Froedtert & Community Health unveil new name

WEST BEND- To reflect the organization's growth and more clearly link its members, Froedtert & Community Health has adopted a new name and brand strategy.

The new name, Froedtert Health, is shorter, easier for consumers to remember and highlights collaboration and cooperation among the members. Froedtert Health includes Community Memorial Hospital in Menomonee Falls, Froedtert Hospital in Wauwatosa, St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend, and West Bend Clinic. Under the new brand strategy, West Bend Clinic and all Froedtert Health community-based physician practices will use the name Froedtert Health Medical Group.

The academic medical center brand, Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin, which represents the longstanding relationship between Froedtert Hospital and The Medical College, remains unchanged.

Recognizing the connection patients feel with their community hospital or clinic, the individual names of each member are incorporated into the new brand design. "Renaming the West Bend Clinic to Froedtert Health Medical Group creates a unique physician group identity while at the same time reflects our interconnections to the health system," said Gregory Blommel, MD, president and medical director, West Bend Clinic. "Froedtert Health Medical Group will focus on creating quality and value to the populations we serve, while building upon the advantages of a close connection to the premier academic medical center in the region." The new logomark retains the blue of the former brand, adding gold to represent Froedtert Health as the gold standard in care; a white arc bridges the two columns, symbolizing the connection between the community and academic members.

The new name and brand are effective immediately, but building signs, printed matter and other materials will be replaced over time to implement the change in a cost-effective manner.

Town of Kewaskum to place road referendum on November ballot

By Mitch Maersch
mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

TOWN OF KEWASKUM- The Town will hold an advisory, non-binding $200,000 road referendum this November to play catch-up in some of its road repairs hurt by decreasing state aid and increasing costs.

A five-year loan at 4 percent interest would raise taxes $68 per year on a $200,000 home and $100 per year on a $300,000 home.

Town treasurer Danial Stoffel said he thinks the town could do better than 4 percent, but a 3 percent loan would only alter the tax increase by $1 or $2.

The Town Board last week agreed the $200,000 would be used on four roads: Highland from Highway H to Highway 28 and Prospect Drive from Badger Road to Ridge Road would both be wedged and seal coated; Kettle Moraine Drive from H to Ridge Road would be seal coated; and Ridge Road from Kettle View to Highland would be wedged and overlaid.

The board had a host of road improvements from which to choose and tried to pick the roads that needed improvement the most. Other road improvements would have to come from its road repair operating budget,

"We all know that $200,000 isn't going to solve all our problems. It will give us a jump on what we're doing now,"

-Dan Stoffel
Kewaskum Town Treasurer

which is $31,000 this year.

Town Chairman Ellis Kahn suggested doing a traffic count on certain roads to avoid spending a lot of money on a rarely traveled road, but Supervisor Dan Schmidt advised against it. Schmidt said traffic counts don't take into account heavy traffic, like dump trucks, etc., which does the most damage to roads.

Regardless, the referendum isn't an end-all.

"We all know that $200,000 isn't going to solve all our problems," Stoffel said. "It will just give us a jump on what we're doing now."

Should the referendum pass, the Town Board still has to decide whether or not to go through with the projects. Supervisors in the past have said a 51-49 vote is not enough to sway them to spend the money and do the work.

The town has 38.5 miles of road.

Stoffel said he recently learned the town could not go ahead with the referendum and put the payments for two new plow trucks on the tax levy instead of the operating budget, as allowed by state law, provided the levy increase is approved at the town's annual meeting. The two trucks, one bought in 2008 and the other in 2009, replaced old trucks and cost $45,000 per year combined for principal and interest.

The Town Board decided against that idea and would rather hold a referendum to let voters decide. Supervisor Allen Hron said he doesn't think it's right to go beyond the levy

Funds Presented to Wisconsin Parkinson Association

Jay Blankenship, executive director of the Wisconsin Parkinson Association, (center) accepts a check in the amount of $6,500 from walk/run committee members Ed Frac, Nancy Durn, Marilyn Orlopp, Marilyn Edwards, and Jeff Jaeger.

The culmination of many months of planning and preparation coupled with a day filled with the gathering of walkers and runners was celebrated Tuesday, August 24 at Timmer's Restaurant on Big Cedar Lake, West Bend.

A check in the amount of $6,500 was presented to Jay Blankenship, executive director of Wisconsin Parkinson Association, by the committee of Kenny's Kettle Moraine Walk/Run for Parkinson's. While this amount didn't meet the committee's goals, Blankenship was ecstatic in accepting the funds. "This is wonderful," said Blankenship, indicating the funds will be used for community outreach and education. "It will help so much and allow us to continue our services throughout Wisconsin and areas in connecting states."

Kenny's Walk/Run was held July 10 in the Northern Kettle Moraine on the state trail winding through forest and prairie between Mauthe Lake and Long Lake. Headquarters for the event was Sportsman's Park in Dundee. The walk/run is dedicated to Kenny Schneider, a long-time resident of Dundee, who was diagnosed with Parkinson's some years ago and continues to live and work in the area.

Kettle Moraine Cares and its committee extends thanks to all who supported the event, both in contributions and pledges, volunteering, and especially to the walkers and runners who braved the heat that day.

The mission of the Wisconsin Parkinson Association is to increase public awareness and understanding about Parkinson disease that will lead to greater public support, improved treatment for patients, better assistance for caregivers and families, and increased funding for Parkinson disease research. Kettle Moraine Cares is composed of a group of neighbors helping neighbors. The KMC welcomes people to join in its efforts. Social Fest a success

This year's Holy Trinity Parish Social Fest was held this past Saturday in River Hill Park. Guests could not have asked for a better day. The weather was beautiful and the company second to none. Everyone was pleasantly surprised at the impressive turn out of people, not only from Holy Trinity School and Parish but from the community at large. The official attendance count was 605 and with all the new live and silent auction items getting bigger and better, we're hoping for an even larger turn out next year. A list of winners will be announced in next week's newspaper.

Letters to the Editor

To the Kewaskum School District Community:

On behalf of the student-athletes and coaches of the KHS football program I would like to thank the many businesses and the residents of the community for their support of our recent Gold Card fundraiser. The boys did a good job of getting out to promote and sell the cards, but we owe gratitude for your support in purchasing them and for putting your businesses on them. Even with an unstable economy, the community has once again graciously supported our program through these cards.

Sincerely,
Coach Pittmann
and the 2010 KHS Football Players and Coaches.

Dear Editor:

While The Statesman often covers the many contributions made by our community's working men and women, I hope that today, Labor Day, we can highlight the efforts of a particular group that sometimes goes unnoticed - the construction industry's craft professionals.

Construction is one of our nation's largest industries. The evidence of its size and scope is all around us - our industry's professionals build the schools, hospitals, offices, churches, restaurants, highways, sports arenas and other venues that make our communities unique.

We celebrate Labor Day as the symbolic end of summer. But for some, Labor Day is often associated with labor unions. However, it is a day to honor all workers, regardless of labor affiliation. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, only 14.5 percent of the nation's construction workers currently choose to join a labor union, while 85.5 percent work in a merit shop, free-enterprise environment.

So on this Labor Day, let's remember to thank all of the construction craft professionals, regardless of labor affiliation, whose hard work building America each day improves all of our lives.

Sincerely,
Stephen L. Stone
President, ABC of Wisconsin

I love Ron Johnson.

Ron grew up in a family and in a place where one of the greatest compliments you could give a person was to say that he or she was a hard worker. This belief in a strong work ethic has been a core principle that has guided Ron's life.

At the age of 15, Ron started paying taxes when he began working at Walgreen's Grill. He only started as a dishwasher, but he quickly rose through the ranks to become night manager before reaching the age of 16.

Ron and his wife of 32 years, Jane met during his senior year of high school. While in college, Ron lived at home and worked full time in order to pay for all of his college expenses. Because of his work ethic, Ron was able to graduate college debt-free and with $7,000 in the bank. On August 20th of the same year he graduated college, Ron and Jane married.

In 1979, Ron and Jane moved to Wisconsin, where Ron started a business called PACUR with his brother-in-law. Ron was the accountant and a machine operator, and for the most part the company's first year, Ron traded 12 hour shifts with his brother-in-law until they could train other operators.

With help and dedication of the fine people Ron had the privilege of working with, PACUR has grown from a company supplying a single customer to the largest producer in the world of a specialty plastic used in medical device packaging and high tech printing applications. PACUR sells its products all around the world with one of its largest export markets being China. PACUR is still proud to say: "We don't export jobs, we export plastic." Washington politicians are leading our country down a dangerous path. They can't keep running up the deficit, villainizing business, and trampling on our freedom. Ron Johnson is a businessman from Oshkosh who has had enough of Washington's ways. He is running for U.S. Senate to represent the people of Wisconsin. Quoting Ron "This is a fight for Freedom. It's not someone else's fight, this is our fight. And it is a fight that we absolutely must win."

Like me, vote for Ron Johnson for U.S. Senate on September 14 and November 2.

Referendum

"I think that's why I like the referendum," he said.

Supervisor Dan Schmidt agreed.

"There are a lot of people out there hurtin'," he said.

The town's highway aid from the state totaled $80,000 last year, to which $40,000 plus fuel went for snowplowing.

Kewaskum is the second area town deciding to hold a November referendum for road repairs. Farmington unanimously approved a two-question referendum asking for either $200,000 or $450,000, but that referendum is binding, meaning if the majority approves it the money will be spent. Voters could, however, vote down both questions.

Kick off fall at three area annual events

The calendar may signify summer is over, but the bright side is four great events will take place next weekend to start the first weekend of fall. Three civic groups have plans underway to keep you busy the weekend of September 10 and 11.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club will hold their annual popular Turkey Shoot at the New Fane Sportsman's Club on Saturday, September 11, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. There are activities for all, young and old even if it's just to enjoy a delicious brat or burger from Kewaskum Frozen Foods.

Attending the event is a must for all sportsmen who may enjoy the rifle range, pistol range, trap shoot, bow and arrow, compound bow and the BB gun. The skilled marksmen will earn their chance at a Thanksgiving turkey with a successful shot.

If your weapon of choice is your swing, try the golf shoot for your bird or take a different kind of shot and hoop your way to a gobbler in the basketball shoot.

Tickets for each event can be purchased at the event, however, advance tickets receive an extra shot. Advance tickets can be purchased at Kohn's Citgo, Dairy Queen, westbury bank's local branch, Richard's Kut & Style and Geidel's Piggly Wiggly.

Your chef's favorite products from Regal Ware will also be available for sale as the company holds their annual truckload sale at the event with a portion of the proceeds being donated to the Kiwanis Club.

A new feature this year will be displays of boats, compact tractors, lawn mowers and ATVs by Barton Small Engine and Cedar Lake Sales.

For gun enthusiasts the club will raffle a number of rifles that will occur throughout the day, as well as many other raffles.

All proceeds from the event fund the various charities of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club and New Fane Sportsman's Club. The New Fane Sportsman's Club is located four miles north of Kewaskum on County Road G which can be found off of Highway 28 (Main Street) in the village.

In the evening, head over to Boltonville where the Fire Department is throwing their annual Street Dance in the heart of downtown Boltonville. The event will begin at 6 p.m. with Oil Can Harry taking the stage at 8:30 p.m.

On Sunday enjoy a day along the Milwaukee River in Kewaskum's historic Riverhill Park as the Kewaskum Historical Society presents their 35th Annual Early Farm Days from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

There will be displays of antiques, antique engines and equipment and Kettle Moraine Carriages will offer free horse drawn wagon rides.

Learn about Kewaskum's rich heritage by visiting the award-winning Kewaskum Museum that features an authentic reconstructed 1847 log cabin like those found in the community during that era.

As with any event food and refreshments will also be available.

Exhibitors are welcome and should contact Ronald Markus (262) 626-4273, Bill Vrana (262) 689-7919 or Randy Reysen (262) 247-0538 for more information.

The event will take place on the west side of the Milwaukee River in Riverhill Park that can be accessed from Parkview Drive. From Highway 28 east (Main Street) turn south on Parkview Drive which is three blocks east of the Highway 28 and 45 intersection. Or, enter 1202 Parkview Drive into your vehicle's GPS system.

All proceeds from the event pays for the operation of the Kewaskum Museum and Log Cabin. The Kewaskum Museum is open for tours, contact any Historical Society member for more information.

An Evening with the Summer Stars

Planets and stars are the featured topics for this year's final Saturday Summer Evening Event at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. The evening will start with the program, Jupiter and Its Moons, at 7:30 p.m. followed by Summer Star Gazing running from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. These programs will be held on Saturday, September 4, at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

NASA has sent several probes to investigate the mysteries of our solar system's largest planet, Jupiter, and its 16 moons. Join Kevin Koski, a NASA Solar System Ambassador, as he shares some of the fascinating discoveries that have been made about this amazing huge gas and liquid planet as well as some of its bigger moons.

The astronomers from the Northern Cross Science Foundation will be setting up their telescopes of all sizes from four inch diameters to more than twelve inches and pointing them into the night sky. Starting at 8:45 p.m., everyone is invited to peer through the scopes to bring into focus the wonders of the night sky. With the help of these experienced sky observers, you will be able to spy distant planets, marvel at far away galaxies and be awed by the beauty of a dumb-bell nebula or globular cluster. The members of the Northern Cross Science Foundation are always eager to share their hobby and help people who are just getting started in astronomy. This part of the program will be held only if the skies are clear. Both programs are best for adults and youth over the age of 8 years.

For further information or directions to the Ice Age Visitor Center, please contact the forest staff at the center. They may be reached at (920) 533-8322, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Make sure to mark your calendars to join us for a night among the stars.

Wayne Elementary School first-grader Kiera McFarlan puts school supplies in her desk with help from her mother, Denise, right. Dad, Scott and brothers Kaden, and Connor watch and listen as first-grade teacher Katie Mentink welcomes them to her room. Wayne held its open house Monday night for parents and students to meet their teachers and see their rooms in preparation of the first day of school on Wednesday.

Students at Farmington and Wayne Elementary Schools will have the opportunity to participate in Kewaskum's Boys and Girls Club this year.

A bus on Wednesday's early release day will take students to Kewaskum Elementary, where the club meets, said Farmington and Wayne Principal Janet Molebash.

Students may also stay at their respective schools and partake in after-school programs run by the Kettle Moraine YMCA. Activities include math games, library homework, gym activities and sometimes movies. Molebash said the YMCA wants to add nutrition education and more physical activity to this year's programs.

Two bus routes take students home on early release days. One leaves after 2:20 when school lets out, the other at 3:50 when school usually lets out.

Jane Mongin serves as the new art teacher for both schools, and former high school physical education teacher Jason Meinen will teach phy ed at both schools.

Wayne special ed teacher Marilyn Krantz will be working at Farmington as well since Molebash said the need is higher there while the need at Wayne has fallen.

Each school has some individual changes as well. Farmington's Spanish teacher finally has a room.

After working from a cart last year and traveling from room to room, former nomad Amy Winter has her own classroom.

No more hopping from room to room within five minutes, getting the cart ready and students settled for class. Molebash said students hadn't thought of Winter as a teacher as much since she didn't have her own room.

"It's tough being a teacher on a cart," said Molebash.

Through a trickle-down effect, a large third-grade class has caused the staff lounge to be moved to the occupational/physical therapy room.

"We took our staff lounge and made it into a third-grade classroom," said Principal Janet Molebash.

The teacher workroom off of the library now serves as the only staff workroom, she said, as the lounge had doubled as a workroom in the past.

The occupational/physical therapy room will now share the special education resource room.

Farmington typically has two sections per class, but this year's third grade requires three. The teacher's lounge was a good spot since it's on the same level as the other third-grade rooms.

"Our goal was to get the Spanish teacher her own room and all third-grade classes on same level," Molebash said.

Farmington will continue work on landscaping around the school, including planting flowers. When Molebash arrived eight years ago, the school was pretty much just a building on a plot of land. A committee was formed and a grant paid for a class in Madison to train educators on how to teach outdoor education.

Supplies are covered by Farmington's parent-teacher organization or grants. Work is done by parents, teachers and students.

"It's been no district money," Molebash said.

At Wayne, a new rubber surface was installed under the playground, replacing wood chips.

"It's six times safer," Molebash said.

Before, wood chips would sometimes jam into students' feet if students wore sandals. Others would break their arm falling. Another danger is bee stings as Molebash said bees like to burrow under wood chips.

The new surface, covered through the buildings and grounds budget, may prevent those injuries and be cheaper in the long run as wood chips have to be replaced.

Farmington and Kewaskum Elementary School's playground already have similar rubber surfaces.

Busy as it is, Molebash always likes this time of year.

"You're always looking forward to the kids coming back. You're never ready but you're ready once the kids are here," she said.

Wayne fifth-grader Noah Czarapata puts school supplies into his desk at Monday's open house as his step-mother Kris Froehlich helps.

Register now for October ACT test

Registration is now open for the October 23, 2010 ACT achievement test. Students who wish to take the college admission and placement exam must register before September 17, 2010.

The ACT is a curriculum-based achievement exam. It tests what students have actually learned in school, not their aptitude for learning. The ACT also measures what students need to know to be ready for first year credit-bearing college courses based on ACT College Readiness Standards™. Every student's results can be tied directly to these consistent standards.

The ACT has four sections—English, mathematics, reading and science—and takes about three hours to complete. Students who take the ACT Plus Writing complete an optional writing test that requires an additional 30 minutes. Unlike other exams, students are not penalized for guessing or answering all the questions on each test section. In fact, it is beneficial for test takers to answer all questions within the time allowed.

During registration, students may select up to four universities to receive their score reports. ACT scores are accepted by all four-year colleges and universities across the United States. ACT reports scores only when requested to do so by the student. Additional score reports are available for a small fee.

All students complete a detailed inventory of questions during ACT registration. Each test taker receives an ACT score report that includes a wide variety of information to assist with high school course selection, college readiness, career planning, and college admissions.

The cost for the ACT test without writing is $33. When combined with the optional ACT Writing Test, the total cost is $48. Students who qualify may apply for a fee waiver through their high school counselor.

The ACT website, www.actstudent.org, has helpful information, free sample items, and options to order inexpensive test prep materials to assist test takers get ready for the exam. However, the best preparation is to take rigorous core courses in school, study hard, and learn the academic skills needed in college.

Most students register online at www.actstudent.org. Students may also pick up registration forms from their high school counseling offices. Registration is available until October 1, 2010 for an extra $21 fee.

The Kewaskum Police Department would like to remind all drivers that summer is almost over and school is in session soon. This should remind us that we need to be very cautious, especially in and around the schools and school crossings. Remember that the speed limit in the area of school crossings is 15 mph.

There will be many children walking and riding their bikes to and from school during the busiest times of the day so we have to be extra attentive. Remember to watch for children between cars, to slow down at school crossings and to plan on extra time to get to and from our destinations. We also ask parents to have their children cross at areas where we have stationed crossing guards and to not send their children to school before the guards are present. All school children will be coming home with a list of the crossing areas and the times they will be manned.

Lets all get together to keep our children safe this year by being responsible drivers.

Moraine Park's Wilke named ACTE Region III Teacher of the Year

Linda Wilke, a Moraine Park Technical College instructor known for her training skills and dedication to helping businesses, was named the 2010 Region III Teacher of the Year by the Association for Career and Technical Education (ACTE). A Moraine Park employee since 1989, Wilke was nominated by the Wisconsin Association for Career and Technical Education (WACTE). She is a member of ACTE, WACTE and MPACTE Local 17.

"WACTE is thrilled that Linda has received this recognition," said Margaret Ellibee, PhD, vice president of strategic effectiveness and advancement for Waukesha County Technical College and president of WACTE. "Her professionalism and instructional expertise as a career and technical educator has positively impacted the businesses and students she serves in her community. Linda's leadership and service-oriented passion in what she accomplishes make her so respected by both Wisconsin's CTE educators and our business partners."

As an economic and workforce development instructor for Moraine Park, Wilke provides customized training and other services to businesses, local governments, organizations and individuals in the areas of human performance, leadership, customer service, quality improvement, team building, conflict resolution and personal/interpersonal communication skills.

In one example of the numerous accomplishments outlined in Wilke's nomination, she provided leadership training at a food processing plant for Associates at all levels. Because of the results she achieved, the original short-term initiative became a four-year relationship. Wilke has now trained more than 180 employees in personal, interpersonal and performance leadership at the company's five locations, and the partnership has expanded into other training opportunities for Moraine Park.

She will go on to ACTE's national competition, scheduled during a December convention in Las Vegas. "I am humbled and honored to represent Moraine Park and all the other equally deserving career and technical education teachers," said Wilke. "I am proud to be a part of a college that is comprised of a dedicated and caring staff that strives to make a positive difference in the lives of the students, business partners and community at large."

With campuses in Beaver Dam, Fond du Lac and West Bend, Moraine Park is one of 16 colleges that make up Wisconsin's technical colleges. Moraine Park offers more than 100 associate of applied science degrees, technical diplomas, apprenticeships and certificates delivered in a variety of formats — classroom, online and blended. Lady Indians face building year

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Joe Moser has started his second year as Kewaskum's volleyball coach but as far as personnel it's almost his first.

All-Eastern Wisconsin Conference first teamers Erika Heberer, Elissa Miller and Lauren Goring graduated, as did Monica Dehler, Haley Rauch and Ashley Faber, all of whom either started or were in the rotation.

Back are senior George Abfall, an all-conference honorable mention, and junior Kayla Bastian, who was a regular in last year's rotation as a sophomore.

Abfall last year had 101 kills in only 266 attempts, and will mix in the rotation at right side hitter this season.

"Last year I had it made coming in as the new coach because everybody had played before. I had seven or eight seniors that knew where they were on the court, they knew their role; they knew their job," Moser said. "Now we've got two returning kids who know what they're doing and one of them only plays half the time (Abfall)."

Bastian is versatile but must adjust to a new team.

"Kayla plays all the way around so she knows what she's doing. You know, it's hard getting used to new players; it's new players getting used to playing," Moser said.

Six-foot-1-inch sophomore Anna Aycock will patrol the middle.

"She's going to be great for blocks; she's going to be great for hitting. We'll have her here for three years. I'm really excited to have her," Moser said. "6-1 - can't teach height."

Senior Molly Potter and junior Heidi Johnson will split the setting duties as Moser runs a 6-2 offense. He will rotate them so he can coach either on the bench while the other plays.

Moser said Johnson was a little more nervous with "big eyes" than Potter in the season-opening loss against Slinger, but he likes both of his setters excitement and talent.

"I like where our setters are going," he said.

Junior Sam Smallish and sophomore Kelsey Phillips are battling to play libero, the defensive specialist. Moser said both have great speed.

"It's just learning that court awareness, reading the hitters and being confident in the pass. They'll have a couple good passes and then they'll have some terrible passes," he said. "Shake off the errors, get right back into it and be confident that they can pass it right to the setter. They don't have to be worried about over passing."

Krueger and Ashley Kuechler will also see major playing time.

Moser said his inexperienced team has to do more than work on skills; it has to learn to play varsity volleyball.

Wishing the Kewaskum Indians athletes a rewarding and successful season!

"It's pressure, it's varsity, having the whole stands filled instead of just 10 people," he said. "So it's just putting all the pieces together, kids feeling like they're varsity players and they're ready to play and having fun out on the court."

Last year's senior-laden team ended 28-9 in matches and a 76-36 game record. The Indians finished second in conference last season at 12-2, losing to undefeated Waupun twice. In the playoffs, Kewaskum swept Shorewood and beat Whitefish Bay in a five-game thriller before being swept by Kettle Moraine Lutheran in a regional final. Experience or not, Moser said there is one key to playing well.

"I think just making sure that we're having a fun time. I think when you're nervous or you've got jitters or you're not having a good time out there it's really hard to play good volleyball," he said. "When you're having fun you're cheering on your teammates, you're confident of the next play, then our volleyball looks pretty good. So it's having a good time and building confidence that they're varsity players."

What will the 2010 golf season bring for the Kewaskum High girls team? No one knows the answer to that question, but coach Amy Piwoni, starting her fifth season as head coach, certainly believes the Indians have lots of potential.

Piwoni and JV coach Jim Westphal are currently working with a squad of 10 girls, including four senior lettermen who helped the team finish fourth in the Wisconsin Little Ten (WLT) Conference a year ago.

Kate Winkler and Heather Zuehlke led the returnees. "Kate and Heather both made it to sectionals last year," Piwoni said, noting Winkler averaged right at 50 for 9-hole scores and both "have the potential to break fifty."

What Piwoni likes about Winkler's game is mechanics. "She's got a very natural swing" but needs to improve on her short game, the coach said.

Zuehlke earned second-team all-conference honors, ending up with 348 strokes, which was seventh among all the WLT players.

The other two returning letter winners are Megan Gavin and Sienna Warnecke.

"Once these girls get on track, I think we should be OK," Piwoni said, reporting junior April Basterdash also comes in with some experience.

"She'll probably be my No. 5," Piwoni said.

There are also two sophomores, April Gilane and Brittany Duarte, currently showing promise.

Duarte was on the team last year. "She likes the game a lot," Piwoni said, adding Gilane has played some golf with her parents.

Rounding out the team are sophomores Emily Eutsey and Krystal Hartmann and freshman Jennifer Rempel. Hartmann comes in with some meet experience, while Rempel's two older sisters played on the team several years ago.

Concerning the Little

Ten race, Piwoni predicts a battle between defending champion Hartford and Oconomowoc. "I think Oconomowoc has a couple girls coming back," she said, expecting the Indians could make a serious challenge for third place in the league that includes the combined West Bend team, Watertown and Beaver Dam.

A year ago, Hartford wound up with 10 points (from the mini-meets and the WLT Tournament), while Oconomowoc was in second (18 points), Watertown third (24) and Kewaskum in fourth (28.)

Kewaskum opened the Little Ten season at Beaver Dam on Aug. 23rd, and they participated in the annual Washington County Scramble on Aug. 26. The Indians will host a WLT meet at Hon-E-Kor on Thursday, Sept. 2nd.

The boys soccer team at Kewaskum High School has some real potential if some of last year's newbies can step up and score. The biggest news this season is the new playing field located at the corner of Highways 45 and 28, north of Kewaskum Clinic.

The Indians have a number of returning players this year and have potential to garner a few wins and get past their pitiful 1-12 season last year and 1-13 the year prior. The Indians finished last in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (EWC) the last two years. Head coach Luke Piwoni, in his third year, has his goals set to finish in the middle of the conference which is an easily attainable goal. Last year's top three EWC finishers Plymouth, Kiel and Sheboygan Falls are expected to take top honors but once past the three powerhouses, the conference is up for grabs.

Senior Kyle Phillips returns as captain and will be the leader of the defense from the stopper position. Nick Wendelborn and Darren Campbell replace last year's seniors Ryan Gibson

Indians hoping to earn title after second place finish

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

For the first time in four years, Kewaskum's football team doesn't have the Eastern Wisconsin Conference bulls-eye plastered on its back.

The Indians enter the season after a second-place finish last year, after losing their only EWC game to undefeated Plymouth, and Coach Jason Piittmann hopes his players are hungrier because of it.

"We kind of had gotten accustomed to it," he said of being the defending conference champs. This year, "We just have a little chip on our shoulder coming in. It means we need to go out and earn people's respect again."

They'll do it with a younger but again deep team with more than 40 varsity players, including an experienced quarterback. Cody Nuernberg is back for his second straight year as a starter after earning All-EWC honorable mention. "It was kind of interesting just watching old films last year early in the season. You see a big jump in his ability to handle the offense, make the reads. He's definitely a good leader. He knows what we're trying to accomplish," Piittmann said.

The supporting cast will have to gel as several linemen, including the team-chosen offensive most valuable player and EWC Offensive Lineman of the Year Brian Bettleman and honorable mention center Tyler Hoering, have graduated.

Piittmann said some good seniors are returning like Paul Gutjahr, Cole Roberts and Matt Ballard. Juniors Brad Bettleman (6-1, 277) and Mack Donath will also play. Seven to eight linemen will rotate, which helps to keep them fresh. Chemistry will come in time.

"It takes a little while to get everybody clicking," Piittmann said.

Behind Nuernberg is first team All-EWC running back Cody Seibel. He was second in the conference in rushing with 827 yards and tied for first with 10 rushing touchdowns.

In step is the quick little tailback Eric Perkins (5-foot-9, 165 pounds), who came on late last season as a sophomore with some long touchdown dashes and played a big part in Kewaskum's playoff run.

"That experience last year definitely helped him," Piittmann said.

Piittmann will mix in tailbacks Joey Wollner and Brandon Speirs. Blocking ahead of them will be a mix of veteran Bo Seibel, senior Michael Schladweiler, junior Lance Pinchard and maybe others. "Three-four guys can all play," Piittmann said.

Through the air, speedster and deep threat Brandon Zolp and first team tight end Jordan Blank graduated. Zolp was tied for third in the conference in receiving touchdowns with four and was a deadly weapon in returning punts and kicks.

New targets for Nuernberg include T.J. Schlice, Tony Gonring, Brad Boegel, Andy Schreier and Sam Olla.

"They'll all see some snaps," said Piittmann, depending on the package.

The Indians will still be a running team, but Piittmann doesn't want to be one-dimensional.

"We'd like a little more balance," he said.

On the defensive line, the Indians have to replace first team All-EWC players Jordan Blank at end and Josh Boettcher at tackle. Blank led the conference in sacks with seven.

"We're a little smaller this year at times but we'll be as physically strong as we've been," Piittmann said.

Donath is back at tackle after a second-team all-conference honor last year. Junior Kyle Boehlen (5-11, 276) will play, as well as Ballard, senior Eric Enright (6-3, 175) at end and junior Dan Schuette at tackle.

A few guys will rotate in to provide rest and give different looks in different situations, Piittmann said.

At inside linebacker, first team All-EWC Cody Seibel, the team's hardest hitter and heart of the defense, is gone, as is honorable mention Steve Chapman, who had two interceptions last year.

So far, Schladweiler is doing a nice job inside, Piittmann said.

Outside, first team All-EWC Bo Seibel returns. He was tied for third in conference with three interceptions. Senior Mitch Cochran will play, and Piittmann said some juniors may see time as well.

In the secondary, ball-hawking first teamer All-EWC Zolp is gone, but fellow first-teamer Schlice (two INTs) is back. Gonring or Perkins will play safety, and juniors Dan Bohn and Dylan Tackes will see playing time. Piittmann said the team is deep here as he has seven or eight guys he is comfortable with in the defensive backfield.

At kicker, Hunter Flanders returns for his sophomore season after filling in well most of last year for an injury.

This many players vying for not as many spots is a good thing.

"Early on it creates a lot of competition so we can see who is going to step up during game time," Piittmann said.

Now, the Indians have five to six players going both ways, given a school Kewaskum's size, Piittmann said. He is looking to pare that down to four. Ideally, he would like to go straight platoon to platoon, but he wants the best talent on the field.

Piittmann's goal this year is for the Indians to finish in the top four in conference and thus again qualify for the playoffs. A conference title is a goal every year, but accomplishments come one by one.

"We try to do things in steps one game at a time, one goal at a time," he said. "You can't win conference until you become playoff eligible (above .500 conference record).

Defending champion Plymouth should contend again as the Panthers have a strong program, Piittmann said. Two Rivers had good freshmen and junior varsity teams and could have a breakout season, and New Holstein has a strong program and is always in the mix.

Young or not, these Indians have a reputation to uphold. Piittmann's program has developed quite a name across the state the past several years as Kewaskum is coming off of its fifth straight season in which it won at least two playoff games. In the four seasons prior, the Indians won three playoff games, falling one game short of playing for the state title in Madison each time.

While Plymouth ruined Kewaskum's homecoming with a 14-6 victory last season, the Indians exacted revenge on the road in the second round of the playoffs, winning 27-7. They lost a heartbreaker on the road to eventual state runner-up West De Pere the following week on a field goal on the last play of the game, 24-21.

This year's team is jacked up to get going. After an Aug. 20, multi-team scrimmage was postponed due to thunderstorms and some teams were missing the next day, Piittmann said players are chomping at the bit to hit someone from another community.

"They want to see somebody different. It's been nice for them to run the scout offense and scout defense," he said. "They want to play somebody else. That's the fun part."

and Caleb Olla as captains this season.

"Kyle is a workhorse and will be needed to stop the opposing teams attack before they get into scoring position. Nick and Darren can play anywhere on the field and that what makes them valuable. If I need a defender they can both do it, if I need someone to score a goal they can both do it," Piwoni explained.

Dillon Thelen returns for this third year as varsity goalie. Last year Thelen posted a save percentage of 67.34% facing 248 shots and allowing 81.

"Dillon's experience and ability will be relied on to keep other teams at bay. He has great range in goal. He has improved steadily each year," Piwoni stated.

Piwoni says scoring goals will be a challenge this year after losing players like Olla and Gibson provided 80 percent of the goals last year.

"Brad Conroy, Harley Bruss, Ian Kenworthy, Nick Wendelborn, Nic Gerhartz and Campbell will need to step up and score some goals for us," Piwoni stated.

The Indians defense shows good strength with Calvin Ranker, Brad Nowack and Phillips all returning. Nick Ray has come up through JV and is expected to fill the fourth defender spot.

The midfield will be filled with many players new to varsity competition.

"I am optimistic the midfielders will be able to control possession of the ball for longer periods of time than in the past," Piwoni explained.

Supercharged Soups

and satisfying

FAMILY FEATURES

As the weather turns cooler, soup is a delicious and healthful way to warm up. From homemade to prepared varieties, nourishing soups also can satisfy your hunger by making you feel full longer.

Wendy Bazilian, DrPH, MA, RD, author of "The SuperFoodsRx Diet," recommends choosing soups packed with flavorful "SuperFoods" like beans, lean chicken or turkey, broccoli, spinach, tomatoes — and especially spices and herbs.

"Using spices and herbs does more than just add flavor to your favorite soups without added calories or sodium. They are also concentrated sources of natural antioxidants, with levels comparable to fruits and vegetables, including many of the SuperFoods," says Dr. Bazilian. "With just a dash, pinch or sprinkle of spices and herbs, you can turn your favorite soup into a flavorful 'super soup.'"

Whether you're cooking up a batch of a hearty, homemade soup on the weekend or just looking to add healthful twists to prepared soups, spices and herbs are a better-for-you swap for traditional soup toppings such as croutons, cheese or sour cream — adding flavor without extra salt, sugar or fat.

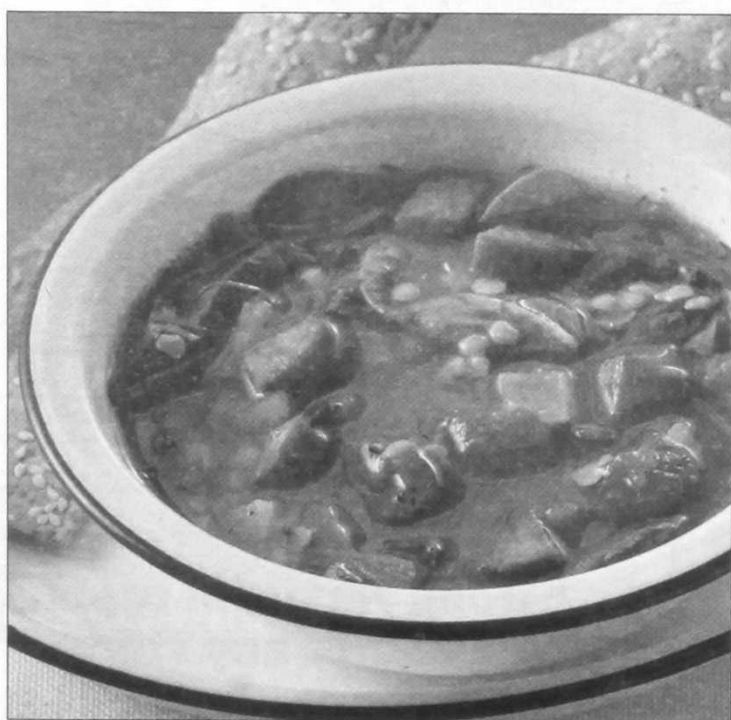

Find more flavorful and healthful soup recipes, as well as tips for pairing spices and herbs with canned or prepared soups, at www.spicesforhealth.com.

- Top off your broccoli or tomato soup with a spicy crunch. Heat 1/2 teaspoon olive oil in small non-stick skillet on medium heat. Add 1/4 cup walnuts or pecans, and 1/8 teaspoon each ground cumin, oregano leaves and chili powder; cook and stir 3 to 4 minutes or until nuts are fragrant and lightly browned.
- Add a dollop of color and flavor with spiced yogurt. Stir favorite spices and herbs into low-fat plain yogurt, about 1 tablespoon for each serving of soup. Try turmeric for lentil or split pea soup, oregano for black bean soup and ground cinnamon or ginger for butternut squash or pumpkin soup.
- Popcorn makes a fun garnish for soup. Try sprinkling hot popcorn with spices such as curry powder, paprika or ground red pepper.

The annual Kewaskum Firemen-Legion fund-raising picnic will be held in River Hill Park this Saturday evening and Sunday.

The 23rd annual Krazy Daze sidewalk sale sponsored by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday, July 16. This annual event runs all day and features markdowns, good deals, discounts and live music playing at a variety of businesses.

The Kewaskum Town Board recently honored Jerome Hergiges for his 19 years of service to the Town.

Aid Association for Lutherans Insurance and members of its local branch 26, have donated materials and labor for the construction of a new shelter in Kewaskum's River Hill Park. The new 30 foot by 40 foot open air shelter is located on the west side of the river near the Kewaskum Historical Society's Museum.

THIEMERDOME EXTRA!!
There were rumors at the past week's game, that local construction conglomerate Big Bird and Al Martin, Inc. are constructing a lavish hotel and health spa across the road from the Thiemerdome. It will feature hot tubs compliments of Lee Kempf, saunas, heated pool, gambling casino (and there is Native American land located WHERE near the Dome?), and best of all, indoor plumbing! The Martin boys have also indicated they intend to cater to the Thiemerdome fans who hold season tickets for mezzanine and VIP boxes. Negotiations are in process with the Backhaus and Buss family farms to purchase several acres of land for a corporate jet landing strip (now Thiemerdome players will have no excuse for not showing up in time to play). Oil barons from Texas and shieks from Saudi Arabia have been searching for a pastoral hideaway where they can relax and watch some exciting softball (and they are coming here???) have a few cold beers, and some pickled eggs and then top that off with a high stakes game of Baccarat. Attendance at this week's game was up to 487 but the 200 that arrived late were not included in that figure.

A daughter, Amy Esther, was born to Stephen and Linda Guelig, Kewaskum, on June 26. A daughter, Amanda Michelle, was born to Tim and Sandy Sarauer, Campbellsport, on June 26. A daughter, Megan Elizabeth, was born to Ronald and Sharyn Gussick, Campbellsport, June 27. Daughters were also born to Bruce and Carolyn Weninger, Kewaskum, on July 2, and to James and Carol Maul, Allenton, on June 30. A son, Arik Robert, was born to David and Debra Hafermann, Campbellsport, on June 26. Sons were also born to Thomas and Catherine Fay, Kewaskum, on July 3, and to Randall and Victoria Breit, Adell, on June 28.

One-thousand nine-hundred seventy-five pheasant eggs were shipped out to various parts of Wisconsin and Michigan on Wednesday by Frank Hopkins, caretaker of the Moon Lake Wildlife Refuge (now Mauthe Lake) located east of Kewaskum on the Forest Lake Road. The shipping of these eggs brings the total up to 5,000 pheasant eggs or over that have been shipped out from the refuge within the past week. These eggs will be hatched out at their various destinations and after the pheasants are matured, they will be released in the hope of making Wisconsin an ideal haven for pheasants.

The Kewaskum Aluminum Company has a crew of men at work clearing and beautifying their property at the factory site. The former Jung residence which stood on the corner of their property has been razed, and the premises are being converted into a driveway which will be a continuation of the present driveway and which will eliminate the necessity of turning around and coming out of the same driveway.

The local firemen tested out their newly purchased waterproof coats and hats on Tuesday evening on the high school campus when they went through several drills in an effort to gain in speed and accuracy in connecting up their apparatus for the occasion of a fire.

Among those who received honorable mention in the picture coloring contest conducted by the Catholic Herald in last week's issue were mentioned: Marjorie Schmidt and John Stellpflug Jr. of Holy Trinity School, Kewaskum, and Cyril Wieter of St. Bridget's School.

A nine pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bruessel on Mother's Day morning. A bright baby boy, Kermit John, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Coulter of West Wayne on May 10. Mrs. Coulter was formerly Miss Clara Ramthun.

fer. The annual high school junior prom will be held tonight in the high school gymnasium. As the result of hard work by the members of the junior class, the gym has been beautifully and artistically decorated in emerald green and canary yellow, and everything is in readiness to entertain one of the largest crowds expected for some time. The junior prom is the one affair of the year everyone should attend. Kilian Honeck Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Honeck of this village and Miss Janice Koch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Koch, also of the village, will act as prom chairman and prom queen respectively, and will lead the grand march.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Krahn of Beechwood are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them on Saturday.

The long-needed street sprinkler which our little city has been longing for for some time, finally arrived and is now doing service daily, laying the dust on our streets. The sprinkler arrived last week Thursday and is a good looking outfit, one that would be a credit to a metropolitan city.

Joseph Dworschak, living near New Fane, sold his 80 acre farm last Monday to Jake Feltenz of Scott for $11,000 including all personal property.

Jack and Bonny Ruelle of Jackson are lifelong residents of Washington County and both of their children were born at the New Life Center of St. Joseph’s Hospital. When nine-year-old Max complained of mild but persistent abdominal pain last September, Jack and Bonny decided that as a precaution, a visit to the Emergency Care Center at St. Joseph’s Hospital was in order.

“We walked in about midnight,” Jack explains. “Max wasn’t in severe pain, but he clearly wasn’t himself. He kept saying, ‘I’m fine, I’m fine.’” When the initial examination and X-ray didn’t immediately identify the cause of Max’s discomfort, a more detailed diagnostic exam was performed using the hospital’s 64-slice CT scanner. The scan revealed a perforated appendix, a condition normally accompanied by extraordinary levels of pain.

“I remember the doctor saying to me, ‘You’ve got one very tough kid,’” Jack says. “Max had emergency surgery shortly thereafter, and today he’s doing great.”

The Ruelles are grateful for the high-quality care their son received at St. Joseph’s Hospital. As Bonny explains, “It’s incredibly important to have St. Joseph’s emergency care nearby. The affiliation with Froedtert has just made it that much better. You always know that you’re getting the best care possible.”

With the Dick Ellis Experts

Seasons Greeting...Dog preparations necessary as bird hunting looms

At 12 weeks, Golden Retriever puppy Micah surprised the writer by making this 30-yard retrieve of a throw intended to continue training for an adult yellow lab. Micah dropped the training dummy at Ellis's feet and continued to repeat the performance over the course of the weekend in Vilas County

September means transition time for a Wisconsin outdoorsman, from a wonderful world of fishing to an even better world of hunting and fishing under the promise of extraordinary weather and scenery. The Madison chain calls later this week, and the Wednesday, September 1 hunting season opener will see Micah and me hunkered down in standing corn waiting for mourning dove while other sportsmen and women statewide set their ambush surprise for Canada goose.

If my now 13-week old Golden Retriever and I were to be ready for wing-shooting 101, though, followed by a first duck hunting trip to North Dakota October 1st, there was work to do. Those lessons began with more water work in mid-August in far northern Wisconsin and continued in the fields of Rock County in the far south August 28 where Micah and I will begin hunting the wild pheasant in late November, despite a dismal spring hatch and pre-season population estimates.

There are concerns as a new dog owner. I have not trained a pure hunting dog before; call me the ultimate rookie, and am relying heavily on books (15 Minutes to A Great Puppy and 15 Minutes to A Great Dog, Krause Publications 888-457-2873) and columns sent to me by my friend, dog training expert and outdoor writer Kevin Michalowski. I am also relying on my instinct to instill first the basics of commands and the knowledge that I am the "Boss", but also to overwhelm him with praise and confidence as we stumble together through this process of becoming a team. So far...so very, very good. I am, in fact, shocked at the progress we have made with the retrieving dummy on both water and in the tall grass due to Micah's tender age.

In Vilas County, I stood knee-deep in water with one hand firmly around Dylan's collar and retrieving dummy in the other. My sister's three year old yellow lab is stubborn and until recently, gun-shy. Micah sat on the pier watching the show. My quest was to control the big and powerful English after I released the dummy with the command

"Wait" until I released him too to make the retrieve. Despite his history that we seek to change of never before having made a true waterfowl retrieve, Dylan would make dummy retrieves on land and sea until he collapses of exhaustion.

I threw the dummy far out and the struggle began. "Wait" I said firmly as I fought the strength of an 80 pound powerhouse with no intention of waiting. I was again winning the fight though, when a splash brought my attention to my puppy jumping from the side of the pier. I was overwhelmed with pure satisfaction as I watched the then 12 week old pup swim effortlessly the 30 yards to the dummy, turn, and bring it back to me to drop it at my feet in the water. He enthusiastically repeated the performance another 20 times over the weekend, learning too to associate the command "Leave It" with the conclusion of each retrieve.

Our dummy work continued at home in the tall grasses bordering my yard. Micah obviously is learning to use his sense of smell to find the "bird" swallowed up in habitat, and returns to my sincere praise and celebration each time he is successful. When he fails to find the bird, I go into the sea of grass with him to help him find that success, and the celebrations begin again. If there is one thing a dog "knows" in this household, it is that he is loved. It is a reciprocal love that will lead to complete trust.

On Saturday, Micah, John Ellis and I stole Dylan from our sister's home and headed southwest to the farm in Rock County where we have hunted wild ringnecks for 15 years. My brother has already turned Dylan around. At the beginning of September in 2009, Dylan would not leave the truck due to fear, and cowered at the sound of a shotgun report. Today, Dylan enthusiastically exits the truck because John has made the retrieving game serious fun in the field, and Dylan has evolved to having absolutely no fear of a gun fired even in very close proximity.

Dylan is literally fixated on finding each "bird" thrown far into the brush, and Saturday needed no physical restraint as he sat patiently waiting for the command to "Find It". Micah too, continued his significant retrieving progress and recovered numerous throws of the dummy far into high grass that also appeared to swallow him whole.

My biggest concern with Micah now is the potential that he too could develop into a gun shy dog if I am not careful. I could immediately think of three friends or acquaintances in addition to Dylan who had dogs that acquired a fear of a discharged firearm.

Saturday was the first day that I carried a gun, and I knelt to introduce Micah to the .410. After an hour or retrieving work and high praise, I discharged the .410 from 50 yards distance in conjunction with the successful discovery of another throw and our familiar cheers in celebration. Micah looked, but quickly decided that the report was uninteresting.

Six more shots over the next hour evoked the same response. Our day concluded when Micah stayed with John and watched me walk 80 yards down a mowed lane. With his attention firmly on me, I lowered the gun into the brush and discharged it. Micah was released to charge down the hill to me with a demeanor that clearly stated his inquiry asking what all the excitement was about.

I am cautiously optimistic as we head to the corn Wednesday. Will a 14 week old puppy find and retrieve a mourning dove? Will Dylan break his curse? I do not know. But this is our team... and I like what I see. More outdoors? www.onwisconsinoutdoors.com.

Indians come out on top in opener

Kewaskum's Eric Perkins breaks the tackle of a West Bend East defender during a dazzling, 12-yard run in the first half of the Indians' 27-13 season-opening win last Friday. Perkins finished with 204 yards rushing and two touchdowns on 16 carries.

By Mitch Maersch

mitch@kewaskumstatesman.com

Kewaskum football coach Jason Piittmann said his team was sloppy for most of last Friday's season opener against West Bend East, but the Indians didn't lack highlight appeal.

Kewaskum scored on plays of 82, 56, 43 and 37 yards in the 27-13 non-conference victory, led by Eric Perkins' 204 yards and two touchdowns on 16 carries. Piittmann never got a look at his red zone offense because the Indians didn't wait that long to score.

"Real sloppy first half. I was not happy at all with the way we played. We missed too many tackles, had our heads down offensively. We weren't playing to the whistle," Piittmann said. "We were lucky. The defense played for the most part really well in the first half and that allowed us to keep the game zero-zero or 7-zero thanks to that big play. Third quarter we played much better. Fourth quarter we got sloppy again."

The Indians more than doubled up the Suns on yardage in the first half, about 200 to 90, but threw two interceptions and lost a fumble. They finally broke the ice with 1:28 left in the second quarter.

On second and six from their own 18, senior quarterback Cody Nuernberg let a bomb fly to a streaking Tony Gonring down the right sideline. Gonring had his man beat, caught it in stride and never looked back.

"I was just thinking, don't drop it, don't drop it," Gonring said. "It seemed like it was never coming down."

Once he caught it, his thoughts turned to "don't fumble."

The play ignited the crowd and, more importantly, got Kewaskum on the scoreboard.

"I think it was awesome. Got our momentum going," Gonring said.

"I just let it fly seeing him run down the field," Nuernberg said. "It was huge. It's such a confidence builder for the whole team. It eases everybody's minds. It just makes us come out that much harder the next time because we can know we can do it."

Up 7-0 entering the third quarter, Perkins, who sat out part of the first half not feeling well, made the Suns' defense sick. The junior tailback used explosive speed to outrun defenders and stop-on-a-dime moves to juke them.

He burst left and angled to the right pylon from 37 yards out at the 7:53 mark. In the fourth quarter, he ran up the middle and scampered down the right sideline for a 54-yard score. The point after made it 27-6 with 3:29 left.

This came after Perkins vomited right before the third quarter.

"I was feeling better in the second half," he said in perhaps a gross understatement.

He didn't look all that ill in the first half either, with six carries for 68 yards and a host of broken tackles.

"So quick. So quick. I don't know how else to describe it," Piittmann said. "Makes people miss."

Piittmann said Perkins runs the 40-yard dash in a "legit" 4.4 seconds. "And I used hand timing rules."

Nuernberg gets the best view after he hands Perkins the ball.

"That kid's something else. Just the moves he can make. He puts shakes on guys. It's fun to watch a guy like that run. You just don't know when he's going to bust one. It could be any play," he said.

Nuernberg hit Sam Olla for a 56-yard bomb with 2:25 to go in the third quarter. A missed point after made it 20-0.

"It seemed it was in (the air) at least for 15 seconds but probably like at least three," Olla said.

"We've got guys that can make plays. We've got guys that can run by people," Nuernberg said.

While Kewaskum was on the verge of a blowout, East made it a game. The Suns scored on an 11-yard pass from quarterback Zach Lemke to Paul Kaufmann in the right corner of the end zone with 8:46 to go in the third. The Indians blocked the PAT so it was 20-6.

Brad Boegel recovered East's on-side kick, and the Indians had good field position. But after Perkins fumble at the end of another good run, the Suns recovered and went to work again. From his own 47, Lemke fired a bomb that all-conference cornerback T.J. Schlice ran under and intercepted. Piittmann said Schlice runs a 4.5 40.

Schlice, however, fumbled on the interception return and, as Kewaskum's fans and bench held its collective breath, linebacker Bo Seibel fell on the loose ball, prompting Piittmann to rhetorically ask anyone within earshot, "What's after grey hair? No hair?"

Perkins' fourth-quarter score and Hunter Flanders' PAT put the game on ice and kept Piittmann from joining the Hair Club for Men. Lemke scored on a 34-yard run with 1:32 left to play.

The Indians have work to do.

"I think we're a little overconfident right now. Good wakeup call for us," said Piittmann, this time actually talking to a reporter. "We need to play much better football if we're going to be successful down the road."

SCORING

NOTES

In the second half, Kewaskum received a late hit penalty when an Indian hit a Sun out of bounds on Kewaskum's sideline. Many Indians got out of the way as the play had carried several fast-moving players to the sideline. Others went down like dominoes, the last of whom team trainer Emily Mueller, who fell flat on her back and nearly cracked her head on the track. Mueller was OK but perturbed for not being better protected by the bench, namely sophomores.

NEXT WEEK

Kewaskum prepares for a road game against West Bend's other half, West, which has been the better half in recent years. Last year, the Indians beat the Spartans 14-0 at home in a physical battle closer than what the score showed. West comes off of a 14-0 victory at Germantown.

Indians look good in Scramble, WLT opener

By Judy Harlow

They couldn't quite match Hartford's talent, but the Kewaskum girls golf team played well enough to take second place in the annual Washington County Scramble held at the Washington County Golf Course on Aug. 25.

Hartford came in with an 84, counting its two low teams, then came the Indians with an 88. In third and fourth place were West Bend and Germantown with 92 and 95, respectively.

The sister act of Emily and Kasey Wilichowski captured the medal with a 41, followed by Kewaskum's Kate Winkler and Brittany Duarte at 43. They won a tiebreaker over Jordan Fenney and Becky Schmidt of Hartford.

"We missed out on first place by four strokes," coach Amy Piwoni said, noting she wanted to get Duarte a little varsity experience to see how she would hold up against tougher competition. "Kate was a good person for her to play with ...

They got medals. They were excited about that."

Heather Zuehlke and April Basterdash combined for a 45, while Megan Gavin and Sienna Warnecke came in with a 47.

On Aug. 23, the Indians opened the Wisconsin Little Ten season with a resounding bit of consistency. All five of the girls finished with scores within five strokes of each other at the Old Hickory Golf Club near Beaver Dam., leading to a third place.

Hartford had a big lead over the field, with its sizzling 199. Then came Watertown, second at 204, followed by the Indians with a 214.

"Old Hickory plays pretty tough for the girls sometimes. The roughs are pretty thick ... the greens were pretty fast. I thought we did pretty well," Coach Amy Piwoni said.

Playing in the No. 4 spot, Sienna Warnecke was low for KHS with her 50. then came Kate Winkler with a 52, and Heather Zuehlke, Megan Gavin and April Basterdash all carded 56s.

Basterdash's card included a birdie 2 on the seventh hole, and Gavin parred the same hole.

"She's been playing well lately," Piwoni said about Basterdash, adding, "She had a chip-in on the par three.

Open is a testing ground for young Janke

By Judy Harlow

His classroom covered over 7,000 yards of outdoor landscape early this week.

For 22-year-old Jason Jahnke, playing in his first Wisconsin State Open at the Legend of Bristlecone will definitely be a learning experience, one he feels much more prepared for than he did a year or two ago.

"I played in three state events this summer, and I qualified for all three," Jahnke, a 2,006 graduate of Kewaskum High School and a member at Hon-E-Kor Country Club, said Sunday.

Early in the competitive golf season, Jahnke earned a spot in the 64-man Wisconsin Match Play field, but, "I lost my first match 2-and-1 to Mike Hesselmann, who received a golf scholarship to Wisconsin but since has transferred to Viterbo College in La Cross where he plays golf."

In the Men's State Amateur at The Bull in Sheboygan Falls, Jahnke was even through 14 holes on the first day toward a 79, but, on Day Two, "I had to be aggressive and go for the pins." That plan didn't work out, and Jahnke failed to make the 36-hole cut.

"Hopefully I can make the cut there (Bristlecone)," a confident Jahnke said. Concerning the strong point of his golf right now, Jahnke said it's his short game. "My wedge game is really good," he said, adding, "I feel real good in my putting."

What is also helping him score well is, "I've been keeping the driver in play a lot more."

Concerning his mental preparation, Jahnke said he is a lot stronger mentally. "My head's on a lot straighter ... I feel good enough where I can do something with this game," he said.

The field at the Open started with 180 players, and is cut down to 60-70 after 36 holes. It includes amateurs and professionals, so it is definitely one of the premier events in Wisconsin each summer, one avid players point toward.

Jahnke's summer has been dedicated to working on golf and his future career plans. "Basically I've been working en route to getting a job in border control," he said, explaining he recently passed an oral exam in Chicago and now awaits word on his background check so he will be able to enroll in the academy individuals attend to work in this field.

What will Jahnke's approach be toward playing in the Open? "(I want to) Keep it shot by shot, and don't get ahead of myself," he said.

No matter what happens in the Open, Jahnke has his sights on reaching the finals of the Hon-E-Kor Men's Championship. He took a big step toward that goal Monday, defeating Ethan Geidel, the 2,008 champion, 3-and-1 in one of the quarterfinal matches.

Clark Eichstedt and Jay Krueger join Jahnke in the quarterfinals, Rod Donnelly and Evan Doherty still have to play to determine and final member of the foursome.

Writer's note: Jahnke struggled in the opening round Monday, firing a 42-43-85. Three led the field with 3-under-par 67s.
