Village making progress in wastewater treatment plan

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Village Board is exploring all their options when determining what to do with their failing wastewater treatment plant. Trustees and citizens alike are having trouble swallowing the $11 million price tag on a new plant proposed by engineers.

Village trustees have affirmed that they wish to get a second opinion on a facilities plan drawn up by Ruckert Mielke, the village's engineering firm. A request for proposals (RFP) has been sent out to engineering firms across the state according to Village Administrator Jay Shambeau.

He expected the village to receive proposals by the first week in November. At that point the Public Works Committee will review them, choose two and invite them to make their proposals to the full village board.

Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles has also reported that the construction of the new lift station is also moving along on schedule. The new lift station, along with an outfall pipe that was constructed last year, were requirements from the Department of Natural Resources when they renewed the village discharge permit in 2004.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel presented his budget to the village board. Along with his budget, he again made the board aware of the problem his department was having in retaining volunteers.

He suggested the village investigate a program offered by the Wisconsin Department of Administration. The program called Wisconsin Length of Service Award Program. The program is for volunteer fire fighters and emergency medical technicians (EMT) that was created in 1999.

AN eight-member board establishes a tax-deferred benefit program for volunteer fire fighters and EMTs. The program matches up to $283.65 per year of service to the municipality. At retirement, each fire fighter with over twenty years of service would collect the amount in his or her account. Those with over ten years experience would collect a portion of the amount in their account.

The board expressed interest and will discuss it again in the future.

Auditorium plans unveiled

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- If all goes to plan, Kewaskum High School (KHS) students held their last Homecoming dance in Rose Hall two weekends ago. According to a concept plan presented at the Monday, October 9 Board of Education meeting, this community is on it's way to constructing that long-awaited auditorium. The news gets better though; it will be constructed without facing a referendum or significant borrowing.

The Kewaskum Board of Education, light three members, heard plans to spend just shy of $2 million to remodel Rose Hall at KHS. The plan shows moving the library into half of the gym and resurrecting and improving the stage that was turned into art classrooms in 1995.

"I am absolutely thrilled to see the initial concepts of the plans for renovating Rose Hall. It has certainly been a long time coming. One of the exciting things for me is that we as a district have worked hard to get to the place financially where we can propose doing a project of this type without asking the taxpayers for a referendum by which to fund it. That's a great thing indeed," stated Board of Education President John Kenworthy

A concept plan presented by the district's architect, Ray Haen, of Quasius, who has worked on projects for the last 10 years, shows moving the current library out of what is known

Rinas charged in Campbellsport bar robbery

Chad Rinas is arrested on Thursday, October 5 after hiding from authorities for over 12 hours. At 1:45 a.m. that day, Rinas was the lead suspect in an armed robbery which occurred at his parents' Campbellsport bar and restaurant, C.C. Cody's. Rinas was charged with numerous counts on Tuesday, October 10. Statesman photo: Andrew Kuehl

CAMPBELLSPORT- A 20-year-old Village of Campbellsport man faces up to 42 years in prison if convicted on counts of armed robbery, obstructing an officer and bail jumping. The man is accused of robbing his parents' Campbellsport restaurant and bar on Thursday, October 5, at 1:46 a.m.

Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Deputies ended a nearly 12-hour search for Chad Rinas after deputies apprehended him after negotiators talked him out of his Main Street trailer home at around 1:38 p.m. He surrendered himself peacefully.

In a press release from the Sheriff's Department they stated the communications center received a 911 call from the bartender at C.C. Cody's Bar & Restaurant where Rinas was working earlier in the evening. The bartender reported a male wearing a mask was robbing the bar, armed with a handgun. When deputies arrived, the accused Rinas had already fled the scene. Taken from the bar was an undisclosed amount of cash from the register and several other items.

At 4:40 a.m., Thursday deputies located the Rinas' vehicle near Elmore. Before deputies were able to get behind the vehicle to attempt to stop it, the suspect pulled in a driveway and fled on foot.

With the assistance of a City of Fond du Lac K-9, the area was thoroughly searched however the suspect was not located. At 12:30 p.m. that same day, the Sheriff's Department asked the Campbellsport School District to coordinate a lockdown of all district buildings as a precautionary measure. Schools re-opened later after Rinas was apprehended.

Rinas appeared before Fond du Lac County Circuit Court Judge Dale English on Tuesday, October 10. Judge English ordered $40,000 cash bail and was not allowed any contact with the victim of the robbery or his girlfriend. He will return before Judge English for a preliminary hearing on October 20.

The Campbellsport Police also assisted the Sheriff's Office Department.

Rinas, who has a lengthy criminal record according to court documents, has a pending jury trial November 13-14 for one count each criminal damage to property and bail jumping. On November 15, he will return to court for three counts of receiving stolen property, two counts of bail jumping and one count of possessing drug paraphernalia. He is also facing additional charges for drug possession and drug paraphernalia possession towards the end of November.

Kettle Country Kids 4-H

Our 4-H club ran the farmers market in down town West Bend. We sold brats, hot dogs, hamburgers and chips. We were able to go around and buy things also. It was very fun.

We went to the Paradise Theater to see the movie barnyard. We were able to see how they get the movies to work. The movies are on film. The film was really, really long. After our tour we watched the movie. It was very funny and sad.

We did a window display for National 4-H Week at Farmington Elementary School, stop in and see it!

Our club is setting up a petting zoo at Kettle Country Kolors on October 15th. Come and see our animals!

Boltonville Fire Department holds open house, receives assistance grant for radios

The Boltonville Volunteer Fire Department has received a 2006 Assistance to Firefighters Grant of $33,258. The grant is provided by the United States Fire Administration (USFA), which is part of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Office for Domestic Preparedness (ODP).

"I have been and continue to be a strong supporter of this program, in no small measure because of the advocacy of Wisconsin firefighters. The members of both volunteer and career fire departments put their lives on the line on a daily basis for others and at virtually every meeting I have with Wisconsin firefighters, they tell me about the vital importance of these grants and how these grants allow them to get needed equipment and training they would otherwise be unable to afford," U.S. Senator Russ Feingold said.

Wisconsin communities have sent 623 applications to USFA, requesting a total amount of more than $64 million.

ODP serves the American public and the nation's fire services through training, data collection and analysis, public fire education, and fire protection technology research. This grant program is designed as an opportunity for the U.S. Congress to work with ODP to support firefighting departments across the country.

Boltonville Fire Fighters say they will use the money received in the grant to purchase new radios for the department.

Boltonville Fire Department held an open house Monday evening, October 9 in honor of Fire Prevention Week. Firefighter Dennis Fechter estimated that about 50 people attended. The bottom right photo shows a demonstration that was given on the department's new TNT jaws that is used for auto extrication. The top photo shows Amy Marchello using a fire extinguisher to put out a grease fire on a stove.

DA continues to review election fraud allegations

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Washington County District Attorney, Todd Martens stated Wednesday morning, October 11, that he is still reviewing the request for felony election fraud charges for eight individuals.

Those involved collected recall signatures against veteran Kewaskum Board of Education member, Neal Weare.

Calling the requests "quite voluminous" Martens said he expected to have a decision late this week.

In December of 2005 Weare was defeated by a three to one margin. Weare contends he turned the signatures over to the the Washington County Sheriff's Department for their review even before losing the election.

Watch this newspaper's website for developments, if any, until next week's printed edition.

Statesman is looking for your news tips for stories

News, good or bad happens in our community on a daily basis and being a weekly newspaper, it's tough to stay on top of each and every story. That's why your newspaper wants to get you involved!

Washington County budget up 3.2%

It's budget time for local government and in Washington County, five days of department hearings have culminated with a 3.2 percent increase recommendation by the finance committee.

But that does not necessarily mean your tax bill will be going up. It appears the county rate will drop from $3.06 per thousand to $2.89, which means if your home is worth $200,000, the county share of your property tax bill will fall from about $610 to around $580.

The finance committee is recommending a 5.7 percent decrease in the county's property tax rate next year, which coincides with the 3.2 percent increase in the levy due mainly to growth.

In addition, the county board made a promise to use the increased sales tax revenue to lighten the property tax burden. The next couple of years are important because sales tax revenue from the new Cabelas will be added to the mix.

There will be a second public hearing on the budget in November before it is approved.

The committee is considering promoting Johnson to county executive or administrator because both titles would give Johnson more statutory power than his current position of administrator coordinator.

-Mark Morris, WBKV Radio

County hires for radio project

The Washington County Radio Communications Committee is hiring ROC, Inc. to complete phases two and three of the county's new multi-million dollar radio communication system project.

ROC, Inc. from Richmond, Virginia, was one of just two companies to bid for the contract. They will be paid up to $413,000 for their work.

The work will include developing specs, getting requests for proposals and soliciting bids, among other consulting duties.

The other bidder, Bio-Catt of Kenosha was not brought in for an interview when the committee determined they were unlikely to be able to meet all the specs of the job.

The cost of the system itself has been estimated at $11 to $13 million dollars, and that does not include the remodeling needed in the dispatch center.

The new system is a VHF trunk system. That system will all but eliminate interference, but will be also harder to monitor at home.

Washington County Sheriff, Brian Rahn stated that the Ad-Hoc Communications System Committee was pleasantly surprised with the prices it reviewed in September.

Former area resident 'Extremely' glad to be part of makeover

Quintin Strack, formerly of Campbellsport, is now a member Extreme Makeover: Home Edition.

By Rachael Paulsen
Statesman Correspondent

Extreme Makeover Home Edition (EMHE) Casting Director Quintin Strack was happy to be back in Wisconsin for the Koepke family episode because he is from the dairy land.

As Casting Director, Strack runs a department of about eight people. They get an incredible volume of mail each day that they have to go through. They send out emails and news bulletins to schools, churches and non-profit organizations encouraging people to nominate someone in their community who could benefit from having a new house.

They had 5,000 applications from people in Wisconsin, which was narrowed to 20 families. Strack returned to Wisconsin in June to visit each family. He interviewed the Koepkes and 10 other families in the state, as well as the community members, to find out if the nominees are a well-respected family.

They looked through the houses to see what condition they were in. They taped about four to five hours of footage per family, which they have to narrow to 10 minutes, and present 15 families' stories to ABC executives, who further narrow it down to five.

Each of those five families are anxiously awaiting the morning of the announcement, but only one will hear Ty Pennington shouting "Good morning" outside their door. Strack said it is a complete surprise to not only the winning family, but to people working on the show as well.

"It's like The Wizard of Oz, they don't tell anyone. It's kept very secure," said Strack.

He was back in Wisconsin for demolition day, flew out mid-week to meet families in Florida, and returned for the reveal. He usually is not at the site for taping because he is too busy working back in California. He said he has to stay a step ahead of everyone, making sure the next location is ready six weeks before they arrive there.

The show would not be able to function without the volunteers in the community. Strack said Monarch Homes in Wisconsin went above and beyond, and this was all made possible due to all the businesses coming together.

"The real heroes are the community members," said Strack, who said the show organizes everything and shows people how to do it, but the volunteers are the ones who step up to the plate.

Strack was talking with the designers and said everyone was saying that the Wisconsin show has been one of the most amazing experiences because everyone in the state was so kind and giving. He said people were saying such great things about Monarch Homes Owner Larry Grubner.

Strack said he enjoys working with Ty Pennington and the design team, who are normal, laidback people who love their jobs. He said everyone on the show has a permanent residence. The designers usually have more than one house in a different state, but are on the road a lot.

"It's equal to being in the circus, picking up and moving," said Strack.

Strack, who grew up north of Long Lake, was involved in Student Council, sports and crowned prom king. He graduated from Campbellsport High School in 1992 and obtained a Communications Degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He said he was artistic and had no idea life would lead him to EMHE.

"Let life lead you instead of trying to direct your life," he said. "It will take you to where you're supposed to be."

He moved out to Santa Monica, Calif. in 1997 doing casting work for Theatrical Casting, working with Mary Jo Slater, actor Christian Slater's mother. Strack came on board EMHE this season, which is now in its fourth season. He has been working in television for seven years, working with the executive producer. He said they had a great working relationship and he was very excited when he got the call and the offer for the job.

"It felt like I won the lottery," said Strack.

He said his job really inspires him because he gets to meet so many amazing people and the show really improves their lives.

"They are important in the community, the challenges they have, they stay positive," Strack said.

Strack and his family are very close; he makes his way back to Wisconsin two to three times a year to visit his parents, Vince and Judy Strack and his siblings. Since he has been back in the dairy land, Strack has visited his brother at his campsite, visited the rest of his family and enjoyed some thunderstorms, which he does not get to see often in California.

"I love it, I love Wisconsin," he said.

His brother Chad is married and has two children. He also has a sister, Sonja Saleki, who is married with one daughter, and his sister Sarah, an aspiring photographer, is his roommate in California.

His advice to small town teenagers who want to succeed after graduation is to get an internship in college.

"It opens doors and builds relationships in any profession. Work for free, it shows people you're dedicated and hard-working. People love to hire people from Wisconsin because we'll work our butts off," Strack said.

He said he plans on returning home to build a house and to give his parents' large, old farmhouse a makeover.

Strack said it's "absolutely amazing" being able to help so many families, and can't imagine having any other job, where he gets to meet so many great people.

"I hope it lasts a long time," he said.

Life couldn't be any better after 29 years of marriage for Linda & Gary Gavin.

Free prostate screenings offered at West Bend Clinic

SynergyHealth West Bend Clinic will be hosting a free prostate cancer screening to promote the importance of routine screenings and early cancer detection. Prostate cancer is one of the most common types of cancer in American men. This year alone, it is projected that 234,000 men will be diagnosed with prostate cancer, and 27,350 will die from the disease. While the death rate related to prostate cancer is declining, it is the third leading cause of cancer related deaths among men.

Annual screenings are recommended for men age 50 and over, and beginning at age 45 for men with a family history of prostate cancer. Following recommended screening guidelines is an important factor in early detection. Finding the disease sooner can result in more effective treatment options and lead to increased life expectancy compared to those diagnosed at a later stage.

The screening will be held Thursday, October 19 from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. at the West Bend Clinic on 1700 West Paradise Drive. Screenings will be by appointment only. Advance registration is required, as space is limited. To register call 262-334-1641 ext. 2469.

The free screening includes a health questionnaire, PSA blood test and a digital rectal exam (DRE) by a physician or a nurse practitioner. Participants must not have had a PSA or DRE within the past year.

SynergyHealth (www.synergyhealth.org) is a regional health system serving the greater Washington County community. St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend Clinic, and SynergyHealth Foundation are members of SynergyHealth. West Bend Clinic, a primary care and multi-specialty group with over 60 physicians, has multiple clinic locations in Washington County (West Bend, Hartford, Jackson, and Kewaskum), and includes the West Bend Surgery Center, SynergyHealth Eye Center in Jackson and SynergyHealth Rehabilitation Center in West Bend.

Looking for a family adventure? Try the Campbellsport Caper

The Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce (CACC) is excited to present the area's best Halloween Family Adventure on Thursday, October 26th. The 13th annual Halloween Caper, will be from 5 p.m.-9 p.m. and will be held on the east end of Campbellsport at Columbus PARC.

It is such a unique event that no matter the age, from toddlers and kids to tweens and teens to parents and grandparents, all will have a spooktacular time. Events vary widely but will all have a Halloween theme.

New this year to the event is Fox and Branch, a folk duo from Milwaukee. They perform a wide range of folk-based children's songs. Fox and Branch will be sponsored by Campbellsport Building Supply, Lindsley Construction, and Johnson Bus. The duo will be performing two shows, one at 6 p.m. and one at 7:30 p.m.

Another fun event is the Midway Stunt Team Show.

Sponsored by Midway Skate Park, it will be a "box jump bike demo." Watch area athletes attempt "X-treme Games" type moves.

The traditional hay rides, courtesy of the Campbellsport FFA alumni, will be from 6 p.m.-9 p.m. The haunted gym, one of the area's best haunted houses, will be open for this one night only. Many hours of labor from the Campbellsport FFA go into this great haunted thriller. Don't miss the chance for a good scare this Halloween season.

Ben Franklin/Tru-Value is sponsoring a craft booth, where children can make Halloween decorations. The Campbellsport 4-H club also has a craft table. Face painting by the Campbellsport High School art club will also be available all evening.

Pat Adams, from Auburn Bluffs, coordinates a tasty menu of seasonal good eats. This year is no exception. A wonderful selection of food will be available starting at 5 p.m.

For those who love to play, National Exchange Bank will be having a tent full of games for all the area's children. Ben Franklin/Tru-Value is also sponsoring a space walk courtesy of their Rent-It-Center.

Costumes are encouraged for children and adults to add to the Halloween spirit. A children's costume parade followed by a costume contest will be at 7 p.m.

"We can't wait. It is our only fund-raiser of the year," explains Jackie Lindsley, co-owner with her husband Jeff of Lindsley Construction. "If you've never attended or haven't attended for a few years, we think you will be amazed how much we have to offer for the entire family. It's going to be a great night."

All events are covered under one fee of $5 per person, food not included. The CACC believes it is not only a great time for family fun, it is also a great bargain. For complete event listings and more information please visit www.campbellsport.org.

Halloween Nature Hikes

Are you looking for a non-scary, but fun-filled Halloween event? The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit is offering its ninth annual Halloween Nature Hikes on Friday, October 20, and Saturday, October 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The hikes will take place at the Long Lake Recreation Area located off of Division Road just north of Hwy F about one mile east of Dundee. Guided groups of no more than 30 people will leave every six minutes with the last hike leaving at 8:30 p.m. Each hike will last about one hour. The hikes are most appropriate for those over the age of five years.

Watch out! The spineless wonders of nature are creeping along the trails waiting to tell you their tales. As you stroll through the dark autumn woods, you'll meet such characters as a praying mantis, a dragonfly, luna moth, crayfish and an earthworm.

Through your journey on this fun-filled hike, you will learn a little about each animal's natural history and the important role it plays in nature.

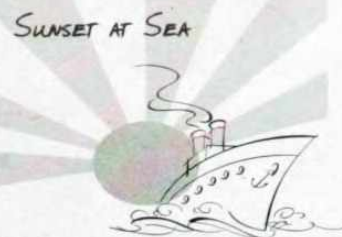

There will also be exciting games and clever crafts for the kids to do before or after their hikes. The Friends of the Kettle Moraine will provide hot and cold cider, and popcorn for all the hikers. State Park System vehicle admission stickers are required for this event. A Wisconsin resident daily sticker is $7.00 per car or an annual sticker is $25.00. If you already have your State Park System sticker, the event is free.

Please join in for a great evening of fun educational entertainment for the whole family! For more information, contact the forest staff at (920) 533-8322.

Book sale at KPL

On Friday, October 13th and Saturday, October 14th, the Friends of the Kewaskum Public Library are hosting their annual book and bake sale.

Books are collected throughout the year from donations and weeding the library's shelves and most are in "like-new" condition. In addition to children's and adult fiction and nonfiction, the Friends will also be selling videos, DVDs, music CDs, computer games, and more!

The sale will run from noon-5 on Friday and from 9-3 on Saturday. Prices for books will be: .50 for paperbacks, $1.00 for hardcovers and CDs, $2.00 for videos and DVDs.

All proceeds will go to the Friends of the Kewaskum Public Library and will be used in their 2007 budget. The Friends will also be selling locally-baked treats at the book sale. The sale will be held at the Annex Building on Fond du Lac Avenue, just north of the Coffee Corner in Kewaskum.

For more details, please contact the library at 626-4312.

DAYS GONE BY

25 Years Ago

October 9, 1981

If things go smoothly and on schedule, Kewaskum could see the opening of a new KEWA Mall Shop-Rite Grocery Store by the end of November. Prior to Monday's Village Board meeting, Cletus Bartelt, Vice President of Shop-Rite's new business development, said his organization was hoping to have the store operating as early as mid-November.

After many delays which have resulted in rescheduling the starting date, Meadow Creek Apartments, an elderly and low-income housing project in Kewaskum, is finally underway. Meadow Creek Apartments will consist of a 24-unit building for the elderly which will also contain one manager's apartment and four-unit and eight-unit buildings for low-income and single parent families.

Pizza Joe's business at 230 Main Street, Kewaskum, has been sold to Virginia Mae Haney. The store will be renamed Gina's Pizza Oven in honor of its new owner, it's chief product and its dominant utensil.

A daughter, Shannon Lee, was born to Dennis and Kelley Evert, Route 3, Campbellsport, on September 19. A daughter was also born to Kenneth and Kristine Becker, Kewaskum, on September 30. A son, Michael Robert, was born to Darold and Marilyn Buslaff, Route 3, Campbellsport, on September 21.

50 Years Ago

October 5, 1956

Kewaskum had a run of accidents and ailments of a wide variety during the week which required emergency medical attention to two children and three adults. The most serious injury was suffered by Clifford Kleinke, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kleinke, Kewaskum, who was struck by an automobile at about 5:10 p.m. on Monday on East Main Street as he dashed into the street after a softball. Accompanied by his father, the Kleinke boy was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend by Police Chief Roland Pledl. He suffered a concussion and other head injuries, fractured ribs and multiple contusions. His condition was reported as improving.

David Backhaus, 28, of Kewaskum, Washington County traffic officer, was treated by a local physician who removed a BB pellet from a shotgun shell from Backhaus' left cheek. Backhaus was hunting at a pot hole near Kewaskum when he was struck by a pellet from a shotgun shell which is believed to have glanced off a tree branch and struck the hunter. Backhaus is reported to have been hunting when another group of hunters came into the area, apparently not knowing the first group was there. The other hunters shot at ducks and one of the pellets struck Backhaus.

The famous floating island at Fahn's Kettle Moraine lake resort (formerly Round Lake) north of Kewaskum is in the headlines again. Workers were scheduled to begin removing the 6,000 ton island from the lake last week. Plans were made to remove the island because of the damage the floating body of roots, vines and decayed vegetation caused to piers, beaches and other property on Kettle Moraine Lake. The original island was broken into some 10 pieces by storms and heavy waves. The largest piece rested on the beach near Fahn's resort. The island is being removed by workers of Harold Tomkins of Manitowoc with a power shovel. It was estimated the work would take about six days at a cost of approximately $3,000 which will be paid by cottage owners' association.

The fifth annual sportsman's dance sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Coon Club will be held at the Beechwood Hall on October 13. Music for young and old will be furnished by Tiny Terlinden's Orchestra. Proceeds from the dance will be used to restock raccoon.

October 12, 1956

The annual live turkey shoot at the Bar-N Dude Ranch, northeast of Kewaskum, Sunday, sponsored by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club, attracted more than 5,000 persons and was by far the largest and most successful held to date. More than 300 turkeys were shot or won at this fourth annual shoot. Throughout the day a total of about 2,700 shooters stepped up to the lanes to try their marksmanship at bagging a turkey.

John Brath, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brath, Route 3, Kewaskum, joined the Air Force October 3.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karl, Route 3, Kewaskum, on October 7. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gruber, Kewaskum, also on October 7.

An electric clock was last week installed by the Universal Service Directory, Inc. at the Farmer's and Merchants Bank. The clock is a nifty appearing outfit and is about six feet high, placed in front of the bank building. Outside of keeping correct time it serves as a directory of the different business houses and organizations of the village. At night it is illuminated with electric lights.

The remodeling of the Peace Evangelical church is well underway. The foundation for the additions have been laid and masons are busily engaged in constructing the walls.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Art Manthei last Wednesday.

October 9, 1931

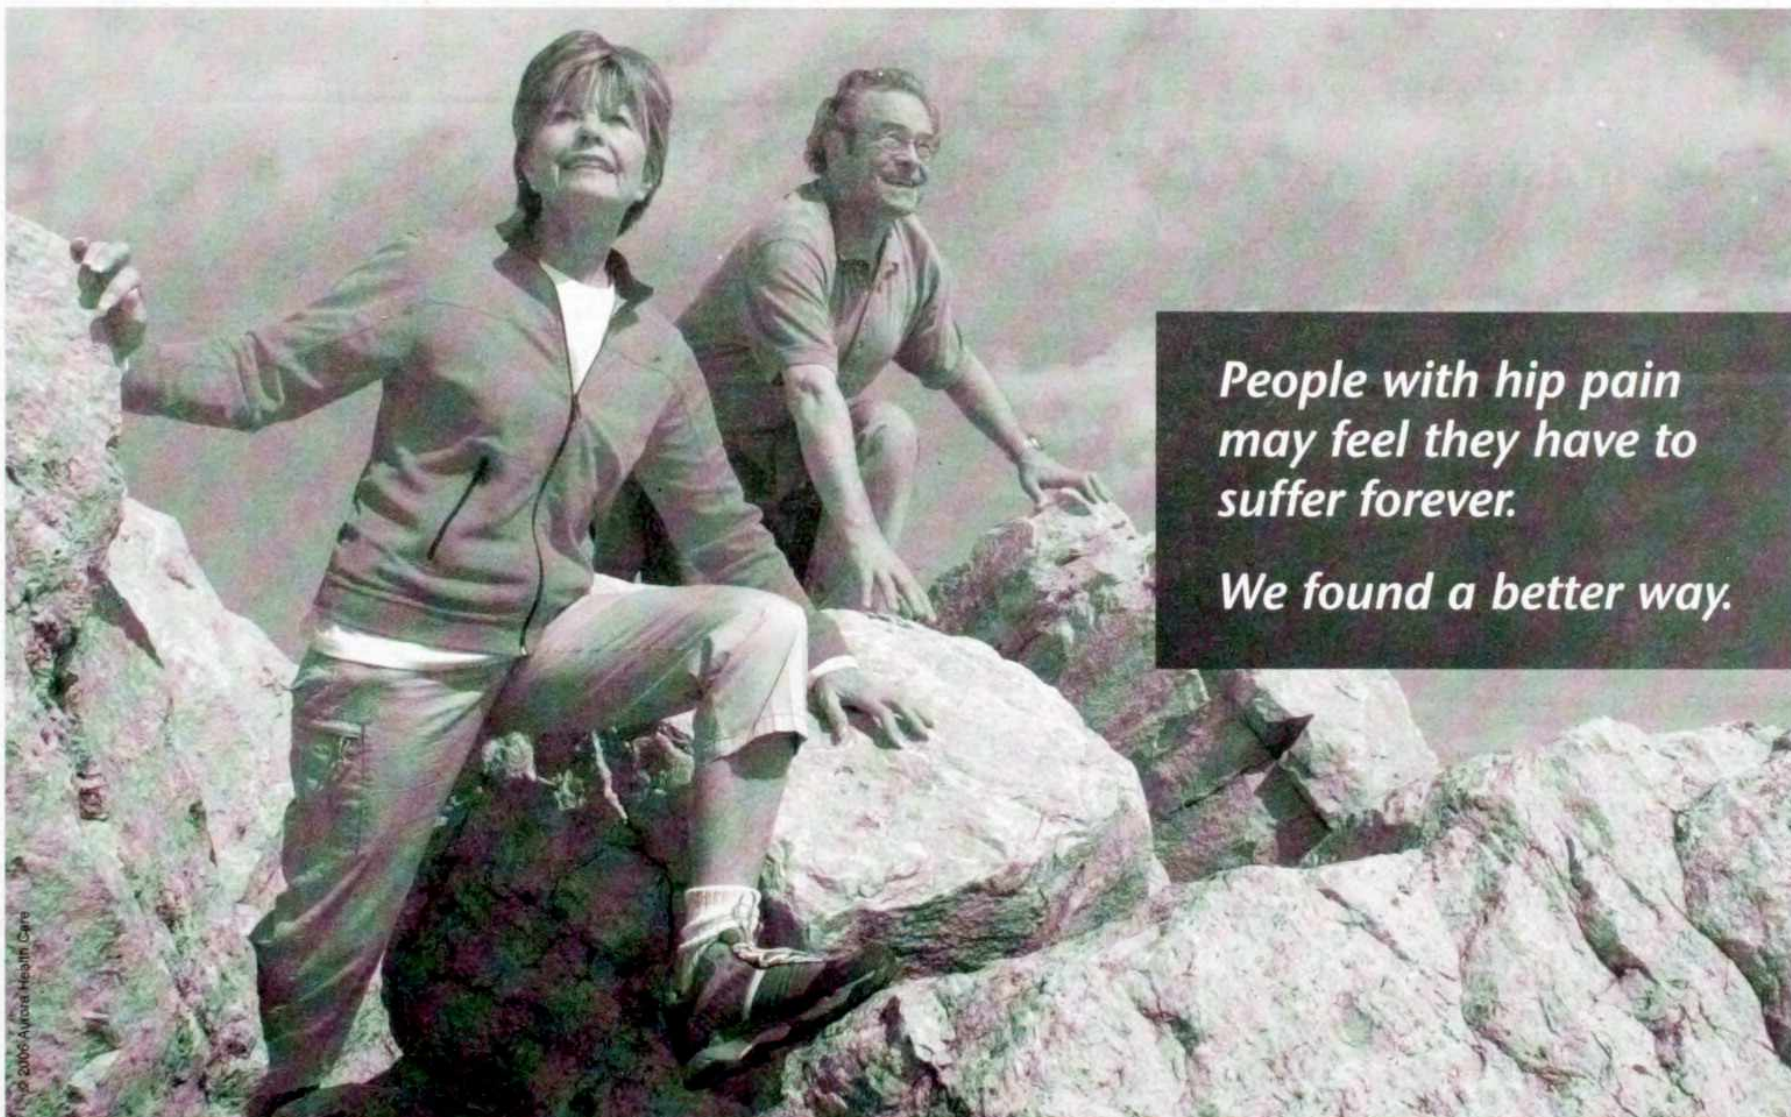

Four youthful bandits who beat two brothers into unconsciousness after robbing them of approximately $45 in cash in a holdup at their farm home, 1/2 mile north of St. Kilian, are being sought by the sheriff's department. The holdup occurred at the Henry Wagner farm.

The St. Michael's Dramatic Club announced its first play "My Dixie Rose" to be presented October 11 and 13. The cast of characters includes Victor Schneider, Helen Staehler, Lenora Bremser, Albert Theusch, Joseph Staehler, Agnes Uelmen, Rayner Theusch and John Cechvala.

Last week Friday night, burglars broke into Simon Strachota's store at St. Kilian and emptied both registers of small change amounting to about $17.00.

Arnold and Raymond Zeimet and Felix Hirsig motored to Manitowoc last Friday, and while there Raymond accepted a position as radio operator on a boat for the Ries Transportation Company of Manitowoc. He commenced his duties on Saturday.

A baby boy was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wolf of St. Kilian.

Kiwanis Students of the Month

Bekki Heberer

Jacob Cochran

Bekki Heberer and Jacob Cochran were named Kiwanis Students of the Month for the month of September. Bekki is the daughter of Janet and Randy Heberer. She is a member of the National Honor Society, FHA, yearbook club and student council. Bekki has played volleyball for four years and is currently the captain for the second year. She also plays softball and has been on the varsity team since her freshman year. She received an award for second team all conference this past spring. Last year Bekki was on a prom court. She also was a Badger State girl in which she traveled to UW-Oshkosh and spent a week representing KHS. Outside of school, Bekki volunteers in a youth outreach group through her church and plays club volleyball. After graduation Bekki's goal is to attend Marquette University to become a physician's assistant. Jacob is the son of Sally and Chris Cochran. He is currently in Germany for the school year as an exchange student. While at KHS, Jacob participated in tennis, soccer, forensics, swing choir, and the musicals. He was also a member of the German Partnership, Chess, HOPE, and Key clubs. Last year he was a writer for Smoke Signals, KHS's newspaper. He was also a member of National Honor Society and served on prom court, where he was voted king. Jacob also attended the Kiwanis Leadership weekend and the World Affairs Seminar. Jacob has volunteered for numerous years at the Rotary Seafood Fest and was involved in Habitat for Humanity in 2005 and 2006. At church, Jacob is a youth group leader, member of the youth group praise and worship band and a drama team member. He is also a home bible study leader. After high school Jacob plans to study youth ministries at Wheaton, Crown or North Central College.

Blomquist attends NCTM conference to learn ways to improve math education

MaryLane Blomquist, chair of the math department at Kewaskum High School, joined other math educators from the region at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM) Regional Conference and Exposition in Chicago, September 20-22. The conference theme, "Winds of Change," highlighted the council's commitment to providing teachers with exciting and challenging ways to improve mathematics learning for all students.

Hosted by the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics (ICTM), the conference offered more than 360 sessions and workshops that featured nationally known speakers from the region as well as throughout the United States and Canada. The three-day conference attracted math educators from all levels, preschool through university, to exchange ideas on how students learn math and to take a look at new ways to solve old problems.

"Mathematics teaching is a demanding job which gets more complex as teachers strive to meet the diverse needs of their students and of their profession. The regional conferences provide teachers with opportunities to grow as learners and help their students become the best they can be," said NCTM President Francis (Skip) Fennell. "The conferences also afford an opportunity for both new and experienced teachers to share ideas, develop new ones, and think creatively about how to support mathematics learning for all students."

NCTM will present three regional conferences in 2006 throughout the United States. Each conference will feature sessions presented by widely known speakers, as well as workshops, lectures, panel discussions, and exhibits of the latest mathematics education materials and innovations.

"The task of teaching has changed. We no longer simply transmit information. This new situation requires new expectations, new tools, and new ways of teaching and learning mathematics," said NCTM Executive Director Jim Rubillo.

With 100,000 members and more than 240 affiliates throughout the United States and Canada, NCTM is the world's largest organization dedicated to improving math teaching and learning for grades pre-K-12.

Connerton named semifinalist in scholarship program

Kate Connerton

The principal, Christine Horbas, of Kewaskum High School announced today that Kate Connerton has been named a Semifinalist in the 2007 National Merit Scholarship Program. Kate has a Selection Index score of 211, and is among 16,000 semifinalists.

This academically talented student has an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 8,200 awards, worth $33 million, that will be offered next spring.

To be considered for an award, semifinalists must advance to the Finalist level by fulfilling several requirements. About 90% are expected to attain Finalist standing, and approximately half of the Finalists will be selected as Merit Scholarship winners, earning the nationally renowned Merit Scholar title.

A Kewaskum High School student has not earned this accomplishment for the past 10 years. This is an outstanding achievement and we wish Kate the best of luck.

KHS students earn AP Scholar Awards

Six students at Kewaskum High School have earned the designation of AP Scholar by the College Board in recognition of their exceptional achievement on the college-level Advanced Placement Program (AP) Exams.

The College Board's Advanced Placement Program offers students the opportunity to take challenging college-level courses while still in high school, and to receive college credit, advanced placement, or both for successful performance on the AP Exams.

Students took AP Exams in May 2006 after completing challenging college-level courses at their high school. The College Board recognizes several levels of achievement based on student's performance on AP exams.

At Kewaskum High School, three students qualified for the National AP Scholar Award by earning an average grade of 4 or higher on a 5-point scale on all AP Exams taken, and grades of 4 or higher on eight or more of these exams. These students are: Mitch Paulus, Kyle Rieden and Walter Huf.

Two students qualified for the AP Scholar with Distinction Award by earning an average grade of at least 3.5 on all AP Exams taken, and grades of 3 or higher on five or more of these exams. These students are: Kyle Rieden and Walter Huf.

Two students qualified for the AP Scholar with Honor Award by earning an average grade of at least 3.25 on all AP Exams taken, and grades of 3 or higher on four or more of these exams. These students are: Mitch Paulus and Danielle Yanke.

Two students qualified for the AP Scholar Award by completing three or more AP Exams, with grades of 3 or higher. The AP Scholars are: Nicholas Bartley and Adam Nothem.

Most of the nation's colleges and universities award credit, advanced placement, or both based on successful performance on the AP Exams.

HT students have special guest

Auditorium plan

A concept plan presented by the district's architect, Ray Haen, of Quasius, who has worked on projects for the last 10 years for the school district, shows moving the current library out of what is known as the 700 building to what is now the gym in Rose Hall. That would occupy a little less than half of the gym. The other half, facing the stage would be stadium style seating for 315 in an auditorium using the historic stage.

Plans also indicate a computer lab, next to the proposed library. Entrance to the new library would be from the side, creating fewer distractions. The stage would be completely restored and storage space, dressing rooms and a classroom would be located directly in back of the stage.

The 700 building, now home to the library and a few classrooms, would be converted into art and special education classrooms with a 26-station computer lab.

To complete the project a new roof would be installed over the existing Rose Hall at an estimated price tag of $80,000. Asbestos tile would need to be removed from the gym at a cost of $20,000.

"We don't want to go to referendum on this project, we want to finance this on our own," stated Paul Reichert, business manager for the district.

Reichert hypothesized that the district could use some of the $3,150,000 in fund balance. Because ten percent, or $1,806,000, of the fund balance must be the district's operating budget, he offered up borrowing $677,000 in a 10-year note. He also hoped for a surplus in the 2007 budget that could be used.

Superintendent of Schools Mike Krumm was hopeful that the community would take interest in the project and do fundraising for the construction. He also said the district might entertain the sale of naming rights.

Krumm stated that he thought the project was a very important one for the district. He hoped once the auditorium was built it might make bringing in speakers for educational purposes more appealing to students and also staff workshops. He also liked the idea of making the auditorium a community asset that can be used for Community Theater.

Neal Weare, who was in the audience, asked why the board would consider keeping the 700 building in the plan when it was scheduled to be demolished in the last referendum. "It's like putting a high powered stereo in a rusted out old car," he stated.

Hagen reported that in further investigations, it was found that the structure is actually sounder than originally anticipated. However, he did not argue the building's exterior needs a touch of TLC and that would be addressed in coming plans.

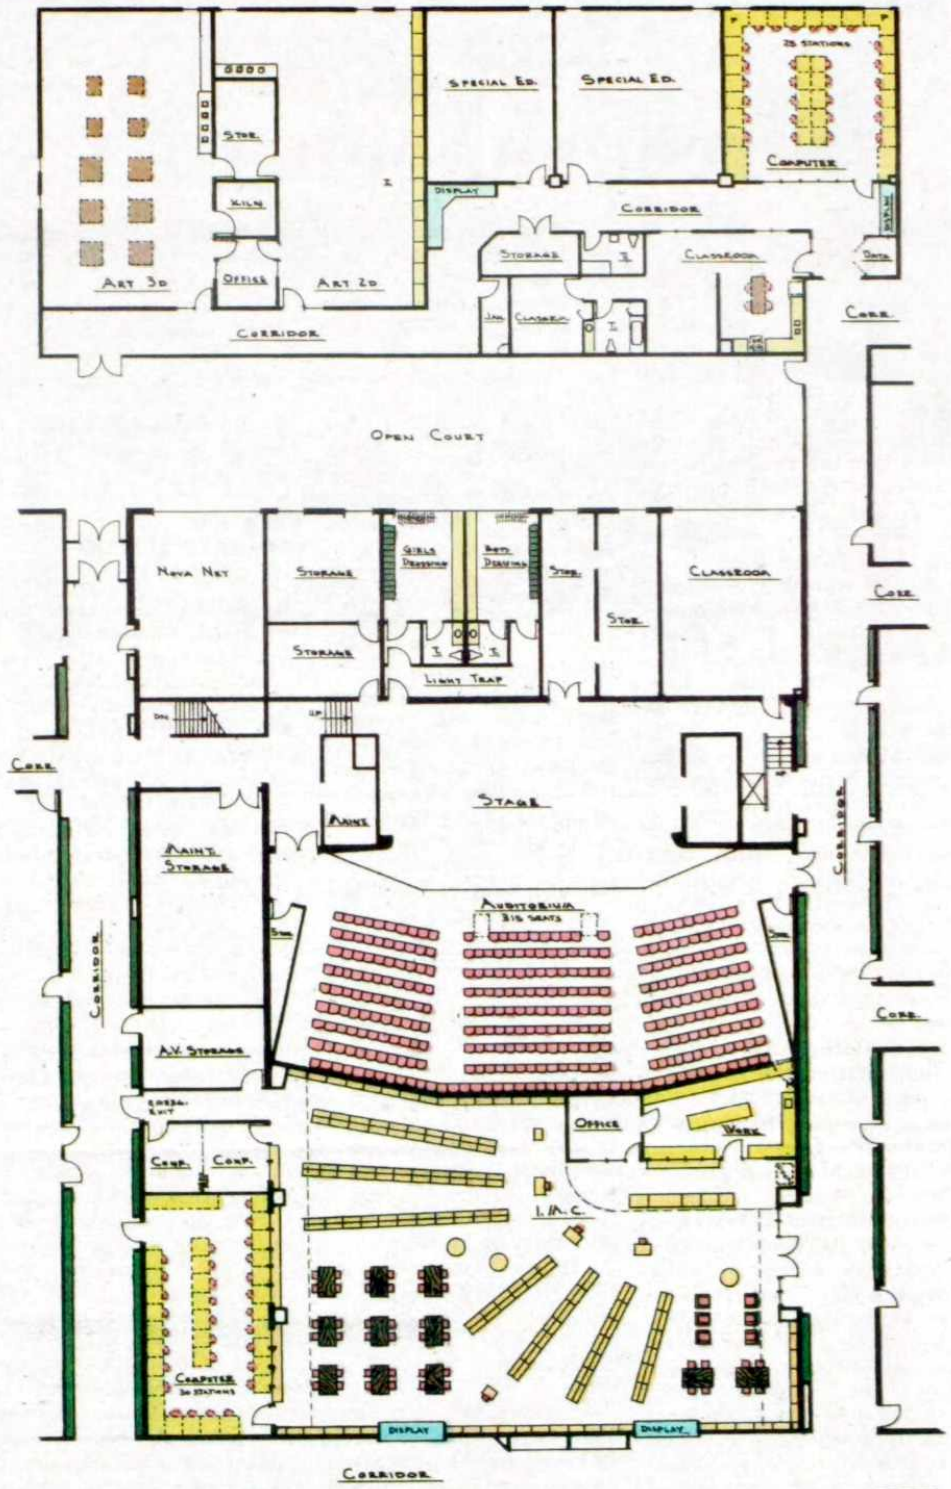

The district will now meet with staff to get their ideas and perspective on the project. If everything goes according to plan, remodeling could get underway this spring.

The board also approved plans to replace windows at KHS. Reichert told the board that the single pane windows are close to 40 years old and no longer open without difficulty. They were installed when that section of the building was constructed in 1966.

The district's director of building and grounds, Jim Palmer, recommended using Wausau Series 4250 Windows. Reichert presented three quotes obtained by Palmer. The lowest bid, $18,689 was received from Simmons Building Products, Inc. of Wauwatosa.

The windows are glazed with low-E insulated glass and should decrease the heat loss currently experienced in those rooms. The windows have a delivery time of 20 weeks, which means they could be installed during spring break.

An additional interior construction of $2,000 is also tagged on to the project.

MARVIN C. KLEINKE

Marvin C. Kleinke, 92, of Kewaskum, passed away on Monday, October 9, 2006 at the Samaritan Health Center in West Bend.

He was born on January 24, 1914, in Shawano, the son of the late William and Amanda (Brockhaus Baker) Kleinke, and on October 27, 1945, he was united in marriage to Dolores Marie Caroline Heberer at St. John Lutheran Church in New Fane.

Marvin proudly served his country in the U. S. Army Airforce during World War II, earning several medals of honor including the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre Ribbon, Good Conduct Ribbon, Silver Battle Star, four Overseas Service Bars and Bronze Battle Star. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Robert G. Romaine American Legion Post 384 Kewaskum, the Kewaskum Lion's Club and the Kewaskum Historical Society. Marvin was also an active member of St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kewaskum where he served as an Elder and Financial Secretary for many years.

After his retirement from A.O. Smith Company in Milwaukee, Marvin was employed by the Kewaskum School District as a janitor and worked at the Amerahn in Kewaskum for 23 years. He was a valued volunteer in Kewaskum from Meals on Wheels, to one of his favorite events, the annual Easter egg hunt. If anyone needed a hand with anything, Marvin was there to help. He will be deeply missed by his wife, his family and by all who knew him.

Survivors include his loving wife of 61 years, Dolores; eight children, Charles (Susan) Kleinke and Earl (Marie) Kleinke both of Kewaskum, Cliff (Alice) Kleinke of Eau Claire, Edmond (Nancy) Kleinke of West Bend, Yvonne (Bruce) Schumacher of St. Paul, Minnesota, Annette (Dave) Wienke of Milwaukee, Suzette (Val) Fischer of Dayton, Ohio and Claudette (Jim) Guell of Waucousta; a sister, Gladys Van den Berg of Key Biscayne, Florida; two sisters-in-law, Virginia Kleinke of Illinois and LaVerne Kleinke of West Bend; 21 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, many other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by three brothers, Frederick "Fritz", Wilbur (Marie) and Alphasus Kleinke.

A funeral service for Marvin will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, October 13, 2006 at St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kewaskum. Rev. Edwin Fredrich will officiate and burial with military graveside rites performed by members of the Robert G. Romaine American Legion Post 384 Kewaskum will follow in Lutheran Memorial Park in Kewaskum.

Relatives and friends may call on Friday at the church from 1:00 p.m. until the time of services.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum is serving the family. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

IN MEMORY

In memory of MICHAEL STERN, who passed away twenty-three years ago, October 18, 1983.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Loving and missing
you, Mike

PRAYER OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(Never known to fail)

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (pray three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish it and it will be granted to you. Grateful thanks.

M.B.H.

NOVENA PRAYER

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us.

Sacred Heart of Mary, pray for us.

Blessed Virgin Mary, pray for us.

Child Jesus, pray for us.

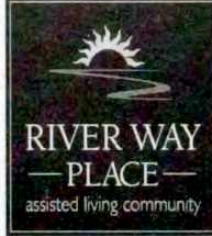

St. Jude Miracle Worker, pray for us.

Say for nine days and your prayer will be answered.

Must be published after the ninth day.

The Harley-Davidson Reader

By several authors Motorbooks $24.95 348Pages

Foreword by

Jean Davidson

granddaughter of founder Walter Davidson with

Hunter S. Thompson, Sonny Barger, Evel Knievel, Arlen Ness, Peter Egan, Brock Yates, and more son, Sonny Barger, Brock Yates, and others.

Over one hundred years ago, a couple of guys got together and put a motor on a bicycle. That's the short story of Harley-Davidson motorcycles, anyhow. Fans know there's much more to it than that. In this anthology, many famous Harley riders, dreamers, and experts weigh in on hogs, outlaws, and the need for speed.

If you could have any Harley-Davidson you wanted, which one would you choose? In "The Old Bike in the Barn, or, What My Folks Didn't Know, Didn't Hurt...Me" by Allan Girdler, the author tells about finding a classic Harley-Davidson motorcycle the most unlikely place, and buying it for the most astounding price.

When most people think of H-Ds, they think of menacing bikers, but these days, doctors, lawyers, manufacturers, mayors, and button-down CEOs are just as likely to jump on their bikes for a weekend excursion. In the segment called "The Good, the Bad, and the Legendary", you'll read about a Harley fit for a King, some of Hollywood's biggest H-D fans, and some legendary women who enjoy the air in their hair.

And what about that Bad Biker image? In "The Motorcycle Gangs: Losers and Outsiders" by the late Hunter S. Thompson, you'll read the original piece that Thompson wrote forty years ago, after spending time with the most legendary motorcycle club of all time. A few pages later, read an article from a famous president of that very club, followed by an excerpt from a book by the man who formed the first African American men's motorcycle club.

As in any anthology, the articles and excerpts in this book have been previously published; many, decades ago. While I enjoyed them, I had the nagging feeling that I had read them all before.

Most fascinating for me - and for many readers, I think - are the hundreds of archival photos, movie posters, and quotations scattered inside "The Harley Davidson Reader". And when I say "scattered", I mean you'll almost have to read this book twice. It's hard to keep focused on the articles because the illustrations practically demand to be studied.

Snapshots of riders, racers, and rebels. Covers of books, and posters from old B-movies and championship races. Cartoons, catalog pages, and chopper pics.

Fall is here, and if the weather is keeping you from hitting the road, look for "The Harley Davidson Reader". It's not as much fun as a hog between your knees or a potato-potato-potato in your ear, but it's pretty close.

LUSCIOUS FOUR-LAYER PUMPKIN CAKE

Prep Time: 20 min

Total Time: 1 hr 42 min

Makes: 16 servings, one slice each

- 1 pkg. (2-layer size) yellow cake mix
- 1 can (15 oz.) pumpkin, divided
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/3 cup oil
- 4 large eggs
- 1-1/2 tsp. pumpkin pie spice, divided
- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) Cream Cheese, softened
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 tub (8 oz.) Whipped Topping, thawed
- 1/4 cup caramel topping
- 1/4 cup chopped Pecans

PREHEAT oven to 350°F. Grease and flour two 9-inch round cake pans. Beat cake mix, 1 cup of the pumpkin, the milk, oil, eggs and 1 tsp. of the pumpkin pie spice in large bowl with electric mixer on medium speed until well blended. Pour evenly into prepared pans.

BAKE 28 to 30 min. or until wooden toothpick inserted in centers comes out clean. Cool in pans 10 min. Remove from pans to wire racks; cool completely. Beat cream cheese in small bowl with electric mixer on medium speed until creamy. Add sugar, remaining pumpkin and remaining 1/2 tsp. pumpkin pie spice; mix well. Stir in the whipped topping.

CUT each cake layer horizontally in half with serrated knife. Stack layers on serving plate, spreading the cream cheese filling between layers. (Do not frost top of cake.) Drizzle cake with caramel topping just before serving; sprinkle with the pecans. Store leftover cake in refrigerator.

Motorcycle lovers are a different breed of people.

Who else would think it perfectly fine to bring the bike into the living room, so that it could be disassembled and repaired in comfort and in front of the TV?

Who else believes that a black leather jacket and chaps are acceptable wedding attire?

Who else thinks that "potato-potato-potato" is the best music in the world?

Oooh. Have I just described you? Then you need to get "The Harley-Davidson Reader", foreword by Jean Davidson, with Hunter S. Thomp-

Village Board Meeting Minute

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission Meeting
August 22, 2006
7:30 PM

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin held a regular meeting in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

Chairperson Mathew Heiser called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m. The following Commissioners were present: Frank Beesten, Chad Cook, Theodore Meilahn, Andy Pesch and Jim Wright. Also in attendance was Andy Petersen of Ruckert & Mielke, Timblin/Greene developers and engineers, Village staff: Jay Shambeau and Jerry Gilles, Gordy Hoffman, Zoning Administrator and other interested individuals.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Jim Wright, seconded by Frank Beesten, and carried by voice vote, the July 25, 2006 Plan Commission minutes were approved as printed.

Mathew Heiser informed Commissioners that the next Washington County Multi-Jurisdictional Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee meeting is scheduled for August 30, 2006. Progress continues on the comprehensive plan chapter development.

Jay Shambeau reviewed a sample brochure to be utilized for the Village of Kewaskum's Visioning Workshop scheduled for September 28, 2006. Shambeau explained that these brochures would be mailed to every mailbox, cluster box and PO Box holder in the Village. Shambeau requested that Commissioners encourage members of the community to attend and have a voice in the future direction of the Village of Kewaskum.

Gordy Hoffman, Zoning Administrator introduced the application of Dr. Ogi regarding a block wall courtyard exercise area for animals. Commissioners discussed the location of this property and reflected on past conditional use permit issuance.

On a motion by Jim Wright, seconded by Theodore Meilahn, and carried by voice vote, action was tabled until the next Plan Commission meeting. Hoffman will notify Dr. Ogi of the next meeting date.

Tom Timblin introduced the third draft of a concept plan for the Mediterra Subdivision. Mr. Timblin indicated that this revised plan now meets the 10 percent road slope requirement, includes an 80 foot right-of-way for proposed collector road and dedicates a right-of-way for a future Milwaukee River crossing.

Discussion took place regarding the booster pump and specifications that are required to adequately serve the 18 proposed lots on the top of the hill. Various types and sizes of pumps were discussed. It was the consensus of Commissioners to require an aboveground shelter for the booster station. Commissioners also discussed the potential creation of a special water utility district in order to place the future cost of maintaining this special equipment to the landowners who would receive direct benefit.

A high capacity private well was discussed as an alternative to booster pumps. The private well concept was dismissed by Commissioners based on the need for customers in the Village water utility, reduced impact fees and the setting of a precarious precedent for future development.

Andy Petersen indicated to the Commissioners that the booster pumps and related structures would be owned, operated and maintained by the Village after construction.

On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Jim Wright, and carried by voice vote, the Plan Commission recommends approval to the Village Board of the Mediterra concept plan with no guarantee of the total amount or configuration of lots as proposed and with the requirement the subdivision will meet all Village ordinances, zoning requirements, standards, policies, and other regulatory agency guidelines.

On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Jim Wright, and carried by roll call, the meeting was adjourned. Roll call vote was 6 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent"

Village Board Meeting
September 5, 2006
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Mathew A. Heiser presided and called the meeting to order at 8:00 pm. Board members present were Steve Scheunemann, Kevin Scheunemann, Matt Heiser, Andy Pesch and Derek Peterson. Excused Board Members were Harry Roecker and Thomas Piwoni. Staff members present were Jay Shambeau, Jerry Gilles and Mark Groeschel. Also present were Ken Ward of Ruckert & Mielke and interested members from the community.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Andy Pesch, seconded by Trustee Derek Peterson and carried by voice vote, the minutes of the August 21, 2006 meeting were approved as corrected.

Ken Ward described the TID 2 assessment alternatives as presented to the Board on August 21, 2006. Mr. Ward cautioned the Board to be cognizant of the existing Village policy for public improvements made to existing parcels. The Board members discussed the alternatives and the fact that they desire to be consistent with past and future developments. Interested individuals in attendance were permitted to address the Board and ask questions of Mr. Ward.

Mr. Ward discussed the history of the TID project plan. President Heiser requested Ken Ward to figure the percentages at 30% of the initial cost presented. Consensus was reached by the Board to draft a resolution to include: 10 year repayment plan, .25% higher interest rate than final borrowing, 30% of the initial cost of frontage and no Town of Kewaskum parcels included on the tax roll. On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Kevin Scheunemann and carried by voice vote, future Village Boards are encouraged to treat the current Town of Kewaskum residents within this assessment district equivalent to the parameters of the proposed resolution.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel presented the August monthly report:

Fire Calls	6
Year to Date	33
Jaws	2
Year to Date	10
Rescue Calls	31
Miles	794

Police Chief Knoebel asked to be excused and was not present.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles presented his concern for the grass cutting in the TID 2 region.

Administrator Jay Shambeau reported on Local Government Official WisLine Series and the upcoming elections and official public test.

Trustee Andy Pesch recommended approval of bills presented. On a motion by Trustee Derek Peterson, seconded by Trustee Steve Scheunemann and unanimously carried by voice vote the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The total of all claims as recommended are as follows:

General Fund	93,612.24
Library Fund	8,199.12
A/P Checks #30522-#30614
TID NO 2	78,006.39
Sewer Fund	19,130.19
P/R Checks #75139-#75237
Water Fund	24,686.89
TOTAL	223,634.83

Derek Peterson reported on the upcoming tour of the wastewater treatment facility plant on September 6, 2006. The purpose of the tour is to gain information in preparation of the public hearing on September 18, 2006.

Board Representative for the Plan Commission Trustee Andy Pesch reported on the last meeting. The Plan Commission recommended approval of the concept plan for Mediterra Subdivision. He announced the next meeting date of September 26, 2006 at 7:30PM. President Heiser reported on the latest activities of the Washington County Comprehensive Planning process.

Board representative for the Library Board, President Heiser announced the monthly meeting for September 11, 2006 at 6:00PM.

Mid Moraine representative, President Heiser, announced the next meeting date of September 13, 2006 in Jackson at 7:00PM.

President Heiser introduced the Mediterra Concept plan. He indicated to the board that this subdivision includes some unique circumstances including an exception for a 1,700 foot cul-de-sac, the need for a booster pump and floodplain/wetland concerns. On a motion by Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Andy Pesch, to approve the Mediterra Concept plan as recommended by the Plan Commission. Roll Call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

Jim Wessing requested to delay the surface course of asphalt in Woodland Creek Addition I. On a motion by Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Steve Scheunemann and carried by voice vote the request was granted subject to renewal of a $50,000.00 Letter of Credit. After further discussion the Board agreed to address similar requests in an equitable fashion.

Mr. Shambeau presented a Proclamation in recognition of the Kewaskum Library sign from funds donated to the David Stradtman Memorial fund. On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Matt Heiser the Proclamation was approved. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee Steve Scheunemann and carried by roll call vote, the Board approved the application for a Temporary Class "B" Fermented Malt Beverage Picnic License in Riverhill Park. The event is for a benefit for Robert Ruplinger family October 7, 2006. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

On a motion by Trustee Andy Pesch, seconded by Trustee Steve Scheunemann and carried by voice vote, the Board approved the appointment of Jeff Jaeger as the agent for the aforementioned event.

On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee Steve Scheunemann and carried by voice vote, the meeting was adjourned at 9:55PM. Roll call vote 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Special Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Mathew A. Heiser presided and called the meeting to order at 4:30 pm. Board members present were Kevin Scheunemann, Matt Heiser, Andy Pesch, Harry Roecker, Tom Piwoni, Steve Scheunemann and Derek Peterson. Staff members present were Jay Shambeau and Jerry Gilles. The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee

Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of September 18, 2006 were approved as presented.

The Board reviewed and discussed the comments both verbal and written submitted at the public hearing. Trustee Peterson raised the concern of utilizing our current day-to-day contracted engineers for design, review and implementation of a significant wastewater treatment facility investment. Trustee Peterson also discussed the possibility of adding an additional Village staff position to coordinate activity with contracted engineers. The Board discussed the scope of the draft facilities plan and the potential need for an engineering review from an outside firm.

On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Kevin Scheunemann and carried by voice vote, the Board directed staff to draft a special project RFP for engineering firms to review the draft facility plan for a second opinion.

The Board discussed the removal of clearwater discharges to the sanitary sewer. A consensus was reached by board members to direct Village staff to draft an ordinance for their review to aggressively address the identification and remedies available for existing as well as future noncompliant sump pumps.

The Board discussed the possibility of implementing an interim plan. There was consensus among Board members to pursue full implementation of a Facility Plan, pending results of an additional outside engineering review.

Action was taken on Resolution No. R2006-24 "A Resolution Requesting Financial Assistance for Operation of Recycling Program and Naming Authorized Official" as attached hereto; Roll call vote was 6 "Aye" 1 "Nay" 0 "Absent". Trustee Kevin Scheunemann voting "Nay".

On a motion by Trustee Tom Piwoni, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and carried by voice vote, the meeting was adjourned at 6:40 pm. Roll call vote 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent".

Defense saves the day for 8th graders; 6th graders pick up 1st win

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

A goal line stand in the final minute of the game helped the eighth graders (3-2) secure a thrilling 16-13 victory over Cedar Grove-Belgium in Grid-iron football action Saturday.

The only other Kewaskum team to win was the sixth graders, who shut out their opponents 12-0 for their first victory of 2006.

"It was a great game," coach Jim "Jonesy" Korth said about his team's victory at the eighth grade level.

Cedar Grove scored on its opening drive, behind the running of a bruising back, according to Korth. He said his team came back with a 50-60 yard drive, which ended with a 15-yard TD pass from Cody Nuernberg to Matt Ballard. Korth decided to have Lucas Kopeschka kick the extra point (running or passing for a PAT is worth one point, while the kick worth two in this league), and he made it for an 8-7 lead.

In the second half, Cedar Grove regained the lead with a touchdown but could not get the extra point. Later the Indians started a drive at their 20, picked up a first down, and then Ryan Ogi came up with the winning TD on a pass play.

"He (Ogi) broke loose and scored on about a 50-yard play," Korth said, indicating the kick hit the crossbar and went through.

The Rockets didn't give up, moving the ball 60 yards to get in the "red zone," but on a fourth and less than a foot to go for a TD with seconds remaining, Korth said his defense held.

"It was kind of a group play ... (Paul) Gutjahr, Nuernberg; and I think (Steve) Moser was in there," Korth said, praising his defensive coordinator, Gil DeLaurier for a great game plan.

The sixth graders (1-4) "bounced back nicely" after last week's loss to get the win and the shutout.

Nathan Krupp scored on a short run just before half, according to coach Joe Backhaus, who said his team picked up four first downs on four straight first-down plays to open the game.

The kick for PAT failed, but in the second half, Kewaskum added another TD on an 11-yard run by Hunter Flanders.

Backhaus was happy his defense kept Cedar Grove from crossing the 50-yard line, giving the offense a short field most times.

"Teddy Wollner led the team in tackles, along with Brett Scoles, Colin Wagner and Alex Fechter," Backhaus said.

"They seemed to be a little more fired up for a change," Backhaus said about his players.

Coach Tom Kudek knew his team (3-2) was in for a big challenge, because the Cedar Grove seventh graders were coming in at 4-0, and the young Indians had trouble stopping them in the 30-13 defeat.

"We started off pretty good. It was 0-0 at the end of the first quarter," Kudek said. "They they got a couple of touchdowns and we had to play catchup."

After being down 18-0 at half, the young Indians finally got on the board on a QB sneak by Sammy Olla in the third quarter, and Olla passed to Danny Bohn for the extra point.

Kewaskum's other touchdown came via a 2-yard run by Eric Perkins.

Kudek lauded the play of Tony Gonring at linebacker and reported one of his quarterbacks, Joey Wollner, broke his arm. "They beat us up a little bit," he said.

Playing against one of the four Lake Country (Hartland) teams, the fifth graders (3-2) were shut out 26-0.

"There's nothing really good to report," coach Mark Walcheske said. "Joey Seitz intercepted a pass and returned it about 40 yards. That was really the highlight of the game."

Lake Country scored on the opening kickoff and led 19-0 at intermission.

Pheasant season to open at noon on October 14

MADISON - Pheasant hunters venturing into the prairies and marshes of southern Wisconsin can expect good success in 2006, with summer brood surveys showing a slight decrease in naturally-reproducing birds but stocking levels increasing substantially from last year, according to state wildlife officials. The 2006 Wisconsin statewide pheasant hunting season opens at noon on Oct. 14.

Department of Natural Resources wildlife staff will again stock selected public hunting grounds this fall with approximately 52,000 game farm pheasants. This is an increase from 2005 when 34,000 game farm pheasants were stocked. Stocking levels were increased this fall due to a change in the pheasant stamp appropriation with passage of the state budget last summer. The change dedicates 60 percent of the revenue from sale of the pheasant stamp to the stocking and propagation of pheasants on state lands, which will result in increased and more stable stocking levels in the future.

In the past pheasants reared for release into the put-and-take hunting program have been paid for by general license dollars, not pheasant dollars. With this change, hunters will see pheasant stamps increase to $10. The other 40 percent of pheasant stamp revenue will continue being dedicated to developing, managing, preserving, restoring, and maintaining the wild pheasant population within the state.

Wisconsin's wild, naturally-reproducing pheasant population experienced a fair nesting season this year. Both the spring crowing count survey and the rural mail carrier pheasant survey showed a slight decrease in the number of roosters counted compared to last year. Brood surveys from this summer also showed a slight decrease (25 percent) in the number of broods seen while the average size of the brood was essentially unchanged. Pheasant numbers are likely to be down slightly compared to last fall's hunting season.

Areas within the pheasant management counties that contain adequate winter cover such as cattail and shrub-carr marshes and well established native prairie fields, and with 15 percent or more of the landscape in idle grassland will have the highest pheasant densities.

In Wisconsin research has shown that wetlands are one of the most important year-round cover types for pheasants. Over the long-term throughout the Midwest, pheasant populations have shown a decline. Changes in pheasant populations have coincided with changing agriculture and land use patterns. Pheasants once relied on small grain and hay fields for nesting and brood rearing. These areas are now being replaced with larger row crops of corn and soybeans. It will be important for hunters to identify areas with high quality habitat and concentrate hunting efforts in that area.

Hunters should note that there are no longer Special Pheasant Hunting Regulations. A complete set of pheasant hunting regulations is now included in the 2006 Small Game Hunting Regulations. In addition, a new one page flier entitled 2006 Pheasant Stocking Information lists public hunting grounds DNR staff plan to stock with pheasants this fall. Both the regulations and the flier can be found on the pheasant page of the DNR Web site.

A pheasant stamp is required to hunt pheasants within the pheasant management zone. Pheasant hunting opens statewide at noon on Oct. 14 and closes on Dec. 31. From Oct. 14 to 15, the daily bag limit is one cock and possession limit is two. For the remainder of the season the daily bag limit is two cocks and the possession limit is four. Some public hunting grounds have both hen and cock pheasant hunting (requires free permits and tags) and /or 2 p.m. closure times. See the 2006 Small Game Hunting Regulations pamphlet for details.

Pheasant hunters are reminded that blaze orange requirements are in effect during gun deer hunting seasons. This includes: the regular gun season Nov. 18-26 and muzzleloader deer season Nov. 27-Dec. 6, the four-day antlerless only gun hunt Dec. 7-10, and in chronic wasting disease control hunts within CWD units. For a complete list of units and dates refer to the 2006 Wisconsin Deer Hunting Regulations, which are available on the Hunting Regulations page of the DNR Web site.

Deer hunters asked to submit deer heads for CWD testing

This year, deer harvested in Washington, Ozaukee, Dodge, Sheboygan, northern Waukesha, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha counties will be sampled for Chronic Wasting Disease. Deer heads will be collected during the early bow and gun deer seasons. The bow season runs Sept. 16 to Nov. 16 and Nov. 27 through Jan. 7, 2007. The nine day gun season is Nov. 18 through Nov. 26.

In addition to the valuable information the sampling provides, hunters have an opportunity to win a $500 gift certificate.

"Hunters can help our sampling effort by donating the head from their adult deer," said CWD wildlife supervisor Tami Ryan. "There is no cost to the hunter, and they get a chance to win a $500 gift certificate."

Southeastern Wisconsin includes two CWD sampling units this year. One unit covers Washington, Ozaukee, Dodge and Sheboygan counties. The other includes Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha and northern Waukesha counties.

"Our goal is to sample at least 500 deer in each unit," Ryan said. "In each of the sampling units, two $500 gift certificates will be awarded, thanks to donations from the Washington County Chapter of Whitetails Unlimited, and Sheboygan County Conservation Association. Other clubs and organizations have also contributed to this effort in other sampling units around the state."

Hunters will receive one entry chance for each adult deer head they submit. The contest ends on December 31, 2006 or sooner if the sample quota is reached.

Eligible Deer are adult deer (no fawns) harvested in one of the counties listed above that have not been badly damaged in the head or upper neck area. These deer need to be submitted or frozen within 24 hours of harvest.

Hunters should bring their deer to one of the head collection stations listed below. It is recommended that hunters call ahead for hours of operation. Deer heads for taxidermy, or European mounts may also be submitted. At least 6-9 inches of the neck must remain attached to the head.

Local deer head collection stations:

- Al's Taxidermy, 9383 Old Fond du Lac Rd., Kewaskum 262-626-2073
- Gehrigs Meat Market, 5618 Hwy K (south of Allenton, one half mile west of Hwy 41) 262-644-6272
- Cabela's Cabela Way, Richfield (Jct. Hwy 145 and Hwy 41) 262-628-57001
- Blau's Saukville Meats, 501 E. Green Bay Avenue, Saukville 262-284-0898
- Schwai's Meat & Sausage, W3940 Hwy H, Fredonia (2 miles west of Hwy 57) 262-692-2731
- DNR Service Center, 1155 Pilgrim Rd., Plymouth 920-892-8756

During opening weekend of gun deer season, DNR staff will collect deer heads at Mills Fleet Farm in Plymouth and Din's Mini-Mart in Dundee.

For more information on CWD, call the toll-free information line during regular business hours, 1-877-WISC-CWD (1-877-947-2293).

With key player missing, Indians have difficulties in County test

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Had the Washington County Volleyball Tournament been played a couple weeks ago, the outcome might have been a lot different for Kewaskum High than what happened last Saturday.

With 5-foot-9 spiker Becky Rodenkirch out for the season with a thumb injury, at times, the Indians had no other answers against what are considered some very talented opponents.

Kewaskum managed to win three games in the round robin event, playing two games against each of the other six schools. Two of their wins came against Slinger by scores of 25-17 and 25-20, and the other was a 25-18 effort in the first game vs. Hartford.

KHS coach Renee Altendorf saw many bright spots from her Indians, but there were also times when they struggled to successfully receive serves, to pass and to finish games.

The first match against Germantown was a perfect example. The Indians lost to the Warhawks 12-25 and 25-27. "We had a hard time serve receiving the ball, and we could not put the ball down in the court," Altendorf said, but in the second game, "We stayed with them all the way to the end, but we could not finish the game."

Statistical leaders in this match included: aces — Christina DeGroot had all three the team recorded; assists — DeGroot and Erika Heberer, each with seven; kills — 17 total, with DeGroot high with five, Bekki Heberer with four, and five others chipping in with one or two.

Match 2: KHS beats Slinger 25-17 and 25-20

In this match, KHS came up with five aces, with Marissa Dehler tops with two, and DeGroot and Bekki Heberer the kill leaders at seven and five. In the digging department, Stephanie Rinzel, DeGroot and Emily Sedgwick all had six.

"A better job with the passing and more kills," Altendorf said about the sweep, while adding, in the second game, "Emily Sedgwick had a great run of five serves to give us the lead.

Match 3 This was a match the Indians wanted, and they did pretty well against the powerful Suns, falling 16-25 and 22-25. "The girls tried very hard," Altendorf said.

The Indians had just a dozen kills in the two games, with DeGroot, the team leader, with five.

"This match we did a good job digging the ball but we could not get a kill off our sets," the coach said. "We also struggled with the serve receive and could not get the passes to our setters."

Match 4 The Indians came up with their lowest point total against the Spartans, losing 15-25 and 9-25.

Normally a good serving team, the Indians could not come up with a single ace, and most of the match they were on the defensive as evidenced by their 50 digs, including 18 by Dehler and 13 from Bekki Heberer.

The Heberer sisters combined for seven of the Indians' kills, and reserve Emily Aycok did a nice job spiking, coming up with three.

"This match we struggled with everything. We could not keep the ball in, we could not pass, and we could not block," Altendorf said. "West ran a lot of points on us in the second game, and we could not get out of it."

Kewaskum got on track with its 25-18 win over Hartford but dropped the second game to the Orioles 18-25.

Getting four blocks was a nice highlight. DeGroot, Alyssa Jung, Erika Heberer and Dehler each had one, while Erika Heberer came up with four kills.

"This match we played very well," the coach said. "The girls were getting more kills, and our passing was a lot better."

In what could be a preview of a regional showdown, Kewaskum battled hard vs. Kettle Moraine Lutheran, losing 18-25 and 17-25.

Kewaskum managed 13 kills against the Chargers, led by Aycok's four, three each by DeGroot and Bekki Heberer and two by Caitlin Sprinkman.

"We came out wanting to play. We were digging and passing and hitting," Altendorf said. "We just could not find the kills we needed to get points."

Game 2 was like a roller coaster for the Indians, who led for the first 10 points, according to the coach, who said, "Then we just fell apart and could not get a hit over the net."

KML and West Bend West tied for top honors with 10-2 marks, with West Bend East finishing third at 9-3.

Kewaskum is at the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Tournament this Saturday.

Tyler Voge, above, a sixth grader at Kewaskum Middle School, caught these three salmon on Saturday, September 23 in Port Washington. The fish weighed 12 pounds, 16 pounds and 18 pounds. Tyler is the son of Lisa and John Voge of Kewaskum.

Many Wisconsin golf courses now offering deep fall discounts

Don't put those clubs away just yet! Most of Wisconsin's golf courses stay open through October, and many offer dramatic late-season discounts - including some of the most prestigious. In recognition of this opportunity, the Wisconsin Department of Tourism has compiled a listing of selected courses and their fall discounts. That list can be accessed by calling 1-800-432-TRIP or visiting travelwisconsin.com/golf.

"Fall is a wonderful time for golf in Wisconsin," says Department of Tourism Secretary Jim Holperin. "The colors are beautiful, the courses are less crowded and golfers can take advantage of some great deals on greens fees, food and clubhouse items."

With more than 400 public courses, Wisconsin offers golfers a wide variety of experiences, from beginner-friendly municipal courses to PGA-level tracks. Seasonal discounts can be found across all corners of the state and all levels of courses. Some of the higher-end courses offering seasonal discounts include Whistling Straits the Irish Course and Blackwolf Run Meadow Valleys course, in Kohler; Brown Deer in Milwaukee; Thornberry Creek near Green Bay; Grand Geneva in Lake Geneva; the Bull in Sheboygan Falls; Hawk's Landing near Madison and St. Croix National in Somerset.

Offense, defense do their part in 21-0 shutout over New Holstein

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Three nice scoring drives, all in the first half, helped the Kewaskum High football team hand host New Holstein its first Eastern Wisconsin Conference loss of the season Friday night.

After opening the season with losses to Waupun and Valders, the Huskies had reeled off four straight victories in the EWC but were no match for the Indians who claimed a 21-0 win and threw the race for the conference title into a three-team logjam.

Kewaskum, New Holstein and Plymouth are all currently tied for the top spot with 4-1 marks, and just two games remain on the 2006 schedule.

Not only did the Indians put themselves in position to earn back-to-back titles, but they clinched a playoff berth with a fourth conference victory.

"We're in the playoffs now," coach Jason Piittmann said, but he doesn't want the team to get ahead of itself because there are still the games with Kiel, this Friday in Kewaskum, and Oct. 26th at Campbellsport. The way the Indians played Friday, they might not have anything to worry about.

New Holstein got the ball first but did not get far and had to punt, perhaps setting the tone for the night defensively.

"It's a matter of getting that confidence built early," Piittmann said, and after the defense did its part, the offense was put to the test and passed with flying colors, digging out of a bit of a hole after quarterback Casey Scheel was sacked for a 13-yard loss and going on to score.

The very next play, the Indians got a break with a pass interference call, and then Dan Shea picked up 14 yards in three carries and Scheel hit Matt Parrent for one of their patented long hookups — this one went for 35 yards to the NH 2 — and finally Shea carried the ball in for the touchdown.

New Holstein's best drive of the night followed. The Huskies moved 57 yards to Kewaskum's 11, but then a holding call put them back to the 18, and that was followed by an incomplete pass.

New Holstein lined up for a field goal, and the kick by Brian Shaw looked like it was good, but Kewaskum was whistled for being off sides, so the play was called dead and the Huskies decided to go for the first down after the ball was moved to the 13.

Trying to utilize their speed, New Holstein called a sweep with QB Kyle Halbach carrying the ball, but Mike Pfothenauer and Ogi snuffed out the play and tackled Halbach for a 3-yard loss to successfully end the NH drive.

"I was glad we were able to hold in that situation," Piittmann said, again referring to the confidence his team was building.

On its next series, Kewaskum controlled the ball for 12 plays, but an ineligible receiver call and an incomplete pass forced the Indians to punt.

The Indians got the ball back several minutes later and quickly moved 72 yards in eight plays to take a 14-0 lead. Scheel set up the score with a 30-yard scamper up the middle to the New Holstein 39.

On the very next play, Scheel's pass looked like it was going to be intercepted by Matt Preissner, but Matt Parrent took it right away from him for another reception, covering 17 yards to the NH 22. After Shea picked up five yards, Scheel executed a beautiful option play to the left, keeping the ball and going 17 yards for the TD.

The Huskies went three-and-out, and Kewaskum came right back with another scoring drive, this one covering 69 yards of real estate in just five plays, the biggest a 53-yard bomb to Eric Ogi who got free along the right sideline.

Ogi was finally tackled at the 20, then Shea pounded 12 yards to the NH 8, carried again to the 1 and finally took it into the end zone. After Brian Backhaus successfully kicked his third PAT, the Indians were up 21- with 1:30 left in the half.

Three incomplete passes by the Huskies used less than a minute on the clock, so Kewaskum still had one more chance to score and nearly did, but a pass to Parrent was ruled out of bounds as the half ended.

Incomplete passes, an interception by Jason Kempf and a whole bunch of penalties prevented the Indians from doing any further scoring in the second half. Each team lost a touchdown because of a penalty.

In the fourth quarter, Dan Shea caught what appeared to be a 9-yard TD pass from Scheel but it was wiped out by a block in the back.

Right before that, New Holstein's Jordan Schneider went 85 yards after intercepting Scheel, but the Huskies were called for holding on the play.

Shea ended up with 90 yards rushing, and his effort drew praise from Piittmann. "Danny had a real nice game. He ran really well," Piittmann said. "Had we not had all those penalties in the second half, he would have gone over 100 yards."

Scheel chipped in with 63 yards in 10 carries, and the coach said, "I was very pleased with the way he ran the option ... he made some very good decisions."

Scheel completed 9 of 21 passes for 166 yards and added a new weapon to the Indians' arsenal. Pfothenauer caught two balls for 21 yards on plays where the wide receivers were covered.

Defensively John Holt and Shea came up with interceptions. "The secondary did a nice job," Piittmann said. "Their quarterback (Halbach) threw some balls high, but there was always a man there."

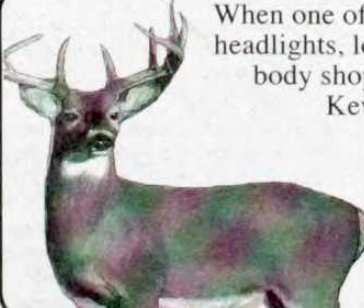

In other games Friday night, Plymouth tipped Sheboygan Falls, 17-14 to eliminate the Falcons from contention, while Campbellsport and Kiel won in routs over the Manitowoc teams.

The stage is now set for a thrilling conclusion for the title.

A downer of a day for KHS tennis team

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

With the likes of University School, Brookfield Academy, Shorewood and Waukesha Catholic Memorial in their sub-sectional, the Kewaskum High tennis players were facing an uphill battle in the competition.

Playing at the Pleasant Valley Tennis Club on Oct. 2, none of the Indians finished among the top two which was needed to advance to the next step of the WIAA Division 2 tournament, thus the season came to an abrupt ending.

"No winners... it shows the importance of having a winning regular season, so you can get seeded," coach Dan Ross said about the event, adding, "With the quality of teams in our sub-sectional, that is a necessity."

There were ten teams assigned to the Brown Deer sub-sectional, and the field was especially loaded at No. 1 singles where Kewaskum's Allison Kowalczyk had been very competitive most of the year.

Kowalczyk drew Tara Putzier of Milwaukee Lutheran in her opening match, and Putzier won fairly easily, 6-1, 6-2.

"This was the second time Allie played her this year," Ross said, indicating Putzier has the advantage of going up against rugged competition in every North Shore match she plays because the league is so strong in tennis.

Still, Ross was proud of his No. 1 player. "She's the best (No. 1) we've had in a long time," he said, reporting her fourth-place finish in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference was quite an accomplishment.

At No. 2 singles, Karissa Dums also drew a high seeded player, Ruku Bhatia of Brookfield Academy and was eliminated 0-6, 2-6, while at No. 3 singles, Ashley Corey lost to Shorewood's Sean-Parker

Schulz by a score of 4-6, 1-6 in a "pigtail" match to fill out the quarterfinals.

Nellie Baum represented Kewaskum at the No. 4 spot for the tourney, and she lost to Abby Stofflet of Milwaukee Lutheran 1-6, 1-6.

In doubles, it was the sophomore duo of Kelsey Goetsch and Lauren Hughes falling 3-6, 1-6 to Emily Fons and Meg Murphy of Dominican at No. 1, while Kerrie Winter and Emily Boden ran into a buzz saw at No. 2 where they faced the twosome of Kristin Holzhauser and Allie Murphy of Catholic Memorial, and they were defeated 0-6, 1-6.

Kewaskum's final pair, Katie Gaynor and Darcy Dickman, also drew two girls from Catholic Memorial, Leah Taugher and Mora Hitt, and they lost 1-6, 1-6.

Despite the disappointment of not having anyone advance Ross said, "On the other hand, we were much improved on the year ... moved from ninth to seventh in the conference and just missed sixth. Unfortunately seven seniors will be missed next year." The seniors are Kowalczyk, Dums, Corey, Winter, Boden, Dickman and Gaynor.

Indians top Plymouth in battle of EWC v-ball unbeatens

Even in a new position, Dehler is outstanding

With Becky Rodenkirch now out for the season, another KHS senior, Bekki Heberer, (5) picked up some of the slack with her strong front-row play last Thursday against Plymouth.

Statesman photos by Judy Harlow

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

On the Kewaskum High volleyball team, versatility is spelled M-A-R-I-S-S-A D-E-H-L-E-R.

Until last week, Dehler was the team's libero, meaning she could only set and dig and not play in the front row, but all that changed because of an injury to senior spiker Becky Rodenkirch.

So up stepped Dehler for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference's headliner match Thursday night between the unbeaten Indians (5-0) and unbeaten Plymouth (5-0), and the talented 5-foot-6 inch spark plug, never missed a beat.

Kewaskum, celebrating the annual Parents Night, won the first game by a score of 25-17, stumbled a little in the second, falling 18-25, then responded to the verbal whip cracked by coach Renee Altendorf and won the next two, 25-19 and 25-20 to take the match and earn the EWC dual meet title.

Looking at the statistics, Altendorf found that Dehler came up with 17 digs, seven kills and an ace. When it was suggested Dehler was all over the court, Altendorf said, "She was. She did such a phenomenal job stepping in for Becky Rodenkirch ... and she had four blocks."

Even Altendorf was shaking her head at how quickly Dehler adjusted to playing the middle. "She was my libero; now she is my middle," the coach said.

Others also stepped up in what was a tough situation since finding out Rodenkirch is out for the season with a thumb injury. Altendorf said the injury occurred "going up for a block and the ball knocked her left thumb back."

Senior Bekki Heberer had a pretty good night, chipping in with 19 digs, five spikes and 17 digs.

Then there was Christina DeGroot, who contributed nine assists, and four aces, while Erika Heberer came up with eight assists, nine digs and three kills.

"We made Megan (Rinzel) play all the way around," Altendorf said. "She really stepped it up for me" and wound up with a team-high 21 digs.

Rinzel's play was instrumental down the stretch in Game 4, coming up with back-to-back kills for the Indians' 21st and 22nd points, giving the hosts a seven-point lead.

Erika Heberer dropped a soft hit in a space between several of the Panthers for point No. 23, and a successful spike by Dehler made the score 24-18.

There was no quit in the Panthers, however. They cut the lead to 24-20 but then an old nemesis, a service error, ended the match.

Plymouth had done the same thing in crucial points of the first game and again in the third.

"That was the big thing that knocked them out of the game," Altendorf said.

About Erika Heberer's play,

Altendorf said, "She does a good job hitting for us. She is putting the ball where we want her to."

Altendorf said it was difficult playing this first match without Rodenkirch, even more so because the Indians have not seen Plymouth in any other matches this year.

"This is one we were really nervous about, but the girls did a good job," Altendorf said.

When asked if it mabe was a bit easier to go on now that the Indians know Dehler can perform well in the middle, the coach said, "I think so."

There won't be a lot of time to think about it. After the first Washington County Tournament Saturday, the Indians were set to begin preparations for the EWC Tournament.

"It's at two sites, Plymouth and Sheboygan Falls," she said, explaining the teams who finished first, fourth, fifth and eighth in the dual meets will go to one site, and the 2-3-6-7 teams will go to the other. After pool play, the top two teams will square off against each other at one of the sites, and there will be plaques for the dual meet title and the tournament.

Then comes the WIAA Division 2 Tournament, and for the first time in several years, Wau-pun is not assigned to the same regional as the Indians are. "No but we have KML (Kettle Moraine Lutheran)," Altendorf said, referring to the Jackson school which has won three state championships and has two runner-up finishes.

Rauch has big day, helps Indians secure first win

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Determined to break their ten-game losing streak against Eastern Wisconsin Conference opponents, the Kewaskum High soccer players went into Manitowoc on Oct. 2nd with one thing on their minds — getting a victory.

The Indians were successful, using one goal in the first half and two more in the second to post a 3-1 win over host Roncalli.

The three goals were the most scored by the Indians all season, and Alex Rauch had two of them, one in each half.

"About the middle of the first half, Alex scored the first goal with the assist by Jeremy Parker," coach John Berst said, reporting his team had one little lapse defensively near the end of the first half, and it was costly.

"They were able to squirt the ball across the goal," Berst went on, but never fear, the Indians were able to break the 1-1 tie early in the second half on a goal by Dan Parker. After getting the ball past midfield, "He took a couple of kicks and was able to kick it past the goalie," Berst said.

Rauch got into the act again, with about 10 minutes left in the contest. "He wriggled it through the defense," the coach thought.

Defensively, "I thought Ryan (Nuernberg) played a good game in goal," Berst said, adding Ryan Wunch "played very well at outside defender."

What Berst liked best about the offensive play was, "We really did a great job of controlling the ball and controlling the flow of the game," he said, indicating, "Three (goals) was enough, and it was a very enjoyable bus ride home."

On Thursday, the Indians came ever so close to getting back-to-back wins, losing a 1-0 decision to Sheboygan Falls.

"Again I thought we played very well. We created some scoring opportunities but just couldn't finish," Berst said, adding even getting close to the Falcons, who beat them 4-1 in their first meeting this season, was encouraging. "They scored about midway in the second half."

The coach said Dan Schladweiler was injured and only got to play a third of the game, but, "Kevin Schellinger stepped in and did OK," and Wunch played well again.

Berst also praised Anders Thomes, the exchange student who started off on the JV team and is now helping the varsity. "He has done a good job solidifying the right side of the defense."

Kewaskum, now 1-10 in EWC action and 2-17 overall, is at Plymouth this afternoon.

Golfers are far back in the pack

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Only one of the four teams coming out of the Thomas More Division 2 golf regional managed to climb to a top-four finish in the sectional competition held last Tuesday at Hon-E-Kor Country Club.

The top spots were dominated by teams coming out of the Little Chute regional, with Appleton Xavier and Oconoto Falls earning trips to the WIAA Division 2 State Golf Meet at the University Ridge Golf Course near Verona Xavier's best four players combined for a winning score of 377, while Oconto Falls was 22 shots back at 399.

Fox Valley Lutheran took third place with a 404, then came Thomas More at 424. Kewaskum and East Troy finished in a tie for last place with identical 479s.

Had Renee Wetzel been able to shoot in the mid-90s, she would have had a chance to advance on to state as an individual, but she struggled a bit, shooting a 52-52-104 on the Red and White Nines.

"I think the cutoff was 95," coach Amy Piwoni said over the weekend, reporting Wetzel, her No. 1 player, averaged 54 for the year.

The other KHS counters were Becky Weber, with a 55-61-116; Rachel Gavin, 60-73-133; and Danielle Donnelly, 66-60-126. Donnelly, only a freshman, moved onto the varsity late in the season and did a nice job for the team.

Most of the Lady Indians had troubles on the White Nine where water comes into play. Still, according to Piwoni, it was Nos. 13 (par 4) and 14 (par 3) that gave a couple of her girls difficulty.

As far as her first year as a head coach, Piwoni said, "I thought it was good. I just hope to get more girls out next year" because it makes them work harder to get a spot on the varsity.

Kewaskum finished sixth out of seven teams in the Wisconsin Little Ten Conference, and the Indians finished fourth in the regional, earning them the right to play in the sectional.

"We made it farther than I thought we would," Piwoni said.

Boys Cross Country Team

Gibson, Herriges have great races at Campbellsport

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Teams from the Eastern Wisconsin Conference made their presence felt in last Thursday's annual Cougar Cross Country Invitational held in Campbellsport.

Boys teams from the EWC took three of the top four places in the boys competition and had six of the top ten individuals. On the girls' side of the ledger, the story was about the same, as Sheboygan Falls and Plymouth finished 1-2 in the battle for the team title, while the Lady Falcons from the victorious team placed two among the top five.

As far as the Kewaskum boys were concerned, there were two great finishes by the Nos. 1 and 2 runners, Bobby Gibson and Zack Herriges, but with the caliber of teams in the competition, the Indians had to settle for seventh out of 11 teams with 158 points.

Sheboygan Lutheran was strong, evidenced by its winning total of 42 points, then came EWC teams Plymouth, New Holstein and Sheboygan Falls with 67, 111 and 118.

Gibson was third overall, covering the 5-kilometer course around Campbellsport High School with a time of 17 minutes, and .86 of a second (17:00.86).

Peter Bolgart of the championship team was the individual champion, turning in a fine 16:24.73.

"Bobby had another great race," coach Dave Drexler said. "This solidifies his confidence. As he said afterward, 'Now I know that Slinger was not just a fluke.' What he was referring to was his time of 16:55.66 in last week's Owl Invitational at Homestead Hollow, and doubles about the length of the course, but Drexler said the Slinger coach used a wheel to check it prior to the meet.

"Another runner who is finding his pace and running very solid is Zack," Drexler said. "He is pacing himself and dropping his time at every race."

His time Thursday was 17:35.30, which is 13 seconds faster than the personal best he posted at Slinger the week before.

"Jake Dickman and Matt Butzke are two runners to watch for in the future," Drexler went on. "Their times are dropping nicely for their first year out." Neither of the two were included on the varsity list of runners, and their times were not available.

Tyler McElhatton continues to finish in the No. 3 spot for KHS. He placed 38th at 18:44:56, while Aaron Monte (49th) and Dan Justman (58th) were the other two counters, with their respective times of 19:42.60 and 20:19.79.

"Good competition tonight ... something we need coming into the tournaments (Eastern Wisconsin Conference and WIAA Division 1 sectionals)," Drexler said.

Drexler reported meet officials had trouble calculating the girls results, but once they did it was Sheboygan Falls on top with 41 points and Plymouth next at 74.

Kewaskum finished in the 12th spot with 293, led by Tonya Janssen in 45th place at 18:06 for the 4 kilometers. Vanessa Schellinger had a pretty good outing, taking 48th at 18:42, then came freshman Kassie Legate in 59th with an 18:48 clocking.

Soph Kristin Vogt was just 10 seconds behind Legate and wound up 63, then there was a three minute gap until Alissa Clapper hit the finish line in 21:28, good for 78th overall.

From our family to the Koepke family

Johanna, Mitchell, Jayna and Derek Koepke

It's been quite a week for thousands of members of our area's communities. But all in all, it's been an "extremely" good week. Not since September 11, 2001 have we all seen such an effort where we all joined hands and banded together to help a family in need.

This past week, from the moment Ty Pennington yelled, "Good morning Koepke family!" we've all joined hands to make one family's dream come true and to finally repay them for the sacrifices they have made on behalf of their husband and father. Not once, did anyone say, "I can't" or "That can't be done"

Sure, many thought this huge undertaking was not possible in such a short amount of time, but with all these joined hands working together, how could anyone second guess out loud? The small miracles that came about were such a wonderful part of this astonishing fairytale story. Nearly every worker and every volunteer had a story to share.

This amazing event has done much more than provide a home for the Koepke family. This event proves that with determination and a hell of a lot of hard work, we, as a community can knit together and do whatever needs to get done.

That was something Matt Koepke tried to teach us all along with his dedication to his family, his community and the Dundee Mill. This past week, we learned about this man who lived by the Golden Rule, love your neighbor as you love yourself.

May we, as a community, continue where Extreme Makeover: Home Edition left off. May we as a community, instill in ourselves that selfless devotion that Matt Koepke showed his community.

When our staff learned that Extreme Makeover: Home Edition was coming to Dundee we knew this would most likely be the largest, once in a lifetime event this publication may possibly ever cover. We realized that a few pages in our weekly newspaper just would not be able to do this magnificent event justice. Consequently, we decided immediately as a staff, to give this story our undivided attention and to put forth a maximum effort to publish this "extra" edition of The Statesman.

Through much work, just like the volunteers, our family of writers, photographers, designers and sales staff joined hands to publish an "extreme supplement" for our readers who never seemed to be able to get enough details of this miraculous story unfolding, for the tireless volunteers, all those who donated, both big and small, and, of course, for the Koepke family.

So, once again, we say, Welcome Home Koepke Family and thank you. May you continue to be blessed in your new home.

Extreme Makeover starts with Koepke family's story

Christine and Matt Koepke

By Rachael Paulsen
Statesman Correspondent

Christine Koepke and her children returned from San Diego, California Friday, October 6 to see their new house, courtesy of the ABC television show, Extreme Makeover: Home Edition EMHE, which made its way to Wisconsin for the first time Sept. 28. This was a bittersweet moment that all started in April of 2006 when her late husband Matt was diagnosed with cancer.

This story began when Matt Koepke, 41, was suddenly struck with metastatic malignant melanoma, a rare form of cancer.

"I fainted at work one night (at the K&T Heating and Air Conditioning shop in Campbellsport), and woke up two hours later," he told the Fond du Lac Reporter back in July.

Staring at the concrete floor, Koepke said he didn't know where he was or what happened.

That was April 6. He called his wife, Christine, at work at ShopKo Optical in Fond du Lac. She called their children and Matt was taken to St. Agnes Hospital. After a number of tests, Koepke quickly found himself in an ambulance on the way to Froedtert Memorial Hospital in Milwaukee.

Doctors there told him it looked like melanoma, a sometimes-fatal skin cancer, but the cancer was on the inside of his body instead of on his skin. According to Extreme Makeover Senior Producer Diane Korman, Matt was told he only had five years to live and wanted to do something about their 135-year-old house, which his great-grandfather built, so his family would have a great place to live.

The house was built after the Great Depression, and after all this time, age had taken a toll on the structure. Korman stated it had rotted wood, plumbing that was not working, exposed wood and asbestos, rotted floors, leaks and the children were basically living in attics, and there was no insulation. Matt tried renovating the house, but it was left incomplete when he passed away on Monday, August 21, 2006, just five months after his fainting spell at work that changed his family's life forever.

A benefit was held July 22 to raise money for Matt's medical bills. A group calling itself Friends of Matt hosted a variety of benefits. Thrivent Financial's West Sheboygan Chapter supplemented proceeds totaling $30,000.

"I'm hoping that maybe they can help someone else, not just me. That's the way I was brought up, help others first, then yourself," Koepke said at one time.

Another benefit was held on June 23 at The Forest House Restaurant. All the waitresses donated their tips to a fund that went to the Koepke family. For every fish fry sold, the dining establishment donated $1 to the family.

"He was very compassionate and caring, putting others first," said Matt's mother Evelyn Koepke about her son.

The show was originally scheduled to come to Dundee August 22, but prior to that Matt got really sick and the show was postponed to late September.

Demolition of the house that took place Sunday, September 30 was quite emotional for the Koepke family. Evelyn said when the house went down, her husband Kenneth was the most moved because his grandfather built the house. She said the house was a part of Matt.

It turns out, a lot of the lumber and interior of the house was used to make a smaller replica of the house in the backyard that the family can use as a gardening shed.

She was there when they shouted, "Move that bus," and the family was ecstatic. "Oh my gosh, they were floored," said Evelyn.

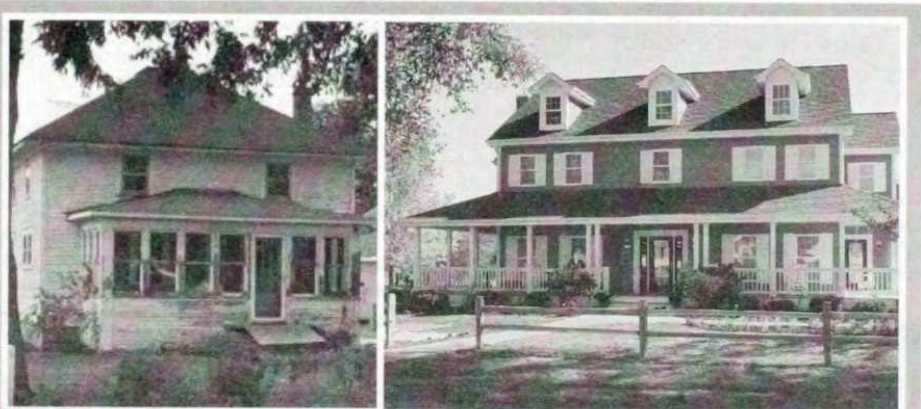

Evelyn reckoned she liked the excitement of having so many people in Dundee and is sad that they are gone. She said the EMHE crew said to her, of all the houses they have done, this one was special. They felt it in the air, a sense of a loving community.

"Everyone felt like family," Evelyn said. "The crew was great; they gave us hugs and cried with us."

Christine and Matt were married November 11, 1983. They have four children, Derek, 22, Jayna, 20, (who is planning a 2007 wedding) and Mitchell and Johanna, both students at Winnebago Lutheran Academy.

For the 21 years, Matt worked at K&T Heating of Campbellsport and was Chairman at the Dundee Mill. He was a member of Trinity Ev. Lutheran Church, where he served in numerous capacities. He enjoyed NTPA Truck Pulling, and loved the outdoors, hunting, going to his children's activities and helping others.

"The number of people who know the family and Matt is unique. Everyone says Matt was the nicest guy and he would help them to work on their homes before his own," said Extreme Makeover Designer and Carpenter Ed Sanders.

Volunteerism is what the show is all about

Volunteers labor on a gardening shed for Chris. Old wood siding, windows and a door were used from the old Koepke family home for construction.

By Rachael Paulsen
Statesman Correspondent

Extreme Makeover: Home Edition (EMHE) recruited over 1,200 volunteers who enthusiastically donated food, supplies and their time to build the beautiful new house for Christine Koepke and her children this past week.

Von Drasek Company Owner Brian Von Drasek said he knew the Koepke family well and wanted to help out.

"It's crazy hours, hardly any sleep but it's for a really great cause," said Von Drasek.

He and a dozen of his employees were involved with tasks such as doing all the excavating. Dundee Sand and Gravel and Liberty Trucking worked with Von Drasek, who was on call 24 hours a day.

He said working with all everyone was so rewarding. "It's just fabulous to see everyone involved," said Von Drasek.

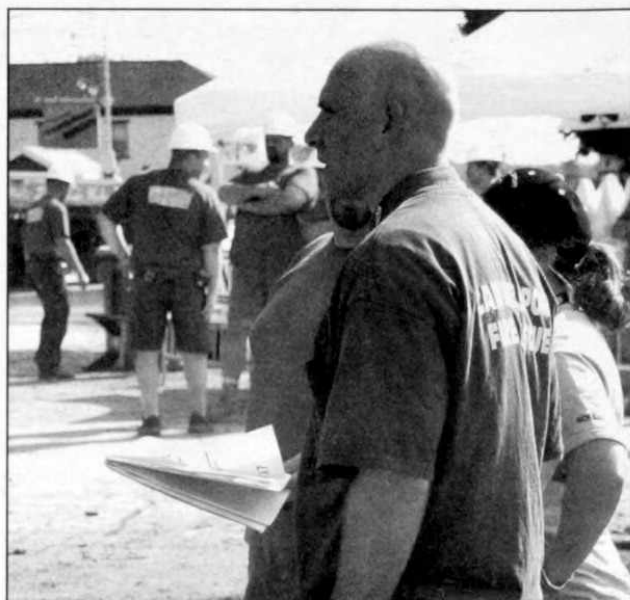

Campbellsport Building Supply (CBS) supplied cedar railing and porch materials. They had former carpenters from the company volunteering their time. They were on-call and made quick deliveries whenever something was needed, such as 600 feet of railing and 1000 square feet of cedar decking. The crew of EMHE made a special request for birch bark, and workers of CBS found a private landowner who had some birch cut down who was willing to supply it.

"Whatever they needed, we tried to accommodate them," said Joel Fleischman of CBS, who said Matt Koepke was a customer of his company, and did the heating in their showroom, one of the last jobs he did before he got really sick.

Tom and Joe Zuern from Zuern Building Supply Company of Allenton, along with Richco Structures, also supplied materials such as wall panels and all rough lumber for the floor and roof systems. They have 100 full time employees, some of which were on call throughout the process to make deliveries to the site. If the design team made special requests, such as walnut wood and treated lumber for the millpond, Zuern supplied it.

"It's a bunch of local family-owned businesses helping out other families in need," said Tom Zuern

Owner Tom Zuern said a lot of people watch the show on a weekly basis and fall in love with the show, so he is proud to be a part of such a project and see the details that go into finishing the house. A lot of people have doubts about building a house in just five days, but hundreds of people come together, sometimes working with companies that would normally be their competitors, and work around the clock to make it happen.

"It's such a unique experience and we were just happy to be able to help another family," said Tom Zuern.

Larry Gruber of Monarch Homes, who along with his son were the builders of the home, said a lot of logistical planning and coordination goes into making sure a house is ready in five days. Getting all the equipment and materials as soon as they are needed, and having skilled workers is key.

Normally when a house is built, a certain company does its portion of the house, and then another company works on it after they are done.

"They are all working at the same time...it's a controlled chaos," said Gruber, who had several of his employees on the site building the house.

Food was also donated for the hard workers. Amanda Seidel from Metropolitan Builders Association (MBA) of Waukesha said many local vendors had their food set up in tents at various times throughout the days and nights, free to volunteers. MBA also had a call center set up in Milwaukee to handle all the phone traffic. The company placed all the 1,200 volunteers from all over Wisconsin, taking applications and assigning them work on different tasks.

"It's been an amazing process," said Seidel.

How do they do it? A behind the scenes look

By Rachael Paulsen
Statesman Correspondent

Extreme Makeover: Home Edition (EMHE) builds a new house for a family in just seven days, and they do this four times a month. What people may not know is that months of planning and a lot of work go into making that one week happen.

First, a letter is submitted to the producers nominating a family for the show. EMHE Senior Producer Diane Korman said they get 1,000 applications per day for the makeover project, sometimes 10,000 per week. They have a small team whose job it is to go through those letters.

"It's the hardest job in the planet, when you read a letter from an 8-year-old girl about her parents; sometimes you can help them, sometimes you can't," Korman said.

John Ford, who worked on the Dundee Mill with Matt was the first of many to send a letter to EMHE. He took over as president of the organization when Matt passed away.

The location department met everyone in the neighborhood and told them the Koepke family was one of five in Wisconsin being considered for the show. The crew of EMHE does background checks on all families, checks on their financial status and the family has to meet other criteria as well. If something comes up in their past such as prison time or if the family was not truthful about their information, they would be disqualified.

"We really are more than a television show; we're about helping people, so we take that responsibility very seriously," said Korman.

Once a family is chosen, the first step is to find a builder who will waive their fees, and call any trade partner, contractors and workers and basically beg them to help build a house for the show. Monarch Homes of Wauwatosa built the Koepke's new house and brought in the Metropolitan Builders Association, who has done several Habitat for Humanity projects, to help.

The show uses over 300 vendors on every project. Almost everything is donated on each show. It takes a city that is willing to provide building inspectors on a 24-hour basis, green lighting house plans and permits faster than they normally would.

There are 75 production personnel on the "set" doing everything from directing and producing the show, running around with lighting posts, picking up trash, helping with the builders, the product manager, working the location, meeting the neighbors, working on crowd control and meeting the spectators. The show also has carpenters that travel with them to manage projects and they pick up volunteers along the way to help with making furniture, sanding wood, pointing out the best stores and getting things for free.

"We couldn't do it without having such hard working people behind the scenes," said Korman.

On day one, the house is demolished and the new house will be half way framed. When the house is demolished, it is tested for asbestos and most of the wood and debris is sent to a dump. Some is recycled or salvaged for a special project for the house. Over 2,000 spectators gathered outside the Koepke house to witness its demise Sunday, Oct.

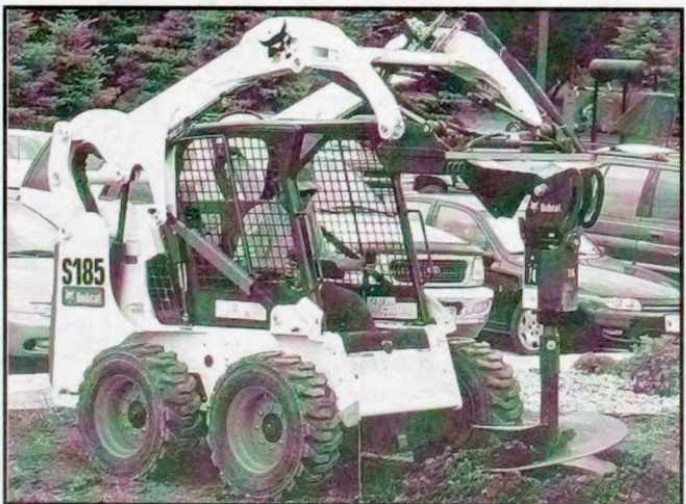

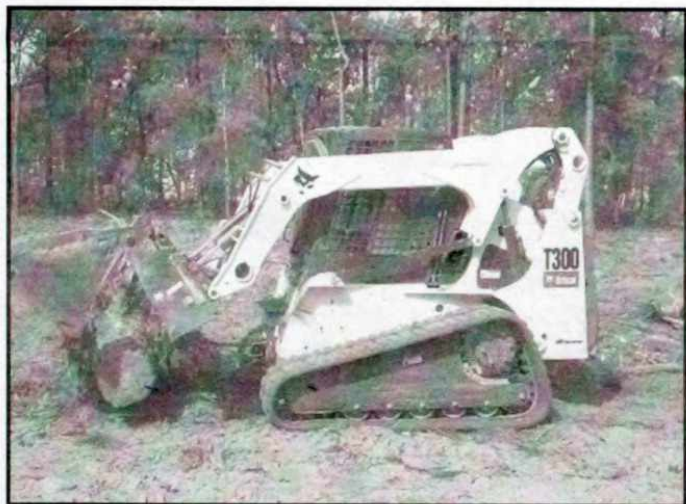

1. On day two, the roof is completed along with the siding and drywall. On day three, landscaping and painting are done. On day four floors, tile and kitchen cabinets will be put in, among other things. On day five, furniture is moved in and finishing touches are put on before the family comes home.

Designer Michael Moloney does most of the shopping for the items that will go in the house. Paige Hemmis, Preston Sharp and Moloney work together to design the inside of the house. No information is released to anyone about what the inside of the house will look like before the family gets a chance to see it.

When EMHE comes to a state, they only come once, so it's the entire state that gets involved in the project. Korman said the state of Wisconsin has been really courteous, and welcoming, which isn't always the case. The communities that are chosen must be ready for parking problems, an overflow of visitors and chaos. Korman said everyone in Dundee has done this with a smile on their face.

"When there's a family that everyone in the commu-

Friday, October 6, 2006, was a very special day in a small corner of Wisconsin. The small community of Dundee, Wisconsin, population approximately 700, was saturated. Anticipation was building for the return of the Matt Koepke family as part of the ABC hit TV show Extreme Makeover Home Edition.

Starting at 11 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 5, people were already saving spots along Highway 67 in downtown Dundee. By 1:10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6, spectators were being turned away. Cars were parked for miles along Hwy. 67, Hwy. F and all the way down Hwy. G.

Walking down the hill on Hwy. 67 heading east, one had no way of knowing what they were about to see as they turned the corner on Hwy. 67 to head north. Be assured, it was magical.

With over 10,000 people squeezed into 3-4 blocks, the energy in the air brought goose bumps to the skin.

In the moments leading up to the family arrival, celebrity designers from the show began to appear. First, Michael Moloney, interior designer/glamour, brought a "Welcome" mat to place on the front porch. The crowd roared with excitement.

Soon to follow was Ty Pennington, lead designer/carpenter and star of the show. Pennington ran out of the house. The crowd screamed. He ran back in. A few moments passed and Pennington ran out again. The crowd screamed louder. He ran back in. Now the crowd was bursting with excitement. They began chanting Ty, Ty, Ty, Ty. Pennington finally came out and ran up and down the street getting the crowd up on their feet and cheering loudly. This brought out exterior/big ideas designer, Preston Sharp, and carpentry/nuts & bolts designer, Paige Hemmis.

Moloney and Hemmis spent time visiting with volunteers and smiling for the crowd as dozens of onlookers took photos and screamed their hellos. Finally, a crew member from the TV show signaled the family was on their way. An applause sign was raised and the crowd obliged with deafening exuberance as the family arrived in a stretch SUV around 3 p.m. Friday to a crowd of people the likes Dundee has never seen and may never see again.

The Koepke family got out of the vehicle to the greetings of Pennington and thousands of onlookers. The anxious crowd began chanting "move that bus, move that bus, move that bus" prematurely and soon realized it would do no good. The bus wasn't going to move until taping for the show was perfect. That is when it became so silent one could have closed their eyes and been fooled to believe the crowd had gone.

After a few long moments as Pennington welcomed the family and told them some of the week's events, the crowd got the signal it was finally time to say the hit TV show's signature phrase... "MOVE THAT BUS!"

Once the family had a few minutes to see the house, the entire design team came over to say hello. All, that is, except for missing construction designer Ed Sanders. The crowd knew this and once again began chanting, only this time they were asking for Ed, Ed, Ed, Ed. Their request was answered. Sanders suddenly appeared and came running out to meet the family. (Last minute fixes in the house delayed him right to the very end.)

The crowd could sense the emotion the family was feeling. There was nary a dry eye up and down the street. It was obvious the family couldn't believe their eyes. Jayna, Koepke's oldest daughter, later said, "I want to say it's what I always dreamed of - but it's not because you can't imagine how beautiful it is really going to be."

Citizen volunteers worked for hours on Saturday before demolition to remove all the Koepke family's possessions and put them into storage. Each step in the filming process involves literally hundreds of volunteers to make it move smoothly.

nity says they deserve it and they're willing to help, that's amazing," said Korman.

She said the family is scheduled to come back at a certain time, but if the house is not done by then, they call the limousine driver who works for them and they drive around for awhile longer.

It takes six weeks to edit the show after it is taped. They need to squeeze 600 hours of footage from three cameras into 45 minutes.

ABC wanted to start a design show in primetime television that used a design team to build a house in only seven days. When the show was approved and got up and running, Korman said they wondered if they could actually build a house in seven days. Most people thought it could not be done. They found a contractor who was brave enough to try it in Los Angeles.

The pilot of EMHE was shot in August 2003. Korman joked that it almost killed everyone working 24-hours, around the clock shifts, but they all did it because of the family.

"It's a metaphor for larger stories in America, that we help each other, we still care about each other," said Korman. "We see miracles happen every week on this show."

EMHE started as a small show of individuals who care about families and wanted them to have the best house possible. It grew along the way and people jumped on board to help. Korman said there's a spirit of volunteerism

Dundee Mill gets some extreme attention

The Dundee Mill is back in operation after a week of work from Extreme Makeover: Home Edition's Preston Sharpe.

By Amber Donath
Statesman Correspondent

It was a week of amazing giving and dedication on the part of more than 1,200 volunteers and 500 tradesmen and vendors that got a beautiful 4,500 square foot home built in 94 hours (six hours under schedule), even with all of the weather hazards along the way.

One such person is local businessman, Ken Ziegelbauer, of Ken's Custom Carpentry, in Hartford. Ziegelbauer has done some work for Monarch Homes of Wauwatosa in the past. Once Monarch Homes was selected as the builder for this home makeover project, they began contacting vendors and business owners to get involved.

"I was first contacted to do the finish carpentry," said Ziegelbauer. "By the end of the week, I had also done the front porch, helped with Ty's special project and worked on the mill."

Restoring the mill in Dundee was Matt Koepke's pet project that he had been working on for 16 years. "We met with some of the men who knew what the mill used to look like and came up with plans to construct a trough to go around the mill so the water wheel could work again," said Ziegelbauer. "It turned out nice and resembles the way the mill used to look." The water wheel began working Friday night for the first time as the Koepke family was shown around.

When asked what he thought of the week, Ziegelbauer said, "It was different. It was definitely very rewarding but not something you'd want to do every week." Ziegelbauer figured he averaged 2-4 hours of sleep a night for the week.

Ziegelbauer found the Home Makeover design team very open to his ideas and suggestions but intense saying they had a lot of different design ideas and constant changes. He met with the design team daily in the designers' trailer. "We would just be finishing something and they would change their minds and we would have to make adjustments or start over," said Ziegelbauer.

"The best part of the project were some of the friendships made," he added. "I started with 50 volunteers at the beginning of the week and by week's end I had 96. A lot of the guys asked if they could come back day after day."

What many people don't realize is that Ziegelbauer went to his competitors and asked if they would like to get involved as well. He wanted to share this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity with anyone interested to sign on and help make the Koepke house the best it could be instead of keeping the spotlight to himself.

Ziegelbauer has not yet had the opportunity to meet the Koepke family but is hoping to do so in the coming week. He was very excited when it was shared with him, Chris Koepke's reaction when she saw the house for the first time. "When the bus moved I saw the porch first, and they nailed it. It is perfect," said Koepke.

The Koepke family did not get to officially move into their new home until Saturday evening after a second long day. Friday as they headed home from sunny San Diego, the Koepke family had a connecting flight in Denver with a long layover. By the time they arrived back in Wisconsin, they learned their luggage was lost. Next stop was a store to buy some new shirts for the kids.

Saturday morning started with a press conference at 10 a.m. and was followed by additional filming in the house as the family got to look around more thoroughly at all the new surprises and wonders inside. In addition to their new home, the family received many other unexpected gifts on Saturday. The two youngest children, Mitchell and Johanna, received scholarships to Ripon College, the family received a year's worth of groceries from Piggly Wiggly, U.S. Cellular in Fond du Lac gave them each a Motorola Razr cell phone and one year of service, and The Statesman gave them a five-year subscription to the paper.

"This whole experience has been surreal," said Koepke. "We have all been asking ourselves if this is really happening or just a big dream. But we know Matt is watching and very happy and thankful that we are being taken care of. We miss him a lot but have so many great memories as a family that will stay in our hearts forever."

In the weeks to come, it is certain Dundee will remain one of Wisconsin's biggest tourist attractions. It is because of this there will be extra security and law enforcement in the area for quite some time. As one security officer with the TV show mentioned, it is like they won the lottery and for their wellbeing and the safety of everyone in the area, extra precautions will be taken.

Larry Gruber, chief operating officer of Monarch Homes points out details to new home owner Christine Koepke. Gruber's company was the builder for the Koepke home in Dundee Saturday morning after a press conference.

Extreme Statistics

- The entire house was demolished and hauled off in approximately an hour's time on Sunday following the "Braveheart" charge by more than 400 people.
- The Linden Inn supplied two meals to over 400 volunteers and crew on Monday, Oct. 2.
- More than 150 volunteer and partner carpenters worked to frame and roof the house on Monday, Oct. 2 - a job that would normally take up to 28 days.
- The Moraine Park Technical College Culinary Arts students prepared the food for the more than 400 people on Wednesday, Oct. 4.
- Approximately 10,000 square feet of insulation was installed in the home in only one hour and 22 minutes - a job that would normally take two to three days.
- Including base coats and custom colors, more than 250 gallons of paint were applied in the home.
- It took over 90 business donors to create the Koepke home.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE KOEPKE FAMILY

The team at Monarch Homes has been honored to help bring the American Dream to the Koepke Family. With the help of over 1800 volunteers, Monarch Homes delivered a 4500 square foot home in 94 hours. The owners of Monarch Homes wants to personally thank every person and company that made this wish come true. Without these committed companies, we could not have completed this project. They all battled the severe weather we encountered and kept going. The schedule alone would have put anyone to the test. These are all truly great people. In times when the home building industry has slowed down, all of these companies took many hours of their time from paying jobs to be part of this once in a lifetime opportunity. I would hope the community would help support these firms when they need some remodeling or homebuilding completed. Many of Monarch Homes' trades and suppliers that we use on a daily basis all participated in this event. Even companies that we did not know jumped in to help. We have made some great relationships throughout this last week that will last forever. We would also like to thank the entire staff at the Metropolitan Builders Association for playing a huge role in this build. They moved right along with us 24 hours a day helping coordinate the volunteers and helping us stage materials to expedite this build. In building a home you normally deliver materials over a 4-5 month time frame. On this build we had to coordinate and stage all materials in one day and stage them to get supplies to the home in an orderly fashion.

I wish we had enough space in to recognize all these companies and people. Please visit Monarch Homes website, www.monarchhomeswisconsin.com, and click on the link to see all of the great companies involved. Please help support these firms.
