Emerald Ash Borer Identified In Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

The Emerald Ash Borer, an invasive pest that kills ash trees, has been found in the Village of Kewaskum.

The Emerald Ash Borer (EAB) was identified and confirmed on the property of Gateway Cafe, 1041 Fond du Lac Ave. on June 29.

Kewaskum is home to more than 120 ash trees, which can be identified by their compound leaves with five to 11 teardrop-shaped leaflets. The branches of an ash tree come off the main stem, one on each side and directly opposite each other.

The future of Kewaskum's ash trees is dismal. Once present in an area, the EAB kills all untreated ash trees within a few years. Even young, healthy ash trees are killed within three to five years of infestation.

To prevent EAB from spreading, firewood in Kewaskum is now quarantined. All firewood must be kept within the confined area.

Most of Southeast Wisconsin is under quarantine for transporting wood because of the EAB. There currently are 38 counties in Wisconsin that have become home to the pests.

In addition, the Village of Kewaskum has declared a moratorium on planting ash trees.

Legislative Committee Studies Publication Of Legal Notices

By Anne Trautner

A Wisconsin legislative study committee is considering whether local governments and school boards should be allowed to post legal notices online rather than printing them in newspapers.

The committee met in the state Capitol on Tuesday, July 26, and heard testimony from representatives of three local government associations as well as the Wisconsin Newspaper Association.

"I'm very much interested in this subject that this committee is here because like voting, notices to the public is a fundamental underpinning of a democratic society," said Sen. Mark Miller, vice chair for the committee.

In Wisconsin, legal notices are generally required to be published in a newspaper to alert people of things such as ordinances, meeting notices, school board minutes and alcohol license applications. Although there are some exceptions, such as school board elections or town ordinances imposing forfeitures, Wisconsin statutes also allow municipalities other than cities to post official notices in at least three public places in lieu of newspaper publication.

Representatives from the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, the Wisconsin Towns Association and the Wisconsin Association of School Boards argued last week that public notices should be posted on their local government websites instead of publishing in the local newspaper.

"We're asking if we're getting our money's worth," said Curt Witynski, assistant director of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

"What you're actually requesting is a reduction in the ability of citizens to have notice of what's happening in the government that they've elected to represent them and the activities that are going to affect them," Miller responded.

Witynski said a recent survey of his members generated a response from 213 municipalities, which spent a combined total of $1.1 million on the publication of legal notices in 2015. The average expenditure among the surveyed members was $5,200 last year, about the same as what it was 10 years ago, Witynski said.

The cost of printing legal notices is set by the Department of Administration. The DOA calculates the fees annually to cover only the cost of the print publication of the notices.

The Wisconsin Newspaper Association (WNA) has worked with the DOA to minimize publication costs by doing things such as standardizing fonts used in all legal notices, according to Beth Bennett, executive director of the WNA.

"Prior to 2012, each newspaper was certified for the font that was used by the newspaper," Bennett said. "The implementation of the set font that is now used by all newspapers has allowed units of government to better budget for the annual cost of publishing notices; and it has also resulted in publication cost savings."

The WNA also has made a financial investment in WisconsinPublicNotices.org, where the WNA has digitally archived all notices published in Wisconsin since 2005, Bennett said. Legislation was passed in 2011 requiring all public notices published in newspapers to also be posted on the website, which is available to everyone, free of charge.

"I can say without hesitation that the Wisconsin public notice archive is one of the leading public notice archives in the country," Bennett said.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

Disorderly Conduct

On Aug. 2 at 1:31 a.m., the Sheriff's Office received a 911 call from a passing motorist reporting two male subjects fighting on the shoulder of Interstate 41 near the fog line on County K. Responding deputies located two men, ages 24 and 25, from the City of Fond du lac standing on the shoulder of Interstate 41. The deputies were able to determine that the two men were arguing about how one of the subjects became separated from a group while in Milwaukee.

The driver told the passenger to stop arguing about it, or he would pull the car over and settle the dispute by fighting on the side of the road. That is exactly what occurred. Both subjects got into a physical altercation, which according to the caller included fist fighting. Neither subject was injured.

Both will be cited for disorderly conduct and open intoxicants in a motor vehicle. The passenger, 24, was arrested on a probation hold as he also had a no drink order. The driver was not intoxicated, but arrangements were made to have another responsible party remove the vehicle.

Roll-Over Accident:

On Friday, July 29 at 10:17 p.m., the Sheriff's Office responded to a 911 call from an area resident in the 1900 block of Paradise Drive in the Town of Trenton who reported hearing an accident near her residence. Upon the deputy's arrival, she observed a roll-over type accident and the vehicle was still on its side about 50 feet off the roadway in a corn field. The driver, a 16-year-old City of West Bend juvenile, told the deputy she was going over the hill at about 5-10 mph over the speed limit and swerved to miss a deer. She suffered a laceration to her knee and above her left eye. The male passenger, a 16-year-old juvenile from West Bend, was not injured. Enforcement action is pending.

Operation While Intoxicated, Fourth

A deputy was northbound on U.S. 45 in the area of Paradise Drive at 12:06 a.m. on July 30 and observed a vehicle traveling in front of him erratically. At one point the deputy personally observed the vehicle straddling the centerline of US 45 for half a mile. The deputy stopped the driver, a 37-year-old Milwaukee man, and arrested him for OWI fourth offense.

Operation While Intoxicated, First

Three minutes after the above call, a deputy stopped a 33-year-old City of West Bend woman for speeding on County Trunk P near Highway 60 on July 30 at 12:09 a.m.

Upon making contact with her, the deputy noticed several signs of impairment. The driver acknowledged she had been drinking and was subsequently placed through field sobriety tests. She was taken into custody and determined to have a blood/alcohol level of .11.

Assist Kewaskum Police With Intoxicated Subject At Park:

A deputy assisted Kewaskum Police Department with an intoxicated subject at Kiwanis Park that was yelling and screaming at the crowd during a baseball game on July 30 at 8 p.m. The subject was located in the parking lot. The sheriff's deputy stood by as a back-up officer until Kewaskum Police were able to resolve the situation.

Underage Alcohol Consumption At Washington County Fair

An hour and 53 minutes after the above call, deputies made contact with a 17-year-old Palm Bay, Fla., juvenile who was drinking at the fair. The individual was cited for that violation. This incident occurred at 9:53 p.m.

Female Passed Out At The Washington County Fair

On July 30, 47 minutes after the above call, a deputy assigned to a security detail at the Washington County Fair located a 46-year-old Village of Jackson woman passed out behind the petting zoo at 10:40 p.m. During the contact, it was determined she was on probation for OWI fourth offense with minor passengers in vehicle. A condition of her probation was absolute sobriety. She was subsequently arrested for that probation violation and transported to jail.

Underage Alcohol Complaint

A deputy on patrol observed a vehicle make a U-turn on State Highway 28 in the area of Townline Road in the Town of Kewaskum on July 31 at 2:12 a.m. The vehicle then parked on the shoulder. As the deputy approached, he saw four males standing in the roadway. When questioned they said they were going to a nearby graduation party. Several subjects were identified and one 18-year-old Town of Farmington male was issued a citation for underage alcohol consumption.

Operation While Intoxicated, First

On July 31, 18 minutes after the above call, another deputy on routine patrol stopped a 28-year-old Village of Kewaskum man at 2:30 a.m. for traveling 82 mph and with his high beams activated towards oncoming traffic on State Highway 33 near Aurora Road. The deputy noted signs of impairment and the driver was subsequently arrested for first offense operation while intoxicated. The driver's blood/alcohol level was .19.

Operation While Intoxicated, First

An hour and 2 minutes after the above call, a 33-year-old rural Campbellsport man was arrested for first offense OWI after he began tailgating another vehicle while traveling north on U.S. Highway 45 as he flashed his high beams at another driver several times. The incident occurred on July 31 at 3:22 a.m. in the area of the 18th Avenue overpass in the City of West Bend. The operator was observed driving erratic and nearly went off roadway several times before being stopped by deputies on US 45 just south of Kewaskum. The driver's blood/alcohol level was .13.

Underage Alcohol Complaint

One minute after the above call, deputies responded to a residence in the 700 block of Ravine Ridge Drive in the Village of Richfield for a noise complaint at 3:23 a.m. on July 31. As the deputy arrived, he observed the subject retreat into the residence. Deputies then made contact at the residence and the home owner answered who subsequently had his son come outside and meet with the deputies. It was determined the son, 20, had been drinking at another residence in the Village of Richfield. During the investigation deputies also located another 20-year-old City of Hartford female hiding in her car. Both subjects were issued underage consumption cites.

Disorderly Conduct

On July 30 at 8:37 p.m. the Sheriff's Office responded to a restaurant in the Village of Richfield for a report of 22 patrons becoming belligerent with restaurant staff. Many of these subjects were reported to be intoxicated. Prior to the deputy's arrival, it was also reported one of the patrons threw a plate of food at a staff member. The eating establishment simply contacted our office so the incident would not escalate. Our investigation revealed there was a dispute over the level of service and pricing. The deputies maintained the peace as the subjects were escorted off the property by responsible parties.

Accident With Personal Injury And Operation While Intoxicated, First

On Aug. 1 at 2:26 a.m. the Sheriff's Office responded to the area of County Trunk WW north of Highway 33 for a report of a possible personal injury accident. The responding deputies located the accident scene and determined a Dodge pick-up was northbound on County Trunk WW when the driver went into the east shoulder and struck a mailbox.

The operator then overcorrected and crossed the road and went into the west shoulder. The vehicle then continued off roadway and diagonally went through a pasture fence, breaking through it in two different locations, and continued through another ditch and finally came to rest in a bean field about 200 feet off the roadway. About 10 cows escaped through the broken fence, and as of this writing, four are still not accounted for. The vehicle sustained severe damage including airbag deployment. The driver left the scene prior to law enforcement's arrival but was later located on County Highway H and identified as a 24-year-old Village of Kewaskum man. He had minor injuries and was arrested for OWI and a probable probation violation as he was on a restriction of absolute sobriety.

Resisting Arrest At Washington County Fair

On July 29 at 11:11 p.m., the Sheriff's Office supervisor assigned to incident command at the Washington County Fair was on the grounds and observed what appeared to be an underage person consuming alcohol. The lieutenant approached the subject who was clearly intoxicated. The subject provided the lieutenant with a false ID, turned, and ran away.

What the suspect apparently did not realize was that he was running right towards two other waiting deputies. He did not make it past them. The 20-year-old City of West Bend man was arrested for underage alcohol consumption and will also likely face charges of having a false ID. In addition to the false ID he provided the lieutenant, he also had another false identification card in his possession.

Furthermore, during his arrest, he became increasingly combative with the deputies which resulted in additional charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He remains in custody at the jail as a result of the criminal disorderly conduct and resisting charges.

Vehicle Pursuit

A deputy on patrol located a vehicle speeding south bound on U.S. 45 at 90 mph at 2:55 a.m. on July 27. As the deputy was trying to catch up to it, the vehicle darted out and exited at 60 and fled westbound.

The deputy initiated a pursuit on Highway 60 and the driver, later identified as a 31-year-old Milwaukee man, continued to try to elude by excessive speed and turned off his headlights. The driver eventually stopped on Hillside Road south of Highway 60 after realizing it was a dead-end road.

The driver, who has a valid driver's license, was operating a rental car from Milwaukee. The driver was arrested for felony eluding where he remains in custody at the Jail. At the time of his arrest he was on lengthy probation restrictions including not possessing over $100 in cash on his person due to previous drug convictions. At the time of his arrest he had $957 on his person and may also face additional bail jumping charges.

Thefts At 875 Amy Belle Road (Village Of Richfield)

Deputies were called to investigate five complaints of vehicle break ins at Camp Minikani on Tuesday, July 26. All vehicles had forced entry and purses and other miscellaneous items were taken. All vehicle are believed to belong to camp counselors. Deputies continue to investigate.

OBITUARIES

Florine Marcella Leach

Florine (Flo) Leach, age 92, of Coloma, passed away peacefully at Heartland House in Wautoma after a spirited battle with leukemia.

She was born the fourth child of six to parents Dana and Blanche (Davis) Monroe in the Township of Coloma, WI.

Florine was a 1942 graduate of Coloma High School. Upon graduation she worked at Speed Queen assembling war time ammunition.

She married Donald Nigbor in 1947 and farmed with him until his untimely death in 1952. Later, she married Jay Crego Jr. in 1955. She wed Richard Leach in 1961 and worked side by side with Dick (until his death) at Follett and Leach Implement until retiring. Florine courageously and successfully raised four children as a single mom after the death of Richard in 1967.

Her interests were many and varied including gardening, the beauty of nature, quilting and knitting, as well as extensive travel with friends and family. She was a longtime member of a local bowling league and a proud member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

By far, her pinnacle of pride and joy was time spent with her family. She was always grateful for the support of family, neighbors and friends and reciprocated that same level of compassion to all who knew her. Her trials made her the parson she became – a beloved and respected mother, a cherished grandmother, a prized friend and a valued member of her community.

Flo could find the good in anyone, but she didn't hesitate to speak her mind which brought a smile to many a face.

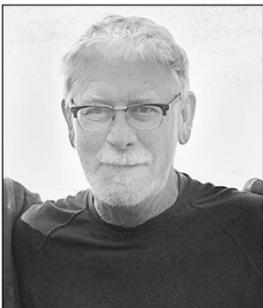

She is survived by three sons, Ronald (Margaret) Nigbor, Coloma; Gary (Kay) Nigbor, Westfield; Dennis (Tani) Crego, Coloma; one daughter, Abigail Leach, Olympia, WA; and two step children, Venden (Charlene) Leach; and Carol (Bill) Anderson, both of Arizona. She has 12 grandchildren, Mary (Steve) Manifold, Thomas (Lisa) Runnels, Michael (Sheryl) Runnels, William (Tara) Runnels, David Runnels; Mandi (Kevin) Cottrell, Joshua (Jennifer) Nigbor, Dana (Caitlyn Groose) Nigbor, Llana Crego, Tressa (Luke) Proctor, Emily (Kurt) McCabe, and Jared Crego. She is further survived by 15+1 great grandchildren. Surviving siblings include one sister, Irma Reindl, Kewaskum; one brother, Gordon (Joanne) Monroe, Hancock; sisters-in-law, Violet Monroe, Plainfield; Caroline Monroe, Clinton; and Frances Monroe, Beloit; Isabelle Groth, Redgranite; Frances Nigbor, Germantown; Constance Gist, California; Dorothy (nee Crego), Markesan; and brother-in-law, Robert Nigbor, Redgranite. Other survivors include many nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents, husbands (Donald Nigbor, Jay Crego Jr. and Richard Leach), and brothers, Kenneth Monroe, Douglas Monroe, and Norman Monroe; grandson, Eric Nigbor, and many dearly beloved sisters-in-law and brothers-in-law.

A memorial was held at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Coloma on Saturday, July 30, 2016. Visitation was from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. followed by a brief service at 11 a.m. Interment will be held at a later date. The family requests no flowers.

The Leikness Funeral Home of Wautoma is assisting the family with arrangements. www.wautomafuneralhome.com.

John J. Sprinkman

John J. Sprinkman, of Kewaskum, passed away on July 29, 2016 at the age of 60.

John was born in Milwaukee on June 14, 1956 to Robert and Mary (nee Weimer) Sprinkman.

John was an amazing carpenter. He was a skilled finisher and his extraordinary work can be found in many people's homes and various places. John was an accomplished outdoorsman and found peace in nature.

John is survived by his two children Spencer and Kayla Sprinkman, mother Mary Sprinkman, sister Elizabeth Sprinkman, brother Jed (Alison) Sprinkman, nieces and nephews: Megan, Jack, Will, Nick, and Chloe Sprinkman. He is further survived by his girlfriend Jean Moore and other relatives and friends.

atives and friends.

John is preceded in death by his father Robert Sprinkman and his beloved dog Skip.

A time of gathering to celebrate John's life will be held at the Eernisse Funeral Home 1167 Washington Ave. Cedarburg, on Friday, August 5, from 1-3 p.m.

The family suggests memorials be sent to Save the Boundary Waters at P.O. Box 397 12007 River Point Road Ely, MN 55731 www.savetheboundarywaters.org/donate.

The Eernisse Funeral Home is honored to serve the family. Online Condolences may be left at www.eernissefuneralhome.com.

Edna J. Langenecker

Edna Josephine Langenecker (Nee Wolf), age 94, passed away at Wellington Place in Hartford on July 25, 2016.

She was born to Paul and Genevieve (Nee Benkler) Wolf on March 20, 1922.

She married Gilbert Langenecker on November 6, 1945 at Saints Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Nenno and together they had five children.

Edna was born and raised in the Township of Addison. She attended Saints Peter and Paul Catholic School.

Edna was employed at Amity Manufacturing Company in West Bend and later at Broan-Nutone in Hartford. She was a member and past president of Saints Peter and Paul Christian Women Society and a member of Resurrection Parish in Allenton. Edna enjoyed sewing and spending time in her flower garden. She especially loved being with her family and participating in their activities.

Edna is survived by her children, Donna (James) Kauper of Allenton, Diane (Robert) Klesmith of Kewaskum, Gary (Dorothy) Langenecker of West Bend and Walter (Julieann) Langenecker of Allenton; grandchildren, Christina (Gregory) Moratz, Steven (Jaime) Kauper, Rhonda (Scott) Prim, John (Jamie) Klesmith, Connie (Michael) Secord, Stacey (Justin) Henkel, Travis (Nicole) Langenecker, Heather (Randy Ehlers) Langenecker, Matthew (Randi Green) Langenecker and Paul Langenecker (Amy Cyra); great-grandchildren, Nicholas and Samantha Kauper, Brandon and Abigail Prim, Anamarie and Jacob Klesmith, Colton, Garrett and Hunter Secord and Paige Langenecker. She is further survived by nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held on Saturday, July 30, 2016 at Holy Angels Catholic Church in West Bend with Father Werner Wolf, O.F.M. Cap. presiding. A special thank you to: Gary and Dorothy for their years of care, and Wellington Place of Hartford and Serenity Hospice for their loving care and support.

Memorials are appreciated to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (20875 Crossroads Cir Ste 350, Waukesha, WI 53186). The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend is assisting the family. (262) 338-2050 / www.phillipfuneralhome.com.

Continuing Education To Lead Garden Tours

A Day in the Garden, a series of garden tours is being offered by the department of Continuing Education at UW-Washington County. The garden tour initiative will begin with day trips to gardens near southeast Wisconsin and further its reach to extended visits in the Midwest and beyond. The inaugural trip is to the Anderson Gardens in Rockford, Illinois on Tuesday, August 30, 2016. Named one of the highest quality Japanese gardens in North America by Sukiya Living Magazine since 2004, the 12-acre award winning landscape is comprised of koi-filled ponds, winding paths, gentle streams, cascading waterfalls, raked gravel gardens, beautifully trained pines, and more. Master craftsmanship and 16th century traditional architecture is found throughout the garden.

The tour will be led by Bambi Butzlaff Voss, an experienced gardening educator and accomplished gardener in landscaping, flowers and ornamentals. She is a Certified Master Gardener in the State of Wisconsin, has taught continuing education courses for UW Extension, is a 4-H Flowers leader and has spoken for numerous public and civic groups. Growing up on a Wisconsin farm, she learned vegetable gardening from an early age, but as an adult migrated more to the joys and rewards of floral and decorative gardening. Having toured numerous Japanese Gardens across the nation, the Anderson Japanese Garden is her favorite and she is excited to share her knowledge regarding this marvelous Midwest gardening treasure with the community. In the evening, the group will be treated to music by the Danielle Nicole Band.

Future Day in the Garden tours may include Green Bay Botanical Gardens, Holland Michigan Tulip Festival, Meier Gardens in Grand Rapids, and Columbus Botanical Garden.

To learn more or register for the Anderson Gardens Tour, phone 262-521-5460 or register online at <http://waukesha.uwc.edu/continuing-ed/travel>. The $77 fee includes transportation from UW-Waukesha, admission to the gardens, a docent-led tour, and prime seats for the evening concert.

The department of Continuing Education at UW-Washington County is part of the UW-Colleges—Southeast Region, serving the campuses for Washington County, Sheboygan and Waukesha.

In a private wedding ceremony performed at the Mission House, Franklin, on Wednesday, July 30, which came as a surprise to their friends, Edith Brooker of this village became the bride of Harvey W. Schmidt, only son of Mrs. Ida Schmidt of Campbellsport. The Schmidt's are former Kewaskum residents. Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt will make their home in Campbellsport where the bridegroom is employed at the Jaeger garage. The bride was the manager of the Kewaskum Beauty Shoppe before her marriage.

been made by the Exposition Press, New York publishers, that Mrs. Clara Krueger of R.2, Kewaskum, recently had two songs accepted for immediate publication. The songs are "Nellie" and "Spring's Music." Chosen from prize contest entries, the songs will be published in the forthcoming volume "Outstanding Song-Poems and Lyricists."

Excavation was completed last week for the new home of Louis Schaefer on his lot on North Avenue between his present home and that of P.J. Haug. Alvia Voigt and crew did the excavating and the Schlaefer Bros. crews of Campbellsport began building. This makes seven new buildings for Kewaskum thus far this summer. Besides the above homes, houses are being put up at present for Wm. Schaub, Carl Meilahn, Wm. A. Backhaus and K.A. Honeck and a locker plant is being erected by Sylvester Hart.

100 Years
August 5, 1916

John Hughes, age 22 years, a son of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Hughes residing three miles north of Campbellsport, narrowly escaped being burned to death when overcome while fighting a fire in stubble and grass along the highway near his home Saturday. Mr. Hughes was watching the fire when it got beyond his control. In an effort to put out the blaze, young Hughes became overheated and fell unconscious. Had it not been that Miss Irene Mullin, a neighbor happened along and discovered the body of the young man lying in the path of the spreading fire, he would probably have been burned to death. Miss Mullin summoned help and Hughes was taken to his home where, after some time, he revived.

Peter Hollrick, aged 39 years, employed the past 10 months at William Krueger farm north of this village, is dead as the results of the awful heat that held the country in its grasp Saturday. Mr. Hollrick was working with Krueger hauling clover in the barn. After several loads Hollrick complained of not feeling well so he went to the house porch to rest. He gradually grew worse and medical aid from this village was summoned but to no avail as he died 30 minutes after the arrival of the physician.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klein, a baby boy on Friday. Fred is all smiles now.

The John Marx IGA was once located on Main Street in Kewaskum as seen in this undated photo. Players Sports Bar is now located in the building.

Saturday Evening Event: Plants On The Frontier

The Friends of the Kettle Moraine invite you to the next Summer Saturday Evening Event, Plants of the Frontier.

The program is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 13, starting at 7 p.m. at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit's Ice Age Visitor Center, which is located off of Highway 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

When European settlers came to Wisconsin, they left behind the plants and animals they knew. There were no grocery, hardware, or department stores back then, so they needed to learn what plants they could use to meet the necessities of life.

This was no easy task since all their neighbors just arrived in this "new" country and there were no ready reference books or Google searches. Join Kate Redmond, naturalist, as she uncovers how the people of the frontier discovered the wonderful secrets and potential that the plants of Wisconsin hold.

For further information contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center (920-533-8322). The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

LOW VITAMIN D & IBS

IBS (Irritable Bowel Syndrome) is a chronic condition of the gastrointestinal tract with symptoms that may include diarrhea, constipation, bloating, urgency and feeling of incomplete passing of stools. New research revealed that many people dealing with IBS are deficient in vitamin D. In the small study of 51 people, 82% had low vitamin D. Researchers are planning a large, clinical trial to test for vitamin D levels and the possible effects and benefits of supplementation of vitamin D3 for those with IBS. If you have IBS, talk with your doctor or pharmacist regarding vitamin D before starting any supplementation.

Peace Church Worship And Community Picnic

- Sunday, August 7 At Riverhill Park

The 18th annual Peace United Church of Christ outdoor worship and community picnic will again offer the family-friendly atmosphere Kewaskum residents and the surrounding community have come to expect. Celebrated in Riverhill Park, Kewaskum, the event will begin Sunday, August 7th with fellowship and music at 9 a.m., followed by worship in the outdoor pavilion at 9:30 a.m., with Rev. J. Eric Kirkegaard presiding.

Grilled brats, burgers and hot dogs, along with salads and beverages are offered from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., with carry-outs available. Delicious homemade desserts are for sale by the piece. Free games and magical entertainment for kids, live music by "The Kewaskum Big Band" beginning at 11:30 a.m., and raffles for charity will complete the festivities. There is no charge to attend, though free-will offerings for the meal and general support of the event are encouraged. All proceeds benefit local and global charities. Recipients support housing, homeless, hunger, health, and crisis needs, as well as world disaster relief.

Enjoy picnic table seating or bring your favorite lawn chair. A passenger drop-off area is located immediately next to the pavilion. Handicap accessible restrooms are also available.

Peace Church seeks to welcome and be accessible to all people who wish to join together on a journey of faith. No matter who you are, or where you are on life's journey, you are welcome here.

It is the season for church picnics. Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 6869 Wildwood Road in West Bend, invites the community to their Church Picnic on Sunday, August 7.

The Catholic Community Foundation Kicks Off Its 15th Anniversary Year

The Catholic Community Foundation is pleased to announce its 15th anniversary and with the inclusion of the $909,000 grants awarded this 2015-16 fiscal year ending June 30, 2016, it has surpassed the $7,000,000 mark in cumulative grants awarded throughout the ten counties of southeastern Wisconsin since its inception. This anniversary year is a celebration of another milestone in the journey started July of 2001. As the Foundation continues to grow, more lives are enriched with grants awarded from donor funds. This fiscal year, the Foundation awarded 108 grants to organizations that support causes consistent with its priorities of Catholic elementary and secondary education, leadership development, community building, and health care. "We are very proud to be able to touch the lives of so many individuals and assist those organizations that help these individuals. It is important that we continue to grow and fulfill our mission by providing support to those in need," commented John A. Herbers, Chairman of the Board.

"From the smallest of grants that help keep the doors of a worthy organization open, to the lives we help turn around and give a purpose to, we are happy to be able to foster aid and awareness and improve the quality of life for the community of southeastern Wisconsin," stated Mary Ellen Markowski, President of the Foundation.

A complete listing of grant recipients is attached to this release and provided on the Foundation's website at www.legaciesoffaith.org. The Foundation currently has assets under management of over $85 million. The Foundation's Board of Directors is comprised of "Catholic business leaders from the ten counties committed to the continued growth of the Foundation and awarding grants to those in need," according to Markowski.

If interested in becoming a part of the Foundation's endeavors to support the mission of the Catholic Church in southeastern Wisconsin, please call 414-431-6402 and visit the website at www.legaciesoffaith.org to learn more about The Catholic Community Foundation.

The following local organizations received awards for the 2015-16 fiscal year:

-Congregation of Holy Angels, West Bend, $23,205.

-Holy Angels School Trust Fund, West Bend, $23,947.

-St. Peter Parish, Slinger, $742.

So It Goes

By Andrew Johnson

This is the community's newspaper and the feedback we receive from our readers and customers will shape what this paper is like in years to come.

We have been getting several questions about the role of advertising in the Kewaskum Statesman over the past year. I think the best way for me to answer many of people's questions is to share the history of advertising in this paper.

The newsstand price of the Kewaskum Statesman in 1910 was five cents. Five cents was worth a lot more back in that day compared to today. I remember my grandma Dorothy, who was born in 1901 tell me that it used to cost her about five cents to go to a movie when she was a little girl. Today, a movie may cost eight or even 10 dollars. However, newsstand price of this paper is only $1 or much less than it was in 1910 by comparing equal dollars for the time periods.

In the beginning part of the 1900's, there was not many or almost no ads inside the paper. The paper was more like a journal. The annual subscription price paid for the entire newspaper. In 1910, a subscription cost $1.50 per year. It was more like a journal with few or no ads. There was no other way to really get information at that time. Newspapers were very expensive. Today, that would equal about $240.

The newspapers became very popular over the next 100 years. They were a great place for ads and notices to be seen by the local community. The amount of advertising inches published each week increased over the years. At the same time, the newsstand price of the paper really went down. Today, the newspaper advertising accounts for the majority of the income of the paper. The role of advertising in small weekly newspapers, like the Kewaskum Statesman, has significantly increased. Advertising is the framework that supports the news operation at the Kewaskum Statesman.

Why Do We Charge Extra For The e-Edition To Print Subscribers?

The e-edition is an exact digital duplication of the printed edition. As I mentioned last week, the e-edition is very expensive to publish. The Kewaskum Statesman utilizes the archiving software that the Wisconsin Newspaper Association uses to provide the e-edition. It is not just a PDF put out. The e-edition is word searchable, archived, and its publication is verified even though it is digital. Many newspapers "build-in" the price of the e-edition with annual subscriptions. In our case, this would translate an annual subscription rate changed from $39 per year for print only to only offering $49 for the e-edition and the print edition. We do offer this as an option for our subscribers now.

The feedback received at such papers has been negative. People don't like to be "forced" to purchase the e-edition. At this time, the majority of our customers tell us that they would prefer a choice and only buy what they want.

This is the photo of the bracelet that Travis attached to his first e-mail message to me.

Most of our customers buy the print only subscription now but more and more people are going with the e-edition and some get both. Unless our customers direct us otherwise, we will continue to offer the choice.

Customers are welcome to subscribe to print, e-edition, or print and e-edition. This can be done online at www.kstatesman.com or by calling our office at 626-2626.

$11,698 In Federal Emergency Food And Shelter Program Funds Awarded To Washington County

Washington County has been awarded $11,698 in Federal funds made available through the Department of Homeland Security/Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) under the Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program (ESFP). The award for 2015 is an 11.86 percent decrease over 2014.

A local board chaired by United Way of Washington County Executive Director Kristin Brandner, is charged with distributing the funds to help supplement the capacity of food and shelter programs in Washington County. The 2015 award was approved July 27 by the Wisconsin EFSP State Set-Aside Committee. It is based on the number of people who are unemployed and in poverty in the county, as compared to other jurisdictions.

The board will distribute funds to qualifying agencies that apply for funding for services provided in 2015. Under the terms of the grant, local agencies chosen to receive funds must: be private, voluntary nonprofits or units of government; be eligible to receive federal funds; have an accounting system; practice nondiscrimination; have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs; and, if they are a private voluntary organization, they must have a voluntary board. Qualifying agencies are urged to apply.

The Washington County EFSP Board—made up of the United Way of Washington County, Department of Social Services, Family Promise, Friends of Abused Families, St. Vincent DePaul Society, Full Shelf Food Pantry, Youth & Family Project, and other agencies and individuals—will determine how the funds will be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service agencies in 2015.

For services provided in 2014, the Washington County EFSP Board distributed $13,232 in Emergency Food and Shelter funds to Family Promise and Friends of Abused Families.

Public or private voluntary agencies interested in applying for EFSP funds should contact Sarah Malchow at the United Way of Washington County office, (262) 338-3821, by Monday, August 15.

Our mission is to improve lives and community conditions in measurable and lasting ways. United Way is a volunteer-driven organization that serves all communities in Washington County. It is governed by a board of community volunteers, dedicated to providing funding and community resources for health and human service needs in the areas of Education, Income Stability, and Health.

Wisconsin 4-H Offers Trip To Nation's Capital

By Max Stowers, Kettle Country Kids 4-H Club

Citizenship Washington Focus (CWF) is a trip dedicated to showing youth the importance of citizenship, what goes on in our government, all while learning about Washington, D.C., and meeting new people.

The youth that come to CWF, are in delegations from multiple states. While at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Maryland, youth are put in color groups to discuss a topic and write a bill about it. This year there were two groups per bill and four bills total.

Youth were also required to join a committee that ran certain events at the center. I was on the Talent committee. Those events included the Congressional Debate, the Talent Show, the Town Hall Discussion, and more. When the youth were not at the center, they were in Washington D.C. or the surrounding area, seeing monuments, memorials, and other historical or cultural places. There is also an opportunity to go to Capitol Hill and talk with your senators.

It is a fantastic trip that is available for 4-H youth that are in the grades 10-

12. To go on this trip, one must complete a résumé and a cover letter, there is also a face-to-face interview process with three adults. Then if you are chosen, there is a bit of homework to fill out, and you are ready to go.

This trip has really given me a new perspective on our government and what we as a community can do to voice our ideas and concerns. I've achieved this all while enjoying Washington D.C. and getting to know more people. I not only left CWF with a new view on our society, I also left with new friends and new memories. I would like to thank the Washington County 4-H Leaders Board and Wisconsin 4-H for helping me on my way to CWF. I would also like to thank Meris Petek, assistant to Senator Johnson, and Joseph Florio, assistant to Senator Baldwin, for listening to our questions and concerns about our state government.

I was lucky enough to be chosen to participate in the wreath ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. It was a great way to honor those who have served our country and made the ultimate sacrifice. It truly was an amazing experience.

"We have a lot of the trees in our parks that are going to have to come down, and a lot of trees around town that are going to have to come down," said Dennis Aupperle, working foreman for the village's Department of Public Works. "They are going to be dying, which means a lot more brush chipping."

Currently, homeowners in the Village of Kewaskum are responsible for cutting down trees that are on their property. The village then chips the brush for residents.

The Village Board is considering revising the brush chipping ordinance if village employees are unable to keep up with the increased amount of tree removal. Village trustees also are considering offering a waiver that people can sign that would allow them to cut up and take the wood from trees that are downed in village parks.

Village trustees also anticipate the need for developing a tree replacement program.

"It's coming," Aupperle said. "In three to five years, the trees that are up now are going to be dying."

The EAB (Agrilus Planipennis Fairmaire) is a beetle that originated in Asia. Adult EABs are metallic green beetles that are about the size of a cooked grain of rice, about 1/2 inch long and 1/16 inch wide.

As adult EABs chew their way out of an ash tree, they create a D-shaped exit hole in the tree bark. The beetles wander less than a mile from a tree and feed lightly on ash tree leaves. They live a total of three to six weeks.

Females typically lay 60 to 90 eggs in the crevices of the ash tree bark. It is the larvae that cause major damage by feeding on the inner bark of ash trees, preventing the tree from transporting water and nutrients.

The larvae can be found beneath the bark. They are cream-colored and have pincher-like appendages at the end of their abdomen. They grow to be about 1.5 inches long.

Infected ash trees often have dead branches at the top of the canopy. Leaves at the top of the tree become thin and discolored. New branches begin growing at the base of the tree and on the trunk, just below where the larvae are feeding.

Woodpeckers feed on EAB larvae, so the trees many times suffer from woodpecker damage. In addition, vertical splits develop in the bark.

It is believed that EABs probably arrived in the United States from Asia on solid wood packing material carried in cargo ships or airplanes. Since the EAB was first discovered in southeastern Michigan near Detroit in the summer of 2002, it has spread to at least 26 states. The EAB is responsible for killing hundreds of millions of ash trees in North America.

In 2008, the critter was discovered in Newburg. Since then, the beetle has been found in an increasing number of areas, including the Mauthe and Long Lake recreational areas.

Approximately 8 percent of trees in Wisconsin are ash however, in the state forest the ash component is approximately 40 percent. At the Mauthe and Long Lake Campgrounds, ash is the dominant species reaching nearly 70 percent in some areas of Long Lake, according to Jason Quast, forest superintendent for the Kettle Moraine Forest.

"Since we know we've got the beetle on property, it has created an enormous budget and workload consequence along with social impacts. Our management is to remove any ash that is located in a designated use area. These areas are picnic areas, campgrounds and trails, to name just three,"

Quast said.

Over the last couple of years, volunteers have helped plant a new variety of trees at Mauthe Lake and Long Lake to replace the ash trees that were removed.

For more information on EAB and the quarantine area, as well as information on insecticide options for protecting ash trees, visit www.emeraldashborer.wi.gov, and click on the link for Homeowners. Additional information on the EAB is also available at the Kewaskum Village Hall.

Andrew Johnson, publisher of the Kewaskum Statesman, The Campbellsport News and the Dodge County Pioneer, testified at last week's meeting that it is important to have government notices go through a third party.

"I would hope that you would not advocate a system that would only communicate directly to the people. That is really scary," Johnson told the committee.

Johnson advocates that notices also be placed on government websites as well, but that notices should also go through a third party to let people know what is happening in their community.

"It is the people that run the government, not the government telling the people," Johnson said. "Do we really want the government being like that? Or do we want the government to be by the people?"

The issue about publishing legal notices arose last November when Rep. Jesse Kremer submitted an interim study nomination to the Wisconsin Joint Legislative Council regarding Chapter 985 and the publication of notices.

Kremer, who represents Kewaskum and the 59th Assembly District, wrote in his nomination that the chapter was outdated and that there should be an overhaul study of Chapter 985 concerning new technology.

Representatives from the Village of Kewaskum and the Kewaskum School Board, both of which publish legal notices in the Kewaskum Statesman, reported that they did not know anything about the study. Village Administrator Matt Heiser and School Superintendent James Smasal said they did not have any complaints about how the legal notices are handled.

Kremer also wrote that he was working on legislation that would allow an online news source to be a "newspaper" of record and recommended that Judy Steffes be represented on the study committee. Steffes is a blogger who maintains the "Washington County Insider" Facebook page.

Steffes was not one of the 11 people selected to serve on the study committee. The committee includes state legislators, clerks, a state archivist and newspaper publishers.

Each year, during the interim between legislative sessions, committees that are appointed by the Joint Legislative Council meet to develop legislation for the following session. They are typically formed to study and develop solutions for issues that are either technically or politically challenging.

This year, the Joint Legislative Council received more than 60 recommendations for topics for committees to study. Publication of legal notices was voted unanimously by legislature to be chosen and is one of seven topics that was ultimately selected to be studied before the next legislative session, according to Mary Lazich, co-chair of the Joint Legislative Council.

Gregg Walker, publisher of Lakeland Publishing in Minocqua, said that he was concerned with the inability of residents in the northern third of the state to have internet access.

"Print newspapers play a significant role in the daily lives of the people of the North, more so than in some other areas of the state, due to the age of our population and to the lack of good broadband services in rural areas," Walker said. "In fact, some areas in our region do not even have cell service."

Karen Weinschrott, clerk of the Town of Grand Chute who spoke on behalf of the Wisconsin Towns Association, asked for more options that could include publication in a newspaper, but not make it a requirement. Weinschrott advocated for "local control."

A Legislative Study Committee comprised of 11 members meets on Tuesday, July 26, to determine the best way of publishing legal notices in Wisconsin. The committee includes legislators as well as members of the general public.

One town clerk in rural Wisconsin posts notices on a maple tree in her front yard. Everyone knows to look there, Weinschrott said.

"It's not where, it's that we inform our public where they can go to get this information," Weinschrott said.

Committee member Mark Stodder wondered whether all municipalities would be able to archive and maintain legal notices on a website. He also asked if there was evidence of any of government sites being hacked. Those questions, as well as government website usage reports, will be addressed at a later meeting.

"School boards do not want to stand in the way of providing required notices and other required written information to the public. However, school boards do want flexibility regarding how to provide such required information to their communities," said Dan Rossmiller, Wisconsin Association of School Boards government relations director.

Witynski told the committee last week that fewer people are reading print newspapers today and that the notices would reach more people if they were posted in designated locations and on government websites.

"So part of the argument is that newspapers are outdated technology, right?"

said Heather Rogge, publisher of the Daily News in West Bend and a public member of the committee. "But you're advocating bulletin boards, which I think hark back to a time when the horses congregated around the village hall or city hall."

The important thing is that the public is notified of what is going on in their community, Johnson said. He gave recent examples of when notices worked well in his newspapers, including a notice about the consolidation of two school districts, a sex offender notice and a sewer lateral notice.

However, when the Department of Natural Resources was going to remove two dams from Mayville, it was a newspaper publisher in Madison who notified Johnson. The notice had been sent to Madison, but not to Mayville.

"Not only does a notice need to be published, but it has to be published so the right people see it," Johnson said. "Had I not gotten that call, we would not have a river."

Johnson also asked the committee to look at incidents that have happened nationally.

"In Wisconsin, we require publication of water reports," Johnson said. "You've heard about the water problems in Flint, Mich.? Well, the water notices didn't go in the newspapers in Flint, Mich. The people in Flint, Mich., really did not know about their water quality problems."

The committee's next meeting has not yet been scheduled.

Publisher's Note

By Andrew Johnson

It was a sad day on Tuesday, July 26, in Wisconsin history when I had to testify before a Joint Legislative Study Committee about the publication of legal notices in Wisconsin Newspapers in an effort to keep notices in newspapers. It was obvious that the people trying to take out notices have no true regard for the public knowing what their government is doing nor had understanding of the real costs to the government. Public notices have always played a big part of this newspaper.

My testimony can be found on wiseye.org under 7-26-16 Study Committee on Publication of Government Documents and Legal Notices. My testimony starts about 43 minutes into the hearing. I really appreciate Anne Trautner from our Kewaskum office coming to the hearing so we could give our readers a story about what happened.

I did not think it was right for me to write a story when I was one of the one's testifying, but certainly thought I should weigh in on the subject for our readers since this subject has such a huge impact on the way our local government bodies conduct business. I do welcome the challenge and this case will give the public insight on how notices are being handled now. The newspapers of today have changed greatly over the past 20 years and utilize incredible technology to bring information to the public across many platforms.

Open Government and Notices

The three key components that create open government are open meetings, open records, and notices posted in a way that the affected people see the right information in a verifiable format in a timely fashion. All three components are connected. Losing any of the components affects the remaining components. For example, if people are not properly notified then they would not know about a meeting or to look up a record.

Wisconsin has an excellent system for posting notices right now. The notices are placed in newspapers at a rate determined by the state. The notices published in printed newspapers are then uploaded at no charge to the government to Wisconsinpublicnotices.org automatically when all of Wisconsin newspapers upload their pages (every day or every week) to Wisconsin Historical Society for permanent archiving. This is done even for all municipalities, including those who do not have websites. This ensures timing digital posting.

The technology used in this system by the Wisconsin Newspaper Association is some of the best in the world.

Wisconsin is known as a leader in open government and the way we post notices digitally. In fact, four other states have recently followed Wisconsin. All of the notices are word searchable and are archived as well as backed up. This system communicates notices to a very diverse population, both in print and digitally, to ensure every Wisconsin resident has a chance to see the notices. It also ensures that the notices are given to the newspaper media by law.

Newspapers, both in print and digital, are by far the largest news-gathering organizations in the state. How many TV reporters are there in this county compared to newspaper reporters? Modern newspapers in Wisconsin not only print but deliver local news digitally through e-editions, websites and by using a host of social media tools.

The most important part about public notices is that the notice be required by law to be posted to local press. This has to do with the First Amendment right of Freedom of the Press. The notice is going to the "press," which is for the people. A government cannot be run by the people unless the people know what the government is doing. The people own and run the government.

The notice must be sent to the media in such a way that it is also noticed by the media so they can immediately if needed, publish in print or online/broadcast a story to the public in addition to the raw notice itself. In reality, most people depend on the media to find out about what is happening in the government. This is exactly how the system was set up by our founding fathers. I do believe that every municipality with a website should also publish their notices on their website in addition to newspapers.

However, it is very concerning to me as well as anyone in the media business, that the government would advocate a way to only communicate to the public directly in such a way that the public does not have information from "outside" the government's perspective. It is very dangerous and could limit the public's information on real choices as to how to run the government. There is also the issue of the possibility of corrupt people working in the government from time to time. The "press," or the people's eyes, will hopefully expose any corruption in time.

The Case

The Wisconsin Towns Association and Wisconsin Association of School Boards are strongly advocating taking notices out of newspapers or providing a choice to do so, and instead publish them on a government website. They claim they will save big money and that the people will see them on their websites, even though the majority of people never look at government websites on a daily basis to check notices (I am guessing it is over 99.9 percent don't).

They also advocate that if people don't have internet access, which they claim is about 30 percent of people in Wisconsin, that those people can drive to a library or to government building to see posted notices – daily? This is crazy. The citizens of Wisconsin do not live their lives to make it more convenient for clerks.

Instead, the clerks should continue to serve the people! It turns out that current high speed internet access is as low as 50 percent in the top northern half of the state from one of the publishers who testified.

When asked by the committee on how internet only posted notices can be verified to the Towns Board attorney, she said she did not know. This is a huge problem. Notices must be verified and be able to be used in court. The current cost of legal notices is much smaller than these folks claimed, and they forgot to mention the new costs they will incur that will most likely exceed the savings for most municipalities, in addition to having fewer eyes see notices.

This case started in Kewaskum, so I will give you readers actual numbers. The Kewaskum School District spent about $7,400 on legal notices out of its approximate $20 million budget last year. The Village of Kewaskum budgets $5,400 on a $2.5 million budget.

If notices were put online, some of the new costs to municipalities would include: information technology services, archiving (extremely expensive for legitimate word-searchable statewide network), web-hosting, web design, increased labor costs for affidavits for each notice, legal costs to cover errors and proof of publication. The costs would more than likely exceed any savings. It is important to remember that ordinances passed by local governments cannot be enforced if they are not published in a printed newspaper.

Compliance

There is a huge issue of compliance of governing bodies posting notices online as they should in addition to putting notices in newspapers. A 2014 Citizens Advocacy Center (CAC) study of government websites in Illinois found the results to be a disaster. Wisconsin was not selected for this study.

The study surveyed approximately 20 percent of local governments, chosen randomly: 102 counties (20), 1,432 townships (298), 866 (176) school districts, and 1312 (262) municipalities. The study showed that 49 percent

did not have a website. Out of the 756 public bodies surveyed, only 385 even bother to maintain a website.

MUNICIPAL COMPLIANCE: only 65 percent complied with website notice; 54 percent posted agenda timely; 38 percent posted approved meeting minutes timely.

TOWNSHIP COMPLIANCE: 61 percent complying with posting notice; 46 percent complying with posting agenda; and 38 percent complying with posting approved meeting minutes.

COUNTY COMPLIANCE: 39 percent of counties with website complied with posting; 33 percent posting an agenda; and 33 percent for posting approved meeting minutes.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: 89 percent of school districts posted timely notices; 69 percent of timely posting of agenda; and 62 percent approved meeting minutes.

The system that Wisconsin Newspaper Association (WNA) currently uses to post printed notices published online is in the high 90s (it is 100 percent if staff members don't make errors), since technology/software is used to take the notice out of the archived paper when up-loaded (at time of publication) automatically and then moved to wisconsinpublicnotices.org. The WNA also pays for the continual programming so the notices are available in word-searchable format for the entire state on various computers, laptops, phones, and other mobile devices. This is also done at no cost to taxpayers.

Final thoughts

It should be noted that one state, Utah, did repeal putting notices in newspapers and instead put them on the internet in 2009. It was a disaster, and the state senator who originally advocated removing the notices was the one advocating that they be restored the following year, which they were.

Wisconsin certainly does not need to go through this type of test. It is also interesting to note that after almost an hour of testimony by representatives of the Wisconsin Towns Association who were adamant that they could post notices on time, it was determined that their own website in fact had not been updated since 2015.

I gave four real-life examples in my testimony of how public notices significantly affect the public. Posting notices only on government websites defeats the real purpose of the notices. The people won't know, and we, the media, will certainly not know. How would we know which government website to look at? And how would we know when to look at it? Finding notices on some government websites has been challenging even for technology experts in our industry. Have you ever looked for a notice on the DNR website?

As a Wisconsin publisher, I feel it is my absolute duty to the public under the constitution of the United States to strongly advocate for the publication of notices in newspapers as well as online wisconsinpublicnotices.org and local government sites where practical, so the people really know what their government to doing. We will keep you posted!

In addition to being publisher of this newspaper, Andrew Johnson is currently the president of the Wisconsin Newspaper Association Foundation and a board member of the National Newspaper Association.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

Washington County Clerk

—Candidates for the August 9th election are listed below in the order they will appear on the ballot.

Name: Ashley Reichert

Office Sought:
Washington County Clerk

Occupation:
Administrative Secretary to the Washington County Sheriff.

Educational Background: Attending UWWC - will graduate with Associates Degree in 2017 and Bachelors in Business Management in 2019 (UW - Oshkosh) (Attended Kewaskum High School)

Family Information: I am married to Justin Reichert, a Bronze Star Recipient, Army Special Operations Combat Veteran. We have three children, Braeden (12), Delaney (4), and Hudson (2).

Qualifications: I have extensive experience in management positions focusing on the success of all staff members. I am extremely hard working, honest and innovative. I received the first ever "Core Values Award for Innovation" from Washington County in 2015. I currently work with all of the Washington County departments to create a community relationship while being open and transparent through the social media pages I oversee for Washington County and the Washington County Sheriff's Office. Highly efficient in all Microsoft programs (word, excel, powerpoint). Currently work with the Human Resources Department regarding all personnel matters at the Sheriff's Office. Skilled in HTML coding - web design. Highly devoted to customer service success. Experience with minute taking for meetings and record keeping. Have worked for Washington County for the past two years and eight months. Starting in Planning and Parks as a Program Assistant and then was recommended to the Sheriff for his Administrative Secretary position in August of 2015.

Community Involvement: I am actively involved in the Stars and Stripes Honor Flight program, active with my church, Trinity Lutheran Church and actively volunteer at school functions at Trinity Lutheran School.

What Inspired You To Run For Office: I first heard about our current County Clerk, Brenda Jaszewski retiring from my previous boss, current Planning and Park Administrator Jay Shambeau. I knew that the taxpayers of Washington County deserved someone who was and is committed to ensuring the sanctity of our precious right to vote and who could fulfill the statutory obligations that this role requires and I knew I was that person. I was also inspired by the positive changes and reforms throughout our county level Government and knew I would be able to bring innovative ideas to continue to create positive advances within the County Clerk's office, to not only benefit our county level Government, but also the taxpayers of Washington County.

My Top Three Priorities: Transparency - For the residents of Washington County to have a full understanding of the County Clerk's office and the entire election process. Efficiency - To overview all current processes and procedures currently in effect to determine how we can continue to serve our taxpayers with the highest level of service. Voting/Elections - Continue to provide clear and concise information to all voters to better understand where, when and how to vote. Also, potentially coordinating with community area schools to better educate area students on the election process.

Name: Braedy Helmbrecht

Office Sought:
Washington County Clerk

Occupation: Child Support Specialist/ County Attorney's Office

Educational Background: Graduated from West Bend West High School, Graduated with Bachelor degree from U.W. Milwaukee in School of Social Welfare-Criminal Justice.

Family Information: Married- wife Jennifer (Oneska); son, Rayden (14); daughter, Hannah (12); son, Joseph (8).

Qualifications: Work directly for Washington Co. for over 17 years and have been in public service for almost 20 years. I have strong leadership skills that would fit well with the position of County Clerk.

Community Involvement: Coach both volleyball and (club) baseball (West Bend Little League) - member of St. Mary's of West Bend.

What Inspired You To Run For Office: My passion to serve the community that has been my home my entire life. Through my leadership and communication skills, I believe that I can run an office that would not only be efficient, but superior.

My Top Three Priorities: Run the County Clerks office with efficiency to reduce any unnecessary spending. Give superb representation to the community that I was raised in. Provide our community with necessary information and technology that becomes available with the leadership they need and the service they deserve.

Name: Aggie Pruner

Office Sought:
Washington County Clerk

Occupation: For the last 16 years, I have served as Town Clerk for the Town of Barton. During that time, I have performed duties that are vast and varied, and those duties would translate to the Washington County Clerk's Office. My responsibilities with the Town of Barton include election administration, maintaining knowledge of the changing election laws, and working with the town board. My responsibilities to the town board require me to set agendas, take minutes, and generally maintain town records and prepare documents. I play a large part in setting the town budget with the town board and I am responsible for other town financial matters, as well as the issuance of various licenses. I am also employed full time at the Washington County District Attorney's Office as a legal secretary, after having been promoted from receptionist. I have been with this office for almost ten years. The position of legal secretary comes with great responsibilities and has allowed me to set priorities and goals, all while working independently as well as being part of a team.

Educational Background: I attended the University of Wisconsin-Madison, where I received a Bachelor's Degree.

Family Information: After college, I was employed in Illinois, where I met my husband of twenty nine years. Together, we moved to the Town of Barton nearly twenty-five years ago, where we raised our two children. I was able to stay at home, though it was a financial struggle, but was worth it as I was allowed the joy of watching my children grow. Now, I am a grandparent who is able to spoil and enjoy my grandson.

Qualifications: I believe my employment history speaks to the level of dedication I possess, and it speaks of my drive to be a committed employee. I put forth my best efforts with both the District Attorney's Office and the Town of Barton. It is a reflection of who I am and of my work ethic. This, along with my experience and knowledge, is what I will bring to the Washington County Clerk's Office. I believe it would be a natural transition, considering my experiences.

What Inspired You To Run For Office: I was inspired to run after current County Clerk Brenda Jaszewski announced her retirement. As the current Town Clerk for the Town of Barton for the past 16 years has given me experience and the confidence to run for this important position. I believe I have the skills necessary to offer Washington County the level of quality service they have come to expect. I am a dedicated worker who takes responsibility seriously and I believe the taxpayers of this great county should vote for the person most qualified for this position.

Kewaskum Revises Village Ordinance Regarding Delinquent Water Bills

By Anne Trautner

The ordinance on delinquent water bills that the Kewaskum Village Board passed on July 18 has been changed to reflect current regulations set forth by the Wisconsin Service Public Commission.

The way that the old version was written made it sound like resident received 10 days after having a placard on their house for disconnection, and the PSC rules state that once a placard is on a house, disconnection must occur within 24 to 48 hours, Village Administrator Matt Heiser told the board on Monday, Aug. 1

In addition, the village intended on charging $75 for reconnection after water disconnection occurred. At the Aug. 1 board meeting, village trustees approved rewording the ordinance to reflect PSC's approved rate of $35 if reconnection occurs during office hours and $45 outside office hours.

The board also decided

Monday night to change the ordinance so that it reads that people have 10 business days rather than calendar days to pay a water bill after the past due notice was mailed before a water disconnection placard is placed on a house.

"I am still not a fan of this. I prefer the previous ordinance," said Village Board President Kevin Scheunemann, who voted against the ordinance at both the July 18 and Aug. 1 meetings. "I am not in favor of the disconnection policy."

The village board has discussed outstanding water bills since May 16, when trustees reviewed the number of accounts that owed money on their water bills. Approximately 20 percent of utility customers owe money on their accounts.

To collect on the outstanding bills, the village sent out 230 notices in May to property owners warning that their water could be turned off if the accounts were not paid up. The notices gave the residents and businesses until July 5 to either bring their account current or to sign an agreement.

Of the 230 notices that went out, 200 are now current and 30 signed payment agreements, Heiser reported at the July 18 meeting.

Village water bills are billed out quarterly and are due on the 20th of the quarter's corresponding month. The next water bills will be due on Oct. 20.

In a related issue, the village board has been discussing raising the interest rates on the sewage bills. A proposal for the increased rates is expected to come up at a future board meeting.

Village Trustee Dave Zehren said that he thought the board should wait until a decision was made on the interest rates before making changes to the ordinance.

"My opinion is we table it until we get it all straightened out," said Zehren, who voted against the revised water bill collection ordinance Monday night.

Department Of Defense Honors Delta Defense

Mike Williams, Chairman of the Wisconsin Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve Committee (ESGR), has announced Tim Schmidt President and CEO of Delta Defense LLC was presented with a Patriot Award by ESGR representative Jim Malcolm, ESGR Director of Veteran Affinity Groups in recognition of extraordinary support of one of their employees serving in the Army National Guard.

The presentation took place at Delta Defense LLC headquarters at 300 S 6th Street West Bend on June 30 at noon.

According to Williams, "Tim Schmidt was nominated for this prestigious national award by their employee Staff Sergeant Brandon J. King who is a member of the Army National Guard, assigned to TRP 1-105 CAV Reedsburg, WI. The Patriot Award is only presented to employers who not only hire Guard and Reserve members, but demonstrate superior support to the military employee and his/her family. The National Guard and Reserve Forces are the cornerstone of our national defense. Tim Schmidt has provided outstanding support and cooperation and has exhibited a patriotic spirit which is reflected in the significance of being a recipient of the Patriot Award."

"I'm honored to accept this award on behalf of the team at Delta Defense. Brandon is an excellent employee in his dual role working at Delta Defense and in the Army National Guard. We're proud to have him as a part of our team."

ESGR, a Department of Defense program, seeks to foster a culture in which all employers support and value the employment and military service of members of the National Guard and Reserve in the United States. ESGR facilitates and promotes a cooperative culture of employer support for National Guard and Reserve service by developing and advocating mutually beneficial initiatives, recognizing outstanding employer support, increasing awareness of applicable laws and policies, resolving potential conflicts between employers and their service members, and acting as the employers' principal advocate within DOD.

More information about ESGR Employer Outreach Programs and volunteer opportunities is available at www.esgr.mil, or by calling Chris Campbell of the Wisconsin ESGR Committee, at 608-242-3169.

Washington County's Household And Agricultural Hazardous Waste 2016 Full Service Collection

The Washington County Full Service Clean Sweep is an opportunity for county residents to properly dispose or recycle unwanted hazardous chemicals, electronic goods, pharmaceutical medication, and used tires. New this year, TVs and Large Household Appliances will be accepted!

This is the seventh consecutive year for the Full Service Clean Sweep Program coordinated by the Planning and Parks Department, while partnering with the County's Health Department, Sheriff's Department and the Highway Department. The drive-through collection makes this program simple and efficient for participants. A $20.00 pre-registration fee is required for the hazardous waste and electronic goods. The Pharmaceutical Collection does not require anyone to pre-register. At the Used Tire Collection a maximum of 20 tires will be accepted per participant and disposal fees apply at the time of collection.

The 2016 Full Service Clean Sweep event will be held on Saturday, October 1. Collection will be from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. at the Washington County Highway Facility, 900 Lang Street, West Bend, WI 53090.

Pre-registration for the Hazardous Waste, E-Goods and Appliances, pay with credit card at washcoparks.com, download the Registration Form from the website and mail in your payment

Riding My Motorcycle

Submitted By Dona Miotke, community services director for The Silbernagel Group

I believe everyone is fascinated with motorcycles at some time in their life. Riding a motorcycle is fun and exciting. From the way the rumble sounds to how it feels having the wind blow through your hair, are the makings of good memories and good times.

Below you will read interesting facts about motorcycles. Some are fun facts, other facts will give you cause for reflection.

The Fonz from "Happy Days" never rode the motorcycle in the show. When Henry Winkler was riding a motorcycle in the show, it was really mounted on a piece of wood with wheels. Stage people would wheel the motorcycle around to give the viewer the effect that he was riding it. The Fonz had dyslexia which has a symptom of poor coordination, which is why the Harley Davidson in the show was mounted.

The Fonz rode the same Harley Davidson that Steve McQueen rode at the end of the movie "The Great Escape." Remember that famous motorcycle jump?

The "Hog Boys" in the 1920s won motorcycle races and would do a victory lap with a live hog on their motorcycles. The hog was the mascot for these farm boys. Harley Davidson started a Hog Group in 1983 and continues to be active today. Harley Davidson tried to trademark the word "hog" for the company but lost the case in 1999. It was officially ruled that the term hog meant, "Any large motorcycle."

Motorcycles are less visible and less stable than cars, can have high performance capabilities to 160 miles per hour and offer riders less protection than a car. The federal government states that per mile traveled in 2014, the number of deaths on motorcycles was over 37 times the number in cars. Nearly half of motorcycle deaths are due to single vehicle accidents. In the single motorcycle accident, about 2/3 of the accidents are caused by rider error.

In 2014, 4,586 people died in motorcycle crashes and 92,000 were injured. There are many things a motorcyclist can do to reduce the level of risk.

Intersections are the most common place for a motorcycle accident. The most dangerous situation for a motorcyclist occurs when a car makes a left hand turn. These accidents account for 62 percent of all accidents involving a car and motorcycle. The left turning car hits the motorcycle when the motorcycle is going straight through the intersection, is passing the car or trying to overtake the car. Two-thirds of left turn accidents are caused by the vehicle violating the motorcycle's right of way.

Be a defensive motorcycle rider. Keep an eye out for cars and keep a safe distance following cars. Watch for road hazards when riding a motorcycle and approach hazards as close to a right angle as possible to avoid the chance of a skid.

When a motorcycle is going between two lanes of stopped or slowly moving cars during traffic jams, there can be an accident due to the close proximity of the cars to the motorcycle. Other drivers are not always aware that a motorcycle may pass them.

Fifty percent of the accidents involving a single motorcycle are caused by speeding or alcohol use. In 2014, 29 percent of motorcycle riders who were involved in a fatal crash had a blood alcohol content of 0.08 or higher. 36 percent of all motorcycle riders involved in a fatal crash were speeding. A typical accident involving a motorcycle allows the motorcyclist less than two seconds to complete all collision avoidance action. Alcohol affects this ability to react.

The death rate among riders of sport motorcycles is two times that of conventional motorcycle riders. Sports motorcycles have driver death rates nearly four times higher than those for drivers of other types of motorcycles. Obey the speed limits. Make the right decision for yourself when buying a motorcycle.

More than half of the accidents in 2014 involved motorcycle riders with less than 5 months experience on the accident motorcycle. Operator training of how to achieve optimum braking between front and rear wheels increases safety. The Motorcycle Safety Foundation sponsors training courses to improve motorcycle safety through education, training, and licensing including practice with braking.

Motorcycle helmets saved 1,669 lives according to the National Highway Traffic Administration in 2014. Helmets are estimated to be 40 percent effective in preventing fatal accidents. Riders without helmets are also three times more likely to suffer brain injuries. Helmets deteriorate over time and should be replaced at least every five years. Protection technology for helmets increases yearly. Protective clothing and helmets shield the body in an accident.

Before you ride a motorcycle, do a quick walk around to make sure all parts of your motorcycle are in good operating order: lights, horn, directional signals, brakes, tires, chain, belt and shaft. If tires are underinflated, the bike is harder to handle. A bike with its lights on is easier for motorists to see.

Check weather. Slippery conditions increase probability of error as the tires have less grip on the road. Strong winds can give the bike a push from the side. Wearing highly visible colors increases the conspicuity of the motorcycle to motorists.

Research who will insure your motorcycle before getting insurance. You need a company and an agent that understand motorcycles and coverages. Rates can vary based on multi-vehicles or multi-policy discount, responsible driving record, safety course discount, type of motorcycle, antilock braking systems and driver's age. When purchasing motorcycle insurance, be sure to customize your policy and coverage to meet your individual needs. Make the right decision. There are excellent options for motorcycle insurance here in Kewaskum.

Spicing Up The Kettle Moraine

By Travis Senn

When you think of farming in the Kettle Moraine, you picture cattle wandering through pastures and rolling fields of corn and hay. However, if you make your way south of St. Killian on Midland Drive, you will find another type of agriculture. Glenn and Sue Garbisch have begun growing and harvesting garlic on their 20-acre farm.

The semi-retired couple owns a few horses and use most of their land to grow hay but have about half an acre on which they grow garlic plants. Glenn used to drive truck, while Sue has worked in several positions in the business sector. The two have lived at their current residence for close to 20 years.

"We bought the place in '98, I think. It was just a corn field back then," Glenn said with a smile. Now, a different crop grows on the land.

Not only an unconventional crop, garlic also has a growing season opposite to conventional crops.

"You plant it at the first hard frost, usually around October," Sue explained. "Harvest time is usually sometime in spring, around April. It's a really unusual and low-maintenance crop."

The couple receives help planting and harvesting the crop from their family. Harvesting takes approximately 12 hours of work with everyone's assistance. When all is said and done, the Garbisch family has about 10,000 garlic plants after only their third season of planting!

"We have kind of taken it slow, but we have about

1,600 pounds drying here now," Sue said. "It is very important for the crop to dry out. Summer weather doesn't always make it easy so we'll occasionally have to put out fans if it gets too humid."

The couple also stresses how fresh and natural their product is, with no commercial fertilizer used. No chemicals, pesticides or herbicides are used. They have nine different varieties of garlic to choose from, all great for cooking. If you aren't sure what type to buy, tell Sue or Glenn what you're planning to prepare. They'll point you in the direction you need.

If you are looking to purchase garlic from the Kettle Moraine Garlic Farm, you can stop in on August 12-13 for their garlic sale at N8950 Midland Dr., Campbellsport. Their farm is just south of Highway 28. The sale will run from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. If you are unable to make the sale, you can also purchase garlic online at www.kettle-morainegarlicfarm.com.

Shepherd Of The Hills To Hold Church Picnic In West Bend

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 6869 Wildwood Road in West Bend, invites the community to their Church Picnic on Sunday, August 7.

The day begins with an outdoor service – rain or shine – under the big tent on the lawn at 9:30 a.m. The worship service will feature church musicians of all ages playing in the music ensemble consisting of flutes, clarinets, trumpets, guitar, bass, accordion, keyboard, percussion, xylophone, cello and violin. A homemade catered meal will be served at 11:30 a.m. Festivities will include a bounce house, kids' games, and a bean bag tournament. Card games and cribbage boards will be available for any interested players. This event is free and open to the community.

Regular worship services during the week are Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. and Sundays at 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Memorial Day through Labor Day and 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. the rest of the year. Sunday School and Adult Bible Study take place at 9 a.m. and 9:10 a.m. September through May. Any questions can be directed to the church at 262-334-9892.

Mending Hearts Summer Picnic

If you are a parent who has lost a child or children, no matter how long ago or how they may have died, the Mending Hearts would like to invite you to their summer picnic to help you connect with other parents who have lost a child.

Our picnic will be held at Armstrong Apple Orchard, W853 Cty. Rd. B in Armstrong on Saturday, Aug. 13, at 5:30 p.m. Music will be provided by Fab5 Beatles – all Beatles music, all night long. Bring a blanket or lawn chairs, dancing shoes and a dish to pass. The main dish and beverages will be provided by Mending Hearts.

If you need a driver to attend, they are also invited. RSVP by August 1st to Shirley Simon at 920-979-8704.

Mending Hearts is a support group for all parents who have lost a child in many different ways at various ages, either recently or many years ago. We all have that common thread of losing a child. We all grieve in different ways, but we all need to know that we are not alone. Coming together with other parents who have lost a child can help the healing process.

Attending a picnic with people, food and music can help us to focus on some fun activity in our life instead of the hurt. Even if it is only for a short time. Please come and join us for some mending in your heart.

Tips On Avoiding Mistakes In A Kitchen Remodel

A kitchen indeed is the heart of the home and not just for cooking.

Typically, it's a hub of activity where kids do homework, friends congregate, and families bond. Having the appropriate form and function to accommodate busy living can be a challenge. No wonder kitchen updates are a popular request of remodelers.

But redesigning a kitchen is more than just adding an island, miles of countertops, or new cabinets. Russ Waters, designer at Wisconsin Kitchen Mart, which has provided award-winning design/build services since 1951, identifies some common kitchen problems that come up during a remodel and offers tips on how to remedy them for better form and function.

Poor work flow: The relationship of the existing appliances to the sink and counter space is one of the most seen problems. "Appliances and cooking practices have changed since houses were designed decades ago," Waters said. "Today we adhere to layout 'rules' we self-impose when re-designing the space."

Walkways too tight: Many kitchens are too small for an island or have islands that are way too big for the space. "A 42-inch minimum walkway should be adhered to in most cases," Waters said.

There are no convenience aids: Rollout trays, built in trash, mixer, and other appliance garages organize and create easy access. Tray partitions, drawer dividers, and spice racks make cooking and clean up easier. Age in place occupants will also be able to stay in their homes longer with these conveniences.

Style doesn't flow with the home: Architecture of the home should not be ignored when selecting cabinetry style.

"A high tech glossy kitchen in a center entrance colonial in Whitefish Bay is bad form," Waters said. "That doesn't mean you cannot decorate with unique flair however. Just find a way to connect the structure of the kitchen with the structure of the house and then have some fun."

Bad venting: The exhaust hood over the burners does not remove odors and moisture. A properly sized vent fan should be planned for every kitchen and ducted to the exterior.

"Today's burners can be so powerful that they put out more BTU's than your furnace," Water said. "Along with that goes a great deal of steam and combustion moisture. That is a very destructive element in the home. Fish, onion, and garlic taste wonderful but don't go very well with morning coffee and cereal."

Bad lighting: There are three types of lighting that should be in a good kitchen design. Task lighting on the counters and appliances. General lighting for walkways and the overall area. Creative lighting to set mood, highlight art, and show off the products.

Trendy kitchen: To avoid being able to "date" the kitchen design, trendy or obvious decorating or styling features should be avoided. Elements of current trends and themes can easily be worked into classic kitchens.

Plenty of countertop space, in all the wrong spots: Ten feet of countertop away from the appliances does not help. Twelve inches of counter on each side of the burners is better than 24 inches on one side and none on the other. Putting burners next to a wall or refrigerator is not only a fire hazard but doesn't allow you to turn a pan handle away from the other burners.

"You can easily overload counter space by having too many appliances share the same counter," Waters said. "Spread out the appliances that require countertop space to 'stage' at them."

Big eyes, small budget: I want, I want, but don't expect to pay is a common problem.

"An average kitchen has one premium product in the design," Waters said. "So if you select granite/quartz countertops don't expect a Sub Zero refrigerator. Also, the laundry room, powder room, and connecting family rooms are projects of themselves. You cannot include these areas within a kitchen budget."

Tiny room, no storage: Even in very small kitchens, it is possible to find storage solutions.

"Many times we suggest a modified eating space to grab some needed real estate for cabinetry," Waters said. "If your small home has a kitchenette and dining room side by side, consider eliminating the wall between and making one large eat-in kitchen with a semi formal table in one area and snack counter in the working part of the kitchen."

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 6869 Wildwood Road in West Bend, invites the community to their Church Picnic, which will include games, on Sunday, Aug. 7.

15th Anniversary Of 9/11 In Washington County

The Kewaskum Remembers Memorial Park, a non-profit project dedicated to building a 09/11 memorial in the town of Kewaskum will be hosting a parade, memorial service and fundraiser on Sunday, Sept. 11, in the Village of Kewaskum.

The 15th anniversary commemoration will begin at 8:46 a.m., the precise time the first plane crashed into the World Trade Center, and end at 2 p.m. West Bend area native and Kewaskum High School graduate, Andrea Lyn Haberman was on the 92nd floor of the north World Trade Center and perished that day.

The memorial project is being built in Kewaskum to remember the nearly 3,000 souls lost on 09/11 and to honor emergency first responders, military men and women, and ordinary individuals who do extraordinary acts of kindness to volunteer and serve in their communities. The memorial will feature a 2,200-pound i-beam steel from the north World Trade Center.

The memorial planning is steered by a planning commission. Construction is expected to begin later in 2016 into 2017. Property was generously donated by the Village of Kewaskum for this project, and the park will be in front of the Kewaskum Fire Department.

The Kewaskum Area Arts Council oversees the Kewaskum Remembers Memorial project and has provided critical support including the application process to have Kewaskum be granted the piece of steel from New York City.

On September 11th, the parade will begin at Kewaskum High School at 8:46 a.m. and will end at the Kewaskum Fire Department on Highway 45. Community members and parade attendees are welcomed on the short walk and asked to carry a small flag to symbolize each of the souls lost. Flags will be placed near the World Trade Center Steel at the Fire Station prior to the presenting of the flag ceremony.

The fundraiser will begin at 10 a.m. and will feature live music, food trucks, the Kewaskum Fire Department, bounce houses, silent auction, and 50/50 raffle. The Kewaskum American Legion has provided support towards the planning and development of the memorial service and fundraiser.

The Kewaskum School District, Slinger School District, Villages of Kewaskum and Slinger are going to fly the Flag of Honor, 3x5 flags featuring nearly 3,000 names of those who perished, the entire month of September to honor the people who perished on 09/11.

The steel will also be featured at upcoming Washington County community events:

•August 5th-7th — Deer Fest at Washington County Fair Grounds, Friday, 2 p.m.-9 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m.-7 p.m.; Sunday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

•August 12th-13th — Geocaching $1,000 Cache Ba$h 2016 at Regner Park, 12 p.m.-6:30 p.m.

•August 13th — West Bend Farmer's Market in downtown West Bend from 7:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m.

•September 17th — Second annual Fall Harvest Craft & Vendor Fair at the corner of 167 and 164 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

On September 9th and 10th, the steel will make a journey to downtown Waukesha to be showcased on Friday, Sept. 9, at Friday Night Live, a 10-stage music festival organized by the Waukesha Downtown Business Association. On Saturday, Sept. 10, it will be hosted at the Waukesha Farmer's Market.

The weekend before, on September 3rd, a reading of the book "Just A Few Sleeps Away" will be held at Martha Merrell's Books and Toys, 231 W. Main Street, Waukesha, from 1 p.m.-3 p.m. The book was accepted into the national 09/11 museum in New York City in 2015.

The story centers on the Haberman family's quest for healing and goodness in light of 09/11 and threads together the spirit of volunteerism and neighbors helping neighbors during a tragedy. The book will be presented by author and former Milwaukee Journal Sentinel reporter, Mike Nichols. Nichol's co-presenter is Jessica Osenbrügge, a West Bend native residing in New York City on 09/11 who helped with search efforts for Andrea. Gordon Haberman, Andrea's father, will also be present to discuss the impact this tragedy has had on his family.

It is through a generous donation by Uptown Chevrolet, West Bend, and West Bend Elevator that the steel is being transported throughout Waukesha and Washington counties. The West Bend Elevator custom-built a trailer to ease the journey of the steel.

To learn more about the memorial project or to make a donation, please visit www.kewaskum-memorial.com. The Flag of Honor and the book "Just A Few Sleeps Away" is also available for purchase.

—Kewaskum Remembers Memorial Park is a 501(c)(3), non-profit organization whose mission is to build a memorial park in honor of victims and heroes of 09/11.

Blawat Edges Prunty For Third Win Of The Season

By Dan Margetta

Chris Blawat held off Alex Prunty in a five lap shootout to capture his third super late model feature win of the season in the 60-lap main event Sunday night at the Slinger Super Speedway.

"This season has been a lot of fun and this car has been awesome all year," Blawat told the fans from victory lane, "It's good to get a win and we'll take it from here."

"I thought we were pretty close together and as the leader I set the pace," Blawat continued, explaining his version of several aborted late race restarts between himself and the second place finisher Alex Prunty, "It is what it is, I guess."

"It feels great to get back into the top two, but I really wanted that one," Prunty stated following his runner-up finish, "And it was close and we kept it clean which is what it is all about but I really, really wanted that one."

Blawat was quick on the button for the restart but Dennis Prunty was on top of his game as well and he swept into the lead from the inside one lap after racing resumed. Steve Apel also got around Alex Prunty for third as Dennis Prunty slightly stretched his lead over Blawat. Alex Prunty went back to work on Apel for third and after several peeks to the inside, took to the high line to make the pass as the laps began to wind down. The front runners settled down a bit and the best battle on the speedway was in the back half of the top ten as John DeAngelis Jr. and Brad Mueller wresttled for the eighth position. After several laps of hard racing, contact between the cars sent Mueller's car looping around off turn four and the caution flag waved with just six laps remaining.

Dennis Prunty chose the inside lane for the restart, leaving Blawat the high side and the two raced door to door as the green flag appeared. Prunty's car skated a bit loose off the turns and upon exiting turn four he drifted wide and rubbed the side of Blawat's car before sliding into the infield towards turn one as the caution waved once again. Dennis Prunty took responsibility for the incident, which allowed Blawat to inherit the lead over Alex Prunty, Steve Apel, and Rob Braun with now five laps to go. After three aborted restarts, the race resumed on the fourth try and Blawat maintained the lead only to have the caution wave again when Tim Lampman spun in turn two after having the right rear tire go flat. Blawat and Prunty only needed one attempt to get the restart right this time and they charged into turn one side by side in a five lap battle for the win. Prunty was able to hang tough alongside in the low groove but Blawat proved to be too strong exiting the turns and he powered ahead from the outside. Blawat drove to his third super late model feature victory of the season while Alex Prunty had to settle for second. Steve Apel finished third while Ryan DeStefano edged Rob Braun for the fourth spot by inches at the line. Brad Keith of West Bend was the fastest qualifier at 11.359 seconds.

Bryan Holtz paced the 40-lap late model feature from start to finish as he drove to a convincing win over Kyle Chwala and Jeff Way.

E.J. Waldron and Holtz brought the field to the green flag and Holtz immediately charged to the lead leaving Waldron to hold off Jeff Way, Kyle Chwala, and Ryan Gutknecht for second. As Holtz continued to lead, first Way and then Gutknecht maneuvered by Waldron and into second and third as Chwala followed a few laps later to grab fourth. Gutknecht and Chwala also were able to pass Way on the inside for second as Holtz enjoyed a significant lead. Chwala then tracked down Gutknecht in lapped traffic and raced into second place using the inside line as they made their way around the lapped machines. Way also closed on Gutknecht and took over third as Gutknecht became caught on the outside. No one had anything for Holtz as he raced to the victory over Chwala who held off Way for second. Mike Held and Jordan DeVoy made late charges to finish in fourth and fifth respectively. Jordan DeVoy set fast time with a lap of 12.291 seconds.

Scott Goetzke charged from third to first to win the Figure 8 event over Ron Schmitt and Willie Van Camp that was contested on the "B" track. The fans seemed to enjoy this "around the barrel" racing for the Figure 8 Division.

Lady Golfers From Kewaskum And Campbellsport Join Forces

By Judy Harlow

While they are arch rivals in all other sports, girl golfers from Kewaskum and Campbellsport High Schools will combine forces again this year in an effort to keep the program alive.

"Basically what happened is this time they approached us," Kewaskum coach Amy Uhlig said about being a second try at having a co-op program in the sport, which opens camp on August 8.

In compliance with WIAA rules, the KHS/CHS team must compete in Division 1. Uhlig has no problem with the rule. She is just happy at the prospect of going from just three or four players and not being able to count in Wisconsin Little Ten Conference meets to having nine "for definite" golfers this fall.

After being contacted by Campbellsport Athletic Director Tom Griesemer, KHS AD Jason Piittmann discussed the possibility with Uhlig, who said the thought was "if they seem to have some girls, let's give it a shot. Ultimately we just want more kids in the program."

Uhlig has three returnees from the 2015 season, including junior Taylor Cook, sophomore Grace Kober, and sophomore Tina Bolek. Kober played in all the varsity meets last year, according to Uhlig, who said Cook and Bolek completed several times after learning more fundamentals about the game.

Two others, sophomore Ashley Trapp and Madelyn Carson, have indicated they will play and were at the contact days allowed for practice this summer.

Four girls from Campbellsport have also come to the summer practices. "Two are seniors. They both are athletic girls," according to Uhlig, referring to Larissa Lindsley and Taylor Schmidt. The other two are freshmen whose parents have been involved in golf, either when they went to high school in Kewaskum or after high school. One is Chloe Koth and the other Alyssa Dreher.

Uhlig said plans call for the team to play a full varsity schedule and to also have a JV team as well. "It should be nice," she said.

Griesemer is excited about adding a lifetime sport to the girls' program at his school. He said while the first try at a co-op team didn't work out, "I pretty much guarantee we will have four girls this year."

Griesemer indicated parents approached him about the possibility of adding the sport for Campbellsport girls, and then he contacted Kewaskum. "Amy is even coming to our meeting (for athletics) tonight and will talk to the parents as well," he said.

"We are prepared to come to Kewaskum for everything," Griesemer said about the practice site. As far as the cost, "Kewaskum will figure out what the expenses were. They will send us a bill for our portion," Griesemer said. "We want to be good stewards. We appreciate what they are doing."

The girls will practice at Hon-E-Kor Country Club from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., beginning on August 8. Their first meet will be Friday, August 12 at the Watertown Invitational. The first conference meet is scheduled for Wednesday, August 24 at Beaver Dam's Old Hickory Golf Club. Kewaskum competes in the Wisconsin Little Ten because the old Eastern Wisconsin Conference and the new East Central Conference do not offer the sport for girls.

Departing Seniors Have Last Words

By Judy Harlow

After the 4-0 loss to the eventual state champion Menomonee Falls, the Kewaskum High baseball team bid farewell to its three seniors, pitcher/infielder Michael Prochnow, third baseman Devyn Zillmer and outfielder Zach Heberer.

All will be missed next year, and the three will also miss participating in the sport.

Here are a few thoughts they offered to the Statesman in recent interviews, including what they felt were memorable moments, what they will take from the sport that will be useful in their adults lives, and their plans for the future.

"I'd say my memory would have to be my freshman year when we knocked off Plymouth in the first game of the sectional," Prochnow said, adding a second major memory was "hitting a home run in the first (North Shore) conference game of the year against Cedarburg."

Prochnow, who batted .450 against North Shore opponents and had a team-high three homers this summer, will be attending UW-Oshkosh in the fall. He said he plans to study secondary education in order to become a mathematics teacher.

As far as what he learned in baseball, Prochnow offered three ideas: "always work hard even if no one is watching," along with the idea of overcoming adversity because "You don't want little things to hold you back in life."

The third comment he offered is, "No matter what you're doing, make sure to have fun."

Zillmer, who batted .250 (12x48) and was 2-0 pitching for the Indians in their 10-8 NS season, can still remember starting out in baseball. "Probably the first plate appearance on varsity my freshman year. It was against Menomonee Falls," he said about his biggest memory. And did he get a hit against Falls? No, "I lined out to the shortstop," he said.

His other memory was "when we beat Nicolet in the playoffs last year. We won on a walk-off wild pitch."

Zillmer's future plans include college at the Milwaukee School of Engineering in Milwaukee. "I want to get my engineering degree and hopefully get a good career," he said.

From baseball to adulthood, Zillmer will remember the importance of hard work and perseverance, like fighting through a batting slump and to remember things can go the other way if you let them. "It can turn on you real quick, like life can," he said. "The game (of baseball) will always humble you."

Zach Heberer had very few errors while playing in left and center fields and batted .273 (15x55) for Kewaskum in his final year in the sport. "Probably my best game was last year in our first game against Homestead. I went 2x3 with a double and a single, and I played pretty good outfield," he said.

Heberer's plans will begin very quickly, as he starts school at Moraine Park Technical College the last week of August. "I want to be an electrician," he said.

When it comes to baseball lessons, Heberer said first, because of baseball's complex nature, "You've got to know what the game is about before you start playing."

He will take a lesson from his head coach Doug Gonring into life. "Doug always wanted us to play hard, work as hard as we could," he said.

The gymnasium floor in the Kewaskum Field House has been re-finished and is ready for physical education classes this fall and interscholastic basketball beginning in mid-November. New lighting was also part of the renovation project.

New Floor, Lights Add Pizzazz To Field House Floor

By Judy Harlow

During the first month of the summer break, the floor in the Kewaskum High School Field House has taken on a new look, and no two people are more excited about it than Don Gruber, the head boys basketball coach at the school, who spearheaded the project, and Athletic Director Jason Piittmann.

"It looks really great," Gruber said while vacationing with his family in South Dakota last week, explaining the floor was sanded down and re-stained while leaving the natural wood as it was.

"There is a contrast between the stained area and the natural area," Gruber went on, noting the centerpiece of the floor will be "a motion K logo in the center of the court."

"It turned out beautiful," Piittmann said. "We took feedback from the coaches and physical education teachers on lining the courts, and they (the company) did a great job with the secondary lines." This eliminates any need for taping the floor so there will be no chance of stain coming off of it.

Not only will the floor be eye-catching, it will also help keep injuries at a minimum, according to Gruber, who said, "I think it's a better atmosphere" for students in physical education classes, athletes and spectators.

As far as the interscholastic teams that will play on the court, Gruber said, "Playing on a nice floor will fire them up."

Several businesses in the area, headed by West Bend Mutual of West Bend, are helping to pay the cost of the improvements, according to Gruber.

Last March, at the conclusion of boys and girls basketball seasons, Gruber, who owns a tool and dye business in West Bend, approached school board officials and district officials about the possibility of getting this work done.

"Jason got this going," Gruber went on, indicating he contacted officials at West Bend Mutual, and "They said they would help take care of this."

Also, School Board President Troy Hanson helped get some sponsors, according to Gruber, who had the assistance of Doug Franzen, the district's facilities manager, in locating a company to do the work.

Stalker Sports Floors of New London was selected to do the work, and they got started soon after the school year ended. The project, which included putting new lines on the floor, was finished on July 11, according to Gruber. He and Piittmann said the cost of the project is approximately $20,000 with half of that amount coming from West Bend Mutual and the rest from other donors who wish to remain anonymous.

"It (Stalker) was a company I was familiar with," Piittmann said. "They're a very well known company in that area."

New lighting has also been added in the building, Gruber said.

"That was put up last spring," Piittmann said about the LED lighting, which requires "smaller panels and is much more efficient, adding, "It will pay for itself and it gives off more lighting, too." This project was also funded by an anonymous donor.

"We're also maybe going to dress up the scoreboard," Gruber said about moving ahead on a future project for the field house. He is currently seeking sponsors to help fund that work.

The Kewaskum Middle School floor was also renovated during the summer, according to Piittmann. This floor had been used for junior varsity and freshmen basketball teams in recent years, along with practices for middle school athletes, who, at times, had difficulties stopping on the floor, which had a slippery surface.

"They did some work on it," Piittmann said of the floor surface. "Hopefully, it will have more tack to it." This project was part of the district's budget.

Gruber is already excited about the 2016-2017 basketball season, which officially gets started on November 14. "We have the same staff back. That will be a good thing."

Prochnow Honored By Summer Baseball Coaches

By Judy Harlow

Recent Kewaskum High graduate Michael Prochnow received honorable mention in the voting for the Wisconsin Baseball Association's Summer All-State Team.

In North Shore Conference games, Prochnow hit a crisp .450 with 27 hits in 60 trips to the plate. In all 27 games the Indians played this summer, he batted .386, going 34x88 with 23 runs batted in (RBIs). He had three home runs for Kewaskum, including a three-run blast in his final high school at bat at Kiwanis Park, helping the Indians to a 10-6 victory over Nicolet in the opening round of the summer tournament.

Ty Weber of the state champion Menomonee Falls team was tabbed as the Player of the Year, while Oak Creek's Scott Holler was named Coach of the Year. Weber is a University of Illinois recruit.

Three members of the West Bend West team, Nathan Burns, Anthony Schluss and Jack Thelen, were selected to the first team.

None of the Kewaskum High players were on the Academic All State team announced along with the all-state team.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF KEWASKUM REGULAR MEETING KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN 53040-0037

June 6, 2016 Minutes

The meeting was called to order at 6:00 p.m. by President Hanson.

Board members present:

EMERALD ASH BORER NOTIFICATION VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM

On Wednesday, June 29, 2016 the presence of the Emerald Ash Borer (EAB) was identified and confirmed at 1041 Fond du Lac Avenue. Kewaskum now joins a growing list of Wisconsin communities where the insect has been detected.

Residents should be aware that it is illegal to move firewood out of an EAB quarantined area, as that is the primary means for the EAB to spread. It is best to keep firewood on site. Homeowners who would like more information on EAB and the quarantine area, or are interested in determining whether they have an Ash tree on their property and information on how they may protect it from EAB should visit the State of Wisconsin's official website, www.emeraldashborer.wi.gov, and click on the link for Homeowners. Additional information on the EAB is also available at the Village Hall.

Starting immediately the Village of Kewaskum has a moratorium on planting Ash trees. The emerald ash borer is a major threat to Wisconsin's trees. Once present in an area, the EAB kills all untreated ash trees within a few years. Even young, healthy ash trees are killed within 3-5 years of infestation. Whenever making the choice for EAB prevention and treatment, homeowners and commercial industries should review the latest research and decision-making tools available.

NOTICE OF PARTISAN PRIMARY AND SAMPLE BALLOTS
AUGUST 9, 2016
STATE OF WISCONSIN
COUNTY OF WASHINGTON

OFFICE OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY CLERK
TO THE VOTERS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a partisan primary to be held in Washington County on August 9, 2016, at which the nominees for the offices named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, a voter shall state his or her name and address, show an acceptable form of photo identification and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. If a voter is not registered to vote, a voter may register to vote at the polling place serving his or her residence if the voter provides proof of residence. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the voter shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that a voter who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the voter's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the voter of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the partisan primary the voter shall select the party of his or her choice. Voting for candidates of more than one party may invalidate the ballot. You must cast a vote for individual candidates.

Where Optical Scan Voting is used

- If a party preference is designated, and votes are cast for ballot candidates of another party or write-in votes are cast in another party, only votes cast in the designated party will count.
• If a party preference is not designated, and votes are cast for candidates (or write-in votes are cast) in more than one party, no votes will be counted

Within the party of his or her choice, the voter shall fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote, and fill in the oval on the write-in line.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. Not more than five minutes time shall be allowed inside a voting booth. Sample ballots or other materials to assist the voter in marking his or her vote may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

If a voter spoils a ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the voter shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.

After Voting the Ballot

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve so the marks do not show. The voter shall then insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. A voter may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the voter declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the voter's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the voter.

The following is a sample of the official ballot:

BOB FISH IS HIRING!

AUTOMOTIVE SALES PROFESSIONAL We are looking to add talented, full-time sales professionals to our staff. If you are highly motivated and driven by an opportunity to make good money, then this is the position for you. A strong work ethic with excellent communication skills is vital. You will maintain an owner follow-up system that encourages repeat business and referrals. A positive attitude is essential and 2+ years of experience is preferred, but we are willing to train the right candidate. This position pays salary plus commission. If interested, please email Jerry Martin at jmartin58@hotmail.com or Tom Peters at tpeters@bobfish.com to set up an interview.

AUTO DETAILER Bob Fish Buick GMC has 2 openings for a full time detailer in our Set-up Department. Duties include, but are not limited to preparing vehicles for delivery, cleaning vehicles for our lot, assisting our Sales staff, and any other assigned duties. You must have a valid driver's license for this position. The ideal candidate would also have 2 years experience, but we are willing to train the right person with a great attitude. If you are interested, please email Gary Cardarelle, Service Manager at garyc@bobfish.com

AUTO TECHNICIAN Bob Fish is looking to add talented, full-time technicians with GM experience or ASE certification to our busy service department. If interested, please email Gary Cardarelle at garyc@bobfish.com to set up an interview.

OUTSIDE COMMERCIAL AUTOMOTIVE SALES PROFESSIONAL This is a full-time position, and requires a dedicated professional with a minimum of 2 years of outside sales experience. Duties include business-to-business calls, a flexible work schedule that involves 40+ hours per week, product knowledge consisting of both cars and trucks, and an exceptional level of customer service. Please submit resume to Rick Jarvi at rjarvi@bobfish.com

Bob Fish is an equal opportunity employer. Along with a competitive salary, we offer a full benefits package including health, dental and vision insurance, 401K, paid vacation and a flexible work schedule. Candidates must be 18, with a valid drivers license and a good driving record.
