Washington County taxpayers see first increase in a decade

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

WEST BEND- Washington County taxes are going up for the first time in at least a decade after the County Board last week approved the 2010 budget.

The tax rate will rise from $2.71 per $1,000 of equalized value to $2.77, a 2.27-percent increase.

That translates to the owner of a $200,000 home paying $555 in taxes, up $13 from last year's $542.

For the second time in 40 years, the county's property valuation didn't increase. After years of significant increases, more than 9 percent each year from 2004 to 2007, property value is down this year by 0.13 percent. The rate of increases had fallen off since 2006's 10.46 percent. 2007 saw 9.56 percent, 2008 had 5.45 and 2009 had 2.73.

The total budget came to $39,053,738, a 1.9-percent increase, including restoration of $65,000 to the Washington County Historical Society and a heated debate.

County Administrator Doug Johnson said the state allowed a 3 percent levy increase, but "That was never really considered." The county set a goal of 2 percent, he said, and stuck to it.

The budget calls for no wage increases for union and non-union employees, which saves $800,000, Johnson said. Of that, $550,000 has already been accounted for. Negotiations with the rest of the labor unions are ongoing. If agreements aren't reached, up to five employees could get laid off, Johnson said.

A large crowd packed the County Board room for the evening hearing last Thursday, most in support of the Historical Society, including some well-known area names. The five-member Finance Committee recommended to cut its operations funding from the Historical Society's requested $190,000 to $95,000, which was included in the proposed budget in front of the County Board. The Education and Culture Committee last week recommended restoring $65,000 to bring the total to $160,000, $15,000 less than last year's funding.

Doug Ziegler compared the Historical Society's budget to that of the Washington County Fair Park, which has been under fire for poor financial management and for providing the County Board conflicting financial reports. He noted the society's newest entity, the West Bend/Regal Ware Museum, was all paid for with private funding and will be completely paid off next month. He also said that the Historical Society's staff was the only organization affiliated with the county that cut salaries. Staff voluntarily took a 20 percent cut in May.

Ziegler asked for the full $190,000 to be restored.

"It is an increase but I think with justification," he said.

Glenn Thoele, co-chair of the Hartford Historical Society Home Tour, questioned why the county continually funds the Fair Park.

"Why do you, in government, reward incompetence and penalize competence?" he said.

Historical Society Board President and former county circuit court judge Richard Becker asked for the funding back.

Agony of De-foot in De Pere

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

DE PERE- Reaching the Division 3 quarterfinals five straight seasons and hitting double-digit wins each year in the same span provided little consolation Saturday afternoon as the Kewaskum Indians slowly walked off the football field, some for the last time as high school players.

Perhaps it will provide more in time. But not just then. Not minutes after getting beat on the last play.

A game that early on looked like a blowout by the end looked more like a Hollywood script packing a season's worth of drama into 48 minutes. For Kewaskum fans, fate cast the Indians as the protagonist who didn't get the girl.

In a contest of heart-stopping clutch plays, Kewaskum came up one short as the Phantoms kicked a 25-yard field goal as time expired to pull out a 24-21 victory.

The undersized Indians missing three starters to injury battled back from a 14-0 second-quarter deficit, scoring its first touchdown on fourth down from the 16 and its second with no time left in the first half after a fourth-down pass interference penalty yielded one more play.

Kewaskum used an interception and bomb to take a 21-14 lead in the third quarter, after which the offense got stuffed and the defense seemed to run out of gas.

"We fought to the end, that's all anybody could ask for, that's all the coaches could ask for. We came in here. We played and we had 'em for a while," said junior quarterback Cody Nuernberg.

"Disappointed. Sad," is how Coach Jason Piittmann described his reaction. "We faced a lot of adversity this year. Our kids fought. I'm so proud of them. We were outsized

Fate of Fair Park being decided

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

WEST BEND- County subcommittees are examining the details of lease and operating agreements for the Washington County Fair Park as all you county taxpayers will soon become the new owners of the entire facility.

The County Board on Oct. 27 voted to buy the Ziegler Center and all the barns from the Agriculture and Industrial Society (AIS) for $688,000. The county already owned the main pavilion.

In addition, the board approved entering into a lease and operating agreement with the AIS to rent the park for $1 per year, albeit with increased oversight given the AIS has run the park into financial problems, including debt from the recent construction of the Ziegler Pavilion. Three county subcommittees - Finance, Education and Culture and Executive - get to shape the agreement before they go to the County Board for approval, likely in December or January.

Tuesday, Nov. 3, was the Education and Culture Committee's turn. AIS staff voiced its concern with a part of the draft of the lease agreement that has the three-year term expiring at the end of 2012 and says the new lease is non-renewable. A new lease could be drawn up, but the present one would expire.

That makes it difficult to book events as many entities schedule years ahead, hire a director and keep staff, given the uncertain future of the lease.

The committee, staff, County Attorney Kim Nass and County Board Chairman agreed to backing events booked beyond 2012, provided the county approves of the events.

"I think the board has to make that commitment," Tennes said.

It was agreed the Education and Culture Committee would decide which events would be held and which would be turned down. Interim Fair Park manager Sandy Lang said that creates problems since the committee meets monthly and people don't want to wait that long for an answer. The Fair Park could lose business.

Nass said a process with the county contract needs to be set up to approve events faster than monthly.

In addition, County Administrative Coordinator Doug Johnson presented two more Fair Park performance expectations to the 2009-10 list of four. New requirements include developing a reserve fund to cover one year of county fair revenues that may not be reached with consistently bad weather, and to hire a new executive director to manage, lead and implement an updated marketing plan for the Ziegler Center and Fair Park.

Johnson said the plan would be to the operating agreement. The committee liked the idea.

Buying Fair Park

The county's purchase of the Fair Park came one month after the board accepted but criticized a report from the eight-member Fair Park Study Committee, five members of which were County Board supervisors, because all of its options had the county buying the buildings of the financially struggling facility.

The vote to buy the facility was 21-6. Voting against were Paul Ustruck, John Stern, Don Berchem, Melvin Merk, William Meyers and Mark McCune. Absent were Robert Adam, Daniel Stoffel and Joseph Gonnering.

Closing on the property is set to be completed by Dec. 31.

Berchem said he understood the contract with AIS the county should be able to take the buildings back by default since AIS defaulted on its loan. "We're not buying the buildings. We're paying for a bad loan and contractor overruns," he said, adding the board shouldn't use sales tax money for that.

Berchem at September's board meeting called the Fair Park Study Committee's report a "sham" and that he knew the recommendation would be for the county to buy the buildings.

At last month's meeting, he said he should have called it a "scam," and called out Tennes and Administrative Coordinator Doug Johnson for essentially leading the committee to recommend the purchase. He said the committee didn't think about using a private enterprise to run the park and lease it back to the county to run the Fair.

Tennes, who chaired the committee, responded with a firm tone.

"How can you call something like this a scam is downright demeaning," he said. "It was not part of the study committee's duty to look at the financing."

Tennes said he was turned down by people to join the committee because of the remarks Berchem made.

Supervisor Richard Bertram acknowledges mistakes were made, but the park is under different management after a year ago the board criticized former management.

Money to buy the Fair Park is coming from two sources: $408,000 from the county's new $14.6 million radio system project that is slated to come in well under budget and $280,000 from delaying a project that would extend Rolfs Road north to an access driveway for the county, bending it around to connect to Rolfs.

The Radio Communications project didn't want to give up the money because installing the new radio system covering the sheriff's and highway departments and county municipalities is an ongoing project. An amendment to the Fair Park purchase resolution was approved 26-1 to delay three projects in 2010 until it is certain the radio project won't need the funds.

The projects total $335,000 and include putting in a parking lot north of the jail for $220,000; asphalt repairs at Fair Park, $75,000; and putting up a sheriff's evidence storage facility, $40,000. Supervisor Rick Gundrum voted against the amendment.

After the vote to buy the Fair Park, the board voted on a motion by Meyers to refer oversight of Fair Park's operations and structure to the Executive Committee for further evaluation and study. It passed, 21-6, with Brian Bausch, Marilyn Merten, Raymond Heidtke, James Core, Joan Russell and Todd Healy voting against.

When it came to the resolution to lease the facility back to AIS for $1 per year, Ustruck suggested changing the lease from five years with "an annual review and amendment as needed" to three years with "no option for renewal."

The amendment passed, 18-9. Voting against were Tennes, Bausch, Merten, Heidtke, Core, Russell, Healy, Gerald Schulz, and John Jung.

The lease agreement was approved, 21-6. Voting against were Stern, Brandt, Berchem, Meyers, Goetz and Peter Sorce.

Community bands together to help young father

Steve Liegl, left, of Catholic Knights Insurance and Al Wollner assist Larry Bunkelman of Bunkelman Builders with a wheelchair ramp at Keith Butschlick's home in Kewaskum.

Statesman photos: Andrew Kuehl | andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Keith Butschlick had an idea significant donations would come in and a large number of people would attend a benefit to help pay for medical costs to treat his life-threatening disease.

He didn't have any idea it would be this much or many.

More than $74,000 was raised last month as about 800 people packed the Boltonville Firehouse to help their friend and have a good time to boot.

"It was overwhelming just the show of support and love for him," said Carmen, Keith's wife.

At 24, Keith, a Kewaskum native, was diagnosed with Friedrich Ataxia, a genetic disease that slowly deteriorates the nervous system. His brother, Jason, died from the disease in 2002 at 21, a year after diagnosis.

Keith and his three other siblings got tested after Jason's death. Only Keith had it. He had a pacemaker put in to prolong his life.

That was about 10 years ago. Keith, married with two young girls, has already outlived doctors' expectations. Carmen knew about the disease the entire time they have been together.

No cure or treatment exists for the disease, but medication can prolong his life, said Keith's cousin, Katie Fechter, co-organizer of the fundraising event.

Carmen said Keith looked forward to it.

"He was excited for the party," she said.

His two girls, Maya, 7, and Kate, 4, were there nearly the entire time.

"They had a great time running around with their cousins and their friends," Carmen said.

The event included a band, food, silent auction and raffle prizes.

Carmen said Keith has been doing well.

"Taking it one day at a time," she said.

They're still blown away by the size and scope of the event.

"We're incredibly grateful to everyone who came and who showed their support," Carmen said.

Carmen's Catholic Knights Insurance Society, Branch 315, constructed a ramp for Keith to be able to get into the house.

"His dad made a temporary one. We wanted to have something more permanent for him," said branch member Steve Liegl.

The branch heard of Keith's situation and discussed putting in a ramp at one of its meetings.

"Everybody liked the idea," Liegl said.

The branch contacted Keith's father and then talked to Keith about it. They liked the idea, too.

Liegl and fellow member Al Wollner and friend Larry Bunkelman, of Bunkelman Builders went to work. They bought wood from a supply company and constructed the ramp on Halloween, starting at 7:45 and ending by noon.

The ramp includes a railing and Carmen said it allows both cars to again be parked in the garage. The previous one did not.

"He needed it. It gave us a good feeling. We could do something for a member of our branch," Liegl said.

"The society has cut its budget substantially in order to keep it going," he said.

Finance Committee member Don Roskopf questioned the board's motive.

"Is that what you want to do? Destroy the Historical Society? It sounds like it," he said.

Education and Culture Committee chairperson Marilyn Merten moved to amend the budget by adding $65,000 back to the Historical Society funding, bringing the total to $160,000.

The change takes the budget from a 1.7 to 1.9 percent increase and raises the tax rate by $1 on a $200,000 home, from $554 to $555.

Supervisor Mark McCune asked where $65,000 could be taken out of the budget to keep the budget and tax rate down. Johnson said various options would be available but didn't mention anything specific aside from the general fund.

Supervisor Richard Bertram, one of the three Finance Committee members to vote for the cut in the Historical Society's funding, explained the number he saw goes well above $190,000 when snowplowing, electric bills, etc. are taken into account. While Bertram said the Historical Society does a good job, he said he made his decision on the numbers.

Bertram also referenced the 20 percent pay cut, pointing out the Historical Society is closed one day per week. A real cut, he said, would be to work the same hours and receive 20 percent less pay.

Supervisor William Meyers, another Finance Committee member voting for the cut in funding, said he would support restoring the funds if they could be cut from somewhere else in the budget and the county's relationship with the Historical Society changes next year.

Finance Committee Chairman Ralph Hensel, the other member voting for the cut, said the Historical Society could raise more money given its 120 volunteers, but said he was changing his vote to restore the money because of "the number of calls I had from constituents in my district."

Merten emphasized the $1 tax increase.

"I think many people have thrown a dollar away in a more foolish way than to support the Historical Society," she said.

Supervisor Paul Ustruck disagreed. He said the society is a nonprofit organization and its donors and memberships are down.

"Instead of asking people to donate, we're going to force them to donate a dollar from their taxes," he said.

The amendment passed, 24-5. Voting against were Ustruck, Meyers, Bertram, Gerald Schulz and Rick Gundrum. Supervisor Daniel Stoffel was absent and excused.

McCune then moved for an amendment to cut $65,000 across all departments except the Historical Society.

"This isn't a win-win. Someone's losing," McCune said. "Of course we all have a dollar."

Bertram disagreed, saying he didn't want to take any more money from departments after the Finance Committee worked them over.

www.kewaskumstatesman.com

"Now that it's passed I think we should all get behind it," he said.

The board ended up taking a break to allow Finance Director Susan Haag to crunch the numbers, although she warned the cut could total much more than $65,000 since some departments produce revenue. A cut could impact that revenue, she said.

Haag returned with numbers Board Chairman Herb Tennes didn't like. The Sheriff's Department, which already agreed to a pay freeze, would lose the most money - $22,244 - and Human Services $14,396.

Tennes said increasing taxes by $65,000 was the best way to go, saying the increase doesn't even come to $1 on those houses.

The amendment failed, 24-5. Voting for it were McCune, Meyers, Donald Berchem, John Stern and Kenneth Brandt.

The budget, including the $65,000 for the Historical Society, then passed, 23-6. Those voting against included former West Bend mayor Michael Miller, who said not everyone is sharing in the pain of reducing their budgets. Others were Stern, Berchem, Gundrum, McCune and Meyers.

Stars and Stripes Honor Flight

A group of men and women who wish to honor veterans of WWII recently took 193 of these brave men and women on a one day trip to Washington DC.

The veterans, many of whom were in their teens when they served our country were flown out of Mitchell Field to Reagan Airport in Washington DC and treated to a day touring the WWII monument, Iwo Jima monument and Arlington National Cemetery.

They witnessed the changing of the guard at the tomb of the unknown soldier and presented a wreath there from the veterans of the eastern part of Wisconsin.

Upon arriving at Mitchell Field, a hero's welcome awaited them. Unknown to them, hundreds of family and friends were there with flags, banners, tears, and cheers jamming the concourse at Mitchell Field.

A video of the memorial day may be seen at www.starsandstripeshonorflight.com, and click on miscellaneous.

'The Spitfire Grill' at UWWC this weekend

Theatre Professor Brad Ford is delighted with his "very capable cast" for UW-Washington County's upcoming fall musical, The Spitfire Grill. "Extremely talented" and "very professional" are adjectives Ford doesn't hesitate to use in describing his seven cast members. The production marks his 27th season of directing theatre at the West Bend campus. "Beautiful music in the hands of this very capable cast makes for an absolutely incredible sound," Ford explained. In addition, "the theme is very uplifting - and the story has a positive happy ending."

The Wisconsin based musical will be performed Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 12 - 14 at 7:30pm and Sunday, November 15 at 1:30pm in the campus theatre, located on the second level of the campus at 400 University Drive, West Bend. Free parking is available.

The talented cast of seven includes Missy delrueste, Cedarburg as Shelby; Philip Harrelson, West Bend as Caleb;

Meaghan Morrissey, Milwaukee as Percy; Amy Winter, Milwaukee as Effy; and Deborah Woldanski, Slinger as Hannah along with two UW-WC students, Andrew Helman, West Bend as the Visitor and Zachary Mellgren, West Bend as Joe.

Based on the award-winning film by Lee David Zlotoff, the script, music and lyrics were written by James Valcq and Fred Alley. First produced on a New Jersey stage in 2000, it moved to Broadway in September 2001, playing only three performances before the 9-11 tragedy occurred and shut down most of New York theatre. Despite the tragedy, it lasted four weeks longer and has since been performed many times across the country, including Milwaukee's Skylight Theatre, on whose ceiling is still the phrase, "to help us forget some things, remember others, and to refresh dry places in our spirit."

Suitable for all ages, the touching and feel good story is also tough - focusing on relationships among the townsfolk in a small, fictional town - Gilead, Wisconsin and what happens as a result. Percy, the central character, is an ex-convict who has decided to start her life (after 5 years in prison) as a waitress in the town's only rundown diner, The Spitfire Grill. When Hannah, the crusty old owner and cook is injured, Percy helps out (even though her cooking leaves much to be desired). It is a story of hope for these women who somehow inspire each other and learn to live and love again and experience life to the fullest.

For ticket sales and reservations, phone the main office at 262-335-5208 (Monday through Friday 8am-4:30pm). Tickets are $12 adults and $9 for seniors (over 62) or youth (under 18). Half-price tickets are available on Thursday night. UW-Washington County is located at 400 University Drive in West Bend. The theatre is located on the second floor. Free parking is available.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of RUBEN OPPERMANN, who passed away 35 years ago, November 13, 1974:

We think of you in silence,
And often say your name.
But all that's left to answer us,
Is your picture in a frame.

We often look at your picture,
And your smile seems to say,
Don't grieve for me, I'm only resting,

And you'll see me someday.

Sadly missed by his wife, Virginia, and family

In loving memory of Ralph Kern, who entered Eternal Life one year ago, Nov. 18, 2008:

Friends may think I have forgotten
When at times they see me smile.
Little do they know the heartaches
That smiles hide all the while.

Beautiful memories are wonderful things.
That last till the longest day.
They never wear out, they never get lost and
Can never be given away.

To some you may be forgotten.
To others, a part of the past.
But to me who loved
And lost you...
Your memory will always last.

*Sadly missed by,
wife Cordell son Bob, grandchildren
Tari, Kristine, Mathew, Jonathan*

MEMORIAL

In loving memory of Tim McKee, who passed away one year ago, November 14, 2008:

A million times we've needed you,
A million times we've cried,
If love could have saved you dear,
You never would have died.
Things we feel most deeply,
Are the hardest things to say.
My dearest... Tim... we loved you,
In a very special way.
If we could have one lifetime wish,
One dream that could come true,
We'd pray to God with all our hearts,
For yesterday and you.

Deeply missed.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Melissa & Tom

To the Editor:

The last Land Use Plan for 2010 illustrated how quaint and inviting our village could look if the downtown invested in upgrades to facades such as replacing awnings, installing decorative lighting, trees, landscaping, etc. yet nothing has been done to implement these changes. Rather the village doesn't even pull weeds and carelessly sprays parking paint all over curbs and sidewalks that flakes within a short time of application. We put in ugly camouflage benches. We let our seasonal banners and decorations age with the hope and anticipation that one day someone might donate to replace them. We assume that a decade old entrance sign is historic in nature and brings pride to our village yet I thought we were looking for a new image for our village? Shouldn't we look into a sign that advertises Kewaskum and not just activities beyond our borders?

There has been no planning because in the good times the village board failed to plan to have the resources available to accomplish these types of improvements. How can we trust that this plan will result in the bettering of our village? Or should we expect the same results?

What do we offer within our village boundaries that would attract business or prevent current businesses from leaving or closing their doors? We even limit the business potential with our current sign ordinance. How long can we expect businesses to continue to want to stay in Kewaskum when the village isn't encouraging their survival by making our village look attractive and welcoming?

We have the TIF district that we are paying taxes on, yet no one on the village staff has tried to go out and solicit businesses to locate here. (I don't imagine the lawsuit bought on by the developer will make it any easier. Is the Statesman going to report on this?)

We need our village board to step up and be pro-active, dismissing the easy excuse that we're in a sluggish economy. Nothing will happen if you don't try. Please make this village as it was at one time, a village we can be proud of!

I was proud to say I'm ship to set the course straight. from Kewaskum but now have many doubts as to the direction Kewaskum is headed and whether we have the leader-

Miller, Heberer, Gonring on all conference VB team

Abfall given honorable mention

Elissa Miller

Erika Heberer

Kewaskum's volleyball team had three players named Eastern Wisconsin First Team All-Conference and one honorable mention.

Seniors Elissa Miller, Erika Heberer and Lauren Gonring landed first-team honors and junior George Abfall received the honorable mention.

Miller led the team in kills with 217 and had 38 solo blocks and 25 assists.

"Very smart player who was always helping the other middles and setters telling them where they can hit or dump the ball for a kill," said Coach Joe Moser. "Hard working player that could get a kill when we really needed it."

Heberer led the Indians with 458 assists and almost led the team with kills at 216. She served a team-high 69 aces.

"She is the best all around player on our team that could pass, serve, hit, and set the ball everywhere with great accuracy. Hard working player that always had a positive attitude," Moser said.

Gonring was the best libero in the conference, Moser said. She led the team in digs with 290 and handled the ball most with 680 serve receive attempts.

"Lauren was very vocal on the court telling hitters where to go, where the other team would hit, and cheering up the players after mistakes. Led with great confidence and read opposing hitters very well to come up with many great digs. She served 12 in a row in a game 5 against Sheboygan Falls," Moser said.

Abfall "played great for us on the right side helping the team out with 101 kills in only cord. The freshmen went 13-3 overall and 41-18 in games.

"Overall this group is very talented, hardworking, and fun to work with. I am looking forward to seeing what they contribute to the KHS volleyball program in the next few years," said Coach Heather Noworatzky.

The team included: Mikkin Abfall, Anna Aycock, Jordan Donnelly, Amber Flasch, Jessie Harbin, Kelsey Heberer, Chelsea Herriges, Hunter Holz, Brianna Jacak, Mallorie Kreis, Kelsey Phillips, Jenny Reicher and Ashlee Stahl.

Lauren Gonring

266 attempts,' Moser said. "Finally a player that won't be missed next year because she will be back for one more. Great block on the opponents' outside hitter helping us slow down their power hitter. She will give us options next year being able to play right or outside."

The Indians finished the season with a 28-9 overall record and a 76-36 game record. They finished second in conference with a 12-2 record, only losing to undefeated Waupun twice.

Kewaskum's junior varsity team finished 6-7 in conference with an overall record of 12-15-3. The Indians' game record was 45-28.

"This was an awesome group of talented kids to work with. They did a great job of making the game fun," said Coach Kelly Marquardt.

Team members included: Britney Wagner, Sam Smallish, Lydia Schneider, Caitlin Rinzel, Teal Kryscio, Heidi Johnson, Hope Hansen, Val Hedlund, Emily Faber, Becca Fahney, Sabrina Boehlke and Whitney Bastian.

Kewaskum's freshmen won the conference with an 11-2 record and 29-10 game re-

Kewaskum 21, West De Pere 24 | Near blowout turns into near miss

The Indians' Steven Champman (40), Mat Toles (2), Mack Donath (ground) and Bo Seibel wrap up on Phantom running back Beau Billmore in the first half of a quarterfinal game Saturday in West De Pere. The Indians lost 24-21.

today, but you know what, these kids found a way. 10-7 second half. We gave ourselves a chance. We got down early but we fought back. We tied it up going into half, we got momentum. I'm so proud of the way the kids responded today."

With the score tied 21-21 with 5:15 to play, the Phantoms forced the Indians into their second straight three-and-out from inside their own 25, after the first of which they drove for the game-tying score on a 1-yard quarterback sneak.

This time, West De Pere took over on its own 45. Behind a massive offensive line, three running backs pounded Kewaskum's defense, spelling the Phantoms' star, Beau Bellmore, who limped off the field on the second play of the second half.

The Phantoms drove to Kewaskum's seven and faced a fourth and inches with 1:09 to go. They first tried to draw Kewaskum inside but the well-coached Indians didn't budge. West De Pere called timeout.

Quarterback Michael Linszen then went to the Phantoms' short-yardage bread and butter, at least on Saturday: the quarterback sneak. Linszen got the first down but got injured on the play and walked off.

Adding to the drama, Linszen doubles as the holder on kicks.

Backup quarterback Jay Tollefson tried a sneak for two yards. Before the next play, an illegal motion penalty pushed the Phantoms back to the seven. A Zac Rottier run lost a yard, and with 3.3 seconds left West De Pere brought out its kicker, Randy Hill, to try a field goal on third down. Linszen was good enough to hold.

The snap and hold were good, and the kick sailed through the uprights as the Indians didn't come close to a block.

West De Pere went nuts. Kewaskum went numb.

The game didn't look to be that close from the start, or even before after one look at Cody Seibel. The all-conference running back, all-conference inside linebacker and the team's punter was in street clothes, out with an injury. The Indians entered their biggest game of the season without their hardest hitter on defense against a group of mammoths who ran for more than 300 yards the week before. Offensively, it was a big hole, too, but a faster, smaller running back, sophomore Eric Perkins, had come on the past couple of weeks and spelled Seibel late in games.

Also missing was all-conference center Tyler Hoerig and all-conference defensive back T.J. Schlice, both out with injuries, but Piittmann isn't one to make excuses.

"When we're losing that many good players, it's tough. But I tell you what, the other kids stepped up. They showed a lot of heart, they fought, they did everything they had to do to give us a chance and they did. I'm so proud of them," he said. "I mean I'd love to have those kids in the lineup because they were there for us all season, but you know what, I cannot fault the effort and the heart of the kids that stepped in and stepped up."

Not many Indians stepped up early. Kewaskum went three and out on the opening possession, but the Phantoms muffed the punt. Kewaskum recovered on their opponent's 46 and began to move. Steven Chapman ripped off a 12-yard run up the gut on what turned out to be a five-play drive.

On fourth and two from the Phantoms' 26, Nuernberg had his pass tipped at the line, the pass fell incomplete and the Indians missed an opportunity to capitalize on a turnover.

The Phantoms responded with a 74-yard, 3:32-scoring drive. Bellmore had runs of 12, 11 and 29 yards, including the last nine for the score.

The Phantoms intercepted a pass on the Indians' next possession on their own 43, and followed with another scoring drive. Bellmore took it in from 18 yards.

With 11:42 to go in the second quarter, Kewaskum was down 14-0 and its sideline was having flashbacks to last year's 42-0 loss to eventual state champion Waupaca in the state semifinal.

The Indians wouldn't let this one get out of control.

After forcing an incomplete pass on fourth and seven on their 34, Kewaskum went to work. Nuernberg scrambled for 12 and later hit Mat Toles who went to the ground to snag a 17-yard pass on third and 12.

On another third and 12 from the Phantoms' 40, Nuernberg went back to pass and couldn't find anyone. He took off for 29 yards to the 11.

After an incomplete pass, a four-yard loss on a sack and another incomplete, Kewaskum faced fourth and 15 from the 16.

Nuernberg took the snap and lofted a jump ball to Toles in the left corner of the end zone. The 6-3 senior went up and got it. Freshman Hunter Flanders hit the point after and it was 14-7 with 2:39 left in the half.

On the Phantoms' first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, Linszen passed to Derek VanDenLangenberg who began to make his way downfield. Brandon Zolp tackled him from behind, forcing a fumble. The ball took one bounce forward and fell right into the waiting arms of Steven Kudek. Kewaskum had the ball back at the Phantoms' 41 and again went to work.

Perkins darted 21 yards and Nuernberg hit Zolp for eight more as the Indians moved to the seven with 43.9 seconds until half.

On first and goal, Nuernberg ran for four. On second down, he slipped on a rollout and lost five yards. Kewaskum took its third and final timeout with 15.4 seconds left. On third down, Nuernberg threw incomplete on the run.

On fourth and goal with 3.9 seconds left, Nuernberg threw incomplete to Zolp, who was interfered with. The clock ran out but Kewaskum got another play due to the penalty.

From the three-yard line, on what had to be the last play of the half barring another defensive penalty, Perkins went off tackle left on a lead play and dove into the end zone. Another Flanders PAT made it 14-14 at half with Kewaskum leading in the momentum category.

Momentum seemed to shift instantly in the third quarter. The Phantoms took the second-half kickoff and on fourth and three from their own 49, faked a punt, snapping the ball to an up back for a six-yard gain.

The Phantoms' running game slowly and methodically took them inside Kewaskum's 10, when the Indians stiffened. Runs of three, one and one yards left fourth and goal at the three. West De Pere called timeout to set a play.

Linszen dropped back to pass and was instantly pressured by right defensive end Jordan Blank. He sidestepped and threw to the end zone off of his back foot.

Zolp was waiting, and the ball fell into his arms. The speedster started to run but saw he had nothing and wisely took a knee before leaving the end zone. The Indians thwarted the scoring chance and picked up 17 yards on the touchback.

On third and six from their own 24, Zolp struck again. Nuernberg pump faked and the defense bought it. Under heavy pressure before getting creamed, Nuernberg lofted a bomb to a sneaking Zolp down the left sideline. The senior with an ailing ankle he injured in the last regular season game was caught from behind, but the 61-yard gain put the Indians at the 15.

Perkins sped his way to the two on the next play, and Nuernberg took it in from there. With 1:46 left in the third quarter, Kewaskum had its first lead of the day, 21-14.

The Indians only had two possessions in the fourth quarter, both starting at their own 20 and both three-and-outs, giving the Phantoms good field position they used to tie and win the game.

The Indians kept up with the Phantoms' yards per run, getting edged 4.4 to 4.9, but not in volume. West De Pere ran 60 times for 294 yards to Kewaskum's 33 for 146.

Chapman ran six times for 53 tough yards on quick-hitting blasts up the middle, season highs for both, including a 31-yard rumble. Perkins ran 12 times for 33 yards and a score.

Zolp finished his high school career with two catches for 69 yards, a team-high four tackles and an interception.

Toles ended with three catches for 38 yards and a score.

Nuernberg finished 5-13 for 107 yards, a touchdown and interception. He ran 15 times for 60 yards. Linszen went 5-10 for 51 yards and a pick.

"I'm so proud to say I'm a part of this team. Everyone worked so hard," Nuernberg said.

Bouncing back seems to have been a theme this season. This was the first time in four years the Indians didn't win the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, edged by Plymouth, 14-6, on homecoming for their first home loss in 30 games and first home conference loss in 16. When the Indians faced the Panthers in the playoffs on the road on Halloween, they smoked them, 27-7.

After losing 24 seniors to graduation from last season, the Indians had 22 seniors this season but only three returning starters on either side of the ball. They learned quickly.

"This team came in very inexperienced. We beat a good West Bend West team early to get some confidence. We had some games where we didn't do much offensively in the first half but we won ball games and gained confidence. We didn't play well against Plymouth and we lost by a touchdown. Then we got things going those last couple weeks of the season to really get things going into the playoffs," Piittmann said.

The Indians beat two playoff teams - West Bend West and New Holstein - in the regular season and went 2-1 in the playoffs after reaching the state semifinals four straight seasons.

"To make the quarterfinals the fifth straight year - that speaks to these seniors learning from the seniors from the year before and the year before that. That's the big thing we've been trying to do with this thing. We're not a one-year wonder, we're a program. So we want to be competitive every year - I'm not going to say we're going to be this far every year. We want to be up near the top of the conference and we want to be making noise in the playoffs every year. I'm proud of the fact these kids continue that," he said.

Piittmann is grateful to the parents, school and community for cheering his team on, especially those who made the 90-minute trip on Saturday.

"I'd just like to thank all of our fans for the great support. The crowd we had here today was great," he said.
