Finding Valuable Treasures Among Ruins

By Anne Trautner

Randy and Jessica Trapp and their 16-year-old daughter, Ashley Trapp, lost everything when their house burned down last Tuesday, Feb. 28.

It was not the first time the family had experienced tragedy. In 2014, Jessica and Randy Trapp lost their 16-year-old son, Travis Trapp, in a car accident.

"The worst part about this is losing my son's stuff. That is all we had left of him," Jessica said.

Trying to salvage any mementos they could find, the family combed through the burnt remains of their home this past weekend.

Using forks, they dug meticulously through deep piles of soot, mud and water.

When they found Randy's old class ring, they knew his wedding band had to be nearby.

Randy had not been wearing the ring when the fire struck because he was at work at Michels in Brownsville, and employees are not allowed to wear jewelry while working with machinery there.

After much careful sifting, the family found Randy's wedding ring.

The gold band is now discolored from the fire, but Randy has it on his finger.

The family recovered some other treasures buried in the charred remains of their home as well.

They found Ashley's jewelry box, her basketball medals and one of her necklaces. They recovered a basketball and a hot pink golf ball of Ashley's.

They found some dishes.

And they uncovered some things that had belonged to Travis. Although damaged, there are some of Travis' old yearbooks and his old wrestling medals.

Two of the toy tractors that Travis collected are charred and partially melted, but they were found.

Some old family pictures, although scarred from the devastation, also were recovered.

Chief Kewaskum Revealed

— New Discovery Sheds Light On Town History

By Anne Trautner

For the better part of the past century, an old photograph of Chief Kewaskum has circulated that depicts the person for which the village and township of Kewaskum are named.

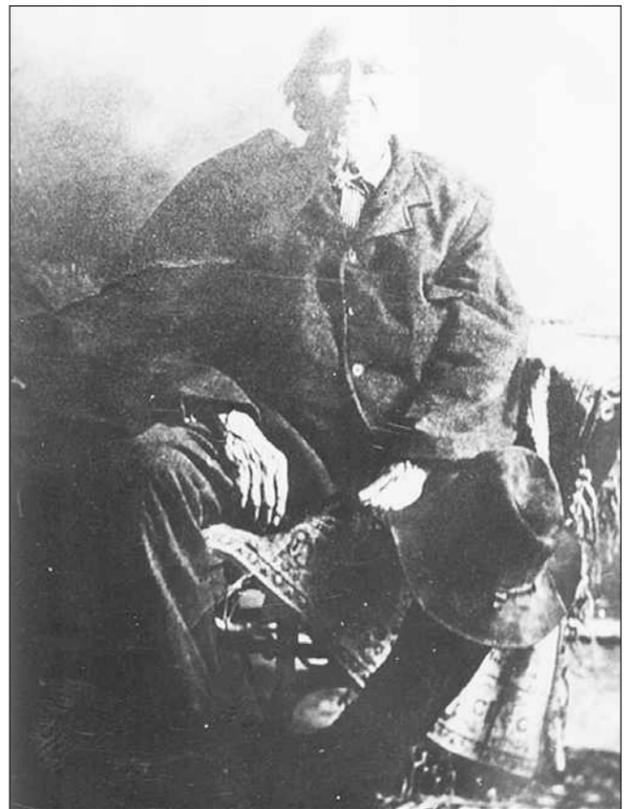

Except it turns out that the photograph is not of the correct Chief Kewaskum.

Local historian Aaron Laatsch was recently sifting through old files at the Kewaskum Historical Society Museum when he came across a 111-year-old letter that confirms that the photograph could not be of the Chief Kewaskum for which the town is named.

The letter, which chronicles the early years of Kewaskum, was written by J.T. VanVechten to H.J. Lay, who founded and owned the lumberyard in town for almost 100 years and who was a member of the state historical society.

"This letter at one time obviously surfaced to end up in our filing cabinet, but some of the information I believe was never published," Laatsch said.

VanVechten was one of the first settlers in Kewaskum and served as town chairman for Kewaskum, which was originally named "North Bend." Mail was often delivered to West Bend rather than North Bend, so the people wanted to change the name of the town, VanVechten wrote.

At VanVechten's suggestion, the name was changed to "Kewaskum" after Chief Kewaskum, who had lived in the area.

According to a newspaper report at the time, Chief Kewaskum died circa 1905. That report was an error, VanVechten wrote.

And the baptismal gowns that Ashley and Travis wore, along with a blanket that Jessica's grandmother had made for Travis when he was a baby, survived the fire.

But perhaps the largest treasure the family found was the support they received from their family, friends and community.

"It has been amazing," Jessica said. "We are overwhelmed," Randy added. "I don't even know how to explain it."

One of the people who reached out to help the Trapp family was Kris Laria, an Oak Creek resident who saw a report about the Trapp family on FOX6 News out of Milwaukee.

"When I saw they had lost their son, and now they were experiencing this, all I could think of was how all the pictures of their son were gone. It was just absolutely heartbreaking to me," Laria said.

Laria has had a tough road herself.

A single parent, Laria has two sons, ages 20 and 16. Her older son has suffered from Klippel-Feil syndrome, his entire life.

In an effort to clean the area, residue is burned on Monday, March 6. All that is left of the Trapp family home is some rubble and a hole where the foundation once was. photo by Anne Trautner

The rare disease affects the kidney, spine and heart. He now has only one kidney and has undergone open heart surgery and five spinal surgeries.

"It has been a difficult road, so when I saw someone else struggling, I wanted to reach out and say, 'Hey, you are not alone,'" Laria said.

Other people from around the area have dropped off cash, gift cards and checks for the family at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly in Kewaskum. There have been cards and notes of encouragement in the mix as well.

Ashley's friends, teachers and coaches have been there for her. Co-workers have been supportive of both Jessica and Randy.

And the firefighters and emergency personnel have been amazing,

Randy said. All of those things help the family to keep moving forward.

"We are going to get back on our feet," Randy said.

"It's like a corn maze. You go one way, reach a deadend, and then you go back and rebuild yourself," Ashley added.

The fire was reported to the Sheboygan County Emergency Communications Center on February 28. At approximately 1:35 p.m. a good samaritan reported the fire at the house, located on Highway W in the Town of Mitchell.

The Beechwood Fire Department was the lead agency and was assisted by the following fire departments; Batavia, Cascade, Silver Creek, Waldo, Campbellsport, Random Lake, Adell, Boltonville, Kewaskum and City of Sheboygan Medical.

The cause of the fire remains under investigation.

For All Our Lost Children

I will see you again, in the fullness of time,

You will reach out your hand, I will take it in mine.

As together we walk, all the sorrow-filled years,

Will dissolve as a cloud, in the midst of our tears.

I will see you again, we will laugh as before,

I will kiss your dear face as I pass through the door.

To a place where you are and a bright shining sun,

Will assure my glad heart that my life has begun.

I will see you again. Though the journey be long,

Lillian A. Oelhafen

Lillian A. Oelhafen (nee Moritz), 100, of Kohlsville, passed away on Friday, March 3, 2017.

She was born on Sunday, December 24, 1916, to the late Arthur and Anna (nee Meyer) Moritz on the Moritz family farm in the Town of Wayne.

Lillian started her education at the Marx one-room school on Butternut Drive, which her great grandfather helped build years before.

When she was in the third grade, her parents bought the Moritz Sawmill business in Kohlsville from her grandparents Otto and Anna (Sell) Moritz. They moved into the mill house which formerly operated the Kohlsville Post Office, butcher shop, bakery and general store. Her lifelong love for fishing started as a young girl at the Kohlsville Pond.

When she graduated eighth grade, from the Hose School District #8, (Kohlsville School), she moved in with her maternal grandparents so she could attend West Bend High School. During high school, she was selected to start an internship with B.C. Ziegler & Company, and continued to work there full time after graduation in 1935.

She married Harry Oelhafen in 1939. Her wedding dress cost $18 (which was expensive at the time).

Harry was a school teacher, who taught all eight grades. Harry and Lillian worked hard to save up enough money to buy a farm. They raised dairy cows, chickens, and pigs. Lillian also continued working at B.C. Ziegler until the birth of their daughter, Judy.

Along with the farm, Lillian continued to do accounting work for businesses in the area. In 1962 she started working at the First National Bank of West Bend, where she worked until her retirement.

Lillian had many talents, some of which were painting, quilting, sewing, embroidery, gardening, canning, and cooking. She was an active member of Homemakers for 69 years. She first belonged to the Kohlsville Klever Kates Homemakers club. They disbanded and she joined the Wayne Willing Weavers Homemakers Club where she was still active and attending meetings to the time of her death.

Lillian was an avid baker. She was certified by the Wilton College of Cake Decorating. She taught at Moraine Park Technical College in Fond du Lac, West Bend, Slinger and Allenton.

Lillian was also a 4-H Project Leader in cake decorating for many years. She even was a judge at the Washington County Fair. She was well known for her special custom wedding cakes, delicious baked treats, peanut squares and famous schaum torte.

Her volunteering touched on many things over the years, some of which included the West Bend Germanfest and playing Mrs. Claus for several local organizations.

She was a member of Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, taught Sunday school for 24 years, and was an active member of the Ladies Aid until the time of her death.

Lillian lived her 100 years of life to the fullest. She was never afraid to try new things or go to new places. She loved interacting with people, sharing stories, and making time for your visit.

Anyone who knew Lillian would agree... she had a strong faith, a positive attitude, and a mind that was still "sharp as a tack" until the end.

Those Lillian leaves behind to cherish her memory include her daughter, Judy Etta; two grandchildren, Jill (Bob) Nieskes, Jon (Julie) Etta; three great-grandchildren, Katherine, Kevin and Rachel Etta; brother-in-law, Lloyd Luecke; nieces and nephews, Lloyd Jr (Chris) Luecke, Ann (Gary) Schneider, Thomas Luecke, Chris Liermann, Bob Selsing, Earl Oelhafen, Betty Schmidt, Thomas (Darlene) Oelhafen, Misty Oelhafen, Julia (Robert) Averbek, Rev. Walter (Gretchen) Oelhafen, Lois (Bruce) Ehlike, Kathy (Lloyd) Ollila, Beverly Oelhafen, Carol Oelhafen, Cindy (John) Shaske, Betty Oelhafen, Karen (Ronald) Johann, Russell (Janice) Oelhafen, Jerry (Cheryl) Knickel, Sharon (Tom) Meierbachtol, Patricia Mayer O'Neill; other special great-nieces, great-nephews, relatives and friends, who would take several pages to list (You know who you are!).

In addition to her parents, she is preceded in death by parents-in-law, John (Bertha) Rate Oelhafen, her loving husband Harry of 51 years; son-in-law Ethan Etta; two siblings, Valerie Luecke and Earl (Betty) Moritz; siblings-in-law, Elmer Oelhafen, Melvin (Evelyn) Oelhafen, Harvey (Helen) Oelhafen, Rev. Walter (Gertrude) Oelhafen, Ellen (Elmer) Wentorf, John A. (Therese) Oelhafen, Lorenz Oelhafen, Jacob (Doris) Oelhafen, Mary Smith, Claire (Jerry Sr) Knickel, William (Glenice) Oelhafen; nieces and nephews, Michael Luecke, Jerry Liermann, Carol Selsing, John Schmidt, Kenny Oelhafen, Carla Wentorf, John N. Oelhafen, James Oelhafen, Richard Oelhafen, Mark Knickel.

A funeral service in remembrance of Lillian was held on Tue., March 7, at 6:30 p.m. at Zion Ev. Lutheran Church, 6438 Hwy D, Allenton, with Lillian's dear friend, Pastor Steven Bode as officiant.

The family greeted relatives and friends on Tuesday at the church from 2:30 p.m. until the time of service.

Memorials can be made to the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

MANAGING MULTIPLE MEDICATIONS

Make sure everyone involved in your care knows all that you're taking. Make a list of all your prescriptions, over-the-counter medications, supplements and herbals. Give a copy to each of your doctors, pharmacists and caregivers. This can greatly reduce the change of errors and drug interaction problems. So does having just a single pharmacy for all your prescriptions. The better your pharmacist knows you and your medications, the less change there is of a mistake. Talk with your pharmacist about possible side effects, dosages and a plan for scheduling medications (e.g., using pill organizers).

Is There Arsenic In Your Well Water?

The Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department Offers Arsenic and Well Water Testing Informational Session on March 28th from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Jackson Area Community Center (N168W20733 Main St, Jackson, WI 53037). Presenters include Environmental Health Specialist from the health department and representatives from Water Diagnostics and local contractors.

In recent years homeowners in both Washington and Ozaukee Counties have become aware of arsenic in well water. Health Department staff has addressed hundreds of inquiries regarding arsenic testing and results interpretation. Arsenic consumption at levels above the federal standard can cause cancers, hair loss, tremors, numbness, and skin abnormalities.

"Testing well water is one of the easiest things private well owners can do to take care of the health and well-being of themselves and their loved ones," said Chris Berg, Environmental Health Specialist with the Ozaukee County Public Health Department. "We are urging residents to come to this informational session to learn more and purchase a well test kit."

Test kits will be available at the informational session, as well as Water Diagnostics at a 20% discount for $28, from March 28th to September 30th 2017.

Water Diagnostics will be collecting samples at their office, completing the analysis and sending homeowners their laboratory results.

Safe, contaminant-free water is one of the most vital resources Wisconsin citizens have for drinking and cooking. Municipalities regularly test the drinking water supplies to ensure they are safe. But with private wells, it's the owner's responsibility. Wisconsin has approximately one million private wells, most of which are NOT tested for bacteria or arsenic on a periodic basis.

For questions about this session or well water testing please call the Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department: 262-284-8170 (Port Washington Office) or 262-335-4462 (West Bend Office).

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

The Wisconsin state legislature is considering a proposal that would give local governments the option to stop publishing meeting minutes in your newspaper. Assembly Bill 70/Senate Bill 42 would allow local municipalities to post the meeting minutes on their websites instead.

This is bad public policy under the guise of saving taxpayer dollars that would create considerable disruption for government transparency. Supporters of Assembly Bill 70/Senate Bill 42 suggest local government websites are sufficient to notify the public of their actions and that publishing meeting minutes in the newspaper limits access only to newspaper subscribers.

The fact is, however, that all minutes (legal notices) that have been published throughout the state since 2005 are already available for free to the public through WisconsinPublicNotices.org. This comprehensive, searchable website hosted by the Wisconsin newspaper industry brings together ink-on-paper notices into one online location. This service is provided at no cost to local municipalities.

The goal of WisconsinPublicNotices.org is to enhance government's distribution of public information and assist citizens who want to know more about the actions of their local, county and state representatives. This permanent, third-party documentation — unalterable and independent of government itself — ensures the protection of "your right to know" for each and every citizen.

For years, this relationship between newspapers, local municipalities and WisconsinPublicNotices.org has successfully provided easy access to government information for all citizens, whether they seek it in print or online.

Removing existing publication requirements would create holes in this invaluable statewide database while also neglecting the needs of those who lack adequate computer and internet access.

Please tell your legislators to oppose this unnecessary barrier to government transparency.

Sincerely,
Beth Bennett
Executive Director
Wisconsin Newspaper Association

Publishers Note By Andrew Johnson

As a matter of record I want to report to our readers that I am the past president of the Wisconsin Newspaper Association (WNA) and still maintain a board position representing the 230 newspapers in Wisconsin. I also testified along with Beth Bennett against taking notices out of newspapers. This is very serious business.

The media represents the "people" when it comes to "open government." The matter of public notices being published in local newspapers like this one are at risk in the current Governor's proposed budget. There are many important things that the Governor and legislature must consider when making up the budget like education and transportation.

These decisions ultimately will funnel down to the local level and affect our counties, cities, villages, and school boards. The people's as well as the media's ability to know what actions were actually taken or not taken at government meetings are dependent on authenticated notices being published in a timely manner both in print and online.

It is true that the government will save a small amount of funds by not publishing authenticated notices. Unless action is taken, many of these notices will disappear. Without authenticated notices, not only will the public not know, but the media also will not know of many government actions.

I strongly oppose taking notices out of your local paper. Please contact state Rep. Jesse Kremer at 608-266-9175 or email Rep.Kremer@legis.wisconsin.gov and Sen. Duet Stroebel at 608-266-7513 or email Sen.Stroebel@legis.wisconsin.gov and ask them to keep notices in your local newspaper.

NEWSPAPERS IN EDUCATION

Kewaskum And Farmington Students Learn About Newspapers

This week, March 6-10, is Newspapers in Education Week. As a way to recognize the week, the Kewaskum Statesman has created a fun program.

In an effort to bring a greater knowledge of the newspaper itself to the students, the staff of the Kewaskum Statesman made arrangements to go into area classrooms and give a presentation. The reason for these presentations is to teach the students about the purpose of a newspaper and the process of putting the paper together. Each student was given a newspaper to read and study.

Our staff also introduced our electronic edition of the paper to the students. We demonstrated the e-edition on smart boards, computer screens as well as on ipads, phones and even kindles.

Sponsors of the NIE program were integrated into the presentation as well as appearing on our NIE pages. Participating classrooms have been given free access to the electronic e-edition (exact digital replica of our printed paper) each week through May 31st.

Our goal in these presentations was to introduce both the editorial and advertising aspects of the newspaper, in a way the students could not only relate to but, hopefully, take an interest in as well.

The employees in each classroom explained the importance of newspapers and why we do what we do at the newspaper. We told the students what the body of a newspaper contains as far as editorial copy as well as explaining both the need for advertising and what an ad should contain. We even had them create their very own ad for their class.

We were met with much enthusiasm — not only from the students, but the teachers as well — as we worked with the students to see their creativity in writing articles, taking and editing photos, creating crossword puzzle questions, cartoons and doing a scavenger hunt.

All of the articles and cartoons you see on these pages were created by the fifth grade students. The questions in the crossword puzzle were created by the students.

We would like to take this time to thank our volunteers for their overwhelming dedication. We went into five area schools, and they did an outstanding job in representing our newspaper. It took a lot of hard work and a great deal of juggling their regular jobs at the paper in order for them to make these presentations.

We would not have been able to do this without the support of the staff members who stayed behind and pitched in to cover for us. They worked just as hard to keep the paper running smoothly during our absence.

We would also like to thank the principals and teachers of each school for allowing us to take an hour out of their valuable curriculum time to work with their students.

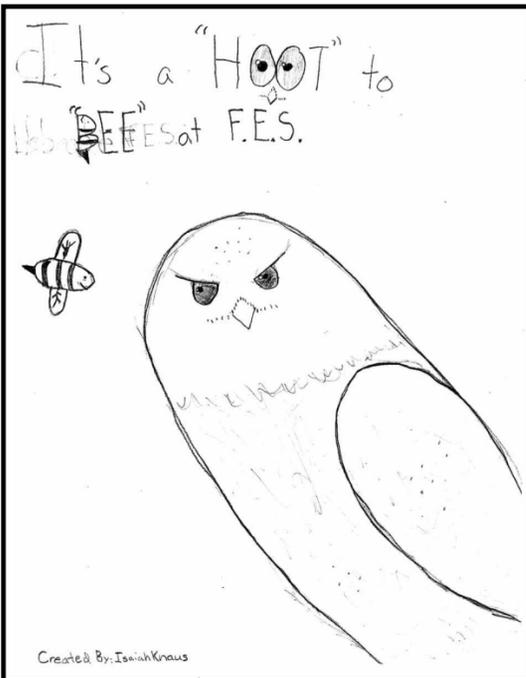

Last, but certainly not least, we would like to thank the businesses who paid for advertising space, which can be found in this NIE section. Those businesses who participated are: American Metal & Paper, Drexel Building Supply, Gateway Cafe, Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, Herriges Oil, Inc., Kewaskum Statesman, Kohn's Filling Station, Mike's Automotive, Star Properties and Stroebel Propane. Please take the time to patronize your local businesses.

This was a total team effort from the businesses down to the students and a very rewarding experience for our staff.

We hope you will take the time to thoroughly read the editorial copy.

We really enjoyed working with the students on this project. They all had great ideas and were very hard workers. We appreciate their time and look forward to going back into the schools next year.

See you next year!

Newspaper Comes To School

By Hudson Curtin

On Friday, Feb. 3, two ladies from the newspaper come to Kewaskum Elementary School to talk about what they do.

Anne Trautner says, "I love my job. I get to meet lots of interesting people. I also get to take lots of fun pictures. Most of all, I like that I get to learn something new every day."

Tracy Dieckman says, "I am an advertising consultant. I help promote businesses."

These two people have a big effect on the Kewaskum Statesman news.

So, Anne and Tracy came in and taught Mrs. Dehring's class and James Martin said, "I learned what they put into the newspaper."

I asked what he would want his job to be. James Martin said, "I would probably take most of the pictures."

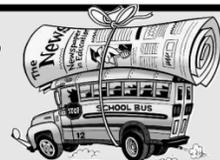

Casey Schmitt said, "I would probably be one of the artists."

I asked what would be the first topic he would want to do.

Casey said, "I would first draw something about sports."

Casey Schmitt loves anything with sports involved.

Cribbage At Holy Trinity

By Natalie Sebo

Hi, I am Natalie Sebo from Holy Trinity School. In class we are learning how to play cribbage. Our teacher, Mrs. Longden, plays for a league at her family's restaurant. Our teacher is teaching us how to play cribbage. She said that after we learn how to play cribbage there will be a cribbage master of our class. That means the cribbage master has to play against everyone in the class and win most of the games.

When we were learning how to play cribbage we watched a video about cribbage. After the video, a lot of people in our class were confused. Right now we are learning about how you want the most points in your hand and which cards you should put in the crib.

We have not played with the cribbage boards yet. We are still progressing in cribbage. If you have not played cribbage before, you should try playing it. It is really fun.

Destination Imagination

By Avery Liddicoat and Mackenzie Halvorsen

Destination Imagination, also known as DI, is an after-school event. DI can have up to seven people on a team. There are six challenges to choose from. The challenge categories are Science, Technology, Engineering, Improv, Fine Arts and Service Learning. Also, there is a category called Early Learning for kids in kindergarten through second grade.

Each team gets to choose a challenge they want to do. Our team chose Fine Arts, so our team has to write a skit, make scenery, make costumes and make a technical device. This year we have to perform a skit where the color vanishes. Our team will go to our local DI competition to perform our skit.

DI is an activity that gets your brain thinking and it also teaches you teamwork skills. Our team is super excited to perform our skit on competition day.

About The Competition

The competition is held on March 25. Our team has practice twice a week after school, where we can practice until our competition. If your skit is very good, you can go to state and if it's very, very good, you can go to nationals which is held in Tennessee.

There are different rooms for every challenge. The competition is an all-day activity. The competition is local.

Our team started DI in November and have until March 25 to plan our skit, make scenery, make costumes and make a technical device. We have to do an instant challenge and a main challenge. An instant challenge is a challenge that you do not prepare for and you just do what you can. The main challenge is the team-selected challenge that you plan and perform in front of a judge.

We hope to see you at next year's DI competitions.

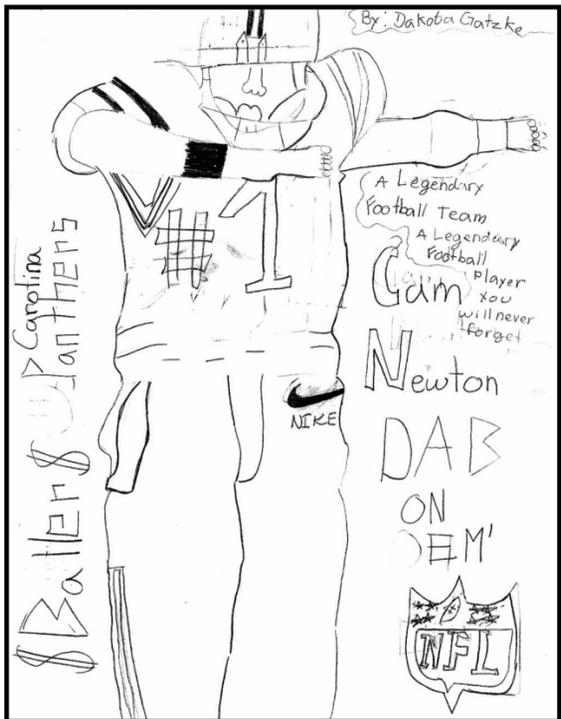

My Cats

By Oliver Voight

My cats are great and funny. They always hunt. One time I went to go throw away a can, and I saw a headless rabbit. My cats go by Sitty and Rail, but my dad calls them Tubby and Fatty.

I have funny moments with my cats. One time I was going to the bathroom and my cat, Sitty, had stuck her paw under the door and tried opening it. Sometimes, I go to the bathroom to do my homework, then I put my pencil down by the door to look at a problem, and then my pencil is gone. My cat took it! Every time we leave the house, they always mess up the rugs.

Mrs. Henke at KES

By Jayce Rhoads, Kaitlyn Blank and Emma Schultz

Mrs. Henke is an art teacher at Kewaskum Elementary School. She teaches over 500 students at KES. Mrs. Henke loves her job. She has been teaching kids for over 37 years. Mrs. Henke has not just taught students art; she also has taught parents of students art.

Mrs. Henke loves doing art. Her style of art is painting. Her favorite art project this year is the wooden sculptures she is doing with the fifth grade. Mrs. Henke's favorite hobby besides art is gardening.

She loves helping out the community. For example, when fourth and fifth grade sell pins and magnets, they are also helping out the food pantry. Her favorite style of pins and magnets are hearts.

Some of Mrs. Henke's character traits are funny, creative, caring, athletic, smart and a magician with art. The person who inspired her was her mom. Her favorite supplies to use for art are painting supplies. Her favorite places to go in Kewaskum are The Candy Tree and Coffee Corner.

Some of Mrs. Henke's favorite words to use to kids for art are: beautiful oops, happy accident, more you add the better it gets, believe in yourself and you can do it.

Mrs. Schultz says, "We have a beautiful building, mostly because of the artwork Mrs. Henke does with all the kids."

"Mrs. Henke is an awesome art teacher to have. She helps you when you need help and always comes up with fun and awesome art projects for us to do," said Kaitlyn Blank, a fifth grader from KES.

"I am glad she is our art teacher because she is one of the best and I am always wanting another day of art class. I can't wait for another class," said Jayce Rhoads, a fifth grader at KES.

"Mrs. Henke is very creative. Also, she is very encouraging. She says everyone has their own style of art. I have learned so much from Mrs. Henke. Mrs. Henke is an awesome art teacher," said Emma Schultz from KES.

Our New Gym

By Macy Fleischman

Last year, our school got a new gym. It's very cool. It has bleachers that slide in and out. The lights on the roof are always very bright. Our gym smells like a new car.

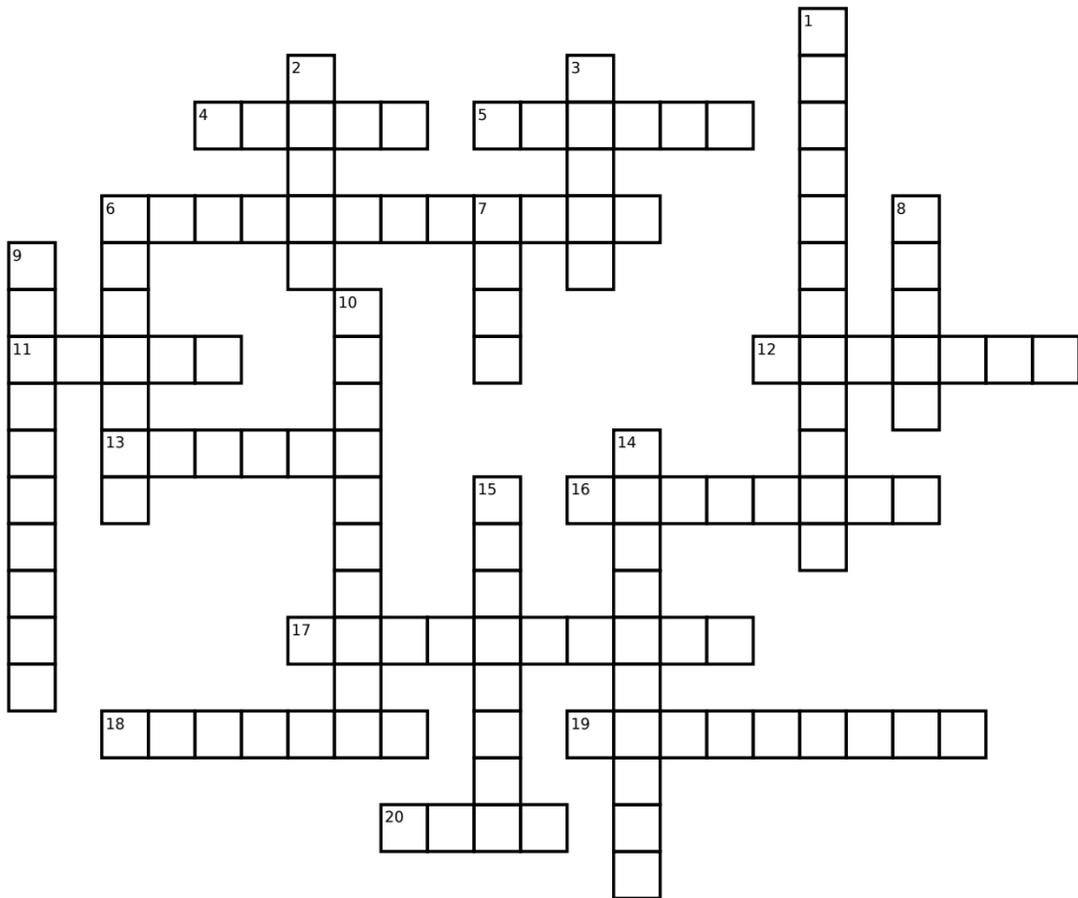

When you walk in there is a carpet leading to the gym. There are lines on the gym floor for basketball and volleyball. There are six basketball hoops and four are movable. You can put up two volleyball nets or just one in the middle. On the side of the gym there is a scoreboard. I hope you can visit our gym sometime.

My Fifth Grade Class

By Hailey Kiefer

My fifth grade class has 18 students in it. We go to Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum. There are a lot of new kids here. They are: Hailey, Natalie, Eligha, Lauren, Luke, Josh and Cole. The people who were already here are Macy, Isabella, Emily, Brynn, Sarah, Grace, Ella, Oliva, Jillian, Natalie and Ashleigh. Our teacher is Mrs. Longden. There are more girls than boys.

We work together well. We do a lot of fun things in our classroom, one being what we are doing right now: stuff for the newspaper. We get to work in groups to learn things in new ways. We get lots of compliments on how well behaved we are. We do school activities. We have a lot of fun in our classroom. But we always have to have fun during school.

Why Kewaskum Is Great

By August Beau

Kewaskum is great for many reasons. It's a small town, you can go anywhere and be safe. You can go to the Candy Tree without worrying as much as other places.

Kewaskum is unique. It has lots of its own places. "There is a lot of nature. It is very beautiful," Savannah Merkt said after being asked, "What does Kewaskum have to offer?"

Austin Jantz said, "It's a small town. I like the country feel."

I also asked, "What does KES offer?"

Jadin Czuppa answered with, "KES offers great education."

I think that the newspaper people were awesome. They let us draw, write our own articles and make a crossword. I think being a newspaper writer is fun.

Wisconsin Forward Exam

By Abigail Gerhartz

Farmington Elementary School is very proud to be one of the top 10 schools for academics based on the state report card, which is reported by the Department of Public Instruction (DPI).

I believe what brought us to this point was the constant perseverance of the students at FES. My classmates Emma Survis and Stone Pomeroy said, "We study hard and try our best so we can achieve great things."

To determine what schools are in the top 10, students in Wisconsin must take a computerized test called the Wisconsin Forward Exam. On the DPI website it says the exam is meant to test academics and ensure that every child graduates ready for the world and workplace.

FES is very proud and will continue to do their best.

Pursuing A Dream

By Brynn Bartel

Hi, I'm Brynn Bartel, and I go to Holy Trinity Catholic School. I interviewed our principal, Mrs. Casetta, about why she wanted to become a teacher at a Catholic School.

She decided to become a principal/teacher because she thinks education is very important for young minds. She thinks it's important to learn how to think for yourself as well as learn from others, plus she thinks it's fun.

Mrs. Casetta got an education scholarship to the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, but she earned her master's degree at UWM.

When she first started teaching at HTS, she found it a little funny at first with the small classes, because they were super small compared to the public schools. Mrs. Casetta likes the small class sizes because she gets to know everyone in the school. I asked her if there was anything she would change if she could, and it was to add a swimming pool.

Some of her high school teachers told her that if she went into teaching she would be wasting herself, but look where she is now. She was originally working for a company that was going to pay for her college, but she decided to become a teacher. Her dad didn't understand why she did that; the company was going to pay for her schooling.

Coin Wars At FES

Recently, Farmington Elementary School held a coin war. The students brought different coins for different days. Monday - pennies, Tuesday - nickels, Wednesday - dimes, Thursday - quarters and Friday - dollars. The whole FES raised a whopping $1,400.

Mrs. Seiser, the school's librarian said, "I think we can get high quality, interesting books that everyone will enjoy."

Also, last year the school raised about the same amount of money.

Two students from FES, Emma Survis and Abby Gerhartz say, "It is a very neat way of getting money for our school and we got very cool new books."

I also agree. This is a good way to get new books for our library.

Chief Kewaskum had actually drowned in the Mill Pond at Hustisford in Dodge County somewhere in the 1860s, according to VanVechten's letter.

Chief Kewaskum was buried at Hustisford. His body was later disinterred, and VanVechten received beads taken from Chief Kewaskum's grave, according to the letter.

The letter confirms what Steev Baker, former director of the Kewaskum Public Library, suspected for the past several years.

Library Research

Baker was working at the Kewaskum library when he received a phone call about three years ago from a man named Sean Taeschner.

Taeschner, who lives near Seattle, told Baker that he was the seventh great-grandson of Chief Kewaskum. Taeschner wanted to register with the Menominee tribe and was looking for ancestral information.

"Right away this started out weird to me because everything I know about Chief Kewaskum says that he belonged to the Potawatomi tribe," Baker said.

So Baker began researching Chief Kewaskum.

When Taeschner saw the picture of Chief Kewaskum on the library website, he was excited.

"I recognize the hat that he has in his hand," Taeschner told Baker. "I saw that at family reunions. It is a Civil War piece."

Baker wondered how Chief Kewaskum had lived in the 1850s and could still have been alive to have his photo taken holding a Civil War hat. The timing did not make sense.

The Younger Chief Kewaskum

Through his research, Baker found that "Kewaskum" was a fairly common Algonquin name. Baker began tracing Taeschner's roots back to a Chief Kewaskum who had been part of the Menominee tribe.

This Chief Kewaskum had worked as a riverboat captain and a mail carrier. He had delivered mail as far south as Kewaskum.

In 1905, people in Kewaskum were notified that Chief Kewaskum had died on the Menominee Indian Reservation in Keshena, according to a 1940 report written by William Mayer, a Catholic priest.

With Baker's help, Taeschner was able to register with the Menominee tribe.

However, Kewaskum was not named after Taeschner's ancestor.

Kewaskum's Namesake

Historical records first mention the Chief Kewaskum that the village and township were named after in 1842. The one-sentence report about Chief Kewaskum says that he lived in a small cabin on Lake Ripley in Jefferson County, Baker said.

Later reports of Chief Kewaskum identify him as a good hunter. Little else is known of Chief Kewaskum, except that he and his band moved throughout the region, hunting and farming.

In the newly discovered letter, VanVechten writes that he suggested the name Kewaskum to remember the old chief of the Indians that once inhabited the region.

Chief Kewaskum's tribe had burial grounds in the area. In the fall of 1848, the tribes moved to a reservation in Minnesota, according to VanVechten.

Chief Kewaskum drowned later while visiting the hunting grounds of his youth, VanVechten wrote.

In 1862, the region encountered an "Indian Scare."

"The season was ripe for the ridiculous, and the fright that wrought the populace to frenzy was beyond belief," VanVechten wrote.

People fled the area in terror. They armed themselves with guns, pistols, pitchforks, butcher knives and rakes, VanVechten reported.

However, all was for naught.

"In fact there was not a hostile Indian in the state," VanVechten wrote.

And so Chief Kewaskum's good name continues on in the area today.

Still, Baker and Laatsch still have pressing questions.

Does VanVechten's family still have Chief Kewaskum's beads that were taken from his grave? Did they end up in the Milwaukee Museum? Or somewhere else?

Steev Baker, former director of the Kewaskum Public Library, gives a presentation on Chief Kewaskum at St. Michael's Catholic Church on October 1.

Ask the Dentist The Dangers Of Smokeless Tobacco

Dr. Sara Klasinski

A new analysis of the worldwide disease burden attributed to smokeless tobacco is 62,000 deaths from oral, pharyngeal and esophageal cancer in 2010.

Many people think switching from smoking to smokeless is a better option, but on the contrary, smokeless is far more dangerous and harder to stop. The rapid uptake of any drug in the mouth is faster and the immediacy of the desired nicotine effect with smokeless is a much stronger addiction.

These types of cancers are very aggressive and ugly. Obviously we strongly suggest anyone on any tobacco product to consider stopping. It isn't easy, but it's worth the struggle.

Please try to discourage any tobacco usage in teenagers. As in anything, prevention is easier than curing.

Four KIWC Members Take Titles In Recent Tournaments

By Judy Harlow

Four members of the Kewaskum Indian Wrestling Club, Eli Ogi, Kannon Muckerheide, Joshua Vogt and Xane Kleinke, won titles in the annual Kewaskum Youth Wrestling Tournament held on March 5.

Ogi, competing in the 73-77 pound weight class for those born in 2008-'09, finished 3-0 in his four-man weight bracket. He posted a pair of pins and had one decision.

Muckerheide, an eighth grader at the Kewaskum Middle School, was a perfect 3-0 in the 165-200 pound weight class. He pinned all three of his opponents, with two of his pins coming under a minute and the other taking just 1:17.

Vogt, wrestling at 95-104 pounds for those born in 2004-'05, finished 3-0 with one pin.

Kleinke was in a two-person bracket with fellow KIWC member, Easton Derge, in the 102-109 pound class for those born in 2008-'09. Klein won two of the matches against Derge, while Derge won one. All came via pins.

Those taking second place included: 2010-'12—Porter Reis, Brayden Herrmann and Kamden Derge; 2008-'09—Kage Weseman; 2004-'05—Nicholas Deheck, and Jayce Rhoads. Third placed finishers included: Brent Krejcarek, Mitchell Becker and Nick Stautz.

Other participants included: Brantly Rhoads, Xackary Kleinke, Eric Jungers, James Lawrenz, Elijah McChain, Jayce Rhoads, Xane Kleinke and Stone Pomeroy.

"The tournament was a success overall," Justin Rhoads, coach of the Kewaskum Wrestling team, said, indicating one new things this year was having individual scoreboards for all the mats with Track Wrestling.

"The kids wrestled well," Rhoads went on, indicating there were a lot of new families in the club this year, and many of the wrestlers were able to get in 12-16 matches during the season.

"Now we're looking forward to the regionals in two weeks (Friday and Saturday, March 17-18), which determines the qualifiers for the State Kids Wrestling Tournament, which takes place in Madison March 24-25.

Brian Kleinke served as the director for the tournament this year. Over 230 wrestlers competed in the event, drawing athletes from Slinger, Campbellsport, Hartford, West Bend, Germantown, Hartland and even a couple from Waubeno in northern Wisconsin.

Indians' Upset Plans Derailed By Schweiger, Panthers

By Judy Harlow

While the Kewaskum boys were struggling to score points in the first half, Plymouth found an unlikely outside shooting star in a Division-2 regional basketball game between the two schools on February 28.

Derek Schweiger, a 6-foot, 4 inches (6-4) senior forward and a two-way tackle on the Panthers' football team, hit a trio of 3-point shots in the first half toward a game-high 22 points, leading Plymouth to a 67-43 victory.

With the win, the Panthers, 11-12, advanced to play Cedarburg, while the Indians' season was over at 3-20.

"I knew he could shoot a little bit, but I did not know he could shoot that well ... Today he was hot," KHS coach Don Gruber said about Schweiger, who scored just two points in the final KHS-Plymouth regular-season game on January 26.

Schweiger hit a pair of threes in the first four minutes while Matt Richards also hit a shot beyond the arc, helping the hosts to jump out to a 14-0 lead. Schweiger's first long-range bomb came after a Plymouth miss and subsequent offensive rebound, and that had been a concern of Gruber.

"I told the guys we were going to win or lose on our rebounding and lack thereof," Gruber said. Looking at the final statistics that showed the Panthers with a 36-24 rebounding edge, he pretty much hit the nail on the head but not in the way he hoped for.

There were other factors, namely missed shots early in the game — five in a row in the first six-plus minutes, to go with four early turnovers.

Sophomore Brad Buechel scored the Indians' first basket, a 3-pointer from the baseline that hit the glass and caromed into the net.

After Brad Keller scored for the hosts, KHS senior Nick Beine battled inside for a score, then Brady Hanson hit from the top of the key, making the score 16-7, but the Indians never got any closer than 11 in the first half that ended with Plymouth holding a comfortable 33-16 lead.

The Indians scored 27 points in the second half but was whistled for six fouls to just one for the Panthers, who later used the bonus and the double bonus to march to the free throw 19 times in the second half, successfully converting 13 of those tries.

Finally, with the score at 57-38 with 2:33 remaining, Gruber brought in the senior reserves and let Hanson take a curtain call from his final game, going out with 13 points on 4-of-19 shooting from the floor, eight rebounds, two assists, one blocked shot and several turnovers.

Buechel had a nice second half and wound up with a personal-high 11 points, hitting five of the seven shots he took and grabbing several offensive rebounds.

Kewaskum's No. 2 scorer, Jordan Carlton, was limited to seven points, going 0x2 from beyond the arc and 2x5 on two-points attempts.

"We wanted to really grind 'em and be deliberate," Gruber said, knowing how successful the Panthers have been when they are allowed to run. The plan was foiled with the second- and third-chance shots the Indians gave up, Kewaskum's 19 turnovers and Schweiger's scoring from the outside.

Plymouth 33-34—67 Kewaskum 16-27—43 Kewaskum: Brady Hanson 13, Jordan Carlton 7, Jared Chesak 2, Brad Buechel 11, Nick Ellenbecker 2, Jon Heus 2, Brent Goeden 3, Nick Beine 2. 3-point goals—Hanson 2, Buechel, Goeden. FTs—7x10. Fouls—19.

Plymouth: Matt Richards 3, Alex Shutter 8, Holden Reilly 1, Cody Kuhn 4, Brandon Keller 9, Cade Knaus 2, Mason Guell 6, Mack Mella 2, Cole Booth 0, Nick Falls 1, Derek Schweiger 22, 3-point goals—Richards, Schweiger 4. FTs—18x29. Fouls—12.

Note: Plymouth was eliminated from the tournament after losing to Cedarburg, 72-45 on March 3. The following night, the second-seeded Cedarburg nipped Brown Deer 71-70 and will play in the sectional semifinal March 9 vs. Beaver Dam.

Plymouth and Kewaskum were the only East Central Conference teams in Division 2, with Kewaskum the smallest school in that division.. All the others are in D-3. Ripon and Waupun will square off March 9 in a sectional semifinal game in West Bend.

Youth Basketball Highlights

– Kewaskum Sixth Grade Girls Basketball

The Kewaskum sixth grade girls "Kewaskum Tribe" basketball team recently won the seventh grade North Shore Girls Youth Basketball League Championship, which is a five week, 10-game league that takes place at Brown Deer High School. Kewaskum's sixth grade team played up at the seventh grade level and competed against schools from the Metro Milwaukee area.

The team also won the Championship at the recent Sixth Grade Ozaukee Tournament.

In addition, the Kewaskum sixth grade girls basketball team participated in the Wisconsin State Invitational Championship Tournament in Manitowoc and Merrill on February 18 and 19.

This tournament, which was organized by The Great Northwest

Basketball League, brought together 80 of the top community-based sixth grade girls basketball teams from all across the State of Wisconsin. State champions were crowned in four divisions, based on the enrollment of the high school into which each team feeds.

The Kewaskum sixth grade girls team played in Division 2, finishing in sixth place. The results of Kewaskum's six games were as follows:

Pool Play
Hortonville 24, Kewaskum 15
Kewaskum 26, Pulaski 11
Kewaskum, 36, Menasha 13

Round of 16
Kewaskum 37, Milton 21
1st – 8th Place
Quarterfinals:
Pewaukee 17, Kewaskum 8

Fifth Place Game
Hortonville 31, Kewaskum 20

New Berlin Eisenhower defeated Pewaukee 42-14 to win the Division 2 Championship.

The Kewaskum team is coached by Kory Dogs, Mike Strubing, Brian Rabe and Brian Leitheiser. Julia Steger was named to the All Tournament Team for Division 2.

The Wisconsin State Invitational Championship Tournament is an annual event, held in February, March or April of each year, pitting the top community-based teams in the State of Wisconsin against each other. The tournament is organized by size of communities, much like the WIAA state high school tournaments, so that top teams can compete on a level playing field with other programs their size.

Wisconsin Natural Resources Board Approves New Carcass Tag Procedure

– 2017 Hunting, Fishing Licenses Go On Sale March 8

A new procedure to validate carcass tags for deer and other species is set to take effect following spring turkey season thanks to action by the Wisconsin Natural Resources Board Wednesday.

The action comes before 2017 hunting, fishing, trapping and other license sales begin March 8 through the Go Wild system, a one-stop portal for information on all of the recreational opportunities made possible by the sound management of Wisconsin's natural resources. With the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources' Go Wild system, customers can print tags at home or receive them through a DNR service center or vendor.

The system enables customers to manage accounts more easily and provide proof of purchase through a personal conservation card, an authenticated Wisconsin driver's license, a plain paper copy or a pdf display on a mobile device such as a smartphone. The updated carcass tag procedure, which now goes to Gov. Scott Walker and the Legislature for consideration, allows hunters and trappers to validate the tag by removing the bottom portion rather than writing on it.

"We listened carefully to our customers following the first year of experience with the paper carcass tags and we believe it will be easier to simply slice off the bottom portion of the tag to validate it rather than write on it, especially in cold, wet weather," said Kimberly Currie, DNR customer service director. "The change takes effect following spring turkey season and allows hunters and anglers to use equipment they would normally carry into the field to complete validation."

Other validation requirements will remain the same. Hunters must possess their carcass tags while hunting or fishing for tag species and must validate tags immediately upon harvesting. Hunters must attach the tag to the carcass before leaving it: "If you leave it, tag it." Harvest registration also must occur as indicated for the species through DNR's electronic GameReg system, online at gamereg.wi.gov (fastest and easiest method) or by phone at 1-844-426-3734. Harvest registration is required for specific species and is critical in helping DNR biologists evaluate populations and permit levels the following year.

In addition to the improved tag validation procedure, the Go Wild System includes other updates that will benefit users when sales for the 2017 license year begin March 8. Other system upgrades include:

- A streamlined conservation patron purchase process with fewer screens to navigate and better organization of products;

- The ability for conservation patrons to redeem park and forest admission privileges at DNR properties;

- Improved validation on the family fishing licenses; and

- The addition of agricultural damage and nuisance tags and harvest reporting.

To learn more, visit GoWild.Wi.Gov or visit DNR.Wi.Gov and search "Go Wild." Informational resources include fact sheets, descriptions of how and when certain forms of proof apply as well as tagging information for a variety of game.

Kewaskum School District: Construction Update March 2017

The Kewaskum School District would like to update the community on what has been happening with the building project since the passage of the referendum in November. Much work is being done to prepare for the day when they can actually “break ground.” This includes the formation of advisory groups composed of middle school and high school teachers, community members, administration, board members, architects and construction managers. Additionally, the Long Range Planning Committee has been meeting periodically as an advisory group. The architect and construction manager, Bray and CD Smith, have been meeting with the district every other week since mid-December.

During the meetings, a number of conceptual drawings have evolved as the district continues to design the best possible solution to middle and high school needs. This is done by judiciously adhering to what the community approved through the referendum last November, which was for site improvements, new construction, renovation, and modernization of our middle and high schools as well as acquiring furniture, fixtures and equipment for the same.

The most recent conceptual drawings have them building a new middle school onto the existing high school instead of trying to connect the two buildings.

The current middle school will be demolished. With this evolution, the district has addressed a number of concerns shared with them by advisory groups. Consequently, the most recent renderings create a better traffic flow for cars and buses which improves the safety for children. It creates more field space. It adds more natural light into both the high school and middle school, allows modernization of the middle school learning environment, and creates larger classrooms and resource areas for study/work groups. Finally, it creates a new technology education area for both high school and middle school students.

Bray Architects is planning to share the most updated conceptual drawing by the end of the month. The school district plans on making this drawing available to everyone as soon possible. Credit needs to go to our Board of Education, Long Range Planning Committee members and the entire KSD staff who have spent countless hours working and re-working the design to ensure they build, renovate, and modernize the middle and high school buildings to be quality learning environments for students.

JUST FOR THE HEALTH OF IT: WELL WASHINGTON COUNTY

Harvest Of The Month

As part of a growing movement, partners in Washington County are implementing Harvest of the Month to highlight a locally available crop each month of the year in school cafeterias, restaurants, workplaces, and grocery stores. The program expands across Washington and Ozaukee Counties to help children, caregivers, and the broader community learn more about healthy, seasonal, whole-foods eating, while supporting local farms.

At a time when adult and childhood obesity is at its highest rates, innovative programs like Harvest of the Month that connect the areas where residents live, learn, work and play can have a real impact on individual’s eating habits.

The March Harvest of the Month is brussels sprouts. Did you know that one serving of brussels sprouts has as much Vitamin C as an orange? They are also high in Folic Acid, Fiber, Iron and are low in calories.

When looking at buying brussels sprouts, make sure to choose small, firm and compact sprouts with unblemished leaves. Make sure the sprouts are still attached to the stalk. You can bake, roast, steam, or sauté and add to soups, casseroles, and stews. Just make sure to cut in half or cut an X in the base to evenly cook.

Brussels sprouts will keep for several days in the refrigerator or if the stalk is removed, use within 3-5 days. Now that you know about brussels sprouts, enjoy this fun and healthy recipe.

The Kewaskum Area Arts Council needs your help. The Music in the Park series has been in existence since 2009 and is happening again this year. There are five concerts this summer with a total cost to the Arts Council of $2,300 and they are hoping that you might be able to help with this. The Arts Council is looking for groups, businesses and individuals to perhaps sponsor a band or help sponsor one. It costs between $500 and $600 to hire each band, but any donation will help keep the music going this summer of 2017. All sponsors who contribute $250 or more will be recognized at each of the concerts.

The Kewaskum Area Arts Council appreciates all help. To donate or for more information, contact Larry Ammel, kewasku- marts@gmail.com, 262-343-6446.

Daylight Savings Time Begins Sunday, March 12

Don't forget to change your clocks ahead one hour on Sunday, March 12, as Daylight Saving Time begins. It's also a great time to change your batteries in smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors and get other emergency safety items ready for spring storm season.

ReadyWisconsin urges you to check these items and change batteries:

Smoke alarms save lives. According to the National Fire Protection Association, approximately three out of five fire deaths occur in homes with no smoke alarms or homes without working smoke alarms. It is recommended to have a smoke alarm inside each bedroom and install alarms on every level of the home including the basement. Make sure the alarms are tested monthly. All smoke alarms should be replaced every 10 years.

•Make sure you have working carbon monoxide detectors. According to the Wisconsin Department of Health Services, about 450 people each year in Wisconsin are taken to hospital emergency rooms for symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning. At high levels, carbon monoxide can cause death within minutes. Detectors can be purchased at most hardware stores.

•Emergency Kits - Daylight Saving Time is a perfect time to put together an emergency kit or restock an existing kit. If you already have a kit, use food items near their expiration and replace with fresh supplies. Items past their expiration dates should be disposed of and replaced. You should have supplies such as food and water to last you and your family for at least three days. Other items like a battery powered or crank radio, flashlights and batteries, first aid kit should also be included.

•Emergency NOAA Weather Radio - Spring brings the threat of tornadoes and severe weather. Make sure you have an emergency weather radio. It's like having a tornado siren in your home. When it goes off, go to a safe place. Listen, Act and Live!

ReadyWisconsin is a campaign from Wisconsin

Emergency Management with a mission to prepare individuals, families and businesses for emergencies and disasters. For additional safety tips, visit <http://ReadyWisconsin.wisconsin.gov> or follow us on Facebook (www.facebook.com/ReadyWisconsin), Twitter (www.twitter.com/ReadyWisconsin) and Instagram (www.instagram.com/ReadyWisconsin).

After purchasing the established center in 1997, Mike and Audra Beyer began molding the business, adding their own unique touches and continued the growing process to accommodate the communities changing needs. Over the past 15 years an infant, toddler and two year old room have been added to the already existing preschool room at the main site, as well as adding before and after school programs in Kewaskum Elementary School and Farmington Elementary School. They have been providing quality childcare for Kewaskum and the surrounding area for over 18 years, while continually improving and adding new features!

Audra brings 27 years of experience to the business and the Administrator, Shelly Marx, brings 23 years of experience. Along with them, there are 10-14 employees depending on the time of year. Mike and Audra Beyer are supportive of their staff going back to school through funding in conjunction with TEACH.

Thank you to all of the parents who have shared their precious children with us! We feel truly blessed to have met each and every one of you. We look forward to many more years of helping your children grow!

The Young Irelanders Coming To UW-WC Stage

If you're Irish or just enjoy Irish music and dance, you will not want to miss the phenomenal talent of The Young Irelanders concert at UW-Washington County on Saturday, March 18. The group features eight talented performers – including some former members of Riverdance – who will perform at 7:30 p.m. in the campus theatre. The young musicians (in their 20s and 30s) have presented their traditional Irish music across the globe, including performances for U.S. Presidents as well as many foreign country dignitaries.

Two members of the group - Colin Farrell (fiddle, whistles and vocals) and Damien Mullane (accordion and melodeon) – were brought up in Britain to Irish emigrant parents. Both have gone on to become among the most revered Irish traditional musicians in the world, while they have also been drawn to these strong Irish roots and have spent many years living in Ireland. Dancers include Siobhan Manson and Cathal Keaney. Manson has been the principal dancer for Riverdance for over ten years while Keaney won the World Dancing Championship for two years in a row. Other members include Kieran Munnely (flute, whistles, bodhran, snare and vocals), Stephen Markam (keyboard, piano, percussion and vocals), Sean O'Meara (guitar and vocals) and Lisa Canny (lead vocals, harp and banjo). The sound the band creates is best described as eclectic, where traditional Irish music, celtic music, folk music, world music, jazz music, country music and popular music all come together to give rise to a very unique and multifaceted sound.

Advance tickets for the 7:30 p.m. Young Irelanders concert are $20 adults, $18 seniors (over 62) and youth (under 18). Tickets are available online, www.washington.uwc.edu or email wsh-tickets@uwc.edu

UW-WC is located at 400 University Drive in West Bend. The theatre is located on the second floor of the campus. Free parking is available. For more information, visit the campus website at www.washington.uwc.edu

What To Expect From Orthopedic Massage

Contributed by: Lori Bersch, Licensed Massage Therapist

When I started studying the Lowe Method of Orthopedic Massage through the Academy of Clinical Massage, I discovered that the high quality, science-based techniques that I was learning were a critical missing link in the care of many of my clients with chronic pain and injuries. Research shows that 77 percent of massage consumers number one reason for receiving a massage is medical or injury related. After adopting orthopedic massage into my practice, my clients experienced far better results than other massage styles we used in the past, such as general therapeutic and deep tissue massage.

Orthopedic massage differs greatly from other bodywork styles, as it is more clinical and medical-based. Assessment and differentiation of soft tissue conditions, along with advanced treatment techniques for musculoskeletal dysfunctions, make orthopedic massage highly sought after among clients who suffer from various acute and chronic pain conditions, injuries, and surgery recovery.

The most critical part of an orthopedic massage session is the assessment process; collecting important health history information, looking for fascial restrictions and trigger point referral patterns, assessing posture, range of motion, muscle strength and length, and balance. With this information we can then develop session plans based on your individual needs, including making short and long-term goals for recovery. With permission, I will share the report of findings with your healthcare team, as sometimes these types of assessments aren't standard in the medical setting, yet provide valuable information.

Some of the techniques that may be used during an orthopedic massage session can include myofascial release, neuromuscular therapy (also known as trigger point therapy), PNF stretching, muscle energy technique, active engagement, and positional release. It's important to keep in communication with your therapist during the session so that you can let them know if you are feeling any pain or discomfort. Your feedback provides valuable information and helps them determine what techniques to use, how much pressure to apply, and can be key in identifying which soft tissues are involved. Some benefits my clients experience with these techniques include pain reduction, increased mobility/flexibility, reduced scar tissue, and quicker healing time.

A few of the orthopedic conditions that I work with regularly include, but aren't limited to; sciatic pain (the number one complaint that I hear), SI joint pain, joint replacement (hip, knee, shoulder) surgery recovery, rotator cuff injuries/surgery recovery, whiplash, plantar fasciitis, shin splints, lateral and medial epicondylitis, carpal tunnel syndrome, patellofemoral syndrome, postural distortions, arthritis, and strains and sprains. There are many more orthopedic conditions that exist, and some I work with more than others, but these are the most common I see. Just recently I helped alleviate the pain of a client who has suffered daily for the past year with excruciating arm and wrist pain after breaking her radius and ulna. Even though the break has healed, she still suffers from constant soft tissue pain, restricted range of motion, and weakness. I looked beyond the pain or injury site to see how it may be affecting the rest of the body through fascial restrictions, posture, and compensation that may be occurring as a result of the pain or injury. After one session, she reported that her wrist isn't hurting for the first time since the accident and it is more flexible. With use it may start to bother her again and she may require additional orthopedic massage, but for her to get relief was a comforting, welcome result. Not all clients get results this quickly. Some clients get great results with a few sessions, others require more. Each client is different, and each injury is different, therefore each session is completely customized.

One of the things that I really take pride in is that I have working relationships with other healthcare professionals such as orthopedic surgeons, physical therapists, and chiropractors. I'm a believer in integrative care and complementary therapies, and often refer my clients to other healthcare practitioners to help their healing process. I do work with personal injury cases, motor vehicle accident injuries, and work related injuries.

Not sure if orthopedic massage is right for you? I invite you to come visit me at Driven To Better Health Night on Thursday, March 30th from 5:30 p.m. - 8 p.m. at Kewaskum High School. I'd be happy to speak with you and answer any questions you may have about orthopedic massage, posture, or about how to build balance and strength through personal training. You can also visit my website for more information at www.integrative-orthopedic.com or like my Facebook page @integrativeorthopedic.

St. Patrick's Day Dance Mayville Lions Club

The Mayville Lions Club is sponsoring a St. Patrick's Day Polka Dance on Saturday, March 11, at the Mayville Park Pavilion from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The pavilion is handicap accessible overlooking the beautiful Rock River. There will be food and beverages available.

This is the first year the Mayville Lions Club is sponsoring the Charlie Justmann Band, supported by Luedtke Lumber and Chris Neu - Coldwell Banker.

This band is made up of top flight musicians, many with college degrees in music. They perform a variety of music types that you'll enjoy. The band is booked repeatedly as they are in a class of their own.

"My husband David and I saw them at Waupaca's Taste of Christmas located on Spencer Lake this past December," said Donna Gudex-Kamrath, organizer. "Over 2,000 people were there and the band was broadcast throughout the grounds. The Spencer Lake auditorium/hall was indeed heated and the people filtered through the entire afternoon to see the band and enjoy the performance. This band is like none other and embodies quality in everything they do."

The Charlie Justmann Band is planning to have a special guest with them.

CHARLIE JUSTMANN BAND

You will have to come see who the guest will be — you will be glad you did. This is the one you will not want to miss. Music always plays a part in everyone's life and stays with you throughout your life.

The Justmann Band is formerly the Andy Justmann Orchestra, which started in 1947 in the Mayville area. Andy Justmann played his first job in 1947 and graduated from Mayville High School. The band evolved into a family band.

As the children grew up, the band recorded several albums. In the early years, the band played throughout the Midwest. They also entertained on an International scale with tours throughout Europe and the Caribbean.

Charlie, Andy's oldest son, took over in 1997 and built on what his father had begun. Today, the band plays modern, big band, polkas, waltzes, Latin, country, dixie, contemporary and more. Also, featured are ethnic selections with German vocals and yodeling.

The band has numerous recordings out with the most recent being "My Way or the Highway." The "Christmas Satellite Dish" song, recorded by the band, is heard on radio stations throughout the Midwest during the holiday season and actually enjoys radio air-time year round. The band has five CDs and three cassettes available.

The Mayville Lions schedule is going fast: March 25 — Hauser Hotshots, Spring Dance; April 1 — Ryan Herman & The Rhythm Playboys - Easter Dance; April 8 - Musical Brass - Sponsored by The Friends of the Mayville Public Library; April 22 - Barefoot Becky & The Ivanhoe Dutchmen, Earth Day; and June 3 — Brian & The Mississippi Valley Dutchmen, June Dairy Month Dance.

Ideas For Parents: Easy Things To Help Your Child Succeed

Why do some kids grow up with ease while others struggle? Search Institute Researchers identified specific, practical things that can have a tremendous and lasting positive impact on youth. Rather than focusing on the problems, this research concentrates on the Developmental Assets™ – the positive things (such as parent support and commitment to learning) that help young people thrive. The assets are 40 values, experiences and positive qualities that young people need to help them make wise decisions and choose positive lifestyles. The more assets they have, the better.

Time At Home

Youth are more likely to grow up healthy when they go out “with nothing special to do” two or fewer nights per week.

Time At The Table

It’s an old idea but a good one: a great way for families to spend time at home together is to gather around the table for a meal.

Ways To Improve Time At Home

1. Some families face issues such as alcoholism, violence, or emotional abuse. If this is the case, home is not especially good for children. If you have these problems, be courageous and get help

2. Choose an activity that the family can do for fun and recreation at home one evening each week.

3. Grade your family time based on the fun factor: How often do you laugh together? Have fun together? Enjoy being with each other?

10 Ideas For Fun Times At Home

1. Rent a funny movie

one weekday night. Make popcorn.

2. Have a family snowball, leaf, or soap suds fight.

3. Camp inside. Set up a tent or just pile sleeping bags on the living room floor.

4. Listen to the music that each family member likes and learn something about the performer.

5. Read the Sunday comics together.

6. Invite your child’s friends over and treat them as well.

7. Have a family treasure hunt, complete with map and clues.

8. Hide fun notes for others to find.

9. Have a family breakfast in the sleepest member’s bed.

10. Cook dinner together, each family member preparing a dish. Then, for a change, eat dessert first.

Add Some Garden Pizzazz To Your Landscape With Easy-Care Dahlias

By Melinda Myers

Plan now for a memorable grand finale in this year's garden. Dahlias are spring-planted bulbs with big, colorful flowers that bloom continuously from midsummer to the first fall frost.

Early in the season, the foliage of these easy-care plants provides a lush green backdrop for nearby annuals and perennials. Then, as many other plants are waning from the summer heat, dahlias burst into bloom, filling the garden with their impressive flowers for months to come.

There are many types of dahlias and many ways to use them. Shorter border dahlias like the Gallery or Melody series are perfect for planting along walkways, in the front of a flower border, or in pots next to the patio. The compact plants support full size flowers for a dazzling display.

Plant taller varieties in the middle of the flower border, and boost their ornamental appeal by including varieties like Fascination and HS Flame with burgundy foliage. The darker leaves combine nicely with the greens of their neighbors and are the perfect backdrop for the rose-pink and bright red blossoms.

Dahlias dazzle with their many unique flower shapes and sizes. The brilliant color and rolled petals of the cactus dahlia Karma Red Corona are sure to make you stop and take a second look. Or consider the powder puff blooms of Myrtles Folly, with petals that capture the colors of a sunrise.

Dinnerplate dahlias, like deep purple Thomas Edison, grow four-feet tall and have enormous, eight inch flowers.

Suppliers like Longfield Gardens (longfield-gardens.com) offer dozens of dahlia varieties as well as attractive mixes based on color themes and flower styles. A combination like the Soft Orange mix, works great in the garden and combines nicely in an arrangement.

Don't be afraid to cut your dahlias. Picking encourages more blooms for you to enjoy. With as few as three to six plants you'll have plenty of flowers to enjoy yourself and share with friends. Since dahlias thrive in the same great soil as vegetables, consider adding a few plants to your food garden as well. You'll be able to cut fresh flowers for the dinner table when harvesting the vegetables for your next meal.

In northern areas where dahlias are not winter hardy, the tubers can be dug and stored indoors for the winter. Or make it easy and just treat your dahlias like other annuals. With so many wonderful varieties to choose from, it's fun to try different ones each year.

Review your garden plans to identify places that could benefit from a burst of late season color. Order your dahlias early for the best selection, plant them in the spring and enjoy a spectacular show.

One Bike At A Time, One Hero At A Time... And It's Time!

—Wisconsin Veterans Encouraged To Apply For Harley-Davidson Motorcycle

Hogs for Heroes is now accepting applications to gift a cycle to a deserving Wisconsin veteran.

Hogs for Heroes is a Wisconsin non-profit dedicated to healing the mental and physical wounds suffered by our Wisconsin Veterans during the course of active duty, through the therapeutic benefits of owning and riding a Harley-Davidson motorcycle.

The application period for Wisconsin veterans opens February 20 and runs through April 1, 2017. Veterans should learn more about eligibility and apply at www.hogsforheroeswi.org.

"Hogs for Heroes is truly a grassroots organization. Through fundraisers, bike nights and everyday Wisconsinites donating their time and money, we are now able to accept applications and award our third Harley-Davidson to a Wisconsin Veteran Hero," said Kevin Thompson, Hogs for Heroes president and founder. "All along, it's been our goal to award one bike at a time and recognize one hero at a time. We have been able to make the rough road a little smoother for two returning Wisconsin Heroes already, while conveying a collective message of gratitude for their service contributions."

He continued, "We encourage people to share this information with family and friends and help us find our third deserving Wisconsin Military Veteran to receive a Harley-Davidson motorcycle."

Hogs for Heroes was founded in 2015 in Madison

by Kevin and Audra Thompson, along with his brother and sister-in-law Craig and Michelle Thompson, with the belief that there is a long-standing tie between our military, its service members and the benefits of motorcycle riding.

Fundraising is underway for the next Harley-Davidson for a Wisconsin veteran and donations can be made online on the Hogs for Heroes website. Additional information on the organization, as well as all application materials, can also be found on the site at www.hogsforheroeswi.org. Be sure to follow on Facebook (Hogs for Heroes) and Twitter (@hogsforheroeswi).

Lady Indian Bowlers Bring Home Second Place In State

By Judy Harlow

From tenth place in 2015 to seventh last year and, then on March 5h at the Bowlero AMF Lanes in Brookfield, the Kewaskum High girls bowling team took second place among Division 2 schools in the Wisconsin High School Bowling Tournament.

The Lady Indians, including Allison Thill, Mindy Janesch, Terrah Phillips, Breanna Mielkie and Mikayla Bigelow, were sitting in third place out of 13 teams after the opening round of competition last Friday evening.

During the next part of the competition, Kewaskum turned back West Bend West to move up to a spot in the semifinals where they overcame a 14-pin deficit to get past Beaver Dam for a shot at Amherst. Defending champion Amherst earned the top rung of the ladder tournament by virtue of having the most pins in the 15-game qualifying session.

The Amherst team looked poised and confident in the finals and turned back the Indians, 202-148—350 to 140-145—285 to claim another title.

“Second place is outstanding.” “I think this season, there were 35 or 37 Division 2 teams in the state,” KHS coach Pat Janesch said after returning home Sunday evening. “We tried ... The girls did a great job!”

Sunday’s match against Beaver Dam showed how much the Indians wanted to make the finals. They struggled in the first of the two games, falling behind 154-140 and then came roaring back with a clutch 207 in the second to win the match, 347 to 321.

The Indians did not have a single open frame in Game 2, with Mielkie and Bigelow rolling strikes in frames four and five and coming through with big strikes again in frames nine and 10 to close the door on their opponents.

“I think there were some nerves there” in Game 1, Janesch said. “They got it out of their system and bowled great in the second game.”

Janesch tipped his hat to the championship Amherst squad team, and he was impressed with the excitement displayed during the entire tournament. “If people who think bowling is just bowling, if they would see the intensity (in these matches), I think it would change a lot of people’s perceptions about bowling (as a sport).”

And Janesch was very proud of his girls, including the three seniors, Thill, the lone southpaw on the team, Mielkie and Bigelow, who have been on all three state teams. “I told my girls I would put them up against any five girls (in the state),” he said.

Even though they were not able to take the top prize, Janesch said his girls “felt positive when they were done. They were happy with their performance, and I was happy with their performance.”

Mielkie was elated about advancing to the finals this year. “It was amazing because it was my last year,” she said. “It was nerve-wracking, but it was worth it.”

Mielkie recalls the girls would talk with Janesch between games, and after falling behind Beaver Dam, she said he told them, “You’ve just got to focus, and you’ll be fine.” He was just relaxing us.”

Concerning the strikes she and Bigelow had midway in the second games, Mielkie said, “Those strikes get everyone going,” and they did, right past Beaver Dam and into the final match.

“I think it all kind of got into our heads,” Mielkie said about facing the defending champion. “We were not as focused as we usually are ... But second (place) is really good, too.”

Mielkie will attend UW-Green Bay next year where she plans to study art education. She is not sure if UW-Green Bay has a bowling team but said she may just join a bowling league while attending the school.

After Two Tough Years, KHS Coach Is Looking For Better Days Ahead

By Judy Harlow

The road hasn't been easy for Don Gruber in his first two years as head boys basketball coach at Kewaskum High School.

The first year he started with four players on the sideline because of suspensions they received from violations in previous seasons, which definitely had an effect on the outcome of the season. This year the story was having to compete with just one senior who had any varsity experience.

"This year would be defined as a learning curve. Other than Brady (Hanson), no one had any varsity experience," Gruber said of the season on the eve of the team's Division-2 regional game at Plymouth and after going 0-14 in east Central play and 3-19 during the regular season.

Unfortunately, Kewaskum has just enough enrollment, 605 students, to be the smallest school in D-2, which features basketball powers like Cedarburg, Beaver Dam, Whitefish Bay and the like. Then there's also the East Central lineup of Ripon, ranked No. 1 in D-3, along with defending D-3 champion, Waupun, and others who have established programs.

Still, Gruber doesn't want to cry over spilled milk and looks forward to next season when he has four returning starters from the current junior class, another junior who played considerably and one sophomore who got his feet wet at the varsity level. Also there are some talents among the sophomores who are expected to help provide more depth and scoring.

"They progressed really well. We had a couple of close losses ... Marshall and St. Mary's Springs," Gruber said about his team. Hanson led the way in most categories, including scoring and rebounding. He scored 411 points for an 18.7 points per game (ppg), with his high game total a 28-point effort in a non-conference loss to St. Mary's Springs. Hanson also led the team in rebounding with 183 (8.7 per game), in steals with 23 and blocked shots with 17.

Fouls and turnovers were a problem for Hanson at times. He had team-high 78 fouls and 96 turnovers.

Hanson recently eclipsed the 800-point mark at KHS. With 14:40 left in the first half of the Indians' game against Berlin, he hit a 14-foot straightaway jumper to hit 800. With 21 total points in that game, Hanson now has 816 points, going into the regional game at Plymouth.

The other four starters were Jordan Carlton, the team's No. 2 scorer, Jared Chesak and guards Dan Kreis and Brent Goeden.

Carlton scored 245 points (11.1 ppg), and no one will forget his game-winning shot vs. West Bend West, a shot which he made from behind the backboard. Carlton's best effort came in the win over Omro when he and Hanson each poured in 26 points.

While standing just 6-0, Chesak battled with the big boys inside, scoring 148 points (7.0 ppg) and hauling down 95 rebounds (4.5 per game). A fierce competitor, Chesak never misses a chance to go after a loose ball and never gives up.

Kreis did well feeding his teammates to the tune of 51 assists, playing defense, and he scored the majority of his points on drives.

Goeden's best defensive effort came in the West game, holding Cam Flowers to one basket, and offensively it was the Ripon game when he scored eight points, behind Chesak's 11 as the top scorers were held to just seven total points.

Reserve Jon Heis and sophomore Brad Buechel also turned in some good minutes for the Indians. "I got satisfaction in watching the kids progress," Gruber said.

The challenge for next year will be for each returnee to improve his scoring and defensive play as several teams, including Waupun, Ripon and Kettle Moraine Lutheran, have good returnees.

"I'm expecting a fairly strong squad, but we play in a tough conference," Gruber said about approaching season No. 3. "Hopefully we will start building a good, strong program."

2016 final East Central standings: 1. Ripon, 14-0; 2. Waupun, 11-3; 3. Berlin, 8-6; 4. Campbellsport, 7-7; 5. (tie) Plymouth and KM Lutheran, 6-8; 7. Winneconne, 4-10; 8. Kewaskum, 0-14.

Jared Chesak scores two points for Kewaskum in a home game against Waupun on Friday, Feb. 3.

It Was A Good Year, But Coach Looks For Wrestlers To Do Better

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum wrestling coach Scott Rhoads is going to be doing some heavy duty recruiting in the off-season, searching for athletes who can fill in the upper weights next season so the Indians aren't giving up 18-24 forfeit points in each match like they had to this year.

"It was hard for us to do anything as a team," Rhoads said in assessing his 2016-'17 campaign, which was in no way a complaint about the 10 wrestlers he put on the mats. "We had a great winning percentage in our dual records ... The seven or eight kids we had out there in the lower part of the lineup were always winning."

Rhoads was referring to his four state qualifiers, who won a total of 125 matches, led by 132-pound Eric Bauer, who finished fourth in the D-2 state tournament and finished the year at 38-2. Braden Maertz, Adam Bruss and Alex Deheck, who also earned trips to the state competition at 126, 113 and 138 pounds, respectively.

Bauer won titles at the Gunslinger Tournament and was undefeated at the Dells Duals, the Northern Exposure, the Bauer Brawl, the East Central Championships, the regional and the sectional.

The Indians finished 4-2 in the second year of the East Central Conference and wound up in third place overall.

Rhoads is already thinking of altering his schedule for next year by eliminating a couple of the team tournaments and going back to some like the Oshkosh On The Waters where individuals get a chance to shine and to get ready for the competition they have to face in Madison at the state tournament.

"We'd love to find some big people to fill in those upper weights," Rhoads said, indicating he is talking with several athletes who competed at the kids level but haven't continued in high school wrestling.

"I'm trying to work with other sports and other coaches" in an effort to get more athletes in wrestling," Rhoads went on, noting he spent time discussing the situation with the wrestling coach at Wisconsin Lutheran High School because the Vikings have such good rapport between the coaches in football and wrestling.

Currently, KHS has just a handful of football players who stay with wrestling.

Adding a half dozen athletes would put Kewaskum in position to challenge for the East Central crown next winter because two-time champion, Campbellsport, is losing several good seniors as is runner-up Ripon, with its two state place winners, Zach Beck and Cody Jacobson.

The Indians will have all 10 starters back, and Rhoads is high on several of his JV athletes, including Alex Butler and Reagan Dricken, who both saw some varsity action this winter. "Alex qualified for JV state. I think he is really looking forward to being in the varsity lineup," Rhoads said, also praising Droese, Pomeroy, and Goeman, who were "consistently there (at practice) for the (state) qualifiers."

"We had four state qualifiers, which is a giant number," Rhoads said, and he figures it could be higher next season with Droese continuing to develop, "Goeman ready to turn the corner and improvement by Eddie (Padilla) and Sam (Larson)."

Local Skiers Show Their Skills In State Meet

Kewaskum High School had three athletes compete this year with the combined West Bend/Kewaskum ski team: Derrek Brock, Quinn McElhatton and Jacob Alexander.

Derrek was a standout at the state meet, placing 29th overall out of a field of 150 skiers. That placing took into account Derrek's times in the Slalom, the Giant Slalom and the Super G at the state meet, which was held Feb. 18-20 in La Crosse.

Both the boys and the girls ski teams placed fifth out of 20 teams at the state meet.

Jacob Alexander competed for both the varsity and the junior varsity teams during the season.

Throughout the season, Quinn McElhatton skied for the JV team, which placed second in the conference.

Lady Indians' Efforts Make Their Coach Very Proud

By Judy Harlow

Looking back on the 2016-'17 KHS girls basketball team has to be a very satisfying experience for coach Russ Thull, who just completed his third year at the helm of the Indian ship.

Looking ahead is a bit difficult, mainly because of the seven seniors he will be losing and an inexperienced junior class coming up.

When it was suggested this might be Thull's best team, he said, "I completely agree. "This team did a lot of things that haven't been done in a long time," namely winning 12 games, winning a regional game over West Bend East, and beating a top-three team (Kettle Moraine Lutheran) in conference play.

Another feather in the Indians' cap was winning the annual Rio Tournament and having three players, Hailey Herriges, Mikayla Dogs and Molly Schulteis, named to the all-tournament team.

"It's makes a difference having seniors," Thull said, and especially hard-working, driven senior athletes like the ones he had this winter.

In addition to Herriges, Dogs and Schulteis, Bre Trepes was a good 3-point shooter, Rachel Holt scored inside and rebounded well, Melissa Schneider was a top reserve who could be depended on when starters needed a break. Also, Sydney Rosenthal could surprise opponents will an occasional three and she hustled on defense.

Dogs and Herriges finished 1-2 in scoring with 310 (12.9 points per game) and 290 (12.1 ppg.) points, respectively. Even though she stands just 5 feet, 8 inches, Herriges was far and away the team's leading rebounder with 207 for a 9.0 per game average. Next came Dogs, a guard, with 88, followed closely by Trepes, Schulteis, Holt and Missy Schneider with 79, 74, 69 and 41, respectively.

Dogs and Herriges both had good numbers in other categories, too. Dogs produced 96 steals, 35 steals and 26 blocked shots, while Herriges came in with 49 assists, 26 steals and six blocks.

"They walked the walk, which stands out to me," Thull went on about how this group worked much of the past summer to prepare for the season and how he had good leaders. "If you show up for work, good things are going to happen."

If there was any disappointment, it was not being able to finish in the upper division of the East Central Conference where the Indians were 4-10 and had to settle for sixth place. Still the EC coaches showed their respect for Dogs and Herriges in the recent all-conference balloting. "Mikayla got first team all-conference," Thull said, adding Herriges received honorable mention. "She just missed second team," Thull went on about Herriges, explaining she was 13th in the voting, and the 12th girl was on the second team.

Dogs and Herriges also rarely came off the court, playing 33.3 and 32.8 minutes in each of the Indians' games.

About his seven seniors," Thull said, "I'm very grateful and proud ... It's tough to let them go."

Freshman guard Maxine Paulowske, who was a starter for a portion of the season, will be the lone returnee with much experience. The 5-0 sharpshooting guard wound up with an impressive 190 points for just under eight points per game. She had the most 3-pointers of any of the Indians, with 51.

Help is on the way from a JV1 team that was about .500 and from the JV2s, who won all but three of their games, including two to Kettle Moraine Lutheran. Thull hopes to whip them into shape for a successful 2017-'18 campaign.

Final East Central standings: 1. Plymouth, 14-0; 2. Waupun, 12-2; 3. (tie) KM Lutheran and Winneconne, 8-6; 5. Campbellsport, 5-9; 6. Kewaskum, 4-10; 7. Berlin, 3-11; 8. Ripon, 2-12.
