St. Michael's School is demolished

Ray Wollner works at demolishing the St. Michael Parish school building at Forest View Road and State Highway 28 in the town of Kewaskum. Demolition on the century-old structure began on Saturday, October 21. Ironically enough, as demolition occurred, a community forum on the history of the community of St. Michaels took place in the church hall. Information on that forum can be found on page three of this edition. Information on the former school and future plans for St. Michael Catholic Parish will be in next week's edition.

Indians win! On to round 2

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

KEWASKUM- While two other Eastern Wisconsin Conference teams, Plymouth and New Holstein, were soundly beaten Tuesday night, Kewaskum High rolled over Pewaukee 42-21 in the first round of Division 3 football playoffs.

Another strong passing display helped the Indians. Quarterback Casey Scheel tossed three touchdown passes, but it was his 67-yard run late in the third quarter that really helped the Indians start to take control.

Pewaukee scored on a 33-yard pass from Tyler Thompson to Nick Klomsted and had a chance to tie the game with the PAT. Thompson's kick was low, however, and the kick was blocked, leaving Kewaskum clinging to a one point, 14-13 advantage.

Kewaskum needed a big play and got it from Scheel, who took the snap from center on first down, broke away from a would-be tackler behind the line of scrimmage and with a burst of speed, got past the first wave of Pirates and didn't stop until he reached the end zone.

Brian Backhaus added his third PAT of the night, making the score 21-13 with 2:48 left in the third quarter, and in the remaining 15 minutes, Kewaskum scored three more times, first on a 16-yard pass from Scheel to Eric Ogi, and next on a fake field goal attempt, with Scheel, the holder, taking the snap and hitting Jon Wicklund with a 5-yard TD pass.

After Pewaukee's last score, they tried an onside kick, which was recovered by the Indians, who moved 49 yards in nine plays, with Ogi literally walking into the end zone from the two.

Kewaskum will play at Port Washington Saturday. The time of the game will be announced Wednesday. Watch this newspaper's website for further details. Port shut out Plymouth 23-0 to move into the second round of action.

akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

ALLENTON- Area fire departments along with the Washington County Sheriff's Department have been busy this (Wednesday) morning with a grain fire at Farmer's Incorporated at 528 Railroad Street.

As Allenton Fire Department was dispatched to the scene, Sheriff's Deputies were forced to close an almost two mile stretch of State Highway 33 near the perimeter of the blaze because smoke was so thick. One sheriff's deputy called the smoke "a white-out" The road was re-opened 30 minutes after its closure.

Allenton Fire Department requested mutual aide from St. Lawrence, Kohlsville and Slinger Fire Departments to help battle the blaze that was still being fought at press time this morning.

The initial call came in at 7:10 a.m.

It is unknown how the fire started and remains under investigation of The Washington County Sheriff's Department. More information will be posted on our website, www.kewaskumstatesman.com as it is made available.

COMMUNITY

St. Michael's Community shares stories of ancestry

By Lisa Lickel
Statesman contributor

One hundred sixty years and two weeks have passed since the congregation of St. Michaels, Washington County, was founded. Sort of by accident.

Like many émigrés to America in the progressive age of the mid-nineteenth century, settlers crossed the Atlantic Ocean by boat, then traveled West on steamships through the Great Lakes.

A group of twenty or so families left their homeland in what is now southern Germany in April of 1846. Religious persecution, war, drought and famine all contributed to the desire to abandon the land of their ancestors and head for Chicago, America - the land of opportunity.

Led by Michael Rodenkirch, this group journeyed for nearly three months with all their worldly goods. By the time they reached the port of Milwaukee, the weary families decided they were "well satisfied" with what they found in the area. The families purchased land in the Towns of Kewaskum and Farmington in September of 1846. By October, the faithful had petitioned Bishop Henni of the Diocese of Milwaukee for formal recognition and the group worshiped at the Rodenkirch home while the church was built.

On October 21, 2006 the faithful gathered once more to pay homage to those families. Janice Schneider came with Eva, her mother, who descends from Peter Joseph Schneider, one of the founding families. Eva put together a family history book. The Peter Schneider family immigrated when Peter was already forty-one years old, with four children under the age of five.

"I can't imagine the voyage," Janice said. "The story goes that when the men set out from Milwaukee to look for a settlement, they followed the road to the end. Two days later, it ended here, and that's where they stayed."

The Schneiders started with forty acres and ended up with four hundred. They had five more children. Janice was impressed with the faith and praise of God shown by her ancestors in their letters home. "They donated three acres of their land for the church," she said.

Angie Bremser Plzak, also a member of the Schneider clan, shared memories and pictures of her family history. Relatives in the audience talked about how the families spread around the state and the surrounding vicinity. "Once they settled here, the succeeding generations succumbed to wanderlust," Fred Middendorf commented. Middendorf married into the "family" and is just as hooked as his wife, Faith, on keeping the past. Faith's mother, Marie Senglaub, a Rodenkirch descendant, kept a journal of her experiences growing up in St. Michaels.

They didn't all stay away. Walter Liepert, a former resident of Farmington, told his family experience of wandering. "My family went to South Dakota. When the drought hit, they came back to Stony Creek."

"I never met a Herriges I wasn't related to," Sister Rosemary Herriges said when it was her turn to speak. Most of the family came when the Rodenkirchs did. Other branches of the family came later. Sister Herriges is the keeper of a wealth of family pictures, truly a treasure.

"Seven generations of Theuschs lived in St. Michaels," Gert Theusch Marx said. "They're buried in the cemetery here."

The Middendorfs visited Germany, walking where Faith's ancestors did. "The type of land we have here is different," he said. "One family thought they could grow grapes as they did back home. They chose eighty acres on hilly Stony Creek and planted. They didn't realize that our soil is not volcanic like in Germany. The grapes didn't grow."

"It wasn't an easy decision to leave (Germany)," Dorothy Dyken, also a former resident, pointed out. "The people had to get permission, clear up any debts, sell anything they owned, and often provide replacements for any men who were eligible to be drafted into the army. Sometimes they even had to pay for a background check to make sure they were 'clear.'"

The descendants owe much of their knowledge to the records kept by their ancestors, particularly in the form of letters. Michael Rodenkirch wrote to family left in Germany in December of 1846. It is an invaluable account of life on the frontier. He writes of prices, directions, advice regarding what to bring and what to leave, even a simple lesson in English. Although claiming not to be "molested" in this new place, he writes "do not trust every German thieving trickster approaching you as exchange agent." Still, his faith is ever present: "Whoever makes the trip will be impressed with the omnipotence of God."

The congregants first built a log church on Theodore Thull's land in the town of Farmington in 1847. The settlers chose to honor Michael Rodenkirch by naming their parish after his patron saint, Michael. A circuit rider provided monthly mass. The parish grew to twenty-seven families and built a larger structure across the street on land donated by the Schneiders in the town of Kewaskum. It was here that a fieldstone church, school and rectory were built in 1855.

Growing pains once again drove the need to establish a larger church building, as well as school and convent for the School Sisters of St. Francis who came here to teach. A brick church was built in 1884 on the site of the present day church. In January of 1971 stray lightning in the midst of a snowstorm caused a fire which resulted in the destruction of the 1884 structure. The parishioners rebuilt St. Michaels as we see it today.

This is part one of a two part feature on the history of St. Michael's and it's religious community. Next week more information about the recent demolition of the school and future plans for the parish will

Kewaskum Township adopts new zoning ordinance

On Monday, October 16th the Kewaskum Town Board along with the Town of Kewaskum Plan Commission after months of meetings, four public hearings, and listening to guest speakers adopted Ordinance number 2006-10.

This ordinance created Chapter 17 of the Code of Ordinances of the Town of Kewaskum. This zoning code will go into effect on November 1, 2006.

The Town Board and Plan Commission held a public hearing on amending the Town of Kewaskum zoning map to reflect the town of Kewaskum's land use plan; comments were heard from 65 people in attendance, with only three residents voicing objections.

The Plan Commission and Town Board will meet on Tuesday, October 31st at 7pm to address the objections to amending of the land use plan map and zoning map. If the Kewaskum Town Board adopts a resolution to accept the amendments to the Kewaskum Land Use Plan Map at the October 31st meeting the Town Of Kewaskum will have completed updating of the Land Use Plan before the state's mandate of 2010.

Principal, Christine Horbas, announced that Kewaskum High School will have two Korean teachers visiting the week of October 30, 2006. UW Madison has an exchange program that allows teachers to visit different countries to learn more about education and culture. Last May, Wisconsin schools were invited to apply to receive these teachers and Kewaskum High School was selected.

The Korean teachers, Seong Jin Kim and Kyung Ae Park, will be staying with Kewaskum teachers, Kevin Chambers and Mary Koch. During their week stay, they will observe and teach classes at all levels in the Kewaskum Schools. They will also take a day to visit the larger Fond du Lac High School. If area organizations would like to visit with these Korean teachers, you may call the Kewaskum High School at 262-626-8427 to make arrangements with their host family.

Most hospitals think intensive care is intense enough. We found a better way.

This is your hospital. The Aurora Medical Center in Hartford.

Traditionally an ICU provides continuous monitoring and care to get patients through the most acute stages of illness or injury. Aurora's found a better way—eICU. eICU provides added support, with 24/7 electronic monitoring of patients by a remote team of doctors and critical care nurses. This helps to detect changes in patient condition earlier, provides additional collaboration with onsite physicians, ensures more effective intervention and has been proven to shorten hospital stays. The giving started by Extreme Makeover: Home Edition last month in Dundee has since continued in the community. Shown above, Chucker Dreher, center, who volunteered at the Koepke home, was named top volunteer of the show by the Extreme Makeover design team. He is shown giving an autographed board from the project signed by the entire Extreme Makeover design team to Michaelle Snuggs, cabinet designer at Custom Cabinetry in Campbellsport. Snuggs' niece suffers from brain cancer. Dreher says he got the autographs because he was told the girl could not meet the design team because her ailment keeps her from being outdoors much of the time. Washington County Yahr Park will be enjoyed by many

A view of the beach at Yahr Park. Land for the county's newest park was a donation from the Leonard Yahr family who donated around 55 acres.

By Rachael Paulsen
Statesman Correspondent

Phase one of the new Yahr Park has recently been completed. The children of the late Leonard Yahr donated about 65 acres of land and lake to Washington County to be transformed into a park.

So far the water pond, swimming beach, boat landing and fishing pier have been completed. Because the price of asphalt has increased in the past few years, paving of the park has been delayed. The grant from Capital Improvement was not enough to cover the increasing cost so the county board is seeking an additional grant. When it is approved, paving will take place, hopefully in time for the park to open sometime next year, according to Landscape Designer for Washington County Planning and Parks Cindy Lions.

Located on Orchard Valley Road on Erler Lake, the park also features playground equipment, a large abandoned orchard, two homes and a lakeside cabin. The property boasts hiking trails, a picnic area and a prairie restoration area according to Paul Mueller, administrator for the county's Planning and Parks Department. The swimming beach is the cleanest in the area. There are only a couple owners so the lake is clean and has a nice, firm bottom featuring species of pan fish. An existing residence is being converted into a shelter.

"It will be popular; there are not a lot of nice swimming beaches around here. It's pristine and natural," said Lions.

Planning for Yahr Park began in 2001 when the Yahr family donated the land on Dec. 13. In 2002 public meetings were held, and by the fall they had designed a master plan to turn the property into a public park. In spring of 2003 they applied for funding and it was granted in the fall. From there they applied for construction permits and began the construction. Other projects were also going on during 2002 and 2003 that had priority over Yahr Park, so it took longer than they wanted to get it up and running.

"Fishermen are anxious to get out there," Lions said. "It'll be great for little kids too to go fishing."

Leonard Yahr, born in 1895 in the Town of Farmington, lived only a few miles from the park. After fighting in World War I, he started his own construction business, Yahr's Concrete Construction Company, doing seasonal work making concrete silos for farmers. To supplement his income, he partnered with employees and created West Bend Concrete Products Company in 1922, according to information released by Yahr's children.

Yahr's pastime was horticulture and when his cousin Carl Erler offered him the Erler homestead, he took him up on the offer. He expanded the land, planting several large orchards. He built a cottage and a year-round home on the lake to enjoy fishing and gardening right up until the time he passed away at age 92.

The land's history goes back to the 1850s, when it was also used as a dairy farm, fish farm and later a sulfur match factory.

A statement released through Attorney Elaine Shanbrook stated that "Yahr's children, Fred, Carol (Gerner), Allen and Tom are pleased that the county board has regarded this donation as a special opportunity to expand the county park system. Yahr's family in turn is grateful to be able to establish a memorial to Leonard by having the county attach Leonard J. Yahr's name to this parkland, so it has resulted in a mutually gratifying occurrence."

Funding for the park was made possible by a few organizations. The Acquisition and Development of Local Parks granted them $224,800, the County Conservation Aide contributed $12,700, and Washington County supplied $237,500, totaling $475,000.

Steinert named Fire Fighter of the Year

Calvin Steinert, Chief of the Fillmore Fire Department, was recently named Firefighter of the Year.

By Amber Donath
Statesman Correspondent

Earlier this year, both the Washington County Council of the American Legion and the West Bend American Legion selected Calvin Steinert, the Fillmore Fire Department Chief of 28 years, as Fire Fighter of the Year.

West Bend American Legion Chapter member Bob Kudek was responsible for nominating Steinert.

"I am pleased," said Steinert. "To receive an award like this from veterans who are our real heroes is a great honor."

The selection of Fire Fighter of the Year requires each nominee meet specific criteria set up and reviewed by the State Public Safety Committee. This list includes, but is not limited to: the fire fighter who, for a number of years, has turned in an outstanding performance of his duties; candidate must be a living, full-time or volunteer fire fighter attached to a fire department in the state of Wisconsin; candidate best exemplifies the traits and characteristics of a good fire fighter; one who goes about his or her daily duties in the protection of life and property of his fellow man.

Steinert joined the Fillmore Volunteer Fire Department in 1970 at the age of 17. He was elected to the Chief's position in 1978 and is still the acting Chief today.

Over the years, he has received training in Basic Firefighter, the Mod System, Firefighter I and Firefighter II, Officer Training, Fire Investigation, Fire Inspection, the Incident Command System and 1st Responder. In the more than 30 years Steinert has been a volunteer fire fighter, he has missed less than 10 practices/meetings, which are held every Monday. Countless other volunteer hours have been spent on the individual committees he was and still is involved with.

As fire chief, Steinert is active in the Washington County Fire Chiefs Association and served as President for one term. He is also a member of the Badger Firemen's Association, the Wisconsin State Firefighters Association, the Wisconsin Fire Inspector's Association and the Wisconsin State Fire Chief's Association. In recognition of his service, Steinert has received the Firefighter of the Year award from Schlitz Brewery in 1977; he was nominated for Firefighter of the Year from the Wisconsin State Firefighters Association in 1999; and he received the award of 1st Responder of the Year for the Fillmore Fire Department in 1996.

Steinert has also been presented with plaques from his fellow members at the department in 1989, 1991 and 1997 thanking him for his dedicated service to the Fillmore Fire Department. He was most recently honored in 2004 with a plaque for his 25 years as Chief of the department.

Steinert is proud of the fact that the Fillmore Fire Department is very family-oriented. Family members are always encouraged to join, and many who are not members help out at the fundraising events. His father is an honorary member of the department, and Steinert's son, Jeff was elected as 2nd Assistant Chief in 2001 and now holds the position of 1st Assistant Chief. His wife, Judy, and daughter, Sara, are also 1st Responders with the Department.

Ghosts of Washington County program Oct. 28

The Washington County Historical Society is pleased to invite members and the general public to attend the second annual Ghosts of Washington County program on Saturday, October 28, beginning at 7 p.m. at the Old Courthouse Museum at 320 South Fifth Avenue in West Bend.

Do you believe in ghosts? Have you ever wondered if your neighborhood is haunted? Here is your chance to find out. Join in this haunted Halloween weekend evening to hear true eerie ghost stories, legends and folklore of Washington County. The evening will begin at 7 p.m. with mysterious tales which will send a chill up your spine. You will never look at some of Washington County's buildings or roads the same way again. As a bonus, there will be a special presentation of the father of macabre fiction, Edgar Allan Poe's, "The Pit and the Pendulum."

Following the storytelling will be a creepy, candlelit tour of the "haunted" jailhouse which some believe spirits haunt. Perhaps you will have an eerie encounter with a ghostly inhabitant. Snacks and refreshments will be available.

The event is free and open to the public. Plan to arrive early, as last year's event was a full house. For more information or questions about the event, please contact the Washington County Historical Society at 262-335-4678 or check their website at www.historyisfun.com.

Habitat events highlight dramatic growth

"Habitat for Humanity-Washington County typically serves one family per year," stated board president, Gayle Van Ess, "but this year our affiliate has grown and been stretched beyond our imagination." By late November, the local group will have built four new residences for Washington County families and completed a facility rehab for a Habitat ReStore. Volunteers are welcome at either job site on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, 9:00 AM - 3:00 PM.

On Thursday, November 2, Habitat for Humanity - Washington County will hold its fourth annual "Celebration of Habitat" dinner, beginning at 5:00 PM at West Bend Mutual Insurance Company, 1900 S. 18th Avenue, West Bend.

"This is expected to be a 'sold-out' event, so we recommend early ticket purchases," stated Executive Director, Russ

Wanta. Silent auction and social time will be followed by a delicious dinner, prepared by Chef Jim Fisher. Speakers for the evening include Peter Brown WSSP; AM 1250, Jon Greenberg, President of the Milwaukee Admirals, and Alan Atwood, Christian comedian. All proceeds of the event support the mission of Habitat for Humanity as it looks forward to building five simple, decent homes for Washington County residents in 2007.

For more information on volunteering on a job site, donating to Habitat, or attending any event, please call 262-626-4625.

42nd Street rehearsals winding down

As you are reading this article about the KHS musical, the cast and crew have only one week left before the actual performances. At this time the tap shoes are all cleaned up and shiny, the pit band has worked out most of the "sour" notes, the parents and tech crews have gotten the stage erected, flats up and painted, lights ready to shine and sound that hopefully will allow everyone in Rose Hall to hear the beautiful voices and funny dialogue.

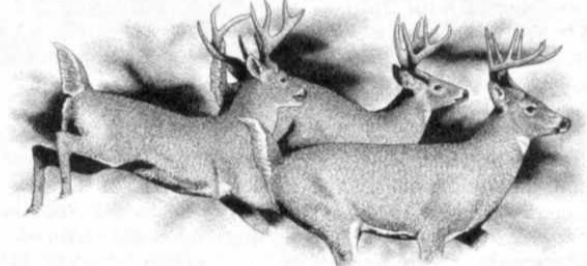

It has been a very long time since the first rehearsal, but it has also been very short, with a lot of hard work to ready the performance of 42nd Street.

Don't forget to reserve your tickets for either Friday, November 3rd or Saturday, November 4th, by calling 262-626-8427 ext. 4571, or stop in at the high school music office during the day. The show starts at 7:30 p.m. both evenings and the free performance for all area senior citizens will begin at 4 p.m. on Thursday, November 2nd.

These fine young people involved with the show are hoping for a full house at all performances, so please help out and arrange to come and watch them do their stuff on stage.

Halloween discussion at UWWC: 'Poe's Mysterious Life'

UW-Washington County will host a lecture on Edgar Allan Poe's mysterious life and creative works on Tuesday evening, October 31 at 5pm in the campus library. The public is invited to spend a spine-tingling Halloween night with Poe through a sometimes chilling, sometimes humorous look at the author's life. There is no charge and everyone is welcome to attend.

Date: Tuesday, October 31: 5pm-6pm

Discussion: The Creative Works, Mysterious Life and Deconstruction of Edgar Allan Poe: Fiction, Fact and Speculation

Led by: Dr. Patricia Roby, UW-WC English Professor

Overview: Poe was a misunderstood writer and person, feared by American authors and venerated by the French who saw psychological conflicts, repressed desires and alienation. His writings reveal a narrative persona desiring to be understood. As Joseph Conrad said, "a narrator must deconstruct himself to understand himself" which is what Poe attempts to do in his poetry and by thematically and symbolically compartmentalizing his stories. What drove Poe in his life explains his fears and anxieties about death and beautiful women, and suggests an inability to "rest."

UW-Washington County is located at 400 University Drive in West Bend. The campus library is on the second floor and is open during the fall and spring semesters Monday through Thursday 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Fridays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Sundays from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. For more information about the library or the lecture, phone 262-335-5214.

Public relations workshop at UWWC

The keynote speaker is Joan Stewart of "The Publicity Hound," a publicity expert and former newspaper editor. Joan will discuss how to "catch the attention of frazzled news directors, busy reporters and grumpy editors." Prior to Joan's presentation, a panel discussion with area media representatives will discuss the tips and secrets needed to get your organization in the news.

The four panel members include:

- Mary Driscoll West Bend Cable TV
- Andrew Kuehl Kewaskum Statesman
- Mark Morris WBKV/WBWI Radio
- Dan Muckelbauer

Used furniture, stored in the upper portion of the barn, was destroyed in the blaze, as was quite a bit of lumber. The fire started in the center of the barn and may have been caused by defective wiring although the cause was not determined.

PERSPECTIVES

Letter to the Editor:

I am writing this in regards to the articles being published about signatures in the Neal Weare recall. The collection of signatures for the Neal Weare recall was just about a year ago. Neal needs to take the focus off of himself being voted out. Even if some signatures were not factual, Neal would not be capable of getting back on the school board. He was voted out on a 3-1 ration, so there would have to be more than a few "questionable" signatures to make any bit of a difference.

And what happened to the focus being on the schools and students, instead of the school board themselves? The recall is over, Neal and everybody else should accept why he was recalled and get the focus back to where it should be. The focus should not be on Neal Weare right now, despite how much he wants it to be. The focus should be on the schools and students in the Kewaskum District.

Sincerely,
Morgan Dombrowski

To the Editor:

Between the black and white piles of morality and immorality, there exists a miasma of gray - an area thick with question marks and uncertainty. And in that space, there is a line. A line in the sand drawn by politicians who claim compassion as their greatest weapon in an ideological arsenal reserved for ending human suffrage. More specifically, an arsenal aimed at defending women's rights. More specifically still, a woman's right to choose whether the child growing inside her would be allowed to live.

But choice is nowhere to be found on the revered document (the Declaration of Independence) that, above all, awards each of us three inalienable rights. They are: the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Life. The first right. Inalienable. Without it, what rights might we be able to claim?

Without it, there would be no women to defend - nor anyone to defend them. Without it, no politicians, no philosophers, no saints. Without it, no heroes or teachers, no doctors or artists. More to the point there would be no you.

I write today to all concerned with the rights of women. To you, I ask: Is it not equally important - if not even more so - we concern ourselves with the rights of those too defenseless and small to stand up for themselves? Is it not important we defend the one inalienable right that all other rights depend upon... their right to life?

Who among the 46 million babies aborted each year was destined to cure cancer, to put an end to poverty and hunger, to usher in a new morality for the world (sound cliché)? Who among them would have been your niece, your nephew, your son, your daughter?

What would have been their names?

To the Editor:

Governor Doyle recently announced new initiatives that will help promote the field of stem cell research in Wisconsin. This will help keep our state on the cutting edge and Doyle's leadership is exactly what we need on this important issue.

I feel fortunate enough to have a Governor who understands the great potential that stem cell research has, and also what an important source of economic growth this holds for Wisconsin. Not only does stem cell research hold the promise of finding cures to some of the world's deadliest diseases, but also to creating new, high-wage jobs.

On Election Day in November, Wisconsinites have a clear choice between Governor Doyle, who has continued to advocate to further stem cell research in Wisconsin, and Congressman Green, who has voted against stem cell research repeatedly in Washington.

I am proud of Governor Doyle's commitment to stem cell research and for the steps he is taking to make sure Wisconsin remains a national leader in this field. I encourage voters to re-elect Governor Doyle on November 7th.

To the Editor:

Everyday it's the same daily routine. You get up, shower, drink your coffee, read Neal Weare's name in the newspaper, go to work, eat supper, listen to Neal on TV and go to bed. Oh, I forgot to mention you hear the "Neal Weare drama" at work as well. Basically everywhere you go, you hear something from him or about him, and it's turning this community into a blob.

I mean, isn't this the guy that was involved in the superintendent buyout? Is this not the same guy that got recalled, ran again and lost? I think this is the same guy we are still dealing with about a year later.

Do I hear a Neal Weare vote for an upcoming school board election? What about a spot on the town board? You know there's still time to run for sheriff, maybe he'll do that. Then again, none of those fit Neal's criteria. I say Neal Weare for president! My point is, the man just never goes away and lives his own life. That is if he would quit looking like he never had one, he might do so. He's like a piece of chewing gum on the floor, you step on it, but it still sticks to the bottom of your shoe and doesn't go away.

Now if Neal were to run for the following, would he get in? No. In doing so, does he seek revenge and annoyance? You bet he does. He's always so quick to point the finger, and when he does that, he has three pointing back at him, and well over three-fourths of the community pointing a finger at him in the opposite direction, out of the town.

Our community has better things to do, and talk about. For instance, we can shape up our teens from drugs, talk about the outstanding play of our football team, the future of our education, or just talk about daily positive aspects of life, not an egotistical former school board member.

With that being said, good luck to all Kewaskum football teams on the rest of their season!

Letter to the Editor:

Many Washington County voters received a campaign leaflet from Dale Schmidt for Sheriff on October 5th and 6th. It was a flyer that was heavy on names and photos (just names not necessarily supporters) and contained little substance. The flyer listed a whole lot of names, many prominent citizens involved in local politics and local business owners, stating that they were all Schmidt supporters. While some may be, many of them, (possibly up to 70%) were not. Nor were they asked for permission to use their names in his literature.

These people were contacted by the campaign either prior to or shortly after the literature was mailed. They received an email stating the names were printed in error, and in fact represented his mailing list, not his list of supporters. He assured them that an apology, an explanation and a corrected flyer would be mailed out. Has anyone seen one? I know there was a second mailing. The second flyer, delivered in the past few days, simply asks that you send money to his campaign. No apology. No explanation. No corrected list of supporters printed as such. As he asks for your votes, keep in mind his literature - he knows a lot of people, he throws around a lot of names, but when he promises an apology and correction you may have to wait.

Does he want everyone to believe that all of those names are people who support him? Some of the people listed on Dale's flyer have large Brian Rahn for Sheriff signs on their property. But unless you drive by their homes, or ask them personally, how would you know? Maybe he doesn't care about those who don't support him and just wants a big list of names, hoping that you think they all want him to be sheriff.

The office of Sheriff should not be a political office. It should be about who can do the best job running Washington County's largest law enforcement agency. It is not about whom you know, who you got a picture with, or what party you belong to. It is about what you have done to make this county safer. It is about being proactive on crime prevention, DARE, and community events like Shop with a Cop and the Washington County Fair. It is about putting the best trained deputies on patrol. Brian Rahn has done a great job while Sheriff and I am confident that he would continue to do so. I hope you will join me in voting for Brian Rahn for Sheriff.

Letter to the Editor:

In regards to the local sports, I, and many others, wonder why there is never any mention of the freshman football team? The sixth, seventh and eighth graders get mentioned along with the varsity... but not one word about the freshmen.

They are playing their hearts out and doing a darn good job of winning...yet, not even any mention of them at all...not even so much as their scores.

They have been providing us with some great entertainment. Keep up the good job team! The October 19th game was very bone chilling. It was so exciting right down to the wire. Kewaskum was down 8-0 but in the last few seconds they tied the score.

I believe the team they played had an undefeated record, just as the Kewaskum freshman team. I think that is pretty awesome.

I think the freshman team deserves some recognition for their games too, and would hope to see that happen in the very near future.

Judy Dreher

Editors Note: Our staff will be running a wrap-up article on the freshmen football team in an upcoming edition.

For All Who Know Motorcycle Riders:

I saw you, roll up your window and shake your head when I drove by.

But, you didn't see me, driving behind you when you flicked your cigarette butt out the car window.

I saw you, stare at my long hair. But, you didn't see me, and my friends cut ten inches off for Locks of Love.

I saw you, look in fright at my tattoos. But, you didn't see me, cry as my children were born and have their name written over and in my heart.

I saw you, change lanes while rushing off to go somewhere. But, you didn't see me, going home to be with my family.

I saw you, complain about how loud and noisy our bikes can be.

But, you didn't see me, when you were changing the CD and drifted into my lane.

I saw you, yelling at your kids in the car.

But, you didn't see me, pat my child's hands, knowing he was safe behind me.

I saw you, reading the newspaper or map as you drove down the road.

But, you didn't see me, squeeze my wife's leg when she told me to take the next turn.

I saw you, race down the road in the rain.

But, you didn't see me, get soaked to the skin so my son could have the car to go on his date.

I saw you, run the yellow light just to save a few minutes of time.

But, you didn't see me, trying to turn right.

I saw you, cut me off because you needed to be in the lane I was in.

But, you didn't see me, leave the road.

I saw you, waiting impatiently for my friends to pass. But, you didn't see me. I wasn't there.

I saw you, go home to your family. But, you didn't see me. Because, I died that day you cut me off.

I was just a biker.....A person with friends and a family. But, you didn't see me.

Haunted Homeland

By Michael Norman
Forge $27.95 448 Pages

"Oh, my! You look as if you've seen a ghost!"

How many times have you heard that really weak statement on TV or in movies? People say it all the time and it's really kind of silly..... unless you really have seen a ghost.

In the new book "Haunted Homeland" by Michael Norman, you'll read about ghost sightings around the United States, and a few legends from Great Britain that have passed across the ocean and taken hold here.

Starting as far north as you can go, Norman tells of the Lady in Blue from Sitka, Alaska. It seems that an extraordinarily beautiful Russian princess walks Castle Hill, looking for her lost love. The problem is that she's been dead for centuries. Grown men have sworn that the princess ghost is real, but is she?

While the Russian princess quietly wanders around Sitka with a sad look on her wispy face, not all ghosts are as gentle. Norman writes of malevolent spectres, bells from the underworld, poltergeists with mean streaks, and dozens of other terrifying tales.

A few years ago in Mississippi, there stood a mansion that wasn't very old, but was very haunted. The family that lived there heard agonizing moans and snarling dogs, and the youngest son once complained about a "bogyman" near his closet. After the house burned down under suspicious circumstances, one former owner was contacted by a spirit who made a chilling demand.

In North Carolina, workers found bits of bone and cloth in an unmarked grave. Did those earthly remains belong to the spirit who pulled the bedclothes from the bed of the newest owners of a nearby mansion? Or could it be the ghost who followed the female owner from her old apartment to her new home?

So you say that none of this scares you. It's only a bunch of stories, right? Just a bunch of overactive imaginations, huh? Well, then - if you dare - read the story of the Texas ghost steer with an eerie brand on his backside. Check out the story of the Maryland family who allowed a psychic to perform a seance. Settle in with the Oklahoma tale of the woman who was haunted by the guilt-inducing ghost of the man she loved and murdered.

Ah, there's nothing like a dim light, a cold night, and a good ghost story. These are perfect: "Haunted Homeland" practically begs to be read around the campfire, in a darkened dorm, or aloud at your Halloween party this year. Author Michael Norman has written and co-written (with the late Beth Scott) several books on this very same subject, and this one won't disappoint fans. The stories are detailed enough and the "eyewitness" reports are vivid enough to make skeptics wonder and ghost-hunters even surer that there is "something out there."

Just not necessarily something friendly.

Pick up a copy of this book, then grab a flashlight, turn out the lights, and be prepared to be spooked. Reading "Haunted Homeland" is a boo-tiful way to spend Halloween.

LEGAL NOTICE

Wisconsin consumers and businesses may claim Microsoft settlement benefits.

Settlement to provide up to $223,896,000 in benefits

A settlement has been reached in class action lawsuits against Microsoft on behalf of Wisconsin consumers and businesses that acquired Microsoft software from December 7, 1993 through April 30, 2003, for use in Wisconsin, and not for resale. Shortly after "final" court approval of the settlement, Microsoft will distribute up to $223,896,000 in vouchers that eligible consumers and businesses can redeem to buy computers, peripheral computer hardware, or computer software made by any manufacturer. Eligible Microsoft software users may now request a claim form for the vouchers.

WHAT ARE THESE CASES ABOUT?

The Plaintiffs in the lawsuits claim that Microsoft violated Wisconsin's antitrust and unfair competition laws and thereby overcharged consumers for some of its software. Microsoft denies these claims and contends that it developed and sold high quality and innovative software at fair and reasonable prices. The Court did not decide in favor of the Plaintiffs or Microsoft. Instead, both sides agreed to a settlement.

WHAT DOES THE SETTLEMENT PROVIDE?

You are eligible for vouchers if you resided in or were located in Wisconsin and you acquired the Microsoft software listed below, or a computer on which the software was already installed, for use in Wisconsin. The vouchers are worth $23 for each Microsoft "Office" and Microsoft "Excel" license; $15 for each Microsoft "Windows" and "MS-DOS" license; and $10 for each Microsoft "Word" (including "Home Essentials" and "Works Suite") license. You are entitled to claim the specified amounts for each computer on which you were lawfully entitled to use the Microsoft software in Wisconsin. Also, if you acquired multiple versions of the same product (or separately acquired upgrades), you're entitled to the specified amounts for each version or upgrade. More information is in a detailed notice at the Web site below.

If the total value of vouchers issued to Class members is less than $223,896,000, one-half of the remaining amount will be distributed as vouchers for hardware, software and technology services to certain Wisconsin public, tribal, and BIA schools that serve students from low-income households. The total value of vouchers issued but not redeemed will also be distributed to Wisconsin public, tribal, and BIA schools. Any of these vouchers that remain unused by the schools may be given to these schools or other needy organizations in Wisconsin.

HOW DO YOU GET BENEFITS?

Simply call or go to the Web site to get a claim form. To get benefits you need to fill out and send in a claim form postmarked no later than June 30, 2007 or 30 days after the Court grants "final approval" to the settlement, whichever comes later. You may also fill one out and submit it online for up to five licenses. If you acquired up to five copies of qualifying Microsoft products up to $100, you can use a Standard Claim Form to ask for benefits, and you do not have to provide any additional documents or proof for your software. If your claim is larger, you can also use a Standard Claim Form, but you will need to provide additional information. If you are a volume licensee (e.g., "Open," "Select," or "Enterprise"), you need a Volume License Claim Form. All the claim forms are available at www.microsoftWlsuit.com or by calling 1-800-598-3050 toll-free. Claims may be audited and penalties apply for false claims.

TRANSFERRING YOUR BENEFITS.

You may transfer—sell, donate or gift—up to $650 of your settlement vouchers to a public, tribal, and BIA school or charity of your choice. Vouchers may be transferred to anyone who does not intend to resell them. Transferred vouchers may be redeemed up to $10,000. Vouchers can be transferred only once.

WHAT ARE YOUR OTHER OPTIONS?

If you don't want vouchers and you don't want to be legally bound by the settlement, you must exclude yourself by February 13, 2007, or you won't be able to sue Microsoft about the claims in these lawsuits ever again. If you exclude yourself, you can't get any vouchers. If you don't exclude yourself, you may object in writing no later than February 13, 2007, to any part of the settlement. Attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses, and incentive awards, will be paid separately by Microsoft and will not reduce the settlement benefits you get. The lawyers representing you will request $33 million in attorneys' fees, plus reasonable costs, and expenses, plus $5,000 as an incentive award for each Class Representative who helped the lawyers on behalf of the whole Class. The detailed notice explains how to object or ask to be excluded. The Circuit Court of Wisconsin, Milwaukee County, will hold a hearing in these cases, called Spence v. Microsoft Corp. (No. 00-CV-003042), Capp v. Microsoft Corp. (No. 05-CV-01127), and Bettendorf v. Microsoft Corp. (No. 05-CV-010927), on March 30, 2007, to decide whether to give final approval to the settlement, and to consider the lawyers' request for fees, costs, expenses, and incentive awards. You or your lawyer may appear at the hearing, at your own cost. If the settlement is approved, Microsoft will be released from liability for claims in these cases as stated in the Settlement Agreement. Better Bread, Better Subs now here

Inside, Cousins offers seating for 32 customers. The building in which Cousin's is located was once a industrial manufacturing facility in the 1980's

KEWASKUM- Sub sandwich aficionados received another choice for their taste buds Wednesday, October 18. Cousins Subs has officially opened in Kewaskum.

Cousins opened shop in the newly remodeled strip mall that was once thought of as a bruise on the face of the community. The building has now been transformed into one of the most attractive buildings in the village.

The owners of the former Hydraulic Gear manufacturing facility or commonly known as "green and gold building" approached Keith Novotny, and Jill and Tom Bohn of J&K Enterprises to rent a 1,908-square-foot unit in January.

The sub shop can accommodate up to 32 people inside its newly remodeled walls.

"If we didn't do it, someone else probably would," said. Novotny. "It's a great location."

Novotny, a 1999 graduate of Kewaskum High School who attended the University of Wisconsin-Washington County to work towards a Business Management degree, co-owns two other Cousins restaurants which he and the Bohns purchased in February of 2005.

Cousins started in 1972 when co-founders cousins Jim Sheppard and Bill Specht came to Wisconsin from Atlantic City and saw the need for an Eastern-style sub shop in their new hometown. The hoagie, grinder, hero and sub sandwiches they enjoyed back East inspired their subs for their new restaurant.

With a dedication to delivering quality sub sandwiches at fair prices, they opened their first restaurant on the North-West side of Milwaukee. The name of their restaurant came just as naturally. They called it Cousins Subs.

Originally there were five locations, which included a downtown Milwaukee location as well as restaurants near the Marquette University campus and the Brady Street district in Milwaukee.

The chain is well-known for their party subs, which can income of $350,000 - $1 million, according to Food Service Equipment and Supplies magazine. Their subs are longer than their competitors in that a small one is 7 1/2 inches or 15 inches for a larger sub.

Cousins Subs is located at 1010 Fond du Lac Ave. Suite E in Kewaskum and their phone number is (262) 626-8800.

Green & Gold Update

Jim Kirsch with Kewaskum Green and Gold LLC, who renovated the former manufacturing building at the beginning of the year says that they have signed leases from Snap Fitness, a 24-hour fitness center that hopes to open in November. Chinatown Restaurant in West Bend is also set to open in the building at the beginning of 2007.

The group continues to take inquiries from various businesses ranging from pizza shops, antique stores and one-hour photo shops.

Rough day for Gridiron teams

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum Gridiron teams came up empty Saturday, and that's the first time that has happened all season.

The eighth graders fell behind Germantown 22-0 after three quarters, then scored twice to make the final score 30-14. The Kewaskum seventh graders hooked up in an offensive display which ended up 28-24 in favor of the visitors, and the sixth graders were overwhelmed by an excellent passing attack to the tune of a 35-6 loss.

The fifth graders went up against Thiensville and could not match the Cardinals' firepower, falling 34-13.

Eighth grade coach "Jonesy" Korth said he told his players they had to play mistake-free football to stay with Germantown, but that wasn't the case. The Indians fumbled the opening kickoff which led to the Warhawks' first score, and there were other costly turnovers, helping the visitors take a commanding lead.

In the fourth quarter, Matt Ballard scored on a long run, only to have it called back by a penalty. Several plays later, he scored again, and this time it counted.

Germantown scored again, then Bradley Conroy returned the kickoff to the G'town 30 and several plays later, Conroy scored, and Lucas Kopeschka kicked the extra point.

Korth complimented Andy Schreier for some nice tackling.

"It was a thriller but we ended up on the short end," coach Tom Kudek said about the loss suffered by his seventh graders, who are now 4-3.

Eric Perkins opened the game with an exhilarating 70-yard kickoff return, and later he added a second TD on a 30-yard counter play.

Kewaskum's third touchdown came on a 2-yard run by Jacob Wunder, who also "had a good defensive showing," according to the coach.

Down 20-18 with four minutes to play, Germantown put together a long scoring drive, kept alive by a pass on third down and 15 yards to go.

If we could have just held on that one play," Kudek said, indicating his team came back to score when QB Sam Olla passed to Perkins for a 40-yard scoring strike, putting the score at 28-24.

"We tried an onside kick, but it went into the wrong hands," Kudek said. "It was a good game. The kids played well. They have nothing to be ashamed of."

The sixth graders got off on the wrong foot against now 6-1 Germantown, fumbling the opening kickoff.

The Warhawks' passing game was too strong for the young Indians, who "didn't tackle well on defense and were sporadic on offense," according to coach Joe Backhaus.

Kewaskum's only score came near the end of the second quarter when Hunter Flinders scampered 20 yards on a quarterback bootleg. Nathan Krupp ran for the extra point.

Had the Indians held on the next series, Kewaskum might have been able to stay close, but they gave up another passing TD, and Germantown was in command.

"Derek Aupperle showed signs of continued improvement on offense. He seems to be getting better running strong the last couple of games," Backhaus said, indicating his team didn't play as well as it is capable of, but in their defense, they have run into four teams that are now 6-1 for the year.

Joey Seitz scored twice for coach Mark Walcheske's fifth graders (3-4). One came on a 65-yard kickoff return in the first half, and Seitz also broke loose up the middle for a 53-yard run.

Walcheske said Alexander Johnson ran for the one extra point, and he also intercepted a pass at the KHS 5-yard line, stopping another Cardinal drive.

"The boys played a pretty good team," Walcheske said. "Injuries hurt us again, but everybody did a good job."

The fifth graders conclude their season with a game at West Bend on Thursday, while the three other teams play at Slinger Saturday, starting with the eighth grade game at 9 a.m.

The Statesman has learned there is a second girl out for Gridiron football this fall. She is Tori Kerkela, who plays for the fifth grade team.

Gibson earns third place in sectional

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Before the season started, Bobby Gibson had talked about his goals for the 2006 cross country season, which included winning all-conference honors and breaking the 17-minute barrier.

The talented senior accomplished both of those but never really mentioned the possibility of going to the WIAA Division 2 State Meet. That possibility became a reality Saturday as Gibson finished third in the sectional competition held at the Mayville Golf Course.

"Bobby got through with no problem," coach Dave Drexler said, referring to the fact the top two teams and top five individuals from non-qualifying teams automatically qualify for state. Since Gibson finished third, there was no need to wait to see if he was among the top five from non-qualifying teams.

That was not the case concerning freshman Zack Heriges, who took 10th overall but wound up eighth taking out the Ripon and Portage runners. Ripon won the meet going away, scoring 47 points, while Portage is the other qualifying team after coming up with 94 points, two points ahead of Berlin.

"Zack came sooo close," Drexler said. "He came within two places (eight seconds) of qualifying for state."

Gibson's time for the 5-kilometers was 17 minutes and 18 seconds (17:18), while Heriges was 59 seconds back, covering the course in 18:17.

Jake Tsacadakis and Andy Miller, both of Ripon, finished 1-2, hitting the finish line in 17:01 and 17:02.

The KHS boys wound up fourth overall in the 16-team competition. The Indians came up with 158 points, and finishing that well was a highlight for Drexler, who said, "As a team, placing fourth, was also a great feeling."

Tyler McElhatton, consistently in the top-25 in many big meets this year, just missed the mark Saturday. He placed 27th at 18:55, and rounding out the scoring for Kewaskum were Aaron Monty (20:02) and Austin Yadro (20:09) in 57th and 61st places, respectively.

The veteran coach said times were not fast, but, "The conditions did have some effect on that. I felt everyone ran their best."

Ripon gained the sweep as the Lady Tigers had three runners among the top 12 on their way to 64 points. Also qualifying for state is Poynette, with 93 points.

Claire Rindo of Berlin claimed top individual honors. She turned in a sizzling 15:36 for the four kilometers.

Kewaskum was far back in the pack, scoring 308 points. Only two of the Indians placed among the top 50, and Tonya Janssen and Vanessa Schellinger had identical times of 18:14, placing 43rd and 44th.

Freshman Kassie Legate was clocked in at 18:52 for 59th place, and the other two counters were Kristin Vogt (19:21) and Tasha Wagner (21:29) in 69th and 93rd places.

"Some nice surprises with the girls was Vanessa finally moving up and placing right behind Tonya, and Tasha placing as a counter for the team," Drexler said. "Looks like a good base to build on for next year."

The state meet will be held Saturday at the Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids. The gun will sound for the Division 2 boys race at 11:40 a.m.

Grafton's big middle too much for Indian spikers

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

What started out so promising for the Kewaskum High volleyball team came to a rather sad and disappointing ending in a Division 2 regional semifinal match in Kewaskum Friday night.

The No. 2-seeded Indians overwhelmed Grafton 25-15 in the first game, but the third-seeded Blackhawks battled back to win the next three games by scores of 25-16, 25-20 and 25-21 to earn the victory and the right to face Kettle Moraine Lutheran in the regional final Saturday at KML.

After losing to the Chargers during their dual meet and again in the Washington County Tournament by closer scores, the Indians so wanted a third chance at them to reach the sectional level of play.

"This match was a struggle for us," KHS coach Renee Altendorf said afterward. "The first game the girls played so well. Everything was going our way."

The second-year coach, who has led the Indians to back-to-back Eastern Wisconsin Conference titles, could hardly believe what transpired next.

"The next three games were very bad," Altendorf went on. "We could not dig or block a ball. The girls struggled with everything."

"I don't know what happened," junior Christina DeGroot said, indicting the Indians did have trouble trying to defend against the Blackhawks' 6-foot spiker, Lauren Hirschinger. "I would say she was the best hitter, but the best middle hitter we went against."

Hirschinger just took command of the match in the second, third and fourth games of the match.

About the only KHS starter at the top of her game was freshman Erika Heberer. "Erika had a great game. She was hitting the ball and keeping the ball in play," Altendorf said. "She did a great job in her last game of the season."

Heberer led the team in aces with three, while DeGroot and Megan Rinzel each contributed two.

The serving was OK, according to DeGroot, who said, "Our first game was probably our worst serving game, even though we won that one ... We picked it up after that."

Perhaps the telltale statistics of the match were the number of digs and kills the Indians had. When a team has 124 digs, it usually means it was on the defensive and not in great position to get as many spiking opportunities.

Senior Marissa Dehler

closed out a great career by coming up with 36 of those digs, while Bekki Heberer, another solid senior for the KHS team, chipped in with 21, and next came Stephanie Rinzel with 17.

Kewaskum came up with just two blocks in the match. When asked if Becky Rodenkirch, who missed the last couple of weeks of play because of a thumb injury, was missed, DeGroot said, "She may have helped on the blocking had she been there ... we all knew we had to play better defense when she was gone."

Kewaskum had a total of 39 kills. The leaders in that category were DeGroot and Erika Heberer, who both had ten. Bekki Heberer added nine to the offensive effort.

About the obvious that this was a tough way to end the season, DeGroot said, "We wanted to make it further (in the tournament) obviously," adding the five seniors, Bekki Heberer, Rodenkirch, Dehler, Caitlin Sprinkman, and Emily Sedgwick will be missed. "They were really good in leadership roles. They pulled us together at times."

Grafton did not fare well at Kettle Moraine Lutheran Saturday, falling in three straight games by scores of 25-15, 25-8 and 25-19.

Wittmann helping Point spikers climb the WSUC ladder

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Jill Wittmann helped start a nice run of Eastern Wisconsin Conference volleyball championships for Kewaskum High School, and now she wants to be part of something special as a member of the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point program.

"This is the best year we've had in a long time," Wittmann said while making the bus ride from Stevens Point to UW-Oshkosh last week, reporting the Pointers finished dead last in the Wisconsin State University Conference a year ago, but were 3-3 going into the Oct. 19 match against the Titans, with wins over UW-River Falls, UW-Stout and UW-Superior. (Overall the Pointers are 20-9.)

"I'd be satisfied with top-four in the conference," the 5-foot-9 back row player/defensive specialist said, and this would be a huge step especially since the WSUC features several teams, including UW-Whitewater and UW-Eau Claire, which are nationally ranked.

"Leading the conference right now are Eau Claire and Whitewater. They are tied for first," she said.

Wittmann started playing volleyball in grade school. "I played club ball since I was 13," she said. With the strong background, she was able to earn honorable mention on the all-EWC team her junior year, and garnered first team honors when she was a senior.

During her final two prep seasons, she started to think she might be good enough to move up to the collegiate level. "As a senior, I knew for sure I was going to play," Wittmann said, reporting one of her club coaches, B.J. Royes, wrote a letter for her to Stacey White, the coach at UW-Stevens Point, and she was invited to try out.

And is Wittmann glad she is out for the sport, even though it includes three to four hours of practice each day after an already long day of classes and homework?

Oh yes. "It's a great experience. We get to travel, and it's so fun to be part of the team,"

Wittmann said.

And was there an adjustment period, moving from high school play to collegiate volleyball? "Just the time and the intensity is a lot more than what it was in high school," she said.

Concerning what has helped Point get to 3-3 this year, Wittmann, with a little help from teammates sitting close to her on the bus, said, "our team cohesiveness, and attitude ... we haven't been able to win more than three conference matches in conference in a long time."

Another highlight of the season was winning a triangular meet at Viterbo College several weeks ago.

Wittmann has gotten more opportunities to start this fall but points out "We change our lineup to match up against the opponents." Scouting opponents is a major part of the preparation for matches, according to Wittmann, who said Oshkosh was going to be tough because, "They have a big middle (hitter) and a big right side."

Whatever happens this season, Wittmann will have one more year of eligibility until she is set to graduate and move on to her career as an elementary school teacher.

"And does she want to coach. "Oh yeah," she said.

Stevens Point lost to Oshkosh in three games 21-30, 18-30 and 22-30, after leading in the first two games. For the match, Wittmann had seven digs.

The Lady Pointers have two conference matches left before the WSUC tournament gets underway. She said next week the tournament pairings will be released by the conference.

Doing well in the WSUC Tournament is one of her goals, and a personal favorite match came recently when the Pointers traveled to DePere to play St. Norbert College, where her former teammate at KHS, Danielle DeGroot, is playing.

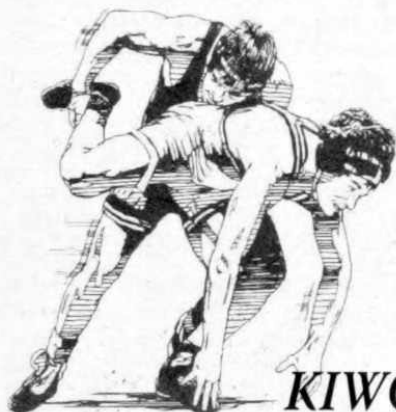

"We played them last week at St. Norberts, and we won in five," Wittmann said. "When St. Norbert came to Point, they won, so it was nice to come back and beat them there."

Timblin named to NGCA All-star scholar team

Four Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WIAC) student-athletes have been named to the 2006 National Golf Coaches Association (NGCA) All-American Scholar Team. UW-Oshkosh's Cheryl Treadwell, UW-Stevens Point's Courtney Timblin and UW-Whitewater's Kendall Egnarski and Diana Schmidt were recognized on the team.

The NGCA honored 371 student-athletes from NCAA Division I, II and III schools for their performances on and off the course during the 2005-06 season.

The criteria for selection to the NGCA's All-American Scholar Team are some of the most stringent of all college athletics. The minimum cumulative grade point average is 3.50 and student-athletes must have competed in at least 50 percent of their college's regularly scheduled competitive rounds during the year.

First match was pretty much a breeze for Lady Indians

One of Kewaskum's main weapons all season long has been junior Christina DeGroot, and she had another good night Tuesday. Above, DeGroot leaps high and puts down one of her powerful kills.

BY JUDY HARLOW

Coach Renee Altendorf didn't have to go to the whip too much during Tuesday's first-round Division 2 volleyball match between her Kewaskum High team and visiting Mayville.

The Indians knew what was at stake. There is no room for error in the WIAA Volleyball Tournament, so they were pretty well motivated by themselves, and not a lot of extra effort was needed since Mayville, the No. 7 seed in the event, did not bring a powerful game to the KHS gym.

Kewaskum opened with a 25-17 win and followed that up with a 25-7 decision. Only in the third game were the Indians pushed a little and after tying the game at 15-all, they took control and rolled to a 25-19 decision for a sweep and the victory.

So was Altendorf satisfied with the effort? "I was. I thought the girls played well. We really saw a stepping up in the play of our middle."

About the only shaky part of the match came in that third game. "The third game we struggled a little. We knew we needed a pickup," Altendorf said. "When Stephanie (Rinzel) came in, she had four serves and a run of three, which really got us back in the game."

Kewaskum had been down 8-12 before the Indians rallied in Game 3. A big spike by DeGroot helped the Indians draw even with the Cardinals at 15, and right after that Mayville returned a ball into the net. Mayville had several other unforced errors as Kewaskum began to pull away.

Emily Aycock, who was a reserve most of the year and has seen a lot more playing time since Becky Rodenkirch injured her thumb and was lost for the season, also drew praise from the second-year KHS coach.

"Emily is starting to get into the understanding of playing," Altendorf said. "She had three kills tonight, which was a big help ... and she only had one error."

The Indians' two thoroughbreds, 2005 Eastern Wisconsin Conference Player of the Year Christina DeGroot and Libero Marissa Dehler, also turned in some very fine play.

DeGroot wound up with three kills, and a pair of aces despite not feeling up to par, something which may have affected her powerful jump serve a bit.

"She's sick right now. We've got to build up her endurance the next three days," Altendorf said.

Concerning the agile and energetic Dehler, Altendorf beamed, "She really did a nice job. She had a lot of digs we thought were going to hit the floor, but somehow she got them. She had 25 digs for us, and she had 16 receptions. Getting her hands on the ball, she helps us out!"

KHS soccer players end season with a good effort

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

There was no quit in the Kewaskum High soccer players last Thursday night.

Although they were seeded eighth for the opening round of the WIAA Division 2 regional and were facing top-seeded New Holstein, the Indians battled hard and stayed close to the Huskies, falling 4-2 in the end.

"Since we had lost to them (Huskies) twice previously by a combined score of 17-1, we played very, very well," KHS coach John Berst said. "Probably with about three minutes left in the game, it was 3-2, then we gave up a penalty kick."

Dylan Kenworthy turned in perhaps his best offensive showing of the year, scoring both Kewaskum goals. "One came in the first half and was unassisted," Berst said. "I'm going to say it was about 25 minutes into the game."

New Holstein got off to a quick start, scoring goals at the eight-minute mark and adding a second at 14:00, then the Indians smothered any efforts made by the Huskies. "To the kids credit, they didn't put their heads down" after being behind 2-0," Berst said. Determined play helped to cut that deficit to one goal by the end of the first half.

Berst said Kenworthy got his second goal at about the 60th minute. Assisting on that play was senior Jeremy Parker. "It was just inside the eighteen-yard box," the KHS coach said, adding he thought Kenworthy ended the season with around six goals scored.

As far as opportunities the two teams had, the coach said, "I think we had around six shots on goal, and they had seven or eight."

Defensively, "It was a very good team effort," Berst went on. "I thought Anders Thomes did a very good job, like he had the last couple games," and in midfield, "Nick Gutbrod and Alex Rauch did a nice job."

Also lauded for his efforts was senior goalie Ryan Nuernberg. "The communications were better," the coach said.

Nuernberg, Rauch and "Bud" Kattar were three of the top seniors on the team. Another senior who played JV soccer most of the year, Keith Scannell, got to start in this game and played about 10 minutes. "He comes to every practice, never missed a game," Berst said, praising Scannell for "having the right attitude" and working hard.

With the loss, the Indians' season is over. They were 2-22 overall.

On Monday, the Indians were shut out by Kiel 4-0, thus ending the Eastern Wisconsin Conference season at 1-13.

"We played OK, but we didn't play as well as we did Thursday," Berst said. "We were really starting to hit the stride I hoped we would have hit six games ago," pleased with the improvement the Indians showed in the late games and realizing the record could have been better had they played this way earlier in the month.

Scheel picks apart Campbellsport secondary

There is one good way to describe the defensive unit of the Kewaskum High football team — stingy. The Indians only allowed Campbellsport to score seven points Thursday night, and the Cougars certainly had difficulty running toward the left side of the Indian "D." Above, Mike Pfothenhauer (40) and Eric Ogi (21) converge on Campbellsport's number 2 as Logan Staeger (33) reaches to get his legs and Jon Wicklund comes from the back side to help on the tackle.

Campbellsport provided a colorful fireworks display during its pre-game festivities before Thursday's football game against Kewaskum, but once the opening whistle sounded, it was the visiting Indians who lit up the field.

QB Casey Scheel tossed four touchdown passes and wound up with 290 yards passing as the Indians (6-1) rolled to a convincing 33-6 victory, securing a lock on a share of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference with Plymouth (6-1), which trounced Roncalli 42-0.

"We were back to being explosive tonight," KHS coach Jason Piittmann said. "We were able to make the big strike."

It was quite a turnaround in emotions for Piittmann, who had watched Scheel go out with what looked to be a shoulder injury late in the 13-7 double overtime victory over Kiel the week before.

Piittmann was plenty worried at that point, thinking Scheel had a rotator cuff injury and a serious one, especially considering he said his pain level was at a nine after coming out of the game. That number decreased down to a four by the end of the contest, according to the coach, who said it was determined the shoulder joint was pulled out of place but shifted right back to its original position without any damage.

That was bad news for the Cougars, who were unable to cover all Kewaskum's receiving weapons.

On their very first series, following a Campbellsport punt, Eric Ogi showed why he is among the most talented players in the EWC. On third and nine from the Kewaskum 31, Ogi hauled in a Scheel aerial for a 23-yard pickup.

Four plays later, Scheel pump faked, then found Ogi curling out of the backfield for what turned into a 37-yard TD pass. The kick by Brian Backhaus was low but right between the uprights for a 7-0 lead.

Campbellsport, which featured the strong running of Lance Schumacherer, Austin Sarauer and Billy Mayer, came right back with a drive of its own, moving 68 yards in 10 plays, with Sarauer going in from the 4-yard line.

The Cougars, who apparently have not been kicking PATs for the last several weeks, tried a run for the 2-point conversion but Schumacherer was stopped short.

That turned out to be Campbellsport's only score. The Cougars gained plenty of yards on the ground, over 230, but were halted a couple times, once when they reached the KHS 4, and a couple other times turnovers halted drives.

Scheel and company were only warming up with the first score. In their second series, the Indians needed 10 plays to cover 64 yards, and once again Mr. Ogi had a big hand in the drive, catching a pass that covered 42 yards.

Jon Wicklund also helped out with a 16-yard reception, and from the one, Mike Pfothenhauer plowed into the end zone for a touchdown and a 13-6 lead.

Kewaskum's third series was also successful. Starting at their own 37, the Indians matched 64 yards in eight plays for a TD. The running accounted for just eight yards, but in the air, a reception by Matt Parrent was good for 18 yards, Wicklund caught one for 16, and then Scheel and Ogi hooked up again. Ogi caught the ball, changed direction with a nifty 360-degree spin and sprinted into the end zone.

Kewaskum held a 20-6 lead at intermission and added two more TDs after the break, the first a one-play, 70-yard pass to Wicklund, who outraced everyone down the right sideline for the score with 5:47 left in the third period.

This drive was set up by a Jack Breese interception after Campbellsport had run off 11 plays and moved to the KHS 42.

Kewaskum put the game away in the fourth quarter after Ogi picked off Sarauer. Sarauer came in at QB for Tate Schill, who had been injured earlier.

Going the final 22 yards was no problem for the Indians. Scheel hit Wicklund over the middle for a 16-yard strike, and the Indians started to celebrate their second straight EWC title.

For the game, Ogi caught five passes for 128 yards and Wicklund had five catches for 129 yards.

"He stepped up again," the coach said about Wicklund.

Defensively Jake Turowski recovered a fumble.

"We bent but we didn't break," Piittmann said about his defense. "That (Cougars) offense drives me nuts."

He was thrilled with the play of linebacker Logan Staeger, who stuffed run after run on the Indians' left defensive front.

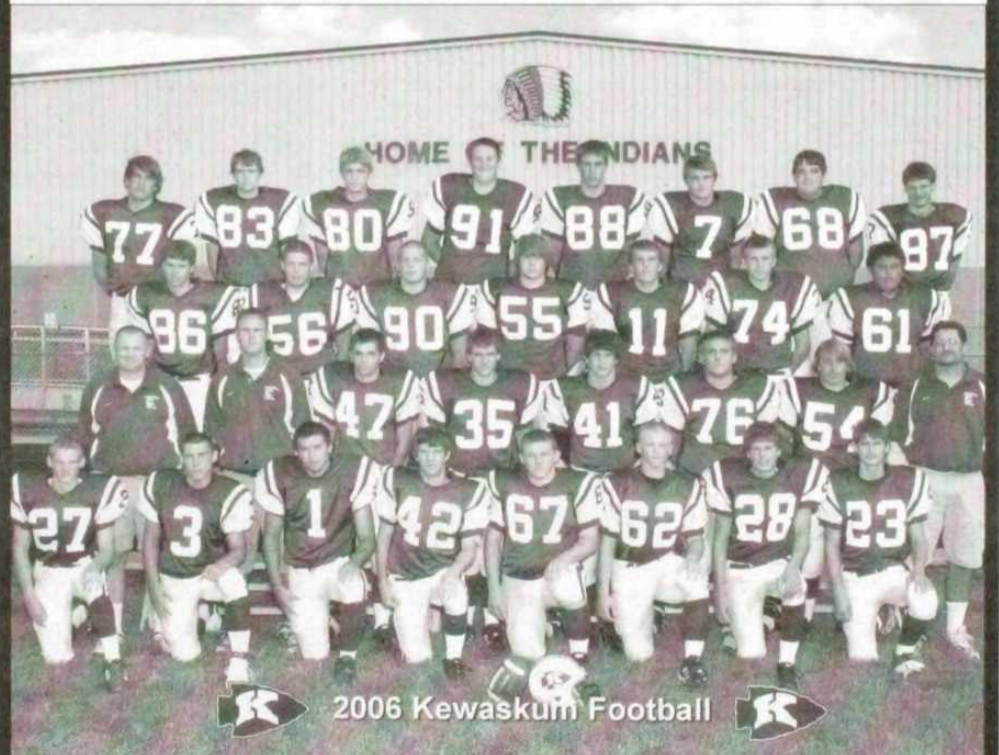

"Logan Staeger played an outstanding game," Piittmann said. "That kid better get first-team, all-conference," Piittmann went on, Ogi played well at left corner, "and we've got Pfothenhauer on that side, too."

Also praised was Mike Bunkelmann at defensive end.

"Now we go to the second season," Piittmann said about the playoffs. Kewaskum's first opponent was Pewaukee.
