Interest in VB election sparks

By Andrew Kuehl

KEWASKUM- Three Village of Kewaskum residents have entered their hats in the ring for a seat on the Kewaskum Village Board. The Spring Election is Tuesday, April 2.

Joel Serwe and Don Hemauer have both filed nomination papers with the Village. Jeanne Goeden stated Tuesday she would be registering her campaign as well.

Serwe filed campaign paperwork with Village Clerk Stephanie Justmann on Thursday, March 21.

Serwe's ambition is to ensure the village's budget includes money annually for maintaining and repairing roads and infrastructure in the village. He's been a lifelong resident and owns and operates PJ Mago's with his wife April.

"Brooklane and Edgewood Drives, as well as many other streets, are in serious need of repair. Currently there is little or no money set aside for repairs. We need to effectively plan for the future repairs or it will cost more in the future," Serwe says.

Filing his paperwork Monday morning, Hemauer a retired automotive professional wants to bring his 50 years of experience in management of the automotive industry to the Village Board.

"I'm known for my honest dealings and over the top customer service. I will represent Kewaskum in a fiscally conservative manner, my past experience will serve the community well," Hemauer said.

Goeden, who served nearly three decades on the Kewaskum Board of Education stated Monday morning that after spending time with some ladies over the weekend, she would enter the race.

"When I heard/read about the open seat, I started to have sincere thoughts of putting my name in the ring for the position. This weekend, as

Kiwanis members take party in statewide iPad autism project

By Gay Griesbach
Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club has latched on to a state-wide Kiwanis project for children with autism that will not only benefit children statewide but also in the Kewaskum area.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club, wants to raise $10,000 to help secure iPads and customized software apps for children with autism spectrum disorder (ASD).

ASD is a lifelong disability affecting social interaction, communication and behavior, but children are showing improvement through the use of iPads and customized apps.

Special education professionals are asked to recommend children who would benefit from the technology and Kiwanis clubs then work to fulfill the grants.

Secretary of the Kewaskum Kiwanis, Wayne Sargent says several ASD children in the area would benefit from the program and a few are families have already applied for the grant and been approved.

Each iPad, along with the apps, costs $475.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club has donated $1,000 to the effort and is challenging area organizations to match those funds, which will be used in the Kewaskum School District.

Sargent has personally raised about $285 in tax-deductible donations through the web site: <http://www.firstgiving.com/fundraiser/WayneSargent/kiwanis-autism-project>

The drive is part of Kiwanis District Governor Lynn Messer's campaign to raise $1.5 million to provide iPads and apps for children with ASD in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

To date, those clubs have nearly $50,000.

Messer and his wife, Merita have firsthand experience with the challenges a child with ASD faces - their granddaughter, Kelsey, was diagnosed when she was eight years old.

Limited edition custom canvas prints of former Green Bay fullback William Henderson with an autistic child are also available for purchase through Sargent's site.

Henderson, who was drafted in 1999, played for the Packers for 12 seasons.

Prints are available in various sizes. A limited edition, numbered print that is autographed by Henderson is also available and for $10,000, he will appear at the donor's choice of function, meeting or event to present the museum-quality canvas and accept the donation.

Sargent, along with super fan Steve "The Owner" Tate, are also promoting the second annual "Ultimate Packer Fan Connection," take place on June 15 at the Stadium View Bar and Lounge in Green Bay.

Henderson is hosting the event on behalf of ASD. The event will give Packer fans a chance to meet, obtain autographs and pose for pictures with some of their favorite players of yesterday and today.

The event will be held from 2 - 10 p.m. and includes music, raffles, auctions, memorabilia, food and beverages. One special raffle item is a replica of the Lombardi Trophy signed by Aaron Rodgers.

Tickets are available through Sargent's web site or any member of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club and are $10 each or 3 for $25.

Winning tickets will be drawn at the end of the event. Ticket holders don't need to be present to win.

Find out more at: www.theultimatepackerfan.com. Donations can be given through www.firstgiving.com/fundraiser/WayneSargent/kiwanis-autism-project.

Wayne, Auburn chairs have contested races

By Gay Griesbach
Statesman Correspondent

While incumbents in the towns of Farmington and Scott will retain positions on their respective boards, races have developed in Auburn and Wayne for the chairman's seat.

In Washington County, Wayne Town Chairman Carl Klemme will face newcomer Andrea Feucht and in Auburn Township, incumbent Chairman Merle Laatsch is challenged by Timothy Ramthun.

Auburn's two supervisors, Joseph R. Woodworth and John J. Janz are running unopposed for their seats on the three-person board.

Laatsch feels the town has done a good job keeping its finances in order and wants to continue to make sure the town stays fiscally fit.

"We are debt free and have a healthy surplus in all our funds," says Laatsch. "We have a good recycling center that collects over what the state requires every year and a good road crew; they've done an excellent job this winter."

Laatsch says the biggest issue facing the town is road maintenance and to keep them in repair, the town inspects and then assigns an order for the most pressing road repairs.

If Laatsch retains his seat, he is looking forward to tackling updates to farmland preservation zoning that must be completed by the end of the year.

A component of the Wisconsin Working Lands Initiative that was signed into law in 2009, local governments have the choice to adopt and certify farmland preservation zoning ordinances to ensure landowners covered by the ordinance are eligible to claim farmland preservation tax credits. Current state certifications have staggered expiration dates between December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2016.

Laatsch says to date, the board has been working with Fond du Lac County and has a firm hired to assist them with this government-mandated program.

Ramthun wants to extend the cost-effective-improvement and educational-enhancement skills he's used as Kewaskum School Board president to the township to improve communication between the board and town residents as well as enhance communication within the day-to-day operations of town government.

"The voice of the people must be heard in order for government to be effective," says Ramthun.

In addition to exploring listening sessions, he supports the creation of a town website and monthly newsletter that would share agendas, postings, meeting minutes, issues and updates with the community. One postage-saving idea he has is to hand out update fliers or documents at the dump on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

He would also look to resolve the conflict between school district and town board meetings, both held on the first Monday of the month. Ramthun says this conflict, which includes himself as KSD president, is a loss not only for himself, but for town residents that would like to be informed on both fronts.

Ramthun believes having the right person in the right role is paramount when it comes to ensuring the community gets full value out of services.

He is concerned about how any budget cuts affect town services and would like to get to know board members, support personnel and vendors to find out more about their roles and challenges.

In the town of Wayne, Carl Klemme is facing a challenge from Andrea Feucht for his seat as chairman.

The vote may come down to which road you live on.

Both Klemme and Feucht say snow removal, road repair and maintenance are one of the board's biggest concerns, but their opinions differ when it comes to the current road situation.

Feucht said the road program "or lack thereof" was a concern she heard voiced while meeting with members of the community.

If she gains the seat, she would like to see a survey of town roads that prioritizes repairs.

"We have some of the best roads in the county," says Klemme, adding that Wayne's snow removal has received compliments from the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

He said the town does an annual road survey, usually around the first part of May, and performs crack filling, sealing and repairs as part of its regular maintenance program.

Klemme feels he has done a decent job on the board and would like to continue on the board, taking care of everyday business.

While Klemme wants to maintain the status quo, Feucht says she would like to inject new ideas into the town, getting the community more involved with town meetings and possibly an annual social event, like a town picnic or gathering.

"We have a lot of new young families in the community and no one knows anybody," says Feucht.

She said another concern was the discharge of rifles and other high-powered guns in residential subdivisions and she would like to initiate an ordinance that would make firearms in subdivisions illegal.

Wayne's two supervisors, Robert Schulteis and Mike Sammann are running unopposed, as is Clerk Julie Kriewaldt and Treasurer Gerald Schulz.

In the town of Scott in Sheboygan County, Supervisor Randy Narbatovics has put in a bid to fill Chairman Steve Jung's seat on the five-person board.

While Jung declined to continue in the office incumbent supervisors Sue Verhaalen and Ken Willkomm are running unopposed for their seats on the three-person board.

Election (Continued from front)

I was scrap booking with some ladies, they were discussing the voting process, and about how voters would write in Micky Mouse as their choice for the position. I told them, before they do that, they should put my name in as I live here and I care about Kewaskum. Most of all, I think the village board needs a woman on it. It seems, with the men, everything is status quo or that's good enough.

Goeden says she is a conservative person who will strive to work with community volunteer groups and schools to make the village a place where one would like to come, either to live or attend activities promoted in the community.

Goeden volunteers actively in the Kewaskum Women's Club as officer/chairman of the fund raising events and assists various committees for St. Lucas Lutheran Church. She was also recently appointed to the policy committee of the school district.

"In today's world, those statements aren't good enough to improve Kewaskum. I would promote our beauty and have creative ideas to enhance our community. I also would have compassion for the taxpayers who call me with their concerns," she concluded.

Village Clerk Stephanie Justmann says the machine used to tally votes counts filled in ovals, not names. If any time more than three ovals are filled in, the vote isn't counted.

If the two incumbents are voted for and two or three write-ins are added, that's an over vote and the machine will reject the ballot.

In that case, the three-strike-rule comes into play.

If a mistake is made on the first ballot, it is torn up, a notation is made and the person receives a second ballot. Justmann, who administers the election, says at that point, poll workers will offer their assistance. If a second ballot is spoiled, voters are given a third try.

"After that they're done" Justmann says.

Now here's the twist.

If ovals aren't filled in and there is an over-vote, those ballots won't be counted at the end of the night.

If a voter fills in three names without ovals and fills in an oval for an incumbent, none of the votes are counted.

"It can be very confusing, but the election workers are there for guidance," says Justmann.

Finally, if there is a tie with write-in candidates, hopefuls will draw lots to determine the winner.

Modern Woodmen plans fundraiser for Alex Schultz

Members of the Kewaskum Modern Woodmen of America chapter will sponsor a fundraiser on April 4, 2013, at 7 p.m. to benefit Alex Schultz.

Plans for the fundraiser include a card party and raffle at the Amerahn, Hwy. 45, north of Kewaskum. The money raised will be matched by Modern Woodmen's home office, up to $2,500, through the fraternal benefit society's Matching Fund Program and will be used to help offset the cost of medical expenses.

The Matching Fund program offers Modern Woodmen members nationwide the chance to show their support for a community cause, organization or individual in need by holding fundraisers. These fundraising projects contribute more than $6.5 million to community needs nationwide each year.

"With this project, every dollar truly counts," says Jeff Jager, local Modern Woodmen chapter activities coordinator. "It's exciting to be involved in a project that is so important to our community."

Coordinated by local Modern Woodmen members, chapters provide opportunities to take part in social activities and community service projects to meet local needs.

For more information or to get involved, contact Jaeger at (262) 626-4139.

As a tax exempt fraternal benefit society, Modern Woodmen sells life insurance, annuity and investment products not to benefit stockholders but to improve the quality of life of its stakeholders - members, their families and their communities. This is accomplished through social, charitable and volunteer activities. Annually, Modern Woodmen and its members provide more than $26 million and one million volunteer hours for community projects nationwide.

YMCA Camp Matawa keeps youth moving, learning and exploring this summer

YMCA Camp Matawa is offering local residents an incentive to give kids and teens in the Campbellsport, Kewaskum and the surrounding area an adventurous, active and healthy summer. Local residents will receive $40 off every new day camp week in which they enroll their kids, ages 7-12.

YMCA day camp programs offer youth fun and unique experiences with an opportunity to explore the outdoors, meet new friends, discover new interests and create memories that last a lifetime.

Nearly 50 percent of U.S. parents say technological distractions, such as television, cell phones or video games make it difficult to maintain a healthy lifestyle for their children, according to the latest findings of the YMCA's Family Health Snapshot, a survey that gauges children's activity levels during the school year. With more free time in summer, ensuring that kids practice healthy habits could be a greater challenge. The Y encourages parents to help their kids unplug from technology and explore all the Y's camp has to offer.

"Summer can get really long for kids and parents, but day camp is a wonderful opportunity for kids to keep their minds and bodies active," said Jen Feltz, Executive Director for Camping at the YMCA of Metropolitan Milwaukee. "At camp, kids get to learn about nature, take on new responsibilities, gain independence, and develop essential social skills and new relationships. We really encourage parents to give their kids the gift of camp so that every child can benefit from the experience."

Among the many benefits of the camp experience, day camp uniquely:

- Provides the camp experience for campers that are too young, anxious about being away from home, or just not ready for overnight camp.

- Can create the foundation needed for successful longer-term experiences away from home.

- Allows for a greater partnership between the camp and the camper's parents surrounding the growth and skill building that takes place at summer camp.

"Our day campers get to experience all the benefits of camp such as archery, canoeing, swimming, climbing and arts and crafts. They spend their time with other Matawa campers in large and small group activities and teambuilding, cook their meals over a fire and join the overnight campers in the dining hall," said Feltz. "But they return home each night to tell their parents all about their funpacked day and sleep in the comfort of their own beds. For many campers, that's the perfect balance. We do offer the option of an overnight at camp so interested campers can enjoy s'mores with the new friends they have made!"

YMCA Camp Matawa is part of the YMCA of Metropolitan Milwaukee. Matawa day camp is offered for six weeks from July 8 - August 16, Monday through Friday. Campers ages 7-12 can attend from 7:45 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. Bus transportation is available daily from West Bend and Kewaskum. Those wishing to register and take advantage of the $40-off neighbor incentive should mention this article when they call.

Smasal given contract extension through 2017

By Andrew Kuehl
andrewkuehl@icloud.com

The Kewaskum Board of Education has placed their confidence in their superintendent in the form of a contract extension through the 2017-'18 school year. Jim Smasal is currently in the first year of his first contract with the district.

In December, the board unanimously voted to offer Smasal an extension to his contract. Details regarding salary and benefits were not addressed but will be at the end of his current contract in 2014.

Smasal's current contract was set to expire on June 30, 2014. The Board of Education will rollover that contract until June 30, 2016 and then give a one-year extension making it legally binding until June 30, 2018.

The board could not offer anything longer because legally, to be protective of the district and community, the current board having a three-year term, can only administer a contract that will not exceed the terms of the current board. This allows future boards to operate without their hands being tied to a contract they did not offer.

"I'm extremely grateful to the Board for extending my contract and feel very blessed to have this opportunity. Coupled with other administrative contract extensions, we have stability and continuity for the next few years. I would like to thank the school board for their faith in me and what we are trying to accomplish as a district. I have the utmost respect for our Board members as they all have a high level of concern and care deeply about their communities and schools. I am humbled by their willingness to serve and how they take pride in our collective accomplishments. Much praise should go to Mary Miller for leading the Policy Committee, Jim Leister as Buildings and Grounds Chair, Troy Hanson as Finance Committee Chair, Sue Miller as Health Insurance Chair, Grace Mueller leading our Mascot Committee and Tim Ramthun, leading the Board as President. Finally, I would like to thank Bill Kesting for his years of service on the Board. We wish him the best of luck in future endeavors," Smasal stated in an email this week.

LETTER TO THE VOTERS

Being mothers and having lived in the Kewaskum School District for a number of years, we have both seen the composition of the school board change frequently. Some school board meetings with success and public approval better than others and some specific members seem to have our children's best interest at heart more than others. With the school board election coming up quickly, we would like to encourage anybody interested in the education of our children to strongly consider voting for Mary Miller for another term on the Kewaskum School Board.

Ms. Miller has been on the board for 6 years now and is one of those individuals who is a "unsung hero" for our students. She is not an individual who consistently writes about her accomplishments to the newspaper, but does her "job" (and we put that in quotes because for all intents and purposes, this a volunteer position), quietly, confidently and with no desire for public acclaim or recognition.

We believe that it is advantageous that, in addition to her school board responsibilities, Ms. Miller holds a fulltime job. This helps her keep things in perspective regarding the role of the school board in making decisions that affect the education of our children - that is to be a policy maker that reflects the values of our community and not to be involved in the minutiae of making decisions that are best left to those trained as educators - as well as understanding the financial circumstances of the district and the fiscal responsibility owed to taxpayers. But with that in mind, it is always at the top of her list making sure that the students in our district receive the best education possible.

No matter how "political" the school board at times looks and acts, Ms. Miller is there for only one reason - our children. We both feel very proud of having children who have both successfully graduated from Kewaskum High School and are also currently being educated in the Kewaskum School District and we need Mary Miller to continue her efforts on the board for that to continue to happen. Please give her your vote on April 2nd.

Bausch appointed to UW Board of Visitors

Chancellor Ray Cross announced recently that he's appointing Brian Bausch to serve a three-year term on the Board of Visitors of the University of Wisconsin Colleges and University of Wisconsin-Extension. The Board of Visitor members represent all areas of the state and work to advance the missions of the UW Colleges and UW Extension.

A graduate of UW-Platteville with a B.S. in Education, Bausch's employment background includes 17 years as a high school graphic arts teacher at Homestead High School in Mequon and 16 years as a deputy sheriff with the Washington County Sheriff's Department. Instrumental in developing the DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program, Bausch served as the first DARE officer within the Sheriff's Department, working with area schools and agencies. Bausch also worked part-time for the Department of Natural Resources as a deputy conservation warden for 40 years. Bausch's political activities include nine years on the Washington County Board of Supervisors and four years on the Town of Farmington Planning Commission and Board of Review.

As a member of the Board of Visitors, Bausch will represent and support UW-Washington County as well as UW-Extension Washington County, in matters of system wide concern. "I'm pleased to accept the nomination" Bausch stated, "I look forward to serving on the board. I believe that education will prove to be a key element in improving the unemployment situation in our region. UW-Washington County and UW-Extension have the solid foundation and resources necessary to move Wisconsin forward through these challenging and changing times."

Drew Nelson free concert in Kewaskum April 9

Fresh off his tour of the UK, singer/songwriter Drew Nelson will be performing a free acoustic show at Kewaskum High School on Tuesday, April 9th at 7pm. Nelson has a brand new album out on respected roots rock label Red House Records. "Tilt-a-Whirl" is his label debut and has garnered praise from Goldmine, No Depression, and Lonesome Highways and has been featured on Acoustic Café. He has been playing and writing for over a decade and has played for audiences of all sizes from the Kerrville Folk Festival to intimate living-room shows.

Nelson is a working class storyteller and his music has been compared to John Mellencamp, Bruce Springsteen, and Steve Earle. A Michigan native, Nelson is a fly-fisherman, Detroit Tigers fan and Navy veteran in addition to being a songwriter and multi-instrumentalist. His new album shows off his range from plaintive, finger-picking acoustic ballads to rocking tunes filled with noisy guitar licks and Hammond B3.

This free concert is sponsored by the Kewaskum Public Library. "We're excited to bring Drew Nelson to Kewaskum," Library Director Steev Baker says, "It's not often we get a performer of this caliber willing to play a small stage in a small town." The Kewaskum Library has brought other acts to Kewaskum including the Scottish duo Caim and mountain-music duo the Honey Dewdrops. "A well-written song is as powerful as a novel," Baker adds, "And Drew Nelson's lyrics are a great mix of honest storytelling and poetic images."

Drew Nelson will perform at 7pm at Kewaskum High School on Tuesday, April 9th. Tickets are not needed and the show is free and open to the public. The program will last for one hour. For more information, please contact the library at 626-4312. To listen to Drew Nelson's music, visit <http://www.reverbnation.com/drewnelson/songs>.

Farmington Elementary School principal Smarter than a Fifth Grader?

FES student hold up signs to help Mr. Fisher with a question during "Are You Smarter Than a Fifth Grader?"

By Lisa Lickel
Statesman Correspondent

The truth is out and it's not pretty. Tom Fischer, Farmington Principal, is not smarter than a fifth grader.

For a special treat during the annual Parent-Teacher Organization sponsored basketball game between the fifth grade classes and about half the staff, Fischer agreed to a go on the hot seat in a rendition of the popular game show Are You Smarter than a Fifth Grader?

Designed to generate excitement for the book fair and to spur on the students to bring in at least two hundred dollars for in a classroom coin war to purchase books, Fischer agreed to take a challenge. The game show challenge seemed better than the other two options, which were to dress up like a lady or allow students to duct tape him to the wall. Maybe the duct tape would have been kinder.

Sarah Moris, current FES PTO president, said the incentive for the coin war, its fifty dollar prize and free pizza party for the winning classroom came from Scholastic. Rashelle McCallum's fifth graders not only won the coin war, they exceeded the school-wide challenge by winning two hundred dollars and twenty-six cents. Over $1,200 was raised by the staff and students.

"We wrestled with what to do with the money," Lisa Sullivan, a long time PTO member and former officer, said. "It was a 'terrible' problem to have." The PTO purchased gift books for each Farmington Elementary student on or near his or her birthdays. Four hundred dollars-plus in gift certificates were given to the teachers to spend on classroom books and another two hundred dollars to the library. The book fair was held during the week of March 11.

"The kids were supposed to bring in pennies on Monday, nickels on Tuesday," and so forth, Sullivan said, "but they brought in whatever they had any time. They would hover around the tally marker each day to see who was winning."

McCallum had help from her students to spend the winning prize money. "We went down during the book fair and chose books." Alexis Schwitz thought Out of My Mind, a story about a girl who can't walk or talk but who loves fifth grade, was a great story. Other books included Middleworld and One White Dolphin.

Sullivan also worked with Moris, the fifth grade teachers and students, to pull off the game show.

"The subjects and the questions were written by the fifth grade students," Moris explained. "The material had to be about topics they were learning in the classroom. We picked the final ten questions."

Although the basketball game was an intense high-scoring battle of prowess, grace, and well-planned execution, the half-time show was the main attraction. Of the ten categories Fischer could choose, seven were played, including social studies, science, math, vocabulary, writing, art and physical education. Fischer could ask for help from the fifth graders who brought their wipe boards with them and offered answers. Fischer was able to multiply fractions and define the word "Innovation," but failed to answer the correct date for the French and Indian War or give the key points for correct basketball shooting form. Good thing he wasn't in the game.

"I felt like I gave it all I could," Fischer said afterward. "I worked hard, but in the end I guess I'm just not as smart as a fifth grader."

"It was fun," Sullivan said. "He's a good sport and I was just glad he was willing to do it."

Ten members of the high school band came to provide pep music before and during the first half of the basketball game. "We want to show the elementary school kids what playing in the band is like, to encourage them to learn an instrument," Josh Michlig, band director, said.

Jim Smasal, Kewaskum's Superintendent of Schools, lent his best Eddie Doucette voice as game-day announcer, creating extra excitement to the poster-waving chanting and cheering crowds filling the FES gym, with scoreboard helpers Mrs. Rohrer and Luke Baumann. Mr. Dehler refereed. There was plenty of running and spinning, one-handed lay-ups and even three-pointers from the students. The teachers, including "the Hammer," aka K-5 teacher Amy Hammersmith, gave the fifth graders a run, but were beaten 88-79.

FES students put business skills to use

Suzanne Gruett and Peggy Nelson's third graders recently finished a month-long unit on business - industry and manufacturing. Students went on two field trips, one to Universal Strap in Jackson and one to Palermo's Pizza in Milwaukee, to see the inside scoop on what is involved in making and selling a product.

To put their studies into practice, the students put together a popcorn sale on Thursday and Friday, March 21 and 22 at the school.

"The students had to learn about raw materials and advertising, figuring out demand and supply," Gruett said. "There's popping, bagging, and sales."

The students each take turns in the whole process during the two days. "We switch off with the other third grade class," Haley Densow said. She, along with Megan Foyse and her mom Sheila, and Lisa Bolek, were working the lunch time crowd.

Densow thought being a cashier helped her learn about money. "When I was first learning about being a cashier, I would mix up the quarters and nickels." One thing she would ask her customers is to not simply put money in the cash box and walk away. "Sometimes kids are shy around other kids."

Densow enjoyed seeing the video at the Palermo plant about how pizza was made and sold. "We got to see the workers through a big glass window."

"Parent volunteers are huge," Gruett said.

Sales were held during recess, at lunch time, for 50¢ a bag, in both the main school hallways.

American Legions sponsored its 57th annual Youth Government Day.

About 75 high school-ers from Kewaskum, Living Word Lutheran, Slinger, Hartford and West Bend toured a courtroom, experienced what it was like to be a county board member and visited the sheriff's department, register of deeds and treasurer's offices.

Luke Piwoni, who teaches government and law at Kewaskum High School, says the day gives students exposure to county government.

What does a county treasurer do?

Jane Merten explained that one of the duties of her was to generate 62,000 property tax bills in 2012.

County Clerk Brenda Jaszewski's presentation included lessons on the difference between partisan and non-partisan elections, a hands-on vote in national and county elections and county board procedures.

KHS junior Jessica Etta enjoyed the county-level debate.

"The motion was to reduce the board to 23 members. We kept it at 30," says Etta.

Both KHS juniors Tyler Smith and Joshua Fiebig enjoyed being on the county board.

"I've always liked politics; it was fun to participate in the discussions," said Fiebig.

"I enjoyed the thoroughness of the board process," said Smith.

Smith found out more about the levels of law enforcement in the county as Sheriff Dale Schmidt outlined his role and enforcement responsibilities.

"Before I thought there was just a sheriff and cops," said Smith.

Suzanne Zuba was looking forward to finding out more about the court system.

"I want to become a paralegal," said Zuba.

Students were also treated to a lunch that included presentations by County Board Chair Herbert Tennes, County Administrative Coordinator Douglas Johnson, County Attorney Kimberly Nass, Circuit Court Judge Todd Martens, District Attorney Mark Benson and Sheriff Schmidt.

Youth Art Month takes area students to Capitol

In celebration of Youth Art Month, taking place this month, nine students from the Kewaskum School District had artwork chosen to be on display in the rotunda of the state capitol in Madison. Two of those students, Sophia Otten and Caitlin Finger, won special W.T Graham awards. All of the artwork will be on display in Milwaukee at Arts@Large Gallery from April 2 until April 13. Arts@Large Gallery is located at 908 S. 5th Street in Milwaukee. Shown above in the capitol rotunda, left to right is: Sydney Donath, Art Teacher Mary Forstner, Sunny Douchow, Austin Keding, Torea Ralph, Art Teacher Jane Mongin, Sophia Otten, Art Teacher Peggy Henke, and Abby Prim. Winners not pictured are Keaton Flanders, Caitlin Finger and Ashlyn Roecker.

WILLIAM JOSEPH JOHANN

Bill was granted his angel wings on March 17, 2013. He is survived by his loving and faithful wife, Harriette, and her two children, Andrea and Ralph.

He was preceded in death by his mother, Agnes Uelman Johann and his father, Marvin Michael Johann, two brothers, Roger and Robert Johann, a sister, Barbara Irene Johann Becker Hill and two nephews, Eric and Edward James Becker-Hill, and a favorite sister-in-law, Jeannie Johann.

He also leaves his brother Ronald and his wife, Karen Jean Johann, his brother, Richard and his wife, Jan Hicks Johann, his brother, Claude and his wife, Kerri Johann; his sister, Diane, and her husband, Gerald Schmidt; his sister, Jane; his sister Mary, and her husband David Neckuty; his sister Jennifer and her husband Jeff Funk; and his brother-in-law, Terry Hill. His Godson, Christopher Neckuty and his wife, Jennine Neckuty. He is further survived by 23 nieces and nephews and many relatives and good friends.

Bill was born in West Bend on April 14, 1951 and was one of eleven siblings and will be dearly missed by them. He attended St. Michael's Catholic Grade School and graduated from Kewaskum High School in 1970. As a young boy, playing baseball and army in the nearby woods, he would also hang around the men working for his dad's business and was affectionately called "Willy Lump Lump" by the guys in the shop.

Bill loved the outdoors and in his younger years, when living in the countryside, would have a garden. Hunting and fishing were his special loves. He enjoyed playing cards -- Sheepheads and Royal Rummy were his favorites. He had a unique sense of humor and had an invisible dog, named Dog, that would travel with him on an outstretched leash, which brought fun into many people's lives.

Bill loved to entertain and tell jokes and in his younger years enjoying acting in the church plays. After completing high school, Bill worked for his dad's plumbing and heating business in St. Michael's as a sheet metal fabricator. Then he chose to join the military and in 1971 joined the US Army and was a paratrooper. He served in Germany for several years and then returned to serve at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Bill received an honorable medical discharge from the army. He lived in Campbellsport and Salem, Missouri and then in Kansas City, Kansas, where he met and married his loving wife, Harriette. They made their home in Meriden, Kansas.

Bill met Harriet via the internet. After speaking on the phone with Harriet, Bill decided to visit her on his birthday. He drove over five hours despite having health problems.

They enjoyed each other's companionship and decided to make their relationship permanent.

They were married on September 7, 2005 in Kansas City, Kansas. They cherished each others company, going out to dinner with Harriet's children and family and friends. They loved to garden and then cook with their harvest. They shared stories of their childhood, laughter and fun times. They loved entertaining family and friends and celebrating birthdays and holidays. Bill especially enjoyed talking about favorite movies with his step daughter Andrea. He would always order two sets of movies and take movies to Andrea, much to her delight. It always put a smile on his face to do something for others. He was known to have a kind heart. One of Bill's favorite past times was to watch wrestling. He was so passionate about watching wrestling it was as if he was in a front row seat at the ring. We will always cherish our time with Bill as part of our family.

Bill fought the disease of Myotonic Dystrophy for many years and it was this disease that he succumbed to during his final days on Mother Earth. He was dedicated to getting the word out about Myotonic Dystrophy and was a regular donor to that medical research. Upon his death, he did not stop giving, but was able to donate his corneas to help at least two people see and his liver was donated to help another individual.

Bill's life would seem too short to many, but those who were touched by him understood that the quality of existence far exceeds the quantity of time in which one lives. His gentle smile, sensitive, caring heart and quiet way of helping others brought much joy to his family and friends. He will be dearly missed and we honor him by caring on his work.

ROBERT 'BOB' W. QUAAS

Robert "Bob" W. Quaas became an angel on Tuesday, March 19, 2013 at the age of 94 years.

Bob was born on November 9, 1918 to Emil and Helena (nee Widmer) Quaas. He was born and raised in West Bend graduating as an honor roll student from West Bend High School, Class of 1937. After school, he worked on the family farm. Bob married Clara Janz on May 17, 1947 in West Bend. In 1952, he began doing construction work and eventually custom woodworking. Bob enjoyed playing the saxophone and clarinet in a polka band for over 25 years. He also worked at the town of West Bend Landfill for over 12 years. Bob was a member of the West Bend Moose Lodge #1398 for 50 years. He enjoyed fishing and was a real sports fanatic both playing and supporting his teams.

Bob is survived by his wife of 65 years, Clara. He is further survived by his special nephew Richard (Sharon) Quaas; sisters-in-law Shirley Peters and Eleanora Janz; brother-in-law Clarence (Dorothy) Janz; and many nieces, nephews, relatives, and dear friends. Bob is preceded in death by his parents Emil and Helena; brother Henry (Berthine) Quaas; in-laws Jacob and Irma Janz; brothers-in-law Alvin (Norma) Janz, Carroll Janz, and Sylvester Peters; and sisters-in-law Hazel Schaefer and Lucille (Elroy) Gatzke.

A Memorial Service for Bob was held at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 23, 2013 at the Phillip Funeral Home Chapel, West Bend. Gathering took place at the funeral home from 12:00 until 1:45 p.m. on Saturday, March 23, 2013. Private interment of cremains took place at Washington County Memorial Park at a later date.

The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend is assisting the family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of MARILYN JUNG, who passed away four years ago, April 2, 2009.

Loving memories we will never forget,
Sadly missed along life's way,
With silent thought and deep regret,
We think of you every day.
No longer in our life to share,
But in our hearts you are always there.

Sadly missed by your loving husband and her families

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things as you confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even and in spite of all material illusion. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted.

25 Years Ago

February 5, 1988

The Kewaskum Woman's Club marked a milestone in its history as it celebrated its 75th birthday with a banquet held last Saturday evening at Thee Avenue Restaurant in Kewaskum. Approximately 80 members and guests attended the festivities. The club came into existence on January 14, 1913, when Mrs. David Rosenheimer invited a group of ladies to her home for the purpose of organizing a woman's club. The major concerns of the group at that time were public education and health. Soon after its founding, the club started the Kewaskum Public Library which, to this day, has continued to be the group's primary service project. Through the years the club women staffed the library, as well as cleaned it and held fundraisers to purchase books and other library materials and furnishings. Through the years when the United States became involved in World Wars I, II, Korean Conflict and Vietnam, the club went to work. They made bandages, baked and mailed cookies, wrote letters to Kewaskum servicemen, adopted a war orphan, sent canned goods for European Relief, and money for Korean Relief and Radio Free Europe. All this while they still maintained their interest in health and education. Women's Club members recognized during the celebration for their years of service and membership were: Bernice Groh, Ruth Schmitt, club president; Rita Eitta, past president and member of banquet committee; Agnes Schaefer, a member for 42 years; Minerva Martin, member for 41 years; Jeanne Goeden, first vice-president; Kathy Paul, treasurer; Alma Edwards, 50 year member; Renetta Schwind, 25 year member; Pearl Thompson, a member for 25 years; Maude Rose, 55 year member; Malinda Seifert, a member of the club for 28 years; Marge Rosenthal, second vice-president and member for 24 years, and Lois Bunkelman, newest member.

The issue of paying $1,900 in legal fees incurred by District Administrator Penny Kleinhans as a result of the Trapp lawsuit prior to Wausau Insurance's taking over her case, again became an issue at last Thursday's school board meeting. Despite board member Perry Anker's almost pleading with fellow members to make a commitment to stand behind its administrator, the board turned down his motion to pay those fees.

After some brief, active discussion, the Kewaskum Village Board voted again not to accept the Department of Natural Resources plan to install a canoe launch and landing site on the Milwaukee River in River Hill Park. The plan, which has been bantered back and forth between the village and DNR came up at Monday night's meeting as the DNR again asked the village to sign its application for the installation. The funding was supposed to have been awarded to the village as part of a river fishkill settlement. Original implications were that the village would receive approximately $20,000 in the settlement. However, as proposals and plans were discussed and exchanged, the DNR began to back down on the funding. Gradually it dropped to $11,000, then again to approximately $5,000 and now the latest figure of $2,000, which would basically cover the cost of the DNR's installation of concrete planks and gravel paths. The trustees agreed the small amount of canoe traffic did not warrant the launch or the village's responsibility which would come with it.

Women of Peace Church presented memorable lessons from the lives of ten women of the Old Testament last Sunday. Women's Week in the United Church of Christ began January 31 and is being observed this week throughout the nation. Participants included Becky Manthei as Miriam; Marlene Domasky as Mrs. Noah; Margaret McFadden as the Queen of Sheba; Betty Bettin as Narrator; Connie Zemlicka as Deborah; Sherry McElhatton as Delilah; Faith Mauk as Rachel; Janet Hubbell as Rebekah; Margaret Seideman as Leah, and Lorna Glass at the Herald.

The Kewaskum matmen had three finalists at the Sheboygan North Raider Invitational. The finalists were Ron Leinen at 185, Dennis Apperle at HWT and the only finalist to finish first, Bob Castro at 112. Other placers were Dan Heisdorf who placed third at 132, Dave Kuphal and Noel Stradtman, who finished fourth, and Jeff Sabish and Chris Charland, both placing sixth.

The Kewaskum Indian boys basketball team has been showing great improvement as of late, as evidenced in a 91-72 loss to a highly regarded Two Rivers team. Although the 19 point loss might seem like a blowout, this game was closer than the score indicates, and very satisfying to the Indians after having been blown out 112-46 earlier this year by the Raiders, who are ranked 16th in the state for Class A schools. The Indian big men, Ted Anderson and Joel Fleury went to work in the third quarter, scoring 14 of the Indians 20 points and the Indians cut the lead down to 10 points at one point, but another Raider run upped the lead to 17. Fleury led the Indians with 18 points and 9 rebounds as he seemed to come out of a personal scoring slump. Rob Baitinger added 17 points to go along with seven assists. Mike Struebing also played well, scoring 11.

A boy, Preston John, was born to John and Darla Haack, Two Rivers, on January 27. Paternal grandparents are Ray and June Haack, Mishicot, and maternal grandparents are Merlin and Doris Prost of Kewaskum. A son, Travis Allen, was born to Frank and Carol Flasch, Campbellsport, on January 18. A son, Noah Arnold, was born to Mark and Anne Sesing, Campbellsport, January 20. A son, Matthew John, was born to John and Lori Russel, Campbellsport, January 23. A son was born to Chris and Dale Strietzel, Kewaskum, on January 29. A son was born to Kerry and Kelly Scannell, Kewaskum on January 27. A son was also born to Linda and Donald Knebel, Campbellsport, on January 25.

50 Years Ago

February 1, 1963

Every year during the month of January, the Kewaskum Woman's Club reserves a meeting date to commemorate the anniversary of the club's founding. A banquet is held for club members and husbands. This year the event had added significance for 1963 marks the 50th anniversary of the club's existence. It was on January 14, 1913 that the club had its beginning when the late Mrs. D.M. Rosenheimer invited a group of women to her home for the purpose of organizing a Woman's Club. At the end of the year the club boasted a membership of the following women: Mmes. D.M. Rosenheimer, A.J. Rosenheimer, Miss Edna Schmidt, Miss Emma Staats, officers, and Mmes. F.E. Colvin, Frank Gottsleben, Karl Hausmann, N.E. Hausmann, O.E. Lay, E.L. Morgenroth, E.M. Romaine, L.P. Rosenheimer, N.W. Rosenheimer, J.F. Schaefer, Joseph Schmidt, W.F. Schultz, August Schnurr, Simon and Misses Adela Gottsleben, Florence McRae and Lillie Schlosser. The scene of this year's Founder's Day dinner on January 26 was the Labor Center on Fond du Lac Avenue, for it was in this same building, then known as the Temperance Hall, that the club's first anniversary was observed in January of 1914.

The faculty of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas, announces the successful completion of requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Commerce degree with a major in accounting, which was awarded to Harold C. Klein of Kewaskum on January 23, 1963. Harold is a son of Mrs. Rosella M. Klein of Kewaskum.

The Theresa fire department was called to the M & E Restaurant at the junction of Highways 41 and 28 in the Town of Wayne on Monday around 8 am to put out a blaze that got out of hand due to a fire in a deep fryer. Firemen saved the building and most of its contents.

Raymond Schultz, 32, of Route 1, Cascade, son of Otto Schultz and the late Florence Schultz of Kewaskum, died January 31 at Sheboygan Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Vernon Staeger, 37, of Beechwood, sister-in-law of Mrs. Armin Oppermann of Kewaskum, died on January 24 at her home following a lingering illness.

A daughter, Bonnie Kay, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nigh, Plymouth, on January 4. Mr. Nigh is a son of the Elmer Nigh of the Town of Auburn. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Westerman, Kewaskum, on January 29.

100 Years Ago

January 25, 1913

Thieves in this village have again been at work, when last Wednesday night they stole several pounds of fish from a fish peddler, who made his headquarters at the Central Hotel. Considerable work of this kind has been done of late. All possible means should be made to capture the thief or thieves and let the law take care of them and give such punishments as is necessary. Does this mean that this village is coming to be a little Chicago?

Safe-crackers did a neat piece of work at Allenton last Friday night, blowing open the safe in Math. Stoffel's store. The work was done so quietly that no one in the village heard the report and it was not until someone entered the store on Saturday morning that the job was discovered. Two holes had been drilled into the door of the safe, and through these holes some explosive was inserted. In order to muffle the report the cracksmen piled numerous fur coats upon and over the safe and this answered the purpose well. Papers of value and money were taken.

The design of the new nickel has been accepted by the treasury department to replace the five cent piece that has been in circulation for many years. Within a week the director of the mint will order its coinage and it probably will be in circulation shortly after February 1. On one side of this new coin is the reproduction of the head of an Indian. At the top of the work "Liberty," and at the bottom is the year 1913. On the other side appears the figure of a bison, closely associated with the history of the red man, and the denomination of the coin, "Five Cents." The design is severely simple and is regarded by the treasury officials as one of the most artistic pieces of money ever turned out.

The girls of the local high school have organized an Athletic Association under the supervision of the teachers. Officers were elected as follows: President - Florence McRay; Vice President - Hilda Weddig; Secretary - Adell Calhoun; Treasurer - Lila Petri; Coach - Miss Lilly Schlosser.

Peter Mies, proprietor of the Sanitary Barber Shop, this week added to his shop equipment, an electric massage machine and hair dryer. He also makes a specialty of ladies shampooing and massaging, and hair dried by an electric machine.

The Joint Fire Department held its annual meeting in the village hall last Monday evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Chief, N.J. Mertes; Assistant Chief, F.E. Colvin; Treasurer, Charles Groeschel; Secretary John H. Martin.

Deputy Sheriff William Schultz had orders from the Sheriff of this county to serve notices on all places where slot machines were in use. The deputy did his duty on Tuesday, consequently bars and tables in the various saloons are minus these machines.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Strachota of St. Kilian.

Ask the Guys

Dear Classified Guys,
I've collected tons of stuff over the years, enough to fill a two-bedroom apartment and a 10' x 20' garage at a storage center. The thought of cleaning never really crossed my mind, until I met my husband, the love of my life. We dated for over a year, got married a few months ago and are now moving into our first house together. Now that the honeymoon is over, I'm learning how much he likes to remove clutter from his life. You can imagine for a girl with lots of stuff that this will be a challenge. As I sift through boxes and boxes of memories and things I forgot I even collected, I'm finding it very difficult to determine which items should go to my new house and which should go to a yard sale. However, I'm determined to dedicate my life to my new husband and my weekends to cleaning out. Do you guys have any advice for deciding what to keep and what to move on?

Carry: Well, it seems things are going in a great direction for you. You've already made two big life decisions: the first, getting married, and the second, buying a home.

Cash: Next you'll be considering children, but we'll leave those questions for your mother and new mother-in-law.

Carry: With so many changes, this is a great time for you to clean out, get organized and start fresh. Plus if you're planning to have a yard sale, it's often easier to part with things knowing that someone else may use them. It's sort of an emotional recycling program.

Cash: Remember that your husband is there to help. If you work together, this could be a fun and liberating experience. You can share your memories with him while his objective opinion may help to determine what's best to keep and what's best to go.

Carry: Considering you find it difficult to part ways with some of your things, try this rule of thumb. If you haven't looked at it, used it or worn it in the last two years, then let it go. Most likely you'll never miss it.

Fast Facts

Tossed Aside

Over time, most of us tend to collect some form of clutter. Unfortunately, those excess items can cost us more than just space. According to the National Association of Professional Organizers, clutter can cost the average person about $10 per square foot to store in their home. More importantly, eliminating all those unnecessary items would eliminate 40% of the housework for the average home. With that much time and money freed up, imagine how much shopping you could do to fill it up again!

Yes Dear

Although many people dream of meeting their soulmate and moving in together, a new trend has emerged called, "Living Apart Together". These are couples that commit to each other, but choose to live in separate homes. This isn't a new idea, but it has gained in popularity. In Sweden, the number of couples has grown from 6% to 14% in less than ten years. Former couple, Woody Allen and Mia Farrow, lived this way having homes on opposite sides of Central Park. Director Tim Burton and actress Helena Bonham Carter live in two houses next door to each other in London.

Baker's Dozen

I love to bake, but with a family of six, the goodies disappear quickly from the refrigerator. That's why I'm always looking at yard sales for more storage containers. I figure if I make more, maybe there'll be enough for me.

At one of the yard sales I asked a woman if she had any containers for sale and we got to talking about my dilemma.

"I completely understand your problem," she said, "and I have a solution." Reaching across the table, she handed me a label maker she had for 50 cents. Rather confused, I asked her how this would help. "It's quite simple," she laughed. "Just label the containers 'Broccoli'!"

VILLAGE BOARD MEETING MARCH 4, 2013 7:00 P.M.

The Kewaskum Village Board, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in regular session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Andy Pesch presided and called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. Board members present were Craig Garbisch, Richard Knoebel, Mike Berger, Andy Pesch, Norman Kufahl, Kevin Scheunemann and Jim Hovland. Staff members present were Matt Heiser, Mark Groeschel, Thomas Bishop, Jerry Gilles, Chad Cook and Stephanie Justmann. The news media and members from the community were also present.

Notice of the meeting had been posted at the PNC Bank, Kewaskum Post Office, and at the Municipal Building on February 28, 2013. Notice was also forwarded to the Village Board, Village Attorney, Village Engineer, and the News Media.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

Motion by Mike Berger to approve the minutes from the February 11, 2013 and the February 18, 2013 meetings, second by Norman Kufahl. Voice vote, motion carried.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel reported the new ambulance has been ordered with an anticipated delivery date in the first or second week in April.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles reported:

1. The WisDOT has proposed a new crosswalk option for the Main Street project. Maps of where the crosswalks will be installed were reviewed. The crosswalk will be painted with 2 foot white stripes with grooved markings. WisDOT has verified that this crosswalk will withstand snowmobile traffic where the Eisenbahn Trail crosses Main Street. The Village will be responsible for maintaining the crosswalks after they are installed. No parking signage and bump outs were also discussed.

2. Motion by Kevin Scheunemann to approve the Maintenance Agreement for Crosswalk Marking - Highway Pavement Marking, second by Jim Hovland. Voice vote, motion carried.

3. Motion by Jim Hovland to approve the letter requested by the WisDOT to include the water and sewer plans and specifications into the Main Street project, second by Norman Kufahl. Voice vote, motion carried.

Administrator Heiser reported on the replacement of a VFD pump at the Kewaskum Mall lift station with a used pump that resulted in a cost savings that happened outside of the budget process.

Village Clerk Stephanie Justmann reported the Spring Primary was held on February 19, 2013. The election workers were Lavern Geidel, Nancy Harris, Eileen Petri, Gina Raether, Karen Schaub and Jim Westphal. There were 264 votes cast.

Richard Knoebel, Chairperson for the Administrative Committee, reported the bills were recommended for payment as presented. Motion by Craig Garbisch to approve the bills as recommended, second by Norman Kufahl. Voice vote, motion carried.

NOTICE OF SPRING ELECTION AND SAMPLE BALLOTS APRIL 2, 2013

OFFICE OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY CLERK
TO THE ELECTORS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a spring election to be held in Washington County, on the 2nd day of April, 2013, at which the officers named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall state his or her name and address and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the spring election, where optical scan voting systems are used, the elector shall fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the elector shall write in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided and fill in the oval on the write-in line.

Where touch screen voting systems are used, the elector shall touch the screen next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the elector shall type in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. Not more than five minutes time shall be allowed inside a voting booth or machine. Sample ballots or other materials to assist the elector in casting his or her vote may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

If the elector spoils an optical scan ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initiated by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place. After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the voting booth, properly deposit the ballot and promptly leave the polling place. The elector may spoil a touch screen ballot at the voting station before the ballot is cast.

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve so the marks do not show. After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the booth, insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The elector shall leave the polling place promptly.

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

10 Tips for Perfect Grilling

To help you get the perfect steaks every time, follow these simple tips from the experts at Omaha Steaks:

1. Clean and preheat grill on high.
2. Lightly oil everything before putting it on the grill. This helps the searing process and prevents sticking.
3. Season food before grilling.
4. Sear the outside of steaks when grilling. This helps with the flavor and juiciness.
5. Use tongs or a spatula to turn meat on the grill. Using a fork can damage the meat.
6. Cover grill as much as possible during the grilling process. This helps to lock in the grilled flavor and will help prevent flare-ups.
7. Keep a spray bottle with water handy to douse any unexpected flare-ups.
8. Use the 60/40 grilling method. Grill for 60 percent of the time on the first side, then grill 40 percent of the time after turning over the food. This will make sure your food is evenly cooked.
9. Place cooked food on a clean plate. Never place cooked food on the plate you used to transport the raw food to the grill without thoroughly washing it first.
10. Allow foods to "rest" for 5 minutes between cooking and eating. This will help them retain moisture when you cut into them.

Korean Barbecue Beef Tenderloin with Stir-Fried Bok Choy

Serves 6 to 8

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 3-pound Omaha Steaks Tenderloin Roast                 | 2 cups Korean Barbecue Marinade (see recipe) |
| 1/4 cup Omaha Steaks Private Reserve American Steak Rub | 1 pound Stir-Fried Bok Choy (see recipe)     |
| 1 14-ounce bottle Korean barbecue sauce                 | 6 to 8 cilantro sprigs                       |
| 1 teaspoon black sesame seeds                           | 1 teaspoon toasted sesame seeds              |

Begin by completely thawing tenderloin. It will take 2 days in refrigerator or 1 hour in a sink full of cold water.

Remove tenderloin from plastic, and place in a large resealable bag with Korean Barbecue Marinade. Marinate overnight in refrigerator.

Remove tenderloin from marinade, and season with steak rub. Sear tenderloin on all sides on a pre-heated grill. Place in a 250°F oven for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until the internal temperature is 125°F for medium rare.

With 15 minutes remaining, prepare the bok choy and heat Korean barbecue sauce.

Remove tenderloin from oven, let rest 15 minutes. Slice and serve. Garnish with cilantro and a mixture of sesame seeds.

Korean Barbecue Marinade

Makes 2 cups

- |                                    |                                      |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 tablespoon sesame oil            | 2 tablespoons garlic, finely chopped |
| 2 tablespoons fresh ginger, minced | 1 cup canned pear juice              |
| 1/2 cup soy sauce                  | 2 tablespoons brown sugar            |
| 1 tablespoon crushed red pepper    |                                      |

Place sesame oil in a thick bottom pot and add garlic and ginger. Place pot on a medium burner and add the rest of ingredients and slowly bring to a boil. Bring heat down to a simmer and cook while stirring for approximately 5 minutes. Remove sauce from heat and refrigerate for up to one week.

Stir-Fried Bok Choy

- |   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| 1 tablespoon canola oil                         | 1 pound bok choy, chopped |
| 1/3 cup Korean barbecue sauce                   | 1 tablespoon sesame oil   |
| Sea salt and fresh ground black pepper to taste |                           |

In a wok, briefly heat canola oil. Add bok choy and cook for 2 to 3 minutes. Add Korean barbecue sauce and sesame oil to wok and mix well. Serve while hot.

Mediterranean Sirloin Skewers

Serves 2 to 6

- |                                    |                                    |
|------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 2 pounds Omaha Steaks Sirloin Tips | 1 cup Mediterranean Steak Marinade |
| 4 to 6 skewers                     |                                    |

Thaw sirloin tips.

Prepare Mediterranean Steak Marinade. Drain sirloin tips and place in a resealable bag with marinade. Marinate sirloin tips in refrigerator for at least 8 hours or overnight. Agitate bag periodically to ensure marinade is well combined with the sirloin tips.

Preheat grill on high. Thread sirloin tips onto skewers. Grill for 4 to 5 minutes on each side. Serve over couscous, pasta, salad or rice.

Mediterranean Steak Marinade

Makes 1 cup

- |  |                                     |
|--|-------------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup extra virgin olive oil             | 2 teaspoons sea salt                |
| 1 teaspoon ground black pepper             | 1/4 cup fresh squeezed lemon juice  |
| 2 tablespoons fresh garlic cloves, chopped | 1 tablespoon fresh oregano, chopped |
| 1 tablespoon fresh rosemary, chopped       | 1/4 cup California chardonnay wine  |

Combine all ingredients and mix well.

KIWC athletes leave Madison with four places

Shown above are the youth from Kewaskum that participated in the State Youth Wrestling Tournament in Madison the weekend of March 22. Front row, left to right, Nicholas Deheck 60#, Braeden Scoles 63# and Kannon Muckerheide 120#. Middle row: Kelsey Muckerheide 85#, Ben Butler 75#, Braeden Maertz 84# and Eric Bauer 88#. Back row: Dylan May 190# and Alex Vogt 120#.

MADISON— While there were hopes for better finishes, the Kewaskum Indians Wrestling Club was satisfied with three fourth places and a fifth in the annual WWF Kids Folkstyle Tournament held at the Alliant Energy Center on Friday and Saturday.

Starting with the lady first, Kelsey Muckerheide captured fourth in the 85-pound weight class for girls born between 2001-'03, while two of the younger KIWC qualifiers, Braeden Scoles and Ben Butler, also took fourths, Butler at 75 pounds and Scoles a lighter 63.

Eric Bauer had an up and down day, starting off with two straight victories to advance to the semifinals of the 88-pound weight class (for boys 2,000-'01).

Bauer then lost two matches in a row but rebounded to win his final match for fifth place.

"Everyone walked away with a goal in mind for next year," KIWC coach Justin Rhoads said Sunday.

Butler got his day off to a good start, pinning Jonny Schlaefler of McFarland/Monona Grove in 1:57 and followed that win up with a 9-0 shutout over Elijah Lucio of Athens.

In the semis, it was Coleman's Cole Klimek coming out on top of a 4-2 decision over Butler, who bounced back with a 5-4 decision over Cade Martin of Berlin to advance to the consolation finals.

In a good match, Butler was just two points short of third place, falling to Austin Hughes of the Wisconsin Wrestling Club 4-2.

"Benny did pretty ... had a match that was pretty close to getting him in the finals," Rhoads said of Butler.

"Scoles came back tough, the coach said, referring to the fact he was pinned in his first match (by Jaden Kikkert of Portage in 1:42) and then won four in a row to reach the consolation finals.

First, he won by 15-0 tech fall over Logan Gaulke of Stradford, next he shut out Fondy's Michael Streblov 7-0, then he toppled Neilsville/Greenwood's Derek Zscherwitz 8-0, and he followed that up with a 9-0 win over Thomas Lundell of the Dodgeville Wrestling Club.

In the battle for third, Will Wiebur of Shawano outscored Scoles 13-5 for a major decision victory.

Muckerheide was a 4-0 winner in her first match but lost the second (0-8) to Josie Bartishofski of Wausau East.

Then Muckerheide ran off a string of three straight wins, including a pin in 1:51 over Hailey Stich of Cuba City and a quick 31-second pin over Nyah Millis of Three Lakes before losing for third place to Gianna Farrington of Union Grover (pin in 1:49).

"She looked pretty good," Rhoads said of Muckerheide.

In the semis, Bauer ran into the eventual champ, Abraham Sell of X-Factor Elite, losing 10-0. Bauer had lost to Sell 13-3 in a match in the Kewaskum Youth Tournament.

"That kid was pretty tough," Rhoads said, reporting Bauer suffered a 5-4 loss to Aaron Bahr of LAW in his next match. "That match could have gone either way," Rhoads said, noting Bauer showed his mettle in the next match, beating Wesolowski again for third place 3-1.

Braeden Maertz wound up 1-2 at 84 pounds for boys born in 2002-'03. He lost a close 3-1 decision to Luke Mechler of the Advance School of Wrestling in the first round, defeated Owen Hoschitt of the Blackhawk Warrior Wrestling Club 5-0 before bowing out via a 6-1 loss to Denmark's Jack Schmitz.

On Friday night, Alex Vogt (120 pounds, boys 1998-'99) and Dylan May (190 pounds, boys 1998-'99) both went 0-2 and were eliminated from the competition.

Vogt lost two decisions, the last one a 7-5 loss to Owen Garges of Askren Wrestling Academy, while May was pinned in his first bout, then lost a 5-2 decision to Connor McGowan of Darlington.

Alex Deheck also went 0-2 (60 pounds, 2004-'05), losing two decisions. In his first match, he came up short in a 4-2 decision to Ethan Friedrich of Sugar River Mat Club.

Kannon Muckerheide (120 pounds, 2002-'03) wrestled twice on Saturday and was pinned in both his matches.

The KIWC will hold its annual banquet on Sunday, April 7 at 4 p.m. at the Amer-
