quality of coastal waters of Lakes Michigan and Superior.

The purpose of the NATURE and YOU lecture series is to provide fundamental information and a better understanding of environmental issues that are of interest to the community. Area officials involved with town and county planning are encouraged to attend. More information is also available on the campus website at www.washington.uwc.edu/events/lectures. All lectures are held in Room 228, which is located in the Collins Science Wing in the upper level of the campus at 400 University Drive in West Bend.

A human being sheds skin continually, replacing it with an entire new outer layer every 28 days.

Wisconsin's Trapping Tradition

The Evening with Nature Series at the Kettle Moraine State Forest-Northern Unit continues with "Wisconsin's Trapping Tradition." The program will be held on Thursday, December 8, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Wisconsin has a rich history associated with trapping fur bearing animals. Many of the first European entrepreneurs came to this region in search of rich pelts from such animals as beaver, otter, mink and ermine. This quest for wealth in furs opened up much of North America to trade with the Native Americans and to the exploration by other curious Europeans. It also led to the near extinction of some animals like the beaver. Today because of wise, science-based management, most fur bearers have healthy populations and good habitats in which to live.

Earl Klippel of the Wisconsin Trappers Association will provide a brief history of trapping in Wisconsin and cover what role tapping plays in today's resource management of fur bearers. He will also provide a brief introduction to what it takes to be a trapper today.

For further information or directions to the Ice Age Visitor Center, please contact Jackie Scharfenberg, Forest Naturalist. She may be reached at (920) 533-8322, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

25 Years Ago

November 21, 1980

After an one-and-a-half hour public hearing filled with voices of opposition, the Kewaskum Village Board Monday night voted unanimously, 7-0, against rezoning the Kleinschay property at 1338 Midland. The house was to have been used in expansion of the Exodus House Transition Care Facility. The half-way house for recovering alcoholics would have been increased from 16 to 24 beds.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt presented the preliminary budget for 1981 at Monday night's village board meeting. After a trimming in almost all departments, Schmidt presented a budget of $870,660.00. Schmidt said the approximate tax rate will be $28.49 per thousand, a 20% increase over last year figure of $23.63 per thousand.

Kewaskum Kiwanis Soil Conservation awards for 1980 went to Keith Gauger, Farmington township, and Merlin Volm, West Bend township. West Bend Kiwanis Wildlife Conservation awards went to Dr. Charles Ogi and James Reigle, Kewaskum township, and Walter and Roger Neumann, Kewaskum township.

Dennis Krueger, #83, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Krueger of Kewaskum, played split end for the Northwestern College Trojans of Watertown. The Trojans finished with a 5-2-1 mark this year. Dennis is a freshman and a 1980 graduate of Northwestern Preparatory School in Watertown.

A daughter, Brooke Lynnette, was born to Richard and Heidi Fellenz, West Bend, on November 14. A daughter was

The Indian weather prophet has a startling report: "The forest trees are dying slowly this fall, the corn husks are thin, the goose's wishbone is high and very wide, all of which are sure indication of a short and mild winter."

New fine arts opportunities at UWWC

Two new exciting Fine Arts programs for middle and high school students are being offered at UW-Washington County (UW-WC). The semester-long programs include a Youth Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Daniel Ackley and a Youth Theatre, which is being offered in conjunction with Musical Masquers of West Bend. Both programs will meet on Saturday, beginning January 14, 2006 and culminate in a May performance in UW-WC's theatre.

Youth Orchestra: The purpose of this new program is to create a fun and exciting learning environment for middle and high school students, that compliments their present involvement in the arts. This classical orchestra will include section coaches along with the director and orchestra manager to provide a more in depth experience for the participants. Participants will meet on Saturday mornings from 9:30am-11:30am beginning on January 14th and culminates in a concert performance at UW-WC on May 23, 2006.

The orchestra will be under the direction of Dr. Daniel Ackley, a member of the music department at UW-WC where he has taught since 1994 and will be managed by Leanne Szafranski who has been teaching flute and piccolo for 15 years. In addition Ms. Szafranski has been a member of the UC-LA orchestra and the Los Angeles Flute Choir.

Auditions are required and can be arranged by contacting Dan Anhalt at 262-335-5218. The fee for this orchestra program is $219.

Youth Theatre: This unique theater course examines all aspects of bringing a play to stage. From play selection to set design to costuming to promotions to acting; the participants will examine each facet of a play's production and put those disciplines into practice and stage their own production! All youth are needed for the show: directors, producers, set makers, costumers, techies, actors, marketers. So bring your talents and "Let's put on a show!" Some of the subject areas to be learned will include set design, set construction, stage blocking, lighting, makeup, acting techniques, directing and marketing/promotion. This course is available to students age 10 to 17.

The primary instructor, John Sancomb of Musical Masquers, will be joined throughout the program by guest instructors based on the area of theatre being reviewed. This program runs on Saturdays from noon to 1:30pm beginning January 14 and the complete semester fee is $189. The final theatrical production will be Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13, 2006. No auditions are required.

Both programs will be held at UW-Washington County, 400 University Drive in West Bend. To sign up or register for orchestra auditions, phone Dan Anhalt at 262-335-5218 or email (danhalt@uwc.edu). You can also register online at http://washington.uwc.edu/community/continuing_ed.html

Krause brothers are all revved up about Kewaskum Motorcars Sales & Service Brothers, Dan and Tony Krause are ready to help with all your automotive needs.

Kewaskum Motorcars now occupies the former Starfire Motors on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum

With his foot held secure on the gas pedal, Tony Krause is quickly picking up speed. As the owner of Kewaskum Motor Cars, Krause is revved up to help customers with all of their automotive needs.

"That's the nice thing about this town, that everyone is so close and they know everyone else," Krause said. "I really enjoy working for people and helping people."

"We are a one-stop shop," Krause said. "We want our customers to know that we are the best in the business, repeat customers and customer relations are the most important ways to build our business."

"I also think Kewaskum is really growing and needed another repair shop." "We figure there are 30 repair shops in West Bend with 30,000 people and in Kewaskum there are only four repair shops. People have told me that they greatly appreciate that we moved into town because they think the town needs it." Krause brought his experience with him. Four years ago, he owned a used car lot in Lannon for two years. "I liked it, but the location was bad and it interfered with things for my family. I needed more flexibility, I was also looking for a bigger space for my other business, Outdoor Specialists, so this place really worked in my favor."

At the same time, Krause's brother, Dan was looking for a new opportunity. For 10 years he worked as a service writer at Goodyear in West Bend. Plus, Krause's older brother, Eddie owns Krause Automotive in West Bend. And, the Krause brother's uncle was a mechanic for 15 years. The automotive business is in their blood.

Kewaskum Motor Cars has been working hard since September to open its doors. Currently Krause has 18 cars on his lot and hopes to increase his fleet to 30.

"We are buying from big dealers or wholesalers, once and a while, we go to the auction," Krause said. "We can sell you a budget line car, which most dealers won't even keep on the lot. That's the whole philosophy of a used car dealership. You won't find a car on a dealer lot for $5,000 and under."

Krause has a staff of three full-time employees and has already sold 12 cars.

"I enjoy doing multiple things in one day. I can be a salesman, account rep, or work on a car all in one day. That's what I like about it. I don't have to do the same thing everyday."

Krause enjoys the service work. "I did all the repair work on my own fleet. The average person would be amazed with what tools I own. I didn't have to spend a lot of money to start up the servicing."

He said service work has been consistent. "We can work on 10 cars the building is an old dealership. It is big, so we have plenty of space to work, We can do anything. We can do an oil change on the spot. We can even give the customer a ride home if that's necessary."

Kewaskum Motor Cars

services both domestic and foreign cars. They are located at 1242 Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum and can be reached at 262-626-4499.

The building is also home to Krause's other business, Outdoor Specialist, a landscape and snowplowing company, which Krause started in 1996.

Krause and his wife Angie, the daughter of Diana (Ramthun) Stephen live on a parcel of the old Ramthun family farm just outside the Village. The two have one daughter, Ashley.

Snowstruck: In the Grip of Avalanches
By Jill Fredston

Want to make a lifelong Southerner laugh?

It's really very easy. Call 'em up, say that the temperature's 10 degrees outside and there's twenty inches of snow on the ground.

You may hear a slightly shocked silence, followed by snorting laughter.

Those of us who are used to snow, go to the mall when there's twenty inches of it on the ground. That's why they make snow plows, right? Conversely, a few deep-South Southerners I know stay home when the white stuff is casually mentioned in the weather forecast.

Maybe, though, they have a point. Snow can be fun, but it can also be deadly. What you read about in "Snowstruck: In the Grip of Avalanches" by Jill Fredston may make your blood may run cold.

When Jill Fredston graduated from college and headed for Alaska in 1982, she went with a master's degree in polar studies and ice, and a desire to find a job that put her love of the outdoors to use. Within a short time, she was hired to be the director of the Alaska Avalanche Forecast Center.

The problem was, she knew very little about avalanches.

Acknowledging this, she sought out someone who would teach her what she needed to know. She found Doug Fesler, a New Englander via Illinois, who had come to Alaska decades before, and had taught himself about avalanches by meticulously studying them. Fesler and Fredston became friends, then colleagues, then man and wife.

In this book, Fredston writes about many of the avalanches she remembers, and a few she'd rather forget. She tells stories of people who were buried under snow and survived, and stories of people who lost their lives beneath avalanches of over a billion pounds of snow.

Avalanches, Fredston says, are not the lovely blankets of white that poetry would lead you to believe; they're created by layers of different kinds of snow that work with or against the layer beneath or above it. Weather, wind, and disturbances such as human weight have much to do with avalanches; loud sound - despite what movies tell us - does not. Fredston says there are clues to an avalanche-to-be and there are safety classes available that can help you spot the warning signs. Despite that, many people choose to look the other way and hope that they're not going to get caught.

When you pick up this book to read it, you're going to want to grab your parka, too. That's because author Jill Fredston is so descriptive that you'll be able to hear the wind howl and the snow blow, no matter what it's like outside your window. This book is part science, part biography, part adventure, a little history, and completely exciting. More importantly, "Snowstruck" may save someone's life with the warnings that Fredston so subtly weaves in between her stories.

If you or someone you know is an outdoor enthusiast, "Snowstruck" is a must-read. When it comes to an avalanche, this book could give you a lot more than a Snowball's Chance of surviving.

JOHN N. REISER

John N. Reiser of Denver, N.C., formerly of Allenton, 67, entered eternal peace after a courageous battle with cancer, on Saturday, Nov. 19, 2005 at Lake Norman Regional Hospital surrounded by his loving family.

John was born June 24, 1938 to Elmer A. and Veronica A. (nee Wirtz) Reiser in Fond du Lac. On April 8, 1961, he married Alice M. Kumrow in West Bend, and the couple began a family of their own. John was the founder of Triton Trailers in Hartford. After his retirement, the couple moved to Denver to follow his dreams and love for racing by starting Reiser Enterprises.

Even greater than his love for racing was the love and dedication he had for his family. John will be deeply missed and forever remembered by his parents, Elmer and Veronica Reiser; his cherished wife of nearly 45 years, Alice M. (nee Kumrow) Reiser; five treasured children, Roxanne Konrath and her husband, Paul, Robbie Reiser and his wife, Tracy, Rochelle Priesgen and her husband, Tony, Rhonda McCreedy and her husband, Shawn, and Renee Leeson and her husband, Brian; 11 dear grandchildren, Kristen and Jamie Konrath, Ryan, Reid and Rhett Reiser, Karsyn, Reilly and Mitchell McCreedy, and Jessica, Jennifer and Johnathon Leeson; his special nephew, Marcus Reiser and his wife, Gina; his sister, Lois Schlosser and her husband, Ron; and his brother, Ken Reiser and his wife, Marilyn. He is further survived by other special relatives and many honorable friends. John is preceded in death by his dear sister, Janet Williams.

Visitation with family and friends will be Friday, Nov. 25, 2005 from 3 p.m. to the time of the prayer service at 7 p.m. at Phillip Funeral Home Chapel, 1420 W. Paradise Drive, West Bend. A memorial mass to honor the life of John N. Reiser will be Saturday, Nov. 26, 2005 at 10 a.m. at Resurrection Church, 632 Church St., Allenton, with Father Richard J. Stoffel officiating. Interment will follow Mass on Saturday at Sacred Heart Cemetery in Allenton.

A Memorial Mass was Tuesday, Nov. 22, 2005 at Holy Spirit Catholic Church in Denver, offering celebration to family, friends and business associates in North Carolina of John's life well lived.

The family would like to extend their sincere appreciation for memorials that are made in John's name to the Victory Junction Gang, 4500 Adam's Way, Randleman, NC 27317.

Phillip Funeral Home in West Bend assisted the family.

Pointers For Parents Keeping an Eye on Children's Vision

(NAPS)—Experts report there is a well-documented connection between a child's ability to see and his or her ability to learn and perform well in school.

Parents should understand the basics of children's vision health so they can detect any problems early and address them by seeing an eye doctor.

Tilting the head to one side can be a sign that a child has a vision problem.

Warning signs include:

- Squinting or closing or covering one eye
- Holding a book close
- Losing his or her place while reading
- Headache, nausea or dizziness
- Excessive clumsiness
- Tilting head to one side
- Frequent daydreaming
- Using a finger as a place-mark while reading
- Performing below potential
- Rubbing eyes repeatedly.

"I urge every parent to take his or her child to the eye doctor for regular eye exams," said Andrea Thau, O.D., spokesperson for the American Optometric Association. "There's nothing worse than examining a child who's facing permanent vision loss, and telling the parents that we could have prevented this vision loss if we had seen the child sooner."

PERSPECTIVES

To know or not to know

By Peter Fox
Executive Director for Wisconsin Newspaper Association

Wisconsin's public policy on openness in government is clear and concise, enacted by the Legislature itself. That is why the Wisconsin Newspaper Association (WNA) is taking the unusual step of asking a Dane County judge to permit it to become party to an open records lawsuit pitting the Wisconsin attorney general against two state legislators.

The key question for citizens is, "When does the public have the right to see a draft of proposed legislation?"

To gain an answer, WNA is asking to be allowed to intervene on the public's behalf in the open records case. The motion to intervene was filed Nov. 21 with Dane County Judge Michael Nowakowski, who is hearing the case that began in September.

"This case involves fundamental issues concerning open government in Wisconsin," the filing asserts. "Specifically, this case will decide if legislators, in their discretion, can disclose draft bills to select individuals outside the Legislature and Legislature Reference Bureau while refusing disclosure of those same records to the rest of the public."

The heart of the matter, though, is whether individual Wisconsin legislators are bound to the same open records laws that apply to the rest of government. Frankly, the identity of parties in this suit is of no interest to the WNA. It is not important that the person filing this lawsuit happens to be the attorney general, a Democrat facing a primary election challenge in the 2006 elections; it is not important that the named defendants are two Republican legislators, nor is it important that the bill in question affects "concealed carry" weapons. The important point is that a draft of the bill was reviewed in private by at least one advocacy group.

It is worth noting that the leaders of both the Democrat and Republican parties in the State Senate as well as Gov. Jim Doyle, a Democrat, defend the status quo. That does not make it right.

While the WNA represents Wisconsin's 260 daily and weekly newspapers, it also exists to champion the ideals of a democratic society, which includes a free press and an informed citizenry. Our organization resolutely believes public policy is best served when all citizens have the same access to the same information, and that includes legislative bill drafts.

Basically, draft material can be held in confidence until it is circulated outside the original working group composed of state employees. At that point, the material becomes public. Current legislative practices permit draft legislation to be held in confidence within the direct legislative setting even off-limits to the governor, cabinet secretaries and other officials not directly involved.

But when the decision is made to share a bill draft with one citizen or citizen group, then any "privilege" should expire and all citizens should gain equal access. Special-interest groups should not have privileged access to public business.

When a legislator asks his staff or the staff of one of the legislative service departments to prepare draft legislation, that request and the draft produced generally should be confidential. WNA has no quarrel with that. But when the legislator shares the draft with a lobbyist or a selected few, it should be available to any member of the public who requests it. To suggest otherwise, as some legislators argue in this lawsuit, ignores state law and places the power to define "public" records in the hands of individual legislators. It would give a political advantage to a few. More importantly, it would ignore the mandate established by the Legislature itself.

Perhaps the legislators seeking this unusual power can make a persuasive case that they should have the discretion to choose individuals to work with them privately on proposed legislation. If so, they should introduce legislation to amend the open records law. They wrote the law. They can change it, assuming the governor would sign it into law. They should not be permitted, however, to change the law without a full public hearing and discussion.

- In Your Opinion -

Dear Editor:

I have been wondering how many of you have been giving serious thought to the action taken by the Kewaskum School Board. The price you must pay for the buyout of Wayne Graczyk.

1. You don't buyout employees, you fire.
2. Pay someone to locate a new superintendent.
3. Hire an interim superintendent.
4. Legal fees for Graczyk's buyout?
5. Legal Fees for board member protection?

Add this all together and you are well over $250,000 - - that's a quarter of a million dollars - - yours!!! Do you like it? We do not like it one bit.

Elmer Hallen
a very concerned tax payer

Dear Editor:

I encourage people to consider donating generously to Toys for Tots, Salvation Army and to contact social services to help families celebrate Christmas. I have experienced hardship during the holidays and found it extremely stressful to think of Christmas gifts when there isn't enough money for food and bills.

I once donated to a family before I even thought of having children and it felt really good to play Santa.

Instead of going crazy over pleasing your family and returning your presents, try helping a family to get the meaning of Christmas.

Village Board Recall?

I had recently attended two Village of Kewaskum Board meeting and I was not impressed. I'm talking about how the Village Bd is run. I attended, to show support for my sister and her husband, Debbie and Kurt Schmidt. I'm not sure who is running the Board: it seems to me that Mr. Dan Schmidt is running things and not the Village President Mark Heieser. I would have liked to hear what the Village Board members had to say about running water off the roads into the Schmidt's private pond, but none of them spoke up, ether for or against. Had Mr. Heieser had control of the meeting he would have calmed everyone down and had a discussion, but that didn't happen. The Schmidt's were just there to protect their land, like we all would do, if the was our property involved. The next step is for the attorneys to get involved, this is how the Board is spending your tax money. This was not necessary at all.

SynergyHealth names new president and CEO

Gregory Banaszynski will be the new president and CEO of SynergyHealth in February.

SynergyHealth, Inc. announced today that Gregory A. Banaszynski will join SynergyHealth as president and chief executive officer, effective February 1, 2006. Banaszynski replaces John Reiling who will leave SynergyHealth when his employment agreement ends on January 31, 2006.

"We are very pleased to announce that Greg will join SynergyHealth as president and CEO," said Elaine Shanbrook, chair of SynergyHealth's Board of Directors. "He brings more than 28 years of health-care experience to SynergyHealth and is well qualified to lead the health system into the future."

Wessing named president of farm equipment manufacturers association

More than 535 specialty farm equipment manufacturers, suppliers, marketers and their spouses, met in Las Vegas, NV at the Mirage, October 30 - November 2 to participate in the Farm Equipment Manufacturers Association's 55th Annual Fall Convention.

During the convention, FEMA members elected Jim Wessing, President, Kondex Corporation, Lomira, as 2005-2006 President of the association. Kondex Corporation manufactures engineered cutting systems for the agricultural, lawn care and turf industries.

The Farm Equipment Manufacturers Association is an international not-for-profit trade organization representing more than 300 manufacturers of specialized Banaszynski joins SynergyHealth from Fort HealthCare, Fort Atkinson, WI, where he has served as president and CEO since July 2001. Fort HealthCare is a health system comprised of a 110-bed acute- and subacute-care hospital and seven clinics offering primary and specialty care for patients in the greater Fort Atkinson area. Banaszynski's accomplishments at Fort HealthCare include leading a $40 million hospital expansion and renovation, and the development of the first partnered regional cancer care center with the University of Wisconsin.

Previous experience includes eight years with St. Francis Hospital, Milwaukee, where he served as president from 1994 to 1999, and five years with Louis A. Weiss Memorial Hospital, Chicago, Illinois. Banaszynski also spent several years as Senior Vice President of Samaritan Health Plan, Milwaukee, a network model HMO.

Banaszynski received a master's degree in business administration from Florida State University and a bachelor's degree in business administration from University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee. He is a member of the advisory board of the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee College of Health Sciences, and fellow and Wisconsin president-elect of American College of Health Care Executives.

SynergyHealth's board of directors established a search committee made up of board members, physicians and community leaders in November 2004 to conduct the search for a new health system CEO. "Greg Banaszynski stood out as a lead candidate during our search," stated Greg Miller, chair of St. Joseph's Hospital's board of directors and chair of the search committee. "We were very impressed with his broad healthcare experience and community-minded spirit."

The boards of directors of St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend Clinic, and SynergyHealth ratified the recommendation of the search committee in late October. "We are very pleased to have someone with Greg's leadership skills heading up the health system," said Dr. Gary Herdrich, chief of staff and a member of the hospital's board of directors. "Greg comes to us with a reputation for working well with the medical staff and has been very involved in the communities in which he has lived."

WB Clinic teams with national partner for new orthopaedic center

SynergyHealth West Bend Clinic has announced plans about the recent enhancements to its orthopaedic department, with the development of the new SynergyHealth Orthopaedic Center. Over the past year, West Bend Clinic has been working with the Human Motion Institute, a nationally recognized firm specializing in the coordination and delivery of care related to bones, muscles and joints.

The partnership with Human Motion Institute has focused on providing quality clinical outcomes, optimizing coordination of care and achieving exceptional patient satisfaction results. The new SynergyHealth Orthopaedic Center, located inside SynergyHealth's West Bend and Hartford Clinics, is a comprehensive program that encompasses the complete continuum of orthopaedic care, including prevention, assessment, treatment, surgery and rehabilitation of musculoskeletal injuries.

The Orthopaedic Center consists of six board certified orthopaedic surgeons from a range of specialties, including spine/neck, sports medicine, upper extremities, joint replacement and general orthopaedics. This expansion has included the addition of two fellowship trained orthopaedic surgeons in the past two years, Robert Manz, MD and Kristen Maskala, MD. Both have been involved in developing the Orthopaedic Center.

"Our goal is to make SynergyHealth Orthopaedic Center the premier choice for orthopaedic services in the area. We are excited about the direction of our orthopaedic program and our ability to provide the local community with fast access to the level of care they need," said Dr. Maskala. "From a surgeon's perspective, all of the pieces are in place to provide the highest quality non-surgical, surgical and post-surgical care to our orthopaedic patients."

The development of the Orthopaedic Center also focused on expanding the level of outpatient physical and occupational therapy services offered at the SynergyHealth Rehabilitation Center. New services include a comprehensive sports medicine and athletic training program coordinated by Drs. Manz and Maskala, along with Dr. Gary Herdrich, primary care doctors, athletic trainers and physical therapists. The sports medicine team offers injury prevention education, provides game coverage for area high schools and treats athletes of all ages and levels. They work with local schools and recreation groups and in the past year have organized community educational events for local soccer and basketball players, parents and coaches.

SynergyHealth (www.synergyhealth.org) is a regional health system serving the greater Washington County community. St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend Clinic, and SynergyHealth Foundation are members of SynergyHealth. WINTER PARKING

The Winter Parking Restrictions and Snow Emergency Parking Restrictions go into effect at mid-night (12:00 a.m.) on December 1, 2005.

Municipal Code Section 90-96(c) Night Parking Restrictions, reads as follows: Signs have been erected at or reasonably near the corporate limits as provided in Section 349.13, Wisconsin Statutes, no person excepting physicians or licensed emergency vehicles on emergency calls, shall park or stop any vehicle on any public street or highway within the village between the hours of 2:00 A.M. and 6:00 A.M. from December 1, to April 1, 2006, of each year; provided that, notwithstanding such restrictions vehicles, may be parked a period of time not longer than 3 minutes for actually loading or unloading of passengers, and provided further that no other regulation restricting parking as to place, time, or manner violated thereby.

The fine for violating the ordinance is:

$10.00 if paid within five (5) days of the issuance of the parking citation.

$20.00 if paid between six (6) days and before twenty-eight (28) days.

After 28 days, the amount is $30.00 and a notice will be sent to the Motor Vehicle Department to suspend any and all vehicle registrations held by the owner and refuse renewals of the same until the citation is satisfied.

An important fact is the owner of the vehicle is responsible for the payment of the citation whether or not he or she was the operator.

Municipal Code Section 90-96(d) Removal of Illegally Parked Vehicles. This section covers the issuance of citations to and possible removal of such vehicles in violation of this ordinance. In addition to other penalties provided by Section 90-96 of this code, the owner or operator of a vehicle so removed shall pay the cost of the towing and storage.

Something Special from Wisconsin

So you've made your list. You've checked it twice, and you aren't worrying about naughty-or-nice, you just want to get your holiday shopping done. But what do you get for the person who's hard to buy for?

Books make good gifts, you know. To make it easier for you, here are some good book-gift suggestions:

For your brother, the beer aficionado: Brand-new from Badger Books, pick up "The Miller Beer Barons" by Tim John. Everything you ever wanted to know about Miller Beer is here, including lots of pictures and tons of history to quench anyone's thirst for Wisconsin lore. $19.95 in paperback.

Badger Books also three other new books available this year: "Famous Wisconsin Ghosts and Ghost Hunters" by Hanna Heidi Levy and Brian G. Borton ($16.95 paperback); "Northern Frights, Second Edition" by Dennis Boyer (also $16.95 in paperback); and "True Crime in Titledown USA" by Tracy C. Ertl and Mike R. Knetzger. If you're familiar with the "Famous Wisconsin" series, you'll want this next installment. If you're a fan of spooky stories, Boyer's book is a must-have. CSI fans are never going to want to stop reading the true crime book.

For your neighbor, the farmer: "Every Farm Tells a Story" by Jerry Apps (Voyageur Press) is absolutely packed with memories of family farms from long-ago. Nostalgia buffs are going to love this book, and the old-time pictures make it a browser's delight. Hardcover, $16.95.

Also from Voyageur Press, you're going to want to find "Wisconsin Starwatch" by Mike Lynch for your budding astronomer. This book includes star lore, science, and maps that are specially made for Wisconsin starwatching. Its spiral-bound cover is easy-to-use, too. $24.95 in hardcover.

For your favorite historian: "Wisconsin: Land of Change" by Shiela Reaves (American Historical Press) is a big, beautiful coffee-table-sized book filled with pictures and lots of hard facts about Wisconsin and its' history, going back to the beginning - literally! This book covers Wisconsin from the Ice Age to just a few years ago, and includes a handy Wisconsin history timeline. At just $34.95 in hardcover, it's a steal of a gift. For the Packer Fan: And who's not? "The Ice Bowl" by Ed Gruver (McBooks Press) is about the game that no Packer Backer can ever forget: December 31, 1967. There are diagrams in this book, as well as pictures and memories of the people who were there. Look for this green and be sure to wrap it in green and gold. $16.95 paperback

For your mom, who loves to dine out: She's also going to want to drive around Wisconsin when you give her "Café Wisconsin" by Joanne Raetz Stuttgart (University of Wisconsin Press). Not only are addresses and phone numbers included in this fun book, but it also lists the hours that the restaurants are open, a little bit of background on the owners, and a few tasty recommendations. This book is segmented in areas of the state and is just the right size to tuck in a glovebox. $19.95 in paperback.

For the perpetual dieter: "These Are Not Your Husband's Portions" by Susan G. Stein (www.woodplacebooks.com) is going to be a little bit of a challenge to find, but it's worth it. This is a cute book for women that offers a nod toward the old "he-can-eat-anything-why-can't-I?" situation, and any woman who's ever dieted (despite her man) will get a chuckle out of it. $18.95 in hardcover. Here's hoping your holidays are storybook perfect. Season's Readings!

Sheriff's Comments

By Brian K. Rahn
Washington County Sheriff

Safe Winter Driving

Winter is here, and the Washington County Sheriff's Department reminds motorists that winter driving can be hazardous, especially in our area where we normally see a mixture of ice, freezing rain and snow during this time of the year. Driving in Wisconsin during the winter months can be a little tricky and at times extremely dangerous. The Washington County Sheriff's Department reminds motorists to stay safe this winter season by following these tips during adverse winter conditions:

Tips on Safe Winter Driving:

- Always keep your gas tank topped off. When it gets to half, fill it up.
- Pay attention. Don't try to out-drive the conditions. Remember the posted speed limits are for dry pavement.
- Do not travel unless absolutely necessary. If you do have to make the trip, ensure someone is aware of your route of travel.
- Carry a cellular phone. Your cell phone can be used during emergencies and for notifying those expecting your arrival in case there are weather delays.
- Always buckle-up. Your seat belt is the best protection in the event you should be involved in a crash or slide off of the road.
- Clear snow and ice from all windows and lights - even the hood and roof - before driving.
- Leave plenty of room for stopping.
- Leave room for maintenance vehicles and plows - stay back a safe stopping distance.
- Know the current road conditions. For state-wide highway information 24-hours-a-day www.dot.wisconsin.gov/travel/driving-cond.htm or 1-800-ROAD-WIS (762-3947), for a message on road conditions for all areas of the state.
- Use brakes carefully. Brake early. Brake correctly. It takes more time to stop in adverse conditions.
- Watch for slippery bridges, even when the rest of the pavement is in good condition. Bridges will ice up sooner than the adjacent pavement and are prone to black ice.
- Black ice is ice that remains on the roadway that is not subject to direct sunlight. Be careful when driving into shady areas and cautiously slow your vehicle on approach.

• Don't use your cruise control in wintry conditions. Even roads that appear clear can have sudden slippery spots and the short touch of your brakes to deactivate the cruise control feature can cause you to lose control of your vehicle.

• Don't get overconfident in your 4x4 vehicle. Remember that your four-wheel drive vehicle may help you get going quicker than other vehicles but it won't help you stop any faster. Many 4x4 vehicles are heavier than passenger vehicles and actually may take longer to stop. Don't get overconfident in your 4x4 vehicle's traction. Your 4x4 can lose traction as quickly as a two-wheel drive vehicle.

• Do not pump anti-lock brakes. If your car is equipped with anti-lock brakes, do not pump brakes in attempting to stop. The right way is to "stomp and steer!"

• Look farther ahead in traffic than you normally do. Actions by cars and trucks will alert you quicker to problems and give you a split-second extra time to react safely.

• Remember that trucks are heavier than cars. Trucks take longer to safely respond and come to a complete stop, so avoid cutting quickly in front of them.

• Carry emergency supplies.

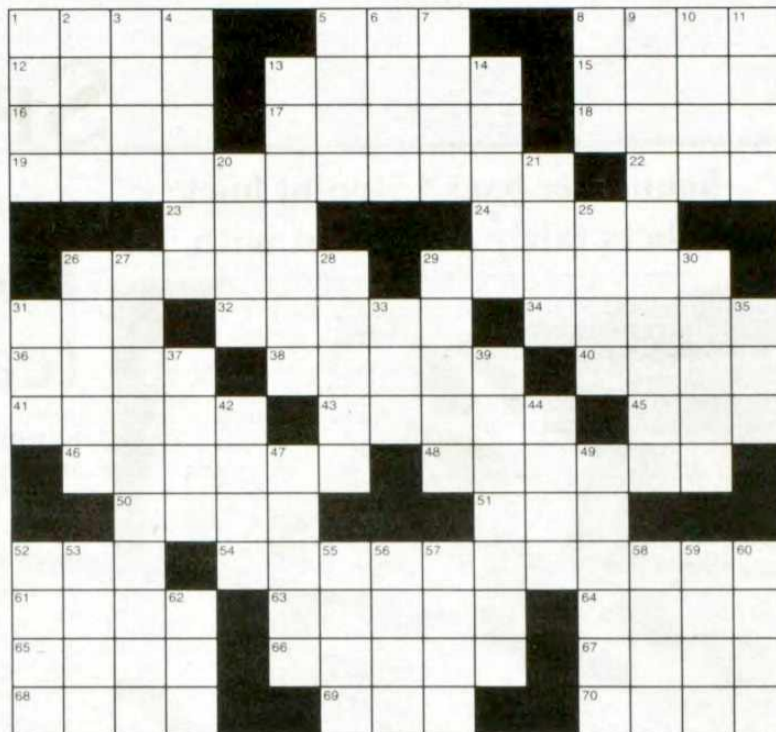

• Go slow!

Schneider bags 15-point buck; numbers fairly consistent with '04

Dan Schneider with his 15 point buck on November 19.

BY JUDY HARLOW

Even without snow, the first weekend of the annual gun deer season produced right around the same kill as last season, according to Al Broecker, the owner of Al's Taxidermy, one of the registration sites in Washington County.

Although the buck kill was down slightly on Sunday, "We had 165 (deer registered) between Saturday and Sunday," Broecker said while taking a short break from his duties late Monday morning.

A breakdown in the total showed 77 bucks were registered on the opening weekend compared with 85 does.

The largest buck, according to Broecker, was a 15-point buck brought in by Daniel Schneider of Kewaskum.

Schneider, 39, said Monday he has been hunting "for 25 years or better," and this was the biggest buck he has shot.

Hunting in the Allenton area by himself, Schneider said he shot the deer on the opening morning. Schneider's deer dressed out at 180 pounds. And was he nervous when he saw the deer? "No, not at first ... but when I shot it then I was," he said, indicating he brought the animal down with one shot.

To preserve the memory, Schneider said he plans to have the shoulder and head mounted.

"There have also been a couple of 12-pointers," Broecker went on, indicating Sunday, Doug Hammes of Campbellsport brought in an 11-pointer, as did Ken Junk. Also Joe Steier of Farmington registered a nice 10 pointer.

"Those are about the biggest ones," Broecker said.

Coincidentally, Broecker's station recorded the exact number of deer, 165, from bow hunters and those using guns during the T-zone season. A breakdown showed 111 deer were killed by bow hunters and 54 during the T-Zone gun season.

The T-zone season was held from Oct. 27th through the 30th this year, according to Broecker, who said the gun deer season ends this Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

From what Broecker has been told by hunters, no serious injuries have been reported in the area.

6-3 Matt Parrent, three letter winners expected to provide scoring punch

Fortunes of KHS basketball team rest on a good start

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum High varsity boys basketball team will certainly not lack height this winter.

The roster includes juniors and seniors standing 6-foot-6 (6-6), 6-4, 6-3-, 6-3, and 6-3, and even the guards who are returning are over 6 feet.

It's not height that coach Glenn Eichstedt is worried about, however. It's more of a case of how the last two seasons, an 0-21 in 2003-04 and a 2-19 (including a 1-13 against Eastern Wisconsin Conference foes), will affect the psyche of the veterans and the newcomers.

"If we get off to a real good start, we'll have a good season, but if we don't, then I think we'll have to overcome all the last two years of losses," Eichstedt said. "It's a big mental factor we have to overcome."

After directing the first week of practices, the one-time standout at KHS who became the boys coach three seasons ago, sees signs of a new attitude, which comes because of experience ... and perhaps because of the success several of them have had during the exciting football season that recently ended.

Early practices have been "intense," according to Eichstedt, who said, "The kids have picked up things real well."

Leading the returnees is 6-4 junior post player Matt Parrent, who was a first-team, all-EWC pick last year.

Parrent averaged 12.5 points and 9.4 rebounds working against the other big boys in the EW. He also was credited with 1.7 blocked shots per game in conference play.

Look for Parrent to be one of the premier players in the league. He definitely has all the tools, and with help from the three other lettermen, EWC opponents will not be able to double up on him so much this season.

Also back in the front line is 6-6 senior Paul Gaynor who contributed just under 4 points and 4 rebounds per game a year ago. By going out for soccer this fall, Gaynor also gained some stamina which should be a big boost for the Indians.

Junior Casey Scheel and senior Zach Wollner are back at the guard and wing spots, respectively. Scheel, who missed a portion of the season with a knee injury, scored 6.8 points per game and dished out two assists per contest, while Wollner's numbers show 6 points, plus two rebounds per game.

Even though he did not letter last season, senior guard Eric Cain is expected to be a cog in the Indians' offensive plans.

"Eric was ineligible half the season (code violation)," Eichstedt said, indicating he is a good perimeter player, evidenced by the fact he hit 44 percent of the 3-point attempts (8 of 18) he took in 2004-05.

Another senior Eichstedt is counting on is 6-3 Luke Heriges. "Luke will probably start this year," Eichstedt said.

Mitch Paulus, a 6-1 forward who played defensive back on the football team, will be expected to do more offensively this winter after being a spot player his junior season.

Newcomers who could help the Indians in "Operation Turnaround," are 6-0 junior point guard, Dan Shea, 6-1 junior forward Jack Breese and transfer Ryan Haire, a 6-4 post player who played at a small school in Oklahoma last year.

"He's a pretty good shooter," Eichstedt said, indicating Haire needs to get stronger and learn the KHS system, but is pretty sure, "He might help us inside."

Another junior with talent is 6-1 forward Jon Wicklund.

Concerning which team will challenge for the EWC title this winter, Eichstedt's mind immediately travels north to Manitowoc Roncalli, the defending champion.

"Roncalli should dominate. They have everybody back except one player," Eichstedt said, reporting the one senior the Jets did have was not a major contributor. "Campbellsport should also be good, and from there it should be who puts it together," obviously hoping the Indians will be able to make the upper division of the league.

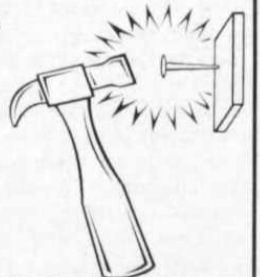

Eichstedt has two volunteer varsity assistants, Michael Hendricks, and Tom Theusch, one of his former teammates at KHS. The JV team is headed by Bobby Bannasch and Dennis Gutbrod returns as the freshman coach.

The Indians scrimmage at Kettle Moraine Lutheran tomorrow (Friday) and they open the year by hosting non-conference Slinger on Tuesday (Nov. 29) and West Bend West, a member of the Little Ten, on Friday night (Dec. 2).

Donath is picked as Offensive MVP

Indians reap rewards from championship season

Garrett Donath

Ross Stockhausen

Jon Olla

Bryan Daggett

Jeff Thull

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The hard work put in by many of this year's Kewaskum High football team not only netted the Indians the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship. It helped them to bring home a pile of gold and silver medals from the all-conference balloting.

Garrett Donath was named as the Offensive Player of the Year, and he was just one of seven KHS offensive players to win first or second team honors.

On defense, add five more, plus both kickers, punter Ross Stockhausen and place kicker Jon Olla, were selected by the coaches as first team members.

It was quite a haul for the 7-0 Indians, who went on to win a school-record 12 games before getting thumped by Wisconsin Lutheran in the Division 3 semifinal game at Hartland Arrowhead.

Sheboygan Falls, which finished second in the EWC with a 6-1 record, also benefitted from a good season, landing seven on the first team.

"Overall, I was pleased. We had kids at 15 different spots, counting first team, second team and honorable mention," Coach Jason Piittmann said of his third varsity team.

The first team selections included: offense — senior tackle Bryan Daggett, senior guard Jeff Thull, and senior running back Garrett Donath; defense — senior end Ross Stockhausen. Those voted to the second team were: offense — tight end Matt Parrent, Chad Piwoni at quarterback and Stockhausen at running back; and defense — Thull at inside linebacker, Zach Wollner at outside linebacker and defensive backs Donath and Eric Ogi.

Donath, a 6-foot, 190-pound senior, was an easy choice as a top running back. He was flat out exciting nearly every time he had his hands on the ball, especially when he fielded punts or ran screen passes.

"The thing I pitched on him is he's not one-dimensional. He's got some values other backs in the conference don't have," Piittmann said, referring to the fact Donath not only finished second in the EWC in rushing with 730 yards in 115 carries (6.35 yards per carry), he added another 127 yards in receptions and several hundred more in kickoff and punt returns, including the 55-yarder against Sheboygan Falls that pretty well turned the game around in the Indians' favor.

"Just the fact he's durable" was another of Donath's attributes, according to Piittmann, who said the 6-foot, 190-pound star was also a great leader. "He's just a quiet kid, but when Ross and Jeff went down (because of leg injuries suffered in the Slinger game), he stepped up to another dimension. He was driven to keep the guys focused."

Among Donath's EWC statistics were 10 rushing touchdowns, one receiving TD and another on the punt return. His longest run was a 46-yarder.

Stockhausen came away with two gold medals and one silver for being a second team running back.

"Very well deserved," Piittmann said about Stockhausen's honors. "He really impressed a lot of coaches at defensive end" where he turned in pitches and put down runners before they got going.

Stockhausen wound up with 19 solo tackles, 15 assists and 1.5 sacks.

Stockhausen (6-2, 210) led the league in punting with a 37.9 yard average, and his offensive stats included 332 yards in 66 carries for a 5.03 yard average and three touchdowns.

Piittmann said he was pleasantly surprised Stockhausen made second team as a running back, suggesting the fact Donath might not have gotten all the yards he had without Stockhausen ahead of him, clearing the way.

Thull (6-0, 205) and Daggett (6-2, 210) get the credit for anchoring the line and helping the runners gain over 1,400 yards in the second EWC game.

"He was a team leader for us," Piittmann said about Thull, adding Daggett was "a kid who goes unnoticed, but adding, "If we needed that tough yard, we were going behind one of those two."

Olla had an outstanding season for the Indians, converting two of four field goal tries in conference, the long one traveling 34 yards. He also successfully hit 25 of 31 PAT tries.

Another statistic on Olla's resume was the three kickoffs he sent into the end zone, and many others were high and deep, allowing the Indians special team to get down the field and pin opponents deep in their own territory.

"His improvement has been just incredible," Piittmann said, indicating his confidence grew as the season went on to a point where the coach said he would have been confident having the senior try a field goal from 40 or 45 yards.

Olla, who switched from soccer to football two years ago, was also a starting linebacker and a good one. "It's amazing when you think he's only played two years," Piittmann said.

Defensively, Thull was credited with a team high 70 tackles, including 25 solos and 45 assists.

Piwoni connected on 45 of 70 pass attempts for 710 yards and a 64.29 percent completion rate. He had two touchdown passes.

Parrent didn't have as many passes thrown to him this fall as he did last season when he was a first team pick. The Indians ran more in the early games, but when the ball finally came to Parrent, he gathered it in. He caught 12 passes for 178 yards and one TD.

Defensively, Wollner came up with four interceptions, including one for a touchdown. He also came up with 17 solo tackles and 22 assists for 39 total.

Piittmann was disappointed for Wollner that he didn't earn first team honors, saying,

"He didn't have the name recognition from last year."

Ogi had one interception, 14 solo tackles and 11 assists, while Donath had one pick, 12 solos and seven assists. Given honorable mention in the voting were center Robert Weber and Ogi as a flanker where he caught several big catches at the end of the regular season.

Members of the three KHS football teams will gather Sunday night, Dec. 4th, for the annual team banquet, which will be held at the school's cafeteria.
