By Anne Trautner

Larry E. Ammel, 73, a community leader and former band director in Kewaskum, died unexpectedly on Sunday, April 16, at his home.

Ammel is known throughout the community for his involvement with music, theater and civic organizations.

Ammel was a longtime band director for the Kewaskum School District. He was instrumental in creating the Kewaskum High School Theater, as well as bringing the Missoula Children's Theatre to Kewaskum each year.

Ammel was serving his third nonconsecutive year as president of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club and was a choir director at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum.

"Larry Ammel was a pillar in the Kewaskum community. One of a kind, not replaceable. He was respected by all who had the chance to meet him.

He enjoyed life and really enjoyed being a civil servant to the community," said Bret Richards, who has been serving as vice president of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club.

Among his many activities, Ammel was a member of the Kewaskum Big Band and the Kewaskum Area Arts Council. He also assisted in obtaining the steel for the Kewaskum 9-11 Memorial.

Ammel founded numerous community organizations, such as the Kewaskum Big Band, the Kewaskum Area Arts Council, the Kewaskum Arts Festival, the Community Men's Choir and the Music in the Park series.

Kewaskum Elementary School has been recognized as a Title I High-Progress School. This is the second year in a row a Kewaskum school received a School of Recognition Award from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

"We are excited to have received the Title I School of Recognition Award," said Jody Heipp, Kewaskum Elementary principal. "As I walk into classrooms daily it is inspiring to witness the amount of effort and hard work that goes into teaching every child to ensure learning occurs. This award has been a true collaborative effort with students, parents, and staff. One could not be prouder to be in a school and district that serves as a true TEAM to maximize the growth of all students."

Life Matters

– Speaker Promotes Respecting All People

By Anne Trautner

Everyone has an embarrassing moment.

Take, for example, the teen in California who took a girl to a movie.

While in the theater, the young gentleman excused himself to use the restroom. When he returned to his seat, he realized his fly was open. So he discreetly zipped it up.

However, when he stood up and began walking up the aisle to get popcorn and soda for his date, he realized the girl's hair was caught in his zipper as she was dragged behind him.

The usher working at the theater saw what was happening. He stopped the movie, turned on the lights and, with everyone watching, cut the girl's hair from the zipper.

It was funny. Everyone laughed. The crowd even gave a standing ovation.

The couple smiled and tried to laugh with the crowd. But it was a moment of humiliation they will never forget.

"For some people, it is not just an embarrassing moment. They are embarrassed at who they are as a person. They hide their feelings and emotions, and they wear a mask. Sometimes you can penetrate that mask and see the hurt," Bob Lenz told Kewaskum students last Thursday.

Lenz, who is an internationally known speaker with Dignity Revolution, spoke at assemblies held last Thursday for both Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School students.

He brought a message of hope for teens dealing with issues such as self-harm, suicide and bullying.

Lenz knows what it is like to be made fun of.

His brother Tim had cerebral palsy and epilepsy and was intellectually disabled. He was unable to walk or talk.

And Lenz had a speech impediment.

Lenz remembers going to a special speech class while in elementary school, and other children saying, "He is retarded just like his brother."

Lenz would laugh off the comments.

But he wishes he would have had the courage to say, "This is my brother and he is a person too. He deserves respect."

"Just like every person in this room," Lenz said. "No matter how different, how tall or short or how wide or thin, no matter what color of their skin, no matter what they believe, no matter what they practice, every person deserves respect."

Lenz wants youth to know that their lives matter. It has become his mission.

"This is so much more than a job for me. It is my passion. This is what makes my heart beat. To get up in the morning. To look at youth and say your life matters; you count. No matter what you are facing, no matter what you are going through. I want to instill hope in youth," Lenz said.

Chief's Corner

By Kewaskum Police Chief Tom Bishop

Last week, I placed my mourning band around my badge again... the second time in as many months as the police community in Wisconsin suffered another tragic loss. Trooper Anthony J Borostowski was killed in a single vehicle crash when his patrol car left the roadway and struck a tree. Trooper Borostowski was only 34 years old.

Last month, Detective Jason T Weiland of the Everest Metropolitan Police Department was murdered in Weston, WI. He responded to a domestic disturbance that involved multiple shootings. Detective Weiland was 40 years old and is survived by his wife and two children.

Police work is dangerous business and as officers we understand and accept that reality. According to the Officer Down Memorial Page (www.odmp.org), Trooper Borostowski is the 280th police officer killed in the line of duty in Wisconsin. Recently, Trooper Trevor Casper and Officer Craig Birkholz were murdered in Fond du Lac in March of 2015 and March of 2011, respectively. Just a couple of weeks ago, a Dodge County deputy was injured after he was dragged by a fleeing vehicle, which certainly could have ended in death. In Kewaskum we routinely respond to various weapons complaints, calls involving suicidal subjects and many domestic situations.

That being said, I am amazed at how many times residents in Kewaskum will comment to me that we (officers) are "safe here" and "luckily those kinds of things don't happen here". One time in particular, when I was a new officer in town, I was performing a bar check at one of our establishments in the Village. A patron patted me on the back and felt that I was wearing a ballistic vest. She was shocked and couldn't believe that I needed to wear a vest because I was "only working in Kewaskum".

Yes we are blessed to work in a safe community, but that doesn't mean that we shouldn't take precautions to ensure our own safety. I'm sure residents in Weston, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Hobart, and Crandon all felt the same way until some criminal with a gun opened fire on their police officers.

Police officers face a wide range of dangers on a daily basis. So far in 2017, 36 officers have been killed in the line of duty nationwide (Officer Down Memorial Page, 04/13/2017). The causes of death include gunfire, drowning, heart attacks, traffic accidents, being stuck by vehicles and exposure to toxins. Police officers are not robots; we are human beings who bleed, cry and have the ability to be hurt just as anyone else. We too have loved ones at home who await our return on a daily basis and have children who love that we are cops - they love the lights, sirens, badge and uniform without understanding the true nature of our job. All too often, many of these children are left waiting for their beloved officer to come home - only he or she never returns.

All police officers, regardless of what jurisdiction they work in, have to deal with dangerous situations. The frequency may be different, but the risks are the same. The black band on our badge is symbolic of a collective mourning within the brotherhood of law enforcement. Ideally, I will not have to put this black band across my badge anymore, but I am fully aware that I will. Ideally, I will not have to lower my flag to half staff again, but I am fully aware that I will. Ideally, I will never have to write another article like this one, but I am fully aware that I will. For that reason, I will continue to pray for my fellow officers, current and former, for taking on a very difficult job in a difficult time.

And to those officers who never returned home - Thank you for making the ultimate sacrifice. Rest in peace. We'll take the watch from here.

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God" - Matthew 5:9

Thank you and have a safe month,

Tom Bishop

Ammel also had served on the Kewaskum Village Board.

"Larry always had the interests of others in his mind. Whether he was working to improve the school district, or the Village, or his church, or help children, or the community, he was always thinking of others. And he went about his work so cheerfully; he was glad to do it," said Kewaskum Village Administrator Matt Heiser.

"He was a wonderful Christian model. I will miss him," Heiser added.

Ammel earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point in 1968 and began his career as a teacher in the Kickapoo School District near Viola.

After five years, he moved to Kewaskum, where he taught until he retired in 1999. Along the way, he received a master's degree from St. Louis University.

Ammel founded the Kewaskum High School Jazz Band and took his students on trips throughout the country. He also was one of the founders of Kewaskum's Honors Award Ceremony and served as an advisor to the Kewaskum High School Student Council.

In 1999, Ammel was named Washington County High School Teacher of the Year.

The Kewaskum Village Board also recognized

Ammel in 1999 for his "many years of faithful, efficient and dedicated public service rendered to the School District of Kewaskum and Village of Kewaskum," and June 7, 1999, was proclaimed Larry Ammel Day within the village.

Ammel became an icon in the community, someone that students and community members alike turned to on a regular basis.

"I met Larry several years ago when I became a member of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club. Larry was the 'go-to' guy. Larry had so many experiences, held so many positions within the club over his long tenure, that he had many answers," Richards said.

Ammel was born on January 30, 1944, in Almond, the son of the late Harvey and Kathleen (Mehne) Ammel. On August 12, 1967, he was united in marriage to Cheryl Pagel at St. John's Lutheran Church in Almond.

He is survived by his wife, Cheryl; two children, Curtis Ammel of Wauwatosa and Krysten (Mac) Schroeder of Oregon, Wisconsin; two grandchildren, Abigail and Quinn Schroeder; two brothers, Jerry (Julia) Ammel and John (Debra) Ammel both of Almond; a sister, Diane Ammel of San Diego; a sister-in-law, Lorrie Ammel of Almond; and nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents, Ammel was preceded in death by a son, Derek Ammel; a sister, Ellen (Raymond) Plummer; a brother, Richard Ammel, and his aunt, Glenna (Lee) Schwenn.

"Larry was just an outstanding citizen. He was always unselfishly involved in the community. He is going to be sorely missed," said Clark Pearson, who has worked as a superintendent, principal, teacher and coach for the Kewaskum School District.

"If we all did as much for the community as Larry did, it would be a much better place to live," Pearson said.

Visitation will be on Friday, April 28, at Peace United Church of Christ, 343 First Street, in Kewaskum, from 4 to 7 p.m. and on Saturday, April 29, at the church from 9 to 11 a.m.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, April 29, at Peace United Church of Christ, with the Rev. Eric Kirkegaard officiating.

Additional information and guest book can be found at www.myrrhum-patten.com.

A complete obituary will be in next week's paper.

Mayville Lions Club Featuring Barefoot Becky & The Ivanhoe Dutchmen Band

The Mayville Lions Club is sponsoring an Earth Day Dance with Barefoot Becky & The Ivanhoe Dutchmen Band from Mt. Vernon, IA, on Saturday, April 22, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Mayville Park Pavilion

Food will be available and the building is handicap accessible and overlooks the beautiful Rock River. The dance is supported by Steve's Auto Body and Lakeview Electric, Inc.

These dances are becoming the best destination in the state for the young and old alike. It is an enjoyable atmosphere with great music, making everyone feel better and have a great time.

Barefoot Becky & The Ivanhoe Dutchmen Band have a very busy schedule with 15-20 dances in any given month. It's a real pleasure to have her back in Mayville.

Becky is a great accordion musician who started at the age of 10 in 1980. She became interested because her mom and dad took the family to polka dances in Swisher, IA. They carried the kids around the dance floor until they were old enough to walk and learn to dance themselves.

Becky loved to dance, but was always just as interested in the bands and would sit by the stage to watch and listen. At the age of 12, she played her first job with Ed Ulch & The Jolly Bohemians.

In 1988, Ed became ill and had to retire from playing. Ed invited Becky to his house and she came back with his library of music and couple of dance jobs lined up that Ed previously booked.

Slowly but surely things came together and Barefoot Becky & The Ivanhoe Dutchmen have been playing ever since.

In the Spring of 1988, she made her first appearance at the Amerhan Ballroom in Kewaskum for the Little Johnny Scholarship Dance. With that show, she became the favorite band among many from the area.

Becky plays accordion and does vocals in various languages. Her husband, Terry Ard, plays flute, piccolo, classical, electric guitar, bass, tenor banjo, 5-string banjo, trumpet and baritone. They have two other players on tuba and drums.

In 1996, they performed for the Smithsonian Institution's Festival of American Folklife in Washington, D.C. They also play for house parties, nightclubs, town festivals, polka festivals, RV conventions and Becksterfest.

The Mayville Lions Club and Friends of the Mayville Public Library greatly appreciate the attendance at these dances and for supporting the sponsors who make these dances possible. The next dance is June 3rd with Brian & The Mississippi Valley Dutchmen - June Dairy Month Dance. The new schedule should be out by June at the latest, if not by April 25, 2017

This season really went fast. The dances were very successful with people looking forward to next year's dances. If you should have any questions, please contact Donna Gudex-Kamrath at 920-960-5318.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM TICKS

Spring means more time outdoors. Here are some simple steps to protect yourself against ticks. Avoid woods or grasslands that may be tick infested. If you do go into the woods, try to keep in the center of a cleared trail. Wear long pants, long sleeves, and boots or closed-toe shoes. Dress in light colors so ticks are easier to spot. Tuck pants into socks to keep ticks from crawling up pant legs. Spray repellent on your clothing and apply compounds with DEET, per directions, onto exposed skin. After being outdoors, wash your clothes and thoroughly inspect your body, especially areas with hair.

Holy Humor Sunday Held On April 23

Many American churches are resurrecting an old Easter custom begun by the Greeks in the early centuries of Christianity - "Holy Humor Sunday" celebration of Jesus' resurrection on the Sunday after Easter.

For centuries in Eastern Orthodox, Catholic and Protestant countries, the week following Easter Sunday, including "Bright Sunday" (the Sunday after Easter), was observed by the faithful as "days of joy and laughter" with parties and picnics to celebrate Jesus' resurrection.

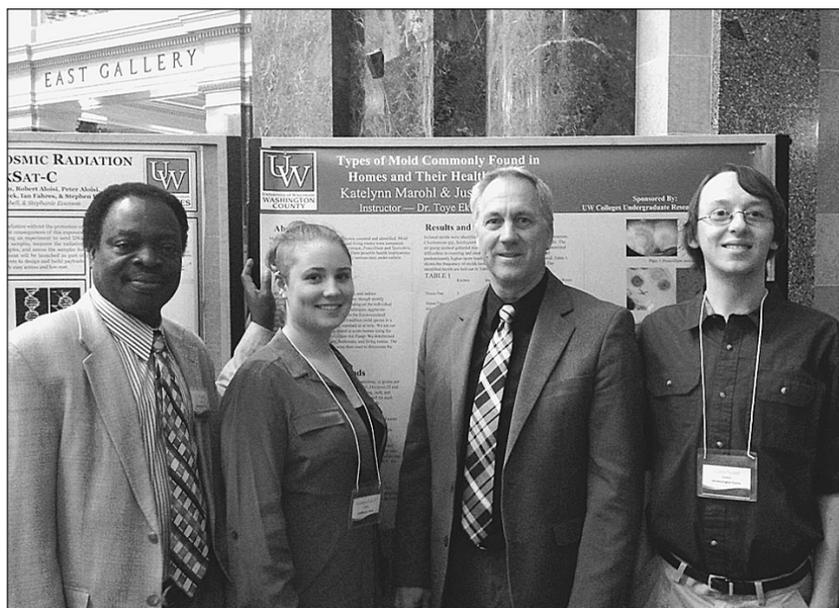

Churchgoers and pas- tors played practical jokes on each other, drenched each other with water, told jokes, sang, and danced. The custom was rooted in the musings of early church theologians (Saints Augustine, Gregory of Nyssa, John Chrysostom and others) that God played a practical joke on the devil by raising Jesus from the dead. "Risus paschalis - the Easter laugh," the early theologians called it. (from The Joyful Noiseletter, www.joyfulnoiseletter.com /hhsunday.asp).

Salem United Church of Christ in Wayne will celebrate Holy Humor Sunday on April 23 at the 9 a.m. service. People are invited (but not required) to wear silly clothes and tell church-appropriate jokes and funny stories during worship. Adding to the festivities, hymns will be sung to the tune of popular waltz and polka tunes accompanied by a concertina and keyboard. The community is invited to come worship God in a joyful spirit!

Salem UCC is located five miles west of Kewaskum, north of the intersection of Hwy W and Hwy H/Mohawk Rd. in Wayne.

UW-WC Students Present Research In State Capitol

-Event Showcases Work Of UW Undergraduates

Mold spores from West Bend homes traveled to Madison on Wednesday, April 12. UW-Washington County students, Katelyn Marohl of West Bend and Justin Nolan of Germantown who collected the spores for a research project, presented their findings at the 14th annual Research in the Rotunda at the state capitol. The two students shared their research with legislators, state leaders and other supporters. Each year, Research in the Rotunda showcases the exciting research taking place by students across the state and helps this important research that impacts the state's economic future.

For their project, the students utilized two methods to determine quality and quantity of the spores. Next, they grew the mold spores in the lab and counted and identified species as well as compared data across various rooms in each home. Their faculty advisor is Dr. Toye Ekunsanmi, Professor of Biological Sciences at UW-WC.

Cathy Sandeen, Chancellor of UW Colleges and Extension, noted the importance of undergraduate research, stating, "Not only does this activity encourage greater student engagement and persistence, but it helps us shape the innovators of tomorrow for the state of Wisconsin." UW-WC prepares students of all ages and backgrounds for baccalaureate and professional programs, by providing freshman and sophomore level college classes in over 250 majors. With small class sizes and personal attention from dedicated faculty, students receive a quality education at the most affordable tuition in the UW System. "This award is a great example of how students benefit when everyone works together. This past year, we have had many examples of our community's support of the school district, and we are excited to continue our current school board's vision of making Kewaskum School District a great place for our students," said Superintendent James Smasal.

Title I is a federal program that provides funds to school districts and schools with high numbers or high percentages of children who are disadvantaged to support a variety of services. Its overall purpose is to ensure that all children have a fair, equal and significant opportunity to obtain a high-quality education and reach, at a minimum, proficiency on challenging state academic achievement standards and assessments.

"We have worked hard on improving classroom instruction while increasing our expectations of students. The School of Recognition Award at KES is another indicator of how we are ensuring the success of all students," stated Mark Bazata, curriculum director for the district.

District representatives will receive the award during a ceremony held at the state capitol on May 1.

Second Tattoo
Studio To Open
In Village Of Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

Georgiana Reichard is going to be able to open a new tattoo studio in the Village of Kewaskum.

The Village Board Monday night approved revising an ordinance so that two tattoo studios can be located in the village per every 20,000 people living in the village.

Until now, only one tattoo establishment was permitted.

The board also increased the fee to match West Bend's policy of charging $150 for an initial application to open a tattoo studio and a $115 annual permit fee.

Language is also being updated so that tattoo businesses must provide proof of liability insurance when they fill out an application to open a shop.

Until now, Alter-Ego Tattoo Studio, located at 204 Main St., was the sole tattoo studio in the village.

Eighth-grade students from Kewaskum Middle School learn about a wide range of career options when they recently toured West Bend Insurance and Gruber Tool and Die.

- Kewaskum Business Expo Planned

Area businesses are invited to participate in a Kewaskum Business Expo, to be held on Tuesday, May 23, from 1 p.m. to 2:50 p.m. at Kewaskum High School.

This first-time event will be a meet and greet for area business to present employment opportunities to high school students.

The expo will give students a chance to ask questions about each business, a specific job or internship opportunity.

Students who show interest in a business will gain an immediate contact to someone within that participating business.

The event will involve all Kewaskum High School students, from freshmen who are just entering the work force to seniors looking for summer, full-time or work during college.

To participate, business owners simply need to be prepared to answer questions about their businesses and encourage students to apply for an opportunity that may exist.

This meet and greet is designed to be the first step in the hiring process. Any interviews, job offers or discussions on wage or benefits should take place at the actual place of business.

Businesses are encouraged to bring applications, business cards or promotional items. Kewaskum Schools will provide chairs and a table.

Businesses that are not looking for help at this time are still encouraged to be involved.

It is an opportunity to be seen by more than 600 students in two hours. One valuable connection with a student can be worth the two-hour investment of time.

The Kewaskum Business Expo is designed to provide a chance for students to find work experiences to take them through high school and into college. Local businesses shape, influence and develop these students into the next generation of leaders.

Even if a business is not hiring currently, interested students are one phone call away from being the next waiter, cashier or clerk at an area business.

There is no cost associated with this event.

To participate, contact Tim Rohlinger at Kewaskum High School at 262-626-3105, extension 4153 or at trohlinger@kewaskum-schools.org.

Golfers Win EC Opener, Take First In Scramble At The Bull

By Judy Harlow

Following up their good showing in the Washington County Invitational, the Kewaskum High golfers turned in a sizzling 159 in the opening East Central Conference mini-tour event and finished off the past week by easily winning the Early Bird Invitational held at The Bull at Pinehurst Farms on April 12.

It's almost an understatement when new head coach Casey Scheel said, "We're off to a good start."

The format for the tournament, hosted by Sheboygan Falls, was changed this year to a scramble, according to Scheel, who said this was because of the generally high scores in recent years and difficulty of the course. Using this three-team, two-man format, KHS ended up with a 220 total, six shots better than Waupun, and 18 ahead of Elkhart Lake Glenbeulah.

Leading the Indians with a 7-under par 65 were sophomore Jacob Schlosser and junior Jordan Carlton, who had nine-hole scores of 32 and 33. They nipped Kettle Moraine Lutheran's Solomon Zarlung and Nick Poppe by one stroke for the low score of the day.

The Schlosser/Carlton card included an eagle 3 on the par 5, No. 3 hole and five birdies.

The senior-sophomore duo of James Banks and Talon Ralph shot 40-36—76, while Brad Buechel and Jacob Loehr posted a 39-40—79.

"My goal was to have three scores under 80, and for Jacob and Jordan to shoot under par, and it all worked out," Scheel said, reporting the emphasis was on staying away from penalty strokes, not hitting into hazards and no three-putts. "We did those things, and it all paid off."

Early Bird Invite, Team scores: 1. Kewaskum, 220; 2. Waupun, 226; 3. Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah, 226; 4. KML, 241; 5. Campbellsport, 249; 6. Sheboygan Falls, 252; 6. Denmark, 277; 8. Roncalli, 281; 9. Valders, 287; Port Washington only had two counters.

In the EC opener on April 10, it was the Indians solidly in the lead with a 159 total on the par 36, Lake Breeze Golf Club near Winneconne.

KHS finished nine strokes ahead of the host Wolves (168) 12 in front of Plymouth (171) and 13 of Waupun (172).

Kettle Moraine Lutheran's Solomon Zarlung captured the medal with an even par 36, then the Indians had Jacob Schlosser second with a 38, while soph Brad Buechel carded a 39 to tie for third place, and Jordan Carlton came in at 40. James Banks and Talon Ralf both had 42s for the fourth and final counting score.

All five Indians golfers placed in the top 10.

"We took first place on the cold, windy and rainy night," KHS coach Casey Scheel said, reporting the teams played mark, left, clean and place through the greens. "They golfed great based on conditions."

KHS Kickers Let Early Lead Slip Away

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High girls soccer team played host Campbellsport even up for their first half of their East Central game played on April 11, then the Cougars struck like lightning, scoring three times in the final 45:00 for a 3-1 victory over the Indians.

"We kind of ran out of steam at the end," KHS coach Luke Piwoni said about the game. "Two of their goals came in the last eight minutes. Still, it was a good, competitive game. They have some depth. We lack some depth right now, and that came into play."

The Indians scored first, early in the first half, on a goal by senior midfielder Hailey Herriges in the 14th minute. Piwoni said his team had the ball near the goal and when it bounced off a defender, Herriges came up from her defensive position and reacted with a solid kick. "It was a beautiful floater," Piwoni said, adding she put the ball over the goalie's outstretched hands and right under the bar. "She was a good 25 yards out."

The score stayed at 1-0 in Kewaskum's favor until four minutes before half when the Cougars' Kalista Hodorff was able to beat KHS goalie, Taylor Cook, putting the score at 1-1.

Nicole Jandre scored the first of three CHS goals in the second half. Hailey Wagner's goal (assisted by Taylor Wilcox) in the 82nd minute put Campbellsport out front for the first time, and two minutes later, it was Wilcox scoring an unassisted goal.

"We were a little short-handed. The concussion bug has hit us," Piwoni said, forcing him to rearrange his lineup. Taylor Zuehlke was called up from the JVs to help out in this game and did a good job, as did Morgan Denlinger, who responded with a great effort both in the midfielder and defender spots. "She has made a huge jump in the last two games," the coach said about Denlinger, also noting Cook continues to improve and learn the game after playing softball for two years.

With the loss, the Indians fall to 0-2 in EC action. They are 1-2 overall. Campbellsport's record stands at 1-0 and 2-1-1.

The Lady Indians will entertain Waupun tonight (April 20) and host Ripon on Friday.. Game time is 4:45 p.m. "Hopefully the field will be dry by then," Piwoni said.

Indians Use Their Experience To Win Second Match

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High tennis team came within a couple points of a sweep in its match over St. Mary's Springs, but going 6-1 victory means the Indians are 2-0 mark early in the year.

"Our experience was just too much for the young Springs team," KHS coach Andrew Dahlberg said, pleased with where his team is without being able to get in a great deal of practice.

Junior Devin Schneider got his first win at No. 1 singles, taking care of Robert Miller in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1.

All the other wins were also in straight sets, including the 6-4, 6-3 effort at No. 3 singles by Matthew Krautkramer. "Krautkramer went up against an evenly matched player and edged out games with his serve," Dahlberg said.

Juniors Jared Chesak

and Brent Goeden improved to 2-0 behind a 6-1, 6-0 victory at No. 1 doubles and coach Peter Garcia, who works with the doubles teams, said, "They are starting to go to the net more ... I'm really proud of them for that." Aggressive play at the net and serving by Goeden and Chesak were strong.

Freshman Bryce Halvorsen saw his first action at No. 4 singles and played well, despite losing in a tie-breaker.

After matches against Roncalli and West Bend West, the Indians travel to Two Rivers for an Eastern Wisconsin Conference match against the Raiders on April 27.

New Schlosser To Lead KHS Golfers

By Judy Harlow

Its first through fourth players may have graduated, but this far this season sophomore Jacob Schlosser has adjusted nicely from playing No. 5 on the team to moving to the top spot for the Kewaskum High golf team.

Several of the other sophomores haven't had any difficulty moving up from JV to varsity competition. Both bode well for another successful season for the Indians.

New head coach Casey Scheel certainly likes what he has seen thus far from his Indians, especially Schlosser, the only remaining starter from the 2016 team, which had a magical season, winning the East Central Tournament by 37 strokes to easily capture the EC title. Schlosser has taken over No.1 honors, replacing his brother, Sam, who is currently playing golf for Concordia University in Mequon.

Junior Jordan Carlton saw some varsity action last spring and has settled into being the new No. 2 as veterans Andrew Otto, Sean Murray and Trent Griesmer have all graduated. Senior James Banks and sophomores Brad Buechel and Talon Ralph are now battling for those spots.

While the '16 team reached one goal, it missed an opportunity to qualify for the WIAA D-2 State Golf Tournament when it finished third, behind Waukesha Catholic Memorial and Sheboygan Falls, in the sectional Andrew Otto's effort in the event was enough to earn him a berth in the state competition, and he finished tied for 37th (out of 51 golfers) by shooting respective scores of 92 and 79 in the 36-hole event.

When asked which teams he expects will challenge for the EC title this year, Scheel said, "I'd have to put Plymouth and Waupun up there at the top. Both programs return all their varsity golfers from last year, and both teams were competitive last year."

Scheel went on, "My goal for the season is to compete with these two programs." Looking at his 23 candidates, which includes a lot of first-year players, Scheel said, "We are rather inexperienced at the varsity level."

Still, "Our sophomore class has a lot of talent, and they could all compete for a varsity spot, which also creates depth for our program. We will be relying on three sophomores early on in varsity matches to see how they perform," the new coach said.

Scheel is also excited to have five freshmen out of the sport, and, "I see a lot of potential out of that group."

Next week, the Indians have three matches, at Waupun for an EC mini-tour event (April 24), at Washington County Golf Course for the KML mini-tour (April 26) and at Hawthorne Hills for the Port Washington Invitational.

Managing Chronic Headaches

Contributed by: Lori Bersch, Licensed Massage Therapist

Do you experience headaches regularly? Do you brush off headaches thinking they are “normal?” and treat them with over-the-counter pain relievers? Do headaches affect your daily activities like spending time with your family, your job, and physical activities? Chronic headaches are a widespread health problem and affect people of all ages for various different reasons. Massage therapy can bring great relief for tension headache sufferers.

Tension headaches are the most common type of chronic headache. Often, tightness or tension in the neck and shoulders accompany a tension headache. While there are many contributing factors that may result in a headache, some of the most common include excessive stress, sleep deprivation, poor eating habits, eyestrain, tooth clenching, and bad posture. Active trigger points of the upper trapezius, sternocleidomastoid, suboccipitals, and temporalis muscles are often present with tension headaches. I see headache sufferers quite often, and my own experience continues to reconfirm that trigger point therapy can have both immediate and long lasting relief for tension type headaches and can help to reduce the need for medication.

People who suffer with chronic tension headaches may also have increased forward head posture and reduced neck mobility. To prevent headaches consider the importance of these three posture tips.

1.) Use a Posture Reminder: Set an alarm or place a reminder in your workspace. Every time you see this reminder, remember to sit up straight and focus on your neck posture. Pull your chin back so that your ear is aligned over your shoulder. I have a video pinned to the top of my Facebook page demonstrating this exercise. 2.) Strengthen your Neck Muscles: Stand with your back against a wall. Place a small cushion (pillow, towel, etc.) behind your head. Press your head gently into the cushion and hold for 10 seconds, then relax for a few seconds. Repeat 5 times. Perform this exercise regularly to strengthen neck muscles and to prevent postural distortion patterns from occurring. 3.) Consult a Posture Expert: Arrange an appointment with me to take posture images to see if forward head posture may be causing or predisposing you to chronic headaches. Posture imaging is one of the most accurate assessment tools that I use in my practice. If forward head posture is detected, consider the importance of orthopedic massage care that includes a comprehensive evaluation, implementation of correction strategies, and postural re-education habits.

Your posture has a positive or negative influence on the daily activities that you do. Good posture demonstrates confidence, balance, pain-free/restriction-free movement, and enhanced physiologic function of your body. Whereas poor posture causes additional stress to the body such as fascial adhesions, spinal degeneration, and diffuse pain. Simply correcting your posture can enhance the quality of your life and overall health. Most people are aware of the importance posture has on their health and well-being, yet many of us have never had a simple posture screen performed. Having a benchmark posture report is a great way to monitor our changing posture as we age.

The best health is achieved through prevention. Receiving regular Therapeutic Wellness Massage can help keep you stress free, pain free, and injury free.

For injury related headache conditions, such as those that accompany whiplash or posture dysfunction, Orthopedic Massage can aid in recovery and enhance the effects of other treatments such as physical therapy or chiropractic treatment. Some of the benefits my headache clients report include pain relief, increased range of neck motion and shoulder flexibility, reduced muscle spasms and cramps, decreased stress and anxiety, increased activity levels, and better sleep.

Doubles Teams Will Be The Strength Of KHS Tennis Program

By Judy Harlow

A lot of changes have been made on the 2017 boys tennis season at Kewaskum High School.

For starters, Julia Duquaine is no longer co-coaching the sport. She resigned several months ago, so Andrew Dahlberg has been named as the head coach, while volunteer Peter Garcia has been elevated to assistant coach.

The team also lost several seniors from a team that finished in a tie for fourth place (7-3) with Sheboygan Falls in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, which is made up of schools from the EW, the East Central Conference, which Kewaskum is a member of, and the Big East. Gone are Michael Prochnow and Noel Bindrich, who played No. 1 and 2 singles. Other regulars who have graduated are Cole Rahlf, who did a good job at No. 2 doubles and Nate Henaidis, a regular at No.

The cupboard isn't bare in the Indian camp, however, with its No. 1 doubles team and its No. 3 singles player back. A year ago, Brent Goeden and Jared Chesak qualified for the D-2 sectionals and were the only sophomore team in the field. Devin Schneider also advanced to sectionals. The experience should help all three young men this spring.

The Chesak/Goeden duo, which finished at 13-5, stays at No. 1 while Schneider makes a big jump to No. 1 singles.

Zach Brogaard and Tyler Schellinger were with other partners at Nos. 2 and 3 doubles a year ago, and this year they are together at No. 2. Dahlberg figures they will win a lot of matches.

Coach Dahlberg had a smaller turnout this spring with only 14 boys on the team, but several have shown they have potential. Sophomores Kyle Loehr and Matthew Krautkramer have looked good at Nos. 2 and 3 singles, while junior Gavin Curtain has teamed up with senior Zach Fahrenkrug to play No. 3 doubles. They are currently 2-0 on the season.

“We are looking forward to seeing the growth of our players from last year,” the coach said, adding, “With a young team comes hope for the future.”

When asked about the strength of the team, Dahlberg said, “Our doubles teams are our strength, and we are looking for them to carry us throughout the year.”

Concerning the top teams in the conference, Dahlberg said, “I would imagine the usual suspects will be at the top with Kohler, Roncalli and Plymouth being strong. Our goals would be to be near the top of the conference and improving throughout the year.”

Kohler is the EWC defending champion and is led by state singles champion, Casey Johnson.

From The Desk Of: Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner

Today Congressman Sensenbrenner released his weekly column about constituents' concerns over President Trump's budget proposal:

At nearly every town hall meeting that I've held since President Trump released his budget proposal, constituents have raised concerns over various programs and suggested cuts within the proposal. I'd like to speak to this because ultimately any presidential proposal is little more than a wish list. Congress holds the power of the purse, and when it comes to discretionary spending, Members of Congress carefully consider everything on the table, review current spending levels, and identify spending priorities before passing a budget.

Currently, our national debt is nearly $20 trillion, making it critical that any budget passed by Congress include significant cuts in order to decrease spending. This will require difficult but necessary decisions about our national priorities. It will not be an easy process, but it must be done for the health and continued success of our country.

Concerning the budget, it's important to understand what Congress can and cannot do. Federal spending is divided into three categories: discretionary spending, mandatory spending, and interest on the debt.

Discretionary spending is the portion of the national budget that Congress decides through the appropriations process. Things such as funding for federal agencies, military and defense, and international affairs fall in this category.

Mandatory spending is not included in the annual appropriations process and supports entitlement programs such as Social Security and Medicare. Spending levels are determined on eligibility, and based on how many Americans apply and are approved for benefits. Since mandatory spending is outside the appropriations process, the only way to change spending levels would be for Congress to change eligibility rules. The majority of our federal budget is mandatory spending.

Interest on the debt is the interest our federal government pays on its accumulated debt. This does not include the interest income received by the government for the assets it owns. Concerning our overall budget, America spends the least of its taxpayer dollars on paying back the national debt.

It's also important to understand that no president, Republican or Democrat, has ever received everything he requested in his budget proposal. That means that most of what is outlined in President Trump's budget proposal will not pass through Congress without at least some changes.

As Congress begins the appropriations process, I will remain conscientious not only about our rising national debt, but also the necessity of our government programs and the impacts potential cuts will have on such programs.

THE KEWASKUM STATESMAN OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26.

The remaining balance will be addressed with the phone company after 30 days. The audit review that took place during the week of March 13th went smoothly. The audit report will be shared with the Board in May.

Tracie Sette reported that Congressman Sensenbrenner will be at the Village Hall on March 31st for a 30 minute visit which will be open to the public.

Ben Propson updated the Board on the upcoming WPDES Plant Permit. The proposed changes were accepted and now the permit is in the public comment phase. Ben explained to the Board the benefits of hiring the engineering firm Short, Elliott, & Hendrickson (SEH) including consistency between wastewater and storm water permits, savings including trading credits, and the good working relationships already established with the firm. The work will be finished by the end of the year and will remain inside the budget. Jim Wright motioned to approve hiring SEH to perform MS4 work. Dave Spenner seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

Jim Hovland announced the Plan Commission meeting originally scheduled for March 28, 2017 has been canceled.

Dave Zehren announced the Park & Recreation Committee Meeting will be held on March 24, 2017 at 11 a.m. and will include information regarding inflatables.

Dave Spenner reported on the March 13, 2017 Library Board meeting. Discussions took place regarding the plans for recently received gifted funds. The size and scope of projects may need to be scaled down.

Jim Hovland reported on the March 8, 2017 Mid-Moraine Legislative Sub-Committee Meeting. Dwey Strobel was in attendance at the meeting and discussed transportation funding.

A Discussion ensued regarding the possible action on Early Lifting of Winter Parking Regulations. The Board agreed to leave the winter parking restrictions as is with only eleven days left.

Matt Heiser discussed the need for a new roof at the Waste Water Treatment Plant garage/lab area. Since this is a capital expenditure, it is not in the current budget. Higher Ground Roofing Company provided a quote to the Village in 2011 that they will still honor. After a discussion the Board agreed to allow the Department of Public Works to choose between a 10 and 20 year warranty. Richard Knoebel motioned to approve of the new WWTP roof in the amount $24,696.00 with the addition of a 20 year warranty if needed. James Hovland seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

Chief Mark Groeschel discussed the need for EMT hours to be increased to cover time slots during the first shift hours. Funding will be generated from ambulance rates. Richard Knoebel motioned to approve change in EMT hours from 160-200. Dave Zehren seconded. Voice vote. Motion carried.

Currently all municipalities participating in the Multi-Jurisdictional Comprehensive 2035 Plan are required to update to the 2050 plan. The county has entered into an agreement with the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (SEWRPC) to update the plan. There would be no cost to the village, only staff time to be incurred. James Hovland motioned to approve the village to work with SEWRPC regarding updated 2050 plan. James Wright seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

In 2009 SEWRPC created a Village comprehensive plan which now requires updating. Matt Heiser is recommending a minimal approach which would cost $1,000 - $2,500. James Wright motioned to approve an update to the Village comprehensive plan. James Hovland seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

Matt Heiser explained Resolution 2017-01 which includes remaining balances from 2015 budget to be transferred into the Designated Fund account in the amount of $80,958.90. He also recommends a transfer of $24,742.80 from the Designated Fund to (3) sub-accounts to cover costs associated with engineering/legal analysis performed. Dave Spenner motioned to approve Resolution 2017-01. James Wright seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

Matt Heiser explained Resolution 2017-02 which accounts for unanticipated revenues (donations) to the Police Department in 2016. The resolution accounts for the revenues and expenditures. Dave Spenner motioned to approve Resolution 2017-02. James Wright seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

Chief Bishop recommended approval of Operators License applications with the exception of one, Kiana Anderson due to issues identified in the background check. James Wright motioned to approve the operator's licenses with the exception of Ms. Anderson. Dave Spenner seconded. Voice vote, motion carried.

Chief Groeschel made mention of the Fire Department annual fund raiser taking place Saturday night - The Soup Sampler.

Motion by Richard Knoebel to adjourn at 7:38 p.m. second by James Wright and carried by roll call vote. Laubach-aye, Knoebel-aye, Zehren-aye, Scheunemann-aye, Spenner-aye, Hovland-aye, Wright - aye (7-0-0).

STATE OF WISCONSIN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Review for the Town of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin shall hold its first meeting on the 10th day of May, 2017 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Town of Kewaskum Community Center, 9019 Kettle Moraine Drive, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Please be advised of the following requirements to appear before the board of review and procedural requirements if appearing before the board:

1. No person will be allowed to appear before the board of review, to testify to the board by telephone, or to contest the amount of any assessment of real or personal property if the person has refused a reasonable written request by certified mail of the assessor to view the property.

2. After the first meeting of the board of review and before the board's final adjournment, no person who is scheduled to appear before the board of review may contact, or provide information to a member of the board about the person's objection, except at a session of the board.

3. The board of review may not hear an objection to the amount or valuation of property unless, at least 48 hours before the board's first scheduled meeting, the objector provides to the board's clerk written or oral notice of an intent to file an objection, except that upon a showing of good cause and the submission of a written objection, the board shall waive that requirement during the first two hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, and the board may waive that requirement up to the end of the fifth day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than five days with proof of extraordinary circumstances for failure to meet the 48-hour notice requirement and failure to appear before the board of review during the first two hours of the board's first scheduled meeting.

4. Objections to the amount or valuation of property shall first be made in writing and filed with the clerk of the board of review within the first two hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, except that, upon evidence of extraordinary circumstances, the board may waive that equipment up to the end of the fifth day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than five days. The board may require objections to the amount or valuation of property to be submitted on forms approved by the Department of Revenue, and the board shall require that any forms include stated valuations of the property in question. Persons who own land and improvements to that land may object to the aggregate valuation of that land and improvements to that land, but no person who owns land and improvements to that land may object only to the valuation of that land or only to the valuation of improvements to that land. No person may be allowed in any action or proceedings to question the amount or valuation of property unless the written objection has been filed and that person in good faith presented evidence to the board in support of the objections and made full disclosure before the board, under oath, of all of that person's property liable to assessment in the district and the value of that property. The requirement that objections be in writing may be waived by express action of the board.

5. When appearing before the board of review, the objecting person shall specify in writing the person's estimate of the value of the land and of the improvements that are the subject of the person's objection and specify the information that the person used to arrive at that estimate.

6. No person may appear before the board of review, testify to the board by telephone, or object to a valuation if that valuation was made by the assessor or the objector using the income method of valuation, unless the person supplies the assessor with all the information about income and expenses, as specified in the assessor's manual under s.73.03 (2a), Wis. Stats., that the assessor requests. The Town of Kewaskum has an ordinance for the confidentiality of information about income and expenses that is provided to the assessor under this paragraph that provides exceptions for persons using information in the discharge of duties imposed by law or the duties of their officer or by order of the court. *The information that is provided under this paragraph, unless a court determined that it is inaccurate, is not subject to the right of inspection and copying under s. 19.35(1), Wis. Stats.

7. The board shall hear upon oath, by telephone, all ill or disabled persons who present to the board a letter from a physician, surgeon, or osteopath that confirms their illness or disability. No other persons may testify by telephone unless the Board, in its discretion, has determined to grant a property owner's or their representative's request to testify under oath by telephone or written statement.

8. No person may appear before the board of review, testify to the board by telephone, or contest the amount of any assessment unless, at least 48 hours before the first meeting of the board, or at least 48 hours before the objection is heard if the objection is allowed under s.70.47 (3) (a), Wis. Stats., that person provides to the clerk of the board of review notice as to whether the person will ask for the removal of a member of the board of review and, if so, which member, and provides a reasonable estimate of the length of time the hearing will take.

Grow An Abundant Tomato Harvest In A Pot

By Melinda Myers

Harvest and enjoy the garden-fresh flavor of tomatoes right outside your kitchen. Grow them in containers set on your patio, balcony, deck or stairs. You'll enjoy the convenience of harvesting fresh tomatoes just a few feet away from where you prepare your meals. And your guests will enjoy harvesting fresh tomatoes to add to their salad or sandwich.

Tomatoes need warm air and soil to thrive. Containers give you the ability to jump start the season. Plant tomatoes in containers earlier than in the garden and leave them outdoors when it's warm (but bring them inside whenever there's a danger of frost.). Protect your plants with the help of season-extending products like cloches, red tomato teepees or garden fabrics. These will help warm the soil and air around the plants, reducing the number of days to your first harvest.

Select flavorful and disease-resistant varieties for your container gardens. Consider 'determinate' tomatoes that are more compact and generally less than four feet tall. But don't eliminate your favorite indeterminate tomato. Just provide a strong tall support for these plants that continue to grow six feet and taller throughout the season.

Grow your tomatoes in a sunny spot that receives at least eight hours of direct sunlight. You'll grow the biggest harvest and reduce the risk of disease.

Fill your container with a quality well-drained potting mix. Add a slow release organic fertilizer to your potting mix if needed. This type of fertilizer feeds the plants for several months. Give the plants an additional feeding midseason or as directed on the fertilizer package.

Check soil moisture daily, water thoroughly and often enough to keep the soil slightly moist. Maintaining consistent soil moisture means healthier plants and fewer problems with blossom end rot. This disorder is not a deadly disease, but it causes the bottom of the first set of fruit to turn black.

Reduce your workload by using self-watering pots like the Gardener's Revolution® Classic Tomato Planter (gardeners.com). These pots have a five-gallon reservoir for holding water that moves up into the soil to the plant roots as needed. This means you'll be filling the reservoir less often than you would normally water other planters.

Stake or tower your plants to save space, increase air circulation around and light penetration into the plant. You'll further reduce the risk of disease and increase productivity by growing vertically.

So start gathering your favorite tomato recipes now, as soon you'll be harvesting armloads of tomatoes to use in salsas, salads, sauces and of course BLTs.

Manufacturing Spotlight: 3D Printing At Kondex In Lomira

In the fast-paced world of manufacturing, gaining efficiencies is a continuous improvement process. Whether for existing or new product development, Kondex is constantly looking for ways to maintain a high-quality standard while streamlining its processes. Our latest investment in 3D printing is doing just that, while leaving us with some pretty cool souvenirs!

While primarily used for new product prototypes, Kondex has found a variety of benefits with 3D-printed components. This technology has been incredibly helpful for manufacturing fixture design.

"You can't beat having a physical part in hand to test set-ups," said Kondex Vice President of Engineering and Sales Keith Johnson. "We've traditionally used CAD files to set up tooling or fixturing, but this can be misleading in that you're still dealing with a 2D plane on screen."

Kondex is now taking its 3D-printed components and using them to set fixtures – eliminating any question on how the production part will fit, and greatly reducing time spent on trials or in waiting for a casting or forging to be made. This process also opens the door to creating patterns for casting molds, as well as performing comparative analysis between the printed product and forgings. In some cases, 3D-printed components can also be used in functional testing to prove concepts and product objectives.

"Incorporating 3D printing in our mix of capabilities broadens our additive manufacturing processes," Johnson noted. "With 3D printing during the initial design and laser cladding technologies as a closing production step, we're providing our customers with greater accuracy and quality through all phases of manufacturing."

Contact us to discuss how 3D printing can benefit your next project, or learn about our many manufacturing capabilities.

Kondex has added a 3-D printer to its facility. The printer is primarily used for new product prototypes, but Kondex has also found a variety of benefits with 3D-printed components.

Life Matters
 – Speaker Promotes
 Respecting All People

Last week's assemblies began with a performance by AJ (Ardan James), the Animated Illusionist, who has opened for comedians such as Ray Romano and Howie Mandell, and bands like Skillet and Jars of Clay.

Following the opening entertainment, Lenz gave his message about dignity through a talk filled with humor.

As Lenz laced his speech with humor, the gymnasium filled with laughter.

But the students grew quiet as Lenz told them about his best friend, Ronnie, who seemed to have everything going for him. He was good looking, smart and athletic.

But inside, Ronnie was hurting. Lenz told the students about how he remembers finding out that Ronnie had committed suicide. Ronnie didn't know how valuable he was.

Everyone has value, Lenz said.

To illustrate the point, Lenz used a $5 bill.

If that $5 bill is verbally or physically abused, it is still worth $5, Lenz pointed out. Even if it is neglected, it is still worth $5.

"As long as it has its identification number, it hasn't lost its value. You are so much more than a number. You are a human being," he said.

It was a message Lenz left with the students.

"No matter what people have done to you, you have not lost your value. You have a dignity that nobody can take away," he said.

Bob Lenz, founder of Dignity Revolution, speaks to Kewaskum High School students about respecting others during an assembly on Thursday, April 13.

Inspire Washington County Brings Career Opportunities To Students

– Local School Districts Support New Workforce Program For Youth

By Anne Trautner

Like other employers across the country, area businesses are seeing a steady exodus of talent, experience and skill in the workforce as baby boomers head into retirement.

On top of that problem, many employers in Washington County have reported they are experiencing a shortage of work-ready candidates to fill the void, according to a Moraine Park Technical College survey.

Meanwhile, many high school students are not aware of what careers are available to them. They do not necessarily know what the jobs entail or how to qualify for them.

In an effort to connect high school students with available careers at area businesses, a new program called Inspire Washington County has been created. The program is funded by United Way of Washington County.

Inspire Washington County aims to facilitate career mentoring options between businesses and schools. In addition, it strives to develop county-wide standards for work- and life-ready skills.

School district administrators from Kewaskum, West Bend, Hartford and Slinger met at Moraine Park Technical College on April 5 to discuss implementing the new program.

The school districts plan to start training their staffs on the Inspire web platform this summer so that students can start making business connections through Inspire Washington County in the fall.

"I think this is an awesome relationship and it's going to be something really special," said James Smasal, Superintendent of the Kewaskum School District. "Giving students these experiences prior to graduating from high school will help them make effective career and post-secondary educational plans."

Inspire Washington County will coordinate career-based learning opportunities with business partners. In addition, the program aims to integrate employer profiles with students' academic and career planning efforts.

Similar programs are currently in place in Sheboygan, Milwaukee and Dane counties.

Until now, Washington County has not had an official program to help with career training.

Partnerships that have existed between schools and area businesses have been based on personal relationships between a teacher and business person in the community, according to Nikki Kiss, Inspire Washington County's director of educational partnerships.

"If that teacher left the school district or if an employee left that company, that connection would be gone," Kiss said. "What makes this different is that it is systematic. Instead of having relationships dependent on one person, you now have people that are engaged and committed into making this initiative work."

With Inspire Washington County, if a teacher would like to bring in a representative from a local company to enhance a lesson, there will be contacts for the teacher to reach out to.

"We are trying to make that easy step for that teacher to make that real life application in the classroom," Kiss said.

Career-based opportunities will be available for students, whether that be a job shadow, a plant tour or a conversation with a mentor, according to Sarah Malchow, director of business development for Inspire Washington County.

Eventually, students may be able to work at a company for an entire quarter. The hours could be during the school day, or could be after school or on the weekends, depending on what works for the individual employer and the student.

"It is almost like a job shadow on steroids because then they get to rotate to different departments during that course of nine weeks and they get paid for their work time there," Kiss said.

Employers will pay a fee to participate in the program.

Their participation may range from providing mentors to connecting students virtually on a messaging board to creating job internships.

"Businesses will benefit because they will see students who want to go into that business and convert into employees. We are thinking of this as a sustainable pipeline of talent development," Malchow said.

Charter investors in the program include Broan-NuTone, Commerce State Bank, Hartford Finishing, Kerry, Legendary Whitetails, Maysteel, Quad/Graphics, Server Products, Signicast, Snow-Way and Steel Craft.

"Basically, this is making an investment in three, four, five years from now, so students have this experience with the company, they know what the educational needs are for this job, they can connect with the company, and then, God willing, they can come back, work at that company or transition right out of high school," Malchow said. "It's about raising awareness, making those connections between education and opportunities and then working."
