Costs for suspended police officer, disciplinary action could exceed $10,000

Hearing for Ellis set for Tuesday

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Police and Fire Commission (PFC) met Monday, May 21 to learn the procedures that will be followed for the village's first police officer disciplinary hearing after Chief of Police Richard Knoebel filed charges against police officer Troy Ellis earlier this month. That hearing is set to be held Tuesday, May 29 in open session.

Attorney Paul Alexy, of Arenz, Molter, Macy and Riffle was hired to represent the PFC. He presented hearing procedures he recommended the members follow.

Alexy informed the members that while the hearing will be held in open session, they are able to convene into closed session at any time to deliberate or ask questions. They would then announce a decision in open session.

He also told the members that the hearing could take longer than one evening, depending upon the number of witnesses called by either side. He further stated that even though the hearing is an open hearing, comments will not be allowed from those in the audience unless they are called as a witness.

The PFC tabled approving the recommendations so they could further review them. They are expected to approve them before the hearing on Tuesday. That hearing is expected to begin at 7 p.m. at the village hall.

Dollars and Cents

While members of the PFC are volunteers and are not reimbursed for any expenses or time, significant costs have been incurred and it could cost the village taxpayers as much as $10,000 when all is said and done. The Statesman reported in an earlier edition that Ellis, an 18-year member of the police force, continues to collect his salary while he is on administrative leave.

Village officials say that Ellis's gross daily pay is estimated at $199.94. This is based on an eight-hour shift. He receives $24.99 hourly gross. This equates to $999.60 gross for a typical 40-hour workweek.

Ellis was officially put on paid leave on April 28. By the date of his hearing, he will have received an estimated $6,198.14. Even if his employment is terminated, village officials say that compensation will not have to be reimbursed by Ellis.

In addition to paying the suspended Ellis, the village must also pay the wage of another police officer to pick up Ellis's normal shifts. Depending on the officer, this could be more or less than what Ellis is currently being paid per hour.

Committee will see plans today for WWTP

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The village's Public Works committee will meet today (Thursday) at 4:30 p.m. The committee will review and discuss design proposals for the improvements to the wastewater treatment facility.

Late last summer the village revealed that their 35-year-old wastewater treatment facility was being scrutinized by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The DNR said they were reviewing the plant because of sewage that was released into the Milwaukee River during a heavy rainfall in 2004. The village was told to make corrections or they would lose their permit with the state.

Because of the high population estimates, the village's engineering firm informed the village they would need a new $13 million facility. After an independent review by another engineering firm, it was determined those population estimates were over-estimated and that the village could purchase a $3.4 million bandaid.

At their meeting, the committee will make a recommendation to the village board on a design proposal. The village board is expected to act on that recommendation at one of their June meetings.

A related article where the DNR is asking for citizen input on the improvements can be found on page three of this edition.

Habitat's ReStore to open today

Theater committee has raised close to $70,000

KEWASKUM- Organizers of a fundraiser for the new Kewaskum Theater were pleased with the turn-out at their dinner theater and auction recently. So far the committee has raised $68,759 in pledges and cash for the theater.

While much of the money was donated through seat sales, a number of donations came from area businesses and private citizens.

Committee chairman, Larry Ammel says they have a little over 250 seats left for people to donate. Each seat costs $150. The chair style selected can be seen this week at West Bend Savings Bank in Kewaskum. Forms are available there to make a donation.

"The event was fantastic, the turnout, the bidders, it was just a fantastic evening," Ammel stated proudly.

Ammel reported that 232 tickets were sold for the event.

Local auctioneer Mike Paul of Paul Auction Company oversaw a live auction of donated items at the event that netted $3,955. A silent auction was also held that brought in $2,169.

Work continues to progress with seating being installed in the near future at the new theater that will occupy the former Rose Hall at Kewaskum High School. The library on the rear side of the theater is nearly complete. School officials hoped to be able to move everything from the current library into the new Rose Library on the last day of school so that they can start taking apart and remodeling the current library and 700 building.

Kewaskum Middle School and the elementary school depending on the buildings' needs. A portion of this cost is picked up by the school district.

However Officer Granrath has now had his presence in the schools reduced to make-up for the absence of Ellis. The district will not be billed for the hours he is not in the school.

In addition to attorney Alexy, Chief Knoebel also has representation from the village's labor attorney, Nancy Pirkey of Davis and Kuelthau who is on retainer for the village. Due to conflicts of interest, Alexy can not represent Chief Knoebel. Cost estimates for legal counsel were not available.

The Statesman will post coverage of the hearing on their website Monday evening. This will include audio from the hearing.

DNR seeking input on WWTP improvements

MILWAUKEE- The Village of Kewaskum has requested approval from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for improvements to its wastewater treatment facility. The DNR is seeking public comment on the project.

The project is needed to improve the ability of the plant to handle peak flows, provide for growth in the community and correct operation problems to ensure that the plant will continue to meet the permit requirements for discharge to the Milwaukee River.

The project will include modification to the facility such as, expanding the ultraviolet disinfection system and other miscellaneous improvements.

The improvements are estimated to cost $3.44 million. The Village anticipates financing the project with the aid of a Clean Water Fund low-interest loan.

Public comment must be received by June 5 to Gerry Novotny, DNR, PO Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707 or (608) 267-7625.

Brick for Brick raises almost $10,000

Organizers of the fund raiser Brick for Brick for Tanzania, say they are pleased with the event's success. Just under $10,000 was raised through ticket sales to the concert, t-shirts and donations. Kewaskum resident John Kenworthy, who along with his son Dylan helped organize the event, stated they are still accepting donations until they leave for Africa in July. The two, along with KHS senior Anna Rick and a number of others from Trinity Lutheran Church in West Bend, will make the trek. "It was wonderful all the way around," stated John. Money raised at the concert will be used to build a preschool in Tanzania. Habitat ReStore opens in West Bend

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

WEST BEND- It took a little less than a year but Habitat for Humanity is in business today (Thursday) as the owners and operators of a Habitat ReStore. The West Bend store is fully stocked with donated and leftover building materials.

Using the same principles when they go in to rehab a house for a needing family, Habitat volunteers began restoration at 325 Chestnut Street in West Bend. Upon opening, the building resembles your neighborhood hardware store.

Gayle Van Ess, of Washington County Habitat for Humanity explains that throughout the United States, Habitat for Humanity affiliates have established 500 ReStores, which sell high-quality new, gently used, and surplus building materials for a fraction of retail prices. Most of the profit supports construction of Habitat homes in those communities.

Habitat Director, Russ Wanta explains that the ReStore is multi-faceted. "By salvaging reusable materials, ReStores help the environment, diverting tons of usable building supplies from landfills." He hopes that this opens up a whole new mission of service for expanding their volunteer base.

The Habitat ReStore accepts new and gently used building-related materials from contractors, suppliers, individuals, remodelers and property managers. Some materials are used directly in the construction of Habitat homes, but most are offered to the general public to purchase at reduced prices. Homeowners, landlords and remodelers have access to materials at low prices, allowing them to maintain their properties, thus increasing neighborhood property values and strengthening the community.

Habitat ReStores also provide meaningful volunteer opportunities for individuals and groups in the areas of retail sales, cashier, donation maintenance, stocking shelves, receiving and pricing,

Local News IN BRIEF

County does a Cabelas 180

WEST BEND- This time, it was a different story. The Washington County Board of Supervisors met in special session on Tuesday, May 22 and voted 22 to 5 to meet its $4 million financial commitment to Cabelas. The vote is that of a 180-degree turn from their vote two weeks ago when the board decided by a narrow margin to renege on the incentive package.

The five supervisors who voted against the reaffirmation on Tuesday, were Ralph Hense, John Stern, Ken Brandt, Don Berchem and Dan Knodl. Supervisors Dave Radermacher and Rick Gundrum were absent but excused and supervisor Phil Laubenheimer didn't vote because his daughter is employed by the retailer.

donation pick-ups. Also opening up opportunities for those not comfortable with picking up a hammer or saw.

Upon walking into the store customers will find just about anything new or used for home remodeling or repair. The store is perfect for those looking for items to fix up a garage or basement. Many items inside the store are manufacturer close-outs and items pulled from recent remodeling projects.

Paint and items such as flooring will not be enough to adequately remodel a new home but will work beautifully to remodel a small room.

Wanta explains that a number of the items inside the store donated as close out from retailers are not used because of partnerships with corporations such as Kohler Company or Yale Locks.

"When we need toilets or fixtures, we call Kohler and they donate energy efficient items for our builds," he stated.

The ReStore is currently accepting: Appliances (5 years old or newer), cabinets, doors and windows, electrical and lighting, flooring, hardware, lumber, millwork and trim, latex paint, plumbing, roofing and tools.

The ReStore does not accept: Lead based material, toxic material, electronics, computers, furniture, fireplaces, used carpet or carpet pads. They also reserve the right to determine if items are appropriate for sale.

The store is open Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. All donations are accepted during normal business hours. The store is located on Chestnut Street, east of Main Street near Morning Glory Cafe.

For further information on volunteering or making a donation to the ReStore, call (262) 334-1801. For information on current building projects and volunteer opportunities with Habitat for Humanity Washington County call (262) 626-4625.

Grilling once to dine twice — a smart way to use the grill, and an easy way to enjoy two deliciously different meals.

Here's how. Take two perfect partners — beef and onions — and grill twice the amount you need for one meal. Enjoy half — save half!

For each bonus meal, just add a few simple ingredients. Grilled burgers and onion slices become a yummy pasta supper, while steaks with red onion wedges make a spectacular salad — each ready in minutes.

Grill Once, Dine Twice

Grilling Sensations

Beef on the Grill

- Trim visible fat from steaks before grilling to help prevent flare-ups.
- Grill beef over medium heat. Too high heat can cause the exterior to char before the interior is cooked. Charring or overcooking beef is not recommended.
- Use an instant-read thermometer inserted horizontally into the side of steaks and burgers to check for doneness. The thermometer will register 145°F for medium rare, 160°F for medium doneness.
- Always cook burgers to medium doneness (160°F), turning occasionally with a spatula — no pressing, please!
- Turn steaks occasionally with tongs. Forks pierce the meat, and flavorful juices are lost.

Tasty Onion Tips

- Onion slices and wedges are perfect for grilling. Simply brush with olive oil, sprinkle with salt and pepper, a favorite herb or prepared seasoning blend, and grill over medium heat.
- For grilling, cut onions 1/2 inch thick to help keep slices together, and for easy turning with a spatula.
- Onions can be divided into two categories: fresh and storage. Thin, light-skinned fresh onions are available March through August. Storage onions, harvested in early fall, are marketed through April. Both are available in yellow, red and white.
- The higher water content in fresh onions gives them a mild taste ideal for enjoying raw or grilled.

Beef Top Loin Steaks With Balsamic Red Onion Relish

Total preparation and cooking time: 35 to 40 minutes

- 4 boneless beef top loin (strip) steaks, cut 1 inch thick (about 8 ounces each)
- 1/2 cup balsamic vinegar
- 2 teaspoons garlic-pepper seasoning
- 2 medium red onions, each cut into 12 wedges
- 2 medium yellow squash, cut lengthwise in half
- 2 medium zucchini, cut lengthwise in half
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 teaspoons garlic-pepper seasoning
- 1 teaspoon chopped fresh oregano or thyme
- Salt

1. Bring vinegar to a boil in small saucepan. Reduce heat; simmer 6 to 8 minutes or until reduced by half. Set aside.
2. Press 2 teaspoons garlic-pepper seasoning evenly onto beef steaks.
3. Soak four 10-inch bamboo skewers in water 10 minutes; drain. Thread onion wedges onto skewers. Brush onions and cut sides of squash with oil; sprinkle with remaining 2 teaspoons garlic-pepper seasoning.
4. Place steaks in center of grid over medium, ash-covered coals; arrange onions and squash around steaks. Grill steaks, uncovered, 15 to 18 minutes for medium rare to medium doneness, turning occasionally. Grill squash 8 to 12 minutes and onions 12 to 15 minutes or until tender, turning occasionally.
5. Remove onions from skewers; toss 1/2 of onions with 2 tablespoons reduced vinegar, oregano and salt, as desired. Carve 2 steaks into slices. Serve with onion mixture and 1/2 of squash; season steak and squash with salt, as desired. Cover and refrigerate remaining 2 steaks, onions, squash and reduced vinegar to use in Grilled Beef & Onion Salad.

Makes 4 servings.

Cook's Tip: To prepare on gas grill, preheat grill according to manufacturer's directions for medium heat. Place steaks and vegetables on grid as directed above. Grill steaks, covered, 11 to 15 minutes for medium rare to medium doneness, turning occasionally. Grill onions, covered, 13 to 16 minutes and squash, covered, 7 to 11 minutes or until tender, turning occasionally.

Grilled Beef & Onion Salad

Total preparation and cooking time: about 15 minutes

- 2 leftover grilled boneless beef top loin (strip) steaks
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 2 tablespoons leftover reduced balsamic vinegar
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 4 leftover grilled squash halves, cut into 3/4-inch pieces
- Leftover grilled red onion wedges
- 8 cups mixed salad greens
- Salt and pepper

1. Whisk oil, vinegar, garlic, salt and pepper in small bowl until blended. Set aside.
2. Arrange squash and onions over greens. Carve steaks into slices; season with salt and pepper, as desired. Arrange over salad. Drizzle vinaigrette over salad; toss.

Makes 4 servings.

Cook's Tip: Garnish with shaved or shredded Parmesan cheese, crumbled blue cheese or croutons, if desired.

Grilled Onion Cheeseburgers

Total preparation and cooking time: 35 to 45 minutes

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh thyme
- 1 tablespoon minced garlic
- 2 large yellow or white onions, cut into 1/2-inch thick slices
- 1 to 2 tablespoons vegetable or olive oil
- Salt and pepper
- 4 white or whole wheat hamburger buns, or Kaiser rolls, split
- 3 ounces crumbled or shredded cheese (such as blue cheese, smoked mozzarella, goat cheese, feta)

1. Combine ground beef, thyme and garlic in medium bowl, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Lightly shape into eight 1/2-inch thick patties. Brush both sides of onion slices with oil.
2. Place patties and onion slices on grid over medium, ash-covered coals. Grill patties, uncovered, 11 to 13 minutes to medium (160°F) doneness until no longer pink in center and juices show no pink color, turning occasionally. Grill onions 15 to 20 minutes or until tender, turning occasionally and brushing with oil. Season patties with salt and pepper, as desired.
3. Top burgers with desired cheese about 1 minute before removing from grill. Place cheese-topped burgers on bottom of each bun and top with 1/2 of grilled onions. Close sandwiches. Cover and refrigerate remaining 4 burgers and onions to use in "Meatballs" & Pasta With Grilled Onions & Fresh Tomato Sauce.

Makes 4 servings.

Cook's Tip: Any type of sliced cheese may also be used to top burgers, including Cheddar, Swiss, provolone or Gouda.

"Meatballs" & Pasta With Grilled Onions & Fresh Tomato Sauce

Total preparation and cooking time: 20 to 25 minutes

- 4 leftover grilled burgers
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- Leftover grilled onion slices, cut in half
- 3 cups chopped fresh tomatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped fresh basil
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 4-1/2 cups uncooked regular or whole wheat penne pasta
- Salt and pepper
- Shredded Parmesan cheese

1. Cut each burger into 6 equal pieces. Heat oil in large non-stick skillet over medium heat; add burger pieces, onions and tomatoes. Cook 8 to 10 minutes or until burgers are heated through, stirring frequently. Stir in basil, salt and pepper. Set aside.
2. Meanwhile cook pasta according to package directions; drain and return to pot. Add beef mixture; toss to coat. Season with salt and pepper, as desired. Sprinkle with cheese, as desired.

Makes 4 servings.

Cook's Tip: Eight cups cooked corkscrew (rotini) pasta may be substituted for penne.

Area communities announce 2007 Memorial Day ceremonies

Memorial Day reminds us of our duties towards the hundreds of thousands soldiers wounded or killed while defending our country. We also pause to remember with thoughts and prayers the bereaved families, orphans and widows of those soldiers who have paid the ultimate sacrifice. There are a number of ceremonies and programs to pay tribute and gratitude.

Please take a brief moment of your day of rest and relaxation for those we must honor and remember on Memorial Day, Monday, May 28. A listing of the various ceremonies are found here:

Kewaskum

The Robert G. Romaine Post No. 384 of the American Legion will hold their annual Memorial Day Parade and ceremonial program in Kewaskum. The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. It will start at Kewaskum High School, south down Parkview Drive, west on Main Street and then north on Fond du Lac Avenue to the American Legion Clubhouse.

All Legionnaires, fire department members, youth groups and civic organizations are invited to march in the parade. Participants are asked to meet at the high school at 9:15 a.m.

A ceremony honoring deceased soldiers will then be held. In case of rain, the program will be held in the high school field house. Marching groups will assemble in the halls and march into the auditorium.

The Memorial Day Program follows:

- Master of Ceremonies - Mike Paul.
- Pledge of Allegiance
- Star Spangled Banner - Kewaskum High School Band.
- Invocation - Father Edwin Kornath
- Gettysburg Address - Anna Rick
- In Flanders Field - Katie Guth
- Memorial Day Address - Sgt. Ryan Pittsley of the United States Marine Corps.
- Introduction of Gold Star Mothers
- Benediction - Father Edwin Kornath
- Placing of the Wreath - Sgt. at Arms James Korth.
- Salute to the Dead - Legion Firing Squad.
- Taps - Katrina Luther
- Dismissal-

Legion members and the auxiliary will be holding a brat-burger fry following the ceremony. Flags will also be offered for sale, both nylon and poly ranging in size from 3' x 5' to 5' x 8'.

Farmington

The Farmington Historical Society will present an old fashioned Memorial Day program at noon on Monday, May 28 at Turner Hall in Fillmore.

The program recaptures the Memorial Day celebrations of the 1930's and 1940's when the school children would put on their Sunday best and after a program at the school, march to the cemetery with handmade wreaths made of spruce branches and fresh cut flowers. One wreath and flag would be placed on each veteran's grave.

A reenactment of that traditional ceremony will be held with readings, songs, and a color guard, followed by a wreath ceremony. The ceremony will be followed by kickball and a brat and burger fry on the grounds.

Campbellsport

A service will be held on Monday, May 28 at Fireman's Park, in the village near the artillery piece at 11 a.m.

We are forever in debt to the courageous servicemen and women who paid the supreme sacrifice to secure our freedom and make it possible for us to live in peace. As they bravely died, so we must now bravely live and continue to protect our liberty.

May God Bless America!

Civil War veteran buried in Gage Cemetery

By Chuck Neusimal

The final resting place of Norman Sischo, a Civil War veteran who served three years with the Union Army, remained unmarked for 137 years. That changed Saturday, October 7, 2006, when a headstone dedication ceremony paid tribute to the soldier's life and service to his country, hosted by the Lt. Alonzo H. Cushing Camp #5, Sons of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, Grand Army of the Republic from Kewaskum, and the Kewaskum American Legion.

Sischo was born in upstate New York in 1807 and moved to the town of Auburn in Fond du Lac County during the mid-1850s. He owned and operated an 80-acre farm at the time when the Civil War broke out, and enlisted (at age 55) in the Union Army, along with two other close relatives and three of his four sons.

As Private in Battery I, 1st Illinois Light Artillery, he fought in many important battles, including the Battle of Shiloh; the Siege of Corinth, Mississippi; Grant's Central Mississippi Campaign; and the Battle of Chattanooga, among others. Sischo re-enlisted on March 17, 1864 and ended his service in July 1865, when he returned home to his family in Auburn, Wisconsin and lived out the final four years of his life until passing in 1869.

Gage Cemetery is located on the west side of Highway G in the town of Auburn.

Celebrate Fishing in the Kettle Moraine June 2

It's a Wisconsin tradition that the first weekend in June is Free Fishing Weekend. Everyone can drop a line without having to have a Wisconsin fishing license! All the other rules and regulations still need to be followed. If you're new to fishing or need a refresher, join in for our Fishing Fun program on Saturday, June 2, at the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area Fishing Pier in the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. At 9:30 a.m. will be a quick review of the basics and then head out onto the pier for some fun-filled fishing. A limited number of rods and reels will be available. Bait is provided, and there will be door prizes given away.

Fish are fascinating animals with many amazing adaptations. Drop in at the Long Lake Recreation Area South Beach on Saturday, June 2, from 1:00 to 4:00 for the Fascinating Fish Drop in at the Beach. Young and old are invited to spend a few minutes or more than an hour discovering all ins and outs of Wisconsin fishes. You may even get the chance to participate in a minnow race.

JAKES Fishing Day will also be held on June 2 from 9 a.m. - noon in River Hill Park in Kewaskum. You must bring your own pole and bait.

On the afternoon of June 3 from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m., journey to the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area Beach to create a unique fish print T-shirt using the Japanese technique called gyotaku. Bring your own T-shirt, bandana or pillowcase to print, or purchase a shirt that day. This Sunday is also the State Park Open House, so the State Park System vehicle admission fee is waived for the day.

It's a beautiful day and you want to head to do some fishing, but you forgot the fishing poles. No worries, the Northern Unit is a Wisconsin DNR Tackle Loaner site. There are rods/reels and simple tackle boxes for loan at the entrance stations at Mauthe Lake and Long Lake, and at the Ice Age Visitor. New this year to the tackle loaner program are a limited number of fly rods available for loan at the Ice Age Visitor Center. This is a free program offered by the Northern Unit and the Bureau of Fisheries.

To cap off your fish experience, don't forget to tour the Kettle Moraine Springs State Fish Hatchery. Witness how trout and salmon are raised from eggs to young fish for stocking into Lake Michigan. The hatchery is located just a short drive east of New Prospect near the intersection of Hwy SS and Hwy S at N1929 Trout Spring Road, Adell, WI. The hatchery's phone number is (920) 528-8825. It is open from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday and on weekends and holidays from 10:00 am to 2:00 p.m. This is a free tour.

It's a full weekend of fun on and off the water. See you in the Northern Unit of the Kettle Moraine. All programs are free, but some locations do require a State Park System vehicle admission sticker. Donations are always gratefully accepted. If you need directions or more information, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center at 920-533-8322. A disability can have art

The Threshold Incorporated recently featured the art work of the "Threshold Fine Arts Group," led by Special Services staff. The art forms varied from pen & ink to collage; from oil and pencil, to jewelry and acrylic paints. The show represented the art of over seven clients.

In her essay, Artists with Disabilities: A Cultural Explosion, Pamela Walker says:

"--The observer of disability art has an interesting challenge: they can focus on the disability and think it's incredible that the person has done what they done, or they can focus on the art and see how the disability has flavored it, or they can become familiar enough with the disability that it becomes only background and the art is the message."

One Threshold artist, Nyla grew up in love with drawing. Her art has been exhibited at the national headquarters of the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities in Washington D.C. Bob received his bachelor's degree in Architecture at UW. His background as an architect was evident in his bold, abstract drawings done with prism color pencils. Dan, trained as a blacksmith, fell from a scaffold several years ago, resulting in traumatic brain injury which changed his world, but not his artful eye. And Jacob, who works with pencil, sustained traumatic brain injury in a car accident two years ago. He uses cartoon form in his art to express himself.

The First Annual Threshold Show and Sale was opened to the public. The exhibit was a great success. Of the 150 pieces exhibited, 33 were sold and the artists benefited by receiving 100% of the proceeds.

A total tax levy increase of between four and five percent will be a part of the budget proposal to go to the Kewaskum Board of Education on May 24. Since there has been at least a small amount of new building, the average property taxpayer should see an increase slightly less than that percent, although the actual amounts will vary because of assessment changes.

Gary Schladweiler has been chosen as this year's recipient of the Kewaskum Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer Award. Gary was presented with a plaque at the FFA Banquet held May 6.

To climax an already brilliant art career at Kewaskum High School, senior Julie Lauters has received notification from the Milwaukee Journal that they intend to purchase her painting. Two paintings each year are selected from the 80 entries and are purchased by the Journal Company for $250.

would not be completed for some time to come.

Sylvan Learning's Helpful Hints for Student Success:

How to Make the Most, Academically, of Your Child's Summer Break

Does Your Child Forget Everything He Learned in School, Once Break Arrives?

Within 24 to 48 hours after learning new concepts, students often begin to forget information unless it is reinforced or applied immediately. That's why, during summer break, even the best students forget lessons they have learned during the school year.

While a break from school is great for recharging your children's batteries, if students aren't using the skills they acquired in the classroom, they could find themselves lagging behind once the school bell rings again. Following are great ways to help your child continue to learn, in a fun way, when away from the classroom.

Writing - To help writing skills, encourage your child to start a diary or write letters to a grandparent or friend. If you are traveling on a vacation, ask your child to keep a travel journal recording where you stayed and what you did. At the end of every day, talk through the activities with your child and help him or her with a journal. It not only improves writing skills, but also creates great family memories.

Mathematics - Helping mom or dad with grocery shopping develops opportunities to use math skills, such as making change, weighing fruits and vegetables, etc. Providing assistance with cooking can also familiarize children with weights and measures, organization and planning and following a recipe. Perhaps you and your children could make a special dessert for the whole family. Help them pick a recipe, create an ingredients list and go shopping together.

Reading - You can't start too early. You can't read too much. Reading to young children nurtures an interest in language, words and communication. For older kids, reading together can be fun and interesting. Children also learn by example. If parents are setting time aside to read, it reinforces the fun and enjoyment of reading. Local libraries offer infinite resources for children. Librarians can recommend books appropriate for your child's reading level and interests, and many libraries offer free children's programs and clubs.

Analysis and Logic - Many family games and puzzles are not only fun, but help children to develop and reinforce skills. A simple card game can involve mathematics, analysis and logical thinking. Be sure to select games appropriate for your child's age level.

Kewaskum School District Speed Rope Jumping Contest Winners (left to right): Division I winner, Michaela Kunkel, a first grader from KES; Division II winner, Gabriella Twigg, a third grader from FES; and Division III winner, Rachel Luedtke, a fourth grader from FES.

On Wednesday, May 9, 2007, the 26th annual Kewaskum School District elementary level speed rope-jumping contest was held. There were nine student finalists from Farmington Elementary School (FES), Kewaskum Elementary School (KES) and Wayne Elementary School

(WES) competing for top honors.

All nine finalists traveled to each of the three area elementary schools for a jump off in front of their peers. Each finalist was timed speed jumping for 10 seconds two times at each school for a total of six attempts. The better jump counts at each school stop were combined to give a total jump score for each jumper.

The school district standings were as follows:

Division I (kindergarten and first grade): 1st place Michaela Kunkel/KES with 98; 2nd place Robbie Walls/WES with 91; Cole Surprenant/FES with 87.

Division II (second and third grade): 1st place Gabriella Twigg/FES with 91; 2nd place Kyle Beth/WES with 89; 3rd place Amanda Weyer/KES with 78.

Division III (fourth and fifth grade): 1st place Rachel Luedtke/FES with 108; 2nd place Andrea Wiedmeyer/WES with 100; 3rd place Heather Hintz/KES with 83.

The overall speed rope-jumping top jumper was Rachel Luedtke, a fourth grader at FES. This is Luedtke's second 1st place win in the competition. She also took 1st place in 2005 when she was in second grade.

"It was really cool jumping in front of my friends," said Luedtke. "Their cheers were so loud they hurt my ears."

This event was organized by Mary Ann Wagner, a third grade teacher at WES, and then coordinated at each participating school by parent volunteers. Mike Miller, KES and WES gym teacher, was also involved in the event as spokesperson and official time keeper.

Congratulations to all speed rope jumping finalists!

Schmidt wins writing contest

Kewaskum's Sawyer James Schmidt won first place in an essay writing contest sponsored by First Bank Financial Centre in West Bend. Fourth and fifth graders were asked to write an essay on "What Community Means to Me and My Family." Judging was done by First Bank employees and was based on writing skills and originality.

Sawyer won a $200 FBFC Young American CD.

The following is his essay:

Country and charm. Cross country skiing, hiking on the Eisenbahn or Ice Age trails, or a walk along the Milwaukee River are just a few things to share in our Community. Community means to me participating and caring about our neighbors and surroundings.

Outstanding people doing their jobs and living freely. A great education at an awesome school with wonderful teachers and great students.

Meeting new people and welcoming them to our growing Community. It's a place to share memories and thoughts.

Making a difference in our Community is by joining many clubs and organizations. From 4-H clubs to our veterans at the legion.

United we are as a community. We show great patriotism at our Fourth of July celebration.

Nothing beats our beautiful Nature views. We are proud to be the gateway to the Kettle Moraine.

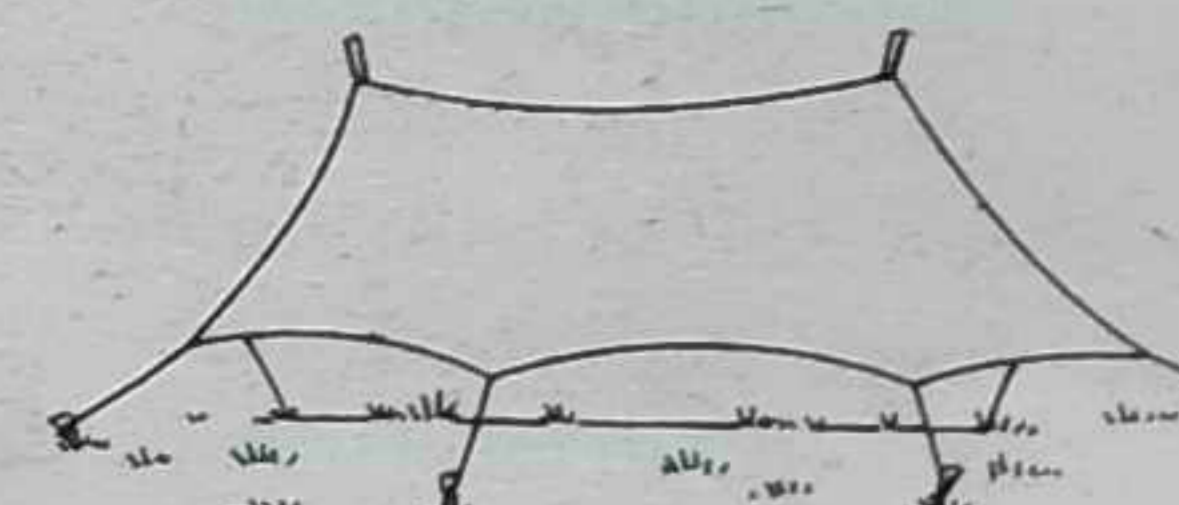

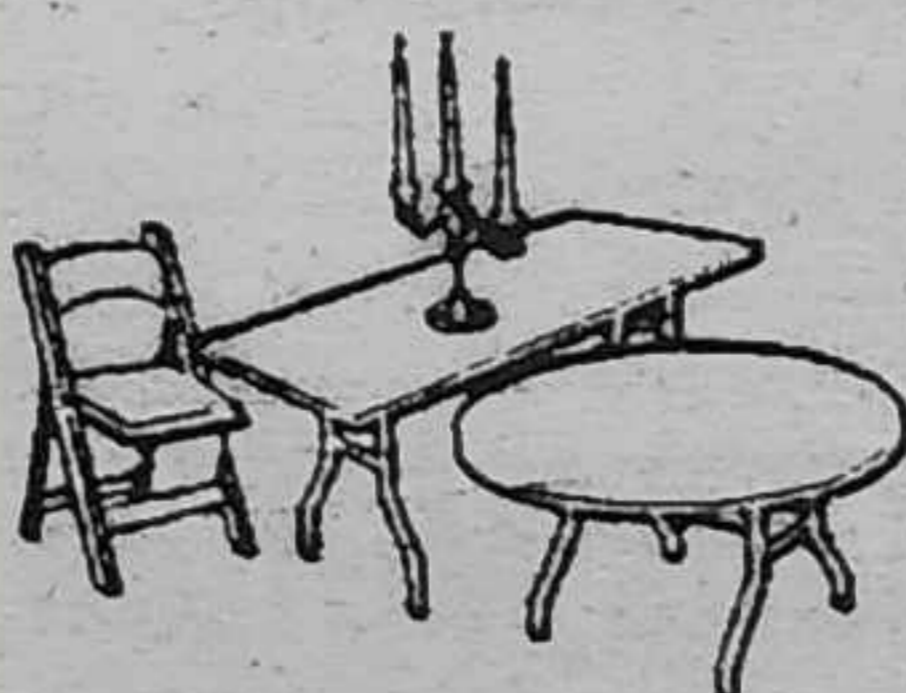

Indians were the first settlers in our Community. Our school teams are proud to be called Indians. From baseball, football, basketball and many other fun sports.

Talking and visiting with others in our Community about projects that are being worked on. Trusting your local leaders to do good.

Yells of excitement coming from the children playing in our many parks. Always yelping with joy in our Community. We love our community.

The Bookworm Sez

by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Aftermath, Inc.

By Gil Reavill

Gotham Books, $25.00 304pages

Over the years, you've watched enough TV to know what happens at a murder scene.

An investigator comes in and pokes around. Then somebody totes the body away, nice and neat in a big grey bag strapped to a gurney. The police arrive to dust for fingerprints while the MEs do their thing back in the lab. Before the hour is up, the murder is solved, and the case is cleaned up, literally and figuratively.

Just like real life, right?

Nope.

Real life is seldom neat, and neither is death. In the new book "Aftermath, Inc." by Gil Reavill, you'll read about what happens when CSI is d-o-n-e.

As a crime reporter for a national men's magazine, Gil Reavill realized that he was repeatedly missing part of the story. Although his articles were about violence and murder, he'd never actually seen the scene of a crime. He wrote, based only on police reports and interviews. Wanting to see the result of crime on a deeper level, Reavill contacted the Chicago firm of Aftermath, a bioremediation company that specializes in "crime scene and tragedy cleanup".

His first assignment, as he shadowed the team: cleaning up a three-week comp near Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Three week comp: shorthand for "cleaning up an apartment in which someone died and laid, unfound, for three weeks".

Although that first death scene cleanup tested his gag-reflex and his resolve, Reavill watched while the team tore up the carpet, hauled out furniture and floorboards, ripped out contaminated bits of building and boxes. While there was no body, there was plenty to indicate that a body had once been there.

Suppressing his own body's urge to retch, Reavill stayed at that first job, and many more for the next few months. He helped haul out bio-boxes in the wake of suicides and murders. He heard about remediation of a house where a police-and-gunman stand-off meant liberal use of toxic pepper spray. He learned how to protect himself from the bloodborne pathogens HIV and HCV. And, in the aftermath of his time with Aftermath, he writes about a people who have been cleaning up bodies and bodily fluids for centuries.

Do you like to read while you eat lunch? Bring a novel with you instead, and leave this book for another time. "Aftermath, Inc." is very heavy on the eeeeeuuuwww-factor, filled with descriptions of death, violence, murder, mayhem, disease and decay. Suffice it to say that author Gil Reavill felt need to place a warning before Chapter One.

Still, I enjoyed this book in a semi-voyeuristic fashion and, believe it or not, it occasionally made me laugh. Reavill isn't afraid to poke fun at his own squeamishness in a sheepishly self-protecting way. His recounting of remediation is respectful to readers and victims and, I suspect, not as detailed as it could have been.

If you're curious-but-not-dainty, a true-crime fan, or if you believe that TV is a real representation of life, "Aftermath, Inc." is a book you'll be dying to read.

Just not during your lunch hour.

SMOKEHOUSE BURGERS

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/4 cup barbecue sauce
- 1 medium red onion, cut into 4 slices
- 1/4 cup Italian dressing, divided

- 4 hamburger buns, split, grilled

PREHEAT grill to medium-high heat. Mix meat and barbecue sauce; shape into four patties. Brush onion slices with 2 Tbsp. of the dressing.

GRILL patties and onions 5 min. on each side or until patties are cooked through (160°F) and onions are tender, brushing onions occasionally with remaining 2 Tbsp. dressing. Top each patty with Singles; grill an additional 1 to 2 min. or until Singles begin to melt.

PLACE 1 lettuce leaf, 1 tomato slice and burger on bottom half of each bun. Cover with onions and tops of buns.

Joe Zuern, Don Zuern, Tom Schulz, Zach Durham, and Randy Heinecke hanging sign at new Cedarburg location

CEDARBURG- Zuern Building Products is proud to announce the opening of their third location in Cedarburg.

Located on Pioneer Rd. in Cedarburg, Zuern Building Products is open to both the contractor and homeowner, similar to their locations in Allenton and Watertown.

"After months of extensive remodeling, we feel both our current and new customers will be thrilled with our showroom and kitchen design center," said Greg Zuern, General Manager of the Cedarburg location.

The store will include a large kitchen design showroom, windows, doors, decks, and millwork, along with other hardware and building materials.

"Becoming a part of the vibrant well recognized community of Cedarburg is very exciting for the Zuern Family and all of our employees," said Zuern.

Zuern will be sharing this facility with

LaRosa Landscape and Design, a respected landscape and design company in the Metro-Milwaukee area. "We feel that our companies will compliment each other well," said Brian Zuern of Zuern Building Products.

Normal business hours will be Monday through Friday 7:00am - 5:00pm and Saturdays from 7:00 to 1:00pm. Closed Sundays and Holidays.

For over 35 years the Zuern family, now in its third generation of owners, has been dedicated to providing contractors, remodelers, and homeowners a wide range of high quality products and services from locations in Allenton and Watertown. Zuern Building Products employs over 100 employees, and is an active member of the community with involvement in projects such as the Habitat for Humanity Builder Blitz, ABC's Extreme Makeover Home Edition, and various local charity events at each location.

Local roofing contractors achieve quality awards

Firestone Building Products Company recently named Northern Metal & Roofing Co, Inc., West Bend and PHD Roof Doctors, Inc. Fredonia, 2007 Firestone Master Contractors. The firms also earned the Firestone Inner Circle of Quality Award in recognition of its dedication to long-term commercial roofing system quality.

"As a Master Contractor, Firestone is pleased to honor Northern Metal And Roofing CO., Inc and PHD Roof Doctors as industry leaders dedicated to skilled workmanship based on roofs installed this past year," said Michael Gorey, president of Firestone Building Products Company and chairman, CEO and president of BFS Diversified Products, LLC. "The Inner Circle of Quality Award further acknowledges the company for consistently achieving long-term roof installation performance."

Northern Metal & Roofing CO., Inc., West Bend Division, has achieved Master Contractor status for the 13th time and has been recognized as an Inner Circle of Quality Award winner for the eighth year.

PHD Roof Doctors, Inc., has achieved Master Contractor status three times.

In the 20th year of the awards program, 262 commercial roofing contractors were named Firestone Master Contractors throughout the US, Canada and Mexico. Based on total square footage and Quality Points accumulated, Firestone-licensed contractors earn the Master Contractor Award each year by achieving exceptional inspection ratings on Firestone Red Shield warranted Rubber Guard EPDM, Ultra Ply TPO, UNA-CLAD metal and asphalt roofing system installations.

The Firestone Inner Circle of Quality Award recognizes Master Contractors who installed a minimum of four warranted Firestone roofs in each of the past five years, maintained at least two million square feet of Firestone roofs under warranty, and achieved an annual Quality Incidence Rating (QIR) of 2.0 or less. The Firestone QIR measures each contractor's quality performance based on warranty repair incidences per million square feet under warranty.

MPTC names Rettler as West Bend campus interim administrator

Moraine Park Technical College has selected Pete Rettler as the Interim Campus and Community Partner for the West Bend campus. Rettler currently serves as executive dean of instructional technologies and curriculum design with the College. Craig Johnson, the College's former campus and community partner, recently resigned to accept a position with Winona State University in Rochester, Minn.

Rettler, who has been with Moraine Park since 1997, will continue to serve in both capacities through the end of the year by which time the College plans to have a permanent candidate selected for the position.

"I am very excited to have the opportunity to be serving in this new capacity," said Rettler. "I have lived in the area nearly my entire life and know the importance of technical education. I have many neighbors and friends who earned their college degrees from Moraine Park and are now successful business owners or are thriving at their places of work."

Rettler, a lifelong resident of Washington County, grew up in Hartford and is a 1982 graduate of Hartford Union High School. He received his bachelor's degree in Business Administration - Business Finance from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. Rettler returned to Washington County in 1997 and currently lives in West Bend along with his family. He is an active member of the community.

Rettler is certified by the Wisconsin Technical College System in computer information systems, computer software and as an instructional supervisor. He will receive his master's degree in Management and Organizational Behavior from Silver Lake College in December 2007.

Pointers for Parents

Helping Campers Have A Healthy Summer

(NAPSA)—Summer camp memories should include sunny days on the lake and marshmallow roasts around the fire—not cold sores, head lice and foot fungus. Still, experts warn that these and other health conditions are common at summer camps and wherever else communal living is the norm.

"Think about the typical bunking situation at camp, and it can be easy to see how hair brushes, lip balm, towels, sheets and even toothbrushes can get mixed up," says Amy Lipton, a mother and entrepreneur who's worked with summer camps to keep kids healthy. "Those mix-ups can lead to all sorts of health issues ranging from rashes to colds."

To help, Lipton's company, called Stuck on You, provides personalized labels that campers can use to keep track of their belongings. The colorful, waterproof and durable vinyl labels are great on personal items such as medicines, inhalers, hairbrushes, toothbrushes and footwear, while the iron-on labels can be used on towels, bedding and clothing. And because kids can go online and design the labels themselves, they're more apt to recognize them later on.

A Matter Of Safety

But labels don't just help kids keep track of their things. Parents can also use them to alert camp counselors to a child's pre-existing health condition. Lipton offers

Camp Safety—Labels can keep campers from mixing up their toothbrushes, medication and more.

Allergy Packs with labels that can be stuck on lunch boxes, EpiPens and just about anything else to alert counselors to food sensitivities, bee-sting allergies and more. Camp directors can also use Allergy-free Zone labels to designate Nut-Free Zones, Dairy-Free Zones and Egg-Free Zones. More than 100 vinyl allergy labels and allergy-warning items (wristbands, bag tags and more) are available.

For more information or to access a free camp packing list that can help get kids involved in packing and labeling, visit the Web site www.stuckonyou.biz or call (888) 236-2800.

WNAXLP

Viral hemorrhagic septicemia virus, or VHS, was found last weekend in Little Lake Butte des Morts in Winnebago County. Then Friday, May 18th, preliminary tests came back to us showing the disease was also in Lake Winnebago. VHS is a serious threat to our fisheries and to Wisconsin's $2.3 billion fishing industry. Although we've been preparing for its discovery here for some time, we've had to act swiftly and comprehensively this week to curb any possible spread to other inland waters.

We are in the process of developing monitoring procedures to track VHS. DNR has suspended all stocking of fish, transfers of fish among hatcheries or water bodies, and collections of forage fish or eggs from the wild. In addition, I have appointed a VHS response team to compile information and develop recommendations as we move forward.

This week the Natural Resources Board also extended an April 7th emergency rule aimed at preventing the spread of VHS to include the Lake Winnebago system. It prohibits anglers and boaters on that water system - as well as the Great Lakes and Mississippi river - from moving live fish from the lake and requires the drainage of boats and live wells before leaving the landing.

I commend the NRB's swift action. We don't want anglers and boaters to accidentally spread the disease to any additional inland waters.

It's important for you to know, however, that VHS doesn't affect people - you can still keep and eat the fish you catch - but it can kill a broad range of game fish, and we need to work together to stop the spread of this disease. It is difficult to say exactly what impact VHS will have on our fishery or how many species it might affect in Wisconsin. However, experience in other states indicates that fisheries can and have bounced back. We are still going to have a lot of fish in our lakes and rivers for anglers to catch and enjoy.

Some of the emergency restrictions put in place may cause an inconvenience, but there's a lot of stake here. Wisconsin's public is the first and last lines of defense against this disease, and without help, we cannot fight VHS. So, please, abide by these new regulations: Do not move water or live fish from one water body to another; clean plants and other debris from your boat before leaving the landing and buy minnows from a registered Wisconsin dealer or catch the minnows you use from the same water you plan to fish.

Wisconsin's natural resources belong to all of us, and we all have a stake in protecting them.

ENERGY SAVING IDEAS

When It Comes To HVAC, Size Matters

(NAPSA)—When it comes to heating, ventilating and air-conditioning (HVAC) equipment, proper sizing is critical to the performance and efficiency of a system. Although some homeowners feel a bigger system will do a better job, this isn't always the case. In order for the system to perform optimally, it must be correctly sized by the contractor to meet the needs of the heating or cooling load.

If a unit is too large, its cycle times will be reduced. This prevents the unit from reaching maximum efficiency and, in turn, causes higher operating costs. It can also keep the unit from running long enough to remove excess humidity from the home, resulting in a decrease in home comfort.

If a house has an existing system that needs to be replaced, don't assume that the new unit will be the same size and capacity as the old one. Changes in the home, such as additions, renovations and insulation, and changes in HVAC equipment, such as efficiency and technology improvements, may require a size different than the original.

Another way a contractor will determine the best-size unit is by conducting heating and cooling load calculations, using either the entire house or room-by-room calculations. The load is the amount of heating or cooling that the unit must supply in order to maintain a specified temperature. These calculations are determined by several factors, including:

- type, size and number of windows
- total square footage of the home
- air filtration
- the loss of heating or cooling in air ducts in unconditioned spaces
- climate moisture
- shading devices, such as awnings.

Qualified, licensed and insured HVAC contractors, such as a Coleman® Heating and Cooling dealer, will be able to properly size your home's HVAC equipment. The contractors can also help you select energy-efficient units, such as the Echelon® Series, manufactured by Johnson Controls. To learn more about energy-efficient HVAC equipment, unit sizing and load calculation, visit www.colemanac.com or call (877) 874-7378.

Par on final hole is enough for Rathkamp-Koszarek at Hon-E-Kor Best Ball

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

With nine holes to play Sunday, May 20, it looked like the team of Todd Rathkamp and Paul Koszarek had the annual Hon-E-Kor Best Ball title all wrapped up. The Milwaukee duo's top challengers, Craig Anderson and Joe Doherty, had ballooned to a three over par 38 on the Blue Nine to start the day, putting them five strokes behind.

Those two groups, plus Keith Gagnon of Slinger and Chad Schlagenhaft of Kewaskum, were all tied after the first day with identical three-under-par 67s.

Anderson and Doherty weren't about to wave the white flag and give up, however, and they rallied to within one shot by the final hole on the White Nine. Rathkamp and Koszarek parred the long par 5, 18th hole that crosses the Milwaukee River and by doing so earned the one-stroke victory with a final round of 69 that gave them a 136 total.

Doherty and Anderson finished in grand style, combining for a 32 on the White Nine and finished at 137. Their card was dotted with threes after starting Nos. 10 and 11 with pars. The two men birdied No. 12 and did the same on the very long and difficult 13th hole, then got a par

3 on No. 14, birdied No. 15 and pared 16 for a run of five straight threes. Unfortunately for them, they needed just one more birdie and couldn't pull one off on either 17 or 18.

Defending champions Jay Krueger (of West Bend) and John Haag (of Hartford) shot a 71 the second day, putting them in third place at 141.

Prior to 2006, Anderson had won three straight titles in this event, in 2003 and 2004 with Bruce Henning and in 2005 with his son, Jeff. The win by Rathkamp was his second. He teamed up with Bob Beyer to win in 2002.

There were seven teams in the Championship Flight and a whole lot more, 15, in the First Flight, which was won by Scott Leitheiser of Campbellsport and Robb Bertram. They put together two nice rounds of 74 and 71 for a 145, which was four shots in front of West Benders Dave Wietor and Dale Jung (149).

Taking third at 150 were Larry Sterr and Dan Gibbon, who turned in cards of 76 and 74.

Despite the efforts of Clark Pearson and Pete Kostelac, there was no budging Dick Wietor and Tom Bartelt from the top spot in the Second Flight.

Wietor and Bartelt combined for a 78 the first day and a 74 the second for a 152 total, a shot in front of Pearson and Kostelac, who had difficulty each day on the Blue Nine toward a 75-78-153.

Taking third were Bruce Mittlestaedt and Lou Santini with a 156 on rounds of 75 and 81. Rob Blair and Chris Kerry won the Third Flight title with a score of 165.

There were 35 teams in this year's event, which is run by Dave Denis of West Bend.

Outdoor Tips & Tricks

by Dave Gowdey

Experienced anglers know that fish in rivers and streams are easily spooked by shadows and movement above the water. From the time they are fingerlings, fish are constantly on the alert for kingfishers, ospreys, eagles, and other birds that might turn them into lunch. Any flash of light or sign of movement in the air will send them scurrying for cover. Generally, a good rule of thumb is the shallower and clearer the water, the more wary the fish. It pays, therefore, to take a little extra care to ensure that you keep your shadow, and the shadow of your rod, off of the water when fishing for wary fish in rivers and streams.

The late Doug Bird, one of the great turkey hunters, once wrote "there is one thought that you must erase from your mind if you want to consistently kill turkeys. This thought saves more turkey's lives than any other. It is this - "He's gone." If those words come to your mind whenever a gobbling turkey hushes, you will be disappointed often. A hushed turkey may, indeed, be gone. He may be standing still trying to make up his mind. Or, he may be on the way to you. Many turkeys hush when they walk in. You must always ASSUME that a silent turkey is on the way."

Many young dogs will, in their eagerness to resume hunting, start dropping game close to the hunter rather than delivering it to hand. One tip for correcting this bad habit is when a dog that is a "short stopper" gets close to you with the retrieve, turn and walk away from the dog. The dog's natural instinct will be to follow and close with you, and when they do you can turn and accept the retrieve. When the dog delivers the game to hand, you can then praise them. The dog will soon learn that you want a fully completed retrieve, and that if they attempt to spit it out short you will walk away and demand they bring the retrieve to hand.

If you have a tip to do with hunting, fishing or outdoor skills that you would like to see printed in this column, e-mail the tip to davegowdey@fastmail.fm. Credit will be given in the column to those whose tips are selected for publication.

A's rocked by Rubicon

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Wanted: experienced pitchers who have the speed and technique to baffle good former collegiate and high school hitters.

The Kewaskum Athletics are in need of some good arms, and that was pretty evident Sunday in the A's 17-1 loss to Rubicon in a Rock River League game played at Kiwanis Park in Kewaskum.

The team's No. 1 man, Jim Ziegler, a former Campbellsport High and UW-Oshkosh pitcher, was unable to go Sunday. "My arm is not in good condition. After that game two weeks ago (a 2-1 win over Oakfield), it has not come back," Ziegler said, indicating he intends to rest it for a while.

One of Ziegler's former teammates at Oshkosh, Bruce Karnitz, started the game for the A's. "He gave up three runs and took the loss," Ziegler, the team's spokesperson said, adding, "He pitched well."

Kewaskum was down 3-1 after three innings and had a chance to tie the games. When they didn't, it was all downhill for Jake Junk and Jason Strobel, who each took turns the next three innings.

The A's lone run came in the bottom of the third, according to Ziegler, who said, "After one out, Ty Schill singled, Jon Olla got a bunt single and Strobel doubled the run in." Unfortunately, the next two A's made outs, on a strikeout and a pop out.

"I think Jon Olla had two hits. The was the strength of our offensive output," Ziegler said, reporting on the game from memory because he didn't have the scorebook.

Dusty Lackas picked up the win for Rubicon. He went seven innings and had "around 10 strikeouts," according to Ziegler.

The A's are now 1-1 against Rock River opponents. Next weekend Kewaskum is on the road for two games, Saturday at Oshkosh and Sunday at Brownsville. Both are RR games, as the A's are not competing in the Tri-County Nite League this season.

Ziegler said the team expects to have a few more experienced pitchers ready for the weekend of action.

It's Goeden 1, Kertscher 2 in main event at Wilmot

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

First it was the No. 11 car piloted by Don Goeden leading the field in the 30-lap feature at the Wilmot Raceway Saturday night.

Then Mike Kertscher would push the nose of his No. 80 car out front.

Goeden would then pass Kertscher, and just as quickly, it would be Kertscher returning the favor.

The two Kewaskum drivers put on quite a show for the IRA (Interstate Racing Association) fans ... and it went on for 20 of the 30 laps of the Sprint car feature.

Goeden finally used a nifty pass late in the race and never looked back, winning his first feature race of the 2007 season.

"I think (it was) about six laps to go," Goeden said Sunday night. "I passed him on the inside. Then I was a little bit smoother and a little bit faster," moving to a final margin of a quarter mile on the one-fourth mile dirt oval.

All in all, Goeden had a good night, placing ninth (among the 44 racers) in time with a clocking of 13.71 seconds. He had a good setup for the heat race, finishing second in that, which put him seventh in the feature.

Kertscher, who has not raced for a couple years but has caught a ride this season with an owner out of Kenosha, started in the second spot, with Sheboygan Falls' Steve Meyer right behind him in the main event. Meyer eventually placed third in the race.

"It was a fast track. We got the race in before it started to rain," Goeden said. "It was a fun night."

Goeden is off to a good start this year, earning a second place in a show at Dodge County track a couple weeks ago. And the winner of that event was none other than Kertscher, who, according to Goeden, will race select shows this summer and is currently working at Road America in Elkhart Lake.

Goeden has teamed up to run 75 percent of the IRA shows with car owner, Bob Walldan, who lives in Winthrop Harbor, Ill.

The Maxim Chassis is black this year, and there was good reason for the new paint job, according to Goeden, who said, "That's the color his (Walldan's) car was painted 50 years ago when he was racing. We told him to go for it, and we would make it fast."

Walldan won several championships at the Sun Prairie track in Badger Midgets. Ironically, Walldan raced for the late John Heisdorf, who is very well known in Kewaskum, and still has grandsons and perhaps still a son-in-law involved in racing.

"Bob and his guys put a good car together," Goeden said, indicating two of his major sponsors are TAW Excavating and American Racer Tires. One local sponsor is the Grand Larson in Kewaskum.

As far as the pit crew is concerned, twin brother Dave "Dusty" Goeden is a lead man, and some of the regulars include Terry "Webs" Weber, Dean Wetzel, Brian Stern, Ralph Stern, Lance Walldan and several others from northern Illinois.

Next up for Goeden are races this Friday and Saturday in Superior and Brainerd, Minn. "And the Boltonville Picnic on Sunday," he added, noting the car will be involved in the annual Rain Days parade.

Golfers' title hopes take a big hit

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

In a matter of minutes, the Kewaskum High golf team went from leading the final Eastern Wisconsin Conference mini-tour meet by six strokes to right near the end of the pack.

The scenario took place last Wednesday at the Quit Qui Oc Golf Course. Kewaskum's Nos. 1 and 2 men, Ethan Geidel and Casey Scheel, put the team in such good position, finishing with scores of 37 (2-over-par) and 39, respectively.

The other three KHS players ran into all sorts of problems on the course, which hasn't been one of the Indians' favorites of the year.

"When each team's three individual rounds were totaled, Kewaskum and Kiel led Plymouth by one swing," Kewaskum coach Glenn Eichstedt said. "Unfortunately, we were unable to post a solid fourth score, dropping us several places and points behind the perennial champs, Plymouth."

Plymouth wound up as the winner of the meet with 156 strokes, gaining the tiebreaker (scores of the two team's fifth men, 42 to 47) over Manitowoc Roncalli.

Geidel, Mike Ruzek of Roncalli and Kiel's Tyler Dhein shared medalist honors with their 37s.

With the Indians having to use a 44 by Nick Gutbrod and a 49 from Ryan Nuernberg, they skidded to a 169, which started as a tie for fifth place but ended up as a sixth because senior Andy McDonald soared to a 51 on the Elkhart Lake course.

"We had almost no chance of overcoming Plymouth's lead at Saturday's (May 19th) conference tournament" at Fox Hills, Eichstedt said, referring to the fact Kewaskum and Plymouth came into the meet tied with 13 points each, and after this competition, the Panthers have 14 and the Indians jumped up to 19.

"We now have to shift our focus to winning the 18-hole tournament in preparation for next week's WIAA Regionals," Eichstedt said, because, "We would have to finish at least two places ahead of Plymouth to have a chance to unseat the defending champions, winners of 19 of the last 20 league titles."

Kewaskum Pony League teams open season

BY ANDREW KUEHL
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum Gold pony league team opened the season with a tough 7-6 loss to the Kewaskum Green team in the home opener for both teams.

After a scoreless first inning, the Green team managed to get to Gold pitcher Brad Boegel for four runs in the second. Matt Ballard led off the inning with a long triple and later scored on a double by Eric Perkins. Brandon Chapman and Andy Schreier also had hits in the inning.

The Gold answered with two runs in the bottom of the inning as Michael Schladweiler and Austin Luedtke both singled and scored off Green pitcher Bo Seibel. The Green added two more runs in the third as Danny Bohn and Brett Nuernberg both singled and scored. The Gold team also scored two runs in the bottom half of the third on a single by Schladweiler and a long double by Kyle Wesenberg.

Schladweiler relieved Boegel as pitcher for the Gold and managed to hold the Green to one run in the final four frames. The Gold team did tally two more runs in the fifth inning on hits by Tim Otten and Paul Gutjahr, but were unable to score any more as Cody Nuernberg threw two shutout innings for the Green team.

The Green team hosts Eden at 6 p.m. on Friday, May 25 while the Gold team travels to Cascade for an 8 p.m. game.

Editor's Note: The Statesman will publish a team schedule for the Pony League in an upcoming edition. Please watch for highlights from play each week.

Boys provide 1-2-3 finish in the discus

Lady Indians hold up well vs. tough competition

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Kewaskum High School track coach Jerry Gosa didn't know where to start concerning highlights provided by the school's girls team in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) Meet held Tuesday on a rain-soaked New Holstein track.

The boys were a different story, however, as Gosa had to look hard to find any sparkling performances for the boys, except for the discus event where three Indians stood on the top three rungs of the victory stand.

The weather played havoc with the meet nearly the entire night and actually forced the postponement of the pole vault, which was completed Thursday afternoon and was needed to compile the final standings.

As expected, the Two Rivers girls topped the field, scoring 135.5 points, with Plymouth pushing every step of the way and ending up second at 129.5. Kiel was in the third spot at 109, then came the young Indians with 88, and Campbellsport ended last with 26.

The Lady Indians came away with two first places, by Alyssa Clapper in the pole vault and the 4x100 relay team.

Clapper cleared 9 feet, 6 inches (9-6) to win the event by six inches. "She made 9-6 on her first try," Gosa said, indicating the sophomore vaulter also won the event in the EWC freshman-sophomore meet that was held last week.

Kewaskum scored 18 points in the pole vault, as Crystal Treptow went over 8-0 for a tie for third, and Amanda Kleppin was tied for sixth at 7-6.

About the relay, won by Jessi Forbes, Jess Liniewski, Nichole Kison and Kelly Uelmen, Gosa said, "At the third exchange, I think we were in third or fourth place. We did not have great handoffs, but Kelly was able to make up the distance" to win in 55 and .9 seconds (55.9), ahead of New Holstein, which was clocked in 56.3.

Uelmen also finished second in the 100-meter dash, running a time of 13.5 and she helped the 4-by-200 relay to a runner-up spot in 1:57.1. Forbes led off this race and was followed by Liniewski and Kison before Uelmen took the baton home.

Kison was another standout for KHS, also placing third in the long jump, going 14-2 on a very slippery runway, and taking fourth in the 400 with a time of 66 flat.

Gosa said she only took the three preliminary jumps in the long jump because the runway was getting so wet.

Liz Potter contributed two places in the hurdle events, including a fourth in the 100 highs with a time of 18.6 and a 57.7 in the 300s, good for seventh.

Also Heather Schmitt double placed, finishing seventh in the 400 (69.1) and fourth in the long jump (14-0). "She really came through," Gosa said.

The Indians had hoped to do well in the high jump but had to settle for ties for fifth by Amanda Witek and Candace Beine. Those two, plus two others, cleared 4-6.

The discus was another event where the Indians had two places. Lacy Taylor's best toss sailed 90-7, just three inches out of third place, while Catherine Stoffel was eighth with a toss of 81-2, also a few inches away from the next highest place.

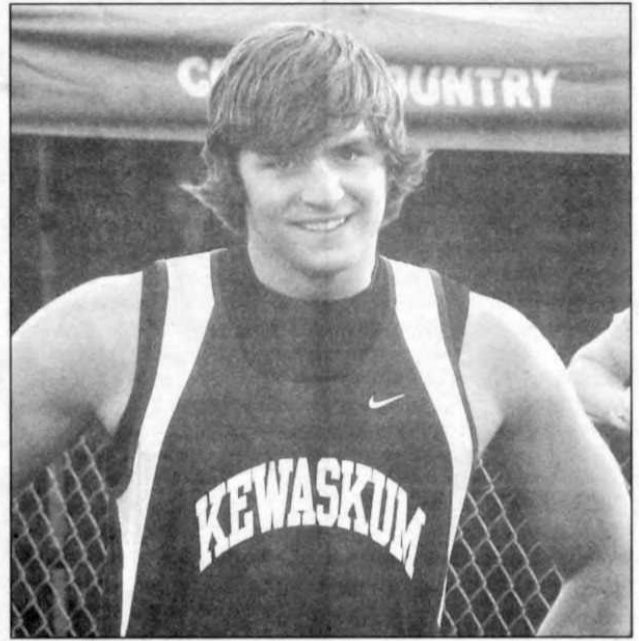

The girls in the two longer relays also chipped in with a couple points. The 4x400, comprised of Megan Thornton, Kleppin, Schmitt and Lauren Gonring placed fifth at 4:43, while the 4x800 (Brooke Waala, Morgan Grandingan, Stephanie Abramovich and Kassie Legate) brought home a sixth place (11:59.6) in the 4x800.

New Holstein claimed the boys title with 156 points, 12 in front of Plymouth, and then came Two Rivers at 119.5.

Kiel also topped the 100-point mark, scoring 108.5, good for fourth, followed by Roncalli, 56; Sheboygan Falls, 55.5; Kewaskum in seventh with 48.5; and then Campbellsport, 8.

Gosa said he was happy with the 1-2-3 in the discus by Ben Boettcher, Tyler Swanson and Logan Staeger, who contributed 24 of the Indians' points.

"Ben says he throws well in the rain, and not many athletes can make a statement like that," Gosa said of his only male champion, who tossed the discus 137-3. Swanson, who has made vast improvement this spring, wound up at 123-0, and Staeger, who has a couple efforts over 150 feet this spring, had to settle for 118-9.

Benjamin Boettcher is the EWC champion for discus. He recently did well in New Holstein, tossing the discus 137-3.

The Indians also had two places in the pole vault, a sixth by Jake Dickman, who cleared 10-6 and a seventh by Kevin Schellinger, who made 10-0.

The next best finishes by any of the Indians were sixths that came in the following: Swanson in the shot put (41-6); Matt Parrent in the 400 (55.3); Stephan Kattar in the 800

(2:08.5); and the 4x800 relay, comprised of Tyler McElhatton, Anders Thomsen, Austin Yadro and Zach Herriges, who combined for a 9:33.7.

Boettcher chipped in with a seventh in the 100 (12.6+), while Kattar added an eighth in the 1,600 (4:49.9).

Gosa was hoping his team would rebound with a better effort at the Division 2 regional, which was held at Lomira Monday. All those who finished first through fourth in the regional will compete at the Division 2 sectional at Kewaskum this afternoon (Thursday).

One bad inning erases softball team from tournament

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum High girls softball season came to a quick and painful ending.

Last Thursday, the Indians gave up five runs in the second inning to host Columbus, leading to a 5-3 loss in the opening round of the Division 2 regional.

KHS coach Jeff Gosse was hopeful and confident his girls would be able to get to the second round of the tourney (or beyond) but said, "The last weeks, we really struggled in our small game ... It cost us every loss. We were bunting at pitches that weren't strikes, and we had worked on bunting three nights this week."

What Gosse was referring to about the "small game" was how many times his team left runners in scoring position against Columbus and a couple of Eastern Wisconsin Conference opponents.

"Oh, we left tons (of runners on base). In the first, we had the bases loaded and couldn't get any of them home, and in the fifth and sixth, we had runners at third and they didn't score."

Columbus scored all their runs before the Indians managed to get a single out in the second, and they came via a physical error, mental errors and a couple "bloop hits," according to Gosse, who said, "Then we regained our composure" and shut them down.

Junior Brooke Wodsedalek scattered eight hits, struck out four and walked two.

Kewaskum came up with seven hits, two by Marissa Dehler, who "hit the snot out of the ball four times." In the fifth inning, Dehler singled, stole second and raced home on Tiffany Hedlund's base hit.

The Indians' first two runs came an inning earlier, starting with a clutch double by Brandy Wagner, who moved to third on a passed ball and scored on a passed ball.

Then Megan Rinzel walked, stole second and went the final two bases when her twin sister, Stephanie, singled her home.

Kewaskum ended the season with an 11-10 mark overall, which was a marked improvement over last year.

This was the final appearance of six KHS seniors, including Dehler, Hedlund, Courtney Uttech, Bekki Heberer, Melissa Hammen and Kerrie Winter.

In their final Eastern Wisconsin Conference action of the season on May 11, the Indians split with Kiel, losing the opener 2-0 before coming up with a 10-7 victory, giving them a season mark of 10-7.

About the loss, Gosse said Dehler "led off three times with triples and we never got her home. The last three weeks, Dehler has been on a tear. They couldn't get her out."

Gosse had moved Dehler into the lead-off spot and said, "She did her job. We just couldn't get her home. It was very frustrating."

In the win, "We just clobbered the ball ... and then hung on," the coach said, reporting his team had one bad inning again, allowing the Raiders to draw near. "We just never know when it's going to happen."

In the win, Wagner had a couple of hits and Dehler also added two.

Coaches from the EWC were slated to meet May 23 to vote on the all-conference team.

Indians lose to Campbellsport 1-0 Rough week includes one encouraging effort

It was somewhat of a rocky week for the Kewaskum High School soccer team.

Playing against a pair of Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) opponents and Oostburg, which, according to coach John Berst is ranked among the honorable mention teams in Division 3, the Indians failed to score a goal while giving up 15 of them.

In the seven-zip loss that concluded the week, Kewaskum played without its two regular goalies. "Julie Sargent wasn't feeling good, and Rachel Gavin couldn't play," Berst said, reporting he brought up JV keeper Kayci Lorenz to take over. "She had a heck of a game. She must have made 20 saves," he concluded.

Kewaskum was down 3-0 at half, then Oostburg's speed and experience took over. "They're (Oostburg) a very good team, a very classy team," Berst said.

On Thursday, May 18, the Indians entertained Kiel and were overwhelmed by the Raiders 8-0. "They're just a better team. They move the ball around well," Berst said.

On Tuesday, May 15, the Indians gave up a goal in the first 90 minutes, then played Campbellsport to a stalemate the rest of the way in the 1-0 loss. "They scored on a miss kick ... probably around 90 seconds into the game," Berst said. "Julie just lost track of where she was versus where the goal was."

Berst said, "Nicole Meyer had some shots, and Heather Schaller played well" in the midfield, along with Lindsay Krautkramer.

With the losses, the Indians dropped to 2-10-1 in EWC play and 2-14-1 overall. The Indians concluded the EWC season Monday at Plymouth and faces Campbellsport today (Thursday) in the first round of play in the Division 2 regional.

Another tough day for KHS golfers

They were in such good position with just a couple Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) competitions to go, but the Kewaskum High School golfers did not finish what they started this season.

Playing at the Fox Hills National Golf course in the EWC Tournament on Saturday, May 19, the Indians placed third, behind Plymouth and Roncalli, but still had enough of a lead from the mini-tour meets to finish second overall.

"Winning the conference tournament still would have been the goal," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said, "but the problems we had on Wednesday ... scoring, still persisted on Saturday." A blistering 316 gave Plymouth a 19-shot advantage over the Roncalli Jets at Fox Hills, then came the Indians with a 338, 22 strokes off the winning pace. Next door neighbor Campbellsport finished fourth at 342.

The Indian's number one and two, sophomore Ethan Geidel and senior Casey Scheel, had good rounds, but the other three are slumping and that has certainly been costly the last week.

Scheel, who has had an excellent season from the opening round to the present, led the Indians with a 37-40-77. Geidel was a stroke or two off his average but still managed to turn in a 40-42-82, good enough for a fifth place tie with four other players.

Geidel and Scheel finished 1-2 on the all-EWC team, with 67 and 60 points, respectively, based on their scores and places from all the competitions.

"Obviously Ethan was the player of the year and Casey was the runner-up," Eichstedt said.

Andy McDonald had the third lowest score for Kewaskum, but his 87 (45-42) was too high for the Indians to make any move on Plymouth.

With the tournament win and the points from the seven mini-tour events, Plymouth wound up with 15 points and again won the conference title. This was their 20th league title in the past 21 years.

Kewaskum has been the bridesmaid close to a dozen of those years and was again in 2007, ending up with 24 points, one ahead of Roncalli. Kiel wound up fourth with 37 points, a dozen ahead of Two Rivers, 49; Sheboygan Falls, 56; Campbellsport, 57; and New Holstein, 61.

Now the Indians turn their attention to WIAA Division 2 regional play, which was held Wednesday at Hawthorn Hills near Fredonia.
