Village awards contract for wastewater treatment plant

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Village Board took another step forward in fixing problems at their aging wastewater treatment facility. The board met with four firms Tuesday evening, June 19, who expressed interest in rehabilitating the facility. Their choice- the least expensive firm who says they can do it in 1,800 less hours and $127,000 less than the other firms.

Why can they do it so quickly? Thomas Vik of Neenah based McMahon Associates, confidently stated "We are much more efficient than any other firm." Vik also assured the board that they plan to stick by their price. If they go over budget- "We eat that," Vik stated.

The village has budgeted $3.44 million for the project. McMahon will be paid $392,600 for labor.

McMahon Associates also offered to save the village some cash by having the village handle most of the equipment procurement to avoid contractor mark-up. This would mean the Department of Public Works would be required to play a significant role in the project.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles and water department interim lead operator Jim Noren (who has taken the reigns from Bob Manthei who is retiring) stated while this could be a time consuming role, they would be willing to look into the idea more closely. Both men have worked with McMahon before, when they constructed the plant's Ultra Violet Disinfectant System in the late 90's.

McMahon Associates also provided a number of options the board could choose either as cost savers or to improve efficiency. One of the significant ideas was to install a Salsnes Filter to provide better screening in the pre-aeration stage of the plant.

McMahon offered the idea of converting the pre-aeration tank into a receiving tank for holding tank waste. (This is waste brought in by companies who service holding tanks. These companies pay the village for this service.) The Salsnes Filter would be placed in the head works and would be utilized for primary treatment.

The Salsnes Filter is made in Sweden, and being widely used in Europe. McMahon is currently testing the product in Northern Illinois.

After sitting through four hours of dog-and-pony shows from the four engineering firms, technology was the issue for many of the board members as they grappled with whom to choose. "There's always going to be something that comes up," stated Trustee Derek Peterson, who also serves as the chairman of the Public Works Committee.

Peterson was responsible for a lot of the legwork done to get the board to this point. "I spent a number of hours at each firm, had more conversations with each, nothing surprised me. It's a clear-cut decision to make. When I look at McMahon and see the lowest

Mielke on job for 28 years without a miss

CAMPBELLSPORT- Bea Mielke started her career on Friday the 13th - Friday, June 13, 1979 to be exact, in the dish room at St. Joseph Convent. Then a teenager, Bea wondered if she would make it through her entire shift of scrubbing the mountain of dirty pots and pans that loomed over her. Bea gave no thought to the possibility of her career spanning 28 years - she just set her mind at completing the task at hand.

A 28-year career is pretty remarkable these days - but who ever heard of a 28-year career of perfect attendance? Yes, Bea Mielke, now Food Service Supervisor at St. Joseph Convent has achieved a remarkable feat of 28 years without a missed day.

Mielke is nonchalant about the whole affair. When asked about the secret of her good health which allowed her to have perfect attendance, she replied: "I'm just lucky I guess - I like to keep busy and I don't have time to feel sorry for myself. Of course, I need to thank God for my good health and my family for their care and concern." Mielke also added: "I love coming to work every day- the Sisters are delightful and I love each and every one of them, but I also get a kick out of watching our young dietary assistants gain experience and confidence as they mature."

Michael Kurtz, St. Joseph Administrator said: "Bea Mielke is as close to a perfect employee as anyone could ever want. She is a born leader, is friendly to everyone, works hard and of course, her dependability is astounding. What can you say about someone who has had perfect attendance for 28 years, other than- great!"

Kiwanis members, guests celebrate 60 years as a club

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club had a birthday this month and members of the club, past and present celebrated in grand style Monday evening, June 11. A number of honored guests were also in attendance to commemorate 60 years as a club.

The Kewaskum group got their start from The West Bend Noon Kiwanis Club who sponsored the Kewaskum Kiwanis wannabes. Charter member Ray Schaeffer recalled the club began with about "40-45 members" many of which were local businessmen.

The first order of business for the club was the sponsorship of the Kewaskum Boy Scout Troop. The club continues to provide funds for the group.

While the club has sponsored over 800 projects in its history, the club is probably best known for their Turkey Shoot that has been held annually for 52 years. Larry Ammel the club's secretary, says that the event has raised over $365,000 for the community.

Proceeds from the Turkey Shoot have benefited Kewaskum residents in many, many, ways. The largest undertaking of the group was in 1972, when they donated $75,000 to the village of Kewaskum for a community pool. That pool now is part of what is known as Kiwanis Park in the village.

The Kiwanis have awarded annual college scholarships since 1954 assisting over 150 Kewaskum High School students. In addition to the scholarships, the club also provides funding for many other educational purposes in the community.

From 2001 until 2004 the group refurbished kitchen structures in Riverhill Park costing over $50,000. They continue their work of improving the parks by adding playground facilities in both Riverhill and Kiwanis Park.

During the gathering at Woody's Steakhouse, Schaeffer proudly accepted a proclamation from village of Kewaskum president Matt Heiser. That proclamation can be found on page three.

Heiser stated, "Our local chapter of Kiwanis is amazing. They take on projects of all sizes and are constantly giving to the community. It will be tough for them to exceed what they have accomplished in their first 60 years but I know they are going to try."

Honored guests included Mrs. L.N. Peterson, wife of the group's founding Club President, the late L.N. "Pete" Peterson; Bernice Groh, wife of the late Vincent Groh, a former Club President and Lieutenant Governor and members of the West Bend Noon Club.

Unofficial club historian Gene Bohn, was the featured speaker at the dinner. He took members and guests on a journey of the club's beginnings and through their dents of the club, 11 of which are current members. Five of the club's members have been at one time, Lieutenant Governors of the district, Ammel, most recently. He also pointed out the club was very involved in conservation through the efforts of member Roy Esser.

And, just what has kept Schaeffer in the club so long? He says he enjoys the company of his Kiwanis brethren. That has lead him to be a steady member for the last number of years. He currently is the group's meal prayer leader.

To make a difference in the Kewaskum community and join the group, contact Ammel at 626-4731 or attend a meeting held each Monday at 6 p.m. at Woody's Steakhouse. Please see page nine of this edition for information on the club's annual Pow Wow Golf Outing. To see a list of the club's accomplishments visit our website at www.kewaskumstatesman.com

POLICE REPORTS

Underage tobacco use

On May 17, 2007 at 3 p.m. a Kewaskum Police Officer on patrol in the alley between Bilgo Lane and Parkview Drive observed a group of juveniles behind the residence 1438 Bilgo Lane.

As the officer approached from the south off of First Street, he observed two females sitting behind the garage. The first had a cigarette in her hand. When she saw the officer, she dropped it.

The officer observed another female in the same location with smoke coming from her however there wasn't evidence of a cigarette.

The officer summoned the female with the cigarette. Once the two moved from their location the officer noticed the cigarettes which were still lit and smoking.

Both subjects were issued a citation for underage possession of tobacco products.

Criminal damage to property

On May 17, at 2:30 a.m. a Kewaskum Police Officer was dispatched to John's on Main. The officer made contact with a complainant who advised the tires on a vehicle had been slashed.

The complainant stated he did not see who did the slashing. The officer noted that before being dispatched to the complainant's location he noticed the complainant in the John's on Main parking area.

The officer noted three tires with cut marks. The complainant knew the owner of the car and called her to tell her to respond to the area.

She arrived very upset and accused the complainant (whom was listed as her former boyfriend) of slashing the tires. She told the officer she didn't want to file a complaint.

She later recanted and filed a complaint. The complainant informed the officer the tires were valued at approximately $70.00 each.

After the complainant left the scene the owner told the officer that she felt the complainant did the damage to her tires.

The investigation is on-going.

Underage consumption of alcohol

On May 18, 2007 at 9 a.m. the School Liaison Police Officer, was contacted by the principal of Kewaskum Middle School, in reference to a student with vodka in his locker.

The officer met with the student who stated he is mad at his dad and took the vodka from his father's house. The student admitted it was wrong to bring it to school and stated he did not drink any of the alcohol.

The principal found the vodka after another student told a faculty member. The student was called to his locker and admitted to having the vodka in his locker.

The student's mother responded to the school. She was advised her son would receive a citation and would be required to appear in court.

Police reports are compiled and written by staff member Andrew Kuehl with the cooperation of the Kewaskum Police Department. If you have information on any of these incidents please contact the department at (262)626.2323 bid, and that they are excited about working with us, they clearly stand out as my number one," he stated before making a motion to accept the proposal from McMahon Associates.

The board's penny pincher, Kevin Schuenemann agreed, and gave Peterson's motion a second. The rest of the board followed suit, giving approval for the McMahon Associates proposal.

More on McMahon

During their presentation Kari Dennis explained that while headquarters are located in Neenah they have offices in Illinois and Indiana. They have a full service staff with over 160. Their wastewater team includes 12 full-time engineers in the design department, eight professional engineers, two board certified environmental engineers and five full-time construction services professionals.

Dennis touted that they have worked on over 100 wastewater treatment plants throughout the Midwest. They continue to provide on-going services to Lomira, Fredonia, Cedarburg and Belgium, among others in Wisconsin.

Moving forward with McMahon

In their presentation, Dennis described the timeline they would follow. The preliminary design would begin in July and be presented to the village in the middle of August. The final design would then be presented for the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) approval by the end of this year. After receiving DNR approval they would advertise for bids in April of 2008 and award a contract in June of that year. Final completion would be in July of 2009.

Village Administrator Jay Shambeau stated that the village would engage in contract negotiations with McMahon. The next time the village board hears from them, it would be when they present their preliminary plan. From this point on McMahon will work with village staff, primarily Gilles and Noren.

The board heard from but did not accept a proposal from their contracted engineering firm Ruekert Mielke. This means that Ruekert Mielke will not participate in the project. However, they will continue to play a role in other engineering projects for the village.

Village finalizes job offer for building inspector

Kewaskum's village administrator Jay Shambeau says that the village has offered a building inspector position to an individual from Kewaskum.

Shambeau stated the village board will take official action on the hire at their meeting on Monday, June 25. The hiring will end a long term contract with Gordon Hoffmann who has contracted service to the village for many years.

The next hire the village will make is for a full-time clerk. That position will be advertised in the coming weeks.

Modern Woodmen fundraiser for new theater a success

The event, held on April 18, raised $13,144.43. This includes $2,500 matched by Modern Woodmen's home office through the organization's Matching Fund program. The money will be used for the New Theater at Kewaskum High

The Matching Fund program offers Modern Woodmen camp members nationwide the chance to show their support of a community cause, organization or individual in need by partnering with community organizations and holding fundraisers. Modern Woodmen matches' money rose up to $2,500. These fundraising projects contribute more than $6 million to community needs nationwide each year.

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal member benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States. The organization's Kewaskum camp provides a number of volunteer service and social activities for local members.

Peace United Church of Christ of Kewaskum, Wisconsin brought 15 youth and six adults to Winona from June 11-15, 2007. During their stay in Winona the group worked on two homes for Habitat for Humanity-Winona County and a small group spent each day doing outdoor painting projects at St. Anne's Extended Health Care facility. This is one of three annual trips that parishioners from Peace United Church of Christ make to assist with Habitat affiliates around the country. While in Winona, the group stayed at 1st Congregational Church and showered at the YMCA. Meals were provided by Central, Lutheran Church, Papa Murphy's, 1st Congregational Church, St. Mary's Catholic Church and Pleasant Valley Church.

Lions announce pin design winner

Heintz's design was chosen out of 25 entries. Heintz was presented with a $100 check and pins for her and her parents at the Lions Club annual officer's installation dinner on June 10. Pins have also been given to the 2006 Kewaskum High School Varsity Football Team. Additional pins are available to purchase from any of the Kewaskum Lions members or at the Amerahn for $2 each. JAKES free fishing day a success

Annual fish planting has some problems here

The annual fish planting for Jakes Fishing Day is sponsored by the Gate Way Gobblers of the National Wild Turkey Federation (NWTF). The fish planting, that is coordinated by the Kettle Moraine Chapter of Wings Over Wisconsin (WOW) and the Gateway Gobblers, ran into a few snags this year but it all worked out in the end.

Richard Knoebel, President of the Kettle Moraine WOW, said that with all of the problems the DNR is having with new fish viruses the planting was almost cancelled. The bluegills that are planted come from the Northstar Fish Hatchery in Montour, IA.

Knoebel said this is the only place they have found to get the large blue gills, 7 to 10 inches, at an affordable cost. He went on to say that they have been getting the fish from North Star for the last 12 years and have never received a dead or sick fish.

When they applied for the annual fish-planting permit from the DNR it came right away. The problem arose when they applied for their import permit from the Department of Agriculture.

It was found out that there were new forms that had to be filled out and a $50.00 import permit fee. Knoebel also said he does not know, why when fish are planted in a public body of water for everyone to utilize the fee should be charged.

Knoebel said it all worked out in the end with them receiving the permit on the Thursday before the event with the fish being planted on Saturday morning. Knoebel said Dr. David E. Starling, DVM; a fish veterinarian from Ames, IA was instrumental in working out the problems with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

Knoebel went on to say that without his help we would have had a lot of sad kids on Jakes Fishing Day.

PEOPLE

FFA Honorary Members

Scrap Nook holds grand opening

Kewaskum's newest business, The Scrap Nook, held their grand opening last weekend, June 16 and 17. Owner Linda Schickert, left, offered a drawing for a basket full of scrap-booking and stamping supplies. The lucky winner was Patty Goetsch, right. Schickert stated that the grand opening went well and she has had very favorable feedback from patrons.

In the past 44 years the outing has taken place the Kiwanis Club has used the funds for its annual scholarship program, purchased equipment for the Kewaskum Fire Department, made improvements to Kewaskum parks. This year the club intends on donating a portion of the profits to the Kewaskum Theater fund.

As an added bonus, those participating in the golf outing will also receive a buy one - get one free certificate for 18 holes of weekday golf at Hon-E-Kor to be given at the time of sign in. This is a $22.00 value.

Custom Cleaners hopes to build clean relationships with their customers

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- One stop shopping is now available for those flooring their home and keeping their flooring clean. After working as an auto detailer for a number of years, J.R. Stoffel, 27, of West Bend decided to work on bigger projects.

The company was started along side Stoffel's father's Kewaskum business, Wayne's Floor Covering in 2005. In the past J.R. assisted on flooring jobs with Wayne Stoffel. J.R.'s friend Jon Spaar, 27 of Kewaskum later joined J.R. at Custom Cleaners after working with him in the past.

Custom Cleaners works with carpet, upholstery, and specializes in spot removal and air duct cleaning. The company also offers 24-hour availability for water restoration.

A unique service they offer is auto/RV detailing. Customers can call for an appointment and Custom Cleaners comes to your home or work.

All estimates are free of charge. Spaar proudly announces that all cleaning solutions are earth-friendly, pet friendly, and child friendly. "This is something new to the industry," he reported.

Setting them apart from others in the industry Stoffel says, "For one, we are owner-operated, we don't have sub-contractors or employees who are paid by the job, this is our business. We take pride in our work to achieve long-term relationships with our customers. We have set pricing, no hidden charges."

The two believe another vantage point to being owner/operators is they are able to do work when it is convenient for their customers, even if that means working weekends or evenings.

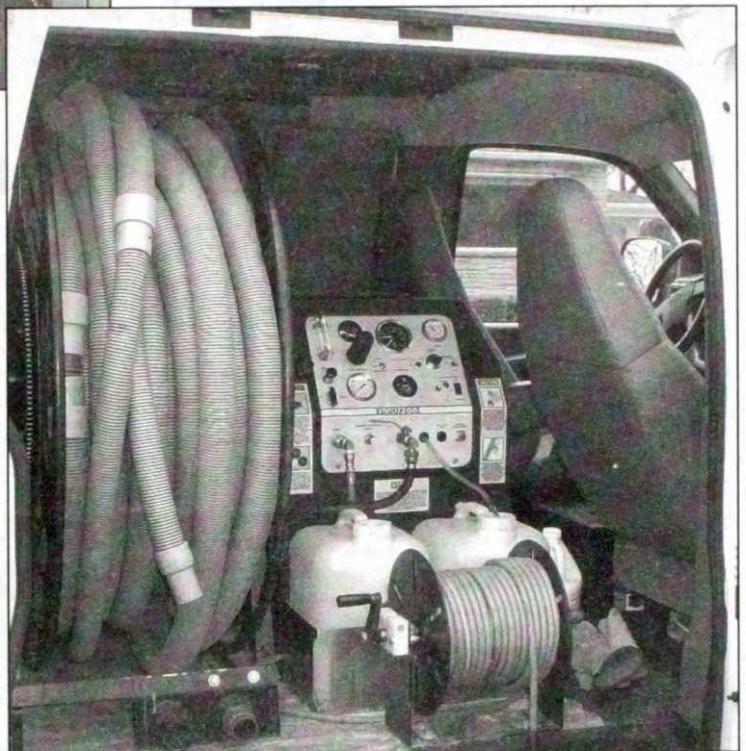

Appointments are taken care of usually within a week of making the appointment.

All equipment they use is new and state of the art. Custom Cleaners utilizes a truck mount system. Stoffel reports this ensures a better vacuum, deeper clean and faster drying times. "Other companies have a portable (unit) water is not as hot, does not clean as well, less vacuum and does not suck up the water as well leaving more residue in the carpet.

While about 90 percent of their client base is in Kewaskum they will travel as far east as Port Washington, as far west as Mayville, as far south as Milwaukee and as far north as Eden.

Currently Custom Cleaners is running a special of three rooms for $84.95. Upholstery cleaning starts with a chair typically costing $34.95. A three-person sofa will run about $54.95. Air duct cleaning up to 15 vents will cost $199.99.

Custom Cleaners can be reached at (262) 573-2131. This is the same number that can be used for emergency water restoration. Customers can also contact Wayne's Floor Covering in Kewaskum at (262) 626-6803.

D.A.R.E. graduation held; poster contest winners announced

Winners from Mrs. Hubbard's class at Kewaskum Elementary School were: Rachel Eisitia, first place; Ericka Buchel, second place and Samantha Butzke, third place.

Winners from Mrs. Schultz's class at Kewaskum Elementary School were: Molly Mikie, first place; Andrew Pryor, second place and Ben Peterson, third place.

Winners from Mrs. Peltonen's class at Kewaskum Elementary School were: Billie Jean Gruber, first place; Derek Schultz, second place and Sadie Dischler, third place.

Winners from Mrs. Hubert's class at Holy Trinity School were: Olivia Krautkramer, first place; Becky Breuer, second place and Cody Muck-erheide, third place.

The D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) graduations were recently held in the Kewaskum Elementary Schools. This was the 17th annual graduation for this program that is sponsored by the Kewaskum Police Department.

The D.A.R.E. program was originally designed to bring a uniformed officer into the 5th grade to teach the students ways to avoid drugs, alcohol abuse, or becoming a member of a gang. It has now added information for the students on how to avoid violence, vandalism and bullying to the curriculum.

The unique part of the program is that it allows young people to interact with a police officer in a positive way. Chief Knoebel said that "Officer Thomas Bauer does an excellent job with the program and it really shows at the graduations."

Besides the work the students do in class they are given two projects to complete. One is a pledge or commitment as to what the students will do to use the things they learned in D.A.R.E. for the rest of their lives. The other project is to make a D.A.R.E. poster portraying the things they learned in their classes. The winners of the contest are shown.

The Kewaskum Police Department would also like to thank all of those who donate to keep the program going.

A Woman in Charge

By Carl Bernstein
Knopf, $27.95 628 pages

Remember the '90s? Sure you do. The "Rachel" haircut, Furbys, the Macarena, Beanie mania, and Depeche Mode? How about Pogs, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, Zubaz, Animaniacs, and Crystal Pepsi?

How about the Clinton administration? Remember that?

Pulitzer Prize winner Carl Bernstein does. In his new book, "A Woman in Charge", he writes about Hillary Clinton, her life, her strengths, and the controversies that follow her.

Almost from the day she was born, Hillary Diane Rodham was encouraged to be different than others in her Chicago suburb. Despite that little girls were urged to be demure, Dorothy Rodham, Hillary's mother, taught her daughter to stand up for herself, fight back, be steadfast and open in her opinions, and to follow her own interests. Hugh Rodham, Hillary's father, was abusive to his wife and stingy with affection and approval for his children, but his dinner-time Republican debates may have formed Hillary's early eye on politics. Long-time friends from grade school through college remember Hillary as a good student, a "teacher's pet" and someone who, they believed, would someday seek higher office.

Because of that, many were dismayed when she "hitched her star" to up-and-coming Arkansas politician and "hayseed", Bill Clinton. But there was no denying it: Hillary was in love. Still, she stepped cautiously as she and Bill worked together at Yale, courted, and eventually married. Friends say that, while Bill and Hillary's personalities and strengths complimented one another and while they seemed particularly suited as a couple, there were problems from the start. Hillary knew all along about Bill's "other women" (and there were many) but she hoped that political office might dampen his womanizing.

History has obviously proven otherwise.

So were the Clintons targeted by political enemies bent on bringing their Washington tenure down, or were the problems during the Clinton administration those of their own - or, specifically, Hillary's - making? More importantly, what did Hillary Clinton learn from the past administration's mistakes that might allow her to move back into the White House in 2009?

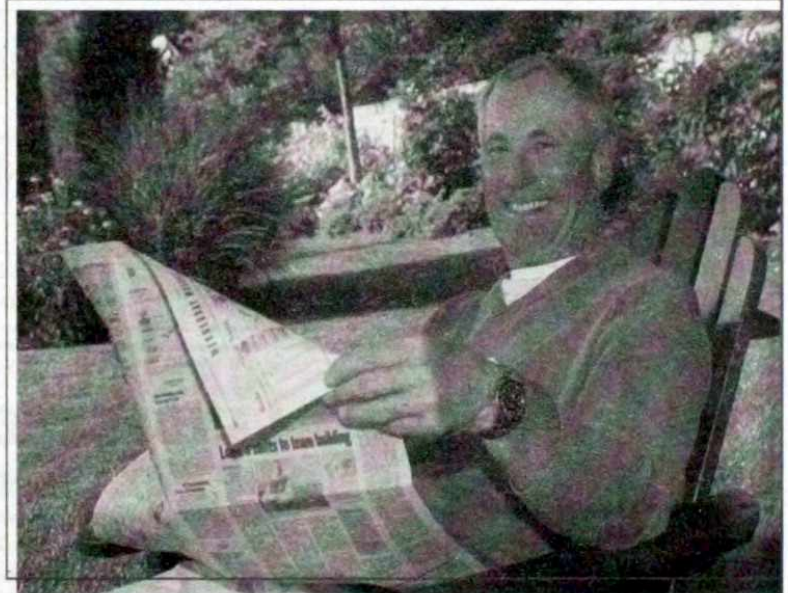

"A Woman in Charge" is a little daunting at first. At over 550 pages of narrative and more than seventy pages of notes, it's not thin. It's not light, either in tone or heft. What it is, though, is a highly-detailed, thoughtful, well-researched biography on a complex woman with lifelong ambitions that could well make history.

Former Watergate reporter and author Carl Bernstein doesn't dish dirt, nor does he gush with shameless praise. Typical of Bernstein's journalism background, he lays out the facts in a way that's not dry or stuffy but that's easy to follow, albeit occasionally rambling. Truth is, though, I'd rather read Bernstein's ramblings any day, than to have to suffer through another page of Bill Clinton's "My Life".

"A Woman in Charge" is not airplane reading and it's probably more than most people will want on vacation, but - considering that a very important election is coming up - it's a must-read for all voters. Like this book, this woman in charge may be here to stay.

Farmington Blue 2 and 2

The Farmington Blue boys Little League team started the season on May 24th. Their first game at Cascade was as exciting as they get. Going into extra innings, in the rain, they lost in the 8th with the score 5-4. The next game was also in the rain, at home against Newburg, also resulting in an extra inning loss. The next two games brought the sun and also brought the boys exciting wins. Playing Port Washington at home Saturday morning the Farmington team had a great game with the bats, winning 14 to 2. They played at Belgium Monday night.

Good pitching and defense by both teams found Farmington trailing 1-0 after the 3rd. Then Farmington's bats woke up, scoring multiple runs in the 4th, 5th, and 6th inning. Farmington's pitching and defense remained strong and resulted in a 14 to 1 win. The boys are fielding, hitting, and pitching well, and really coming together as a team.

After three years in the Midgets, with a first place finish last year, this is their first year in Little League. The coaching staff of Brian Rychtik, Kevin Hedlund, Tim Laufer, and Perry Luedtke has remained the same for the past four years. The league is quite a bit different from the Midgets and the boys are adjusting really well and just starting to play to their potential.

They are looking forward to a very successful season.

New Fane Sportsman's Club donates to DARE program

The New Fane Sportsman's Club recently donated $1,000.00 to the Kewaskum Police Department's D.A.R.E. Program. This is an annual donation made by the club from money made at their popular annual wild game feed. Chief Knoebel said "The police department is very grateful to the New Fane's Sportsman's Club for their annual donation. It shows how community minded the New Fane Sportsman's Club is." He went on to say, "Donations like these allow us to keep these valuable programs running. This popular program gives the students a chance to meet with an officer in a non-hostile situation and learn that if they need help they can contact an officer." Kewaskum athletes earn honors at state competition

MADISON— Kewaskum-area athletes won big while competing at the Special Olympics Wisconsin 2007 State Summer Games in Stevens Point, June 7-9. While the annual Opening Ceremony was canceled due to severe weather, the sky cleared for state-level competition in swimming, track and field, soccer, powerlifting and the softball throw.

Congratulations to the following athletes:

Jeff K. Puestow, Aquatics 25M Backstroke, second place, and Brian Hanrahan, Aquatics 50M Freestyle, first place, both of Kewaskum.

Over 1,600 athletes from around the state qualified for the State Summer Games according to their recent performances at the local, regional or district tournaments. Beyond sports competition, more than 1,300 law enforcement participants from 175 law enforcement agencies took part in the Law Enforcement Torch Run. Participants escorted the Olympic Flame of Hope from all corners of Wisconsin, uniting in Stevens Point to kick off the Summer Games.

When taking a break from competition, athletes visited Victory Village for arts and crafts, stage performances, treats from Special Olympics Wisconsin partners, and free health care screenings on eyes and teeth done by volunteer doctors from across the state. Glasses were even ground on site for athletes in need. A "Pirates of the Caribbean" themed, outdoor Closing Ceremony wrapped up the event, allowing athletes to celebrate their hard work and dance in pirate garb.

Thank you to Kwik Trip, the year-round Premier Partner of Special Olympics Wisconsin. Mueller makes dad proud at Father's Day hill climb KEWASKUM- Kewaskum's 15-year-old Josh Mueller made his father very proud on Fathers Day, June 17. He joined his dad, Lloyd Mueller Jr., 95 other riders, and approximately 1,900 spectators at the 24th annual Kettle Moraine Sport Riders Motorcycle hill climb.

Mueller started the day with fastest time in the 600 Pro Class on his first run. He took his Kawasaki bike up the 300 feet of hill in 8.66 seconds. His second attempt stopped him short at the 180-foot mark.

The riders are scored on their best time or distance on their two runs. His first run was fast enough to win the Advanced Land Speed-600 Pro Class.

Mueller also competed in the West Bend Harley Davidson Open Pro Class. Here the young rider rode a custom Harley Davidson from West Bend Harley Davidson for the first time. His two runs of 8.90 and 8.86 seconds were good enough for fifth place. Perhaps dad was concentrating on the wrong bike today as he finished sixth with a time of 9.11 seconds being his best.

Mueller had one more try at the $2,700 purse and contingency money the pro riders are vying for. The ten fastest riders of the day get one more run up the hill for the opportunity to be crowned "King of The Hill."

His time on this run was 9.20 seconds, good enough for third and another cut of the money. There was a trophy for him as well. The rider under 16, who goes the fastest over the hill, or farthest up it, is also awarded the Justin Bobholtz memorial trophy.

Matthew McGrath of Horicon rode one of his Hondas to a win in the Mike's Motorsports 0-400 stock class with a time of 9.88 seconds. Mischler's Hwy 33 Power Center of Beaver Dam also put a trophy in his hand for the Open Stock Class. McGrath won with a time of 10.24 seconds on his first run. His time in the 0-400 class was fast enough to make him the only amateur rider to qualify for the "King of The Hill" competition. His last run of the day clocked in at 13.41, good enough for seventh in this elite class.

You Nailed It!

Break one off and it hurts. Snag it on your clothes and it's irritating. Maybe you ought to file and paint those fingernails before you check out these fun-to-know facts about the things at the end of your digits.

Fingernails and toenails are made of keratin, which is a protein that is somewhat like hooves in cows and horses. Kids' nails grow faster than do the nails of adults. For the most part, though, fingernails grow about 0.04 inches every other week. Toenails grow at about a fourth that rate.

The world record for fingernails is held by a woman whose nails are cumulatively over 24 feet in length. The toenail record holder carefully walks around with over 7 total feet of tootsie decoration.

But decorating isn't all your nails are good for. Scientists say nails might be related to claws. They help us latch onto slippery things, they peel, open, pick, scratch, and can help doctors diagnose diseases at a glance.

Eichstedt comes up a couple shots short On the brink of qualifying

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

A golfer from Kewaskum nearly earning a spot in the U.S. Senior Open and playing against the likes of Tom Kite, Hale Irwin, Fred Funk and Tom Watson at Whistling Straights in early July? It nearly happened two weeks ago when Clark Eichstedt was among 56 players battling for two spots in an 18-hole qualifying tournament held at Pine Hills Country Club in Sheboygan.

Eichstedt led at the turn with a 34, but a couple of bad holes coming in cost him dearly. "There was a five-way play-off for two spots at 75," Eichstedt said, reporting he carded a 77, and, "I tied for seventh."

"I prepared well," Eichstedt stated, noting he went for a couple practice rounds at the course, and, "I felt comfortable" going into the event.

On the day the tournament was held, the winds picked up, and Eichstedt, who was a standout player at Kewaskum High School and later played in many amateur events in Wisconsin and even some professional events in England when he lived there, felt that was to his advantage.

"I thought this was a good opportunity with the tournament being right over there (Kohler)," Eichstedt said, explaining he birdied No. 8 and was in good position at that point, especially after an official had told his wife, Tamela, and his caddie, Tom Bartelt, he thought a 3- or 4-over par would be good enough to make one of the two spots.

"Somewhere on the back nine, I lost sight of the big picture ... had some bogeys that weren't necessary," Eichstedt said.

Especially damaging was the triple bogey 7 on No. 17 where Eichstedt's drive settled behind some trees, putting him in trouble right away. Eichstedt said No. 17 is considered a very difficult hole with the green on a rise across a creek. "I was 3-over at the time," he said, indicating a bogey wouldn't have knocked him out of the event.

The well-known Eichstedt plans to attempt to qualify for the Wisconsin Open and the U.S. Senior Amateur.

Concerning the State Open, Eichstedt said it is being held at Blackwolf Run in August, with qualifying set for the last week in July. Eichstedt said he plans to play in the qualifying tournament at the Fox Valley Golf Course near Appleton.

Shea homers twice and drives in 6 runs

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Apparently Kewaskum High School infielder Dan Shea didn't like having a home run called a foul ball in last Wednesday's game against Cedar Grove.

So what did Shea do Thursday evening, June 14, in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) game at Kiel? He hit two home runs, including a grand slam in the top of the seventh, helping the Indians to an 11-1 victory over the Raiders.

Kewaskum, which nearly didn't go to Kiel because the game was not on the schedule received by coach Dave Donath, wasted no time jumping out to a good lead. The Indians scored four runs right away, and yes, Shea was involved in the barrage. (He also was the one who pointed out to Donath on Wednesday the team was scheduled to play Kiel the following day.)

After Casey Scheel reached on an error, Shea smacked his first home run, and Matt Parrent followed with another. Then Logan Staeger came up to the plate and promptly smacked a triple and scored on a sacrifice fly by Nick Olla.

With Shea's grand slam shot, the senior wound up going 4x5 with a whopping six RBIs. For the season, he now has 23 hits in 45 trips to the plate for an impressive .511 average.

There were several other Indians who joined in the hit parade, including Parrent, who was 2x5 with a double and homer, Staeger, who was 2x4 with a double and triple; and Nick Ebert, who went 3x4.

A pitch also hit Scheel, who was 2x4 with a double. Donath said, "He was on four of five times." Altogether the Indians had 17 hits in the contest.

Ebert held Kiel hitters in check most of the night, giving up just three hits. Donath called Ebert's effort "very nice. That makes him 3-0 on the season."

With the win, the Indians jumped to 7-2 in the EWC and 11-3 overall. Kiel fell to 2-6 and 3-7.

Indians strike out 17 times

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

It wasn't a game he is especially proud of, but Kewaskum baseball coach Dave Donath will take the 7-2 win his Indians posted over host Roncalli just the same.

"I guess it's a good thing we got 'em (runs) early. After that, we were swinging at a lot of air," Donath said about the game played in Manitowoc on Monday, June 11.

The Indians scored five runs in the first two frames but ended up striking out 17 times against Mike Ruzek, who gave up a pair of walks and just three earned runs.

Winner Matt Parrent, going the distance for the first time in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game this season, tossed a three-hitter, striking out five and not walking any of the Jets.

In the first inning, leadoff man Casey Scheel walked and stole second, then Dan Shea reached on an error and also stole a base. Parrent wasn't about to let the opportunity go by and promptly smashed a double to score both of his teammates.

After a pitch hit Austin Petrin, Nick Ebert came through with a big hit, a double which drove in Parrent and Petrin.

In the two-run seventh, it was Shea getting the rally started with a double, Parrent reaching after the catcher couldn't handle a third strike, and then Logan Staeger picked up a pair of RBIs with a solid double.

Kewaskum had six doubles in the effort, although Donath felt a couple of them should have been caught. "We were pretty fortunate to come out of there with a win," he said.

With the win, KHS improved to 5-2 in EWC and 8-3 overall, while the Jets fell to 2-4 and 4-5.

Green team continues streak

The Kewaskum Green Pony League team improved their record to 8-0 with two more wins this past week.

In the first game, Kewaskum won 16-4 over Belgium 2 at Belgium. The pitching staff of Matt Ballard, Eric Perkins, Bo Seibel and Cody Nuernberg combined for 14 strikeouts, with Eric Perkins recording 7 straight. A balanced offense helped with all Kewaskum players reaching base and nine different players scoring.

In the second game, Kewaskum defeated a very tough Long Lake team 6-2. The game was tied 2-2 in the bottom of the fifth inning, when Andy Schreier singled, Seibel reached on an error and Nuernberg reached first on a bunt to load the bases.

After a force out at home, Perkins walked which allowed the first run to score, then a passed ball allowed another run to score and runners to move to second and third.

Dan Bohn then came through with a single that scored the final two runs in the inning. The same pitching tandem of Seibel, Ballard, Perkins and Nuernberg held the Long Lake team to six hits.

Their next home game is Friday, June 22 at 6 p.m.

Foes have trouble scoring on Kewaskum

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

Chalk up another two wins for the Kewaskum High School's baseball team, and back-to-back shutouts at that!

On Tuesday evening, June 12, John Holt's one-hitter propelled the Indians to a 3-0 win over Plymouth in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) game played at home in Kiwanis Park.

Cedar Grove didn't prove to be much of a formidable foe for Kewaskum, which used 14 walks and five hit batsmen to a 20-0 victory.

Coach Dave Donath said Holt did an excellent job, adding, "He should have had a no-hitter" because the left fielder should have made a better effort on a fly hit out there in the third inning. It dropped in for the lone hit off Holt, who is having an excellent season.

"We only had five hits," Donath went on, reporting his team scored a single run in the bottom of the fifth and two more in the sixth.

The game was scoreless in the fifth, then, with one out, Nick Ebert drew a walk, there was a pop out to short, then Ben Butler singled and Casey Scheel came through with an RBI single.

The sixth inning rally got going when Matt Parrent slapped a one-out single, stole second, and scored when pinch hitter Garrett Barlow's grounder was booted by the Plymouth shortstop. Later Barlow scored when the shortstop committed his second error of the inning.

"It wasn't much of a game," Donath said about the non-conference tilt against Cedar Grove.

Nick Olla got the call to pitch and picked up the win. He went four innings, and then Austin Petrin threw the final inning before the game ended via the 10-run "mercy rule."

In addition to all their free passes for first base, the Indians banged out nine hits. Dan Shea went 2x3 and is currently batting right around .400 (19x40) according to Donath, who said his senior infielder was robbed of a home run in the game.

"I don't know how the umpire could call that a foul ball," Donath said, noting the other coach and the base umpire admitted to him they thought it was a fair ball.

Donath said he didn't argue long but said, "He (Shea) was all-state last year. You'd like to see him have another shot (at it)."

Barlow also picked up two hits for the winners, who improved to 6-2 in the EWC and 10-3 overall.

Before Tuesday's game, Craig Hoffmann, the commissioner of the EWC, announced the standings of the EWC as follows: 1. New Holstein, 8-1; 2. Kewaskum, 6-2; 3. Sheboygan Falls, 4-3; 4. Plymouth, 3-3; 5. Campbellsport, 2-3; 6. Kiel, 2-5; 7. Roncalli, 2-5; 8. Two Rivers, 3-8.

Outdoor Tips & Tricks

by Dave Gowdey

There are times when selective trout will take nothing but tiny fly patterns that require very fine leader material if they are to work effectively. Unfortunately, even with the improved strength of modern 7x and 8x leader material, it is often difficult to strike and play a fish without having such fine tippets break. This is particularly true with faster action fly rods. One tip to help avoid this is to tie a small dental rubber band, the kind used on orthodontic braces, into the middle of your leader to act as a shock absorber. If you strike a bit too hard, the rubber band will absorb some of the energy and help cushion the strain on the tippet. Similarly, when fish jerk or slap the tippet, the rubber band will help avoid break offs.

Where lead shot is concerned, the choice of shot size is almost always a trade off between pattern density and pellet lethality. The larger the shot size, the more energy it retains at distance and the greater its penetration and killing power. However, the larger the shot size, the fewer pellets can be fit into a load - leaving holes in the pattern and reducing the chances of the three pellets hitting the bird that are considered the minimum for a clean kill. Moreover, at shorter distances larger shot can ruin a lot of meat, rendering the bird inedible. I tend to favor size 7 1/2 shot for smaller birds such as quail and grouse, size 6 shot for larger birds such as Chukar and Hungarian Partridge, and size 5 shot for larger birds such as Pheasant and Sage Grouse.

A dog's feet are the part most vulnerable to injury over the course of a hunting season. I suspect that more dogs are laid up each season because of torn pads, or broken nails, than any other cause. You can help prevent these injuries in the off season by keeping nails trimmed properly, and by exercising your dog regularly on gravel, rock, or other hard surfaces that will help toughen their pads. For dogs with particularly tender pads, such as those with pink pads, you might consider acclimating your dog to working with boots, or try pad toughening products.

If you have a tip to do with hunting, fishing or outdoor skills that you would share with other hunters and anglers, e-mail the tip to davegowdey@fastmail.fm. Credit will be given in the column to those whose tips are selected for publication.

West was the best... this time around

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

West Bend West has a really good baseball team this season, but the Spartans are really not 15 runs better than Kewaskum.

Yes, when the two teams met in Kewaskum Kiwanis Park last Friday night, June 15, West won by 15, the final score was 17-2, but the Spartans were not going up against the Indians Nos. 1 or 2 pitchers, John Holt or Nick Olla.

"We ran out of pitchers basically," coach Dave Donath said Monday, referring to the fact the team played five games last week, and he ended the game going with Garrett Barlow, Casey Scheel, and Justin Krueger, who all haven't had a lot of mound duty.

When asked if Scheel has ever pitched before, Donath said, "No, not at the varsity level anyway."

Kewaskum was not out of the game going into the sixth, but then the Spartans exploded for 10 runs in the last two innings to make it a rout.

Along with running out of pitchers, the Indians didn't play the best defense, committing four errors.

"They came later in the game also," Donath said about the errors, and pointed out,

"When you start walking people like that (five walks), it puts the defense to sleep."

Kewaskum had seven hits in the contest, including two by Dan Shea, who went 2x4 with one RBI. Logan Staeger went 1x1 with a double and two walks, and Nick Olla went 1x1 and was walked three times.

West banged out 15 hits against the six KHS pitchers. Matt Parrent went the first three innings, giving up four hits and two earned runs. He took the loss. No question, Donath and the Indians will be looking for a rematch against West in late July, and more will be on the line at that time, perhaps a trip to the WIAA Summer Baseball Tournament, the scenario the two teams faced in 2006 with the Indians coming out on top by a score of 8-1.

With the win, West stayed perfect at 14-0, while Kewaskum isn't far behind at 13-4, including a mark of 7-2 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, right behind New Holstein in the standings in what looks to be a two-team race for the title.

Kewaskum hosted Sheboygan Falls on Monday, June 18, and played at New Holstein on Tuesday and was hoping to reverse earlier outcomes to those two teams.

The Indians are at Campbellsport Thursday at 5:30 p.m. and host Roncalli for a doubleheader Friday, starting at 4 p.m.

The Indians will have to go without Parrent for much of this week, as he is involved in preparations for a basketball all-star game, which will be played in Madison on Saturday.

Two good efforts and two big wins

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent

The week didn't start out well for the Kewaskum Athletics, but it certainly ended on a good note, no make that two good notes.

After losing a heartbreaking 10-8 decision to Brownsville Wednesday night, June 13, the A's bounced right back with an impressive 13-3 victory over Hartford Saturday and followed that win with a more competitive 6-4 decision over Horicon.

Three pitchers took their turn on the mound Sunday in the win over the Horicon team. Nick Whitty started and did a nice job for five innings, giving up five hits, striking out seven and walking just one before giving way to Jake Panzer.

Panzer had one good inning but got in trouble in the seventh, loading the bases with no outs before player/manager Jason Strobel gave the call to Jim Ziegler.

"We got out of the inning (without any damage)," Ziegler, who acts as the spokesperson for the team, said. Ziegler promptly got the next batter to hit a grounder to Josh Heisdorf at third. Heisdorf threw a perfect strike home for the force play.

The inning ended with a double play, according to Ziegler, who said the second baseman tagged the bag and threw to first in time to get the hitter.

Strobel wound up going 2x5 and contributed two RBIs, Ziegler said, reporting Strobel clocked a two-run homer in the first to give Kewaskum a lead it would never relinquish.

"We had the lead the whole game," Ziegler said, noting Brandon Banton was 2x4 with three RBIs, while Jon Olla chipped in with two hits.

Against Hartford, the A's were red hot at the plate. Banton went 4x4 with a pair of RBIs, including a solo home run in the sixth inning and Olla was 3x4 with two doubles. Also helping the offensive production were Ty Schill, 3x5; Strobel, 2x5; and Ziegler, 2x4.

The A's went with Jake Lathers the first six innings, and he gave up just five hits in that time, also posting two strikeouts.

Ziegler said Kevin Olson finished up the contest, and while Olson did not give up a single hit, "He had a bunch of walks." No harm done. The A's were in command by that point.

With the two wins, Kewaskum is now 3-3 in Rock River action this spring and 4-4 overall.

"We lost to Brownsville on a walkoff home run," Ziegler said, noting he and his teammates, all except Jake Spaeth, who banged out three hits, had trouble against Brownsville. "Everything we got, we worked hard to get."

Kewaskum took an 8-7 lead into the seventh inning, this was a seven-inning game, when Brownsville got two men on base and Shawn Wozniak smacked a long home run.

Whitty, who had come on in relief, took the loss.

This coming weekend the A's have two games scheduled: on Saturday, June 23, they will be at Menasha for a game against Greenville in the annual NBC Tournament, and on Sunday, they return to Kiwanis Park to host Oakfield at 1:30 p.m.

Another thing that seems to arrive almost before you get started is the bridge you were going to cross when you got to it.
