Boegel bats with big boys of baseball

Brad Boegel

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

Already a man among boys in some respects, Brad Boegel proved last weekend he belongs with the big boys of high school baseball.

Boegel, a junior first baseman/pitcher who made first team all-state for the second straight season and was the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Player of the Year for the second consecutive year, fared well in the Midwest Classic Baseball Tournament in Plainfield, Ill.

Wisconsin's team went 4-1 against some of the best juniors and sophomores from area states. They only lost a 6-5 game to Kentucky in the final inning.

"Everyone on our team was amazing baseball players," said Boegel.

"We wanted to go undefeated because it never happened before. Our coaches said we had one of the best teams they had ever seen."

Boegel was selected to be part of the team after going to Showtime Sports Showcase Camp in late June in Kenosha, where drills and games showed off players' skills. From 200 players, Boegel was one of 17 selected to join the Wisconsin team at first base/designated hitter. He went 4-for-5 in games with two doubles and wanted to be picked but was realistic.

"I knew that there was a lot of good kids there so I didn't want to get my hopes up," he said.

At last weekend's tournament, Boegel proved he belonged, collecting a few hits, including one double.

"The pitching was incredible. The level of competition was very high. I was impressed. It was crazy to be a part of," he said. "There was few homers there; it was definitely a pitcher's game."

Wisconsin beat Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

"We did have the best record in the showcase," he said. "We took care of pretty much every team."

Boegel said he doesn't remember the scores of all games but he knew the Minnesota win was 4-3. That was the biggest game because that team's pitcher is headed to San Diego State on a scholarship. He throws in the low-to mid-90s and has a good curveball.

Wisconsin hit him pretty well, Boegel said. He got a single to the right side.

Hitting required an adjustment, however. Not one pitcher threw less than 85 mph. Boegel isn't used to seeing this level of pitching throughout the season, so he moved from a 34-inch, 31-ounce bat to a 33-inch, 30-ounce weapon.

"The speed was probably the hardest to get used to, just trying to catch up and get your timing down when you had to swing. You don't see 90 mph fastballs every day," he said. "There's not many kids anywhere that can throw that hard."

The other eye-opener was seeing his own state and region's talent.

"There's definitely some good baseball players in Wisconsin. That's for sure. Not only in Wisconsin, but other states around the Midwest, too," he said. "You hear that all the good baseball is down south. The Midwest has some pretty good talent."

Boegel said his favorite part of the weekend was the atmosphere. He didn't know any of his teammates - nobody else made it from the Eastern Wisconsin Conference - but quickly made new friends at dinner Saturday.

"The kids were all good guys," he said.

Boegel said he will take what he learned and apply it to his senior season.

"I'm just going to use it as a tool knowing what's out there and what I have to strive for to be better than," he said. "I just want to take it and kind of be smarter about the game and learn the mental part of the game."

School District hires food service company

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

Kewaskum School District has hired a food service management company to run hot lunches, which costs the district less and will provide healthier options than before.

The School Board at a special meeting Monday approved hiring A'viands of Roseville, Minn., on a 6-0 vote. Troy Hanson was absent.

District business manager Paul Reichert said after the retirement of food service director Kathy Robinson, he, former superintendent Mike Krumm and interim superintendent David Ewald thought a food service management company would be the best route to go.

Reichert, food service secretary Cathy Rinzel and curriculum director Anne Ignatowski interviewed three companies and examined their proposals. All three recommended the same company.

A'viands came in with the lowest bid of $352,468 which covers food, supplies and a director. For the same services last year, the district paid $415,000, said Reichert, "so it's a savings to the district to do this."

No district employees will lose their jobs. While A'viands will provide a food service director to fill Robinson's role, the rest of the staff will remain, said Reichert.

The contract is for one year with four, one-year contracts optional after that. The contract may be canceled any of the years if a 60-day notice and reason for cancellation is provided, Reichert said.

Board member Bill Kesting said he tried the district's hot lunch last year and wasn't impressed, along with students. He said he hoped for more fresh fruit and less canned fruit, which has more sugar.

Kewaskum School District Parents and Taxpayers,

Having attended the last school board meeting on July 11, 2011, I am pleased with the higher turnout of parents, teachers and concerned citizens... but we need more attendance. Listening to the entire meeting and some of the views of the board members, only solidified my concerns with the way our district is being run. More of you need to see this with your own eyes.

I began getting involved with these meetings because of a couple of issues, and it quickly became apparent that we as a School District can and should do better on many levels.

Part of our responsibility to the next generation is to teach them that our duty with all elected officials is to be certain they are doing the job we hired them to do. If our children start to see us staying involved, they too, are likely to stay involved as they become thoughtful, contributing citizens of our community or the community of their choice. Isn't that what we want for our community? To have a community that not only "says" that they care about our young people, but a community who "shows" our young people that we care, by staying involved... staying educated? And truly doing what is best for them?

If we do not agree with the way an elected official votes, we need to make sure that we are asking "Why" they voted the way they did. It is called accountability... not in an effort to attack someone for their views, rather in an effort to understand how they arrived at that decision. Consider this part of our "homework" for our official evaluation process.

Send your questions and concerns to a School Board Member - their e-mail addresses are as follows:

Bruce Braidigan: bbraidig@ksd.k12.wi.us

Steve Jensen: sjensen@ksd.k12.wi.us

Bill Kesting: bkesting@ksd.k12.wi.us

Mary Miller: mmiller@ksd.k12.wi.us

Troy Hanson: thanson@ksd.k12.wi.us

Sue Miller: smiller@ksd.k12.wi.us

Tim Ramthun: tramthun@ksd.k12.wi.us

The next school board meeting is Mon, August 8th at 7PM in the High School Library... I urge you to attend and form your own opinions.

The time to get involved is right NOW.

Respectfully Submitted,
Heather Oelhafen

Dear Editor & Kewaskum School District Community-

I have been directly involved in the activities of the Kewaskum School District since 2004, seven plus years. During this time, I was a member of the Buildings & Grounds Committee (B&G) and supported many projects including: roof repairs at all facilities, replacement of old boilers with high efficiency units in KHS and KMS, the library, the auditorium, computer lab, the retooling of our tech lab & the soccer field to name a few. In all cases, these projects were completed within budget and without a referendum to the taxpayer!

This spring, when newly appointed school board president Bruce Braidigan asked if I would serve (again) on the B&G committee, I was pleased to offer my time and effort. During this time I submitted a letter to The Statesman about a topic for which I was concerned. My perspective on the topic differed from that of a few Board members. Mr. Braidigan then informed me that concern from these same Board members caused a change of heart for my involvement with B&G, and I was removed. Mr. Braidigan suggested I speak to B&G committee chair Bill Kesting for clarification and after a short conversation with him, was told I would have to write an apology (retraction) letter to the Board. If the Board approved my letter, I was then to publish it in The Statesman. If I wanted to remain on the B&G Committee, this was the procedure I was to follow.

It's hard for me to comprehend that an elected government body would not listen to all the options, ideas, concerns and opinions from their electorate on ways to solve business and financial situations within our district. With a clear conscience and love of this committee, I cannot write such a retraction letter and therefore, will not be able to directly serve the district for the 2011-2012 school year. I look forward to regaining this ability next year, with your help.

God Bless & Go Indians,
Jim Leister
(Former and Future Board member)

Thank You

Dear Editor and Community,

Point-Of-Interest: Buildings & Grounds (B&G). On March 21st as a Board candidate, I attended the B&G committee meeting. Roof and vehicle condition reports were reviewed, as was a 2011 maintenance projects proposal list for: FES (6 items @ $28,835), KES (7 items @ $40,400), WES (4 items @ $58,350), KMS (12 items @ $165,291), KHS (13 items @ $164,267), District Office (1 item @ $150), KCA (2 items @ $1,950), District Wide (2 items @ $16,300) and Vehicle / Equipment needs (1 item/lawn moving equipment @ $45,000). These 48 items cost the taxpayers $520,543! When Business Manager Paul Reichert sought committee approval to take the project proposal to the full Board for final (and required) approval, the committee OK'd it. I was very concerned that little to no discussion had occurred yet it was just in committee, so I thought it was OK.

As a candidate-elect, I attended the April 11th Board meeting. During community questions and concerns, I asked all members (yet pointed my inquiries to B&G committee chair Bill Kesting) about the status of these (48) project items (nobody knew), what the $45,000 "Lawn Moving" expense was (Mr. Kesting didn't know), and if a full Board vote was required to approve these project expenditures (Mr. Kesting said YES).

On May 9th, I attended my first Board meeting. Although on the agenda, the B&G chairman had no update. When I asked about roofs and the possibility of solar panels (to generate B&G dialog), newly appointed Board President Bruce Braidigan informed me that my questions needed to be directed to the B&G committee.

Prior to the June 13th Board meeting, I asked former member Mr. Leister and current member Mr. Braidigan if they recall any action being taken on the B&G projects. Neither knew. I looked into all Board meeting agenda's and minutes since March 21st and found no record of any action. To be clear, there has been no discussion or vote on this matter to-date, as required by Policy 185. There hasn't been a B&G meeting since March 21st either, an obvious attempt to deflect attention to policy and misuse of public funds violations.

Please know that on Sunday, July 24th, I sent an email letter to Mr. Braidigan requesting this issue and several other priority district matters be included on the August 8th meeting agenda, as allowed for in Policy 171.2. Mr. Braidigan reviewed my request the next day (7/25 @ 7:32PM) but has yet to respond by call or email.

KSD educators just received a letter from Business Manager Paul Reichert stating their salaries would be frozen at the 2010 school year rate. This is also a violation of policy as the Board sets district employee salaries, not the Business Manager. What concerns me in general is the spending of money at the expense of our educators. Appointed promotions 'given' to Administration, raises (1.6%) 'given' to Administration, an insurance program costing $350,000+ more than it should have been 'given' in a predetermined and orchestrated manner... and now our educators are being told their salaries are frozen?

Policy violations, improper priorities, manipulation of procedures and open meeting agendas to hide and deflect: I've been a Board member for three months now and I can tell you without hesitation that there are many things wrong within our school district operations. I promise to continue my pursuit of justice in these matters and will keep you informed.

Respectfully in your service,
Timothy Ramthun

Food Service

Karen Jardaneh, A'viands district manager, said the company will offer three fresh fruit and vegetable options each day, but canned fruit will be integrated since it is part of the commodity program from the federal government.

Kesting said he hopes for less processed foods and less cheese.

"We like to cook from scratch," said Jardaneh, adding cheese is part of the commodity program.

Reichert said once the district uses up its supply of commodities it could integrate more fresh ingredients into the lunches - "more the norm than the canned stuff."

Board member Mary Miller said she is happy to see the whole grains rather than white buns on the menus.

Reichert said A'viands won't repeat the same meals as much as Kewaskum has in the past.

"Their variety on the menu is very good," he said.

Board member Sue Miller asked if the company is willing to work with local farmers. Jardaneh said yes and hoped for locals to provide connections. She said apples in the fall are easiest to offer, and perhaps pears, potatoes and onions.

Board member Tim Ramthun asked if A'viands works in any other districts in the state. Jardaneh provided a list that included Reedsburg, Messmer, Whitenall and more.

Board president Bruce

Braidigan said he tried A'viands food at a Wisconsin Association of School Board conference.

"The food was excellent," he said. "I believe they have a good working program."

Still the lowest tuition in UW System after Board of Regents vote

UW-WC tuition increases $235 per year

Annual in-state tuition at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County will increase $235 to $4,503 starting with the fall semester. The UW System Board of Regents voted Thursday to increase tuition 5.5 percent at all system campuses.

The increase marks the end of a four-year tuition freeze for UW-WC. Tuition at UW System's 13 four-year campuses has increased 5.5 percent each of the past four years. UW System President Kevin Reilly recommended the across-the-board increase to make up part of a $250 million reduction in state tax support for the UW System.

"Even with this increase, UW-WC continues to have the lowest tuition in the UW System and remains a tremendous educational value," said Dr. Alan Paul Price, Campus Executive Officer and Dean. "I want to emphasize that we will trim every possible expense to lessen the impact on students of the $250 million budget cut without affecting the quality of education."

The average in-state tuition at four-year UW institutions will be $6,543, an increase of $381 from last year. In-state tuition at UW-Madison will rise to $8,369 and at UW-Milwaukee will be $7,669. The figures do not include student fees, which are approved by the student government and vary by campus. Segregated fees at UW-WC were $13.63 per credit for the most recent semester.

Reilly said the tuition hike will generate approximately $37.5 million in additional revenue for the coming year, which will cover less than one third of the $125 million in budget cuts the UW System must make in the first fiscal year of the two-year budget cycle.

"As we present this annual operating budget, we're keeping our eye on the long-term goal of preserving broad access to a high-quality educational experience," he said. "Ours is not the only state where universities must tighten their belts to deal with state budget cuts, but we have successfully avoided the kinds of double-digit tuition increases that would place a heavier burden on our students and their families. Wisconsin's need for educated citizens will only continue to grow in the dynamic global economy."

Benefit for Tom Fischer Aug. 9

You might know him as your Board of Education President however Bruce Braidigan, it also known outside local political circles in the music world as the lead man for Bruce Russell and the Rustlers, a country and western band. The band will hold a night of country music on Tuesday, August 9 in the Kewaskum Theatre.

This is the fourth year of the show, brought back by popular demand. This year, Braidigan heard that Kewaskum High School Principal Tom Fischer was diagnosed with cancer he decided to donate all proceeds to the Tom Fischer Cancer Fund.

The show starts at 7 p.m. in the Kewaskum Theatre. Doors open at 6:30. Tickets cost $10 and are available at the high school office, Piggly Wiggly, Westbury Bank (Kewaskum and Highway 33 North, West Bend), South Forty Western Wear and WTKM in Hartford.

Bruce Russell has been performing for more than 45 years. In 1981, his first hit record, "Candybars and Lollypops," hit the top 25. He has opened and played with many country artists.

Other band members include Lee Martin, who has performed for 50 years. He has played with several country acts and has released his own CD.

Joy McKay has worked with Russell the past 25 years and with other country artists.

Revival Band has played for many years, including at Washington and Dodge counties' fairs. Its drummer, Homer Justin, is a Kewaskum graduate.

The show lasts about two hours.

Birds of the Kettle Moraine Aug. 13

Join in on Saturday, August 13, for the next program in the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit's Summer Saturday Evening Events, "Birds of the Kettle Moraine." The program will start at 7:00 p.m. and last until about 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. Through the generous support of the Friends of the Kettle Moraine, this program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit includes a diversity of ecosystems from deep forests to open prairies and soggy wetlands. This diversity of natural communities creates an abundance of habitats for a wide array of bird species. Bird watchers have so far cataloged more than 230 species within the forest from the very common red-winged blackbirds to rare red-shouldered hawks and hooded warblers.

Join Bill Volkert, naturalist at Horicon State Wildlife Area, as he shares his incredible images of these winged wonders and how to locate them. During his presentation he will provide an introduction as to which birds migrate through the Kettle Moraine and which remain as summer or year-long residents. You won't want to miss this evening as we take flight with the birds of the Northern Unit.

For further information contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center at (920) 533-8322. They are open Mon. through Fri., 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Sat. and Sun., 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

IN MEMORY

In memory of LLOYD LAATSCH, who passed away five years ago, August 7, 2006.

It broke my heart to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
For part of me went with you,
The day God called you home.

Those we love don't go away,
They walk beside us every day,
Unseen, unheard, but always near,
Still loved, still missed and very dear.

*Always in our hearts,
Mary & family*

Tom Timblin's proposed plan to construct two multi-family residential units west of the Kewaskum Mall cleared its first hurdle as the Kewaskum Village Board voted unanimously Monday night to grant his request to rezone the parcel of land in question from R-1 single family to R-4 multi-family district.

The Chamber of Commerce Annual Dairy Daze event will be held on June 22 and will begin with a Dairy Daze Breakfast at the Randy and Renee Backhaus farm on Hwy. 45 just north of Kewaskum from 7:30 to noon by the AMPI Women of 7C. At noon the festivities progress in River Hill Park with a pig roast by the Jaycees from noon until it is gone and other highlights. There will also be pig races at half-hour intervals, ice cream eating contest, recipe contest, physical fitness demonstration and other entertainment and stands.

Brian Sedgwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sedgwick, rural Campbellsport, and Tom Strigenz, son of Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Strigenz, Kewaskum, have been chosen as the Kiwanis students for the month of June.

This year's Kewaskum High School FFA Banquet held at Amerahn Hall was a huge success. FFA major award winners were Bill Butzlaff, who received the Romy Muckerheide Award; Dave Steger, who received the Star Greenhand Award; Doug Enright, who received the Member of the Year Award, and Renee Kapp, who received the Star Chapter Farmer award. State Proficiency Winners included Doug Enright, Todd Steger, Jon Etta, Joe Schmitt, Jim Herriges and Renee Kapp. Scholarship winners were Wade Jepsen, Todd Steger and Doug Enright.

Hon-E-Kor Country Club's Clark Eichstedt survived the first six hurdles (matches) and went all the way to the finals before finally losing to Skip Kendall and taking second place in the Wisconsin State Golf Association Amateur Match Play Championship at the Oconomowoc Golf Club last week.

In the opening game of the Thiemerdome Thursday Good-time League action, A&M Construction came out of the gates like Wirlaway and finished like a plow horse, losing to BJ and Company 12-10. For people who don't believe in miracles, they should have attended the second game as Bartelt Insurance ended their defeated season and actually won a game in a real slugfest, 2-1 over Thornton's Bombers. Dave Wietor was awesome with his array of super, dooper, blooper pitches to go along with his double dipper slip pitch in this pitcher's duel. Dave Schaub also pitched a great game, however, a key walk to power hitting Gerald Kiefer proved to be his undoing. It appears as if the Golden Agers from the Bartelt squad are going to make their second half surge as long as the Ben Gay and cortisone hold out. As expected the stands were packed with fans waiting to take advantage of the VIP Lounge special after the game which consisted of two pickled eggs and one blind robin with each pitcher of beer. However the next day the Lounge was bombarded with phone calls from irate wives pleading with management to never, ever offer that combination again. Captain Dick Thiemer promised no more specials until things cool off. He did indicate, however he should be getting in a shipment of Vermox soon so he can once again start blending his world renowned Vermox Margaritas. Attendance: 493.

A daughter, Mindy Lynn, was born to Scott and Colleen McKay, Kewaskum, on June 13. Mindy has a brother, Dustin, 1-1/2 years old. Bernard Seil's orchestra of this village has disbanded and in its place a new one has been organized under the management of Sylvester Terlinden, popular local piano accordionist, who was a member of the Seil orchestra. The band is composed of five pieces, and will go under the name of "KeWaynie Five." The original title was picked to signify that the members are from Kewaskum and Wayne. The orchestra consists of Sylvester Terlinden and Sylvester Volm, piano accordions; Russell Heisler, saxophone; Leo Wietor, violin and Rudy Hoepner, drums. All were members of the Seil organization except the saxophonist.

About 55 packages of Soldier Bonus Bonds were received at the local post office Monday and Tuesday by registered mail, according to Postmaster Frank Heppel. Delivery began immediately at the post office for the veterans in the village. While the bonds may be cashed at any time, they will bear 3 percent interest if held. Each $50 bond will increase in value $1.50 a year until it is worth $63.50 on June 15, 1945.

John F. Schaefer and crew of workmen erected a dam across the Milwaukee River on the site of the old dam just north of the Main Street bridge last week. The dam is constructed of stone from the old structure, picked from the river and placed together across the stream. The dam is about two or three feet high and will have a tendency to raise the water north of the dam by several inches. The object of the dam is to increase the depth of the river, thus protecting the large amount of fish spawn which was recently placed in the river by Mr. Schaefer and also providing an excellent swimming pool for the children of the village.

Last week Tuesday someone was very bold in committing daylight robberies as a number of farmers who came to this village to do some marketing, were minus some of their buggy utensils when ready to leave for their homes. If the guilty party could be captured, he ought to be punished to the full extent of the law.

June 10, 1911

During the electrical storm early Sunday morning, lightning struck the residence of Gregory Schmitz, living one-half mile south of St. Michaels. The stroke entered at the gable and passed downward alongside a window, tearing up the window frames on both sides without even cracking the window panes. The plastering in the upper story was nearly all knocked down. The family was up at the time of the stroke. None were injured. The damage done was about $200. One day last week lightning did strike a fence post just in front of the residence. It is also rumored that within the past few years lightning struck about 25 times within a circle of 10 acres around the house.

The graduation exercises held at the M.W.A. Hall in Boltonville last Tuesday evening were quite well attended. The graduates were Thecla Klunke, Elvira Morgenroth, Robert Reul, Albert Garbisch, Arthur Groeschel and Wilmer Feiten.

A special joint meeting of the local fire department was called last week Friday evening for the purpose of taking steps in regard to giving their annual picnic and dance. Proposals for running a Homecoming instead of a picnic were made. After considerable discussion it was decided to take a vote upon the question which resulted 22 to 17 in favor of a picnic. It was finally decided to hold the picnic on Sunday, July 30 in the North Side Park. The committee appointed consists of N.J. Mertes, Jacob Schlosser, Val. Peters, Lehman Rosenheimer and John Marx.

He was accompanied by Anton Schlosser on his return. The accident happened about 1/2 mile from the Retzlaff place when part of the harness of the horse opened and while turning a corner the phils went over the horse after which the rig was thrown to one side and Mr. Nauman was thrown out of the rig forcibly to the ground causing a severe break of his right arm above the wrist.

Big Pond Fun... Yellow Perch Down, Not Out

At morning's end, angler Dave Sura and several friends have a 5-fish per man limit of yellow perch caught off the Racine shoreline on Lake Michigan.

Dave Sura read the bright fireline lying on a tame Lake Michigan until the language told him another yellow perch was ready for breakfast. Sura, who knows the shoreline rock of Racine like another might know a Lazy Boy on Packer Sunday, set the hook and felt the weight on another 12-1/2 inch fish. The rod bent under the struggle and Sura traveled through the ritual that he has completed hundreds, maybe thousands of times before. It wasn't the Great Lakes Perch to 15 inches he had taken from the big pond in 2010. Or the 50 fish each Sunday he remembers catching...and cleaning...with his father and uncle in the 1970s.

But on the Great Lake known for king salmon, in a state showcased for musky, the yellow perch of Lake Michigan has plenty of its own fans and always has; during the decades when catching 50 fish per man per day was the expectation. But even, like today, when dwindling numbers and concern for natural reproduction trigger extreme restrictions in daily bag limits and season structure.

During Wisconsin DNR perch surveys conducted in the spring of 2011, only 283 young of year were found. Any spring yellow perch survey that finds less than 1000 young of year is considered poor. The yellow perch population, in the 1980s so strong that 50 fish per angler per day was no threat to sustainable numbers, has seen ongoing recruitment problems of young of year since the early 1990s. Yellow perch numbers in Lake Michigan according to estimates have declined from more than 24 million in 1990 to several hundred thousand today.

In Wisconsin, the yellow perch season closes from May 1 through June 15 to protect spawning fish. Anglers are restricted to five fish per day. Although fisheries biologists around the Great Lakes recognize severe declines in yellow perch numbers as fact since the 1990s, the season structure and daily bags of bordering states can raise eyebrows when compared to Wisconsin. Apparently, there is no universal agreement on the best approach to protecting the fish.

Illinois closes their season in July when more perch are harvested. Indiana and Michigan don't close at all. Illinois and Indiana anglers have a 15-fish daily bag limit, with 35 yellow perch allowed daily in Michigan. In the opinion of perch veterans like Sura who look at the resource as a part of their life, a universal season structure and daily bag throughout the Great Lakes states would serve primarily the fish population but also the anglers better.

"I think it should be uniform," Sura said. "Obviously Wisconsin anglers should be allowed more than five fish a day and Michigan could sure decrease their bag from 35 fish. If each state adopted a 10 fish per day limit it would be great. You could go fishing and feed a family of four. Right now, in Wisconsin with a five fish limit if you want a meal you have to go down on two days if you're planning a meal which is kind of a pain in the neck."

Sura also believes that a universal season structure that closes the season in spring, like Wisconsin, during spawn instead of during months when the most fish are harvested could greatly benefit the perch population. Specifically, he said, states should close the season in April and May and reopen June 1st when all spawning activity is virtually guaranteed to be concluded.

Last week, I joined Sura, Bob Merriman, and Don Czarnicki of Racine, and Scott Heitman of New Berlin targeting yellow perch in Racine. Note to readers who try this fishing, two anglers of maybe 20 working perch went down hard approaching the shoreline due to early morning moisture and some algae forming on some rocks making the trek a slippery one. "It can be dangerous catching those silly little fish," Sura said. "I see a tumble virtually every morning."

We arrived in pre-dawn to see anglers comfortably spaced on the rocks silhouetted against the water and sky. A perfect morning was promised by a billion stars and an orange glow illuminating the eastern horizon.

We readied small minnow-imitating plastics on bright-colored 6-pound test fireline with 6-pound fluorocarbon leader. The plastics emulate the main perch forage of alewife and the bright line, Sura said as he tutored us in perch catching 101, allows him to detect even the most finicky of hits and set the hook at the earliest sign of a strike.

"The hot bite generally is from 4:00 am to about 15 minutes before sunrise," Sura said. "With overcast skies or a breeze chopping the water sometimes the perch will bite all day. We'll have a three to four week bite if the water temperature stays between 55 and 65 degrees. You want a mix of west winds to cool it down and east winds to warm it back up."

When water temperatures hit the upper sixties, he said, perch tend to move out of the shallows following the baitfish that also head for deeper water. Perch will also forage on crayfish and some round gobies. When cleaning the perch after catching a limit for five anglers of 25 fish, we found only alewife in the bellies.

Moderate but consistent success on the water leaves Sura hopeful for the future. But he also questions whether 2011 DNR survey results accurately reflect current yellow perch recruitment.

"It's not a normal spring," Sura said. "The perch didn't start biting until July 1st, the water was so cold. Maybe the DNR spring trawling surveys wasn't conducted at the right time this year. Maybe, the young of year just weren't found where they normally would have been."

Kewaskum A's

A's continue in first place of Rock River North

The Kewaskum A's dropped a 6-1 night league contest to Lannon on Saturday afternoon in Kewaskum. They remained quiet offensively in this one as they were only able to push across one run on the day.

The A's only run came in the 8th as Mitch Beau delivered a RBI single. The A's were led offensively by Adam Sarauer 2x3 and Mitch Beau 1x4 (RBI). Cory Martin picked up the loss on the mound. With the loss, the A's fall to 4-5 in the Tri-County Night League (20-11 overall).

Kewaskum has a busy week of road games upcoming as they traveled to Watertown Tuesday night for their last night league contest of the year. Then on Friday, they travel to Johnson Creek to take on Oconomowoc in a Class 'A' SWABA semi-final game at 7:30pm. The A's have two weekend Rock River games as they look to stay atop the North Division Standings. The A's travel to Hartford on Saturday (1:30 p.m.), while on Sunday they head to Hustisford (1:30 p.m.) to take on the 2nd place Astros.

Kewaskum bats silent in loss to Brookfield

The Kewaskum A's bats went quiet on Tuesday night, July 26 in a 4-2 loss to Brookfield in Night League action. They wasted a solid performance by Luke Kopeschka who tossed seven effective innings giving up just two earned runs.

The A's did get on the board in the 1st as Brad Young doubled and came around to score on Austin Sarauer's RBI single. It was all the A's could muster until the 8th when they tallied another single run on a Matt Meisenheimer sacrifice fly to cut the score to 4-2. It was as close as they would get though as they went on to lose by the same score.

Kewaskum's 5 homers carry them past Milwaukee

The Kewaskum A's pounded out 26 hits and 5 homers in a 25-1 over Milwaukee Sunday, July 24. Jason Strobel's RBI double in the 1st put the A's up 1-0, and Dan Shea followed with a three-run homer as that ended up being all the A's would need offensively on the day.

The A's continued to score though as every starter finished with at least one hit and the A's scored in all but two innings. Kurt Zagzebski added a three-run homer in the 3rd inning and solo homer in the 8th, while Jake Panzer added a three-run homer of his own in the 5th. Austin Sarauer provided the final homer of the day in the 9th when he belted a three-run homer as well.

Meisenheimer picked up his first win of the year on the mound tossing five scoreless innings. Brad Boegel threw four effective innings in relief to close out the game. The A's were led by offensively by Young 5x7 (RBI), Zagzebski 4x6 (2 HR's, 4 RBI's), Strobel 4x7 (2 2B's, 3B, 4 RBI's) and Shea 4x6 (HR, 6 RBI's). Austin Sarauer 3x6 (HR, 5 RBI's) and Tony Gonring 2x6 had solid days at the plate as well.

Sarauer brothers lead A's past Horicon

The A's ground out a 5-3 victory over Horicon on Saturday July 23 in Rock River League play.

Horicon jumped ahead to a 1-0 lead in the 4th inning, but the A's responded back with three runs of their own in the 5th to take a 3-1 lead. Adam Sarauer, Panzer and Ty Schill all collected RBI's in the inning.

With the game tied at 3-3 in the 7th, Austin Sarauer ripped an RBI double to give the A's the lead for good. Adam Sarauer added an insurance run with a RBI double in the bottom of the 8th to push the A's lead to 5-3, as they hung on for the win by the same score.

Adam Sarauer 2x4 (2 2B's, 2 RBI's) and Shea 2x4 led the A's offensively on the day. Jim Ziegler picked up the complete game win on the mound, as he scattered 7 hits to go along with 2 strikeouts and 2 walks.

Boegel and Coach repeat with top honors in EWC

Indians land six on all-conference team

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

Don't adjust your paper. This isn't the same article you read last year.

The Eastern Wisconsin All-Conference team just looks that way.

But beyond the awards, Coach Doug Gonring said this is the most fun he's had coaching a team in a long time. Everyone this season was a good teammate, he said. They got along, joked with each other and kept each other up.

"Just had a wonderful year with the kids and looking forward to next year, Gonring said.

And it came with some accolades one might expect out of a team that went 17-1 in conference for the second straight season. Sheboygan Falls was a distant second at 11-7.

Junior first baseman Brad Boegel was named Player of the Year for the second consecutive season, and Gonring received Coach of the Year for the third straight time.

Joining Boegel on the first team for the second straight season were shortstop Sam Olla and utility player Mike Schladweiler. Centerfielder Tony Gonring also made first team; he and Boegel were unanimous selections.

Junior catcher Brandon Chapman and second baseman Corey Burdick earned second-team honors.

Doug Gonring said Boegel reminds him of former stars he coached at West Bend East like Mike Mueller and Erik Kraemer back in the late 1990s. He said he's getting more notoriety than professional player and East alum Ryan Rohlinger, who Gonring said was an all-around good player.

Boegel finished the year with seven home runs in the EWC - more than double anyone else - and led the league with 24 runs batted in. He was also first in hits (30), doubles (11), total bases (62) and slugging percentage (1,000).

He finished second in batting average with .484, behind Sheboygan Falls' Cole Heili's .509, second in on-base percentage with .582 (Heili, .603) and second in runs with 23 (Olla, 29).

"Brad's really putting up some great numbers. I believe a little bit comes from his work ethic and a little bit of god-given ability," said Gonring. "He's blessed with a stroke of genius right there."

Boegel was also named first team all state for the second straight season by the Wisconsin Association of Baseball Coaches. He played in an all-star tournament in Illinois last weekend after being selected from 200 players to be part of the Wisconsin team.

Centerfielder Tony Gonring ran down several fly balls, hit .333 on the season and drove in 16 runs, tied for fourth in conference. The switch hitter came up with clutch performances to keep innings alive and win games.

"I think that was impressive. I think the conference recognized it isn't all about your high batting average," said his dad and coach.

Olla ran the infield from his shortstop spot, barely letting a ball get by. At the plate, the leadoff hitter often safely stretched for the extra base and instantly took off on wild pitches and passed balls. He led the conference with 29 runs in 18 games.

"He worked his way onto the base paths and did a good job," said Gonring. "He's a pest."

Schladweiler played left, right pitcher and designated hitter. From his spot in the lower half of the lineup he had the eighth-best average at .383 and was tied for sixth in the conference with 15 RBIs. He drew 13 walks, tied for tops in conference. His .517 on-base percentage was seventh in the EWC.

Gonring called him the "ultimate teammate."

"He moved around, in and out. Schlady for two years ... finished hitting in conference hitting .380," he said. "Schlady just did some good things again. He's a senior. He got smart."

Chapman earned second team honors in his first year as varsity catcher.

"Quite frankly this team isn't as good as we turn out to be without Brandon Chapman being as successful as he is at catcher. The catcher is really a focal point in high school baseball," said Gonring.

Then there was what he did at the plate. Chapman hit .315, was third in conference in RBIs (19), second in doubles (eight), third in total bases (34), tied for first in walks (13) and tied for second in homers with three.

"I don't think there's a fastball Brandon can't hit," said Gonring. "Clutch performer. He picked up the team in various precarious situations."

Gonring said if Chapman learns to hit the other way next year he'll be even more deadly.

Burdick, a sophomore, played a tough second base and still managed to hit .339.

Gonring said whatever he got out of Burdick offensively was a plus.

"The way he played defense and the way he throws the baseball..." he said.

The Indians finished the season 24-7 after hitting a hitting slump at the end of the year. Kewaskum snuck by Oostburg, 4-3, before losing to West Bend East, 4-1, in the playoffs, one game from a rematch with state runner-up West Bend West for a chance to go to state.

Gonring sees another good season ahead with the return of Boegel, Olla, Tony Gonring, Chapman, Burdick and more, like sophomore Austin Goeden who hit .375. Early pitching choices include Boegel - who likely would have received all-conference pitching honors if players could be mentioned twice - Gonring and Burdick.

"The kids have bought into playing baseball and I'm hoping with a strong fall and a strong spring these kids really get prepared and start the season running rather than taking a hit on the chin," said Gonring. "We're in motion for next year already for pitching. The whole thing is coming back right away. Hopefully these young men take note come January and work on playing baseball."

They're going to have some work to do to uphold the excitement and entertainment value the past two Indian teams were able to provide fans, though those teams also perhaps triggered heart conditions and that nasty habit of nail biting. Here are this year's cardiac kids' highlights:

- May 27 against West Bend East: Kewaskum was down 3-1 entering the seventh. Burdick and Olla walked, and Boegel, per usual, clobbered a ground rule double that escaped under the fence. No worries. Cody Nuernberg then hit an RBI single, but Boegel got tagged out in an amusing rundown between third and home. Up came Chapman (0-for-3 at the time) with one out and Nuernberg on second. He ripped a fly to left field that cleared the fence and made a lousy day at school a good day at the ballpark. Fans went wild.

- June 7 at Campbellsport: The Indians fell behind, 3-0, in the first inning and didn't record a hit in the first two. They scored nine runs in the third and eight in the fifth to blow out the Cougars, 19-3, in a mercy-shortened five innings.

- June 9 at New Holstein: A game tied, 3-3, heads into its second extra inning. Olla cracks a home run for a one-run lead and Boegel finished what he started, a 120-pitch, 10-strikeout performance in nine innings. He also hit a homer.

- June 14 against Southeast Wisconsin Christian Homeschool Athletics (SWCA): The Indians fell behind, 5-0, entering their half of the third. They scored six runs in the third to take the lead and 11 in the fourth, a season high. That inning included eight hits, three walks, a hit batter and error. The game ended after five innings with Kewaskum winning, 17-5.

- June 21 at Campbellsport: The Boegel brothers did it. Tied at 4-4 in the bottom of the seventh, Brett Boegel led off with a single, his first varsity hit. Olla then dribbled a ball to third for another single. Enter big brother Brad. The beast smashed a liner over the left fielder's head and it was a joyous night at the Boegel household, after a 5-4 win. Brad said Brett's first hit made his day.

- June 25 at New Berlin Eisenhower: The Indians scored two runs in the seventh to tie the game at 6-6 and force extra innings. They scored one in the 10th and Eisenhower tied it in the bottom. They scored three in the 11th and allowed one in the bottom to hang on, 10-8. Boegel had four hits, and Schladweiler pitched the final nine-plus innings.

- July 1 against Plymouth: Lucas Kopeschka pitched 5 2/3 innings of perfect ball yet nearly got the loss. Down 1-0 entering the seventh, Olla and Boegel walked, and Nuernberg knocked in Olla with an RBI single to tie the game. In the ninth, Boegel was hit by a pitch and Nuernberg walked. Chapman hit a single to left that was misplayed, and the winning run scored.

- July 5 against Two Rivers: Chappy did it again. On a 2-0 count with the bases empty in the bottom of the seventh and a game locked at 3-3, Chapman belted a home run over the left field fence.

Kewaskum won, 4-3.

- July 7 at Campbellsport: Kewaskum used four pitchers in a Titanic-like first inning and fell behind 9-0. The Indians never allowed another run while scoring six in the third, two in the fifth, four in the sixth and three in the seventh in a wild, 15-9, win. The game would later be forfeited because a rule allowing one player to only pitch seven innings every three days was violated, ending Kewaskum's chance at the first undefeated season in EWC history.

- July 12 at Two Rivers: In the final conference game of the year, a Purple Raider growing a Brian Wilson-like beard got fans going with a deafening low voice that could be heard across Lake Michigan. Down, 3-2, with one out left, Boegel stepped to the plate with Burdick at first. A conference on the mound developed strategy on how to pitch to him. It was unknown if a first pitch fastball down the middle was called, but that's what Boegel was looking for and that's the last time anyone on Earth saw that ball. It cleared the left field fence and at least two of Jupiter's moons. Boegel said it was the hardest ball he hit all season. Kewaskum fans unleashed their vocal chords. Naturally, the Indians got into a bases-loaded, no-out jam in the bottom of the inning, but Kopeschka pitched out of it for a 4-3 win.

- July 19 against Oostburg, first round of the playoffs: A listless team got some help in the bottom of the sixth. Olla led off with a single to right, and Boegel followed with one to center. Olla and Gonring had recognized that the third baseman charges bunts, leaving the base open. Nuernberg went to bunt and pulled the bat, back but the third baseman charged anyway. Olla broke for third and Oostburg's catcher threw to the empty bag. The ball rolled into left and Olla scored. Kewaskum won, 4-3.
