Election 2008

McCain takes KMS election

Kewaskum Middle School was abuzz with political spirit on Election Day, November 4. Organized by the teachers, students had their own political conventions, complete with the KMS band performing. During the various conventions, students gave speeches on voting rights, how the U.S. voting system compares to other countries and the 15th, 19th, and 24th amendments. A short presentation to introduce each candidate was given. Senator Barack Obama and his wife, Michelle are shown above (center) portrayed by Dominic Basso and Ashley Stahl. Above right, Senator John McCain and his wife, Cindy portrayed by Casey Krakowski and Leah Rodenkirch. The presentations included a digital story and persuasive speech on each. Shown above, left, seventh graders Reid Stettler and Becca Binkowski vote. The results saw McCain with the most electoral votes and winning the popular vote.

Statesman photos: Andrew Kuehl

Dear Editor:

I would like to address my concerns with the passing of false information. Many people have sent in letters about the presidential election, mainly bashing soon-to-be president Barack Obama.

As a college student, I have recently received two assignments regarding the presidential election, and have spent approximately ten or more hours researching both McCain and Obama, mainly their economic policies.

Contrary to popular belief, Obama seems to have the better economic policies, especially for lower and middle class families. Don't get me wrong, McCain's web site depicts a utopia of economic plans, from tax breaks to everyone and all the way to evening out the deficit by the end of his first term. If he is giving tax breaks to everybody, how is the deficit going to magically even out? Plain and simply, it won't.

If you thoroughly look at Obama's planned policies from HIS web site, not from some Obama hate site, you will find out that Obama plans on giving tax breaks to the middle and lower class, while increasing the tax rate for upper class families and billion dollar companies. That will help pay for his economic plans. He also plans on giving tax benefits that keep jobs in America, and increasing taxes on businesses that outsource valuable jobs. This would give the approximately 13% of Americans below the poverty line a chance to obtain a job.

Obama has an economic plan that can be extremely beneficial to the United States of America, and even though this article will be posted after election day, I hope that my fellow patriotic Americans will support President Obama, and not grumble about any shortcomings in the first few years, since many political gurus say that it typically takes four years for policies to take effect, which means Obama will be shouldering many of President Bush's failed policies.

Remember this, we the people did elect President Bush to two terms, and I can remember quite a few more Bush bumper stickers than Kerry. So, when Obama obtains the presidency, wait a few years, and I believe that we will see a turn around this country has not seen since FDR was elected to office. Thank you and God bless America.

Rep. LeMahieu named NFIB Guardian of Small Business

MADISON-Representative Daniel LeMahieu was honored on October 31, by the National Federation of Independent Business/Wisconsin as a 2008 "Guardian of Small Business," recognizing the representative's strong support of small business and his solid voting record with NFIB over the past two years.

In addition to a 100 percent voting record in support of small business, Rep. LeMahieu has been a champion for healthcare reform in Madison-an issue which continues to be cited by small employers as one of the top problems facing their business.

"Even with a credit crisis and high energy prices, the cost of healthcare continues to be the number one long-term threat to small business," said NFIB/Wisconsin state director Bill G. Smith. "Rep. LeMahieu has been a workhorse on healthcare reform, co-sponsoring legislation to create health savings accounts and making health insurance premiums tax deductible."

Smith said NFIB Guardian

awards are only given to those elected officials who back up their promises with votes at the Capitol that protect the interests of Wisconsin's small businesses and their employees.

"We are grateful for Rep. LeMahieu's support and leadership on healthcare and other critical issues facing the small business community, and we are proud to name him a Guardian of Small Business, NFIB's highest honor," said Smith.

The Beaux' Stratagem takes place in Litchfield England in 1707. The restoration comedy was written in 1707 by George Farquhar and later adapted by Thornton Wilder and Ken Ludwig. It was first produced by the Shakespeare Theatre Company in 2006.

Two penniless playboys,

Aimwell and Archer, leave London in search of fortune, love and fame – in that order. The two beaux' stratagem is to search for a wealthy lady to marry so they can repair their fortunes. Aimwell, the gentleman, soon strikes up a friendship with the beautiful Dorinda, daughter of the wealthy Lady Bountiful. Meanwhile, Archer, Aimwell's servant, strikes up an extremely worldly friendship with Kate, Dorinda's sister-in-law. Kate is married to Sullen, the country squire (who is into hunting, eating and drinking). The fall play contains "laugh out loud" humor with its deceitful lovers, highway robbers and romantic hi-jinks. The story and ending may seem familiar, but the journey will have you laughing in your seat!

For advance tickets, phone the main office at 262-335-5208 (Monday through Friday 8am-4:30pm). Tickets are $12 adults and $9 for seniors (over 62) or youth (under 18). Half-cated at 400 University Drive in West Bend. Free parking is available in the student lot.

Billie-the-Brownie is coming to town

Pole to life. Wide-eyed children listened breathlessly, plopped down on their tummies in front of radios.

An Old-Fashioned Christmas includes a CD of an original Billie-the-Brownie radio broadcast which was archived by the Milwaukee County Historical Society.

Attendees of Pennington's program will be able to see an original Billie-the-Brownie mannequin from the Schuster's toy store window, as well as several vintage Billie-the-Brownie buttons and an ornament.

In addition to a slide show presentation, Pennington will also be bringing along items from her antique toy collection (Tinker Toys, Legos, Lincoln Logs, Raggedy Ann, Howdy Doody...) as well as other antiques pertaining to getting ready for Christmas. A few of the additional items include an original Bing Crosby album cover, cookie cutters, aprons, vintage cook books, hat boxes, ladies dress gloves, hankies, along with Christmas cards, tinsel, angel hair, ornaments, bubble lights...all in their original boxes! Come and re-live the memories that guide our hearts homeward to the much-loved traditions of yesteryear.

Please visit www.ChristmasTreeShipBooks.com to view additional books authored by Rochelle Pennington. Books may be ordered by calling 1-800-503-5507.

An Old-Fashioned Christmas is co-authored with Rochelle's eldest son, Nicholas. Nicholas earned a Bachelor's Degree in Journalism from the University of Wisconsin White-water and furthered his education with a Masters Degree in Business Administration, achieved in 2007. He is presently employed as a full-time Marketing Services Coordinator for Merck Pharmaceuticals.

Join Wisconsin author Rochelle Pennington at the West Bend Community Library on Saturday, November 8 at 10:00 a.m. for a program and book signing on her new title, An Old-Fashioned Christmas: Tinsel, Gingerbread Men and Billie-the-Brownie.

Ninety images are included in the hardcover, coffee table book which features Norman Rockwell paintings, vintage toy ads from decades past (Mr. Potato Head, Lionel Trains, Schwinn Bikes, Barbie), products manufactured at the National Tinsel Manufacturing Company in Manitowoc (tinsel and angel hair), and authentic black-and-white photographs taken during this period of time - many from Wisconsin! Image examples may be viewed at www.OFCBook.com prior to the program.

Pennington worked with the Sheboygan Falls Research Center and the Milwaukee County Historical Society to obtain photographs, as well as with numerous museums and libraries outside of Wisconsin. In addition, she commissioned Wisconsin watercolor artist Cathy Stern to paint eleven original images for the book. Stern's paintings are featured at the beginning of each chapter.

The pages of An Old-Fashioned Christmas beckon a remembrance of Christmas past and capture the spirit of bygone holidays from 1930 through 1960. The book's nostalgic text highlights a period when Christmas dinner was prepared from canning jars lining pantry shelves. It was a time when Christmas shopping meant paging through a Sears & Roebuck catalog, or heading downtown to Main Street. Christmas meant the arrival of Norman Rockwell paintings of Santa Claus on the cover of the Saturday Evening Post, and handwritten letters addressed to the North Pole filled with wishes for record players and Raggedy Ann dolls. An entire chapter detailing the Christmases of World War II during 1941, 1942, 1943 and 1944 is also included in the book, as well as an entire chapter devoted to Billie-the-Brownie.

Billie was a character dreamed up by advertising executives in the late 1920s at Schuster's Department Store in Milwaukee, Wisconsin for a promotional campaign. (The store later merged with Gimbel's.) The little elf burst into fame so quickly that by 1931 he had his own radio program, airing daily at 5:00 p.m. between Thanksgiving and Christmas for over twenty-five years! Billie became as much loved as Santa Claus to children growing up in Wisconsin during this time as he brought stories of the North

The office is available to the public, and provides convenient banking for Kewaskum students and teaching staff. This includes anything from cashing checks, opening accounts, providing information on banking services, and answering questions since most students are new to banking.

The bank operates on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., by Netty Weis, long time West Bend Savings Bank employee, and KHS student Morgan Dombrowski, who is employed at West Bend Savings Bank.

The branch kicked off a special Grand Opening for the Kewaskum students, where several lucky winners took home cash prizes and gift cards. The bank also joined in the fun at the very victorious Homecoming game against the Falcons, by throwing t-shirts into the stands.

If anyone has any questions about the new West Bend Savings Bank office in the Kewaskum High School, contact Kristy Vogt at the Kewaskum office, 262-626-2186.

50 Years Ago

September 26, 1958

A deer was bagged by a young Kewaskum hunter over the weekend as Wisconsin's early 1958 bow and arrow deer season got underway. Among the more than 6,000 estimated archers who invaded the Necedah wildlife refuge Saturday was Terry Koch, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Koch of the village. Hunting with his father and a friend, Dennis Jandre, Terry got a big eight-point buck which dressed out at 200 pounds.

Jerry Dreher, Kewaskum, who was a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, since September 3, with a dislocated knee cap suffered in football practice with the high school squad, returned to his home last Thursday. He is able to get around on crutches.

The Kewaskum Indians opened the 1958 football season with an easy 26-0 win over Grafton here Friday night. The game was not a conference tilt. Grafton is a member of the new Scenic Moraine conference with Kewaskum but will not participate in football yet this year because of previous commitments. Quarterback Norman "Butch" Rodenkirch, a veteran, although only a junior, opened the scoring with a sneak from two yards out. Konstantyn Sadownikow added the extra point on a kick. Kons, only a sophomore, is one of the brightest prospects on the squad. An eight-yard scoring plunge by Dan Coulter gave Kewaskum a 13-0 advantage and Sadownikow again added the point to make it 14-0. Ken Johnson's 60-yard pass interception for a touchdown made it 20-0 before the half ended. Ken, a speedster, also is only a junior and a fine prospect. In the second half, Glen Rimmel's TD in the final period provided the only scoring.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt, Kewaskum, on September 22 and to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foerster, Allenton, also on September 22. A daughter, Lisa Lynn, was also born to Mr. and Mrs. James Komaromy, Bethesda, Mrs. Feuerhammer, a young mother with two children, received $5,000 in cash from Proctor and Gamble October 9, in a formal ceremony at the Marx IGA Store in Kewaskum. Mrs. Feuerhammer was third place winner in the national contest. The lucky young lady had a choice between an all expense paid trip to New York City to "Dunk for Diamonds" for $5,000 or accept the cash. She chose the cash.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marc Trotter, Kewaskum, on September 25. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keuper, Kewaskum, on October 3, and to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buss, Kewaskum, on October 7. ## JV has successful 8-1 season

By Pat Neumuth
Statesman Sports Editor
patrick@kewaskumstatesman.com

There is no let up for the Kewaskum High School football program with the JV team going 8-1 this season.

"Improvement, so they are on track to be varsity players and contribute next year," JV defensive coordinator David Rockhill said about preparing a JV team. "It's not so much wins and losses. It's getting better as individual players and working together too."

The first game against West Bend East was a 34-0 blowout. Mitch Cochran had an interception for a touchdown for one of the scores.

The Indians had to come from behind to beat West Bend West. Rockhill said it was a late drive that sealed the victory.

The opening EWC game against Campbellsport was the only blemish of the season. Campbellsport beat the Indians 14-0. Rockhill said Kewaskum could not stop the Cougars running attack. Campbellsport finished the season undefeated.

Rockhill said the team did not play well in the 14-6 win over Waupun, but they got the job done.

The Indians best game of the season was the 38-0 win over Plymouth. The team executed well against a Plymouth team who only had a couple of losses on the season. The final three games for the Indians were all solid victories.

Rockhill said the team improved over the course of the season most with the running game. He said the team struggled to establish the run in the first couple games of the season.

The skill positions Rockhill said will be where this season's JV players will step up next year on varsity.

"Cody Nuernberg is second string now on varsity.

He'll probably be ready to step in," Rockhill said. "It looks like he is the heir apparent at quarterback."

Rockhill said another good offense player was Tony Crossman. Crossman was in his first year in the Kewaskum football program, as he was a new student from Fond du Lac. Rockhill said Crossman is a fast running back.

One thing Rockhill said of the JV team is that they need to get into the weight room and get bigger and stronger.

"Overall, we were not strong on the line, offensively or defensively," Rockhill said.

Rockhill said the team has great speed, they caught the ball well and are big hitters. He said the lack of strength was the main reason why they could not stop Campbellsport's run game and will have to improve if the class of 2011 wants to have a successful senior season.

PAT'S PERSPECTIVE

By: Pat Neumuth
Statesman Sports Editor

BCS or Playoffs

The big debate the past couple of years in college football has been should the FBS division of college football change for the bowl series to a playoff system.

For a while, I have been a backer of the BCS. The tradition of the bowls dates back to Jan. 1, 1902 with the Tournament East-West football game between Michigan and Stanford. This game later turned into the Rose Bowl. By the way, Michigan won that game 49-0.

By 1940, the Rose Bowl, the Cotton Bowl, the Orange Bowl, the Sugar Bowl and the Sun Bowl were the only bowl games.

Times change though. College football is changing. The bowls are changing. Now we have the EagleBank Bowl, R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl, PapaJohns.com Bowl and my favorite, the Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl.

The BCS has flaws in it. Basically we depend on a computer to decide who plays in the National Championship Bowl game, not the student-athletes.

Currently, Alabama, Texas Tech and Penn State are one through three respectively. If all three teams finish undefeated, than most likely Penn State will get the shift. I don't know how an undefeated team could not get a chance to play for a national championship.

In the current system, the regular season is the playoffs. College football is the only league where if you lose just one game, you have a small shot to get to the National Championship Bowl game.

With the Big Ten being down, if Penn State loses they can waive their national championship dreams out the window. What will hurt Alabama and Texas Tech if they lose now is that it is late in the season. One-loss teams like Florida, Oklahoma, Texas and USC may benefit because they lost first.

I think the solution is to incorporate the bowl games as the playoff games. College football can rotate the BCS bowl games as the semifinals and quarterfinals in the playoffs. The teams not invited to the playoffs will still have the other bowl games to play in.

I'm unsure with how many teams would be picked for a playoff system. I would use a 10-team playoff race. The two semifinal games could be played on New Years, to keep New Years college football alive.

Really, all teams in the top ten could beat each other any given day. USC is currently seventh and they could be the best team in the nation still. Non-BCS schools like Utah and Boise State are in the top ten, with TCU looking from the outside in at 12. Playoffs give a Non-BCS team a legitimate chance to win it all.

Nothing is perfect. You could say the Patriots were the best team in the NFL last year, but the Giants won. Teams ranked 11 and 12 may feel they were slighted and should be in the playoffs. I would rather have 11 and 12 complain, than three or four.

I have a feeling college football will wise up, but I think it is going to be a slow process of change and it will come a year too late. Some team is going to get a raw deal, again, and not make it to a championship game when they should have. There will be more controversy and it will change.

Preview: Port Washington Buchel stars on AAU team

The Kewaskum football team will be playing in friendly confines Saturday as they host Port Washington for level three of the playoffs.

"Any time you get a chance to play at home in the playoffs, I think it can be an advantage," head coach Jason Piittmann said. "It can be a distraction as well, but our kids have handled it well over the last four years. You feel comfortable and confident at home. We are going to have a lot of support."

Port Washington got to level three by defeating EWC opponent Plymouth 21-9 at home and upsetting the No. 1 seed West De Pere 21-14 at West De Pere last week.

"They are always physical. I knew West De Pere was big, but you knew a physical team can possibly play with them," Piittmann said. "They are not big, but they are quick."

Offensively, Port Washington runs a double wing with two split ends and double tight with two flankers. Piittmann said the defense will really have to stay disciplined with their assignments. Port Washington likes the cutback and throwback plays. Piittmann said the defensive linemen will have to keep their shoulders square and the linebackers need to pursue under control.

Port Washington is a smaller team. They have only two guys over 210 pounds. Piittmann said he wants to use the Indians size to their advantage.

Piittmann said Port Washington can be a little unconventional with their play calling with the throwback plays to slow down the flow of the defense.

"We are going to have to get pressure on the quarterback," Piittmann said of the defense. "For the most part, West De Pere did not get much pressure on him."

Defensively, Port Washington runs their defense out of the 4-4 formation. They are a team that likes to blitz. Piittmann said they will show it or come on a delayed blitz. The eight men in the box generally play one gap responsibility.

With Port Washington beating West De Pere, Piittmann thinks the team will do a better job on focusing on this game.

"They are aware of how good Port is," Piittmann said. "You just look at (Port's) conference. They have to play Home-stand. That's a tough league to play in."

Piittmann said games from here on out will be won by the team who commits the least amount of penalties, controls the clock and the kicking game. Kicker Brian Backhaus missed a 31-yard field goal against Notre Dame, but Piittmann said the kick was solid and if it comes down to the same situation, he has confidence Backhaus will make it.

Port Washington played Plymouth in the first game of the season. Port Washington won that game 28-14.

Saturday's game is at Doc Mitchell Field. Kickoff is 3:30 in the afternoon.

More than enough points

The word "dominant" is perfect for explaining how this year's Kewaskum Middle School eighth grade team took command of the annual Moraine Conference Track Meet held recently in West Bend.

Behind six first places, three seconds and five thirds, the Lady Indians amassed 137 points, which was 50 more than runner-up Pewaukee.

Slinger finished third with 81 points, with West Bend Badger fourth at 73, and West Bend Silverbrook far back with 20 points in the five-team competition.

"In general, there are some good athletes. That's a big help," coach Jerry Gosa said about the efforts turned in by his charges.

Mikkin Abfall was a double winner for KMS, starting with the title in the 100-meter dash with a time of 13.7 seconds. Later in the meet, she toured the 400-meter track in a time of 1:07.7, 2.6 seconds ahead of her teammate, Shannon Miller for a 1-2 KMS finish and 18 team points.

"That's a nice combination," Gosa said about Abfall running the 100 and 400. "She's a good athlete."

Abfall also contributed a second in the shot put where the best toss flew 25 feet, 3.5 inches.

The other individual winners were Mallorie Kreis, who topped the field in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 18.5, and Ashlee Stahl, the winner in the 800-meter run where she was clocked in 2:46.5.

Kewaskum also finished first in two of the three relays.

In the 4x200 relay, it was Rachel Raskiewicz, Kim Elbe, Hunter Holz and Erica Chesak combining for a time of 2:06.6, while in the 4x400, Kries, Brianna Jacak, Ariel Sanders and Stahl carried the baton for a time of 4:55.0.

The third places were as follows: shot put Lauren Treptow, 25-0.5; discus April Stern, 73-0; long jump Kreis, 12-7.5; 1,600 Jenny Reicher, 6:15; and 200 Miller, 30.45.

The KMS foursome of Lindsay Treptow, Kelsey Heberer, Reicher and Lauren Treptow placed fourth in the 4x100 relay (1:02.3), and there were four other fourths, including, Hunter Holz in the 100 (14.7), April Stern in the 1,600 (6:23) and the 800 (2:57.6) and Raskiewicz in the 200 (30.8).

All in all, the meet was very successful, and Gosa is expecting these girls to do very well next year when they are freshmen at Kewaskum High School.

"It would be nice to see as many of these girls as possible out for track next year," Gosa said. "They will provide some help."

The 2008 U-12 HTX Fire AAU Girls Basketball Team from Houston, TX, recently competed in the AAU Division I- National Basketball Championship in Rochester, Minnesota, finishing 9th place in the country.

The HTX Fire qualified for the tournament by winning the Gulf Regional qualifying tournament, and finished the season with a 90-13 record. The Fire played primarily U15 Teams and older during the regular season, and did not record a loss to another U12 Team until the AAU National Tournament. During the AAU National Tournament, the HTX Fire recorded 4 wins and 3 losses, with all of the losses coming to teams that finished in the Elite 8, including a 5 pt loss to the eventual tournament champion Georgia Ice.

Sydney Buchel #23- 5'10" forward/center, averaged 8 pts per game, and lead her team with rebounds averaging 10 per game during the tournament.

Sydney was previously a member of the New Hampshire Shooting Stars Basketball organization who finished 5th Place at the 10U Division II-Tournament in 2006, and 3rd Place at 11U Division II-Tournament in 2007.

The close of Sydney's 2008 AAU Basketball Season follows a very successful year at Beckendorff Middle School in Katy, TX, where Sydney was a member of a very talented 7th grade girls basketball team that finished the year with a 16-0 record and won the district championship title. Sydney is also the current district record holder for girl's 7th grade shot put in the Katy School District.

Sydney will be starting eighth grade at Beckendorff Middle School this fall where she will again be participating in Volleyball, Basketball, and Track.

The HTX Fire will begin the 2008/2009 Season as a U13 Team starting in September 2008.

Sydney is the daughter of Scott Buchel (Kewaskum Class of 82') and his wife Renee, who currently reside in Katy, TX, and the granddaughter of former Kewaskum residents Gerald and Diane Buchel of Waukesha.

GREEN BAY - Hard-hitting defense and two long sustaining drives for the Indians dropped Green Bay Notre Dame for the division three playoff race Saturday.

Senior defensive captain Joe Paulus said about the defensive game plan after the 14-0 victory: "Hit them hard, same thing we do every week. Hit them hard."

And hit them hard they did. Triton star running back Steven Denis, who ran for 1,412 this season, had only 45 yards off of 14 carries. Denis was knocked out of the game after taking a big hit in the third quarter.

The Indians opened their offense with a 15-play, 89-yard drive to put the Indians ahead 7-0. Even two motion penalties could not stop the Indians. Full-back Eric Turowski punched the ball in from four yards out on an option give for the touchdown.

The defense did more than just play physical football. Kewaskum's defense intercepted Notre Dame quarterback Peter Smith four times. Cody Seibel picked off the first one on the Tritons second possession.

Ray Wollner got the second interception. In the middle of the third quarter, the Tritons started to drive the ball. They got to the Indians 26 yard line, before penalties forced them back to a third and 19. Smith dropped back and went for the end zone. Wollner stuck with his man the whole way and made a nice leaping pick in front of the Triton receiver.

This pick turned into points for the Indians. They methodically moved the ball 97 yards in 14 plays for the second score of the day. It was strategic passing that moved the ball down the field.

"We felt that we could establish the running game. It's going to be hard, but watching on film if we were going to pass, we were going to pass when we wanted to pass, not when we had to pass," head coach Jason Piittmann said.

Brandon Zolp caught a 12-yard slant to give the Indians some breathing room. Zach Amerling made the big play with a 23-yard wide receiver screen to put the Indians in Triton territory.

Once the Indians were in Triton territory quarterback Nick Olla carried the Indians to the goal line. Olla had 13- and 22-yard option runs to set up his one-yard sneak into the end zone.

"Both drives, 89 and 97 yards, that's huge," Piittmann said. "Plus it eats a lot of clock. That's my kind of offense. You can burn over a half of a quarter and get a touchdown out of it, that's great."

Olla ran for 114 yards off of 21 carries and went 8-for-12 for 106 yards through the air.

The Tritons were in hurry up mode down to score in the fourth. Smith connected with Harrison Barton for 41 yards, but on the next play, Amerling intercepted the Smith pass.

The Indians put the Tritons away with two sacks from Paulus and the game-clinching pick by Zolp.

The Indians game plan of running the ball was successful. Kewaskum had 227 yards on the ground, compared to the Tritons 61 yards rushing.

"Just really control the line of scrimmage and don't take a play off and really just push it," Olla said. "Our team has great intensity and great heart and we really want to work for the person next to them."

The Indians knocked the number two seeded Tritons out of the playoffs in front of a crowd of 1,405.
