Four fire departments respond to extinguish fire in pole shed at Sunburst Ski Area

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman

TOWN of KEWASKUM- A building that once was the scene of a mock disaster became real on Friday, January 18. That scene took the form of a large fire and not a mass casualty incident like was played out in the early 90's. Three area fire departments assisted Kewaskum Fire Department in containing the large blaze that produced smoke that was visible from southern West Bend.

Kewaskum Fire Department and EMS were dispatched around 1:30 p.m., with Kohlsville firefighters being paged shortly after for full mutual aid. West Bend and Boltonville Fire Departments were also requested for manpower and tankers.

The fire ignited after an employee completed a welding project. It is believed that sparks started some nearby cardboard and fire after the employee left the vicinity.

The metal pole building used for vehicle maintenance and storage was almost completely destroyed by the fire and was situated next to electrical equipment to run the lifts and lights for the ski area that was damaged. The Firefighters from Kewaskum Fire Department begin to extinguish a blaze at Sunburst Ski Area in Kewaskum that was started by an employee who was welding inside the metal structure. Three fire departments joined Kewaskum in their efforts to put out the flames. No one was injured and operations have resumed at the popular skiing, tubing and snowboarding destination.

Rollover crash kills Village teen, injures Campbellsport teen

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@kewaskumstatesman

TOWN of KEWASKUM- A single-vehicle, rollover crash shortly before midnight on Sunday, January 20, claimed the life of an 18-year-old village of Kewaskum man and injured a 16-year-old Campbellsport teen.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department was notified of the crash at 11:47 p.m., along a 90 degree curve at Prospect Drive and Ridge Road in the town of Kewaskum. Deputies and members of the Kewaskum Fire Department and EMS responded to the scene.

EMS personnel located the vehicle rolled over on its roof, several feet off the roadway in a marshy area on the northeast corner of the intersection and found the operator partially pinned under the vehicle. Upon extricating the operator, Tony Raess, with the Jaws of Life, rescuers learned that he was fatally injured.

Tanner Lauters, 16, of Campbellsport, is believed to have been wearing his seat-belt and was able to remove himself from the vehicle prior to arrival of EMS personnel. He was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in the town of Polk by Kewaskum EMS for apparent non-life threatening injuries and later conveyed by ambulance to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee.

The Sheriff's Department stated that an investigation revealed that the vehicle had been eastbound on Ridge Road, traveling at a high rate of speed when the driver was believed to have been unable to negotiate the 90 degree turn on to Prospect Drive. The vehicle subsequently skidded off the roadway, entered the ditch line and rolled over, partially ejecting the operator who was not wearing his seat-belt.

A hospital spokesperson stated they were asked not to release information on Lauters' condition.

Kewaskum High School Principal Christine Horbas confirmed that Raess was a KHS student during his freshman and half of his senior year and that Lauters is a current student. Juniors and seniors were made aware of the fatal crash during an assembly.

"This tragedy was a great loss of a very loving young man. I don't think he realized how he touched others' lives," remarked Horbas.

Raess was Washington County's second fatal accident of the new year.

According to police radio communications an EMT was injured at the scene due to the cold weather and rescue efforts taking place in the marsh area. His condition is unknown at this time.

Slick roads bring vehicle collisions

Mother nature dumped about a foot of snow in the village and surrounding area on Monday, January 21. The snowfall delayed the start of school in the Kewaskum School district by two hours. The light airy snow hit the ground and made for slick roads causing a number of motor vehicle accidents throughout the county. This was the only reported crash in the village, however, Washington County Sheriff Dale Schmidt reported a total of 44 crashes on Monday from 6 a.m. to midnight. On Tuesday sheriff's deputies responded to 56 crashes. Village snowplows hit the roads at 3 a.m. Tuesday morning, they then started at 1 a.m. Wednesday morning to thoroughly remove snow from the downtown area. Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles reported that plows operated without malfunction for the first time all season. The above accident took place around 4 p.m. on Monday afternoon on Fond du Lac Avenue in front of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly. Kewaskum police say the driver of the white vehicle, Kathy Hug, 44, was traveling southbound on the roadway when the dark color vehicle driven by Michelle Morgan, 38, also of Campbellsport, failed to yield. Neither drivers nor a passenger in the Morgan vehicle received any injuries in the crash.

Give Kids a Smile highlights children's need for dental care locally

KEWASKUM- On Thursday, January 31, the dentistry office of Dr. Stephen Van Ess in Kewaskum will again be participating in the national Give Kids a Smile program.

This program, an effort by local dentists, is held in coordination with the American Dental Association to help children from low-income families receive free dental services. Dr. Van Ess's dental office will see children, six to twelve years of age, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. for needed care.

Routine preventive care, including exams, x-rays, cleanings, fluoride treatments, and dental sealants, will be provided. Fillings on either front or back teeth, will also be done.

Last year, Dr. Van Ess treated seven families. Many of these children needed more than one visit to complete their treatment. This free dental care totaled nearly $4,000 in value.

Children are referred either by their school, church, or a social service agency. The free dental care is limited to 2-3 families from each agency. If your child, or a child you know, needs help, please contact one of the referring partners.

According to the Centers for Disease Control, nearly half of U.S. children suffer from untreated tooth decay. Nearly 80 percent of tooth decay is now found in just 25 percent of children, primarily from low-income families.

The Give Kids a Smile program is aided by the generous contributions of national sponsors Sullivan-Schein Dental Supply Company and Colgate Dental Products.

snowmaking pumping system was also damaged. The electrical components for the tubing area are housed separately away from the area where the fire occurred.

According to General Manager, Steve Voss, some of the hill wiring had to be re-routed to enable lift operations and night lighting. A secondary pumping station will be used for continued snowmaking. "Operations should continue without interruption," he stated.

ed. Sunburst is located just south of the village on Prospect Drive.

Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association keeps busy with local projects at New Prospect Horseriders Camp

NEW PROSPECT-In just four years, The Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association (NKMHTA) has partnered with a growing list of groups and individuals, completing an extensive list of projects in the equestrian campground and along the 41 miles of horse/snowmobile trails in the state forest. This collaboration of efforts has resulted in improvements for all equestrians visiting the area, with the main attraction being the New Prospect Horserider's Campground.

The NKMHTA is very proud of the fact that they completed 100% of their planned projects each year since inception. With the help of others, the group has invested over $33,000, and logged over 1,500 labor hours on projects ranging from routine trail maintenance to major renovations.

In 2007, as part of the planned campground renovation, the NKMHTA coordinated volunteers, and funded, along with a grant from the Wisconsin State Horse Council, the renovation of the covered horse shelter, converting 48 outdated tie stalls, to 24 box stalls. The group says the renovation will provide campers a much safer confinement option for their horses.

Thirty volunteers worked over 518 hours on the project over six weeks. The group offered special thanks to Vic Edinger, Valley Horsemen, who drove repeatedly all the way from DePere to help.

Although the planned campground expansion got off to a slow start, it is now well under way. Unfortunately, but not surprisingly, the planned 60 covered box stalls and the people shelter in the new group sites had to be eliminated due to excessive cost. These structures are considered "enhancements" and not high on the state's priority scale to allocate funding, Bids for the basic campground renovation alone came in $60,000 more than budgeted.

The project then had to go back to the Department of Administration in Madison for consideration to release the additional funds. Without it, the renovation could not be completed. According to Jerry Leiterman, Forest Superintendent, the additional funding was awarded in part because of letters written by Jayne Birkholz on behalf of the Plymouth Trail Riders, and Joann Schill for the NKMHTA.

In late October, Rahn Excavating, sub-contracted through Lindsley Construction, began the rough grading of the campground. Due to the arrival of heavy snow in early December, final grading is currently on hold. Water lines were installed to four hydrants, and a toilet building was constructed. Excavation work will begin again in spring after the frost is out of the ground.

When all grading and replacement of top soil is complete, 150 trees will be planted. The club is asking for volunteers for this project. Help will also be needed to install signs around the campground.

At this time, it is uncertain when the campground will reopen. It will primarily depend on the growing season to allow time for the newly planted grass to get established. The campground may possibly open Labor Day. Occupancy of sites after that may be on a first come, first serve basis as it is uncertain if the reservation system will be available in 2008. Before planning a trip to the Northern Kettle Moraine, please call the Forest Headquarters at 262-626-2116 or 920-533-8322 for a current status report.

The NKMHTA's current major goal is to purchase 70 - 10' x 10' corrals for the renovated family and group sites. These corrals will be an added perk for campers to safely keep horses at their campsites. Eleven corrals have been purchased so far, with more expected in spring when the manufacturer restarts production.

The group thanks the following individuals or groups for donating to the corral fund - Plymouth Trail Riders, Charles and Kathy Hartzheim, Katie and Mike Bachhuber, Valley Horsemen, Hillcrest Builders, Sheboygan County 4H, KinKrest Saddle Club, Wasaukee Horsemen, JF Ahern Co, Wisconsin Equine Foundation, and the Wisconsin State Horse Council.

Individuals or groups wishing to make a donation for corrals can contact Joann Schill at (920) 477-5782. The NKMHTA holds a 501-C3 tax status, donations to their organization may qualify as a tax deduction.

As you ride along the trails, or camp in any state owned facility, the NKMHTA encourages you to actively participate to improve facilities in your area. As evidenced by their accomplishments, much can be achieved in just a short time.

The NKMHTA is a volunteer equestrian trail advocacy group established in September 2003. The sole purpose of the group is to assist the Department of Natural Resources on equestrian-related projects in the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest.

Humane Society issues warning

After a second incident this season, the Washington County Humane Society is asking county residents to follow two simple steps to avoid a tragic accident. "First and foremost is to keep your cats indoors during the cold weather. Every year we see cats with severe frostbite, or worse, near death because of extremely low body temperatures," says Marnie Brown, executive director. "We actually prefer that people never let their cats outside because of all the terrible things we see here at the shelter, but during these bitter cold spells, it's imperative. If it's dangerously cold for you, it's dangerously cold for your animals."

Another recommendation is for people who park their cars outside during the cold weather. Cats, and the occasional raccoon, seek out warm places during the cold months, and will often climb up into a car engine with tragic results. Before starting your vehicle, make sure there aren't any critters hiding by lifting the hood, honking your horn, or by slapping the hood hard enough to frighten the animal out.

Valentina, named for her valiant efforts for survival, found out the hard way about the perils of outside living. On the morning of January 24, the Washington County Humane Society received a call about a cat in serious trouble. A man traveling from Farmington to Slinger kept hearing unusual noises from the front of his car and when he stopped, he checked under his hood to find the problem. Horrified, he found a cat with a collar but no tag, severely injured in his engine and called the shelter for assistance.

Shelter personnel found the black and brown female cat and were able to remove her. Valentina was rushed to Hartford Animal Clinic where they quickly assessed the cat's injuries. They found she had a broken jaw, numerous cuts and abrasions, and one of her limbs was severely damaged and nearly severed. Her cuts were cleaned and stitched, her leg amputated and her jaw wired. Brown states, "She was actually doing very well and we were very optimistic. However, on Sunday morning she began having multiple seizures and, unfortunately, she didn't make it."

The Humane Society is urging people to follow the two simple recommendations above to avoid other tragic accidents. "This cat suffered horribly and needlessly," Brown contends. Situations like these are so preventable, and they shouldn't have to happen."

Sheriff's Department receives grants for 2008

To save lives and reduce serious injuries by preventing traffic crashes, the Washington County Sheriff's Department has recently received two $12,000 traffic safety grants from the Wisconsin State Patrol Bureau of Transportation Safety. One of the grants targets impaired drivers and the other targets speeding and aggressive drivers.

"These grants will pay for approximately 375 overtime hours for traffic safety enforcement, so our officers can patrol in greater numbers and for longer hours," says Sheriff Dale Schmidt. "The grants also can help purchase equipment needed for traffic enforcement."

In accepting the grant, the Washington County Sheriff's Department has agreed to participate in the national "Click It or Ticket" safety belt enforcement mobilization in May and June 2008, and the "Drunk Driving, Over the Limit, Under Arrest" crackdown on impaired driving in August and September 2008.

"Intensified, high-visibility traffic enforcement is an effective tool in preventing traffic crashes. The goal of this intensified enforcement is to increase voluntary compliance with traffic safety laws not to write more tickets," says Michael Panosh, Bureau of Transportation Safety regional program manager. "But if voluntary compliance fails, officers will be prepared to stringently enforce the law."

The enhanced enforcement will take place through September of this year.

Washington County GOP brunch

The Washington County Republican Party will be holding its Annual Lincoln Day Brunch and Caucus on Sunday, February 10, 2008 at Wegner's Cedar Lake Inn (formerly The Linden Inn) on Big Cedar Lake in West Bend.

There will be a brunch buffet served at noon, followed by the Caucus and program at 1:00 p.m. Doors open at 11:00 a.m. The program will include resolutions, national convention delegate appointments and introduction of elected officials. Special guest speakers will be Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner and Assembly Majority Speaker Rep. Mike Huesch. The event will also feature appearances by State Senator Glenn Grothman, State Senator Alberta Darling, State Senator Ted Kanavas, Rep. Don Pridemore, Rep. Pat Strachota, Rep. Dan LeMahieu, Rep. Sue Jeskewitz, Republican Party of Wisconsin Chairman Reinice Priebus and several other local elected officials. State Supreme Court Justice Candidate Judge Mike Gableman will also be appearing.

The brunch buffet is $25.00/person. There is no cost for attending the caucus only, however only Washington County GOP delegates may debate the resolutions within the caucus.

For further information, please contact Jim Geldreich at (262) 334-3765 or the Washington County GOP Headquarters at (262) 334-4150.

Open auditions for 2008 West Bend Dance/Tumbling Troupe

WEST BEND- The West Bend Dance/Tumbling Troupe will be holding auditions for the 2008 Troupe on Sunday, February 3, at the West Bend Mutual Mall, 1043 S. Main Street, from 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. Performers, dancers, and gymnasts, both male and female, ages five and older are invited to audition.

The Dance/Tumbling Troupe, is currently the top group performance gymnastics team in the United States, and is ranked by the International Gymnastics Federation as one of the best in the world. The group, supported by a parent-run Booster Club, will be traveling and performing throughout Wisconsin, and a trip to Las Vegas for the USA-Gymnastics National Gymfest is also planned for 2008.

A complete package of information about the Troupe, auditions, requirements and estimated costs for the 2008 season can be obtained by calling Jackie at (262) 689-5337.

SHOP WITH A COP 2007

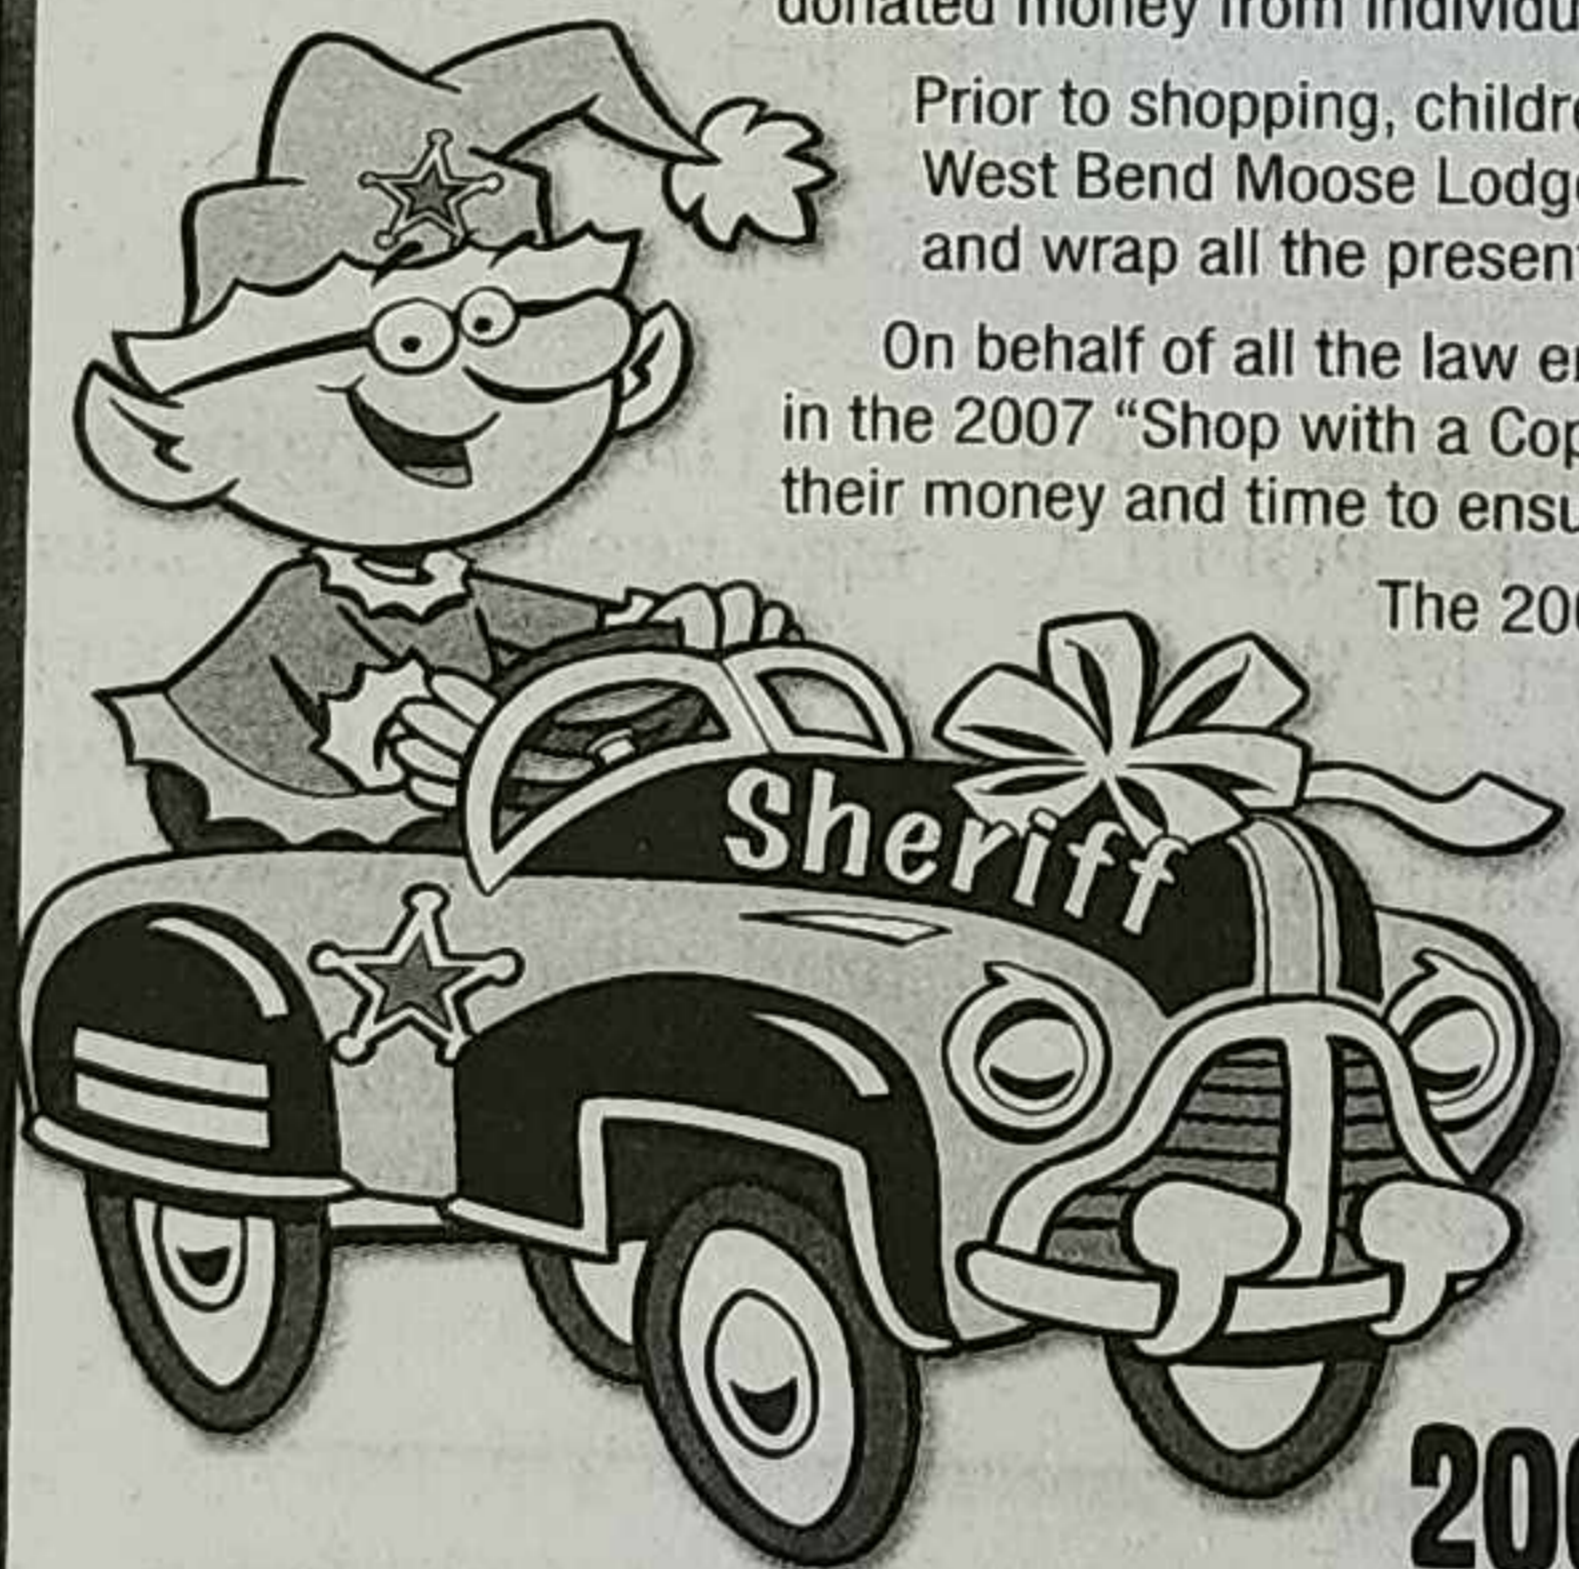

On December 13th 2007, the Washington County Sheriff's Department sponsored its 4th annual "Shop with a Cop" event. The event included 125 volunteers and law enforcement officers from agencies throughout Washington County escorting 71 children to the West Bend Wal-Mart to buy gifts for their families. Each child received a donated gift card to purchase gifts for family members at Christmas time. The gift cards are purchased with donated money from individuals, businesses and organizations.

Prior to shopping, children were treated to hot dogs and hamburgers at the West Bend Moose Lodge. Community volunteers cook and serve the food and wrap all the presents.

On behalf of all the law enforcement officers and volunteers that participated in the 2007 "Shop with a Cop" I would like to thank all the people who volunteered their money and time to ensure another great event.

The 2008 "Shop with a Cop" will be held on December 11th.

Sincerely,
Dale Schmidt, Sheriff

A Special Thank You to all anonymous donors and volunteers. Without people like YOU this program would not be possible. Our apologies to anyone who may have been missed.

History Detective unveils first-time shown Panorama Painter Bernhard Schneider's photos

With the help of a history detective, the Museum of Wisconsin Art (MWA) will unveil an important photographic exhibition, for the first time ever, of the late panorama artist Bernhard Schneider (1843-1907). Born in Germany, Schneider died in Cedarburg and left a treasure trove of photographic negatives that were discovered and researched by Christine LaJoyce who seemed destined to bring to light the story of this important Wisconsin artist who was known as a painter, but never before as an outstanding photographer as well. The exhibition opens on January 9th and runs through March 30th.

On Sunday, February 17th at 2:30 p.m. LaJoyce will share her amazing story of finding these glass plates and the tremendous job she did in tracking down what they were, who took them, who was in the pictures and the eerily strange connections to her own family. Don't miss this opportunity to hear a true history detective tell her tale! Should the 17 be snowed out, LaJoyce will deliver her talk on February 24th at the same time.

Schneider began his art training in Munich and later transferred to the Düsseldorf Academy, where he studied under Oswald Aschenbach from 1866 to 1868. In 1878 he moved to Dresden, and eventually settled in Blasewitz, where he frequently exhibited his landscape paintings. When he arrived in Milwaukee in 1885 to work for the American Panorama Company, Bernhard Schneider worked on producing eight enormous canvases that would travel throughout the United States for entertainment purposes.

When that industry concluded in 1889, Schneider moved to the little town of Cedarburg just north of Milwaukee. There he painted many large tranquil pastoral and Milwaukee River scenes. Even though he no longer lived in Milwaukee, he retained social and business ties with the Milwaukee art scene. He was a member of the Society of Milwaukee Artists later known as the Wisconsin Painters & Sculptors. Throughout his life, he remained a bachelor. He seldom exhibited his work and rarely sought self-promotion. His exquisite landscapes remain as some of the state's most obscure and underrated works of art. He painted in the German Academic style and later in the American Tonalist style. In 1942, there was an exhibition of his work in Milwaukee and recently three of his paintings were exhibited in an important centennial exhibition of Wisconsin art, consolidating his status as one of Wisconsin's best, but little-known painters.

Until a few years ago Christine LaJoyce and her two children lived in Cedarburg. One day she discovered a stack of 3" x 5" glass negatives. Not knowing exactly what they were or who they were by (but realizing they were a photographic negative of some sort), she had a friend make prints of them. Based upon clothing and buildings, Christine started doing some research on Cedarburg artists at the turn of the century as several images showed painters and a painting studio. Comparing images of people in the pictures to definitively identified people from Cedarburg, she determined that they were taken by Bernhard Schneider, who, as it turns out, was also an amateur photographer. This is a major revelation within Wisconsin art history and specifically the panorama painters.

The images in this show, developed from the negatives by local photographer Fuzzy Duenkel of Duenkel Portrait Art, have not been seen publicly for well over 100 years and show Schneider's friends, late 19th century Cedarburg, Milwaukee, the panorama painting studio where he worked, family gatherings, beach scenes, hunters and landscapes; in other words, his daily life. This will be the first ever exhibition of these rare images.

The Museum of Wisconsin Art (formerly the West Bend Art Museum) is America's newest regional art museum having the premier collection of Wisconsin art throughout the ages. Its Early Wisconsin Collection, 1830-1960, is the finest anywhere and the work of Milwaukee native and artist Carl von Marr, 1958-1936, is prominently displayed with The Flagellants (1889) at 14' x 26', listed as one of the must-see objectives in the state. Contemporary art is displayed primarily in its One from Wisconsin exhibition series which changes monthly. MWA was named #2 of the top 50 day trip destinations by Chicago Magazine in 2002; it is located in downtown West Bend at 300 South 6th Avenue. Open Wednesdays through Fridays, 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Sundays from 1:00-4:30 p.m. For more information, call 262-334-9638 or visit their website at www.wisconsinart.org.

An evening of Winter Jazz planned at UWWC

WEST BEND - A relaxing evening of Winter Jazz is being presented at UW-Washington County (UWWC) on Friday, February 8, beginning at 7:30pm. The concert features The Paul Spencer Band of Milwaukee. The concert will be held in the campus theatre at 400 University Drive.

The Sheppard Express described the band's music as "Great jazz with drive, sass and swing." Says band leader Paul Spender, "We don't play music that just rambles on. We like all of our music to be played in the groove."

Performing for the first time as a drummer in 1958, Paul Spencer's career has spanned more than four decades. His band, which began as a quartet, today contains a minimum of seven players - diverse in experience and age, come from a variety of musical backgrounds. Their music, which Paul describes as "R & B jazz," flows very dynamically and rhythmically.

The band's CDs include a 2003 recording, which was performed live from the Pabst Theatre in Milwaukee. In 2006, they recorded "Level Groove," featuring twelve original compositions by Steve Lewandowski, the band's guitar player. The band plays at various clubs throughout the Milwaukee area and has also played at Milwaukee's Jazz in the Park summer series.

Tickets for An Evening of Winter Jazz are just $12 for adults, and $9 for seniors (over 62) or youth (under 18). Free parking is available in the student lot. To purchase tickets, phone UW-WC at (262) 335-5208 during normal business hours (Monday through Friday from 8am to 4:30pm). Reservations are recommended. The University is located at 400 University Drive (off Hwy. 33 West) in West Bend.

Candlelight Ski/Hike

Break your winter cabin fever by journeying to the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit for the annual Candlelight Ski/Hike on the Zillmer Trails. The Zillmer Trails are located off of Hwy SS between Hwy 67 and Hwy G near New Prospect. The ski/hike will be held snow or no snow on Saturday, February 2, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The brown loop at Zillmer will be lighted by the soft glow of candle luminaries. If there is snow, the trail will be packed and groomed for cross-country skiing. This is a perfect trail for the whole family to ski with no sharp curves or steep hills. There will also be plenty of room for those who want to hike by candlelight through the beautiful dark winter woods.

Join fellow skiers and hikers at a roaring campfire to share its warmth. To further chase away the chills, enjoy a cup of hot cider and some cookies provided by the Friends of the Kettle Moraine.

A Wisconsin State Park System Vehicle Admission Sticker is required for this event. If you do not already have your 2008 State Park System Vehicle Admission Sticker, you may purchase one that night. Annual stickers are $25 and a daily pass is $7 for state residents. For further information, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center at (920) 533-8322. The center is open in the winter from Tuesday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The Beechwood School apparently will not have to wait until the 1983-84 budget to receive funding for its library. School Board Member Ralph Horner told the Board of Education at Monday night's meeting that, with the assistance of Business Manager Robert Borch, he has located the necessary money to implement the library program now. Horner, who has been pressuring the board to find funds in the 1982-83 budget, said he found $4,600 in the Capital Expenditures account which could cover the request. In spite of verbal concerns from Board Member John Tessar, Horner's motion to transfer the funds was approved by a 4-3 vote.

Robert Kirst has announced the change of his company name from Kewaskum Realty to Kirst Builders. He has become a Sales Associate for Wauwatosa Realty Company in West Bend. As Kirst Builders, he will handle Wausau Homes, Double Envelope Passive Solar Homes, Passive Solar Homes with celestial windows, Sun Rooms, Passive Solar Additions and Sunspaces.

Two incumbents in the race for supervisors in the Town of Farmington will have opposition from Clarence Steinert. Steinert, a retired employee of the West Bend Company, will run in an attempt to unseat either Carl Hauch or Eugene Laatsch in the April 5 voting for the two open supervisor positions.

Kewaskum High School art students Jeanne Murre, Lisa Gatzke and Maria Sworske currently have their art work on display at the Kewaskum Valley Bank.

Cathy Schlice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schlice of Kewaskum and Laurie Steiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steiner of rural Kewaskum, have been chosen as the Kiwanis students for the month of January.

A daughter, Gretchen Mary, was born to Dr. and Mrs. Steve Van Ess, Kewaskum, on January 9. A daughter was also born to Richard and Sandra McKee, Kewaskum, on January 7. Sons were born to William and Diane Stangl, Kewaskum, on January 9; to Roger and Kathleen Mertz, Allenton, on January 5, and to Gary and Deborah Naumann, Campbellsport, January 7.

A terrific explosion in the sludge storage tank at the Kewaskum sewage plant located just south of the village on the Kewaskum hill Tuesday afternoon blew off the thick concrete deck (or roof) of the large tank, shattered windows, broke a large window frame, damaged the sewage plant roof protruding out over the tank, twisted and broke a guard rail around the tank and caused other damages. The blast occurred between 3 and 3:15 p.m. and is believed to have been caused by an accumulation of gas in the sludge tank. (ED. NOTE: To say anymore would just diminish the whole intensity of the story, except to say we would assume grocery stores were forbidden to sell onion, garlic and sauerkraut until repairs were completed.)

More than 40 Kewaskum High School students and alumni have been informed that they have been chosen to appear on television on the "Dance Party" program on WITI-TV, Channel 6, Milwaukee at 4 p.m. this Saturday, January 11. This show consists of an hour of dancing and entertainment in which teenagers from different schools take part. The students who are attending are those who have taken ballroom dancing lessons from Mr. and Mrs. Ned Sengpiel during the past year. The Sengpiels will accompany the group as chaperones and a bus will be chartered for the trip. Group members who will participate on the TV program include the following partners: Glen Rimmel and Joyce Rohlinger, John Klahn and Gerry Guttman, Bob Becker and Pam Nolting, Ed St. Mary and Carole Schultz, Bob Berg and Sharon Harbeck, Bruce Muckerheide and Rosalie Ewert, Joe Klahn and Pat Edwards, Pat Muckerheide and Lyn Ann Rimmel, Jim Vetter and Nancy Fickler, Billy Boegel and Karen Gruhle, Dan Binder and Charleen Vetter, Dan Coulter and Sandy Gruhle, Tim Coulter and Duane Etta, Mark Rodenkirch and Gloria Schaefer, Ethan Etta and Joanne Kempf, Dave Opgenorth and

The Kewaskum Fire Department last week Thursday evening held their annual meeting and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Chief, Harry Schaefer; Assistant Chief, A.P. Schaeffer; Foreman, Henry Weddig; Secretary, John H. Martin; Treasurer, Val Peters; Inspection Committee, Clarence Kudek, Henry Knoebel and Lester Casper.

Rolland Baumann, 14, son of Wm. Baumann of the Town of Osceola last week killed a grass snake two and one-half feet long near Round Lake. Very seldom in mid-winter are snakes seen crawling around in this section of the country.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gruber was christened by Rev. Phillip J. Vogt on January 2. The daughter received the name of Mary Joyce.

The final two exchange students at Kewaskum High School are Carolin Bach from Gemmrigheim, Germany, and Thibault Foster from France.

Both agree that there are many differences here from their respective homes. "There is a lot of differences but I can't say them all," says Foster. He says the weather and all the snow in the winter is different. He also says the cars are bigger here than in France.

Compared to living with just her mother and brother back in Germany, Bach now lives with mom, dad and two siblings. Bach stated that there is better public transportation in Germany because they are not allowed to drive until they are 18.

They both are enjoying KHS and the people here. Bach says she likes being here because its not too big and the people are really nice. She also says, "The American teachers are way more helpful and friendly." Foster says its easy to be here for him because a lot of things he does here he can't do in France. He says it was difficult for him to get used to speaking to his and friends at home. Bach also misses her favorite sport, Ultimate Frisbee, and German food. When it is time for Bach to go home, she says she will miss the locker at school, her host family, having choir and band as classes and having a post office and hairdresser right across the street. Foster will miss his host family, his friends, and of course, Kewaskum.

When asked about her favorite thing, Bach stated, "There are so many things I like! But one of my favorite things about KHS is the school spirit. When asked the same question, Foster said he likes to see how people care about sports because he likes sports and that people here are very nice.

Bach is in honors band and the Beyond the Borders Club. She was also in the musical and participated in basketball. Foster was on the soccer team and is currently on the wrestling team.

host family. For Bach, it was easy to adjust to being here and the school schedule. "School is different, but you soon get used to going to your locker and actually opening it, or having lunch in school everyday," she says.

Bach and Foster both miss their families

Kiwanis Students of the Month

Kasey Bandy

Dan Dymond

Kasey Bandy and Dan Dymond were named Kiwanis Students of the Month for the month of January. Kasey is the daughter of Patti and Leif Gardner. Kasey has participated in the Key Club, Peers-4-Peers, German Partners Club, choir and student government, where she is the secretary. Last year Kasey was inducted into the National Honors Society. This past summer she traveled to Germany and took part in the German partnership exchange in the fall of 2006. This year, Kasey serves as a freshman mentor. She also has participated in golf for two seasons, and soccer for all four years, where she made varsity her junior year. In the fall Kasey plans on attending UW-Stevens Point to become a speech pathologist. Dan is the son of Linda and William Dymond. He has been an avid athlete at KHS, participating in football, track and field for all four years. In his junior year, Dan was team captain of the track team, selected as a Badger State Boy, and was nominated for Prom Court. This year he was inducted into the National Honors Society and is serving as a freshman mentor. Dan has also been an active member of Peers-4-Peers where he fulfills the role of secretary and treasurer. Outside of school he is involved in the county-wide group STAND (Students Taking Action Not Drugs) and Kewaskum Cares About Kids. This year he was honored with a statewide award for volunteerism from the Green Bay Packer Organization. In the fall, Dan plans on attending UW-LaCrosse to study pre-med.

WEST BEND- As high school bowling catches on across the state Kewaskum is beginning to settle into the strike pocket. The girls' varsity bowling team did just that at their best meet of the season on Tuesday, January 15 at King Pin Bowl.

In the middle of their season, the lady Indians hosted a meet where they defeated West Bend West and Campbellsport Junior Varsity. Courtney Meyer had a fill rate of 100% during the meet. Amanda Osswald leads the team with a fill percentage of 73.73%

"This was the best all three teams bowled so far this year. Hopefully, we can continue and win both our matches Monday at Campbellsport," said coach Art Marquardt.

According to Marquardt, high school teams bowl the Baker system. One bowler bowls the first and fifth frame, the second bowls the second and sixth and each bowler thereafter follows that progression. A match consists of five Baker games and two matches are bowled each meeting.

Bowling at the high school level is strictly a team sport, but individual statistics are also kept in the form of a fill percent average. The fill percent average is based on how many strikes and spares you have compared to open frames.

THANK YOU!

The Bookworm Sez
by Terri Schlichenmeyer
The Warmest Room in the House
By Steven Gdhula
Bloomsbury, $24.95 238 pages

So you say you had lots of people at your house during the holidays.

For days, you bust your tail making hors d'oeuvres, obsessed over the liquid libations list, and cleaned the house until the living room was lovely, family room was fabulous, and dining room dazzled.

And where did the guests congregate?

Yep, in the kitchen.

According to author Steven Gdhula, there's a reason for that. In the new book "The Warmest Room in the House", you'll eat up what he has to say.

If you were suddenly transported back a century in time, and you walked into the kitchen, you might barely recognize it. For one thing, cabinets didn't exist in the form you have in your kitchen now.

Instead, the room might've contained a "Hoosier", which stored manual cooking tools and flour, but it wasn't attached to the walls. If you had electricity, lights extended your meal-making time. Gas stoves were new-fangled and you'd be lucky to afford one. "Refrigerator" wasn't a common word.

Off to the side of the kitchen (or maybe in an earthen sub-room), you'd have found shelves of jeweled jars of food, usually "put up" by the woman of the house and whatever children she could coerce into helping. Food was mostly grown or raised nearby, if not at home.

This all was, of course, if the kitchen was even attached to the house itself. Making a hot meal during the summertime wasn't exactly something you wanted to do near the main living quarters before the advent of air conditioning.

But manufacturers and scientists were busy cooking up new ideas for American palates. In the Roaring Twenties pre-packaged foods were an appealing novelty and sugar was suddenly cheap, dramatically raising the consumption of candy and soft drinks. Two decades later, sugar (as well as meat and coffee) was rationed and everyone had a Victory Garden. By the mid-70s, dieting was big, we had cyclamates, and new appliances allowed latchkey children to have dinner ready by the time their working parents got home.

Know somebody who's hungry for a different kind of home-and-garden book? Then fork over "The Warmest Room in the House". Author Steven Gdhula has cooked up a tasty history of food and home, but what makes this most enjoyable is the way Gdhula wraps current events around the things Americans had on their plates.

Seeing a chaptered timeline of the products that landed on countertops over the past 100 years is enjoyable, too. A century ago, cooks didn't have pop-up toasters or Pop Tarts. Coffee and tea weren't sold in little bags. Meals could take hours to make and dishes were done by hand in the sink. Most meals were eaten at home because fast-food wasn't invented yet.

Be aware that there are no recipes in here, but that doesn't make this any less fun. If you're a foodie, a pop-culture historian, or if you'd love to bite into a good book about something unusual, "The Warmest Room in the House" is the book to serve up.

On Wisconsin Outdoors

With the Dick Ellis Experts

Spring loaded, winter ready...
New tip-up challenges market, anglers

The digital message on the downtown Milwaukee high rise whispered "5:54 am" and "minus 4" early Saturday morning as Dave Sura, Jason Guarkee and I fumbled in the dark with golden shiners, camera batteries and frozen fingers for a planned assault on Lake Michigan tributary browns. Surely, any audio greeting that might have accompanied the thermometer reading would have been a bit less subtle; "Hey, you three idiots down there... are you nuts? It's freezing...go home."

A new day was promising an appearance soon in the east as Sura and Guarkee ignored the elements...sort of... and went about their business of setting minnows and spawn sacs on the convergence of the Milwaukee and Menomonee Rivers. Heavy steam rose from the Lake Michigan veins and wandered above the current as warm water discharge far upstream tumbled down to meld with the cold. A jagged ice shelf painting that journey of warm water stretched toward aged and battered warehouse buildings across the Milwaukee that will soon become fashionable condominiums for the affluent few. Somewhere close beyond it all to the east sprawled the Big Lake. It was a surreal setting, and another reminder that Wisconsin's good fishing isn't always found in the lonely places.

Outdoor invitations for this story or that, from this place or that throughout Wisconsin earlier in the week had fallen with the temperatures. No one, it seemed, was ready to brave hurting cold and worse wind chill for the sake of a newspaper column. I needed an angler or two who bordered on the insane. I needed Guarkee and Sura.

"Oh, I'm going fishing Saturday morning for brown trout whether you come or not," said Guarkee, of Appleton. "We can meet at the bait shop before sunrise and drive to downtown Milwaukee together. I think Sura's is going to meet us too."

That meant a load of expertise in my corner and double trouble for the German Browns and the larger Seeforellen strain planted annually in Lake Michigan by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and readily accessible to shore anglers in particular from late fall through spring. Both are talented anglers found on the Wisconsin lakes and streams virtually every week of the year regardless of conditions.

They know the "spots" north and south where Lake Michigan tends to be most generous throughout the year. And they know just how to push the odds in their favor to pull fish from the water.

"The main reason these browns are here is the water temperature and the food," Guarkee said. "The warm water used to heat the Greater Downtown Milwaukee area is discharged upstream maybe one-half mile on the Menomonee. The water temperature upstream is probably 70 degrees but I've seen it as high as 82 degrees. That draws in the gizzard shad but it's too warm to sustain browns."

The water cools as it flows downstream. The "absolute trick," Guarkee said, is to find and fish the water temperature tolerable to both the gizzard shad baitfish drawn to the warmer water and the pursuing predator browns drawn to the cold. This Menomonee-Milwaukee merger often referred to by the old timers as "Two Rivers" also often means the perfect temperatures for productive fishing.

"The last time my Dad and I fished here when it was this cold was a Super Bowl Sunday," Guarkee said. "We just killed the brown trout, including an 18 pounder."

Sura and Guarkee expected another tributary trick to play a role in the morning's success. Like other big rivers, the current on the Menomonee and Milwaukee occasionally reverses direction, initiating change similar to a wing-dam effect except that the entire river reverses. The change they said, often initiates strikes.

"Only bigger rivers do it," Sura said. "It's like a tide. But the Root River (Racine) does it every 20 minutes. Here it's about every 45 minutes."

Of the 10 strikes played out over four hours of fishing, and five browns landed between four and five pounds, almost all came immediately with a reverse in current. It was the frigid five for the frigid few crazy enough to be out.

"I don't think those fish can help taking the bait when it stops right in front of them as the water reverses," Sura said, noting his opinion that perhaps 1,000 browns and tens of thousands of gizzard shad were packed into this water offering the perfect temperatures. "They just have to hit it."

It was the coldest of mornings on another Wisconsin fishery. And the action, was just hot enough.

Win streak comes to an end against top notch competition

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Sure, coach Dennis Aupperle could have taken his Kewaskum High wrestling team back to the Waupun Invitational Saturday, and the Indians would have been in line to win the event for the third time in a row.

Still, would it help the Indians later on in the state tournament series? That was the question Aupperle faced in compiling this year's schedule, and he decided going to the 16-team Zelinski Dual Meet Tournament at Whitnall High would be a lot more advantageous down the road.

The Indians started off well enough, defeating Middleton by a score of 39-36 and then knocking off a very good Whitnall team 41-27, but moving into the next rounds, against a couple of very strong Division 1 team, was a whole lot tougher.

The combination of the level of the competition and the Indians' youth took a bit of a toll in those latter matches, with the Indians losing to No. 10-rated Stoughton, 53-18, and then to the eventual champion, Pulaski, 60-9.

In the final round, with many of the freshmen and sophomores pretty well spent, Kewaskum fell to Hartford, 45-23.

"There is some outstanding competition there," Aupperle said Sunday about the meet at Whitnall where the Indians fell from the unbeaten ranks after rolling up 14 straight dual meet wins.

"We beat a good Whitnall team that had a 22-3 record," Aupperle said, going on to report only four Indians went on to win their matches in the competition against Stoughton. P.J. Krueger (at 215) and Bo Seibel (125) pinned their opponents, according to the coach, who said Rob Maertz (119) and Ray Wollner (152).

It was even tougher against Pulaski, and in that match, "Matt Buker and Cody Seibel were our only winners," Aupperle said, noting the Red Raiders are ranked

No. 8 in the state among the Division 1 teams.

"These two teams (Stoughton and Pulaski) are real solid ... never gave anything up," Aupperle said, adding in the match against Hartford, "We were in it for a while, only down by three points with four matches left."

For the day, Wollner was the only KHS wrestler to come away with a perfect record. He was 3-0 before sitting out the final two matches, according to Aupperle, who did not go into details why the junior Wollner did not wrestle against Pulaski or Hartford.

Krueger, who is having an outstanding season, finished 4-1, while Cody Seibel was 3-2 against some "good ranked Division one and Division two kids," according to Aupperle, who reported Cody Kerr (at 160), Maertz and Jared Koffke (103) all were 3-2.

"The kids fought hard. it was a very long day mentally ... great preparation for the end of the year," Aupperle said, referring the state tournament series, which gets under way on Saturday, Feb. 9th when the Indians host a Division 2 regional tournament.

More mat success for KIWC

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Members of the Kewaskum Indian Wrestling Club traveled in all directions the past weekend to enter competitions at Hartford, Portage and Campbellsport, and the results were quite impressive.

At Hartford on Saturday, the young Indians came away with one title and three second places, and at Campbellsport on Sunday, 47 Indian wrestlers battled hard to bring home eight championships and 13 seconds.

Coach Tim Hardy was pleased with the turnout and, in the majority of cases, the efforts the Indians turned in.

The champions at Campbellsport included: 7th and 8th graders — Mike Bier, Tim Simmons and Derek Aupperle; 5th-6th grade — Joey Seitz; 3rd-4th grade — Michael Boettcher; and Kindergarten through 2nd grade — Eric Bauer, Brent Goeden and Jacob Heberer.

Out of this group, two wrestlers, Goeden and Simmons, both pinned all three of their opponents, while Bier and Bauer each posted two pins, and the rest all had one.

Bier, Goeden and Bauer also won titles at the Kewaskum Indian Wrestling Club's tournament last weekend.

Taking seconds were: 7-8th — Austin Goeden (1 pin), Andy Doll (2); 5-6th — Kurt Luedtke (2), L.J. Pinchard (1), 3-4th — Alex Phillips (2), Sean Bruss (2), Zach Heisler (2), Danny Seitz; and K-2nd — Keegan Gruss, Kyle Bath, Luke Bindrich, Max Derosier and Kelsey Muckerheide (1).

Those finishing third included: 7-8th — Logan Dreher, Sawyer Buck (1 pin) and Tyler Laufer (1), 5-6th — Max Hardy, Derek Voigt, Ryan Easterson, Max Maertz (1), Max Vetter (1), Travis Trapp; 3-4 Jared Dexter (1) and Brandon Wade (1); and K-2 — Caleb Reif, Adam Bruss and Kannon Muckerheide.

Nick Bier was in a five-man bracket and won one match, which put him in fourth place. He had one pin.

In the annual Hartford invite, Maertz was the only Kewaskum representative to take first place. He had a pair of pins in winning his title.

Bauer (2 pins), Wade and Luedtke (2) all finished in second place while Eric Doll (1), Andy Doll (1), Dakota Peters Lawrenz (3rd-4th) and Garrett Buth (5th-6th) took thirds.

At Portage, the lone Kewaskum wrestler, Logan Dreher, placed third in the 7th-8th division.

Indians now have upper hand

Kewaskum's Rob Maertz attempts to bring down his opponent, Campbellsport's Ryan Lindsley. The Indians once again defeated the Campbellsport Cougars before a huge crowd on Thursday, January 18.

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

There was a time when wrestlers from Kewaskum High would fear going up against Campbellsport, but oh how times have changed.

In last Thursday's annual battle between the two Eastern Wisconsin Conference clubs, the young Indians were aggressive and technically sound in handing the Cougars a 42-21 whipping.

The win was Kewaskum's sixth straight in EWC action and 12th overall of the season.

When asked how many times in a row the Indians have beaten Campbellsport, coach Dennis Aupperle said, "I want to say four," then looking up at the championship banners in the KHS Field house, that statement was confirmed because the streak started the year the Indians won the dual meet title, 2005.

Kewaskum won nine of the 14 matches and started out with a 19-0 lead before CHS got its first win.

"Our lower weights wrestled well," Aupperle said, lauding the efforts of Jared Koffke at 103 pounds, Steve Kudek at 112, Robbie Maertz at 119 and Bo Seibel at 125. Kudek is a sophomore, while all the rest are freshmen.

The draw put the two 112s on the mat first, and Kudek got a second period pin, then Maertz followed with a major decision and that brought out Seibel and the Cougars' Tom Beck for one of the headliner matchups of the night.

Seibel led by one at the end of the first period, then Beck tied the score at 7-all with an escape early in the second. From then on, it was pretty much all Seibel. He got a takedown with 1:00 to go, then added a pair of near falls for a 14-7 advantage.

After escaping early in the third period, Seibel successfully worked a throw to a pinning move, ending the match in 4:32.

"Bo wrestled him tough," Aupperle said. "Tommy's a decent kid, too."

While not overpowering, Caleb Olla was definitely in control in his match with Derrick Sippel at 130, using a pair of takedowns, an escape and some solid riding toward a 5-0 victory.

Codi Wilch broke the Indians' string of wins, with a quickie pin over freshman Tyler Schultz. It took Wilch just 19 seconds to get the fastest pin of the evening and propel the Cougars to a run of their own.

Nathan Seitz has two years of varsity experience on Payden Salm of Campbellsport, but the freshman, Salm, used a double leg takedown-near fall combination for a 4-0 lead he would never relinquish. Two more takedowns put Salm ahead 8-3 at the end of two periods, then after Seitz worked for a takedown, Salm reversed him and put him to his back for a pin in 5:27.

Campbellsport had another Salm at 145, Mason, a senior, who had his hands full trying to outpoint freshman Cole Roberts. Roberts led 2-0 early, then the match was tied at 2-2 by the end of the period followed by a scoreless second period.

In between time stoppages for Salm's bloody nose, the Cougar went up 4-2, but Roberts used a reversal and near-fall for a 6-4 advantage with :53 left in the match.

Unfortunately the young Indian could not hang on, being called for a penalty point with :32 to go and Salm earning the winning points with a switch with 26 seconds to go.

"Cole did a great job. He should have won that match. He kept scrapping the whole time," the coach said.

Now the Cougars were back in the match, down just 19-15, but the Indians' Ray Wollner responded with a 6-2 decision that was huge.

"Ray beat a good kid ... Wes Bengal," Aupperle said. "In fact, last week, I think he (Bengal) beat a kid from Kiel who went to state last year."

The rest of the way, the Indians were pretty dominant, winning the final four out of six matches, including pins by Codi Seibel and Tyler Swanson at 171 and 275.

Matt Buker looked like dynamite at 189, beating Zach Wetzel 10-1. "If he'd wrestle like that every night, he'd be tough to beat," Aupperle said about the junior Buker.

People waited the entire night for the match at 215 where the Indians' P.J. Krueger, who came in with just two losses on the season, was going up against Billy Mayer, who finished second in state at 189 last season.

Mayer was better on his feet on this night, using a pair of takedowns and some strong riding toward a 7-2 victory.

"He (Krueger) has been nervous. It's understandable," Aupperle said. "Billy's rated Number one, and he's Number two. Billy's a tough kid. P.J. wrestled a good match, but Billy's a brute ... They'll see each other in two weeks (EWC Tournament) and three weeks (regional) and four weeks (sectional). "They're going to get to know each other."

"I tired at the end and made one mistake," Krueger said, promising to do better the next time around. "I'm going to start working a lot harder ... and better my attack from standing up."

The win put the Indians in position to win the EWC title, if they could beat Sheboygan Falls on Tuesday (Jan. 22).

KEWASKUM 42 CAMPBELLSPORT 21

112 Steve Kudek pinned Chet Floyd, 3:12; 119 Rob Maertz won by major decision over Ryan Lindsley, 9-1; 125 Bo Seibel pinned Tom Beck, 4:32; 130 Caleb Olla dec. Derek Sippel, 5-0; 135 Tyler Schultz was pinned by Codi Wilch, :19; 140 Nathan Seitz was pinned by Payden Salm, 5:21; 145 Cole Roberts lost to Mason Salm, 6-7; 152 Ray Wollner dec. Wes Bengal, 6-2; 160 Cody Kerr lost to James Hawley, 2-6; 171 Codi Seibel pinned Jared Lindsley, 3:22; 189 Matt Buker won by major decision 10-1; 215 PJ Krueger lost to Billy Mayer, 2-7; 275 Tyler Swanson pinned Eric Gonwa, 2:32; 103 Jared Koffke won by major decision over Parker Peterson, 12-0. All Kewaskum wrestlers listed first.

Writer's note: It didn't take long to figure the Indians decided to do something special for the match, with all but one of them sporting "Mohawk" haircuts.

One of the main culprits in the snipping caper was sophomore Cody Seibel. "We just pretty much said we were going to do it, and did it," Seibel said, reporting most of them went to one of the varsity wrestler's houses on Wednesday, complete with sheers in hand. "It just pumped us up. We were prepared for the match."

Once on the mat, the older of the Seibel brothers used his famous legride to a "Turk" to pin Jared Lindsley. "It's pretty much my favorite move," Seibel said.

KYB Results

The 3rd/4th grade boy's basketball team continued their hot streak with another convincing home victory. The Indians beat Oakfield 18-10. Leading the defense was Parker Hughes, Sean Murray and Gavin Schreier. As they have nearly all season, the offense was led by Michael Prochnow and Charlie Whitek, who did an excellent job getting offensive rebounds and putting them back up for basket.

The 5th grade boy's team showed improvement but fell to Oakfield by three points. Dean Schlice and Jake Neuenfeld led the Indians.

The 3rd/4th grade girl's white team lost to a tough Oakfield team. Molly Schulteis, Mikayla Dogs, Breana Trepes and Haley Kleinhans led the Indians.

The 5th grade girl's team had two games over the weekend. In the first game, the Indians trailed Lomira the entire game until the final seconds. Elizabeth Bohn stole the ball with about 30 seconds remaining and scored to tie the game. Then, Kewaskum stole the ball again thanks to a great team effort and Lindsay Winkler scored the winning basket. The final score was 18-16. In the second game for the 5th graders, the Indians beat Eden 26-18. Ana Gerhartz showed great defensive effort and added two points. The 6th grade girl's team lost to North Fondy. Brittany Peterson and Carly Reif led the Indians.

Boys unable to play four full quarters

Kewaskum's Brandon Conroy (23) takes a shot in the Indians' game against Plymouth last Friday. Conroy was the leading scorer for the Indians with nine points.

The Kewaskum Indians boy's basketball team hosted the strong Plymouth Panthers team on Friday, January 18.

The boys did start the game close and played extremely well in the second quarter, but already faced too tall of a deficit to bring the Indians close. The Indians lost 70-27.

They did have some highlights with Brandon Conroy scoring 9 points and Senior John Holt scoring 6 points. Brian Backhaus and Travis Williams each scored three points.

The Indians next play Thursday, January 24 at Waupun, who is in the top 10 in the state rankings. It is hoped that if enough fans make the trip to Waupun to support and cheer on the Indians, there will be a chance of the Indians making the huge upset. They also play on Tuesday, January 29 at Sheboygan Falls.

Coach Bobby Bannasch was not available for comment.

Offer ends 1/31/08 and is available in the continental United States for new, first-time DISH Network residential customers. All prices, packages and programming subject to change without notice. Local and state sales taxes may apply. Where applicable, equipment rental fees and programming are taxed separately. All DISH Network programming, and any other services that are provided, are subject to the terms and conditions of the promotional agreement and Residential Customer Agreement, available at www.dishnetwork.com or upon request. Social Security Numbers are used to obtain credit scores and will not be released to third parties except for verification and collection purposes only or if required by governmental authorities. All service marks and trademarks belong to their respective owners. HBO® and Cinemax® are service marks of Home Box Office, Inc.

Digital Home Advantage: Pay $49.99 Activation Fee; receive $49.99 credit on first bill with 18-month qualifying programming purchase (minimum of DishFAMILY). Restrictions apply, including credit approval and monthly fees for additional receivers. Early cancellation fee applies. DISH Network retains ownership of equipment. Limit 4 tuners per account. HD programming requires HD receiver and HD television (sold separately). Customer must subscribe to qualifying HD programming or a $6.00/mo. HD Enabling fee will apply. Lease upgrade fee may apply for a second DVR receiver (based on model). DishDVR Advantage: Customer must be eligible for local channels. Discounted price applies unless customer downgrades from qualifying programming or removes qualifying dual-tuner DVR from account. Then current prices will apply for all programming and equipment fees.

Programming offers: require participation in Digital Home Advantage with 18-month commitment. After 6 free months of DishHD, customer must call to downgrade DishHD programming ($6.00/mo HD Enabling fee will apply) or then-current price will apply. DishHD requires additional subscription to qualifying programming. Monthly credit will not include additional programming. After 3 free months of HBO and Cinemax, customer must call to downgrade or then-current price will apply.
