Village Police Department Asks For Full-Time Officer

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Police Department may get a full-time officer in 2016 in lieu of part-time police officers, if the village board approves the proposed 2016 village budget.

"We are recommending that we no longer have any part time officers, and that we hire one full-time officer," said Village Trustee Richard Knoebel, who chairs the village's Protection and Public Safety Committee.

The reconfiguration would have little impact on the budget, Knoebel said.

"We are paying a lot of overtime now because a lot of times the part-time guys can't work. This way, if we have full-time officers, we can tell them they are going to work. It is something we have been trying to get for years and years," Knoebel said.

In addition, the turnover rate will improve, which will save money on training new officers, Knoebel said.

"It is a costly thing to train them," he said.

Most people looking for police jobs are looking for full-time work, Police Chief Thomas Bishop said.

"People aren't going into the business just to be a part-time officer. We have a generation of people who aren't necessarily willing to work full time somewhere else and then part time at another job. They value their off time," Bishop said. "Finding someone who is willing to work part time like we had in the past, those people don't exist any more."

From an operational standpoint, the change will benefit the village because it will allow a supervisor to be on duty in the afternoon, which is something the department cannot currently do, Bishop said.

In addition, the Protection and Public Safety Committee recommended that next year's budget include a pay increase for the police chief, police lieutenant and fire chief.

"We are recommending an increase in pay for the chief and the lieutenant, due to the fact that the officers are pretty close to making more than those who are making the decisions, which isn't good," Knoebel said.

The 2016 public safety budget does not call for any capital spending, unlike this year's budget, Village Administrator Matt Heiser said.

The result is a total of 0.2 percent increase in spending in public safety budget over the 2015 budget.

Jessie Ramel and 91-year-old Jean Fitz ride on a four-wheeler at Ramel's family farm in the Town of Scott. Fitz is a resident at Harwood Place Retirement Community in Wauwatosa, where Ramel works as the fitness/wellness coordinator. Fitz and other Harwood residents toured the Ramel family farm.

— Residents of Harwood Place Retirement Community In Wauwatosa Visit Area Dairy Farm

By Anne Trautner

Ruth Werning set aside her walker and climbed onto the four-wheeler.

The 93-year-old had never ridden on an ATV before, and she relished the experience.

"Everything I do is fun," Werning said.

Werning was one of 20 residents from Harwood Place Retirement Community in Wauwatosa who visited Windy Hill Farm, a dairy farm in the Town of Scott, on Oct. 5.

Jessie Ramel, the fitness/wellness coordinator for Lutheran Home & Harwood Place in Wauwatosa, lives on the farm with her family. This was the third year that Ramel has brought Harwood Place residents to the 550-acre farm.

"This group of people is such amazing individuals," Ramel said. "A couple of them, they wanted to do farm work. And they would have done it, if I would have let them."

Not all of the Harwood residents, whose average age was about 89, rode on Ramel's four-wheeler. But they all toured the vegetable garden and berry patches at the farm. After eating a lunch made from farm-fresh foods, the group visited the Ramel family's dairy barn, milking parlor, calf shed, feed room and machine shed.

Some of the Harwood residents had never been to a dairy farm before.

"I'm a foreigner. I grew up in the big city, Boston. I grew up on the ocean. No cows there," said John Megan, a retired instructor of business and economics at the Milwaukee Area Technical College.

Jane Kebbekus had grown up on a small dairy farm in Racine County. However, farms are completely different now, she said. It is much more along the lines of a business now, she said.

Dairy Life

One of the highlights for the seniors was visiting the calf shed, where the gray-haired tourists saw calves as young as three days old.

"These baby calves can be anywhere from a day to two days old when they come over and they will stay here until they are two months old," Ramel told the visitors.

The shed holds up to 30 calves in individual pens to keep them healthy, Ramel explained to the group. The calves drink their mother's milk for three days, and then are changed over to milk replacement that the farmers prepare for them, she said.

During the winter, the Ramels put jackets on the calves to keep them warm.

"During the warm months, we keep the barn open for ventilation. Calves will experience more problems from too much heat than too much cold," Ramel said.

In addition to visiting the calves, the tourists looked at the adult cows in the dairy barn. There, the group of seniors gathered around Ramel's father, Mark Ramel, as he explained the life span of the Holstein cows.

"They go up to about 12 years old, but most are 5 years old. After that, they get foot problems and become lame. We don't put them in a home," Mark Ramel said.

This white egret has been seen on the Milwaukee River near Keller Street in Kewaskum. You can tell it is a male bird because of its black legs and gold beak. On this beautiful, sunny fall day, you could see the bird's reflection in the water. Check the river next time you are near to see if you can spot the bird.

A 42-year-old rural Kewaskum man was involved in a motor vehicle accident on Kettle Moraine Drive in the Town of Kewaskum at 11:59 a.m. on Oct. 9, when he lost control in a curve and hit a guardrail, immobilizing his truck. He and his passenger fled the scene on foot, but were located by law enforcement in the area. The driver was arrested for a fourth OWI offense and remains in custody at the Washington County Jail. He was issued citations for OWI-fourth, driving too fast for conditions, hit and run of property adjacent to a highway, failure to notify police of accident and operating a motor vehicle without insurance.

Just prior to the accident, the driver passed a witness at a high rate of speed. The witness then located the accident scene a short distance from the reckless pass.

Fire Reported In Farmington

A fire was reported in the 1200 block of Scenic Drive in the Town of Farmington on Oct. 11 at 3:17 p.m. A son of the homeowner was deep frying fish near the garage and then moved the fryer closer to the residence due to wind. This started the garage on fire, as well as the back of a red Pontiac Grand Am parked in the garage. The hose from the fryer to the 20-pound propane tank was disconnected from the fryer and was whipping around, spraying out flames onto the garage. The fire was quickly put out by the Boltonville Fire Department. Damage was estimated to be between $2,000 and $5,000.

DOJ Prescription Drug Take Back Coming Oct. 17

The Wisconsin Department of Justice will coordinate a Prescription Drug Take Back initiative on Saturday, Oct. 17, with municipalities and law enforcement statewide.

This effort will continue to bring focus to the issue of prescription opiate abuse highlighted by the Wisconsin Department of Justice's Dose of Reality campaign to prevent prescription painkiller abuse. The goal of the Take Back Day is to provide a safe, convenient and responsible means of disposal, while also educating the community about the potential for abuse of these medications.

"With the opiate epidemic devastating families and communities across our state, we must work together to remove unused prescription painkillers from circulation. They need to be collected and destroyed," Wisconsin Attorney General Brad Schimel said. "This program will also reduce the environmental hazards associated with the improper disposal of unused prescription drugs."

Find a Take Back location near you at <http://doseofrealitywi.gov/drug-takeback/find-a-take-back-location/> And please check out www.DoseofRealityWI.gov for more information on the importance of ridding your household of unused prescription medications.

Unused or expired medicine should never be flushed or poured down the drain. Water reclamation facilities are not designed to remove all of them and trace amounts of pharmaceuticals are showing up in rivers and lakes around the world.

Guidelines:

- All waste pharmaceuticals must be generated by a household — no businesses are allowed.

- Bring: Prescription (controlled and non-controlled) and over-the-counter medications, ointments, patches, non-aerosol sprays, creams, vials and pet medications.

- Do Not Bring: Illegal drugs, needles/sharps, inhalers, aerosol cans, bio-hazardous materials (anything containing a bodily fluid or blood), personal care products (shampoo, soaps, lotions, sunscreen), household hazardous waste (paint, pesticides, oil, gas), mercury thermometers.

- Participants may dispose of solid, non-liquid medication(s) by removing the medication from its container and disposing of it directly into a disposal box or into a clear sealable plastic bag. Plastic pill containers should not be collected. Blister packages are acceptable without the medications being removed.

- Liquids will be accepted during this initiative. However, the liquids, creams and sprays must be in their original packaging and evenly distributed within the boxes of collected solid prescription medications. Liquids without the original packaging will not be accepted.

- Illicit substances such as marijuana or methamphetamine are not a part of this initiative and should not be placed in collection containers.

On June 10, 1967 he was united in marriage to Bonnie Lynn at Trinity Lutheran Church, West Bend.

Dave graduated from Kewaskum High School in 1962, where he excelled in academics, basketball and baseball. After attending the University of Oshkosh, Dave began employment at the West Bend Company in 1967. During his 38 years at the West Bend Company, he worked in the Housewares Sales Division, Human Resources and later held the position of Manager of Employment and Salary Administration. He retired in July of 2000 where he enjoyed retirement, vacationing to various locations with his wife Bonnie, as well as spending time with his family at their cabin in Rhineland.

Dave had a love for people and conversation. His easy going and charismatic personality drew people to him. He was an optimist and took pride in a job well-done. He appreciated the simple things in life; a cup of coffee while reading the newspaper, country music, boat rides on the lake, or having an old fashioned on the deck while watching the sunset.

Dave was an avid fisherman, hunter, nature lover and an all-around outdoorsman. He was an eloquent writer and speaker. Dave enjoyed talking politics and worldly events. Dave was also a devoted member of Trinity Lutheran Church in West Bend.

His greatest joys came from spending time with four children and ten grandchildren as well as hunting, fishing and playing a competitive game of cards or scrabble. Dave taught his children many great life lessons, including to "always give 110%." He was a loyal and compassionate father and partner, a devoted provider, respected businessman, a man of great character, and often the life of the party.

Those Dave leaves behind to cherish his memorial include his loving wife of 48 years, Bonnie; four children, Greg (Tammy) Oppermann of Appleton and children, McKenzie, Alexa, Ava and A.J.; Brad (Kelly) Oppermann of West Bend and children Tom and Will; Kristin (Andrew) Ziegler of Appleton and children Audrey and Hailey; and Ross Oppermann of Green Bay and children Cameran and Caylee; a sister, Debra (Joe) Backhaus; a sister-in-law, Cheri (Otto) Ramthun, nieces, nephews, other relatives and many wonderful friends.

In addition to his parents, Dave was preceded in death by his father and mother-in-law Willard and Marge Lynn.

Funeral Services for Dave were held at noon on Saturday, October 10, 2015, at Trinity Lutheran Church in West Bend, with Rev. David Schoob officiating.

The Opperman family greeted relatives and friends at the church from 9:00 a.m. until the time of service.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to Trinity Lutheran Church or Kathy Hospice are appreciated.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum has been entrusted with Dave's arrangements. Additional information and online guestbook may be found at www.millermart-infh.com.

The family would like to extend their heartfelt appreciation to the Director of Kathy Hospice (Pat) and nursing staff as well as Froedtert nurses Roy, Josh, Carla and Kimberly for their wonderful care of Dave.

A decision the whole family will feel good about ...

Volunteer Center Hosts Community Mosaic Project Art Event

The Volunteer Center of Washington County will bring together people from all walks of life to participate in the Community Mosaic Project.

Starting this week, 300 six-inch square canvasses will be distributed for community members and artists to enhance and then return to combine for one extraordinary art mosaic representing the power of community.

"The goal of the Community Mosaic Project is to show the power of individuals coming together for the greater good," said Sue Millin, executive director of the Volunteer Center. "The canvases will be beautiful in their own right, but will come together to make an amazing impact ... just like volunteers."

The final piece will be assembled Dec. 2 and displayed at the Museum of Wisconsin Art Dec. 3 - 6. On Friday, Dec. 4, the Volunteer Center will host "An Art Affair" reception to unveil the mosaic. The evening will include a champagne toast, hors d'oeuvres, a live auction and a raffle featuring handmade, upcycled décor.

Completed canvases will be raffled randomly for $35 per square with proceeds benefiting Volunteer Center of Washington County programs. Participants also will have an opportunity to vote for their top six favorite canvases for inclusion in a commemorative set of coasters to be created just in time for the holidays.

Canvas pickup and dropoff locations include The Volunteer Center and the Museum of Wisconsin Art in downtown West Bend; the Schauer Arts Center in Hartford, and Cedar Valley Center near Kohlsville. For more details on locations, updates, photos of canvases as they come in or to purchase tickets to "An Art Affair" online, visit www.volunteernow.net or the Volunteer Center's Facebook page. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Before Wisconsin is covered with nature's crisp, snowy blanket and we are tucked in with our favorite coverlet, I want to share a warm, sunny story of summer.

In July of this year, my dad, John, and his wife, Barbara, drove to Kewaskum from Lawton, OK. That might sound to you like, "yeah, so?" But one thing I would like you to know is that my dad is 85 years old. He had not seen his grandchildren for 20 years and had never seen some of his great grandchildren.

I have three incredible kids — Brandon, Joshua and Sara (who lives here). Brandon lives in California with his wife Nikki and two children and Joshua lives in Ohio with his wife Jennifer and two little boys. Joshua and his family were here, as was Sara and her family. Brandon and his family were unable to make it. My sister from Minnesota was also here.

I had been planning a reunion for a very long time and my intention was to take Dad back to a time in his childhood when things were a little slower. He grew up in a small southern Iowa town, Leon, much like Kewaskum. Wisconsin's beauty is a lot like the place he and his family lived and farmed.

My husband and I live in a log home on a country road here so as he looked at the fields, lush trees, tall grasses and flowers; it made him reflect. He couldn't get over the abundance and variety of birds that flocked to our feeders.

Dad joked, "I don't know if I could stand waking up to this every morning or not!" What a joy it was for me and my family to see the delight in his eyes. He loved every sight and sound.

We had an old-fashioned picnic at the house, and as he was watching his grandchildren and great grandchildren in the pool, he whispered, "Just think, there's a little bit of me in each one of those critters down there!" What a profound thing. My sister and I didn't grow up with our father, so the statement meant the world to me; and to him.

We taped some stories; some of which were hard to imagine. My dad had two tours of duty in the Vietnam War, so like I said, some things were hard to hear. Other reminiscences were of his childhood and of his mom and dad.

We finished our picnic just in time for my Dad's back to the '30s surprise. "First of all," I told him, "You have to put on your skimmer." "Oh my goodness he said." "Now close your eyes." Bryan, Sara's husband, and I helped him out the door and down the sidewalk. "Ok, open your eyes!" He stood there dumbfounded. Not a word! There, on our gravel driveway was a 1929 model A!

We had asked a friend a month before if he would mind giving my Dad a ride in his beautiful car. His response was immediate, "I would be honored!" he said. My dad got into the car and his wife Barbara and I scooted into the back. Driving along the scenic backroads, my dad was silent for the first five minutes. He studied everything about the car.

"Dad, are you a little bit into the past?" I asked. "Just a little bit," he said. He wasn't the only one. "I felt like I was riding through a gentler, more kindly time." Returning to the house, we got out of the car and Dad lifted the hood. He smiled and asked all the questions that guys ask. "This was one of the most wonderful chapters of our lives." My dad left that following Wednesday, but July 11th, 2015, will always be in our hearts.

So as the trees turn to crimson and gold and the purple wild flowers poke through the skeleton of their summer cousins, I am blessed once again. Thank you to my dad and his wife for making this remarkable journey; our summer was more than warm and sunny and we will be grateful forever.

Not unlike the 'old' days, when the local newspaper printed who visited whom and what they had for supper and how long the visit would be; this incredible visit was a little slice of that; and how sweet it was! Thanks, Dad, I love you.

Dear Kewaskum football team and fans,

My name is Mark Heckendorf and I am the head football coach at Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School. I am also a Kewaskum resident and would like to express a huge thank you to Coach Piittmann, the team, and the fans of Kewaskum football.

I knew it was going to be a tough task playing against a solid Kewaskum team, however, it was much more than the football skills that impressed me. I was impressed with the class, character, and attitude of the players.

It is a credit to Coach Piittmann for developing more than football players, but rather focusing on developing young men with strong character. That's what makes this game of football so great, it teaches these kids so many life lessons and how they can positively impact the lives of others.

I hope that all of you enjoyed the Friday night football atmosphere at KML. It was estimated that we had close to 2,000 people in attendance. I know I speak on behalf of our team when I say we wish Kewaskum football all the best in the playoffs. We will be cheering you on and I hope to be in the stands in Madison watching you compete for a state title.

Keep on showing class and character and I'm very proud to say that I am from Kewaskum.

Coach Mark Heckendorf

Winter Clothing Drive For Kewaskum Area

Even here in Kewaskum, there are many families struggling to meet their basic needs.

Statistics say five percent of Kewaskum residents live in poverty. Some families are not as fortunate as others. By donating clothing or boots for winter weather, you are relieving the burden of poverty and bring the gift of happiness to people in our community.

Basic needs are a real struggle for some families. Warm winter clothing gives a child newfound freedom to play more, learn more and do more. Warm winter clothing gives an adult a new sense of worth, dignity and the courage to keep moving forward.

Health experts report that even a 2 degree drop in body temperature results in reduced heart rate, loss of coordination and confusion. Adults cannot work effectively and children find it difficult to learn. A warm winter coat is considered an extra by someone living in poverty. Average winter temperature last year in Kewaskum ranged from 37 to -4 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Silbernagel Group, along with the Kewaskum Community Food Pantry, is sponsoring a collection for winter jackets, coats, fleece blankets, throws, mittens, hats, scarves and sweaters in good condition, as well as new winter boots in all sizes for females or males, infant to adults.

The drive is being held through Jan. 15, 2016. Check your closets and drawers for spare winter clothing.

Items can be dropped off at either the Kewaskum Community Food Pantry or the Silbernagel Group office. The Food Pantry is open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:15 to 6 p.m. and is located at 1504 Reigle Drive. The Silbernagel Group office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and is located at 114 Main St. Clothing and new winter boots collected at the Silbernagel Group office will be taken to the Kewaskum Food Pantry for distribution to Kewaskum-area residents.

Students Visit Fire Departments And Learn About Fire Safety

By Anne Trautner

Second-graders from Kewaskum Elementary School climbed into the Kewaskum Fire Department's ladder truck last Wednesday and saw first-hand where the firefighters sit as they rush to emergencies.

They also learned what they themselves should do in case of a fire.

"You should always have the smoke detector on the ceiling or wall," second-grader Grace Loser said.

"Always find the exit," second-grader Parker Gruen said.

"You have to feel the door with the back of your hand because the palm of your hand can get burned," added Grace Last.

The lessons were things that Kewaskum Fire Department's 1st Lt. Jeff Buechel taught the children during their visit to the fire station.

The trip was part of Fire Prevention Week, which ran Oct. 4 through 10.

In addition to the 62 second-graders from Kewaskum Elementary, the Kewaskum Fire Department hosted other school trips throughout the week. There were 70 kindergartners from Kewaskum Elementary, 33 students from Holy Trinity and 35 students from St. Lucas who visited the fire department, as well as children from local day care centers who visited the station during Fire Prevention Week.

Buechel taught the children that every home should have a smoke detector and showed the students how to check to make sure the battery works.

It is important to have a fire escape plan, with two escapes, he said.

"Once you get outside the house, you do not want to go back inside. Once you are out, stay out," Buechel said.

Once outside, everyone should go to the same meeting place, Buechel said.

If a spark from something such as a campfire gets on someone's pants, the individual should stop moving, drop to the ground and roll until the fire is out.

"Put your hands on your face. It keeps the smoke away from our face and fire away from our hands," Buechel instructed.

During the second-graders' fire station visit, firefighter Josh Inhof demonstrated how he puts on his gear. He started by putting on his boots.

"We have to be able to get our gear on really fast so by having our pants already rolled around our boots. It's a lot quicker for us to get our pants and boots on, and we also have the suspenders because the pants are really heavy," Buechel said.

Inhof also put on his coat, helmet, mask and air tank. Then he showed how he is able to breathe in clean air through the tank.

"You can hear him breathing. It is not the same air we are breathing, it is the air in his tank. No matter how smoky it is, he's breathing clean air," Buechel explained to the students.

Buechel also explained to the students that fire helmets have wide rims to protect firefighters from hot water.

"As we spray water to put the fire out, that water gets really hot," Buechel said. "As water that we are spraying falls down from the ceiling, if we had a normal hardhat, it would roll right down to our necks, and it could burn us. That's why fire helmets have that wide rim, it catches that water and pushes it off our backs."

Diana Sears, a second-grade teacher at Kewaskum Elementary, said she thought the trip was beneficial for her students.

"I think they get a lot out of it. They go in kindergarten too, but they really like being able to come back in second grade. They learn new things from the last time they were here. It helps them build that relationship with the other community members and helps them get to know the firefighters," Sears said.

The overall proposed budget for 2016 has a total 1.8 percent increase from this year for all expenditures, including the proposed changes in the public safety budget.

In other village matters:

- At its Monday night meeting, the village board approved changes to an ordinance to prohibit dogs in parks, except in designated areas.

The new ordinance now reflects the policy that is posted on signs at Kiwanis Park. Kiwanis Park allows dogs in a training area that is located on the east side of the river, near the gravel lot.

- Heiser announced that he met with a member of the Economic Development of Washington County and an AmericInn representative a couple weeks ago.

"Apparently they are scouting the village for a potential location," Heiser said.

If AmericInn decides to pursue locating a hotel in Kewaskum, the next step would be conducting a feasibility study, Heiser said.

"There could be some other potential funding sources for that, but at some point the board may be receiving a request for a feasibility study," Heiser told village trustees Monday night. "We would probably contribute toward it. There might be other places that would have an interest in seeing that done as well."

- The village received a $20,000 insurance claim for the playground equipment that was destroyed in a storm on July 12 when a cottonwood tree fell on the equipment.

The Parks and Recreation Committee will discuss whether the money should be used to replace the playground equipment or to be set aside to be used for playground equipment at another village park.

Mark Ramel (left) describes what happens in a milking parlor to residents of Harwood Place Retirement Community in Wauwatosa. The Harwood residents visited Ramel's dairy farm in the Town of Scott on Oct. 5.

"What happens to them?" one of the residents asked as she clung nervously to her walker.

"We ship them to the stockyard, and you get hamburger," Mark Ramel said.

Someone gasped, and the gray-haired group looked sympathetically at the cows that stood in the barn, munching on hay.

Equipped To Farm

Besides learning the harsh fate of dairy cows, the seniors learned about the equipment a modern dairy farm uses.

Jessie's brother, Matthew Ramel, showed the visitors the equipment the farm uses to grow corn, alfalfa, soybeans, wheat, oats and green beans.

"This is the sprayer we use for spraying on herbicides or pesticides that need to go on the crops to keep the bugs off of them and keep the weeds down," Matthew Ramel said as the group walked past a large piece of equipment.

The visitors wanted to know how the Ramels drove their 40-year-old John Deere tractor through rows of corn without destroying the crops.

"The combine is designed to go through the corn and not bend or break the rows over. As long as you are driving straight you'll be just fine," Matthew Ramel said. "If you drive too fast and shove too much corn through there, it's going to smash it all together. You just have to let the machine do the work."

The tourists learned about the Ramels' silos, which use gravity to compact the feed so that all the oxygen will be removed and the feed can ferment to create haylage and corn silage. The Ramels also utilize three horizontal silos.

"Silos have been used forever, and they are a great idea. It's just that in the last 20 years, we got bigger tractors, they are heavier, so we can just drive over feed and compact it, and that will take the oxygen out. Then we just put plastic over it. This is what we call an ag bag," Matthew Ramel said.

In the milk house, Mark Ramel showed the Harwood residents how well water runs in a pipe alongside the milk so that it will cool the milk without making the compressor work as hard. The process also warms the water and transfers it to a water heater.

"The whole idea of this is it helps with conserving energy," Mark Ramel said.

The milking house also contains a washing machine and dryer to wash the cloth towels that are used to clean the cows.

"A washing machine and dryer - We recognize those," Kebbekus said.

Farm Lessons

The visit to the farm tied in with the farm-to-table program that Harwood

Place practices.

"Farm-to-table is a growing national trend for senior care facilities," said Christel Henke, a spokesperson for Lutheran Home & Harwood Place.

Lutheran Home & Harwood Place work with the Growing Power farm in Jackson to bring seasonal fruits and vegetables into the dining program's menu, Henke said.

Last week at the Ramel farm, the seniors ate lunch that was prepared with farm-fresh food.

"It's like Thanksgiving here for lunch. We are well fed," said Pauline Bruss, who has visited the farm the last three years.

Jane Deisinger, another Harwood resident, said last week's trip was educational.

"We learned that it takes a lot to operate a farm," Deisinger said. "We thought it was absolutely wonderful."

Joyce Hauch, of West Bend, pets a calf at the Windy Hill Farm in the Town of Scott. Hauch joined residents of Harwood Place Retirement Community when they visited the farm on Oct. 5. The visitors ate lunch at the farm, as well as toured the facilities.

Over Hill And Dale, Krier And Reck Don't Fail

By Judy Harlow

CAMPBELLSPORT — Columbus Parc was buzzing with runners on October 8th for the annual Cougar Invitational, with the Winneconne boys and the girls taking home team titles after the competitions held in near perfect conditions following a brief rain shower.

The Winneconne boys came in with 47 points, 16 ahead of runner-up Living Word of Jackson, which had 63. Kewaskum had just enough runners to qualify as a team and finished seventh in the 10-team competition. They Indians had 169 points.

On the girls' side, unfortunately junior Hailey Herriges, Kewaskum's No. 2 runner, was hampered by an ailing Achilles tendon and finally had to leave the race because of the injury. As a result, KHS had more points than normal, 166, which was good for eighth place in the 11-team field. Winneconne came in with 59 points way ahead of Mayville, which had 102.

The Indians' individual highlights were provided by senior Emily Krier and

Krier went out hard and led the race for part of the first lap round the park, then she slipped back a few places and continued a strong steady pace to take third overall in the 5,000-meter race with a time of 21 minutes, 5.45 seconds (21:05.45).

"Miss Krier is someone who is always pushing herself," KHS coach Kris Evans said about his No. 1 runner, who has been consistent all season. While Krier was not overly excited about her time, Evans thought she did well especially considering, "It's a tough course in Campbellsport."

About Herriges, Evans said, "I pulled her when I saw her at the two-mile mark" and at this point he is not certain if she will be ready for the East Central Conference meet this Saturday.

Reck continues to show a lot of poise for a second-year runner. He too had a plan for the race which he carried out for a seventh place with a time of 18:13.4, thanks to a nice sprint to the finish line.

"Usually at the end, like with a half mile to go, I start pushing harder and harder," Reck said, indicating he likes the course at the park, except for one thing. "The only thing I didn't like is the hill," he said.

Reck had run at Columbus Parc twice last season, and his time in this appearance was one minute and 12 seconds faster than he had a year ago.

Concerning his development this season, Reck said, "Yes, I'm satisfied with the season because I've been improving a lot." Looking ahead, he is also optimistic about having a good effort in the EC Conference meet on Saturday, October 17 at Plymouth High School, starting at 10 a.m. with the girls' race and followed by the boys' race at 10:40.

His goals for the meet are simple - "For sure break 18 minutes and hopefully get a medal."

Kyle Toth did well in the meet, finishing 33rd with a time of 20:35.80. Then came Blake Miller and Jacob Loehr in 37th and 43rd, respectively, with time of 20:47.00 and 21:11.78. Anthony Leister was the final counter. He was 53rd, crossing the finish line in 22:17.86.

Ellie Debelak and Haley Plachinski ran together once again, placing 23rd and 24th in 22:47.42 and 22:51. Then came Melissa Schneider in 46th (25:14.65) and Sydney Rosenthal in 68th (29:24.38).

Indians Thump KML To Clinch Tie For EC Title

By Judy Harlow

Host Kettle Moraine Lutheran had no answer for Kewaskum's powerful ground game in last Friday night's East Central football game held in Jackson.

Matter of fact, the Chargers also had no answer for the Indians' defense, which recorded its first shutout of the year in the lopsided 41-0 victory, earning Kewaskum at least a share of the first-ever East Central football title.

There wasn't much of a celebration afterward, according to KHS coach Jason Piittmann, who said there was "reserved excitement. They know they want the title outright, so they have to beat Plymouth, which is one game back."

The Panthers will come to Kewaskum this Friday night for another showdown between the two grid powers.

Back to the game at Jackson, it was another Brandon Thull show. Thull, the Indians' 180-pound all-state candidate, carried the ball just 11 times, but nearly every time he did it turned to gold. Thull had touchdown runs of 2, 67, 84 and 59 yards in just three quarters of action.

For the night, Thull had 275 yards rushing, bringing his season total to 1,487 yards. He also has 26 touchdowns (four fewer than he had last season), a mark he will certainly surpass.

The first TD might have been his toughest, since KML decided to put extra emphasis on stopping the run.

"They put eight in the box," causing a little bit of a slow start, according to Piittmann, who said quick adjustments were made, and "Michael (Prochnow) was efficient (with the pass) and that opened things up."

Kewaskum scored on its first drive with Thull getting the final two tough yards to get into the end zone.

KML also had a little surprise on offense, going with an unbalanced line with an additional tackle on the strong side. The Chargers tried running to the left and occasionally going weak-side or passing to the weak-side, but neither was effective against the more experience and larger Indians.

"KML tried to slow the game down a little," Piittmann said, indicating the Chargers did chew up a lot of the clock in the second quarter but didn't get a lot of yardage.

"We put Jason Hanson on the weakside to rush the passer," Piittmann said. "He's pretty quick. That helps a lot." And he had plenty of help from the usual cast of defensive characters, including Josh Baker, Steven Nurkala and Ben Watzig, who were involved in eight, seven and eight tackles, respectively.

Defensive back Brady Hanson was held out of action because of a neck injury he sustained vs. Berlin. "We held him out just to be safe," Piittmann said, reporting soph Tony Steger took his place and was credited with seven gang tackles.

Piittmann was excited to see the defense get the shutout. "Oh yeah, that's one of the first we mentioned right away," he said. Considering the low yardage KML managed (under 100 yards), "That was impressive."

In addition to Thull's TDs, Kewaskum's other two scores were an 11-yard pass from Michael Prochnow to end Charlie Witek and a nine-yard run by junior Alex Vogt, a score which came with three minutes remaining in the contest.

Many other reserves got playing time, and, "They did a good job, too," Piittmann said.

Midway in the third quarter, after Thull ripped off a 59-yard run, the Indians were up 35-0 and the running clock started.

While he might not make ESPN this week, Piittmann said Thull's running was impressive. "He took the ball to the edge and just ran away from people," the coach said, reporting on one of the scored, Thull ran right over the KML defender.

Prochnow had another very successful outthitting, hitting seven of 10 passes for 115 yards and a 102.1 quarterback rating. His favorite targets were Witek and Nurkala, who each hauled in three passes, Witek's going for 63 yards and Nurkala's for 40. He was intercepted once, with Connor Johnson, the Charger's quarterback/defensive halfback picking off a pass. Many of the KML players went both ways since their squad is small with 10 seniors and only six juniors.

Moving on to the defending champion Plymouth, Piittmann said the Panthers have gained 1,800 yards rushing, with 6-1, 180-pound Samuel Stehling responsible for 970 yards, and QB Gavin Falk gaining 440.

"They're good," Piittmann said, reporting the Panthers had to replace quite a few linemen this year and had trouble against Winneconne, which is very physical. "I hope we can be physical with them," he said.

Not only does Kewaskum (6-0 and 8-0) want to win the title outright, they want to finish the regular season with a 9-0 mark. "Winning it outright will play out better in getting a better seed," Piittmann said, indicating Saturday morning (October 17) he will go to an assigned seeding meeting with seven other coaches to determine the brackets for the D-3 games. Kewaskum should get two home games, maybe three if they win on Friday night.

Ties Indicate Better Play By KHS Soccer Team

By Judy Harlow

Just as the season is winding down, the Kewaskum High soccer team is coming together. The past week, the Indians played three games, battling to draws against East Central opponents Waupun and Ripon while losing a decision to Kiel, which is one of the better teams in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Waupun had shut out the Indians 3-0 in their first meeting, which follows a pattern from the last 10 years according to coach John Kenworthy.

This time, it was different as the Indians played toe-to-toe for a 1-1 draw with the Warriors except for the first minutes. "We gave up a goal on the first shot," Kenworthy said, but instead of folding, the Indians, led by senior Noel Bindrich, took it as a challenge to fight back.

"This was by far his best game of the year," Kenworthy said about Bindrich, who eventually got credit for an assist when he "made a beautiful cross to Joey (Sanborn) who headed it into the goal."

"This was a huge step up for us," the coach went on, reporting Sanborn had four shots, including three in the first half, while Nate

Heniadis as, playing the midfield, "was extremely aggressive all the way though," and defender Devin Buck, who missed some games earlier due to a concussion, "came on very strong."

Kenworthy said Michael Anderson and Alek Gerhartz had been passing the ball back and forth the entire game and in the closing minutes were making a charge when the officials saw a Warrior violation and blew the whistle just before the ball went in the net.

"It was another moral victory," Kenworthy said, noting he would still like a few of the other kind.

Against Ripon, which had beaten the Indians twice this season, each time by one goal, the final score was also 1-1 with the visiting Tigers the first to get on the board.

In the 84th minute, it was Gerhartz that scored the tying goal. "He's been on a hot streak," Kenworthy said, referring to Gerhartz's efforts against Kiel and Ripon.

"I felt our offense played strong all the way through," the coach went on, indicating freshmen Hunter Schmitt and Hunter Kuehl "had solid minutes," while Christian Bocher, a first-year soccer player, also performed well.

The Indians were outmanned in their game against Kiel, which features high-scoring Zach Zorn, one of the leading scorers in the state with 31 goals. The final score was 8-3 in the Raiders' favor.

"We held him in the first half, but he scored two goals in the second," Kenworthy said, indicating, "We knew we were in for a tough match up there."

Gerhartz had one of Kewaskum's goals, with the assist provided by Sanborn, who had a pair of goals. The first one was unassisted, and the second came off a penalty kick which Sanborn missed but wisely followed up. He put in the rebound off the keeper.

Kenworthy said Gerhartz plays in the mid position but comes up to help offensively and has been "strong all the way around."

With these games, KHS is 0-10-2 in EC play and 2-16-4 overall.

After a game at Berlin on October 13, Kewaskum closes out the regular season with a home game against the powerful Kettle Moraine Lutheran.

Tournament action begins on October 20. Kewaskum is one of nine schools in the D-3 regional that feeds into the Whitnall Sectional.

Good Finish Should Propel Tennis Duo Toward More Success

By Judy Harlow

They'll be back.

Kassidy Lange and Hanna Preder will not be going to the WIAA D-2 State Girls Tennis meet this year, but because they are both juniors, they still have a year to improve and move up to Nos. 1 or 2 doubles.

Playing at the Pleasant Valley Tennis Courts on October 7 in the Brown Deer Sectional, Lange and Preder went 1-1 to finish third at No. 3 doubles. (No. 3 doubles teams do not have a chance to be selected for the doubles field.)

In the first round, they lost to Brenae Schubin and Lauren Schuh of Appleton Xavier 2-6, 1-6, and at that point were pretty disappointed, according to coach Peter Garcia, who refused to let them give up in the match for third place against Savannah Duciaume and Emma Henzi of Fox Valley Lutheran.

"After the opening round loss to Xavier the ladies were understandably upset and disappointed as their dream to go to state had vanished. Sometimes the better team doesn't play to their potential, sometimes it means too much and they just tighten up," Garcia said, noting he noticed they weren't getting over the first match and feared it would affect them in the second.

"Before sending them out for the third place match I told them they were going to remember this day the rest of their life. I said, 'Do you want to remember it as a day when you were angry and upset or do you want to remember it as a fun day? A day when you went out and played as hard as you could and went out on your own terms.'" Garcia told them to "Go out there, have fun and just whack 'em."

The KHS girls didn't start well, falling behind 3-1, according to Garcia, who said he thought his pep talk might have fallen on deaf ears, until all of a sudden, "They started to play to win and not just playing not to lose."

Lange and Preder fought back and won the first set 7-5 and continued playing hard in the second until they were up 5-4 in the second set with a 40-love advantage and three match play points in front of them.

Three times they lost match points with missed put-aways, but on the fourth the ball floated easily to Lang and "Whack" and they got third place.

Lange and Preder finished the year at 9-1 in the EC conference and 15-4 overall.

 With powerhouses like Kohler and Roncalli at the Brown Deer sub-sectional held at Pleasant Valley on October 5, Garcia knew his girls were facing an uphill climb to advance from the meet.

Kohler advanced six of its seven entries, while Roncalli, the East Central champion, advanced four. Kohler led the field with 22 points, while Roncalli was second at 16 and Sheboygan Falls and University School of Milwaukee next with 14. Kewaskum and Kiel tied for fifth place with four points each.

Kewaskum had Lange and Preder move on, while Nos. 2 and 3 singles players, Hunter Garcia and Maddy Lehmann, won their "pigtail" matches to make the eight-person brackets but lost in the second matches to seeded players.

The Lange/Preder duo coasted in their qualifying win, needing just two sets to erase Kiel's Sierra Krueger and Trisha Siehs 6-3, 6-2.

Garcia started with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Kate Spindler of Kiel and then fell to the top seed at No. 2, Sheboygan Falls' Ellie Roe (17-0), 0-6, 2-6. Garcia posted a record of 4-6 in EC play and 9-13 overall.

Lehmann, who did well this fall considering this was her first year in the sport, shut out Kaitlin Kirsch of Brown Deer, 6-0, 6-0, and then drew top-seeded Maya Ledvina of Roncalli, losing 0-6, 1-6. She was 5-4 in EC action and 6-6 overall.

At No. 1 singles, there was a slew of good players, among them Mia Bartel of Sheboygan Falls, who eliminated Jeray Riffel, 6-0, 6-2. Riffel finished the year at 5-3 in EC play and 8-8 overall.

Senior Julie Vollmer lost in her opener to Grace Madigan of Kohler, 0-6, 0-6. She ended up 3-5 in conference action, 3-7 overall.

KHS's top two doubles teams didn't get the outcomes they wanted. At No. 2, Morgan Wenzlaff and Sammie Wiskirchen won the first set over Megan Hand and Carissa DeKanich 7-5, then lost 4-6 and 4-6 in the next two sets. They finished the season at 14-7, including a conference mark of 7-3.

Also losing to a pair from Sheboygan Falls (Rachel Lee and Kloe Kuehne) were Julia Cotter and Laura Weishan at No. 1 doubles. They fell in three sets, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6 and finished the season with a 7-3 in the EC and 10-8 overall.

"It was a little disappointing losing in three sets at No. 1 and 2 doubles, especially since they had both beaten their Sheboygan Falls opponents twice this year," Garcia said.

Chargers Take Command Early

By Judy Harlow

In its current rebuilding stage, the Kewaskum High girls volleyball team was no match for perennial power Kettle Moraine Lutheran on October 8 in an East Central match played in Jackson.

The hosts started fast and never looked back, winning the match in three games, 25-12, 25-11 and 25-13.

"We came out flat against a very aggressive, dynamic KML team," second-year KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "We haven't played anyone with their pace this season."

The statistics from the game show how difficult it was playing the Chargers. Krystina Lepp was the leader in kills with just four in the three games. Lepp also was the Indians' leading blocker with just one.

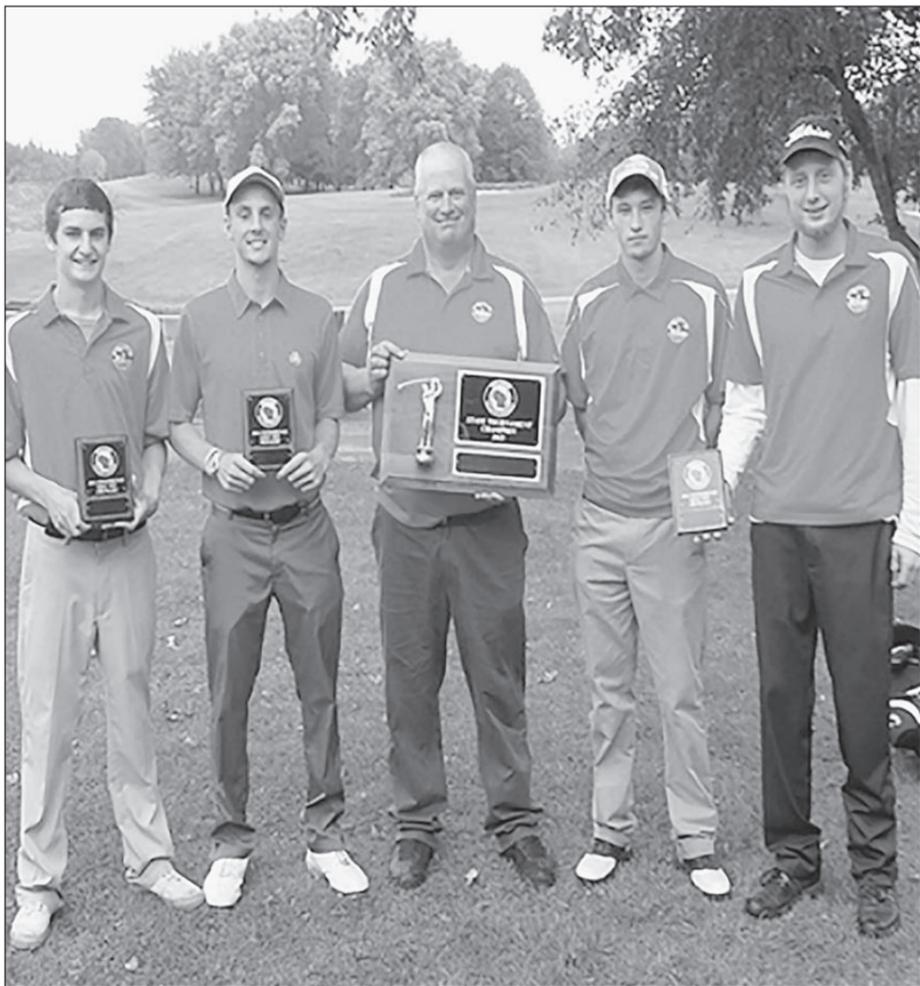

In assists, it was the steady senior Haley Kleinhans on top with seven, while Sarah Butschlick and Hannah Coman chipped in with three and two, respectively.

Top diggers for the night were Ellie Landreville with six and Kleinhans and Brittany Williams with five apiece.

"We have to up our movement on our side in matches like this. We reacted too much and weren't the aggressor enough," Leitzke said.

The Indians, currently 1-5 against EC teams, have just one more match on the schedule, at home vs. Plymouth tonight (Thursday), and then it's on to the conference tournament at Berlin on Saturday, October 17, starting at 10 a.m.

Back Nine Struggles Keep Wilde From Earning Trip To State

By Judy Harlow

Try as she might, Kewaskum's Leah Wilde fell short in her bid to advance to the WIAA D-2 State Golf Tournament.

Playing in a very strong Fox Valley Lutheran field at the Fox Valley Golf Course in Kaukauna, Wilde struggled, especially on the final few holes and had to settle for a 43-49-92 to tie with two others for 16th place.

It took a score of six-over-par 78 to move on to the state tournament. The top three finishers in the meet, Stanley Wang of St. Thomas Moore in Milwaukee, Kayla Thielen of Marinette and Lori Meyer of Freedom, fired rounds of 74, 78 and 78, respectively. Wang captured the medal with nine-hole rounds of 38 and 36.

Teams advancing to state are Fox Valley Lutheran and The Prairie School, with scores of 348 and 351.

"Leah started on hole one and had a very nice front nine aside from the seven she had on that side. The early stages of the back nine were fine, but she had difficulty at the end of her round, especially on No. 18," KHS coach Amy Uhlig said, reporting Wilde's second shot on No. 9 was pulled into a hazard and she later hit a tree branch that caused her ball to go in a creek, and she eventually ended up with a nine on the hole.

"The course was flat, but it could get tight, and there were definitely some tricky holes where you had to play irons off the tee," Uhlig went on.

And perhaps Wilde was pressing a bit in an effort to qualify for state. "She knew her round had to be flawless in order to move on as the competition was just so solid in our sectional. We talked about how the round had to be in the low 80's or better to give ourselves a shot, so I'm sure she was pressing a bit. I know that I would've been if I was in her shoes," Uhlig said.

About Wilde's career at KHS, Uhlig said, "She's a competitor, and that is what propelled her into an excellent career at Kewaskum High School. She always wants to be better and do better, and she's a good leader for the young kids because her passion for the sport shines through. I cannot thank her enough for her commitment to the girls' golf program at Kewaskum and the fact that she never got discouraged even when we struggled with numbers the past two or three seasons."

Uhlig concluded by saying, "She's represented our school and team with a lot of class over the past four years, and we wish her the best of luck in her future schooling and golf career wherever it may be."

UW-WC Golf Team Takes State Title

The UW - Washington County Wildcat golf team finished off its near-perfect season, winning the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference State Tournament held at Mascoutin CC in Berlin on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 4 and 5.

"Starting the season with a second place finish motivated the team to play harder and more intense. The team got on a roll and won the rest of our team invites and used that momentum to bring home the state title," said Golf Coach John Minz.

Tim Pridemore led the team with an impressive 149 total. Mike Olson and Adam Butler finished tied for third with a 175. Tim Butler finished just outside the top ten giving the Wildcats a 10-stroke victory over second place UW Waukesha. The Cat's Tim Pridemore (medalist), Mike Olson, and Adam Butler earned First Team All-Conference honors. John Minz was named WCC Coach of The Year.

Kewaskum Youth Soccer Results From October 10th

The U7 Phoenix played a great game last Saturday against the Hartford Ninjas winning 7-1. Colton Rabe scored a hat trick, Isabella Lang snuck two in the goal and Elijah Mays and Janya Dieringer each scored a goal. This week was a tougher game against the Hartford Thunder losing 2-5. Oliver Grover scored a goal with Janya Dieringer on the assist and Annika Kreuser scored a big goal on her birthday.

U9 Flash won 5-0 against the Slinger Lions Saturday. There was some great team playing. Casey Schmidt scored two goals. Brooklyn Grisolono, Nathan Vlotho, and Maddy Marquardt also scored for the team. Eden Korth demonstrated some good defensive playing.

U10 Spartans had a fantastic game this week beating the Richfield Rattlers 10-3. Timmy Hafemann scored a hat trick. Dawson Stahl, Adam Deppert and Meghan Clausing each scored two goals. Wyatt Tye also scored. The team played as one unit -passing, calling and setting up goals for one another resulting in the win.

U10 girl Warriors started out slow this week but got real aggressive in the third quarter scoring four goals. Warriors beat Slinger Storm 8-3. Goals were scored by Emma Schultz, Dakota Gatzke, Abby Gerhartz, Brooke Gruen with three goals and Jadin Czuppa with two.

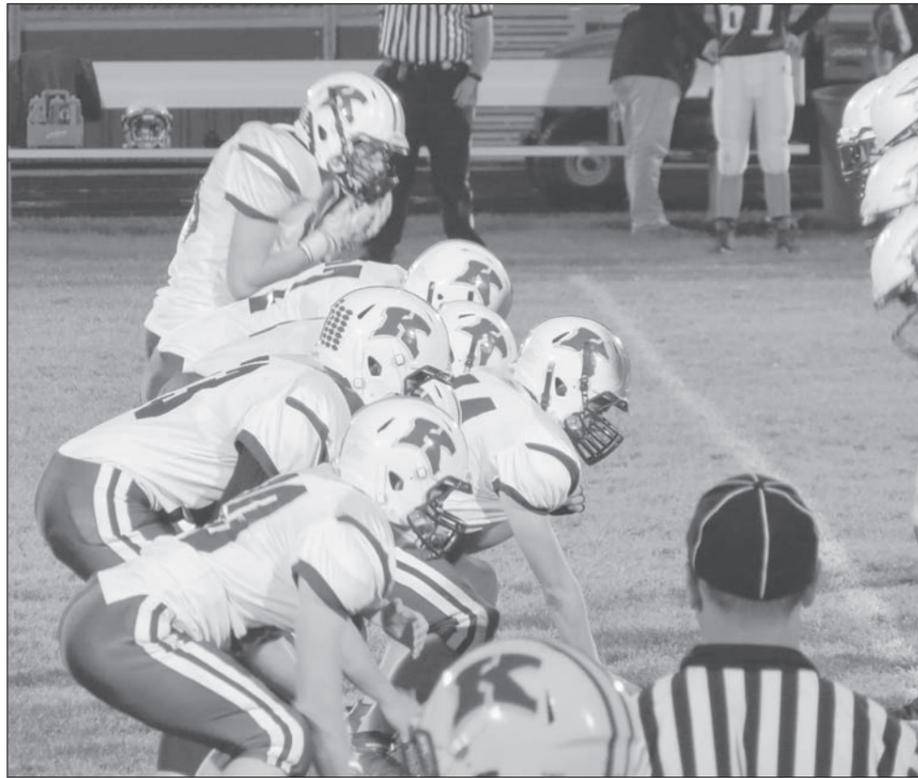

U12 Fury played a difficult game last week against the Jackson Badgers losing 1-4. Carter Curtin played phenomenal at the goalie position and Kaidan Dieringer came away with the only goal dribbling around his opponents. This week they lost to the Slinger Wildcats again 1-4. Marie Buddenhagen scored the only goal with an assist by Callum Fischer. Even though they lost, they are really starting to come together as a team. They are looking better every week.

The Kewaskum Youth Soccer Organization's U-14 Knights took on West Bend Y Dynamos and won with a score of 7-1.

Goals were scored by Gannon Kreuser, Isaiah Cochran, Andrew Carlton and Trevor Geldnich. Both the defense and midfielders did an excellent job with intense aggression and ball skills.

Eighth Graders Lose Tight Game

The eighth-grade Gridiron Indians lost a heartbreaker on Saturday to Oconomowoc 12-6, with the winning touchdown being scored with under 20 seconds to play. The loss dropped the Indians record to 3-2 on the season.

Oconomowoc received the opening kickoff from the Indians and immediately got their offense going putting together a nice drive that ended with a 15-yard rushing touchdown. The two-point kick was blocked, making the score 6-0 in the first quarter. The Indians were forced to punt on their first possession.

On Oconomowoc's next possession on third down, they attempted a pass that linebacker Jay Horning stepped in front of and intercepted and returned it 25 yards for a touchdown.

The two-point kick was blocked so the score was all tied up at 6-6. The Indians threatened one more time in the first half with the big play coming on a screen pass from quarterback Ty Cook to running back Reagan Dricken, but the drive stalled when Oconomowoc recovered an Indians fumble. The score at halftime remained 6-6.

The second half was a defensive struggle with both teams forcing numerous punts from the other team. The Indians had the advantage when it came to field position and finally got a drive going late in the fourth quarter but stalled inside the Oconomowoc 15-yard line when they were stopped on a fourth down play with around two minutes to play.

Oconomowoc put together a couple of nice plays on their next drive and also received a 15-yard penalty for a late hit out of bounds. A long pass play took the ball inside the 15-yard line and on the next play they were able to score on a rushing touchdown with less than 20 seconds to play to give them the 12-6 victory.

The offense for the Indians was led by the passing game with Cook hitting five different receivers (Horning, Dricken, Eli Bartelt, Toree Ralph & Peyton Donath). The defense was highlighted by interceptions from Horning and Jed Ermer, along with a nice game from Bartelt and Dricken, who were in on many tackles from their linebacker spots.

The Gridiron Indians will travel to Oshkosh for their next game on Saturday, Oct. 17.

A Number Of Helpful Resources Are Available To Help Hunters Make Sure They Are Ready To Use Electronic Registration

In the first year when Wisconsin is using electronic registration as the sole method for hunters to register a deer they have harvested, state wildlife officials have provided hunters with a number of convenient options to consider.

Hunters can register their deer online at gamereg.wi.gov, by phone at 1-844-426-3734 (1-844-GAME-REG), or electronically at a participating in-person registration stations. A link to the electronic registration system will also be available through the Pocket Ranger app for mobile devices.

As of September 27, 17,387 deer (7,236 bucks and 10,151 does) have been registered using this new system. Registration totals will be updated weekly — for more information, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keywords "weekly totals."

"The feedback we've been getting from hunters so far has been positive," said Department of Natural Resources Secretary Cathy Stepp. "They like the convenience. The ability to register a deer online in a matter of minutes without leaving deer camp has made the process easier than ever."

While many hunters have taken advantage of the convenience of registering deer in the field, there are currently more than 200 businesses listed on the DNR website as registration stations this fall. At these locations hunters can use the online tool or a phone to register a deer. To find a nearby station, hunters should search keywords "registration stations."

It is important to remember that the harvested deer does not need to be physically with the hunter at the time of registration — all that is required is hunter and harvest information.

The registration system will prompt hunters to answer a series of questions and generate a 10-digit confirmation number, which must be written on the carcass tag attached to the harvested animal. Hunters are reminded to write the 10-digit number on their tag - feedback from the field has found that ballpoint pens are the best option for this task. When this registration number is written on the tag, the animal is considered legally registered.

All deer must be registered by 5 p.m. the day after the deer is recovered, and hunters must retain the tag with confirmation number as proof of registration until the deer has been consumed.

For more information regarding electronic registration, search keywords "electronic registration."

Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources staff answered a number of questions about electronic registration and 2015 deer season regulations during an online chat September 3. To review this chat and learn more, search keyword "chat."

Hunters are also encouraged to check out the frequently asked questions page for more information regarding several rule changes for 2015. The FAQ feature provides brief responses to a wide variety of deer hunting questions, ranging from deer management unit boundaries to antlerless permits. To view the FAQ page and more information regarding archery and crossbow deer hunting, search keyword "deer."

To receive email updates regarding deer hunting in Wisconsin, visit dnr.wi.gov and click on the email icon near the bottom of the page titled "subscribe for updates for DNR topics," then follow the prompts and select the "white-tailed deer" distribution list.
