Village and town residents upset over TIF assessments

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- Last month, a number of property owners in the town and village of Kewaskum received a shocking notice in their mailbox. Those notices were copies of the costs of assessments made to properties in the Village's Tax Incremental Finance (TIF) District. Notices revealed those assessment costs skyrocketed to an over 300 percent increase.

When the village began selling the TIF district plan to residents in the village and informing town residents of what would be happening around their property, the village's engineering firm, Ruekert/Mielke, estimated assessments in the amount of $180,000. Ruekert/Mielke's final calculations were over $600,000. Those assessments were only for the installation of sewer and water to the TIF district.

At the June 5 Village Board meeting, over 20 town of Kewaskum residents appeared before the board angry and confused over the jaw dropping letters. Village engineer Ken Ward, explained the notices were sent as a courtesy to the residents in the township so they knew the costs of hooking up to the village's water and sewer system if they elected to at a later date by annexing to the village.

"We wanted to notify the residents and give the amount of how much the assessment would be if you decided to annex. The amount will not be levied if they do not annex into the village. These amounts are for informational purposes only. It may or may not be inflated over the years at the discretion of the village board," stated Ward.

He went on to explain that while the assessments for water/sewer doubled, assessments for sidewalk, curb and gutter came in cheaper than anticipated, though not enough to make up for the escalated cost of sewer and water.

Village board members and residents alike could not fathom the over 300 percent increase for sewer and water costs. Ward explained that when they originally estimated the assessments, they used figures for installation of an eight inch main. Ultimately they installed a 15" main. He also reported that laterals were also much higher than anticipated.

Gary Gavin who is the primary developer of the TIF district also voiced his extreme displeasure of the increased assessment costs. Under state TIF laws Gavin is required to pay 65 percent of all costs associated with Nature Haven Estates. Gavin must also pay an additional $534,000 for off-site improvements such as the running of sewer and water to the TIF district and Nature Haven Estates.

Heiser stated, "Gary is treated like anyone else in the village. He owns those properties and if he wants to connect them to the village water/sewer lines he must pay the assessment."

Because the land in Nature Haven Estates is already annexed to the village, his costs are payable immediately. This is also true for DACCO Tool & Design, who also annexed to the village while infrastructure was being installed.

After completing a 53,000 square foot expansion project. Randy Weber of DACCO stated he was completely disgusted with how the assessments were approached.

"This is a major amount of money, this completely blindsided us. We moved from West Bend, because we thought Kewaskum was easier to work with. My point is, I think it is wrong to come along now; it (the increases in cost) should have been brought out in the beginning. If we were told this we would have opposed it at that time. I'm sorry I moved (my business) to Kewaskum. The way things are being run, it is not a good place to run a business," he concluded.

"I first saw these figures when they were mailed out. I was floored at the numbers. I was not aware they were going to be that big," stated Village President Matt Heiser.

Because the work has already been completed residents really have no voice in the assessment figures. The village is the final authority on the dollar amounts assessed to the property owners. If they choose they can lower the assessments and have the increased costs come from the TIF district fund.

Before accepting the assessments, Heiser directed Ward to have the assessments recalculated. This will come before the village board in a second public hearing at a future meeting. At this writing the assessments were still being recalculated, according to Heiser. He expected them to be brought before the village board during a public hearing in August.

Construction is bustling in Kewaskum

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The village of Kewaskum has been full of activity in the recent months. Kewaskum's Department of Public Works Director, Jerry Gilles and others commented on progress made on various projects around the village.

Work begins on erection of new pump house

Work has commenced on the new pump house that is being constructed behind the Kewaskum Fire Station. Gilles reported that workers from Staab Construction of Marshfield have started the sewer lift station and process of excavating the hole for the wet well and base for the pump house that will enclose the lift station.

Next on the agenda is installing steel sheeting to maintain the work area where they will be working. This provides a safe structure for the workers to work in. Gilles says passersby can expect to see the same sheeting process as was done adjacent to the Kewaskum Mall last summer. However, this will be a larger station than the one that was built there.

This pump house and lift station will replace a 1930's structure at the end of Parkview Drive that was built and served as the first water treatment plant for the Village. In 1954 when the current water and sewer treatment facility was built, that building was retrofitted as a pump house and lift station. It served in that capacity until recently when the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) forced the village to erect a new structure.

In 2004 the DNR mandated the village re-locate the structure because it was located on a floodplain. At the time of the original construction, flood plains were unheard of. FEMA delineated the flood plain in 1982.

The pump house's age also plays into the fact of why it is being replaced. The village would not have been allowed to renovate the pump house at its current location. The forced main that runs to the treatment plant will be increased from six inches at its current location to 16 inches at the new location.

The village will borrow an estimated $3.4 million for the project. Those funds will come from a revenue anticipation note for a one-year term. In May of 2007, when notes come due for the Tax Incremental Finance District, the village will lump the sums together.

The board also plans to retrofit the old pump house into bathrooms for lower Riverhill Park.

Gilles explained that this pump house and lift station is crucial, as it services most of the village. Completion on schedule is May of 2007

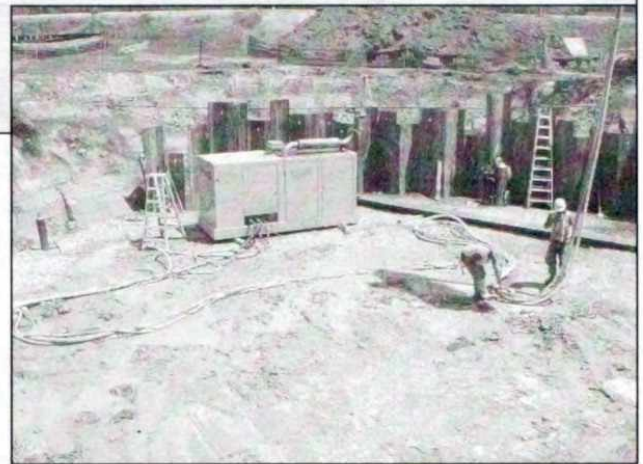

Green and Gold Building not Green and Gold Anymore

In December of 2005, the village of Kewaskum received a Christmas present. Village residents and officials alike were pleased to hear of plans to renovate the green and gold, former Hydraulic Gear manufacturing facility, at the corner of Fond du Lac Avenue and County Highway H west. A group of West Bend area businessmen formed a partnership with incredible plans of modernizing the structure and making it Kewaskum's premier retail center.

Anyone driving past the property can see those plans becoming a reality. The front of the building has received a complete makeover with large windows and a cream colored façade. The front of the structure also has been landscaped with numerous trees, grass and small shrubs.

Construction workers from Staab Construction have already begun excavation and steel sheeting of the area that will be the village's main pump house and sewer lift station.

Bob Gannon, partner of Kewaskum Green and Gold, stated that interest in the building has his phone-ringing non-stop. Gannon announced that a 24-hour fitness franchise has made serious inquiries but he does not have a signed lease. He also indicated that a national firm has looked at opening an office on the north parcel of the property after it is built.

TIF District infrastructure nearly in place

Work on Kewaskum's Tax Incremental Finance (TIF) District continues. Gilles estimated that asphalt work on Trading Post Lane would be completely finished by next week. Curb and gutter was installed three weeks ago.

Payne and Dolan, Inc. the asphalt contractors, have completed the base course of asphalt. The surface course will be applied next week, weather permitting.

Even after the road is completed, the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (DOT) will not allow the village to use the entire roadway. DACCO Tool & Design will be allowed ingress and egress. Drivers on Trading Post Trail will not be allowed to travel the roadway from Badger Road to U.S. Highway 45 and vice versa.

Kettle Moraine Town and Country, along with JK Rentals and their customers will be allowed to use the entrance portion of the road but traffic will be blocked after the driveway to JK Rentals on the southern side and the truck driveway on the north side at DACCO Tool & Design.

Gilles commented that in order to have the DOT restrictions lifted, and the road completely usable, a traffic study needs to be completed after building is complete in the TIF district.

Small village road project will be complete next week

Payne and Dolan, Inc. has begun working on rebuilding Pleasantwood Drive, Bel-Ric Drive, Lin-de-Lane and a portion of Lazy Lane in the village. Milling of the roads was completed on Tuesday, July 18. Gilles estimated that the base course of asphalt would be completed by the end of the week with the surface course the following week.

The project will cost taxpayers $109,977. Funds are being derived from the road budget.

Prevent Mold Growth During the Summer Months

With the arrival of warmer humid days, state health officials are encouraging people to learn about preventing mold growth in their homes in order to stay healthy.

"If you see mold growth or you detect a musty odor, you may have a mold problem," said Bill Otto, Environmental Health Supervisor. "About 10 percent of people are allergic to one or more types of mold and may suffer allergic reactions, eye and respiratory irritation, infection and toxicity."

Mold will not grow unless sufficient moisture is present. Molds grow abundantly in outdoor plant and soil materials, and they can produce spores that are normally found in both indoor and outdoor dust. Mold growth is familiar to most people when it is seen as a fuzzy patch or stain spreading across food or damp surfaces.

Occasionally, mold can be found in the bathroom, on a windowsill, shower curtain or wall, and that can be easily cleaned. Preventing mold growth requires controlling the moisture source. This may be as simple as using a dehumidifier or fixing a simple leak. Larger amounts of mold may require more extensive evaluation or repair.

"Before cleaning mold in your home, first understand why it's there and fix the problem causing the mold growth," said Otto. "Mold needs a source of moisture and a thorough inspection by a trained house inspector can help identify the cause."

Areas inside your home that have poor air movement and a source of moisture are likely areas for mold growth. Once the source of the moisture/water has been found, it should be taken care of to prevent future mold growth.

You must either eliminate or ventilate the source of water or moisture that is allowing the mold to grow, and affected building materials, such as carpets or drywall, may need to be replaced.

If this is not done, the mold may return. Homeowners are cautioned to seek professional assistance to remove and clean up larger amounts of mold.

Visit <http://dhfs.wisconsin.gov/eh/mold> for more information and resources regarding mold and mold remediation specialists, including wlists of businesses in Wisconsin that do mold remediation and indoor air quality work.

County Health Dept. offers tips on staying cool when temperatures soar

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), "each year more people in the United States die from extreme heat than from hurricanes, lightning, tornadoes, floods and earthquakes combined." On average, approximately 300 people die each year from exposure to heat.

The best defense against heat-related illness is prevention. Staying cool and making simple changes in your fluid intake, activities, and clothing during hot weather can help you remain safe and healthy.

The Washington County Health Department and CDC recommend following these tips to protect you from heat-related illnesses:

- Drink more fluids (nonalcoholic) regardless of your activity level. Don't wait until you're thirsty to drink. Warning: If your doctor generally limits the amount of fluid you drink or has you on water pills, ask the doctor how much you should drink while the weather is hot.

- Don't drink liquids that contain caffeine, alcohol, or large amounts of sugar - these actually cause you to lose more body fluid. Also, avoid very cold drinks because they can cause stomach cramps.

- Stay indoors and, if possible, stay in an air-conditioned place. If your home does not have air conditioning, go to the shopping mall or public library - even a few hours spent in air conditioning can help your body stay cooler when you go back into the heat. See the list of heat-relief shelters at the end of this article.

- Electric fans may provide comfort, but when the temperature is in the high 90s, fans will not prevent heat-related illness. Taking a cool shower or bath or moving to an air conditioned place is a much better way to cool off.

- If you must be out in the heat:

- Limit your outdoor activity to morning and evening hours.

- Cut down on exercise. If you must exercise, drink two to four glasses of cool, non-alcoholic fluids each hour. A sport beverage can replace the salt and minerals you lose in sweat. Remember the warning in the first tip, too.

- Try to rest often in shady areas.

- Protect yourself from the sun by wearing a wide-brimmed hat (also keeps you cooler), sunglasses and sunscreen SPF 15 or higher (the most effective products say "broad spectrum" or "UVA/UVB protection on their labels")

- Wear lightweight, light colored, loose-fitting clothing.
- NEVER leave people or pets in a closed, parked vehicle.

- Although anyone at any time can suffer from heat-related illness, some people are at greater risk than others. Check regularly on: Infants and young children; people aged 65 or older; people who have mental illness; those who are physically ill, especially with heart disease or high blood pressure.

- Visit adults at risk at least twice a day and closely watch them for signs of heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

These self-help measures are not a substitute for medical care but may help you recognize and respond promptly to warning signs of trouble.

Dodge County Antique Power Show August 4-6

The 38th annual edition of the Dodge County Antique Power Show gets underway on Friday, Aug. 4 and continues through Saturday and Sunday, August 5 and 6. Show hours are 8:00 a.m. till 5:00 p.m.

The show is 1/2 mile south of the village of Burnett on Hwy 26, and then west on County B. Burnett is midway between Waupun and Juneau.

The antique Power Show was started 38 years ago to recreate the old-time threshing bees that were so much a part of life on Wisconsin farms. It has grown to include many related activities, displays and demonstrations.

The show regularly attracts several hundred exhibits and several thousand spectators.

Each year the Power Show includes a feature area spotlighting a particular line of tractors and farm machinery.

This year the show will include two featured manufacturers: The Allis-Chalmers Company of West Allis and the Fairbanks-Morse Company of Beloit.

Allis-Chalmers was founded in 1901, though its origins went back to the 1840s. Allis-Chalmers was manufacturing sawmill and flourmill equipment in its early days. A-C gets into the tractor and farm machinery business about 1914 with the production of its first tractor.

Over the years Allis-Chalmers became well known and easily recognized due to its bright orange paint.

Allis-Chalmers was very successful in producing tractors and machinery applicable and affordable to the small farmer. Their model B, introduced in 1939, convinced a lot of farmers to give up their horses and mules.

In 1985 Klockner-Humboldt-Deutz AG of Germany acquired Allis-Chalmers for $100 million.

The history of the Fairbanks-Morse Company also goes back to the mid-1800's when FM was building platform scales windmills and water pumps.

Fairbanks-Morse got into the gas engine business as early as 1895. FM built small one-cylinder gas engines for use on the farm. They were put to work pumping water, buzzing firewood, shelling corn, grinding feed and even running the vacuum pump for milking machines.

Fairbanks-Morse continues in business today building enormous multi-cylinder diesel engines for use on ships, oil well offshore platforms and power plants.

The Antique Power Club hopes to have a large display of Allis-Chalmers tractors and machinery on hand. Also a number of collectors are planning on bringing their Fairbanks-Morse engines to the show.

Power Club members will be selling raffle tickets for a chance to win a restored Allis-Chalmers model B tractor built in 1942. The raffle includes a small Fairbanks-Morse engine built in 1943, a pedal tractor and several other prizes.

Along with the Allis-Chalmers and Fairbanks-Morse features, the Power Show will include approximately 400 antique tractors of all other makes along with many rows of early gas engines. Many of these tractors have been restored to like-new condition and most of these engines will be cranked up and running.

Several steam tractors will be fired-up and operating.

These coal and wood burning machines will show off their quiet but impressive power. Steam engines were used on farms from the 1870s into the 1920s and 1930s when they were replaced by more versatile gas tractors.

Both a sawmill and a shingle mill will be operating, turning logs into planks and shingles.

There will be demonstrations of old-time corn harvesting using a machine called a corn shredder. The corn stalks are then baled with an antique baler.

A working blacksmith shop is a recent addition to the Power Show. An authentic looking wooden building houses several blacksmiths demonstrating their craft.

An antique tractor pull gets underway at 11:00 a.m. Saturday. Always a popular feature, the pull is limited to tractors built before 1960.

A large flea market will be set up on the north end of the show grounds. Dealers carry a little bit of everything with an emphasis on old tools, parts and farm collectables.

Other activities include a kid's pedal pull Sunday morning, a tractor parade Sunday afternoon, and a kid's treasure hunt in the straw pile both Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Food and refreshments are available at the show all weekend. Club members will serve a fish fry Friday evening and a chicken barbecue Saturday afternoon and evening.

Admission to the show is $5.00 per adult; children under 12 are admitted free with an adult. Entrance to the general parking area is from Hwy. B.

Persons wishing to exhibit antique cars, trucks, tractors, antique machinery, tools or any related item are encouraged to attend. Enter at the Exhibitor gate; there is no charge for exhibitors.

For more information call 920-689.2636 or 920-386-2577.

Experience the Wisconsin State Fair August 3-13

There is no end to all the ways that you can join the experience of the 2006 Wisconsin State Fair!

This year, from August 3-13, the Wisconsin State Fair will offer 11 action-packed days and nearly 200 acres of fun for the nearly one million people who pass through the gates. State Fair Park is centrally located off of I-94 for surrounding cities and suburbs of Wisconsin and only 90 miles from our neighbors in Chicago making it easy for everyone to join the excitement.

If agriculture is your thing, make sure and visit the animals in the Rabbit and Poultry Palace, Double-Decker Horse Barn, and all the critters waiting for you to stop by.

Think your stomach can take on the Fair? Try each and every one of the 40 foods-on-a-stick as you graze through the 200 acres. Give your best moo, see how fast you can eat a cream puff or marvel at the beautiful handiwork of the quilts and other displays in the Wisconsin Expo Center. Whatever it is that you fancy, you'll find it during the summer premier event in Wisconsin, August 3-13.

Grab your cowboy hat or brush out your big hair, but don't miss the exciting lineup on the Miller Lite Main Stage. No matter what your favorite music genre is, the Miller Lite Main Stage has a variety of national headliners from Trace Adkins to Peter Frampton to Raven-Symone to Michael W. Smith.

Seating will open two hours before each show. Fairgoers can buy $10 reserved VIP track tickets or NEW Gold VIP tickets priced between $15-$25 depending on the concert. Tickets can be purchased online at www.wisstatefair.com or at the Wisconsin State Fair Box Office located at the U.S. Cellular Main Gate, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. FREE reserved bleacher seating tickets are also available for most shows on the day of the concert at the Wisconsin Exposition Center Box Office starting at 8 a.m. and will be distributed on a first come, first served basis with the exception of Raven-Symone with Little J, FM 106.1 Countryfest featuring Trace Adkins, with Chris Cagle and Eric Church, and 97.3 The Brew A Very Hairy Night featuring Tesla with Skid Row and Slaughter. All Grandstand seats for these three shows are $10.

In addition to the Miller Lite Main Stage, the Wisconsin State Fair offers 30 FREE stages of daily entertainment featuring every genre of music and family entertainment including comedy acts, magic shows, and numerous participatory contests such as the Hog-Calling Competition and the Cousin's Subs Moo-la-palooza mooing contest! Remember to keep your eyes open for fascinating street performers, including jugglers and stilt walkers, that will dazzle and dazzle you each day of the Fair as you stroll through the Park. Everyone loves a parade! The parade steps off each day at 3 p.m. with performers, horses, bands, cars and tractors.

Since 1924, the Wisconsin Bankers Association has used its special recipe to make the Wisconsin State Fair Cream Puffs. The Fair experience would not be complete without a stop at the Cream Puff Parlor, located in the Master Spa Pavilion next to Central Mall, to pick up a 6-pack to go box. Want to be a hero in the office? Large orders can be arranged by calling 414-266-7111. You can have Cream Puffs delivered by Bell Ambulance for orders of 10 dozen boxes or more within a 30 mile radius of the Fair Park. For smaller orders you can call ahead and then stop by between 6 a.m. and 8 a.m. via the transit gate, Gate 4, every day of the Fair. If you're still hungry, you can always pick up a box of Blue Ribbon Brownies, a chocolate lovers slice of heaven, which can also be found in the Cream Puff Parlor.

If you've still got room for more Fair foods, tempt your taste buds with mouth-watering, buttery roasted corn, baked potatoes, pork chop sandwiches, or bison burgers. Of course, there are new taste sensations to experience as you devour delicious dishes throughout the Fair at Miller Lite Sports Bar and Grill, Slim McGinn's Irish Pub, Water Street Brewery/Brew City, Gramma Honey's Mini Cinni, and more. The 2006 Fair will feature fun foods including wrap sandwiches, potato balls, and savory dishes from around the world. Be sure to stop by Mille's Italian Sausage Stand to have an Italian Sausage and congratulate them on 75 years at the Fair!

There's always something ag-citing going on at the Fair! New for the Fair this year is the Wisconsin State Farm Day Camp that offers urban youth a whole new look at the Fair with behind the scenes tours, a ride down the Giant Slide, t-shirt printing and more. A visit to the Fair wouldn't be right without stopping in Agricultural Village's double-deck Livestock Barn, which is home to horses and the Foremost Farms USA state-of-the-art milking parlor. Fairgoers can see baby animals in the Birthing Barn, check out the educational booths, including the House of Moo, in the barns and see youth exhibits, auctions, and entertainment in the Ag Oasis including Cheese Sculpting. Get ready to spend some big money or at least watch others as champion beef, swine and sheep are sold in the prestigious Governor's Blue Ribbon Livestock Auction. The event is hosted by Wisconsin Governor Jim Doyle on Wednesday, August 9. The bidding starts at 6:30 p.m. in the Coliseum.

Grand Opening celebrations are occurring at the First Step Factory Shoe Outlet in Kewaskum this month. The outlet store, which originally opened in June, retails the inventory closeouts and factory seconds from Musebeck Shoe Company of Oconomowoc, at discounted prices with a large selection of styles and sizes in stock.

Tiny Terlinden has decided to call it "quits" after playing music for 46 years. He is well known in the area, having played the organ at the Glacier Inn and Hon-E-Kor for many years. Tiny originally started playing the accordion with Al's Melody Kings under the management of Al Krahn. He also played a short time with the Bernard Seil Orchestra and Etta's Old Timers. Later he joined the Ke-Waynie Five Band (Kewaskum and Wayne) consisting of Leo Wietor, manager, Syl Volm, Rudy Hoepner, Russ Heisler and Tiny. Tiny's Wisconsin Aces was his next venture and finally he started his own band, Tiny Terlinden's Orchestra. He later gave up the band business and started playing the organ. Silver Lake Resort at West Bend was his first job as entertainer at the organ, playing there many years. When Willard and Marge Lynn operated the Glacier Inn, they engaged Tiny to play the organ on Friday nights for the pleasure of the patrons. Following seven years at the Glacier Inn, Tiny was engaged to play at Hon-E-Kor Country Club where he has just completed 19 years.

Kewaskum firemen responded to a call at the Harry Rady residence at 8297 Kettle View Drive, Town of Kewaskum, at 12:38 a.m. Monday. The firemen received the call just as they were closing up the park after Sunday's picnic. According to Fire Chief Augie Bilgo, lightning struck an electrical service leading into the garage, causing a fire which severely damaged the two-car garage and breezeway attached to the house. A 1977 Olds car, a boat, motor and numerous other tools were also burned. The house was not burned but had some smoke damage.

A daughter, Jennifer Joy, was born to Michael and Sally Ryan, Route 1, Campbellsport, on June 29. A son was born to David and Yvonne Wietor, Kewaskum, on July 12. One of the severest electric and windstorms to strike in this area, accompanied by the worst cloudburst in many years, caused widespread damage last Thursday evening. At West Bend, a total of 4.63 inches of rainfall was recorded, the heaviest down-pour since 1924, a period of 32 years.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hechimovich of Mayville on July 11. Mrs. Hechimovich is the former Laura Justman, daughter of the Herbert Justmans of Kewaskum. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rumsey of Kewaskum, also on July 11.

At the annual school meeting held at the high school auditorium Monday evening, the school tax roll was lowered from $13,000 to $10,000, there being a surplus of $9,000 in the treasury. An increase of tuition money is attributed as the reason for the surplus in the treasury.

A. G. Koch has built a new addition to his grain elevator.

John Rodenkirch of St. Michaels had an addition erected to his barn Monday.

The electrical storm which passed over Beechwood last Saturday did considerable damage. The Christ. Hammen, fine large barn was struck and was consumed with its contents of about 30 tons of hay, some farm machinery and three calves. The windmill, which was over the barn, was also destroyed. His loss exceeds $3,000. Henry Kruetzinger's residence was in the path of a current which badly demolished the chimney and broke a bed to pieces. John Kraemer, living on the town line about three miles northeast of Beechwood lost five cows by lightning during the same storm.

R.A. Mayer, cheesemaker, two and one-half miles north of Beechwood, escaped what might have been a serious injury Saturday morning. While operating the milk tester at his factory, one of the bottles exploded with such force as to tear a hole about six inches long in the cover of the tester. Fragments of the cover and bottle flew in all directions, but fortunately Mr. Mayer escaped without being struck.

Beans for good health

Creative Foods students at KHS learned all about beans. As part of the vegetarian unit, students completed a series of labs that required many different kinds of beans. Northharvest Bean Growers Association recently released a new CD ROM featuring humorous posters, updated nutrition facts and economical and nutritious recipes for classroom use. Students learned that beans are a nutrient dense source of many important dietary needs needed by all vegetarians to maintain a healthy body. This new curriculum works well with the elements of "mindful eating" that are encouraged by the 21st Century Nutrition Team from the Department of Public Instruction. Shown above, left to right, are John Olla, Jeff Thull and Josh Kelley preparing a marinated bean and veggie toss.

Flat Stanley

By Jeff Brown, narrated by Daniel Pinkwater
Harper Audop $22.00 3 CDs/3 Hrs.

Being a kid is not easy. Someone always makes the big decisions for you: what's for dinner, what time you have to go to bed, what TV shows you can watch.

The view from a kidspot isn't all that great, either: knees and thighs. Bellies, if you're lucky. And it seems as if everything is out of reach and over your head.

Yep, being a kid is hard. It's even harder when you're four feet tall, one foot wide, and half an inch thick. That's "Flat Stanley," and in the new CD by Jeff Brown, your kids will meet a very unusual boy hero.

When Mr. and Mrs. Lambchop heard a loud noise in the middle of one night, they rushed into their sons' room, the place from where the noise had come. There, they found Arthur rubbing his eyes and staring across the room. A large bulletin board lay atop Stanley's bed, the very bulletin board Mr. Lambchop had hung on the wall earlier in the week. But where was Stanley?

Pulling everything aside, the Lambchops were astounded to find Stanley, yawning, stretching - and as flat as a pancake. Maybe he flatter.

He wasn't hurt; in fact, Stanley assured his parents that he felt fine, just a little tingly. It was a most peculiar thing. But since Stanley wasn't injured, Mrs. Lambchop made breakfast.

At school that day, and for many more days afterward, all the children teased Stanley with stupid jokes. Stanley was discouraged. He couldn't help his flatness. What good was being flat, anyhow?

It was lots of good to the local museum curator. The museum had been the victim of the Sneak Thieves, and famous paintings were disappearing at an alarming rate. Nobody could catch the Sneak Thieves. Nobody except a flat boy who fits right nicely inside a frame on the wall....

Do you have a commute to day-care and back every day? Want something with short tracks that will hold the interest of wandering little attention spans? Then pick up this CD, because the four story collections in "Flat Stanley" the CD are actually quite a bit better in audio form than they are in print.

NPR commentator Daniel Pinkwater narrates author Jeff Brown's stories, and I have to admit I was a bit taken aback by Pinkwater's delivery at first. About halfway through chapter two, though, I realized that Pinkwater's dry, droll voice was absolutely perfect for this book, and I could no longer imagine anyone better suited to read Flat Stanley's tale. Pinkwater's nudge-nudge-wink-wink absurd delivery almost makes this CD an "inside joke" for adults. Kids probably will miss the teensy touch of sarcasm in Pinkwater's voice, but they'll love his sense of silliness in this enjoyable story.

"Flat Stanley" is meant mostly for 3-to-9 year olds, but older kids and adults won't mind hearing it once or twice. If you've got a long drive or vacation ahead of you this summer, pick it up and slip it in the stereo. Your kids will flat-out enjoy this CD.

She was united in marriage to Theodore "Ted" Jansen on August 30, 1941 at her parents' home in West Bend. Ted preceded her in death on January 28, 1998.

After their marriage, Florence helped her husband on their farm in the Town of Scott. In 1950 they moved to Saukville where Florence worked for Door Electric Company in Cedarburg. In 1956 they moved from Saukville to the former Village of Barton. In 1963 she worked at the B.C. Ziegler Company in West Bend as a Secretary until her retirement in 1981.

Her last home with her husband Ted was on Wildlife Dr. in Kewaskum where they became members of the XYZ Senior Club and the Barton Historical Society.

Florence was very active in her children's lives and served on the PTA when her children were young. Florence was a very devoted member of Trinity Lutheran Church in West Bend where she served for many years as a greeter, usher, communion assistant, Sunday school teacher, and as a member of the church's Dorcas Society. Even when Florence was living at the Samaritan she still made a point to go to church every Saturday night. She served as the unofficial greeter at the Samaritan. Florence touched many hearts and will be deeply missed by all who knew her.

Florence was the beloved mother of three daughters, Jayne (Marvin) Lasecke of Plymouth, Ellen (William) Macmillen Jr. of West Bend, and Joan (Norman) Zettler of Campbellsport; six grandchildren; and eight great-grandchildren. She is further survived by a sister Dorothy (Clarence) Janz of Adell; other relatives and many friends.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Theodore; their two infant sons, Mark and Kurt; two sisters, Clara Kurtz and Ruth Sauter; and a brother Reuben Kurtz.

A memorial service in celebration of Florence's life will be held on Friday, July 21, 2006 at 2:00 pm at Trinity Lutheran Church in West Bend. Rev. David Schoob will officiate. Visitation will be on Friday, at the church from 1:00 pm until the time of service.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to the family would be greatly appreciated.

Myrhum-Patten Funeral and Cremation Service of West Bend is assisting the family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ROBERT (GABBY) GAVIN, who passed away eleven years ago, July 20, 1995:

Hello Dad,

Another year has gone by,
The saying is true
When they say time does fly.
We feel you around us
Each day that goes by,
Sometime in music,
Or a television show,
We keep regretting
That you had to go.
Words aren't easy
When feelings run deep,
But still, there's one thing
You should know
The values you gave us,
The lessons you taught,
Are with us wherever we go.
We sometimes feel,
That we just can't go on,
Wish we could be with you,
There in the beyond.
Just know in your heart,
You will always be loved,
You will never be forgotten,
We will see you above.

Forever missed, but never forgotten.

Mom & family

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of DAVID BACKHAUS, who passed away one year ago, July 19, 2005:

We thought of you with love today
But that is nothing new.
We thought about you yesterday
And days before that too.
We think of you in silence
We often speak your name
Now all we have is memories
And your picture in a frame
Your memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part
God has you in his keeping
We have you in our hearts.

Love your family

IN MEMORY

In memory of EUGENE PESCH, who passed away ten years ago, July 19, 1996:

We watched through all your suffering
And often had to cry
For we knew that very soon
We'd have to say goodbye
When days are sad and lonely
And everything goes wrong
We need to hear you whisper
Cheer up and carry on
Every time we see your picture
You seem to smile and say
Don't cry, I'm in Gods keeping
We'll all meet again someday.

*Sadly missed
by his family*

People may be wondering what the Kewaskum High volleyball team and second-year had coach Renee Butschlick can do for an encore this year?

Can the Indians successfully defend their Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship and will they go farther in the WIAA Division 2 volleyball playoff than they did a year ago?

The answer to the first part of the question is a definite affirmative, and the second may depend on who will be in their path toward the goal of an eventual trip to state at the Resch Center in Green Bay.

Butschlick definitely has some "horses" in Marissa Dehler, Christina DeGroot and Bekki Heberer, and to make sure they will be ready for the season, there are open gyms for summer workouts.

One such pre-season event is coming up the week of July 25-28 at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County (UWWC), and Butschlick has put out the word about the practices.

The open gyms will be held every four nights from 6 to 9 p.m. and are open to freshmen through seniors.

The girls need to bring gym clothes to participate in, according to Butschlick, who said, "We will be working on a lot of skills and working on getting them ready for the season. I am looking forward to another great year since we only lost one senior, Katie Schroeder, who will be playing at UWWC in the fall."

There is no cost to participate.

Athletics suffer through heat and two rough losses

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Not much went right for the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team Sunday.

How bad was it? Well, the A's gave up a season-high 19 runs to visiting Brownsville and managed to score just a single run in the sixth inning in a Rock River League outing played at Kiwanis Park.

"Lots of errors ... six I'd say," Jim Ziegler said about the contest played in the steamy heat.

"Between the two teams, there were 25 walks and hit batters," Ziegler said. "It was a sloppy, long game."

Kevin Olson was unsuccessful in his attempt at slowing down the 49ers. "He went four innings, gave up ten runs but nine of them were unearned," according to Ziegler, who said, "We were going to split (innings), but the game wasn't as close as we hoped."

Ziegler threw the fifth and the sixth frames, giving up two hits and two runs and both of them were earned. "I gave up a home run," Ziegler said, noting Aaron Johnson was the culprit.

Corey Immel's double in the sixth produced the lone run by the Athletics, who were limited to just five hits in the game, including two by Jake Spaeth and one by Josh Heisdorf. Ziegler was unable to remember who got the fifth hit.

Tyler Witkowski was pretty much in control for the 49ers. He pitched the first five innings, leaving with a 14-1 lead.

Concerning the defensive collapse, Ziegler said, "I don't know. Usually we have one bad inning. This was the whole game."

The loss put the A's record at 4-7 in the RR and 14-11 overall.

Kewaskum played in a much closer game Saturday but still could not come away with the victory. Despite a grand slam home run, the A's were one run short, losing 5-4 to the Sparta Millers in a 7-inning game played in Sauk City in the Wisconsin State NBC Tournament.

"That was it," Ziegler said, explaining the loss eliminates the Athletics from any further games in the tournament.

Ty Schill came up with two hits vs. the Millers, and player/manager Jason Strobel had a double and Mark Rady came up with a single, according to Ziegler, who said, "Shane O'Hagen had a grand slam in the fifth. We couldn't get any closer ... It was a good game though."

Ben Huffman took the loss for Kewaskum. Ziegler did not have the scorebook and was unable to provide any specifics on his pitching performance.

Kewaskum has a big week, with four games. On Tuesday, the A's were scheduled to play at Juneau, tonight (Thursday) they have Johnson Creek, and the weekend includes two home games, Saturday against Lannon, and Sunday with Horicon coming to town.

King and Beck are winners again

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Frank King and Bob Beck are proving to be a very formidable team in the battle for the Player of the Year honors at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

The King-Beck duo combined to win the Alternate Shot event several weeks ago, and last Sunday they were in the top spot in the Men's Division of the Two-Person Best Ball. The two men came in with a score of 73 in the low gross category and with their handicaps, their net score was a solid 64.2.

Finishing second among the dozen men's teams were Buck Averill and Dick Wietor. They had respective gross and net scores of 76 and 67.75, and at third were Mike Matenaar and Ray Roskopf, who combined for a 78 and a net 69.20.

Rebounding from their rather dismal showing in the first event, the team of Rick and Carol Averill won the Mixed Divisions. They had a 79 for a score, which figured to a 66.20 with their handicaps figured in.

Taking second were perenial contenders Roxie and Joe Volesky, who carded 77 and 68.25, and then came Sharon and Dick Scott at 79 and 69.20. There were eight teams in the Mixed Division.

There were two special events held in conjunction with the tournament. Buck Averill was closest to the pin on White No. 16, while Rob Bertram had the longest putt on No. 8 Blue.

There are two events left in the Player of the Year competition, which concludes with the Club Championship on Labor Day weekend. Clark Eichstedt is the defending champion, but he is not entered in this year's event.

All Star outing includes mixed outcome for 2 Kewaskum players

Spaeth's home keys win by Athletics

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Representatives of the Kewaskum Athletics who played on the North team didn't have much luck in the Rock River League All star game on July 8, but the A's did end their three-game losing streak the next day, by topping host Waupun by a score of 10-3.

Kevin Olson and Dave Heim combined to pitch a nice game for the A's. Olson went five innings, then Heim took over for the final four and pretty much held the Bulldogs in check.

Leadoff man Jake Spaeth might have set the stage for the good offensive showing. "He led off the game with a home run," player/manager Jason Strobel said, reporting the Slinger native also had another hit in the game.

There were more home runs to come for Kewaskum, but first there was a 3-run triple by Corey Immel which gave the A's some much needed confidence.

"I led off the fourth with a home run," Strobel said, further reporter Jake Panzer added a 2-run shot in the sixth inning.

"That's everyone's first homer," Strobel went on, noting he and Panzer both wound up with two hits, while Ty Schill went 2x4 with a pair of stolen bases, and Adam Sarauer chipped in with a double and a single with one runs batted in (RBI).

"We score the one in the first and never looked back," Strobel said. "We played well defensively ... and pitched well."

Without having the scorebook in front of him, Strobel thought Olson and Heim gave up no more than eight hits.

The win gave the A's a mark of 4-6 against RR foes. Overall they are 14-9.

Playing at Slinger, the North All Stars suffered a tough 4-3 loss to the South stars, and it was Jim Ziegler of the A's taking the loss.

"We had three picked (for the team), but Corey Immel couldn't make it," Strobel said, noting the other A's players, Tim Rowe played center field and contributed one hit in two trips to the plate.

"I pitched two innings. I gave up two runs and took the loss," Ziegler said, reporting he came in the middle of the contest, and his North team was unable to muster enough offense to overtake the South.

When asked how many times the South has won the All Star game in a row, Ziegler said, "I think it's two years in a row. We won the year before that."

Shea's triple, Roskopf's relief work help Indians win EWC finale

All's well that ends well

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Uncharacteristically, John Holt wasn't real sharp on the mound in Kewaskum's Eastern Wisconsin Conference finale against Plymouth.

The junior right-hander walked seven and gave up two hits in three innings, but that didn't mean the Indians didn't come out with the victory. Timely hitting, good defense and solid relief work by Jon Roskopf paved the way for the Indians to post a 6-1 win over the Panthers, and in the process put the finishing touches on one of the school's best seasons in the sport.

The win gave Kewaskum a 19-2 EWC mark, and coach Dave Donath said "That's the most conference wins we've ever had," adding the 23-3 overall mark the Indians are currently sport "is a record, too."

Donath was the first to admit other previous teams didn't play as many games as are currently allowed, but an .884 mark is pretty difficult to duplicate.

Donath reported Plymouth scored its lone run in the top of the fourth, and by that time his team had more than enough runs to win. The Indians got one in the first on a single by Jon Olla, who stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Dan Shea's single.

Shea added three more RBI to his total, which now stands at 32, with a bases-loaded triple in the bottom of the second.

"Dan hit a ball in front of the right fielder ... It got by him for a triple," Donath said, indicating single runs were added for insurance in the fourth and sixth innings.

The Indians had several more opportunities to score, according to the coach, who said, "We left seven on, and Plymouth left ten men on base ... lots of walks."

Roskopf, who improved to 9-1 on the season, only gave up two hits in four innings. He struck out two and walked only one. His season earned run average (ERA) currently stands at 3.067. He had 40 strikeouts for the year and just 18 walks.

Kewaskum had just one error in the contest and will need to continue playing good defense in order to qualify for the WIAA State Baseball Tournament.

The offense continues to be strong. Shea and Olla were both 2x4, with Shea picking up the four RBI and Olla one, and Garrett Donath added a pair of hits.

Shea is currently hitting at a .494 clip (38 hits in 77 at bats), with 11 doubles, two triples and six home runs.

Olla is also having a great year, going 40x87 for a .460 average and 22 RBI. He has 13 extra base hits, including three round trippers. One of Olla's hits Monday was an RBI double in the sixth.

First baseman Ross Stockhausen is another of KHS' hitting stars. He is batting .474, going 40x87 with a team-leading 42 RBI, seven doubles, two triples and four homers, while Matt Parrent is batting .359 (33x92), with five doubles, one triple and two homer runs, and Garrett Donath, who got a little bit of a late start because he qualified for the state track meet, is hitting .356 with 29 RBI, four doubles, one triple and one homer.

Leadoff man Casey Scheel sometimes gets lost with all these hitting stars, but he has been doing well, evidenced by his .303 average with 23 hits in 76 trips to the plate.

Holt, Roskopf and Parrent have combined for 113 strikeouts, and all have excellent ERAs. Holt has given up just 2.18 runs per game, while Parrent is even stingier with a mark of 1.61.

Donath said there was plenty of excitement after Monday's win. "Now the new season starts though," he went on. "We want to keep this momentum."

Bats are quieted; Indians stumble in game vs. West

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Although the game had little meaning, the Kewaskum High baseball team came a little closer to earth last Thursday when it was beaten by host West Bend West 8-3 in a non-conference game that ended the regular season.

The Indians didn't hit well, their pitchers (coach Dave Donath used four of them) gave up far too many walks ... ten, and then there were the five errors that didn't help matters. Putting it mildly, the Indians, who came into the contest with a record of 23-3, just weren't themselves, and Donath was the first to admit that.

"I told them they had short memories," Donath said, "but don't forget it. If we play like that again, we can be out of the tournament fast ... That was sort of the moral of that story."

Kewaskum outhit the Spartans five to four but couldn't seem to put anything together. The lone exception was the seventh inning when Jon Olla's double to left-center and Dan Shea's single produced a couple runs after Casey Scheel led off the inning by getting hit by a pitch.

Olla's double was Kewaskum's only extra base hit of the game, a far contrast from the majority of their other games when doubles and homers were commonplace. The Indians hit close to 20 home runs this season, with Shea leading the parade with six.

Ross Stockhausen had another of the hits, according to Donath, who said the other two hits were a bloop single and a single up the middle.

Donath started John Holt against West's Jake Lathers, and Holt simply had an off day, giving up five runs before getting replaced after just one and two-thirds innings.

Jon Roskopf came in next and went two and a third innings, then Donath called on Matt Parrent to pitch one inning and Justin Krueger finished up the sixth. In short, the KHS pitcher gave his entire staff some work but he had hoped the results would have been a little bit better.

With the loss, Kewaskum finished up the regular season with an impressive mark of 23-4.

Donath and the Indians were aiming for a more successful ending Tuesday when they were scheduled to play Random Lake to move into the semifinals of the West Bend Sectional, which will be played Friday at Carl Kuss Field in Regner Park.

With a win Tuesday, the Indians would face the winner of the Campbellsport-Slinger game on Friday at noon. Another win could give the Indians another shot at West, that is, if the Spartans come through their half of the bracket, which would include another game against cross hall rival, East.

The survivor of the competition on Friday will earn the right to advance to the WIAA Summer Baseball Tournament at Bukholt Park in Stevens Point on July 26-27.

"When we come and play our best and lose, that happens," Donath said, "but we can't play like we played Thursday ... I think they will put that game behind them."

Bannasch takes reins as new boys basketball coach

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The two parents and the student athlete on the interview team felt he was the right man for the job, as did Kewaskum High Athletic Director Jason Piittmann.

Results: The new head boys basketball coach at KHS is 26-year-old Bobby Bannasch, a science teacher at Kewaskum Middle School who has served as the junior varsity coach for the past two seasons.

"Though he is young, Mr. Bannasch is very confident and has a view of the 'big picture' as it pertains to basketball and athletics in high school," Piittmann said in Bannasch's profile sheet. "He has a plan for working with the middle school and youth programs and demonstrates a passion and fire for teaching, coaching and the game of basketball."

Bannasch believes he is ready to step up to be the varsity coach and is confident his experience in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference will help the 2006-07 Indians have a successful season.

"One thing is we're going to be scrappy. We're going to be a defensive-oriented team," Bannasch said. "We'll play hard-nose defense, and we'll be patient on offense."

Bannasch is a graduate of Goodrich High School in Fond du Lac and Ripon College where he played on a baseball team that came within a couple games of going to the smaller college world series.

"I learned quite a bit (about coaching) from Gordy Gillespie," Bannasch said, referring to his baseball coach at Ripon, and he said working a couple years with one of the Fond du Lac basketball coaches has been invaluable.

"He taught me about the defense Fond du Lac plays," Bannasch said. "That's what won us a lot of games ... gave us the opportunity to win at the end."

Under Bannasch, the young Indians finished a respectable 8-12 a year ago.

And what does the new head coach think about the players he inherited from Glenn Eischtedt, who resigned at the end of the past season? "I like the makeup of the team," Bannasch said. "For one, it's a senior-dominated team."

Many of the players who are returning, along with those who will move up from the JVs, are competing in a West Bend summer league, according to Bannasch, who said, "There are teams from our conference ... from West Bend and from Slinger in the league. It's pretty good competition."

One of the tasks Bannasch is currently working on is completing his basketball staff. Last year's freshman coach, Dennis Gutrod, resigned as the end of the season, according to Bannasch, who said that position is open and currently there are a couple of candidates for the JV job. "I'd like to take care of that in the fall, a couple weeks into the school year."

By then, Bannasch will be busy coaching the JV football team, and he is confident the success of the football program will help his program. "The successful football program will carry over to basketball ... the drive, the discipline and the work ethic," he said, indicating his not being a teacher in the high school will not be a deterrent.

"Jason Piittmann and I work well together," Bannasch said, and, "My being in the middle school will help get more kids in the middle school program" and he will know many of the young athletes from working with them in football.

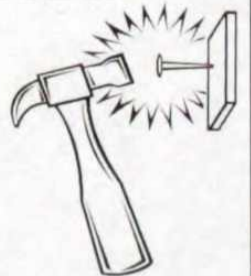

And what does he feel his strong suit will be? "I have a very good rapport with them (players)," Bannasch, who recently got engaged and will be married next June, said. "I feel I have an ability to work with kids and to get the maximum effort out of them on a consistent basis."

Wheelwright gets it right at annual Hill Climb

Eleven year old Shania Fitzgerald of Jackson gets a pep talk before her run in the 250 stock class.

Josh Mueller, 16, of Kewaskum, took second place in the 600 pro class at Saturday's hill climb.

BY BRUCE KOENING
Special to The Statesman

Eric Wheelwright of Elizabeth, IL, stole the show at Sunday's 23rd annual Hill Climb sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Sports Riders.

In the event, which was rained out on Fathers Day and was rescheduled for the Sunday date, Wheelwright turned in a run of 10.4 seconds over the top of the hill on the second run in the 250 stock class. That time was good enough to move him from third after the first round into first place, winning the class.

In the 250 pro class, Wheelwright had an excellent first run of 8.78 seconds, and that time stood up to win the class.

Wheelwright switched bikes again, and in the 600 stock class, he had to settle for fourth place with a time of 10.63 seconds and qualified for the King of the Hill class in the 600 pro class with a time of 8.40 seconds on his 1st run. The King of the Hill class matches the 10 fastest riders of the day with one final shot at the hill to be crowned King of the Hill.

Wheelwright finished his day off there being crowned King of the Hill with a time of 8.39 seconds. Kirk Mueller of La Valle, WI, came in second with a time of 9.52 seconds and Cody Jenner of Loves Park, IL, broke the light in 9.85 seconds to finish 3rd in the King of the Hill class.

In the 600 pro class, Kirk Koester of Red Wing, MN, won the class with a time of 8.30 and slipped Kirk Mueller to 5th place to end his 5-year winning streak in this class.

The Kettle Moraine Sport Riders would like to thank Sunburst Ski Area, Kewaskum Fire and Rescue Squad, who provide assistance in case of injuries, the dealerships that sponsors the event and last but not least the great fans that come out every year to watch the event.

Mike Vrana, long-time member of the Kettle Moraine Sport Riders and one of the organizers of the event, said the heat may have scared away many spectators, but, "The event went off well."
