KAP/School Board approve new contracts for support staff

The Kewaskum School Board on Monday unanimously approved new contracts with the school district's support staff personnel represented by Kewaskum Auxiliary Personnel (KAP) that provides pay raises and a higher cap on the board's contribution to retirement, according to a district statement.

KAP is made up of custodial, maintenance, secretarial, para-professional, hearing interpreters and food service workers. It ratified the new contracts last week. Negotiating teams for the Board and KAP worked out an agreement last week for two, two-year contracts covering the periods July 1, 2008, through June 30, 2010, and July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2012. KAP has been working since July 1, 2008 under the terms of the old contract which expired on June 30, 2008.

Wages will be increased by 2.5 percent in year 1 (2008-09) of the first contract and by 2.0 percent in year 2 (2009-10). Wages will be increased by 1.5 percent in both years of the second contract.

The new contracts increase the cap on the Board's contribution to the state retirement system made on behalf of the KAP employees. The cap was raised to 7.2 percent from 6.2 percent. Increasing the cap on the retirement contribution was a major issue for KAP, which stated it was willing to take lower wages in the second two-year contract in order to increase the cap on the retirement contribution, according to the district's statement.

The Board also agreed to give KAP members the first opportunity to apply for summer cleaning and maintenance jobs. If the District is unable to fill all of the jobs with KAP members, the jobs will be made available to non-KAP workers. The agreement specifies a wage of $10 per hour for the summer cleaning and maintenance jobs.

The new contracts did not resolve a grievance filed by KAP in 2008 over outsourcing work. Negotiators for KAP and the Board were scheduled to meet this week to try to resolve the grievance. If the parties are unable to resolve the grievance, a grievance hearing is scheduled for June 15.

PC approves adjusted certified survey map

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Kewaskum's Plan Commission last week unanimously recommended the Village Board approve an adjusted certified survey map that could get development going in the embattled tax incremental finance (TIF) district.

Developer Gary Gavin submitted a new map after his first one was denied last month.

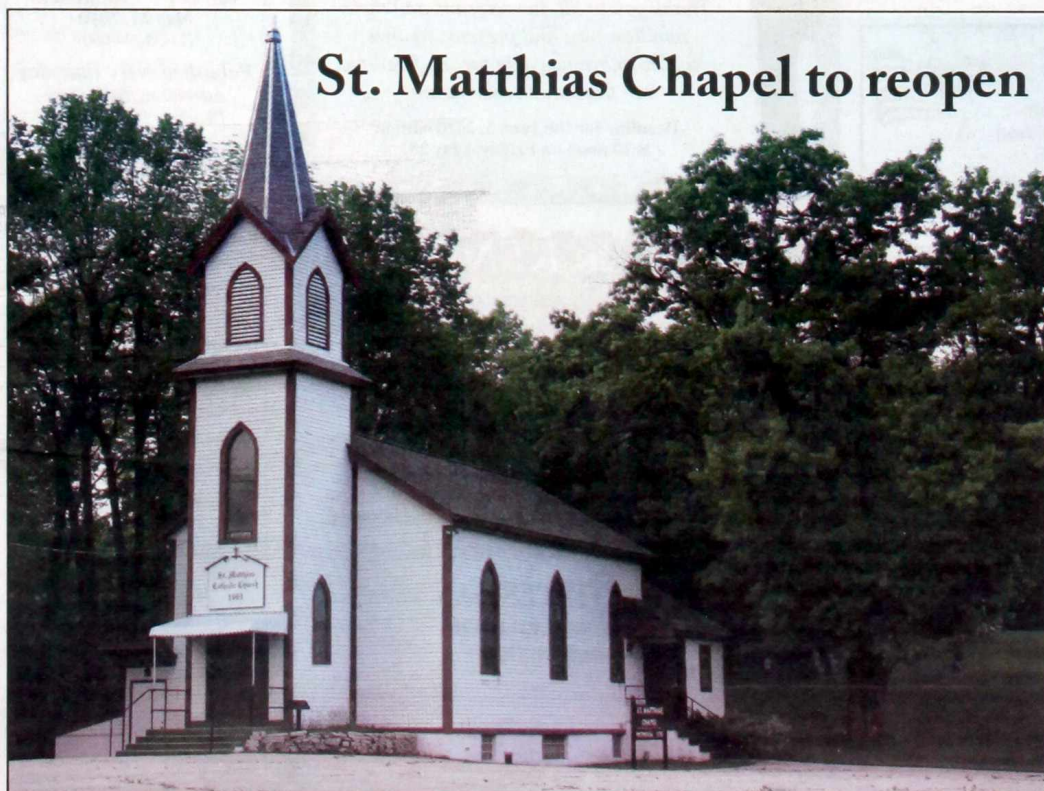

The parcel in question is a 3.67-acre piece of land at 770 Prospect Drive known as the Rimmel property. Gavin's first CSM differed enough from a concept plan approved in February 2009 that the commission last month recommended the Village Board deny approval without more information. The Village Board took the recommendation.

The concept plan called for the parcel to be divided evenly across the middle, with both north and south lots having access to Prospect Drive. The CSM called for a vertical division with the western half, the one adjacent to Prospect, being divided into three smaller parcels.

The commission was concerned with the 2-acre open lot to the east that doesn't have direct access to Prospect Drive or a plan for what it will be yet. The commission and village staff, with advice from attorney Stan Riffle, voiced concerns last month with how that lot would fit into the rest of the TIF district, given plans for utilities and traffic flow are not yet known and the parcel could be landlocked.

Gavin said the village was making too much of the issue, given he already owns the Historic Catholic chapel will reopen for summer months

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Yes, God certainly does act in mysterious ways.

Just ask Rev. Jerry Rinzel, a retired priest from the Milwaukee Archdiocese.

After attempting to reopen St. Mathias Catholic Chapel the past several months, Fr. Rinzel just happened to run into Fr. Ed Kornath, the pastor at Holy Trinity/St. Michael Catholic Parishes, somewhat by accident on Friday, May 14th, and the deal was sealed.

And what saint's life is celebrated on May 14th? Why it's St. Mathias.

"Would you believe this!" Fr. Rinzel said in a phone interview last weekend, excited his home chapel will once again be opened for a Sunday Mass, beginning on May 29th.

The Sunday Mass, which will be celebrated at 6 p.m., is starting on a trial basis until Labor Day weekend, according to Fr. Ed and Fr. Rinzel. Fr. Rinzel is hoping it will continue beyond that.

"Well, we're certainly going to try. "It's such a beautiful, historical chapel," Fr. Rinzel said, noting it is on the national register.

Fr. Rinzel knows plenty of history concerning the little chapel and the cemetery that is located on the hill behind it and contains the remains of many of his relatives, including his great-great-grandfather.

"They came here in the late 1850's," Fr. Rinzel said, explaining families, such as the Kleins, Fellenzes, Schladweilers, and the Rinzels, left Bengel in western Germany to come to America at that time. They wanted to come here in hopes of finding good land to farm on, to secure religious freedom and to get away from the armed forces of Germany.

They ended up in Wisconsin, which provided all three, for the first 10 or so years, the didn't have their own church, so in 1863, during the middle of the Civil War, they built the chapel that now stands on County S, about five miles northeast of the village.

"That makes it one of the oldest (churches) in the state of Wisconsin," Fr. Rinzel went on, explaining first it was an independent parish, then became part of the Milwaukee Archdiocese until June of 1998 when it was officially closed except for a couple special masses each year.

Fr. Rinzel, who has made many trips to Germany and to Bengel, noted he toured a nearby Augustinian monastery church in Spriengerbad, Germany, which was built in the 1750s and has all the interior flavor of the St. Mathias Chapel. He wonders if the people may well have designed it to look like the one they attended in Germany.

Fr. Rinzel, who retired from full-time ministry last year, a ministry which included several years as pastor of Holy Angels parish in West Bend, is currently living in Dodge County and said, "I have the time off Sunday nights," and, "I jumped at the opportunity" to help open the chapel for masses.

"He (Fr. Rinzel) just approached me," Fr. Ed said, indicating they had tried to get the Sunday night Mass last summer but they didn't have time to put the plan in place.

Realizing how many campers there are in the nearby Kettle Moraine State Forest on the weekends, Fr. Ed said, "I think this might serve a little need."

Several parishioners, including Dennis Zefran, are working to get the word out on the new Sunday night Mass.

"We're in the process of making a sign to go in front of the church," Zefran said, indicating campers who have driven past in the last decade 'are in for a shock when they see the sign' and learn the chapel will be open for Mass.

Sandy Goslinowski, the former music director at St. Mathias, has volunteered to play for the masses. "She's very excited about it, too," Ze-fran said, adding, "There was one man who set the fire" to start the plan, and that is Kevin Anhalt.

Here's where another work of divine providence came into play, according to Zefran. Anhalt was at a mass at Holy Hill, and after the mass, who should he run into? Fr. Rinzel.

"We don't know if there will be two (people there) or a big crowd, but with our fingers crossed, a week from tomorrow, we are opening it up," Fr. Rinzel said.

property around it. He said he wouldn't propose a development that would hurt him financially.

Since the commission recommended denying his first CSM on a 4-2 vote, Gavin submitted a second that appeased some of the concerns. The new map joins the southern of the three smaller parcels on the west with the 2-acre lot to the east, providing access to Prospect Drive.

Village staff still recommended a concept plan to show how the development would fit in with the rest of the TIF district. Zoning Administrator/Building Inspector Chad Cook said the idea is to have a "general understanding" of traffic flow and how utilities get from point A to point B, although he understands concept plans may change depending on what prospective buyers want to do with properties.

"The one thing staff would still recommend is a concept plan," said Village Administrator Mathew Heiser.

The commission, however, sent this CSM with a recommendation the Village Board approves it without an updated concept plan.

In other TIF district news, the commission approved allowing an entrance sign be put at Highway 45 and Trading Post Trail that reads "Kewaskum Business Park."

The village several years ago agreed to contribute money toward the sign. Heiser believes it is $25,000. Gavin would pick up the rest of the cost.

The fieldstone and limestone sign is to be eight feet tall and 14 feet, 3 inches wide. The portion with Kewaskum Business Park is 4 feet by 10 feet. The words would light up at night.

"I think staff was excited to see this," Heiser said.

Who is responsible for maintenance of the sign was not determined, but the commission approved the sign unanimously. It does not need to go to the Village Board for approval.

Gavin was told to bring a scale map of the sign to staff to check for visibility for traffic and its proximity to nearby ponds.

YMCA to add adventure pool

The Final Splash, that's what the Kettle Moraine YMCA is calling their last expansion at the West Washington Location. A donation of $1,350,000 was made to the YMCA to help get this project started. "The Kettle Moraine YMCA has a wonderful history of volunteers and staff and just recently celebrated 40 years in West Bend. One of the YMCA's founding families contacted the YMCA in May of 2008 and said that they wanted to help build a pool at the YMCA so local residents would not need to leave the community to enjoy the amenities that a Family Adventure Pool would have to offer," said Sandy Luft, YMCA Financial Development Director.

"The Kettle Moraine YMCA Board of Directors is aware of the current economy, and had tabled this project for the past year and half while gathering data from community leaders, donors and volunteers about the interest in a Family Adventure Pool," explained Andy Goring, YMCA Board President. The Board has always been very fiscally responsible, and has not allowed the YMCA to incur any long-term debt. The same attitude is prevalent with this project. The project will not move forward until the fundraising goal is met. The project was sent out to bid, and is currently slated to come in just under $4,000,000. The Kettle Moraine YMCA has maximized all of the possible solutions to make this an affordable option without sacrificing quality.

With the lead gift of $1,350,000, the project has 33% of the total project cost covered as volunteers seek charitable donations from the community. Kevin Steiner, CEO from West Bend Mutual Insurance Company and Ric Leitheiser, President of M&I Bank in West Bend have agreed to be co-chairs for this fundraising project.

"My family is a big fan of the Kettle Moraine YMCA," said Kevin Steiner. "As a business leader I also recognize what a tremendous asset the YMCA is to our community. We are excited to support the Family Adventure Pool."

"My family has been long time members of the Kettle Moraine YMCA and see this opportunity to bring a high quality Family Adventure Pool to Washington County as a real benefit to its residents," expressed Ric Leitheiser. "Additionally, we are proud to see enhanced community collaborations ensuring that everyone has an opportunity to utilize this facility."

For the past year and a half the YMCA along with their design building partners, Horizon Construction and Zimmerman Architects, have been working with the YMCA Board of Directors, the lead donor and YMCA staff on exactly what would be included in this project. "We had two main objectives when we started planning this project," explained Rob Johnson, YMCA Executive Director. "The first was to design this pool in a way that would reflect the Kettle Moraine area, and secondly a fully accessible facility that would serve residents of all ages and abilities."

The Family Adventure Pool will be a year round indoor facility that will range in water depth from zero entry to 4 feet deep. This addition will meet the needs of the entire family; from preschool children learning to swim, to youth and teenagers finding adventure in the slides and play features; to the active older adults who can exercise in a warm water facility with gentle resistance in the lazy river. Features will include:

- Large play structure fully accessible in the zero depth area, and will include in-water seating for parents and chaperones to watch their children while connecting with other families

- Two lap lanes designed for water exercise, swim lessons and rehab classes

- "River Walk", an area where youth can traverse independent floating lily pads via an overhead cargo net

- "Lazy River", a propulsion channel that can be tempered for resistance, which will benefit children, adults and seniors

- Two enclosed water slides: A flume slide, for single riders or double riders in a tube, will start inside the YMCA at the stair tower and travel outside until the rider enters back into the facility in 3 1/2 feet of water; participants can then exit the pool, or float in the lazy river. A second slide will allow participants to ride down on their back with arms and legs crossed, again starting at the slide tower, traveling outside and back into the YMCA

- A large observation room will serve as a gathering place, meeting room and birthday party room

- Other design features include glue laminated wood ceiling and a large glass curtain wall facing the YMCA parking lot that will showcase the theme lighting that will be displayed in the evenings

"As an Activate America YMCA, we believe that this addition will expand program offerings to help support community participants in their pursuit of health and well-being. Additionally, the pool design was intentional in helping to define opportunities that build relationships for the entire family. We believe that the entire family will find value in this unique facility design, and be able to do so for a reasonable fee," said Johnson. The YMCA plans to continue to offer full day family passes to members of the community for $15/day, which includes full facility usage. The Family Adventure Pool will be included in YMCA member's monthly/annual dues with no additional charge.

If you are interested in supporting this project financially or as a volunteer, please contact Sandy Luft, Financial Development Director at 247-1011, or slluft@kmymca.org

Celebrating 125 years of Camping at the YMC

The lodge at Camp Matawa

What began 125 years ago as one small group of YMCA campers seeking to grow closer in the solace of nature and work together as a team has blossomed into a summer phenomenon that has changed the lives of millions of youth around the world. This year, the YMCA celebrates the 125th anniversary of camping at the YMCA, and YMCA Camp Matawa will join hundreds of the nation's YMCA camps in recognizing this milestone.

As part of the summer of celebration, YMCA Camp Matawa will be hosting a Family Fun Day on June 6th from 12:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. Families will have the opportunity to tour camp, meet staff and take part in many of the fun activities that camp has to offer.

"YMCA Camp Matawa is proud to be a part of the long-standing tradition of camping at the YMCA," Jen Feltz, Executive Director. "The YMCA has helped shape camping, as well as the lives of millions of campers, for well over a century."

Camping officially began at the YMCA in 1885, when a volunteer named Sumner Dudley helped start the first continuously-used camp in Orange Lake, N.Y. The first YMCA camps were small, consisting of a cluster of tents, lined up near a lake, a continuous camp fire and a flagpole.

Dudley's goal was to help build character in seven teenagers during their week-long camping trip. Over the years, as more YMCAs believed that the camping experience nurtured young people's values and leader-

From the beginning, campers developed an appreciation for the outdoors, while forming new friendships and developing healthy life-long skills. Continuing the tradition, at YMCA Camp Matawa kids and teens develop skills, create memories and grow in the spirit of honesty, respect, caring and responsibility. Hundreds of campers come each summer to learn, grow and try new

Moraine Park holds Endurance Challenge 2010

Students from nine high schools used their mechanical and creative talents to come up with fuel efficiency ideas for the sixth annual Endurance Challenge. The event is sponsored by Moraine Park Technical College's Engine Research and Development Technician program at the Fond du Lac campus.

The high school teams modified engines donated by Kohler Co. in the quest to get the best fuel efficiency and run the longest. The modified engines were brought to Moraine Park and given the same amount of gas, then timed. Moraine Park faculty, staff and students as well as employees of Kohler Co. and Briggs & Stratton assisted at the event.

The Hustisford High School team came in first with a running time of 49 minutes and 31 seconds. The engine was modified by junior Evan Pahl and seniors Justin Greget, Brett Hildebrandt, Darin Key and John Wiza. Their technical education instructor, Kyle Bliedernicht, said the Endurance Challenge gives students experience in problem solving. "They learn about being able to fix a problem and finding the best way to fix it," he said.

Pahl said the team's modifications included adding weight to the fly wheel and adjusting the timing, and that participating in the competition as a team "helps with communication skills."

In addition to having fun working with friends on the project, Wiza said it "helps you learn about making engines more efficient, and about trial and error."

Coming in second with 32 minutes and 20 seconds were Oshkosh West High School junior Trevor Vandermalen and seniors Kyle McGuire, Sean Rimbey and Vinnie Studt. Instructor Mark Boushele said the competition teaches his students about applied science, physics, math and mechanical design all in one activity, as well as recognizing the interrelationship among those disciplines. "It's an opportunity to learn and to demonstrate communication skills," he said, "and explain to their peers their thoughts and ideas."

The team from Oshkosh North High School came in third at 31 minutes and 20 seconds. Juniors Pavel Ford, Austin Kuester, Nick Sonnleitner and Blake Van Asten were accompanied by technical education instructor Bill Benson. The competition teaches "everything STEM," said Benson, referring to science, technology, engineering and math.

Taking fourth place at 22:19 was the Fond du Lac High School team of seniors Jesse Knueppel, Brennan Nieskes, Alex Schaefer and Mark Stoffel, accompanied by auto instructor Cory Clark. "They did a lot of research on engine performance," said Clark.

"It's fun and interesting, and you learn a lot about small engines," said Nieskes. In fifth place with 20:38 was Germantown's team of junior Devin Bauerle and seniors Aaron Drost, Andrew Klumb, Zack Knight, Jake Schowalter and Mike Trupp, along with auto tech instructor Luke Lechner.

Kewaskum students Joe Beder, a sophomore, and Jake Ekker, Zach Esselmann, Trevor Kohn and Taylor Russell, all seniors, came in sixth at 19:22. They were accompanied by technical education instructor Bryan Puls. Both Ekker and Kohn said it was fun taking apart an engine and seeing what makes it work.

The next run time of 13:56 was reached by the Sheboygan South team. Princeton and Sheboygan North also competed in this year's event, placing eighth and ninth, respectively.

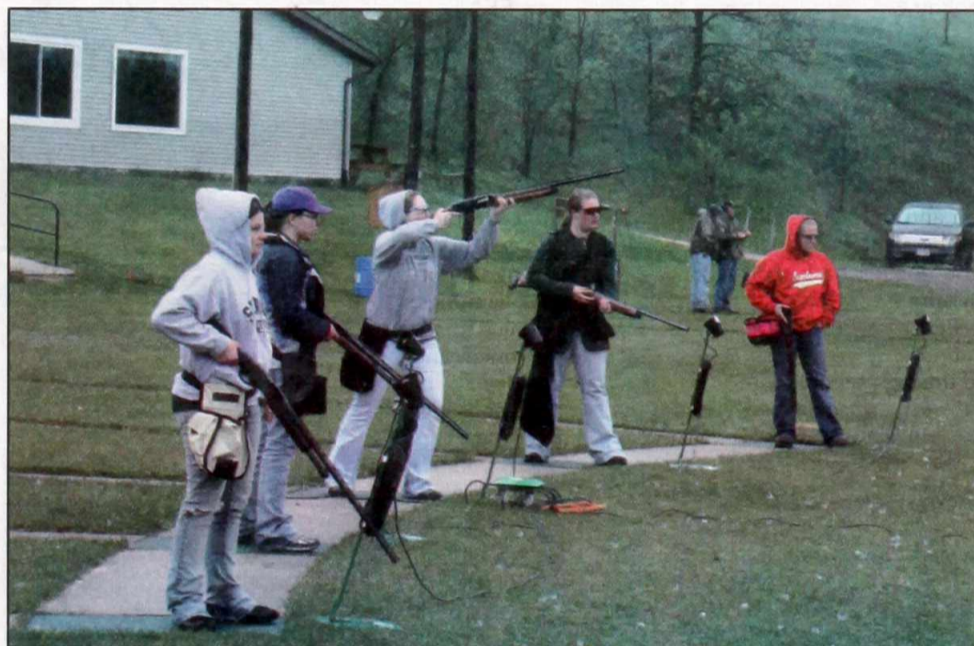

Each member of the winning team will receive a $250 Moraine Park scholarship if they enroll at the College. Other prizes were donated by Kohler Co., Briggs & Stratton, Snap-on and Moraine Park.

Fall 2010 enrollment for the Engine Research and Development Technician program is currently under way at Moraine Park. For more information about the program, including a program video, or the annual Endurance Challenge, contact Tom Denow, Engine Research and Development Technician program instructor and competition coordinator, at 920-924-3299 or tdenow@morainepark.edu.

IN MEMORY

In memory of ALFRED (AL) KNEPPRATH, who passed away 10 years ago, May 25, 2001.

To the living, I am gone,
To the sorrowful, I will never return,
To the angry, I was cheated,
But to the happy, I am at peace,
And to the faithful, I have never left

I cannot speak, but I can listen.
I cannot be seen, but I can be heard.

So as you stand upon a shore gazing at a beautiful sea-
As you look upon a flower and admire it's simplicity - Remember me.

Remember me in your heart,
Your thoughts, and your memories,
Of the times we loved,
The times we cried,
The times we fought,
The times we laughed.
For if you always think of me,
I will never have gone.

*We love you and miss you
Evelyn Knepprath & family*

A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before him, I may think aloud.

IN MEMORY

In memory of GERALDINE (GERI) GAVIN, who passed away 20 years ago, May 28, 1990.

Months have grown day by day
It is now 20 years since you went away
Gone are the days we used to share
But in our hearts you are always there.

The gates of memory will never close,
We miss you more than anyone will know.
With tender love and deep regrets,
We who loved you will never forget.

*Forever missed but never forgotten
Mom & family*

IN MEMORY

The size of your footsteps is not important. The important thing is that you make them, that they can be seen after you've gone and that they keep on making a difference and touching lives.

April 1, 1960

Lawrence Jeske, 41, of the Town of Auburn, Route 2, Campbellsport, residing several miles northeast of Kewaskum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Jeske of this village, was fatally injured March 29, when his car collided almost head-on with a semi-trailer truck. The crash occurred on Highway 45, just south of the Highway 60 intersection at Jackson. It was reported he attempted to pass another vehicle when his auto collided with the large truck. A heavy blinding fog at the time was held responsible for the crash.

Fire early Friday morning at the Lawrence Theusch farm on Route 1, Kewaskum, completely destroyed a large barn, two heifers, 150 chickens, and some hay that was stored in the barn. Loss in the blaze, which is partially covered by insurance, was estimated between $8,000 and $10,000 by the owner. The Theusch farm is located in the Town of Farmington, about 3/4 of a mile south of the junction of Highways 28 and 144. The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined, but it might have started from faulty wiring. Three of Theusch's sons, Ken, 18, Don, 17, and Jerry, 16, were successful in getting 18 beef heifers and a milk cow out of the barn before the building was destroyed.

After being in the barber business for over 45 years, Hubert Wittman is retiring April 1, and has sold his business and equipment at his shop on Main Street, across from Lay Lumber Company to John Sleska of Milwaukee. Of his better than 45 years as a barber, Wittman spent 40 of them in business here in Kewaskum. Hubert and his wife will continue their residence on Prospect Avenue in the village.

Harry Koch, Kiwanis Club chairman in charge of the swimming beach project at the village park reports that 126 more tons of sand were added to the beach Saturday. The sand was placed on top of the river ice and spread out with the village equipment. By Sunday night most of the sand had already eaten through the weakened ice and sank to the river bottom. This large amount of additional sand should greatly improve the bathing facilities at the beach this coming season.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gaffke, Milwaukee. Mrs. Gaffke is the former Shirley Backus, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Backus, Kewaskum. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Prost, Route 2, Kewaskum, on March 28.

A building permit has been issued at the office of the county clerk at the courthouse in West Bend to Aloysius Zehren, Kewaskum, to erect an A & W drive-in root beer stand in section 7, Town of Kewaskum. Building of the stand is now in progress on a parcel of land purchased from Walter Meilahn on Highway 45, just south of the village (now home of Gateway Cafe).

In an all-school election on April 5, nine students were chosen to represent Kewaskum High School at County Day in West Bend on April 27. Candidates for offices were nominated on primary election day. Each candidate was associated with either the Federalist or Nationalist parties with the exception of judge and superintendent of schools which were non-partisan. Nationalist Sharon Harbeck was unopposed. For county judge, Timothy Coulter defeated Donald Theusch. Ralph Albrecht won the position of superintendent of schools from Judith Theusch. The Nationalists won six of the seven political offices. The only Federalist victory was in the District Attorney vote where Robert Kroncke won over Gerald Dreher. Other Nationalist winners were Sue Sengpiel, who defeated Leon Guntly for county clerk; Joanne Kempf, county treasurer elect who won over Diane Becker; Marianne Schmidt, who won the position of register of deeds over Catherine Pesch; Kons Sadownikow, elected county sheriff, defeated Patricia Edwards; and Elaine Bruessel, who won the county board of supervisors seat from Mariel Seefeldt.

Four Kewaskum High School students who received "A" ratings at the district forensic contest at Oshkosh March 26, represented the school in the state contest at Madison last Saturday. Last Sunday afternoon at about 4 pm, the alarm of fire was sounded by the tooting of the malt house whistle and within a few moments the fire apparatus was on its way to the malt house as fast as the firemen and other citizens could have it. When they arrived there they found that Simon Hoerig's barn on the corner of Fond du Lac Avenue and Malt House Street was in flames. The fire had gained such headway that no effort was made to save the barn building, but a strong stream of water which was supplied from the malt house was kept on the Hoerig Saloon building, located only about ten feet away and was in great danger for awhile, with everybody believing that it would be destroyed.

Following is the result of the election in the village and Town of Kewaskum last Tuesday: Village - President, Val Peters; trustees, John Klassen, S.C. Wolensak, William Schultz; clerk, Edward C. Haufschild; supervisors Gerhard Fellenz and A.B. Ramthun; clerk, Louis Backhaus; treasurer, John Klein Sr.; assessor, August Schaefer; justices of the peace, E. Backhaus and Frank Van Epps; constables, William Ramthun and William Quandt.

April 30, 1910

Our citizens were shocked last Monday morning when the news reached here by telephone that the Klein-Schiltz residence at New Fane had been completely wrecked by an explosion of dynamite. The accident occurred shortly before 8 am and was caused by frozen dynamite, which Mr. Klein placed in a bake oven to be thawed out. The residence was occupied by William Klein, Jacob Schiltz and his sister, Miss Theresa Schiltz. Mr. Klein was hired to blast some stone on his neighbor's farm that day and after breakfast, in preparing to go to work, Mr. Klein found the dynamite frozen and placed about 10 pounds of it in a hot oven to thaw out. After a few moments Klein opened the oven door and remarked to Schiltz that it was still frozen and closed the door again. When Klein opened the oven door again some time later, a flame shot into his face and at the same time, the terrific explosion followed. Klein, who was nearest the stove receive the worst injuries. He was thrown into a corner of the room, with one eye blown out and his face frightfully lacerated. Jacob Schiltz and his sister both had their heads and hands badly bruised but no serious effects were feared.

The monthly stock fair held in the village last Wednesday was one of the best fairs held here for some time. Main Street showed a very busy appearance all day. The little German band, which came to town in the morning, remained all day and helped to enliven the day.

The C&NW Railway Company have been running some of their new all steel passenger cars through here the past week. The new cars are somewhat larger than the old ones and will seat 72 passengers.

One of the worst snow storms ever experienced here in the month of April arrived here last week Friday and by Saturday the country roads were drifted so bad that traffic by team was impassable.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Muckerheide last week Friday.

Beine, Gregoriou, relay runners lead Indians to fourth place in Two Rivers

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

TWO RIVERS- The team results at the Eastern Wisconsin Conference meet didn't come out the way the Kewaskum's girls' track athletes had hoped, but there were individual efforts that should definitely be applauded.

The Lady Indians, still struggling in the distance events and the weights, came up with 86.20 points for fourth place in the competition at Two Rivers on May 18th.

Plymouth is the 2010 team champion. The Lady Panthers amassed 187 points, which was 92 more than runner-up Sheboygan Falls (94.70) and 97 more than Waupun (90.90).

"Plymouth went 1-2 in the mile, then flip-flopped in the two-mile," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said. "We don't have that kind of firepower in the distances ... 36-0. You'll have trouble overcoming that."

Seniors Candace Beine and Haley Gregoriou claimed first places and did so with season-best performances.

Beine jumped a personal best 34 feet, 8 inches (34-08) in the triple jump, while Gregoriou had an excellent outing in the grueling 300 hurdles, covering the distance in an impressive 48 and .65 (48.65) seconds. This is .78 seconds off the time she had in the sectional last year.

Beine also added a sixth place in the long jump, going 15-03.50 in the event, while Gregoriou led off two sprint relays which took second places.

In the 4x100, it was Gregoriou, Anna Butler, Bryana

Keller and Mikkin Abfall carrying the baton to a time of 52.48 seconds, and the same foursome combined for a 1:50.75 in the 4x200 where they also were the runners-up.

"They did well. We had one little hiccup in the 4x100," Gosa said, referring to one handoff that probably kept them from a first place.

The 4x400 relay also took second place, and again it was Abfall, who is only a freshman, taking on the tough anchor position for the Indians, who were clocked in 4:20.44. With three more years of competition left in her career, Abfall is definitely an athlete with a great deal of promise for Kewaskum's future.

Others on the 4x400 unit included Aly Backhaus, Heidi Johnson and Megan Ringwell. Unfortunately the Indians could not come up with any third places. They did record a pair of fourths, including one by Backhaus in the open 400 (1:04.84) and the other by Val Hedlund in the hurdles. Hedlund's 17.99 just edged teammate Steph Grager, who had a season-best 18.02.

Gosa had hoped his team would score some big points in the high jump, but both Amanda Witek and Brianna Jacak had off days, placing fifth and eighth, respectively with jumps of 4-8 and 4-4, several inches below what they had been clearing in recent meets.

"The wind was right in their faces (in the high jump)," Gosa said, explaining he argued to have the pit turned but officials at the meet didn't want to do so.

Kewaskum's coaches, parents and athletes helped move the pit so the wind was at the jumpers' backs, but by this time, "Our girls were done. They were out."

Other scoring points included: Tess Bandy, 5th in the 200 (28.36, season best) Butler, 8th in the 200 (29.06) and 7th in the long jump, 14-06; Ringwell, 8th in the 400 (1:09.9); Ashlee Stahl, 5th in the 800 (2:36.48); April Stern, Abby Backhaus, Sabrina Boehlke and Ariel Sanders, 6th in the 4x800 relay, (11:43.41); Kassie Legate, 5th in the pole vault, 8-6; Boehlke, 7th in the triple jump (season best 30-10); and Keller, 8th in the triple jump, 30-05.75.

The Indians were at Ripon for a Division 2 Regional on May 24th. Top place winners advance to the Whitewater Sectional today (Thursday).

Relays are bright spots for KHS boys track team

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

TWO RIVERS- TWO RIVERS- There were ups and there were downs in performances by members of the Kewaskum's boys' track team in last week's Eastern Wisconsin Conference Track and Field

Meet in Two Rivers.

The Indians managed just one first place in the competition, that coming in the 4x200-meter relay team, as they had to settle for fifth place overall with 62.50 points.

Kiel came away as the winners with 159 points, edging Two Rivers (151) by eight points. Plymouth also had a good outing, taking third with 138.50.

The winning relay was comprised of Eric Perkins, Teddy Wollner, Brandon Zolp and Mat Toles. They were well in front at the end of the two laps, beating Two Rivers by 1.3 seconds, 1:35.88 to 1:37.01.

The same foursome also did well in the 4x100 event, finishing second behind Kiel. Kewaskum's time of 45.48 was just .22 out of first place.

In the concluding relay, the Indians placed third. Zolp, Lucas Kopeschka, Jordan Hanson and Scott Steldt combined for a time of 3:38.33 in the 4x400, so the sprint relays were all successful.

KHS came up with seven points in the long jump, as Perkins and Steldt placed fifth and sixth, respectively. Perkins went 20-01.50 on one jump, his best ever in the event, and Steldt was just 5.5 inches behind.

The high jump was also a good event for the Indians. Junior T.J. Schlice cleared 6-2, good for second place, and Hanson added a seventh (5-8).

Schlice did not have the day he wanted to in the pole vault, having to settle for a tie for fifth after making 11-0. Sophomore Joey Wollner also cleared 11-0 and based on misses, finished ahead of his teammate, in fourth place.

Steldt turned in a good showing in the 400. His clocking of 53.81 was good enough for fourth place and five team points.

New firewood rules takes effect June 1

Beginning June 1 only firewood gathered or purchased from a vendor who cut it from within 25 miles of a state managed property, or state-certified wood, may be brought onto the property. This change is being done to reduce the risk of bringing in destructive forest diseases and insects.

A previous law had allowed firewood cut or gathered up to 50 miles from a state property to be brought in but a newer study by forest health experts led to the adoption of the more protective 25 mile distance. The 2010 Memorial Day weekend will be the last weekend before the newer firewood restrictions go into effect.

DNR will have maps illustrating a 25 mile radius from Wisconsin state campgrounds on state parks and forests available after June 1.

"Invasive species threaten the health of our forests," said Andrea Diss-Torrance, DNR forest health specialist. "Insect pests such as emerald ash borer and gypsy moth and diseases like oak wilt and Dutch elm disease spread to new areas easily in firewood. Collectively, these invasive species have already killed millions of trees in Wisconsin."

Wood from vendors certified by the state Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection is exempted from this law. Wood from state certified vendors may enter any state property regardless of where the wood was harvested. This is because to be certified, vendors must treat their wood to kill pests or diseases that might be within it. For a list of certified vendors and more information on the certification program and how to become a certified vendor, go to emeraldashborer.wi.gov (exit DNR) and select Firewood Regulations, and see the section on "What is Acceptable Firewood?"

People planning to camp in a Wisconsin state park or forest this year, should get firewood locally, advise DNR property managers. Most parks and forests have local firewood available for sale on site or from vendors nearby the property. Using local firewood helps to ensure the health of the parks and forests that are so much a part of living in Wisconsin. To learn more about firewood availability at your destination, contact them directly. A list of phone numbers for parks is available online at: www.wiparks.net.

For more information on forest health including links to the state's emerald ash borer and gypsy moth control efforts visit the Department of Natural Resources website.

"A campsite surrounded by healthy, mature trees is basic to a quality camping experience, and so is having a campfire," says Diss-Torrance. "If we are going to enjoy both, we need to take some precautions to prevent introducing invasive pests and diseases to the parks and forests we love the most. By using wood from trees grown nearby, you help prevent such introductions."

State Park Open House June 6

Enjoying Wisconsin State Parks, Forests, Trails and Recreation Areas is always a good value but on the first Sunday of June they are an exceptional value, as entrance to any state park, forest, trail and recreation property is free.

"Open House Day gives us the opportunity to share our unparalleled natural resources with people who haven't visited recently or who are new to Wisconsin," says Dan Schuller, Wisconsin State Parks director. "From viewing a sunrise over Lake Michigan at Whitefish Dunes or Kohler-Andrea state parks to watching the sun set over the Mississippi River at Perrot or Merrick state parks, people across the state can take in a full day of hiking, biking, canoeing, fishing, or just relaxing at some of the most scenic spots in Wisconsin."

Reservable campsites in Wisconsin state park and forest campgrounds are generally in high demand for the Memorial Day weekend, but there are often campsites available for the weekend of State Park Open House at many parks and forests. Camping fees do still apply on state park open house day. People can check campsite availability or reserve a site (minimum two nights) through the State Parks Web site [www.wiparks.net].

With opportunities for bicycling, hiking, canoeing, boating, fishing, and horseback riding at various locations statewide Wisconsin boasts unique and diverse landscapes to interest all travelers.

On State Park Open House Day, no admission stickers are required on vehicles entering state parks, forests and recreation areas, and trail passes are not required for bicyclists, in-line skaters, or horseback riders using state trails that normally require a trail pass. In addition, Saturday, June 5 is National Trails Day and fees are waived to use all DNR-managed state trails on that day as well.

The event also coincides with Free Fishing Weekend in Wisconsin, so no fishing license is required to fish at the many lakes and rivers located in state parks and forests. Several parks are sponsoring free fishing activities, along with other special events.

Lady Indians seeded number one in playoffs

Coach Jeff Gosse is in the midst of trying to prevent his team from being a victim of its own success.

After receiving a No. 1 seed for the Division 2 fast-pitch softball playoffs, Kewaskum (15-7) earned a bye in the first round and thus a week break before the second.

The Indians on Tuesday will face the winner of Thursday's game between Port Washington and Mayville.

"My concern is the down time between now and next week Tuesday. We're going to push them hard in practice," Gosse said after a 14-0, five-inning shellacking of last-place Sheboygan Falls at home, moving the Indians' conference record to 11-3 and in second place behind undefeated Waupun.

The Indians will scrimmage West Bend West Thursday and Gosse is holding a "light" practice on Sunday night and on Memorial Day — a "normal night before (game) practice."

Despite having a confident team entering the second season, Gosse knows coaches can only do so much. The rest he puts on his players, namely his seniors who promptly doused him with ice water after Monday's victory. (Gosse made a joke about old people's bladder control to unknowing passersby.)

"I told the seniors this is it. It's one and out for you now so you need to push, and you need to push those underclassmen. This is why you're here as seniors. You don't want it to end," he said.

Senior shortstop Monica Dehler got the message.

"We're going to be busting our butts at practice. Definitely no joke or messing around," she said. "We want to be a team that Kewaskum remembers."

Even a couple of juniors know practice will make perfect.

"Hard practices. Make sure our batting is good and our fielding. Just stay positive with each other and don't get down," said right fielder and leadoff hitter Jordan Mikolajczak.

"We practice hard," said junior catcher Abby Amerling. "Yeah, we'll have a couple of practices where we might not be so serious but before game time comes we'll get ready."

The Indians enter the playoffs after a close play at home didn't go their way against Waupun in a 3-2 loss, an offensive explosion in a 12-4 win at Plymouth and Monday's 14-0 blast against the Falcons in which every starter scored at least one run. The offense, once looking as weak as the Gulf of Mexico oil spill cleanup effort, now looks more like the spill itself: constant and unyielding.

"I think, like, out of nowhere all of a sudden we're able to catch on to each other and keep each other fired up," Dehler said. "One person starts it up and we've finally got the whole, like, spirit of keeping it going and it's nice to have everyone out in the line able to pound the snot out of the ball."

Good hitting, she said, is "definitely contagious."

Amerling has caught it as well as anyone. She was 3-for-3 against Falls, a home run away from the cycle, and had four RBIs and scored two runs. It was her second straight game with a triple and third straight with a double.

"Boy, she's been on a tear. She's stroking the ball really good. She's in a groove," Gosse said.

Amerling said it goes back to practice.

"Early on this season we didn't work on hitting that much. We worked more on fielding and more of dynamics or getting everything down pat. Lately, we've been working on hitting, going upstairs more, hitting on tees and working on fundamentals," she said.

Gosse is encouraged with his team's offense going into the postseason. When the Indians weren't hitting shots or finding holes in a drawn-in infield, they moved runners with small ball. Seven players had at least two hits. Amerling was the only one with three.

"They did a nice job of bunting tonight. We are definitely going to have to bunt in the playoffs. That's going to be so huge for us to be able to move runners around," Gosse said.

Bid to make the top four meets a roadblock

After experiencing a ray of sunshine in the second last Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) mini-tour event, there was hope the Kewaskum golf team might be able to surge to the top four in the final standings.

Those hopes were dashed last Wednesday when the Indians struggled to a seventh place finish in the 18-hole EWC Tournament held at the Rolling Meadows Golf Course in Fond du Lac. Thus they dropped a spot in the final standings, ending up in sixth place.

"The past week was less than we hoped for," Coach Glenn Eichstedt said about his team's disappointing score of 351, which was far from the 340 he had anticipated after the 167 it posted at Quit Qui Oc the week before.

Plymouth stormed ahead of the field with a 307, seven shots ahead of Sheboygan Falls, while Kiel was next with a 320. Then came New Holstein at 337; Campbellsport and Waupun 347 (Campbellsport was awarded fifth place based on the scores of the fifth players); Kewaskum and finally Two Rivers, 351.

In the race for the medal, Geno Kiela of Plymouth, Kiel's Brandon Gries and Chris Bachmann of Sheboygan Falls were all tied with 1-over-par 73s. Kiela won the medal after going back on the three cards using handicap holes, with Gries second.

All three were on the All-EWC First team, along with Ryan Newberry of Campbellsport and Aaron rarely play hit well.

Senior pitcher Erica Heberer got rattled early, hitting a batter and walking another in the first inning, before she stopped throwing her rise ball that sometimes flew over Amerling's outstretched glove straight to the backstop. Gosse said the heat made Heberer's hand so sweaty she couldn't grip the ball as well.

After the first, Heberer retired eight straight batters before allowing the Falcons' first and only hit in the fourth inning, a bloop single to right field. Gosse took her out mid-inning so the crowd and teammates could applaud the senior in her last regular season home game.

Freshman Jenny Reicher finished the game, a scenario that could be repeated in the playoffs if need be. Gosse has been thankful all season to have two good and fast pitchers to rely on.

"Erica's going to pitch and Jenny's going be warming up in case she starts to falter so we can go right away with that," he said.

Krueger of Sheboygan Falls.

Kewaskum was led in the tournament by sophomore Tony Gonring, who has been playing much more consistently in the past several weeks. He shot a 42-39-81.

"There were only five of six scores in the 30s on the back nine," Eichstedt said, adding, "Tony probably played at the level he is capable of."

Dan Bohn, also a sophomore, was next at 86, a little above his current average, while Beau Backhaus and Alex Larsen carded scores of 90 and 94, respectively.

Bohn "struggled with the putter," according to Eichstedt, reporting he had a 41 on the front and 45 on the back.

None of the Indians made the first or second all-conference teams.

Last Tuesday, playing at the National course at Fox Hills, the Indians finished sixth with a four-man score of 179.

Sheboygan Falls surprised the field with a 168 to nip Plymouth and Kiel by a single shot. Plymouth got second place, based on the tie breaker.

Gries of Kiel was the medalists with a sizzling 1-under-par 35 on the 3,137-yard layout.

Bohn and Gonring ended up ninth and 14th in the event, with respective scores of 42 and 43, while Backhaus fired a 45, and Larsen carded a 49.

The Indians were scheduled to compete in a WIAA Division 2 regional at Camelot on May 25. Campbellsport is the host school with four of the 10 advancing to the sectional.

ing in familiar surroundings on Tuesday and perhaps one more game, if the Indians win. "It's nice to have a home game. The girls are more comfortable here," Gosse said. "The field is to our advantage. We know it." It helped facing the Falcons' Elizabeth Barthes on Monday, who Gosse calls "a quality pitcher." A slow pitcher would have thrown off the Indians' timing.

Kewaskum will see another good hurler on Tuesday.

"Both have good pitchers. Mayville's sort of hot right now so we'll see what happens," Gosse said.

The Indians beat Port Washington in the first game of the season, 13-4. They have not faced Mayville.

If the seeds hold and both Kewaskum and Waupun, which also drew a No. 1 seed, both win two playoff games they would face off for a third time this season in Waupun with a chance to advance to one game from state. Waupun beat the Indians 4-2 at home and 3-2 on the road this season.

Lady kickers come close in conference play

Kewaskum's girls soccer team has kept a busy schedule the last few weeks of their season and has come close to some upsets in conference play.

After getting past a grueling game against powerhouse Sheboygan Falls the ladies played very close games against Plymouth, where they lost in double overtime and then nudged out by New Holstein.

Kewaskum traveled to Sheboygan Falls on Monday, May 17 and it wasn't pretty. Possibly the Eastern Wisconsin Conference's best girls' soccer team, the Indians were trampled by the Falcons 7-0.

Coach Amy Piwoni stated this was the team's "worst loss of the season."

The last meeting of the two earlier in the season also saw the Indians not being able to score, but Falls only got five through the net.

Jess and Sam Smallish and Christine Bohn each attempted a shot but that was it for the ladies as the Falcons controlled the ball taking 17 shots. Starting goalie Paige Lightner maintained the net the entire game.

"Their speed on the outside was too much for us," Piwoni concluded.

The Indians hosted Plymouth the following night in a match that left fans and the coach in disbelief. In double overtime, Kewaskum lost the game 2-1.

The Indians came out strong and took an early lead with Kelsey Phillips quickly finding the goal two and a half minutes into the game after her speed put her ahead of two Panther defenders.

Plymouth tried hard to put together a goal and often came close but just couldn't make it happen in the first half. Kewaskum kept the lead the entire first half.

Plymouth got the tying goal in the middle of the second half. During action at the net, Lightner got out of the box and Plymouth was able to take advantage of a clear shot for the net.

Both halves of the game were physical however, as time wore on, it was evident the ladies were getting tired after playing over the weekend and meeting Falls the night prior.

In the second round of overtime, Plymouth dropped in a "heartbreaking goal" during the final minutes on the right side just out of the reach of Lightner.

The Indians took 10 shots during the game. The Panthers tallied 15.

"I'm still in disbelief because this game is a duplicate of how we played them the first time this season and we lost in the same fashion. We showed a lot of character win or lose, and their effort was extraordinary," Piwoni reported.

The Indians played another close game when they travelled to New Holstein on Thursday, May 20. The end result had the Indians coming up short, 2-1.

New Holstein scored 12:58 seconds into the game and the Indians kept them on their toes throughout the first half.

The Huskies added their second goal at the 45:42 minute mark during the second half. The Indians got on the board after Jess Smallish scored during the 74th minute off of a great through ball from Sam Smallish.

The Indians were unable to capitalize on a few opportunities to tie the game but just couldn't find the back of the net.

Kewaskum's baseball team returns five all-conference players and has the potential for a "very good season," said Coach Doug Gonring.

Getting the young team into mental baseball mode is perhaps the biggest challenge, even among the most talented players. Two of the five returning all-conference players are juniors and one is a sophomore.

With so many "goofy things" that can happen in baseball, Gonring said his team just needs to experience different game situations.

"It's the mental part," he said. "They've got to get their brains back to playing baseball where they don't have to think about where to throw the ball."

Aside from that, the talent is there. Three First Team All-Eastern Wisconsin Conference players return: senior center fielder Brandon Zolp, junior Bo Seibel who moves from second base to catcher and junior pitcher Cody Nuernberg, who had a 19-strikeout game last season against co-conference champ New Holstein.

Sophomore pitcher Brad Boegel made second team all conference as a freshman last season, and fellow second teamer position player Cody Seibel is back for his senior year and will float to different positions as needed, Gonring said.

"We've got a lot of talent individually," Cody Seibel said. "We just need to put it all together."

Pitching is the early strength of the team, said Gonring, Nuernberg and both Seibels. Gonring always tries to have several players who can pitch, which helps in tournaments since the WIAA limits the number of innings one player may pitch.

Bo Seibel will be the primary target for whoever is pitching. He takes the place of all-conference honorable mention catcher Josh Harbin, who graduated.

"It's a fun position. Gotta work on a lot of stuff yet," he said. Just gotta take control of the game back there. Tell everyone what's going on."

Kewaskum also has to replace first team all-conference position players Nick Olla and Michael Herriges who graduated.

The Indians come off of a 19-12 season and tied with New Holstein as conference champions, both at 15-3.

This year, the Indians are 2-2 in non-conference play. Gonring is still getting some guys back from track and won't field a full team regularly for another couple of weeks. On Tuesday, 10 players showed up for the start of practice.

"But I'm not disappointed," Gonring said. "Their effort has been outstanding."

While they're young, all Kewaskum's varsity players were on varsity last season. Gonring said players don't need to be seniors to be good leaders or smart ballplayers.

"All of them have been around enough that they should be able to get smart," he said.

Winning conference again is a goal, as is advancing to state.

"The only way we look at it is we can only beat ourselves," Nuernberg said. "Definitely we cannot play down to our competition. We have to go out there and play like the score is 0-0."

It helps that teammates are among friends. Many played together in other sports throughout the year and they know each other well, in and out of school, on and off the field.

"It helps us all together as a team. We all know each other pretty well," Cody Seibel said.

"We all hang together and get along really good," Bo said. "It helps out a lot, I think."

So far, the Indians lost to Franklin, 12-4, and beat West Bend East, 6-5, and lost to Germantown, 12-9, in a Germantown tournament last Saturday. On Monday, they beat Slinger, 11-5.

Nuernberg has two home runs and six RBI already, and he has struck out eight batters on the mound. Cody Seibel hit a grand slam against Germantown and Brad Boegel has one home run.

The Indians have a busy end to the week as Thursday they play at West Bend East at 5:30 p.m., Friday they host Germantown at 5:30 p.m. and Saturday they host Howards Grove at noon. Next Tuesday, they open conference play at Kiel.

gish at the beginning of the game, but then we brought some fire in the second half. We had many more offensive chances in the second half and we made the game very interesting," Piwoni stated.

The Indians tried 10 times at the net while the Huskies attempted 15 shots.

The Indians are now 5-6-1 in conference action and Piwoni seems pleased.

"We've been right in there with the top teams in conference. We are just a smidge away from upsetting one of them," Piwoni remarked.
