People place flags in front of the Kewaskum Fire Department on Sunday in honor of Kewaskum area resident Andrea Haberman and others who lost their lives 15 years ago in the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. Among those attending the service was Elyse Johnson (right), who traveled from her home in Texas with her mother, Erin Stoffel. Stoffel was Haberman's classmate and college roommate for four years at St. Norbert College.

Kewaskum Remembers 9/11

By Anne Trautner

On Sunday, Sept. 11, several hundred people gathered in Kewaskum to remember the tragic events that had occurred 15 years earlier.

As the crowd congregated along Fond du Lac Avenue for a parade and memorial service, the sky was crystal blue, so reminiscent of that horrible day.

Among those killed in the terrorist attacks 15 years ago was Andrea Lyn Haberman, a Kewaskum High School and St. Norbert College graduate who lost her life in the attack on the World Trade Center.

The parade started at 8:46 a.m., the very moment that the first plane crashed into the North Tower. Fire trucks, emergency personnel, floats and bands made their way through the parade, which ended in front of the Kewaskum Fire Department.

People followed the parade to the fire station, where they placed small American flags in the ground around the large bell.

Kewaskum School District Mails Referendum Information

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum School District is mailing information sheets about the Nov. 8 referendum to district residents this week.

The referendum will ask if the Kewaskum Area School District should be authorized to issue general obligation bonds not to exceed $28.4 million to cover the cost of site improvements, new construction, renovation and modernization of Kewaskum Middle School and Kewaskum High School. The funds would also include acquiring furnishings, fixtures and equipment for the two schools.

If it passes, the referendum would cover building systems (HVAC, plumbing, electrical and lighting), infrastructure (technology wiring, roofs, flooring and walls), learning spaces (upgrades to support technology and flexible learning environment), and safety and security (secure entrances, parent drop-off/pickup and fire life/safety enhancements).

The mailer includes the conceptual site plan of the new middle school and high school, which would be linked together.

The plan is a culmination of planning that dates back to October 2012. In July 2015, a Long Range Planning Committee was created. Made up of more than 50 parents, staff and community members, the committee spent eight months identifying facility needs.

This is a good time to act because the district is paying off debt from the 1999 referendum on Kewaskum Elementary School between now and 2019, according to the mailer. Payments are projected to drop significantly in 2018, which will minimize the impact of any potential new debt.

The Long Range Planning Committee cited those factors, along with historically low interest rates and rising construction rates, as reasons that this a prime time to go forward with the referendum.

The estimated tax impact is a 36 cents mill rate increase over the 2016-17 taxes, based on a 20-year borrowing with an average interest rate of 3.25 percent, according to PMA Securities, Inc.

That equates to a $36 annual increase in taxes or $3 monthly increase for a home valued at $100,000. For a $250,000 home, the annual tax increase would be $90, or $7.50 per month.

The public is invited to attend any of the following open houses to learn more about the referendum:

Wednesday, Oct. 5 at 6:30 p.m.: Kewaskum Middle School cafeteria.

Monday, Oct. 17 at 6:30 p.m.: Kewaskum High School cafeteria.

Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 6:30 p.m.: Farmington Elementary School cafeteria.

Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 6:30 p.m.: i4Learning Community School cafeteria.

For more information about the referendum, call the district office at (262) 626-8427, email referendum@kewaskum-schools.org or visit the district website, www.kewaskumschools.org/referendum.

Kewaskum Becomes Center Of International Parkour Movement

By Anne Trautner

On Sept. 1, as most Kewaskum students were preparing for their first day of school, Peter Kurer started his first day of his senior year by setting out on a parkour tour across the country.

Kurer, better known as "Teatime" in the parkour world, is one of 14 individuals from four countries on the Inspire Tour. The group will travel by van across the United States, going from Kewaskum to Georgia, Missouri, Colorado, Utah, California, Washington and Yellowstone National Park.

Kurer is completing his senior year through Kewaskum School District's online learning program so that he can travel throughout the year in order to perform parkour.

Parkour is the sport of moving along a route, trying to get around or through various obstacles in the quickest and most efficient manner possible. It may involve jumping, climbing, running, twisting or flipping.

Audrey And Russell Johnson Celebrate 70 Years Of Marriage

By Anne Trautner

Audrey and Russell Johnson celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, Sept. 14.

The couple agree that they have been together for a long time, but Audrey had her eye on Russell long before they married.

"I was 10 years old when I first saw him," Audrey said. "He didn't know I was watching him."

Long marriages don't always come naturally in Audrey's family. Her mother, whose maiden name was Lydia Backus, was married seven times.

When Lydia was 8 or 9 years old, her mother died. Her father then raised her in New Fane.

Lydia married Audrey's father, Walter Bruessel, when Lydia was 15 and Walter was 28.

"They were perfect for each other," Audrey said.

"They were both raised on farms. They were both hard workers and they both like to have a good time."

Both Lydia and Walter spoke German, but they did not teach the language to their children.

"They never encouraged us to learn German," Audrey said. "We knew when they were speaking German, we weren't supposed to listen."

Lydia and Walter Bruessel bought a house in Kewaskum. The house, which now sits near McDonald's, is where Audrey and her brothers were born.

When Audrey was 10, her parents divorced.

Audrey then lived with her mother, who converted the living room into a beauty shop.

"Mother would take us to church in Dundee for the church picnic. That was the extent of our church going, though, because on Sunday mornings she worked. She would fix everyone's hair so they could go to church," Audrey said. "She was quite a gal. She was a very pretty lady and very hard-working."

Even though Audrey started eyeing Russell when she was just 10, they officially met when she was 15.

Russell had just returned from three years serving for the U.S. Marine Corps. He had fought in World War II and had earned a purple heart after being shot in the back while in Okinawa, Japan.

Russell grew up in West Bend. His father, Bill Johnson, had been the Washington County sheriff.

Russell's parents raised their two children in a house that was located on what is now a pitcher's mound at a baseball park in West Bend.

"That little house got moved back and was used for storage, and I think that is still used today," Audrey said.

Long Marriage

A year after officially meeting, 16-year-old Audrey married 20-year-old Russell.

The newlyweds moved to Long Lake, and then back to Kewaskum. In 1951, the couple moved to Slinger, where they still live today.

Shortly after getting married, while working on building a pipeline through the area, Russell was transferred to New Jersey. Russell went out there and stayed in a hotel while Audrey stayed home in Wisconsin.

In New Jersey, the lady running the hotel asked

Russell if he was married.

When he said yes, she told him, "You are going to come to my place for supper."

So Russell did. When he arrived for dinner, the lady told Russell she was throwing him out.

"Pack everything. Don't hesitate another minute. Go back home to your wife," she ordered.

So Russell returned home, unbeknownst to Audrey.

When Russell walked through the door of their home, Audrey was sitting at the table writing a letter to him.

Russell never traveled for work again.

Now 90 years old, Russell worked at numerous places over the years. He was working at for Regal Ware in Kewaskum when it caught on fire. He also had stints working for a gas company, for an outdoor motor plant in Hartford and as a mechanic for Honeck Chevrolet in Kewaskum.

Russell worked for Stolper Industry, a sheet metal fabricating company in Menomonee Falls, for about 11 years. He finished his career moving houses for 30 years for Johnson Movers, Inc., which was based out of Slinger.

"He was anything he wanted to be," said Audrey, who is now 86 years old.

That included being a carpenter, as Russell fixed up their houses to meet the needs of the couple's growing family.

Audrey stayed at home to raise their seven children, but also helped out with her husband's moving business.

"I worked very hard but never got paid a dime," Audrey explained.

If Audrey was not home, the children knew that she would start with potatoes when preparing dinner, so they would peel the potatoes.

"I always had a garden and sewed my children's clothes," Audrey said. "We didn't spend much. But we ate very well."

Audrey and Russell have seven children: Russell (Larry), Gerald (Jerry), Jane, James (Jimmy), Joan (Joanie), Judith (Judy) and Andrew (Andy). They have 18 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE REPORT

Attempted Felony Theft

A local camper dealership had placed a 2017 White Water Retro 177SE camper as a display model in a parking lot of the Helsan Business Park located in the 3000 block of Helsan Drive in the Village of Richfield. The camper has a retail value of $20,000.

On Sept. 7 at approximately 7:50 a.m., one of the owners of the dealership was driving by the display location and noticed the trailer was moved from its original location and a gold colored minivan, which was still occupied, appeared to have become stuck in the ditch while attempting to pull the camper away. The owner contacted 911 and the Sheriff's Office responded. A 28-year-old Town of Addison man was arrested for attempting to steal the camper.

Bail Jumping In The Courthouse

A 39-year-old City of Milwaukee man appeared in court for a third offense OWI case on Sept. 7. The deputy assigned to the screening station smelled the odor of intoxicants on the individual when he came through the screening.

After the subject appeared in court, he was confronted by deputies. Initially, he denied having consumed any alcohol, but later told deputies that he was drinking wine from a box before court. At 9:10am he submitted to a breath test that revealed he had a BAC of .21. He was arrested for bail jumping since part of his restriction from the OWI case is absolute sobriety. The subject admitted he knew he was to not drink. Investigation deputies do not believe he drove to the courthouse.

Disorderly Conduct

The Sheriff's Office responded to a report of a male subject standing on Pioneer Road near I41 next to his vehicle with no pants on. The incident was reported to the Sheriff's Office on Sept. 10 at 9:16 p.m. The suspect vehicle was described as a black Chevy Silverado and no plate was obtained. The man was gone upon the squad's arrival.

Fraud

On Sept. 8 at 1:30 p.m., a deputy was sent to a commercial business in the Town of Wayne for a theft and fraud investigation. A worker, identified as a 20-year-old Random Lake woman, advised she had money and credit cards stolen from her purse at the business.

The suspect, later identified as a 25-year-old City of Hartford man, was a temporary employee at the business. The investigation determined that the suspect had made local charges with the credit cards. The investigating deputy was able to get security footage of the transactions from a local gas station that matched the suspect as well as his vehicle. The deputy responded back to the business where he arrested the suspect for multiple counts of fraudulent use of a credit card and theft.

Property Damage Only Accident

The Sheriff's Office responded to a semi tanker accident in the area of County Highway H and Kettle Moraine Drive on Sept. 7 at 2 p.m. The investigation revealed the operator, a 61-year-old Edgerton man, was westbound on County Highway H when he lost control in the curve as a result of standing water on the road. This semi was carrying an empty tanker designed for natural gas. The tractor had severe damage as a result of the crash but the driver was not hurt.

Motor Vehicle Theft

The Sheriff's Office responded to a report of a stolen auto at the Rapid Mart located at 1717 State Highway 83 in the Town of Erin on Sept. 10 at 9:10 p.m. The initial report was that a 36-year-old Mequon man had stopped for gas and when he went inside to pay, a person exited the store and entered the victim's vehicle.

The vehicle is described as a white 2005 Mercedes C24 4 door with Louisiana plates. The victim saw his vehicle go out the north entrance and then turn south on Highway 83. The victim ran after it, stood in the middle of 83, and was struck by the accelerating vehicle. The victim tumbled over the hood and windshield and fell off the passenger side of the vehicle taking the mirror with him. The vehicle then fled eastbound on 167. The victim refused rescue although he had multiple scrapes on his legs and arms.

The followup investigation revealed that another vehicle described as possibly a blue Sorrento Kia with a temp tag on the back window, had dropped off the main suspect at the gas station. That vehicle also went eastbound after the theft. The only description of the suspects at this point are that they are two black males. The investigation has been referred to the detective bureau for more follow-up.

Hit and Run/ Fourth OWI

The Sheriff's Office investigated a hit and run accident on Sept. 10 at 7:53 p.m. at a tavern in the 3500 block of South Shore Drive in the Village of Richfield. A 57-year-old Hubertus man pulled into the parking lot and struck two vehicles and a dumpster. He then fled the area on foot. The driver was located at a nearby home and taken into custody for OWI Fourth. A breath test showed a result of 0.18.

Personal Injury Accident/Second OWI

A 21-year-old Town of Addison man was arrested for second offense operation while intoxicated after he crashed his vehicle into the trees on Wildlife on Sept. 11 at 9:01 p.m. Initially it was thought that there was another passenger in the vehicle. After checking by deputies and Allenton firefighters with a thermal imager, a second occupant was not located and contact was also made with another subject who confirmed he was alone. The force of the impact caused the engine of the vehicle to be thrown from the car, and at the time of the report, it still had not been found. The driver was transported but did not have life-threatening injuries.

Public Meeting For I-41 Bridge Rehabilitation In Washington County

– Open House On Design Project Addressing Seven Structures

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Southeast Region is announcing a public involvement meeting for the proposed rehabilitation of seven bridges along I-41, from County K to the Washington/Dodge county line. The meeting is scheduled from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, September 14, at Addison Town Hall, 127 First Street, Allenton, WI. IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN "JACK" ZALEWSKI WHO PASSED AWAY 6 YEARS AGO, SEPTEMBER 16, 2010

To the living, I am gone.
To the sorrowful, I will never return.
To the angry, I was cheated.
But to the happy, I am at peace.
And to the faithful, I have never left.
I cannot be seen, but I can be heard.

So as you stand upon a shore gazing at a beautiful sea-remember me.
As you look in awe at a mighty forest and its grand majesty-remember me.
As you look upon a flower and admire its simplicity-remember me.

Remember me in your heart, your thoughts, your memories of the times we loved, the times we cried, the times we laughed.

For if you always think of me, I will never be gone.

Deeply missed by Diane and Shawn, Scott and JJ (John Jeffrey) Zimmerman

Washington County deputies are continuing an investigation into a holdup at the Club 144, West Bend, about 10:45 p.m. Sunday, when a masked bandit obtained approximately $260 from tavern operator Elmer Smith and fled. The holdup man entered the tavern while Smith was in a back room. When Smith, believing the holdup was a joke, reached for the gunman's mask, the bandit backed off and drew up what appeared to be a handgun and ordered him to give him the money. Smith gave him the cash in the register and the gunman fled. Several other break-ins are also being investigated. A gang is believed to have pulled all of the thefts. The thieves apparently stole a car in Fond du Lac which they abandoned at New Fane, stole a second car which was abandoned at Oostburg where a third car, later recovered in Milwaukee was stolen. Frank Kadinger's garage at New Fane was entered where a cash register, later discovered near St. Michaels was located. Norbert Serwe's tavern at St. Michaels was broken into and looted. About $22 liquor and cigarettes was taken. A garage at Silver Creek was also entered as well as other places in the area and Oostburg.

Wednesday, Sept. 17 was a day of heartfelt grief for members of Holy Trinity Congregation here and the mission church at St. Bridgets. On this day the Very Reverend Dean Philip J. Vogt, venerable pastor of the two churches the past 46 years, and highly honored and dearly beloved citizen of this village, was stricken and peacefully passed away at the parish home. The Lord and Master summoned the esteemed pastor to his heavenly reward at the age of 82 years, one month and 28 days.

The young man was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kohn. Sylvester was the second son of the family killed in a highway accident. Yeska Family Reunion 2016

For 27 years, the descendants of Anton and Stella Yeska have met at Hometown Neshkoro, Wi. for their annual Labor Day family reunion. About 73 came from Illinois, Texas, Massachusetts and various places in Wisconsin. We met at Stan O Gene Park one mile north of Neshkoro on Hwy 73.

It began with a golf outing at Twin Oaks near Wautoma on Saturday at noon. We enjoyed sub sandwiches. The Kurz family was in charge. We had a business meeting.

There were games scheduled for children and adults. Since the Olympics were on, each family was asked to bring a flag. They were judged and prizes awarded. Joe Kurz of Chippewa Falls, brought his project of Monarch butterflies. He is also our genealogist trying to compute our family history.

We also honored our veterans in our family, and one relative went on the Honor Flight to Washington, D.C.

At 4 p.m. Saturday many attended the mass at St. James' Place for the living and deceased members of the Yeska family.

At 5 p.m. we enjoyed a feast of roast chicken, pulled pork and many other goodies. The every popular "frog game" was last on the list. Winners were drawn, with Dorothy Kerhin the big winner of $50.

On Sunday some of us visited the home of Dr. and Mrs. Christopher Luty who will start his practice at a clinic in Appleton.

September 3 was Patty Celek's birthday, so she treated us to a dinner at Silver Cryst near Wautoma. On Monday morning we visited the newly decorated log home of Mary and Pat Klier.

We said our good byes and departed for home.

Reunion 2016

In twenty sixteen we gather again, What's left of the Yeska clan, Stella and Anton would be mighty proud, To see the results of their plan.

They instilled in us the fear of the Lord, With kind and loving care, And because of their diligence, We have these moments to share.

Neshkoro isn't a fancy place, But it's been our home for years, We struggled through depression and war, With laughter and some tears.

Many a loved one was laid to rest, But recent births filled the space, With heavy hearts we travel on, And keep a smile on our face.

Let me take you back in time, When I was a little kid, We have butcher Fred Henke, And later Retz grocery store.

We had Ed Dahlke store and hall, Wegenke funeral home, the Gley Hotel Callahans, Johnny Burns, Ray Johnson Optometry, Barbers Oelke and Weckwerth Loshibski feed mill, Dahlke and Giese Warehouse, Groskrietz and Meyer Charlie Boy garage and Steffy's saloon, Koats candy store and many more.

I hope you enjoyed this travel through time, You see our roots run deep, God bless us each and everyone, We'll have great memories to keep.

-Isabelle Yeska Muckerheide

Weekly HEALTH TIP

LIFESTYLE & COGNITIVE RISK

New research suggests that certain lifestyle choices may affect the risk of cognitive decline. The randomized, controlled trial involved 1,200 adults between 60 and 77 who were at risk for dementia. The intervention group received specific diet recommendations, did aerobic and strength training exercises, had computer-based training to sharpen thinking skills, and attended regular meetings for social interaction. The control group got only general health advice. After 24 months, the intervention group's scores were 25% higher in overall cognitive function, 83% higher in executive function, and 150% higher in mental processing speed than the control group.

Schoofs Honored For Their Sesquicentennial Farm

Lori and Tom Schoofs of Kewaskum and their family were recently honored at the 2016 Wisconsin State Fair, presented by U.S. Cellular, for their Sesquicentennial Farm.

The Sesquicentennial Farm Awards Program began in 1998 as part of the state's sesquicentennial celebration. The program honors families who have had continuous ownership of their Wisconsin farm or home for 150 years or more. For the past 19 years, Hillshire Farm of New London, Wis. sponsored the program. New this year Badgerland Financial also sponsored the Awards Program in conjunction with their 100-year anniversary.

On Tuesday, Aug. 9 during the Wisconsin State Fair, Hillshire Farm recognized 42 Sesquicentennial Farm families. More than 780 sesquicentennial properties have been honored since the program's inception.

For more information on the Sesquicentennial Farm Program, call Jill Albanese at 414-777-0580.

St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran School Welcomes New Teacher

St. Lucas Lutheran School is proud to announce and welcome Mark Hesse as the new second grade language arts and seventh and eighth grade reading teacher. Hesse will be responsible for language arts and math for second, seventh and eighth grade, as well as Math Tracks.

He joins the St. Lucas teachers from Atonement Lutheran School in Milwaukee. He has previously served at St. Mark's Lutheran School in Watertown and directed The Escape Teen Center in Fort Atkinson.

"It always amazes me to witness a child's intellectual growth. I am truly blessed with this opportunity to work with the children of St. Lucas and witness that growth every day," Hesse said.

David Stoltz, St. Lucas principal, stated, "We are really excited to have Mark on our faculty. He brings to the table, being new and as young as he is, a youthful exuberance that is needed to balance our excellent staff. We look forward to learning from him as much as he will learn from us."

Passport Day At The Kewaskum Post Office

- Postal Service Makes Traveling Easy This Year

Do you plan to take an international trip? Is your current passport about to expire? Or, are you applying for your first passport? Well, look no further than your local Post Office.

The Kewaskum Post Office will host a Passport Day event on Thursday, September 22 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. "This is a great opportunity for Kewaskum residents planning to travel outside the United States to apply for a passport without making a reservation," said Kewaskum Postmaster Hope Lewitzke.

In addition to the familiar passport book, travelers can also apply for a passport card, which may be used for land and sea travel between the United States and Canada, Mexico, Bermuda or the Caribbean region. The wallet-size passport card is a less expensive alternative for those who travel to these destinations, but it cannot be used for international air travel.

To apply for a passport book or passport card for the first time, applicants need proof of U.S. citizenship in the form of their birth certificate issued by the city, county or state, or a certificate of citizenship or a naturalization certificate. Applicants will also need a valid form of photo identification, and must submit a photocopy of identification, such as a current valid driver's license, government ID or military photo ID. There will be photo service available at the Kewaskum Post Office.

For first time applicants, the fee for a passport book is $110.00 to the Department of State with an acceptance fee of $25 to the Postal Service. The fee for an adult passport card is $30.00. An expedited process is also available. Passport applications for both the book and the card require a 2 x 2 photograph in color, which can be taken at the Passport Day event for a $15.00 fee. The fee for minors under the age of 16 is $80 for a Passport Book and $15 for a Passport Card. Parents applying for Passport Books/Cards for children under the age of 16 must both be present along with the child.

"We're here to help our customers as they prepare to travel the world," added Lewitzke. "We make getting a passport easy and convenient with a one-stop shop solution," she explained.

Customers can learn more about passport application costs and save time by downloading forms at www.usps.com/passport. U.S. citizens may also obtain passport information by phone, in English and Spanish, by calling the National Passport Information Center toll-free at 1-877-487-2778. For the latest information on passport deadlines and other travel requirements established by the U.S. Department of State, go to www.travel.state.gov. Travelers can check the status of their passport applications online at: http://travel.state.gov/passport/status/status_2567.htm.

Girls And Volunteers: Time To Join In The Fun Of Girl Scouts

- Research Shows Trying New Things, Even Through Failure, Improves Girls' Lives.

As summer draws to a close and parents and students begin preparing for back to school, Girl Scouts of Manitou Council is inviting girls to join the fun by registering for Girl Scouts. Girl Scouts gives girls a supportive space to take chances, try new things, and learn to succeed—even through failure—improving all aspects of their lives.

According to a new study published by the American Psychological Association, kids perform better if they have experienced failure—trying again when it doesn't go as planned the first time is part of the learning process. Research shows "helping children to interpret difficulty, not as a sign of intellectual limitation but as the normal learning outcome," enhanced how they tackled tough tasks and lowered their negative emotional response to these activities. The GSRI Research Institute found the variety of activities offered through Girl Scouts—from planning and leading projects to participating in community service and outdoor expeditions—allows girls to gain skills and confidence that also help them do well in school.

To join Girl Scouts in our area girls 5-17 and parents should come register on Thursday, September 22 from 6 p.m. - 7 p.m. at The Annex in Kewaskum or contact Barbara at barb.duren@gmail.com or contact Jessica at babyshana3@hotmail.com.

When girls are given a safe and supportive environment to take chances, despite the potential for failure, they're able to experience the emotional impact of risk without damaging consequences. Girl Scouts is the premier place to provide girls with a safe environment for trying new things and overcoming fears, making them greater challenge-seekers, more academically proficient students, and, eventually, more successful adults.

Experiencing the benefits of girl-led activities like Girl Scouts can lead to significant growth in girls' leadership skills—and, according to the GSRI Research Institute, Girl Scouts have more leadership experiences than other girls and boys. Of girls, 84 percent say that they learned or did new things in Girl Scouts, and 80 percent reported that in Girl Scouts they were able to do things that they could not have done in other places. Through experiences like these, girls become more active and engaged learners, develop a positive sense of self, and learn resourceful problem solving.

According to Amber Tenpas, the President of the Girl Scouts of Manitou Council, "It's not just girls' confidence and attitude that improve through Girl Scouts. Girls also learn not to avoid difficult tasks, and they become stronger challenge-seekers who are more likely to feel academically engaged and competent as a result. Embracing failure as a natural part of life ensures our Girl Scouts develop the tenacity to overcome obstacles later in life. A girl who can take challenges head-on will grow into a woman who is more successful in all areas of her life."

Anyone over the age of 18 who is a good role model can become a Girl Scout volunteer. Each adult who volunteers has the opportunity to make a real difference in the lives of girls. Girl Scout volunteers come from all walks of life; they are women, men, young professionals, retirees, college students, and parents.

For parkour enthusiasts, the sport is also a form of communication.

"I think it's a term of self expression where I can express my feelings, my wishes, through movement rather than written down. It's just a way for me to express to the world the way I see myself," Kurer said.

As people participate in parkour, they overcome barriers that come in a path. Obstacles may be things such as rocks, trees, buildings or ledges.

"Sometimes these obstacles come up suddenly. They are not choreographed, they take quick thinking. Once you get moving, you come upon this obstacle. Am I going to jump over it, or am I going to precision it, jump on top of it? Will I go over the top or am I going to spin off of it? That's what is unique about this movement. It's a spontaneous thing that just happens when you are doing it," said Kurer's father, Cam Kurer.

But parkour overcomes more hurdles than that. Cultural, religious, social and language barriers are also surmounted.

"If our political leaders across the world could do what these guys are doing today, the world would be at complete peace. There are Palestinian and Israeli teams that meet together in the Middle East and are able to get along and do this type of thing together and not have any hindrances or any walls between them. It is an amazing movement, unparalleled, I think, in world history," Cam Kurer said.

About Parkour

With its origins in the French military, parkour resembles a combination of gymnastics and martial arts as athletes transport themselves from one place to another.

"You start at Point A, but we kind of got stuck in the middle, in between, playing around," explained 23-year-old Kevin Ryser of Switzerland.

The sport, or art, is open to everyone.

"People think it's crazy or dangerous, but it's really not. It is what you make it. I can go out and play in the grass for an hour or on a rail. It's fun," Peter Kurer said.

Still, it takes lots of training.

"You don't go out the first day and try to do jumps. It takes years of progression, learning certain skills to become the best you can," said 19-year-old Chicago native Ian Christenson.

Many of the people on the Inspire Tour, including Peter Kurer who claimed a title in Milwaukee, have competed in parkour.

But the sport is not all about winning for the participants.

"It's about being satisfied with yourself," Christenson said.

Inspire Tour

Inspire Tour is an international organization that was formed in 2013. The organization currently has about 60 to 100 members.

"It's a bunch of free runners that have the same passion of sharing movement with everyone else," Christenson said.

At each of their stops, the athletes will teach the art of parkour to people of all ages at churches or gyms. They also participate in "jam" sessions that people can watch.

The athletes raise funds to finance their trips. In addition, different organizations and businesses sponsor the group.

As they stop in different areas, they stay with volunteer host families, or at gyms or campgrounds.

Although they had not met each other until they gathered in Kewaskum for the Inspire Tour, the group of parkour enthusiasts felt immediately at ease with all one another.

"Basically, because I do parkour, and I know he does parkour, I know I can trust in him. We are connected to the same philosophy," explained Leandro Ramos of Chile.

Wisconsin Origins

Michael Hartwig, a 25-year-old native of Mayville, organized the Inspire Tour for the group. Over the past three years, he has gone on a total of 12 tours, with each tour covering thousands of miles.

"We go into each community and connect with as many people as we can," Hartwig said.

Hartwig started practicing parkour about 10 years ago when he was in high school.

"Michael is a former student of mine at Mayville. When I started seeing him leave class by jumping over desks and spinning off the walls, I knew something was going to happen in the future," joked Cam

Early Farm Days Brings History To Life

By Anne Trautner

Tractors chugged noisily across the park grounds. Steam engine whistles blew. Conveyor belts clanked along their tracks. River Hill Park was filled with all sorts of old farm contraptions.

It was Sunday, Sept. 11, and it was Early Farm Days in Kewaskum.

The Kewaskum Historical Society has sponsored the local event each year since 1975. It draws people from across the region.

There was plenty for people to see and do. The Kewaskum High School FFA sponsored a petting farm for children. There were hands-on activities for people to learn how people from days long ago had farmed.

In addition, there were lots of things that go, including old cars, bicycles a horse-drawn wagon and various tractors.

This year, the event featured a special theme of "All Things Dairy."

People were able to view an old dairy items such as cream separators and old milking equipment. An old-fashioned milk can washing machine was displayed.

And free milk was served.

The Kewaskum Historical Museum and log cabin were open for people to go through.

Tucked away in the lower level of the Kewaskum Historical Museum, away from the hustle and bustle of the crowd and noisy machines, local historian Karl McCarty gave a presentation on dairy farming in the Town of Ashford during the early 1900s.

McCarty told the story of the Ashford Cheese Factory and the Kleinhans' Cheesefactory in St. Kilian.

McCarty explained how cheese had been made and the importance of the springhouse.

"You need fresh water continuously running," McCarty said. "It's not just a stream. It's fresh water, almost perfect. You could wash dirty milkers down there, and you didn't have to worry about sanitation."

McCarty also covered the economics of the industry and how the business changed over the years.

But almost more important than the information he gave out were the historical stories that visitors shared with McCarty. He listened intently to all the details.

"I'm always here to take stories down," McCarty said.

Indian Trio Provides Highlights On The Gridiron

By Judy Harlow

While its running game was stalled most of the night and the passing game was diminished by four interceptions, a trio of seniors came up with big plays on Sept. 9 to lift the Kewaskum High football team to a 28-12 victory over an improved Ripon (1-1, 1-3) eleven.

With the win, the Indians moved to 2-0 in East Central Conference action and 4-0 overall.

Offensive end Brady Hanson, defensive back Alex Vogt and kick return specialist Kyle Pamperin provided the heroics for the Indians, who were held to just 69 yards rushing, far below their season average of 176 yards per game.

KHS struggled in its two offensive series before putting together a four-play, 62-yard drive near the end of the first quarter. The six-foot, six-inch Hanson hauled in a 28-yard strike from Dalton Poole for the game's first score.

Vogt got his chance to shine early in the fourth quarter with Kewaskum holding a 14-0 advantage over the visiting Tigers.

With just over 10 minutes remaining in the game, Ripon QB Andrew Saul rolled out to avoid the Indians' defensive rush and let the ball fly, hoping it would end land in the arms of a teammate. Instead, it was Vogt, a first-year defensive back, picking off the ball, pulling away from one tackler, then miraculously maintaining his balance to dash into the left corner of the south end zone for a 35-yard score.

With Cade Peterson's successful kick, the Indians upped their lead to 21-0, and now coach Jason Piittmann started to breathe a bit easier. Not for too long, however, as the Tigers came right back with a nifty kickoff return by Melvin Lee to the 45-yard line, and from there moved 55- yards in eight plays for their first touchdown of the night (21-7).

Here's where Pamperin came up big. He gathered in the ensuing kickoff at the 10-yard line, turned on the jets and came right up the middle of the field, then used his sprinter speed to outrace all the remaining Tigers to the goal line.

In the case of both Vogt and Pamperin, these touchdowns were their first of the season, and in Pamperin's case, the first of his varsity career as he sat out with an injury the majority of last year.

Vogt couldn't stop from smiling. "It felt amazing. There's no other feeling like it," he said about being able to help his team win. And helping the team has been Vogt's goal all season, right from the time he was switched from running back to d-back.

"I'm not disappointed (about playing defense)," Vogt said. "The coaches put the players in the right spots ... I'm OK with it." About his TD return, Vogt said, "I felt like I was going to get it, and it happened!"

Vogt also had an interception in the second quarter and another near the end of the game, so he was a thorn in the Tigers' side the entire evening.

Hanson is currently one of the team's leading tacklers from his safety spot, but when it's his turn to play offensive end in the rotation, exciting things happen. Against the Tigers, Hanson caught four balls for an even 100 yards, and he was thrilled to have the ball thrown his way, even though he admitted an error on the touchdown pass.

"I like it a lot," Hanson said about playing end. In explaining the touchdown pass, he said, "It was actually supposed to be a comeback route, and I messed it up and ran a slant."

Three other Indians, Tony Steger, Dan Kreis and Cole Surprenant, each had two catches. One of Steger's catches, a 21-yarder gave the Indians a 14-0 lead in the second quarter, capping a 33-yard drive, he started with a 13-yard punt return.

Poole's effort was a mixed bag, completing 11 of 23 passes for 187 yards and the two touchdowns, but he also fumbled a direct snap on the Ripon four-yard line, halting a drive, and he threw three interceptions, the final one a play which the Tigers' Jake Henderson turned into a 50-yard "pick six" with 1:33 remaining.

Junior quarterback Gabe Christenson threw the other interception.

Ripon tried an onside kick but it was recovered by Dawson Fox, and the Indians had two kneel-down plays to run out the clock.

teams, the defense was its usual stingy unit, limiting Ripon to 31 yards and one first down in the first half. Linebacker Faton Elmazi had two solo tackles and 12 team tackles, while Hanson came up with five solos and eight team tackles, and Michael Boettcher had five of each.

Surprenant was KHS's leading rusher with 47 yards in 11 carries, and Steger was limited to 27 in five carries.

KHS Spikers Turn Back Ripon

By Judy Harlow

It was like a car moving off a starting point, slow initially but steadily accelerating. The Kewaskum High volleyball team started slow, then "kicked into gear" in Game 2 of its home match against Ripon on Sept. 8, and the Indians continued to play at a higher level, enough to earn a victory over the Tigers in four games.

"We started flat in the first set," KHS coach Lane Leitzke said about the 19-25 loss, but the Indians came flying back to win the next three, 26-24, 25-19 and 25-23 for their first dual meet victory in East Central competition.

"We had some lulls that made the second and fourth sets appear tighter than they were," the coach went on. "Ripon didn't stop fighting, and we were able to push through and get the win."

Leaders at the net were Elizabeth Lightner and Amanda Schaller, who recorded 10 and nine kills, respectively, and in the blocking department, it was Lightner, Sarah Butschlick and Alexandria Dorn with one each.

Lightner, one of the team's leaders, also served extremely well as shown by her five aces. Brooke Espitia was next with three.

No question as to who were the dig leaders. Senior Brittany Williams was all over the court, putting up 23 digs, with Schaller and Brelynn Scoles next with 14 and 12, respectively.

Butschlick was an important cog in the Indians machine, contributing 18 assists, while Espitia added nine.

"Defensively we made great strides from where we were Tuesday (at Mayville), but, as always there is work to be done," Leitzke said. "I had challenged some players before the match to up their intensity, and they responded."

The Indians will host arch rival Waupun tonight for Senior Night. "I know everyone wants to win for these seniors," including Williams, Hailey Schicker and Dorn.

Currently, Kewaskum is 2-2 in EC action and 2-5 overall. Both victories have come over Ripon.

EC standings: 1. Kettle Moraine Lutheran, 3-0; 2. Winneconne, 4-1; 3. (tie) Kewaskum, 2-2, Plymouth, 2-2 and Berlin, 2-2; 6. (tie) Campbellsport, 2-3 and Waupun, 2-3; 8. Ripon, 0-4.

At Mayville on Sept. 6, Kewaskum won the first set 25-23, then lost the next three, 18-25, 16-25 and 20-25, giving the Cardinals the match.

Rain Interrupts Indians' Tennis Schedule

By Judy Harlow

The rain came at inopportune times this past week as far as the Kewaskum High girls tennis team was concerned.

First the East Central dual meet at Ripon was postponed on Sept. 8, and then on Sept. 10, the Indians and four other teams waited through a long morning rain delay only to have the two-day Brown Deer Invitational cancelled.

"This was the second rain cancelled multi-school tournament for Kewaskum this year," KHS coach Peter Garcia said, the first being the Washington County Invitational.

It was disappointing for Garcia, especially after his girls had played well in a 5-2 loss to Sheboygan Falls on Friday night after being shut out by the Falcons a couple weeks ago. "We were full of confidence from the improved performance from the night before," he said, reporting the Indians won just 25 games in the first meet and increased that total to 42.

Especially exciting was the play of Grace Marchello, who moved up from the JV team to replace Emma Proeder, who was not available because of a job commitment. Marchello wound up beating Sydney Federer 6-3, 6-3 at No. 3 singles.

"I have never seen an athlete show such poise and determination in their first varsity match," Garcia said. "To see all the techniques you coach being applied in a game setting in that athlete's first varsity experience was truly rewarding. I could not have been prouder of this young lady."

At No. 3 doubles, the team of Kallie Hoeft and Marissa Zarda were winners over Brianna Vanwyk and Kim Dean 7-6 (4), 3-6 and 10 (4). "They showed their growth, splitting the first two sets and in a stunning upset won the super tie-breaker 10-4. Wow!"

Before the match was cancelled Saturday, KHS was leading Brown Deer 4-0. Morgan Wenzlaff was a 6-0, 6-3 winner at No. 1 singles; Marcello won 6-1, 6-1 at No. 3; Amanda Kroloski won 6-0 and 6-0 at No. 4; and the team of Kassiday Lange/Hannah Preder won 6-0, 6-2.

Plymouth 7, Kewaskum 0

On Sept. 6, the Indians were shut out by host Plymouth 7-0 but the effort was encouraging, according to Garcia, who said, "We continue to improve."

"Play was highlighted by our No. 3 singles, Amanda Kroloski, who dropped her first set 6-3, came back to win the second by a score of 6-2 only to lose in a third set super 10 tie-breaker," Garcia went on, noting the tie-breaker was used in place of a full set because of the heat and humidity."

The KHS coach reported all of his doubles teams were competitive and noted his No. 1 duo, comprised of Lange and Hannah Preder lost 6-2, 6-4 to Plymouth's Scarlet Simenz and Cassandra Nicholson, who were at Nos. 1 and 2 singles last season but have decided to play doubles this year.

Singles: No. 1 Wenzlaff lost to Drew Krablean, 3-6, 2-6; No. 2 Ashley Marti lost to Amanda Krueger, 0-6, 1-6; No. 3 E. Preder lost to Ashley Batzner, 2-6, 2-6; No. 4 Kroloski lost to Lexi Schaub, 3-6, 6-2, 6-10 (TB)

Doubles: No. 1 Lange/H. Preder lost to Simenz/Nicholson, 2-6, 4-6; No. 2 Brandi Geldnich/Ariahna Grossenbacher lost to Kaylee Worfel/Kayla Prael, 2-6, 3-6; No. 3 Hoeft/Zarda lost to Savannah Wiese/Ellie Potrykus, 1-6, 2-6.

Soccer Game Goes In The Wrong Direction

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum High coach John Kenworthy was confident this was going to be a breakthrough game for his soccer team against Ripon, a team he said the Indians match up with very well.

Warmups went on without a hitch, then the unexpected happened, and it definitely had an effect on the KHS team, which ended up losing this East Central Conference game 3-1 on Sept. 8.

"I get upset when we go through warmups as a complete team, and then J.J. (Heberer) takes himself out of the game before the game gets started," Kenworthy said about the situation with his already thin team. He pointed to the fact another three seniors are still out because of an athletic code violation, and, "We had no outside mid subs at all, and we brought up some JV's who played their first game on varsity."

The Indians definitely missed Heberer's play on offense. He currently leads the teams in scoring with eight goals. KHS battled hard to overcome his absence but came up short.

Ripon scored a pair of goals in the first half, with Noah Rindo giving the Tigers the lead at 19:20, and Aiden Schoof adding an unassisted goal at 42:50.

Senior Alek Gerhartz scored the Indians' lone goal at 52:50, booting a long ball that got past Tiger keeper Luis Andrade. "Alek's goal was a phenomenal goal," according to Kenworthy, who said, "He had an outside look ... (It was) a great kick which we know he can do."

The Indians pushed hard to get the tying goal but didn't finish several chances or had goal attempts go over the top of the net.

Hunter Kuehl missed a good attempt at 70 minutes, and Ripon came right back on a breakaway play, with Noah Rindo scoring unassisted at 71:24, giving his team a 3-1 lead.

Young Hunter Schmitt also had an opportunity to score with four minutes remaining but his kick sailed over the net.

Kenworthy praised the play of his goal keeper, Conner Enright, who stopped nine shots during the game and continues to shine with a group of inexperienced defenders ahead of him.

"I thought Conner played a great game on defense," Kenworthy said, and Matt Krautkramer and Will Jens also turned in spurts of good play.

"We got a little sloppy at the end. We got tired," Kenworthy said, but, "Tomorrow's another day."

With the loss, Kewaskum falls to 0-4 in EC play and 2-6 overall. The Indians will have three chances this week to get back on track. They hosted Waupun on Sept. 13, then will travel to Berlin on Sept. 15 before returning home to host a triangular meet with North Fond du Lac and Milwaukee School of Languages on Sept. 17. Play will begin at 9 a.m.

Fewer Players Could Mean Fewer Teams

By Judy Harlow

Whether it's because of a fear of sustaining concussions, the August 2 starting date, having more interest in other sports or an increased number of high school students getting jobs, there has been a decline in the numbers going out for football are obvious this year.

Ripon, Kettle Moraine Lutheran and Campbellsport have all dropped their JV programs for this year in the East Central Conference, while Port Washington did not field a JV team, although their varsity program lists 16 sophomores out for the sport.

This has been a nightmare for scheduling for those teams who do have JV teams, including Kewaskum, which is using juniors and sophomores to field a full team. Kewaskum has a good number of freshmen, juniors and seniors, but there are just a dozen sophomores in the sport this fall. Nearby Campbellsport has just six seniors and six juniors out for the sport, so sophomores must be used on the varsity.

Will this prompt the EC to go with teams at two levels (varsity and JV to include freshmen) instead of the current three? "We talked about it at our first (Athletic Director) meeting this year," KHS AD Jason Piittmann said recently, indicating no final decision was reached. Piittmann said several of the schools in the North Shore Conference, which has higher enrollments than the East Central, are experiencing a drop in numbers and may go with just two squads in the future.

Piittmann scrambled to fill the open dates and did find a game with the St. Mary's Springs JV team for Tuesday October 4. Also Winneconne agreed to play Kewaskum for a home and home series.

There was a mixup on the first meeting at Winneconne, however, as the Winneconne coaches were expecting Kewaskum to be bringing freshmen, while they brought JVs.

The KHS JVs will play seven games this fall, including the one against the Winneconne freshmen.

KHS Golfers Struggle Against WLT Powers

By Judy Harlow

The Beaver Dam golf team continues its domination in the WLT conference, and the numbers the Golden Beavers are putting up are amazing.

At Watertown on Sept. 8, Beaver Dam posted a 167 from its low players, including the even par score of 36 by Ashley Kulka, who had two birdies and two bogeys. Both are league records.

Hartford was a distant second with 190, followed by West Bend, 194; Oconomowoc, 198; Watertown, 199; and Kewaskum, which had an off day and had to settle for a 234.

Leading the Indians was Taylor Schmidt, who steadily put together a round of 57. Alyssa Dreher and Larissa Lindsley were next with 59s, and soph Grace Kober rounded out the top four with her 63.

"The top of our order really had a rough time at Watertown," KHS coach Amy Uhlig said, referring to Taylor Cook and Alivia Wisnefske, who did not count in this match. "Alyssa and Grace remained consistent, and I was very pleased with the rebound of Taylor Schmidt and Larisa. They stepped up for us."

Current LT standings: 1. Beaver Dam, 6 points; 2. Hartford, 12; 3. Oconomowoc, 17; 4. West Bend, 18; 5. Watertown, 22; 6. Kewaskum, 30.

On Sept. 6, the Lady Indians found out West Bend Country Club is one of the toughest courses they will play on all season.

"A very tough night for the team," Uhlig said. "We talked about the challenges there, but four of the girls have never seen the course before. The elevated greens and the speed of the greens were the toughest features of the course to get accustomed to," along with the difficult pin placements.

KHS wound up sixth with a 234 total. Beaver Dam, led by medalist Ashley Kulka (four-over-par 41), won with a 189, three shots head of Hartford's 192. The host combined West Bend team wound up third at 202.

Wisnefske led the Indians with a 52. Dreher carded a 53 that included a nine on the final hole. "Alyssa played an exceptional round out there as a freshman," Uhlig said. "That was a huge boost of confidence for her."

Taylor Cook, next with 59, hit the ball well, according to Uhlig but had troubles on the greens.

The other counter was Lindsley with 61.

Rains Wipe Out CC Meet

– KHS Teams Back In Action This Week

Kewaskum High Athletic Director Jason Piittmann was informed Sept. 7th that the annual Mike Hurlibert Cross Country Meet has been cancelled due to the recent heavy rains that hit the Mayville

Country Club where the meet is traditionally held.

The meet, which had been set for Sept. 8, will not be re-scheduled.

Next up for the KHS cross country teams is the Waupun Invitational, which was held at Rock River Golf Course on Sept. 13. This Saturday, Sept. 17, the Indians will be at the Tuscumbia Golf Course in Ripon for the Ripon Invitational.

Eighth Grade Gridiron

– Indians 20, Pewaukee Pirates 13

Saturday, Sept. 10 at Pewaukee

The eighth grade Gridiron Indians opened the season with a win in a close game against the Pirates.

The Indians got on the board first on their first possession of the season putting together a nice drive that was capped off by a five-yard touchdown run by quarterback Michael Daniel. The Indians then used an interception and nice return by defensive back Kyle Elbe to set up their next scoring possession, which was capped by a 10 yard touchdown pass from Daniel to wide receiver Mason Droese to give the Indians a 12-0 lead going into halftime.

In the second half the Pirates struck first with a 40-yard touchdown run to make the score 12-6. The next couple of possessions netted nothing offensively for either team until the Indians forced a Pirate fumble, recovered by defensive lineman Blake Weisser, which provided the Indians with great field position. The Indians ended the drive with a three-yard touchdown run from running back Isaiah Stuhrt and the two-point kick by Daniel made the score 20-6. The Pirates added a late score on a five-yard touchdown run to make the final score 20-13.

Good Putting Was The Key To Krueger's Championship Run

By Judy Harlow

The keys to Jay Krueger winning his second straight Hon-E-Kor CC Men's Club Championship were: maintaining composure when his opponent was in the lead and being able to convert on birdie opportunities.

Krueger did pretty well in both those categories and left the course on Labor Day with a 3-and-2 victory over his friend and competitor, Craig Anderson.

"It was a good match. We both hit the ball fairly well. I just putted a little bit better," Krueger, the boys' golf coach at West Bend East, said, reporting the finals were played on the White, Red and Blue Nines in that order, and that he birdied the first hole on all three nines, starting with a three on the par 4 first hole on White.

Krueger said Anderson drew even with him by posting a birdie on the third hole, and, "By the end of that nine, I was down two (-2)."

"I got one back on the first hole (of Red), Krueger went on, reporting, "He got it right back on No. 3, and we both birdied No. 3" so Anderson was still two-up.

Krueger won No. 5, and then the two tied Nos. 6, 7, 8 and 9, so now Anderson held a one-up lead with nine holes remaining in the 27-hole match play test. Once again, Krueger started out with a birdie 3 and posted another birdie on No. 2 to take the lead.

It didn't last for long, however, as Krueger lost No. 3, "so we were all square after 22 holes. Here's where Krueger made his move, winning No. 5 and 6 with pars, and then, "I used a 50-degree wedge to about eight feet on No. 7. I made birdie to his par" to end the match.

Krueger said he figured he shot 75 to Anderson's 3-over-73 on the White and Red Nines, but on the Blue, "I was two-under through seven."

This is Krueger's third club championship at Hon-E-Kor. "I won one of the first years I was a member, in 2000 or 2001," he said, adding, "Then there was a long dry spell."

To reach the finals, Krueger had a bye in the first round, beat Joe Volesky 2-and-1 in the second round in a "very close match" and then topped Michael Korth 5-and-4 in the semifinals.

Anderson had an extra hole — it went 19 holes — win over Jim Rohlinger in the quarterfinals and beat Ryan Doherty in the semis.

The results of the final matches in the other flights are as follows: First Flight — Brian Ogle defeated Bob Roloff; Second Flight — Jim "Jingles" Volesky defeated Mike Maurer; and Third Flight — Eric Swanson defeated Tim Sena. No details were available from these matches.

Hon-E-Kor will host the annual Kettle Moraine Amateur this weekend, Sept. 17-18. Golfers may still enter the 36-hole medal event by signing up at the course. The entry fee is $60 for Hon-E-Kor members, $100 for non-members, which includes greens fees, and $100 (greens fees and cart fees included) for those from courses who have a reciprocal agreement with Hon-E-Kor.

A bestball event will be held in conjunction with the tournament at $10 per team.

Issues With Your Tissues

Contributed by: Lori Bersch,
Licensed Massage Therapist & Certified Posture Expert

Most people don't connect the dots between pain and posture. When you feel pain in your tissues, it's an indicator that there may be structural dysfunction present. Seeking help from a posture expert can help you accurately identify the cause of your postural and musculoskeletal issues so you can seek proper correctional treatment. This week's online report goes into further detail on soft tissue and musculoskeletal conditions related to posture and their accompanying symptoms. Make sure you go to my website to read that. Let's take a look at one in detail now.

The most common postural dysfunction is Forward Head Posture accompanied by Thoracic Hyperkyphosis (hunchback). We are de-evolving into a forward-flexion society from our sedentary lifestyle habits. Long-term effects of these conditions can be detrimental to our health causing spinal degeneration, physiological conditions, and even internal organ problems. The first signs of these postural distortions are most often felt in our soft tissues.

Soft tissue of the body includes muscles, tendons, ligaments, nerves, fascia, joint capsules, cartilage, and bursa. Injuries to these tissues can be acute, like when you twist your ankle and sprain a ligament. They can also occur slowly over time with repetitive patterns leading to chronic problems such as muscle tightness, weakness, and even atrophy (wasting away of muscle tissue). Tightness and weakness are the most common cause of postural dysfunction, and it can make you susceptible to those aforementioned acute injuries. Each soft tissue has a certain "feel" when injured. With a muscle strain, for instance, weakness or loss of function is present and pain can be felt when the affected muscle is engaged or stretched. Nerve compression causes tingling and numbness, and often shooting pain into the extremities. Anyone who has ever had sciatic pain would know that feeling. We use your symptoms to identify which type of tissue is being affected. This is a key factor in determining the accuracy of your postural dysfunction.

Forward Head Posture (FHP), often referred to as "text neck", is a chronic dysfunctional postural pattern that affects the upper torso and neck muscles. It is reported that 66-90% of the population presents with Forward Head Posture. That's an astonishing number folks! Did you know that for every inch that your head moves forward in relation to your torso that it puts an additional 10 pounds of weight on your lower cervical vertebrae? If you've ever felt like you have the "weight of the world on your shoulders" or you suffer from chronic tension headaches, your posture could be the root cause of the problem.

With Forward Head Posture, the muscles in the front of your neck lengthen and weaken while the muscles in the back of your neck contract and tighten, creating the tension you feel in the neck, shoulders and upper back. Often the shoulders start to rotate forward, contracting the pectoral muscles and weakening the rhomboid muscles between the shoulder blades. These are signs of Hyperkypho-sis. You might not feel pain in between the shoulder blades, but tightness will be present. Most people feel the pain in their shoulders and neck. When Forward Head Posture and Thoracic Hyperkyphosis is present, the curve of the low back will also be affected. The posture system is all connected. A misalignment in one area will cause compensation patterns in other areas.

It's important to have an annual posture examination by a certified posture expert. Restoring structural balance throughout the body allows us to focus on the rehabilitation of musculoskeletal dysfunctions and soft tissue pain caused by poor posture. Orthopedic massage can help relieve some of the symptoms related to Forward Head Posture and Thoracic Hyperkyphosis such as aches, tightness, restricted range of motion, and trigger points. In our next column we'll explore the long-term physiological effects that can occur inside the body when postural dysfunction is present.

According to the American Posture Institute, up to 90% of the population has some type of postural dysfunction. It's also reported that symptoms from postural and musculoskeletal problems are the number 3 reason for all doctor visits.

Curious to know if your painful conditions make the list? Visit our website for this week's FREE Expert Report, "10 Musculoskeletal Dysfunctions Caused by Poor Posture". Plus I'll include a BONUS list of symptoms associated with these dysfunctions. Make sure you check it out! Go to www.myposturewellness.com.

The Ultimate Packer Fan Picks — Green Bay Packers vs. Minnesota Vikings

The Green Bay Packers, coming off a heat-exhausting, auspicious win over the Jacksonville Jaguars will travel to the new U.S. Bank Stadium in downtown Minneapolis, Minn. There they will face the reigning North Division Champions, the Minnesota Vikings.

In Week One, both teams struggled offensively. The Packers generated a few key plays by Rogers and Lacy that brought back signs of majesty while Vikings QB Shaun Hill and Adrian Peterson lacked luster and the ability to move the ball.

Even though the Vikings have lost their star starting QB Teddy Bridgewater to a season ending injury this Vikings team is an unequivocal threat. A team built to win defensively was proven in Week One. Their defense was responsible for three turnovers in just seven minutes resulting in two TDs. Once newly acquired QB Sam Bradford becomes acclimated with the system, team and the solid running game of Adrian Peterson, they will again become a respected dominant factor amongst the NFC.

The Pack at times demonstrated prominence of past, both offensively and defensively, while at times grappling with the run and the inability to make big plays downfield. The Pack struggled in the Red Zone twice resulting in two successful field goals by Mason Crosby. Clay Mathews was astounding at inside linebacker. His speed and agility was nothing short of stellar. Jordy Nelson, back from a season ending injury showed signs of discoordination downfield, but as the game played on showed his ability to play solidly scoring his first TD of the season. Davante Adams has earned the trust of Aaron Rodgers putting points on the board and Randall Cobb showcased his amazing versatility exhibiting big plays.

In Week Two you can expect a strong defensive game played by both teams only to be dominated by the Packer's Offense. My prediction is the Pack takes another win on the road 31 - 10.

Congratulations to this week's winner, Russell Wegner!

Russell's name will be put in the drawing to win tickets for next season.

For your chance to win, go to www.kstatesman.com and be sure to make your picks by 9 a.m. on the Thursday preceding the game.

Winners will be announced in next week's Kewaskum Statesman.

UW-Washington County will be focusing on the middle-eastern country of Iran as it kicks off the annual fall community lecture series. Six one-hour lectures are scheduled on Wednesday evenings, September 21 through October 6, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Each lecture is followed by a question/answer session. Topics for this year's popular series include Iran's history, art and culture, underground cinema, nuclear deal, Islamic faith, and OPEC. Additional outreach includes a social planned by the Friends of Matt Zillig, an art display, a book discussion and a concert. With the exception of the concert, all events are free and open to the public. The first lecture is held in the theatre, with all remaining lectures in room 201. An overview of the series and outreach includes:

September 21: Overview of Iran's History with speaker Dr. Robert Kramer, History Department at St. Norbert's College, DePere. According to Dr. Kramer, "This lecture will attempt to give the audience a better sense of who the Iranian people are, with reference to their historical development, in order to highlight some of the complexities involved in America's relations with Iran (as well as Iran's relations with the rest of the world)." The first lecture deemed, the "Matt Zillig Memorial Lecture" is held in the theatre and is followed by a social featuring middle eastern food and beverage samples. Both the first lecture and the social is funded by the Friends of Matt Zillig, who was a University of Wisconsin graduate, a world traveler and an active community supporter. After his death in 2008, an endowment was established by his friends and colleagues to sponsor an annual lecture relating to global citizenship at UW-Washington County.

September 28: Iranian Art & Culture with speaker and artist Nina Ghanbarzadeh.

October 5: Iranian Underground Cinema with Hamidreza Nassiri, Communication Arts Department at UW-Madison.

October 12: Iranian Nuclear Deal – How is it Faring? with Dr. Andrew Kydd, Political Science Department at UW-Madison.

October 19: Islam Faith – with speaker Othman M. Atta, Islamic Center of Milwaukee.

October 26: Iran and OPEC with speaker John Hall, Chairman of Alfa Energy, London.

Iranian Artwork Display created by artist, Nina Ghanbarzadeh will be on display in the gallery. Born and raised in Tehran, Ghanbarzadeh immigrated to the U.S. in 2001. She earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from UW-Milwaukee with a focus in fine art and graphic design. Proficient in mixed media as well as oil painting, Nina is also a teaching artist and has been involved in numerous workshops, lectures and presentations. Ghanbarzadeh is also the featured speaker for the September 28 lecture on Iranian art and culture.

Book Discussion (Sept. 28 and October 5): "Things We Left Unsaid" a novel by renowned Iranian-Armenian author, Zoya Pirzad will be discussed on two Wednesday evenings, September 28 and October 5 from 4:45 p.m. - 6:15 p.m. (just prior to the evening's lecture) in Room 101. UW-WC English Professor, Dr. Anne Widmayer will lead the discussion of the 352-page book that provides a humorous and intimate look into the hopes and aspirations of Iranian family life in the years prior to the Islamic revolution. Described by The Bookbag as a "slice of life in an alien culture; it packs a smorgasbord of cultural and national flavour into each page." There is no cost to participate in the book discussion. To register or for more information, phone 262-335-5214 or email: lee.wagner@uwc.edu Interested participants should purchase the book on their own. A limited number of books are available for loan from the UW-WC library.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM UPDATING THE ZONING MAP THIS INCLUDES REZONING ENVIRONMENTALLY SIGNIFICANT LANDS WHICH ARE INELIGIBLE FOR PUBLIC SANITARY SEWER SERVICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is given to all persons in the Village of Kewaskum that a public hearing will be held on Monday, October 3, 2016, at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street, to solicit comments on the proposed zoning map revisions.

These revisions will include any previously approved rezoning of a parcel. The update will also include conservancy zoning for primary environmental corridors and for portions of secondary environmental corridors and isolated natural resource areas within wetlands and steep slopes. The extension of sanitary sewers to serve new "urban" development is not permitted in these areas. Sewered uses in these areas are typically confined to limited recreational uses and rural-density (one dwelling unit per five acres) residential development in upland areas. The location of environmental corridors and isolated natural resource areas is based upon the most current aerial photographs available, soil survey maps, and natural resource base inventories conducted by the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (SEWRPC) and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

A list of parcels included in the proposed rezoning is on file in the office of the Village Clerk. A copy of the proposed zoning map is available and open for public inspection in the office of the Village Clerk for a period of two weeks prior to this public hearing.

All persons interested are invited to attend this hearing and be heard. Written comments may be submitted to:

Interested In A Ukulele Club? Explore At FDL Library

Pacific-blue waters might be thousands of miles away, but that doesn't mean Fond du Lac can't enjoy the island life. Or, at least, the music. The Fond du Lac Public Library is offering a ukulele get-together at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 24, in the Idea Studio. The meeting will explore local interest in starting a ukulele club at the library. The program is free – no registration required. You don't have to own or bring a ukulele to attend. Ukulele fans know that it's an ideal choice for teaching music. Ukuleles are more affordable than many instruments and, with just four strings, easier to learn. Chords don't require complicated fingerings, and strumming patterns are simple and catchy. In addition to being fun, research shows that playing a musical instrument improves concentration, memory, and focus – a benefit for all ages. The Idea Studio is the library's new makerspace, a permanent do-it-yourself zone in the lower level with equipment to use for free and DIY programming. The Idea Studio is open 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. Fridays and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. the second and fourth Saturdays of the month. More information is available at www.fdlpl.org/ideastudio and on the studio's Facebook and Instagram pages, found at Idea Studio FDLPL.

Too Busy For An Office Visit?

— WI Farmers Can Now Request Conservation Assistance Online!

Farmers, ranchers, and private forest landowners can now do business with USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) through a new online portal. Conservation Client Gateway gives producers the ability to work with conservation planners online to access Farm Bill programs, request assistance, and track payments for their conservation activities.

Too busy for an office visit? You can even complete signatures online! Over 80 producers have already taken advantage of the new portal in Wisconsin. You can be next.

"What used to require a trip to a USDA service center can now be done from a home computer through Conservation Client Gateway," said Jimmy Bramblett, Wisconsin State Conservationist. "Our goal is to make it easy and convenient for farmers to work with USDA by offering more options."

Conservation Client Gateway is entirely voluntary, giving producers a choice between conducting business online or traveling to a USDA service center. Customers can log in 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to electronically sign documents, apply for conservation programs, access conservation plans, report practice completion, or track the status of conservation payments. Through Conservation Client Gateway, producers have their conservation information at their fingertips and they can save time and gas money by reducing the number of trips to USDA service centers.

Conservation Client Gateway is available to individual landowners and will soon be extended to business entities, such as Limited Liability Corporations. It is part of the agency's ongoing Conservation Delivery Streamlining Initiative, which will feature additional capabilities in the future.

For more information about Conservation Client Gateway, visit: www.nrcs.usda.gov/client-gateway.

A bagpipe played as 2,996 flags were rooted in the ground, each representing a person who had been killed in the terrorist attacks.

Julie Osmus, Haberman's sister, addressed those gathered.

"I do not enjoy the lime-light at all. I am here today not for me, but for a greater purpose, which is to make sure that we never forget and continue to remember what happened 15 years ago to our nation, and to honor so many lives that have been forever altered because of 9/11," Osmus said.

To achieve that goal, a committee is planning a permanent memorial to be placed in front of the Kewaskum Fire Station. At the center of the memorial will be a 2,200-pound steel beam that was recovered from the World Trade Center.

The location at the fire station is an appropriate spot for the memorial, Village Administrator Matt Heiser said. Some 17,000 vehicles drive past the spot each day, making it a prominent reminder of all that happened on that fateful day.

For more information about the memorial or how to contribute, visit www.kewaskummemorial.com.
