Committee Eyes Improvements For Kewaskum School District Facilities

By Anne Trautner

Over the past eight months, members of the Kewaskum School District's Long Range Planning Committee have studied issues to identify challenges and needs throughout the school district.

The committee has narrowed its scope in an effort to address immediate concerns at Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School, such as soundproofing walls, securing entrances and updating the heating, venting, cooling and mechanical systems.

The committee, which is comprised of approximately 55 people, met on Tuesday, March 15, for the seventh time. Four conceptual site plans that ranged in price from $32 to $34 million were shared by Bray Architects.

"The more new construction we put in, the higher we drive the budget," said Matthew Wolfert, president of Bray Architects.

Wolfert presented the drawings at last week's meeting, which was held in the Kewaskum High School library. With more than 40 people in attendance, all four plans that the committee looked at are based on the same model, which connects the middle school and high school into one building.

"There are a lot of different ways to organize these pieces as we try to link the two schools together. We are trying to link them with as many shared functions as possible. While at the same time, we are trying not to overbuild, because the more square footage, the greater the cost," Wolfert said.

Kewaskum Junior Women's Club Celebrates Long History

— Club Seeks More Members To Continue Supporting Community

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Junior Women's Club was officially chartered with the General Federation of Women's Clubs on Jan. 12, 1967, with 32 members.

Since then, the club has done countless things for the community. Over the life of the club, nearly $78,000 has been donated to various causes.

Since 1967, a vast number of volunteer hours have been donated, with more than 4,900 hours of volunteer work given over the past nine years alone.

"You don't think that your time is amounting to much, but when you put it all together, it all adds up," said Louise Martin, who has been a member of the Junior Women's Club for 29 years.

Raising Funds

The Kewaskum Junior Women's Club has been running fundraisers to benefit the community since its inception nearly 50 years ago.

One of the first big events that the club sponsored was a basketball game featuring the Green Bay Packers Pro Football All-Stars versus Kewaskum Educators on Feb. 18, 1968.

At the time, people doubted the group could succeed. The Milwaukee Journal reported that "the women got a lot of ribbing, heckling and even sympathy from their better halves who all figured the women's club would go broke because of inexperience in sports promotion."

Kewaskum Elementary School Students Learn African Dances

By Anne Trautner

Kewaskum Elementary School students know how to dance.

On Friday, March 18, the students performed African dances during an assembly held in the school gym. The students, as well as staff members, showed off their moves, which ranged from break dancing and the moonwalk to the sprinkler and tumbling moves.

The students had been learning about dance all week, as Sonya Thompson and DeMar Walker from the Ko-Thi Dance Company in Milwaukee spent last week teaching the young dancers different African dances.

"It was a great cultural and historical experience for the students to learn some folk dances from another country, as well as an excellent opportunity to have live performers teach and work with them," said Sherry Gerhartz, Kewaskum Elementary School music teacher said.

The Kewaskum Elementary School PTO sponsored the week-long residency.

Thompson and Walker taught the students two traditional West African dances: a warrior dance and a children's dance.

In addition, Tarence Spencer, musical director for Ko-Thi, taught the students about African drumming last Thursday.

Stroebel's Notes

—Guest Editorial By 20th District State Senator
DUEY STROEBEL

Resisting The Call For A Higher Gas Tax

We all want good roads. Wisconsin's manufacturing, service, agriculture, and tourism industries require well maintained roads to allow for the free movement of goods and people. Where the agreement ends is how we go about paying for these improvements.

Recently some have argued conservatives should embrace a gas tax increase. I, and many other conservative legislators, did not go to Madison to raise taxes. Before conservatives even consider any increased transportation funding, every last efficiency at the DOT must be identified and implemented and for no reason should we increase the overall tax burden on the taxpayers of Wisconsin.

As an initial matter, it's important to note Wisconsin's reputation as a high tax state. While Wisconsin has made great strides in the overall competitiveness of our tax climate since 2011, other states have similarly improved at a much faster pace. As a result, Wisconsin's overall Tax Foundation ranking has actually fallen two spots in the last three years to 43rd. We need to work aggressively to remove Wisconsin from the list of the ten least competitive states and raising the gas tax cannot be part of the equation.

Several key initiatives can be undertaken to address transportation concerns. First, the Legislature must await the release of the already requested DOT audit. The audit will analyze potential improvements to DOT's planning, design, construction, and maintenance processes for the State Highway Program. It is anticipated that the audit will be completed and released this fall.

Additionally, two important reforms could be implemented to provide relief for transportation projects statewide. This session I introduced a bill that in the second half of the biennium would have replaced $47 million in federal dollars with state dollars for local transportation projects and then re-allocated the federal dollars to mega projects. By removing federal dollars, local officials would not be required to comply with additional and unnecessary federal regulations and bureaucracy.

This is a common sense reform that previously received the full-throated support of road builders and their consultants. In January 2013 the Wisconsin Transportation Finance and Policy Commission issued its report detailing "options to achieve a stable balance between transportation expenditures, revenues and debt service over the next decade."

Among other things, the Commission recommended that "federal funds be removed from the local road programs... and be replaced with state funds to reduce the cost, complexity and time associated with project delivery." It estimated the savings on delivery costs to be in the range of 25 percent.

In addition, the Legislature should work to implement full repeal of the prevailing wage requirement. While conservative reformers were successful during the budget process in removing the requirement for local units of government, the requirement remains for state projects. Removing the prevailing wage requirement for state projects would significantly reduce transportation costs.

Finally, as illustrated during the budget debate, simply forcing the DOT to prioritize transportation spending is a worthy, and achievable, goal. The Governor's proposed budget included $1.3 billion in bonding for transportation projects. Many conservatives were not comfortable with that level of borrowing, and rightly so.

By forcing the DOT's hand, the amount of borrowing was lowered to $800 million. In order to do so, the DOT prioritized current transportation projects and identified those that required immediate funding. This was a difficult process. However, exaggerated traffic projections, over built roads and excessive roundabouts are all factors to review when prioritizing DOT spending.

As the Governor has suggested, unless we are able to find an offset in the budget elsewhere to provide for transportation funding, we will continue making the tough decisions. I'm committed to finding a long-term transportation solution. We all want good roads and the state of Wisconsin should play a key role in facilitating these projects. A standalone gas tax is simply not a mechanism I am willing to consider.

Need A Spring Break Project? 'Wisconsin YES!' Business Plan Contest Invites Entries Through April 4

MADISON – Wisconsin Youth Entrepreneurs in Science, a statewide youth business plan contest modeled after the successful Governor's Business Plan Contest, is open for online entries from Wisconsin middle- and high school students through 5 p.m. April 4, 2016.

Public, private and home-schooled students across Wisconsin are eligible to turn their science- and tech-related ideas into business plans and compete for cash and prizes. The contest begins with a 250-word summary submitted through www.WisconsinYES.com. Entries that advance to Phase 2 of the competition will expand their idea into a 1,000-word executive summary.

As a tool for educators, Wisconsin YES! fosters interest in science and tech education, and encourages students to be independent, creative thinkers capable of problem solving. Throughout the process, students get feedback from professionals across Wisconsin who will serve as judges.

"Leveraging technology, thinking creatively and working as a team are all important characteristics for today's entrepreneurs," said Tom Still, president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. "Entrepreneurial skills are vital to the long-term success of Wisconsin's youth, as well as the state's innovation economy."

To get started, students create a simple account at www.WisconsinYES.com. All entries are submitted through the website. Templates and sample entries for both phases are available on the website, along with other entrepreneurial resources.

The end of each phase is followed by about one week of judging. At the end of the judging period, all contestants will be able to log into their accounts and view the judges' comments.

Students are able to work in teams or as individuals and will be judged based upon their grade level, with the oldest team member determining the team category. Students or teams may enter multiple ideas.

Place finishers in each category – 9th grade and under, 10th grade, 11th grade and 12th grade – are eligible for cash and prizes. The grand prize winner will present his or her winning idea at the Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Conference, June 8 in Madison. Past winners have hailed from Weston, Brookfield, New Glarus and La Crosse.

The contest is produced by the Wisconsin Technology Council, with major sponsorship provided by IBM and Intrepid Charitable Partners. The Tech Council is a Section 501(c)3 non-profit corporation. Your YES! contribution may qualify as a charitable deduction for federal income tax purposes.

Supporters of the contest include Wisconsin Technical College System, Department of Financial Institutions, Department of Public Instruction, the Association of Wisconsin School Administrators, Make a Difference Wisconsin, Project Lead the Way Wisconsin, STEM Forward, Wisconsin Association of School Boards, Wisconsin Society of Science Teachers and Wisconsin Association of School Business Officials.

The Wisconsin Technology Council is the independent, non-profit and non-partisan science and technology adviser to the Governor and the Legislature. It serves as a catalyst for tech-based economic development in Wisconsin through programs such as the Wisconsin Angel Network, the Governor's Business Plan Contest and the Wisconsin Innovation Network.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

WASH YOUR HANDS

Frequent handwashing is one of the best defenses against getting or spreading colds or the flu. Cold and flu viruses are spread when a sick person coughs or sneezes and droplets carrying germs land on their hands or surfaces. When you come into contact with germ-covered surfaces, proper handwashing prevents the spread of these germs from your hands to your nose or mouth. In a study, military recruits were told to wash their hands five times a day. After 2 years, they had 45% fewer cases of respiratory illness compared to the sickness rate of previous recruits. Use alcohol-based sanitizers when you can't wash your hands.

Girl Scout Troop 8606 Contributes To Holy Trinity Building Project

On Sunday, March 13, Holy Trinity celebrated Girl Scout Sunday.

Girl Scout Week is celebrated each March, and commemorates the day that Juliette Gordon founded the Girl Scouts, March 12, 1912.

The girls participated in the ministries of greeters, ushers and gift bearers. The Rev. Ed Kornath gave a blessing to the girls at the end of Mass.

The girls then presented Kornath with a check for $1,500 to be applied toward the Parish Center for Holy Trinity.

To raise the money, the troop sold 2,000 boxes of cookies through individual sales and cookie booths sales that were held after Mass.

With 11 members, the troop's advisors are Michele OKrent and Amy Kumrow. The troop formed six years ago when the girls were in 5K.

Breaking News: "Wisconsin legislators pass a bill requiring private and parochial schools accepting voucher payments to abide by open records and open meetings laws."

Does this statement shock you? While this has not become law, there is a very real possibility that this could be law a decade from now.

Let me explain. Early last year, many private and parochial schools were pushing for a statewide voucher program. After all, this would be the greatest thing since sliced bread, right? Free money!

Fortunately, not every parochial and private school board and principal sees it this way. Yes, I did vote for the voucher program via the 2015-2017 state budget; it was the right thing to do. Low-income parents — parents who, previously, had zero ability to pay for a parochial or private school education — now have the opportunity to choose a school where their children can thrive.

A word of caution though, the political winds will eventually shift in Wisconsin and program rules will change. Need proof? How about this real life anecdote — during one of our last Assembly floor sessions in February, Democrats attempted to bring a bill to the floor for a vote that would have required any school in the choice program to abide by open meetings and open records laws, thereby opening every Christian, choice school and their policies to public scrutiny.

During recent CESA 6 meetings with area public school superintendents and school board members, there was dissent over the requirement that public school districts transport voucher kids and provide special education resources. Truth be told, I can envision a day when legislation will rear its ugly head requiring voucher schools that receive state transportation aid get their own kids to school and fund their own special education programs (even though special education dollars are allocated from the federal government to run the program).

And what about the trending requirement that public schools provide changing rooms for kids who identify as the opposite sex? What about the sex education curriculum? When will creationism be challenged by the requirement to also teach evolution? How about Bible study, discussions of sin and societal ills in a Christian school? Prayer in school? And what kids will be required to attend religion class?

I can guarantee that no voucher school will be safe from these mandates, intense scrutiny and oversight. Activist courts have already bastardized the First Amendment; thus, I don't believe the Supreme Court would stand in the way of a law prohibiting prayer in publicly funded parochial schools if voucher students are present.

Consider the following excerpt from the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod (WELS) convention resolution in 1967: "...1) avoid any aid that would hinder our Christian schools from carrying out their objectives, 2) avoid any aid that would lead to dependency upon the government and would undermine our Christian stewardship, 3) avoid any aid that would bring with it improper government control..."

While the choice program is an excellent outreach tool and a truly useful welfare program, it will be evolving for years to come and must be utilized with extreme caution. I urge any school considering participation in the voucher program to set defined limits and remember that there is no such thing as a free lunch — there must be an exit strategy.

Washington County Sheriff's Office Reports

House Fire

On March 20, at 9:05 p.m. the Washington County Sheriff's Office received a report of a structure fire at 577 Paradise Drive in the Town of Trenton. The homeowner advised that there was heavy smoke in the residence and that everyone had been evacuated. Newburg Fire Department was paged and requested that the call be upgraded to a MABAS Box, working still level. Fire Departments from West Bend, Fillmore, Cedarburg, Saukville, Waubesa, Jackson and Port Washington Ambulance responded to assist in extinguishing the fire.

Upon the arrival of the first deputy at 9:16 p.m. heavy smoke was seen coming from the residence. The homeowner advised that he had been attempting to repair the fuel oil furnace which was not functioning correctly when it started on fire. The fire was contained to the basement area, however parts of the residence sustained heavy smoke damage.

At this time, the fire has been extinguished and the Washington County Sheriff's Office fire investigator has been requested to assist. Preliminary damage estimates are approximately $50,000. Paradise Road was closed between County Highway M and Wausaukee Road for approximately two hours to assist in extinguishing the fire.

Barn Fire

On March 17 at 2:42 p.m., the Sheriff's Office received a report of a smoke coming from the east side of barn located at 536 Bridge Road in the Town of Jackson. The barn was located approximately 100 feet north of the residence and there were other outbuildings near the barn. The Jackson Fire Department was paged and quickly upgraded the fire to a MABAS call. Fire Departments from West Bend, Slinger, Germantown, Newburg, Richfield, Cedarburg, Hartford, Fillmore, Saukville and Boltonville responded to assist.

The first responding deputy reported smoke and flames coming from a southeast corner of the barn. The barn was a 40 by 110 feet in size, which was detached from the residence. The fire departments began working on extinguishing the fire and by approximately 4:15 p.m. it was extinguished. The shed and contents were a total loss. It is estimated that the barn and contents had a value of $200,000.

The damage was contained to the barn; there was no damage to the residence or any other outbuildings. The barn was housing for two goats and a pig, they all escaped uninjured. The origin of the fire is unknown at this time and is under investigation by the Washington County Sheriff's Office.

Car Crash/OWI

On March 18, a 23-year-old City of Appleton man was arrested for first offense after he struck another vehicle while making a lane change and then going off road. The crash occurred on Interstate 41 southbound near Aurora Road at 5:31 a.m. Neither he nor the other driver, a 56-year-old Burnett woman, were injured as a result of the collision.

OWI

On March 18, a 24-year-old Oconomowoc man was arrested for first offense after he failed to stop at the stop sign while westbound on Arthur Road at State Highway 83 and T-boned a southbound pickup operated by 75-year-old Village of Jackson man at 10:52 a.m. The pickup driver was transported to AMC Hartford for non-life threatening injuries and the other driver was not injured. The investigation revealed the Oconomowoc man intentionally ran the stop sign as he was running late. The suspect driver will be cited for first offense operating while intoxicated, no insurance and failure to stop at stop sign.

Disturbance

On Thursday, March 17, at 6:59 p.m., the Sheriff's Office responded to a bar located at 5869 Franklin Drive in the Town of Hartford for a report of a disturbance involving two patrons who were asked to leave the establishment by management. As the subjects were leaving, one of the patrons retrieved a handgun from the vehicle and shot four rounds into the air in the parking lot. He also mentioned he was coming back with his pistol. The dispatch center stayed online with the caller and was able to obtain a partial description of the suspect vehicle as it fled the area.

That description was immediately relayed to area squads including the Hartford Police Department. A patrol officer from the Hartford Police Department subsequently located the vehicle on Branch St and a high risk traffic stop was conducted on the vehicle in cooperation with the Hartford Police and Sheriff's Deputies.

The driver, a 23-year-old City of Hartford man, was arrested for OWI (second) after he failed filed sobriety testing. He was also arrested for disorderly conduct for the incident at the bar. The passenger, a 22-year-old City of Hartford man, was arrested for disorderly conduct while armed and intoxicated use of a firearm. The handgun was recovered from the vehicle.

Burglary

On Saturday, March 12, at 7:01 p.m., the Sheriff's Office received a report of a subject entering multiple vehicles and also a home in St. Anthony near the intersection of County highways DW and W. Bystanders had identified the vehicle they believed belonged to the suspect and removed the keys from the ignition. Prior to the 911 call, the suspect entered an unlocked home and was confronted by a female resident. He then fled.

Just prior to the Sheriff's Office receiving the call, another one of the victims had trapped the suspect in the victim's vehicle. The bystander was attempting to detain him as another subject called 911. It is believed the suspect realized that bystanders had removed the keys to his get-away vehicle, and he was now trying to steal another vehicle.

The suspect was able to get out of the victim's vehicle and flee the area on foot again before deputies arrived on scene. Responding squads set up a perimeter and began to search his last known location.

During the investigation we determined that the vehicle the suspect initially drove to the scene was reported stolen out of the City of Chicago. Inside the vehicle there were several items of electronics which did not belong to the actual owner of the car. It was later determined the items were stolen and came from another jurisdiction north of Washington County.

After about 1.5 hours of searching, deputies were able to pick up his heat signature using a FLIR device near a barn. Contact was made with the 21-year-old Milwaukee man and he was taken into custody. He was covered from head to toe in manure. He remains in custody at the Sheriff's Office for burglary and obstructing (provided a false name) charges. He also had a felony warrant through Probation and Parole for a burglary charge. When he was arrested he was wearing a GPS bracelet.

Mrs. Kenneth Reed, left, state president of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs, is shown presenting the charter to the president of the Kewaskum group, Sherry Miller, on Jan. 12, 1968.

The Kewaskum junior Women's Club receives its charter on Jan. 12, 1967. Today, nearly 50 years later, the club is looking for new members to continue the club's long history of giving to the community.

Members of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club meet with Packers players after the Green Bay Packers Pro Football All-Stars play a basketball game against the Kewaskum Educators in 1968.

But the Junior Women's Club succeeded, and a Packers team consisting of Jim Weatherwax, Bob Skoronski, Ken Bowman, Elija Pitts, Doug Hart and Dick Capp played against the Kewaskum Educators.

The Packers won the contest, 45-41, but "were given a 'scare' by the bandy, 'slightly out-weighted' Educators, who appeared like a team of midgets against the giant Packers," according to a 1968 Kewaskum Statesman article.

The event raised more than $1,030, with a sold-out crowd of 1,200 people packing the Kewaskum Community High School gym.

Proceeds went to the club's scholarship funds and community affairs projects.

Since those early days, the club has held numerous other fundraisers. Some of these charity events included tour of homes, fashion shows, craft fairs, bake sales and murder mystery dinners.

Leaving Their Mark

Quite literally, there are signs that the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club has been in the area.

Four welcome signs that the club donated to the community greet people as they drive into town from each direction. One is located by the Kewaskum Fire Department, one on Highway H, one on State Road 28 near the Johnson Bus Company and one near the clinic on Fond du Lac Avenue.

Another main project the club participated in was providing pediatric emergency kits for fire and rescue departments in the area. In all, the club donated two pediatric kits for the Kewaskum Fire Department, two for the Campbellsport Fire Department, and one each for the fire departments in Fillmore, Kohlsville, Newburg and Jackson.

In addition, the club has donated more than $25,000 in scholarships for Kewaskum High School students.

At Kiwanis Park, the club provided playground equipment, the sun shelter at Kiwanis Park and the murals on the bathhouse.

The club provided a recycling center before recycling was popular, constructed a nature trail, held bicycle safety, stranger awareness, poison prevention, child abuse prevention programs, baby sitting clinics, sponsored appreciation lunches for village employees and for many years helped the West Bend Police Department with a county-wide car seat rental program. For children, the club has held Santa's mailbox, story hours at the library, Easter bunny luncheon and egg hunt. At area schools, club members have helped conduct ear testing, vision screening programs, immunization clinics, kindergarten screening and the child identification project (finger printing).

Club members have helped with March of Dimes and cerebral palsy community benefit drives, cystic fibrosis and St. Jude bike-a-thons and hygiene kits for Project Concern. They have visited local nursing homes, worked at blood drives and supported our soldiers during the Vietnam War with letters and gifts.

The club has donated to the Kewaskum Public Library, Kettle Kountry Kolors, the Kewaskum High School Booster Club, Kewaskum Post Prom, Helen Mears Middle School Art Contest, KEYS, Shop with a Cop, Operation Smile, Parents Anonymous, Friends of Abused Families, Kewaskum Cub Scouts, Washington County Youth Hockey, Youth and Family Project, MADD, DARE, AFS students, Habitat for Humanity, HOBY, hygiene bags and supplies to third world countries, Kewaskum Gridiron Football, Kewaskum 4-H, Kewaskum Booster Club, Kewaskum High School Auditorium, West Bend Tumbling Troupe, Kids Can, Camp Hope, Relay for Life, Washington County Fair Park, Village of Kewaskum, Kewaskum Historical Society, Washington County Humane Society, Riveredge Nature Center and Main Street Philanthropy.

"We have done some pretty big things for a small club," Martin said.

The Future

At the club's 40-year celebration nearly 10 years ago, Sherry Miller, charter president for the club, said that members have taken on projects "because it just needed to be done."

Many of the club's first members were stay-at-home moms or women who worked part time. Many, like Martin, joined the club to meet other people.

"When we came to town, we knew nobody, so it was a way for me to get to know people in the community and also families that maybe had children the same ages as ours," said Martin, whose children were 5 and 2 years old when they moved to Kewaskum in 1986. "Plus, being in the community as a business owner, it was very important to me that I give something back, and Kewaskum Juniors was a way to reach out in that regard."

Today, the club has a small membership. In order to continue the long-standing tradition of giving back to the community, the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club is seeking more members.

The Kewaskum Junior Women's Club meets the first Tuesday of every month, September through May 7 p.m. at the Kewaskum Municipal Annex Building, 1308 Fund du Lac Ave.

Continued From... Committee Eyes Improvements For Kewaskum School District Facilities

Some committee members voiced concerns that the drawings did not emphasize the needs in classrooms, particularly at the middle school.

So, Wolfert will return to the committee's next meeting on April 19 with alternative conceptual drawings, including one that converts the middle school into a two-story building, per the request of a committee member.

The goal is for the committee to reach a consensus at the April meeting on information that can be provided to create a precise survey that the district plans to send out to all homes in the district.

The survey will give direction on how to proceed with addressing the needs, which may include going to referendum. School districts in Wisconsin are required to go to referendum any time they borrow $1 million or more.

"Now is the time to consider a building project because the district is preparing to pay off its debt from when it built Kewaskum Elementary School in 1999," School District Superintendent James Smasal said.

"When that debt is paid off, to keep the tax rate from fluctuating way down or way up, it is commonsensical as well as being a good steward of the taxpayers' money, to take a look at what other needs we have across the district that rise to the level of asking the community to support addressing our facility needs through the referendum process," Smasal said.

There will be no change to the mill rate on the first $19 million potentially borrowed, based on phased financing over two years, each with 20-year amortizations.

If the district borrows

$24 million for the project, the mill rate will increase by 36 cents, raising annual taxes by $36 for property value of $100,000. That annual rate would be projected to increase $71 if the district borrows $29 million, and $105 if it were to borrow $34 million.

However, those numbers are based on rates that are a point and a half higher than current rates, so now is a good time for financing, School Board President Troy Hanson said.

Building Project Costs

The Kewaskum School District has not spent any tax money during the 2015-16 school year on the potential building project.

Last year, the district paid a total of $22,000 on the potential project out of the 2014-15 budget. The school board voted last May to pay the $14,000 price tag out of last year's budget to contract with Bray Architects. The district paid $8,000 last spring for the school perception survey that is slated to go out in about a month.

In comparison, Holy Trinity Catholic Church paid $20,000 for a feasibility study to construct a $2.5 million parish center this year in Kewaskum.

The school district conducted a similar school perception survey two years ago.

"What we gleaned from that survey really drives our strategic planning over the last two years, so it's been very helpful in giving us direction in what the community wanted us to work on," Smasal said.

That survey's results included things such as designating a communications director, updating the district website, creating higher expectations for teachers to keep online grade books up to date, incorporating social media communication and increasing technology resources for students.

For the potential building project, the district contracted with CD Smith Construction Services in August. The firm offers its services gratis until a building plan is approved, so no money has been spent there yet, Smasal said.

The only expense thus far this school year has been a Long Range Planning Committee field trip to Berlin and Lomira, and Bray Architects paid the bus expenses for that, Smasal said.

"We truly appreciate committee members taking extra time out of their busy schedules to tour and become informed about this building process," Smasal said.

Long Range Planning Committee

The committee, which is made up of people from Kewaskum, Farmington, Wayne and Washington County, considered how and when the buildings had been constructed and looked at life expectancies for building infrastructure, such as plumbing, HVAC and electrical equipment.

After touring the district's facilities last fall, the committee determined that the most pressing needs are at Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School.

At those two schools, the expected life span has come and gone on HVAC systems and lighting is not energy efficient, according to committee reports. Committee members also would like band and chorus rooms to be enlarged.

In the middle school, classrooms were built in the early 1970s, when schools were utilizing open-concept classrooms.

Rather than constructing walls, partitions were erected, so now there is no soundproofing between rooms.

The high school has similar soundproofing needs, as well as outdated labs and technology education space issues. In addition, the school lost gym space when the gymnasium was converted to an auditorium about 10 years ago.

After determining needs, committee members visited schools in Berlin and Lomira to see what other districts offer.

The committee then considered 57 options of ways to meet Kewaskum's building needs. Those 57 options were whittled down to 24, and then to six.

The four conceptual drawings that the committee looked at last week were different versions of one of those six options.

The committee will continue to look at options to make a recommendation on which way to proceed.

"Nothing has been set in stone," Smasal said.

The committee is expected to finalize priorities in April for a survey to be mailed out by early May to all homes in the district. The goal is to receive input from throughout the communities on how to address the needs identified by the Long Range Planning Committee.

UPS Honors Wisconsin Drivers For 25 Years Of Safe Driving

United Parcel Service announced that 33 elite drivers from Wisconsin are among 1,613 newly inducted worldwide into the Circle of Honor, an honorary organization for UPS drivers who have achieved 25 or more years of accident-free driving. One of the drivers is Kewaskum's own Brian Banczak, his UPS work location is Elm Grove. Wisconsin boasts 139 active Circle of Honor drivers with a combined 3,797 years of accident-free driving. Thomas Moench of Janesville is the state's senior-most safe driver, with 39 years of accident-free driving under his belt. There are 1,801 total UPS drivers in Wisconsin. Globally, 8,703 active UPS drivers are members of the Circle of Honor. Collectively they've racked up more than 245,000 years and more than 5.3 billion safe miles during their careers. That's enough miles to travel to Mars and back 19 times. "My thanks go to all of them for their dedication and focus and for the countless lives they've saved," said Trayce Parker, president, UPS Northern Plains District. "Their attention to detail has kept them safe and has helped improve public safety." Globally, the most seasoned UPS Circle of Honor driver is Thomas Camp of Livonia, Mich., with 53 years of driving without an accident. Ronald McKnight of Bronx, N.Y., is next in line with 47 years of safe driving. Sixty-six others have logged at least 40 years without an accident. UPS's 102,000 drivers are among the safest on the roads, logging more than 3 billion miles a year and delivering more than 4 billion packages safely. Founded in 1907, UPS has a rich history of safety and training. The company issued its first driver handbook in 1917 and began recognizing safe drivers in 1923. In 1928, UPS recognized its first five-year safe driver, Ray McCue, with UPS founder Jim Casey presenting him a gold and platinum watch. UPS formally established its safe driving honor program in 1928.

The Ko-Thi Company performed at Kewaskum Elementary School about 13 years ago. Gerhartz remembered the performance and approached the PTO about having the company return for a residency.

"It's nice for the kids to be more involved and more invested in it than just watching somebody, so I think that is a really good experience for them. Most of the kids are not going to experience something like this again," Gerhartz said.

The Ko-Thi Company was formed in 1969 to preserve and perform traditional African-American and Caribbean dance and drumming. The organization offers year-round dance and drumming lessons for children and adults.

The dance company performs twice a year in Alverno College's Pitman Theater and has toured both nationally and internationally.

The company has performed at the Mitsui Festival in Tokyo, Japan; the Harbor Festival in Toronto, Canada; and the Brooklyn Academy of Music's DANCE AFRICA in New York. In addition, the Ko-Thi Dance Company has performed in Minnesota, Illinois, California, New York, Florida, Ohio and Delaware.

But for Kewaskum students, the Ko-Thi Dance Company was more than just about learning a new culture.

"The kids had a lot of fun," Gerhartz said.

Fifth-Graders Graduate From D.A.R.E. Program

By Anne Trautner

Fifth-graders at Kewaskum Elementary School graduated from the D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program on Friday, March 18.

"Every year I tell the students that even though you are graduating from D.A.R.E. today, it really is just the beginning of D.A.R.E., because now you are going to go out of elementary school and you are going to middle school and onto high school, where you will experience bullying, you will be tempted to use tobacco, drugs and alcohol. Hopefully what you have learned here will give you a base to make those decisions on," Kewaskum Police Chief Thomas Bishop said.

The New Fane Sportsman's Club donated $500 to purchase books and supplies for the school's D.A.R.E. program. In addition, the Kewaskum Elementary School PTO purchased D.A.R.E. shirts for the students.

"Those two programs together really support the program," Bishop said.

Kewaskum Police Officer Barry Granrath has been teaching the 12-week D.A.R.E. program to students at Kewaskum Elementary School since January.

The Kewaskum Police Department also teaches the D.A.R.E. program to fifth-grade students at Holy Trinity and St. Lucas schools in Kewaskum.

The program teaches students not only how to resist drug abuse, but covers bullying and positive decision making, Bishop said.

"Overall, you get a uniformed officer into the classroom to interact with young students and shape their minds in a positive manner, and I think that is valuable," Bishop said.

Roy Diblik Talks Perennial Plant Communities: The Know Maintenance Approach

Internationally known plantsman Roy Diblik will speak on Saturday, April 9, at UW-Extension, located on the UW-Sheboygan Campus (5 University Drive).

The presentation begins at 10 a.m. and will be held in Room 5020. The program, sponsored by Sheboygan County UW-Extension Master Gardeners, is open to the public and free-of-charge.

The subject of Diblik's talk will be "Perennial Plant Communities: The Know Maintenance Approach." Diblik's thoughtful way to design perennial plantings welcomes fresh contemporary styles and plant diversity integrated with responsible maintenance concerns. By using a careful selection of regionally dependable perennials and native plants, endless natural plant patterns can be constructed. He will discuss the developing partnership between the gardeners, the plants and nature, always knowing that beauty is in the doing.

Diblik is co-owner of Northwind Perennial Farms located in Burlington. He has been growing traditional and native perennials since 1978. His garden designs emphasize highly aesthetic, sustainable plant communities for all seasons, while reducing maintenance through design. Diblik's recent work includes design of the gardens at the Louis Sullivan Arch and the Art Institute of Chicago and the lake-side plantings at the Oceanarium at the Shedd Aquarium. Future projects include redesigning the prairie garden at Ball Seed headquarters and a new contemporary garden at the Klehm Arboretum in Rockford. His new book "The Know Maintenance Perennial Garden" highlights his perennial gardening practice.

For more information about the program, contact UW-Extension at (920) 459-5904 or Sue Mathews at (920) 458-1848.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Victory Of Easter

Easter is good news. In the Holy Bible, First Corinthians 15:51-58, the apostle Paul reveals an amazing truth: for the Christian death is not the end of life but the threshold of immortality! Just as the Lord Jesus Christ arose from the grave, thereby conquering sin and death, so shall those who have put their trust in Him be raised to everlasting life.

Because the Savior lives and has promised, "I will come again, and receive you unto myself" (John 14:3) the Christian can face the trials of life and even death with the sure hope of a glorious future in heaven.

The day is coming when the Lord Jesus shall descend from heaven with a shout of victory. At his call those Christians who already have died will rise from the grave to meet Him. Those who are still alive will ascend with them in triumphant procession to be with their Lord forever (I Thessalonians 4:13-18).

Each spring God renews His promise of life. The trees burst with fresh new buds and leaves. The birds return with joyful sound. Nature seems to shout "Jesus Christ has risen from the dead and He is alive today. His resurrection is God's personal invitation of eternal life. "If you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved." Romans 10:9.

Dear Friends,

Growth In Kewaskum Area

The last several years have been an amazing time for us.

Kewaskum is 45 minutes north of Milwaukee. In these last several years, we have been experiencing growth in our parish family, growth in the enrollment of our parish school, and growth in our Religious Education program.

New Parish Center Planned

We've felt the need to expand for several years, but last spring an anonymous donor gave us the incentive we needed.

With a generous gift of $750,000, we started to pull together our best people and ideas and came up with three pressing and exciting projects:

•A new Parish Center with modern gym, café, kitchen and parish offices

2) Improvements to our church and school

3) The replenishing of our Angel Scholarship Fund to aid children and families in their desire to attend a Catholic school

Generosity By Many People Throughout The Archdiocese

In addition to the anonymous

donor, we have many friends and alumni throughout the Archdiocese and the country that deserve our thanks:

•Archbishop Listewski, the staff of the Archdiocesan Offices and the many advisors who encouraged and guided us on our way.

•Our We Believe Steering Committee of 60 leaders and 250 volunteers who implemented our We Believe Capital Campaign.

•Our Parish Center Building Committee who have been working diligently in the design and refinement of our Parish Center plans.

•Our parish family, our alumni through the country and the friends of Holy Trinity throughout the Archdiocese who have supported us with prayers and financial gifts.

$2.8+ Million Pledged to Date!

We had three financial goals in our We Believe Capital Campaign:

Goal 1 – Celebration Goal – $1.75 million,

Goal 2 – Challenge Goal – $2 million, and

Goal 3 – Transformation Goal – $2.5 million.

We have surpassed Goal 3 with $2.8+ million pledged to date.

Celebration Sunday, April 17th

We intend to begin construction of our new Parish Center the first week in April. And we'll celebrate the start of construction of our Parish Center on Sunday morning, April 17. Programs and breakfasts will follow our 7:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Masses. All parishioners, alumni and friends throughout the Archdiocese are invited to join us for these Celebrations.

With God's blessings given through many people we are now seeing our dreams come true.

Dear Editor,

Hello! I am Craig Staffin and I am a current member of the Kewaskum School Board seeking re-election on Tuesday, April 5th.

I am running for school board because I feel the most valuable asset to any community is the strength of its schools, they form the basis of the social fabric within a community. Additionally our schools are an integral part in why families choose to move to our community over other surrounding communities.

Keeping to that belief I believe it is the most effective use of my professional knowledge to better the schools within Kewaskum to attract new families and provide the same or better educational possibilities of children who attend private ivy league schools.

I also have a deeply vested interest in the quality of our school system locally as I have a daughter in first grade, a son who will be entering 4K next year and a third child who is five months old. This interest will remain for at least the next 18 years as I see my children graduate from Kewaskum High School and begin their journey through life.

I have worked in the information technology industry for the past 15 years with a majority of that time working with school districts and colleges from around the world on integrating technology and distance learning into the classroom to provide our students experiences they would never be able to experience in a typical classroom. This has allowed me to build relationships with some of the brightest minds across the country that are truly changing the way we think about education.

My most recent project involved one of the largest school districts in the state of Wisconsin, implementing a state of the art distance learning solution to allow them to conduct classes with students and teachers in mainland China. This has opened the door to students now spending an entire semester in China learning not only the language but being exposed to so many life experiences that we could never teach from a textbook.

Lastly, since joining the board, I have spent a considerable amount of time on the compensation committee, policy committee, and most recently long range planning committee's. This has allowed me to work with our amazing teachers, administrators, and fellow board members to enhance almost all aspects of the districts policies, financial standing and future looking stance and direction of the district.

I would be greatly honored and humbled to receive your vote on Tuesday April 5th. I look forward to serving the district of Kewaskum for another three years! I am always open for questions or comments so please reach out via phone or email: (P) 262-613-6003 (e) craig@staffin.org.

Sincerely,
Craig Staffin

Dear Taxpayer,

Get ready, get set, pay — somewhere between $19 million and $80 million of your hard-earned money on top of one of the highest tax burdens in the United States.

I believe in order to appease the people who represent the select ad-hoc long-range planning committee, a referendum will need to land around $45 million. It is always easier to spend other people's money when you don't feel the pain. This is a result of past and present school administrations and the current school board's failure to do their job and rein spending to acceptable levels. Additionally, deferred costs verses actual costs are the truth behind the correction for what has been spent so far with the referendum planning firms. The only way we'll know this truth is when the referendum fails, when actual costs hit the budget, clarifying my $100,000 belief.

Also in my last letter, with the total cost of insurance for family coverage approximately $17,628.96 annually, I rounded the cost the staff member pays for their insurance ($1,628.96) to the nearest one hundred dollars, or $1,600. The district pays the other $16,000. Well here is another number that might anger them, $250. That is the cost of the deductible, usually part of what a 'Cadillac plan' is.

When was the last time you saw that on your insurance plan? These numbers are important because they play a significant role in why our buildings are failing and routine maintenance is delayed.

Administration will tell you (again) they have no money, simply is not true. With the passage of ACT 10 the school district like any other business, can now charge what they need to for health care premiums. Our board has chosen to maintain that lavish benefit of $1,600. This comes at a cost, as average worker annual premiums contribution is $4,955 (The Henry J Kaiser Family Foundation), a difference of $3,326.04 per member on the district's family plan, approximately 136 eligible professional and support personnel. The total spent to reduce the premium to the current level costs our district $452,341.44 annually! The decision to continue to spend that amount on lavish health care contributes to our facilities crumbling right before our eyes, the cost for this behavior. Next they'll want you to support a referendum? $452,341.44 every year can fix a lot of facility issues!

Elections and votes have consequences, unless you vote at the annual school board meeting as your vote means absolutely nothing then. The Kewaskum district currently has a majority board who I believe votes very liberally to tax and spend. The school board is employed by the residents to act on behalf of the residents, one could say as a checks and balance system. But what we have is a majority group rubber-stamping everything administration proposes! They do not hold the administration accountable and they are not responsive to the very people who put them in office. They nod their head like bobble heads with yes votes without question. Are they looking out for you and me? I don't think so.

Objectivity is needed on the board. We don't have that now, which is why it is important to elect Tim Ramthun and Bradley Peterson to the Kewaskum board of education. These two guys will ask the tough questions and hold people accountable. Both will be responsive to your needs and concerns without flipping the smoke and mirrors switch, unlike current individuals in roles that require leadership, now lacking.

Be informed; get engaged into what's going on and what lies ahead for our community. If you hear concern from anyone about any candidate, ask the person making the accusation for detail. For example, a comment was recently made supporting a seated incumbent/candidate, suggesting voting otherwise would take our district backwards. Really? Well, the person saying this works at the Food Pantry and that program that was approved for by the same seated incumbent/candidate to be funded by taxpayer dollars when it originally started, including the building it is now housed in! Mr. Ramthun made sure that the injustice of that vote and action was corrected, as the taxpayers no longer fund it. They never should have! To me, this type of board member oversight and correction is what moves our district forward, not backwards. Let's move our district and community forward again by making sure we vote for Mr. Ramthun and Mr. Petersen.

Michael T. Kunkel

Dear Editor and Community Members,

My name is Mark Sette and I am a member of the Kewaskum School Board. Recently, some community members have written to the editor regarding the upcoming school board elections and have been advocating for change.

I respectfully disagree with the majority of the reasons those individuals have cited as their basis for change as the current board and administration are doing incredibly positive things for the students and our community. The reality of the situation is that the community currently has a board and an administrative team that has a unified vision for the students and the community.

I am the newest member of the board and I was not witness to the problems of the past. Many have commented that those problems of past boards were due to personal agendas and inability to reach compromise. Those issues do not exist within the current board. We all have the best interest of the students and the community at the forefront of our minds and we let those guiding principles be the basis of our decisions.

This, along with our leadership team being the strongest it has ever been, makes for a harmonious situation where we agree on many issues and therefore don't argue about them. We aren't just "going along" as some community members have complained. We're on the same page.

There have been criticisms that the current board is not mindful of the taxpayer's dollar. We have proven that we are very financially responsible. We consistently run a balanced budget, tax bills across the district have been down, our mill rate is well below the state average ($9.39 versus $10.24), and our short-term borrowing was $1 million dollars less this year ($1.3 million versus $2.3) saving the district interest payments. This is a result of having the healthiest fund balance (amount of money on reserve to pay bills until we receive our payments from the state) this district has had.

Our overall financial picture is yet another amazingly positive look at what your current board and administrative team is doing for this community. We are not perfect. There is room for improvement in every organization and we are no different. We will continue to strive to be even better.

Beyond the financials and many other complex issues facing our district, we need to look at what is truly the most important aspect of what we do: helping our students and staff achieve these amazing accomplishments. There is not enough space in this column to talk about them all.

The initiatives of the administrative staff have significantly increased student learning and the results are showing in test scores. Students across the district are being recognized for personal and group accomplishments. Most recently, Farmington Elementary was one of only 11 schools statewide to be selected as both a Title I High-Achieving and High-Progress school.

Last but not least, the school board and administrative team have been involved in a community based long-range planning committee for the past year to take a look at the long-term needs of the school district and the community. The focus has been to address the needs of the middle and high school facilities.

Like everything else we do, our guiding principles for this project are grounded in the best interests of the students, the district, and the community. We are working towards solutions that address our needs with a sharp eye on the costs to taxpayers.

All of these positive things are being accomplished because we are working together in the best interest of our community. Please re-elect incumbents Mary Miller and Craig Staffin so we can continue what we've started.

Sincerely,
Mark Sette

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Community,

Spring elections occur Tuesday, April 5th. From local to State Supreme Court and a presidential primary, your vote this year is very important. On the ballot for the Kewaskum School Board, I am a renewed candidate honored to provide voters a choice. I look forward to serving with promise that the board will work for the satisfaction of all.

Is goodness occurring within our district? Absolutely, the same as it has in years past and I am confident it will continue for years to come. I praise those primarily responsible for this repeating success — our educators, para-professionals, custodial, food service, secretaries, and maintenance personnel that work in the facilities and classrooms every day, directly impacting student education. They are amazing people and I am very proud of them all for what they do and how well they do it. Care in ensuring their continued success is required.

As a board candidate, I recognize concerns within our district too, issues you should be aware of and concerned with. I am dedicated to address these matters when elected: per agenda posting(s), the district has frequent and ongoing administrative, personnel, and student issues; teacher losses occur regularly at a rate I feel is more like an exodus, including respected administrators departing at the beginning and end of this school year; the unprecedented 2014 resignations of two seated board members months apart; the continuation of a dated legal matter that was reported as resolved by administration in 2014, a situation I also believe to be a conflict of interest with a firm representative and administration; more than one recent KHS graduate I am aware of needing to take remedial coursework in order to be college eligible; fear reflected by students, staff, parents and even grandparents from direct feedback that they are afraid to say or report anything constructive because of fear they, their family member, or their job will be retaliated against by administration or specific board members; bullying and harassment from those same retaliators who manage by fear; your public voice and first amendment right has been lost with the conditions placed on public comments at board meetings as well as public participation in standing board committees; specific board member behavior that has inspired my commitment that our district will have background checks performed on future board candidates be made public before elections; an evasive and questionable agenda posting of "administration compensation" reported simply in minutes as "motion to approve as discussed in closed session"...

Current candidates Mary Miller and Craig Staffin have contributed to these issues by their actions/inactions, which should be unacceptable to voters. Overdue in action, please also know that I have requested the Department of Justice investigate a dated issue to confirm an inappropriate (and illegal?) voting issue for district employee insurance that would allow Mrs. Miller's family to receive money from an alternative benefit condition.

Have you ever wondered why a candidate with character, conviction, integrity and courage, who champions the voice of We the People, is attacked? A local group that formed using terms like quality, education and students, actually works to vilify a candidate they don't see part of the status quo, someone not a puppet. They work alongside spouses of specific board members and chosen district employees to assassinate that candidate's character, falsely accusing the candidate for not supporting educators and other fabrications, in order to garner votes for their preferred candidates. This same holds true for specific board members who forgot what they were elected for, who pander to these people, groups, and a controlling and insecure administrator, in order to maintain that status quo for personal agendas.

My understanding of the board's purpose is to govern through policy and be the interface between the providers of public education revenue (taxpayers), and the spenders of these revenue dollars (administration). To do so effectively, board members must be objective, engaged with questions and possess a genuine interest to do the work of being properly informed to vote objectively, not from being told how to vote as a bobble head.

Did your school taxes go up? Mine did 1.6 percent after being told they'd go down 3.03 percent at last August's 2015 annual meeting. The 4.63 percent swing in expectation begged the question, resulting in the superintendent informing me it was the Department of Revenue's fault for vouchers. What the superintendent failed to confess was that charging the difference for vouchers is a questionable action by administration, quietly passed through to the taxpayer. This matter requires further research. The superintendent also failed to address that the $10,703,229 combined tax levy the voters approved at August's 2015 annual meeting was increased to $11,122,983 for presentation to the board for final approval in October, a $419,754.00 increase?! Seems excessive given there are approximately 175 vouchers in question overall? Deceptive practice and failed communication to the public must be addressed.

As a renewed candidate for the Kewaskum School Board, I look forward to returning conservative purpose and function to the board so an efficient school operation, quality in education, fiscal responsibility, and investment return for taxing residents is met.

To Kewaskum School District Residents:

"True education enables us to love life and opens us to the fullness of life." - Pope Francis

Each week you have been reading about the accomplishments occurring within the Kewaskum School District. These demonstrate the hard work and support provided to and by students, educators, administration, support personnel, school board, parents, and community.

Leadership concepts are learned through each student's participation in the classroom and extra-curricular activities. Kewaskum School District personnel continue to depend on parental and community involvement to also exemplify leadership.

I am proud to be a resident of our school district, as well as to be currently serving on the school board. We all need to remind ourselves that we are preparing our youth to succeed in whatever career path each chooses to follow.

At this time it is unnerving to me that 20 re-election signs belonging to Craig Staffin and myself have been stolen from private properties. This type of activity is not indicative of our community.

I thank those who support the educational efforts and progress our youth have been experiencing over the years and will continue to experience.

Mary B. Miller

Dear Editor,

What is the function and responsibility of the school board? I may be old fashioned but I always thought the board was supposed to represent the taxpayer to oversee monies coming into the school district and to make sure how and where it was properly being spent. I also thought that policies were created as needed and used for these purposes to follow by all, and that every student was properly prepared for society after graduation.

Concerned two years ago after the board election, I wrote on paper, retaining it for display on my refrigerator, the following concerns I felt would take place after that election: 1) one or maybe even three board members will resign (two did), 2) board meetings will go back to once per month because members would not want to do the work (they did the following month), 3) Hanson will be president, 4) the district would not be run by the board but by administration (evident more every day), 5) the superintendent will plan and push for a referendum, and 6) property taxes would likely to go up (they did for me this year). All these concerns have become reality and I am most concerned the district will continue to decline. It is already happening and has been quietly happening since.

Why don't people vote? Only 10 percent did two years ago. That means the 10 percent dictate to all how things will be for our tax dollars and students as 90 percent don't seem to care how the school spends their tax money and/or who's in charge or what's really going on.

We need the right people representing us on the school board, those with desire to do right that don't cause conflict with their personal situations, agendas, or status. Every chance citizens of this community, state, and country can vote, they should. By not voting, you can be assured that mediocrity will dictate the result, and that will be bad for both taxpayers and students for years to come. If you've ever been concerned about politics or politicians, your participation in voting can help address your concerns. VOTE!

I believe, the school board has been sidetracked for two years. It's never too late to help correct that so please take 15 minutes of your time on April 5 and VOTE for Kewaskum's only board of education conservative candidates Tim Ramthun and Brad Peterson. It's time to get back on track. Thank you.

Dolly Ramthun

Dear Editor and Community:

You know they always say there's no place like home, I could not agree more with that statement. I have lived in this community all of my life, I went to school here for 13 years, I don't know anywhere but here.

I have strong ties to this community and the people within. This community has and always will have a place in my heart.

I have seen the ups and the downs the greats and not so greats. After the 2014 spring election however our board of education is in a downward spiral in my opinion. We lost our conservative movement.

I feel we now have a board that doesn't listen to the people. For example, in the fall of 2014 (at the annual meeting) the community voted down the proposed budget. Guess what this board did?

Passed it anyway.

Member of our community wanted to repeal and replace common core. Guess what this board did? Left it in tact.

If you go to a board of education meeting you will see that you only can speak to the board about what is on the agenda. However it seems that at the last board meeting they let an employee of the district talk about an item that wasn't on the agenda. Why can certain people break the rules but have no consequences? Why did Mary Miller and Craig Staffin just sit back, watch, and not say anything?

Did you know Mary Miller signed the Scott Walker recall petition? Well she did. That is not conservative leadership. Mary Miller has been on this board for many, many years. What has she accomplished?

We are still losing high quality educators, common core is still in place, we continue to give raises to overpaid administrators, and cannot afford to give teachers raises. What kind of leadership is that?

I will challenge the status quo and establishment which has been protected by Mary Miller and Craig Staffin. I will fight for the teachers, support staff, and custodians. I believe administrators deserve raises but not if others cannot receive them.

This election is not just about one person. This election is about an entire community! You have two votes and there are two conservatives running. I ask for your vote on April 5th.

Let's make Kewaskum great again!

Sincerely,
Bradley A. Petersen

Dear Editor,

Have you noticed lately?

Good things are really getting done in our school district! Just read the Kewaskum Statesman or go to a school board meeting. It takes a team of players to accomplish all of this: parents, teachers, students, administrators... and school board members.

Two school board members of this team are up for reelection this spring, Mary Miller and Craig Staffin. These two bring integrity, efficiency, knowledge, effectiveness, and a willingness to work together with a focus on the education of our children.

The Kewaskum School District is moving forward! Re-elect Craig Staffin and Mary Miller on April 5

WCA And WCHA Respond To Wisconsin Department Of Transportation Comments On Statewide Road Conditions

A recent inventory conducted by the Wisconsin County Highway Association (WCHA) found that a mile of county road constructed today will not be reconstructed for another 196 years. This is based on the average number of miles reconstructed in the last five years.

The inventory asked all 72 County Highway Commissioners three simple questions:

How many miles of county roads do you have under your responsibility?

How many miles of county roads have you reconstructed in the last five years?

How many miles of county roads have you resurfaced in the last five years?

The survey also shows that very few miles of county roads are being resurfaced each year. Based on the data from the inventory, county residents will have to wait 56 years just to have their road resurfaced.

Under best practices, a county road is generally engineered to last 40-50 years and should be resurfaced every 20-25 years.

This stands in direct contrast to a statement yesterday from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation. The release states that 91 percent of the local road system in Wisconsin is in "fair or above" condition. Unfortunately, this analysis is, at best, a poor interpretation of the data that is provided to WisDOT or at worst, just wrong.

A simple drive over many of these local roads will lead drivers to this same conclusion that Wisconsin's road system is deteriorating.

"We all know that it is unrealistic to expect a road to last almost 200 years," said Dan Fedderly, WCHA Executive Director. "We simply cannot be giving the public or our Legislative leaders, who are responsible for adequate transportation funding, a false impression by recklessly stating that 91% of local roads are in 'fair or above' condition," concluded Fedderly.

The Wisconsin County Highway Association and the Wisconsin Counties Association (WCA) represent all of the county highway departments in Wisconsin. These county highway departments have a unique responsibility in the nation in that they are responsible for conducting all maintenance on the State Trunk Highway system in Wisconsin, as well as maintenance and construction on the entire County Trunk Highway System throughout the state.

This unique responsibility, taken on by Wisconsin's county highway departments, provides an opportunity for our members to have very strong knowledge and firsthand experience of the state and county highway system conditions throughout Wisconsin.

Kewaskum High School senior Brandon Thull plans to play football at the University of South Dakota in the fall.

Thull Is Heading West... To South Dakota

By Judy Harlow

Next year at this time, Kewaskum High's star running back Brandon Thull will be starting spring football practice at the University of South Dakota and hopefully pushing for a spot in the Coyote's backfield for the 2017 season.

The Coyotes open camp next week, and while Thull is still rehabing after suffering a torn ACL in his final game against Catholic Memorial, he now knows he will definitely be in Vermillion next year as a member of the SD football team.

Instead of preparing to play against Ripon or Plymouth or Campbellsport, Thull will be learning about Missouri Valley teams from Northern Iowa, South Dakota State, Western Illinois and North Dakota State, where Eric Perkins, another KHS product, is a returns specialist. Perkins previously held the KHS rushing record until Thull gained 2,161 yards this past fall — which was eighth best in the state — and 5,271 for his three-year career as an Indian.

The week after his January surgery, two assistant coaches from SD visited Thull at his home, and just recently, the family made the nine-hour trip to the school. Thull liked what he saw and said "yes" to starting out as a preferred walk-on. "It's a real nice campus. The dorms are nice, and you get your own room," Thull said, adding more important is the fact SD has a good nursing program, which is what he wants to major in.

Concerning being a walk-on, Thull explained, "You don't get any scholarship until you start playing ... but you are on the team."

That's just fine for Thull, who has confidence in his abilities and that he will return to 100 percent after his rehab is completed. "Right now, I'm at full extension for bending and straightening," he said, adding the next step is running. "Usually that comes about the 12-week mark," which will be soon, and Thull said, "It will be exciting to be able to do that again."

When asked if there is a possibility he will get to play this fall, Thull said, "It's hard to say. There's a chance, but I try not to push anything." Until he is 100 percent, Thull keeps up with his conditioning, takes care of his school work and has a part-time job at Drexel in Campbellsport, doing office work. He is hoping this summer to be working there full time.

Thull wasn't certain how South Dakota found out about him. Perhaps it was the video of his electrifying, 49-yard touchdown run vs. Berlin last year. "I had contact from Northern Iowa and North Dakota State," Thull said, but did not visit either of those campuses. He was also contacted by NCAA III teams in Wisconsin but really wanted to take his skills to a bigger stage. South Dakota competes in The Summit League of the NCAA's Division 1 Football Championship Subdivision, one step below NCAA I. The school has a new coach this season, Bob Nielson, who has ties to Wisconsin in that he coached at Ripon College for two years and UW-Eau Claire for three seasons.

Thull said it's nice to know where he will call home the next four or five years. "It feels pretty good to have that process behind you," he said, but he is still disappointed the knee surgery cancelled his plans for his senior season in track. "Yeah, it's hard not to be able to run track anymore," he said. Kewaskum certainly will miss his speed and skills in the sprints, relays and long jump this spring.

Still, the real focus is on football, which has always been Thull's favorite sport and earned him the opportunity to play for South Dakota.

Jason Piittmann, KHS Athletic Director and Thull's football coach, has made a formal announcement on Thull's signing will be made in the near future.

Coaches Tab Witek For Second Team Honors

By Judy Harlow

His statistics were as good as most of the others, but somehow six-foot, three-inch Kewaskum High senior forward Charlie Witek didn't make the first unit of the All-East Central boys basketball team that was announced recently.

"I thought he should have made the first team. It was disappointing" KHS coach Don Gruber commented while releasing information on the team, which included two players from the Division 2 state champion and the East Central Conference champion Waupun team, two from the EC runner-up Ripon Tigers, one from third place Kettle Moraine Lutheran and one from Winneconne.

Those who followed the new conference this winter would not be surprised four of the picks were unanimous. Waupun's Colton Holman, a 6-7 senior center (12.6 points per game) and 6-4 freshman Marcus Domask (16.8 ppg.) were two of the players who received first-place votes from all the coaches. They were joined by Ripon's dynamic duo, 6-8 Ben Vander Plas and 6-2 sharp-shooting guard Luke Loewe.

Vander Plas was the leading scorer in the new league, averaging 20.6 per game, while Loewe, who quit the team for a couple weeks early in the season, scored at a 19.4 point per game clip.

Rounding off the first team were KML senior Mac Kneuppel (17.8 ppg) and Winneconne's 6-5 senior Jake Ellis, who scored 17 ppg with 8.1 rebounds per game.

Witek, a three-year regular for the Indians, averaging 16.2 ppg in EC play and 17.4 ppg overall, was one of five players on the second unit that included some pretty impressive players.

"We're in a tough conference," Gruber said. "There are a lot of good players in the league."

Commenting on Witek's efforts, the coach said, "I think Charlie had a great year. He got to 1,000 points for Kewaskum High, and he modified his game to the benefit of the team."

Witek shot 57 percent from the floor this year, and Gruber said, "That's phenomenal," especially considering teams were keying on him.

On the other end of the court, "He played 'D.' and he rebounded well, 5.5 rebounds in the conference, contributed two assists per game with 1.5 steals per game, according to Gruber.

Others selected to the second unit were: Jordan McGinnis, senior guard, Waupun; Cody Kuhn, junior guard, Plymouth; Ed Muench, junior guard, Ripon; Owen Theune, sophomore forward, Waupun; and Tanner Ramthun, senior guard, Campbellsport.

Kewaskum's 6-5 junior guard Brady Hanson received honorable mention in the balloting. "Brady had a real good season," Gruber said. "He shot 55 percent from the floor (in conference) and 33 percent on three-pointers," the coach said, reporting Hanson scored 13.3 points per game with 7.5 rebounds and 2.5 assists. He also led the team in three-pointers in conference play with 24 in the 14 conference games.

"I thought Brady made great strides from last year to this," the coach said.

On March 15, coaches, players and parents gathered for the year-end basketball awards banquet. Witek was named as the MVP of the team, according to Gruber, who said this wasn't just because he was the leading scorer but "more for his team play."

Sam Schlosser won the free throw award. The senior guard hit 35 of 51 tries from the line for a 68 percent clip.

Senior forward Michael Prochnow was presented the Coaches Award. "Mike led our team in assists (89), and he was our leader on the court," Gruber said.

Brady Hanson was named as the team's top defender. "He deserved that," Gruber said. "He always defended the other team's best player."

Letters were presented to all 13 players on the varsity, including the following with their point totals for the season: Seniors — Witek, 401 points; Schlosser, 196; Prochnow, 176; Josh Backer, 37; Jason Hanson, 43; Devyn, 27; and Trent Griesemer, 21; Juniors — Brady Hanson, 288; Nick Buechel, 3; Nick Ellenbecker, 3; Tyler Schellinger, 3; Nick Beine, 2; Keaton Flanders, 0.

Hanson, Watzig Shine In Track Opener

— Kewaskum Indians Finish Seventh Of 23 Teams

By Judy Harlow

After just one indoor meet, new Kewaskum High track coach Kris Evans knows he has some good athletes in the field events. Competing at the 43rd annual Oshkosh High School Invitational on March 17, the Indians had two first places and finished seventh overall in the Division 2 competition of the event which took place at the Kolf Sports Center.

Seniors Jason Hanson and Ben Watzig were the Indian winners. Hanson cleared six feet, four inches (6-4) to win the high jump in a tie-breaker with Omro's Jacob Lautenschlager, while Watzig tossed the shot put 47-09 for a win in that event. The two contributed 20 of Kewaskum's 41.50 points.

Kewaskum's other points came from its pole vaulting trio of Miguel Gonzales, Tony Leister and Kyle Pamperin, who finished fourth, fifth and tie for sixth with respective jumps of 10-6, 10-6 and 10-0.

Jason Hanson tied the school (indoor) record at 6-4," Evans said praising Watzig's efforts and noting, "I was happy with them (the vaulters). I think they've got the tools. They've just got to put it together."

Freedom, a perennial power in the event, came away with the team title, piling up 74 points, two ahead of Little Chute (72) and five in front of Omro (69). Berlin, which like Kewaskum is in the East Central Conference, finished fourth with 49.50 and Luxemburg-Casco wound up fifth at 44.50. There were 23 schools in the D-2 competition.

The closest any of the runners came to scoring was junior hurdler Derrek Brock, who was clocked in 9 and .47 seconds (9.47) in the 60 meter hurdles.

His time was the 10th best of the event. He missed advancing to the finals by .27 of a second.

The 4x400 meter relay wound up in 13th place out of 23 schools. Jakob Hrica, John May, Cade Peterson and James Villanueva combined for a time of 3:54.23. Evans said Villanueva is a freshman and has never run track before but will help the team this spring. May and Peterson are sophomores while Hrica is a junior.

Sophomore Justin Reck was clocked in 5:14.63 in the 1,600 meter run, good for 18th in the field of 46 runners.

This is Kewaskum's only indoor meet of the year. The Indians now have three weeks to prepare for the Oostburg Invitational on Friday, April 8.

The KHS girls will open their season on Tuesday, Match 29 at the Oshkosh meet for small schools.

It's On To State For KIWC Trio

By Judy Harlow

By virtue of their first or second-place finishes in Wisconsin Wrestling Federation Kids Folkstyle Qualifier hosted by Lakeland College on March 19, three members of the Kewaskum Indian Wrestling Club have punched their tickets to the WWF Kids Folkstyle State Tournament.

Nicholas Deheck, Mason Pomeroy and James Racer will all be wrestling at the Allient Energy Center Coliseum Center in Madison this Friday and Saturday, March 25-26. Only those winning weight classes or taking seconds advance to state.

"It was a pretty good day," Justin Rhoads, one of the KIWC coaches, said Sunday. "A lot of people got close."

Deheck was the lone winner of the three. He caught a bit of a break as there were just six wrestlers in his 78-pound weight class for boys born in 2005, but he still got three matches and won them all.

First, Deheck outscored Justin Klinkner of X-Factor Elite by a score of 9-2, and in the semis, he used a first period takedown toward a 3-1 victory over Chase Vander Linden of the Kaukauna Grappling Ghosts. In the finals, Deheck didn't waste any time against Dodgeand's Trevor Firari, pinning him in a quick 1:21.

"He was looking tough," Rhoads said of Deheck. "He's a brute."

Racer had the toughest road to a second place finish at 63 pounds for those born in 2007-08. After getting pinned in the opening round, he won six straight matches to earn runner-up honors in the 12-man bracket.

Racer's lone loss came to Zayne Schmitt of Neenah (2:46 pin), and then in order, he received a bye, pinned Ben Curtis Meyer of Oxford Youth Wrestling in :41, defeated Joren Schlender of Mayville 6-3, then had to wrestle Schmitt again and this time beat him 4-2, putting him in the battle for third place. In that match, Racer pinned Sawyer Dailey of Askren Wrestling Academy in 2:23, earning a shot at second place, which he claimed with an 11-2 major decision over Christopher Morgano of Oshkosh Wild.

"He had a full bracket, that's for sure," Rhoads said about Racer, a new wrestler with the club. "He's been working real hard at it."

Pomeroy took second in a five-man bracket for 130 pounders born in 2002. He had a bye in the first round, then won a pivotal 5-4 decision over Dylan Anhalt in the semis and was pinned in the finals by Berlin's Preston Morgan in 3:33. Anhalt took third place, so Pomeroy got second by rule because he had already beaten him.

"He's been wrestling real tough," Rhoads said of Pomeroy.

Kewaskum had six other athletes wrestling at Lakeland. Stone Pomeroy took third place at 84 pounds (2005-06 division), winning his first two matches before losing a 14-0 major decision to Kaukauna's Chase Vander Wyst, and then losing in the wrestleback, 6-0 to World Gold Wrestling Club's Jayden Sheppard.

Xane Kleinke took fourth place at 85 pounds (2007-08), going 1-2 on the day, while Jayce Rhoads went 0-3 at 69 pounds (2005-06) and his older brother, Jadon Rhoads, went 2-2 at 115 pounds (2003-04) with a bye and a pin for 4th place, and Bradon Schreffler went 0-2 at 115 pounds (2001-02).

The best Kannon Muckerheide could do was finish fourth in a six-man bracket at 175 pounds (2001-02), going 2-2 on the day. Muckerheide started off well with a 5-3 victory over Jacob Steidinger of Cedarburg Matdogs, then was pinned by the eventual champion, Brodie Schiedemayer in 3:54 in the semi, and in the wrestlebacks defeated Brodie Schiederma of Kaukauna by pin in 3:54, before having to face Steidinger again and this time lost to him by pin in 3:30.

 Braden Maertz from Kewaskum, representing Domination, finished first in the 120 pound (2001-02) class. First, Maertz defeated Jacob Bingen of Spartan Wrestling Club, 8-2, continued his good run with a 15-1 win over Jacob DeBrun of Whitelaw Wrestling Club, and in the finals defeated Maverick Ott of Chilton 10-4.

Vaulting Coach Turns Over Duties To One Of His Proteges

By Judy Harlow

After nine very successful years, Josh Parrent has stepped down as the pole vault coach for the Kewaskum High track program, and he's handing over the reins to one of his former vaulters, T.J. Schlice.

"Sadly I have (given up the post)," Parrent, a 2001 graduate of KHS said in a phone interview last week. He said obligations with his work as a carpenter prompted the decision. "It just got to be too much at work," Parrent said, indicating he is currently working 60+ hours per week on a big project in Sheboygan, and he just couldn't figure out how to continue, especially now that he and his wife have projects to complete on their own home they built together.

"I love the students. I love pole vaulting, and I will miss it," Parrent said, indicating, "It wouldn't be fair to the students or the program to continue without being able to put 100 percent into coaching."

Results certainly show how successful Parrent was during his run from 2007 to 2015. During that time, he had 12 vaulters advance to the WIAA D-2 State Track and Field competition, with two of them placing.

"I had kids qualify every single season except last year," Parrent said.

The first qualifier was Crystal Treptow in 2007. She cleared 9-0, which was good for 11th place in the D-2 competition.

Then in 2008 and 2009, Jake Dickmann advanced. In 2009, he placed second by clearing 14 feet (14-0). "He almost won it," Parrent said, noting Dickmann went on to have a successful track career at UW-Oshkosh where he cleared 16-0 and his senior year qualified for the NCAA II Nationals, which were held at UW-La Crosse.

Also in 2008, Alissa Clipper qualified for state.

In 2010, Kassie Legate advanced but unfortunately did not make the opening height, and then there was Schlice carrying the green and white banner, going 13-6 to tie for fourth place in 2011, a year Joey Wollner advanced but did not place. Wollner also qualified for state in 2012 but did not place.

The year 2013 proved to be very productive as Corey Burdick and Tristan Marx both advanced for the boys and cleared 12-6 and 12-0, respectively, for 13th and 14th place, and Jessie Nurkala qualified for the girls. "That was really special," Parrent said. "It was pretty cool to have three of them" in La Crosse.

Nurkala also advanced in 2014, going over the bar at 9-0, which put her in 10th place.

Parrent was a very good vaulter while he was in high school, sharing the Eastern Wisconsin Conference record of 14-0 for 12 years. The first EWC athlete to clear that height was Jim Kessler of New Holstein, who set the mark in 1987, and then Parrent cleared that height while winning the EWC crown in 2001, his senior season when he also finished second in state by going over the bar at 13-6.

The 14-0 mark held until 2013 when Ashton Novy of Two Rivers set a new one. "I think he went 14-1 or 14-2," Parrent said. (The Statesman was able to locate the correct height, which was 14-1.)

Parrent feels confident Schlice, who assisted the track team last year on a part-time basis, is ready to take over the vaulting duties and will do well. "I approached him about it, and he decided to do it," Parrent said, indicating Schlice set a good example while he was on the team and had perhaps the best form of any vaulter he ever coached.

Schlice inherits a couple of regulars from 2015, including junior Tony Leister and senior Miguel Gonzales, plus several underclassmen.
