

Village residents were lucky Bilgo decided to stay home

By Judy Harlow
Statesman Correspondent

While the majority of young people from the Kewaskum area move on to places their careers take them or to find "brighter lights," there are also those who are content to raise their families here and dedicate themselves to making the village a better place.

In the latter category, and right near the top, was one August "Augie" Bilgo, who passed away Saturday after a battle with cancer.

Bilgo was born in his family home, graduated from Kewaskum High School and later worked his way up to become the head of the village's public works department, a position he served in from 1975 to 1991. He also put in countless hours for the Kewaskum Fire Department, which he was actively involved in for 34 years (1951-'85), the final 10 as its chief.

Gregor "Crickets" Rohlinger worked with Bilgo in both capacities.

Rohlinger worked hand in hand with Bilgo. What stands out in his mind is that "He would take hold like anyone else," meaning Bilgo was working right along side the crew.

"They all worked together so well,"

Bev Rohlinger said about the crew, which included Bilgo, her husband, her late brother-in-law Al Rohlinger, Sylvester Schmidt, Alan Kuehl, Bob Manthei and later Jim Noren. "He (Bilgo) wasn't really a boss. He was a friend."

Once when her husband was in the hospital, Bev Rohlinger remembered how the crew came to visit with a very special plant. "They made it out of pipes ... You (Crickets) were smoking a pipe then," she said.

In the mornings, Crickets recalls how, "I'd wait for him at the corner, and he'd pick me up (for work)." Many days, the two, and others, would catch a hot breakfast at Campbell's Village Inn before starting work.

At Campbell's, Bilgo was known to be a bit of a jokester, and he never went anywhere without a big smile.

Ron Amerling served as the treasurer of the Fire Department when Bilgo was the chief.

Residents warned of recent string of burglaries

By Amy Kumrow

Areas east of the Village of Kewaskum have had an increase in burglaries. A significant amount of items have been stolen. Recently at the Town of Farmington Town Hall, garages were broken into and burglarized.

Both the town of Farmington hall and three garages there leased by Wayne's Trucking and Grading had large amount of tools taken. In addition, the town of Farmington lost a welder, two chain saws, a weed whacker, a leaf blower and a large tool box.

At an East Moraine Drive location, in the town of Kewaskum, on October 3, a lock was taken out of a pole building. Items stolen from that location included five chain saws, a large quantity of copper pipe fittings, electric Spade, Makita electric spade, Bosch concrete drill, Milwaukee chop saw, and a boat prop.

On September 26, homeowners on Valley View Road in Farmington were awoken around 2 a.m. by a loud noise. Upon inspection, no one was seen; however, it was obvious that someone tried to open a locked storm door. Entry was not gained, and nothing was stolen.

A large pole shed on State Highway 144 was broken into between September 9 and Sept 15. Over $10,000 worth of equipment was taken. Items included in the theft were welders, plasma cutters, assorted wrenches, tool box, drill bits, a socket set in a black case, air chuck, Craftsman 3/4 drive breaker bar, and an impact wrench.

On September 10, padlocks on two sheds on Jay Road were cut off so entry could be made, an ATV was taken. Nothing else appeared to be taken. A few days earlier a resident on State Highway 144, discovered several boxes of tools and firearms, with an approximate value of $1,000 were taken. If anyone has information about any of the burglaries, please contact Sheriff's office at (262) 335-4420 or anonymously at the Washington County Law Enforcement Tip Line at 1-800-232-0594.

Bilgo

Augie Bilgo is shown above with a Kewaskum Fire Department water truck before a Firemen Annual Parade. Bilgo passed away this past weekend after a brief struggle with cancer. He served as Kewaskum's Fire Chief from 1975 - 1985.

Submitted photo

"I had five chiefs, and each one was different," Amerling said, explaining Bilgo was "a people person, and we all had a lot of respect for him."

Amerling went on that Bilgo was "very professional" and under his direction, "Things got done, and that's the way it was for the village, too."

One of the major things that got done was the construction of the fire station on Fond du Lac Avenue.

"Everyone in the area knew him," Amerling remarked.

Kuehl, known as Moochie, started on the crew less than a year before Bilgo did, so they worked together for a long time.

"He was a good guy. He wasn't afraid to dig in and get his hands dirty, I'll tell you that," Kuehl said. "He was old school."

And sometimes getting in and helping was hazardous.

Kuehl remembers one time when a water main broke near the Gateway Café, and both he and Bilgo were working in the hole. "We just got out of the hole when it collapsed," Kuehl said. "He was a great leader."

Bilgo is survived by his wife of 59 years, Verla, four children, 11 grandchildren and two grandchildren. A full obituary can be found on page 10.

KHS Student Government sponsoring blood drive

By Amy Kumrow
Statesman Correspondent

Last year, Americans donated 6.5 million units of blood, which provided the United States with 40% of our blood supply. On October 29 from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m., the high school will be having a blood drive for students, staff, and community members.

In previous blood drives at the high school, the turnout was good. The goal of 70 units was achieved during the blood drive in spring, and the additional summer drive collected well over 35 units. The goal was 25 units.

Usually the blood drive is held later in November, but with the blood drive date conflicting with deer hunting season, the decision was made to have the blood drive earlier.

Basic requirements for donations is the donor must be 17-years-old (16 with parents permission) and weigh minimum of 110 pounds. Prior to donating blood, donors are asked to eat an iron rich diet. On the day of the donation, they should drink an extra 16 ounces of fluid, and wear comfortable clothing.

After registering on the day of donation, a mini physical is done by licensed nurses. The physical will include temperature, blood pressure, pulse, and hemoglobin count (iron levels). In addition, donors will be asked questions concerning their medical history, recent travel, and any medications they are currently taking. A donor with an iron count below 12.5 g/dl (grams per deciliter) and any donor experiencing cold/flu like symptoms will be not be allowed to donate. Certain medications and recent travel locations would also stop the donor from giving.

Students can make an appointment during their lunch. Community members can contact Lois Volesky at the high school, 626-8427 ext 4703. The blood drive will be held in the Choir Room and is sponsored by the Kewaskum High School Student Government.

Wayne Township theft solved, resident facing felony charges

By Amy Kumrow
Statesman Correspondent

Supervisors in Wayne Township had considered installing a security system at their recycling station, but the idea was put on hold after a recent theft there was solved. Felony burglary charges for the August 4 theft have been brought against Christopher Heppner, 30, of the town of Wayne.

With the thief identified and brought to justice, supervisors at their October 17 town board meeting, decided against installing a $4,294 security system. They also recognized questionable computer compatibility.

"Word is getting around the place is being watched," stated Chairman Carl Klemme at the meeting.

On September 27, Heppner allegedly went to A&W

Recycling in the town of Barton with six bags of aluminum cans and aluminum rims. The Washington County Sheriff's Department was called, since the items were identified as being stolen.

A Deputy later attempted to contact Heppner at his residence. While approaching the back door, he noticed an aluminum ladder, identified as being taken from the recycling station, laying the backyard.

Later in his shift, the Deputy talked to Heppner over the phone. Heppner then came to the Kewaskum Police Station on October 1 to discuss the matter. At this time, police learned Heppner had a warrant for larceny of a building in Menomonee Falls, and was arrested.

Charges of felony burglary have been filed with the District Attorney for the theft.

To the Editor:

On Saturday, October 27th, 2012, from 5p-7p, the children in our great community will be out in their Halloween costumes trick or treating for candy and treats.

Trick or treating is something I have fond memories of and something these children will always remember doing as well. As Chief of Police, safety for our young people is of my utmost concern and I wanted to take a moment to pass along some tips: parents please walk with your child, stay in familiar neighborhoods and make sure your children don't cut across yards. Please stay on the sidewalks and out of the streets and cross only at intersections and designated crosswalks. Children should never enter any house unless they know the people and should never approach unfamiliar pets and animals. Further, please watch for cars backing up or turning and NEVER accept rides from strangers! Children should also never eat any of the candy until it is inspected for tampering and avoid candy that is unwrapped or has a loose wrapping. Small children should not be allowed hard candy they may choke on, and as always, report any suspicious or criminal activity to the police.

Furthermore, the adults in our community need to remember that this is an event geared towards children; therefore it is not an event where openly consuming alcoholic beverages on public ways will be accepted. Village Ordinance 6.4 states that ...no person shall be in possession of any glass or open container containing intoxicating liquor or fermented malt beverage or drink from the same on any public way, street, sidewalk, boulevard, parkway, safety zone, alley or parking lot, or on and/or in any motor vehicle parked on a public way, street, alley or parking lot. The consequence for violating this ordinance is a fine of $208.50 and a bad experience for your children who are trying to have fun trick or treating.

The Kewaskum Police Department will be conducting foot and vehicle patrols in an effort to have a safe and successful trick or treat, but we cannot do it alone...with your help our children will have a safe and fun day!

Thank you,
Thomas F Bishop
Chief of Police

To the Editor:

We've known Glenn Grothman since he first ran for the Assembly. We initially backed him because of his conservative views on taxes, business, and social issues. He has not disappointed us one bit. He is always easily accessible and can be seen anywhere people gather, be it at a firemen's picnic, a church social, or a fundraiser for a local school.

Glenn is now under attack by a West Bend school teacher who tried to recall him last year. Doc was on the school board for many years and always wanted Madison to stand up to the teachers' union so that the administration could focus on doing what's best for kids. For years it was difficult to remove an under-performing teacher or switch to a health insurance policy not approved by the teachers' union. Finally, Senator Grothman has been a leader of successful coalition that allows us to put children ahead of the teachers' union extremists.

We also deal with the farming community and appreciate that Glenn has received awards from the Farm Bureau year after year.

Glenn stood up against the special interests in Madison and made the tough decisions last year, please join us in standing up for Glenn on Tuesday, November 6.

Sincerely,
Dr. Chuck and Donna Ogi

Dear Editor:

As a woman who has worked for Glenn Grothman over the past fourteen years, I was surprised to see literature distributed by his opponent. The man described there is not the man I know.

Indian lore meets Farmington legend

With a forest of primarily trees, and the multitude of trees

as being haunted.

While walking along the trail, a strange noise, compared to that of a woodpecker's beak hitting soft wood, was noticed, but suddenly ended when the conversation stopped. It is too late in the season for woodpeckers, and squirrels don't produce such sound. What was it?

Whoever created the mounds, they left a perpetual circle of mystery. According to Lisa Lickel of the Farmington History Society, "Even Indians, who lived in Wisconsin, when the first white men arrived, didn't know why, or by whom, the mounds were built."

Carl Quickert, Washington County historian, had documented the finding of bones which could not be considered human. Though human in form, the skeleton assembled was over eight foot tall. The skull itself lacked "protruding cheekbones" with teeth one inch in length.

Lizard Mound Park, in the town of Farmington, off County Highway A, was first researched by inexperienced diggers called "antiquarians." They searched through an estimated 60 plus mounds to figure out who the mound builders were. Many finds were lost due to improper handling. Even later in the 1960's, the Milwaukee Museum researched and found a well-preserved female body; however, vandalism was a problem. In 1975, the site was destroyed.

As for the haunting, remember the plot line for the movie Poltergeist? Houses were built over a cemetery, and the residents under the ground were not happy. Many of the original estimated 60 mounds were turned into farmland.

In one recorded encounter, a man tried to provoke the spirits with threats of fire and discourteous comments, while the trees never moved, leaves began to blow around and sounds of snapping sticks surrounded the family.

Red lights sprung up in the woods with sounds of shooting arrows coming from every direction. As soon as the woods were cleared, everything stopped. If you expand your research to outside Washington County, Indian Mound hauntings are documented throughout the United States.

H.P. Lovecraft even wrote a story called "The Mound," in which a man enters into another, not so pleasant world, through a staircase found within an Indian mound.

According to the Native American religion, underwater springs can be places where spirits can enter ours. Lizard Mound State Park is full of springs that led to the Milwaukee River, thus opening a place for creatures to come and visit.

On Shalom Drive, located not far from the mounds, an unidentified furry creature walked across the road in front of two men. Holy Hill has also had a share of strange creatures, which is relatively close to mounds.

Too much of the area is shrouded in mystery. Professor F. W. Putnam wrote in his book, The Prehistoric World. "We have already learned that the world is full of mysteries, and though by the exertion of scholars, we begin to have a clearer idea of some topics, yet our information is after all vague and shadowy."

We may never be able to fully explain the "Goatman," "The female ghost jogger", UFOs, or Lizard Mound Park's strange occurrences, but as long as the legends persist, so will the people trying to figure their mysteries.

Editor's note: This is the fourth and final story in our October series, exploring our local urban legends. Last week we highlighted the strange occurrences in Dundee: The UFO Capital of the World. We hope you've enjoyed this series. We ask our readers to please be respectful of the property owners located in the area of the legends we highlight.

Little is known about the history of the mound builders, but they left behind clues to solve the mystery.

'Gone Missing' comes to UW-WC stage

UW-Washington County will present four performances of Gone Missing in the campus theatre in early November. The evening performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, November 2, 3, and 9, 10 at 7:30pm in the campus theatre. Free parking is available.

The 7-member acting ensemble for Gone Missing includes: Melissa Hammen of West Bend; Dylan Hanneman of Cedarburg; Kris Holly of West Bend; Jaime Jastrab of Milwaukee; Bailey Mahnke of West Bend; Danielle Rogne of West Bend; and Lisa VonDerVellen of Hartford.

UW-WC Communications and Theatre Professor, Brad Ford, will produce and direct the performance. Assisting Professor Ford are: Megan Berg (Assistant Director), Tom Utschig (Musical Director), Elizabeth Schroeder (Technical Director), Lisa Kazen (Choreographer), Lisa Rowe (Scenic Artist), Michael Nobbe and Sandra Retzlaff (Wardrobe). Crew members include: Dinah-lee Torres, Hannah Dee and Ian Pace.

Gone Missing explores a variety of very personal accounts of things "gone missing." From a wedding ring to a Gucci shoe, the lost items eulogized in the play tend to be high-priced, stylish and -above all - sorely missed. Dealing with their losses sends the owners into fits of desperation and shows the ways in which we deal with loss in our lives. The play was created in 2001 by The Civilians, a New York performance company that interviewed more than 30 New Yorkers to create a familiar panorama of urban eccentricity from a Pakistani cabbie to an old woman who lost a sapphire ring. The performance is unique in that it doesn't have the traditional plot with beginning, middle and end. Instead, it is a "series of monologues and dialogues of real people discussing the things they have lost," according to Professor Ford. In addition to the script, the top four essays in a related local essay contest sponsored by the campus, will be incorporated into the play. The essays had to answer the question, "What have you lost in your life?"

Gone Missing was written by Steven Cossen from interviews by the Company, with music and lyrics by Michael Friedman. It is being performed with special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service, Inc. It is rated PG-13 as it contains some adult language.

Four performances of Gone Missing are planned for Friday and Saturday evenings, November 2-3 and 9-10 at 7:30pm. All performances will be in the University Theatre, located on the second floor of the campus. For ticket reservations, phone 262-335-5208 or email: WSH-Tickets@uwc.edu

Tickets are $13 adults and $10 for seniors (over 62) or youth (under 18).

UW-Washington County is located at 400 University Drive in West Bend. Free parking is available.

Love Lights for the Holidays

Anyone who has lost a loved one or special friend knows how difficult the holiday season can be without them. We are saddened by the emptiness that they are no longer with us to celebrate this joyous time of the year. But yet there are things that we can do to remember them and their time with us. And help us ease our pain.

The holiday season is a time for joy, lights, family and friends. This holiday season you can remember your loved one or special friend in a very special way. You can purchase a Love Light in remembrance of your loved ones or special friends. The Bereavement Support Group for parents who have lost a child is sponsoring a Love Light Tree at the east end of Campbellsport near the Milwaukee River. You can purchase a light for $5.

You can join us, your family and friends, for a tree lighting ceremony on Dec. 1 at 5:30 p.m. More details will be available in November.

To purchase a Love Light or Lights, send your name, address, phone number, name of person to be remembered and $5 for each light to Shirley Simon, 311 Windell Ave, Campbellsport, WI 53010. Phone 920-979-8204. Also make checks payable to Shirley Simon. Purchase of Love Lights will also be available at Campbellsport's Halloween Caper, on Friday, Oct. 26, and the following Campbellsport businesses: Sheila's Beauty Salon, the Village Apothecary, the Campbellsport News Office, Campbellsport Building Supply, Twohig's Furniture, Ben Franklin-True Value, National Exchange Bank, Reflections Salon, Schlaefers Optometrist and Ty's Place. KES teachers, from left to right, Marilyn Kasten (first grade), Megan Grisolono (K5) and Jody Heipp (principal) are duct taped to a wall in the gym at KES. The duct tapes were awarded the opportunity through the school's S.M.A.R.T. initiative. S.M.A.R.T. stands for Students Making a Responsible/Respectful Team. KES has SMART school-wide expectations that were taught on the first day of school through a rotation. Expectations are posted in each classroom. Students are rewarded with individual SMART cents when they are caught following the expectations. They can save their SMART cents and choose to be a reward menu or put their SMART cents into a monthly prize. This month's prize was the opportunity to tape a teacher to the wall. Not pictured, but taped, was Joe Moser (phy-ed).

Kewaskum Schools meet or exceed expectations on DPI report cards

The Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI) released school report cards for every public school in Wisconsin on Monday. Two Kewaskum schools ranked as meeting expectations while three exceeded expectations.

Each school earned a "score" called an accountability index score, from 0 to 100. The accountability index score is based on your school's performance in four priority areas: Student Achievement in reading and mathematics on state tests; Student Growth measured by year-to-year improvements in achievement; Closing Gaps in performance between specific student groups (comparing English learners, low-income students, members with disabilities, and students of racial or ethnic group with their peers); On-track/Postsecondary Readiness, including graduation or attendance rates, reading and math achievement and ACT participation and performance.

In addition, three areas of student engagement are displayed; test participation rate, absenteeism rate, and dropout rate. Kewaskum met all performance requirements.

The Statesman will publish a more complete article in next week's edition.

Educators attend STEM conference

By Darcy Budnik
CURRICULUM DIRECTOR

A team of Kewaskum educators attended a two-day Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) conference hosted by CESA 6 in Wisconsin Dells on October 8 and 9. The team had representation from elementary educators through high school teachers and administration.

The objective was to learn more about educating Kewaskum School District students to meet the growing needs of technology and engineering related careers. While already offering a strong technical and engineering program of courses at the high school, the district seeks to establish a strong preparatory link from elementary to middle to high school.

The team, organized by Curriculum Director, Darcy Budnik, included Tom Fisher (KHS Principal), Bryan Puls (Technical/Engineering teacher), Cindy Yoose (KHS Math teacher), Pat Moerchen (KHS Technical/Engineering teacher), Brett Zimdars (KMS Technical/Engineering teacher), and Angie Petersen (WES 5th Grade teacher).

A strong link between science, technology, engineering, and math are vital K-12 via project based learning and lesson links. College and career readiness begins in elementary as emphasized throughout the conference.

Next steps include a review of the technology/engineering program by a team led by Fischer at KHS. Working with Tania Kilpatrick (CESA 6 Career and Technical Education Coordinator), KHS courses, training programs, and career and post-secondary placement will be evaluated and enhanced. This will then be clearly communicated for parents and future students, and employers. Our intent is to make sure that current and future college and career readiness needs are being met.

Service class offers unique opportunities

KHS student Savaniah Loken assists Kewaskum Elementary students during lunch.

Statesman Staff

For the past three years, high school students have been offered a unique class as part their learning experience. When signing up for semester classes, students have an elective option called "Service," which is part of service program offered at the school.

"It provides a non-traditional type of learning environment that provides great opportunity for students," Tim Rohlinger, Kewaskum High School teacher and the class's instructor, states.

Students can sign up for the class multiple times. The classroom is at either Kewaskum middle school or elementary school, where students perform different jobs. These jobs include tutoring, mentoring, and assisting with school tasks, such as building a bulletin board, or copying.

"I do want to do mentoring in the future," Savaniah Loken relayed. "Next summer I want to do the Big Brother/Big Sisters program, because I did it when I was younger." Loken has aspirations to work with children.

The class is anything but traditional. Students come in during their designated hour and perform a wide variety of assigned tasks. Once a week, they eat lunch with Rohlinger to discuss how things are going. Students must also turn in a daily reflection.

Students must meet high expectations and are held accountable. They must create an activity to use in a mentoring/tutoring setting, and continue to look for new resources to help in the service setting. Staff expects students to make a positive impact in the classrooms.

At the elementary school, Laurie Beimborn, Mary Metz, and Heather Norworatzky determine current needs. Middle school Principal Julie Skelton and teachers figure out the needs there. In discussion with both schools, Rohlinger matches students with the needs of the school with the students' scheduled hour. "The response has been great," Skelton states, "The students who come have been respectful and great role models for middle school students."

For students participating in the Wisconsin Covenant Program, the service program does not offer hours toward the required volunteer hours; however, students are offered outside volunteer opportunities through Beimborn.

The Wisconsin Covenant was created to inspire young people to plan early for a successful high-school career that will lead to higher education. The program has been discontinued for new students wanting to take part in the program, but students who already started the program may finish.

"I've seen kids do great things," Rohlinger relates, "I've seen high school students bring a lot of talent and ability to the table of offer."

IN MEMORY

In Memory of AL ROHLINGER, who passed away four years ago, October 30, 2008.

We didn't know that morning that God was going to call your name. In life we loved you dearly; in death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you. You did not go alone. For part of us went with you, the day God called you home.

You left us peaceful memories. Your love is still our guide. And though we cannot see you, you are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken, and nothing seems the same; But as God calls us one by one, the chain will link again.

*We love and miss you so much,
Janet,
Diane, Randy, and Ben*

I had the honor of watching Glenn be a tireless champion for all of us - especially on issues important to women. I have seen Glenn help countless women business owners, moms, grandmas and children both born and yet to be born. One of the reasons I am so proud to have worked for him is how Glenn so valiantly fights for family values. In addition, five out of six current staff members are women. When I worked full-time, Senator Grothman named me, a woman, as his Chief of Staff.

Another fact is that Senator Grothman is one of the most bipartisan legislators in the Capitol. While Glenn is probably the most conservative legislator, he works with a variety of Democrats. Glenn is also not afraid to disagree with Republican Party leadership. No matter which side introduces a bill, it usually needs improving and it's often Glenn who rolls up his sleeves to find solutions that protect all of us taxpayers.

You would be hard pressed to find anybody better. As a woman who has worked closely with Senator Glenn Grothman, you have a fantastic choice for state senator. Please vote for Glenn Grothman for State Senate!

Sincerely,
Maggie Delaporte
Fitchburg, Wisconsin

To the Editor:

In 1993, I was one of the first residents of this area who saw the compassion and sincerity in Glenn Grothman as our State Representative. In 2004, I supported him, as he ran for Senate. While I might not always agree with Glenn on every issue, I do believe he is still the best person for the job. He is a good listener and works to stay fair and balanced.

Most of all, he has been dedicated to his job and cares about ALL taxpayers. I have dealt with Glenn on a professional level when I served on the Kewaskum Continues Board. Today, Glenn continues to work with and visit local school districts. He is very visible in the areas he serves. (All those parades, church festivals and local meetings!!)

The last 18 months, Wisconsin has been in a very turbulent state. With taxpayers paying for the re-election of Gov. Walker, there was also a move to re-call Glenn. That too, would have been very costly. Thanks to the many residents who didn't sign the petitions, the leaders of that re-call movement against Glenn, were unable to charge their ideals/or the cost of a recall to the taxpayers.

Fact: Leaders of that movement: Tanya Lohr. Teacher in West Bend and her husband, a teacher. These leaders of the recall against Grothman, don't care about how much it would cost taxpayers.

Fact: This might be her underlying reason for running. (I believe the taxpayers will take a back seat, as she pursues her personal goals.)

Fact: Tuesday Nov. 6th, you the taxpayer, with your vote for Glenn Grothman will show Ms. Lohr, that we don't need a negative representative, who only has her own interests in mind, serving in the Senate.

See you at the polls.

Jeanne Goeden
Kewaskum

To the Editor:

November 6 is a very important day in the history of this state and our country. We have a clear choice for State Senator between two candidates whose values couldn't be further apart. The incumbent Glenn Grothman is pro-life, has strong family values, wants smaller government, less regulation, stands up for gun rights, special needs children and stands strong against special interest groups. He never wavered while obnoxious protesters occupied our beautiful Capital Building and stood up to the powerful teachers unions to correct years of union abuse of power holding our school districts hostage. With the new freedom from union control that Senator Grothman supported, our school systems are saving millions of much needed dollars.

Glenn Grothman's opponent Tanya Lohr and her husband are both teachers who are furious at the loss of union power over the schools. Tanya even signed the Walker recall petition. Haven't "We The People" proven through all the unsuccessful recalls all the unscrupulous recall attempts by those unions and millions in out of state money, that the people of Wisconsin have spoken against special interests? How many millions of tax dollars were wasted on those recalls that Tanya Lohr supported? How many times must we defeat tired, old and worn out ideas? They are SO yesterday! It is time to continue to move Wisconsin forward.

I ask you to join in my support of a serious man for serious times. Vote Glenn Grothman for State Senate.

Lynn Olsen
West Bend

To the Editor:

I would like to say a few words about the upcoming State Senate election between incumbent Senator Glenn Grothman and challenger Tanya Lohr.

I have had the privilege of working with Senator Grothman on the recent passage of the Senate Bill removing the ban on the sale of R-134A auto air conditioner recharge kits in Wisconsin, which was the only place in the world where stores could not sell this money-saving non-pollutant refrigerant. It is now for sale in auto parts and hardware stores, bringing that revenue back into Wisconsin.

Senator Grothman is also a strong second amendment supporter as he has asked for input on the concealed carry law, hunting regulations and the job killing burden of regulations on small business. He is always willing to give an ear to listen if you have any concerns, especially those dealing with common sense, which seems to be in short supply on the Democratic side of the aisle.

What a pleasure it has been working with Mr. Grothman in the past on various items, and having been in small business for 40 years, I can assure you Wisconsin, small business or big cannot afford any Democrat.

Taxes and regulations driving them out of business or out of state.

My vote will be for conservative Republican Glenn Grothman.

Tommy Thompson
Campbellsport

To the Editor:

Vote Republican 2012
Romney will go to war to teach Iran a lesson

Unlike Bush's Iraq war, social security won't be your president's blessing
Romney as president will repeal Obama's Health Care Reform

College students and those without jobs, parent's insurance no more
Pre-existing conditions no longer will have to be covered by insurance
Cutting regulations on Wall Street and the environment will give you a job
That everyone will have and the Bush tax cuts will work
The rich 1% will create jobs so hurt their bank accounts will hurt

Be sure to vote Republican because you are so sure
That being a conservative somehow makes you pure
Does voting for a Democrat mean that abortion is your voice?

No! It means each woman has the right to make her own choice

Does voting for a Democrat mean you want to be a Lesbian or Gay?

Those familiar red and white trucks you see on the interstate and local highways, moving cookware for America's kitchens, have been moving hay for Wisconsin's farmers. When James D. Reigle, President of Regal Ware, Inc., heard the television plea for trucks to haul hay to drought-stricken farmers in northern Wisconsin, he responded by volunteering any idle tractor or trailer in the company's fleet, along with the drivers. Regal's truck fleet is used to haul parts, raw materials, supplies and finished housewares products to its plants and warehouses across the country and Canada. To date Regal trucks have hauled three loads from Sheboygan and Waukesha counties to the northwestern part of Wisconsin and will continue to do so until the need is satisfied.

Will inspire them to create more jobs to keep the middle class out of the ditch
But the loser tends to be the poor and middle class who have to endure
Larger classes, loss of good teachers, and an inferior education for sure
Then there is the National Debt program and the Jobs Act Obama tried to sell
Republicans signed a NO pledge and let Obama and our country, go to hell
Remember, your great Republican leaders don't care about you or the poor

To the Editor:

Is this the most important vote of your lifetime?

Yes it is! Either this country goes third world socialist under Obama, or we go back to the America we all know. I spent three years in third world country, Spain when I was in the service, and look where that country is today. If you want to see what America is going to be in two years or less see the movie 2016. If you think it's bad now, it will get three to four times worse.

It will start with the so called Affordable Care Bill. The Supreme Court changed the heading of that bill to Tax Bill. The middle class will have 21 new tax increases to 2013. Caps on payments to doctors, hospitals, rest homes, hospice, etc. and a 3-4% tax on all medical equipment and supplies as well. Medicare-Medicaid will get dumped or they will end. There is a published booklet you can read.

Vote against Obama and Baldwin. Help at the Republican Freedom Center, Hickory Street, West Bend, see freedomconnector.com.

Notice all the Republican ads telling you what freedom you are going to lose. Remember, we fought for those - once gone, long time coming back. Think of your grandchildren and theirs when you go to the polls. You got sucked in on hope and change in the 2008 election, look where this country is today. Clint Eastwood and the RNC convention made it very clear, when you speak to Obama, you are talking to an empty chair or an empty suit. He doesn't know what he is doing. Hunters, they will also be coming after your guns. Baldwin for the last four years has been trying to get that passed in the house. No support!

Do your job for your children. Get out and vote. Keep this country free!

Homer Schaub, owner of Homer's Barber Shop of Kewaskum, is retiring as of Saturday, September 12, after 33 years of barbering. Homer and his wife, Mary, are planning to move to their year-round Long Lake home and catch up on some fishing.

The Kewaskum Indians played the Marshmen there last Friday night and squeezed past the Marshmen with a last minute touchdown and two-point conversion, 8-7. With less than a minute left in the game, Indians quarterback Eric Pearson, on fourth down and five yards to go for the first down, from the Horizon 18, threw the ball to Joel Serwe, who was standing in the end zone. The catch gave Kewaskum the touchdown but they were still trailing 7-6. With only 26 seconds left on the clock the Indians had to decide to tie the game or go for the win. Kewaskum chose the two-point conversion and it proved to be the right decision as Pearson handed off to Ryan Degnitz, who worked his way into the endzone to put the Indians ahead, 8-7. The Indians then kicked off giving the Marshmen back the ball on the 34 yard line, but Mike Lubahn dashed any hopes of a Marshmen comeback with a handy interception to end the game. Jeff Miller rushed 12 times for the Indians for a total of 129 yards.

After stellar season, Lady Indians fall to KM Lutheran

By Mitch Maersch
Statesman Correspondent

TOWN OF JACKSON - Their season ended where it often does - against a top-notch rival - but this year just advancing to play Kettle Moraine Lutheran was an accomplishment.

The Indians' volleyball team battled injury before the year even started, and the luck continued throughout.

Kewaskum lost its setter last softball season to a knee injury, forcing inexperience at a key position. During the season, outside hitter Ashlee Stahl went down with a knee and didn't return. Outside hitter Steph Henk missed time with an injury, and her replacement, Mikkin Abfall, played through a bad ankle for a stretch. All-conference libero Kelsey Phillips battled a labrum for the last month of the season.

Henk returned right before the playoffs, and the Indians were as full strength as they were going to be.

It wasn't enough to get by KML, but the Indians gave valiant efforts in games 2 and 3.

Kewaskum lost, 12-25, 22-25, 20-25, to end its season at 23-14.

"It was a good season," said monster senior middle hitter Anna Aycock. "We got as far as last year... which is unexpected."

Indeed, last year the Indians took KML to five games behind an outstanding team. This year, expectations weren't quite as high, but Kewaskum found ways to win in the playoffs.

"We did so well. Everybody stepped up and played," said Phillips, the team's senior dig specialist. "It's been a great experience. I love volleyball. It's just kinda surreal it's over."

Aycock, too, said it didn't hit her right after the match that the season and her high school career had come to a close.

The Indians got off to a lousy start as KML dominated the first game. It took a 10-2 lead and had a 20-7 edge before winning the game.

"I think we were kind of scared and not ready," Aycock said. "Their offense is fast."

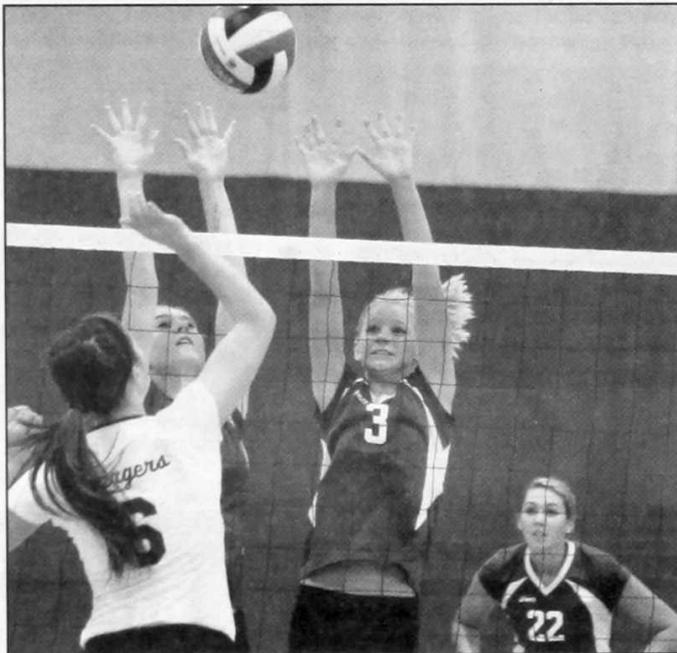

"We were a little bit nervous in the first game," said Phillips.

Game 2 was nip and tuck most of the way. KML opened up a 19-16 lead, tying the biggest margin to that point (Kewaskum once led 8-5), before the Indians battled back to 23-21 with the help of two Aycock kills and a Phillips ace that hit the net and fell to the floor. That forced a KML timeout, and the Chargers pulled it out.

With their season on the line, the Indians hung with KML again in game 3, battling back from 15-11 to tie the game at 16-16. The Indians tied the game at 20-20 before KML pulled away.

"I think they're one of the best teams in the state for a reason and we found out why," said Coach Joe Moser.

Aycock ended with a match-high 15 kills and had 12 digs. Henk had 10 digs, Phillips nine, Heather Johnson eight and Abfall seven. Marissa Stahl had 10 assists and Johnson eight. Phillips had 24 serve receives with one error and Henk 11 with no errors.

Kewaskum was oh-so-close, despite the sweep.

"A couple missed serves back in game 2. We missed a few too many," said Moser. "A great team like that - you can't give free points."

Moser was proud of a team that showed heart in overcoming its enormous support of America's health care system throughout the season.

"With all the injuries, to have a tournament win and make a nice run in regionals - I'm very proud of all of my girls," he said.

The No. 4-seeded Indians almost didn't get out of the first round, going five games against No. 13 Winnebago Lutheran Academy on Oct. 16.

Kewaskum won, 23-25, 25-14, 25-10, 21-25, 15-9.

"We like our volleyball," Moser said with a smile. "We just got complacent in that first game. People looking around at their neighbors."

"We played down to their level," said Phillips.

Going into game 5, there was one thing on the Indians' minds.

"We realized that we are not letting our season be over," said Aycock.

Phillips served out the game's final three points. Two Lutheran errors and a Aycock block put it away. Phillips said she didn't approach it any differently.

"Like any other serve," she said.

And they did it without Aycock in front, often when Kewaskum struggles.

"I was a little bit nervous in the back row. I'm not going to lie," she said.

Aycock had 24 kills, Henk 18 and Abfall 12. Stahl, Henk and Johnson each served five aces. Johnson had 30 assists and Stahl 19. Aycock had 17 digs, Henk 15 and Phillips 13. Phillips had 38 serve receives with one error.

Last Thursday, the Indians next got by Grafton, a team they already beat once this season, for the right to play KML.

Despite Kewaskum winning in four, this match had all the intensity of a five-game nail-biter. The Indians won, 25-15, 13-25, 25-20, 25-23, in their final home match of the season.

Grafton staged a furious comeback in game 4, cutting a 23-15 lead to 23-22 and forcing Moser to call timeout. His team had no interest in going to another game 5.

One Grafton kill and two Grafton mistakes later, Kewaskum was moving on.

"We came out and played our volleyball game like I knew we could," Moser said. "We moved on when we made an error. We didn't dwell on it."

Aycock had 16 kills, and Henk and Abfall seven each. Katrina Freund had six. Henk served five aces. Stahl has 11 assists and Johnson six. Henk had 18 digs, Phillips 16, Aycock 13 and Abfall 10. Phillips received 34 serves with zero errors. Henk received 18 with one error and Aycock 17 with two.

"We warmed up earlier and just tried hard and had a lot more energy," said Henk. "We just had to relax and pass the ball. We were too nervous."

The Indians said it helped they had seen Grafton before. The Black Hawks have some height but Kewaskum could read where the tips were going. "Tuesday was definitely a wakeup call," said Aycock. "I know to trust our team and that we were going to come back and win it."

"I was so excited. That was awesome," said Phillips. "We just played our game and cleaned up our mistakes and let them make their own. When we start putting the ball down we could beat them."

Gridiron teams go 50-50 in Mequon

By Judy Harlow

Since the Kewaskum eighth graders finished tied for last in the Northeast A Group 2 Division, they didn't qualify for the playoffs. Instead, they, and the other Kewaskum Gridiron teams drew Thiensville-Mequon for crossover competition October 20.

Kewaskum's sixth graders (6-0-1) continued their winning ways, using a Ryan Prochnow touchdown with :55 remaining for a 12-6 victory.

Coach Joel Tietz said one of the opponents grabbed Prochnow's face mask and spun him around, but, "He didn't go down ... He took off running and scored."

The other Kewaskum TD came late in the second quarter on a short run by Prochnow, capping a nice drive.

Cole Poole and Dominic Zillmer were cited for good defense, and Tietz said he got good efforts from linemen Jon Leister, Ty Hartmann, Hunter Grady, Teagan Herman and Colten Miller.

The seventh grade team improved to 5-1-1 with an 18-2 victory in a game that didn't start out all that well. Kewaskum fumbled on the first play, giving the hosts an excellent opportunity to score.

The young Indians had other ideas, however, and held defensively at the 1-yard line. Then Kewaskum's running back was tackled in the end zone for a safety.

Those would turn out to be the only points the Cardinals would score.

Kewaskum came back with a nice drive, but when it stalled at the T-M 5, it was decision time, and coach Tom Kudek said one of his players, Patrick Krier, suggested a fake field goal.

It worked perfectly, with Gabe Christenson passing to Krier for the TD.

In the third quarter, Jon Heus hauled in a 20-yard TD for a 12-2 lead. Later Colton Fox tallied his first TD of the year after Krier set up the score with a 20-yard reception.

"I have to give our defensive players praise. They're awesome," Kudek said.

The eighth grade (1-6) "played a better game than they have been playing," according to coach "Jonesy" Korth but fell 35-15.

In the first half, Kewaskum scored on a 25-yard pass from Dalton Poole to Kyle Henk, with Jack Felten successful on the PAT kick.

T-M led 22-8 at the break and added two more scores in the second half.

The Indians' other score came via a pass from Poole to Cayden Dwyer, who also hauled in the pass on the PAT.

"Our big guy, Dalton Espitia, was in on a lot of tackles," Korth said, adding Michael Boettcher did a good job on contain.

Coach Mark Walcheske's fifth grade team (2-5) team drew the best Thiensville-Mequon team and gave them a good game in a 6-18 defeat.

"They were 5-1. They did a good job with ball control," Walcheske said, reporting the Cardinals kept the ball the entire third quarter.

Also, Kewaskum had one miscue that was costly, with just 10 men on the field when the Cardinals scored their first TD.

Kewaskum's lone score came on an exciting 62-yard sweep in the fourth quarter by Jed Ermer.

"It was a good game," Walcheske said about his team's finale, noting all three coaches are retiring. This was Walcheske's 13th season, the 12th of Jeff Logan, and Dave Boettcher coached six years.

"It's been fun, but it's time to let someone else take over and go out and do something else," he said.

Thunder rumbles Indians in Level 1 Playoff

By Mitch Maersch

Statesman Correspondent

It was a bitter end to a challenging season last Friday for Kewaskum's football team.

The Indians lost, 48-13, to a superior Seymour team on the road in a Division 3 opening playoff game.

Kewaskum hung tough for one quarter, scoring on a 10-yard pass from Brett Boegel to Mike Hott to cut the deficit to 7-6 after the point-after was unsuccessful.

Then, the flood gates opened. Seymour scored the next 41 points before Teddy Wollner found the end zone from four yards out with barely two minutes left in the game. It was 27-6 at half and the rout was on.

"We were okay to start with. We didn't execute when we needed to offensively and Seymour did. They put together nice drives and were helped by some of our tackling," said Coach Jason Piittmann.

Kewaskum came in banged up like it had been much of the latter half of the season. In the playoffs, with a thin team and small numbers to start with, that's a bad combination.

I thought Alex Fechter and Justin Zolp deserve credit for gutting it out with the injuries they had," said Piittmann. "Teddy Wollner had a big game defensively."

Wollner led the team with 14 tackles, but it only ran for nearly 400 yards. Cody Plaster racked up 213 and Bret Rottier 130.

For the Indians, the stats were more like their halftime totals from most games this season.

Boegel was 9-for-17 for 44 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Wollner ran for 68 yards on 10 carries. Boegel ran for 54 yards on 11. Nate Krupp had five catches for 27 yards.

It ended a run of Kewaskum winning at least one playoff game for at least seven years straight. In six of those the Indians won at least two, and in a four they won three. The Indians finished 6-3 this year.

This isn't the type of season the Indians are used to having given recent consistent excellence, but it was hardly a disappointment. Most teams didn't play last week because they didn't qualify for the postseason.

"It was a successful season for a number of reasons. While 6-3 may not be what a number of our fans are used to for a win/loss record, there are 2/3 to 3/4 of the schools in the state who wish they could have had a 6-3 record and made the playoffs," said Piittmann.

Seymour goes on to face the other team that blew out Kewaskum this year, Plymouth. The Panthers beat the Indians, 42-7, earlier this month. The winner takes on the winner of highly touted West De Pere and the other Eastern Wisconsin Conference foe that beat the Indians this year, Two Rivers.

Indian kickers end season on high note

By Mitch Maersch

Statesman Correspondent

If the final part of the season is a preview of what's to come, Kewaskum has a bright future in boys' soccer.

The Indians won five games in a row late in the season, a feat unheard of recently given they hadn't tallied five wins for an entire season in the past few years.

The Indians finished 7-17-1 on the year, and 3-10 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

"Confidence and believing that we can compete in any game really allowed us to go on the winning streak and play great soccer the last 10 games of the season," said Coach Luke Piwoni.

Even when they lost, the Indians competed hard.

"We played Two Rivers tight and it was a 4-3 game with 12 minutes to play but we were unable to get any closer and lost, 6-3," Piwoni said. "This was a nice improvement from the first time we played them (an 8-0 loss)."

Still not earning a high playoff seed, the Indians drew a tough first-round matchup.

"We played well in the first half against Catholic Memorial. The score was 3-1 and we were hanging in there but in the end they were too much for us," Piwoni said.

The final tally was 11-1.

But this was a season of success on which to build.

"The seniors showed leadership and desire and gave the team an edge we were lacking earlier in the year. The guys always knew they had the ability to win games but when it was not happening with consistency early in the year the confidence may have fallen off a bit," Piwoni said. "Once we had some success and the confidence built we were in a lot of games and the wins started coming. I feel the guys were really enjoying playing and it showed out on the field." The seniors include Ian Kenworthy, Nick Bier, Jake Helderly, Chad Ray, Zac Chmielewski, Jake Forbes and Tyler Voge.

"It was a great end to the season and I just want to thank all the seniors for everything they have done for the program the last four years. It is great for them to go out on this high note and really show that hard work does pay off," said Piwoni.

The U7 Gators hosted the Slinger Cheetahs which ended in a 3-1 win for the Gators. A corner kick by Elliot Kemp rebounded off a Cheetah player, which resulted in the first goal for the Gators. Isaac Morales and Autumn Rabe each added 1 more goal. Caleb Finger and Calla Kreuser played great defense, and Jacob Parodo played good offense. Charlee Weseman displayed great determination. Everyone did a fantastic job.

The U8 Lions hosted Hartford winning 7-1. Grace Leitheiser had one goal, Kaidan Dieringer had two, Carson Rolf had three and Dillan Steger had a long goal. Morgan Adams did a great job on defense and Finn Baker played good all around. Great effort by the whole team!

The U8 Stars played the Slinger Hurricanes and the Stars got their first win of the season winning 3-2. This was an excellent team effort. Noah Nanz, Kate Butschlick & Izabel Schoofs scoring goals. There was also some amazing defense played by Hayley Butschlick, Jake Erick, Sam Gauthier & Eleanor Bennett. This was a huge team effort. All the kids had great attitude the whole season and have fought very hard to achieve their first win. Way to go Stars.

The U9 Eagles visited the Jackson Cheetahs. Samuel Peters, Anna Theusch, and Kiera MacFarlan showed spirited effort in the 12-0 loss.

The U10 Girl Kickers continued their winning streak on Saturday, beating Hartford 5-0. Emma Rolf excelled in forward, scoring four goals with the help of several great passes from her teammates. Andrea Butz had a tremendous game, adding another goal to the Kickers total score of 5. Kennedy Adams, Nicole Butz and Lily Schlosser dominated the goal box, squashing any attempted shots on goal, completely shutting Hartford down. Sidney and Claire controlled the midfield, providing excellent defense. As always, Alyssa Butz delivered another strong performance in midfield showing excellent ball control.

The U12 Puma's dominated the first half against the Richfield Force, scoring three goals while keeping our opponent at zero. Colin DeYoung and Hunter Schmitt were the two forwards who made our goals. Kirk Johnson and Joshua Gonwa were excellent as Midfielders, keeping the ball on our half - with Josh making not one - but two - drop dead ball stops which slammed into his chest with a very audible "thump". Skyler Schmitt had several nice drives towards the goal, working the outside lanes. Some great passes and footwork was seen by Logan Busalacchi and Raymond Mertzig, while Jack Paul was consistent with attacking any player who broke into our red zone. Unfortunately - the tide turned in the second half, with the Force catching up. The Pumas made some great drives in the last few minutes of the game, but came short of the goal, leaving the final score tied at 3-3.

U12 Girl Falcons had a rough game Saturday morning against a good team at Leik field. The girls were not able to score but did an awesome job playing at a level greater than last weekend. The Girl Falcons had great improvement yet again.
