Firefighters from Boltonville and Kewaskum Fire Departments worked vigorously for more than 45 minutes to free a Milwaukee woman pinned in her car after a crash Thursday on Highway H in the Town of Farmington.

Four people, two of them children, were injured in a two-vehicle crash that shut down a portion of Highway H last week. Due to the severity of the injuries Theda Star Helicopter was called to the scene to transport one of the victims.

Washington County Sheriff's Deputies responded to the crash just west of the intersection of Highways 144 and H, Thursday, April 10 just before 4 p.m. Boltonville Firefighters and First Responders were also called the scene and were joined by Kewaskum Fire Department and both of their ambulances.

District in budget waiting game for school that would open in 2015-16

Kewaskum School District takes steps to fund charter school

By Kirsten Klahn

Statesman Correspondent

Kewaskum is one step closer to a new charter school.

The Kewaskum Board of Education Monday voted to move forward with a planning grant that will help the district fund the charter school. The grant, applied for through the Wisconsin Department of Public Institution, would provide the district with up to $150,000.

However, the district is stuck in a waiting game in regards to its budget for next year. It's planning as if it didn't get the grant because the district won't find out until early August whether it will receive the money, said Superintendent Jim Smasal.

If the district receives the grant, it will be used in the 2014-15 school year to continue planning and researching the prospect of a charter school.

If the district doesn't get the grant, the board can decide whether it wants to pay for a scaled-down version of the charter school, which will serve kindergarten through fifth grade, Smasal said.

The School District can apply for three grants over a span of three years, worth $450,000. It's all designed to help Kewaskum take the necessary steps to prepare for a charter school.

The district's plan is to open the charter school for the 2015-2016 school year, Smasal said. Wayne Elementary, which is expected to have an enrollment of about 86 students next year, would house the charter school, and the district would give Wayne students the option to attend the charter school or be shuttled to another district school.

A charter school is an independently run public school that grants greater operation flexibility in return for greater accountability for performance. The charter establishing each school is a performance contract that details the school's mission, program, students served, performance goals and methods of assessment.

The charter school has the potential to drastically increase enrollment at Kewaskum School District, Smasal said.

Test scores better than state average

By Gay Griesbach

Statesman Correspondent

A 26-page report on Kewaskum district students from the Wisconsin Knowledge and Concepts Exams for the 2012-13 school has provided educators with a focus for their efforts.

Math scores dipped negligibly from 60.1 percent in 2011-12 to 59.2 percent, but numbers are still on the increase since district students averaged 37.5 percent in 2005.

"We are in a better place than we were in 2005," Kewaskum School District Curriculum Director Darcy Budnik said.

District wide, math results are more than 10 points better than state averages.

The number of students considered advanced or proficient in reading rose from 33.1 percent in 2005 to 40.4 percent for the 2012-13 school year, but Budnik said they would like to see those scores continue to increase.

"The state average is at 36.6 percent but we would like to do better," Budnik said.

She said the district has zeroed in on making sure they have aligned curriculum and will be looking at professional development in the field of literacy to increase reading scores.

Specifics on professional development and ongoing teacher support and coaching with a literary focus will be provided at the April 28 board meeting.

Shambeau named Planning and Parks Director for County

By Andrew Kuehl

andrew@thestatesmanwi.com

Former Kewaskum Village Administrator Jay Shambeau is excited to be working a little closer to home after accepting a position with Washington County as their new director of Planning and Parks.

Shambeau stated Tuesday evening that he is excited to return to something he enjoyed, planning, and start something new by overseeing the county's park system.

"This is a great fit for me professionally," Shambeau said.

Shambeau, who lives in Kewaskum with his family, was the former Calumet County Administrator, a position he resigned from in February. He served as Kewaskum's administrator from 2006-2008. Prior to working in Kewaskum he was planning director for Clark County.

Washington County

Board made the appointment at their meeting Tuesday. Shambeau will receive a salary of $92,830. He will start on Monday, April 28.

Shambeau replaces Paul Mueller who retired Feb. 25.

Shambeau holds a bachelor's degree in regional analysis and geography from UW-Green Bay and a master's degree in public administration from UW-Oshkosh.

Petri to retire, Stroebel joins Grothman in run to D.C.

Facing a challenger, U.S. Rep. Tom Petri R-Fond du Lac announced Monday that he would retire after 35 years in congress. State Rep. Dwey Stroebel R-Saukville quickly announced Saturday that he would join Grothman in a run for the seat after information of Petri's pending retirement arose.

Petri, 73, made the announcement in Neenah before supporters. According to Wispolitics.com he said the time was right.

"Sooner or later, you're either booted out, die or retire," Petri joked.

Stroebel, 54, currently serves the 60th district in the state assembly. He was elected in 2011 in a special election succeeding Mark Gottlieb who was chosen to serve as Department of Transportation secretary. Stroebel will step down from his seat to run for the congressional seat.

Stroebel owns Terrace Realty in Cedarburg.

"I've built a business from the ground up and created jobs, and I know what it takes to get the 6th District and America working again," Stroebel stated.

Also poised to be eyeing a run is State Senator Joe Leibham, R-Sheboygan. State Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, will not run and will instead focus on being re-elected to his senate seat in the 13th District.

There has been no indication as to individuals aspiring to run for Stroebel's assembly seat which includes Portions of Washington and Ozaukee counties.

The sixth Congressional District includes the counties of Ozaukee, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Winnebago, Dodge, Green Lake, Manitowoc, Marquette, Columbia, Waushara and Milwaukee.

Village gets high opinion in audit

Kewaskum's financial situation may not change unless the village increases its staff.

That was the opinion of John Knepel of Baker, Tilly, Virchow, Krause, after he submitted an auditor's report to the village during its Monday meeting.

The audit presentation for 2013 showed what is commonly referred to as a "Clean" opinion and earned the highest level of assurance a municipality can receive from an auditor.

When pressed as to how the village could make improvements, Knepel said deficiencies center on internal controls and too many incompatible duties being done by one person. He said the problem is shared by other small communities.

"It's an economic decision. You need to hire more people or keep proper oversight," Knepel said.

Village debt decreased about $600,000 to $19.2 million by the end of the 2013 fiscal year.

The water utility is operating at a surplus and is self supporting while sewer services are not.

TIF 2, is operating at a $475,000 deficit, Knepel said. The report also notes that TIF 2 was designated as distressed in 2012.

Letters to the Editor

To The Statesman-

I know there is always construction in the big city and people are use to it. But in a small town with only one way to cross the river is frustrating for business owners, villagers, visitors and student drivers.

Detours around the village are poorly marked for the construction. The police are pulling people over constantly and starting to ticket drivers. I feel sorry for the people who come into town to church on Sundays and without proper signage are going down the wrong roads and getting tickets.

Is signage too expensive for the village? Did the village think that signs were not needed? Is giving tickets helping offset the cost of the construction on Hwy 28? The poor businesses on Main Street suffer because their customers might not come because they don't know how to get to the businesses without getting pulled over.

This is going to be a long summer and hopefully these businesses can survive. This construction has just begun, rumor is we have until late fall before this is over. How hard is it for the village to mark a road to get around the village? Put signs at the intersection of Main St. and Fond du Lac Ave. facing north- "To Main street businesses to First Street." Then additional signs down First Street for businesses names for parking.

Then there's the driver of the Michigan loader... Be careful of him, he won't slow down yet alone stop for anyone. One of these days a child will be walking to or from school and get hit by him because he doesn't slow down. I know it is probably annoying to the construction workers with all the traffic. But if you have been in the construction business for a while you know it comes with the territory.

the five Republicans appointed NASCAR jacket wearer justices voting in favor of the ruling and all four Democrats appointed voting against. Be prepared to be continuously bombarded with political advertising [TV, radio, emails, etc.] with phony group names such as Americans for "Prosperity" [should really be "disparity"], etc.

Nobody ever said that wealthy people could not be or should not be a part of our political system. Rulings like these give them a disproportionate advantage over common working people however. It negates the one person, one vote democratic idea. But the most important part of wealthy people being involved in politics is determining a direct link to financial gain because of it.

Chris Cline the mining owner of Gogebic is a perfect example of it. In fact billionaires backing the Republican Party directly gain financially based solely on tax reductions, tax breaks, de-regulation, and corporate subsidies. Billionaires donating to the Democratic Party usually lose financially because of tax increases, more regulations, closing tax loopholes, etc. These decisions will hurt most people in this country.

Time will come soon where there will be no need for a two party system. Both parties will be corrupted and you will not distinguish the two. It's unfortunate that some people are like sheep going over the cliff following the distorted lies and propaganda.

Recently Kimberly Strassel of the WSJ using data from a conservative group called "Center for Responsive Politics" stated that unions have spent more than $600 million in the past 25 years than the Koch brothers. However when you fact check and reveal all money including dark money PAC's and Super PAC's last election cycle 2012 alone the Koch brothers spent $460 million compared to $153 million with the top 10 labor unions combined. The labor unions represent and consist of over 60 million middle class working members compared to just two billionaire greedy brothers.

At the same time when Walker and the Republicans in Wisconsin limited voting hours they also increased lobbyist dollar amounts by increasing the timeframe and hiding paperwork on elections. So anyone declaring names of wealthy people like Soros and Kohl etc., unless they show a direct link to financial gain their point becomes moot. And please do some fact checking people, not just talk radio, Fox News or some conservative think tank. If you don't, I will.

Recognize and Respond: So Now What?

By William Loss, Jody Heipp and Anne Ignatowski
Kewaskum School District

Your son comes home, and you ask how his day went. He shared that the day went well except that another student "stared him down." This is the first and only time this has happened.

Your daughter comes home a short time later, and indicates that it was yet another awful day. The same group of students is spreading rumors about her. This has happened multiple times.

These are two very different scenarios. The first is an example of a student being unkind; the second clearly demonstrates a pattern of behavior that fits the definition of bullying. How do we respond?

Students deserve to come to school each day feeling safe and secure. Bullying and harassment are not something anyone should tolerate or expect to go away without intervention. A parent/guardian is often quick to recognize when something isn't quite "right" with his/her child. For this reason, we are looking for your help.

How could a parent provide such assistance? Perhaps your child shares (as described in the scenario above) information and insight regarding situations at school that your child did not share with a staff member. We need you, as the child's parent/guardian, to communicate these concerns to the school. This could be done in a traditional communication format, such as email, phone or personal conversation; or, via a bully reporting mechanism available through the district website (Left column under 'Links,' select 'Report Bullying'). You have the option of remaining anonymous.

In addition to reporting bullying to school representatives, you could also use the following approach with your child when responding to harassing comments and other types of bullying. First, encourage your child to name the behavior that just occurred. Second, have your child claim how that action made him or her feel. Finally, have your child let the offender know what they would like to happen. This strategy can be used if your child is the target or the bystander.

It takes a little practice to name it, claim it and stop it; but the results are worth it. Even if the bullying does not stop immediately, your child's voice will have been heard - either as the victim or the bystander. He or she will have clearly communicated the behavior is unwanted and should stop.

Communication and assertiveness can greatly reduce bullying behavior. Modeling how we would like our children to interact with another individual with whom they disagree is a life-long lesson. Adults can teach young people this critical skill when we approach situations with compassion and forgiveness - two traits we would like all of our students to embody.

So now what? As a community, are you willing to tip the scale and stand up to bullying and harassing behavior?

To The Statesman:

A recent United States Supreme Court ruling entitled "McCutcheon vs. FEC" has again changed political finance election laws. This particular ruling changes the amount of money billionaires can contribute to politicians in an effort to influence the election and the politicians themselves. Of course the dollar amount dramatically went up.

Not surprisingly the Republican Party was in favor of the ruling just like they were with the "citizens united" ruling declaring corporations are "people" and the formation of hidden dark money like PACs and SUPER PACs. The decision again a partisan one with

The school will incorporate the i4Learning model, designed to provide students with individualized plans and project-based learning that can take place anytime and any-where.

A focus on individualized learning has parents excited about the school.

"This charter school would be a great addition to our district and will give an opportunity for children to soar and achieve personal as well as educational growth in a variety of ways," said Tracy Herman, who has two children in the district. "Technology changes daily, but children grasp onto these changes quickly, and education can be the same way. By changing how they learn, they can grasp onto these changes, ignite and explode into great passionate individuals," she added.

The board will be able to vote at each new phase in the planning process to determine if the district should continue moving forward with charter school plans.

Moving forward with the charter school will benefit the children and the community, Herman said.

"By providing this individualized learning opportunity, students can explore hands-on and ignite a passion for future careers, as well as exploratory learning in this community for future generations," she said.

Future plans for the Kewaskum Career Academy have not been discussed which currently operates similarly but is attended by Kewaskum High School students that do not fit into the traditional school model. It is unknown how the addition of a charter school will affect Kewaskum Career Academy.

the Washington County Sheriff's Department the initial investigation of the crash revealed a 32-year-old woman from Milwaukee was traveling west on Highway H when she crossed the centerline and struck an eastbound car being driven by a 69-year-old male from the Town of Farmington. Also in the car with the Milwaukee woman were her two children, a 6-year-old female and a 3-year-old male.

The Town of Farmington male and two children were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend. Their injuries were not life threatening.

The Milwaukee woman was pinned in her vehicle and required extrication by firefighters who worked tirelessly for 45 minutes before she was freed from her vehicle. The Star Helicopter out of Neenah transported the Milwaukee female to Froedtert Hospital. Both of Flight for Life's helicopters were unavailable. Her condition is unknown.

West Bend Fire Department's ambulance and medical intercept assisted at the scene.

Free program offered for recognizing teen depression

Kewaskum Cares about Kids (KCK) is hosting an informative workshop for parents of teenagers about recognizing depression.

KCK believes with the powerful influence parents have on their children to make positive behavior choices, parents need to understand their children's behavior and interaction with other children. They also need to understand what to do if a loved one is felt to be depressed or suicidal. Untreated depression can worsen to a life threatening emergency.

Sara Zingsheim, a former teacher and licensed professional counselor in training from Affiliated Clinical Services and a representative from the Washington County Acute Care Services will discuss the signs and symptoms of depression as well as how to distinguish normal teenage behavior from clinical depression. Warning signs of suicide will be included as part of the discussion.

The free program will be held at Kewaskum Elementary School Tuesday, April 22 in the cafeteria/ large group instruction (LGI) from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Please use the rear school entrance in the back parking lot. Registration is requested by call or email Linda Dymond at ldymond@elevateyou.org or (262) 677-2216.

In addition we need to praise the Kewaskum School District and High School. Not only have they been understanding and flexible but many teachers and staff have personally reached out. ### THANK YOU

We simply wanted to thank all our friends in the community who reached out to us after our son's accident.

We have been overwhelmed with the outpouring of love, concern and support from so many people. The concerned inquiries, warm well wishes, prayers, gifts of food and attention have all been greatly appreciated.

We also wanted to publicly recognize the Kewaskum Fire Department and Police Department for the great job they did. Along with their partners at the West Bend Fire Department and Washington County Sheriff's Department they provided ex-

THANK YOU

To all of you, who were kind enough to send a birthday card for my 60th birthday, I thank you. I truly didn't know how many different 60th birthday cards are out there. Of the 80+ cards I received, most were funny, many were kind. I even had two cards from Jerry Jones, owner of the Dallas Cowboys, asking for his football back. (Sorry Jerry it is not happening.)

Most of the cards were signed and others had no signature or let us say, signed but not their real name. For example, I received a card from the girls at Bean Snapper in Appleton. I had Louise google this place because, I'm sorry, I never heard of this place. She said if you are planning on going there better go and see your cardiologist first, especially at your age now.

I also receive a few gifts that I did not intend on receiving. These gifts also came from anonymous sources. Since they came unsigned I need to thank you this way. To Doris (I don't know who this is) thanks for the coffee coupon. To Sophia thanks for the drink chips at Links Hideaway and Camelot. To my secret pal (I didn't know I had) thanks for the lunch at Dairy Queen. Thanks also to the unknown sender of a package which contained toothpicks to pick food out of my dentures, large print cards so I can read the numbers, rubber bands to keep my sh*t together and an empty bag that said I already forgot what was in it.

I wish to thank my lovely wife Louise who came up with card shower idea to celebrate my 60th birthday. It has been truly a lot of fun.

Thank you

This is the last year students will be taking paper-and-pencil WKCE tests in math and reading as those measures are replaced with the computer-based Smarter Balanced Assessment in spring.

Friends of Lac Lawrann to hold annual Wildflower and Perennial Sale

Again this year Mother Nature has thrown a cold curve ball at the volunteers working on Lac Lawrann Conservancy's 27th annual Wildflower and Perennial sale. Undaunted by the weather and the frost in the ground, the volunteers bundle up and keep potting.

The sale will be held as always, the Saturday before Mother's Day, May 10, at Lac Lawrann conservancy, 300 Schmidt Rd., West Bend from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Lac Lawrann sale, which started with a few hundred plants dug from newly established trails and volunteer's gardens 27 years ago has grown to include roughly 6,000 plants. New this year will be a variety of premium clematis and the beautiful pink and white, "Sorbet" peony.

Fern leaf peonies, the first peony to bloom in the spring, will also be available. Assorted chrysanthemums have been added this year. Many gardeners purchase chrysanthemums in the fall when they are in bloom, but the proper planting time is spring, so they become established and survive our winter.

Another popular fall bloomer is the wild flower, New England Aster, a cultivated red/pink variety, Alma Potschke, works well in a sunny flower bed. Also new this year is a blue and white low growing delphinium. This along with other small plants would work in "fairy" gardens, now in vogue. Popular annual and perennial herbs and ground covers are also available.

Hard to find wild flower plants for woodland, prairie and wet lands are featured. Bold and beautiful compass plant, with its big, sandpaper type leaves and tall yellow flowers is at home in the prairie or as a specimen in a garden border. This is true of many wild varieties. You don't have to have a prairie or a woodland to enjoy wild flowers. There will be two red trillium varieties along with the white grandiflora trillium, and yellow trillium. Wild geraniums, hepatica (May flower), ferns, spring beauty, Virginia blue bells, bellwort, Jacob's ladder and many other woodland varieties will be featured. There are prairie grasses, cone flowers, queen of the prairie, black eyed susans, asters, butterfly weed and other forbes for prairies and marsh marigold, Turk's cap lily, turtle head, cardinal flower, blue flag iris for wet lands.

Trees, shrubs, vines, raspberry and rhubarb plants will also be for sale. Our craft crew is busy constructing grape vine and willow trellises for the sale as well as garden art. A garden rummage sale will be held again this year and our resident wood carver will be carving and selling her popular "tree spirits" and figurines.

Proceeds from the sale are used for Lac Lawrann Conservancy. After working 26 years to raise funds to build a learning center that dream has come true and the center was opened last year. The conservancy is part of the West Bend Recreation, Park and Forestry Department and is open free of charge from dawn to dusk daily. With all the snow this winter snow shoeing was a popular Saturday activity.

Snowshoes were furnished free of charge for those who wanted to try walking the trails in snowshoes. There are hiking and groomed cross-country skiing trails on the 130 plus acres of lowlands, eskers, prairie and woodlands, around lakes and wetlands.

The proceeds from this year's sale will be used for nature programs, additional building features in the learning center and operating expenses.

Information on donations of plants, garden rummage, or help for the sale may be made to the West Bend Park Department, 262-335-5080, Joan Rosenberger, 262-692-2491, Julie Romagnoli, 262-677-3788, or Lana Vogt, 414-881-4637.

Local food organization initiatives extending into the community

With spring officially in Kewaskum, garden thoughts and tastes of fresh produce is on everyone's mind. Local food organization, Best You Food Force (BUFF) recently teamed up with Geidel's Piggly Wiggly to introduce new foods to the community after seeing success at the school level.

"Since Kewaskum Elementary School has been successful, why not expand to Piggly Wiggly and the parents, the community," Paula Carlton, health care professional, BUFF member and parent, said.

BUFF is a grassroots organization that supports and provides resources to Kewaskum by promoting nutrition and wellness education. BUFF has partnered with Wellspring Education Center and Organic Farms to expand their mission.

As part of the pilot Farm to School program, Wellspring comes to KES once a month to teach children about such topics as compost and the origins of food as well as offer food tastings.

Students recently tried sugar snap peas.

"They gobbled everything up," Francie Szostak, education director of Wellspring, said.

On January 20, Kewaskum School District was presented with $10,750 grant from the Healthy Community Fund and Healthy People Project of Washington County (HPPWC). The money will fund purchase of storage equipment, school garden supplies, Farm to School curriculum and continued food tastings.

"The amount doubled, based on what we submitted," Szostak said. "We've expanded the garden, had more tastings, more visits to Wellspring, more education in schools. They liked the program a lot so far, so they doubled the amount."

With the success of Farm to School, BUFF reached out to Piggly Wiggly.

"The kids are ready to learn and open to learning. If we can teach them something, they'll take it home," Carlton said.

Aaron Laatsch, manager of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, came to the BUFF meeting Tuesday, March 27 and offered a small section in the sales flyer, a display on the store's LED sign, and Facebook mentions to promote the vegetable of the month. Szostak provided flyers and recipes to be displayed with the produce.

According to Laatsch, approximately 120 pounds of sugar snap peas of the 150 ordered for the first week sold quickly. "During a normal, non-advertised sales week, we sell through roughly 30 pounds of product," he said.

Based on feedback after this month's trial run, Piggly Wiggly may continue to introduce new foods by highlighting the vegetable of the month featured at the school level.

"We try to find vegetables that are accessible to people," Szostak said.

When she does her food tastings at the local schools, she provides recipes, newsletters with storage and nutritional information for parents.

BUFF and Wellspring are working together to involve the middle school for the 2014-15 school year.

Planting, including garden bed preparation, began in the school garden April 9. Drexel Building Supply in Campbellsport provided a discount for the lumber, and Liesener Soils Inc. in Jackson not only offered a discount on the soil, but delivered it.

The amount of plots doubled to 16.

"The school will be utilizing (them) fully," Terri Miller, food service director, said. "There still are a few community plots."

In the future, Miller plans to offer the new foods on school menus and as part of the salad bar at the high school. Fuel Up to Play 60 has already provided tastings at KMS.

Lettuce and spinach have been planted. This week Szostak plans to plant kale, kohlrabi and peas. Jeanne Wheeler's fifth grade class at KES and the Boys and Girls Club will continue to help with the garden.

Next school year, Marilyn Kasten's first grade class at KES will be helping with the garden.

In the meantime, BUFF will continue to seek ways to work together to improve health and nutrition for both the school and the community by inviting community members to attend. Though BUFF only started four years ago, Carlton said, "It has been growing and evolving since then."

For additional information, visit them on Facebook. Those interested in joining BUFF, the group meets the fourth Tuesday every month at 7 a.m. at the Coffee Corner.

The Kewaskum Junior Women's Club hosted the Helen Farnsworth Mears Memorial Art Contest for area seventh and eighth grade students.

Helen was born in Oshkosh in 1872 and became one of Wisconsin's most accomplished sculptors. One of her marble carvings of a woman and an eagle titled "Genius of Wisconsin" still stands at the Wisconsin State Capitol.

In 1927, the General Federation of Women's Clubs - Wisconsin Woman's Club honored Helen's memory by inaugurating an annual art competition for seventh and eighth grade students.

A wide variety of two-dimensional and three-dimensional artwork from three local schools were on display for the month of March, national Youth Art Month, at the Kewaskum Public Library. The three area schools that are participating this year include Saint Frances Cabrini (Deb Pettit, art teacher), Badger Middle School (Keely Welton, art teacher), and Kewaskum Middle School (Mary Forstner, art teacher).

A reception and award ceremony for the student artists took place Saturday, March 8.

In the sculpture category, first place was awarded to Megan Jasen of St. Frances Cabrini School for her wire sculpture: "Wave of Colors," second place to Madeline Petrin of Badger Middle School for her soft sculpture, "Maddie's Blue Ugly Doll," and third place to Jacob Krutke of Badger Middle School for his ceramic vessel, "Safari."

In the two-dimensional category, first place was awarded to Madison Blankenship for her graphite drawing "Self Portrait," second place to Kelli Oelke of Kewaskum Middle School for her marker drawing, "Creation of Color," and third place to Grace Baumann for her marker and graphite drawing, "Teigos."

In the home school category, the graphite drawing of Bridget Dean titled, "Tree with Leaf" won first place.

Results from Saturday, April 12

The following is only a partial listing of team results because of many games being cancelled due to the weather and field conditions:

The U-7 Cougars newest member Mara Landvatter scored the first goal of the year against the Hartford Avengers.

The team played well for the first game but ended in a loss of 1-4.

The U-8 Cheetahs played the Washington County Tigers. Watt Tye, Zavier Chipman and Timmy Hafermann all scored goals.

The U9 Rockets started the spring season with a 8-5 win over the Slinger Hurricanes. It was a great game, going goal for goal through the first half. Offense players Carter Curtin, Shelby Falk and Cale Fedorski all scored against the Hurricanes. The second half showed the Rockets' strong defense, which held Slinger from taking the lead. The Rockets powered through the frigid temperature and rain to score several more goals in the second half, including one dribbled down field by defender Calla Kreuser.

The U-12 Girl Wolves played Hartford. The team played well especially for the first game. The defense held up well the entire game but ended in a 1-2 loss.

See www.kewaskumsoccer.com for information about KYSO and game schedules. Home games are played at Kewaskum Kiwanis Park.

NOTICE

Due to the construction project that started on Main Street and the decreasing number of customers visiting our office, we have decided to close our office. The construction has made parking and getting to our office difficult and police have urged people to stay off the road. We would like to encourage anyone who conducts business by visiting our office to call or email us before they venture out. Additionally the Statesman Publications Facebook page can be viewed for updates on our office hours.

We currently have a secure drop box on the front of our building if you need to drop off a payment or correspondence with us. The mail box is checked daily. Subscription payments can also be made via our website, www.thestatesmanwi.com. We are currently investigating the possibility of having a central dropbox at the Kewaskum Village and Town Halls.

Due to technology upgrades, an office for the newspaper may not be necessary in the future. We've found a weekly newspaper in England who closed their office and it has worked wonderfully for their community. We would love to hear your opinions on this matter. Please, feel free to contact us by phone or email to discuss this idea.

WILLIAM G. TIMBLIN

William G. "Mr. Bill" Timblin, 79, went to his heavenly home on Tuesday, April 15, 2014 at his home on the west shore of Lake Winnebago.

He was born on August 20, 1934 in the town of Osceola, the son of George and Veronica Braun Timblin.

On November 24, 1957 Bill married Marianne Engel at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Dotyville. They farmed together on the Timblin homestead in the town of Osceola.

Bill and Marianne started their trucking business in the 1960s and formed Timblin Transit Inc. (TTI) in 1977. He was a member of Shepherd of the Hills Catholic Parish, the Campanile Society of the Milwaukee Archdiocese, the Teamsters and the Farm Bureau.

Bill enjoyed working, golfing, going to football and baseball games, fishing and casino trips. But most of all he enjoyed family time and that so many family members were involved in the family business. He was also a great supporter of local organizations.

Those left behind to cherish his memory include his wife, Marianne; his sons, Bill (Sue) of Campbellsport and Mike (Amy) of Eden; his daughters, Jeannie Timblin, Diane (Mike) Gantner and Janet (Pat) Lorrigan, all of Fond du Lac; his grandchildren, Chrissy (Doug), Billy (Lisa), Jake (Kaitlin), Rhonda (Harold), Billy, Mike (Shera), Jill (Ian), Chad (Tracy), Patrick (Missy), Michael, Mason, Morgan and McCoy; his great-grandchildren, Will, Greta, Estella, Sienna, Addison, Michael, Ian, Ireland, Killian, Jensen, Gianna, Breleigh and Kaylie; his brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law, Roger and Gloria Engel of Eden, Carolyn and Gordon Immel and John Engel and Sue Bowe all of Fond du Lac; nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Bill was preceded in death by his parents; his in-laws, Alfred and Dorothy Engel; his twin brother, Henry (Carole) Timblin; his sister, Mary (Robert) Crofts; his brother-in-law, Allan (Sheila) Engel; his grandsons, Cole and Celton Timblin and his Godson, James Crofts.

Liturgy of the Word will be held Saturday, April 19 at 11 a.m. at Shepherd of the Hills Catholic Church, Eden. Rev. Charles Wrobel will officiate and private burial will be a later date in St. Mary's Cemetery, Eden. Memorials are appreciated to Shepherd of the Hills Parish or Agnesian Hospice Hope.

Visitation will be Friday, April 18 from 4 to 9 p.m. at the church and Saturday April from 9 until 10:45 a.m. at the church.

Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, is serving the family with online guestbook and condolences are at www.twohigfunerals.com.

The family extends a special thank you to Doctors Whitmore and Roetker, his great niece Jenna Crofts, the girls from Home Instead, the nurses and staff of the Cancer Center, St. Agnes Hospital and Hospice Hope, Chris B. of Agnesian, and all others for their care, prayers and support during Bill's final years.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LESTER STROBEL, who passed away 10 years ago on April 14, 2004.

I thought of you today,
But that is nothing new.
I thought about you yesterday,
And days before that too.

I think of you in silence,
I often speak your name.
All I have are memories,
And your picture in a frame.

Your memory is a keepsake,
From which I'll never part.
God has you in His arms,
I have you in my heart.

Sadly missed by his family

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of IRENE PROST, who passed away two years ago on her birthday, April 16, 2002.

You had a smile for everyone,
You had a heart of gold.
You left behind memories,
That we will always hold.

With tears we saw you suffer,
We watched you fade away.
Our hearts were slowly breaking,
As you fought so hard to stay.

You did not want to leave us,
But you did not go alone.
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

*Forever in our hearts.
Sadly missed by her family*

25 Years Ago

January 6, 1989

The Badger State Winter Games Torch Run will begin at Amerahn here in Kewaskum on January 8 with the Kewaskum Sno Chiefs carrying the torch on a snowmobile equipped with wheels. The Kewaskum team will proceed to Highway 28 East with escort provided by the Kewaskum Police Department and the Washington County Sheriff's Department. The procession will continue on Highway 28 through St. Michaels, then to Boltonville and on to the Sheboygan County line where the Sheboygan County Sheriff's Department will then provide escort. The Kewaskum team will then proceed northeast on Highway 28 to Batavia where the exchange of the torch from the Kewaskum club to the Plymouth club will take place. The procession will eventually end at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds. At least 25 Wisconsin communities will be involved in the Winter Games Torch Run.

Indy racing cars, jazzed up street machines and everything in between will be on display at the 28th annual International Championship World of Wheels custom auto show January 13-15 at State Fair Park in West Allis. One of the exhibitors will be well-known area modified and late model driver Willie Goeden, owner of Goeden's Auto Body in St. Michaels. Goeden will display a new car similar to the one which he was driving when he was involved in a near-fatal accident at the Kaukauna International Raceway in 1987. He will be displaying the car, which he plans to rent to out-of-state drivers for the first time at next weekend's show. The new car is a 1988 T-Bird body, with Rander chassis, B&B motor and the familiar blue-and-white with red-lettered paint. Goeden designed the car doing some of the simple work while twin sons David and Donald handled the heavier work. Goeden has been in racing for 28 years.

At the Annual Kewaskum Kiwanis Christmas Party held at the Glacier Inn on December 19 Kiwanis President Bob Sparks presented a plaque to Dr. R.G. Edwards for 40 consecutive years of dedicated, outstanding service to the club, and to Marvin Martin, who received a pin recognizing him for 41 years of perfect attendance as a member of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club.

David "Zeke" Ziegelbauer, 45, of Kewaskum, passed away on December 26, 1988. He was born on February 14, 1943 in Hartford, the son of John and Marcella (Theisen) Ziegelbauer. On August 2, 1969 he was united in marriage to Kay Kress in Pickerel. Survivors include his wife, Kay, a son, Cole, and a daughter, Holly, both at home, and his parents of Hartford.

Indian grapplers were not prepared to meet their conference foes as Kewaskum lost to New Holstein, 47-17. It was obvious that the Indian matmen were both physically and mentally beaten. There were a few good performances by the Kewaskum wrestlers. Jeff Sabish was the first Indian to win his match by a 13-11 decision. Following him was Bobby Castro's winning by a pin. It was Bobby's ninth consecutive pin over his opponents. Shane Megonigle and Dan Heisdorf also won their matches by decisions.

A daughter, Melissa Jean, was born to Dean and Debbie Miranda of West Bend, on December 23. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kreif, Cascade and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bath, Kewaskum. A daughter, Jacalyn Samantha, was born to Lester "Butch" and Kathy Koenig, Kewaskum, on December 31. Paternal grandparents are Lester and Esther Koenig, Sr., of Phelps. Maternal grandparents are Frank and Paula Kutz, Kewaskum. Maternal great-grandparents are Rosaline Kohler and Lorena Ramel, all of Kewaskum.

A daughter was born to Patricia and Daniel Koch, Kewaskum on January 1, and a daughter, Melisa Sue was born to Rick and Cheryl DelPonte, Campbellsport, December 26. A son, Shea Richard, was born to Dick and Sheila Stahl, Campbellsport on December 20. A son was also born to Teri and Donald Treichel, Adell on December 30.

Thull is star at Oostburg Invite

By Judy Harlow

Statesman Correspondent

The Kewaskum boys and girls track teams finished in the middle of the pack at the Oostburg Invitational Friday, April 11 but there were several excellent efforts turned in by the Indians in some very windy conditions.

"We're seeing some development," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said about the meet where the boys placed fifth with 60 points and the girls sixth with 47.

Sophomore Brandon Thull was outstanding, winning the long jump and the 200-meter dash and also taking second in the 100.

Thull raced to a time of 24.95 in the 200 meters, winning by 0.29 of a second. In the long jump he went more than 20 feet for the first time, winning with a leap of 20 feet, 2.25 inches (20-2.25).

In the 100, Thull had a time of 12.01 in the preliminaries, then he turned on the jets for an 11.80, 0.11 behind Ike Floyd of St. Mary's Springs.

"Brandon Thull had a real good meet," Gosa said. "He broke the meet record in the long jump."

With his three places, Thull contributed 28 points for the Indians, who also received 18 from Jason Hanson, who won the high jump after clearing 6-0 for the first time in competition and took second in the 800 with a 2:04.99 clocking.

"That's his (Hanson's) personal best. I think the best he did last year with 2:08," Gosa said, reporting midway in the second lap Hanson was in third or fourth place and then "came on like gangbusters" the final 200 meters. Alan Burkart of Springs won the race with a time of 2:03.99.

Others who performed well included: Brandon Mikolajczak, fourth in the 100 (11.97), Charlie Witek, fifth in the high jump (5-08) and seventh in the 400 (57.50) and freshman Derreck Brock, seventh in the 110 hurdles (17.67). This is the first time in over a decade when the KHS boys placed in the hurdles.

The Indians had some bad luck in the 4x200 relay. They were assigned to a heat, which turned out to be a JV race. Mikolajczyk, Gavin Schreier, Brock and Thull were far out front in the race but were not pushed to a low time and had to settle for seventh with a time of 1:44.69.

Kewaskum had expected to pick up some places in the discus and shot, but Gosa said Ben Watzig sprained an ankle Wednesday playing basketball and was unable to compete.

On the girls' side of the ledger, it was sophomore Ellie Debelak starring for KHS. Debelak won the long jump with an effort of 15-11.50, placed third in the 100 (13.57), 0.05 out of the runner-up spot and finished seventh in the 200 (29.65).

The foursome of Megan Ackatz, Krystina Lepp, Debelak and Hailey Kleinhans ran very well, taking second place in the 4x400 relay, posting a time of 4:36.64. Gosa was thrilled with their effort, especially considering Ackatz subbed in for Abby Reysen, who wasn't feeling well after running the open 400.

The Indians did well in the high jump and 400, getting two places in both those events. In the high jump they got third place from Ackatz (4-08) and fifth from Lepp (4-04), and in the rugged 400, it was Reysen finishing fifth with a time of 1:04.90 and teammate Natalya Luedtke in the No. 6 spot, cross-

TROY'S PREP OF THE WEEK

Breana Trepes

One of the bright spots for the Indians' softball team through two tough losses has been Breana. In their first game at Waupun, she was 3-for-3 at the plate and was the only player with more than one hit in a 13-3 defeat. In the home opener against visiting Plymouth, Breana collected another hit in three at-bats. She was roughed up on the mound, giving up five runs, all earned, with no walks and five strikeouts. The run support wasn't there for Kewaskum in the 5-0 shutout, but it's early in the season. Breana has enough talent to be in the starting lineup as a freshman and the future looks bright for her.

What's your favorite sport? I equally enjoy playing basketball, softball and volleyball.

Who influenced your sports career? Why? My parents have influenced everything I have done as an athlete. Between coaching and cheering me on, they have made me the athlete I am and they never miss a game for anything.

What is your favorite sports moment? Winning fourth at nationals in the Gold Bracket out of 68 teams with my U14 Wisconsin Bandits (softball) team. They were the best games we've played as a team.

Favorite food: Steak and shrimp.

Hobbies: Basketball, softball and volleyball.

Plans after high school: I either want to go to UW-Madison or Michigan State to play softball and I want to get into medical school.

If you could have dinner with three people, who would you choose: Jenny Reicher, Max Vetter, Coach Hintz or Brett Favre.

Don't look for any changes this spring in the upper echelon of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference golf ranks.

That's the word from Kewaskum's coach Glenn Eichstedt, who looks for defending champion Sheboygan Falls to be the team to beat and Plymouth the team to challenge for the title in 2014. The Falcons ran away with the title a year ago, winning seven of the EWC mini-tour events to end up with an impressive 11 points, 11 ahead of the Panthers 22 points.

"Sheboygan Falls should probably win it again," Eichstedt said, noting Matt Bachmann, the EWC MVP, returns along with a couple other regulars. The Falcons have a group of talented freshmen, according to Eichstedt, who said, "Plymouth should be next."

Eichstedt, starting his 19th season as a head golf coach, is certain this will be a rebuilding year for his young Indians. He is happy to have Scott Rohlinger return as his assistant coach after taking last year off because of responsibilities with a new job. This will be Rohlinger's 16th season in the program.

Kewaskum's bid for an upper division finish last season took a major hit in the final mini-meet and the 18-hole EWC tournament. The senior-dominated team had to settle for fifth overall.

Sophomore Sean Murray is the lone regular returning from that squad and undoubtedly he will play in the No. 1 spot for Kewaskum this year. Playing in all but one mini-tour event, Murray averaged 45.4 strokes per nine-hole round in the conference, with his low score, a five-over par 40 on his home Hon-E-Kor Country Club course.

The only other returnee with any varsity experience is sophomore Sam Schlosser, who played in four varsity matches, including two in the EWC where he averaged 47.5.

Eichstedt feels Andrew Otto might develop because he has a good attitude, listens to instruction and "has a great temperament." Otto averaged 50.3 in JV matches a year ago.

A total of 17 boys are out for the sport, and with the late start this spring, it may take a while to see any the improvement Eichstedt talks about.

Netters split opening matches

It didn't take long for the Kewaskum High tennis team to give first-year coach Jacob Cochran his first victory. After losing their opener to West Bend West April 8, the Indians bounced back with 6-1 victory over host St. Mary's Springs two days later.

"It was an impressive win," Cochran said while directing practice the following day. "We not only came away with the win, but we stayed on top the entire time in six of our matches. They've got a small team this year. They had to forfeit at one spot."

The Indians won five matches in straight sets and did not lose more than two games in any one set.

Moving to 2-0 on the year was junior Bille Lehmann, who put away Jordan Disterhoft 6-2, 6-1.

West Bend West had a little bit too much firepower for the Indians, with the exception of Lehmann, who disposed of Nate Breckenridge, 6-4, 6-3.

"He (Lehmann) played exceptional against their guy (Breckenridge)," Cochran said. "There were long volleys that Bille usually came out on top on."

The only other member of the Indians squad who came close to winning was Taylor Nelson at No. 2 singles. Nelson won four games in the first set versus Jack Gibson but then lost the second 1-6.

There once was a time when only schools from the county played in the Washington County Golf Invitational, now it draws several of the top-rated schools in the state.

That was true last Saturday as powerhouse Homestead, defending Cedarburg and highly regarded Milwaukee Marquette finished 1-2-3, respectively, with four-man scores of 313, 316 and 319 in conditions that were less than ideal.

There were only a handful of Division 2 and 3 schools in the meet, held at the Washington County Golf Course, including Kewaskum, which placed 21st out of 24 teams.

Led by sophomore Sam Schlosser's 88, the Indians posted a 373. Schlosser, who had limited tournament experience last year, started with a 43 on his first nine and came back with a 45.

Sean Murray, the team's only returning letter winner, shot a 44-47-91. Then came sophomore Andrew Ott, who fired a 93. The fourth counting score was a 102 by Jacob Neuenfeld.

With a good mix of returnees and a handful of young ladies who have oodles of experience at the club level, the Kewaskum High soccer team could be very good this spring.

Check that ... the team should be very good, or at the very least much improved over 2013 when it finished 5-15 overall, with a 3-5 mark in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, good for fifth place. (The EWC cut the schedule in half because of all the bad weather league teams had to face.)

KHS coach Luke Piwoni could see a large bolt of light at the end of the 2013 campaign when the Indians, who were seeded 11th, knocked off No. 6-seeded Freedom 3-1 in the first round of the Division 2 regional and then took No. 3 Waupaca into overtime before losing 4-3.

"We were playing well toward the end of the season," Piwoni, who is starting his fourth season as head coach, said.

A dozen letter winners return, including seniors Olivia Krautkramer (defender), Mollie Werner (defender) and Val Schiebel (midfielder); juniors Emily Koller (goalie) Sami Kirst (midfielder) Stephany Haack (defender), Becca Strigenz (midfielder), Heather May (defender and forward) and Ana Gerhartz (midfielder) and sophomores Emily Krier (midfielder), Kaila Kirst (defender) and Jeray Riffel (midfielder).

Piwoni has the difficult task of trying to replace two-time All-EWC midfielder, Shannon Miller, who scored 17 goals and provided five assists during her season. Piwoni may not have one girl who can duplicate those numbers but there are several, including Riffel and freshman Lizzy Bauer, who have already shown they have plenty of scoring potential.

Bauer is one of the top newcomers along with Hailey Herriges (defender), Molly Schulteis (midfielder), and Madisyn Longdin. "She (Longdin) pretty much plays anywhere," Piwoni said, indicating all of them played club soccer, some for Washington County teams and one for Hartford.

When asked if the local Kewaskum soccer program is providing help for the high school team, Piwoni said, "In the next year or so, we'll have some kind of indication because this year they finally have a U-14 team."

Looking at his own team this spring, Piwoni said, "On defense we have a lot of experienced players back," and, "In the first game our offense looked good. I hope that continues."

Riffel, who will serve as a co-captain along with Krautkramer, has the potential to be a special player, according to Piwoni, who said, "She will anchor our midfield." Already Riffel has scored five goals and chipped in with one assist.

The goalkeeper spot is always important, and Koller will man the nets initially, but Piwoni said, "We're trying to work her and Longdin in there so we have some options."

As far as which teams will contend for this year's EWC crown, Piwoni points to the defending co-champions, Sheboygan Falls and Plymouth.

"It's going to be between those two," Piwoni said, indicating he hopes his Indians can "leap frog" over a couple of those teams that were ahead of them last season.

"Just to be in the mix with them (Falls and Plymouth) would be great," Piwoni said.

Kewaskum jumped out to a 2-1 start in non-conference action, outscoring their opponents 9-4. Two games had to be postponed this week because of the rain and cold weather. The Indians were scheduled to play at Random Lake April 16, then they have three games next week, a home game vs. Kiel (EWC) April 22, a road game at Plymouth (EWC) on April 24 and a trip to see the flying Dutchmen in Oostburg April 26.
