Picking their way to a Plymouth rematch

By Mitch Maersch
For the Statesman

KEWASKUM- Kewaskum's football team is getting its shot to enact revenge on the opponent that ruined its homecoming, snapped its 30-game home winning streak and is responsible for the only blemish on its record this season.

On Saturday, the Indians will travel to Plymouth, to again take on the Panthers, the Eastern Wisconsin Conference champions who won their opening round playoff game Tuesday night.

The Panthers beat the Indians 14-6 on Oct. 9, snapping a 16-game conference winning streak.

"It's in our hearts and we know that we should have won that game," said senior running back and line-backer Cody Seibel, who rushed for more than 100 yards against every EW opponent besides Plymouth.

"We want this bad and we're going to bring it. We want revenge, so it's going to be a great game," said senior defensive back Steven Kudek.

The Indians (9-1) had to bring it Tuesday night on their home field for a shot at their rival, and in the first half they didn't. The score was tied 0-0 but New London had statistically outplayed Kewaskum and looked to possibly take over in the second half. Like many times before, however, the Indians adjusted and rebounded from a slow start. This time, the bounceback was even more extreme. Kewaskum turned a tight WIAA Division 3 playoff game into a rout, 27-0, for its third shutout of the season.

The Indians' defense caught six passes, two more than they completed on offense and just as many as New London did.

Sophomore defensive back Eric Perkins, thrust into action after speedster Brandon Zolp sprained his ankle in last week's game, led the way with two big interceptions. Perkins stopped a scoring threat in the second quarter by picking off a ball tipped by Bo Seibel inside the Indians' 20, and stepped in front of a receiver inside enemy territory in the third quarter to set up Kewaskum's first score.

"We were just reading his eyes and he was staring the guys down right away," Perkins said of quarterback Trevor Hass.

"We have one of the best defenses in the conference. I know a lot of that stems from pass rush, defensive line, and also Eric Perkins stepping in doing a great job for us even as a sophomore. Player of the game, I think, receiver Mat Toles.

The Indians' Cody Seibel (4) carries the ball while two New London Bulldogs prepare to attack. The Indians didn't allow a bulldog score during Tuesday evening's playoff game at home. The final score was 27-0. The Indians will face the Panthers in Plymouth on Saturday.

Perkins also filled in nicely for Zolp on punt returns, taking one back 18 yards.

"He's a good athlete. We think he can be another Brandon Zolp-type player," said Coach Jason Piittmann. "It looks like he's going to get his chance for Saturday. We'll see how Zolp is for Saturday. Eric definitely showed he can be in the mix."

Kudek picked off two of his own, returning the second 85 yards down the sideline for the Indians' final touchdown.

"It was unreal. I mean, I haven't had any interceptions and the year had to come out and get two tonight was a pretty big deal for me. It felt great," he said.

School District lowers levy from earlier estimate

By Mitch Maersch
For the Statesman

KEWASKUM- Your Kewaskum school taxes aren't rising as much as projected, albeit by 3 cents less.

The School Board on Monday approved a lower tax rate than the one presented at the annual meeting in August. The increase takes the mill rate to $8.66 per $1,000 of equalized home value rather than $8.69, according to a district statement.

The owner of a $150,000 home will pay $1,266, up $45 from last year's $1,221.

The tax levy still rises, but the School Board knocked the increase by $229,000 from the annual meeting figure.

The levy is $10,821,285, an increase of $476,000 from last year.

Kewaskum is one of the few districts receiving an increase in state aid, a little more than $128,000. State aid for 2009-10 totals $10,009,037.

Property values in the district fell for the first time in 22 years. A 1.7 percent decrease dropped the total to $1,249,825,732.

The property value decrease contributed to the tax rate increase, the district said.

The district's operating budget is $20,523,000, up 2.9 percent from last year. Its fund balance - like a savings account for emergencies like boiler breakdowns and for short-term cash flow needs - is $2,091,000, about 10.2 percent of the operating budget.

This is the final year the School Board may raise additional taxes for technology and textbooks, stemming from a 2005 referendum. The referendum allows $430,000 to be raised this year.

Hydrant flushing ordinance

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM—The Village Board should have a hydrant flushing ordinance ready for approval by its next board meeting, Village Administrator Mathew Heiser told the board last week.

The village snagged River Falls' ordinance and wanted to copy it, but the village attorney had some issues with the vague description of what private residents have to do to ensure their hydrant is certified.

Last month, two residents on a private drive expressed their frustration with the village not flushing all hydrants due to public safety. The village flushes public hydrants annually to clear out sediment and ensure they're working properly.

Residents who live in planned unit developments are responsible for flushing their own hydrants, usually through their condo associations. Other entities like private businesses and schools are responsible for their own as well.

Private drive residents Jerry Stilb and Jim Verhalen criticized the board last week for its lack of urgency in handling the issue. Both said the village should start fresh by flushing all the public and private hydrants for public safety and then develop its ordinance.

Area parishioners are instrumental in construction of Nicaraguan church

Father Floriano blesses the new church with Holy Water as Bishop David, a mass server, Father Nilo, Father Ed, Father Elvis and the parishioners follow.

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

"Twinning" isn't a new concept in the Catholic Church. For several decades, parishes in the United States have paired up with parishes in South or Central America and contributed clothing, medical supplies and religious items to help the people in these impoverished countries.

After Marie Joers became a lay missionary in Waspam, Nicaragua, Holy Trinity and St. Michael's parishes were anxious to help the people in a nearby parish, Santa Ana, and didn't take the parishioners long to show their concern was genuine.

The fruits of their twinning climaxed in early September when a new church, paid for primarily by donations from the two parishes and a gift from the late William and Lucille McCarty, was dedicated by Bishop David Ziewick.

Fr. Edmund Kornath, the pastor of the two collaborated parishes, participated in the dedication, which was also attended by Joers, Fred Midden-dorf of St. Michaels, and Ann Neumann, a lifelong member at Holy Trinity.

"It was glorious. The people were so joyful," Fr. Ed said about the Sept. 4 dedication of their new church. "I was so proud of Holy Trinity and St. Michaels."

Fr. Ed said his party arrived at Santa Ana in their large river boat about 10:30 a.m. that day, with parishioners, school children and Sr. Rose Kowalske (An Agnesian nun who is from Belgium Wisconsin) meeting them at the shore of the Rio Coco River.

"They greeted us with signs in English and their native Miskito language," Fr. Ed went on, noting the people formed a human chain to help him and the others get to shore and climb the bank, adjacent to the river.

Quickly the parishioners offered the party some refreshments, and with the temperature just .4 of a degree under 100, Fr. Ed said he was looking for something cool. Instead, he said, the drink, made from bananas, was hot.

Still, the traveling dedication party wanted to show appreciation for the natives' hospitality, thus they partook in the drink.

"Then we went and started the Mass," Fr. Ed said, explaining he took his thinnest alb with him, and still it stuck to his skin.

During the Mass, Fr. Ed offered the Eucharistic prayer in Miskito language after being tutored by Fr. Floriano, one of the parish priests in the area, who, along with Fr. Elvis, tend to the Catholic flocks of 96 parishes located along the Rio Coco.

Despite the heat and humidity, it was an uplifting service, including the dedication, which saw Bishop Ziewick and Fr. Ed bless the walls, which signifies that Christ is the foundation of the Church. "I was honored. I was the first to bless the wall," he said.

Fr. Ed estimated the Santa Ana Church is about one fourth the size of the Holy Trinity Church, but, "It's very beautiful ... open sides with a beautiful altar," a copy of one built by Brother Isadore Heriges, a native of Sr. Michaels, years ago in Waspam.

The plaque, designating the contribution of Holy Trinity School, is visible on the crucifix in the Church, which will not only be a worship site, but a community room and a shelter from storms as well.

After the dedication, there was a big fiesta right in the church, according to Fr. Ed, who said the people served fruit, rice, beans, some chicken and beef, and, "we ate fish called Corvina, which was caught right in the river ... It was very tasty."

Fr. Ed, the bishop and Fr. Floriano had the places of honor for the fiesta, right next to the fire, which made them even hotter than they already were.

The entourage did not stay overnight at Santa Ana. Once the fiesta was over, "We hopped in the boat and went to the next village," Fr. Ed said, indicating at San Jeronimo, there was another Mass, which included a First Communion.

"That was where we slept on the floor," Fr. Ed said, noting the conditions were very primitive, with the priests quarters, which included a main room and two small bedrooms, with limited furniture and no electricity. The latter forced the group to use candles and a flashlight after dark. "It brought out that pioneer spirit," Fr. Ed said.

The next day, and all the days they traveled on the river, the group was up by 4:15 a.m. It was cooler then, and the people would quickly wash and eat breakfast and begin traveling to the next church before the temperature would soon soar into the 90s.

Fr. Ed and the group traveled 200 miles up the river, which is half the distance the local priests would travel if they were to visit all 96 parishes.

On the eight-hour return trip, the group was met with a severe thunderstorm, and it was nightfall when they got back to Waspam.

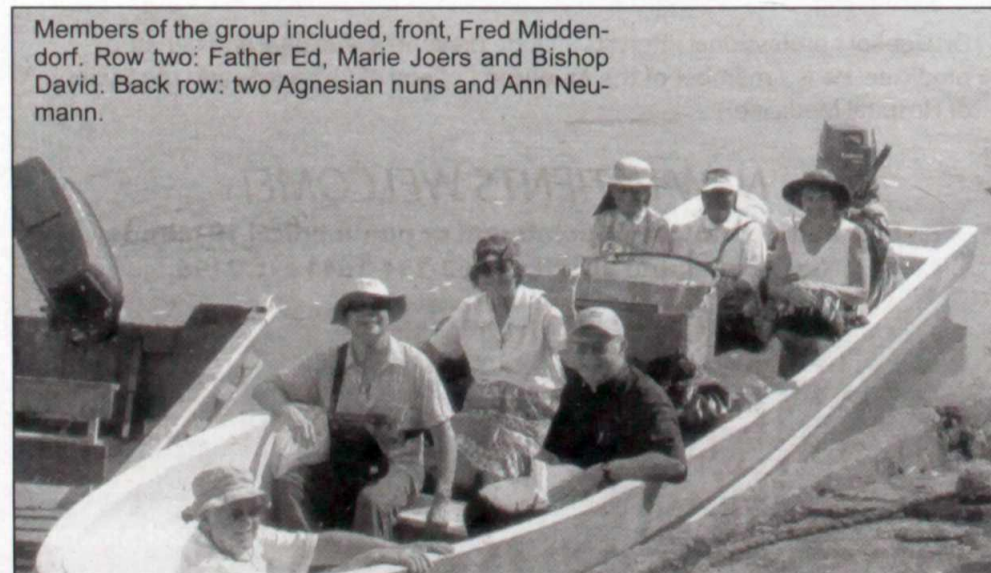

During their remaining days, the group took a safari-like truck ride to Santa Martin, the home of Fr. Elvis, and the parish which was established by Bishop Schlaefer of Campbellsport. Mass was conducted in a warehouse there because the church was destroyed by the hurricane Felix.

Before they returned to Wisconsin, the group spent two days in Puerto Cabezas, a large city on the Atlantic Ocean, then they returned to Waspam for a day to sort items that had been donated for the people there. Fr. Ed also celebrated Mass for the four nuns that are stationed there.

From there they went to Managua and their driver took them to Granada, a beautiful old Spanish city, which was more modern with plazas, carriage rides and air conditioning in their hotels.

Nicaragua was celebrating its Independence Day on Sept. 14, so the group was treated to a very colorful parade, and, "Here I had the honor to celebrate Mass with (Blessed) Mother Teresa's sisters, the Missionaries of Charity."

Concerning the difficulties faced on the trip, Fr. Ed pointed to the heat and humidity. "We all experienced weakness," he said, but was quick to add, "I'd go back again at a different time of the year."

Members of the group included, front, Fred Midden-dorf. Row two: Father Ed, Marie Joers and Bishop David. Back row: two Agnesian nuns and Ann Neumann.

Wayne Township discusses October agenda

By Mitch Maersch
For the Statesman

TOWN OF WAYNE- Changing two zoning densities is under further review and will likely be discussed at next month's Plan Commission meeting.

The Wayne Town Board last week tabled action on changing the density in A-2 and R-1 districts from one home per five acres to one home per 10 acres, and in R-2 and R-4 districts from one home per three acres to one per two acres.

The Town Board said town Zoning Administrator Gordon Hoffmann wanted to re-examine some of the wording of the ordinance before it gets approved.

The A-2 and R-1 change was proposed "just to save more open space," said Supervisor Mike Samann.

The R-2 and R-4 changes are where development is already occurring where the town wants development to take place, he said.

The next Plan Commission meeting is Nov. 17.

The town again refused to compensate a resident for ditching work at last week's Town Board meeting, this time denying the request in person.

Duane Nickel had approached the town to request ditching work be paid for on West Bend Road along his land and was turned down. He could do the work, the Town Board said, but he would have to pay for it. The stretch of road covers between a half to three-fourths of a mile and sits on the town of Theresa's jurisdiction. A mutual agreement has Wayne maintaining the road.

Nickel did the work to prevent his fields from flooding again and requested the town pay the $900 for the job. At September's board meeting, the town again refused on a vote of 3-0.

Last week, Nickel came to the meeting in person and questioned the decision.

"It's your right-of-way. It's your responsibility to take care of it," he said.

Nickel asked for $935, the cost of the ditching.

"I figured I paid for all the leveling off of the ground after he was done," Nickel said.

Town Chairman Carl Klemme provided a recent history rundown.

"You were told you were strictly on your own and you went ahead and did it," he told Nickel. "We didn't want to get an engineer involved to cover the cost at this time. You bought property; you gotta pay for your improvements."

"But it's your right-of-way," Nickel said.

The Town Board again voted 3-0 not to provide Nickel any compensation for the work.

ED/WC teams with Waukesha EDC

By Kyle Zwiig
Statesman Correspondent

WEST BEND- Economic Development/Washington County is turning to a sister organization to the south in a new effort to improve sustainable business practices among the area's small- and medium-sized employers.

Called "Partnerships for Sustainability," the energy-efficiency program was launched a year ago by the Waukesha County Economic Development Corp. and discussed by ED/WC's board of directors at its Oct. 8 meeting at Moraine Park Technical College.

WCEDC Executive Director Bill Mitchell reached out to ED/WC officials to promote the sustainability efforts within the seven-county Milwaukee 7 economic development area, said ED/WC President Doreen Buntrock.

The primary goal is to introduce environmentally friendly practices to help smaller businesses, primarily manufacturers, achieve business growth while becoming less wasteful, she said.

ED/WC will host a Partnerships for Sustainability workshop on Nov. 11 at Washington County Fair Park's Ziegler Family Exposition Center. The three-hour curriculum emphasizes the program's tool mechanism, the Sustainable Enterprise Assessment Tool.

The impetus is to get smaller employers with work forces of 250 or fewer to reach goals already achieved by larger corporations who have adopted lean and ISO efficiencies, Buntrock said.

"We're really looking closely at efficiency," Buntrock said. "It's really geared to medium and small businesses in manufacturing - it's pretty remarkable how much money they can save. It's amazing some of the simple things that they did, and this is really for companies that maybe don't have a team of people to look at their efficiencies."

Partnerships for Sustainability has the support of larger employers such as Quad/Graphics, We Energies, Focus on Energy and Kohl's Corp. The partnership is financed through public grants and private-sector investment. Other partners, outlined on the organization's Web site, include American Transmission Co., Aurora Health Care, Walmart and BizTimes Media.

Mitchell said the primary goal of the effort is to improve top-line revenues and bottom-line efficiencies through the introduction of sustainable business practices. The partnership includes a mentorship program; survey and assessment tools to measure energy efficiency, water utilization and waste stream management; and education tools, including a Web site, e-newsletter and the series of seminars.

"We're probably going to be taxed someday on our carbon footprint," Buntrock said, referring to federal legislation that could tax or put major caps on employers' carbon emissions. "Part of this is just a head start in that line of thinking."

Mitchell told the board the workshop has been a success in the Waukesha area and the WCEDC was asked by its business partners to share it with neighboring counties. The effort was launched in September 2008 by a team of business officials from Waukesha, Milwaukee and Racine counties. The Nov. 11 seminar will run from 7:30 to 11 a.m. It is free to attend, though registration is required. Visit www.partnershipsforsustainability.org for more information.

ington County Board.

"Part of approving this plan (ADRC chairperson) Charlene (Brady) and (County Board Chairman) Herb (Tennies) have to sign, there are certain assurances we have to make as a county to get these federal dollars," Olson said.

Decker aims to pass drunken driving legislation this session

Senate Majority Leader Russ Decker says the Senate intends to pass a drunken driving reform package before the floor session ends Nov. 5.

"We're more methodical and trying to think this through rather than just grabbing something and jumping off the cliff," the Weston Democrat said in an interview with WisPolitics.com.

The Assembly passed a bill last month that cracked down on multiple drunken driving offenders, but a fiscal estimate released after passage raised the price of the reforms from $20 million annually to as much as $70 million.

The Assembly proposal paid for the reforms by pulling existing money from other state programs. A Senate committee passed a bill that included an increase in the liquor tax, a move some Assembly members have said wouldn't make it through their chamber.

Decker said the bill should have gone through the Joint Finance Committee, where it's now headed.

"We've got over a $2 billion deficit, and if the feds don't come through with some more aid, we're going to be in a situation of really cutting into programs that are important to people," Decker said. "And to add $40 million more pain to that will come back to haunt us in the next budget."

WES students get up close look at fall at Ridge Run Park

The Wayne Elementary School (WES) 4K students in Ms. Jossart's class recently took a field trip to Ridge Run Park where they went on a nature walk and discovered that the leaves on the trees were beginning to turn colors. Along the way, the WES 4K students saw the sledding hill, walked over a bridge, took a class picture by the lake, and saw a waterfall. After their walk students had a picnic snack and played on the playground. It was unanimous. They can't wait to go back and see how things have changed in the winter!

The freshmen class had a busy week. During advisories the freshmen had a carnival. Students went around to different advisories and played board games, name that tune, and a trivia game. They could also play dodgeball, run relay races, or play blindfolded bowling. The reason behind the freshmen carnival was to promote bonding and to do something fun.

Students in Mrs. Gurholt's English 9 class worked very hard on a Shakespeare museum project. This project is in conjunction with the unit on the works of William Shakespeare. The museum was set up in the KHS library on Thursday, October 22. Students were on hand to explain their projects. Each project was on a specific aspect of Elizabethan England: the black death, music and art, food and manners, social class, crime and punishment, clothes, and housing. Instead of the traditional poster or display board, the ninth graders had to get creative and build an item to represent their topic. For example, one student built a coffin and made a computer game to explain the black death.

KHS also celebrated Red Ribbon Week. Red Ribbon Week promotes living a drug and alcohol free life. Students made posters and dressed in red to show their support of Red Ribbon Week.

Lit club is having a Halloween party on Monday, October 26. Lit club is KHS's writing and literature organization.

The FFA is having their annual fruit sale. The money raised from the sale goes toward future events. The FFA also sent representatives to the National FFA convention.

Both German and Spanish club are in the process of electing officers. On November 18, German and Spanish Club will be going to World Language Day at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

The cast of Fiddler on the Roof is hard at work learning dances and practicing their lines. This year promises a great show with excellent performances. Tickets are now on sale at the KHS office. There will be shows on Friday November 7th, Saturday, November 8th, and Sunday, November 9th. Come support the talented performers of KHS and enjoy a great musi-

KHS cheerleaders to hold dance camp

The Kewaskum High School varsity cheerleaders will be offering a dance camp for students in grades kindergarten through eight. Rehearsals for the camp will be December 1 and 2, with the performance being held on December 3 at the boys basketball game. The $30 fee includes two evening practices from 6 - 7:30 p.m., a photo with the varsity cheerleaders and a personalized t-shirt.

Spoon

By Robert Greer

Fulcrum Books $24.95 256 pages

Spoon

a novel

Robert Greer

Cover: Elizabeth Gorman

Ask your mother, and she'd probably say it was one of your favorite words. From the time you were old enough to talk, she heard it plenty enough: "Mine!" Everything was yours. If it belonged to someone else, it was yours. Even if you didn't want it, it was yours.

You eventually grew out of that (more or less), but though your grown-up sensibilities recognize that possessions are just things, you still protect them. To what lengths would you go to ensure the safety of your stuff? In the new novel "Spoon" by Robert Greer, a ranching family gets help in preserving a generations-old way of life from a tumbleweed just passin' through.

The first time TJ Darley saw him, he was walking along the interstate with no boots. Arcus Witherspoon - or just Spoon - had lost his footwear in a poker game, on the way to searching for his roots. Half black, half Crow or Cheyenne or something, Spoon needed to know his kin.

And it just happened that the Darleys needed help. The Willow Creek Ranch couldn't run itself, and Marva Darley wanted her son to go to college up in Missoula, come next winter. Bill Darley agreed, though he wanted to pass the ranch on to TJ, just as his own father did for him.

Although Bill Darley resisted having a hired man, Spoon stepped up to the challenge, moved into the bunkhouse, and quickly made himself useful. Perhaps because of his ancestors, Spoon had The Charm, which meant he could see things into the future. That was handy for the Darleys.

Because what Spoon saw that early fall of 1992 was trouble.

Willow Creek Ranch - as well as several other spreads in the valley - was sitting on one of the biggest coal deposits in the country. Acota, a major company with a bottomless bank account, wanted the rights to mine what was beneath the pastures, but most of the ranchers weren't willing to ruin their beloved land.

And Acota wasn't willing to take "no" for an answer.

As tensions increased, the Darleys leaned on Spoon's knowledge and he leaned on their friendship. But time was running out...

I had my doubts about this book when I first started it. An African American cowpoke is relatively rare in a western novel, but that wasn't what gave me pause. What I wasn't so sure about was this psychic "charming" ability of the main character. As it turned out, it was a small facet of the book that paled in comparison to the rest of the story.

Author Robert Greer's "Spoon" is a tad on the predictable side, which is, oddly enough, just what you want in a western. Despite that it's a modern setting, his bad guys are tough hombres, his good guys are insightful, the hosses are smart, the ladies are purty, the ending is just right, and I liked it.

If you're looking for comfort reading on a chilly weekend, this is one to grab. Sit yourself down and have a "Spoon"-ful soon.

The many friends of Millers will be pleased to notice that their new funeral home has been completed. It is now ready for inspection and Millers invite everyone to come to see it August 25 and 26. The funeral home, which is very attractive both to exterior and interior, has been so arranged that Mr. Miller can have his family dwelling in it. This gives the home-like atmosphere which will be appreciated by the bereaved families who engage Mr. Miller's services. This combination also helps to lower the overhead expenses and enables Millers to offer a very distinctive and dependable funeral service reasonably.

Late last Saturday afternoon, John Wolter, 65, of Milwaukee, who was out fishing on Lake Fifteen with his son, fell overboard while attempting to change seats with his son who was rowing, and was drowned. Lake Fifteen is located in the Town of Auburn, Fond du Lac County, about seven miles northeast of Kewaskum on the Dundee road. According to information obtained by the coroner, in the confusion following the man's falling overboard, the son dropped the oars and the wind blew the boat away from the spot where the father fell in.

Sylvester J. Wittman, Byron, who several years ago became interested in speed when he tried out a motorized snow sled on Highway 41, will next week test out an airplane in which he hopes to travel at least 300 miles per hour. Mr. Wittman is a brother of Hubert Wittman of Kewaskum, and has gained national and international prominence through his many entries in airplane races and contests.

The public school will open on September 7 with the following staff in charge: Principal J.F. Cavanaugh; Assistant, Miss Alice Henry; Grammar Department, Thomas Manning; Intermediate, Miss Lorinda Guth; Primary, Miss Lilly Schlosser. The prospects are for a large attendance in the high school department this year.

William Kuhlmeier of the Town of Plymouth, while doing his plowing this fall, unearthed a number of Indian arrowheads which are fine specimens. He has for many years made his home on a farm a short distance northeast of Plymouth and during that time has found quite a collection of relics, such as arrowheads, elk and deer horns, also several specimens of wood which at one time helped to make a beaver dam. At the time, Mr. Kuhlmeier first moved onto this farm there was a large dam, the work of the beaver and the uniformity with which they pieces of wood are cut and prepared is something remarkable. Although the dam was destroyed a number of years ago, an occasional piece of wood used in its construction is still found.

The 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ramthun has been very ill the past week with blood poisoning. The girl received a slight scratch on her hand while picking berries last week and infection set in.

Mrs. Ernestina Bolt sold her residence property on Prospect Avenue in Kewaskum to Peter Dricken of St. Michaels last Monday for $1,000 consideration.

STATE OF WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES PUBLIC NOTICE OF INTENT TO REISSUE A WISCONSIN POLLUTANT DISCHARGE ELIMINATION SYSTEM (WPDES) PERMIT No. WI-0021733-08-0

Permittee: Village of Kewaskum, 204 First St., PO Box 38, Kewaskum, WI 53040

Facility Where Discharge Occurs: Village of Kewaskum, 1000 Fond Du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum, WI

Receiving Water and Location: Milwaukee River (East/West Branch), 1/2 mile downstream of STH 28 in Washington County

Brief Facility Description and Summary of Proposed Changes: The Village of Kewaskum's upgraded wastewater treatment facility (WTF) was placed in operation on August 15, 2009. The upgraded WTF still operates at an average annual design flow of 0.75 MGD, but the peak day design flow was increased from 1.5 MGD to 2.68 MGD and the peak hour from 2.0 MGD to 3.0 MGD. The design BOD loading is 1458 lb/day and that for suspended solids is 1661 lb/day. Major upgrades to the plant are: new headworks building with mechanically cleaned fine screen and compactor, grit removal system, two new primary clarifier, modification to the three activated sludge aeration basins, two new secondary clarifiers (with modifications to the two existing ones), expansion of the ultraviolet light disinfection system, modification to the sludge digester and improvement to the SCADA system.

Flows from the new (main) lift station and former pre-aeration tank (now used as storage tank for hauled waste, decant from sludge digester and sludge storage tank) are pumped to the influent receiving chamber in the new headworks building. Treatment processes include screening and grit removal, primary clarification, activated sludge aeration, secondary (final) clarification and ultraviolet disinfection. Ferrous chloride for phosphorus removal is added in the primary clarifier splitter box. Waste biosolids are aerobically digested in 3 tanks, stored onsite in a 1.1 Mgal storage tank and landapplied by a contract hauler (Diamond-F) by injection onto approved agricultural sites. Average plant flow and BOD loading from January 2008-June 2009 are 60% and 50% of their respective design values.

Permit Drafter/Basin Engineer: Timothy Thompson, DNR Service Center, 141 NW Barstow St., Rm 180, Waukesha, WI 53188, (262) 574-2133, thompta@wisconsin.gov

The Department has tentatively decided that the above specified WPDES permit should be reissued.

Limitations and conditions which the Department believes adequately protect the receiving water are included in the proposed permit. Land application of waste shall be done in accordance with permit conditions and applicable codes. All land application sites shall be approved prior to their use. To receive a list of approved sites, or to be notified of potential approvals, contact the basin engineer.

The Department has determined that a water quality-based effluent limitation (WQBEL) for chloride is needed in this permit to protect aquatic life. As allowed under s. NR 106.83(2), Wis. Adm. Code, the permittee has requested a variance to the chloride WQBEL. In support of this request, the permittee has submitted documentation intended to demonstrate that the cost of complying with the WQBEL through the use of end-of-pipe wastewater treatment may cause substantial and widespread adverse social and economic impacts in the area where the discharger is located. The Department concurs with that assessment. In an effort to achieve chloride effluent reductions that are practically and economically achievable within the term of the proposed permit, the Department and the permittee have mutually agreed upon specific permit terms that include an interim limitation, a target limit (or value, as the case may be), and certain source reduction activities. As allowed under s. NR 106.83(3), Wis. Adm. Code, these requirements are contained in the proposed permit.

Persons wishing to comment on or object to the proposed permit action, or to request a public hearing, may write to the Department of Natural Resources at the permit drafter's address. All comments or suggestions received no later than 30 days after the publication date of this public notice will be considered along with other information on file in making a final decision regarding the permit. Anyone providing comments to this public notice will receive a notification of the Department's final decision when the permit is issued. Where designated as a reviewable surface water discharge permit, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is allowed up to 90 days to submit comments or objections regarding this permit determination. If no comments are received on the proposed permit from anyone, including U.S. EPA, the permit will be issued as proposed.

The Department may schedule a public informational hearing if requested by any person and shall schedule a public informational hearing if a petition requesting a hearing is received from 5 or more persons or if response to this notice indicates significant public interest pursuant to s. 283.49, Stats. Requests for a public informational hearing shall state the following: the name and address of the person(s) requesting the hearing; the person(s) in the proposed permit; the person(s) requesting the hearing; the reasons for the request; and the issues proposed to be considered at the hearing.

Information on file for this permit action, including the draft permit and fact sheet (if required), may be inspected and copied at the permit drafter/basin engineer's office, Monday through Friday (except holidays), between 9:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Please call the permit drafter/basin engineer for directions to their office location, if necessary. Information on this permit action may also be obtained by calling the permit drafter at (262) 574-2133 or by writing to the Department. Reasonable costs (usually 20 cents per page) will be charged for copies of information in the file other than the public notice and fact sheet. Permit information is also available on the internet at: <http://dnr.wi.gov/org/water/wm/ww>. Pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act, reasonable accommodation, including the provision of informational material in an alternative format, will be made to qualified individuals upon request.

Younger teams have successful outings vs. Rebs

By Judy Harlow
For the Statesman

SAUKVILLE- It was a dead heat. Saturday's Gridiron action ended with Kewaskum teams winning the fifth and sixth grade games, and host Saukville taking the other two.

The sixth grade improved to 5-1-1 with a 26-0 shut victory, their second in a row.

By half, the Indians were leading by three TDs as Josh Baker scored on a run, then on a 10-yard screen pass from Michael Prochnow, and just before intermission, Brandon Thull gathered in a punt and sprouted 55 yards for a score.

The final TD was a 25-yard pass from Prochnow to Sam Schlosser.

Ben Watzig converted one PAT kick.

"A couple of penalties kept us from possibly getting another touchdown or two," Johnson said, pointing out his offensive line was missing several starters who were out with the flu, so others got a chance to play. One of those newcomers was Bradley Bunkelman, who "did a nice job."

Johnson said defensively, "We had a couple interceptions, one by Devyn Zillmer and the other by Miguel Gonzalez."

As luck would have it, the Kewaskum fifth graders (4-3) had again Saukville two weeks ago and had a score to settle with the Running Rebels who won that game on what Indians coaches thought were some questionable calls and clock stoppages late in the game.

This time the outcome was different, with the Indians winning 7-6 on a 45-yard run up the middle by Dalton Poole, and the all-important extra point on the Kyle Henk to Mason Shambeau.

"The defense shut Saukville down to the last 30 seconds," coach Mark Walcheske said.

Saukville's score came on a quarterback keeper. "The defense stepped up and shut down the PAT," Walcheske said, adding, "The ensuing kickoff, we recovered the on-side kick, and with 25 second left, ran out the clock."

"We had to shuffle kids around the make things work," Walcheske went on, noting starting QB Michael Boettcher was out with the flu, Henk got injured in the third quarter, then Poole stopped in and did OK.

Missing several players, including their fullback and middle linebacker, the seventh graders (4-3) fell behind 20-0 at half and lost 26-6.

"We made some mental mistakes in the first half that cost us," coach Randy Schlice said.

Kewaskum's lone score was a 62-yard run by Zack Smith in the third quarter.

"If we would have had healthy kids, it might have been different," coach Schlice said. "The kids sure tried even though they weren't at full strength."

Schlice said "Garrett Buth was outstanding on defense" and praised safety Austin Tackes, who "stopped all their passes in the second half."

After winning three in a row to reach .500, the eighth graders (3-4) came up short 28-12.

"Actually we played better than the score indicates," coach Jim "Jonesy" Korth said, explaining his team was able to shut down the Rebels' sweeps but gave up some big scoring plays on counters.

The offense didn't get on track until the fourth quarter when Joey Seitz broke loose on a 40-yard run for the Indians' first TD. The PAT attempt was blocked.

Then, late in the fourth quarter, Brett Boegel rambled 30 yards on a run to the Rebels' 4-yard line with :10 to play, and Steven Bohn ran it in on the final play.

"(Alex) Johnson played a good game on defense, according to Korth, who also cited Kurtis Luedtke in the defensive backfield and Casey Steinman at defense end.

Dan Powell shot his first goose in Washington County after his buddy Greg Lambrecht talked him into hunting geese after the bowhunting wasn't going so well. The mature bird was between 12 to 14 pounds.

Parkside's Gust plays in Crossover Tournament

LANSING, Mich.- Kewaskum resident and former Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School Volleyball standout Andrea Gust, had the opportunity in the GLIAC/GLVC Crossover Volleyball Tournament at the Aim High Complex a few weeks ago as a member of the UW-Parkside Rangers Volleyball team.

Three schools were added to the GLIAC ledger to balance out the 15 GLVC schools. Each competing squad had three scheduled matches.

Despite the fact the schools from the GLIAC won the majority of the matches, the Rangers did their part. Parkside beat the two GLIAC schools and then topped an added school for a clean three-match sweep.

UW-Parkside got off to a strong start by beating one of those added schools. The Rangers swept Urbana, 25-20, 25-23, 25-20, Friday afternoon. The Ranger win dropped Urbana below the .500 mark and is now 12-13. UWP brings a 16-8 mark into Saturday's action.

Andrea Gust dished out 39 assists.

The Rangers hit for a .154 percentage as a team while limiting Urbana to just .067.

The team took on the GLIAC in two matches on Saturday. Both went the Rangers' way with a 27-25, 25-20, 22-25, 24-26, 15-8 win over Tiffin, followed up with a 27-25, 21-25, 31-29, 25-12 encore over Findlay.

Gust had an astounding 65 assists in the win over Tiffin.

In the deciding fifth set, Parkside hit for a sparkling .381 percentage while the Dragons were at an even .000.

The Rangers hit for a .306 mark in the match. Gust kept the assists going, this time with 37. She made the six-member all-tournament team for the GLVC.

Parkside left Lansing with an 18-8 record, which is the most matches above .500 since the 1997 season when the team finished at 23-12.

Gust, a 5' 7" setter is a junior at Kenosha's UW-Parkside. In 2008, she logged 45 assists in a match versus Tiffin October 17, 2008. Paced the Rangers in assists with 712.

In 2007, she earned 70 set assists and 30 digs in just 27 games played.

While at KML she was named MVP and first-team all-conference as a senior.

She also plays in the Fox Cities Elite Volleyball Club.

Gust is the daughter of Randy and Lynn Gust of Kewaskum.

The secondary didn't do anything different to ground the Bulldogs' high-power pass offense.

"We were just making good reads and we were breaking hard on the ball and just making plays. Our secondary's been great all year. We haven't let anything over our heads," Kudek said.

After Perkins' second interception, Kewaskum took over on the Bulldogs' 29. Quarterback Cody Nuernberg ran for 15 yards up the middle, and Cody Seibel got all of the four yards he needed on third down to set up first down at the four. A measurement showed first down by the nose of the ball.

Seibel took it in on the next play. Hunter Flanders hit the point after and it was 7-0 with 2:33 left in the third quarter.

On the ensuing possession, Kudek picked off his first pass on third and eight and returned it to the Bulldogs' 25.

On third and 17 from the 32, Nuernberg made a pump fake and sailed the ball to a wide open Toles in the end zone. It was 14-0 with 11:54 left in the game.

"It was a designed play. We'd pump fake an out route and we'd just throw it deep and he went up and got it. He's a good basketball player. He got up high and caught it," Nuernberg said.

"It was a great throw. I almost face planted before I even got to the end zone," Toles said.

After exchanging punts, linebacker Bo Seibel intercepted a pass that dropped to him after bouncing off the hands of a Bulldog on a screen pass at New London's 39.

On fourth and two from the 14, Nuernberg faked a pitch right, turned and found receiver Jordan Blank all alone for the third score. A missed PAT made it 20-0 with 3:27 to play and the game was essentially over.

Kudek's sideline dash came on an overthrow with 1:28 left.

"Secondary did an outstanding job. We were in good position so that way when he made mistakes we were there to be Johnny on the spot and get the pick. It's not like we did anything in particular different in our coverage. The d'backs just continued what they've been doing all season," Piittmann said.

He never imagined a shutout. "I seriously thought it was going to be, like, a 12-7 ball game or something like that. I didn't think we were going to be able to shut their passing game down completely," he said.

It looked to play out that way in the first half. CJ Anderson gashed the Indians for huge chunks of yardage up the middle as the Bulldogs could move the ball.

Kewaskum's offense came out flat, wasting good field position early. C.J. Bowe set up Kewaskum on its own 45 with a diving interception that ticked off a Bulldog receiver in the first quarter. A bad punt put Kewaskum on the Bulldogs' 39 on their next possession. But the Indians went three and out the first four times they had the ball.

Piittmann lit up the locker room at halftime.

"Coach went over in the locker room that we just needed to execute. We had a few big running plays and that started to open up the passing game. We had good playaction passes," Nuernberg said.

"We were just fired up more. We wanted it. Seniors stepped it up. Our line stepped it up," said Cody Seibel. "We knew we had to put it to them the second half so we could call it a win."

Piittmann said the coaches adjusted the defense to slow the running game and switched an offensive blocking assignment to spark their own rushing game.

"We've been a good second half team early in the season because we've let other teams hang around in the game," Piittmann said. "This was a good team we were playing tonight that was hanging in there and we weren't doing the things we needed to do to be successful. But when we were finally able to get things clicking we were able to take advantage of it."

Come Saturday, Piittmann knows his team has to be better. He likes that he at least knows his opponent.

"It's good for us, I guess. The fact that it's somebody familiar. It's not a completely new prep for us," he said. "Plymouth is tough enough to prepare for but at least it's somebody we're familiar with and we've had film on their all season."

Indians play best game of the season downing Blue Dukes at home

KML squashes Indians post volleyball season

Coming off of a thrilling, five-game victory that pushed Kewaskum's volleyball team to the brink of elimination, the Indians hoped to carry that momentum into the next night against favored Kettle Moraine Lutheran (KML).

The Chargers had other ideas and quickly squashed Kewaskum's plan.

KML, Kewaskum's playoff nemesis, beat the Indians in a WIAA Division 2 regional final, 25-15, 25-14, 25-9, at Port Washington Saturday night.

While the fundamentally sound Chargers executed their offense with relative ease, the Indians too often worked hard just to get the ball back over the net as their serve receive and passing were off. Even when they pounded the ball, KML was often in the right place at the right time and went right back to running its offense.

"I don't know if some of us were, just like, intimidated, or I don't know, we just have, like, a bigger picture of them in our head than what should have been. I think a lot of us just have nerves," said senior outside hitter Erika Heberer.

Perhaps Kewaskum's best all-around player and top offensive option, Heberer was held to zero kills on five attempts. She worked hard on defense, leading the team with 19 digs.

"Just couldn't get out of the funk we were in. It started off with bad passing and it just stuck with us all night long," said Coach Joe Moser. "I saw a glimmer of hope in the end of Game 2 where we really started playing and we fought hard for those last couple of points and I was hoping we could carry it over but we got down 7 to nothing in a hurry and we just couldn't pass the ball. And for as bad as we were passing it, they were passing it excellent tonight."

Down 23-9 in Game 2, the Indians battled back to 24-14 before KML put the game away. Ashley Faber had two kills and Kayla Bastian one, and Monica Dehler blocked a ball that KML got two hits on before it bounced away.

Miller led the Indians with just four kills. George Abfall had three and Bastian two.

Heberer had 10 assists and Ashley Faber three. Lauren Gonring had 12 digs and Bastian eight.

Heberer and Haley Rauch each served one ace as the Indians made seven service errors on 27 attempts.

"We couldn't get the ball to our setters and then we struggled finding the hitters because they were running all over the court so it really kind of took us out of our game. It's one of those mental things where you make one or two errors and it really can kind of stick with you," Moser said.

"I've got to hand it to KML. They have another great team," he said. "Super consistent. Just putting the ball where they need to, and we couldn't get it where we needed to get it."

To the Indians' credit, they fought hard for every ball, running way out of the court for some balls and diving to keep plays alive on others. The match included several long rallies.

"We were pretty scrappy," Heberer said.

"I'm extremely proud of them. They stuck with it," Moser said. "They were in there every defensive play going for the dig, flying around, chasing after balls, putting those loose ones in when they could and never gave up. I'm extremely proud of them this season."

While the Indians had plenty of talent this season, they were lacking in the one thing Moser couldn't coach: height. No Indian is 6 feet tall while many competitors, especially the better ones, had players eclipsing the 6-foot mark.

"You dream about that stuff. You look at Whitefish Bay and they had one player and they played pretty well," Moser said. "We had talent. We just had a bunch of medium-height kids but they played really well. They played with a lot of heart. I wish the seniors the best. I hope a lot of them continue to play next year."

Kewaskum finished the season with a 28-10 overall record and 12-2 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, the only two losses to Waupun, widely regarded as the best team in the state regardless of division.

The season highlight

While Saturday was a match to forget, Friday night's regional semifinal against Whitefish Bay was one to remember.

The host Indians took on Whitefish Bay, which already beat them in a tournament this season, and this time returned the favor in a nail-biting thriller. Kewaskum edged the Blue Dukes, 25-22, 21-25, 25-22, 20-25, 15-11.

After Saturday night's loss, Heberer called Friday night the season highlight.

"Last night's game really was probably the best game that we've ever played. That and just playing Waupun," she said. "Our team got really close over the season so that was cool."

The fifth game featured ties at 2-2, 3-3, 4-4, 5-5 and 11-11. The Indians had leads of 9-5 and 11-7 before the Blue Dukes fought back to tie the game.

A net serve gave Kewaskum a 12-11 lead and Bastian served out the match. The Blue Dukes went under the net for point 13 and then called timeout.

Heberer followed with a hard kill that smacked off a Blue Duke and then fell to the floor on an assist from Dehler for No. 14.

On game point, Bastian made two huge digs to keep the play alive, and a Blue Duke kill attempt went into the net to end the match.

"It felt great. The intensity was up and our whole team just wanted it real bad," Bastian said.

"It was a rush. We really, really wanted it so it was good that we pulled it out in the end," said Miller.

Those cardiac kids put their poor coach on the fast track to collecting Social Security.

"I must have aged 20 years," Moser said. "You're so fired up one moment and your just like, 'Grrrr' the next moment. It was just incredible and I'm so happy for them. I'm so proud of them. I really feel they deserved to win this game. They really had been playing well." Heberer led Kewaskum with 12 kills and 21 assists, and tied with three others for a team-high 13 digs.

"Heberer has been playing great all night. She had, I think, one hitting error the whole night, at least 10 kills, and that one hitting was on a set that was totally terrible that I don't think anybody would have got a kill off of or even put it in play," Moser said.

The Indians struggled with handling 6-2 Frankie Carroll, who used her height and athleticism to block and alter Kewaskum's kill attempts, not to mention pound down her own kills. By Game 5, they figured it out.

"We didn't let No. 18 get to her big hits like we did in other games. I think we started taking away her options more with the block. Our passers started getting outside the blocks," Heberer said.

"We definitely had to adjust to it but I think once we did it was OK. We just had to know where she was, if she was front row or back row," Miller said. Faber had 20 assists and Miller 11 kills. Gonring, Rauch and Bastian each had 13 digs. Faber had six.

Miller served three aces, and Rauch and Heberer two each. Miller had two blocks.

Kewaskum 27, New Holstein 8 | Indians close out regular season

Indians cage Huskies

KEWASKUM- On a rainy and windy night last Thursday, Kewaskum put away New Holstein early to close out the regular season in a game on paper that looked to have been closer than the 27-8 final.

Both teams entered with 5-1 conference records. Kewaskum essentially had moved to 6-1 by the end of the first quarter.

The Indians scored on their first three possessions, first on a 54-yard option run left that Nuernberg cut inside.

"It was just a little option and I saw the D tackle was turned around, I saw his back so I just sprinted downfield so there was a wide open gap," he said.

The next drive went 59 yards with Nuernberg and Seibel doing most of the work. Seibel finished it with a five-yard score.

Zolp returned a punt 21 yards to the Huskies' 20 to start the Indians' next possession. Zolp flew down the right sideline and cut back inside but didn't see the backside pursuit until just before being hit. Zolp sprained his ankle during the tackle and was out the rest of the game.

Two plays later, Nuernberg hit Toles across the middle, who beat his man, took a hit from an oncoming defensive back and bounced into the end zone. With 17 seconds left in the quarter, Kewaskum was up 19-0.

Toles never saw the hit coming.

"I had no idea. It was a hard hit but I was a little bigger than that guy," he said.

Nuernberg said throwing was difficult in the wet weather.

"Not a good grip on the ball at all but, I mean, he was wide open so all I had to do was lob it across the middle. He ran under it," he said.

Kewaskum scored again to open the third quarter. Seibel bounced an off-tackle play down the left sideline and raced 57 yards to pay dirt. He ran in the two-point conversion to make it 27-0.

The Huskies didn't cross midfield until the third quarter. They scored on a five-yard run against the Indians' second string with 3:51 to play in the game.

Piittmann liked how his team responded to its first home game after the Plymouth loss. The Indians beat Sheboygan Falls 41-13 before coming home to face New Holstein.

"Sheboygan falls we came out and just pounded like that, scored right away. But coming back home was another matter, at least I think it was for the kids because after the streak that we had here to re-establish something at home, and against a good New Holstein team. You don't get in the playoffs by being bad," he said.

The performance provided some momentum going into Tuesday's playoff game.

"We made improvements the last two weeks. After a tough loss you never know where the team is going to go. The kids responded well to what we needed to do in practice. They improve," he said. "We said we don't want to stumble into the playoffs, we don't want to back peddle our way in, we want to get things rolling and I think we did a good job of that tonight."
