Community eyes new KHS Fitness Center

Froedtert & Community Health, St. Joseph's Hospital announce $50,000 contribution

KEWASKUM- Usually a high school weight room is simply that, one for the high school students and athletic programs. Athletic Director Jason Piittmann said the Kewaskum High School fitness center would serve members of the community as well as the high school kids.

"This facility offers a much wider variety," Piittmann said about this new fitness center over the old weight room. "We have a great increase of cardiovascular equipment. The selectorized weight circuit is very user friendly. There's no plates to move around, you sit down pop in the pin and read the instructions."

"We still have around power racks and platforms for athletic-style Olympic lifts and some body weight pieces. Now we have an opportunity to reach all 700 students in our school and also keep in mind we will be working with the community of all ages."

Community members will have a chance to become a member to use the fitness facility. Community members will have to pay a $120 annual membership fee or a family membership of $240. A student membership will be $50 for the year, but there are times where students can workout without a membership. Non-members can still come in and use the facility for $3 per day.

"Oh I think we will get good use out of it," said Lory Olla, who is a paraprofessional for the school district and mother of Indians quarterback Nick Olla. "This is so easy to come to with the kids. They use it when they are at school. Plus, I'm supporting my community."

Olla said her family would use this fitness center now over going to Snap Fitness. Being a paraprofessional with the school district she will also be working the desk inside the fitness center.

The new facility is 4,000 square-foot of converted classrooms. The cardiovascular machines face two flat screen high definition TVs from Kettle Moraine Appliance. The cardio machines feature six elliptical trainers, three upright bikes, three sit down bikes and six treadmills.

The back part of the fitness center is where to find the power racks and platforms. There are three power racks that really help to maximize space. A person can use the platform or squat when another person is bench pressing. Also by the power racks are three movable benches for dumbbell workouts. Dumbbells weigh as much as 100 pounds.

Some of Kewaskum students took advantage of the opening day of the fitness center to work out. Cody Seibel and Steven Kudek said they will be in there every day working hard.

"I've been waiting for this to open for a long time," Seibel said about why he came to workout on opening day.

"Just excited to get in there," Kudek added.

Both of the guys like the number of machines in the fitness center.

Regal Ware will export to China

CEO cites increased costs for manufacturing overseas

By Patrick Neumuth
Statesman Staff
patrick@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- It is not too often that a Kewaskum based company makes headlines for national news, but Regal Ware, Inc. was just highlighted in Fortune Magazine for their plan to bring outsourced goods from China and produce them back in the states.

"It is certainly a source of pride for Regal Ware to be featured in Fortune," Communications Director Pat Seitz said.

With the high oil prices and rising labor cost in China, Regal Ware is ditching their 10 years in China and bringing production home. Shipping cost has doubled in two years because of oil prices.

So far, it has worked. CEO Jeffrey Reigle was quoted in Fortune to saying delivery times have gone down considerably. Instead of taking a month or two, it takes days. That delay would put a strain on the company's inventory.

Reigle said in Fortune: "We either had too much inventory, or not enough. We figured there had to be a better way."

However, Regal Ware could have decided to move production in another foreign country in search of the lowest cost. The Fortune article said many American and Chinese companies are now producing in Vietnam. Regal Ware's decision to bringing production back home is having better control of the supply chain.

Regal Ware has their manufacturing plant in West Bend and is headquartered in Kewaskum. The company still plans on offshore productions on their kitchen items. The U.S. plants do not have the machinery to produce these kitchen items.

The Fortune article, "Made (again) in America," is featured at Regal Ware's website www.regalware.com.

Firefighters douse car fire

Kewaskum Firefighters had their Saturday evening plans squashed again after reporting to a car fire on Highway 28 Saturday, September 28, less than a mile from where they rescued a man after rollover accident the Saturday prior. Fire Chief Mark Groeschel reported his department was dispatched at 10:05 p.m. The fire started in engine area of vehicle. The cause at this time is unknown. The owner, Rick Hansen of West Bend, reportedly bought the car a couple of days prior. While driving Hanson stated it sputtered and quit. Upon leaving the vehicle he saw fire coming out the bottom of the engine area and called 911. Firefighters were on the scene about one-hour.

Proper information needed to register to vote

By STEPHANIE JUSTMANN,
VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM CLERK

Voters who still need to register to vote before casting a ballot in the November 4th General Election should know the requirements for getting registered.

To register, a voter needs to provide a driver license or state ID number, as well as personal information such as name, address and date of birth. If a voter does not have a valid, current driver license or state ID card, they can use the last four digits of their Social security number. If a voter has neither a WI Driver License nor a Social Security number, they can check a box on the form attesting to that.

In other words, the law requires you to use the number from your driver license/identification number if you have one, and if you don't, only then can you use the four digits from your Social Security number.

Anyone registering to vote after October 15th must provide proof of residency. You must have lived in the village for at least ten days if you plan to register. Acceptable documents that prove residence must include a current and complete name and residential address. They consist of:

1. A current and valid Wisconsin driver's license.
2. A current and valid Wisconsin identification card.
3. Any other official identification card or license issued by a Wisconsin governmental body or unit.

4. Any identification card issued by an employer in the normal course of business and bearing a photo of the card holder, but not including a business card.

5. A real estate tax bill or receipt for the current year or the year preceding the date of the election.

6. A residential lease which is effective for a period that includes election day.

7. A university, college or technical institute identification or fee card (must include photo).

8. A gas, electric or telephone service statement (utility bill) for the period commencing not earlier than 90 days before election day.

9. Bank statement.

10. Paycheck.

11. A check or other document issued by a unit of government.

Voters who wish to register by mail must complete the application for voter registration (EB-131) and mail it to the Municipal Building, P.O. Box 38, Kewaskum. The application must be postmarked no later than Wednesday, October 15th. After this date you may only register to vote in the clerk's office or on Election Day.

To check if you are already registered to vote you may visit the voter registration website at <http://vpa.wi.gov/> or you may call me at 626-8484 to check if you are registered or if you have any questions.

Junior Women's Club looking for new members

To the Editor:

As President of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club for the past three years now, I want to extend a personal invitation to women in the community to check us out. We are having a social gathering on October 7, 2008 at 6:30 p.m. at the Annex building to kick off a new club year. Come and enjoy snacks, beverages, activities and laughter!

The Kewaskum Junior Women's club is made up of women with varied interests and backgrounds that have one thing in common, to help support our community in ways that fit our individual lifestyles.

I personally joined five years ago to meet new people and that is exactly what I did. It is one night out a month for one to two hours where I get to keep in touch with local happenings and events in the community. I also see and hear firsthand the effort it takes to make the things happen in the Village and School District.

Benefits of our activities have included, but are not limited to: high school scholarships; donated equipment in the Kiwanis park and pool area; painted murals in the locker room of the Kiwanis pool; sponsored Washington County Shop with a Cop program; donated books and funds to the library; hosted a chili luncheon for the village workers; sponsored Santa letters and the Easter Bunny at the Village Easter Egg Hunt; donated pediatric jump kits to four area fire departments/ambulances and various donations to the school district, most recently for the new theater seats and fitness center, as well as the Kewaskum School District art display boards.

I have lots of ideas for the year and can't wait to share them with new and currently club members. So again, I encourage all women to come and see what we are all about at our social gathering. If you have any questions, please feel free to call me at 262-626-8893.

Guest Opinion

By Dan LeMahieu

Wisconsin Assembly, 59th District

While the Legislature is Away the Democrats Let the DNR Play

Representative Dan LeMahieu (R-Cascade) wants it to be known to all electricity rate payers, as well as Wisconsin taxpayers, that State Republicans want answers as to why ALL Democrats are remaining silent on an issue that will effect everyone in Wisconsin, young and old, rich and poor. Clearinghouse Rule 07-036, known as the Mercury Rules.

"This comprehensive rule package is simply another example of State Democrats and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources attempting to over regulate through the rule process, putting Wisconsin families and businesses in financial jeopardy," stated LeMahieu.

Clearinghouse Rule 07-036 is flawed for multiple reasons. First, with regards to the Mercury portions of the rule, the DNR never completed a scope statement for the rule. Under Chapter 227 of the Statutes, every administrative rule needs to have a scope statement. Without a scope statement, everyone looking at the economic impact of what these new mercury rules will do to Wisconsin's industry, recreational (including sportsmen & women), and individual tax and rate payers cannot get accurate answers to how the economy will be effected. The DNR simply went ahead and cavalierly created this rule, with no understanding of what its effect would be on the Wisconsin economy.

Secondly, the DNR used a "Christmas Tree" approach, tagging new Ozone Requirements to the rule. These Ozone requirements had nothing to do with Mercury standards, originally thought to be the only administrative issue that the DNR would be dealing with in Clearinghouse rule 07-036. These new standards will have huge ramifications on all Wisconsin coal burning power plants. The standards will require retro-fitting all plants with the newest technology for ozone depletion (estimated cost for this project is over $1 billion).

As written, Clearinghouse Rule 07-036 would delay implementation of the new mercury standards by an additional five years. The Assembly Committee on Natural Resources requested the Department of Natural Resources to modify this rule at their August meeting, asking that they remove the onerous ozone standards, saving rate payers of this state over a billion dollars, as well as moving up the implementation of the mercury standards an additional five years. The DNR and the Legislative Democrats refused.

Within the past month the administration, as well as lawmakers, have learned that the entire State of Wisconsin now is compliant with EPA ozone standards, including southeastern Wisconsin's non-containment zones. All have passed Federal EPA ozone requirements. These new ozone restrictions are doing nothing but laying a large rate increase on the shoulders of Wisconsin taxpayers. Legislative Democrats should be honest with their constituents now.

"With people paying more at the pump and families wondering this winter how they're going to heat their homes, the State Democrats have decided to add an enormous increase in electric bills to families that are already pinching pennies. Republicans objected to this horrible rule in the Assembly Natural Resource committee on a party line vote while the Democrat controlled State Senate rubber stamped this rule with a wink and a smile. It's clear who's prepared to stand up and fight for the taxpayers and businesses of Wisconsin. This rule now sits in the Committee for Review of Administrative Rules. As Assembly Co-Chairman, and speaking on behalf of Republicans, I demand that Democrats don't turn their backs once again on working families young and old, that they don't turn their backs on businesses who continue to leave this state because they can't afford to do business here anymore. Democrats need to do the right thing and join republicans and object to this rule in the Joint Committee for Review of Administrative Rules," Stated LeMahieu.

Representative Dan LeMahieu, who was elected to serve the 59th assembly district, currently serves as Co-Chair of the Joint Committee for Review of Administrative Rules. In addition LeMahieu is a member of four other assembly committees.

Have you had yours?

For breast cancer, the key to survival is early detection.

As a woman over 40 the American Cancer Society recommends that you have a mammogram every year. Aurora Health Care offers state-of-the art digital mammography including our Picture Archival Communications System, which can link your mammogram with specialists locally or around the world.

During your annual check-up it is also recommended you have a professional breast exam performed by your personal physician or gynecologist. ## Crashes keep emergency personnel busy Tuesday

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Publisher
andrew@kewaskumstatesman

It was a busy early morning in Washington County for Sheriff's deputies and emergency personnel on Tuesday, September 30. Deputies handled two serious motor vehicle crashes during a four-hour stretch, in the towns of Farmington and Wayne.

The first crash, at 12:17 a.m. on Jay Road, west of Fillmore Road, in the Town of Farmington, involved one vehicle and brought out the Fillmore, Newburg, Waubeka and West Bend Fire Departments, in addition to sheriff's deputies.

A passerby that came upon the wreckage called in the crash to authorities. Prior to emergency personnel arriving on scene, preliminary information was received that the damaged vehicle had struck a bridge guardrail, was overturned, and was partially submerged in the Milwaukee River. "We were also told the vehicle had multiple occupants, some of which were trapped and several of which were not responsive," stated Lieutenant Robert Martin.

Deputies found the vehicle was occupied by Paul Wesley Witter, 35, from Horicon. He was trapped inside and injured, but was conscious. He claimed that at the time of the collision there were two other occupants inside the vehicle. No one else could immediately be located.

Due to the possibility that there could have been other occupants unaccounted for and the depth of the water in the area, the Washington County Dive Team was summoned to check the river for additional victims. Kewaskum Fire Chief Mark Groeschel indicated that Dive Team members from the Kewaskum and West Bend Fire Departments searched the river for over two hours and additional persons were not located.

Lieutenant Martin stated it is believed Witter was the driver and only occupant of the car at the time of the collision. He was extricated and transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in the Town of Polk for non-life threatening injuries. He believed alcohol to have been a contributing factor.

Traffic along Jay Road was closed for approximately two hours while rescue and clean-up efforts were conducted.

The second crash happened four hours later at 4:16 a.m. when an 18-year-old Lomira man was critically injured in a one-vehicle crash on County Highway D, near Townline Road, in the Town of Wayne.

Sheriff's deputies, and emergency personnel from the Kohlsville and West Bend Fire Departments responded. Upon arrival, the driver, Derek D. Fink, was found to have been ejected from the wreckage and was located near the damaged car. Flight For Life Helicopter responded to the scene due to the significance of Fink's injuries. The victim was transported to Froedtert Hospital in Milwaukee. Information could not be obtained on Fink's condition.

Lieutenant Martin stated the investigation revealed Fink's vehicle was traveling eastbound on Highway D. For an unknown reason, the car drifted off onto the shoulder of the road, struck a culvert embankment, vaulted thru the ditch, and overturned numerous times before coming to rest against a pine tree. The driver was believed not to have been wearing a safety belt.

"The accident remains under investigation, however, alcohol use does not appear to have been a contributing factor, but excessive speed may have contributed to the severity," he continued.

Traffic along Highway D was re-routed around the scene while rescue and clean-up efforts were conducted. The Sheriff's Department was notified of the collision by an area resident that heard the impact.

While deputies were on the scene of the Highway D crash, a third crash occurred at the Village of Kewaskum limits around 5 a.m. Kewaskum Police Officer Alan Ratzel responded to the crash first and discovered a traffic light at the intersection of Highways 45 and H east had been taken down and found an abandoned vehicle at the scene. The traffic light was also obstructing traffic on Highway 45.

Randy Palor of Kewaskum, owns the vehicle found at the scene. Further details were not available at press time however it is believed the driver of Palor's vehicle may have been involved in taking down the traffic light.

Statesman staff member Lana Kuehl contributed to this report.

Parent concerned about state of school district's paraprofessionals

Dear Editor,

I just received the September issue of the Kewaskum Communique. One of the first things I noticed was the mission statement, "The Kewaskum Community Schools ignite a passion for learning." What a great mission statement! Today I also heard that the Kewaskum School District plans on removing more paraprofessionals next year.

If the Kewaskum School District Leadership Team is igniting a passion for learning, shouldn't they keep paraprofessionals in the schools to assist teachers in doing just that? As a parent, I'm concerned that there will not be enough help for my child as well as all the classmates in the room. Teachers are stretched thin as it is. Also, what about Wednesday early release?

There seems to be enough money for auditoriums, athletic workrooms and other "extras" that are important for the growth of the community and school, however isn't a top educational experience in the classroom the priority anymore? Shouldn't there be enough money to keep paraprofessionals in the schools where they are needed most... helping all the students? Especially as our enrollment and classroom sizes continue to grow with more and more needs already struggling to be met.

Mr. Krumm, are you going to let parents know if these are rumors or if you really plan on letting an important asset in the school district go?

Thank you,
A KSD Supporter and concerned parent

Rosenthal honored

A bench honoring the memory of the late Jan F. Rosenthal from Kewaskum, for his life long dedication to the people and natural resources of Wisconsin, was recently dedicated in the Kettle Moraine State Forest Northern Unit. The bench overlooks a field of wild flowers with the hills of the Kettle Moraine in the background and sits along the brown loop of the New Fane trails. The trails are used throughout the year by hikers, mountain bikers, and cross country skiers. They are located north of County Line Rd. and just east of Kettle Moraine Drive between Kewaskum and New Fane.

Jan's primary occupation was an English teacher for the Kewaskum High School. Jan Rosenthal also worked as a Park Ranger for the Kettle Moraine State Forest from 1966 to 1993. In addition, Jan worked as a Deputy Conservation Warden from 1967 to his death in December of 2007.

Yeska family reunion held

It was Westward Ho for the descendants of Anton and Stella (Paluka) Yeska as they gathered at the homestead in Neshkoro on Labor Day weekend. The theme was Western Days, so cowboy hats and boots, red kerchiefs and six shooters were in evidence. Sixty to 70 family members were present, even ones from Canada.

A Longhorn Jail was constructed by Joan and Janet Kempiake, bars and all. Near the jail were tombstones erected such as they had seen in Arizona:

Bill Blake 1940 Hung by mistake;

Here lies Lester Moore, 4 slugs from a 44 No Less, No Moore;

Here lies Zeke, Second fastest draw in Cripple Creek;

John Dyre 1888 Drew his gun - it didn't fire;

Anna 1873 I told you I was sick.

Saturday morning some enjoyed a golf game at Twin Oaks near Wautoma. There was an archery contest in the afternoon conducted by John Celek. Also a football fantasy under the direction of Joey Kerlin. Those less ambitious played sheephead.

The Chuck Wagon was a feast of wild games, such as the pioneers enjoyed. We had deep fried duck strips, salmon, deer tenderloin from the 10 point bucket Janet shot last fall, antelope, chicken, hunters stew, Kewaskum summer sausage and numerous desserts.

We adjourned to John Kurtz's pole building where he had a stage. We walked through swining doors. We were served sasparrilla and peanuts. Western poems and songs were on the program and a fiddle rendition by Michael Kurtz. With the sound system provided by David Kerlin, we enjoyed skits of Western movies. Some went to 4 p.m. Mass and others went in a group Sunday morning at 9:15 a.m. The Good Lord blessed us with perfect weather.

During the day, Sheriff Wyatt Earp (Bill Kempick) roamed the grounds in his SUV arresting people for little or no reason and put them in jail, where we could bail them out for a small fee. Judge Roy Bean (Rob Kempak) presiding. A baseball game was held Sunday afternoon at Stan O Gene park.

Sunday evening, about 12 people enjoyed dinner at Silver Cryst, Wautoma, in honor of Patty Celek's birthday. Sunday evening we watched a movie where Ken Striet and his guide shot a moose in the Yukon.

Janet and Bob Kempiake and Joan and Bill Kempiake recently visited Alaska, so we viewed their pictures on the laptop. They saw a place called Al Yeska Resort.

The finale was the movie Cat Ballou with Jane Fonda. Monday we returned home anticipating next year's event.

My contribution was as follows:

2008 Reunion

As once again we gather Our memories to relate I fear the days are nearing The path to Heaven's gate

Another year has come and gone

We eagerly anticipate What surprises are in store for us By those who deem our fate!

It's always such a pleasure When we congregate To see again the ones we love, I can hardly wait!

A grand and glorious time, it was For Hank and me that day When all of you did honor us God bless you all we pray

So let's get down to business The great day has arrived And if I know the Yeska bunch We'll be glad we have survived!

Halloween Nature Hikes Oct. 17-18

Are you looking for a non-scary, but fun-filled Halloween event? The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit is offering its eleventh annual Halloween Nature Hikes on Friday, October 17, and Saturday, October 18, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The hikes will take place at the Long Lake Recreation Area located off of Division Road just north of Hwy F about one mile east of Dundee. Guided groups of no more than 30 people will leave every six minutes with the last hike leaving at 8:30 p.m. Each hike will last about one hour. The event is most appropriate for those over the age of five years.

As the last glimmer of light fades from the evening sky, watch out! The nocturnal animals are awake and waiting to tell you their tales. As you wander through the dark autumn woods, you'll meet many amazing animal characters including the happy-go-lucky spotted salamander, the stinky striped skunk, a rockin' treefrog, the lightning fast little brown bat. Through your journey on this fun-filled hike, you will learn a little about each animal's adaptations for surviving in the night world and the important role it plays in nature.

There will also be exciting games and clever crafts for the kids to do before or after their hikes. The Friends of the Kettle Moraine will provide hot and cold cider, and popcorn for all the hikers.

State Park System vehicle admission stickers are required for this event. A Wisconsin resident daily sticker is $7.00 per car or an annual sticker is $25.00. If you already have your State Park System sticker, the event is free. Your donations are always very gratefully accepted to help us continue this event into the future.

Please join in for a great evening of educational entertainment for the whole family! For more information, contact the forest staff at (920) 533-8322.

White House Exhibit makes stop in West Bend

Shown above is a view of the White House Exhibit at a previous location. The display will be open through October 21 at the Washington County Fair Park.

By Patrick Neumuth
Statesman Staff
patrick@kewaskumstatesman

Starting tomorrow, the White House will be at the Washington County Fair Park in West Bend. Well, not the actual White House, but a 60 foot by 20 foot replica made by Wisconsin native John Zweifel will be on exhibit to the public on Saturday through Oct. 21.

"He has more memorabilia of presidents than anybody in the world," said Managing Director for the White House in West Bend Tom Meisenheimer of Zweifel.

Meisenheimer first organized the showing of the replica White House with Zweifel at Marion College in 1986. A year and a half ago, Meisenheimer got in contact with Zweifel to get it back in Wisconsin. Zweifel has the replica White House on display at his Presidents Hall of Fame museum in Clermont, Fla.

When Meisenheimer called Zweifel to see if he wanted the replica to come back to Wisconsin, Zweifel was in the real

White House taking measurements.

"It's updated every [so many] months. Now, with a new president coming in, the Oval Office will change, the living quarters will change, so Mr. Zweifel will be back there," Meisenheimer said. "He's had access to the White House ever since Jackie Kennedy let him in to do measurements."

Meisenheimer said every Oval Office created by Zweifel is on display at his museum in Florida.

"When the new president comes in, he pulls it out and creates the new one," said Meisenheimer of the interior. "Each one had their own flavor to it. From the jelly beans that Ronald Reagan had in it to little John-John Kennedy's desk that opened that he used to crawl through."

Meisenheimer said one of the best perks of going to see the replica White House is that people can see every room how it looks today. People touring the real White House only get to see a small portion.

"Mr. Zweifel always refers to it not only as the president's house, but your house. It's our house," Meisenheimer said. What makes Zweifel's replica amazing is how exact it is. Meisenheimer said if a chair is made of cherry wood in the White House, it is made of cherry wood in the replica.

"The television sets are one inch by one inch. They actually work. The fountains work. The lights and chandeliers are made about the size of little pieces of rice and actually light and are lit," said Meisenheimer on how exact the replica is.

"I think it has taken (Zweifel) and his crew over the years over 400,000 hours putting this together."

All of the individual pieces are hand wrapped and unwrapped and takes about a week to set up.

There will be other exhibits for attendees. "The Presidents at the Ball Parks" exhibit Meisenheimer said are large photos of presidents, dating back to President Taft, throwing out the first pitch of the Major League Baseball's opening days. The photos were provided by the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY. Meisenheimer said "The Presidents at the Ball Parks" is presented by baseball, hot dogs, apple pie and Chevrolet.

There will also be an exhibit of 32 miniature churches and buildings of Washington County along with miniature farm implements Meisenheimer said.

The White House exhibit kicks off tomorrow with the gala "Dinner at the White House." There will be Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln impersonators greeting people at the door. The dinner hall was set up to replicate the State Dining room down to the chairs Meisenheimer said. The gala dinner goes from 6-9 p.m.

Saturday is the first day it will be open to the public. From noon to four in the afternoon former Brewer Willie Mueller, "The Duke" in the movie Major League, will be there to sign autographs. Sunday, the Oscar Mayer Weinermobile will be on hand from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. October 10, the West Bend Noon Rotary Club will be having a fish fry. Those attending the fish fry will receive a $5 discount to visit the replica White House.

The replica White House opens tomorrow for the gala dinner and to the public Saturday. The exhibit is open Monday through Saturday from nine in the morning to nine at night and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. For more information contact Tom Meisenheimer at 414-531-2884 or visit their website at whitehousein-westbend.com.

The Lucky One

By Nicholas Sparks

Grand Central Publishing $24.99 326 pages

A Novel by the
#1 New York Times Bestselling Author

NICHOLAS SPARKS

The Lucky One

Where did you meet your beloved?

Was he a fix-up, a down-load, or a sideswipe as you ran for the elevator? Did you notice him from afar and hope for an introduction? Or was he the passion perpetrator, actively angling to meet you?

Cupid ain't stupid and now you're together. But from where does true love spring? Is it fate or feat?

In Logan Thibault's case, it's feet. He walked across America in search of a woman he didn't know. In the new novel, "The Lucky One" by Nicholas Sparks, a picture is truly worth a thousand words.

He wasn't looking for a snapshot. He was looking for some quiet time to think, so Logan Thibault ran through the desert every morning before his regiment awoke. On that particular morning, though, the sun lit the Iraqi desert and reflected off a laminated picture half-buried in the sand.

"Keep Safe!" it said, signed with an "E". A beautiful, smiling girl with an E-name, wearing Lucky Lady t-shirt.

He tried to find the snapshot's owner, but nobody claimed it. After a week, Thibault put the photo in his pocket. He took it out now and then and thought about her, wondering. Victor, his best buddy, said it was fate that Thibault found the photo.

Maybe it was.

Word got around that the Lucky Lady picture brought Thibault his own bit of luck. He won more poker games. He survived sniper attacks. He was lucky enough to come home, wasn't he?

But he couldn't get the woman out of his head. There were clues in the photo, and his heart told him he needed closure. He started walking in search of her.

Beth made a lot of mistakes in her life. Marrying Keith Clayton was one of them, but if it wasn't for that union, her son Ben wouldn't be around. Ben was ten years old and while he was a great kid, Beth knew he disappointed Clayton. Clayton was sports-minded; Ben wasn't. Clayton was a bully; Ben was gentle. Ben hated weekends with his father, but since Clayton's family practically owned Hampton, North Carolina, Beth knew there wasn't much choice.

The first run-in Keith Clayton had with that Thigh-bolt guy didn't go so well. He wished there was a way to get rid of Thigh-bolt for good. Clayton would do anything to keep Beth from dating.

Anything.

I feel pretty lucky I got to read this book. "The Lucky One" is possibly one of author Nicholas Sparks' finest novels.

Perhaps best known for his almost-a-romance novels, Sparks mixed this one up a little bit with better character development than I thought he had in the last book, a bad-guy who's simply despicable, and a little bit of suspense to keep you going. Not to be a spoiler, but this novel is a page-turner and very hard to resist.

If you're a fan of Nicholas Sparks or if you're wondering what the hoo-rah is all about, you'll want "The Lucky One". Picture yourself reading it this week.

THANK YOU!

Happy Birthday FRANK WERHANOWICZ October 4th

I picture your face, With those little pollack ears, A twinkle in your eye. My heart still grieves, As another birthday goes by.

We didn't get a do-over, You didn't call coming back We can only rewind our memories

Of precious moments now past

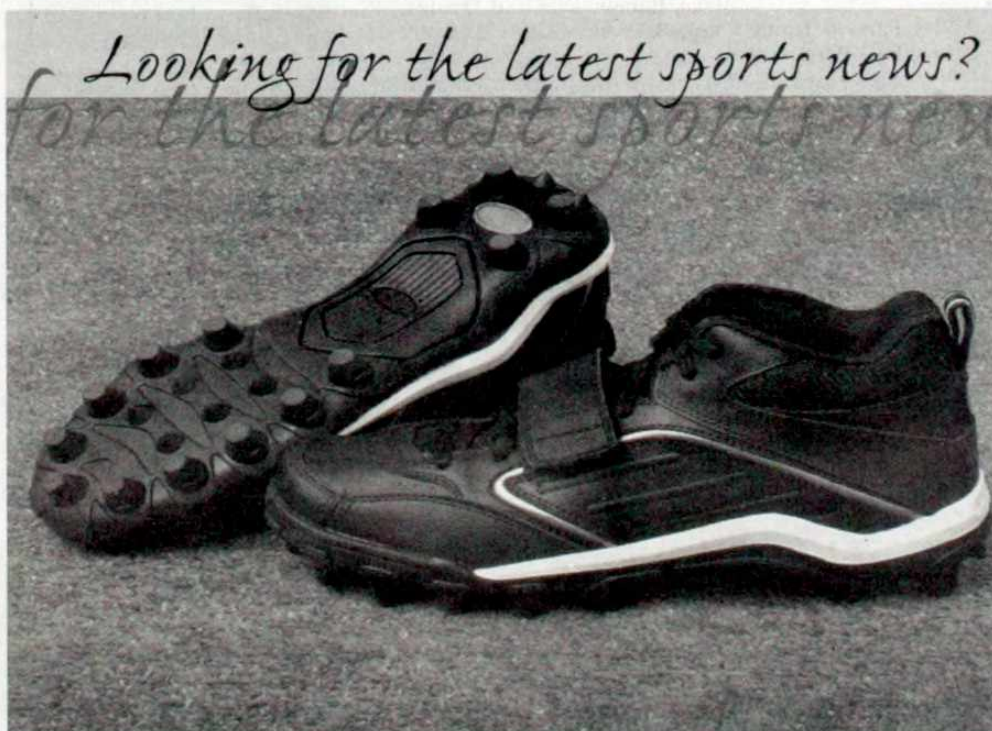

You cracking nuts, Your love for soup, And your mess in the garage, Are now some of the pictures I've locked in my memory collage.

I can feel your presence As I look at our trees They call out your name As they sway with the breeze I've gone to the store And brought home more than a time or two, Maple nut goodies, orange slices, I felt the need To eat them for you.

They say time heals, But that doesn't hold true, My heart still breaks, I still miss and need you.

Happy Birthday Dad, Grampa!

Mike, Pam, Peter, Luanne, Elly, and Kati

Dairyland Seed releases new soybean varieties

WEST BEND - Dairyland Seed recently announced the release of 12 new soybean varieties for the 2009 planting season. Each of these varieties can be seen at research tours and field days throughout the Midwest this fall. The descriptions of the new products for this area include:

DSR-0101/RR Maturity 0.1 - Bushy plant with top end yield strength. Light tawny plant with a striking brown pod color. Good iron chlorosis resistance, outstanding white mold tolerance, excellent phytophthora tolerance and tremendous brown stem resistance provide the basis for terrific plant health.

DSR-0602/RR Maturity 0.6 - Proven high yielding product development! A full canopied, wide statured plant with a light tawny appearance. Excellent iron chlorosis tolerance protection, outstanding phytophthora root protection and strong brown stem rot protection assure yield strength.

DSR-1055/RR Maturity 0.8 - Aggressive, high yielding genetics with a powerful disease protection system. Strengths include exceptional brown stem resistance, excellent iron chlorosis tolerance and terrific phytophthora protection. Exceptional plant health with cutting-edge high yielding parents. Full canopy plant.

DSR-20/RR-UL Maturity 1.9 - One of the world's first ultra-low linolenic soybean products brought to market with Roundup herbicide tolerance! An innovative breakthrough product that establishes a new precedent in the ultra-low linolenic healthy soybean category as it delivers both yield and Roundup herbicide protection in one strong package. This medium bush ultra-low linolenic soybean has a much superior market appeal than current low linolenic products that are not ultra low.

DSR-2118 Maturity 2.1 - Superior, high yielding conventional soybean significantly surpasses competitors. Phenomenal white mold tolerance, brown stem resistance and very strong phytophthora tolerance energize this product's ability to capture yield. Best yield results come with drilling or planting in narrow rows.

DSR-2525/RR-AP Maturity 2.5 - This aphid resistant, mid-Group 2 soybean provides genetic protection from an all too common pest. Safeguard your field's yield potential with this exciting product development. Added field protection is provided with resistance to Race 3 cyst nematode.

DSR-3155/RR Maturity 3.0 - Medium bush plant type with excellent yield potential. Genetically bred to provide superior plant health due to exceptional brown stem resistance, phytophthora protection and moderate cyst nematode resistance. Very strong white mold resistance. Exceptional standability.

DSR-3265/RR Maturity 3.1 - Aggressive robust plant. Strong yield performance where cyst nematode, brown stem or phytophthora pressures come into play. Very versatile product due to wide soil adaptation capabilities. Pushes the envelope for high yield performance.

Dairyland Seed began its seed business in 1907 and has built an established dealer network throughout the Upper Midwest with international sales in more than 20 countries. Primary research locations are at Clinton, Wis; Gibson City, Ill.; Otterbein, Ind.; Gilbert, Iowa; and Sloughhouse, Calif. It has plant breeding programs in hybrid alfalfa, hybrid corn and soybeans. Dairyland Seed is headquartered in West Bend, Wis. For more information, contact 1-800-236-0163 or visit www.dairylandseed.com.

Youth leadership derby designed to get engines started

FOND DU LAC - Students with a passion for the dairy industry will flood the Brillion High School for the Youth Leadership Derby on Nov. 8-9 for an action-packed lock-in. Students aged 15-18 should reserve their seat on the roster today.

Hands-on labs and workshops will lead enthusiastic youth into an experience filled with numerous, valuable experiences and networking opportunities. Coordinated by Professional Dairy Producers of Wisconsin (PDPW), students will have the opportunity to interact with young adults who have recently entered the professional arena, understand the science behind the industry and have numerous chances to learn, while creating lifelong friendships.

Adam Geiger, a 2006 attendee said, "The Youth Leadership Derby was a great experience that allowed me to meet other high school students with the same passions as myself, and I had the opportunity to explore career areas I was previously unaware of."

The labs for this year's Derby highlight genetics, technology, and science. With industry leaders Joel Franke, Dr. Bob Bradley, and Dr. Chris Booth leading the labs, attendees will certainly leave with a more diverse outlook than previous experiences may have offered. The dairy industry certainly would not be the same without the advancements in science leading to many new dairy food products, the research in calf care or the superior genetics bull studs continue to impress with.

This derby will also feature a panel of young adults whose career choices range from a producer to a veterinarian. The panel also includes a financial specialist and genetic management specialist, with special insight from an agri-science teacher. Hearing firsthand from individuals who recently entered the "real world" should excite students about the diverse opportunities available to them, there's no better time to be involved in agriculture!

Do you know a student who would benefit from this experience? Student sponsorships are always encouraged. Register now since rates increase after October 15! Cost is $100 if registered before October 15th and $125 after. Registration includes all training materials, meals, tours, and refreshments. To register or receive additional information, visit www.pdpw.org or call 800-947-7379.

Professional Dairy Producers of Wisconsin is a dairy producer-led organization that provides educational programs and services to fellow dairy producers. PDPW's mission is "to share ideas, solutions, resources, and experiences that help dairy producers succeed."

Newcomer has successful weekend on the links

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman

He sprinted out of the gate early Saturday morning, and newcomer Ryan Siegler lead wire to wire in the 35th annual 2008 Kettle Moraine Amateur Golf Tournament held at Hon-E-Kor Country Club over the weekend.

Siegler, who is reportedly 25 year old and resides in Menomonee Falls, burned the Blue and White Nines to the tune of a 1-under par 69 on Saturday and followed up with a 37-38-75 Sunday for a 144 total, two shots ahead of West Bend teacher/coach Craig Anderson, who was very steady with a pair of 73s.

Defending champion Jim Rohlinger turned in two solid rounds, identical 74s, for a 148 and third place.

Siegler's 69 came via a 34 on the Blue Nine, which was followed up with an even par 35 on the White. He had two birdies and one bogey on the Blue Nine, and one birdie and one bogey on the White.

Anderson cut the four-stroke deficit to two after the two men played their first nine on Sunday, but Siegler stayed away from any major mistakes on the final nine holes to capture his first KMA title.

Anderson was attempting to win his eighth title in the event, which started back in 1974, with the first winner Mike O'Connor Jr.

Ethan Geidel, a senior at Kewaskum High School, and Jay Krueger, who teaches and coaches in West Bend, tied for fifth with 149s. Because Geidel still has a year of high school eligibility, he is unable to take any prizes.

Paul Bartelak of Milwaukee was in good shape after his first-round 73, but he slipped a bit Sunday, carding an 80, for a 153 and tied for sixth with David Olds.

Todd Rathkamp was one shot back with a 154, and rounding out the top 10 were Keith Gagnon and Joe Volesky with scores of 156 and 167, respectively.

There were 14 men who started in the Championship Flight 36-hole tournament.

Clark Pearson, former Kewaskum High teacher and administrator, cruised to a five-stroke win in the Men's First Flight with his 159 on respective scores of 80 and 79.

Mark Hafenbreadl was the runner-up in the First Flight with a 164, then came Jim Garden with a 166.

Rounding out the top six were Larry Sterr, 168; Jim Korth, 171; and Mike Volesky, 172.

Topping the Second flight was Kewaskum insurance man, Tom Bartelt, whose 161, would have given him second place in the First Flight. Brian Ogle took second at 163, then came Rick Averill with a 165.

Third Flight winner Tom Timblin had a seven-stroke cushion over runner-up, Mike Mauer, 166 to 173. Gary Currier and Buck Averill were deadlocked at 176 for the third spot.

And the champion in Flight No. 4 was the "Swede," Ken Erikson who posted a 175 total for the two rounds. Fishing a distant second was John McKay at 189, then came Wayne Thierfelder with a 198.

Many of the players were also involved in a best ball competition for the two days, and the winners were as follows: Championship Flight — Rohlinger and Krueger, 133; First Flight — Pearson/Korth — 148; Second Flight — Averill/Bartelt — 145; Third Flight — Mike Lewis/Timblin, 152; and Fourth Flight — Erickson/Mike Pfeiffer, 167.

The 50 golfers in the tournament were treated to some beautiful weather for the two days. "Awesome," said Kate Korth, who works in the Pro Shop and helped direct the event.

Korth recently won her first Club Championship at Hon-E-Kor, defeating defending champion Dianne Kleinke, 7-and-6. Korth ended the match with a par on the third hole on the Blue Nine.

The match was to have been played on Labor Day, but Korth was taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital the night before because of an allergic reaction. In a show of good sportsmanship, Kleinke agreed to play at a later date.

Way, way out front of the field

His crew found the perfect set up, and Don Goeden did the rest Saturday night in the feature event of the weekly IRA (Interstate Racing Association) Sprint Car show at Speedzone Park in Oshkosh Sept. 20.

"I started eleventh in the A-Main and worked up to the front ... We made it to the front by lap twenty one," Goeden said Monday evening about his win in the 30-lap main on the third-mile dirt oval.

In what was an awesome display of racing, Goeden continued to drive hard the final nine laps and started lapping cars. "We lapped all the way up to the eleventh spot," he said.

While Goeden has had a solid season, this was just his second feature win, the first coming back on May 3rd at Charter Park in Beaver Dam.

"The car was set up just right. My crew found the setup ... the car was fast," Goeden said, indicating, "We were racing pretty much the whole track. We could go high. We could go low."

The adrenaline was definitely increasing on the final laps for the Kewaskum driver, who said, "The last corner and the checkered flag ... it felt good. A lot of my fans were there. We put on a good show for them."

For the record, John Serrett of Minnesota and Beaver Dam's Scotty Neitzel finished second and third, respectively, but they were quite a ways back.

The win helped Goeden move up to fourth place in the point standings. He currently has 2,645 points, and that's running about three quarters of the IRA shows.

Sitting in the top spot in the standings with just one race remaining is Billy Balog, who is 2,843 and a 65-point lead on Neitzel. Mike Reinke is third at 2,719.

Balog's night ended rather prematurely when, according to Goeden, "He broke on the second lap" of the feature.

Balog wasn't the only racer to run into bad luck. Scott Bierterz of West Bend, currently seventh in points with 2,350 points, had his motor blow in the "B" Main, and that ended his night of racing.

Time trials were wiped out by a little rain shower that went through Oshkosh at the beginning of the show. "We went to 'passing points,' or 'progressive racing,'" according to Goeden, who said the drivers earned points in their heat races based on where they finished and how many cars they passed.

Goeden finished 11th in passing points, so he automatically qualified his black No. 11 mount for the "A" Main with the others who were among the 16 leaders.

One other Kewaskum racer who had a good night was second-year driver, Russell Borland. "He finished third in the heat and went into the "A" Main," Goeden said. "He had a good night."

Borland is currently running 13th in the points standings with 1,959 points.

The final IRA show will be held at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds last Saturday night. Qualifying is set to begin at 6 p.m.

Kiel 5 Kewaskum 1

The Indians controlled the ball, but not the score last Tuesday. Head coach Dennis Gutbrod said Nicholas Gutbrod, Nate Wendelborn and Caleb Olla really dominated the middle of the field.

However, the Indians gave up two goals. Another Kiel goal was scored when an Indian defensive man thought the ball rolled over the endline, but the ball was in play and the Kiel player won it and scored.

Scott Prim scored the lone Indians goal unassisted.

Dennis Gutbrod said if the team can keep possession like this they will win more games. He said now they must capitalize on scoring opportunities. The Indians are at home against Two Rivers today at 4:30 p.m.

A tough day for young gridgers

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman

The competition got a little ... make that a lot harder for the Kewaskum Gridiron teams Saturday as they traveled to play teams from Thiensville-Mequon or West Bend West.

The young Indians lost all four games on Saturday's schedule.

Injuries and the undefeated T-M Cardinals' overall speed were too much for the eighth graders (2-2) to overcome, and they ended up losing 38-12.

"We had a tough time of it. We faced them in the scrimmage, and they were a lot quicker than we were," coach "Jonesy" Korth said, adding, "We did improve in the second half."

"Austin Goeden did a nice job of running," Korth said, and, "Corey Burdick ... even though he had three interceptions, he looked good at quarterback. He handled himself well."

Ted Wollner had the Kewaskum touchdowns, both on short runs, and Nate Krupp had a good pass reception.

End/quarterback Hunter Flanders missed the game as he is still recovering from a broken collarbone, and Derek Aupperle was out with an injury.

The seventh graders (3-1) lost to a good West team, and the 16-0 defeat was their first of the year.

"The defense was OK," coach Randy Schlice said, but, "We couldn't block anybody from tight end to tight end. That was our downfall."

Schlice said West scored both of its touchdowns in the first half, both on pass plays.

Joe Brackman and Robert Peterson had fumble recoveries, and Austin Resch and Robert Martin picked off passes, according to Schlice, who said, "We had a 95-yard TD (Joey Seitz) called back by an illegal procedure call."

The sixth graders (3-1) lost 31-6, and coach Joe Backhaus said the one Kewaskum TD came via a Zach Smith run in the third quarter.

"We should have had two (touchdowns)," the coach went on, reporting a block in the back 20 yards behind the play erased the score. "Defensively, we weren't up to the task."

Backhaus said Billy Lehmann and Hunter Demmon turned in good efforts offensively, while Max Vetter played well defensively.

Otherwise, "There was not much enthusiasm," Backhaus said, adding, "Maybe next week will be the charm."

The fifth graders (3-1), and specifically coach Mark Walcheske, wanted to beat T-M so badly after the Cardinals piled it on last year, and "We were pretty close to accomplishing that," losing 20-13 with the Cardinals getting the winning TD with :26 to go.

At half, the score was 7-0 in the Cardinals' favor. The lone score came when the Indians tried a lateral, which went backward. One of the Cardinals picked up the ball and ran it in for a score.

The Indians got on the board in the third quarter on a 32-yard run by Josh Baker. Kewaskum's defense stopped T-M, then the Indians took a 13-7 lead early in the fourth quarter on a 41-yard reverse by Baker and a pass from Michael Prochnow to Andrew Otto for the PAT.

The Cardinals tied the game on a pass play, then Kewaskum had a chance to score again.

"We were going for the win" Walcheske said, reporting the Cardinals got an interception and came up with the winning score on a wide receiver screen.

"It was a good game all the way around," Walcheske said, reporting his defensive line, consisting of Brandon Wade, Charlie Witek, Brandon Thull and Brad Bunkelman, did a good job keeping the Cardinals' running game in check.

All four Kewaskum teams will entertain Cedar Grove/Belgium teams this Saturday in the annual Parents Night. The 8th grade plays under the lights at 7 p.m.

PAT'S PERSPECTIVE

1982, What?

It happened, it finally happened. I have lived my entire life with the Brewers being bottom dwellers in the American and National Leagues. But Sunday was something words cannot describe.

It was just happen-stance that I got to go to the game. One of my friend's parents had tickets and did not want to go. The energy in the parking lot before the game, inside during the game and the celebration after was something I have never seen before. The game would have been awesome wherever we sat, but my friends and I were lucky the tickets were 15 rows back just beyond first base.

CC Sabathia gets my vote for NL Cy Young, NL MVP, president and anything else he wants. The guy is a gamer. There are some guys that are great players, but can't win in the clutch. Sabathia is a great pitcher in the clutch. The Brewers NEED to sign him at any cost. If another team offers him $25 million a year, we must do the same. If a European basketball team wants him to come overseas and play basketball for $50 million a year, the Brewers need to match it.

To go three games on three days rest and have an ERA of 0.83 in those three games is incredible. His ERA with the Brewers is 1.65. It's just remarkable that he was able to throw a complete game, 122-pitch, four-hit type of game. I bet my arm is hurt more than Sabathia's with how many fist pumps and high-fives I gave out.

The one run that was given up was not earned. The runner got aboard because of a Prince Fielder error. He should not have even scored, though. We were right there, Ronny Cedeno was out at first on the attempted double play, and I do not need DVR to know that.

The other hero of the night, Ryan Braun, has shown, once again why the Brewers signed him early. Braun has the feel for the dramatic. Once that ball made contact, all 45,299 in Miller Park knew it was out. I was so happy when he hit that I picked my buddy up off his feet. People were high-fiving all around, even some Cubs fans were happy.

But for those who doubted the Brewers, shame on you. If you have been keeping up with my blog, I have never lost faith. I did not doubt that it would come down to the final game, even when they had a huge lead, but I knew they would make it. This is a young team and it shows how great this team can be, let alone if the Brewers can afford all of them.

After that beautiful 4-6-3 double play, I went to Friday's to watch the end of the Mets/Marlins game and celebrate. After the Mets made their final out, the bartenders were spraying water on the crowd.

The champagne party did not just happen in the locker room. I bought a bottle just for this occasion and we had a shower out in the parking lot. People were running around, partying, yelling in the parking lot an hour or so after the game when we left.

I have seen some great sporting events like the 2000 Badgers Rose Bowl win, the Chicago Bulls 70th regular season win, Packers/Bears game in Lambeau, but this game was the most electric, best atmosphere and most fun to watch ever. I was getting tired at the end of the game, I was yelling and moving around so much. But maybe that just means I'm out of shape, who knows. All I know is I witnessed something special and if that is the only time I get to see Sabathia pitch it was worth it.

CC Sabathia in '09. I am Pat Neumuth and I approve this message.

Wagner, Heberer clutch down stretch

By Pat Neumuth
Statesman Sports Editor
patrick@kewaskumstatesman.com

After showing dominance in the first two games last Thursday, it took clutch hitting by Brandi Wagner and Erika Heberer to come back and sweep New Holstein. The Indians won all three games with scores of 25-17, 25-12, 25-23.

"She was just on her game today. It was just her day to have a good game," said Indians head coach Renee Altendorf. "The sets were where they needed to be. It was her day to have a good match."

Altendorf said about her lone senior in Wagner. Wagner finished the match with team high 12 kills. Setter Heberer went to Wagner more than anyone for hitting. Wagner finished the match with 24 kill attempts.

"I just got to hit the ball down. We got to win. It was a big match. We were focused to get this win," Wagner said of what she was thinking during the match.

Heberer came up big for the Indians down the stretch in the final game. The team really started to respond to a comeback when Heberer put a set in the Huskies deep corner for a point to put the Indians down three at 20-17. Heberer tied the game up at 22 with a savvy tip for a point. She tied it up again at 23 with a cross-court kill shot.

The first two games were much different than the final game.

"The first two games we played really good. The third game was really iffy there," said Altendorf. "I was very upset we couldn't get a run. We couldn't pick it up for that run."

The Indians rolled in the first two games. They started off the first game on a 5-0 run. New Holstein tried to slow down the Indians momentum with a time out after Elissa Miller aced to make the score 11-2. The closest the Huskies got to the Indians in the first game was at the 14-11 mark. After that, the Indians ran away with it.

There was more of the same in the second game. Instead of the Indians jumping out to an early lead, the Indians blew this game wide open towards the middle. Kewaskum took advantage of a lot of New Holstein errors, whether it was double hits, miss hits or Husky players making contact with the net. The point where the Indians broke away was when a New Holstein player hit the ball into the net making the score 10-7. The Indians finished the game with a 15-5 run.

The tides turned in the beginning of the third game. The Indians had to try and dig themselves out of an 8-1 deficit.

"I think there was a little switching and the funny thing is the first line (of the match) I screwed it up big time and we won wonderfully. All of a sudden here I switched a couple girls in and we can't do anything," Altendorf said about the third game.

Kewaskum inched back into this game. Miller served the team four points to cut the deficit in half. The girls got as close as one with the score 10-9, but the Huskies slowly increased their lead by six. Altendorf called a time out with the score in the Huskies favor 18-12.

Out of the time out, Wagner hit a booming kill down the line, but the Indians were not making much progress getting back into the game. Kayla Bastian's tip shot went off a New Holstein blocker out of bounds. This was the first point of the Indians comeback.

The Bastian point made the score 20-16 New Holstein.

Bastian tied the game up later at 21 with a kill off of the Husky block. The two teams traded off points and were still tied at 23. Erica Koffke served the ball to the Huskies' Emily Meyers and her dig sailed out of bounds. This was the Indians first lead of the game. Koffke then served the game winning point to Cassandra Blatz, with Blatz' dig going unreturnable as well.

"We just practiced really hard. We go all out," Wagner said after the match. "It shows that we can come back from a downfall, pick ourselves up and win."

Wagner said the crowd was a factor in the comeback. She said the fans pumped up all the girls on the court and picked them up to play better.

Altendorf said that this was a big win. The Indians gave New Holstein their first EWC loss and the two teams are tied in the EWC at 2-1.

Kewaskum holds Indians CC invite

The Kewaskum boys cross country team sprint off as the gun sounds. The boys were the third race of the Indians CC invitational. The sixth through eighth began the race. The varsity girls raced before the boys. The JV races followed the two varsity races.

By Pat Neumuth

The Kewaskum cross country team held an invitational meet last Thursday with some unusual distances and participants for a high school meet. First, the girls ran a 5K run, instead of 4K. Also, sixth, seventh and eighth graders began the series of races.

"Oh, I think it's great," Indians head coach Dave Drexler said of the little kids running at the same meet as the varsity. "It gives them an introduction to (cross country). They can look up to the high school runners and see what's going on and they have a chance to participate."

The girls team finished the invite in fourth and the boys placed third. The boys scored the same amount of points as second place Markesan, but Markesan's total time was 59 seconds slower.

For the girls running the longer race, Drexler said he was able to extend the usual 4K race because it was an invitational meet. He said a number of years ago some cross country coaches tried to get the girls to run the same distance as the boys.

"They are able to do it. It's only a half mile longer," Drexler said. "Tonight's race everyone handled it well. That little extra distance, their other race pace they aren't dropping at the line. I just tell them to run their regular pace."

Indian senior Tonya Janssen led the early sprint out off the line. Once the pace was set Janssen was in seventh after the first of three laps around the course. Janssen finished the race in ninth place.

Indians Vanessa Schellinger made a valiant effort to catch up to Campbellsport's Ana Flasch for 22nd place. Schellinger made up a lot of ground, but fell short by a tenth of a second.

The boys race started off with Indians runner Aaron Monte false starting. Zack Herriges started the sprint off in third and stayed their entire race. Monte finished fifth.

The Indians Tim Hall finished for the team in 19th place because he was caught from behind by Kyle Talma of Waupun. Hall looked like he still edged him out, but Hall lost by two tenths of a second.

"The official has to read it and it's the torso that passes," Drexler said what the officials look for at the finish line. "Even though he felt his head was ahead of his foot, no, it has to be the torso."

Jake Dickmann finished after Hall for Kewaskum in 20th. Hall and Dickmann ran most of the course together.

The schools that were invited to meet were Campbellsport, Waupun, Markesan, Howards Grove, Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah and Ozaukee (girls only).

Indians keep EWC teams "pointless"

Kewaskum 37, Two Rivers 0

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman

Visiting Two Rivers won the toss and decided to defer their choice in Friday night's Eastern Wisconsin Conference football game against host Kewaskum.

Giving the Indians the ball first turned out to be a bad move for the Raiders. So were a couple of first-half passing decisions by quarterback Kraig Shillcox. Kewaskum turned all three situations into touchdowns, added a fourth on an exciting 73-yard punt return by senior Zach Amerling en route to taking a 30-0 advantage at the break and winding up with a convincing 37-0 victory.

With the win, the Indians are 5-0 overall, 3-0 against EWC opponents and have yet to give up a point in conference games.

"A solid, grind-it-out game," is what coach Jason Piittmann, last week's Green Bay Packers prep coach of the week, called the effort. What Piittmann liked best was the defense got better as the game went along. Concerning the offense he said, "We finished the drives," especially early in the contest and after turnovers.

The first drive looked effortless as the Indians moved 65 yards in just over two minutes. Five plays is all Kewaskum needed, as Nick Olla's option run netted 23 yards and took the Indians immediately into the Raiders' territory. Several plays later, Olla hit Eric Shaske on a pass play that chewed up another big chunk of real estate, then the standout quarterback called his own number on a 6-yard option run, and the Indians were on the scoreboard.

Two Rivers responded with a pair of first downs on a couple nice runs by Kris Karl and Michael Mulhane, but then Shillcox threw the ball over the middle, and line-backer Cody Seibel snatched it out of the air and allowed the Indians to set up shop at the KHS 43.

They weren't there long. Seibel carried the ball twice for a total of 21 yards and Nathan Westerman gained five more, then Olla stepped back and launched a perfect 30-yard pass to Shaske, who hauled it in for another TD, giving Kewaskum a 14-0 advantage after just six and a half minutes of play.

After holding the Raiders to six yards in the next three running plays, the KHS fans were about to witness the skills of the senior scatback Amerling. He hauled in Jordan Fischer's punt at his own 27-yard line, danced down the right sidelines until it looked as if he were stopped at about the Raider's 40.

But wait ... Amerling refused to go down and after spinning out of a tackle, he turned in the jets and didn't slow down until he found the end zone.

"He's a good punt returner. He sees the field so well," Piittmann said about Amerling. On the TD run, the coach said Amerling "never stopped ... I'll be anxious to see it (the play) on the films."

There would be no upset by the winless Raiders — the loss was their 24th in a row — on this night, not after the Indians led 20-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Kewaskum tacked on 10 points in the second quarter, starting with a 20-yard field goal by Brian Backhaus that was set up when Seibel read Shillcox's pass perfectly, picked it off and rumbled down the left sidelines until he was knocked out of bounds at the TR 7.

Two runs netted three yards and a third down pass was overthrown, so the sure-footed Backhaus was called on to add another three points to the KHS total.

The Indians got the ball back one more time with 1:14 remaining in the half. Amerling's 18-yard punt return helped them set up shop at the KHS 43, and a couple plays later (a 39-yard pass to Ray Wollner and 14-yard option run), they had reached the two, and Seibel blasted into the end zone for the TD with just seconds remaining.

The Raiders had to punt on their first possession of the second half, then Shillcox was sacked on the second possession, and the ball was recovered by Fred Fellenz at the TR 25. Olla moved the ball 10 yards with his option run, then he stepped back and hit senior tight end Michael Heriges for a 7-yard look-in pass for the final TD.

With better than a 35-point lead, the clock ran continuously in the fourth quarter when the Raiders drove 83 yards to threaten after picking up a first down at the KHS 7. The defense stiffened, and Shillcox's fourth-down pass intended for Zach Cynoweth was overthrown.

KHS wound up with 278 yards of offense, including 180 on the ground. Seibel gained 70 yards in nine carries. "Seibel ran hard," Piittmann said. Olla chipped in with 65 yards in eight carries and was four of seven passing.

Shaske caught two balls for 53 yards, and Piittmann liked what he saw from the 6-4 senior. "He's been getting better and better each week," the KHS coach said, noting Shaske moved from tight end to the wide receiver spot this fall, carrying out the tall wide receiver tradition of recent years like the likes of Matt Par-rent and John Holt.

"Olla put up a good ball to him in the south end," Piittmann said about the TD pass.

Piittmann was also pleased with his linebacking crew, including Joe Paulus, Seibel, Backhaus and Eric Turowski. "They're good leaders. They're good kids in school. They are kids we count on to keep the others rallied up."

And they expect to have a bigger challenge next week at Plymouth, the other unbeaten team in the EWC.

Piittmann wasn't saying much about why running back Jordan Petrin was in street clothes Friday night. It is unknown if he will return to the game Friday.

Current EWC standings: Kewaskum 3-0, Plymouth 3-0, New Holstein 2-1, Kiel 2-1, Sheboygan Falls 1-2, Campbellsport 1-2, Two Rivers 0-3, Waupun 0-3.

Preview: Plymouth

By Pat Neumuth
Statesman Sports Editor
patrick@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Indians defense has been dominant with not giving up a point in EWC games, but this week at Plymouth head coach Jason Piittmann said will be the toughest test so far this year.

"They're a very good football team," Piittmann said. "They are not as big as they have been in previous years, but they are very athletic all around."

Piittmann said Plymouth has generally been a power team, but with this year's team speed they have accentuated that more in their play calling.

Plymouth's defense will show a 3-5 look, the same formation Waupun played. Piittmann said Plymouth's defense plays to the strength at the linebacker position. Piittmann said Plymouth uses the 3-5 to put eight guys in the box for running situations, but also to confuse offensive linemen.

Fullback Nathan Westerman had his best game against Waupun's 3-5 defense. Piittmann said he had not game planned with his assistant coaches yet, but he did say they plan to use their size to physically pound on them.

"They're shotgun. They'll run spread, they'll run trips formation, they'll motion," said Piittmann about how the Panthers offense will line up. "They throw the ball about two-thirds of the time."

The Indians defensive secondary will be tested tomorrow with Plymouth's constant air attack. Piittmann said they will see more action, but he said his plan is for the defensive line to put pressure on quarterback Jon Criter. Defensive ends Josh Harbin and Matt Buker have played great and it is their duty to keep pressuring the quarterback. Piittmann said opposing teams have not been able to pressure Criter.

Piittmann said Criter is their playmaker. He said

Criter is a threat to run and pass. Plymouth runs boot leg plays set up for both Criter runs and passes. Piittmann said they do this to freeze the linebackers. The Kewaskum linebacking core of Cody Seibel, Eric Turowski, Brian Backhaus and Joe Paulus have a lot of ground to cover for both run and pass this week. Most passes will be in the linebackers zone of five to eight yards of depth.

"They are going to have to read the quarterback quickly and get those spots," Piittmann said of his linebackers.

"As long as we play our best and we are successful that's what's going to count," Piittmann said. "The 21-20 game versus West counts the same as 37-0 win against Two Rivers. What I'm focusing on is if we are playing our best."

Last season the Indians beat Plymouth 20-14. Tomorrow's game is at Plymouth High School. Kickoff begins at 7 p.m.

Kewaskum's head football coach got recognized by the ultimate football organization in Wisconsin, the Green Bay Packers, last week.

Jason Piittmann was named Packers.com coach of the week after the Indians beat up on Waupun 28-0.

"I was very, very surprised," Piittmann said. "I was very surprised, very honored for our program to get recognized like this. It's nice that our program is on the map with good things."

A coach must be nominated for this award. Piittmann said he does not know who nominated him, but has little idea on who it was.

Piittmann is not the type of coach who does not worry about individual honors. He said the reason he coaches is because he enjoys what he does and enjoys working with kids.

"My goal is to come back from Madison with a gold ball," Piittmann added.

The Packers recognize one high school coach every week for their "Coach of the Week." The school will receive $1,000 donation to the school's football program.
