Village to meet with former President Heiser for Administrator position

By Andrew Kuehl
 Statesman Publisher

KEWASKUM- President Andy Pesch oversaw his first official Village Board meeting Monday, May 5. Pesch and officials quickly took to task the replacement of Pesch's now vacant trustee seat and to possibly hire the individual he replaced.

In regards to Pesch's vacant Trustee seat, that now carries a one-year term and pays a $600 salary, Trustees decided they would request letters of interest from village residents to fill the seat. Letters need to be submitted by the close of business on May 30, Trustees will then review them at the June 2 meeting.

A Village Trustee attends meetings twice a month and any special or committee meeting called. Trustees also must chair a committee of the village such as Library Board or Park and Recreation, among others. After Pesch's term expires, the new Trustee would need to be elected to continue in the position. Clerk Stephanie Justmann can answer questions on specifics of the position.

Trustees went on to discuss the process for filling the soon to be vacant Village Administrator position. Jay Shambeau announced last month that he would leave June 6 for a position as Administrator of Calumet County.

Following the same procedure they did a little over two years ago was not an option for Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, who stated, "I found it (the process) nauseating." Trustee Derek Peterson shared the idea.

Pesch reminded the board that former Village President Matt Heiser expressed interest in the job. Peterson thought the board should interview Heiser and if he is found unqualified, then move on to advertising for candidates. "I don't want to go through some charade when we have someone who is serious about it. I don't want this to be the Dick Cheney approach to finding a qualified person for this position. If you advertise for someone with experience and you end up hiring your village president anyway that is going to create more problems for this board down the road," Peterson remarked.

Peterson went on to say, "Matt Heiser has been a big proponent for the village, he is qualified and has a history." He also explained that he wanted to be able to hire a candidate before Shambeau left the village.

Looking more at Heiser's experience and faithful service to the village,

Statesman will organize Village Rummage Sale

By Andrew Kuehl
 Statesman Publisher

KEWASKUM- It's time to get the garage clean and ready to open as a second-hand store. The village will become a mecca for those in search of bargains on Saturday, May 24 starting at 8 a.m.

The parameters of this year's event will be the same with the exception of those living outside the village will be able to set up inside or outside the Village Municipal Annex Building. Statesman Publications will again print a special section in the newspaper the week before the event with local merchant's specials and a map and listing of all the garage sales. A tri-fold brochure with a map will be available the day before the event at local businesses.

Those interested in setting up at the Municipal Annex Building should contact Statesman Publications at (262) 626-2626. Spaces will roughly be 10' by 10', outdoors will be $15 and indoors will be $25. Limited spaces inside will be allowed electricity. Statesman Publications reserves the right to refuse booth space to anyone.

Any service groups that wish to hold fundraisers the day of the event should contact Nicole at Statesman Publications so the fundraiser can be promoted.

Habitat for Humanity begins new build in village

Habitat for Humanity of Washington County held their kickoff to build a new home in the village in partnership with Thrivent Financial for Lutherans on Saturday, May 3. Shown above is Habitat for Humanity's local executive director, Russ Wanta addressing those in attendance.

Volunteer workers quickly took to task at the build at Stark and Glacial Drive in the village on Saturday after a kickoff celebration. Land for the home was economically purchased from former Village Administrator Dan Schmidt and his wife Phyllis. Habitat for Humanity of Washington County is having a Great Landscape Giveaway. One lucky winner will receive a professionally designed and installed 400 square foot Belgard Paver patio including plants valued at $10,000. Tickets are $20 each, 3 for $50 or 6 for $100 and only 1,250 tickets will be sold. Extra Mile Landscaping will design and install the patio. Habitat is very grateful to Extra Mile Landscaping for providing them with this opportunity to raise funds for the home Habitat is building at 703 Glacial Lane in Kewaskum. Additional sponsors are Belgard Hardscapes and McKay Nursery. Tickets are available at the Habitat office, 1051 Fond du Lac Ave, Kewaskum, The Sign Shop, Barton Small Engine, Bend Industries, and Habitat's ReStore at 325 Chestnut Street in West Bend or call (262) 626-4625 for more information. Tickets are $20 each, 3 for $50 or 6 for $100. One winner will be selected and must live in Washington County.

Women's Build planned for Saturday

On Sunday, mothers across the country will be honored for their timeless sacrifice for others. The day before, Habitat for Humanity of Washington County will celebrate this by hosting what they dub a "Women's Build" on Saturday, May 10 from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Habitat calls women from all walks of life and all skill levels to join other women volunteers to man the tools and building materials at the local Habitat home, 703 Glacial Lane in Kewaskum.

Thousands of women volunteers have participated in Habitat for Humanity's Women Build program over the years, proving that laying bricks, pounding nails and raising walls to build a house are skills not exclusively for men.

Women Build Week celebrates the compassion, dedication, talents and abilities of women from all walks of life.

More than 12 million U.S. children live in poverty, and the week leading up to Mother's Day provides a wonderful opportunity to showcase the accomplishments of Habitat's women volunteers, as well as to invite new volunteers to help partner families and transform communities. Supporting Women Build and other Habitat projects gives everyone a chance to provide people with the resources they need to improve their homes and lives.

Men aren't excluded, but we're focusing on women this week, encouraging women to volunteer for Habitat builds in their areas. Many affiliates are hosting single-day Women Build sites in recognition of National Women Build Week.

Contact Habitat at 262-626-4625 and let them know you will be there on Saturday to help change the lives of a family in need in Washington County.

Derge runs with less than ideal weather

Over 300 bikers, walkers and runners joined in to support the Ben Derge Run Walk on Saturday, April 26. The 35 mile bike route had to be changed to only 12 miles after the wind knocked trees down on the route. Walkers and runners on the Eisenbahn trail didn't seem to have any problems with the strong winds Saturday. People came from Oshkosh to Oak Creek, Mount Horb to Grafton. There was a large team that came from Waukesha from the Hope Foundation team. Proceeds from the event went to The Ben Derge Gridiron Fund, which was in return donated to the Kewaskum High School Fitness center and the Deanna Favre foundation. Donations may still be sent to: Ben Derge Run/Walk, PO Box 346, Kewaskum, WI 53040 until the end of May.

American Legion Poppy Days May 16-17

The Memorial Poppy of the American Legion and Auxiliary is a visible expression of the gratitude of all Americans who fought to protect the principles upon which our country was founded.

While Poppy Day is celebrated once a year, it is a year-round program. The funds collected are used for the benefit of the veterans everyday, not just one day.

The Poppy is made carefully, by hand, by the veterans. For many it is physical therapy. For the public, it is a person to person reminder that millions have died so that we might live in peace in America. Money collected goes to the veterans.

On Friday, May 16 and Saturday, May 17, look for members of the Robert G. Romaine Post 384 and Auxiliary Unit 384 distributing red poppies at various businesses in Kewaskum.

Please consider and respect our veterans and contribute and proudly wear a Poppy on Poppy Day this year.

Village to meet

Trustees agreed that finding someone who does not have experience here could set the village back, especially on village planning and the Tax Incremental Finance District.

After more discussion between Peterson and Schuenemann, Pesch agreed to the idea of meeting with Heiser for an initial interview to gauge his abilities and see if he might be a fit for the job. Trustees will hold a closed session interview with Heiser on Monday, May 12.

In a later interview Heiser confirmed the meeting with the trustees. He stated his interest in the position was simple, "Serving on the board, I learned the reward of public service. This is a way for me to receive that reward daily."

Heiser and his family have been village residents for the last 11 years. He served as a trustee for three years before accepting the position as Village President after the resignation of John Kenworthy. As President he served for five years.

Heiser is an honors undergraduate in economics and has completed his course work for a master's degree in history. He is currently employed in the Information Technologies Department at Froedtert and Community Health in Milwaukee.

Currently Shambeau receives an annual salary of $79,000. It is unknown what the starting salary will be for the new administrator.

Scott Community Center gets another face lift by volunteers

Keegan McMullen, 8, removes millboard in ladies room during a volunteer project at the town of Scott Community Center. A number of town residents and businesses pitched in to make 21st century renovations to the Community Center.

Submitted photo

TOWN OF SCOTT- Another major improvement project has been completed at the township's Community Center, formerly The Hilltop. Generous donors and hardworking volunteers recently completed renovation of both the men's and ladies' bathrooms in the upper hall.

This is right on the heels of the adjoining hallway renovation project completed in December, also by donors and volunteers.

"It's incredible the support for the Community Center we continued to find during planning and completion of this project," said Sarah McMullen, project coordinator. "Each business and individual I approached was very willing to help, and seemed glad they were asked to participate. It was wonderful to see."

In January 2007, Town of Scott residents came in record numbers to a special meeting of electors to support the Town's retaining the building after it was purchased for $1.00 from the Batavia Fire Department. Supervisors at that time questioned the need for the building and its costs, but citizens, even some from outside the township, reminded supervisors, and each other, what an important asset the property was to the community.

The electors eventually voted to keep the building and challenged citizens to take up some of the improvements needed to restore it. A volunteer list was generated that very night and improvement projects have been going on ever since.

The property, which includes the Community Center building and the adjoining baseball diamond and park, is located at the south entrance to Batavia on Highway 28. It serves several non-profit community groups such as the Scott Pioneers 4-H Club, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Batavia Recreation Club and the Batavia Fire Department and First Responders. In addition, it provides important meeting and event space for a nominal rental fee.

Featuring a full kitchen in the lower level and a wood-floor dance hall and bar in the upper level, it is a versatile and functional space able to accommodate even large events.

The upstairs bathrooms didn't just get a fresh coat of paint. Rather, quickly and carefully, volunteers Todd Shaver, Gary Depies, Mark McMullen and Brian Zettler emptied both spaces to the bare walls and floors, leaving only the tile floors and men's room urinals in place. Usable materials removed were donated to the local Boy Scouts.

Contractor, Rob Chmielewski, stepped forward again and donated both his time and materials to cover painted concrete block walls with textured drywall, as well as making repairs to the existing drywall. Debbie and Amy Kurth and Sarah McMullen painted the space a nice soft white.

All plumbing repairs and installations, including five lavatory sinks and faucets and four toilets were donated by Eberhardt Plumbing and Heating. Kohler Company generously donated the majority of the fixtures for the project, while McMullen purchased the remainder at the annual associate sale for a reduced price.

Tile for both bathrooms was donated by 21st Century Tile at the request of Todd Shaver of Todd's Tile & Flooring LLC. Shaver donated his time and other materials needed to put clean white base tile around the perimeter of both rooms, and to design and install retro-style walls of black and white tile in the men's room, to complement the Kohler gloss black sinks.

New, custom-fit countertops in both rooms were donated and installed by Tim Schmitz, owner of The Counter Point Corporation in Random Lake.

Perfect additions to both rooms were new crown moulding and mirrors. The ladies room sports oak accents while the men's room continues its black and white theme with gloss-black trim painted by Barb Laux.

The project team creatively re-used the bathroom stall doors and dividers, rather than buying new ones. "When our original plan of powder-coating the doors fell through because the doors didn't have welded seams, I didn't know what we were going to do," said McMullen. "But when I called David Eggert of TNT Auto Body midway through the project schedule, he not only helped us locate a resource for media blasting the old paint from the doors, he donated use of his shop and staff to help with repairs and painting."

R-M Dri-Stripping donated a portion of the media blasting and Bob Geiser and Mark McMullen assisted with body-filling some of the dents resulting from years of use. TNT then color-matched the doors to the sinks in the room, painting the men's room doors gloss black and the ladies room doors a rich ember-red.

LaFever Electric, a long-time supporter of the Community Center, stepped up once again to donate and install new heaters, updated switches and outlets in both spaces, and a new, energy-efficient motion-sensitive light in the men's room.

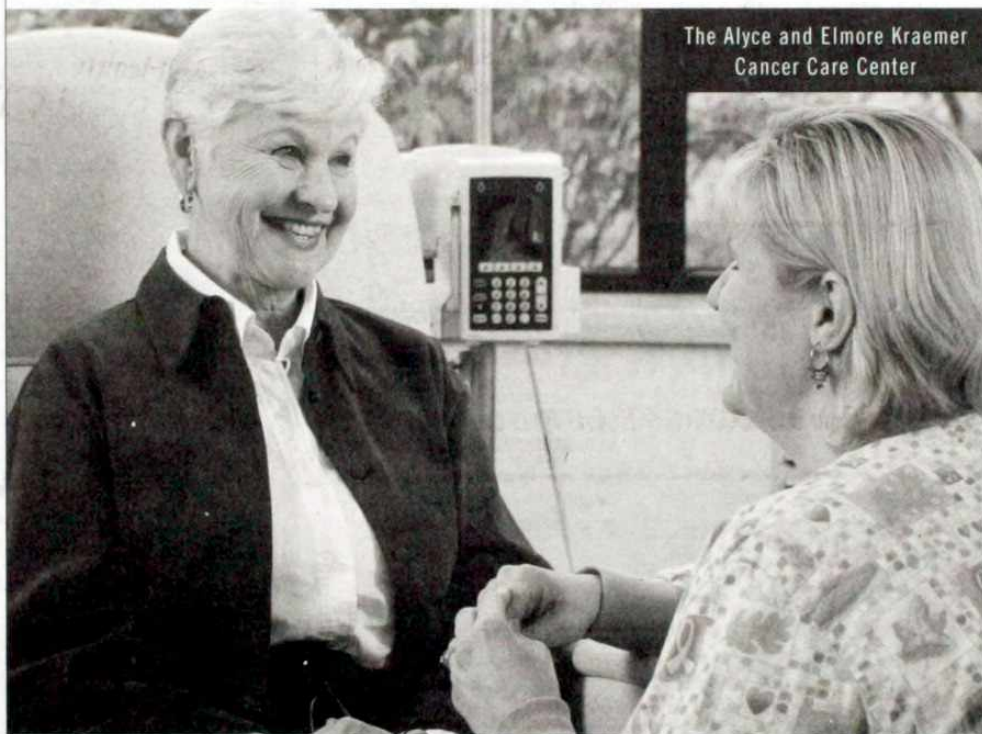

Along with the interior renovations in the bathrooms, volunteers Mark McMullen, Chmielewski and Rob Reysen, chose to replace the bathroom and hall closet doors as well. Donating his time and talent to get the doors stained and finished in time for installation was Ron Kuhfuss, owner of Doors Only Prefinishing Shop. Trim moulding finishing was completed by volunteers Alan Kelling and Kim Jacob gave the hallway a fresh coat of paint. Andrew Haugen, Travis Shaver and Louis and Michelle Densow assisted with final cleanup.

"There was just one thing missing," said McMullen, "and Rusticraft Company generously donated just what we needed - framed artwork."

For information about renting the hall or about volunteering to help with future projects, call Scholz at 262-692-3678 or attend the next Community Center Committee meeting, held the first Thursday of every month inside the Center, at 7 p.m.

WB Clinic - East to offer free skin cancer screenings May 17

SynergyHealth West Bend Clinic - East will be offering free skin cancer screenings on Saturday, May 17, 2008 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at SynergyHealth West Bend Clinic - East, 1190 E. Paradise Drive in West Bend.

Skin cancer is the most common form of cancer in the United States, affecting 1 in 5 Americans, and more than 1 million new cases are diagnosed each year. Of these cases, more than 116,500 are melanoma, which claims 8,420 lives each year.

"Everyone - young, old, fair-skinned, dark-skinned - needs to be careful before spending time in the sun," said Gary Rosenmeier, M.D., Dermatologist at West Bend Clinic-East. "We encourage everyone to conduct regular skin self-examinations, use sunscreen, wear protective clothing, avoid peak sun hours and practice other sun-safe behaviors."

Dr. Rosenmeier will conduct the screenings. Advance registration is required, as space is limited. To register call 262-365-6117.

Routine screening is very important for the early diagnosis and treatment of skin cancer. When detected in the early stages, skin cancer is highly curable. Skin self-examinations consist of regularly looking over the entire body, including the back, scalp, soles of feet, toes and on the palms of the hands. If there are any changes in the size, color, shape or texture of a mole, the development of a new mole, or any other unusual changes in the skin, you should see your dermatologist immediately.

The American Academy of Dermatology recommends that everyone Be Sun Smart. Here's how to do it:

Generously apply sunscreen with a Sun Protection Factor (SPF) of at least 15 that provides broad-spectrum protection from both ultraviolet A (UVA) and ultraviolet B (UVB) rays. Re-apply every two hours, even on cloudy days, and after swimming or sweating;

Wear protective clothing, such as a long-sleeved shirt, pants, a wide-brimmed hat and sunglasses, where possible;

Seek shade when appropriate, remembering that the sun's rays are strongest between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.;

Get vitamin D safely through a healthy diet that includes vitamin supplements. Don't seek the sun.

Avoid tanning beds. Ultraviolet light from the sun and tanning beds causes skin cancer and wrinkling. If you want to look like you've been in the sun, consider using a sunless self-tanning product, but use sunscreen with it;

SynergyHealth (www.synergyhealth.org) is a regional health system serving the greater Washington County community. YMCA Camp Matawa offers new day camp program

Camp Matawa has expanded its summer camp opportunities to a new group of campers in 2008. In addition to the traditional resident camp program, Matawa will now be opening its doors to campers for summer day camp. Day campers will be able to choose the activities that they want to participate in throughout the day such as canoeing, rock climbing, arts and crafts and archery. They will also spend time taking part in large group games and team-building activities.

"Given the positive response to our Resident Camp program, Day Camp was a natural addition for Camp Matawa. Our outstanding staff and quality programs provide a great base for day camp and we are especially excited to offer a new opportunity to our local community," said Jen Feltz, Executive Director of Camp Matawa.

Camp Matawa's camping programs instill positive values such as caring, respect, honesty and responsibility - values that help young people make positive choices for a healthy, contributing adulthood. Day camp provides an outstanding opportunity for campers to make new friends and learn new skills that safely encourage positive growth and can be a lot of fun for campers.

Day Camp sessions will be offered for six weeks this summer to all children ages 7-12. The camp day will run from 7:45 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. 2008 sessions are as follows:

- Session 2 - July 7-11
- Session 3 - July 14-18
- Session 4 - July 21-25
- Session 5 - July 28-August 1
- Session 6 - August 4-8
- Session 7 - August 11-15

Camp Matawa is proud to be accredited by the American Camping Association having demonstrated compliance with more than 300 individual health, safety, and program quality standards.

YMCA Camp Matawa builds strong kids, strong families, and strong communities. As a year round camp and conference center, YMCA Camp Matawa offers the experience of summer camp, outdoor education, adventure activities and group camping programs for children and adults from all backgrounds and abilities. Supporting our belief that every child deserves the camp experience, YMCA Camp Matawa provides over $82,000 in camperships each year, thanks in part to contributions made to the Strong Kids Campaign. For more information, please call 262-626-2149 or visit Matawa.org.

Heritage House to host Wedding Memories

WEST BEND - Visit Heritage House at Cedar Community on Sunday, May 18, from 2 to 4 p.m. for "Wedding Memories of the Past." Guests will enjoy wedding attire of the past, along with an assortment of old wedding photos, hats, canes and pipes. Wedding cake and punch will be served. Tours of Heritage House will also be provided. This event is free and open to the public.

Set on Cedar Community's 245-acre Cedar Lake campus above Big Cedar Lake, Heritage House is the former homestead of Cedar Community's original benefactor, William Koehl, and was built in 1865. Visitors relive history, playing an 1884 pump organ in the parlor, learning about pumping cistern water, using homemade soap to hand-wash and line-dry laundry, listen to a crank telephone and work a Victrola.

Heritage House hosts public events such as ice cream socials, re-enactments, holiday open houses, demonstrations, tastings and speakers throughout the year.

Cedar Community is a not-for-profit, church-affiliated leader in creating relationships, services and environments to enhance the well-being of seniors and their families. Its facilities are located on five campuses in Washington and Sheboygan counties. Cedar Community is proud to provide a continuum of care including independent and assisted living, skilled nursing care, rehabilitation, hospice, memory loss services, subacute and home care. For more information visit their website at www.cedarcommunity.org.

Give Dad a clue on Mother's Day

(Family Features) Dad, want a lovely way to surprise Mom on Mother's Day? You and the kids bake her a batch of blueberry muffins for breakfast in bed.

Here's the set-up: First, let Mom sleep in on Mother's Day. Next, get the kids breakfast, then everyone pitches in to whip up a batch of Very Berry Muffins for Mom. They start with blueberry muffin mix—the mix makes baking a snap—and finish with orange zest (the grated peel of orange skin) and fresh or frozen raspberries. Let the kids help with the mixing and stirring.

Pour the batter into Wilton's Silly-Feet! Silicone Baking Cups (there's even a batter fill line so you'll know just how much batter to put in each cup) and bake. Silicone makes it easy to pop out the individual muffins, and Silly-Feet! give everyone a giggle. They make a colorful and fun way to serve the muffins. Mom will love photos of you and the kids anchored to the muffins with zany Fun Pix*. Serve it all up to Mom with love and a smile.

She'll be thrilled.

For other ideas on how to surprise Mom, visit www.wilton.com.

VERY BERRY MUFFINS FOR MOM Makes 6 muffins

1 package (7-8.5 oz.) blueberry muffin mix
Ingredients to prepare muffin mix:

½ teaspoon grated orange zest

½ cup fresh or frozen raspberries (do not thaw berries if frozen)

Preheat oven to 400°F. Spray Silly-Feet! Silicone Baking Cups with vegetable pan spray or line standard muffin pan with baking liners.

In large bowl, blend muffin mix with ingredients needed to prepare mix; mixture will be slightly lumpy. Gently stir in orange zest and raspberries; spoon into prepared baking cups.

Bake 18-22 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in baking cups. Serve warm or at room temperature. Insert Fun Pix with pictures and serve.

25 Years Ago

April 29, 1983

After a delay of more than an hour and a half due to a disciplinary action closed session, the Kewaskum School Board finally went into open session for the purpose of electing officers for 1983-84. Board member Jean Goeden was elected to serve as Kewaskum School Board President, defeating Tom Brigham who was also nominated for the post. Unanimous ballots were cast for Neal Weare, who will serve as Vice President, Ralph Horner, who is Treasurer and John Spoerl is Clerk.

"Up Where We Belong," was chosen as this year's theme for the junior prom by the class of 1981. It will be held on Saturday, April 30 from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Kewaskum High School. The King and Queen are Matt Pfeiffer and Jody Bieniek. It must have been some pretty large mice that broke into the Orchard Grove cheese factory, southeast of St. Michaels, Monday night or early Tuesday. In the break-in reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday morning, the loot included 75 pounds of grade A butter, 50 pounds of brick cheese and 45 gallons of gasoline.

The Kettle Moraine Home-maker's Club met at the home of Mrs. Syl Schmidt on April 15. Election of officers was held. The new president is Mrs. Alban Nigh, treasurer is Mrs. Kenneth Kaschner and Mrs. Ray Reysen was re-elected reporter.

Now at home in West Bend are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spaeth, newlyweds as of April 19. The bride is the former Miss Katherine Braun of Route 1, Kewaskum, and her husband is from West Bend. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Braun, Kewaskum, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spaeth.

Audray Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schaefer, Kewaskum, has a top role in the play, "The Cave Dwellers," being presented at Carroll College's Youmanns Little Theater on May 1, 2, and 3.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mueller, Kewaskum, on April 26. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schaeffer, Kewaskum, on April 27.

75 Years Ago

April 28, 1933

In the most daring and horrifying holdup ever committed in this community, Michael Pesch, 58, and his sister Kate, both residing on the Pesch homestead, two miles north of Kewaskum on the River Road in the Town of Auburn, Fond du Lac County, were unmercifully tortured by three bandits last Sunday and robbed of their cash, liberty bonds, mortgage papers, deeds, certificates of deposits, personal notes and numerous other legal papers. The bandits, being unable to obtain the necessary information as to where the hidden money was, ransacked the whole house, strewing contents of boxes, cutting up mattresses and turning up practically every piece of furniture. They even went so far as to cut open hams and spill out lard from jars thinking the money was perhaps hidden there. The money, liberty bonds and papers were found securely wrapped in a box in a trunk in Miss Pesch's bedroom. It is estimated that approximately $1,650 in cash, gold and currency and 19 liberty bonds totalling $8,900 were stolen. Mr. Pesch stated that he was in the kitchen when three men entered with drawn revolvers and demanded money which he had hidden. Mr. Pesch refused to obey their commands. He was blindfolded with hands tied behind his back. At one time one of the bandits was so cruel that he heated a piece of iron and branded Mr. Pesch on the right leg. Another bandit kept continually striking Mr. Pesch on his tied hands, which soon swelled to an enormous size, but no word would come from Mr. Pesch's lips regarding the whereabouts of the hidden treasure. He was also struck several times on the back of his head with the butt of a revolver. Kate had been gathering the day's eggs and when she returned to the house Michael yelled to her to get out of the house, but one of the men grabbed her, blindfolded and gagged her and tied her hands behind her back. Miss Pesch also refused to tell where the money was. After two hours the bandits found the loot and hastily made their getaway. After an hour Mr. Pesch was successful in freeing himself and cut the ropes around his sister. He then hastened to the John Etta home, the next neighbor to the south, but no one was there. With his injuries pain-ing him, he then went to the Chas. Krahn home, 1/2 mile distant, where Mr. Krahn notified Village Marshall George F. Brandt, who in turn notified Deputy Sheriff, Geor. Kippenhan.

The Kewaskum Aluminum Company has been exceptionally busy the past few weeks manufacturing beer mugs and other articles. Orders are being received daily. Additional men have been added and all are working approximately 12-1/2 hours four days a week and 10 hours two days a week. The rush still continues and it is contemplated that with the number of orders coming to the office that more men will be added soon.

Winners in the Primary Room of the Kewaskum school in the last "Good Conduct Race" were: Homer Schaub, Donald Mertes, Wilmer Bunkelman and Robert Brauchle.

Dr. Henry Driessel, 78, one of Kewaskum's prominent citizens and a noted physician, died at his home in Kewaskum on April 25.

Funeral services for the late August Arndt, 69, of the Town of Scott, who died at his home in the Town of Scott at Beechwood on April 16, were held at his home on April 19, and at the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Campbell of the Town of Kewaskum are the happy parents of a baby girl born to them on April 19. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Al Herriges of St. Michaels on April 24.

Sylvan Learning's Helpful Hints for Student Success:

Summer is a Child's Opportunity to Learn

By: Barbara Hampton, Center Director

For most children, summer is a time to leave classes and homework behind. However, when they return to school in the fall after the long summer break, students can find themselves struggling to catch up.

Skills and knowledge gained throughout the school year fade during the summer months. Loss of content retention begins within 24 to 48 hours of learning unless the new information is reinforced or applied immediately. After a month without reinforcement, approximately 80 percent of what a student has recently learned can be lost.

For children who have been struggling at school, summer can be their opportunity to catch-up on key skills and feel more confident when they head back to class. For students who do well, it's an opportunity to keep their enthusiasm for learning high.

Parents can play a key role in reinforcing learning on an ongoing basis. Sylvan Learning Center has prepared practical tips for integrating continuous learning into fun, family activities all summer long:

Checklist: Summer Fun that's Educational, too

Read with your child. You can't start too early. You can't read too much. Reading to young children nurtures an interest in language, words and communication. For older kids, reading together can be fun and interesting.

Search for reading activities on the Internet and create a reading list. There are an abundance of sites that provide summer reading lists for children. At www.bookadventure.com, children (K-8) create personalized books lists from more than 7,000 recommended titles, take quizzes on the books they've read at school or at home, and earn prizes for understanding the books they've read.

Plan a field trip. Plan a trip to an interesting site close to home - an historic site, a museum, the zoo, etc. Research the trip in advance with your child and discuss it afterwards.

Find pen pals. Encourage your child to write notes and letters to family members and friends as a way of practicing writing.

Visit the library. Libraries can recommend books appropriate for your child's reading level and interests, and many libraries offer free children's programs.

Keep a journal. Give your child an empty notebook to keep a summer journal. Regular entries will keep writing skills active.

Summer enrichment programs. There are a variety of enrichment programs available for children. Sylvan Learning Centers offer engaging programs that keep the interest and fun in learning alive through the summer and into the school year.

Tune up in the summer. Rock in the fall.

Don't let this summer be a vacation from learning.

- Sylvan will pinpoint the skills your child needs and develop a summer program to help master them.
- We have flexible summer hours to accommodate your busy summer lifestyle.
- It's a proven approach that inspires summer learning.

KMS students help the community and the earth

By Amber Donath
Statesman Community Journalist

In honor of Earth Day, the Kewaskum Middle School (KMS) Service Project Group decided to organize a community clean-up day. That day was Wednesday, April 23.

All KMS students and teachers encompassed Kewaskum looking for stray pieces of garbage to pick up. At first glance, the community appears to be fairly clean with not too much excess garbage, however, things may not always be as they appear.

Throughout the three-hour clean up, a few groups decided to make it similar to a scavenger hunt - rewarding points for different items. One group alone collected: over 200 plastic grocery bags, 155 candy wrappers, 56 aluminum cans, 84 water bottles, 46 cigarette packages, a grill, and 26 golf balls, among other things!

Another group reported they found 3 tires, 8 large bags of garbage, a huge tarp, and a garbage can in pretty good condition that they then used as its intended purpose.

Students and staff alike enjoyed the experience. KMS staff members were heard saying they loved the walk and being outside, how much they enjoyed the time to talk with students about things other than school, and that the students did a great job picking up an awful lot of trash.

The students even received numerous thank-yous from people who were out in their yards working, from walkers, and from people in cars, who slowed down, rolled down their car windows and expressed their appreciation.

"It was great because we went outside and helped the community and it was so much fun," said Raeanne Koss, KMS 7th grader. "I hope we do it again next year. We did something for the community with nothing in return."

"It was really an eye opener to see all of the garbage in our community," said KMS 7th grader Leah Stoffel. "I felt a lot better after we got back to school, knowing that my school helped make our community cleaner and prettier."

"The best thing for me of this activity was getting out of school for a good cause and helping the environment," said Brad Boegel, KMS 8th grader. "The best thing for the community is that now because of our good deed, the town is cleaner and healthier. If we were to do this again next year, I would make it longer so we can pick up more trash and get more done. I liked this trip though because I know I helped to do good things."

Upon completion of the clean up, KMS students were rewarded with a hamburger and brat cookout at school while reflecting on the day's activity.

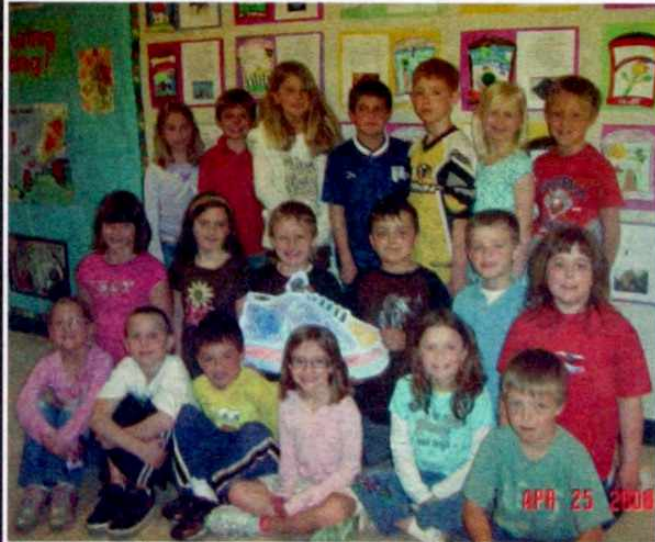

Because of the success of this spring clean-up day, the KMS Service Project committee is now looking to plan a fall clean up day for next school year.

"We have lots of planning to do yet, but we are thinking about possibly offering to help rake yards for Kewaskum residents along with cleaning the town," said coordinator and 7th grade KMS teacher Joel Dziedzic.

Kewaskum thanks you KMS!

FES students complete 'Movin and Munchin'

Farmington Elementary School (FES) students recently participated in Wisconsin's Department of Public Instruction exciting Movin' and Munchin' School program aimed to help young people and their families develop healthy lifetime skills and habits. KES students shine during 'Star Performers'

Star Performers is an annual KES event where students have an opportunity to display some of their best work to share with family and friends. The event was held on Thursday, May 1, in the Kewaskum Elementary School gym. Some of the projects included reports, plays, miniature villages, small scale log cabins, aquatic dioramas, electrical current displays and classroom quilts. Parents are encouraged to write notes to their children congratulating them on their hard work. The notes are shared with the students in the classrooms the following day. The positive reinforcement shows students that their efforts are appreciated. Above are examples of the displays the students worked on.

OBITUARIES

Isaiah John Van Beek, cherished three-year old son of John and Rebecca "Becky" (Stoffel) Van Beek, of Campbellsport, left his worldly body on Tuesday, April 29, 2008, at his home surrounded by his family to be with the Lord after a courageous fight with leukemia that he so bravely fought.

Isaiah was born on April 25, 2005, in West Bend and was a member of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum. He will fondly be remembered for his love of John Deere tractors and dinosaurs and whose favorite outfit was a John Deere shirt, John Deere hat and his cowboy boots.

Isaiah will always hold a special place in the hearts of his parents; his brothers and sister, Zachary, McKenzie and Elijah; his maternal grandparents, Zachary and Joan Stoffel of Kewaskum; his maternal great-grandparents, Alan and Peggy Stoffel of Kewaskum, Herman and Janis Berndt of West Bend; his paternal grandparents, James and Sue Van Beek of St. Kilian; his paternal great-grandparents, Clarence and Leona Van Beek of West Bend, Robert and Alice Fechter, Sr. of Saukville; his uncles, Owen Stoffel, Jacob Stoffel (fiancée, Sarah Cole, Isaiah's godmother), Jim (Angie) Van Beek, Jr., Ken (Robine) Van Beek, Joe Van Beek, Isaiah's godfather; his aunts, Mary (Corey) Forcier and Christine Van Beek (special friend, Christopher Ramirez); his cousins, Abby and Nicholas Van Beek; special friends, Brad (Becky) Domres, Isaiah's godfather; many great-aunts and great-uncles, other relatives, friends and his Make-A-Wish dog, Honey.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Isaiah was held at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, May 3, 2008, at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum. Father Edwin Kornath and Father Alois Van Beek concelebrated and burial was in the parish cemetery.

Relatives and friends called on Friday at the Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum from 3:00 until 7:00 p.m., where a prayer service was held at 7:00 p.m. In lieu of flowers, memorials are appreciated.

Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

WILLIAM L. 'BILL' COOGAN

William L. "Bill" Coogan, 53, of the town of Scott, passed away on Sunday, May 4, 2008, at his home after a short illness.

He was born on September 11, 1954, in Austin, Minnesota, the son of the late Carleton and Myrtle (Keyser) Coogan and on April 10, 1999, he was united in marriage to Debra Dressel in Fond du Lac.

Bill served his country in the U. S. Navy and was employed by Woodlore, Inc. in Port Washington. He was an avid Minnesota Vikings fan all of his life and he enjoyed hunting and woodworking.

Survivors include his loving wife, Debra; four sisters, Carliene Pickett of Cedarburg and her daughter, Danita (John) Zahares and their children, Samantha, Matt and Mike; Jean (Dale) Heath of Kodiak, Alaska; Doriene Coogan and her children, Christine, Jack and Mike and Jan (Tom)

Simmons of Altoona and their children, Phillep (Kaelyn) Coogan, Denny (See) Coogan and Juliene Coogan, other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents, Bill was preceded by a nephew, Scott Pickett.

Cremation has taken place. A private gathering of family and friends will be held at a later date.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum has been entrusted with Bill's arrangements. Additional information may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

A heartfelt thank you to all the family and friends who organized and participated in the fund raiser to help with Bill's medical expenses. Your support was deeply appreciated.

ELIZABETH J. STRAUB

Elizabeth J. Straub, (nee Tennes), age 83, of West Bend, passed away Wednesday, April 30, 2008 at St. Francis Home in Fond du Lac.

She was born on February 18, 1925 in Slinger to the late Henry and Anna (nee Wilkom) Tennes, and was united in marriage to Venice Straub on September 27, 1947 at St. Peter Catholic Church in Slinger. Together they made their home in St. Killian where they farmed from 1950 until 1969. During that time Elizabeth also worked as a beautician. In 1969 Venice and Elizabeth moved to West Bend, and she continued her work as a beautician. Venice preceded her in death on May 2nd, 2007.

Elizabeth was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Campbellsport, and the Women of the Moose, West Bend Lodge # 1398. She was a loving mother and dedicated to her family. Elizabeth enjoyed bingo, fishing, cards, and quilting.

She is survived by eight children, George Straub of West Bend, Germaine (Richard) Mayo of Cornelius, NC, Gary (Marilyn) Straub of West Bend, Dennis (Sharon) Straub of Beloit, Gloria (John) Reindl of Kewaskum, David Straub of Theresa, Gerald (Chris) Straub of West Bend, and Gayleen (Richard) Lutz of Campbellsport; 15 grandchildren; two great-granddaughters; a sister, Cele Strupp of West Bend; a sister-in-law, Cordilla Knappenberger of Colorado Springs, CO; other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by a son, Geoffery; one sister and six brothers.

A Mass of Christian Burial in remembrance of Elizabeth was held on Monday, May 5th at 11:30 am at St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Campbellsport. Rev. Neil Zinthefer was the celebrant and burial followed in St. Matthew's Cemetery.

Visitation was Monday at the church only from 10:00 am until the time of Mass.

Memorials to St. Francis Home in Fond du Lac (33 Everett Street) are appreciated.

Myrhum - Patten Funeral & Cremation Service, West Bend, assisted the family.

God's Problem

By Bart D. Ehrman

Harper Audio, $39.95 8CDs/10 hrs.

This morning, while you enjoyed your coffee and your newspaper, hundreds of children died of starvation.

As you drove to the office, sipping from your water bottle, women in other countries walked several miles to fetch water.

While you grumbled about extra work today, people overseas worked more hours than you did, and for a fraction of your salary.

Do you ever wonder why we have abundance while others lack? In the new audiobook "God's Problem", author Bart D. Ehrman examines the Bible, sinfulness, and suffering.

Once upon a time, Ehrman was born again in the Spirit. He spent his youth steeped in church events. He became a minister and an evangelist, and led people to Christ. One day, he began to ponder faith versus fact. If God exists and He is loving, why do humans suffer so brutally?

Theologians and ministers might say that we suffer because we sin. Adam and Eve brought that upon us in the Garden of Eden. But, Ehrman asks, how do we explain a God who allowed the torture and death of millions of Jews in the Holocaust? Were Cambodians murdered by Pol Pot deserving of their suffering? Would a compassionate God make children starve in Darfur because, say, we Americans are sinners? If their suffering is punishment, does the punishment fit the sin?

Looking at the Bible, Ehrman says that suffering is a recurring theme in both the Old and New Testaments. Conquering armies, stoning and violent attacks are found in verse after verse. Men offer their women up to marauding mobs, and children are "dashed against rocks". Is that, Ehrman asks, the work of a loving God?

Or is it possible that we suffer because of others' sins? Does a cancer patient, for instance, suffer because someone else sinned? Is suffering good, maybe a path to redemption or perhaps a Divine test of some sort? What about natural disasters? Are they designed by God to punish everyone, including those who did no wrong?

Whew. Can you say "controversy"?

Author Bart D. Ehrman says that he was once "born again" but now is "dead again", meaning that he turned from deep faith to agnosticism. He says that he stopped believing years ago, yet he (surprisingly) quotes the Bible over and over in his zeal to back up his opinions.

That's all well and good. Individual Biblical interpretations have always caused disagreement and lively conversation. With a premise like this, you would expect references to Biblical teachings.

What's particularly discomforting about this audiobook, though, are the gruesome, detailed, way-overly-lengthy descriptions of suffering, torture, and death. Whether you genially agree, vehemently disagree, or are merely intrigued by Ehrman's ideas, the interminably long, stomach-churning, nightmarish tracks make his point abundantly clear long before they're mercifully over. Needless to say, this is absolutely not an audiobook for the kiddies.

If you enjoy hot-button theological discourse, "God's Problem" will start some fiery discussions. If you're a firm believer in God's Divinity, though, you won't have a prayer of enjoying this audiobook.

BERNICE O. 'BEA' PETRI

Bernice O. "Bea" Petri, 86, a resident of Manor Care Nursing Center, Fond du Lac, died Thursday, May 1, 2008 at her residence.

She was born Oct. 24, 1921, in Kewaskum, the daughter of William C. and Anna K. (Scheid) Backhaus, and on Feb. 14, 1942, she married Myron "Mike" E. Petri in West Bend. He preceded her in death on Dec. 24, 1967.

Bernice was a graduate of cosmetology school, and was a beautician for 59 years, retiring in 1998.

Surviving are two daughters, Bonnie (James) Parish of South Byron and Victoria (Richard) Schara of McHenry, Ill.; three grandchildren, Patricia Ann Parish of Santa Clara, Calif., Shana Schara of McHenry and Grant (Jessica) Schara of Chicago, Ill.; a brother, Glenway (Gretchen) Backus of Nelson, British Columbia, Canada, and two brothers-in-law, Bruce (Eileen) Petri and Earl (Martha) Petri, both of Kewaskum.

Her parents, husband, three sisters and one brother preceded her in death.

Visitation for Bernice was on Sunday, May 4, from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Uecker-Witt Funeral Home, Fond du Lac, with funeral services at 7 p.m.

Deacon Larry Hughes officiated, and burial was in Ledgewiew Memorial Park Cemetery.

Farmers Union urges legislators to act quickly on farm bill

CHIPPEWA FALLS - Following the Senate-House Farm Bill Conference Committee meeting that went late into the night on May 1, 2008, Wisconsin Farmers Union commended the committee for nearing closer to a final farm bill that will benefit all Americans.

"Wisconsin Farmers Union is pleased with the latest draft of the farm bill, which includes many of WFU's priorities," said WFU President Sue Beitlich. "With planting season upon us, we urge Congress and President Bush to act quickly to pass and sign the new farm bill into law."

After months of negotiation over the 2007 Farm Bill and several extensions of the farm bill deadline, the committee broke through many of the barriers challenging a final draft of the bill, coming to agreements on major elements of the bill Thursday night.

Final conference committee action is expected to take place next week, followed by passage in the U.S. House and Senate before it will be sent to the President for his signature.

"We cannot afford to waste any more time. Our legislators have worked hard to create a farm bill for the President to sign—a farm bill which provides support to our family farmers, looks toward the next generation of farmers, preserves our land, supports ventures into renewable energy and other important provisions for rural Wisconsin; with two-thirds of farm bill spending going toward nutrition programs," Beitlich said. "This is a good farm bill and, after months of progress made by our legislators, we ask President Bush to sign the bill into law."

I Agree With Farmer Rapp

I can attest to the fact that the "food vs fuel" controversy is escalating. Some of it is getting downright nasty. I have received some unkind e-mails recently, not just from city people who are against the idea of using corn for ethanol, but also from farmers who feel the same way. As a matter of fact, one e-mailer who identified himself only as a livestock farmer, told me I should "engage my mind before I engage my mouth" and he was extremely critical of my support of corn and ethanol as part of our energy solution.

So, I will use someone else's mind today and quote a letter to the editor written by Jim Rapp, a northern Illinois corn farmer. I can't quote the entire letter because of space limitations, but here are some excerpts. In the letter to the editor of his local newspaper, Jim wrote "The rapid growth of the ethanol industry tells you all you need to know about it's performance and viability. It burns cleaner, thus fighting air pollution, ask the American Lung Association; it is made here at home, providing jobs, just ask the 230,000 people already employed as a result of ethanol plant construction, operation and related support services; it provides more dollars into our local communities, just ask local business owners about the increased dollars spent at their stores."

Jim goes on to say "Consumers who have seen gasoline prices climb more than 40% over the last 4 months want relief and alternatives. We owe it to them and ourselves to explore all of our engine technology and renewable fuel options if we want a fully functional and strong U.S.A., which is less reliant on foreign fuel sources. Right now ethanol is leading the assault to solve this problem and, contrary to opponents of this petroleum alternative, ethanol is a terrific fuel with a proven 67% net energy gain."

Farmer Rapp, concludes "Do not believe everything you hear about corn's role in food prices. The number one factor driving food price increases is, you guessed it, transportation. Fuel prices are sucking our economy into a black hole. When you add that to recent rice and wheat crop failures overseas, speculative investors shifting to agricultural commodities in our weak economy and growing populations with increased buying power in China and India, you quickly see corn and ethanol barely make a ripple in the pond of a much bigger issue. Even at today's food prices, farmers get no more than 20 cents of each dollar spent on food. A box of cereal that contained 2.5 cents worth of corn 18 months ago now contains a nickel's worth of corn. I think you get the idea, agricultural commodities are not a major factor in the in the price of food."

All can say is Jim Rapp said it very well and I fully agree with him. That's why I have shared his thoughts on Samuelson Sez.

Every Day Can Be A Salad Day

Crisp, flavorful and delicious, salads offer a healthy way to eat plenty of fruits and vegetables.

(NAPSA)—Eating at least five portions of fruits and vegetables every day can help boost your energy, slim your waistline and keep you healthy. One of the most delicious ways to eat enough fruits and vegetables is to serve up some tasty salads.

There are so many varieties of salads that you could eat a different one for at least every day of the month. In fact, a new Web site from Litehouse Foods offers 30 salad recipes for 30 days. Here's a sample recipe from the site:

BBQ Ranchero Salad

Serves 4

4 skinless, boneless chicken breast halves (about 1 pound)
½ cup bottled barbecue sauce
1 package (10 ounces) torn mixed salad greens
1 medium tomato, chopped
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese, divided
1 small red bell pepper, cut into short, thin strips
1 cup whole-kernel corn, drained

¾ cup canned black beans, rinsed
¾ cup sliced ripe olives, drained
1 green onion, thinly sliced
1 cup Litehouse® Barbeque Ranch Dressing (substitutes: Litehouse® Salsa Ranch Dressing or ¾ cup Litehouse® Lite Ranch dressing mixed with ¼ cup barbecue sauce)

Brush both sides of chicken with barbecue sauce; grill or broil about 5 inches from heat source about 6 minutes per side or until juices are clear. Meanwhile, in a large bowl, combine lettuce, tomato, ½ cup cheese, red pepper, corn, black beans, olives and green onion; mix well.

To serve, divide lettuce mixture onto 4 serving plates. Cut chicken crosswise into ½-inch-thick slices; arrange over lettuce. Drizzle salads with Litehouse® Barbeque Ranch dressing and sprinkle with remaining ½ cup cheese.

KEWASKUM WATERWORKS

If you would like to know more about the information contained in this report, please contact Jerry Gilles at (262) 626-4310.

Health Information

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Source(s) of Water

Source id	Source	Depth (in feet)	Status
2	Groundwater	503	Active
3	Groundwater	460	Active
4	Groundwater	360	Active
5	Groundwater	280	Active

A summary of the source water assessment for KEWASKUM WATERWORKS is available at: http://prodoasext.dnr.wi.gov/inter/pk_swap_web.p_swap_summary?i_ro_seq_no=138789

Educational Information

The sources of drinking water, both tap water and bottled water, include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which shall provide the same protection for public health.

Number of Contaminants Required to be Tested

This table displays the number of contaminants that were required to be tested in the last five years. The CCR may contain up to five years worth of water quality results. If a water system tests annually, or more frequently, the results from the most recent year are shown on the CCR. If testing is done less frequently, the results shown on the CCR are from the past five years.

Additional Health Information

While your drinking water meets USEPA's standard for arsenic, it does contain low levels of arsenic. USEPA's standard balances the current understanding of arsenic's possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. USEPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

Definition of Terms

Term	Definition
AL	Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
MCL	Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
MCLG	Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MFL	million fibers per liter
mrem/year	millirems per year (a measure of radiation absorbed by the body)
NTU	Nephelometric Turbidity Units
pCi/l	picocuries per liter (a measure of radioactivity)
ppm	parts per million, or milligrams per liter (mg/l)
ppb	parts per billion, or micrograms per liter (ug/l)
ppt	parts per trillion, or nanograms per liter
ppq	parts per quadrillion, or picograms per liter
TCR	Total Coliform Rule
TT	Treatment Technique: A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

On Wisconsin Outdoors

With the Dick Ellis Experts

The Good Trade...Bad weather brings great fishing

In weather better suited to pursue the rutting bucks of November, Jim Ellis and I moved across Island Lake and into a high northwest wind that would demand immediate dues if we were to greet the new fishing season. Whitecaps pounded the Lund Rebel on the open water of the 1000 acre lake and we hunkered down to move into the teeth of a hard rain and snow. Ice pellets stung our faces as we squinted ahead in search of the traffic sure to be out in search of walleyes on the Manitowish Chain.

There wouldn't be much. Despite a new lease on the fishing season May 3, statewide rains and a dismal forecast seemed to keep northbound traffic low. Bait shop owners hoping for mild weather and a heavy migration from anglers eager to spend money after a long and difficult Wisconsin winter didn't get it. 1.4 million anglers fish Wisconsin. They spend 21 million days on the water and caught 88 million fish last year, according to the DNR, and brought with them $2.75 billion in economic benefits.

"I suppose you could just scream," I said to a bait shop owner and her daughter keeping watch on their shop Friday night in Tomahawk. "Scream?" she asked, with a smile that often helps these people persevere. "I could cry."

My own life-long adopted township of Boulder Junction in Vilas County was nearly void of traffic Saturday morning when under more normal conditions it might be difficult to find a parking space on this cherished weekend. Our friends in the Northern Highland Sport Shop had time to catch up on news and offer their expert advice without being pushed by the normal sense of urgency that comes with taking care of customers three deep at the register. The long-range forecast says that may all change this week, when more summer-like weather is sure to invite the masses back.

For those anglers that did come north, though, bad weather meant good fishing, at least in our small pocket of Wisconsin. Some in our circle said that this was the best walleye fishing in a decade, or even 20 years. That long winter and cold spring water temperatures placed the spawning walleyes right where you wanted them; in shallow and on the rocks. Once found, the fish had the feedbags on.

My brother and I survived the long ride across Island Lake and tucked in on a northern shoreline offering calm, warmer water, a reprieve from the stinging high winds and the memory of spawning walleyes on these rocks during a nocturnal hunt in 2007. Jigs and minnows worked the shallow rocks and we watched slip bobbers laying flat on the water for a "tip" that a visitor had taken a fathead breakfast. Crankbaits rapped across rocks in deeper water in case the fish had staged further out with the bad weather.

Avid fisherman Mike Hart senior from the Milwaukee suburbs, a family friend enjoying his 14th year of retirement, said hello before heading right into the worst of a riled Island Lake because that is where he thought the fish would be. He returned in an hour, empty handed and slightly frozen despite the attire more appropriate to a January ice fishing excursion, and set up camp near us so that we could easily exchange our fishermen's lies.

We worked the northern rocky shorelines that should have held warmer water from the direct work of the most sunlight in search of walleyes; and looked for emerging green weeds in the rock and sand that might have attracted fish. We anchored in the mouth of Rice Creek where walleyes are often taken through the ice, but without fish cooperating and a steady pounding from the winds, we didn't last long.

Eventually, we ended back in our original spot, and found our first finicky walleyes of the season. Jim's minnow under a bobber placed near shore found four small walleyes over a two hour span. Our jigs and minnows began to entice the occasional, light strike, but we never hooked up with the fish. Finally, we returned to our cabin. Soaked to the skin from another hard ride in the elements, I placed the 9-1-1 call of the reporter in need of more story ammunition.

Dick Henske of Manitowish Waters and Rick Bergner of Milwaukee were experiencing some of the best walleye fishing in recent memory fishing two of the center lakes on the 10-lake Manitowish chain. I landed in their boat an hour later, camera at the ready.

"I don't think we've seen wall-eye fishing this good on opening day in 20 years," Bergner said. "We're working the shallow rocks and the fish are packed in. We had a 30 minute span this afternoon where literally every cast with a jig and minnow had a walleye hit. It was overcast and snowing then and we were anchored in the whitecaps. The sun is out now and the wind is changing. I hope that doesn't affect the fishing."

It would not, despite my presence in the boat. I had plenty of photo opportunities as my partners worked a rocky shoreline with twister tails and minnows, or vertical jigged zip-lures, and caught walleyes. The real action all day long though, came when their jigs and minnows landed on the rocks within a foot of shore in 12 inches of water.

"This nasty cold weather on opening day is like the old days and this good fishing is like the old days," Henske said. "The DNR did a study on the Manitowish Chain. Lots of the walleyes migrate from other lakes to just a few spawning areas. We caught four walleyes today with tags on them from that study. And we probably released 40 fish."

Our opening day ended back in front of our own cabin. A fire in the pit, minnows set off the pier in need of repair from the ice shelves of spring, and three fingers of whiskey helped us celebrate a new season. Colleen Ellis, Jim's wife, brought in a beautiful 17 inch walleye just begging for a meeting with the frying pan. Colleen though, pardoned the fish to fight, and spawn, again.

The sun set on another day in the north land. But the curtain had risen again on a whole new season. Welcome to Wisconsin.

It's time to fish.

A's are looking to rebound after going 8-12

Better record tops goals for '08 season

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

The goal for the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team this season?

That's easy. The A's are looking for more offensive production, better pitching and, of course, they want to return to a position over the .500 mark, which would help them qualify for league play-offs.

Kewaskum definitely struggled during 2007, winding up with an 8-12 mark, but with one key player returning after a one-year absence and the addition of some seasoned college players, there is reason for optimism. Plus the A's No. 1 pitcher, Jim Ziegler, is healthy this year, and that is very good news.

"We have most of the people back from last year," Ziegler, the team spokesperson, said recently, indicating Jason Strobel, a good outfielder, is back and continues to serve as player/manager.

Jake Panzer and Adam Sarauer will split time at first base, with Sarauer serving as designated hitter when he isn't starting at first.

The team will have to wait until late May until its six collegiate players are available. Currently Jon Olla, catcher and outfield, infielders Ty Schill and Dan Shea are all playing for Concordia College in Mequon, while Austin Sarauer is helping the Cardinal Stritch team in Greendale; Nick Whitty is playing for Ripon College and Jake Lathers is at M.S.O.E. (Milwaukee School of Engineering).

Schill, Sarauer and Whitty all played their prep ball for Campbellsport High; Shea and Olla are Kewaskum grads, and Lathers was a major contributor at West Bend West.

What Ziegler was happy to report is the return of catcher, Steve Ketter, another former Campbellsport High standout. "We're hoping he'll improve our offense a little bit," Ziegler said about Ketter, who played for a traveling team a year ago.

The pitchers, in addition to Ziegler, will be Corey Tjade, a left-handed pitcher who used to pitch in Horicon, and Mitch Hoffmann.

Whitty is also good on the mound, and more help could be provided by Matt Parrent, a four year starter and all-Eastern Wisconsin Conference pick at KHS. Parrent has power, covers a lot of ground in the outfield and can be called on to pitch.

The A's leading hitter last year, Brandon Banton, is not returning, but Sarauer, who had the next leading average, is a solid hitter, and Ziegler said, "We'll have a better lineup with Shea and Olla ... they're popping the ball pretty well right now" at Concordia.

Ziegler wound up last season with just a 1-2 mark. "I was hurt for a lot of the year," he said, and, determined that was not going to happen again in 2008, he worked out a great deal during the off season.

And how does the arm feel this spring? "Good," Ziegler said confidently.

Before the college players return and before the high school season gets started, Ziegler said the A's will rely on help from several area prep players, including Nick Olla and John Holt from Kewaskum High, Steve and Kevin Gonring, who play for Campbellsport, and Adam Martz and Matt Meisenheimer from West Bend West.

Kewaskum has decided to compete in both the Rock River and Tri-County Nite Leagues this summer. "At this point we have 35 games scheduled," Ziegler said, reporting Germantown, the A's first opponent in the Rock River on May 4 is replacing Oshkosh in the league this year.

The A's home games are played at Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park. The games begin at 1:30 p.m. There is no charge for watching the games.

Indians struggle in EWC meet at Auburn Bluffs

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

There wasn't much coach Glenn Eichstedt could say last Thursday after the third Eastern Wisconsin Conference mini-tour event.

His Kewaskum High golfers were in a position to make some gains on Plymouth, which, he said, traditionally has not played well on the Auburn Bluffs Golf Course in Campbellsport.

The Panthers, coming in with a solid 160, kept their season win streak alive, however, while the Indians struggled from top to bottom in their order and had to settle for sixth place with a 192 total. This was easily the Indians' worst outing of the 2008 season, and now they must regroup to finish the conference year successfully.

The host Cougars did well, finishing third at 179 and moved into second place in the standings. Plymouth currently has three points, while the Cougars have 10 and Kewaskum is next with 12.

"Winds, rain, low temperatures and golf are not a good mix," Eichstedt said afterward, offering his team's poor showing as an example.

KHS' No. 1 man, Ethan Geidel, who has won the medal or shared it in two previous EWC outings, had to settle for a 45 and that was way above his usual average.

Nick Gutbrod came in with a 47, and the other two KHS counters were Paul Marchant and Jeremy Neuenfeld at 48 and 52.

Plymouth's Corey Rhyan claimed the medal with a 1-under-par 35, and his teammate, Zach Hunter, was next at 38.

EWC mini-Tour event at Campbellsport: 1. Plymouth, 160; 2. Two Rivers, 167; 3. Campbellsport, 179; 4. Waupun, 182; 5. Kiel, 190; 6. Kewaskum, 192; 7. New Holstein, 193; 8. Sheboygan Falls, 208.

Geidel leads Indians past Plymouth

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

It was redemption time for the Kewaskum High golfers last Tuesday when they traveled to New Holstein for the fourth Eastern Wisconsin Conference mini-tour meet of the season.

Coming off their worst effort of the season, a sixth place at Campbellsport, the Indians catapulted right into the top spot behind a fine 2-over-par 38 by junior Ethan Geidel on the 3,067-yard Badger Creek layout.

The Indians finished in a tie with Plymouth at 168 and won the top spot because John Holt's 45 was better than the 46 posted by Plymouth's No. 5 man, Alex Hintz.

KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt called the outcome "a strange turn of events" and was pleased the Indians put together their "most consistent performance of the 2008 season" with all five counters at 45 or under.

Geidel, the 2007 EWC medalist, had a two-shot lead over runner-up, Corey Rhyan, and a three-shot advantage on Geno Kiela. Both are from Plymouth.

This was the third time Geidel had led the EWC field. In the match at Campbellsport, he was far back with a 45 that put him in a tie for 12th.

Nick Gutbrod and Paul Marchant, the Indians' No 2 and No. 3 men, were next with 43s, then came Jeremy Neuenfeld with a 44. Holt, in his first year out for the sport, saved the day with his 45.

The defending champion Panthers won all three previous EWC events and still hold a big lead over the rest of the conference teams. The Panthers have 5 points for the season, with the Indians next at 13, a point ahead of Campbellsport, which slipped to fourth in Tuesday's meet after shooting a 187. Hayden Serwe and Kyle Weiland both carded 45s for the Cougars.

Waupun was third in the competition with a 175. Kiel, Sheboygan Falls and Two Rivers were tied for the fifth spot, and the Raiders won the tie-breakers. The tie between Two Rivers and Sheboygan Falls could not be broken since their fifth men had the same scores.

The host Huskies were last at 191.

Field events still producing big points

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

It was a good tune-up for the more difficult Vander Pan Invitational.

On April 22, the Kewaskum boys track team traveled to Plymouth (for the second time this season) and wound up second among the three Eastern Wisconsin Conference teams competing.

The host Panthers had too much overall talent for the other two clubs winning with a total of 99 points. Kewaskum placed second at 72, while Campbellsport was far behind with just 12 points.

"It was cold ... very cold," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said, still the Indians came up with four first places, plus a victory in one of the relays, and eight second places.

Kewaskum's best events were the pole vault, the shot put, the discus and the high jump. Jake Dickmann and Kevin Schellinger took 1-2 in the pole vault after both cleared 11 feet, 6 inches (11-6), and Dickmann added another win in the high jump.

While the height (5-8) wasn't impressive, the win was still worth five team points, and the second by senior Dan Dymond (5-6) produced three more points.

Ben Boettcher claimed another victory in the discus behind a toss of 146-07, with Tyler Swanson in second at 132-09. The two senior weight men traded places in the shot, as Swanson took the top spot with a fine effort of 46-00. Next came Boettcher at 42-11.

"Tyler Swanson is starting to regain his form," Gosa said.

The foursome of Jon Komp, Zach Amerling, Dylan Kenworthy and Dymond produced a win in the 4x200-meter test where their time was 1:38.08.

The Indians did well in the 100-meter dash with seniors Komp and Matt Donath finishing 2-3, respectively, with times of 12 and .50 seconds (12.50) and 12.63. Komp transferred to KHS last fall and has been a nice addition to both the football and track programs.

Donath who had been in and out of the program, came back recently and is starting to be a consistent performer. Donath anchored the second-place 4x100 relay team (49.21). Other runners on the team were Nick Olla, Brad Conroy and Amerling.

Dymond added a second place in the 200 with a time of 24.75, and the Indians got good efforts from Scott Steldt and Brandon Zolp in the 400. Their times of 56.60 and 57.49 were good enough for third and fourth.

Once again, Zach Herriges came through in a couple events, taking third in the 800 (2:18.39), and third in the 1,600 (5:09.34) where senior Tyler McElhatton was fourth, coasting to a 5:15.22 so he could save a little energy for the 3,200 where he was third in 11:33.87.

Steldt jumped 17-03 in the long jump, which was good enough for second, and Eric Turowski and Zolp had good outings in the triple jump, going 35-02.00 and 35.00.50 for second and third, respectively.

Another good effort was produced by senior Dan Dymond in the 400. "Dan ran a fifty three (53.09) in the 400," the coach said. This was good for a third place and six points for the Indians.

The 4X400 relay also did well, placing fourth at 3:39 behind the efforts of Dymond, Herriges, Brandon Zolp and Scott Steldt.

Sixth-place efforts are as follow: 4x200 relay, 1:40.0; 4x100 relay, 48.0. Jon Komp (24.35) and Dymond (24.40) placed seventh and eighth in the 200, while Komp was seventh in the 100 (12.06), Zolp was seventh in the triple jump (36-41/4).

The Indians were scheduled to be at Campbellsport Tuesday for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Relays. They are off this weekend and go to Plymouth on Tuesday, May 13 for the EWC Conference Championships.

Beine now above all the rest

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Many things went right and a couple went wrong last Friday for the Kewaskum High girls track team, resulting in a fifth place finish in the annual Vander Pan Invitational in Sheboygan Falls.

The Indians piled up 95.5 points, some distance from the top four teams led by Sheboygan North, which had 120.5; Southern Door with 112; Sheboygan Falls, 108.5; and Plymouth, 108.5.

"There were some great things that happened," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said. At the top of his chart was the high jumping effort of sophomore Candace Beine, who cleared 5 feet, 4 inches (5-4) to place second. This was four inches higher than she has ever jumped before and set a KHS school record. The old mark of 5-2 was held by four girls, including Jill Yearling, 1979; Pam Osterbrink, 1989; Jolene Clark, 2002; and Sam Droese, 2005.

Gosa called the effort "fantastic," adding, "I am extremely happy with what she did. She's turning into a real nice athlete. This year she's our best high jumper and long jumper."

The winner of the high jump was Butler from Southern Door, who cleared 5-6 to set a meet record.

Kewaskum also got a fourth from Jessie Liniewski, who went over 5-0 for the first time in her career.

The Lady Indians posted three first places, including a win by Alissa Clapper in the pole vault after she went over the bar at 9-6.

Senior Kelly Uelmen won the 100-meter dash with a clocking of 13 and .40 seconds (13.40) .02 ahead of the runner-up from Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah.

The 4x200-meter relay delivered an excellent time of 1:49.6. The winning foursome included Haley Gregoriou, Liniewski, Nicole Kison and Uelmen. "They dropped a second," Gosa said, indicating "That was one of their goals. They wanted to break one-fifty (1:50)."

"Haley Gregoriou had a very good day," the coach went on, noting she came in with her season best time of 50.32 to place third in the 300 hurdles. "She ran her best time, and boy was she excited about that," Gosa said, adding she was right at her best time in the 100 high hurdles with a 17.86 to gain a second place.

In the 100 hurdles, the Indians also got a fifth from Liz Potter, who hit the finish line in 18.0.

Liniewski and Kison combined to score a dozen points in the 200-meter dash. Liniewski placed second with a time of 27.59, while Kison came in fifth at 28.00.

"We left some points on the table," Gosa said. "Our best long jumper scratched on all three attempts. That didn't get her in the finals ... I guess it just happened."

Kewaskum missed another golden opportunity to score eight or 10 points in the 4x100 relay. "They crashed," Gosa said, reporting there was an unfortunate mishap on the exchange from Liniewski to Kison "Kison's foot hit Liniewski's knee, and Kison fell to the track. "Luckily she didn't get hurt," the coach said, reporting Kison got up and the team still placed sixth in 56.00.

Overall, Gosa was still pleased and hoping there will be no glitches in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Track and Field Championships in Plymouth on Tuesday, May 13th.

More improvement seen in track camp

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Coach Jerry Gosa summed it up as "a very long day."

Thanks to some very severe weather, the annual Vander Pan Invitational nearly turned out to be a two-day event, ending Friday night around 10:30 p.m. after one day.

Despite the conditions, Gosa's Kewaskum High boys' team did very well in the highly-competitive meet, scoring 80 points to finish fourth out of the 10 teams in the field.

Powerhouse Plymouth won the meet, scoring 143 points behind the strong individual efforts of Seth Rooker, who set a new record in the high jump of 6 feet, 6 inches (6-6), won the 400-meter dash in 50 and .90 seconds (50.90) and successfully anchored the 4x400 relay team to a victory.

"Boy that Rooker kid from Plymouth. What a athlete," Gosa said.

Southern Door pushed the Panthers right to the end, piling up 132.5 points, then came Sheboygan Falls with 86.5 and Kewaskum. Sheboygan North rounded out the top five with its 76.5 points.

"To me, what's most important is the effort, and our boys make a good effort. I was real pleased," Gosa said. Then "you've got to let place take care of itself."

That being said, the efforts of junior Jake Dickmann and soph Zach Herriges are worthy of top mention. Dickmann cleared a personal-best 6-2 in the high jump to finish third in the event, losing the second spot on misses.

"Jake Dickmann's six-two ... That's very good to see," Gosa said. "For a junior, he's coming along real well. Gosa also pointed out that for the day three of his high jumpers, Dickmann, along with Candace Beine and Jessie Liniewski, all had personal bests.

Dickmann also cleared 11-6 in the pole vault, taking third place with that height, which is the same height teammate Kevin Schellinger recorded in taking second.

Herriges had a fine day in the 800. Gosa went so far as to say, "Zach ran by far the best race he's ever run in two years." Herriges turned in a 2:05.5, coming down from his previous best of 2:09.3 to take fourth place in "a super strong field." The winner, Cakes from Sheboygan Falls, dipped under the 2-minute mark, covering the two laps in 1:59.9.

Kewaskum had one first place, that coming from Ben Boettcher in the discus. Boettcher came up with a mighty toss of 162-9. He still needs 10 feet to surpass the school record which is currently held by Charlie Sparks.

Tyler Swanson gave the Indians another place in the discus, a third with a toss of 139-7. "Tyler Swanson improved the discus by one foot, one inch," Gosa said. Swanson also added a third in the shot (45-33/4) with Boettcher fourth at 43-53/4.

New year, and a great start

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Talk about a great start to the 2008 home talent baseball season!

The Kewaskum Athletics pounded out 30 hits and scored 25 runs in its first two games, including a 16-1 barrage over Germantown in the Rock River opener on Sunday and a 9-3 decision over host Watertown on Thursday night.

The score vs. Germantown was 1-2 after two innings, then the A's picked up three runs in the third and another seven in the fourth to sprint to the big victory.

In the fourth, after a hit batsman and a walk, Austin Sarauer ripped a double to score one run, then with one out, player/coach Jason Strobel hit a 3-run homer.

Later in the inning, Dan Shea, Adam Martz and Jake Panzer would all hit RBI singles.

Control was definitely a problem for the Germantown starter, who walked four and hit two batters in the third, giving the A's three runs without a single hit.

There were plenty of hits in the seventh when Kewaskum added four more insurance runs. After Sarauer drew a walk, Ketter followed with a double to put runners at second and third, then Dave Haim was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Jon Olla followed with a walk to earn an RBI, then Shea and Martz followed with RBI singles.

Three Kewaskum pitchers limited Germantown hitters to five total hits. Mitch Huffmann went the first four innings, giving up one run on four hits, while striking out six. Jim Ziegler came on to pitch the next four innings, limiting the hosts to one hit, and he struck out five.

Haim was called on to finish up the ninth, and for the second straight game, he pitched a scoreless inning.

Shea finished 2x4 with a pair of RBIs, while Martz was 2x5 and also drove in two runs. Ketter's two doubles gave him a 2x4 day with one run batted in, and Strobel was 1x2 with 4 RBIs.

In their opener, the A's and Cardinals were all tied up at 3-3 at the end of the third inning, then the Kewaskum pitchers, southpaw Cory Tjader and Dave Haim shut down the hosts the rest of the way and used a single run in the fifth, and five more in the eighth and ninth for the impressive win.

Kewaskum High senior John Holt pitched the first four innings and was very effective, according to team spokesperson Jim Ziegler, who said he was hurt by the three errors behind him.

The A's leadoff man, Matt Meisenheimer, started off the game with a bang, blasting a long triple, and Austin Sarauer drove him in with a single, later scoring on a ground out.

Ketter doubled in Kewaskum's third run in the third, and the A's took the lead for good on Matt Parrent's double in the fifth.

The rallies in the eighth and ninth were aided by key doubles by Haim and Parrent.

For the game, Sarauer went 3x5 with a double and RBI; Ziegler went 3x4 with an RBI and Parrent was 2x5 with a pair of doubles and an RBI. All of the Athletics had at least one hit in the contest.

The A's, now 2-0, are back in action tomorrow night (Friday) when they travel to Mayville for a Tri-County Nite League game.

Smith is double place winner

Even though the high school wrestling season is long over, several members of the Kewaskum High and Kewaskum Indian Wrestling Club are still practicing or competing.

Just recently, Zach Smith, a sixth grader at KMS, turned in an outstanding effort to win a state Greco Roman title, and he placed third in the state freestyle competition.

Zach was a perfect 4-0 en route to being Kewaskum's only representative to win a Greco Roman title. In the finals, he defeated Mason Reinhardt of Northern Exposure by scores of 6-0, 5-1.

In Freestyle Zach was 3-1 for the day taking 3rd. He defeated Trevor Troxel of Combat Wrestling Club both by tech fall 8-0, 7-0. Zach was in the 100 Novice group.

The Greco Roman competition was April 19 in Fond du Lac and Freestyle was the 26th in Wis. Rapids.

Max Maertz, who had an excellent freshman season at KHS, was 1-1 for the day in Freestyle, in the 100 novice group, also placing sixth. He had to default after injuring his knee in a match Brier Bartels of Combat Wrestling Club in his last match.

Bo Seibel, another of the Indians' talented freshman, finished 6-1 for the day at Rapids to take fifth. He competed in the 140 Cadet group and defeated Zach Gillis of Victory School of Wrestling by pin.

For second straight week tennis team fares well against top competition

By Nathan Kenworthy
Statesman Correspondent

On Thursday, May 1, the Kewaskum Indians boy's tennis team hosted Port Washington in a non-conference battle at Kiwanis Park. The Indians did lose 5-2, but had some impressive individual performances. Senior Dan Parker, number one singles, played his best match of the season in winning in straight sets.

Coach Dan Ross said "he struggled earlier in the season, but seems to have put everything together." Senior James Wiedmeyer, who was recently moved up from 4 singles to 3 singles, won in straight sets as well. Senior Chris Larson, who struggled with his placement "for the first time all season," according to Ross, lost at 2 singles.

Kewaskum played two weekends ago in the Beaver Dam tournament, against many division one programs and teams that have conference and even state title aspirations. This past weekend, they participated in a similar talent-laden tournament at the Washington County invite. Unfortunately, weather restricted the completion of the tournament, so there were no winners or standings, but many Kewaskum athletes left with high spirits.

Parker played well again, beating West Bend West in the first round. The second match was called off midway through, but Parker was playing evenly with a player from Milwaukee King who had been featured by the Milwaukee Journal as an "Athlete of the Week."

Larson beat King in the first round. Ross said "(King) has a strong team, so that's a real good win for Chris." Both Nathan Bandy and Wiedmeyer, 3 and 4 singles respectively, lost tough three set matches. Wiedmeyer was able to play a second match and did win, while Bandy was unable to even start his second.

The doubles teams all lost in the first round. Ross said "despite only playing about half of the tournament, they picked up more points than they have some years in the past, over a full tournament. The past two weekends, we've been in some very tough tournaments and have had some success. Hopefully that will pay off down the road."

The Indians next play on Thursday, May 8 at Plymouth.

One goal losses hard to take for lady kickers

By Nate Kenworthy
Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum Indians girls soccer team did not want to be a pushover in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference this season. However, they have only been one goal away in nearly every game this year. This has prevented them from larger numbers in the win column.

On Monday, April 21, the Indians made the short trip to Campbellsport to face the Cougars. The Indians were going to be down one of their top players, Elissa Miller, due to an ankle injury. The Cougars led 1-0 at halftime. The Indians "were in the game and had some golden opportunities in the second half, but came up short" said Coach Amy Piwoni. She added "it was an even match up and the windy conditions made it tough for both teams." The Indians fell short 1-0. Senior goalkeeper Julie Sargent had five saves while the Cougars outshot the Indians 10-8.

The following day on Tuesday, April 22, Living Word Lutheran visited the Indians. Piwoni felt that the game was winnable, even though Miller was still out. The first goal of the game was scored by Living Word by penalty kick due to an unfortunate handball by the Indians.

Christine Bohn scored for the Indians at the end of the first half to tie up the game. Jenna Buker was pulled up from defense to midfield and did a "nice job" according to Piwoni. However, Living Word scored on a breakaway with seven minutes left in the game when one defender fell and another defender was beat. That gave the visiting Living Word a 2-1 victory.

Piwoni felt that "our intensity was below average. We controlled the ball for much of the second half but our shots weren't dropping. It was a hard loss to swallow." The Indians outshot the visitors 12-10, while Sargent had seven saves.

Kiel came to town on Thursday, April 24. The Indians did not waste any time in jumping out to an early lead with a goal from junior Nicole Meyer. Kiel tied the game up at the end of the first half. "We played extremely well in the first half," said Piwoni. The second did not go in the Indians favor.

Kiel scored two quick goals to take the lead, and even a Christine Bohn goal from a nice cross by Meyer was not enough to slow down the visitors. "After (our goal), the rest of the second half became a nightmare. They slowly chipped away at us and I was very disappointed with our level of energy. Kiel took advantage of us getting down on ourselves. We need to play all out for 80 minutes, regardless of what the scoreboard says. We have the ability to do so, but need to find it within ourselves to overcome these situations and improve in the next game," said Piwoni.

Kiel won the game 7-2 as they out shot the Indians 15-9.

The Indians' Jessi Martin (middle) attempts to steal the ball away from a Cougar player in a match up on Monday, April 21. Amber Struck (8) is shown ready to assist.

Indians can learn from top teams in conference

By Nathan Kenworthy
Statesman Correspondent

There is never a great time to face teams in the upper echelon of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC), but because there really is no choice, you might as well play both games in a row and get the pounding over with. A visit on Tuesday, April 29, from the Plymouth Panthers made that point quite obvious as they out shot the Indians 20-2.

The Kewaskum Indians girls soccer team is not elite, but they are a growing program with many fantastic young athletes that have the potential to be great and have a coach in Amy Piwoni that is willing to put in the time and effort to see that the soccer program as a whole improves. This past week, they learned from the best teams in the conference what is needed to be at the top of the EWC standings.

Plymouth appears to have a great program and is rarely found anywhere but first or second in the EWC. The Indians held the Panthers off the scoreboard for the first 20 minutes, which "helped our defense build confidence," said Coach Amy Piwoni. The score at halftime was 3-0.

The second half went much of the same way, as the Panthers built up a 6-0 lead. Senior goalkeeper Julie Sargent was busy in the net, as she had 14 saves. "She had a great game. Made good decisions and really saw the ball well," said Piwoni. Piwoni added "I was proud of the effort the girls showed. They did not give up. We played much better against them (Plymouth) this time around."

On Thursday, May 1, Kewaskum traveled to Sheboygan Falls. The Indians "came out slow and Falls made us pay by dropping in two quick goals within the first ten minutes of the game," said Piwoni.

The Indians did find the energy to hold Falls to only one more goal in the first half, limiting the lead to 3-0.

Piwoni made what she described as "some minor adjustments on the defensive line for the second half and played like a completely different team." The midfield of Elissa Miller and Christine Bohn were able to move the ball up to the forwards (Amber Struck and Nicole Meyer), who were able to get some good shots on goal. Over the final 12 minutes, however, Falls was able to score four more goals to finish the game with a 7-0 win.

For the second straight game, Sargent was a busy woman in goal with 18 saves as Sheboygan Falls defeated the Indians 25-3.

The Indians next play Thursday, May 8 at home against Two Rivers at 4:30 p.m. and home again on Friday, May 9 against New Holstein.

KHS senior Julie Sargent, goalkeeper for the girls soccer team is shown above blocking a goal. She has contributed to her team defensively in the last couple of matches. During a match with Plymouth on Tuesday, April 29 Sargent was responsible for 14 saves.

Behind balanced scoring, including 26 points from the sprint events and the relays, the Kewaskum High girls track team finished nine points ahead of host Plymouth, 94-85 in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference triangular last Tuesday.

This reversed the outcome of a quad meet held at Plymouth back on April 8 when the Panthers won 110-98.

Campbellsport was the third team in the meet, finishing with just 23 points behind a spirited individual effort by Cecilee Rodenkirch.

As has been the case all season, the names Kelly Uelmen, Jessie Liniewski, Nichole Kison, Haley Gregoriou, Alissa Clapper and Candace Beine pop up all over the results sheet.

Uelmen led the field in the 100-meter dash with her clocking of 13 and .95 (13.95) seconds, while Liniewski and Kison finished 1-2 in the 200 with respective time of 28.02 and 28.32, and all three were involved in the 4x200 relay which, combined with Gregoriou, won with a time of 1:54.28.

Liniewski, Kison and Uelmen, along with Jessi Forbes, were definitely the fastest in the 4x100 relay, running a 53.88 compared with the 58.50 turned in by Plymouth.

Running isn't the only thing Liniewski and Kison do. Kison won the long jump after leaping 15 feet, 2 inches (15-2), while Liniewski placed third in the high jump (4-6), two places behind Beine, who cleared 5-0 for the second time in a row.

Gregoriou had a good outing in the rugged 300 hurdles, winning with a time of 52.80. The shorter hurdle race also produced two places, a second and fourth by Clapper (18.27) and Gregoriou (18.58).

Clapper returned to old form in the pole vault, clearing 9-6 to win the event, with Karla Stoffel second at 8-6.

Another highlight was the win by Lacy Taylor in the discus. Taylor continues to climb toward the 100-foot mark with her effort of 99-10.

KHS coach Jerry Gosa cited Taylor and Beine for their efforts. "I would say for the girls, those were the highlights," he said, also praising Clapper for her second in the 100 hurdles.

The 4x800 relay, comprised of Tonya Janssen, Stephanie Abramovich, Crystal Lepp, and Brooke Waala, was also victorious, posting a time of 11:38.48.

Othertop four places by the Indians were: 400 — Heather Schmitt, 3rd in 69.14 and Ashlie Roeske's 4th in 72.53; 800 — Lepp, 4th in 2:58.10; 1,600 — Lepp, 4th in 6:31.15; 3,200 — Janssen, 2nd, 14:26.04; and Tasha Wagner, 3rd in 17:13.66; 4x400 relay — Schmitt, Megan Thornton, Rachel Yocum and Megan Struck, 2nd in 4:45.29; triple jump — Angela Kugler, 3rd, 28-06.50; and triple jump — Beine, 4th, 28-08.50.

Rodenkirch won the 100 hurdles in a fine time of 17.93 and went 30-4 in the triple jump for two of Campbellsport's three victories.
