Projected Tax Impact For School Referendum Drops

— Kewaskum School District Referendum To Impact Mill Rate By 19 Cents Per $1,000 Of Property Value

By Anne Trautner

Final numbers are in from the state, and the tax rate is now estimated to go up by 19 cents per $1,000 of assessed value if the Kewaskum School District referendum passes on November 8.

That number was cut nearly in half of the district's previous estimate of 36 cents.

The new number means that for a $100,000 home, property owners will have an annual increase of $19. For a property valued at $150,000, the increase will be $28.50 per year.

The amount of state aid that the Kewaskum School District will receive for the 2016-17 school year increased by 2.6 percent over last year.

"It's unfortunate the school funding information isn't available earlier, but we're pleased with the increase in aid, and the ability to prepay outstanding debt. This allows the district to save on interest cost and retire the 1999 referendum debt a full year early," said Julie Thoreson, business manager for the district.

Helping to reduce the burden on taxpayers, interest rates continue to hold at historic lows, according to Michele Wiberg, vice president of PMA Securities, Inc. Because of that, the district, along with its financial advisor, is confident in adjusting the original interest rate assumption of 3.25 percent to 2.75 percent.

"As we get closer to the referendum, we get a little more comfortable with where interest rates are. And so we are looking at some of those conservative assumptions that we used a few months ago to come up with the 36 cents impact, and we have now fine tuned them over the last few days," Wiberg said last week.

"This rate is still conservative based on recent Wisconsin school district bond sales," Wiberg said.

If the referendum passes, the projected tax impact would be reflected on residents' December 2017 tax bills.

Wiberg explained the referendum's tax impact during the October 17 Open House at Kewaskum High School. A video of her presentation, along with information about the referendum, is available at www.kewaskumschools.org/referendum.

Giant Pumpkin Grows In Town Of Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

Craig and Amanda Watry have put out a few simple decorations for Halloween.

Cornhusks flank their front porch. Orange zucchinis and yellow mums are situated on the front steps. And one large pumpkin sits in front of their Kewaskum home.

Weighing in at 861 pounds, the pumpkin is the largest in the neighborhood.

Pumpkin Growing

Craig, 28, began growing giant pumpkins last year.

It was no simple task, but he produced a 160-pound pumpkin with his first try.

Since then, he has done research on the internet and worked to improve his growing technique.

He started growing a handful of pumpkin seeds in the house in early April. As his little pumpkins began to grow and the weather warmed up, it was time to move them on out.

"Well, my wife isn't too happy, but I dug up the whole front yard," he admitted.

Craig, who works as a truckdriver, built two greenhouses and put them in the front yard. He then selected his best two pumpkin plants and put them in the greenhouses in April.

"It's still pretty cold then. But if you want to have the pumpkins done by weigh-off time in early September, you've got to start early," Craig explained.

Craig put up some rain barrels and used gravity and a soaker hose to feed the pumpkins. Once he removed the greenhouses, he also used a sprinkler to keep the plants growing. And the rainy summer helped the orange plants grow.

Postcard Arrives In Kewaskum 108 Years Later

By Anne Trautner

For the second time in over a century, a postcard made its way to the Kewaskum post office.

When the postcard arrived last Monday, it was an unexpected surprise for Postmaster Hope Lewitzke.

"It is not every day that we get something that is 100 years old," Lewitzke said. "It is cool having something that old to be in such good shape."

The card was originally addressed to Joe Voltz, and Lewitzke was able to track down the Voltz family.

Deanna Volz of Campbellsport was married to a Joseph Volz. His father and grandfather were also named Joseph, but they used the old German spelling of their surname, Voltz.

Deanna Volz believes that the letter was sent to her husband's grandfather, Joseph Voltz, who was born in 1903.

It is unclear whether Voltz ever responded to the postcard that was sent to him 108 years ago. And it is equally puzzling how the postcard made its way to California.

Hausler. Because no number addresses were used in Kewaskum at the time, there is no street address.

The following message is inscribed:

Hello Uncle Joe,
My brothers are all coming over next Sunday and we would like to have you over also. We hope you could come over with them.

The author's signature is difficult to make out, but it looks like it might be signed by someone named Hattie Heischman.

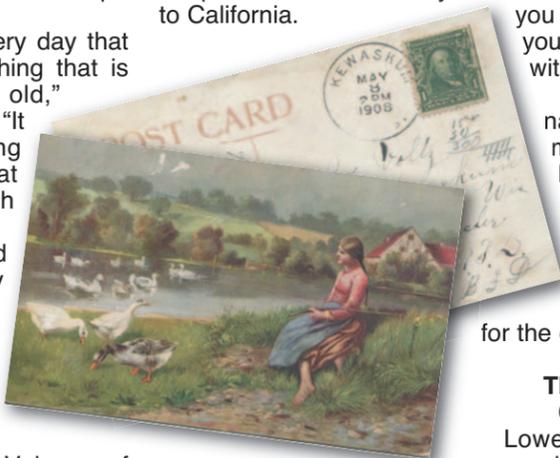

In 1908, postage for the card cost one cent.

The California Connection

Lowell Joerg, an 88-year-old resident of Stockton, Calif., came across the postcard in a California antique store.

Joerg purchased the card for $4 and mailed it to Lewitzke with a note.

The Postcard

The postcard features a picturesque countryside scene of a girl and ducks near a river and a farmstead. It is addressed to Mr. Joe Voltz of Kewaskum, c/o Mrs. Thed.

Kewaskum Students Increase Test Scores

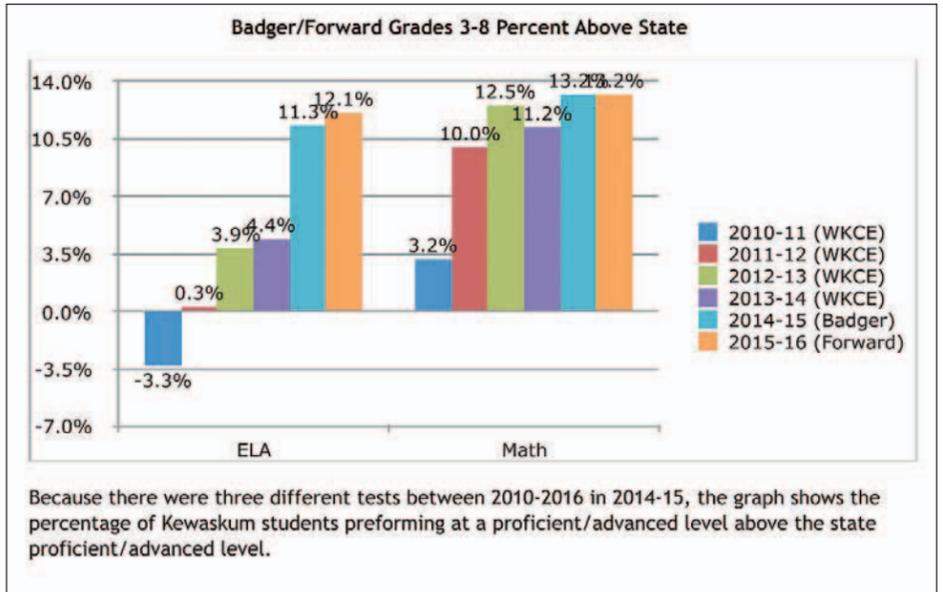

Kewaskum School District students in grades three-eight scored 12.1 percent above the state average in English/language arts (ELA) and 13.2 percent above the state average in math on the Wisconsin Forward Exam last year.

For the junior class last year, average scores on all four of the sections of the ACT Plus Writing test increased. The average composite score last year was 20.1, a increase of 0.5 points from the previous year.

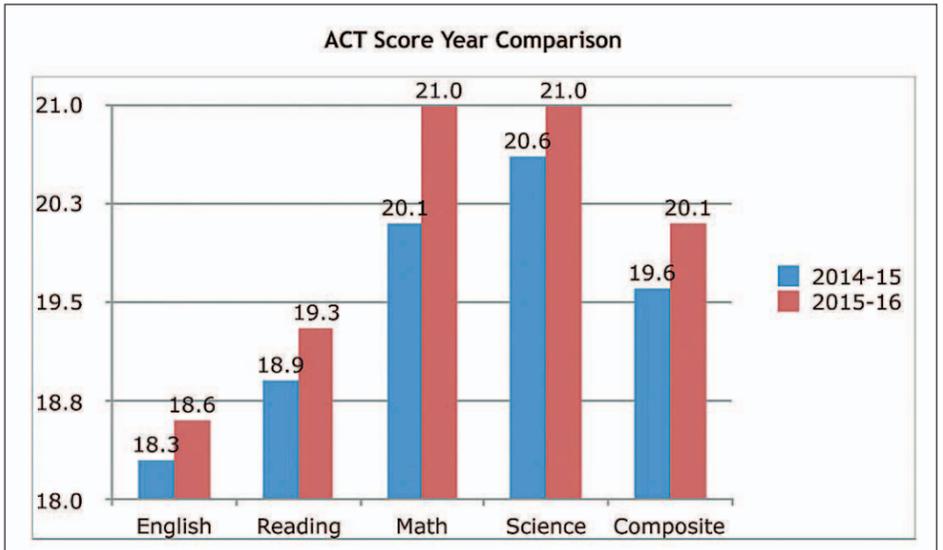

The Wisconsin Forward Exam measures ELA and math in grades three-eight; social studies in grades four, eight, and 10; and science in grades four and eight. The state uses the ACT Plus Writing test for the high school state assessment, which measures performance in ELA, math, and science. The ACT Plus Writing is the same college admissions exam taken by students nationwide.

"We are pleased to see our students making significant progress across grade levels as evidence by our state assessment scores. The results show that the work we are doing as a district is opening doors for our students," said Curriculum Director Mark Bazata.

This year marks the first year that the Wisconsin Forward Exam was used as a state assessment. The Forward Exam was given to approximately 370,000 students in grades three-eight in ELA and math. This is the second year that the state has used the ACT Plus Writing exam. Approximately 64,000 students took the test statewide, improving access to postsecondary readiness options to all students.

"It's an 'Old Timer' for sure, so I thought it would be nice to send it back to where it can be appreciated," Joerg wrote about the postcard.

Plus, Joerg has a soft spot for Wisconsin.

"My friends kid me about being the only Packer fan in California. I just give them a smile and let it go at that. Go Pack!" Joerg wrote.

Joerg's hope was that the postcard would brighten Lewitzke's day.

"I call my little hobby a 're-distribution' of happiness. Our world sure needs it!" Joerg wrote.

Card For Future Generations

Receiving the card was the highlight of the week for both Lewitzke and Volz.

Joerg wrote that he thought the postcard would make for good conversation if it was posted up.

Lewitzke agreed, and placed it in the stamp cabinet in the Kewaskum Post Office. It will remain on display there for a few weeks, and then it will go to Deanna Volz.

Volz, who admits that she is sentimental, likes to keep family heirlooms close at hand. She saves things such as newspaper clippings and even telephone messages to remind her of loved ones.

The postcard will be a valuable addition to this collection, and Volz is excited to share it with her nine children and 18 grandchildren.

Meanwhile, Joerg said that his wife was laughing at him and said that if he heard from Lewitzke that he would have to take her out for lunch.

With the amount of cheer he spread, he might now have to treat his wife to dinner as well.

Review: As a lifelong fan of Springsteen (my mom went to a Springsteen show while pregnant with me!), I was so excited to hear that he had written a book about his life! I devoured it immediately, and was absolutely blown away. He writes about his childhood, his rocky relationship with his troubled father, his grandparents...and, of course, his music. The book is written like a good Springsteen song, it will leave you breathless! Highly recommend!

Little Folks School House Holds Evening Events For Parents

On Friday, Oct. 14, A Mother/Daughter Night was held at Little Folks. It was a special night where manicures and Jamberry nail wraps were offered. Sara Straub, a Jamberry independent consultant, brought two of her teammates and helped moms and daughters do their nails. Nail wraps were also available for purchase. Sara chose to donate 30% of her sales back to Little Folks for educational materials.

In the next room, there was a LuLaRoe party going on. LuLaRoe is the up and coming clothing line where fashion meets comfort. Rose Baker brought in her inventory of comfortable, affordable and stylish clothing for party-goers to try on and make purchases.

On Saturday, Oct. 15, "Date Night" was offered by Little Folks from 5 p.m. - 10 p.m. Parents were able to go out on a date with their significant other knowing their children were being well cared for by their daycare teachers. The timing was perfect because it was also "Sweetest Day". Pizza, games, a movie and popcorn kept the children entertained. The staff at Little Folks School House offers "Date Night" to their parents 2-3 times per year.

Sara Straub instructs a group of Little Folks' Moms and Daughters on how to apply Jamberry nail wraps at their Mother/Daughter night.

James "Jim" W. Schaub

James "Jim" W. Schaub, 59, of Kewaskum, was called home to be with his Lord unexpectedly while up north at his cabin on Saturday, October 22, 2016.

There was a dad who lived on earth, he lives in Heaven now. He went about his many tasks, a frown never crossed his brow.

He did not wish for riches, nor ask for wordly fame, there were lots of people, who never knew his name.

He had a special feeling, and a very special glow, that only a child of God, can ever really know.

He showed us by example, how life on earth should be, then one day he left us, mother earth and family.

We are thankful for his memory and the good times that we had, this man was oh so special, because he was our dad!

We miss you every day,

Immediate Need For Life-Saving Gifts From Washington County Blood Donors

— BloodCenter Of Wisconsin Hosts November Blood Drives

During the holiday months, blood donors across Wisconsin can give the greatest gift of all. Life-saving blood donations are in especially high need in November, when donations tend to go down because of additional family commitments and increased travel around Thanksgiving.

Donations of all blood types are needed, but there is an especially great need for O negative donors who carry the universal blood type given to patients in emergency situations.

Washington County blood donors can help patients in need at BloodCenter of Wisconsin's upcoming blood drives: Wednesday, Nov. 2 from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. at Hartford Community Senior Center, 730 Highland Avenue, Hartford; and Monday, Nov. 14 from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. at Life Church, W164 N11325 Squire Drive, Germantown.

Kewaskum Library To Benefit From Merger

The Kewaskum Public Library, along with all the other libraries in the Mid-Wisconsin System, is merging with Eastern Shores Library System.

"Eastern Shores has 13 libraries in Ozaukee and Sheboygan counties, so this merger is wonderful news because we will be able to offer you 13 more libraries worth of materials," said Emily Goad, director of the Kewaskum Public Library.

The merger is set to be completed and the new system up and running on December 15.

The Kewaskum Library will transition to the new system during the week of December 8-14, which means the library will be offline during that time and we will be unable to check anything in. Patrons will still be able to check out materials that week, but the library will be unable to place holds and will not be getting delivery during that time.

Because the library will be offline, patrons are asked to bring their library cards with them when they check anything out between December 8 and 14.

The Kewaskum Public Library will be closed December 15 and 16 so that staff can catch up with check-ins and delivery.

"It's important to us at the Kewaskum Public Library that you, our patrons, are kept informed as to what this process entails. As we are sure you can understand, it will be a transition for all of us, since we will be using a new cataloging system," Goad said.

The Kewaskum Public Library is transitioning from Sirsi to Polaris, and this new catalog system will look a little different than what patrons are currently used to, Goad said.

The Kewaskum staff is currently being trained on the new system and is excited for the change. Staff members will be on hand to help patrons search, place holds and do all the things they normally do. Patrons will not have to change anything about their accounts, and can still use their current library cards.

"Thank you so much for using the Kewaskum Library," Goad said. "We will continue to do our best to meet your needs, and we appreciate your understanding as we all make this transition together.

We're so excited to be able to offer you more materials from more libraries."

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

Car Theft In Allenton

The Sheriff's Office is currently investigating the theft of a 2004 silver Toyota Camry with a license plate of 837-PYY while the owner was inside the Allenton Post Office on October 18, at 2:53 p.m. The vehicle was parked on the street in front of the Post Office, located at 330 First St., with the keys in the ignition while the operator was conducting personal business. Witnesses reported the suspect, who was seen in the area immediately prior to the theft, is a younger white male wearing a dark hoodie.

Three Separate Inattentive Driving Incidents

A series of three separate inattentive driving incidents over the weekend resulted in two minor personal injury accidents and an arrest for OWI.

The first accident occurred on Friday morning Oct. 21 at 7:57 a.m. in the area of Hwy 175 and Crooked Rd in the Town of Addison. The driver, a 62-year-old Milwaukee woman, was northbound on Hwy 175 when she observed a bug on her left leg. The driver, losing control of both her emotions and vehicle, traveled off road right and struck an arrow sign, a WE Energies box and an electric pole. The vehicle came to rest .1 mile after the pole. The force of the collision split the pole lengthwise.

The second accident occurred Saturday morning Oct. 21 at 5:30 a.m. when the driver, identified as an 18-year-old Neosho man, was eastbound on Hubertus Rd and attempted to make a left turn into the Richfield Plaza parking lot. The driver missed the turn and overturned in the ditch. The driver was cited for inattentive driving as he was looking at his cell phone during the turn.

The third accident was in the construction zone on Hwy 175 in the Village of Richfield on Friday afternoon Oct. 21 at 3:30 p.m. when the driver, a 30-year-old City of West Bend man, struck a skid loader's broom attachment. The investigating deputy noted signs of impairment and placed the driver through a series of field sobriety tests. The driver was arrested for first offense

OWI with a passenger under the age of 16 as he had his two children, ages 5 and 1, in the vehicle with him along with his wife. Deputies believe prescription drugs and alcohol were contributing factors.

Accident Involving A Semi-Tractor

The Sheriff's Office investigated an accident last Thursday, Oct. 20 at 7:11 p.m. involving a semi-tractor that was being towed to a local repair facility. A heavy duty tow truck was towing a disabled semi southbound on County Trunk W when the towed semi began to fishtail near the Limestone Creek Bridge south of Allenton. The towed semi, being pulled from behind, entered the west ditch for approximately 100' then crossed both lanes of traffic and entered the east ditch for about another 100'. The towed semi then crossed both lanes of traffic again and entered the west ditch. According to investigators, the fishtail became unrecoverable and the towed semi began to turn on its side in the west ditch before the tow truck operator could stop. The road had partial lane closures for about 1.5 hours to facilitate clean-up operations. The investigation suggests a contributing factor in the accident was a strap used to keep the steering wheel in place in the towed unit became dislodged which caused the towed semi to start to fishtail.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

PREVENT FALLS

A fall can happen in an instant, but can take months or years to recover if you are seriously injured. To help prevent falls, replace slippery floor rugs with non-stick mats or strips. Install grab bars in bathrooms near the toilet and tub or shower. Replace or repair loose carpeting on floors and stairs. Clear floors of clutter; newspapers, books, shoes, etc. Install night lights in rooms and hallways. A healthy diet, aerobic exercise, balance and strength training and getting enough calcium and vitamin D3 can also provide protection by strengthening your muscles and bones.

Are You Willing To Be A Santa?

Every year, as the holidays approach, families gather together to celebrate with festive decorations, feasts of all flavors and also gifts. What is very easy to forget during this time of feasting and celebrating is the fact that there are families in our area who are struggling just to put food on the table. Holiday gifts, parties and decorations are not in the picture for them. They desperately need your help.

The Kewaskum Food Pantry is helping thirty plus families at this time with groceries. The number of families needing help from them will grow as it gets closer to the holidays. These families are comprised of people in difficult family situations, emotional and/or employment problems. It might be a young family, a single parent family or an elderly couple. Each of these families is in need of a Miracle Santa.

Has your family or business thought of adopting a family from the Kewaskum Food Pantry for the holidays? The Silbernagel Group has. Join them in sponsoring a family. It is easy. Contact the Kewaskum Food Pantry (Barb Knorr at 626-4448) and let her know what size family you would like to sponsor. She will get back to you with a family size and a wish list from the individuals.

You then can shop for the Christmas meal, maybe a ham with all the trimmings, canned goods and other nonperishable food items and also a few treats. As the wish list for each family member is viewed, remember it is a wish list. As a caring individual, you will make appropriate decisions with the wish lists. Items are wrapped with tag identification and then delivered to the Kewaskum Food Pantry by December 8th.

Why are the baskets and gifts delivered to the Kewaskum Food Pantry so early? As "The Silbernagel Group" learned last year, mom may have added to a child's wish list with a dress. The dress was needed for the girl to wear to her Christmas Program at school.

Think of the personal rewards in being a Santa. Be part of caring individuals who unite to help needy families in the Kewaskum area have a joyful Christmas. Spread the joy of the season!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To Kewaskum's Senior Citizens: Why our Community Needs YOU to Vote YES for the School Referendum,

Our Community Needs Quality Education

A community is only as strong as the investment it makes in its children and their education. The future of a community is its children.

Kewaskum is such a strong community and there are so many families who have resided here for many generations with deep roots. Quality education plays a vital role in sustaining our community and providing opportunities for Kewaskum's future generations for the years to come. I hope that goes without saying.

Investing In Our Schools Is An Investment In Our Community

My husband and I needed to relocate here for employment reasons nine years ago and when we did so, one of the first things we did was to research the school districts within the Kettle Moraine area. For us, the school system was a big priority in deciding where to buy a home.

You'll most likely be selling your home someday to a young family just like we were nine years ago. That family will be looking at the ratings of the schools and the commitment that they see a community making in the school system. While I don't have a specific study or data to back-up my opinion; I believe passing this referendum will absolutely only provide an increase in local property values!

The Way Education Is Delivered Has Changed Drastically

No longer is education delivered in the style we were all accustomed to: a teacher standing in the front of the room dictating to a classroom full of students sitting at a desk.

There is far less "direct instruction" time in the classroom now. Students today collaborate in small groups with the focus being on creating independent thinking and problem solving.

If you haven't been in a classroom recently, things look very different. Teachers no longer utilize chalk boards — they now have "Smart Boards" to electronically display their lessons. Classrooms are filled with computers now.

Science labs have changed. Band students currently walk across the parking lot in the middle of the school day (no matter the weather conditions) because the band room in the middle school cannot accommodate the vast number of students now enrolled as compared to years ago.

We have a very strong FFA and they have worked very hard to privately secure a lot of the funding for the greenhouse that will be added to the high school, only strengthening the agricultural values in our community and providing additional learning opportunities. There will be vast improvements to technology and greater collaboration within the Tech Ed departments. The HVAC, infrastructure and improvements such as LED lighting will improve building efficiencies, maintenance and operating expenses.

Parts of these buildings have not seen major investments to their infrastructure such as wiring and HVAC systems in over 40 years. With how the delivery of education is delivered so radically different today than it was just 20 years ago, the deficiencies in the learning environments that our children sit in most of their day put them at a tremendous disadvantage from allowing them to achieve the very best that they can.

I understand these arguments are potentially harder to differentiate between a "need" versus a "want" on behalf of school officials, but in my opinion these are "NEEDS" for today's classrooms to guarantee that the children in our community will not be at a competitive disadvantage upon graduation. The argument: "it was good enough for me when I went to school there; so it should be good enough for them" can be interpreted as being naïve as to how radically different education is today for our kids as compared to as when we went to school.

Dollars And Cents

Because we are getting closer to the actual referendum date, calculations for interest rates have been lowered from 3.25 percent to now 2.75 percent. In addition, the state has provided additional aid for the 2016-2017 academic year than estimated. Taking both of these adjustments into consideration, they have adjusted the tax impact to only $0.19 per $1,000 of your home's value - which is dramatically lower than the previous estimates of $0.36 per $1,000. If you own a $200,000 home, that equals $3.17 per month. In addition, the district will be paying-off other debt early, therefore saving our community's taxpayer's an additional $700,000 in interest charges.

I believe this school board has been VERY fiscally responsible with our taxes and now it's time to show them our response: that they have our community's trust with our tax dollars by approving this referendum. By investing in our kids, we are investing in the strength of our community for generations to come in a fiscally conservative and responsible way. Please join me in voting "yes" on November 8th!

Sarah Moris

Dear Editor:

Now is the time!
 Now is the time to vote yes on the November 8th referendum for the 28 million dollar bond issue. The interest rates are low. By voting yes now, we are guaranteed these low interest rates for the duration of the bond issue. We don't want to miss out on this opportunity.

Now is the time!
 This bond issue will allow us to update our 50-year-old high school and 44-year-old middle school while combining them into a single and more efficient facility which will include much needed infrastructure updates, along with tech. ed., science lab, and classroom renovations. I was personally involved in the Kewaskum School District over the past 50 years in supporting our education system and developing quality facilities. In the early 1960s, I took a chairman role in seeing the Farmington Elementary School being built — a school that received state-wide recognition last year for being academically high achieving and having a significant increase in achievement.

Quality education in this district and our local community has always been important to me. My wife and I provide scholarships to Kewaskum High School graduates who are attending one of our local community colleges (UW-WC and MPTC). This gives our local young people the finest continued education possible at a low cost.

Now is the time to move forward by providing Kewaskum's youth with quality facilities. We already have dedicated administration, teachers and staff, strong parental involvement and many students who are anxious to learn.

Our schools must continue to provide our young people with the finest education possible. So please vote "yes" for the referendum on November 8.

Thank you,
 Norbert Dettmann

Enter The 12 Gem Challenge For A Chance To Win A 2017 State Park Sticker

Picture yourself surrounded by fall colors in any of 12 Wisconsin State Park System properties. Then literally picture yourself at designated locations in those properties, post the images on Twitter or Instagram or upload to the Department of Tourism's TravelWisconsin.com website. Photos will be verified for location and then will be entered in a drawing to win a 2017 Wisconsin state park admission sticker.

The Wisconsin departments of Natural Resources and Tourism and the Friends of Wisconsin State Parks today launched the "12 Gem Challenge." People visiting any of the 12 designated state park properties can take a "selfie" at any or all of the designated locations within, post it to Twitter or Instagram using the hashtag #wisstateparks and images meeting the guidelines will be added to a photo gallery on TravelWisconsin.com

People can find the designated locations using a mobile-friendly story map that can be accessed through either the DNR or Travel Wisconsin websites or print out the 12 Gem Challenge locations from the DNR website.

"Our state parks are all about having fun in Wisconsin and what a fun way to get out and enjoy one of these twelve parks in the fall," said DNR Secretary Cathy Stepp. "Your experience may just inspire you to visit any of our state parks more often during any time of year."

One selfie that people take from each of the 12 properties will be entered into the sticker drawing. Sticker winners will be drawn randomly and individuals are only eligible to win one sticker. The Friends of Wisconsin State Parks is donating the 10 stickers for the drawing winners.

The 12 park properties in this challenge include: Brunet Island State Park; Governor Nelson State Park; Governor Thompson State Park; Harrington Beach State Park; Hartman Creek State Park; Lakeshore State Park; Newport State Park; Perrot State Park; Richard Bong State Recreation Area; Stower Seven Lakes State Trail; Wyalusing State Park; and Yellowstone Lake State Park.

All selfies must be taken at the designated locations within the park and will be verified by park staff before images are included in the challenge drawing. Each image must include the #wisstateparks hashtag as well as the name of the park where the image was taken in the image description. All images become the property of the Wisconsin DNR, Wisconsin Department of Tourism and Friends of Wisconsin State Parks to be used in promotional campaigns, print and social media platforms.

The 12 Gem Challenge runs through Nov. 13. Winners will be notified after the drawing has been completed through social media messaging.

Spooky Tales For Brave Listeners

– Ghost Hunter Visits Kewaskum Library

By Anne Trautner

The room was dark. A chill filled the air. And the group sat in suspense.

Allison Jornlin had arrived.

And so had the stories of ghosts and hauntings.

A Ghost Hunter

The group of about a dozen people sat in the Community Room at Kewaskum Village Hall mesmerized last Thursday evening, munching on popcorn as they listened to the hair-raising tales.

Some of them reported that they know people who have seen or experienced a ghost of some sort. Others reported that they have seen orbs and mysterious beings.

Jornlin, whose appearance was sponsored by the Kewaskum Public Library appreciated hearing their stories.

In 2008, Jornlin founded the website milwaukeeghosts.com, which shares paranormal and ghostly experiences.

"I have been just fascinated with ghost stories, really anything unusual, since I was a child," Jornlin said.

She currently gives tours of haunted places in Milwaukee. She has explored paranormal activities across the United States.

Jornlin admits that although she tries to find ghosts, much too her dismay she has not had too many actual encounters.

"I try not to take it personally, but I really do. Why don't they like me?" Jornlin joked.

Jornlin is currently working on a book about paranormal activity in Milwaukee. The travel guide highlights 101 haunts that people can visit.

"If you want to have a paranormal experience, I would suggest planning your day around paranormal locations. You can easily do that by going to certain restaurants or getting haunted haircuts. You have to seek out the haunted places," Jornlin said with a smile.

Jornlin told the group last week numerous stories of hauntings in the Milwaukee area. Some of them are written below. Read them, if you dare.

The Story Of Raymond Naatz

In 1920, a young boy named Raymond Naatz lived in the Lincoln Village area of Milwaukee.

During a time when divorce wasn't common, Raymond's parents were separated. Little Raymond one day started to tell his parents that something was not right.

"All the way home that white shadow crept along behind me. Something is going to happen. I can feel it," Raymond said.

When Raymond was with his mother, she reported that the boy was shaking with fear and that he was inconsolable.

While at his father's house, Raymond called out in the middle of the night and woke his father. His father found Raymond in a trancelike state, talking to someone.

Then Raymond told his father, "Oh, it was so beautiful, I was with the fishes."

The next day, Raymond allegedly grabbed his fishing pole, walked to Lake Michigan and disappeared. A search was mounted, and Raymond's body was found washed up on the shore of Lake Michigan, where the foot of Pryor Avenue is located today.

A police investigation revealed that the timing was such that young Raymond must not have fished at all. It was as if he had simply walked into the lake, dropped his fishing pole and then just kept walking.

"When you find a story like this, I can't tell you the shiver that runs through you," Jornlin said. "Of course, I go on paranormal investigations, I stay at haunted places. I do all that stuff. But for me, the thrill is looking back in history and finding these old stories and trying to find some kind of reasonable explanation and coming up short."

The Pabst Mansion

Frederick Pabst is a famous beer barron who once lived in Milwaukee.

His home, a great mansion, was built in 1892. Today, the mansion is usually quiet except for strange footsteps that are heard on the upper floor.

People who volunteer as docents at the mansion have talked for years about hearing those footsteps coming from that level when no one is there.

Some also say that if they wear earrings there, a spirit likes to pull on their earrings.

"So I don't wear long dangly earrings there. It could be dangerous," Jornlin said.

Jornlin's favorite story from the Pabst Mansion has to do with a contractor who was working there. He was a mason and he was repairing a beautiful fireplace in one of the Pabst's bedrooms.

It was a rare occasion when other people were not around, due to the renovation.

As the mason worked, an elderly gentleman wearing period dress, kept poking his head into the room to see what the worker was doing. He would look disapprovingly at the mason's work.

The worker got frustrated by the man repeatedly checking on him and looking sideways at him. The contractor felt as though he were being judged.

So the worker went to the director of the docents and complained about this volunteer.

The director told him that it was impossible; they were the only two in the building.

As the director spoke, the contractor looked up and saw a painting of the disapproving man.

It was none other than Frederick Pabst.

The Story of Mary Spiegel

Jornlin also shared the story of Mary Spiegel, a Polish girl who worked at the Giddings' Boarding House in Bay View.

In August 1874, many people reported that when Mary was present, odd things happened.

Things would start flying around the room when Mary was there. Dishes and pans would mysteriously fly from kitchen cupboards. Logs flew from the fireplace.

When Mary wasn't around, the strange occurrences stopped.

So Mary was fired, and that was the end of the eerie reports at the Giddings' Board House.

And with the end of her stories, Jornlin had a message.

"Happy Halloween, everyone!" she said.

Allison Jornlin stands beside her display of haunted places in Milwaukee. The Kewaskum Public Library brought Jornlin to town last week to give a presentation about the area's mysterious locations.

Ask the Dentist

Why Are My Teeth So Sensitive And What Can I Do To Fix That?

Dr. Sara Klasinski

Teeth can be sensitive for a number of reasons. Number one on the list is brushing too vigorously. Teeth should be brushed for two minutes at least twice a day, but many people think they can shorten that by brushing faster and harder. WRONG. That will abrade your gums and expose the root of the tooth which has no enamel and is a much more sensitive part of the tooth.

Holding your brush like a pencil and slowly brushing in small circles is the correct way to use a manual brush. We like patients to use an electric toothbrush that always performs the correct brushing technique.

Your dentist can perform desensitizing treatments or you can use desensitizing toothpastes to try to minimize the discomfort.

Discuss the problem with your dentist for more treatment options for your particular situation.

Krier Fires Up The Offense; Indians Post Convincing Win

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High football team had a big surprise for Port Washington for the October 21 D-3 Level One game.

Instead of just having 5-foot, 8-inch, 205-pound junior Patrick Krier carry the ball just in short yardage situations, KHS had him as the feature back with receivers split to the left and the right, and the plan not only opening up a strong running game but a potent passing game as well.

The result was a convincing 39-22 victory by the second-seeded Indians (9-1), who move on to play in Level two this Friday against another familiar foe, Plymouth, a 31-7 winner over Greendale. The season ended for the number seven seeded Pirates, who finished at 5-5.

Krier powered and twisted his way to a 101-yard rushing effort in 18 carries and scored a very important touchdown on the Indians' second possession of the third quarter, giving KHS a 17-7 advantage.

Facing a third and seven situation at the Port 11-yard line, the Indians crossed up the Pirates with a screen pass. Quarterback Dalton Poole let the rushing defenders close in on him before dumping the ball off to Krier, who had a convoy of blockers in front of him

Of all the plays he was involved in during the win, Krier said, "I liked the touchdown best ... We got into the end zone, and we put points on the board."

The next series was important for the Pirates who could not afford to let Kewaskum get ahead of them by three scores. They did, however, as the stout Kewaskum defense held on three plays and got great field position when Matt Ruppel shanked a punt that went just 15 yards, going out of bounds on the Port 39.

The Indians were whistled for a false start on first down, then Poole stepped back against a Port blitz and found Tony Steger wide open for a 44-yard touchdown. After Cade Peterson hit his third extra point, the lead had widened to 24-7.

The two teams traded punts before Port scored on the third play of the fourth quarter on a 9-yard touchdown pass from Tanner Orten to Sam Lerche, capping a three play drive, featuring a 36-yard pickup by Ruppel, who finished the with 148 yards in 13 carries.

On the PAT, Kewaskum was called for a personal foul, moving the ball to the 1.5-yard line and the Pirates decided to go for two points and got it with a Orten to Cameron Karnitz pass, making the score 25-15.

Would Port be able to get the ball back and mount a comeback? The answer was no as the Indians moved 67 yards in six plays to answer, with Bennett Seidensticker hauling in a 6-yard touchdown pass.

Brady Hanson kept the drive alive with a big catch at the Port 34-yard line on a third and five situation at the KHS 34. Poole was being rushed when he lobbed the ball in Hanson's direction, and the 6-6 receiver turned to find the ball, somehow adjusted and caught it while going down on his back.

On the very next play, Cole Surprenant, who carried the ball more in the second half, scampered 24 yards to the PW 9, and two plays later it was Poole tossing his fourth touchdown pass of the night to Seidensticker.

On the PAT, Poole pitched the ball to Steger, who hit Hanson in stride for two points and a 32-15 lead.

Kewaskum was not done either. After the Pirates failed on a fourth down play on their own 42, the Indians needed just four plays to get into the end zone with Surprenant, who ended up rushing for 95 yards, going the final 22 yards.

Michael Boettcher picked off an Orten pass on the Pirates' next series, but the Indians returned the favor, coughing up a fumble, and Port moved 73 yards in seven plays to score in the final minute.

Ruppel scored the touchdown from 36 yards out.

When asked about the move to have Krier run more, KHS coach Jason Piittmann said, "That was coach (Nick) Kreif's call with the offensive package we were using ... We thought that this was going to spread them out."

Piittmann had high praise for Krier both offensively and defensively. "He's a tough back to bring down. He's a strong kid," Piittmann said, praising tackle Dalton Espitia and guard Riley Donovan for great blocking. "Riley was pulling, and he ate up the defensive end," Piittmann said.

"Patrick had a great game tonight," the coach went on, especially reading his keys on defense. He ended the game with 11 tackles, including eight solos and two quarterback sacks.

"Our team did great, and I'm ready for next week," Krier said, promising, "We're going to have a great week of practice."

"Overall very pleased," was Piittmann's response for the Indians' performance. "Defensively we played very well. We knew we had to shut down their running game, their sweep."

And was he worried when Port's first drive covered 64 yards and ate up 8:16 on the clock? "Had they been able to execute and score, who knows," Piittmann said. "Brady (Hanson) came up with the big block" on the 30-yard field goal try that was hampered by a high snap.

After that, KHS drove 71 yards for the first touchdown, a 10-yard sliding grab in the end zone by Steger. The Pirates answered five minutes later on a 48-yard Orten to Lerche pass to tied the game, but the Indians drove late in the first half and called on Peterson to kick a 22-yard field goal for a 10-7 lead at the break.

About the Plymouth-Kewaskum re-match, Piittmann said, "I expect a great football game!" Note: In checking past records, Piittmann found in his 10 years as head coach, Kewaskum is 7-8 against the Panthers.

Indians Are No Match For Powerful KML

By Judy Harlow

Drawing powerhouse Kettle Moraine Lutheran in the first round of a D-2 regional was no bargain for the Kewaskum High volleyball team.

The Chargers were the No. 1 seed in the Plymouth Regional and proved they deserved it, topping the Indians in three straight, 25-10, 25-14 and 25-15 in a match played in Jackson on October 18.

"KML is a very good team. We knew that we would have to work hard all night to be able to push them," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "We pushed at times but couldn't keep it up for the whole set. Injuries from the weekend kept us from using a familiar lineup."

While the loss ended the Indians' year and the careers of senior starters Amanda Schaller, Brittany Williams and Hailey Schicker, along with reserve Alexandria Durn, Schaller's night included three kills, one ace and four digs, while Williams led the team in digs with nine.

Other statistics from the match are as follows: kills — Elizabeth Lightner, three and Morgan Kappler, three; aces — Schaller, Lighner and Morgan Denlinger, one; assists — Brook Espitia, eight; Dengliner, three; and Sarah Butschlick, two; and digs — Butschlick, four; and Espitia, four.

With six juniors, one sophomore and one freshman returning with a lot of experience under their belts, Leitzke said, "It should be fun to see what this team can do next year."

The Chargers are still alive in the tournament. They beat Campbellsport 25-14, 25-19 and 25-11 on October 22 and moved into the regional semifinals with a hard-fought 21-25, 25-22, 25-16, 18-25 and 15-12 victory over No. 3 seed Grafton on October 22.

Reck Is Faster Than Ever, Just Misses A Trip To State

By Judy Harlow

With all five of its counters among the top 15 finishers in the October 21 Mayville Sectional, the Omro boys punched their ticket for this year's Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association (WIAA) D-2 State Cross County meet.

Omro posted an impressive score of 57, 32 points ahead of Cedar Grove (89), which will also advance to Wisconsin Rapids on October 29.

While Kewaskum could not compete with the likes of those teams, junior Justin Reck and freshman Andrew Carlton turned in excellent efforts. Reck cut another 39.4 seconds off his season-best time, hitting the finish line in 17 minutes and 20.18 seconds (17:20.18), which was good for 13th place, very good considering there were 10 seniors among the top 12.

"We had a really great day out there on Friday," KHS coach Kris Evans said about his runners, who had a lot of personal records (PRs).

Reck, who missed two weeks midway through the season of the because of an injury, was just two places from advancing to state as an individual. "It's incredible. I really believe he had his best race possible," Evans said.

Carlton was the only freshman in the top 20. His personal-best time of 17:36.07 was good for 19th overall. "Andrew PRed by 40 seconds," Evans said, adding Kyle Toth "broke into the 18s for his first time."

There were 16 teams in the meet, and the Indians placed 11th with 273 points. Their other counters were Toth, who placed 70th with his 18:59.88 clocking, while Derrick Schraufnagel finished with a time of 19:42.14, good for 84th, and three places behind him was freshman Lance Grosskopf with a 19:48.17.

The Lady Indians had to settle for 14th place with 316 points. The two advancing to state are Cedar Grove-Belgium and Plymouth, with 47 and 57, respectively.

Sophomore Maela Olla ran well enough to just make the top 25, placing 25th with a time of 21:04.51.

Then came Melissa Schneider, who finished her career with a good time of 22:04.51, giving her 52nd in the field of 98. "What a run," Evans said. "She's been my No. 3 or 4 runner most of the year," with times around 23:30, "and she nearly broke 22 minutes."

Haley Plachinski was seven spots back of Schneider with a 22:20.50.

The other two counters were Courtney Zarda and Alaina Rosenthal, in 83rd and 97th. Emma Penfield missed the meet because of a stress fracture.

Eighth Grade Gridiron Defeats Cedarburg

The eighth grade gridiron Indians defeated the Cedarburg Colts on Saturday, Oct. 22 by a score of 8-6 at home to improve their record to 5-2 on the season.

The first quarter provided immediate action with Cedarburg taking the first play of the game down inside the Indians 15 yard line with a 50 yard run. From there the Colts ran a couple more plays before punching it into the end zone on a one yard touchdown run. The two point kick was no good so the score was 6-0. The Indians responded quickly, putting a nice drive together, which was capped off by a 40 yard touchdown run by Running Back Isaiah Stuit. The two point kick by Michael Daniel was good to put the Indians on top 8-6. In the second quarter the defenses began to take over the game as the offenses weren't able to get much going. Cedarburg moved the ball into the Indian's territory but ended up fumbling the football which was recovered by Safety Carson Thull to keep the score at 8-6 heading into halftime.

In the second half the Indians were able to move the ball but a couple of drives stalled inside the Colt's 25 yard line. The Indians' defense pretty much shut down the Colt's offense with them only threatening once in the second half but the drive stalled because of a holding penalty. The Colts got the ball back with just over three minutes left for one last try to win the game. After a couple of run plays the Colts threw a deep pass and Safety Carson Thull made a great diving catch for the interception to seal an 8-6 win for the Indians.

The Indians, like normal, played a great game defensively and the offense was able to run the ball effectively but were hit with the penalty bug that caused several drives to stall. With the win the Indians clinched a winning season with their current 5-2 record with only one game remaining. They will hope to finish the season strong with their final game being played on Saturday, Oct. 29 on the road against Germantown at 9 a.m.

The Ultimate Packer Fan Picks Green Bay Wants Their "Six Pack" On "ICE"

The Green Bay Packers (4-2) will travel to The Georgia Dome to take on Matt "Ice Man" Ryan and the Atlanta Falcons (4-3) this Sunday, Oct. 30. Kickoff has been flexed to 3:25 p.m. Look for Green Bay's dominate front offensive "Six Pack" led by Mike Daniels, Clay Mathews, Datone Jones, Nick Perry, Blake Martinez and Julius Peppers to apply lots of pressure on the Falcons "Ice Man".

The Packers coming off a much-needed win over the Chicago Bears last Thursday welcomed the extended upcoming week to mend their wounds. The Packers offense, like many others have been injury prone. Losing starters Eddie Lacy, James Starks, Jeff Janis, Jared Cook, Sam Shields along with others for several weeks has contributed to their struggling. Aaron Rodgers has had his share of mishaps as well, but fortunately for the Pack his are not injury related. Against the Chicago Bears, Aaron Rodgers put his struggles behind him, having had his most impressive game this season throwing for a season high record breaking performance.

The Falcons, flying high unexpectedly suffered their 2nd loss so far this season in a questionable coaching call on four and one to go for it on the Falcons 43-yard line. The San Diego Chargers scored in overtime, winning game seven with a score of 33-30. While Matt Flynn strives to continue his record-breaking streak of 46 consecutive games passing of over 200 plus yards per game, he will face dominating pressure by the Packers front "Six Pack" that just may end that streak.

The Falcons first joined the League as an expansion team back in 1965. The first meeting between these two franchises was held at Milwaukee County Stadium on October 23, 1966. Green Bay had a dominating 56-3 win. Since then they have met 30 times with Green Bay leading 17-13. The last time the Falcons won was at Lambeau Field on November 28, 2010.

This will be a tough win for the Packers on the road, however I have the "Ultimate Prediction" (5-1) as the Packers taking this one in a shootout, 30-27.

Congratulations to this week's winner, Nate Kenworthy!

Nate's name will be put in the pool to win Packer tickets for next year's season.

Each week that the Packers play, the Kewaskum Statesman is holding an Ultimate Packer Fan Giveaway contest. There is no charge to enter.

The grand prize is two regular season tickets to the Packers' home opener.

Second place wins two tickets to the Packers' first home preseason game for 2017.

Third place is two tickets to the Packers' second 2017 home preseason game.

For your chance to win, go to www.kstatesman.com or email frontdesk@kstatesman.com and be sure to make your picks by 9 a.m. on the Thursday preceding the game. Winners will be announced in next week's Kewaskum Statesman.

The Posture / Fascia Connection: Part 1

Contributed by: Lori Bersch,
Licensed Massage Therapist & Certified Posture Expert

Posture is the foundation of human structure and function and it relies on the alignment, balance, and free movement of several systems of the body including the skeletal and muscular systems. In addition to this structure, the body is composed of miles of nerves and blood vessels that feed vital organs and is responsible for our function. Have you ever wondered what connects and holds all this stuff together? It's fascia! Fascia is the connective tissue that envelops, separates, or binds together muscles, organs, and other soft structures of the body. Up until recently most people haven't even heard of fascia, moreless understand what it's purpose is. In recent years the scientific community has started to uncover the significant role fascia plays to the human body, and it's pretty fascia-nating!

To get a more clear picture of what fascia looks like, let's use an orange as an example. When you peel the skin off of an orange the underside of the skin is connected to the sections inside by a thick, stringy, web-like substance. This substance helps form and maintain the shape of the orange. You can peel the sections or wedges apart, which are also held together by this connective web. Now take a wedge from the orange and slice it in half. What you'll see is that all the liquid inside is actually contained in hundreds of little sacs composed of this same connective tissue, all the way down to the liquid level. If you were to apply this concept to the human body, you can see how fascia surrounds every muscle fiber, nerve, blood vessel, organ, and bone in the body - all the way down to the cellular level. You can now visualize the significant role it plays to the structure and function of living organisms. Without this web of connectivity, we would have no form.

So what's the connection between posture and fascia? Well, if you were to take a portion of this connective web and disrupt the pliability of it, it would naturally affect the ability for the web to move freely. This happens when we develop scar tissue from injuries and surgeries, or we develop fascial adhesions from repetitive overuse, poor posture, or lack of movement. The relationship between posture and fascia can go both ways; poor postural habits can cause fascial restrictions and fascial restrictions can cause postural distortions. We have fascial lines, or "bands" of tissue, that run from head to toe, front to back, and side to side. A posture analysis can help us quickly determine if fascial restrictions in these lines are contributing to a client's musculoskeletal dysfunctions, pain or restriction of movement.

When a client comes to me with pain, we assess all of the components of posture and fascia lines throughout the body. All too often I have people come to me after trying multiple different treatment options with little to no pain relief. However, after thoroughly going through their history, posture and fascia seem to be two elements that are often overlooked or not addressed at all. Remember, fascia envelops everything inside your body. We look at it from a "whole" perspective and not single parts.

Want to get an idea of what your fascia feels like? Go ahead and lightly grasp or softly pinch different parts of your arm or thigh. You might be able to lift the skin from the underlying tissues of your forearm easier than those of the upper arm or thigh. Some areas might feel more tender than others. You may even feel a difference in tissue consistency from one area to another; thick, lumpy, or band-like tissue, compared to soft, supple, and smooth. Compare the tissue from your left arm to the right, and the front of the arm to the underside. Get a feel for what your tissue feels like.

A massage therapy session can help me quickly identify areas of restriction in fascia. In my next article I will get a little more technical and share with you a fascia therapy that I use with my clients that gets amazing results... fast!

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM VILLAGE BOARD MEETING OCTOBER 3, 2016 7 p.m.

The Kewaskum Village Board, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in regular session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Scheunemann called the meeting to order at 7 p.m. Board members present were Richard Laubach, Richard Knoebel, Dave Zehren, Kevin Scheunemann, David Spenner and Jim Hovland. James Wright was absent and excused. Staff members present were: Mark Groeschel, Thomas Bishop, Dennis Aupperle, Stephanie Justmann, Janet Knops, Ben Propson and Matt Heiser. Nancy Anderson from SEWRPC, members from the community, and the news media were also present.

Notice of the meeting had been posted at the PNC Bank, Kewaskum Post Office and at the Municipal Building on September 27, 2016. Notice was also forwarded to the Village Board, Village Attorney, Village Engineer and the News Media.

President Scheunemann opened the meeting with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

Motion by Dave Zehren to approve the minutes from the September 19, 2016 meeting, second by David Spenner. Voice vote, motion carried.

President Scheunemann opened the Public Hearing on updating the zoning map this includes rezoning environmentally significant lands which are ineligible for public sanitary sewer service. Administrator introduced Nancy Anderson from SEWRPC who has assisted the village in incorporating the Conservancy areas, Floodplain, Wetlands and Environmental Corridors on the updated zoning map. The map has not been revised since 2004. Public comments were from Chris Guse from the State Bank of Newburg on lots in the Kettle Country Estates. There may be an approved Letters of Map Amendments (LOMA) from FEMA that is not included on the map, how the shorelands will effect development, and if it is possible to have sewer extended to the A-1 zoned parcel. Nancy Anderson said she will need to verify the approved LOMA's from FEMA and include it on the map, the shoreland restriction requires a 50 foot setback from any navigable waters, and the sewer can be extended through a conservancy area but it may need DNR approval. President Scheunemann had questions about Floodway and Flood fringe and if the Kewaskum School District proposed new development will be effected. Nancy Anderson stated the Floodway area will not allow any new development and the Flood fringe may allow some fill to be applied. Dan Fischer from Potawatomi Prairie also expressed their Condo Association has an approved LOMA. Nancy Anderson will investigate the LOMA status and update the map accordingly.

Motion by Richard Knoebel to close the Public Hearing, second by Jim Hovland and carried by roll call vote. Laubach-aye, Knoebel-aye, Zehren-aye, Scheunemann-aye, Spenner-aye, Wright-absent, Hovland-aye (6-0-1)

James Smasal from the Kewaskum School District was on hand to introduce the referendum on the November 8th General Election ballot. The issues addressed at the Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School by the referendum will include the HVAC, plumbing, electrical, lighting, technology wiring, roofs, flooring, walls, upgrades needed to better support use of technology and flexible learning environment, secure entrances, parent drop-off /pick-up, and fire life/safety enhancements. The project will cost approximately $36.00 on a $100,000 assessed house. James Smasal encouraged residents to attend an upcoming Open House. Other projects addressed was the high school shop class recreating the Kewaskum entrance sign. The project will be funded by the Kiwanis. The partnership between the Kewaskum School District and the village with using the Kiwanis Park was discussed. James Smasal reported the school district takes care of their own preparation except for the lawn mowing. There is currently a good working partnership that benefits the community.

DPW Working Foreman Dennis Aupperle reported on the DPW activity:

1. The delinquent water and sewer account notifications were issued with one account being disconnected.
2. Valves are being turned. One valve on Jefferson Drive was broken.

Administrator Heiser reported on the draft 2017 Village of Kewaskum budget. The draft budget does not take into account the exact assessment on manufacturing, the tax increment, the TID shortfall. These final numbers will be available in late October. The 2017 Budget include a three percent increase in the Library budget, a reduction in road projects, does not include implementing the UD#3 and does cover the additional TIF shortfall. Overall the proposed budget raises the Village levy by three percent. The roads on the future improvement plan include Roseland Drive, Brooklane Drive and Edgewood Road.

Changes made to the budget and questions asked about the budget by the committees:

1. They denied the proposal to implement body cameras in the police department.
2. They discontinued the waste oil program. There are free options available to residents.
3. They asked for follow-up regarding the impact of the interest charged to sewer utility
 - a. May not see payback for years
 - b. Is it a false revenue in the General Fund
4. They asked about the street lights on Regal Drive that are Village owned and if it would be more economical to have WE Energies install new lights.
5. They asked for options to avert storm water from the west or charge the property owners for the expenditure. This is a major contributor to the flooding on Edgewood.

6. They asked the Fire Chief for an updated review of hours spent in Rescue Squad vs Fire Department. President Scheunemann requested that the budget be revised to show a contribution by UD3 for the additional TIF shortfall being added in 2017 and that amount being added to the street outlay budget.

Motion by Richard Knoebel to approve purchasing the financial software and hardware from Civic Systems on a three year payment plan, second by Jim Hovland. Voice vote, motion carried.

Motion by Richard Knoebel to approve purchasing the speed display board for the Kewaskum Police Department, second by David Spenner. Voice vote, motion carried.

Don't Be Scared... Be Prepared!

– Tips To Make Halloween Fun And Safe

Superheroes, princesses, and a variety of strange characters are about to invade your neighborhood. Halloween is this Monday but many communities have set trick-or-treat hours for this weekend. To help keep those ghosts and goblins safe, Wisconsin Emergency Management's "Ready Wisconsin" campaign has some Halloween tips.

- Stay away from billowing or long trailing fabric.
- Swords, knives and other costume accessories should be short, soft and flexible.
- Test make-up in small area and remove all make-up before bedtime to prevent possible skin and eye irritation.
- Wear well-fitting masks, costumes and shoes to avoid blocked vision, trips and falls.

Trick Or Treat Rules

- Children under the age of 12 should not trick-or-treat alone.
- Children over 12 should walk in groups or with a trusted adult.
- Make sure your child or a responsible adult with them carries a cell phone for quick communication.
- Only visit well-lit homes and never accept rides from strangers.

Check Your Treats

- An adult should examine treats for choking hazards and tampering.
- Tell your child not to eat any treats until they return home.
- Avoid eating homemade treats made by a stranger.

Be Seen

- Hold a flashlight while trick-or-treating to help you see and others see you.
- Fastening reflective tape to costumes and bags also helps drivers see you.

Safe Costumes

- Make sure costumes (including masks, beards and wigs) are flame resistant.

Safety Tips For Motorists

- Watch for children walking on roadways, medians and curbs.
- Enter and exit driveways and alleys carefully.
- At twilight and later in the evening, watch for children in dark clothing.

For safety information all year, visit us at <http://readywisconsin.wi.gov>. You can also follow us on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram.

Ideas For Parents: Easy Things To Help Your Child Succeed – Caring Neighborhood And Neighborhood Friends

Why do some kids grow up with ease while others struggle? Search Institute Researchers identified specific, practical things that can have a tremendous and lasting positive impact on youth. Rather than focusing on the problems, this research concentrates on the Developmental Assets – the positive things (such as parent support and commitment to learning) that help young people thrive. The assets are values, experiences and positive qualities that young people need to help them make wise decisions and choose positive lifestyles. The more assets they have, the better.

Caring Neighborhood
Youth are more likely to grow up healthy when they experience caring neighborhoods.

Neighborhood Friends

her best friends. He was very fond of her too, and he nicknamed her "Twirly Friend" because she liked to do "wheelies" on her bicycle in his driveway. Mr. Boggs taught Susan how to play checkers, and he once gave her a microscope.

When Mr. Boggs became gravely ill and needed to be hospitalized, Susan mailed him something every day. Sometimes it was a poem. Sometimes she wrote a letter. Other times she drew a picture and sent it to him. After a month, Mr. Boggs was able to go home. Mr. Boggs told Susan, "You saved my life. No one else called or wrote, and your mailings gave me the courage to live. Thank you."

Unlike Susan, many young people don't know their neighbors. They're scared of their neighbors, and many times, the neighbors are frightened by them. It's true, some neighborhoods are safer than others, but too many people don't reach out to each other – even in safe neighborhoods.

Friendships like the one between Susan and Mr. Boggs can develop only when people take risks by acknowledging their neighbors, getting to know them, and taking the time to form relationships. Usually, everyone-no matter what their age – benefits.

Talk Triggers
Your child may be unsure of what to talk about with a neighbor. Encourage your child to use these talk triggers to strike up a conversation:

- Do you have any hobbies?
- What do you like best about our neighborhood?
- What's your favorite book? Why?
- What troubles you most about the world today?
- What's your favorite childhood memory?
- What do you wish you had more time to do?

Be Proactive
To encourage neighbors to be more caring toward children, tell a neighbor how much it means to you and your children when he or she acknowledges, smiles at, or greets your children.

After all, as the pumpkins grew, they needed about 100 gallons of water a day.

Craig worked tirelessly on the pumpkins all summer, burying each side vine, which had a diameter of at least eight inches, so that it would root out.

Craig has about 1,000 square feet for each of the plants to grow. He would like to grow more pumpkins, but he has only about 2,000 square feet to work with.

"I wasn't sure if I had enough room for this. I didn't realize how big these things actually get," Craig said.

By mid-August, Craig was growing two huge pumpkins. Unfortunately, the larger of the two started to rot.

"It was about 600 pounds. It got diseased and kind of deflated," Craig said sadly.

Luckily, the other pumpkin continued gaining ground. It was putting on about 40 pounds a day, according to Craig's routine calculations.

The end result was a nice, round, enormous pumpkin.

Amanda has put up with her husband's diligent efforts at growing a large gourd, even though she may not enjoy his enthusiasm.

She's been astonished at how many people the oversized squash has attracted.

"It's crazy how many people are fascinated by it," she said.

Pumpkin Competition

In September, Craig decided to enter his pumpkin in a giant pumpkin competition held in Cedarburg.

In order to compete, he had to figure out how to get the monstrous vegetable to the venue.

First, he tried using his tractor.

"That little tractor can barely move it. I put the pallet forks on it, and she was just grunting," Craig said.

So he ended up getting some help from friends. It was quite the production.

He somehow got some straps around the pumpkin and then used a front-end loader to pick it up.

"Then we slid a pallet underneath it," Craig said matter of factly.

Craig managed to get both of his large pumpkins, even the dilapidated one, into the back of his pickup truck. Although the truck looked like it might bottom out, it made the trip safely to Cedarburg.

Despite the condition of Craig's ailing pumpkin, someone bought it.

The healthy, 861-pound pumpkin, though, was ready for the competition.

About 30 pumpkins were at the weighoff. Some of the competitors had been growing large pumpkins for at least a decade.

Unfortunately, Craig's pumpkin did not win the great giant pumpkin title. That went to a mammoth pumpkin that weighed 2,047 pounds.

Still, Craig fared pretty well and placed ninth out of the bunch.

Although he did not get an award for the best-looking pumpkin, lots of people admired the way Craig's entry looked.

"It did feel cool when people were all lined up and taking pictures of my pumpkin. They liked how it looked because some of those big ones get so floppy and weird looking. This one looks like a pumpkin," Craig said.

Future Pumpkins

Craig is already getting ready for next year's competition.

He has tilled manure over the pumpkin patch and has fall oat growing on the plot now.

"The oats are soaking everything up. What's nice is they will die over the winter after a deep freeze, so I don't have to worry about trying to kill it off in spring," said Craig, who grew up on a farm.

Craig hopes to changing out his sprinkler system to keep out any fungus.

"What I plan to do next year is use a soaker hose through the whole thing. I will run a hose along where I bury each vine. That way it's all going to be like an in-ground watering system, price pending," he said.

If Craig's pumpkins do well, he could win up to $2,000 in the state competition, he said. Plus, the seeds can be valuable.

For now, Craig and Amanda are trying to decide what to do with their big pumpkin.

They will not use it for cooking, because giant pumpkins are not known for being tasty.

"I'm sure they stink," Craig divulged.

The couple is considering carving the large pumpkin. Craig figures he might need a chain saw in order to do that.

And to make a jack-o'-lantern, they would need to burn wood inside the big pumpkin head, not just a candle.

If he could, Craig would like to grow six or seven plants.

"Unfortunately, there isn't even enough room for two. I definitely need a bigger yard," Craig said.

Craig's goal is to grow a 1,600-pound pumpkin next year.

"I've got some big plans for next year," Craig said.

Craig Watry recommends that anyone who would like to grow giant pumpkins should join the Wisconsin Giant Pumpkin Growers Association. For more information, visit www.wisconsinpumpkingrowers.com.
