School district to implement new math textbooks

By Amy Kumrow

Staff Writer

amy@kewaskumstatesman.com

Parents having difficulty helping their children with math homework will soon have help. The Kewaskum Board of Education last week approved switching the district's math textbooks to Math Expressions starting in the 2013/14 school year.

In 2010/11 school year, the board approved Everyday Mathematics for K-5 while a new resource would be researched. Feedback from parents indicated Everyday Mathematic's methods were confusing and had little support for parents.

Other feedback showed weak skills in basic math facts such as addition, possibly because the content moved too fast, not allowing children a chance to master the skills. Everyday Mathematics was also difficult to modify for special educational needs or offer differentiated materials for those struggling.

Committee members included one teacher from grades 4K-5, a special education teacher, a middle and high school teacher, two parents and three administrators. In October, 2011, the committee met to review the pros and cons of Everyday Mathematics, analyze test data and review five textbooks: Everyday Mathematics, EnVision Math, Investigations, Math Expressions, and Go Math!

From November 2011, through March 2012, student and parent surveys were developed and sent out, text samples were given to teachers for review, and schools were visited for observations.

A rubric was also designed during this time period to evaluate the math texts. Categories identified were Common Core state standard alignment,

Honor Flight receives high praise from Plaum

By Judy Harlow

Statesman Correspondent

Reville was sounded at 0-300 (3 a.m.) this past Saturday morning, and Carl Plaum of Kewaskum was more than happy to respond - not to the sound of a bugle but to the wake-up call of his alarm clock.

This was a day Plaum had been waiting for with high anticipation. It was the day of his Stars and Stripes Honor Flight trip to Washington D.C.

Plaum wasn't disappointed. "It was a nice day absolutely," he said. "It was a full day ... a wonderful experience."

When Plaum first heard about the Honor Flights, he put his name in but didn't get selected for previous trips. "Then all of a sudden (this past spring), I got a letter, and I jumped at it," he said.

Plaum grew up on a farm near Boltonville, and it was his work in the field of agriculture that originally kept him out of the military service.

"I had an agricultural deferment for several years," Plaum said, explaining, later when deferments were limited, and during the spring of 1947, he got drafted into the U.S. Army.

This move helped to bring some of the other military men back home to the United States. "It was good for the other guys because they were in (the service) longer ... I didn't complain," Plaum said, indicating he first went to basic training at Camp Polk in Louisiana, and from there was sent to Fort Monmouth in New Jersey where he was started to learn the dynamics of becoming a radio operator.

In order to continue in the school, Plaum, who was 21 at the time, would have had to re-enlist for an extra year, and when he decided not to re-enlist, "They immediately sent me overseas" to a place in the southern part of Japan near Osaka.

"Those people had to suffer, too," Plaum said, recalling how part of the area had been devastated by fires, which left many homeless.

About the time Plaum was scheduled to come home, "I got scarlet fever again," prompting a quarantine, recuperation and a delay in his orders to go home.

Private Plaum was single at the time he was in the service. "Foot loose and fancy free" is the way he described it, but when he got back home, he found the love of his life, Jeannette, and they were married and two raised daughters, Christine, and Valerie Bauer. They were at Mitchell International Airport when Plaum and the other 100 veterans and their guardians arrived Saturday night.

POLICE REPORTS

Police were dispatched to Whisper Lane on August 26 at 9:08 p.m. for a report of suspicious activity. Homeowners heard noises from the garage. Upon investigations, a younger male, between the ages of 12-13, was standing in the garbage. When questioned about his reason for being in the garage, the male proceeded to leave down the driveway. A second male of similar age ran out afterward. The two boys ran through the condos toward Hwy H. No items of the homeowners appeared to be missing, and the police officer did not find anyone matching the description.

Police were called to Kewaskum Middle School on September 5 at 8:20 a.m. for an attempted burglary attempt. Upon arrival, the police liaison officer met with a maintenance worker on the west side of the school.

A door knob had been struck with possibly a green object, due to paint left on the knob. Though the knob was bent downward, a latch secured the door prevented entry. No suspects have been identified at this time.

Police responded to a vandalism complaint at Miller's Furniture on August 31 at 4:18 p.m. An unknown person moved a condenser pipe which caused water to drain inside the building instead of the outside alley. Significant property damage occurred including carpeting, tile, and exercise equipment. The owner believes the vandalism occurred between August 29 -31. New graffiti between the furniture store and Kewaskum Frozen Foods was also noted. Photos of damaged property were taken, but no suspects are available at this time.

Two lives lost, two families disrupted forever after Auburn crash

By Andrew Kuehl
andrew@kewaskumstatesman.com

TOWN OF AUBURN- The lives of four people changed forever Thursday evening, September 13, after a head-on, two vehicle crash. Sadly, two of them ended, an Eden girl lost her adoptive parents and a Campbellsport man is now left to deal with the tragedy he is accused of creating.

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office was notified of the two-vehicle accident on US Highway 45 approximately one-half mile south of Sandy Road at 5:34 p.m. Kewaskum Fire Department and EMS responded and called for mutual aid from Campbellsport but later cancelled it. West Bend Paramedics also assisted at the scene.

Lt. William Tadych, of The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office reported the accident occurred when a southbound vehicle driven by Daniel Shea, 24, of Campbellsport crossed the centerline and collided with a northbound vehicle. The driver of the northbound vehicle was Paul F. Grahl, 73, of Eden. Grahl was accompanied by his wife, Joanna M. Grahl, 59, also of Eden and their daughter, Esther G. Grahl, 13.

Both Paul and Joanna were pronounced deceased at the scene. Esther sustained serious injuries and was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend and later to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee. Her condition at press time is unknown.

Shea also sustained injuries and was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend. He was later taken to the Fond du Lac County Jail with recommended charges of two counts of Homicide by Intoxicated use of a Vehicle.

On Tuesday, Sept. 18, Shea was charged in Fond du Lac County Circuit Court with those two recommended charges and one charge of Injury by Intoxicated Use of a Vehicle. The first two counts are class D felonies, carry fines of not more than $100,000 each or imprisonment for not more than 25 years each. Injury by Intoxicated Use of a vehicle carries a fine of not more than $25,000 or imprisonment not more than 12 years, six months or both. He would also lose driving privileges for two years.

A criminal complaint filed in Fond du Lac County Court states that Shea was texting at the time of the crash. He also admitted to police that he had been drinking since 11 a.m. at various locations across Washington County. At the time of the crash he stated he was on his way to Kewaskum. A breath test revealed an "inadequate sample" of 0.204. The legal limit in Wisconsin is 0.08.

Shea will be back in court on October, 19.

Indians prepare for homecoming festivities

Everyone at Kewaskum High School is getting ready for next week's homecoming celebration. A week of rousing activities for students and the community will hopefully end with a Friday night defeat of the Kiel Raiders.

The week starts out with the Powder Puff football game on Sunday, September 23rd at 6 p.m. During the game the FFA will provide hay rides for those in attendance.

On Tuesday, September 25th at 7 p.m. a boy's volleyball game will take place in the high school field house, followed by a community bonfire with music will take place in back of the high school at 8 p.m.

The homecoming parade will get underway on Friday, September 28th at 5 p.m. following the traditional route. Any organizations that would like to participate in the parade, should contact Jeff Steers at 626-8427 ext. 4608. The Homecoming Tailgate Party will immediately follow the parade at the Doc Mitchell Athletic Complex, along with a "car smash" sponsored by the FFA in the parking lot. The game begins promptly at 7 p.m.

During half-time, the annual Outstanding Service Awards will be presented. This year, two members of the community are being honored.

"We invite all students and community members to join us for great music, food and camaraderie," stated Steers, Student Government Advisor. "We encourage our community to come together and celebrate with us, and help cheer the Indians onto victory."

The homecoming dance will take at Kewaskum High School the following day from 8 - 11 p.m. with court being presented at 9 p.m. Next week's newspaper will reveal the court.

Looking for a Few Great Characters!

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit is looking for actors and budding actors willing to be costume characters at our Halloween Nature Hikes. This year we will be going with the flow to meet a whole raft of water creatures such as the daring blue damer dragonfly, the ever elegant great egret, the boastful large-mouth bass and loud honking Canada goose. The eleven costume characters are the main attraction of the event and bring the water theme to life. Each volunteer will be provided with a costume and script for a two to three minute presentation. During the evening the characters share their stories with groups of participants who are mainly families and youth groups. Each character may need to give their presentation up to 20 times both evenings.

The hikes will be held on Friday, October 19, and Saturday, October 20, from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m. at Long Lake Recreation Area. In addition to the hikes, there will be games, crafts, snacks, and campfire for people to enjoy. This is a non-scary, fun-filled Halloween event.

If people are interested in lending us a hand by sharing their acting talents, please contact Jackie Scharfenberg, forest naturalist, at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322. Her assessment, content, strategies for differentiation, instructional materials for both school and home, support for teachers and parents, and technology.

Student feedback from grades 3-5 indicated home support is vital, and manipulatives (use of math tools like dice) are important for a student's understanding. Middle school students felt prepared for middle school math, but WKCE test scores proved otherwise.

From the parents' perspective, 27% felt differentiation is needed as Everyday Math was not challenging their child (ren) and 40% of parents were not sure what the child was supposed to be learning. Additionally, it was identified the copyright of Everyday Mathematics was 2004, which was not in alignment with Common Core Standards.

After a vendor presentation on April 19, 2012, staff, parents, and community gave feedback. Math Expressions and EnVision Math held the top two spots. Both texts were cost comparable, but Math Expressions, published by Houghton Mifflin, had test score evidence that showed growth.

Eighty six other school districts were using both, but 24 adopted the 2013 Math Expressions edition compared 19 other Wisconsin public schools choosing EnVision. Neighboring Campbellsport choose Math Expressions after trying both. Pewaukee referred to Math Expressions as "transformational"; students' involvement increased the engagement with the material.

Math Expressions utilizes a method that combines traditional methods, such as the concepts most parents grew up using, with accessible algorithms, such as lattice multiplication. This method also offered on-line parent and teacher support, differentiated instructions in every lesson, math talk and visual representations.

Program evaluation of Math Expressions showed a high school Algebra II completion rate, STAR performance assessments had all students at or above grade level, and both parents and students were satisfied.

The total cost for the district is $37,727.85 and will be taken from the current curriculum budget. An annual cost thereafter would be $20,515 (10% of the total curriculum budget) for purchase of new math text material, which also will be covered by budget allocations.

Similar to Everyday Mathematics, Math Expressions utilizes consumable texts, or journals students write inside. The new materials are to be purchased in December 2012. Over the summer of 2013, teachers will be trained to teach these new methods for students starting in fall of 2013.

Bodden to help people cross the Finish Line

By Amy Kumrow
Staff Writer

Physical fitness instruction for Kewaskum residents has never been more accessible. Terri Bodden opened Finish Line Training on September 10, and offers personal training, small group training, boot camp, TRX, and yoga.

"I started to think about how many places are sitting empty in this town and how I could make something happen here," Bodden said. "I always thought it was something Kewaskum needs, I started looking around, and I knew this was the place I wanted."

Bodden has worked for Kettle Moraine YMCA and Pleasant Valley Tennis and Fitness Club. She is also a certified trainer through ACSM (American College of Sports Medicine), a certified running coach, and a certified TRX (suspension training system) instructor.

Boot camp is a 50-minute class offered seven days a week taught by Bodden from 5:10 - 6 a.m. or 6 - 6:50 p.m. Boot camp is performed in a circuit style and combines cardiovascular with strength conditioning. A special Fall Equinox Boot Camp is October 22 from 8-8:50 p.m. Pam Fleischman and Anne Mathie are additional Boot Camp instructors.

TRX uses gravity and your body for a variety of exercises to build strength and flexibility. The 45-minute class is offered three times a week: Sunday 10:30 - 11:15 a.m., Mon 12:10 - 12:55 p.m., and Wednesday evenings from 5:45 - 6:30 p.m. Yoga will be available beginning in October. Tuesdays will have a four-week beginner yoga session starting October 2, from 6:30 pm to 7:30 pm. Vinyasa power yoga, inspired by Baron Baptiste, will be available on every Thursday morning from 6-7 a.m.

Vinyasa is 60-minutes of going through 11 series of postures. "You are stretched, challenged, and wrung out," according to Yoga instructor Julie Bartel. Postures are modified however to accommodate any skill level. Monthly specialty yoga classes will be offered such as Yin yoga, which is "mat based, holding postures longer and gets down into the connective tissue more."

"What I try to specialize in all my training is you can start at any physical fitness level, and we will meet you where you're at," Bodden states, "So many people think they have to get in shape, but that isn't the case. They can start wherever they are and work at their own level."

Future plans include a late fall, four-week session for speed and agility for pre-teens and teenagers as fall sports end, and there is break before winter sports. Dance classes are being discussed.

Finish Line Training can help anyone achieve their fitness goals. Bodden explained. "I take a holistic approach. My focus has always and is fitness, the physical component to health, but we just don't touch on that. We look at the entire wellness package which includes your mental health, your time management, and even your spirituality, because they all have to come together. We talk very much about why we make the food choices we make, why we choose not to exercise, and putting that all together."

There is no membership fee, participants only pay for what they want, and package discounts are available for all classes. A grand opening week with free classes is scheduled for the week of October 21.

Finish Line Training is located at 1010 Fond du Lac Ave, Suite B, in what used to be SNAP Fitness. For more information please visit their website at www.finishlinetrainingllc.com contact Terri Bodden at (262) 707-1508 or find them on Facebook.

Bereavement group for parents who have lost a child to meet

The last meeting of parents who have lost a child met July 1 with a pot luck supper. It was a wonderful gathering of sharing. Families shared their losses, but most importantly shared their lives with each other. All the families are at different crossroads in their lives and sharing this with other people rewards all of them individually. Some parents have lost their children sometime ago and some have just had a recent loss. The sharing of each other's lives gives other hope and strength to know that they are not alone on this journey.

The more the group gathers, the more they become friends, and friends care about each other. Friends help the process of healing at all stages of life.

The next meeting of the bereavement group for parents who have lost a child will be held on Thursday, October 4 at 7 p.m. at the home of Lester and Shirley Simon at 311 Windell Ave., Campbellsport.

For questions or more information, please call (920) 979-8704. Please join in for an evening with people who have lost a child, but have made new friends by sharing their lives with each other.

"They were waiting for me," Plaum said, reporting also present were bands, a color guard and a bag pipe group playing when the veterans came off the plane.

Also the mail call was very much appreciated. "I got a nice sizable group of letters," Plaum said. "That was really nice."

Fatigue was starting to set in after the visits to the Washington D.C. landmarks and stops at the War Memorial, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier where the veterans watched the changing of the guard. Still,

Plaum was excited about the opportunity he had, especially considering during all the bus trips between stops, "We had a police escort in the front."

Plaum was also grateful for the help provided by his guardian, Becky Rowland of Milwaukee. "She seemed to know what was going on," he said, adding, "She pushed me all around (in the wheelchair)."

Concerning which of the memorials he liked the best, Plaum said, "I thought they were all worthwhile," and he wholeheartedly recommended the experience to other veterans.

Yeska family reunion

SUBMITTED BY ISABELLE (YESKA) MUCKERHEIDE

On September 1, 2012, the descendants of Anton and Stella (Paluka) Yeska gathered in their hometown, Neshkoro (Marquette County) for their 23rd annual reunion. Due to the deaths of my youngest sister, Lucy, who lived on the homestead, the party was held at Stan-O-Gene Park a mile north of town for one day only.

At 11 a.m. the festivities began. In honor of Lucy a moment of silence was observed and a prayer said. A light lunch at noon with sub sandwiches, salad and cookies was enjoyed. Games were held for children and adults. Those more ambitious had a game of baseball. About 80 people attended. The oldest was 94 years old and the youngest was three months.

At 4 p.m. we attended Mass at St. James Place wearing our Yeska family t-shirts.

At 5 p.m. we dined on pulled pork sandwiches, hot dogs, toasted cheese, salads, snacks and numerous desserts. A "frog" game was held and prizes were awarded to those who were lucky.

It was decided to hold next year's event at the same place.

My poem:

*As we gather once again
 In this old familiar place
 Things are not as usual
 Gone is a kind and loving face
 Our dear Lucy has passed away
 To be with those above
 She will always be a part
 Of our never ending Love
 So we will carry on
 As we know we must
 Though it won't be easy
 For in the Lord we trust
 Let's have a celebration
 And carry on as before
 With those we still have with us,
 Who could ask for more?
 The Kerhin's are in charge of this year
 So let the feast begin
 The Yeska clan is pretty tough
 We always aim to win!
 God bless us as we trudge along
 Till once again we meet
 Our loved ones with a warm embrace
 Then joy will be complete!*

Thank You

KEYS 5K Run/Walk October 14

The KEYS Scholarship 19th annual 5K Run/Walk will be held this year on Sunday, October 14, 2012. The race begins as always at 11:00 a.m. and begins and ends at Kewaskum High School. The 3.1 mile race course winds through a residential area and uses a portion of the Eisenbahn trail. Timing will again be done by computer chip by PT Timing to insure accurate and timely race results.

Individuals of all ages are invited to participate in the KEYS 5K Run/Walk. Pre-registration fees are $17 per person, or $55 for a family of four, with a charge of $10 for each additional family member (limited to immediate family only). On race day the registration fee will be $25. Pre-registration guarantees each participant a striking t-shirt commemorating the race.

Online registration can be completed by following a link on the Kewaskum School District website www.kewaskumschools.org/KEYS. Online registrants may pay through PayPal or by check. Registrations can also be completed with the traditional paper forms. When sending completed registrations by mail, the address is KEYS, Inc., P.O.

Box 124, Kewaskum, WI 53040. One name per form must be submitted for either the online or paper registration.

The KEYS Run/Walk is a fund raiser for the more than 30 scholarships which are awarded annually to seniors graduating from Kewaskum High School. In 2013, over $95,000 will be awarded in scholarships to students who plan to attend either a technical or four-year college. Contributions from 50 generous businesses, individuals, and organizations help to make the KEYS scholarships possible.

Hon-E-Kor Scramble and Badgers make for a colorful contest

Moving the annual Hon-E-Kor Scramble to late September may have resulted in many more fall colors on display, but the H-E-K Golf Scholarship Committee has decided to ensure a more colorful event by adding two contests. Since the UW Badgers play at Nebraska the same night (Sat., Sept. 29) as the scramble, one of the contests involved determining which foursome is the best dressed in their Badger red gear, whereas the other involves individuals with the worst John Daly pants. Participants may combine their attire to compete in both of the most colorful contests. Either way golfers should anticipate a very colorful fun-filled event.

The Hon-E-Kor Golf Scholarship Committee will be conducting a four person scramble with the help of the Kewaskum High School boys and girls golf teams for the goal of helping to fund the annual H-E-K Family Golf Scholarship as well as benefitting the KHS Golf teams. Foursomes will compete in a variety of divisions, mens, womens, mixed or coed, using the modified stableford scoring system, points vs. pars, for recognition awards, prizes, trophies, and Hon-E-Kor gift certificates. Not to mention prizes for the best and worst dressed winners determined by the dinner crowd.

Entry fees include 18 colorful holes of golf, power cart, on-course hole (flag) events, raffle prizes, 50/50 spin wheel draws and a delicious buffet style dinner, as well as the most colorful contests, for both spirited foursomes and interesting individuals. Fees will be $70 for non-members, $40 for H-E-K members and $20 for additional dinners. Entry forms are available at the Hon-E-Kor Pro Shop, KHS Office or any member of the boys and girls golf teams as well as online at www.hon-e-kor.com.

If you have any interests, questions or for reservations, please contact Kelly or Kate at Hon-E-Kor at (262) 626-2520, KHS golf coach Glenn Eichstedt at (920) 539-1468, Scott Rohlinger at (262) 689-6989 or Amy Uhlig at (414) 852-0620. The H-E-K Family Scholarship Scramble will begin with a shotgun start at 1 p.m. on Saturday, September 29. Dinner is scheduled for 6 p.m., with the awards program at 7 p.m. The celebration begins with the UW-Badgers football game at Nebraska at 7:30 p.m.

Course offerings continue to prepare students for real world experience

KHS tech ed department continues to grow

Patrick Moerchen (left) watches student Teddy Wollner (right) operate the new laser engraver machine at the high school.

The laser engraver has the ability to engrave on almost any material, but can only cut wood, plastic, and acrylic.

Technically skilled workers are in demand, and Kewaskum High School has been help meeting the need of employers. With the recent addition of a laser engraver, the technical education program is continuing its solid reputation.

High school students can learn trades including building/construction, mechanical and architectural design, manual and computer aided machining welding, electronics, engine technologies, and graphic communications. "A large majority elect to choose these classes," said Principal Tom Fischer.

Most of these classes offer college credits to transfer with students post high school study. "Skills received here are above the average high school curriculum," Assistant Principal Kristine Dreher states, "It's one of the best technology departments in the state."

Students learn how to design with open ended and problem based activities. Additionally, students develop and use technological systems as well as apply the knowledge in real world experiences. Work is done either individually or as a team.

Internship opportunities are available, but based on a business's willingness to cooperate with the high school. "We very consistently have companies contacting us directly looking for kids to get into the skilled trades," Patrick

Moerchen said. "We have a good history, and these companies like Kewaskum students."

Mike Stal of Willer Tool Corporation states, "We have four young men working at Willer Tool thanks to Pat and his programs, which are helping to fill the needs of the area. These young men are all trained well, are working full time and will have a valued career here."

"We have a nice program for Washington County," said Moerchen, "for a high school, we are cutting edge." Some students who attended a university such as UW Stout or Platteville report classes taught at the high school were more in depth than those at the college level.

The technical education program has been around for years and keeps up with the industry's financial restrictions. "One of the reasons for success is we have a lot of support from the community, from school leadership and administration, and we are a hands-on technical program," Moerchen continued.

For the 2013/14, the program is looking to add an autos program to extend past small engines. STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, & Mathematic) Accreditation is also being sought after for additional college credit opportunities for students.

After his tour at the high school this past Monday, Assemblyman Daniel LeMahieu said, "Having a technical education is something that other high schools have gotten away from and need to go back to. Kewaskum has a head start."

The future of the program is solid, but the direction the school is taking has yet to be decided according to Fischer. He hopes to get more girls involved with the program, especially the engineering field, because of the career opportunities.

THANK YOU!

25 Years Ago

July 31, 1987

On July 1, 1987, Myron R. Strobel, Kewaskum, purchased the Amoco-Strobel Oil Company business from his father, Lester P. Strobel. Myron has worked for his father for 10 years, since his graduation from High School in January of 1977. Myron's dad, Lester, was an Amoco agent from November of 1972 to July 1, 1976, and then an Amoco Jobber until July 1, 1987 for a total of 15 years with Amoco. He will completely retire in a year or two. Myron and his wife, Becky, will operate the business out of their home.

Tom and Diane Piwoni, Kewaskum, recently leased Keller's Tavern on Fond du Lac Avenue (now Fifth Quarter) and took possession on July 1. The Kellers, Faye, Cocky and Carole, will remain in the upstairs living quarters for the present and will also spend time at their summer home in Shawano. The Kellers have operated the tavern for 37 years. Tom and Diane are well known in the area, having owned and operated Tom's Place (formerly Kewaskum Opera House), Tom's Country Inn on Hwy. 45 north, and the Kewaskum Saloon on Main Street where they were in partnership with Ken and Sandy Bonlender of Kewaskum. Tom and Diane now invite you to T's Lounge.

William and Valera McDonald of Hartland have purchased the Wes and Rosie Kuehl Tavern on Main Street and took possession on Tuesday. Wes and Rosie have moved back to their Shawano home.

The Village of Kewaskum received three bids for repair renovations at its fire station located at 1106 Fond du Lac Avenue. The work to be done is to correct water leakage problems along the parapet and walls on two sides of the building. The structure has been plagued with the problems for the last few years. The department and village board decided the problem had gotten to the point where serious damage to the building will result if the necessary repairs are not made in the near future.

Sixteen members of the Kewaskum High School Class of 1937 gathered at Hon-E-Kor Country Club on June 28 to celebrate the occasion of their 50th anniversary of graduation. Those in attendance included Jeanette Krautkramer Reberdy, Marcella Prost Krueger, Fred Miller, Lloyd Schmidt, Dorothy Smith Leb, Ruth Jansen Borchert, Orville Reysen, Art Weddig, Lucille Backhaus Butzke, Laura Hirsig Miller, Ruth Clarence Fleischer, Werner, Fred Dorn, Sylvester "Bill" Gutekunst, Willard "Barney" Prost, and Lloyd Backhaus. The entire class picture was published in the Statesman in the Memories column. Other members of the class that were unable to attend the reunion were Dorothy Becker, Viola Hawig, Helen Rosenthal Scott (deceased), Marcella "Sis"

Heisler Harbeck, Iris Bartelt Weinberger (deceased), Jeanette Werner Westerman (deceased), Doris Seil Heimann, Rose Lecher Bauer (deceased), Ralph Marx (deceased), Myron Belger (deceased), Orlin Reysen (deceased), Marvin Koenig (deceased), Walter Werner (deceased), and Howard Walter (deceased). This was the first class to graduate under Principal Clifford M. Rose.

Rich Straub, a 1987 graduate of Kewaskum High School, participated in the National Wrestling Federation Junior Freestyle and Greco-Roman Tournaments held in Cedar Rapids, Iowa recently. Straub was wrestling at 143 pounds. He won his first three matches and then lost two to end any chance he had to place. There were 139 wrestlers competing in his weight class.

In the battle for the second half championship of the Thiemerdome Goodtime League, A.M. Construction clobbered Thornton Thunderers, 9-2. In a post-game interview the owner and manager of Thornton's Thunderers, stated the oath of celibacy was just too much for his team to handle and they came out very flat for this very important game. The other game featured a couple of also rans in the second half as Barrel Haus crunched Bartelt Insurance, 8-3. Bartelt Insurance was short a player, so the manager of Barrel Haus, Kurt Schmidt, loaned the services of Buddy Perkins to the Bartelt squad. He fit in real well with the golden agers from the Bartelt squad because when they would talk about the good old days, they were talking vintage trash talk, mostly referring back to World War II. Buddy was showing off his new Double Eagle Puma blow out proof baseball shoes. No more blowouts rounding third base for this Perkins fellow. Next week's game is the (world) championship game between first half champ BJ and Company and A.M. Construction. Chairman of the Thiemerdome Board of Directors, Richard Thieme, received a phone call at about 1 pm from President Reagan from the Washington House in West Bend, (where the President was visiting). The very disappointed "Head Man" said he had tried to rearrange his schedule to visit Hartford, West Bend and Port Washington on Thursday and then have the presidential helicopter drop him off at the Thiemerdome Heliport so he could throw out the first pitch, and hoping against hope management would allow him to broadcast the game just like the good old days with Dutch Reysen calling the play by play. However, he had promised to take Nancy shopping for a new dress on Thursday evening and we all know how that goes! So, no game for the deeply saddened Mr. President. Attendance: 578.

Golf tournament scores look promising for Lady Indians

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Saving their best for last, the Kewaskum's golfers turned in some fine scores in the Terror Invitational hosted by Appleton West last Saturday.

Playing in their third meet of the week, the Indians came in with a 413 total, good for 18th in the 22-team field.

Brittany Duarte led the Indians with a 47-48-95, her best of the season. Her card included two pars on the front nine and three on the back.

April Gilane shot a 47-52-99, while Destiny Duarte fired a 48-58-106, and Emily Eutsey a 113 on nines of 56 and 57.

"This was by far our best showing of the 2012 season. I was very pleased with the performances of Brittany, April and Destiny," coach Amy Uhlig said. "I'm hoping that we can use this momentum to help us finish the season strong."

The race for the Wisconsin Little Ten girls' golf title is going right down to the wire.

Recently, it appeared Beaver Dam was going to win easily, but a lot changed after last week's match at Hartford. Oconomoc turned in a sizzling 186 total for first place, while the Golden Beavers struggled to finish fifth at 197. That created a tie for first place between Oconomoc and Beaver Dam. Both have 10 points.

Finishing second in the match at Hartford CC were the host Orioles, who posted a 193. West Bend and Watertown tied for third with 195s.

Kewaskum, led by Brittany Duarte, had a 213. Duarte came in with a 47, the ninth best score overall. All the rest of the KHS counters had rounds in the 50s, including a 53 from April Gilane, 54 from Destiny Duarte and 59 from freshman Lead Wilde.

Going into the final meet, after Beaver Dam and Oconomoc comes West Bend with 15 points, Hartford with 20, Watertown with 21 and Kewaskum with 29.

In the annual Sheboygan Invitational on Sept. 10 at the Town and Country Golf Course, Kewaskum placed 17th out of 20 teams, coming in with a 433 total.

Green Bay Notre Dame was impressive in winning the meet with 341 strokes, 31 ahead of the combined Sheboygan team.

For the Indians the senior Duarte was low with an even 100, followed by Gilane's 103, Destiny Duarte's 113 and Wilde's 117.

Tennis team back on track after win over T.R.

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

With matches against Plymouth and Roncalli out of the way, the Kewaskum's girls tennis team returned to its winning ways last Tuesday, defeating Two Rivers 5-2 in a match made a whole lot easier because the host Raiders forfeited three singles competitions.

"Finally, we had our team together with all illnesses over," KHS coach Matt Fehlhaber said, and he was especially pleased with the "double bagel" victory at No. 2 doubles where Mallory and Maddy Kreis defeated their Raider opponents, 6-0, 6-0.

Kewaskum also received a solid effort from Amber Flasch and Jessica Etta at No. 3 singles. They won 6-2, 6-3.

The five match wins give Kewaskum 29 (points) for the season in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play, one more than it had last season, and there is still one match at Chilton to go.

As far as their EWC dual meet record, they Indians are now 5-3.

Late surges lift three Gridiron teams

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

Never-give-up attitudes lifted three Gridiron teams in Parents Night action in Kewaskum last Saturday.

The seventh graders were down 8-6, 85 yards from the end zone with time running down when they came up with an electrifying touchdown. The fifth graders (1-1) came from behind to win 18-12 and the sixth grade wiped out a 14-7 deficit to tie their game against the Thiensville-Mequon Cardinals.

Patrick Krier was the man of the hour for the seventh graders (1-0-1), hauling in a pass from Cole Suprenant and outracing three Cardinal defenders to the goal line for a 12-8 victory.

"It was perfect timing ... right in stride, and he went all the way," coach Tom Kudek said of the halfback option play he called.

Thiensville-Mequon led 8-0 near the end of the third quarter when Dan Kreis scooped up a fumble and took it to the Cardinal 28-yard line. Two plays later, speedster Tony Steger scored on a 27-yard run, but the PAT kick by Colton Fox was no good.

The Cardinals moved the ball inside the Kewaskum 20 but two penalties pushed them back and eventually they ran out of downs.

Odds were against the Indians, but Krier came up with the big play for the win.

Thiensville-Mequon had one last chance but Steger picked off a pass, and the Indians ran out the clock.

Fifth grade coach Mark Walcheske said, "We took control of the game in the last two minutes with a 16-yard touchdown strike from Jed Ermer to Mason Pomeroy on a halfback option pass on fourth and goal." This was Pomeroy's second. He also caught a 20-yard strike from quarterback Brady Stern in the first quarter.

Ermer ran for 46 yards on a sweep in the third quarter to tie the game at 12-12.

The game was tied 6-6 after first half which featured five fumbles.

"Adjustments were made at halftime, and the offensive line settled down ... we were able to move the ball efficiently," Walcheske said, adding his team gained 279 yards on offense.

Defensively, Joshua Bocher, Kaeden Cappozzo and Jermaine Thull stepped for Kewaskum.

Kewaskum's sixth graders (1-0-1) used an 8-yard bootleg run from Ryan Prochnow and a Prochnow to Eric Bauer pass on the PAT to earn the tie.

A 40-yard pass to Alex

Deheck gave the Indians their first score, with Bauer tacking on the point after on a pass.

"Alex Sette ... that kid had a great game against a very good running back," coach Joel Tietz said. "He made a lot of tackles, and was really disciplined."

"We made a few mistakes that really hurt us," Tietz said about some early fumbles.

The Cardinals made their first PAT kick, but Kewaskum blocked the second try.

The eighth graders fell to 0-2 after being upended, 38-0.

"We lost our quarterback (Dalton Poole) on about the fourth game of the year," coach "Jonesy" Korth said, adding his best lineman, Dylan May, also was injured after he blocked three PATs.

Michael Boettcher came in at QB and directed one drive in the third quarter but was intercepted on the 15, and one of the Cardinals went all the way with it.

"Defensively, we had nice play from Dalton Espitia and May," Korth said.

Indians take Kettle Moraine Bowl title

Hunter Flanders catches a ball from Brett Boegel and takes off down the sideline in last week's 27-18 win over Campbellsport.

CAMPBELLSPORT - That wasn't Aaron Rodgers and Jay Cutler performing at last Friday's Kettle Moraine Bowl.

No, Brett Boegel and Taylor Ramthun put up much better stats than those two combined. Boegel went 19-28 for 355 yards and three touchdowns with three interceptions. That's about half of a season for a typical Kewaskum quarterback.

Ramthun went 5-14 for 151 yards and two touchdowns with one interception.

Most of the aerial show came in the first half, when Boegel hit Casey Steinman on a 65-yard bomb and Krupp for a 49-yard score. Boegel often patiently stood in the pocket, waiting for his target to break free.

"I really trust my line and they proved it tonight," said

Boegel.

"We've been striving to have a little more balance in our offense," said Coach Jason Piittmann.

Apparently, they tried to balance the run-pass scale all in 24 minutes. The Indians threw more than 20 times in the first half. Boegel often hit Krupp on a quick pass to the sideline or tight end Greg Rate on a rollout.

Injuries plaguing lady Indians

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

At this point, Kewaskum's volleyball team's goal is health.

The Indians lost another player to a knee injury last week against Campbellsport, and has struggled to find chemistry with so many new players.

Kewaskum went 3-2 at Saturday's Slinger Invite, beating Grafton, 25-23, 23-25, 15-13; Slinger, 25-18, 21-25, 15-8; and Cudahy, 25-9, 26-24.

The Indians lost to New Berlin Eisenhower, 7-25, 19-25; and Elkhorn, 16-25, 20-25.

"Anna Aycock and Mikkin Anfall played pretty good for us," said Coach Joe Moser.

For the day, Aycock, Kewaskum's monster in the middle, had 67 kills. Abfall had 28.

Kelsey Phillips made 68 digs on the day. Marisa Stahl had 51 assists and Heather Johnson 36.

Kewaskum lost outside hitter Ashlee Stahl to a knee injury on Sept. 11 at Campbellsport, which keyed a loss in four games, 25-22, 25-27, 23-25, 15-25.

"Once she went down we just kind of fell apart," Moser said.

Aycock had 21 kills and five aces. Marissa Stahl and Heather Johnson each had 11 assists. Phillips had 27 digs.

The Indians already lost their setter before the season and an outside hitter during the season.

Apparently nobody on the team is safe. Even Moser said he jammed his thumb in practice last Friday.

Kewaskum hosts Sheboygan Falls on Thursday and plays in the New Holstein Invite on Saturday.

Indians lose to Waupun

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

Kewaskum's soccer team couldn't quite exact revenge on Waupun last week, dropping a 3-1 game for the second loss to the Warriors this year.

Nick Bier scored the Indians' goal. Tyler Voge made 16 saves in goal. Kewaskum was down 3-0 at half and couldn't claw back into it.

Against one of the conference's best teams earlier in the week, the Indians lost, 8-0, to Two Rivers.

The Indians are 2-12-1 overall and 1-7 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

The offense, though shocked that many pass plays were being called, didn't mind being in what felt like a track meet.

"I had a great time," said Krupp, who finished with 160 yards receiving and his fourth straight game with a touchdown catch.

Boegel's bomb to Steinman, though it hit him in stride, wobbled a little bit, triggering one assistant coach with a booming voice to tell Boegel he should make it look "prettier."

Hunter Flanders - all 6-foot-4 of him - had another jump ball for a score, this time from 27 yards out. Boegel tossed the ball straight up into the air, much like how our Mars Rover took off for space, though the ball took much longer to come down. At the height of Flanders' leap, the defensive back's head reached his waist.

Starting halfback Teddy Wollner had 155 yards rushing but his biggest play may have been a third-down 10-yard catch and run in the first half that extended a drive and led to a touchdown. Wollner rumbled - that's how he often runs, he rumbles - through traffic, lunging forward for extra yards.

Most of Wollner's damage came in the second half when Kewaskum looked more, well, like Kewaskum, pounding the ball down the Cougars' throats. "That's Kewaskum football," said Krupp.

It came after Piittmann gave another one of his patented halftime speeches.

"The kids responded," he said. "That's the big thing. This is the most adversity we've faced all the season and the kids answered the call."

Still, the Indians were tied at 6-6 at one point and only led 20-12 at half. It was the closest game they've had all season.

"We really overlooked Campbellsport," said Boegel.

"Next week we'll come out strong. We've got to feel some urgency now," said Krupp.

But the trophy for the Kettle Moraine Bowl again stayed south. This is the eighth year in a row the Indians won the rivalry, and they lead the series 43-30-1.

This week, Kewaskum travels to Waupun. One more victory and the Indians are again playoff eligible. Kewaskum is 4-0 overall and 3-0 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. Waupun is 0-3 in the EWC.

Top competition looms as the Indians face Two Rivers and Plymouth, both 3-0 in the EWC, in the two weeks to follow.
