Local Wreath Maker Represents Area At State Capitol

By Anne Trautner

Two wreaths made by local wreathmaker Jane Muench are hanging on the Governor's Mansion in Madison.

Muench, who creates the wreaths that are sold at Christmas on Indian Lore, a Christmas tree farm in Farmington, was selected to create the wreaths after winning a state competition last winter.

Muench had been looking forward to bringing her wreaths to Madison all year. More than anything, she wanted to meet Gov. Scott Walker, someone she has supported for years.

So on Friday, Muench, along with her husband, daughter, brother, sister-in-law and mother, took the day off from work and drove to Madison. The entire family could not wait to meet the governor.

"It was an honor in general, but it was a double honor because it was for the guy I admire," Muench said. "I don't know if we were more excited about the capitol or meeting Scott Walker."

Unfortunately, when they arrived in Madison, they were told that Walker was unable to be there that day. He had to be in Menomonie for another appointment.

Muench was disappointed that she did not get to meet with Walker in person. But she understood that it the circumstances were beyond anyone's control. And she was glad that she got to tour the capitol and sit in Walker's office.

"It was still a fun day because we got to spend it with the family," Muench said.

The Wreaths

Muench was chosen to create two wreaths for the state capitol after creating two winning wreaths at the Christmas Tree Producers Association's winter convention last January.

She had entered two wreaths in that contest, one for decorated wreaths and one for undecorated wreaths. Both of Muench's entries were named grand champions.

It was Muench's first time entering the contest, and she had not expected to win.

Santa Comes To Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

Santa found his way to Kewaskum on Sunday.

With hundreds of cookies at various businesses around town, he couldn't stay away.

Santa began his stint in the village by listening to children's wish lists as he and the children had their pictures taken at the Village Annex building.

The Annex served as Cookie Central for the Cookie Hunt that the Kewaskum Area

Chamber of Commerce organized for the village.

About 200 people participated in the cookie hunt. They decorated boxes to fill with cookies and filled out passports as they visited participating businesses on Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue.

The Kewaskum Cub Scouts sold food and beverages, including hot cocoa to help warm up participants when they returned from searching for cookies.

The cookie hunters were all ages.

"It was a wonderful event. It's a great way to get to know the town and see all the businesses," said Jim Hoogervorst, a new youth and family pastor at St. Lucas Lutheran Church in Kewaskum.

Hoogervorst admitted that he didn't have any cookies left by the time he returned to the Annex with his children.

Village Of Kewaskum To Get Ice Skating Rink

By Anne Trautner

People may soon be able to ice skate in the Village of Kewaskum.

Last week, the Village Board approved the construction of a temporary ice rink at the lower gravel parking lot on the east side of Riverhill Park.

The decision came after community member Wayne Sargent approached village trustees about the new skating rink.

"Ice skating is coming back," Sargent said. "I just would like to see something in the community that families can do without spending any money and have a place for the kids to go."

Construction materials for the rink will be fully funded through private funds.

Sargent estimates that it would cost about $450 to build a portable ice-skating rink that is 100 by 50 feet. The plan is to use pressure treated wood to create retaining walls for the rink, Sargent said.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club approved spending $300 to purchase materials, and the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is giving $200 for materials, Sargent said.

The village will supply labor to construct, plow and dismantle the rink.

In addition, the village will foot the bill of providing a portable restroom during the ice skating season. That bill will be approximately $72 a month, Dennis Aupperle, working foreman for Kewaskum Public Works Department, estimated.

Sargent had approached the village board about an ice skating rink two other times, he said. A couple years ago, when Sargent brought the idea forth for the first time, the board said no.

Clarification

The Village of Kewaskum last week rescinded its tax levy on the village's Utility District 3 (UD3) after a Wisconsin Department of Revenue (DOR) official identified concerns with levying the UD3 tax against nine of the district's parcels when the utility district is composed of 42 parcels. The Wisconsin Department of Revenue does not make official decisions on whether a tax levy is in compliance with the constitution. Any rulings on constitutionality come from the court system.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ROGER & RUTH KUEHL

Loving memories we will never forget, Sadly missed along life's way, With silent thought and deep regret, We think of you every day. No longer in our life to share, But in our hearts you are always there.

Love,
Your Family

IN MEMORY OF ROBERT FELTEN WHO PASSED AWAY DECEMBER 8, 1992

Wonderful memories of you each and everyday we treasured so dear, the moment that you died our hearts were torn in two, one side filled with heartache, the other died with you.

Remembering you is easy, we do it all the time each and everyday, but missing you is a heartache, that never goes away.

We hold you close to our hearts, and there you will remain, until the joyous day arrives that we will be together again to see that wonderful smile on your face.

Free-Ranging Cats: Issues And Solutions

The Evening with Nature series at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit continues with Free-Ranging Cats: Issues and Solutions.

The program will be held on Thursday, Dec. 8, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center located off Highway 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Millions of people share their homes with domestic cats and a huge number of those cat owners allow these small fierce predators to roam outdoors. In addition, many million more wild, "homeless" cats hunt the cities, fields, and forests.

Find out what researchers have uncovered about cat predation on bird and small mammal populations. Then learn how you can be a part of the solution to this incredible ecological tragedy of the natural world.

The evening's presenter, Stanley A. Temple, is the Beers-Bascom Professor Emeritus in Conservation at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. For 32 years he held the academic position once occupied by Aldo Leopold. He has spent his career working to save endangered species and the habitats on which they depend. Currently, he is a Senior Fellow with the Aldo Leopold Foundation.

For further information or directions to the Ice Age Visitor Center, contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The staff can be reached at (920) 533-8322. The center is open Wednesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

Theft Of Services Complaint

Going the extra mile is not always a good thing. That is likely the opinion of a Yellow Cab Green Bay taxi driver after the Sheriff's Office investigated a theft of services complaint on Sunday, Dec. 4. The Sheriff's Office responded to Richfield Truck Stop at 5:27 p.m. after receiving a report from a taxi cab driver that a customer absconded without paying for a taxi fare. The cab driver, a 59-year-old City of Green Bay man, told deputies he transported a subject from Lambeau Field to Richfield. After arriving, the customer went inside the building under the guise of retrieving money from the ATM, but discreetly slipped out the back door. The reported fare due was $475.60.

Deputies spent about one hour tracking the individual for about 1/2 mile in the snow and located him inside a bar in downtown Richfield. The subsequent investigation revealed the customer, identified as a 24-year-old Village of Slinger man, was at the Packer game and became intoxicated. He lost his cell phone and became separated from his friends. The Slinger man was able to find a cab driver that was willing to give him a ride to Richfield. The man was arrested and given a complementary ride to the jail where he was booked for theft.

Multi Vehicle Crash

On December 4, at 9:54 a.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of a multi-vehicle crash on I-41 at Cedar Creek Rd. in the Town of Polk. Sheriff's Deputies and rescue personnel from the Slinger Fire Department and Lifestar Rescue were subsequently dispatched to the scene.

An on-scene investigation revealed the following: A northbound vehicle driven by an 18-year-old Neenah woman lost control and struck a northbound guardrail. A second northbound vehicle, driven by a 24-year-old Manitowoc woman, attempted to avoid this collision, lost control, slid through the grassy median, and entered the southbound lanes. She was subsequently struck by a southbound vehicle driven by a 33-year-old South Milwaukee woman. A fourth vehicle, driven by a 75-year-old Glendale woman, swerved to avoid the southbound collision and struck a southbound guardrail. Two of the drivers were transported to area hospitals by ambulance for what is believed to be non-life threatening injuries. A thin layer of snow/slush was beginning to accumulate on the roadway at the time of the crash.

I-41 southbound between STH 144 and STH 60 was closed for approximately 1.5 hours to facilitate rescue and clean-up efforts. The detour utilized STH 144, STH 175 and STH 60 in the Village of Slinger. The Sheriff's Office received assistance at the scene from the Wisconsin State Patrol, Slinger Police Department, and Washington County Highway Department.

Driving too fast for conditions appears to be the main contributing factor. However, the matter remains under investigation by the Sheriff's Office.

Wisconsin DOT Enhances Silver And Amber Alert Messaging On Electronic Message Boards

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) recently changed its messaging format for AMBER and Silver Alerts in an effort to provide drivers with pertinent information to help law enforcement and families locate endangered children and missing adults with cognative impairment. Drivers now traveling past an electronic message board during an alert will receive a description of the vehicle and its license plate number instead of having to call 511 or tune to a local radio station for more information. However, drivers can still utilize these services to receive more information. "We are hoping this will alert drivers sooner and help law enforcement find these individuals and return them safely to their families," said Paul Keltner, traffic management supervisor at the State Traffic Operations Center (STOC) in Milwaukee.

WisDOT partners with the Wisconsin Department of Justice and local law enforcement agencies to broadcast alerts that involve a motor vehicle. In 2015, the STOC messaged 45 Silver Alerts and five AMBER Alerts.

"We look forward to continuing this partnership and continually improving how we message during these types of events," said Keltner.

“Project Gratitude” Serves Boys And Girls Club Once Again

For the 11th year, First Weber Realtors brought “Project Gratitude” to serve members of the Boys and Girls Club of Washington County.

Project Gratitude kicked off this year in November with a collection of food for Boys and Girls Club members.

On Monday, Nov. 21, volunteers from across the county helped assemble baskets of donated food. Representatives from the Kewaskum School District were among those loading food into boxes and then onto trucks to be brought to those in need.

Then, on Tuesday, Nov. 23, the project fed more than 200 Boys and Girls Club members a full, hot Thanksgiving meal. Agents from the West Bend office shopped on their own and cooked from home to provide the food they served on that day.

At the closure of this two-day event, Project Gratitude has provided more than 2,000 baskets of food to families of the members of the Boys and Girls Club over the past 11

“I can’t begin to count how many hot meals we have served,” said event organizer Terri Fredrich, general sales manager for First Weber.

The funds needed to purchase all of the food have been raised from donors in our community, contributions from the agents, First Weber Foundation and Wal-Mart Local Giving Funds. To date, the total raised from these sources is $105,404.

Through “Project Gratitude” and help from the community, First Weber purchased 225 turkeys, 1,125 pounds of potatoes and 225 of each of the items needed for families to prepare a full Thanksgiving meal at home.

Kewaskum Food Pantry Receives Donation For Thanksgiving

As Jen Lenzendorf, the owner and group fitness instructor of AIMS Fitness in Barton, was planning her October schedule, she was thinking ahead about the approaching holidays.

Lenzendorf was hoping to do something to involve all her participants from AIMS Fitness. She wanted to help a family enjoy Thanksgiving dinner. She prepared a list of typical Thanksgiving dinner items participants could donate for the meal and AIMS would donate $25 towards a turkey.

Lenzendorf presented the food drive idea to her participants and what happened was amazing, she said.

Instead of donating just an item or two, her class participants donated whole meals. By the time the food drive ended participants had donated 22 full meals and AIMS donated $550 toward the turkeys.

"I was just hoping to help one family, I am overwhelmed by the outcome," Lenzendorf said. "I'm just a small studio, but we are making a big difference. I believe that people want to help others, they just may not know how to go about doing that. It just took one person to come up with an idea and others were very willing to step up to the plate."

Lenzendorf is a Kewaskum High School graduate and her triplets currently attend Kewaskum Elementary School, so she felt the Kewaskum Food Pantry was a great place to donate to as her first food drive. She is looking forward to doing more events like this one in the future.

Lenzendorf has been a group fitness instructor since early 2012 and established AIMS Fitness in 2014. In September 2015, Jen opened her own studio located in Barton off Highway 45 in the building her grandfather built. She is the third generation to own the property and to run a business in the building.

AIMS offers various different group exercise classes. Classes are suitable for all levels of experience and ages. AIMS stands for Accountability, Inspiration, Motivation and Support. Lenzendorf's focus is health and happiness and knows that exercise is just one part to a healthy lifestyle. She offers non-exercise events done in her studio as well as in the community for her participants.

For more information about AIMS Fitness, call (262) 909-0602, or visit www.aimsfitnessllc.com or www.facebook.com/zumbatripletmom.

Cedar Home Health Recognized As Top-Performer In United States

Cedar Home Health a division of Cedar Community was recently recognized as a top-performing home health agency in the United States. Ability Network, a leading health care information technology company, and DecisionHealth, a provider of education and tools to maximize the financial health of health care organizations, recently announced the 2016 HomeCare Elite winners acknowledging the best of the home care profession.

HomeCare Elite identifies the top 25 percent of all Medicare-certified home health agencies throughout the United States. Agencies are identified and analyzed on performance measures in quality outcomes, best practices, implementation, patient experience, quality improvement and consistency and financial performance. Agency performance is compared against other organizations in the state and nationwide with greatest importance on quality of care.

Cedar Home Health was not only recognized in the top 25 percent of agencies but they are the only home health agency in Washington County recognized and one of 26 home health agencies in Wisconsin. "This is wonderful news for our home health division and a reflection of the dedication and compassion our team members provide for our patients and their families," said Kathy Weston, MS MSW CAPSW C-ASWCM, ACHP-SW, Director of Home- and Community-Based Services.

About Cedar Community
Cedar Community is a not-for-profit, church-affiliated leader in creating relationships, services and environments to enhance the well-being of seniors and their families. Its facilities are located on five campuses in Washington and Sheboygan counties. Cedar Community is proud to provide a continuum of care including independent and assisted living, long-term care, outpatient therapy, hospice, memory loss services and home care.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

TAI CHI MAY IMPROVE QUALITY OF LIFE

Tai chi is a traditional Chinese mind/body practice of slow, graceful movements and meditation. A study involving 204 patients with knee arthritis suggests that tai chi may help improve physical functioning and reduce pain as well as physical therapy, but with some other added benefits. Half the patients did physical therapy for 6 weeks followed by home exercise for 6 weeks, and the other half did tai chi 2 times a week for 12 weeks. Both groups had reduced pain and better mobility, but the tai chi group showed more improvement in symptoms of depression and overall quality of life.

"The second time it was approved to use the pond at Kiwanis park and keep it flooded as an ice skating rink. Unfortunately, that never came to fruition," Sargent said.

Sargent said he has received calls over the last few weeks from citizens across town who are interested in the village offering ice skating.

Once the rink is constructed, the fire department would be responsible for filling the rink, as well as intermittently spraying it to keep a smooth surface on the rink.

At last week's meeting, there was discussion on where a good location would be for the rink. Sargent would like a place that has a lot of exposure, as well as lights.

Sargent suggested building the rink on the field to the southeast of the fire station or on the soccer field next to the Kewaskum Clinic.

However, Village President Kevin Scheunemann said that he was concerned with cars parked at the fire department, and Village Trustee Dave Zehren voiced concerns over whether the rink would kill the grass.

"In Slinger, they moved theirs off grass onto black-top because it killed the grass every year," Zehren said.

The village trustees unanimously approved the gravel parking lot in Riverhill Park to avoid those worries.

"There certainly is a need for it," Sargent said.

St. Lucas Lutheran Church To Host Branches Band

St. Lucas Lutheran Church, 1417 Parkview Dr, Kewaskum, will host hosting Branches Band for a special midweek Advent service on Wednesday, Dec. 14 at 7 p.m.

Branches Band, a Milwaukee-based music group, uses their love for music to identify the Savior of the world - Jesus. From ancient hymns to modern songs, from guitars and piano to vocal harmonies, the Truth of God's love and grace is at the root of the Branches Band ministry. Branches Band travels all over the United States and Canada with their repertoire including hundreds of hymns and songs.

Branches Band serves congregations by offering

Christian concerts, assisting with worship, and developing music resources for today's church leaders and worship teams. For more information, scheduling, albums and other resources, visit branches-band.com or facebook.com/branches-band.

Branches Band will perform for special midweek Advent service on Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 7 p.m. at St. Lucas Lutheran Church.

UW-WC Photo Display In Port Washington

The work of photography students from UW-Washington County, UW-Sheboygan, and UW-Manitowoc will be on display at Gallery 224 in Port Washington from December 4 to 17, with an opening reception planned for Sunday, Dec. 4, 2 p.m. - 4 p.m. Gallery 224 (gallery224.com) is located at 224 East Main Street in Port Washington. Admission is free.

The exhibit titled "Early Work" features work from students in introductory and intermediate photography classes from each campus. Art instructors include Berel Lutsky at UW-Manitowoc, Tom Uebelherr at UW-Sheboygan and Anna Mosiadis at UW-Washington County. The work on display, chosen by the instructors, represents a wide variety of subject matter and reflects many of these students' first experiences as image makers. According to Lutsky, "Millions of photographs are made and shared every day, and few if any are remembered beyond the quick press of the "like" button on our mobile devices. Creating a memorable image vs. "taking a picture" requires the development of both skills and attention to details, and an engagement with the world that just does not happen with the quick selfie, or "portrait" of our dinner plate. The memorable image then actively engages the world beyond the simple documentation of the self. There are some wonderful surprises here that speak well of these students' efforts to look carefully and respond thoughtfully."

Photography as well as drawing and other art classes are part of the curriculum offerings at the campus. For more information, visit, washington.uwc.edu/academics/courses. Spring semester begins Monday, Jan. 23, 2017.

Muench was told to recreate her decorative wreath and make two wreaths to be hung in Madison this winter. Muench created the wreaths with mixed evergreens, pheasant feathers, pinecones, red ornaments, red berries, dogwood branches, gold decorations and a bow.

When Muench found out that she would be creating the wreaths for Walker, wanted to do something to show her appreciation for all he has done for Wisconsin.

Muench took the day off from work last Thursday to have time to work on the wreaths.

"I spent most of the day making them, to make them perfect for when I met him," Muench said.

She knew Walker likes to hunt, so she added pheasant feathers in his honor.

Little did she know that the theme for this year's Christmas tree at the capitol was "Wisconsin Wildlife."

"It was quite ironic because my wreaths had pheasant feathers in them. I didn't know last January when I entered the contest that there would be a theme, and it turned out that my wreaths actually matched the theme," Muench said.

Christmas On Indian Lore

Muench, who works throughout the year as a mail carrier, had been helping her brother, Dean Fechter, and his wife, Jackie Fechter, with their Christmas tree farm, Christmas on Indian Lore, since they started it in 1999.

When wreaths would be brought to the farm to be sold, Muench would spend time sprucing up the wreaths and rearranging their bows.

So when the wreath maker wanted to retire from the wreath-making business four years ago, Muench was the logical person for the Fechters to turn to.

The experienced wreath-maker taught Muench everything she knew, and Muench experimented to create her own techniques as well.

Muench's handmade wreaths are now sold at the farm. The tree farm also offers pre-cut or cut-your-own Christmas trees, wagon rides, campfires and a Christmas shop.

Planning Ahead

Muench is already making plans to create wreaths to enter in the 2017 Wisconsin Christmas wreath contest.

"The odds of winning again, I think, are slim, but you never know. Somebody's go to win. Why can't it be me?" Muench figured.

And if Muench once again creates the winning wreath, she will get to Madison once again.

"Maybe next time Scott Walker will be there," she said.

Christmas on Indian Lore is located at 7790 Indian Lore Road in West Bend.

Hours are as follows:
Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sundays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mondays through Thursdays, 1 to 7 p.m.

Fridays, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Fields are open until dusk.

FEATURE BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

Tuttle Creek Learning Center, Inc.

Tuttle Creek Learning Center, Inc. is proud to be in business for over 18 years. After purchasing the established center in 1997, Mike and Audra Beyer began molding the business, adding their own unique touches and continued the growing process to accommodate the communities changing needs. Over the past 15 years an infant, toddler and two year old room have been added to the already existing preschool room at the main site, as well as adding before and after school programs in Kewaskum Elementary School and Farmington Elementary School. They have been providing quality childcare for Kewaskum and the surrounding area for over 18 years, while continually improving and adding new features!

Audra brings 27 years of experience to the business and the Administrator, Shelly Marx, brings 23 years of experience. Along with them, there are 10-14 employees depending on the time of year. Mike and Audra Beyer are supportive of their staff going back to school through funding in conjunction with TEACH.

Thank you to all of the parents who have shared their precious children with us! We feel truly blessed to have met each and every one of you. We look forward to many more years of helping your children grow!

ACTIVITIES AT THE KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Kewaskum Public Library, 206 1st St. in Kewaskum, is offering the following programs. For more information, contact the library at (262) 626-4312.

Letter from the Director

We are excited to announce that the Kewaskum Public Library, along with the other libraries in the Mid-Wisconsin System, will be merging with Eastern Shores Library System. Eastern Shores has 13 libraries in Ozaukee and Sheboygan counties, so this merger is wonderful news because we will be able to offer you 13 more libraries worth of material! It's important to us at the Kewaskum Public Library that you, our patrons, are kept informed as to what this process entails.

The library will be open, but offline from December 8-14 and will be closed December 15 and 16 (the reason we will be closed is so that staff can catch up with check-ins and delivery). Here is what you can expect during that offline period:

•We will be able to check materials out to you. During the offline period, we will need all patrons to bring in their library cards, because we will be unable to look for your accounts.

•We will be unable to check anything in (don't worry – we will backdate all items when we check them in again).

•No one will be able to place holds (please consider placing any holds you would like for December in November) and are happy to work with you to be sure you can get materials in a timely manner.

•We will be unable to renew any item during offline time. Don't worry – we will backdate ALL ITEMS when we are able to check them in again.

We will be sure to keep you updated as to what to expect with the impending merger. It's a big change, but we're confident that it will be a wonderful thing for everyone! More libraries means more materials for everyone. Please, do not hesitate to contact us with any questions.

Library Programs

December 15 - Expressions comes to Kewaskum: Unique Fused Glass Pendant Workshop $12.00 (includes all supplies - pendants need to be fired in a kiln. Will be ready for pick up at the library within 5 business days of the class) Basic beginner glass work - appropriate for all ages (under 10 should be accompanied by an adult)

Fall Storytime Themes Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. and 6:15 p.m.

December 14: Merry Christmas!

At The Movies

"At the Movies" was started in 2011 as a collaboration between Kewaskum School District, the library, and the Kewaskum Area Arts Council. Hosted by retired KHS literature teacher James Westphal, our "At the Movies" series highlights award-winning, popular American films of the 40s, 50s, 60s and 70s. See them on the big screen for the first time. Movies begin at 2pm on select Wednesdays.

"The cookies were awesome," Hoogervorst said. "And the snow made it perfect, too. It was very nostalgic."

None of the cookie hunters seemed to mind that it was a wet snow, so their passports were somewhat soggy when they returned to register for raffle prizes.

"The snow made it seem like Christmas," cookie hunter Josh Peterson said. "The whole thing was very good. You got to go into some shops that you had never been into or didn't know about. It was a nice way to get around the community."

The youngest cookie hunters worked hard to get as many cookies as they could.

"Some said it was like trick-or-treating at Christmastime," Chamber President Kristy Vogt said.

After the cookie hunt, the Christmas parade wound its way through the village streets.

With lots of floats and musicians, the spirit of Christmas kept spectators warm, despite the wet snow.

And the parade's grand finale was the children's favorite.

"Santa!" the youngsters hollered as they waved to the man in the red suit, anxiously awaiting his return to their homes in three more weeks.

Cookie Hunt Raffle Winners

Second Place: Kewaskum Cub Scouts ($100 prize)

Third Place: Kewaskum Youth Soccer Organization ($50 prize)

Washington County Human Services Director Announces Resignation

Washington County Human Services Director Eric Diamond turned in his resignation announcing he would leave the department on January 11. Diamond has accepted a leadership position in Milwaukee County's Behavioral Health Department, citing a better fit for him as a professional and for his family.

"Eric's resignation comes as a surprise," said County Administrator Joshua Schoemann. "We wish Eric all the best in Milwaukee County. I am very happy for Eric to have an opportunity to seek his passion working more closely with his clients. While his vision and leadership will be missed in Washington County, I remain confident in the team we have in place and their ability to work together to serve our citizens while we search for a new Director."

"I am deeply grateful for all of the support and opportunities that I have been provided over the last three and a half years. I have truly enjoyed working with Washington County Administration, the Human Services Committee, Human Department Staff, and the many consumers, agencies and other stakeholders across Washington County. I have learned a great deal in my time here, and will look forward to hearing about the future success of Washington County, its programs, and its talented and hardworking staff," said Diamond.

Diamond joined the Washington County Human Services Department in April 2013, served as the Department's Behavioral Health Manager for nearly two years before being promoted to the Client Services Director position in January 2015. In July 2015, Diamond was promoted to Human Services Administrator on an interim basis, leading to his permanent promotion in January 2016. Eric and his team will work closely in the coming weeks to ensure that these initiatives continue.

Schoemann and the County's leadership team will work closely with the Human Services team to assess the best next steps, and hope to post for the new Director position early in the first quarter of 2017.

Ask the Dentist
I Just Found Out I Am Pregnant, Is It Safe To Have Dental Work Done?
 Dr. Sara Klasinski

First off, congratulations! Secondly, to answer your question I am going to say 'yes' and 'no'. Typically we recommend dental treatment according to what stage in your pregnancy you are in. The first trimester is very important with fetal development and avoiding any dental work aside from the regular dental cleaning is important. The second trimester is considered the "safest" time for any work that needs to be completed, like fillings, crowns or bridges. If you are farther along in your pregnancy and have reached the third trimester, we recommend that you get clearance from your obstetrician for any treatment. When it comes to emergency treatment that needs to be completed (like a toothache), then it would be taken care of at any point in your pregnancy.

Do you have a dental question? If so, email: dcon53040@jdconnor.com

KEWASKUM FAMILY DENTISTRY

Fifth Annual "Love Lights" For The Holidays A Success

With the collaboration of many people, the fifth annual "Love Lights" for the Holidays Tree Lighting Ceremony was a success on December 3rd. Rev. Doug Birr from the Campbellsport Alliance Church gave the opening thoughts from a song "I'm Going Home This Christmas." Edith Bahringer and Mary Ribbeck handcrafted the beautiful butterfly ornaments with a poem, "Whisper 'I love you' to a butterfly and it will fly to heaven to deliver your message."

We gathered at the Campbellsport Fire Department, a warm and comfortable proximity to the "Love Light" trees. The fire department permitted the use of their ladder truck which made it very convenient to decorate the trees. The experienced light decorating crew included Jeff Lindsley, Ron Reese, Jim Simon and Lester Simon. Many people and companies from the community helped make the tree lighting a success. The Campbellsport News and Kewaskum Statesman helped spread the news for our event. The Village of Campbellsport kindly let us use the trees and take care of our lights and sign. Twohig Funeral Home provides lights for the families who lost a loved one this past year. The cooperation of the "Love Lights" committee made little work of such a big task. These lit trees are more than lights on a tree. They are "Love Lights." They represent people that we love and their love still shines on brightly in our hearts and memories, and especially at this special time of year, the holidays. We celebrate the birth of Christ and His love for us coming down to earth. So when you pass by the "Love Lights" for the Holidays trees and see the bright white lights, remember and say a special prayer for all the people who purchased the lights, and also the people who were and are people of our community that we all love. But also, for God's love for all of us that should shine brightly in our hearts everyday. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Love Lights For The Holidays 2016

A love light is a light that is lit in memory of your special someone on the two evergreen trees located at the east end of Main Street in Campbellsport near the Milwaukee River. The names listed here were remembered at this year's event held on December 3, 2016. Organized by the "Love Lights" for the Holidays Committee.

Packers' Backup Quarterback Brett Hundley Visits KMS

By Anne Trautner

Chants of "Go Pack Go!" filled the Kewaskum Middle School gymnasium on Monday as Brett Hundley, backup quarterback for the Green Bay Packers, paid a visit to the school.

While the students cheered for Hundley, he applauded them on their "brain break" dance exercises and their ingenuity as they used a bicycle to power a blender and make a fruit smoothie.

"Eating habits are critical for what you want to do during the day," Hundley told the students after he sampled the nutritious

Hundley's visit was part of the Fuel Up To Play 60 program, which the Kewaskum School District has participated in during the past five years. The program partners with the NFL to promote healthy living.

Due to the hard work of the students and dedication to the program, the Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board awarded Hundley's visit to the district.

All of the students from the middle school, as well as the Fuel Up to Play 60 ambassadors from all of the Kewaskum public schools, attended Monday's assembly.

Some of the students greeted Hundley when he arrived in the parking lot, and they escorted him into the school building.

During the assembly, Hundley told students about the importance of good nutrition and exercise. Drinking milk is especially important, he said.

"Drinking milk builds good strong bones, especially for growing children," he said. "I would not be able to do what I do without drinking milk and having healthy bones."

Students had the opportunity to ask Hundley questions. One of the things they wanted to know about was which sports he had participated in during high school.

"In high school I played basketball and football, and I ran the 400 meters in track," said Hundley, who started out playing safety as a freshman before becoming a quarterback.

Hundley said he didn't really plan on becoming a professional athlete.

"When I was little, I loved football, so I used to watch the NFL. I watched Brett Favre running around, and I taught myself to be what I am now. I wasn't even thinking about it, I just went out there and played," Hundley told the students.

And the most pressing question: Who is the funniest person on the Green Bay Packers team?

"Ironically, it has to be Aaron Rodgers," Hundley said. "There are a lot of pranks in the locker room....He is a bunch of fun to be around."

Indians No Match For Slinger's Big Guns In Boys Game

By Judy Harlow

A young and very inexperienced Kewaskum boys basketball team had no answers for Slinger's Derek Sabin and Tyler Evans in the Indians' season opener on November 29.

The six-foot, eight-inch Sabin took care of the Owls' inside game, pouring in 20 points, while Evans lit it up from the wing to the tune of 21 points en route to a 74-38 victory.

"Slinger came in. They shot very well right off the bat," KHS second-year coach Don Gruber said, indicating he thought starting with a zone might slow down Sabin, "but Evans made too many shots."

The Indians' fine wing, Brady Hanson had a good game in defeat, scoring 21 points, with 14 of those points coming in a six minutes and 10 seconds stretch in the second half. He swished three long three-point jumps in his run, compensating for a slower-than-expected start in the first half, which was cut short because he picked up his third foul with 9:55 to play.

"Brady can score. There's no doubt, but we're not the only ones who know that," Gruber said, indicating the other coaches are aware of the 6-6 senior, who is Kewaskum's lone returning starter.

"We've got a young team ... a lot of juniors playing and even the seniors we have are inexperienced," Gruber went on, adding, "There's going to be a steep learning curve for this team."

Gruber had planned to start 6-5 Nick Beine in the post but Beine injured an ankle during a physical education class the day before the game and is on crutches. Also missing was junior Dan Kreis. "He's been sick for the last three days. He would have given us another guard," Gruber said.

Slinger jumped out to 10-2 lead with Sabin and Evans combining for all the points. Owl fans were treated to a thunder dunk for his team's second basket after coming up with a steal, took a couple dribbles and soared above the basket.

Hanson came out of the game with 9:15 left in the first half, and after the Indians had trouble the Owls' post players. Jon Heus, who stands just 6-0, provided a highlight when he blocked a shot by the 6-4 Nick Rasimus with 5:36 to go before the break.

By half, Slinger led 38-11, but the Indians outscored the visitors 9 to 4 early in the second half with Hanson scoring five points and Jordan Carlton and Brent Goeden each contributing a basket, making the score 42-20.

Slinger came back with a basket, a pair of free throws by Jack Cairns; Sabin battled inside for a rebound basket and later added a free throw, and Evans swished a shot pushing the lead to 55-20. Hanson's long range shooting shot brought the KHS fans back to life, but the game was out of reach.

"Al (Schieve) does a great job over at Slinger," Gruber said, noting the veteran coach gets his Owls to play some very tough defense.

After Hanson's 21, Carlton scored seven points with one three-pointer, while Jared Chesak added four.

"Jared ... He competed. Brady competed," Gruber said, indicating Goeden had some good minutes for the Indians.

Late Surge Of Three-Pointers Lifts Indians Past Campbellsport

By Judy Harlow

Both teams were a little sluggish in the first half, but Kewaskum came alive in the second, first behind some clutch free throw shooting and later good three-point shooting to earn a hard-fought 36-28 victory over Campbellsport.

With the win on December 2, the Lady Indians improved to 1-1 in East Central play and 2-1 overall.

"I'm just super proud of these girls," KHS coach Russ Thull said, especially about his seven seniors. "I like to see them feel this way" after a win and especially after a win over arch rival Campbellsport.

Kewaskum scored the first six points of the game, and then the Cougars went on an 8-0 run before the defenses took over. In the last eight minutes of the first half, there were just 10 points scored, five by both clubs. It was a 14-footer from the baseline by CHS' Toni Hundertmark that gave the visitors a 13-11 advantage at the break.

"I challenged the girls today to keep their focus" and not let mistakes affect them, Thull said. "I thought they stayed positive and stayed with what we wanted to do." The Indians took heed to Thull's message by outscoring the visitors 25 to 15 after the break.

After going scoreless for almost five minutes, Schulteis made a pair of free throws to break the ice and a minute later she grabbed a rebound after a Mikayla Dogs miss and got fouled again. Schulteis swished another two free throws, pulling the Indians to within two at 17-15, and that seemed to spark them.

Campbellsport missed shots on its next two possessions, but Bre Trepes did not, draining a three-pointer with 12:30 remaining for an 18-17 lead. The Cougars' Zoe Albert countered with an inside move to re-take the lead, but within a minute later, Dogs saw an opening and drove in for a layup, giving the Indians a 20-19 lead.

Once again, the Cougars answered, this time on a close range basket by Larisa Lindsley, but Dogs responded with a move inside and gained a 22-21 lead for the Indians, a lead they would not relinquish.

Kewaskum continued to build on that lead thanks to a three-pointer by Dogs with 9:12 to play and a trio of three-pointers by Hailey Hergiges at the 8:06 mark, then at 4:50 and later at 1:38.

The last trey gave Kewaskum a 36-26 advantage, and the Indians were starting to smell victory.

"When they double-teamed us inside, there was someone open outside," Hergiges said afterward, indicating it was fun hitting her shots down the stretch. "You can just see the ball when it's about to go in," she said, pleased to get a win over the Cougars who swept them last year. "It was our goal to beat Campbellsport, and we achieved that."

Hergiges is confident the Indians will continue to improve and be successful this season. "I feel like we have a lot of chemistry. We just know how to read each other very well."

Dogs and Hergiges led KHS with 13 and 11 points, respectively, while Hundertmark led the Cougars with seven.

"We felt like Alivia (Wisnefske) was their top shooter. We could find her in the zone and packed everything else in. We did a good job executing," Thull said about his team's defense.

KEWASKUM 11-25-36

CAMPBELLSPORT 13-15-28

Kewaskum: Hailey Hergiges 11, Mikayla Dogs 13, Sydney Rosenthal 2, Bre Trepes 3, Missy Schneider 1, Molly Schulteis 4, Rachel Holt 2. Three-point goals—Trepes, Dogs, Hergiges (3). FTs—5x6.

Campbellsport: Becca O'Brien 2, Tori Hundertmark 7, Kalista Hodorff 2, Alivia Wisnefske 3, Larisa Lindsley 4, Zoe Albert 4, Breleigh Lorrigan 2; Three-point goals—Hundertmark. FTs—not available.

Normally, 55 points will be enough to win a girls basketball game but it wasn't enough for the Lady Indians on November 29 as host Ripon exploded for 42 points in the second half to turn back KHS, 64-55 in the East Central opener for both clubs.

Cold shooting hampered the Indians, who managed to hit just six of 32 tries from three-point land (18 percent) and 11 of 23 free throws (47 percent). They were better on two-pointers, making 13 of 29 for a 44 percent shooting clip.

"Tuesday was a disappointing loss for us," Thull said. "We didn't shoot well. We didn't shoot free throws well. We were just very flat."

Once again Dogs and Hergiges were the leading scorers, throwing in 17 and 15 points, respectively. Dogs had eight assists, three rebounds and five steals but hit just one of nine threes for 11 percent.

Hergiges played 33 minutes and contributed six rebounds, had three steals and one assist.

The freshman Maxine Paulowske had 12 points but missed a lot more shots than she made.

Ripon was led by Olivia Lewis' 19 points.

Basketball

Former Kewaskum High basketball player Charlie Witek has taken his game to Marian University of Fond du Lac where he is a top reserve as a freshman.

The six-foot, three-inch Witek has played in all five of the Sabres' games, including a recent 80-78 loss to Concordia in the Northern Athletics Collegiate Conference (NACC) opener for both teams.

Witek's best game came on November 18 against Wartburg, a game the Sabres lost 90-83. In that contest, Witek played 19 minutes, scored a dozen points, hauled down two rebounds and came up with a pair of steals.

Marian, which has no seniors on its roster, is 0-5 after suffering a 79-49 loss to UW-Eau Claire on November 26. In that game, Witek scored six points, hitting 6x8 free throws and contributed two rebounds and one assist.

Football

Eric Perkins and his North Dakota State Bison teammates started off defense of their NCAA FCA national championship with a bang, dominating San Diego, 45-7 in a game played on December 3.

Perkins, who has been returning punts for the Bison, played some wide receiver in this game and caught two passes for 17 yards.

The Bison, now 11-1, will entertain arch rival, South Dakota State, this Saturday, Dec. 11, beginning at 11 a.m. SDS handed the Bison their only loss of the year on October 15 in a close Missouri Valley game that ended up 19-17. The stakes will be a lot bigger this time around.

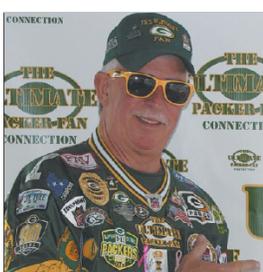

Packers Plan To "Hawk" A Win!

The Green Bay Packers, (6-6) will host the Seattle Seahawks, (8-3-1) on Sunday, December 11th at Lambeau Field. Kickoff is scheduled for 3:25.

The Packers are coming off a "sloppy" win against the Houston Texans, while the Seahawks are coming off a blowout win to the Carolina Panthers.

The Seahawks were established back on June 4, 1974, playing in their first season in 1976. Since then they have 15 playoff appearances, won nine division titles, three conference championships and won one Superbowl in 2013.

These two NFC powerhouses have met 19 times in the past including three preseason games with the Pack leading 11-8.

The Packers and the Seahawks have somewhat of an ugly past. The Pack, having had some of their most disappointing controversial losses against the Hawks. We all remember the "replacements" and the "catch call", but I think the most memorable loss was the 2013 NFC Championship game played at CenturyLink Field. The Packers dominated the entire game until the latter of the 4th quarter when the Packers defense lost control and Seattle went on to win in the final minutes.

The Packers are now tied with the Minnesota Vikings for second place in the division, trailing the first place Detroit Lions by two games. This is not necessarily a must win game for the Pack to get into the playoffs but the road in would be much smoother if they do. The Packers play the Lions in their last regular season game on New Year's Day at Ford Field in Detroit of which the Packers hold the tiebreaker.

This weeks "Ultimate Fan" prediction has the Pack winning a nail biter, 30-27.

Congratulations to this week's winner, Kelly Baer!

Kelly's name will be put in the pool to win Packer tickets for next year's season.

Each week that the Packers play, the Kewaskum Statesman is holding an Ultimate Packer Fan Giveaway contest. There is no charge to enter.

The grand prize is two regular season tickets to the Packers' home opener. Second place wins two tickets to the Packers' first home preseason game for 2017. Third place is two tickets to the Packers' second 2017 home preseason game.

For your chance to win, go to www.kstatesman.com or email frontdesk@kstatesman.com and be sure to make your picks by 9 a.m. on the Thursday preceding the game. Winners will be announced in next week's Kewaskum Statesman.

Cupping Therapy

Contributed by: Lori Bersch,
Licensed Massage Therapist & Certified Posture Expert

This year's summer Olympics sparked fascination amongst the public as mysterious circle marks popped up on olympic athletes, one in particular swimmer Michael Phelps. Although new to many people, this form of bodywork has been around for thousands of years. It's called cupping therapy.

I became a certified cupping therapist in 2013 through the International Cupping Therapy Association when I took hands-on training consisting of five days of cupping nirvana. The types of cupping and benefits each offers reached far beyond what I had imagined. I'm certified, experienced, and one of few in the area to offer this therapy.

In today's column I'll give some examples of how it helps my clients when we add it to their orthopedic or therapeutic massages.

Cupping is not a new 'fad' therapy, it has been practiced for thousands of years by different cultures around the globe. Hippocrates, the Father of Modern Medicine was a cupping advocate. Evolving over time, it was once performed using hollowed out animal horns and bamboo cups and is now performed with medical grade silicone, glass or plastic. Recent cupping research in the Journal of Bodywork and Movement Therapies reveals that cupping is able to reduce musculoskeletal pain. "Mechanically, cupping increases blood circulation, whereas physiologically it activates the immune system and stimulates the mechanosensitive fibers leading to a reduction in pain."

The International Cupping Therapy Association states that cupping is negative pressure, rather than tissue compression, used in bodywork for pain, stubborn conditions, repetitive strains, inflammation, toxicity, chronic fatigue, digestive problems and a slough of other issues. Suction cups rapidly facilitate rigid soft tissue release, loosens and lifts connective tissue, breaks up and drains stagnation while increasing blood and lymph flow to skin and muscles in ways not possible using compression.

Another benefit of cupping is that it can feel really great when done properly. The pulling action engages the parasympathetic nervous system, allowing a deep relaxation to move through the entire body. It is not unusual to fall asleep when receiving this treatment. You will be surprised at how relaxed, warm and light you'll feel - hours... sometimes even days afterwards.

Cupping therapy yields amazing results for serious musculoskeletal complaints requiring deep tissue or orthopedic massage. It's safe, comfortable, and highly effective for many health conditions. Because pressure can be adjusted and it is non-invasive, cupping is suitable for most ages.

Cupping helps relieve symptoms associated with a wide variety of conditions. One of my clients suffered for 10 years with TMJ pain that would keep her awake at night. She exhausted her search to find something that would give her relief, trying expensive night guards, acupuncture, chiropractic and numerous other therapies. After a 30-minute massage session with cupping therapy she reported the next day that she was able to get a decent night's sleep because she had pain relief for the first time in 10 years.

Another client had arthroscopic surgery for a torn medial meniscus. Post-surgery swelling and pain became an issue for him. We incorporated cup-ping therapy into his weekly sessions and quickly saw a dramatic decrease in swelling, pain and scar tissue along with increased mobility.

Cupping can help reduce symptoms from low back pain, sciatica, frozen shoulder, rotator cuff injuries, headaches, chronic pain, and more. It complements other therapies such as massage, chiropractic, and physical therapy.

What about those red-dish/purple circle marks? One of the common and unfortunate misconceptions concerning cupping is the misinterpretation of the discoloration. "Bruising" is caused by impact trauma with breakage of capillaries and reactionary rush of fluids to the damaged area from the tissue compression/injury.

There is no compression in properly performed suction cup therapy. Although it is quite common during stationary cupping (the cups are applied and left in the same spot) to achieve dramatic 'marks' or 'discolorations', the less aggressive action of moving the cups minimizes the intensity and duration of the discoloration.

Often, when a condition exists within deeper structures where pathologic factors and stagnant fluids (toxins, blood and lymph) are dredged up during treatment, discoloration may appear on the skin.

Cupping, like therapeutic or orthopedic massage, helps to loosen muscle tension and fascial restrictions, allowing us to have better mobility and posture. Plus it feels great!

You can watch a cupping demonstration and see what cup marks look like if you go to my Facebook page @integrative-orthopedic, or you can visit my website for more details on cupping therapy. www.integrative-orthopedic.com.

Forfeits Hamper Indians' Effort In Early EC Test

By Judy Harlow

Giving Campbellsport 18 points on forfeits at three weight classes, the Kewaskum High wrestling team needed pins to have any chance at staying with the host Cougars in the December 1 East Central showdown.

The Indians got pins from Nathaniel Droese (113), Alex Deheck (138) and Riley Donovan (285), but the Cougars countered with five of their own to easily win the meet 52-25.

"It's a number thing. They have the weight classes filled, and we don't," KHS coach Scott Rhoads said afterward. The Indians don't have anyone at 195 and 220, and, Adam Bruss (113) went home sick the day of the meet.

Rhoads was happy with the draw to start the match at 106 pounds because he knows his strengths are at the lower and especially the middle weights. Even more important was winning the coin flip to determine which wrestlers have to walk on the mat first.

"When we had the flip, we needed even," Rhoads said. "We were going to put Nate against a guy (Derek Bublitz) we knew he could pin." Droese moved up a weight class and got the pin in short order, 38 seconds, to even the match at 6-6.

After winning the next two matches on decisions by Braden Maertz and Eric Bauer, the Indians jumped out front 19-12 after Alex Deheck handled Peyton Feucht, pinning him in 1:22.

The next match, pitting the Indians' Tanner Goeman against Paul Guelig was pivotal for KHS, but early in the second period, with Guelig leading 2-1, Goeman shot in for a single leg takedown only to be countered and put to his back, losing by pin in 2:18.

"One mistake ... a hair of hesitation is all it takes for something to happen," Rhoads said about the outcome, confident Goeman will bounce back and have a good year.

From 152 to 220, the Cougars swept all the matches, using experience to dominate the younger Indians. The only match that didn't end in pin or forfeit came at 170 where Eddie Padilla lost a 5-2 decision to Joe Lindsley. Padilla led 2-0 after the first period but gave up a key takedown in the third and couldn't break Lindsley's hold late in the match.

Rhoads had hoped to get pins from state D-2 runner-up Eric Bauer and from his talented freshman, Braden Maertz, but both had to settle for wins by decision. Their opponents at 126 and 132, Cade Heisdorf and Taylor Heltemes wrestled defensive matches, a little too defensive to suit Rhoads, who said the two were pulling their elbows into their ribs, which, he said, should have drawn stalling calls.

"In that match (Maertz vs. Heisdorf), I was counting out loud ... He (Braden) was up to 16 attacks," the coach said. "At least he got called on it." Maertz won 9-6, giving up a reversal and near fall at the end.

Bauer won by a comfortable major decision 15-5, although he got out of position late in the match, giving up a 4-point move in the third period.

"He's (Bauer) at a new weight class," Rhoads said, adding, "Every (higher) weight class becomes a little stronger, and little more forceful."

The match ended with junior Riley Donovan pinning Hoyt Retzer in the first period. "I'm sure glad he got some experience last year," Rhoads said. "He's going to throw some boys around."

Campbellsport 52, Kewaskum 25

106 pounds KHS forfeited to Dylan Bublitz; 113 Nathaniel Droese pinned Derek Bublitz, :38; 120 Mason Pomeroy was pinned by Logan Krueser, 3:51; 126 Braden Maertz def. Cade Heisdorf, 9-5; 132 Eric Bauer won by major decision over Taylor Heltemes, 15-5; 138 Alex Deheck pinned Peyton Feucht, 3:22; 145 Tanner Goeman was pinned by Paul Guelig, 2:18; 152 Kyle Bath was pinned by Bennett Marchant, :57; 160 Sam Larson was pinned by Mason Ksioszk, 3:15; 170 Eddie Padilla lost to Joe Lindsley, 2-5; 182 Nick Wolf was pinned by Ethan Meyer, 3:44; 195 KHS forfeited to Matt Koebel; 220 KHS forfeited to Josh Krueger; 285 Riley Donovan pinned Hoyt Retzer, 1:02.

Kewaskum Indians Are Better In Their Second Game

By Judy Harlow

In its final tuneup (December 3) before the East Central Conference season begins, the Kewaskum High boys basketball team stayed close to New London before falling 55-49.

The Indians scored more points and gave up fewer in its second game of the season. Seven KHS players got in the scoring act, led by Brady Hanson's team-high 15 points. Juniors Jared Chesak and Jordan Carlton each chipped in with 11 points, and four others had between two and four.

Kyle Wolf, a junior guard topped the Wolves' scoring with 23 points. Will Wohit added an even dozen to the winners' total.

Bauer Takes Crown; Wrestlers 11th At Gunslinger Meet

By Judy Harlow

If a wrestler has to get sick or injured, it's much better to miss a meet at the beginning of the season than later during tournament time, but that was little consolation to the Kewaskum High wrestling team which completed with just 12 athletes, including three JVs, at the December 3 Gunslinger Invitational.

KHS finished 11th in the field of 16, scoring 188 points in the event, won by newcomer Oak Creek with 400.25 points. The Indians had one champion, Eric Bauer, at 132 pounds. Also, Alex Deheck placed fifth at 138, and Tanner Goeman was ninth at 145.

Adam Bruss and Braden Maertz were out due to illness and the team did not have the services of Riley Donovan because he may not wrestle on Saturdays, and the Indians already have open sports at the 195 and 220-pound weight classes.

"The first two rounds were plenty tough," KHS coach Scott Rhoads said. "We had a lot of tough seeds."

Bauer did well, going 4-0 with two pins. In the first round, he received a bye, and then his scheduled opponent for the second round did not appear on the mat.

In round 3, Bauer pinned Chris Melius of Slinger to advance to the finals vs. Fort Atkinson's Draven Sigmund. Bauer won by pin in 2:56, but he had his hands full the first two minutes, falling behind 5-2 or 5-3, according to Rhoads, who said, in the second period, "He took top position and pinned him."

Deheck also drew a bye in the first round, then pinned Lee of Oshkosh North in :37 but got pinned by Rico Roscioli of Fort Atkinson in 2:53, putting him in the match to determine fifth and sixth places.

Deheck won that match by pin over Cole Acker of Wauwatosa West (3:26). Deheck, who finished third in this meet last year, is now 4-1 on the year.

Goeman's ninth place came via back-to-back losses of 4-8 and 1-10 before receiving a bye and outscoring Brian Mahan of Tosa West, 4-1. He is 2-3 for the year.

The other Indians finished as follows: 106-pound Nathaniel Droese was 2-3 on the day, taking fourth place; Mason Pomeroy, 11th at 120, going 1-2; Alex Butler, 0-3 at 120; Brandon Schreffler, 0-2 at 126; Kyle Bath, 0-3 at 154; Sam Larson, 10th at 160, 2-2; Reagan Dricken, 0-3 at 160; Eduardo Padilla, 10th at 170, going 1-2; and Nick Wolf, 11th, 2-2 at 182.

The Shining Stars is a dance team made up of special needs students from Campbellsport and Kewaskum. Little Lyssa wanted to be a member of this group but needed this harness to be able to dance with the group. Once community members heard of the need, they quickly raised enough money so the dance team could purchase the harness for Lyssa and her dance team partner.

UW-WC Team Receives $500 For Rocket Competition

– Vehicle Build Leads To Rocket Challenge

UW - Washington County's Engineering Club recently loaded up the human-powered vehicle they constructed during their noon hours and after-school meetings.

The UW-WC college students along with their advisor and instructor, Engineering Professor Guy Campbell, traveled to Milwaukee to display the vehicle at the annual student night event for the Milwaukee Section of the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE). Other university engineering clubs participating, included: UW-Milwaukee, UW-Madison, MSOE, Marquette University, Northern Michigan and Michigan Tech.

Each club displayed their vehicles before dinner, and students gave after dinner presentations reporting on their accomplishments in the past year and plans for the upcoming year. Arber Shehu, President, represented UW-WC's club. Shehu presented on the volunteer activities of the club in the local middle schools and parks, their efforts to complete the human powered vehicle, and relayed their plans to build a rocket for the Collegiate Rocket Launch Competition next spring. The club was awarded a $500 scholarship to help achieve their goal.

Professor Guy Campbell (a collaborative engineering instructor from UW-Platteville), the club's adviser and instructor, noted that the annual rocket competition is sponsored by NASA and the Wisconsin Space Grant Consortium. Students from both the engineering and physics club meet once or twice a week to work on the design reports and rocket build. The launch competition takes place on Saturday, April 22 at Richard Bong Recreational Park in Kansasville, Wisconsin.

UW - Washington County, one of the 13 two-year campuses of the UW Colleges, is located at 400 S. University Drive in West Bend. Through a collaborative agreement with UW-Platteville, UW-Washington County offers a bachelor's degree in both electrical and mechanical engineering.

The program provides the same degrees as received by students located at the Platteville campus. It combines UW-Platteville instructors and hands-on lab experiences that prepare students for an engineering career. Classes are taught both face-to-face as well as through distance technology. For more information about UW-Washington County, visit the website, washington.uwc.edu or email: student-info@uwc.edu.

Buy Local: Buy A Real Christmas Tree

– Real Christmas Trees Benefit Wisconsin's Economy And Environment

Meeting consumer demands for real Christmas trees this year won't be a problem due to ideal weather conditions.

There are plenty of trees, according to Cheryl Nicholson, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association.

"It's a great year for families to venture out to get a real Christmas tree," Nicholson said. "There are more than 850 Christmas tree farms in Wisconsin and with nearly perfect weather this past summer, the trees look great."

Besides creating memories and family traditions, cutting a real tree benefits the economy and environment.

"A real Christmas tree is a better environmental option because real trees are a recyclable and renewable resource," said Amy Eckelberg, Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation spokesperson. "With the trend of consumers showing their preference for local products, many are attracted to the tradition of celebrating Christmas with a real tree in their home."

A benefit to the atmosphere, real Christmas trees absorb carbon dioxide and other gases, emitting fresh oxygen. For every real Christmas tree harvested, two to three seedlings are planted. Tree farms also make a great place for wildlife to live.

"Often, Christmas trees are grown on soils that could not support other crops," Eckelberg added.

Even after Christmas, the real trees can be recycled into mulch to be used on trails or gardens. Some cut trees are used as soil erosion barriers, wildlife habitats or placed in ponds for fish shelters.

"The sale of Christmas trees and wreaths generates tens of millions of dollars for Wisconsin's economy and thousands of residents are employed in the industry,"

Nicholson. "Many tree farms offer gift shops, farm animals, reindeer, bonfires, hot chocolate, wagon rides and other activities, which give families a great winter-time ag-tourism trip."

According to the most recent agricultural census, Wisconsin is fifth in the nation in the number of trees cut and acres (more than 23,000) in production. More than 600,000 evergreens are harvested each fall.

A complete list of farms and retail lots is available on the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association's website at christmastrees-wi.org. Tips for selecting a tree can be found on the National Christmas Tree Producers Association's website at realchristmas-trees.org.

Area Resident Recognized With St. Joseph's Hospital Nursing Award

Ashley Lynn of Campbellsport, RN in the Birth Center, has been recognized with Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin St. Joseph's Hospital's first quarter DAISY Award for her patient care and professionalism.

"Ashley was the heart of our experience, she was the first nurse we met and the last nurse to discharge us," said the award nominator. "Her bright smile and genuine kindness always made me feel confident to take on each new motherly challenge, so much so, that it was hard to say good-bye. Without her positivity and compassion, I know I would have had a much harder time during my stay."

The DAISY Foundation, an acronym for Diseases Attacking the Immune System, recognizes nurses as unsung heroes of our society who deserve more recognition and honor than they receive. More than 1,000 hospitals throughout the United States participate in The DAISY Award program.

The DAISY Foundation provides each recipient with a sculpture, "A Healer's Touch," that is hand-carved for the foundation by artists of the Shona Tribe in Zimbabwe. The sculpture is made of Serpentine stone that comes from the mountains "where the most powerful shaman" live in Zimbabwe. The foundation chose this design not only because it depicts the relationship nurses have with their patients, but also because the Shona people hold their healers in a position of great importance to the community and feel about their healers the way The DAISY Foundation and St. Joseph's Hospital feel about nurses.

At St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashley was honored at a recent ceremony at which she received a certificate, pin and the sculpture. Unit staff were also treated to Cinnabons in accordance with the DAISY tradition.

Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin St. Joseph's Hospital, founded in 1930 by local doctors, community leaders and the Sisters of the Divine Savior, is a full-service hospital serving residents of West Bend and Washington County. St. Joseph's Hospital, specializing in women's health and birthing services, cancer care, surgical procedures and rehabilitation services, is part of the Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin health care network, which also includes Froedtert Hospital, Milwaukee; Community Memorial Hospital, Menomonee Falls; and more than 30 primary and specialty care health centers and clinics.

Four Steps For Raising Happy Children

If you ask young parents how to best raise children, they'll give a variety of answers.

But ask them what they ultimately want for their children, and the answer is always the same. Parents want their kids to be happy in life.

"Raising children to be happy later in life is not about the luck of the draw," says Rabbi Roger E. Herst (rogerherst.com), who regularly engages with parents on the subject. "Happy adults are people who make good decisions. Therefore, if you want your kids to be happy, encourage them to improve their decision-making so they can develop into happy people."

Herst, author of "A Simple Formula for Raising Happy Children," offers tangible steps parents can take on the matter.

1. Never make a decision children can make themselves. If parents want children to make good decisions that yield success and happiness as an adult, they must let them practice trial and error. Unilateral decisions made by parents obstruct the decision-results perspective for kids, who need practice. Don't worry about sheltering them from failure, which work best as lessons when a child is able to own their decisions.

2. Lead and show by example; kids imitate more than they listen. For young parents with very small children, it may not have dawned on them that the "Do as I say, not as I do" idiom doesn't work for child rearing. "Eat your vegetables because they're good for you" doesn't work alone. However, a father who participates in vegetable eating, and shows approval when a child eats them, will see more veggie consumption.

3. Ask your children for their advice. This is an exercise to encourage independent thought. Asking children for their advice lets them know you care about and respect their perspective, which tells them that their voice matters. It also lets them know they are responsible for their opinions, which have impact on the real world, and not just in their minds.

4. Practice negotiation. A child often doesn't play by the rules of gentlemanly negotiation, which feature an adversarial element. The younger they are, the less they think that their parent's interests are the same as the child's interest. Start by offering an alternative to their wish if you'd prefer an alternative to their request. If they don't like your suggestion, ask questions to yield a sensible middle ground. Good parents are not tyrants.

"I recommend encouraging a child's decision-making as their personalities start to emerge — perhaps in the first year of life," Herst says.

BBB Tip: Cooler Weather Means It's Time to Winterize Your Home

Each winter, consumers look for ideas to save money on home heating. The Better Business Bureau Serving Wisconsin (BBB) suggests ways for homeowners to safely winterize their homes and save money in the process.

"Winterizing a home is smart and economical in the long run because a small up-front investment is worthwhile for months and even years," says Jim Temmer, CEO and President of the BBB Serving Wisconsin. "High heating costs are a problem each winter especially when finances are strained."

According to the U.S. Energy Information Administration (EIA), most U.S. households can expect higher heating costs this winter compared to last winter. Almost half of U.S. households use natural gas as their primary heating fuel and EIA expects households heating with natural gas to spend 22 percent more this year, while homes heated with electric heat are expected to spend five percent more. Fortunately, homeowners can reduce some of the costs by winterizing their home.

The BBB offers the following tips for winterizing homes:

•Caulking and Weather Stripping. To prevent air leaks, homeowners should inspect the caulking around windows and doors to check for cracking and peeling. In addition, ensure that doors and windows are shut tightly and no cold air is coming in due to worn down weather stripping.

•Furnace. Furnaces older than 15 years might be due for a replacement. For newer furnaces, make sure the filter is clean and the thermostat is working properly.

•Ceiling fans. By reversing the direction of your ceiling fan so the blades turn clockwise, you push warm air down and force it around the room.

•Heating ducts. Ducts should be cleaned once every two years. Homeowners should also consider adding insulation to any exposed ductwork in order to prevent losing heated air.

•Emergency kit. When a winter storm strikes, an emergency kit should have all essential materials in one handy place. An emergency kit should include flashlights, candles and matches, a first aid kit, bottled water, non-perishable food and a battery-powered radio. Create the same emergency kit for the car as well, including a couple blankets.

•Smoke alarm and carbon monoxide detectors. Test smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors and install fresh batteries as needed. Homeowners should replace detectors every 10 years.

•Gutters and ridge vents. Gutters should be cleaned to prevent any clogs that would cause rainwater to back up and freeze, making the gutters expand and crack. The ridge vents need to be cleaned as well in order to help prevent stagnate air.

•Windows. Window screens should be taken down and replaced with storm windows; they provide an extra layer of protection and keep the house warmer. Investing in a window insulator kit is an inexpensive option to keep out drafts.

•Get a chimney checkup. Before lighting the first fire of the season, your chimney should be checked for animals, nests, leaves and other debris, as well as for any necessary repairs.

•Final preparations. Test your snow blower to find out whether there is a problem now rather than waiting until a storm hits. Prepare your snow-clearing equipment, such as shovels, salt, or other ice-melting products. Finally, don't forget to drain outside faucets and remove hoses to prevent the pipes from freezing.

Check free business reviews with BBB.org or by calling 414-847-6000, or toll-free throughout Wisconsin at 1-800-273-1002. Find reliable companies in your area by using BBB's Accredited Business Directory.
