Kewaskum's Leash Law To Remain Status Quo

By Anne Trautner

Tiffany Laubach is resting easy because she does not have to keep her dog on a leash as long as the dog does not dart away from her.

"I had many sleepless nights about it. My dog is my world," Laubach said.

At the Aug. 24 village board meeting, Village Trustee Jim Wright proposed that the village amend a village ordinance so that dogs would be required to be leashed when on public property.

On Monday night, at the Sept. 14 village board meeting, Wright said that he had decided to drop that proposal.

"I want to know for my peace of mind why it was brought up even," Laubach said to Wright at Monday night's meeting.

"Basically, the reason I brought it up is because we have a lot of younger children that are in the neighborhoods, and I was concerned about dog bites, because dog bites have been an issue," Wright said.

"And the reason I decided to drop it is, I figured if you have got your dog off a leash and walking in front of you or behind you, whatever, you probably trained that dog. You probably paid to have training, pay expensive vet bills. I realize there is an investment and you don't want to just let the dog take off," Wright said.

The ordinance in question prohibits animals from being at large in the village. Owners are required to control their dogs with a leash or by other means of presence. If an owner walks a dog and the dog stays at the owner's side, then the dog is not required to be on a leash.

However, an owner can receive a citation if his or her dog is running around in a neighbor's yard or if the owner is walking a dog without a leash and the dog bolts at someone or out in traffic because the dog is not under the owner's control.

Why Did I Get A Copy Of This Newspaper?

This week, the Kewaskum Statesman was delivered to all Kewaskum mailing addresses.

The Kewaskum Statesman is a family-owned and operated weekly newspaper dedicated to providing local news and advertising for the areas covered by the Kewaskum School District. In June, new owners Andrew and Laura Johnson along with their staff began publishing the Kewaskum Statesman.

The Kewaskum Statesman continues to be the leading source of local information in the area. The complete paper is available only by paid subscription in print, and coming soon to online, and/or mobile devices including iPads, Kindles, smartphones, and laptops.

Kewaskum School Board Hires Construction Manager

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum School Board decided Monday night to hire C.D. Smith Construction Services to provide construction management services for the district.

C.D. Smith Construction Services, which is based out of Fond du Lac, will serve on the long-range planning committee to determine the district's needs and to support the district as it potentially heads to a referendum process.

Board members, educators, administrators and community members also will serve on the committee. The group, which will begin meeting on Sept. 22, will meet for the next eight to 12 months to determine the district's building needs, focusing on the middle and high school buildings.

If the committee determines that the district needs to begin a building project, it would most likely go up for referendum in fall 2016, School Superintendent James Smasal said.

Ideally, the committee will develop a plan and send out a committee survey to the entire community next March, said Matt Wolfert, president of Bray Architects, an architectural firm that the district is using.

Bray Architects, which specializes in educational planning and design, has worked with C.D. Smith Construction Services on other educational building projects, including Kewaskum Elementary School in 1999.

They also partnered together on building projects for Cadott Elementary School; Fond du Lac High School; New Holstein's elementary, middle and high schools; Tomorrow River School District in Amherst; and Whitefish Bay High School, Richards Elementary, Cumberland Elementary and Whitefish Bay Middle School in Whitefish Bay.

Department Of Natural Resources Announces Drawdown Of The Boltonville Millpond

The controlled drawdown of the Boltonville Millpond has begun and is expected to take several days, according to the Department of Natural Resources. The lake will remain drawn down until approximately February 1, 2016, and will be brought back to normal conditions after the work is completed. This action is being taken to facilitate pipeline repair and dredging. The dredging permit is still being processed.

The water level will be lowered at a rate of approximately 6 inches per day, until the lake has been lowered approximately 7 feet.

The 12-foot high dam is located in the town of Farmington in Washington County, and is owned by the Boltonville Sportsmen Club.

Chief's Corner

By Kewaskum Police Chief Tom Bishop

On August 23rd, 2015, Louisiana State Trooper Steven Vincent was shot in the head and killed while he was investigating a complaint of an intoxicated driver. The shooter then taunted Trooper Vincent as he lay on the ground mortally wounded. He leaves behind a wife and nine-year-old son.

On August 28th, 2015, Deputy Darren Goforth of the Harris County Sheriff's Office (TX) was shot and killed as he performed a routine task done by every officer at the end of their shift — he was filling up the gas tank on his squad car. From all accounts, he was shot in the back, execution style. He leaves behind a wife and two children; ages five and 12.

On September 1st, 2015, Lieutenant Joseph Gliniewicz of the Fox Lake Police Department (IL) was shot and killed while investigating three suspicious individuals. Lieutenant Gliniewicz leaves behind a wife and four children.

On September 6th, 2015, two Las Vegas Metropolitan police officers were ambushed and shot at while sitting in their patrol car. Fortunately, only one officer was injured when he was shot in the hand.

Contrary to what seems to be popular belief these days, police officers are not robots. We are human beings with loved ones just like anyone else. The best feeling in the world for me is everyday when I come home from work, my children yell "Dada's home!" and come running to greet me at the door. My three-year-old twins don't understand how dangerous my job truly is — they just expect me to walk through the door every day. Sadly, there are too many children grieving the loss of a parent due to the recent tragic and senseless murders of police officers.

In August alone, 14 officers were killed in the line of duty and 83 officers have been killed so far this year. Since the officer involved shooting that took place in Ferguson, MO, now over a year ago, it seems as though there has been an "Open Season" declared on our nation's law enforcement officers. Multiple groups have created anti-police sentiment within certain segments of society. Personally, I don't know if their intent was to create such a movement, but that is exactly what the outcome has been.

As a police officer, I am looking for voices of support from our nation's leaders, starting with President Obama, to publicly condemn the anti-police rhetoric and speak in strong support for our vital role in society; sadly that desire appears as though it will go unfulfilled. I acknowledge that President Obama has stated in press conferences that the killing of police officers is "completely unacceptable;" however, what many political pundits are missing is that actions speak louder than words.

The reason our nation's law enforcement officers feel as though this administration has placed a target on our back is, in part, because of his immediate and unabashed support for such individuals as Michael Brown or Freddie Gray. His immediate belief that race was a factor in both cases without knowing all the details, weakened the public's faith and support in the police in those communities.

It saddens me that either of these lives were taken, but this administration consciously took sides in those cases and even sent members of his administration to the funerals. Apparently, it doesn't meet his political agenda or appeal to his base to support the police, or at least wait until the facts are investigated in each case before assigning blame.

My job has always been dangerous, but now the anti police groups are feeling empowered and increasing the violence against officers without any perceived criticism from our leaders. I, and the rest of our nation's law enforcement officers, need to know that the President supports us and not those attempting to harm us... and we need to see that support in more than just a few words.

I guess that's the difference between politicians and police officers — police officers show their willingness to serve and protect by putting on a uniform and vest and continuing to come to work under this new atmosphere, while politicians have the same old agendas to meet.

We simply have one agenda item — to keep other law abiding individuals safe from those looking to do them harm. Skin color, gender, sexual orientation, political affiliation or any other characteristic is irrelevant in trying to meet our agenda. If you commit acts that are harmful to others, our job is to find you and hold you accountable.

As our nation's apparent war on police continues to grow, we need a strong and sustained voice in support of those who simply enforce the laws and try to serve their communities. The silent majority in our country must not be silent any longer, but must vocalize their respect and pride in our law enforcement officers and denounce those who attempt to hurt or kill us.

I understand and accept the inherent danger this profession presents, but that inherent danger shouldn't include being shot and killed just for being a police officer. It breaks my heart to imagine how the children of those fallen officers feel being denied the opportunity to yell "Mama" or "Dada" because their loved ones no longer walk through the door. Lord willing, my children will never feel that kind of pain.

Thank you and have a safe month,
Tom Bishop
Chief of Police

Kewaskum Police Chief Wins Body Camera

By Anne Trautner

Kewaskum Police Chief Thomas Bishop has a new body camera.

Bishop won the new accessory for his uniform when he attended a luncheon for the Wisconsin Bureau of Transportation Safety.

Most likely, the camera is the first of numerous the Kewaskum Police Department will utilize, Bishop said.

"Everybody will eventually have them. We are going to be going down that path of getting one [for each officer]," Bishop said at Monday night's Village Board meeting. "It's a nice thing to win."

In Milwaukee, police officers are starting to use body cameras, and Milwaukee Mayor Tom Barrett has proposed that all officers be equipped with body cameras while on Milwaukee streets by the end of 2016.

Barrett's proposal mirrors a growing trend that has been spreading across the nation in recent months.

"Everybody will be wearing body cameras. They are soon to be all the rage, if you will," Bishop said.

The News Office will be closed on September 17 & 18.

OBITUARIES

Lynes W. "Fezz" Fellenz

Lynes W. "Fezz" Fellenz, 90, of Beechwood, passed away on Monday, September 14, 2015, at Beechwood Rest Home.

He was born on September 4, 1925, in Beechwood, the son of the late Peter and Martha (Siegfried) Fellenz.

On July 10, 1948, he was united in marriage to Marion Hintz at Immanuel Lutheran Church in the town of Scott. Marion preceded Lynes in death on November 5, 2009.

Lynes was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church in the town of Scott serving on various committees and holding multiple offices. He worked at Harnischfeger Homes and at Bolens in Port Washington for most of his career and had many jobs throughout.

Lynes enjoyed going on vacations and fishing trips up north and traveling to various locations throughout the U.S. with friends and relatives. Lynes and Marion were members of a card club for over 50 years playing sheephead with their friends.

Lynes also liked playing dartball and softball and was an original member of the Beechwood Softball team for many years. Lynes was an active member of the Beechwood Fire Department for 27 years and a retired lifetime member. He liked watching Wisconsin's sports teams, especially the Packers and Brewers.

Lynes proudly served his country in the Army Air Force during World War II, entering into service on December 7, 1943 and serving until November of 1945.

Those Lynes leaves behind to cherish his memory include his son, Robert Fellenz of Beechwood; a sister-in-law, Marie Hintz of Random Lake; his nieces and nephews, Ronald Hintz, Susan Helming, Jane (Frank) King, James (Jane) Fellenz and David (Tammy) Fellenz, other relatives and friends.

In addition to his wife and parents, Lynes was preceded in death by an infant daughter; a brother, Gordon (Betty) Fellenz; a brother-in-law, Ralph Hintz; a nephew, Jim Helming;

Funeral services for Lynes will be held at 5:00 p.m. on Friday, September 18, at Immanuel Lutheran Church in the town of Scott.

Lynes' family will greet relatives and friends at the church on Friday from 3:00 p.m. until the time of service. Rev. Joseph Fisher will officiate and burial with Military Honor Rites will follow in Immanuel Lutheran Church Cemetery.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum has been entrusted with Lynes' arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

Harold W. Perkins

Harold Walter Perkins, 86, also known as Buddy or Perky, passed away peacefully on September 12, 2015, surrounded by family.

Harold was born on October 13, 1928, in Milwaukee, to the late Dorwin and Elizabeth (Muckerheide) Perkins.

Harold moved to Kewaskum at around age three and graduated 8th grade from Holy Trinity School and from Kewaskum High School in 1946.

Harold worked at Kemps Dairy, formerly known as Kewaskum Dairy as a delivery driver for 43 years.

On February 23, 1952, Harold was united in marriage to Eileen Schommer at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum. Eileen preceded Harold in death on December 5, 1993.

Eileen and Buddy liked to golf, primarily at the Hon-E-Kor Country Club in Kewaskum. They enjoyed golf vacations as well as travelling to visit their children, grandchildren and many friends.

Harold was a charter member of Hon-E-Kor Country Club, serving as Secretary/Treasurer of the club for many years.

In his early years, he was a bugler with the Kewaskum Drum and Bugle Corps. He played the bugle that his father played in WWI.

He enjoyed playing softball at Theimer Dome until he was 72 and loved watching high school sports especially when his grandchildren played. He enjoyed fishing, Milwaukee Braves and Brewers baseball, Packer football, and "Happy Hour," especially at Inky's Tap (now known as The 5th Quarter) in Kewaskum. He was a great friend to many and was known as "Papa Buddy" to his grandchildren's friends.

Those Harold leaves behind to cherish his memory include seven children, Candace Behm, Patrick (Caren) Perkins, Lynne (Ronald) Reigle, Michael (Patricia) Perkins, Timothy (Renee) Perkins, Pamela (Don Straub) Perkins and Tracy (Scott) Amerling; 19 grandchildren, Benjamin (fiancé Liz) Perkins, Matthew (Lisa) Perkins, Jason Behm, Brett (Sherri) Behm, Adam (Kristi) Perkins, Megan (Blair) McLinn, Breyan (Nicholas) Skeen, Garrett (Lindsay) Donath, Danielle (Jeremy) Knorr, Eric (Ceann Thuecks) Nass, Sam (Janet) Reigle, Chelsea (Matthew) Schaeffer, Ian Perkins, Maxwell Perkins, Nathaniel Perkins, Zach Amerling, Abby Amerling, Alejandro and Solana Perkins; 14 great-grandchildren (and two on the way); a great-great-grandchild; three sisters, Marilyn Schommer, Viola Lawrenz, and Patricia Kirschling; a brother, Marvin (Sue) Perkins, nieces, nephews, other relatives and many friends.

Harold was preceded in death by his wife and his parents.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Harold was held on Thursday, September 17, at 10:30 a.m. at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum with Father Edwin Kornath as officiant.

The Perkins family greeted relatives and friends on Wednesday at Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum from 3:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. where a prayer vigil was held at 7:00 p.m.

In lieu of flowers memorials to the family are appreciated.

Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

The family extends their heartfelt appreciation to St. Joseph's third floor nurses and the staff in the ICU.

Nation Loses Korean War Hero Einar H. Ingman, Jr.

— Medal of Honor Recipient Has Ties To Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

In front of the United Steel Workers Local 850 building on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum are an American flag and bench that the American Legion and labor union dedicated to Einar H. Ingman, Jr.

Ingman, who was Wisconsin's last Medal of Honor recipient from the Korean War, died on Sept. 9 in a Tomahawk hospital at the age of 85.

"A soldier has died," said Betty Hallen of the American Legion Auxiliary Robert G. Romaine Unit 384 in Kewaskum.

The flagpole and bench will help keep Ingman's memory alive.

"In special recognition of Einar H. Ingman, Jr., admirable recipient of the Medal of Honor, dedicated with appreciation to all veterans whose loyalty and service during times of war and peace define the character of this great nation," is engraved on the bench.

Ingman was born on Oct. 6, 1929, in Milwaukee. He lived on a farm and joined the Army from Kewaskum in November 1948.

On Feb. 26, 1951, Ingman was serving as a corporal with Company E, 17th Infantry Regiment, 7th Infantry Division, near the town of Malta-ri, in Korea. When the leaders of the two leading squads of the assault platoon of his company were wounded by Chinese forces, Ingman assumed command, combined the squads and called for tank and artillery support.

Ingman then located and charged an enemy machine gun that was attacking his men and threw a grenade at it. He killed the remaining crew with his rifle. He then charged a second enemy machine gun crew.

During the attack, Ingman lost part of his left ear when a grenade exploded and was then shot in the face. He kept fighting that day until he lost consciousness. He is credited with single-handedly killing two entire enemy gun crews, enabling his men to force the enemy troops into retreat.

Ingman regained consciousness a week later and underwent 24 operations over the next two years.

For his actions, Ingman was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest military award for valor that can be conferred on a member of the American armed forces. In addition, Ingman received two Purple Hearts, the Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, United Nations Service Medal, and the Korean Service Medal with three Bronze Service Stars.

Ingman was one of five Medal of Honor recipients from Wisconsin to receive the honor for service in Korea, but the four others were awarded posthumously.

"Einar Ingman is a true American hero," said The Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs Secretary John A. Scocos in a release last week. "He served our country valiantly in a war that many say is forgotten. Our Korean War veterans like Ingman are a reminder of the great sacrifices made at places like Taejon, Inchon, Pork Chop Hill, and the Punch Bowl. I join the state on this somber day in paying tribute to Einar's service and sacrifice. On behalf of the state's veterans community, I send our deepest condolences to his family."

"Cpl. Ingman's indomitable courage, extraordinary heroism, and superb leadership reflect the highest credit on himself and are in keeping with the esteemed traditions of the infantry and the U.S. Army," the Congressional Medal of Honor Society said.

Ingman never returned to Kewaskum after the war. Instead, he moved to Tomahawk, where his parents had moved.

Ingman, who lost his wife in April 2011, is survived by his seven children, Karen, Mary, Einar III, Judy, Tom, Jerry, and Jimmy; his sister, Janet, and two brothers, Ted and Larry; eight grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor and Community,

The Kewaskum School District's Board of Education met on December 12, 2013, in special session to review a 3-year, $38,367.70 K-5 textbook expense approved at the previous regular meeting. These textbooks were Common Core aligned and with long-term concerns about CCSS, review of a 3-year publishing contract was the right thing to do.

This was the sole reason the special session was requested by member Leister, which I supported. The superintendent asked for public comment allowance at this meeting and as president, I allowed it. I feel the meeting ended up orchestrated, with a predetermined outcome established by specific attendees. Their questions seemed like personal attacks on specific board members about qualifications to do the right thing for education and taxpayers regarding this three-year contract.

I believe the attendees focus was solely political, with elimination of opposition to the status quo. I felt the meeting ended without any reassurance to taxpayers or students that this expenditure was truly the right fit, which begged my question about structuring public comments for regular board meetings only. I feel I was attacked by the superintendent and staff (some retired) and the former local paper editor, all alleging I was trying to hide something and/or prevent freedom of speech.

I was told that an analysis of the previous five years of non-regular board agendas revealed public comments were not included nearly 75 percent of the time, supporting my primary intent.

Agenda structure was ultimately imposed on March 10th, 2014, when my motion to have ALL future board meetings include public comments passed 7-0. Why then is it now okay for the August 24th, 2015, special session to ignore this board-approved rule/policy/requirement?

To me, hypocrisy runs deep, with lack of discipline and consistency in agenda purpose that results in board meetings essentially being manipulated.

Timothy Ramthun

Kewaskum Women's Club Hold First Meeting For The Season

Members of the Kewaskum Women's Club were treated to some new teas, lattes and coffees at their first meeting for the 2015-16 season.

Jessica Trunkel, owner of the Coffee Corner Bistro, came to talk about her business and the teas, coffees and the food she serves at her cafe on the corner of Fond du Lac and Main in Kewaskum.

The club's next meeting is October 22 at the Annex. Three dinners or luncheons, three fundraisers and five program meetings are planned for the club's activities this year. Anyone interested in joining our club is welcome.

There will be a Christmas Party in December, and the 102nd Founder's Day luncheon will be in January. There will be two meetings to get the club's big fundraiser, the Spring Fling Luncheon held on April 9, and a wrapup meeting in May.

Come and join the camaraderie as club members volunteer for community and school activities. The Women's Club's two scholarships, the library and the Girl Scouts are some of the recipients of the club's donations.

Washington County's Household & Agricultural Hazardous Waste Full Service Collection

The Washington County Full Service Clean Sweep is an opportunity for county residents to properly dispose of or recycle unwanted hazardous chemicals, electronic goods, pharmaceutical medication, and used tires.

This is the sixth consecutive year for the Full Service Clean Sweep Program, which has been coordinated by the Land and Water Conservation Division of the Planning and Parks Department; while partnering with the County's Health Department, Sheriff's Department and the Highway Department.

The drive-through collection makes this program simple and efficient for participants. A $10 pre-registration fee is required for the hazardous waste and electronic goods; participation is limited to 250 vehicles per event. The Pharmaceutical Collection does not require anyone to pre-register and participation is unlimited.

Used Tire Collection participation is also unlimited; a maximum of 20 tires will be accepted per participant and disposal fees apply at the time of collection.

The 2015 Full Service Clean Sweep event will be held on Saturday, Oct. 10. Collection will be from 8 a.m.-12 p.m. at the Washington County Highway Facility, 900 Lang Street, West Bend.

To pre-register for hazardous waste and e-goods (first come, first served), do one of the following:

1. Download the registration form from the website and mail in your payment. www.co.washington.wi.us/cleansweep or

2. Stop in at the Washington County Land & Water Conservation Division, located at 333 E. Washington St., Suite 2300, West Bend, to submit your payment (cash/check accepted); or

3. Call 262-335-4808, leave your name address and phone number. A registration form will be mailed to you.

The following materials will NOT be accepted during the clean sweeps: TV's, appliances, latex paint, oil, batteries, needles/sharps, radioactive items, smoke detectors, propane tanks and cylinders.

For additional information visit our website at www.co.washington.wi.us/cleansweep.

School Board Hires

C.D. Smith Construction Services was founded in 1936 by Charles Smith. The family-owned company started out with water treatment facilities, but business soon grew to include municipal and government buildings.

Today, C.D. Smith's markets include church, correctional/municipal, educational, government, healthcare, hospitality, industrial/commercial and water treatment facilities.

The company's annual revenue exceeds $300 million. The company has more than 400 associates and has completed projects in almost 20 states.

C.D. Smith Construction Services was one of three construction management companies that the Kewaskum School Board interviewed on Sept. 10.

"We had three high quality companies that bid on our project. We felt all three would be good for them and us. All three prepared very well for their interview and bid and all three were able to sell themselves to the point where the committee felt that any one of the three would do well with the building," Smasal said.

"The general consensus, all things being equal into consideration, architect, versus role of construction manager, versus our needs as a district, the consensus of the group on Thursday night was hiring C.D. Smith," Smasal said.

"We discussed this for well over an hour. There was a lot of debate and suggestions. It was definitely a tough decision," Board Member Sue Miller said.

On Friday, Sept. 11, tears filled Tracy Heinenon's eyes as she placed a single red rose on the monument that stands in front of the Kewaskum Fire Station on Fond du Lac Avenue.

The rose was Heinenon's way of honoring Andrea Haberman, a Farmington native who was killed in the World Trade Center 14 years ago.

The monument, which is an I-beam from the World Trade Center, pays tribute to Haberman, as well as all those who were lost on Sept. 11, 2001.

Heinenon wanted to be at the monument site last week for her friend Julie Osmus, Andrea's sister.

"We grew up together out in Farmington. It's been a long process to get Julie to be able to handle this. It has taken a lot of counseling. She was there for me when I lost my dad, and a year later, 2001 happened. We've been through a lot together," Heinenon said. "Now she is finally able to move on. She has had a baby and is expecting number two."

Heinenon normally comes to the memorial with Osmus.

"We usually come up here at 9 a.m., but she is at home with her 3-year-old daughter, Mia, who keeps her busy. Mia is not allowing her to cry today," Heinenon said.

While Heinenon was at the memorial site, ladies from the American Legion Auxiliary gathered at the site for a prayer service, led by the group's chaplain, Kathy Broecker.

"It means the world that they are taking the time to remember," said Heinenon, who stayed for the service.

The auxiliary members were not the only ones to think of Andrea and the Haberman family. Throughout the day, more people stopped to place flowers on the memorial. A grade-school class visited the site as well.

The Kewaskum memorial, which has not yet been completed, is a compilation of work from the community. Community members helped bring the piece of metal to Kewaskum and the village donated land for the memorial. A feasibility study is currently being conducted to finalize plans for the monument.

"Last year was the first time we had something solid here, so now we have someplace to come and reflect. It's been 14 years, but having something solid here has given us some closure, if you will," Heinenon said. "We are just so grateful that people remember."

Andrea's parents, Gordon and Kathy Haberman, left their home in Farmington last week to spend Sept. 11 at Ground Zero.

There, they listened as the names of the nearly 3,000 people who lost their lives on that fateful day were read. They recognized the efforts of the construction workers, police, firemen, first responders and museum employees. They marveled at the resiliency of the nation. They remembered Andrea.

Andrea, who had attended Kewaskum High School, worked as an administrative assistant at Carr Futures, Inc., in Chicago. She was a graduate of St. Norbert College, where she had met her fiancé, Al Kolodzik.

At age 25, Andrea had gone to New York for her first-ever business trip. On Sept. 11, she made her way to the Carr offices on the 92nd floor of One World Trade Center. Andrea called Kolodzik after she arrived in the office after 8 a.m., and they talked for several minutes. Around 8:45 a.m., Andrea called the Chicago office and spoke with a coworker.

At 8:46 a.m., while Andrea was talking, and showing no sign that anything was amiss, her phone went dead.

It was at that moment American Airlines flight 11 struck the building. No one heard from Andrea again.

About two years after the attacks, Andrea's purse, checkbook, glasses, phone and keys were found. Those items are now part of an exhibit at the National Sept. 11 Memorial Museum.

Andrea's story is now detailed in the book "Just A Few Sleeps Away," by Mike Nichols. Twenty-five percent of the net proceeds of every book will be donated one of the following Sept. 11-related charity: Andrea Haberman Memorial Scholarship, Andrea Haberman Endowed Scholarship Fund, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Washington County, National Search Dog Foundation, H.O.N.O.R.S. (Housing Our Nation's Outstanding Returning Soldiers), National Air Disaster Foundation / Alliance. The book is available in paperback and eBook at www.justafewsleeps-away.com.

"We like to promote the book because it does benefit six charities," Heinenon said. "The Haberman family is just great. They do so much for the community."

So It Goes

– A Message From Your New Kewaskum Statesman Publisher

By Andrew Johnson
Publisher

This week, we are sampling the Kewaskum Statesman to every address in the Kewaskum zip code including current subscribers as well as non-subscribers or hopefully future subscribers. I wanted to make sure everyone in the community knew about the change, so we sampled the paper to up-date everyone about what we are doing with the Kewaskum Statesman. Some of the information in this edition will be a repeat for our existing readers.

My wife Laura and I announced in early June that we purchased the Kewaskum Statesman name and subscription list Thursday, May 28, from the Kuehl family. We have been publishers of the Campbellsport News for the past 11 years and the Dodge County Pioneer in Mayville for the past 27 years.

It is important that the community knows that the Kewaskum Statesman will remain an independent newspaper with its focus on the Kewaskum area.

We purchased a property on 1032 Fond du Lac or Hwy. 45 across from Dairy Queen. The property was previously used as a private home. It was the perfect building for us since it is in an area of high visibility and the size fits our office needs. The zoning was changed from residential to business. We put in a new concrete driveway including a space for a safe turn-around, a handicap ramp, and a new sign at the property. There are a few more things that will need to get done before we open to the public. We thought it was very important that we invest not only in the business but also in real estate in Kewaskum. We feel strongly that the Kewaskum area has a bright and solid future.

Until we open our office, we have been running the business end of the paper at our Campbellsport News location.

Two new full time and two part time jobs were created since we purchased the paper. We will be adding one more job next month when we open our office in Kewaskum. We anticipate our office hours to be Monday-Thursday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. We are currently taking applications for the office position. Those interested can send their resume and contact information to Andrea Abler at editor@thecampbellsport-news.com.

I am a strong believer in the value of publishing community newspapers that contain local relevant news and advertising. It is our intention to consistently produce a newspaper that reflects all aspects of the Kewaskum area. Professional Journalist Anne Trautner has been serving as the news reporter for the paper since June 10th. She brings a wealth of newspaper experience to the paper. She is a top notch journalist and we are proud to have her on our staff. Andrea Abler is the managing editor of the Kewaskum Statesman. She will be running day to day operations of the paper and I have been running the business side of the paper along with the other two weekly newspapers my wife and I publish. Andrea has worked with me for many years and I am very confident she will do an excellent job of consistently publishing a quality newspaper in the Kewaskum area. A well run community newspaper can have a huge positive influence on a community.

Some of our readers may be wondering why we would invest in a newspaper now. The reason is very simple. The small community newspapers that have engaged their communities are making a huge comeback both in print as well as online. Where else can anyone really get consistent local news, information on what is going on in the community as well as information from local business who advertise their products and services? Together, newspapers are by far the largest medium to develop local news contact in Wisconsin. They are also the only ones consistently standing up for the rights of Wisconsin citizens. The use of social media has propelled the effectiveness of small papers. Real newspapers cannot be published for free. It takes a trained professional staff to operate a paper.

Right now, the Kewaskum Statesman is only available by paid subscription. In a very short time, our full printed paper will also be available digitally. This e-edition will be an exact duplicate replica of the printed edition. We will be letting our readers know the details of its availability soon.

The small community newspaper has great value. It is a single place where information from the various parts of the community come together in one place at one time. It is our hope that the Kewaskum Statesman is an accurate snapshot of the community once per week. It is also a place people can connect via social media on a daily basis.

Laura and I view this paper as your community paper. We are only the caretakers and the people are the true owners. Under our leadership, this paper will be exactly as strong as the people (subscribers) and businesses (advertisers) in the Kewaskum area want it to be. I believe that that there are many people in this area who really care about this community and want this paper to succeed as much as we do. A good community newspaper is a win, win for everyone! Please let our team know what you want in your paper. Tell us what you like and don't like. We are ready and standing by to serve you.

We look forward to working with you for many years to come.

The Johnson family, from left, Andrew, Michael, Emily, Matthew and Laura, purchased the Kewaskum Statesman newspaper last week. They are excited to be in the community and proud to be the publishers of your newspaper.

A Note From Kewaskum Superintendent James Smasal

We are looking forward to another busy and exciting school year in the Kewaskum School District. Schools are a reflection of a community and since being hired three years ago, I have learned about Kewaskum's expectations of excellence stemming from a supportive community, engaged families, and the hard work of students and staff. Last week, during one of my visits to Kewaskum High School, I chatted with a number of students who told me about the great experiences they are having in our schools as well as how they think we can do even better. What impressive young people this community is raising! Kewaskum continues to improve its reputation as we strive for academic excellence and quality extracurricular programs. Additionally, we have traditionally been known for our positive and healthy relationships between staff and students. We take seriously that you entrust the young people of this community to our care and expect our outstanding staff to give their best day in and day out. We are committed to this profession because we deeply believe every child deserves a comprehensive, world-class education, graduating highly prepared for whatever path they choose. This continues to be our philosophy: to maintain and grow a rigorous teaching and learning environment, providing every student with a sense of belonging while helping students to grow academically, emotionally and socially. We pride ourselves on career planning which helps every student meet their individual educational goals. This segues into our "Kewaskum Difference" which is to provide opportunities for all our students to compete in a global society while providing a small town feel and giving personal attention to all. We show this by partnering with the community on a myriad of different activities and opportunities for our children. This includes the use of our facilities by community based groups, regular district personnel and clergy meetings, and staff members involvement in the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce and other community events.

To advance in this direction, we have established a strategic plan for the 2015-16 school year. The plan has three overarching goals. The first goal is focused on facilities and operations studies. Of the five schools that make up our district the most recent building project was the completion of the Kewaskum Elementary school in 1999. This school year we will concentrate on the middle school and high school buildings. We have put together a long range planning committee which includes an architectural firm, a construction manager, and district personnel coupling with 20-30 community members to study our secondary facility and grounds needs. The first meeting of the committee will take place on September 22.

Our second goal is to attract and retain high quality teaching staff. Our efforts will be concentrated on a new compensation model which rewards teachers for going "above and beyond" the high expectations we already have for our teachers. We look forward to being able to reward those teachers that have shown a high commitment to making Kewaskum a great place for students to learn.

Our third and most important goal is to improve student learning. We must always be mindful that this is the reason we exist. Professional development and teacher training during the summer and over the school year will focus on improving student achievement. Also, teachers are educating the whole child by instilling effective work habits in students. We strive to reach our goal of 100 percent of our students being college and career ready upon their graduation from KHS.

Please visit our website www.kewaskum-schools.org to learn more. There you will find a video which summarizes what our schools have to offer. You will also see a slide show which is a review of our accomplishments during the 2014-15 school year. Please feel free to reach out to any leadership team member with questions as we are always willing to listen, learn, share, and build as we move forward.

Respectfully,
James Smasal

KMP Nominated For 6 Major Awards

For theatre goes in Campbell Sport, Kewaskum and Hartford, it's no secret that the Kettle Moraine Players' production of Guys on Ice in February was a great show. The audiences pretty much went crazy over it and KMP said it was the largest public performance attendance they've had in their 10-year history.

That said, there is "success" and then there is "SUCCESS."

When KMP's business manager, John Brandl, opened his email on August 7th, there was no way he could be prepared for what he saw. He received an email from the International Musicians & Entertainers Association (IMEA) saying that they had nominated the production for six IMEA awards.

Brandl said, "I almost fell off my chair."

Upon further examination he discovered the following nominations:

Outstanding Production of a Musical — Kettle Moraine Players

Outstanding Direction of a Musical — John Brandl

STEVE PAYKEL

Outstanding Leading Actor in a Musical — Steve Paykel

Outstanding Supporting Actor in a Musical — Alan Jordan

Outstanding Scenic Design of a Musical — John Brandl

Outstanding Lighting Design of a Musical — Bob Reinke

IMEA is headquartered in Georgia and works to promote musicians and community theatre. It is a non-profit that was founded four years ago. They hold the IMEA awards annually (this is the third year) to honor excellence.

KMP just joined the organization this year.

Brandl said, "It was free for a year so we thought we'd try it."

Then they were asked to submit a DVD of any work they had done this year that might be award worthy. Brandl said, Guys on Ice was great so what did we have to lose. He never expected to hear any more about it because IMEA is big and with companies from all over the country it would be difficult to break through.

KMP is no stranger to awards. They have 13 state and regional awards and have won the Wisconsin state community theatre championship twice in four attempts, but this is their first national recognition. The other community theatre companies nominated are from Alabama, Kentucky, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The awards are in Atlanta on Saturday, Oct. 24. The ceremony is a lot like the Oscars, tuxedos, gowns, red carpet and all. Paykel, Jordan and Reinke are attending with their families. Brandl is unable to attend.

The outcome will be decided by professional judges (80 percent) and fan voting via the internet (20 percent) so KMP wants their fans to know they can help. The voting ends on October 7th so you need to hurry.

You can vote one time with each email address you have. To vote, go to <http://www.imeaawards.com/vote/>, click on "THE-ATRE" and vote in 10 categories. It takes about a minute and you will get an email confirmation that your vote was registered.

DAYS GONE BY

5 Years Ago

September 16, 2010

Three Kewaskum High School students could have faced prison or jail time for alleged burglary, theft, obstruction and drug paraphernalia possession after a string of incidents on Aug. 29-30.

Sarah Schmitt, 20, from the Town of Wayne, was killed Sunday morning in a traffic accident near Portage on her way home to Wayne.

A Village of Kewaskum Police Officer was injured in the line of duty early Sunday morning. While pursuing a subject in the village, the part-time officer fell off a retaining wall and broke his leg in three places.

The Krueger family, owners of The Fin & Feather Supper Club, made many renovations and improvements inside their eatery over the past 31 years they've owned the restaurant. Finding no room for expansion or wall in need of paint, it was decided to spruce up and add on outdoors. This past summer they opened The Riverbend Patio on the back side of the restaurant.

St. Joseph Convent in Campbellsport became an international peace site. The St. Joseph Convent Peace Pole was unveiled to the public on Tuesday, Sept. 21. The Peace Pole was eight-sided and the languages depicted summarize the world-wide ministry locations of the School Sisters of St. Francis including sisters residing at the Convent.

A daughter, Cara Marie, was born to Kathryn and Joseph McKillip, of the Town of Wayne, on August 31.

A son, Casey James, was born to Sandy and Randy Fleischmann, on August 30.

A daughter, Amaya Grace, was born to Jesse and Amber Terlinden, on September 2.

Sarah A. Schmitt, 20, of Allenton, died September 12.

Leona H. Erdmann, 93, of West Bend, died September 10.

Vern A. Suhr, 69, of West Bend, died September 11.

Ambrose B. Murphy, 89, of Campbellsport, died September 11.

Darlene Jensen, 59, of Kewaskum, died September 9.

Five Washington County 4-H members: Jenny Adkins, Maggie Kiselicka, Michelle Klos, Mike Kohler, and Brendan Weinhold, traveled to Washington, D.C. this summer to share their unique points-of-view about the future with members from across the country.

A son, Kyle John, was born to Chantelle and John Toth of Kewaskum, on September 7.

A son, Marvin Wayne III, was born to Joan and Marvin W. Crites, of Kewaskum, on August 31.

Robert W. Schmidt, 75, of West Bend, died September 11.

Joseph N. Lorenz, 84, of West Bend, died September 9.

Alfred A. Ziegler, 83, of the Town of Jackson, died September 10.

Marie "Mayme" Kraus, 88, of West Bend, formerly of Fredonia, died September 2.

25 Years

September 20, 1990

A deadly fire early Monday morning in the Town of Waldo claimed the lives of two young brothers and injured their mother and a younger brother.

Karen Kniprath, of Kewaskum, sustained minor injuries in a one-car accident late Sunday morning when she swerved to avoid hitting an animal and as a result, her car left the road and overturned in a ditch.

With sales approaching $625 million, Wisconsin Lottery Executive Director William F. Flynn, Jr. reviewed the first 24 months for Lottery staff at a meeting at lottery headquarters.

The first annual Barton Historical Society Days was held on September 21, 22, and 23.

Marilyn A. Reinders, 55, of Allenton, died September 12.

50 Years

September 17, 1965

A severe electric storm accompanied by crackling lightning all over the sky, ear-splitting thunder, heavy rain, high winds and very threatening skies struck this area last Thursday evening. Severe storm warnings were out and tornado warnings were broadcast for the area south of Kewaskum. One local resident reported seeing a small funnel cloud as the storm hit this area. The entire Kewaskum area was "blacked out" for about a half hour by power failure when lightning struck a feeder line leading into the main sub station at West Bend. East Main St. was also under water in front of Kohn Bros. Farm Service. Village crews and firemen spent Thursday night pumping out flooded basements.

Just before going to press on Thursday afternoon announcement was made in a special news release by Regal Ware Inc., Kewaskum that J.O. Reigle has retired as president of Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum. Mr. Reigle will continue to serve as chairman of the board of directors of the company he founded 20 years ago and guided to front rank leadership in the housewares industry. The new president is James D. Reigle, formerly vice-president of sales and management.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Theusch, of Allenton, on September 9.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schoofs, of Kewaskum, on September 12.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tessar, of West Bend, on September 13.

75 Years

September 20, 1940

The Jacky Beauty Shop in West Bend, owned by Mrs. Victory Jacky, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stenschke, formerly of Kewaskum. Mrs. Stenschke is the former Lucille Heberer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heberer of New Fane.

Residents of the community of St. Michaels were greatly shocked at about 4:15 o'clock Monday afternoon when a cloud of smoke attracted them to a barn fire on the John Lehnerz farm located about three miles southeast of Kewaskum. The barn, a large frame structure, together with an adjoining machine shed and the contents of both were completely destroyed. The fire started in the grain stored under the roof in the upper part of the barn and spread rapidly that, within a few minutes, the entire barn was ablaze and it was impossible to save much besides the house and other small buildings. The Kewaskum and Barton Fire Departments responded hurriedly. Owing to the shortage of water all they could do was to stand by and save nearby buildings on the farm with chemical and their booster tanks. The barn, shed, tools and machinery and the entire crop yield of this year including 10 tons of hay and 1,300 bushels of grain were destroyed.

Friday the 13th was an unlucky day for Oscar Faber, R. 3, Kewaskum, who suffered a fractured leg when the wheel of a wagon passed over him as he attempted to crawl under the wagon. The mishap occurred on the farm.

Another young man from Kewaskum has enlisted in the United States Army in the past week. He is Robert Gruber, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gruber of this village. Bob's joining the colors brings the total of voluntary enlistments from Kewaskum to eight in less than a year.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Strachota, St. Kilian, a baby girl, last Saturday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fohey, an eight-point baby boy on last Monday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Vorpal, a baby girl.

100 Years

September 18, 1915

While cranking an automobile for W. Knickel at Parnell, John J. Pesch, manager of J.A. Pesch and Sons garage at Campbellsport was truck when the crank handle slipped off and a wound was inflicted in his upper lip which required several stitches to close.

The school bell rang again calling girls and boys to the school room Monday after their much enjoyed vacation. The school opened with a total enrollment of 139 pupils; high school 50, grammar department 25, intermediate department 32, and primary department 32. There are 11 students in the Senior class, 11 in the Junior class, 12 in the sophomore class, and 16 in the Freshmen class.

The Adell Volunteer Fire Co., is erecting a new building in which to store its fire-fighting apparatus.

A number of young people gathered at the home of Wenzel Reindl, St. Kilian, and duly celebrated Kilian's 24th birthday anniversary.

What might have been a serious if not fatal accident occurred at Boltonville last Thursday while B. Wiermann and a crew of workmen were excavating the tunnel leading from the race to the mill. The tunnel, 8 to 10 feet under ground was nearly finished except for some slight scrapping. This Fred Brotmiller reserved as his right. While he was thus engaged on his hands and knees under the tunnel, the entire embankment caved in. In a moment a crowd of men were busily digging with shovel and pick. Others in the excitement used their hands. Dr. Driessel was lastly summoned to set bones if life was not extinct. Soon a feeble cry, "keep of my head," was heard. The digging was continued with renewed force and Fred was rescued without any serious injury except a few bruises.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Strachota, St. Kilian, a baby girl, last Saturday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fohey, an eight-point baby boy on last Monday.

Kewaskum's Leash Law To Remain Status Quo

In the past week, village police have responded to two calls about dogs. On Sept. 8, police responded to a report of a dog bite. On Sept. 9, there was a dog at large.

Park Ordinance May Change

At the village board's next meeting on Oct. 12, village trustees might vote to change another ordinance to prohibit dogs and allow concealed weapons in parks.

"There is a bit of conflict as things exist right now," Police Chief Thomas Bishop said. "Under our current ordinance, it says that dogs must be leashed in the park. However, we have signs posted that prohibit dogs in the park and tell people they can't have dogs in the park. I would like to be clear. If we are not going to allow dogs in the park, let's have an ordinance that reflects that language so it is clear for everybody to know and reference."

The village board will consider next month whether the ordinance will be changed so that it will reflect that dogs are not allowed in parks, except for in designated canine areas.

The ordinance currently states that no one is allowed to carry a firearm in a village park.

"However, by state law we can't prohibit anybody from carrying concealed weapons in a village park," Bishop said.

Bishop drafted a revision so that the ordinance would reflect state statute.

The proposals for the ordinance revision were not up for a vote Monday night. Instead, the board can vote on them at the village board meeting on Oct. 12.

KEWASKUM YOUTH BASKETBALL REGISTRATION

Kewaskum Youth Basketball (KYB) is a non-profit organization that provides local kids with the opportunity to experience the fun of competitive basketball while improving their basketball skills and learning life skills such as teamwork, sportsmanship, commitment and responsibility. Participation is open to kids in grades 3-6 who reside in the Kewaskum School District. KYB is the only youth basketball organization that works with Kewaskum's High School Varsity Basketball Coaches to ensure the philosophies and skills required at the High School level are being taught.

The 3rd grade program is focused on introducing kids to the fundamentals of basketball and will run from early November to late December. 3rd grade will not play a competitive league schedule.

The 4th-6th grade programs are focused on developing skills and participating in a competitive league environment. 4th-6th grades will run from early November to late February/early March. Teams will play approx. 10 league games (games are on Saturday mornings/early afternoons) against teams like Campbellsport, Eden, Lomira, Laconia, Oakfield and North Fondy. Teams also participate in a minimum of 1 tournament.

Teams typically practice 1-2 evenings per week.

5th and 6th grade participants will also have the opportunity to be ball boys and girls for the Kewaskum Indians High School Varsity basketball teams throughout the season.

Former Publisher Marcie Harbeck To Be Honored By The WNA Foundation

Marcie Harbeck, deceased former publisher of the Kewaskum Statesman, will be honored by the Wisconsin Newspaper Association for her work in the Wisconsin newspaper industry at a ceremony on Friday, Sept. 18, in Eagle River.

Harbeck's name will be enshrined on the Wisconsin Newspaper Association Foundation (WNAF) Memorial Pylon, a monument to Wisconsin newspaper publishers who have passed away and left behind their legacies of service to their communities and to the Wisconsin newspaper industry. The pylon sits in the WNA Memorial Grove on the campus of Trees for Tomorrow in Eagle River. Eight other WNA publishers will also be honored in a ceremony attended by their families, friends and colleagues, as well as WNA members.

The public is welcome to attend the ceremony, which begins at 11:30 a.m. at 519 E. Sheridan St., Eagle River, Wisconsin, 54521. A reception will be held before the ceremony at 11 a.m. For more information, contact Wisconsin Newspaper Association Member Services Director Julia Hunter at Julia.Hunter@WNAnews.com or by phone at 608.283.7622. Each year, WNA members commemorate the lives and work of Wisconsin newspaper publishers who have passed away. This year's ceremony includes the rededication of a new WNAF Memorial Pylon, completed in 2014. This sturdy, granite monument replaces the wooden pylon that stood for decades.

If a community newspaper is the conscience of a small town, then Marcie Harbeck was the heart and soul of Kewaskum, according to the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel.

Born in Milwaukee, Harbeck moved to Kewaskum as a child when her parents purchased a tavern there. In 1938, she married Bill Harbeck, whose father owned the Statesman. Marcie and Bill ran the newspaper for more than 30 years. Marcie ran the newspaper's office and learned to operate the linotype machine. The Harbecks passed the newspaper on to their daughter, who, in turn, passed it on to her son.

Bill died in 1988, shortly after the couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Marcie continued to work at the newspaper with her daughter, answering phones, proofreading and serving her signature ham sandwiches without bread crusts to the staff, until 2002. Her grandson Andrew, who published the newspaper until recently, said "She was selfless and always found the good in people, always had something nice to say about someone. In the newspaper business, that's really difficult."

Harbeck died January 5, 2015, at 95. She is survived by two daughters, eight grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

After school, the Kewaskum Elementary School library is converted into a Boys & Girls club recreation room. About 70 students from within the Kewaskum School District attend the after-school program every day.

Shredding Event September 18 At The Silbernagel Group Office

On Friday, September 18 from 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m., The Silbernagel Group is offering a free on site shredding event for the community at 114 Main Street, Kewaskum. Take advantage of this opportunity.

There is one victim of identity theft every two seconds. Identity theft costs $25 billion annually. The average victim will spend $800 and 30 hours to resolve each identity theft crime. Identity theft is preventable and fixable. One needs to protect personal information. If one notices signs of identity theft, get all the facts and contact the appropriate agencies.

Shredding documents is not just for companies or people that are trying to hide something. Many of us have a home full of documents that contain potentially compromising information-account numbers, passwords, pins, social security numbers, credit card statements, e-mail address, etc.

When a person shreds information, it should be done in their presence and cross-cut shredding. That makes a document into confetti. Papers that are shredded into long strips can be put back together by a determined thief.

What should you shred? Tax returns older than seven years can be shredded. If the IRS suspects you are guilty of fraud, they can audit you as far back as they want. What is important about tax returns is social security numbers. Your dependents' social security numbers are on your tax return along with your social security number.

Any paper with bank account numbers should be shredded. That includes old bank and brokerage statements. A suggestion is to switch to online statements from your bank and brokerage firms.

The most common way to defrauding a person is to steal mail out of your mailbox. Credit card offers should be destroyed right away unless you are going to take the company up on the offer to open an account. Someone that has access to your home who knows your basic information could fill out a form. One out of four identity thefts are done by a family member.

Old photo IDs as a driver's license needs to be shredded. Biometric information can be used to verify an account. The ID and the information it contains can be used as part of a larger identity theft scheme to bypass fraud prevention measures.

Pay stubs older than one year should be shredded. Pay stubs contain personal information as employee ID number, last four digits of a social security number and other personal information. Convenience checks from credit card companies need to be shredded if you are not going to use them. These checks that you use to borrow against your line of credit should not end up in anyone's hands but yours.

Cancelled checks or checks with VOID written on them should be shredded. Your account, routing number, address, etc. are all on these pieces of paper. Some people even include the credit card number when they are paying their bill. When you close a credit card or debit card, the card should be cut in four pieces cutting through the magnetic tape and then put the pieces in separate areas of the trash. Shred ATM receipts, credit card receipts, used airline tickets.

There are documents you keep forever in a locked box as birth and death certificates, social security cards, current ID cards and passports, marriage license, business license, insurance policies, pension plan documents. Home sale, purchase or improvement documents keep for six years after the activity. Warranty documents and receipts you keep for as long as you have the item. Medical records, bills and receipts should be kept for one year after payment is paid. You only need the most recent version of a social security statement, annual insurance policy statement and retirement statements.

Now that you know what needs to be shredded and what to keep, collect your pile and come to the "Free" shredding event at the Silbernagel Group office located at 114 Main Street, Kewaskum on September 18 from 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m. We will see you in the parking lot with on-site shredding. No registration is required. Staples, rubber bands, paper clips do not need to be removed from the materials.

If you have questions about obtaining identity theft coverage, call the Silbernagel Group at 626-8892. Act and reduce your risk of having your identity stolen.

Tickets On Sale For Kettle Moraine Players Show

The Kettle Moraine Players are well into rehearsals for their October show, Almighty Bob.

The comedy will be presented at Lang Auditorium in Campbellsport High School on Friday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 4, at 1 p.m. and at the Schauer Center in Hartford on Friday, Oct. 9, and Saturday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 11, at 4 p.m.

Campbellsport tickets may be purchased on the web at www.KettleMorainePlayer.com

s.com or at the door. Prices are $10 for age 65 and over and students, $12 for everyone else ($15 if you buy at the door) or you can buy a four-pack (any ages) for $40 and add seats to it for $10. Tickets will not be available at the Campbellsport True Value or the Gust American Family office for this production. Hartford tickets range from $15 to $18 and may be purchased by calling the Schauer Center at 262-670-0560, extension 3.

John Brandl is directing the show and he says the storyline of the play is very funny, perhaps even funnier than the numerous "God movies" that have come out over the years. The story line is basically this — Bob is going in a nursing home. Sometimes Bob thinks he's God. Sometimes he might be right.

STEVE BERRES

Steve Berres, formerly of Campbellsport, is prominently featured as 'Doctor Wally,' the manager of Providence Nursing Home, and Traci Tousey of Campbellsport plays the role of 'Karen,' Bob's daughter. Other cast members are from Fond du Lac.

Village Continues Work On Foreclosed Home

By Anne Trautner

The village has removed the pool and fire pit from the back yard of the property at 639 Washington Ave.

The house, which sits vacant and is in disrepair, has been an issue for the village since it was foreclosed about 19 months ago.

The person who had a mortgage on the property was evicted, and Deutsche Bank out of Pennsylvania repossessed the house, Village Administrator Matt Heiser said. Deutsche Bank hired a property maintenance company to care for the property, Heiser said.

The bank will be billed for the time it took the village to remove the pool and fire pit, Heiser said.

In addition, over the summer, the village has been maintaining the lawn at the property and levying that cost onto the property's bill.

Police recently inspected the property for potential crime-related issues, but didn't find anything, Heiser said.

However, the police did get a lot of pictures, which will help the village as it draws up an affidavit for a warrant for inspection of the property, Heiser said.

There was a leak in the house last summer, and mold can now be seen all over the walls and ceiling, and mushrooms appear to be growing on the floor, Heiser said.

The one bright spot is that there have been two abatement firms looking around the property, which implies that someone is finally paying heed to the village's repeated emails to the bank that something be done.

"It is unclear where [the abatement firms] are from, but they must be reacting to the fact that there is a lot of mold damage in the house," Heiser said.

If inspectors deem the property fixable, the village can force the bank to rehab the place. If inspectors don't feel it is fixable, the village can issue a raze order, Heiser said.

All of the options can be put on the tax bill for that property so other taxpayers will not be affected, Heiser said.

Early Farm Days In Kewaskum

Bikes, Cars And Tractors Transport Community Back In Time

Anne Trautner

Antique farm equipment, vintage cars and old-time tractors lined Kewaskum's streets on Sunday, Sept.

Hundreds of people milled around River Hill Park, many of them wearing early 20th-century period costumes. Old Model Ts drove through the park, while a horse-drawn wagon transported passengers around the area.

Steam engines sent plumes of smoke into the air and whistles sounded, as a horse-drawn wagon transported passengers around the park.

Visitors learned about the designs of early engines, and experienced how early farmers in the area processed their crops with hands-on activities. The variety of gas and steam engines on display looked modern next to some of the hand-cranked farming equipment that people tried out.

It was all part of the Kewaskum Historical Society's 41st Early Farm Days.

High Wheelers

This year's event was unique because it featured antique bicycles.

Members from the Wheelmen Cycling Club gave demonstrations on their high-wheel bicycles.

"The hardest part is getting on and off of it," said Wayne Karasch, a high-wheel bicycle rider from Port Washington. "Other than that, they are easy, just like every other bike. You have to watch your hills and your ruts in the road. And you've got to watch for sand and gravel because you can slide."

Karasch, 64, said high-wheel bikes can go about 30 miles per hour. Karasch has a brake on his 1885 Gormully & Jeffrey high-wheel bicycle, although he doesn't use the brake unless he is on the back of the bike.

"Otherwise, if you put the brake on, you'll go flying over the front of the bike," Karasch said.

Riding down hills takes some flexibility as well.

"If you have a real steep hill, you put your legs over the handlebars, not underneath, and angle it down. You'll never keep up with the pedals because you're going so fast. It's very scary," Karasch said.

Karasch has taken a few tumbles off the bike.

"Once you fall, you're wary about getting back up on it. Then I looked at these guys on motorcycles. They're going two or three times as fast as I am, they wreck their bikes, and they get right back up on them. So I'm thinking, what am I worried about? So I got back up on it. Now, 14 years later, I'm still on the darn thing," Karasch said.

Karasch rides his bike almost every day.

"It takes a little bit of practice, but they are a lot of fun," he said.

Karasch attracts a lot of attention as he rides around Port Washington.

"Everyone tries to stop and ask questions. They take pictures while they are driving alongside of me on the main street. Somebody is hanging out the window taking pictures," Karasch said.

Farm Equipment

Antique farm shows are held regularly around the area, and groupies such as Roy Sauer like to travel to each of them.

"I spent my early days on the farm," said Sauer, who remembers the machinery his father used in the 1940s.

Jim and Mike Stoffel brought their family's old burr mill to demonstrate.

"It was bought by my great-grandfather, and I pulled it out of the greenery and I use it at farm shows. It works just like it did when it was bought in 1922. I didn't do anything to it, except put a belt on it and started using it," Mike Stoffel said.

Lavern Schmitz of Richfield showed attendees how hand-operated machinery worked in the 1800s.

"When we harvested our oats, there were weeds in the field. What do you get from weeds? A lot of weed seed. We want to plant these back in the field, we want to separate the weed seed from the grain. So by turning the crank, it operates the fan, the lighter weed seeds are being blown out the back, and your good oats are coming out in the bucket down here," Schmitz said as he demonstrated how an antique fanning mill worked.

Across the park was an early motorized fanning mill that operated with a pulley and a belt.

Schmitz also explained how a corn cutter worked as attendees turned a hand crank.

Schmitz fed a corn stalk into the corn cutter and explained how it was used to create food for cows.

"If you bring this home for the cows to eat, they eat the leaves off the corn cob, and the stalk was kind of hard. By feeding it through the machine here, it cuts it up into bite-sized pieces. Just like you would cut up your steak and potato on your plate, you're cutting that up into bite-sized pieces. So by cutting that up now, it is now kind of soft and spongy and full of juice inside, and now they'll eat the whole thing," Schmitz said.

Richard Toye, a retired electrical engineer, was impressed with how people had gotten the old pumps and equipment working.

"There is a lot to it," Toye said. "We don't realize how good we have things now."

For 9-year-old Macy Reysen, 7-year-old Aubrey Reysen and 4-year-old Liesl Ryan, the best part of Early Farm Days was washing clothes with an old washboard.

BUILDING SUPPLY

Boys & Girls Club Serves Kewaskum Youth On A Daily Basis

By Anne Trautner

Every afternoon at 3:40 p.m., the Kewaskum Elementary School library transforms into a games room.

An air hockey table, foosball table and an arcade-style PlayStation 2 come out. One library table is converted to ping-pong table, while another is covered with board games. A cart filled with art supplies is rolled out. Three flat-screen televisions are hooked up to Xbox, Wii and PlayStation 3.

"When you walk into the library after school, it doesn't feel like a library. It feels like you are in a Boys & Girls Club," said Max Roy, Kewaskum Unit Director for the Boys & Girls Clubs of Washington County.

About 70 students from Kewaskum Elementary, Farmington Elementary and the i4Learning Community School come to Kewaskum's Boys & Girls Club's afterschool program every day.

In addition to playing games in the library, the students can go to the school computer lab or play an organized game outside, such as kickball or capture the flag.

But the students do more than that. The Boys & Girls Club is a place for students to learn, participate in community projects and encounter positive character development experiences.

Offered through the Boys & Girls Clubs of Washington County, the Kewaskum Boys & Girls Club is a unique program.

"The Boys & Girls Clubs of America is a nonprofit organization with the intention to serve those who need us most. Typically, when most people think of the Boys & Girls Clubs, they think inner city," Roy said. "But here, there is still a need. If Mom and Dad can't get here until 4 p.m., to me, that's a need, because they need somewhere safe and somewhere positive to send their kids. And that's what we offer here."

Year-Round Programming

This past summer, about 65 area youth attended the Boys & Girls Club every day. The summer program featured backyard games for children in elementary and middle school.

During the school year, the Boys & Girls Club's cares for about 60 students from Kewaskum Elementary School and the i4Learning Community School before school begins every day.

For the after-school program, students ages 6 through fifth grade are bused from all district schools to Kewaskum Elementary. Once there, students have a 45-minute designated homework time. If students don't have any homework, other learning activities are offered.

"We offer an incentive program, based on their homework. We also have a brain-buster program, which can be anything from a word search to Sudoku to math or reading, so if they don't have homework they still have an opportunity to compete with their classmates. There's always something we offer them to do to work their brain, because as a Boys & Girls Club, one of our pillars is academic success. So if they don't have homework, let's still try to build their brain in some way," Roy said. Programmed activities are offered after school throughout the week. On Mondays, students focus on healthy habits, which ranges from good nutrition to physical activities.

On Tuesdays, the students participate in the Torch Club, which is a community service-based program. Last year, through the Torch Club, students sent encouragement letters to veterans and children who were hospitalized and made tie blankets for terminally ill children. They also conducted a food drive, collected supplies for soldiers who were stationed overseas and cleaned up around community.

On Wednesdays, Roy will lead a flag football program so that students learn teamwork, how to communicate, football, personal skills. In addition, children will conduct creative chemistry projects.

On Thursdays girls will take part in Smart Girls to encourage good self esteem, while the Smart Boys program will feature character and leadership projects.

"We try to teach them good character, citizenship, teamwork and communication skills," Roy said.

Program Funding

The Kewaskum Boys & Girls Club was started in 2009 to help families who needed childcare because of the school district's early release schedule on Wednesdays. Since then, the nonprofit program has expanded to offer before- and after-school programs every day when school is in session.

Over the past year, 246 grade-school children attended the Boys & Girls Club. That is about one-third of the total number of students enrolled in elementary schools in the Kewaskum School District, Roy said.

The cost is affordable for most parents. The morning program costs $13 per child per week. An annual membership fee of $65 covers after-school and summer program fees for one child. Three or more children cost $150 for the year. Scholarships are offered for families who cannot afford the registration fee.

"Families can literally pay less than a quarter a day if their children attend daily in the school year and summer," Roy said.

The Kewaskum club staffs one adult to every 20 students.

"As long as the staff is bringing activities for the kids to do and engaging them, you can make 70 kids feel like a small number when you are doing the job right," Roy said.

The local club is possible because of its partnership with the school district, Roy said.

"The Kewaskum School District is beyond great to us. I've been to some other Boys & Girls Clubs school sites, and I see them struggling to make it work. Here, the administration and staff make it easy," Roy said.

The school district provides the Boys & Girls Club with meeting and storage space. They district allows students to use equipment, computers and classrooms, in addition to providing basic utilities such as electricity. That support allows the club to offer a cost-efficient, safe environment, Roy said.

"There really is no hesitation on their end, and we are very grateful for it. They are a great partner. There is a donation on many levels coming from the school district that allows us to thrive here," Roy said. "We truly are blessed. From the connection we have with the kids, the services we offer to the parents, the availability to exist in the community and be a partner with the school district, it's a collaboration on so many levels. It's awesome. It's great to have that, and most small communities like this don't have it."

The Boys & Girls Club is funded through government subsidies, private foundation money, private donors and grants.

"In Washington County, I am always amazed at the number of people willing to give. It is always a pleasant surprise when you see people who are so willing, especially to youth," Roy said.

It is a good investment, he said.

"If you invest in youth today, a lot of the issues that are around today will be gone tomorrow because you invest in the leadership programs, the character programs, healthy living and lifestyle programs. If you invest now, the chances are the issues are going to be minimized when these kids hit their 20s and 30s and can really make an impact on the world," Roy said.

Yeska Family Reunion Held Sept. 6-8, 2015, In Neshkoro

By Isabelle (Yeska) Muckerheide

On Labor Day weekend, the descendants of Anton and Stella (Paluka) Yeska met at the hometown of Neshkoro in Marquette County.

The day began Saturday morning with a golf outing at Twin Oaks. At noon we adjourned to Stan-O-Gene Park for sub sandwiches. A business meeting followed. We wore our Yeska Reunion shirts, noting that our folks were married May 28, 1907. The theme this year was "The 50s," with saddle shoes and poodle skirts. The winners of the costume trophy were Julie and Jose De La Rosa. Isabelle recently moved to West Allis to live with her sister Dorothy Kerhin, so there was a table full of goodies from the Kewaskum house for everyone to select something as a remembrance.

At 4 p.m. we went to Mass, which was for the Yeska Family, at St. James Parish. At 5 p.m., we dined on brats, hamburgers and all the trimmings brought in by family members. Various gift baskets were made up for our frog raffle and tickets were sold for picnic expenses. Sunday was a day of relaxation, visiting and a game of sheephead. Sunday evening, some of us went to Silvercryst restaurant in Wautoma to celebrate Patty Celek's birthday.

A nephew, Joe Kurz of Chippewa Falls, is our genealogist. He also has a hobby of raising monarch butterflies and brought along his project to demonstrate. Several of us girls, being sisters, sang Rosemary Clooney's song "Sisters."

Monday morning some of us had breakfast at El Popo Mexican Restaurant in Wautoma, after which we said our goodbyes and departed for home.

My annual poem is as follows:

As once again we gather
In peace and harmony
The long awaited day has come
With joy for you and me.

The Kerhins are in charge
this year
It's bound to be a blast.
They're known to be inventive
For memories that will last.

A few life partners have passed away
The Lord his case has won
As the old saying goes
Not mine, thy will be done.

A couple couples tied the knot
A reason to rejoice
God bless them as they venture forth
We share in one great voice.

And as the years so swiftly pass
We often wonder why?
We will gather once again
At that meeting in the sky.

Celebrate Families To End After 25 Years

After 25 years Washington County's annual Celebrate Families event will be coming to a close. The final event will take place on Sunday, February 14, 2016 at the West Bend High Schools.

Celebrate Families debuted in 1991 as a way to provide resources to families in Washington County. The objectives of the event were to strengthen families through education, encourage families to spend quality time together, celebrate the diversity of families and to showcase agency services to strengthen the family unit. Community support has fluctuated over the years, with an overall decrease in agency participation and funding. In addition, an event of this scale takes a significant amount of time to plan and implement.

"We have a committee of passionate, hardworking individuals who put a lot of time and thought into this decision. Ultimately, the organizations represented on the committee are facing shrinking budgets and are therefore looking for ways to reduce programs that are resource intensive and don't directly align with their mission," said Melanie Goring, 2016 event chair. "It was not an easy decision."

"Our number one goal for the event has always been to connect families to the resources they need. Thanks to technology, greater involvement from the school districts, and new services like Impact 211, it is much easier to access these resources today than it was 25 years ago," said Goring. "We invite everyone to join us at the West Bend High School on February 14th to celebrate families with us one last time!"

The Celebrate Families committee includes representatives from UW-Extension Washington County, Volunteer Center of Washington County, Senior Citizens Activities, Schauer Arts Center, Family Center of Washington County, Boys & Girls Club of Washington County, Washington County Sheriff's Department, Aurora Medical Center, and the Washington County Association for Home and Community Education. For more information, visit www.celebratefamilieswashco.org or call (262) 338-8256.

Habitat For Humanity Helps During A Brush With Kindness Week

Habitat for Humanity of Washington/Dodge Counties is one of nearly 40 Habitat affiliates collaborating with Valspar, Habitat's national paint partner, and Wells Fargo, to launch A Brush with Kindness Week, Sept. 19-26.

A Brush with Kindness Week is a nationwide effort to transform neighborhoods by painting, providing minor exterior home repairs, landscaping and cleaning up yards in partnership with more than 153 low-income homeowners, many of whom are elderly or have a disability. Locally, more than 50 Habitat for Humanity of Washington/Dodge Counties volunteers will work on five projects in West Bend, Hubertus, Germantown, Jackson and Beaver Dam.

"This event will provide Habitat with an exciting opportunity to help serve more of our neighbors in need. It's an incredible occasion for our community to come together in a meaningful way, and we welcome everyone's participation, regardless of skill, as we launch our first A Brush with Kindness Week," said Morgan Pfaff Director of Family Services, Habitat for Humanity of Washington/Dodge Counties.

Valspar, lead sponsor of A Brush with Kindness Week, is also the founding partner of Habitat's home preservation services which help low-income homeowners who struggle to maintain the exterior of their homes. Habitat uses volunteers, donated materials and no-profit loans to make the repairs affordable, helping low-income homeowners continue to live independently and securely in their homes. Habitat has served nearly 13,000 low-income families through exterior home preservation services between 2008 and 2014.

"Habitat for Humanity's home preservation work focuses on affordable housing in existing communities and often helps homeowners continue to live independently and securely in their homes," said Jonathan T.M. Reckford, CEO of Habitat for Humanity International. "We are grateful for the commitments of the volunteers and sponsors collaborating with low-income families across the country."

Habitat for Humanity would like to thank Valspar and Wells Fargo for their help in making A Brush with Kindness Week possible.

For more information on A Brush with Kindness Week, contact Habitat for Humanity of Washington/Dodge Counties at 262.338.0690 or volunteer@hfhwa-shco.org.

The Silbernagel Group Evolves

Twenty-five years in business. Nineteen years at the historic building on Main Street in Kewaskum. After an analysis of our history, The Silbernagel Group reaffirms its commitment to their clients and the Kewaskum community. The Silbernagel Group's strategy is to analyze, prepare, maintain, enhance and grow each individual's and business's security that they work with.

The Silbernagel Group is made up of six components. There are benefits to having financial planning, insurance, legal services, tax and accounting all working as a coordinated team for you. The team feels a responsibility to make Kewaskum a better place for a family to live and have a business.

Jim Silbernagel, President of The Silbernagel Group heads Financial Services. Jim has been a leader in this industry for thirty years and is active in national organizations. Currently he is on the international Forum 400 board. The overall current financial picture of the client is analyzed. Planning and development for the client's needs, wants and reality occurs. This includes strategy for financial plans, estate plans, long term insurance, health insurance before and during Medicare years, asset protection, annuities, mutual funds, investments as 401 and 529 plans, college funding, legacy planning, tax efficiency and diversity of assets. Reviews of financial plans are encouraged on a regular basis. Jim and associates are easily available to answer questions as life events happen and offer quick response options to life event changes of their clients.

The head of the Insurance Services has over 30 years of insurance experience. This business has one of the highest retention rates in the state of Wisconsin. Clients are counselled on insurance for home, auto, farm and small business. Identity protection, liability, gaps in policies, cost control, overlooked discounts, umbrella policies and payment options are all considered for protection of assets. A customized package is made for each client to secure their assets at a reasonable and competitive rate. When notified, options and ramifications of possible actions are discussed regarding claim activity with auto, home, farm and small business insurance. Annual reviews are done to make sure insurance policies match current life circumstances and new programs/changes in programs are taken advantage of.

Real Wealth Tax and Accounting is a full service office that provides tax preparation and accounting services for individuals and small businesses. We analyze elements that create the taxable income and review the client's personal circumstances to find ways to reduce taxes. You are able to have your tax return completed within 10 business days after all information has been submitted. The fee for individuals 50+ years of age is $99 for a basic return and $169 for complex returns. The fee for individuals under 50 is $159 for a basic return and $249 for a complex return. This includes the federal and one state return along with e-filing. We provide these services to small businesses at competitive rates. The accounting practice is able to do quick-books, payrolls, bookkeeping, and analyze financial statements to make improvements to small businesses.

The Dahlberg Law Group has an office in the Silbernagel building and works closely with the organization. The attorney, who specializes and has experience in elder law and estate planning, helps clients plan for their future with a customized estate plan. Regardless of your age, income or financial situation, there is an estate plan that will allow you to maximize what you can leave to your loved ones. He has significant experience in helping preserve assets of individuals and families faced with admission to a nursing home. The attorney can help with making decisions about end of life wishes, health decision makers, financial decision makers, funding a revoca-ble living trust, wills, and planning for children with special needs. Because state and federal laws that affect estate planning change frequently, he encourages you to regularly review your plan to make sure the plan will work with your intentions when needed.

Knowledge is important when making any type of decision regarding financial planning, insurance, legal services, tax and accounting. Real Wealth Weekly is an online radio program with the purpose of educating Americans on financial wellness. It is a strategic partner of N A I F A ( N a t i o n a l Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors) members. Each weekly episode covers a different subject that helps one to achieve personal financial needs and goals. Jim Silbernagel interviews industry experts to help clients gain in-depth information about the subject being discussed. Guests have included Steve Forbes (Chairman and Editor-In Chief of Forbes Media), Dave Walker (Former US Comptroller General), and Dr. W Michael Cox (Chief Economist - Federal Reserve System).

Community is important to all the employees of The Silbernagel Group. Each employee is vested in giving back to the community. They are involved with the community. Main Street Philanthropy is a new program at the Kewaskum High School. This program is helping our youth experience the joy of purposeful giving by using philanthropy as a catalyst to instill critical life skills. This program costs $5,000 each time it is presented. The Silbernagel Group is a premier donor each time a class is presented. The organization is active in the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce and participates in regular events for the community as the Soles for Souls event, Fill the School Bus and the Shredding Event this September 18. Other events when the employees and their clients can give back to the community are planned for the future.

Remembering 9-11 In Kewaskum —Guest Editorial By Nadine Krahn

Today is the 14th anniversary of the 9/11 terrorist attacks on the United States. I feel incredible sadness when I remember the loss and evil we experienced that day as a nation. I feel an even deeper sadness when I see how quickly it seems many have forgotten, and how little we have learned from this tragedy.

In the small town of Kewaskum, there exists a little-known 9/11 memorial, outside the fire station. The memorial is dedicated to a young, local girl named Andrea Haberman and the victims who were killed that fateful day in the World Trade Center attack.

The memorial displays a burnt, rusted piece of one of the original World Trade Center steel beams. We've driven past this memorial over the past year, along with so many others like us, always busy going from one place to another. We've gotten so used to that steel beam just being there, that it rarely receives a look, much less a moment of thoughtful reflection.

As my son and I were passing through Kewaskum this morning at 8:45, we decided to stop for the first time at the memorial. We stood in front of it, touched the beam and said private prayers for Andrea and her family.

We prayed for all the victims and families that were touched by 9/11, and the related wars and conflicts that followed. We prayed for wisdom and guidance for the politicians who refuse to acknowledge, and even enable, with their policies, this same evil advancing across our globe. We prayed for God to have mercy on our country and to unite and heal our nation. We can never hope to face such great evil and win, without the guidance, help and favor of God.

After our prayers, we silently got in our car and turned on the radio to a station that was covering the 9/11 memorial ceremony live in New York. They were in the process of reading the names of the nearly 3,000 victims.

We had just left the memorial, when a familiar name rang eerily clearly from the radio speaker. The name was that of Andrea Haberman. I got tears in my eyes, as I knew at that moment that someone, with even greater power than those in Washington DC, had heard our prayers.

Coincidence? I think not.

Doug Gonring To Be Inducted Into Old Time Ballplayers Association Of Wisconsin Hall Of Fame

By Anne Trautner

Kewaskum resident Doug Gonring, who coaches Kewaskum High School's baseball team and is a former minor league catcher, has been selected to be in the Old Time Ballplayers' Association of Wisconsin Hall of Fame.

Gonring played professionally for nearly four years. He has coached the Kewaskum High School baseball team for the last nine years. Prior to that, Gonring coached the West Bend East High School baseball team for 12 years, and before going to East, he was at Kewaskum for a year.

During that time, he also coached at Concordia for nine years at the college level, and scouted for the Arizona Diamondbacks for five years.

Gonring has been inducted into the Hall of Fame at Florida Atlantic University and is on the West Bend Baseball Association's Wall of Fame.

"And now this honor completely took me off my feet," Gonring said after learning that he would be inducted into the Old Time Ballplayers' Association of Wisconsin Hall of Fame.

Joining Gonring as new Hall of Fame inductees are: former UW Madison star outfielder Russ Mueller; another UW Madison star, former shortstop Jim Barwick; and Brewers All-Star center fielder Gorman Thomas.

Bob Groth, secretary-treasurer of the Land O' Lakes Old Timers and former Land O'Lakes Western Division Commissioner, will receive the Ray Schuster Lifetime Achievement Award.

The Old Time Ballplayers' Association of Wisconsin 35th Annual Hall of Fame Dinner and Induction Ceremony will be held on Sunday, Nov. 8, at American Serb Hall, at 5101 W. Oklahoma Ave. in Milwaukee.

Upward of 400 are expected, and it is open to the public.

On Sept. 2, the honorees were introduced on the field at Miller Park prior to the Brewers baseball game.

An Old Time Ballplayers' plaque listing all the inductees since 1981 is displayed at Miller Park on the field level in the right field corner. This plaque is located among several other plaques including Brewers team awards.

The 2015 names will be added in time for next season.

Formed in 1932, the Old Time Ballplayers' Association of Wisconsin is the largest organization of its kind in the U.S. There are nearly 2,500 members of the Old Time Ballplayers with members in 20 states.

Annual membership is $10, and anyone can join, regardless of age or gender. Members receive two half-price coupons good for any available seat for eight Brewers games each year. Members receive two mailings each year including invitations to the Hall of Fame banquet and the Spring Baseball Jamboree. The spring mailing also includes the Brewer coupons. Membership gift certificates are available upon request. For information visit www.oldtimeballplayers.com or facebook.com/oldtimeballplayers.

Tickets for the dinner and ceremony are available for $20 each by contacting Rick Schabowski at (414) 322-4997 or Greg Ebbert at gregebbert@msn.com or (262) 292-4002.

Wilde's Game Starting To Take Shape

By Judy Harlow

In the post-Labor Day Wisconsin Little Ten match played on the long par 37 West Bend Country Club layout, Leah Wilde's 7-over-par 44 was the highlight for the Kewaskum High girls golf team. She finished third overall in the field of 31 players.

"Leah had an excellent round at West Bend. As we all know, that course can really eat you up if you're not on your 'A' game," Uhlig said. "She drove the ball very nicely, which put her in good position for par and bogey golf. Low 40s is where she can/should be, but now we need to stay consistent."

Wilde's round included pars on numbers five and seven.

Oconomowoc's Alex Larson was the medalist with a 5-over 42, and Hartford stayed perfect in WLT action, winning with a 189.

The other three KHS golfers played exhibition so they could get some experience on the WBCC course.

On September 9, the LT golfers converged on Oconomowoc's LaBelle Golf Club for the fifth of six mini-tour meet, with Hartford coming away as the winner with a sizzling 174 behind scores of 43, 45, 46 and 50.

The combined West Bend East and West team was the runner-up with 190, followed by Watertown, 191; Beaver Dam, 210; and Oconomowoc, 211. Kewaskum had just three players, one below the required number for counting as a team.

Beaver Dam's Ashley Kulka returned to her early-season form, shooting a solid three-over-par 39 to claim the medal.

Wilde was coasting along at seven-over-par after seven holes when she ran into trouble on number seven and nine and had to settle for a 50. Freshman Grace Kober and sophomore Taylor Cook, playing the course for the first time, came in with respective scores of 73 and 75.

Current LT standings — 1. Hartford, 5 points; 2. West Bend, 12; 3. Watertown, 18; 4. (tie) Beaver Dam and Oconomowoc, 20.

The LT teams were scheduled to be at Hartford CC on Wednesday, and they have the opportunity to play at Erin Hills, which will host the 2017 U.S. Open, on Friday.

KHS Netters Finish With A Split In Busy Week

By Judy Harlow

A quick afternoon of tennis produced a convincing 7-0 victory for the Kewaskum High girls on being on the other side of a shutout match in the East Central Conference.

Host Waupun didn't have much of a chance against the Indians, who won 42 out of 49 games.

"A great comeback after the heart-breaking loss to Kohler," coach Peter Garcia beamed about the victory, which gives his team a 3-2 record and more important 19 points (individual wins) toward the EC team standings. With four (of the nine) matches to go, the Indians have a chance to finish with 35-40 points, which would secure a successful campaign.

Kewaskum 7, Waupun 0

Singles: No. 1 Jeray Riffel beat Ashley Schmitt, 6-0, 6-1; No. 2 Hunter Garcia beat Kayla Pemberton, 6-0, withdrew, injury; No. 3 Maddy Lehmann beat Janell Kovelis, 6-2, 6-1; No. 4 Julie Vollmar beat Alyssa Hutchison, 6-0, 6-3 Doubles: No. 1 Julia Cotter/Laura Weishan beat Mei Champion/Jasmin Fix, 6-2, 6-2; No. 2 Morgan Wenzlaff/Sammie Wiskirchen beat Sami Nummerdor/Elyse Stessel, 6-0, 6-1; No. 3 Cassidy Lange/Hana Preder won by forfeit.

Kohler is a little school with a big tradition in the sport of tennis, as the Kewaskum High girls tennis team discovered.

The Blue Bombers, who live within a stone's throw of the indoor Kohler Sports Core tennis facility, shut out the host Indians 7-0. The only singles player to go to three sets was Julie Vollmar at No. 4 singles. She lost a heart-breaker in the first set, 6-7 (5-7), won the second 6-2 before falling 0-6 in the third.

All the doubles matches were decided in straight sets. At No. 3 doubles, Kassidy Lange and Hana Preder gave a good account of themselves in the first set, losing 5-7, but the Kohler duo took control in the second, winning 6-1.

Kohler 7, Kewaskum 0

Singles: No. 1 Jeray Riffel lost to Anna Mesalles, 0-6, 0-6; No. 2 Hunter Garcia lost to Lauren Horth, 1-6, 1-6; No. 3 Maddy Lehmann lost to Evelyn Hevn, 2-6, 0-6; No. 4 Vollmer lost to Ryah Gutschow, 6-7 (5-7), 6-2, 0-6.

Doubles: 1. No. 1 Julia Cotter/Laura Weishan lost to Allie Bryce/Rachel Proudman, 0-6, 2-6; No. 2. Morgan Wenzlaff/Sammie Wiskirchen lost to Amelia/Emily Goesneal, 3-6, 2-5; No. 3 Lange/Preder lost to Frannie Hillstrom/Jamie Lewis, 5-7, 1-6.

All Kewaskum players are listed first.

KHS Girls Have Successful Weekend On The Courts

By Judy Harlow

By finishing with a 2-2 mark and 17 individual wins, the Kewaskum High girls tennis team place third in the annual Brown Deer tournament the past weekend.

Sheboygan Falls won the team total, with Grafton coming in second place.

On Saturday, the Indians started out with a 7-0 shutout win over Brown Deer and then narrowly lost to the eventual champion Falcons by a score of 3-4.

"It was the same identical score in the conference match with Sheboygan Falls on August 25," KHS coach Peter Garcia said, reporting Sheboygan Falls won the all singles matches and the Indians dominating at doubles.

There was improvement shown in singles, however, as Jeray Riffel and Hunter Garcia won eight games vs. Mia Bartel and Ellie Roe this time, compared with only one when the two faced each other earlier.

The sweep by the doubles teams was impressive. All three groups won in straights sets.

Brown Deer has been struggling this season, according to coach Garcia, who allowed the Falcons to forfeit at Nos. 1 and 2 singles and have their regular players at those spots move down to Nos. 3 and 4 for a more competitive match. Still, Kewaskum won 60 games to 10 for Brown Deer.

Riffel and all three doubles teams finished 3-1 in the two days of competition. Another highlight was Jennae Beaupre winning her second win in her first weekend of varsity tennis.

Kewaskum 7, Brown Deer 0

Singles: No. 1 Riffel won by forfeit; No. 2 Garcia won by forfeit; No. 3 Breanna Trepes beat Kairlin Kirsch 6-1, 6-1; No. 4 Jennae Beaupre beat Tierra Cobbs, 6-3, 6-1

Doubles: No. 1. Julie

Cotter/Laura Weishan beat Emily Her/Jailin Mays 6-2, 6-1; No. 2. Morgan Wenzlaff/Sammie Wiskirchen beat Karrin Harris/Tylin Vang 6-0, 6-1; No. 3. Cassidy Lange/Hanna Preder beat Kaitlyn Moon/Nancy Dong 6-0, 6-0

Sheboygan Falls 4, Kewaskum 3

Singles: No. 1 Riffel lost to Bartel 4-6, 1-6; No. 2 Garcia lost to Roe 2-6, 1-6; No. 3 Trepes lost to Monica Micolczyk 2-6, 9-6; No. 4. Beaupre lost to Allison Lee 0-6, 2-6

Doubles: No. 1 Cotter/Weishan beat Racel Lee/Klohe Kuehne, 6-4, 6-2; No. 2. Wenzlaff/Wiskirchen beat Megan Hand/Carissa Dekanich 6-1, 6-3; No. 3 Lange/Preder beat Amy Brading/Hailey Kxiudlog, 7-6 (7-4), 6-4.

On Friday, the Indians defeated Dominican 6-1, then fell to Grafton by the same score.

Garcia noted the team was playing without two of its regulars.

Three of the four singles players won matches against Dominican. The most exciting match came at No. 2 singles where Hunter Garcia outlasted Alex Dujimic, 2-6, 7-6 (7-5) and 10-4.

Coach Garcia was also excited to see Beaupre win her first varsity match, topping Grace Grueninger, 6-4, 6-3 at No. 4 singles.

Kewaskum's doubles team all were victorious in straight sets.

Against Grafton, the highlight was Riffel's effort at No. 1 singles. Riffel lost the first set to Gillian Waskiewicz 4-6, then roared back in convincing fashion to be her Blackhawk opponent, 6-2, 11-9.

All the other singles players lost in straight sets. At No. 1 doubles, Cotter and Weishan split the first two sets before falling 10-7 in the third. The same was true at No. 2 where Wenzlaff and Wiskirchen battled hard before losing 6-3, 3-6 and 6-10.

Hailey Plachinski cruises down the course followed by Ellie Debelak at the Mike Hurlbert Invite in Mayville on Friday, Sept. 11. Plachinski finished 46th with a time of 23:22.84 and Debelak finished in 47th place with a time of 23:23.57.

KHS Girls Near The Top Half Of The Hurlburt Field

By Judy Harlow

Over 375 runners converged on Mayville High School on September 11 in hopes of placing high in the annual Mike Hurlburt Cross Country Invitational.

Kewaskum runners got a taste of what competing in their new East Central Conference will be like, and they also got to see some old friends from the Eastern Wisconsin.

In the end, it was North Shore member, Slinger, doubling its pleasure, taking both ends of the meet. The Lady Owls nipped Berlin, 42-51 for the title, while in the boys race, it was Slinger holding a comfortable advantage over the rest of the field with 73. Waupun finished second with 102.

Kewaskum's girls had a successful outing, placing eight with 199 points in the field of 15, and it was senior Emily Krier leading the way once again. Krier continues to shine, turning in a time for the 5,000 meter test of 21 minutes, 21.97 seconds (21:21.97), which was good enough for 11th in the field of 194.

And junior Hailey Herriges will be in shape when the basketball season starts as she pushes herself to get better. She placed 27th with a time of 22:36.90.

Two others, Haley Plachinski and Ellie Debelak, made the top 50, finishing 46 and 47 in 23:22.84 and 23:23.57, with the final counter, Melissa Schneider taking 104th in 25:45.65.

Justin Reck was the top runner for the KHS boys, making the top 25 by placing 23rd in 18:27.17, while fellow sophomore Kyle Toth came in 59th in 20:06.34.

The other Indians counters, two of them newcomers to the sport, were far back in the pack. Antony Leister finished 117th (21:56.40); Jacob Loehr, 119th (21:45.40); and Blake Miller, 130th (22:25.54).

No comments on the meet were received from coach Kris Evans.

Mike Hurlburt Invitational

Boys top five teams — 1. Slinger, 74; 2. Waupun, 103; 3. Ripon, 112; 4. Kiel, 121; 5. Berlin, 156. Race winner — Clark Otte of Sheboygan Falls, 16:07.08.

Girls top five teams — 1. Slinger, 42; 2. Berlin, 51; 3. Kiel, 121; 4. Lomira, 153; 5. Mayville, 156; Race winner — Julia Silloway, Berlin, 20:05.45.

One Goal Was Good But Still Not Enough

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High soccer team is still looking for its first victory, but the Indians did score a goal on September 10 in their 2-1 home loss to Ripon.

With 10 minutes to go, Joe Sanborn beat the Ripon keeper for the first goal of the year, but unfortunately, the Indians could not come up with another.

When the season opened, second-year coach John Kenworthy was very optimistic and at the same time realistic, knowing with seven of starters who had never been in a varsity match, it would take time to develop offensive power.

That was the case again against the Tigers. "We had our opportunities," KHS coach John Kenworthy said about this latest game, reporting Ripon scored first, but the Indians missed a penalty kick that would have tied things up in the second half.

Joe Sanborn took the kick, according to Kenworthy, who said the keep just got his hand on the ball, preventing it from going in the net.

Ripon's other goal was "an own goal," meaning it went off a Kewaskum player into the net. Kenworthy said there was a little miscommunication on the play, and one of the defenders backed into the ball sending it into the goal.

Finally, at 80 minutes, Sanborn erased the 0 on the scoreboard for KHS. "It was great Joe scored. I was glad he got to redeem himself," Kenworthy said. "It was nice to get that first goal."

Kewaskum kept pushing the final 10 minutes, according to the coach, who said, "We had a couple looks at the end ... just didn't come through."

Cited for their fine defensive play were Austin Fischer, Dylan Baertschy, Hayden Koralewski and Nate Heniadis, who was just moved to the back row to help out there. "Overall, they were just great," the coach said.

Kenworthy also praised goalie Connor Enright for "making good decisions when to come out and when to go back" in defending shots.

Then there was freshman Matt Krautkramer, who gave the offense a real "spark" in the latter stages of the contest, according to Kenworthy. Kewaskum wound up with 10 shots on goal, the same number recorded by the Tigers.

"I still think we match up pretty well with some of the teams in the conference," Kenworthy said, certain his players are getting better, but, "They need to learn how to win."

Kewaskum, 0-4 in conference action and 0-7-1 overall, hosts Berlin this afternoon (Thursday) at 4:30 p.m.

Brandon Thull carries the football out of traffic in a game against Winneconne on Sept. 11. Thull added 158 to his rushing total, putting his current season mark at 778 yards, sixth best in the state.

Another Win, Another 200-yard Effort By Thull

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum's first-ever varsity football game against Winneconne was a big success, and while the Indians didn't score as many points Friday night as their average for the season — they have gone over 40 points twice — getting the win was the goal. Mission accomplished!

By scoring once late in the first quarter and adding another pair of touchdowns in the second, Kewaskum had a comfortable 21-0 lead at intermission en route to the 27-6 decision, and, except for one big pass play, the defense kept the Wolves out of the end zone.

"The defense played lights out," KHS coach Jason Piittmann said about the effort that gave the Indians' win No. 4 on the season and the second against East Central opponents. "You can see that in their rushing stats."

Those coming to the game to see Brandon Thull run with the football certainly were not disappointed. Showing his speed, strength and versatility, Thull carried the ball 28 times, one less than the entire Winneconne team, for 220 yards (7.9 yards per carry), caught two passes for 22 yards, and scored three more touchdowns, bringing his season total to 14.

The two other Indians who usually run the football, Steve Nurkala and Berat Elmazi, were limited to six yards and five yards, respectively, but the passing game helped out as QB Michael Prochnow completed 13 of 26 passes for 150 yards and a pair of TDs.

"We knew they were going to be tough defensively," Piittmann said, indicating their unorthodox scheme, with lots of blitzing "gave us some problems early." After two unsuccessful possessions, "We were able to get things going with our passing game loosening them up a bit."

"We had one nice screen pass to Elmazi," Piittmann went on about the first scoring drive. It was the combination of Michael Prochnow and Charlie Witek, returning to action after spraining his ankle early in the game against Campbellsport, hooking up for the Indians' first score on a pass play covering 30 yards and coming with 1:27 left on the clock in the first quarter.

Thull had a hand in both Kewaskum's scores in the second quarter, the first coming on a 1-yard run, and the next one on a 25-yard pass from Prochnow. There scores were just three minutes apart as the defense was stingy once again, forcing the Wolves to punt after three plays.

At half, Thull had just 62 yards rushing, but the Wolves, playing several starters both ways, tired in the third and fourth quarters. "They had a lot of big guys, and we wore them down," Piittmann said, pointing to the fact Thull added 158 to his rushing total, putting his current season mark at 778 yards, sixth best in the state. (He is currently averaging 10.5 yards per carry.)

In addition to Thull's rushing, six Indians figured in the passing game, with Witek catching three balls for 45 yards, Elmazi three for 27, Josh Baker three for 18, Thull two for 22, and Eric Doll and Nurkala each catching one pass. "Nurkala had a great catch on the sideline," Piittmann said of the 31-yard reception.

There were plenty of stars defensively, starting with linebacker Ben Watzig and lineman Thomas Strom. Watzig had three solos and seven team tackles, while Strom was in a 10 team tackles. Next came Brady Hanson with three and five, and Piittmann said, "Jason Hanson played great as well, especially on the read option," while Zach Thull and Nurkala "put great pressure on their quarterback."

Dan Kreis had his first varsity interception for Kewaskum, and Zach Henderson had a pick for the Wolves.

Winneconne's long touchdown came when QB Tyler Swanlund turned a broken play into a 36-yard score to Nathan Wright. Swanlund completed 10 of 20 throws for 164 yards passing. Jeremiah Franz had three catches for 78 yards, while Henderson hauled in four balls for 58 yards.

When asked if his team is in good shape physically for Friday's game at Ripon, Piittmann said, "We are actually ... just some bumps and bruises."

In other EC games on Friday night, Berlin defeated Plymouth 28-7; Ripon topped Campbellsport 12-8; and Kettle Moraine Lutheran defeated Waupun, 33-19.

Youth Movement Is Still A Work In Progress

By Judy Harlow

The importance of experience and good serving was very evident in last Thursday's East Central match between the Indians and Winneconne.

The Lady Wolves, with 10 seniors on their roster, topped the young Indians, who have just three seniors, 26-19, 25-9 and 25-18 in a match held in the Kewaskum High field house/sauna.

"They're good!" KHS coach Laine Leitzke said after watching his Indians take leads and stay close to the Wolves in the first game and then wear down a bit in Games 2 and 3.

In the end, it was the serving of Annika Gereau and Morgan Horn and the front line play of six-foot middle hitter, Sadie Kosciuk that were the difference. Conversely, the Indians had trouble serving.

With the victory, Winneconne improved to 2-0 in the EC and 15-1 overall, while Kewaskum is now 3-11, including an 0-2 mark in conference play.

While he had hoped for a better outcome, Leitzke knew it was going to be an uphill battle against the Wolves, but he was proud of the way the Indians battled, especially defensively. "Defensively, we had one of our best matches," he said. "We made them swing a lot, we were able to get a bunch of defensive touches and digs on hard swings from their outside and middle."

What let the Indians down was their serving. "We played against arguably one of the best teams in our conference and state and we served 70%. That was our worst serving mark of the season," Leitzke went on.

In Game 1, the Indians led 5-2 early, and after tie scores at 7-7 and 11-11 and 17-17 (on a Sarah Butschlick ace), the visitors pulled away. Alex Busching, who is very accomplished at hitting a jump serve, served out the final four points with a big kill by Kosciuk earning the final point.

Game 2 was pretty much all Winneconne as the Lady Wolves started off with a 10-2 lead and never looked back. Kewaskum had several highlights, including a return by Brittany Williams that spun over the net and settled nicely on the court and a big block by Elizabeth Lightner that helped the Indians score a point. "She had a nice solo in the second game," Leitzke said about the 5-10 junior Lightner.

Add to that another bright spot an exciting block by Haley Kleinhans and Alexandria Durn past Kosciuk.

Kewaskum started the third game well enough, drawing even with the Wolves at 7-7, then Horn went on a serving tear, scoring six straight points until she served the ball out of bounds. Her team had a 13-8 lead, however, a lead that would grow on Gereau's run of five straight serves that put the game out of reach.

Leitzke said he was well aware of Gereau's talent. "She had 135 kills coming in," he said, pleased that at times, the Indians "did a good job controlling her."

For the game, Amanda Schaller and Hailey Schicker were the kill leaders with five and four, respectively, while Haley Kleinhans had seven assists and Ellie Landreville and Schaller were tops in digging with 23 and 16. In blocks, it was Durn with two and Lightner one.

"I think we played as a team. I don't think anyone was a stand out, and that's the way I would like it," Leitzke said, but, "Our serve reception quit on us tonight, and our serving wasn't very good."

Kewaskum is at Ripon tonight (Thursday). This year, JV and freshman matches will start at 5:30 p.m., with the varsity matches getting underway at approximately 6:30 p.m. or 6:45 p.m.

Alex Prunty Seals Second Track Championship With Late Model Feature Win At Slinger

By Dan Margetta

Alex Prunty stormed to the lead in the waning stages of the 40-lap late model feature Sunday afternoon at the Slinger Super Speedway and drove off to a convincing win to seal the deal on his second track championship.

"I can't thank my family enough for getting me to the point where I am," Prunty told the crowd from victory lane, "To (Uncles) Dennis, David, Dale, my Dad, and my Grandparents for letting me keep the car in the garage, it turned out to be one heck of a year."

Alex Prunty was the fastest qualifier after touring the speedway in 12.168 seconds.

Eighth Graders Win Thrilling Season Opener

The eighth grade Gridiron Indians opened the season at Greendale with a thrilling 30-24 victory that came down to the final play as time expired.

Greendale received the opening kickoff and marched downfield all the way inside the Kewaskum five yard line before fumbling, which was recovered by the Indians middle linebacker Eli Bartelt. The Indians went three and out and Greendale received the ball back with great field position and they took advantage as they scored on a five yard touchdown run and made the two-point kick to take an 8-0 lead. The Indians got the ball and on the first play of the possession running back J.J. Thull took the ball around the left edge and outran everybody for a 64 yard touchdown run. The two-point kick was blocked to make the score 8-6. On Greendale's next position they attempted a pass that was intercepted by defensive back Toree Ralph. On the first play of the drive for the Indians, Thull ripped off a 52 yard run. A couple of negative plays put the Indians in a third and 20 situation when Thull went around the right side and scored on a 35 yard touchdown run. The two-point kick was no good to make the score 12-8. The Indians threatened one more time before halftime with a 39 yard pass caught by tight end Jay Horning from quarterback Ty Cook, but the Indians weren't able to punch it in and the score remained 12-8 going into halftime.

The Indians received the second half kickoff and marched right down the field highlighted by a nice catch and run by wide receiver Jed Ermer for 43 yards from Cook. Thull capped off the drive with a 15 yard touchdown run. The two-point kick failed so the Indians had an 18-8 lead. Greendale threatened on its next possession but on a fourth down play a pass was intercepted by Thull to end the threat. The score remained 18-8 until the middle of the fourth quarter when things started to get interesting.

The Indians lined up to punt but the snap sailed over the punter's head and was recovered by Greendale inside the Kewaskum five yard line. On the very next play Greendale punched it in and the two-point kick was good to make the score 18-16.

On the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff Thull did it again, going left and then completely reversing the field to the right and outrunning the defense for a spectacular 56 yard touchdown run. The one-point conversion failed to make the score 24-16. Greendale took the ball on the next possession and marched the ball right down the field and scored on an 18 yard touchdown run but after the play were flagged for a 15 yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty. The penalty made the two-point kick a 35 yarder to tie the game. The kicker sent a booming kick that cleared the crossbar by a yard and tied the game 24-24 with about a minute and a half remaining. The Indians fell on the ensuing kickoff at their own 25 yard line. One run play netted zero yards and on second and 10, Cook rolled left and fired a perfect deep ball dropping it right into the hands of Ermer, who outran the defense and took it all the way for a 75 yard touchdown. The two-point kick failed to make the score 30-24. Greendale received the kickoff and returned it near mid-field. A couple nice plays got them down to their 25 yard line and they were able to call a timeout with one second remaining. The throw to endzone on the final play fell incomplete and the Indians walked away with the 30-24 victory.

The Indians were lead offensively by running back J.J. Thull who had 10 carries for 259 yards and four touchdowns. Quarterback Ty Cook had 159 yards passing with a touchdown with Jed Ermer having two catches for 118 yards and a touchdown and Jay Horning with one catch for 39 yards. The defense forced three turnovers and had an overall solid effort against a much bigger Greendale team.

It was a great and very exciting win to open the year up. We had good effort from the entire team with everybody making a solid contribution to the victory. The offense had a turnover free game, which for the first game of the year I was very pleased with. The next game is at home against Slinger Red on Saturday, Sept 19th at 9 a.m.

Kewaskum Youth Soccer Results For September 12

U8 Twisters won 10-3 against Richfield. Seven goals were scored by Eli Steinbauer, two goals by Carson Maine and one goal by Jett Schreiber.

U10 Aztecs lost 2-5.

U10 Spartans won 6-5 against the Hartford Badgers. Game started off shaky but the Spartans were able to make a comeback in the second half. Three goals were scored by Dawson Stahl. Others to score were Calla Kreuser, James Martin and Adam Deppert. Wyatt Tye was strong in goal fending off several advances.

Joseph Sanborn goes after the ball for the Indians during a soccer game against Ripon on Thursday, Sept. 10. Kewaskum ended up losing the game, 2-1, but Sanborn scored their first goal of the season.

Ken Hoerig's Vintage Race Car

In 1968, Wayne Erickson and Roger Strupp build the first four wheel drive modified for the MSC racing circuit. It was built on a 1943 Chevy frame rail, a Ford 3 speed top loader transmission with a 3/4 ton Ford 6:66 rear end, powered by a small block Chevy motor. The body is a 1934 Ford Coupe. They started racing it in the 1969 season, but by the end of the season the four wheel drive concept was outlawed. It was raced at area tracks, Slinger, Cedarburg, Beaver Dam, Hales Corner and in Michigan.

I am a member of VSMC Vintage Modified Group for the last fifteen years. I bought this car in 1999. All winter I worked to restore the car to its present condition. I take the car to car shows and local tracks. It is a lot of fun to hear the stories from the old drivers about how racing was back in the 50's, 60's and 70's. I would like to thank my wife Patty (Chief Advisor), my son Chad, and Mark Biertzer for all the endless hours of hard work they put into the car to help with the restoration. It looks as if it was just built yesterday.

Special recognition goes to Dan Fischer, Fischer Finishing and Dan Cain, Landscaping Supply, for their sponsorship.

On September 18, 2015 the VSMC group will be gathering at the Auto Museum in Hartford. There will be many cars there on display and plenty of racing stories from yesterday to be talked about.

Ken Hoerig is a member of the VSMC Vintage Modified Group. He purchased this 1968 race car in 1999. Ken restored the car and now takes it to car shows and local tracks. On September 18, the VSMC group will be gathering at the Auto Museum in Hartford.

Meet The News Reporter In The Kewaskum Area

Anne Trautner

Kewaskum is known as a gateway to the Kettle Line State Forest.

It is more than that. Kewaskum is where people work, learn, exercise and enjoy one another's company. And it is now the place I call home.

I recently moved to the town of Kewaskum and started working a couple months ago as a reporter for the Kewaskum Statesman.

So far, it has been an exciting adventure. With me being a newspaper's first brand-new manager, I have been able to help set up a new office and have been busy learning to use the new equipment and technology. I have had the privilege of meeting some of you already, and am looking forward to getting to know all of you better.

When I first met the new owners of the Kewaskum Statesman, Andrew and Laura Johnson, and the paper's new managing editor, Andrea Hansen Abler, I was struck by their kindness and honesty. They share the same dedication to community journalism as I have, with a commitment to fair and unbiased reporting.

That is something I was looking for. I have a degree in journalism from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. I have worked as an editor, reporter and columnist for newspapers across the country, including Wisconsin, Tennessee and Virginia. Most recently, I worked for Southern Lakes Newspapers in Lake Geneva.

While living in Lake Geneva, I was involved in the community and worked for about 10 years as director of religious education at St. Francis de Sales parish.

I moved to Kewaskum after my husband was transferred to the area. He works as an engineer for Charter Steel in Saukville. We have three children in college: our daughter attends UW-La Crosse and our two sons are students at UW-Platteville and UW-Madison.

But enough about us. This newspaper is here to tell your stories.

Please contact me when you have a news tip or something to share. I am eager to learn your stories.

I welcome your photos and other submissions.

The Kewaskum Statesman staff currently offers hours by appointment at our new office in Kewaskum, 1032 Fond du Lac Ave. The plan is to have regular office hours here, starting around the beginning of November.

In the meantime, our Campbellsport office, located at 101 N. Fond du Lac Ave. in Campbellsport, is open Mondays, from 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.; Tuesdays and Wednesdays, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Thursdays and Fridays, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at news@kstatesman.com or (262) 626-2626.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you!

ANNE TRAUTNER

Plant Now For A Beautiful Garden Now And In The Future

By Melinda Myers

Don't pack away that shovel and trowel. Fall is a great time to plant a few new additions in the landscape. Here are just a few ideas for adding immediate and long term beauty to your garden.

Add cool season annuals like pansies, snapdragons, ornamental kale and stocks to brighten the fall garden. Those in milder regions will enjoy them throughout the winter. Consider adding cold hardy pansies. They provide color in the fall garden, survive most winters, and are back blooming in the spring just as the snow melts.

Fall is also a good time to plant perennials, trees and shrubs. The soil is warm and the air cooler, so the plants are less stressed and establish more quickly. Select plants suited to the growing conditions and be sure to give them plenty of room to reach their mature size.

Plant trees so the root flare, the place where the roots curve away from the trunk, is even with the soil surface. Dig a hole, the same depth as the rootball, and two to five times wider. Roughen the sides of the hole and backfill with the existing soil. Water thoroughly and spread a two to three inch layer of mulch over the soil surface, keeping the mulch away from the tree trunk.

Follow a similar planting procedure for shrubs. Plant these so the crown, the place where the stems meet the roots, is even with the soil surface. And be sure to keep the mulch away from the stems.

Plant daffodils, tulips, hyacinths and other bulbs in fall for extra color next spring. Set the bulbs at a depth of two to three times their height deep. Then cover them with soil and sprinkle on a low nitrogen slow release fertilizer, like Milorganite (milorganite.com). This organic nitrogen fertilizer promotes rooting without stimulating fall growth subject to winter kill.

Start planting spring flowering bulbs after the nighttime temperatures hover between 40 and 50 degrees. Be patient - waiting until the soil cools reduces the risk of early sprouting that often occurs during a warm fall.

Those gardening in the far south and along the gulf coast can purchase pre-cooled bulbs to compensate for the warm winters. Or the chilling can be done at home by storing the bulbs in a 35 to 45 degree location for at least 14 weeks before planting.

Those tired of battling the animals may want to plant resistant bulbs such as daffodils, hyacinths, Fritillaria, alliums, Camassia, glory-of-the-snow, snow drops, squills, and grape hyacinths. You may find it is easier to avoid the problem than battle the animals with repellents and scare tactics. Plant a few short season vegetables in your garden for fresh-from-the garden flavor this fall. Simply count the days from planting to the average first fall frost to determine how many growing days are left in your area. Select vegetables that will mature and can be harvested in that amount of time. Leaf lettuce, spinach, mustard greens, radishes and carrots are fast growing, cool weather tolerant vegetables that make great additions to the fall garden and your dinner plate.

Get these vegetables off to a good start with a side dressing of low nitrogen fertilizer. Incorporate it into the soil prior to planting or sprinkle a narrow band along the row of plants. This organic nitrogen will provide needed nutrients without damaging the tender seedlings.

Extend the harvest season with the help of floating row covers. These fabrics allow air, light and water through while trapping the heat around the plants. No construction is needed; just loosely cover the plants with the fabric, secure the edges with pipes, boards or landscape staples and let the plants provide the support.

So be sure to get a jump on next spring's garden season with a bit of fall planting now.
