Kewaskum Christmas Parade This Sunday

The Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce's annual Christmas Parade strolls down our beautifully decorated Main Street this Sunday, Dec. 6, at 5 p.m. The theme for this year's parade will be "Kettle Moraine Country Christmas."

Prior to the parade will be a "Christmas Cookie Hunt." This family orientated, chamber sponsored event will be held from 1 p.m.-4 p.m. and participants include 20 local businesses located throughout downtown Kewaskum.

Lana Kuehl and family will be honored this year as parade marshalls for their many years of service bringing news to our community. The Kuehl and Harbeck families have been involved with our local paper since 1916 with ownership passing down from one generation to the next.

Earlier this year, the paper was sold but you can still find Lana and family actively involved around town. It is also important to note that Lana was one of the original founding members of the Parade 26 years ago!

Kettle Moraine

Carriages will carry our Parade Marshalls throughout the parade route. Regal Ware will carry Santa on their float at the end of the parade. The Kewaskum Food Pantry will once again collect food along the parade route.

Attendees can expect temperatures in the mid-30s with little chance of snow. They can also expect the return of such favorites as the Wacky Wheeler, the Kewaskum High School band, Lomira High School band, Downtown Harrison and the River City Christmas Brass Band. For those who remember the Fireman's Picnic Parade you can also expect a surprise old-time favorite!

Those wishing to still enter a float or walking group should contact Mike Geidel at (262) 626-1778 or email mikegeidel@kewaskumpig.com.

Parade participants are to line up in front of Kewaskum High School at 4 p.m. and check in with a parade official. Walking groups will meet inside KHS, they should park in the rear of the high school.

The parade route will proceed from the high school south down Parkview Drive, to Main Street and west on Main Street until Fond du Lac Avenue, where it will end at the Kewaskum Municipal Building Annex. Floats can park in the alley between Engelhardt Distributing and the Annex Building.

The Kewaskum Women's Club once again invites anyone wanting to warm up to the Annex Building for homemade cookies, hot chocolate and coffee following the parade.

The float competition will be held as usual, with monetary prizes going to the top three floats as scored by the judges. Winners of the float competitions will also be announced in the Kewaskum Statesman the following week.

This year's planning committee is led by Mike Geidel of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly with assistance by Gino Giudice of Bonne Bell Motel and Kevin Stautz of Hollywood Homes LLC.

The annual parade is organized by the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce who fund it through sponsorships, membership and events.

Giving Thanks For Boys And Girls

– First Weber Group of West Bend Provides Thanksgiving Meals For Boys And Girls Clubs

By Anne Trautner

"The food is really good. I mean, the kids aren't complaining and they are very picky," said Amy Anderson as she enjoyed a Thanksgiving meal with her two daughters, Elly and Avah, at the Boys and Girls Club in West Bend.

As if on cue, Avah, who attends Kewaskum Elementary School, asked if she could have another roll.

The Andersons were just one of the many families who attended the Boys and Girls Club Thanksgiving gathering last Tuesday.

In fact, the First Weber Group real estate agency in West Bend cooked enough food to serve 350 people.

Families from the Boys and Girls clubs in Kewaskum, Jackson and Hartford were all shuttled to the West Bend site for the meal.

It was all part of "Project Gratitude," run by volunteers from First Weber.

One day earlier, on Monday, Nov. 23, the First Weber volunteers packed 300 boxes of food to be delivered to Boys & Girls families in Kewaskum, Jackson, Hartford and West Bend as part of the project.

Pheasants To Fly Through Airwaves

– Local Hunting Club To Be Featured On Outdoor Wisconsin TV Show

By Anne Trautner

Last Tuesday, pheasants at Wild Wings Sportsman's Club in Campbellsport were being shot by hunters as well as the TV crew from Outdoor Wisconsin.

The camera crew took careful aim with their video cameras as Dan Small, host/producer of WMVS-

TV's Outdoor Wisconsin, and Dale Klemstein of Menomonee Falls hunted pheasants.

"It's active hunting. Sometimes with deer hunting you just sit and don't see any deer. You get a lot of action here, that's fun. We had a good time," Klemstein said.

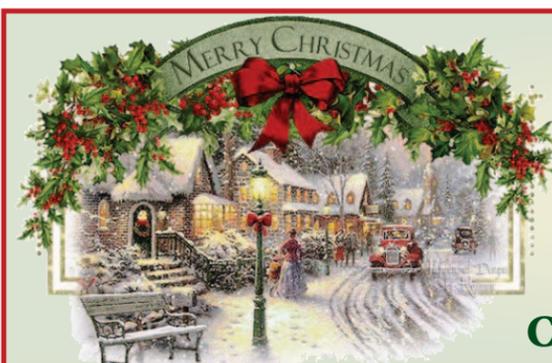

The hunt will air sometime next year on the PBS show. The exact date has not yet been scheduled.

It won't be the first time the area hunt club has been on the show.

In fact, the very first pheasant hunt that was featured on Outdoor Wisconsin in 1984 was at Wild Wings.

Washington County Sheriff's Report

On Nov. 24 at 1:27 p.m., Washington County sheriff's deputies were looking for a 39-year-old City of Hartford man that was wanted on 12 felony charges (thefts and bail jumping) as well as four other misdemeanor charges (OWI and operate after revocation related offenses) from the sheriff's department. He also was wanted by several other agencies on other outstanding warrants.

A deputy located a vehicle somewhat matching the description of the suspect and began following it on Interstate 41 northbound from Highway 167. The deputy noted it was operated by a male driver and he was the only occupant. When the vehicle continued north on U.S. 45, the deputy pulled up next to the vehicle and the driver matched the booking photo the Sheriff's Office had on file for the wanted person. Based upon that observation, the deputy attempted a traffic stop on U.S. 45 at Highway 145. The driver continued northbound and did not yield to the emergency lights and siren. The driver failed to yield for 9.3 miles, but never exceeded the speed limit.

The Sheriff's Office requested mutual aid from West Bend Police, and officers were able to set up tire deflation devices on U.S. 45 near 18th Avenue. The vehicle stopped on U.S. 45 under Decorah Road after running over the spikes, which safely deflated three of the four tires.

The driver exited the vehicle and was taken into custody without incident. As a result of this incident, the driver was also issued citations for operating after revocation, failure to install an ignition interlock device on the vehicle, fleeing an officer (misdemeanor - fail to yield) and additional bail jumping charges. He remains in custody.

Courtney Zarda and Andrew Carlton, two Kewaskum Middle School students, receive Morgan Burnett autographed footballs from the Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board, sponsors of the Fuel Up To Play 60 program within the Kewaskum Schools. Andrew and Courtney have instituted Wednesday walks and second chance breakfasts at the school. They also continue to work with Geidel's Piggly Wiggly to feature a veggie of the month. Statistics from Piggly Wiggly show that there is an approximate 75 percent increase in monthly sales for the featured veggie. The veggie of the month for December is parsnips.

On the Lighter Side

By Andrea Hansen Abler
Managing Editor

Hello Kewaskum, I hope you are enjoying your holiday season so far. It is really starting to look like Christmas with so many light displays outside homes and businesses and Christmas trees visible in the windows.

Holiday events are scheduled and plans have been finalized, so make sure you get out to as many as possible.

A big holiday event in this area will be the Kewaskum Christmas Parade, sponsored by the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce. The parade will begin at 5 p.m. this Sunday, Dec. 6. More information about the parade can be found in the story on our front page.

Also on Sunday is a new event being sponsored by the Chamber — the Christmas Cookie Hunt. This will also take place on Sunday, Dec. 6, from 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

You can visit any participating Chamber business during that time to collect a sweet treat. Start at 127 Main Street to find a list of your destinations for the afternoon. Enjoy crafts for kids, movie time, refreshments and pictures with Santa. This will all lead up to the Christmas parade.

Many other organizations are hosting holiday events too, like the i4Learning Cookie Sale, the FHA/HERO Club's Breakfast with Santa, Kewaskum Statesman's coloring contest, The Giving Tree at Kewaskum schools and many more great holiday activities.

This is a busy time of the year, but also a fun one. Make sure you take the time to enjoy the holiday season and be grateful for all the good things in your life.

Kewaskum Statesman
Office

As many of you are aware, we purchased a building on Fond du Lac Avenue to be used as the Kewaskum Statesman office. We have been busy getting things ready to open the office.

Unfortunately, we will not be able to open the office with full-time hours until the spring. But, we are planning to open it with part-time hours until then.

As a mini-grand opening, we plan to staff the office full-time next week and then reduce to our part-time hours the following week.

So, next week the Kewaskum Statesman office, located at 1032 Fond du Lac Ave., will be open from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday. It will also be open on Monday, Dec. 14, from 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Our part-time hours will start on Wednesday, Dec. 16. After that date, the Kewaskum Statesman office will be open every Wednesday from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. and Thursday from 12 p.m.-4 p.m. We will also be open by appointment during other times of the week.

Of course, there may be a few dates here and there when the office will not be able to be open, like Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve, but we will put notices in the paper to let you know.

If you need to drop something off for the Kewaskum Statesman at any time, we do have a drop box located in front of the building. We check that box on an almost daily basis, so please feel free to drop items for the paper in that box.

We can still be reached by phone at 626-2626. We look forward to meeting many of you and will keep you informed on any changes to our office hours as we go along.

Kewaskum Statesman Sponsors Christmas Coloring Contest

The Kewaskum Statesman is sponsoring a Christmas Coloring Contest in December. Children ages 0-12 can participate.

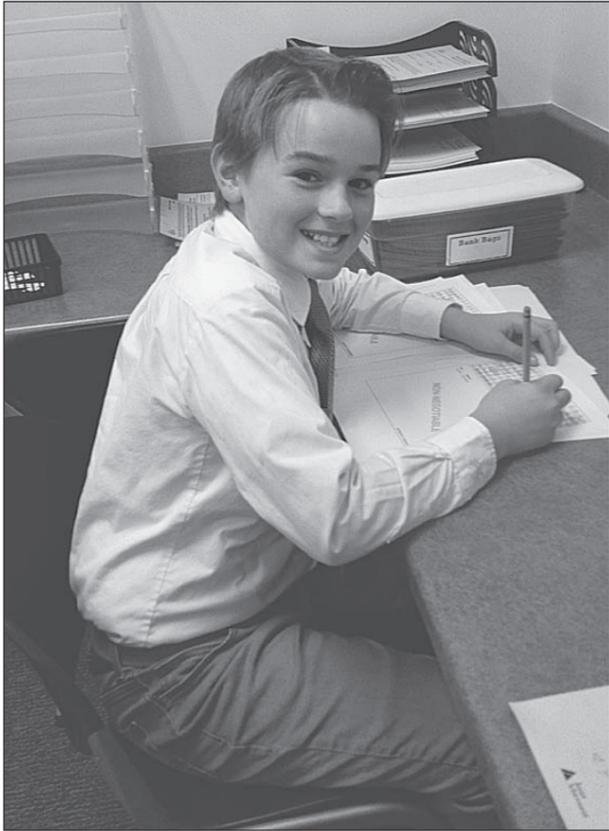

A picture to color was included in the November 19th Kewaskum Statesman. If you need a picture to color or another one for additional children, just stop by the Kewaskum Statesman office during office hours on December 7-14 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 16, from 9 a.m.-1 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 17, from 12 p.m.-4 p.m., or call the office at 262-626-2626 and we can get one to you.

All entries need to be turned in by Friday, Dec. 18. They can be dropped off at the Kewaskum Statesman office during the hours listed above or placed in the drop box outside our office at any time.

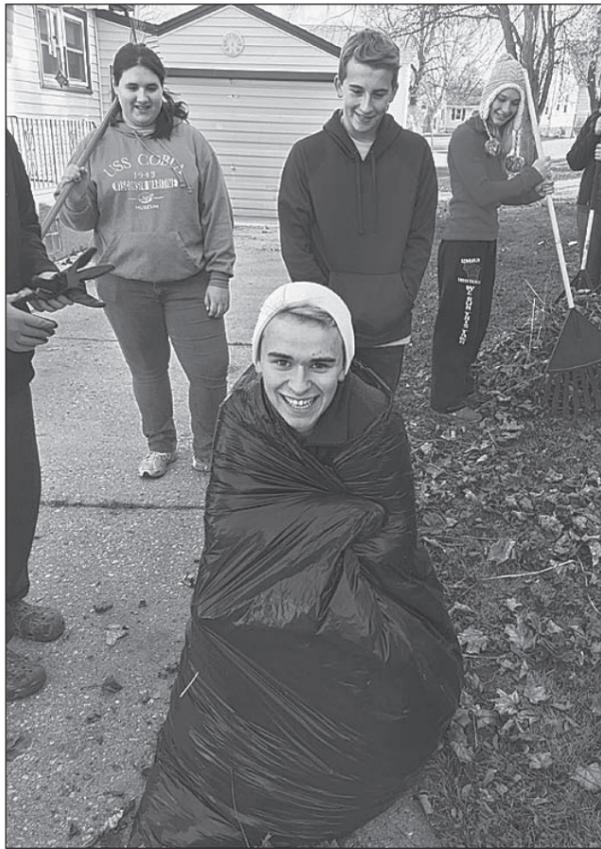

The winners will be chosen around 4 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 18. A cash prize will be given out in the three different age groups.

So, use your creativity and turn in your entry for our coloring contest.

Kewaskum Winter Parking Regulations In Effect

Winter parking regulations for the Village of Kewaskum went into effect on December 1.

Village ordinance states that there is no parking on any public street or highway within the village between 2 and 6 a.m. from December 1 to April 1 of each year.

OBITUARIES

Edna M. Ruplinger

Edna M. Ruplinger, 92, of Kewaskum, formerly of St. Kilian, passed away on Sunday, Nov. 29, 2015, at Kettle Moraine Gardens in Kewaskum, with her family at her side.

Edna was born on June 23, 1923 in St. Kilian, the daughter of the late Bernard and Barbara (Hurth) Wondra.

On September 27, 1945, she was united in marriage to John Ruplinger at St. Kilian Catholic Church in St. Kilian. John preceded Edna in death on September 29, 2001.

Edna was a member of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum. She was employed by Regal Ware for many years and was a member of the 25 Year Club and a member of the XYZ Club. Edna enjoyed quilting, crocheting, gardening and spending time with her family. She will be remembered for having her Twinkies and frozen treats for the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Edna will be deeply missed by her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and by all who knew her.

Those Edna leaves behind to cherish her memory include four children, Donald (Barb) Ruplinger of Kewaskum, Sharon (Calvin) Rauch of Campbellsport, and Mary (Dennis) Junk and Mike Ruplinger both of Kewaskum; a daughter-in-law, Ann Ruplinger of Kewaskum; nine grandchildren, Lisa (Jeff) Czerwinski, Bret Rauch, Tracy (Beau) Coulter, Jay Ruplinger, Julie Ruplinger, Jeremy (Katie) Ruplinger, Becky (Dan) Beimborn, Josh Ruplinger and Jacob (Liza) Junk; 18 great-grandchildren; three sisters-in-law, Mary Ann (Don) Lichtensteiger of Campbellsport, Audrey Ruplinger of St. Kilian and Lillian Wondra of Mayville, other relatives and friends.

In addition to her husband and parents, Edna was preceded in death by a son, Ronald Ruplinger and two brothers, Earl Wondra and Sylvester (Betty) Wondra.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Edna was held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 2, 2015, at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum.

Edna's family and friends greeted relatives and friends at the church on Wednesday from 4 p.m. until the time of Mass. Father Edwin Kornath officiated and burial took place on Thursday at 10 a.m. in the parish cemetery.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum has been entrusted with Edna's arrangements. Additional information and online guest book may be found at www.millermart-infh.com.

Who passed away 40 years ago on December 4, 1975.

Though his smile is gone
And his hands we cannot touch,
Still we have so many memories
Of one we loved so much;
His memory is our keepsake
With which we will never part.
God has him in His keeping
We have him in our hearts.

Fondly remembered and sadly missed by his family.

John Lettow made the donation of a 15" Seco wood planer to the Kewaskum High School Technology Education - woodworking lab.

The Independent Business Association of Wisconsin announced that State Representative Glenn Grothman was the recipient of its 2000 Wisconsin Award.

Ellen Evensen was named Executive Director of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County.

Wisconsin deer hunters shot 200,206 white-tailed deer during the opening weekend of the 2000 gun deer hunting over the November 18-19 weekend.

A daughter, Ashley Marie, was born to Cindy E. Bird and Gregory A. Bales, of Kewaskum, on November 24.

Renetta E. Schwind, 88, of Kewaskum, died November 27.

Kenneth G. Krieser, 75, of Kewaskum, died November 25.

Walter F. Ohmann, 86, of West Bend, died November 25.

Marian M. Jacak, 83, of Campbellsport, died November 25.

Warren A. Schmitz, 77, died November 27.

Margaret K. Brost, 80, of West Bend, died November 23.

25 Years December 6, 1990

Thousands watched the second annual Kewaskum Christmas Parade that was held on December 2. Approximately 40 unites participated in the village kick-off of the holiday season. Over 700 bags of candy were distributed to youngsters along the route.

Wisconsin was forewarned of the weekend's storm but no one was anticipating the force and fury with which it arrived. The snow was accompanied by 25-30 mile-an-hour winds which frequently gusted up to nearly 60 miles-an-hour.

The Sentry Food Store in Kewaskum was added to the village's list of thefts, which have occurred over the past 3.5 weeks. Police discovered a break-in on November 29th. Entrance to the store was gained by breaking the glass door with a rock. Police found boxes of cigarettes and trash bags laying on the floor near the cigarette shelves.

A ground breaking ceremony to celebrate the start of construction for an addition to St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Congregation's School was held on December 9. The addition was approximately 7,200 sq. ft. of gymnasium/multi-purpose space and 13,000 sq. ft. of classroom area. The cost of the addition was around $480,000.

A son was born to Tammy and Timothy Schladweiler, of Kewaskum, on November 27.

A daughter was born to Jayne and Richard Hughes, of Kewaskum, on November 28.

Harold G. Meisenheimer, 84, of Kewaskum, died December 3.

Edward H. Cook, 81, of West Bend, died

November 25.

50 Years December 3, 1965

There will be a special district meeting Monday, Dec. 6, at 8 p.m., of the Kewaskum Community High School District No. 2 for the purpose of obtaining authorization from the electors of the district to borrow $46,500 to build an addition to the high school, to improve certain areas of the existing building and to equip the addition. The school district has already held two referendum elections on the addition and both times the proposal was voted down. The Board of Education is now calling a special meeting rather than a referendum for several reasons: 1. The high school gym can handle three or four times the number of people who have voted on previous referendums. 2. The meeting will give electors a chance to discuss the question previous to voting. 3. The type of borrowing involved could be refinanced should the district become an integrated unit. 4. A meeting is far less expensive than a bond issue referendum.

Pvt. David Zehren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Zehren, Kewaskum, who left November 15 to report for Army duty is undergoing basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Olson, of Kewaskum, on November 19.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Grahl, of Kewaskum, on November 19.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Troedel, of Kewaskum, on November 24.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Hanrahan, of Kewaskum, on November 26.

75 Years December 6, 1940

Three members of one family had a narrow escape at their home near St. Kilian on December 1, when they were overcome by gas which seeped into the house from a Delco plant when the exhaust outlet of the plant became covered with snow. Those overcome were Mrs. Oscar Batzler, son Manuel and infant daughter. Other members of the family were attending church at the time. Three-year-old Manuel complained first of having a headache, but soon the mother also noticed she was getting a headache. She took two headache tablets, however, they failed to help and the headaches grew steadily worse. She noticed the boy acting very strangely and he fell to the floor but by that time she, too, was getting too drowsy to go to his assistance. She was on the floor holding her two-month-old baby at the time. This is how Mr. Batzler and sons Hilary and Harry found them when they returned from church. Dr. Leo Hoffmann of Campbellsport was immediately summoned. When Dr. Hoffmann arrived, he immediately opened the doors and windows. After Mrs. Batzler, her son and baby were unconscious for about three hours the fresh air and frantic work by the doctor and members of the family finally revived them.

Mrs. Walter Molhenthine, 26, beloved young woman of Campbellsport, passed away in childbirth on December 2 at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac. Mrs. Molhenthine was removed to the hospital last Friday and the baby, a daughter was born dead early Monday. Hemorrhages followed the childbirth and the young mother passed away the same day. The young woman was the mother of five children, three of whom predeceased her. Thos surviving along with her husband Walter, were children Vernon and Sylvia.

Delbert Petermann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry suffered a very painful accident while at work at the West Bend Aluminum Company plant, on November 26. He lost three fingers on his left hand which were cut off while he was at work on a draw press. Although a fast operating machine, the press was well guarded and Delbert is unable to explain in what manner he happened to get his fingers caught. He lost the two middle fingers completely and half of the index finger. The young man is still confined at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend.

100 Years December 4, 1915

August Firks, aged 90 years, 3 months and 20 days, passed away at his home at New Fane on Thanksgiving Day, November 25, after an illness of only ten days. Death being due to the effects of the fracture of a hip. Mr. Firks leaves to mourn his loss his wife Wilhelmina and the following children namely: August, William, Mrs. Emilie Meilahn, Mrs. Anna Prost, Henry, Frank, John, Otto, and Mrs. Lina Ferber. Last summer the aged couple had the opportunity of celebrating the 60th anniversary of their wedded life.

Accidents of the week: Last Sunday evening while Clarence Weinert, aged eight years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weinert, Town of Kewaskum, was cutting feed with a feed cutter he had the misfortune of having the thumb and forefinger of the left hand completely taken off. The young lad suffered immensely until medical aid was summoned. We are however glad to report that he is getting along nicely. Arnold the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ramthun, Town of Kewaskum, had the misfortune of breaking his right arm one day last week. Martin Bassil last Tuesday night while going from one room into another to treat a sore leg made a misstep and fell down the stairway and suffered a fractured rib and other minor bruises. While Walter Liepert and Aug. Woeks Jr., were engaged in white washing a chicken house for Julius Etta in the Town of Farmington last Monday their outfit froze up. It was necessary to thaw open the machine and while doing so the hose attached with a 200 lb. pressure burst, the whitewash forcibly striking Mr. Liepert in the left eye. Medical aid was summoned and we are glad to report the sight of the eye will not be lost.

Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center is located 1/2 mile west of Dundee off of Highway 67. The center is open seven days a week.

Star-Beings And Stones: Origins And Legends

The Friends of the Kettle Moraine invite you to the next program in the Evening with Nature Series, Star-Beings and Stones: Origins and Legends.

The program will be held on Thursday, Dec. 12, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Ice Age Visitor Center of the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. The center is located off Highway 67 half mile west of Dundee. This program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Native American myths, legends and oral traditions are rich with stories of giant beings existing in ancient times. They all talk of giant Thunderers or Thunder-beings, giant snakes, and great Thunderbirds. Even the first humans were said to be giants, some half man and half animal. The Tsistsistas (Cheyenne) called the giant beings their ancestors encountered during the early migration to the Great Plains haztova hotoxceo or "two-faced star people." Other Plains tribes such as the Black Feet, Gros Ventres, and Lakota have similar stories.

These old stories may have real world counterparts. Discovered in prehistoric effigy-mound groups in southeastern Wisconsin are two human-like petroform effigies with serpentine bodies and wing-like arms.

One is known as the Star-Being and the second one called the Starman. The State Historical Society of Wisconsin coded both sites as archeological sites of Archaic Age (3,500-6,000 years old).

Join Herman Bender, independent researcher, as he draws connections between these effigies and certain constellations and stars in the night sky. He will share how they embody ancient legends and traditions written in stone and how "The People" connected to them through ceremonies and acts of cosmic renewal.

For further information or directions, contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322 and is open Wednesday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Campbellsport Christmas Cantata December 19

The annual Christmas Cantata will be held on Saturday, Dec. 19, at St. Matthew's Church. This is a unique opportunity during the Christmas season. An organ recital by Father Tom Lijewski will start at 6 p.m. with the Cantata starting right after that, around 6:30 p.m.

The Christmas Cantata Service this year will be "Were You There on That Christmas Night" by Lloyd Larson.

The performance is free. The Cantata is sponsored by the Campbellsport Area Ecumenical Ministerium of Churches.

A Christmas Cantata is not something new and different. It is the way this Cantata is put together that is unique.

The Campbellsport service is an ecumenical one. It includes members of area churches who come together every year for this wonderful event.

A Cantata is a service that incorporates singing, music and readings.

The Cantata got its start at United Church of Christ in Campbellsport. They decided to do a Cantata service to celebrate Christmas. Every year, members of other churches were added to the service.

"People come to experience it," said Carole Marchant Ferber, originator of the Cantata. "I think there are people who come from farther than Fond du Lac and West Bend."

In addition to the members of the choir, people volunteer their time to read the scripture portions of the service. Many of these people look forward to taking part in this every year.

During the Cantata, a free-will offering will be taken for the benefit of the Campbellsport Food Pantry, which is supported by the area churches and community service groups.

Since it began, the ecumenical service has been a popular part of Christmas in the area. Many area residents look forward to either participating or attending the service. Its popularity has overwhelmed those who helped start it.

"I don't think we ever dreamed it would be like this," Marchant Ferber said. "I think we knew the community would like it."

"We have been here many times in the past 31 years," said Small, who also hosts the radio show Outdoors Radio With Dan Small and is a contributing editor of Wisconsin Outdoor News, a bi-weekly newspaper.

The Outdoor Wisconsin TV show covers various outdoor activities, including hunting, fishing and camping. The show will start its 32nd season in January. It airs on Thursdays at 9 p.m. with repeats on Saturdays at 9 a.m. on MPTV 10.1 and 36.2.

There are several things that keep bringing the show back to Wild Wings.

"There is excellent cover for the birds, which is important. It holds the birds," Small said. "And there are good birds here; they fly strong. Some game farm birds are kind of wimpy, the dogs catch them. I didn't see any of that today."

Hunting Pheasants

About half an hour before Klemstein and Small began their hunt, the Wild Wings crew released 12 pheasants from a pen.

Their guide, Terry Braun, then took the hunters and the camera crew out in the field for a three-hour hunt. Braun's dog, Gunner, caught the scent of pheasant immediately and began to point.

"The dog, he did a good job trying to keep up with the birds, because they were all over the place," Klemstein said.

Once the birds flushed, Klemstein and Small shot with 12-gauge shotguns. Altogether, they saw 15 pheasants and shot six.

"It's not as easy as people think it is, especially if the birds are out a ways," Klemstein said. "Sometimes the rooster take a hit, and they keep going. If you hit it with your shotgun, it doesn't mean you are going to drop them. Then if they drop down, they run away from you too. We had a couple birds that ran off."

And some of the birds ran ahead of the dog and flushed once they were out of range.

Last week's hunt had the added challenge of keeping a camera crew at bay.

"We get in each other's way a little bit, but it doesn't matter for the birds. They just know here comes the dog, and I hear some guys. They don't know how many. It's just a matter of logistics of getting the camera crew so they can get focused on the action and getting us into position where we can get a shot at the bird. It's tricky," Small said.

Lucky Shot

Last December, Klemstein attended MPTV Night at the MillerCoors Holiday Lites event in Milwaukee. While there, he won tickets to attend the Outdoor Wisconsin fundraising banquet.

So in February, Klemstein attended the banquet in Waukesha. While there, he won a handgun.

Meanwhile, Gerald Kruschka, owner of Wild Wings Sportsman's Club, donated a 12-pheasant hunt and lunch to the banquet's silent auction.

Klemstein purchased the hunt, and that is how he ended up filming for the show last week.

It was the first time in at least six years that Klemstein had pheasant hunted, but he made some good shots.

"He did most of the damage. He shot five of the six," Small said.

Both hunters left the hunt with pheasant meat that the club had cleaned for them. And Small brought three of the pheasants home.

"My brother ties flies. I'm going to pluck the feathers and he will make Muskie flies out of them," Small said.

Wild Wings

Wild Wings Sportsman's Club, which is headquartered at N 865 Highway W in Campbellsport, has hosted bird hunting since the 1950s, said Kruschka, who has owned the club since 2003.

The club's eight fields cover a total of 720 acres in which hunters go after pheasants, chukars (red-legged partridges), quail, ducks and Hungarian partridges.

"We can go through 30,000 plus pheasants a year," Kruschka said. "If someone wants to go out in the field and shoot pheasants, there is a guide and dog that walks them through and keeps them safe and makes sure that everyone has a fun time and a safe time."

Hunters also can opt to bring their own dogs.

To keep healthy birds, Wild Wings is particular about where they buy their fowl. All of the birds are pen raised, but they are placed in large pens that allow the birds to practice flying.

Bird hunting at the club runs from the middle of September through the end of March.

The club's big business, though, is sporting clays, which is offered year round.

"Sporting clays is a fun event. We have stations throughout the 60-acre course that are in the woods, over streams and in the meadows. It's very scenic - it's like golf with a gun," Kruschka said.

The club offers hunter safety classes as well.

One of the recent trends Kruschka said that he has noticed is an increase in the number of women and children using the club.

"We are a family business. We want to see more kids and more ladies. We are geared to do that," he said.

Veterans Services Highlighted During Two-Day Summit At Moraine Park

Ensuring veterans make positive transitions from the military to the workforce can be a challenging task, but it's one of critical importance to technical colleges as veteran enrollment continues to grow. In the current fall semester, the Wisconsin Technical College System is serving more than 3,400 military students and student veterans.

How to best serve and help these students was examined extensively during the Wisconsin Technical College System (WTCS) Veterans Services Summit, held Tuesday, Nov. 17, and Wednesday, Nov. 18, at Moraine Park Technical College's West Bend campus.

At the Summit, the stakes were set high from the start.

"If you implement what you will be learning over these next two days, you will literally transform people's lives — for Wisconsin, and for the people in your communities," said Dr. Morna Foy, president of the Wisconsin Technical College System, during opening remarks of the event.

Nearly 100 people attended the two-day summit at Moraine Park, which featured an array of panels, presentations, speakers, demos and discussions regarding ways to enhance WTCS veteran's services.

Rebecca Kleefisch, Lieutenant Governor of Wisconsin; and John Scocos, Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, were among the notable names to attend the event.

This is the second annual summit of its kind. The first one was held at Fox Valley Technical College.

The keynote speaker on Tuesday was Jennifer Sluga, the 2014 Wisconsin Woman Veteran of the Year. She shared stories of her own struggles being a minority in the military — both during her years of service, and since. Sluga also was sexually assaulted during her time in the army, sharing details of those struggles as well as the help she received to pull her through the dark chapter in her life that followed the assault.

The college advisor that helped her process and work through her struggles did something Sluga is profoundly grateful for and something she encouraged those in attendance at the summit to keep in mind when working with veteran and military students moving forward.

"She just listened. And she kept asking 'What can I do to help you?'" Sluga said.

Earlier Tuesday, Secretary Scocos also said helping all veterans and military students — with whatever unique struggles face them — was of paramount importance in education.

"While our veterans have taken care of us, and protected us, it is now our duty to take care of them," Scocos said, pushing for technical colleges to continue being leaders on this issue.

"More of our veterans go to technical colleges than any other schools," he said.

Lt. Gov. Kleefisch echoed the importance of giving back to veterans who have served our country and noted veterans' skills need to be fostered and utilized.

"Our vets have something so unique built into them, that we must use it," Kleefisch said. She said the punctuality, work ethic and the sacrifices military students and veterans exemplify is an attractive commodity to employers.

Wisconsin has been a leader in this regard, with a 4.1 percent unemployment rate in Wisconsin for military veterans. This ties Wisconsin percent for the 12th lowest rate in the country, according to data published last year by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS).

Kleefisch praised technical colleges' role in this achievement and encouraged those at the summit to continue striving to make Wisconsin even better in this regard — the benefits of which are far-reaching, she said.

"What you guys do [at technical colleges] works. And you do it quickly," Kleefisch said, adding "Veterans make all of us look good. They make our companies succeed... our tech colleges succeed... they make Wisconsin succeed."

Moraine Park Technical College is currently serving more than 140 veterans or military students this semester.

Continued From... Giving Thanks For Boys And Girls

– First Weber Group of West Bend Provides Thanksgiving Meals For Boys And Girls Clubs

“Project Gratitude” started 10 years ago when First Weber’s West Bend office decided to provide food for 10 families for Thanksgiving.

“We started 10 years ago with 10 families. That number has now grown to 300. It really is a ‘wow.’” said Terri Fredrich, general sales manager for First Weber.

To pack the Thanksgiving boxes, volunteers used 2 1/4 tons of turkey. Add to that another 6,000 pounds worth of potatoes, canned yams, stuffing mix, green bean casserole ingredients, corn, applesauce, cranberry sauce, gravy, pumpkin pies and toppings. They also provided a roasting pan and a recipe for making food with turkey leftovers for each family.

“Our grocery list is pretty extensive, so they will have everything they need for their Thanksgiving dinner. And because we are feeding 300 families, it's a lot of meat, it's a lot of product,” Fredrich said.

Each box costs about $40, which community members donate.

On Monday, about 15 volunteers picked up food from Wal-Mart in West Bend at 10 a.m. and then gathered in the West Bend Boys and Girls Club. They were finished packing boxes by noon.

“We are a really well-tooled machine. It's pretty amazing,” said Fredrich, who currently is serving as president of the Boys and Girls Club of Washington County.

When the workers were done packing food on Monday, they grocery shopped on their own, cooked at home and brought hot food to the Boys and Girls Club on Tuesday for the Thanksgiving banquet.

One of the volunteers, Pam Erdman, made 40

centerpieces for tables.

“She buys all the flowers and then makes beautiful flower arrangements for each table. They rival anything you could buy at Sendik's,” Fredrich said. “Families take the centerpieces home for their table. So they walk away with a beautiful thing.”

The First Weber Group started serving a pre-Thanksgiving meal six years ago.

Tuesday's Thanksgiving dinner was complete with turkey and all the fixings.

“At the end of the evening on Tuesday, nobody is exhausted because everybody is pretty exhilarated. And you know, the people who are handling all this food are not all that young, just are passionate about this and we have worked like an ant colony,” Fredrich said. “It's all about feeding kids.”

Little Folks And Bigger Folks

The Little Folks School House has been exploring intergenerational programs to help bridge the generation gap.

A partnership was recently formed between Little Folks School House and Kettle Moraine Gardens. The partnership has been named "Little Folks and Bigger Folks." A small group of children walk over to Kettle Moraine Gardens two to four times per month and spend time with the senior citizens. They sing songs, play Bingo and other games, and do craft projects together.

Both the "Little Folks" and the "Bigger Folks" are going to benefit from these visits. The children will learn respect for older adults and compassion for their physical limitations.

The older adults will maintain self worth by sharing their lives and experiences. The children will bring life, spirit and joy to the seniors, keeping them young at heart. The attention and encouragement of the seniors will help the children to flourish.

To learn more about the Little Folks School House, visit www.littlefolksschoolhouse.com.

Governor Declares November 30 Snowplow Driver Appreciation Day

Governor Scott Walker has proclaimed Monday, November 30, 2015 as Snowplow Driver Appreciation Day in Wisconsin. The Governor's proclamation highlights the important role snowplow operators play in keeping people and commerce moving throughout Wisconsin's winter season.

"Wisconsin's 3,000 county and municipal snowplow operators often work long hours in challenging conditions so the rest of us can safely reach our destinations," said Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Secretary Mark Gottlieb. "As drivers, we can do our part by slowing down, giving snowplows plenty of room to work, and by staying off roads when severe winter weather makes travel treacherous."

To enhance public safety and assist plow operators, WisDOT offers motorists the following tips:

- Before traveling, call 511 or go online (www.511wi.gov) to check on road conditions and possible incidents. Consider downloading the 511 Wisconsin smartphone app.
- Buckle up, watch what's happening ahead of you and allow plenty of following distance.

- Ice and snow means take it slow. Posted speed limits apply when travel conditions are ideal. Posted speeds may be hazardous when roads are slick or visibility is reduced. Most traffic crashes in winter are caused by drivers going too fast for conditions.

- Stay at least 200 feet behind a working snowplow. Make sure that you can see the plow's mirrors to ensure the driver is able to see you.

- If you must pass, be careful. Snowplows often create a cloud of snow that can obscure vision. Remember that road conditions in front of the plow will likely be worse.

- During major winter storms, postpone or cancel your trip. Stranded vehicles become hazards that interfere with snow removal efforts.

- Don't be over-confident if you operate a four-wheel or all-wheel-drive vehicle. They still require a considerable distance to stop on slick roadways.

Nine Keys To Writing Your Family's Memoirs

By Michael Levin

My young children know my Mom as their sweet grandmother with a touch of Alzheimer's and limited mobility due to a stroke.

They don't know her as a Holocaust escapee who went on a five-nation odyssey, including being smuggled from occupied France into Spain in a hay wagon when she was just four years old.

They will one day, because a writer from the company I run sat down with her, interviewed her at length, and turned her recollections from those years (still sharp, by the way), along with family photos, and documents from the 1940s into a hardcover memoir.

Every family has great stories to tell, but what happens if those stories aren't preserved?

So how can any family create a book that captures family memories without headaches, hassles, or revisiting family drama?

Here are nine tips to capturing your family memories:

1. You don't have to cover an entire life. You can just pick one extremely powerful time in a person's life. Coming to America, wartime experiences, or starting a family business are three strong options.

As in my Mom's case, there may be a period of years that deserves full attention. That way, you don't have to get into periods of time involving divorce or other family drama that doesn't need to be relived.

2. The first draft is often what I call the "therapy draft." Sometimes there's psychological release from writing the story exactly as it happened. But then we step back and ask, if the book were published in this manner, would people's feelings be hurt? Do we really need to bring up the story about Aunt Fannie, now that she's been gone 30 years? Once we see the memories on paper, we realize that not all of them need to see the light of day.

3. Documents are just as powerful as photographs for illustrations. If you still have your parents' immigration documents — especially if they include photos — those are fabulous illustrations for books, so don't overlook them!

4. Hire an interviewer. Should you have an outsider (a grad student from a nearby university) do the interviewing? We think so. Sometimes it's easier to open up to a stranger — people may feel less judged. When my company does a family memoir, it's almost always with a professional interviewer/writer. It's just easier.

5. Private citizens have rights of privacy. If you think there are any issues that might lead to lawsuits, have your book vetted by a competent attorney who specializes in such issues (not your brother-in-law who does wills). And then ask yourself about your motives. Preserving a family legacy is a great thing. Digging up bones is not.

6. Save money. The simplest, least expensive way to get the book done is to use Amazon's CreateSpace.com print-on-demand option, along with 99Designs.com to get a beautiful cover designed for a small amount of money.

7. The truth about copyright. It's simple to obtain, at www.loc.gov, the website of the Library of Congress. So don't let someone charge you $200 or more for a service that takes about five minutes and $35.

8. The 80 percent solution. Keep in mind there's no such thing as the perfect book. At some point, rewriting and rewriting doesn't actually make the book better — it can lose its original tone and turn to mush. Remember, as the expression goes, that great art isn't completed... it's abandoned.

9. Above all, remember that it's not just a book — it's a legacy. This is your chance to pass not just financial resources to succeeding generations but a legacy of values, memory, and family connection. The time to act is now, while loved ones are alive and memories are fresh.

Critical Illness Insurance - Do I Need It?

What is a critical illness insurance plan?

It is a living benefits insurance program for a critical illness diagnosis, a life-altering diagnosis covered in the plan. Most plans cover from 18 to 26 different critical illnesses. Some of the covered conditions are heart attack, cancer, stroke, brain tumors, comas, paraplegia, quadriplegia and others.

Heart attack, cancer and stroke are in the top four diagnoses that affect both male and female. These three conditions account for nearly 80 percent of the claims on critical insurance policies. There is a 60 percent survival rate for people having a heart attack, 70 percent survival rate for stroke; and 87 percent survival rate for breast cancer.

Critical insurance policies have been around since 1981. They are considered to be the brainchild of Dr. Marius Barnard, a pioneer of heart surgery. He saw that the chances of surviving a critical illness are greater than ever. Life span has increased but we are not immune to a heart attack, cancer or stroke.

Living with a critical illness is usually a great financial burden for a family. Seventy-eight percent of people in the United States who filed for bankruptcy had a critical illness, survived and had health care insurance. Dr. Marius Barnard wanted a way to help provide money to a person who would have a health life altering event and survived.

Critical illness insurance is a lump sum one-time payout. It is not a reimbursement plan. The tax-free lump sum check is given after the diagnosis has been established and it is up to the individual what they will do with it. You generally receive the check within 30 days of the diagnosis.

Benefits of these policies can be as low as $5,000 or as high as $1.25 million. Clients are advised that a critical illness insurance plan should replace at least one year of net income.

Critical illness insurance policies can be very affordable. It comes down to a person's age and the lump sum benefit they are looking for. The average benefit amount of $25,000 is affordable. The $25,000 tax free money might help pay for a person's deductible; the first 90 days of a waiting period before a person starts getting a disability benefit; intangible costs as gas, meals, or child care.

Many insurance companies' health insurance policies are coming with higher deductibles, now in the range of $5,000 to $10,000. More insurance companies will be raising their deductible on health care policies as more of the Affordable Care Act gets implemented. People are going to be exposed to a lot more risk because of this. Deductibles of $5,000 to $10,000 per year are a lot for a family to handle year after year. Critical illness insurance can help with that.

When a person gets a critical illness diagnosis, it involves a spouse or other family members. There is need for a family member to drive the patient to follow-up visits, therapy, rehab, chemotherapy treatments, kidney dialysis, etc.

Many times a family member may need to take unpaid leave from work. This might allow a wife or husband to be home with the patient during the time of treatments. Many times it is not advisable for the patient to be home alone.

The critical illness benefit can also help pay for a lot of intangibles such as parking, meals at the hospital, medications not covered by insurance, child care for children, gas, costs of staying at a hotel/motel. There are so many intangibles. It is hard to imagine some of the intangible costs involved if there was a prolonged several month situation for a family.

If modifications need to be made to a home because the disease is going to be debilitating, critical illness insurance can help to pay for that. The disease is debilitating but the patient is surviving. Life will go on and home modifications will give the person a better quality of life.

Another benefit of critical illness insurance is that the control is out of the hands of the disability insurance company. The patient can decide when he/she is going back to work. The disability company may say it is time to return to work and the patient may feel a little more time off is needed for healing, themselves or the family. Critical illness insurance may replace the income lost when a person goes off disability. This allows a person to recover on their own terms.

We all pay income taxes yearly. We claim deductibles. The amount we pay tax on as income is not always what we bring in as income. We pay off vehicle expenses, meals, etc. and use these deductibles on our tax returns. Disability income only replaces the end reported income to the IRS. Critical illness insurance may replace some income lost.

Life threatening illness can strike at any age. The younger you are, the more risk you have at stake, especially when it comes to your income. Critical illness insurance is also available for children. If one child of a family is diagnosed with cancer, a parent's disability insurance wouldn't pay the adult to be at home or go to treatments with the child. Critical illness insurance can allow a parent to do that.

Critical illness insurance allows families and individuals to take control of their lives from diagnosis to recovery. Control is important because with it, comes dignity. The ability to maintain dignity and control is important to the outcome of a disease process.

When getting a policy, the only two things insurance takes into consideration is the fact that there was the diagnosis to begin with and the age of the client. Family history is an important part of the underwriting. As far as previous diagnosis in critical care illness, if someone for example has already had a heart attack, cancer or stroke, some insurance companies that offer critical illness insurance would not be willing to issue a policy on that individual.

Other insurance companies have a 10-year previous diagnosis rule so if there have been no heart attack, cancer or stroke in the last 10 years a policy can be issued. To get critical illness insurance is not as simple as life insurance, but it is not as difficult as disability insurance. Critical illness insurance does not have near the financial underwriting that disability does. Experts say that a person is six times more likely to claim under critical illness than life insurance.

Insurability can change quickly. It is important to take action today. Talk to your health care agent about critical illness insurance. It doesn't matter what age you are, you need to consider critical illness insurance in your overall health care and financial plan.

During open enrollment, which is the time period we are in right now, seek advice from your insurance professional. Review the benefits you have personal and through your work; what they are worth; what you and your family will need if you are affected by a critical life threatening illness. You then can make appropriate educational changes to your insurance portfolio. You and your family can be prepared for life events and have peace of mind.

Win Number One Is Pretty Impressive

By Judy Harlow

To say Sam Schlosser's varsity debut was a success would definitely be an understatement.

Schlosser, the smallest man on the Kewaskum High boys basketball team, was a scoring wizard for the Indians in their 81-65 road victory over North Fond du Lac. The five-foot, four-inch guard scored 16 of the Indians' first 26 points behind some amazing three-point shooting.

With two returning letter winners/starters on the bench in the early going and ace Charlie Witek picking up two fouls in the first 6:30 of the contest, the Indians needed a spark, and they got it from Schlosser, who didn't play basketball his junior year.

After Michael Prochnow got the first basket of the 2015-16 campaign, Schlosser drained a long three, came up with a steal and a layup, next scored on a breakaway and then tossed in another rainbow jumper, giving the Indians an early 14-1 advantage.

North Fondy had some weapons of its own and cut the deficit to 18-9 before the Indians went on another run, with Prochnow providing a bullseye bucket from the baseline, and Schlosser scored back-to-back threes, his third and fourth in the first half. The second gave the Indians a 26-14 lead with 5:57 to go before intermission, but again the hosts were not about to concede.

The plucky Orioles battled back to cut the deficit. Aided by Dexter Hoff's trio of threes, North Fondy outscored the Indians down the stretch, 10-6 to cut the margin to just six points, 30-24.

Apparently Witek didn't like watching the game from the bench, plus he got a little pep talk from Gruber, and he really came alive after the break, scoring 23 of his game-high 28 points. Witek had a pair of old-fashioned threes (a basket plus the free throw), muscled in for a couple of layups and had a rebound basket in the final 18 minutes, powering the Indians over the 80-point mark.

Probably the prettiest play of the game was a two pass, Schlosser to Prochnow to Witek series, giving the Indians an easy layup, and later Schlosser produced a little personal fist pump after a pretty assist to Witek that produced a bucket and free throw.

Northy Fondy had no answer for Witek inside, but Hoff and 6-4 sophomore Dawson Wodsedalek proved they can be sharpshooters, combining for eight of their team's 10 three-pointers and 30 points.

Schlosser took on the role of passer in the second half and still ended up with 21 points, while Prochnow scored a quiet 14 points, including a pair of threes, and 6-7 Jason Hanson added 10 points on some nice turnaround jumpers. Hanson also contributed one blocked shot and controlled the defense boards.

The Indians never got to the free throw line in the first half, but they were there plenty of times — 27 to be exact — in the second half, swishing 21 of those tries for an impressive 77 percent. Witek was five for five at the line while Schlosser was six for eight, and Josh Baker, who only played the final 10 minutes, hit six of eight.

"They did some good things out there," Gruber said of his players, noting he has changed the offense to a more controlled system this year. "We have some things to clean up," he went on, adding, "We got tagged for a lot of fouls."

There was no question, Gruber was pleased with Schlosser. "He surprised the bejeebers out of me," the coach said. "He really got us off the schnide."

"Charlie was good inside," the coach went on, indicating it's going to be a plus to be able to have four players in double figures and others seeing ample playing time. "I think we have enough good players that can all get a bite out of the apple."

About not starting two returning starters, Gruber said there is a disciplinary situation currently going on, which he declined to elaborate on. "I thought it would be resolved Monday (by the athletic department)", but it hasn't been. "It's something we're working through."

After a non-conference game at Slinger on Tuesday, Dec. 1, the Indians are back in action this Saturday night, Dec. 5, entertaining Sheboygan Falls. The freshmen and JV teams will play at 5:45 p.m. with the varsity game to start at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Kewaskum opens East Central play on Tuesday, Dec. 8 at Plymouth.

KEWASKUM 30-51 — 81

NORTH FOND DU LAC 26-39 — 65

Kewaskum: Schlosser 21, Witek 28, Baker 6, Prochnow 14, J. Hanson 10, Greisemer 1, Zillmer 1, FTS 21x27. Three-point goals: Schlosser (4) Prochnow (2) Fouls — 22.

North Fondy scoring leaders: Wodsedalek 21, Hoff 9, Niemuth 20. FTs — 13x25. Fouls — 24.

A record number of participants take part in the Turkey Trot 5K run/walk held on Thanksgiving Day in Kewaskum. # Indians Run Out Of Gas In Game Against WB East

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High girls basketball team turned in another good effort at West Bend East last Tuesday night, but the Indians, hampered by some cold free throw shooting, were unable to keep up their perfect record, losing 54-48 to the hosts.

East, playing its second game under new head coach Travis Graf, outscored Kewaskum by three points in each half to improve to 2-0.

"It went back and forth. It was a game of runs," KHS coach Russ Thull said. "We had a five-point lead midway in the second half" but couldn't hold it.

Kewaskum (2-1) managed to convert only nine of 18 free throws and had problems solving East's half-court trapping defense. "We didn't handle the pressure very well. We had 24 turnovers, and we gave up 16 offensive rebounds," Thull said, quick to add all these things are "fixable."

Once again the trio of Hailey Herriges, Sammie Wiskirchen and Kayla Dogs carried the scoring load for the Indians, scoring 16, 10 and nine points, respectively.

The junior Herriges was seven for 15 (46 percent) on regular field goals and two for five beyond the arc (40 percent). Herriges had a very complete game, hauling down seven rebounds, adding two assists and one steal. Unfortunately, she never got to the free throw line.

"She shot well," Thull said about Herriges, who played all but a minute and a half of the game.

Wiskirchen had to battle hard to get her looks, taking 11 shots and making four of them for a 36 percent shooting clip, while Dogs had a cold shooting night, hitting just one of her 10 shots on regular baskets. Still she contributed nine assists, five blocked shots, two steals and five rebounds.

"Dogs had a lot of pressure on her the whole way," Thull said. "It takes a lot out of you when you are playing point guard."

The Indians also got scoring help from five-foot, six-inch junior guard, Adrienne Adornato, who chipped in with eight points on four for seven (46 percent) shooting. Adornato also contributed a pair of assists and six rebounds.

Adornato's good play was really needed because the Indians were playing without Kaila Kirst, and Rachel Holt. "Kaila got a concussion over the weekend playing soccer," Thull said, adding, "Rachel Holt was out with her back."

East got 21 points from Hannah Knop, 11 from Katelyn Zettler and another 10 from Amy Daley.

"Now we start conference play which we are excited about," Thull said.

Kewaskum opened its East Central season with a home game against Ripon on Tuesday, Dec. 1. On December 3, the Lady Indians are at Campbellsport for a battle with one of their arch rivals.

Indians To Start Out EC Wrestling Season Against A Formidable Foe

By Judy Harlow

If there is one coach at Kewaskum High School that is excited about going to the new East Central Conference, it is wrestling coach Scott Rhoads.

Rhoads, starting his third season as head man, isn't sad to see a schedule without Two Rivers and Sheboygan Falls. Two Rivers has been dominant the past four seasons, although the Raiders may not be quite as good in 2015-16, while Falls has a lot of experienced and talented returnees from a team that was second in the old Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

That leaves the Indians and arch rival Campbellsport as contenders in the new league, possibly along with Ripon. As luck would have it, wrestling fans won't have to wait long to see these two teams battle for supremacy. They square off at Kewaskum tonight (December 3).

"This possibly could be a conference championship dual," Rhoads said in previewing his team and the rest of the EC teams, indicating Campbellsport has the most experienced wrestlers.

Kewaskum also should be good, relying on the three athletes who advanced to the D-2 sectional a year ago, along with wrestlers from a talented freshman pool. Leading the way is senior Ben Watzig, who has his goals set on Madison and a berth in the D-2 state meet after stumbling big in the sectional a year ago when he finished the year with a mark of 28-11 and won his first conference championship at 182 pounds. He also took 11th place in the prestigious On The Waters Tournament in Oshkosh.

"Ben looks real good. Every day he looks more powerful," Rhoads said. "He is one of the few athletes (at KHS) that really focus on weight lifting and does it," and has gained real muscle weight over the last year.

Others who qualified for sectionals were senior Cole Rahlf and junior Alex Vogt, who both showed solid improvement, especially at the end of last season. Vogt ended the year at 20-13, while Rahlf finished 17-16.

These three will be joined by other returning letter winners Eric Doll, a senior who finished the year at 19-14 at 170 and 182; Adam Bruss, a sophomore who was 15-11 at 106 pounds; and senior Dan Seitz, who went 12-20 at 160.

Bruss is currently the lone sophomore on the team, while Vogt and Michael Bryngelson are the lone juniors.

The only regular lost via graduation was Jake Keller, who was 10-23. Heavyweight Garrett Buth and Max Hardy were expected to do well but injuries ended both their seasons prematurely. Buth's, after just eight matches, suffered an elbow injury.

Several other letter winners decided not to come out for the sport this year, but Rhoads did have some good news with senior Zach Heberer returning to the sport. He was 7-7 last season when he was injured and did not return.

"Last year, he stopped with a head injury" and didn't have enough victories for a letter," Rhoads said about Heberer, who is looking good in the pre-season. "Their training group is rock solid," the coach went on about Vogt, Rahlf, Heberer and two of the very promising freshmen, Eric Bauer and Alex Deheck, who will start at 120 and 126.

There are nine freshmen currently on the KHS roster, which stands at 18 with the possibility of two more coming out.

Bauer finished third at Kids State a year ago, while Deheck advanced to Madison and went 2-2 before being eliminated. Both have plenty of experience and talent and should do well at the varsity level.

Other incoming freshman and their projected weight classes are:

Nathan Droese and Dawson Bastian at 106; Tanner Goeman at 132, Jared Rix, 145; Sam Larson, 152; and Eduardo Padilla at 170.

About the new EC conference, Rhoads announced Kettle Moraine Lutheran has dropped its program after one year, so currently he is looking for another team to fill the empty date on the schedule. He is hoping it might turn out to be Oostburg.

"Ripon is always solid... Winneconne is OK," Rhoads said, but, "Campbellsport is going to be the team to beat" after wrestling last season with just one senior on its roster.

Rhoads has also made another schedule change, deciding not to return to the On the Waters meet which the Indians have competed in for a couple decades. Instead, KHS will go to the Merrill Northern Exposure Tournament on Dec. 29-30. "Our theory is to get more matches for our kids" Rhoads said, explaining at Merrill the Indians will wrestle in four dual meets each of the two days, which, he feels, is better than having all but one or two eliminated after one day at Oshkosh.

Kewaskum will likely have a wrestler at every weight class, but a lot of them will be freshmen, Rhoads said. Rhoads is being assisted this season by former West Bend West head coach Mike Bauer, who is replacing Rob Maertz. Also assisting is Charlie Teaton, who was an assistant at East several years ago. Bauer will be paid by the school while Teaton's salary will come out of Kewaskum Wrestling Club funds.

After tonight's home match against the Cougars, Kewaskum goes to the GunSlinger Tournament at Slinger on Saturday.

Turkey Trot participants show their Thanksgiving spirit on Thanksgiving Day. Finish Line Training sponsored the Turkey Trot 5K in Kewaskum, with proceeds going toward the Kewaskum Elementary School physical education department and the "We Believe" campaign for a new parish center at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum.

2016 Wisconsin State Park Stickers Now On Sale

People looking for a holiday gift that keeps giving throughout the year can give outdoor enthusiasts access to thousands of miles of trails, hundreds of nature hike opportunities, dozens of beaches, and some of the most scenic areas found in Wisconsin with a 2016 Wisconsin state park admission stickers or state trail pass.

2016 stickers and state trails passes are on sale at state park facilities and Department of Natural Resources service centers statewide. State park properties are honoring 2016 stickers and passes for admission to parks, forests, recreation areas and trails since December 1, 2015.

The admission stickers are designed by high school students and the winning design is chosen in a statewide contest.

The winning design for the 2016 Wisconsin State Parks admission sticker features two hikers under a starry night sky and was designed by Rachael Wirth, a senior at Appleton North High School. The winning design will be printed on state park and forest annual vehicle admission stickers and will be displayed on more than 265,000 vehicles.

The vehicle admission stickers provide access to more than 60 state park, forest and recreation area properties across Wisconsin. The stickers are required on all motor vehicles stopping in state parks and recreation areas. Some state forest and trail parking areas also require a sticker.

A state trail pass is required for all people age 16 or older biking, in-line skating, horseback riding, cross-country skiing, or off-highway motorcycling on certain state trails. A state trail pass is not required for walking or hiking.

Admission stickers cost is $28 for Wisconsin residents or $38 for nonresidents. If there is more than one vehicle registered to the same household, additional state park stickers are available for $15.50 for residents and $20.50 for nonresidents. A senior citizen annual sticker for $13 is available for Wisconsin Residents 65 years of age and older. Annual trail passes are $25 for residents and nonresidents, and increase of $5 from 2015.

2016 WISCONSIN STATE PARKS & FORESTS STICKER

In addition to park, forest and trail offices and DNR service centers, stickers and trail passes are available over the phone from the DNR call center. Phone customers can call the DNR at 888-936-7463 between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. Visa and MasterCard are accepted. Customers need to order stickers and passes by Monday, Dec. 16, to receive them for the holidays.

The Friends of Wisconsin State Parks also offers online sales of admission stickers and trail passes with a donation to the statewide friends group through the organization's website www.fwsp.org.

Free Fishing Weekend In January

It's hard to believe it, but winter will return to Wisconsin and with it will come hardwater fishing.

Now is the time to get ready for Wisconsin's Winter Free Fishing Weekend, January 16 - 17, 2016. Plan ice fishing outings for community groups, clubs, your church, family and friends. Residents and nonresidents are welcome!

Fish anywhere in Wisconsin without a license or trout stamp on Free Fishing Weekend. This includes all inland waters and Wisconsin's side of the Great Lakes and Mississippi River.

Other fishing rules apply, such as limits on the number and size of fish you can keep and any seasons when you must release certain fish species. So, pack up the family or call your friends and head to the water for fishing fun!

Need Fishing Gear?

No ice fishing gear? No problem. We have ice fishing tip-ups and jigging rods that you can borrow at many state parks and DNR offices.

You will need to either use your own ice auger, claim an abandoned hole, or better yet, make friends with the anglers at the nearest ice fishing shantytown and ask them to drill you a hole or let you borrow their auger. Check out a list of loaner sites on the DNR website to find out where loaner sites are located. Call the contact person listed for the site near where you plan to fish to learn what specific equipment is available, and arrange to pick it up.

DEADLINE
For News Items
& Ads Is Monday
at 5:00 p.m.

Doug Gonring Elected To OTBA Hall Of Fame
