Kewaskum Community Remembers 9/11

By Anne Trautner

The crowd gathered under the clear blue sky Monday morning in front of the Kewaskum Municipal Annex Building and remembered.

They remembered how it had been a beautiful, sunny day 16 years earlier.

They remembered how on that fateful day in 2001, hijackers aboard American Airlines Flight 11 crashed the plane into the North Tower of the World Trade Center at 8:46 a.m.

They remembered how a second hijacked airliner, United Airlines Flight 175 from Boston, crashed into the South Tower of the World Trade Center and exploded at 9:03 a.m.

At 9:37 a.m., Flight 77 smashed into the Pentagon. Five minutes later, Flight 93 crashed in Pennsylvania.

And they remembered the 2, 996 people who lost their lives in the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001.

One of the people who was killed in the World Trade Center was Andrea Haberman, a 25-year-old Kewaskum High School graduate.

To honor Andrea and the others lost in the 9/11 attacks, about 250 people assembled in front of the Annex building around a steel beam recovered from the North Tower for the 9/11 ceremony.

Among those gathered at Monday's service were Kewaskum High School students, Holy Trinity students, members of the Kewaskum Fire Department, Washington Sheriff's Office, Village Board, American Legion Auxiliary and other community members, as well as Andrea Haberman's sister, Julie Osmus.

Kewaskum Dairy Queen Receives National Attention For Being Politically Incorrect

By Anne Trautner

Kevin Scheunemann, who is the owner of the Kewaskum Dairy Queen and president of the Village of Kewaskum, has received national attention this week for a "politically incorrect" sign he has posted at the Dairy Queen.

About four years ago, Scheunemann put up a sign in his Dairy Queen that says that his restaurant is politically incorrect and has been known to say things such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy Easter" and "In God We Trust," and that the restaurant gives free sundaes to veterans on Veterans Day.

"It was transparency that there are expressions of God and country in the restaurant," said Scheunemann, who is an Evangelical Christian who attends St. Lucas Lutheran Church in Kewaskum.

Scheunemann had not received much attention about the sign until last week when Ashley Coleman from Oregon posted a picture of Scheunemann's sign on the national Dairy Queen Facebook page.

"I find this extremely offensive. Posted to the front door at the Kewaskum, WI DQ. Please speak with the franchise owner," Coleman wrote in a message that she posted with the picture of the sign.

"It got hundreds of comments, and by Friday it was in the thousands, just on that one post," Scheunemann said.

Channel 58 out of Milwaukee picked up the story and broadcast it last Friday evening.

Then on Monday, Ben Shapiro, editor of The Daily Wire, a conservative podcast, posted the story.

"He had 20,000 comments within half an hour," Scheunemann said.

Community Voices Opinions On Proposed Park - Majority Support Creation Of New Park At Townhall Meeting

By Anne Trautner

It was standing room only as about 160 people packed inside the Kewaskum Municipal Building Annex last Wednesday to voice their opinions on whether the Kewaskum Village Board should accept a donation of 31 acres of undeveloped land with from the James D. Reigle family to be used as a village park.

The consensus of the crowd was in favor of the proposed park, although final details of the plan still need to be determined.

The Village Board had asked community members to provide input by either submitting letters prior to the meeting or voicing their opinions at the meeting. The board is expected to vote on the issue at its meeting on Monday, Sept. 18.

The land, which is located off Edgewood Road in Kewaskum, has an assessed value of $649,000. If converted into a park, the plan is for the land to offer field space for soccer, baseball and softball, as well as other recreational activities.

"This is just a great opportunity to not only to help our park development, but also to advance the Village of Kewaskum," said Jason Strobel, who has lived in Kewaskum for 36 years and is the president of the Kewaskum A's baseball organization.

Next, the Associated Press picked up the story, and Scheunemann started receiving interview requests from radio stations in Madison and national news outlets.

By Tuesday, Coleman had withdrawn her Facebook post, but Scheunemann continued to get reaction from people across the nation.

Overwhelming, the reaction has been in support of Scheunemann, he said.

People have been sending Scheunemann statements such as: "Thank you for your support! I have been a Philadelphia police officer for almost 31 years. The thanks are far and few between and that's OK. But people like you make it all worthwhile through your kindness and recognition."

The Kewaskum DQ sign says that if anyone is offended by the politically incorrect language, they can contact Scheunemann and arrange a designated "snowflake safe space."

Scheunemann has been trying to put his finger on why the sign is offensive.

"The only thing I can glean from the thousands and thousands of comments on social media is that the word 'snowflake'

Kevin Scheunemann and his 11-month-old daughter Piper Rose pose beside a "politically incorrect" sign at Dairy Queen in Kewaskum. Scheunemann, who is owner of the restaurant and village president, has received national attention for the sign.

is offensive. And I did not know that," Scheunemann said.

According to urbandictionary.com, a "snowflake" is a "hypersensitive, irrational person who can't stand to have their world views challenged, or be offended in any perceived or even slightest of ways."

On Tuesday, Scheunemann was featured on the Jeff Wagner Show on WTMJ, and the national Dairy Queen's corporate response to Coleman's complaint came under fire.

The corporate response was: "American Dairy Queen Corporation does not encourage our independently owned and operated franchisees to post non-business related messages in their locations or on their external reader boards. This sign expresses the views of this independent owner only and does not speak for ADQ Corporation or any of our other independent franchise owners. We expect our franchisees and workers to treat every person who walks through our doors with the utmost dignity and respect. Nothing less is acceptable."

Scheunemann said he has been overwhelmed by the amount of support he has received from the public and that he never expected to receive this much attention.

"I was hoping it would die down, but it's an issue that I'm trying to keep on top of while still running the business. I never thought it was going to get this much press," Scheunemann said.

On Friday, Sept. 8, at 5:30 a.m. emergency crews were dispatched to a report of a semi on fire near a structure in the 5500 block of Aurora Road in the Town of Addison. Upon the deputy's arrival, the semi was fully engulfed. Fire personnel had to battle the fire with the knowledge that the fuel tanks were full of diesel. Fire crews were able to extinguish the vehicle without any damage to the surrounding area, but the vehicle was a total loss. The preliminary investigation revealed the vehicle was last operated at 9:30 p.m. the previous evening and may have experienced an electrical failure.

Traffic Pattern To Change Near School Construction

Beginning next week, drivers will see a new traffic flow sign as they exit the parking lot located between Kewaskum's middle school and high school.

Due to the school district's construction project, there has been some traffic congestion at that corner at the beginning and end of the school day.

To alleviate the congestion, traffic exiting the parking lot between the middle school and high school will not be able to turn left to head south down Reigle Drive, beginning next week.

Instead, traffic exiting the parking lot between the two schools will have to turn right and drive west on Wildlife Drive.

The new traffic pattern will be in effect from 7:15 to 7:45 a.m. and from 2:45 to 3:15 p.m. on school days.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Arlene Gutjahr, who passed away 30 years ago, September 12, 1987.

In our hearts you will always stay,
Loved and remembered every day;

Your name is often mentioned,

Our thoughts are with you still;

You haven't been forgotten,

And never will.

A daily thought, a silent tear,

A constant wish that you were here;

Memories we keep one by one,

Things you've said, things you've done.

To be together in the same old way,

Would be the wish we'd make today.

Loving you always and forgetting you never.
The Gutjahr Family

IN MEMORY of JOHN "JACK" Zalewski, who passed away seven years ago, September 16, 2010.

When you lose a loved one you'll never be quite the same.

There's always a little teardrop at the mention of his name.

Time may ease the heartache and eyes no longer cry.

But there's a little voice inside that never says "Goodbye."

To some he may be forgotten, to some a part of the past.

To us who loved and lost him, his memory will always last.

God has you safely in his keeping, we have you forever in our hearts.

Missed deeply by,
Diane Zalewski

The little village of St. Lawrence, northwest of Schleisingville, was threatened with extinction last Sunday by a conflagration which took the efforts of several neighboring fire departments to get it under control after the most desperate fight. The fire broke out in the afternoon, probably from spontaneous combustion, in the Miller Cheese Box factory. It was discovered by the little Miller girl who notified her brother. He gave the alarm. The blaze got a good start and spread so rapidly that the factory was down in fifteen minutes. The Hartford and Schleisingerville fire departments were both notified and assisted in checking the flames. In this they succeeded only after two houses and two barns had burned to the ground. It looked as if the entire village was doomed. The St. Lawrence fire department put up a good fight until the other departments came and assisted them. The buildings destroyed by the conflagration are the Miller factory together, with the barn, dwelling house, shed and the residence and barn of Mrs. Emma Pammelsberger. The damage is estimated at about $10,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

PREVENTING DIVERTICULITIS

Small pouches (diverticula) along the walls of the colon sometimes become inflamed or infected, causing a painful attack (diverticulitis). Some lifestyle changes may help reduce the risk of diverticulitis. Maintaining a healthy weight may be helpful. According to a recent study, obesity was linked to a 50% increased risk of diverticulitis. Regular exercise appears to also reduce the risk, as well as consuming a high-fiber diet. In one study, eating a highfiber diet lowered risk of attacks by 40% when compared to a low-fiber diet. To add fiber to your diet, eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, whole grains, beans and legumes.

Saturday, September 30 - Sturgeon Fest, 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. - Free. It's not every day you get to release a baby sturgeon into Lake Michigan. Head to Lakeshore State Park in downtown Milwaukee for the 12th annual Sturgeon Fest on September 30, 2017 and enjoy a day of free, family fun and make a huge difference while doing it. Sturgeon Fest celebrates Riveredge's 25 year partnership with the Wisconsin DNR to bring back Lake Sturgeon, a critically important species both environmentally and culturally, to the Milwaukee River, where they haven't been seen in over 100 years. Be a part of this amazing comeback story and join thousands of other community members when you sponsor a young sturgeon and hand release them into Lake Michigan. You'll even get a tracking code to register your fish so you can be notified if the DNR finds your fish in the future. Some sturgeon can live up to 150 years, so you've got plenty of chances. The festivities continue all day with games and activities for kids, kayak demonstrations, prairie tours, educational booths, delicious local food trucks, and so much more. Sturgeon sponsorship for 2017 is now open! Check out our brand spanking new Sturgeon Fest website for all the details on this awesome family festival, the sturgeon project, and how you can help bring back a prehistoric species.

Crooked Lake Sports Club Donates Profits From Tournament To Hurricane Harvey Victims

The Crooked Lake Sports Club decided to donate the profits from its Labor Day Weekend Horseshoe Tournament held on Saturday, Sept. 2, at Hoefft's Resort to the victims of Hurricane Harvey.

A donation of $400 was made to the Red Cross for that purpose.

The club has a charity budget and donates to local organizations each year, including annual amounts to Beachwood Fire Department and Batavia First Responders. The club also awards two $1,000 scholarships per year to graduating seniors —one to a member and one to Kewaskum High School.

They stock fish in Crooked Lake when the DNR grants permission, helped pay for a pier for kids fishing, donated to both Kewaskum and Campbellsport food panties and many other local projects over the years.

The Club holds an ice fishing event to raise funds to help fund these donations. This will be the 34th year and it will be held on January 27th on Crooked Lake. There are fish prizes in five categories, food and raffles throughout the day.

For more information take a look at their Facebook page.

Many people sat and listened to the music of Sammy Ray Marshall at Dundee Mill Day on Saturday, Sept. 9. The day was filled with fun events in an effort to raise money for some repairs to the grounds at the Dundee Mill & Park.

CAMPUS NEWS

—Anita Anderson, from Allenton, is among the student musicians from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Warhawk Marching Band who performed at the Green Bay Packers home opener on Sunday, Sept. 10.

The 170-member band was invited to perform at halftime at Lambeau Field in front of a potential crowd of more than 80,000 people.

"We are thrilled to be able to return to Lambeau Field," said Glenn Hayes, director of bands at UW-Whitewater. "The students have been working with a strong focus and determination to give an incredible performance after only being together for eight days of rehearsal. I could not be more proud of each and every one of them!"

The band's performance is titled, "Marvel at Us," and will pay homage to the musical scores of the blockbuster Marvel Comics films, including "Spider-Man" and "Iron Man."

Anderson, who is studying at UW-Whitewater, plays trombone in the marching band.

Fans who couldn't make it to Lambeau Field were able to watch the band rehearse at Perkins Stadium at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 9. UW-Whitewater will also post photos and videos of the marching band's Lambeau Field experience on the campus's social media channels.

Eileen Eckert Shares Her Stories Of The Frozen Water Trade

On Tuesday Sept. 19, Eileen Eckert of Barton Historical Society will share her memories of the forgotten industry of ice harvesting.

The event will be held at The History Center of Washington County/Old Courthouse Museum 320 S 5th Ave., West Bend from 6:30 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.

Before electric refrigerators and mechanical ice making technology, ice was cut from frozen ponds, lakes, and rivers and sold to meat packing and brewing companies, as well as to residential ice box owners. Explore the many inventions that enhanced ice production, an industry that rivaled cotton in the 19th century.

Eileen will also present her drawings and paintings that depict the rise and fall of the ice harvesting industry.

There is no charge for this event.

Families Take Aim At Helping Community At Kewaskum Kiwanis Club's Turkey Shoot

By Anne Trautner

Logan Kell took aim with the .22 rifle and made the shot, first try.

He hit his target and won a frozen turkey.

So 13-year-old Logan ran through the gauntlet, receiving dozens of high fives for accomplishing his feat at the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club's Turkey Shoot, held at the West Bend Barton Sportsmen Club on Saturday, Sept. 9. It was a rite of passage as a member of the Rettler clan.

The Rettler family has been going to the Kewaskum Kiwanis Turkey Shoot since 1958. Every year, there are more than 40 family members that come out for the Turkey Shoot, and some of the Rettlers remember the early years.

Back when the event started 66 years ago, participants would shoot actual live turkeys. Now they still get to take a shot, but they win a frozen turkey.

The event is fun for the entire family, but it also benefits the Kewaskum community.

"Without the Rettler family, this tradition would not continue," Kewaskum Kiwanis member Gary Gavin said.

"All the money we make goes back into the community with an emphasis on kids," Kiwanis President Bret Richards said.

In addition to helping youth activities and offering scholarships, the Kiwanis Club has made donations to organizations such as the Kewaskum Police Department, the Kewaskum Fire Department and the Kewaskum Community Pantry.

"If the new park goes through, the Kiwanians will be supporting that park as much as possible," Richards said.

At Saturday's Turkey Shoot, participants took their best shot at the rifle range and a pistol range. They also were able to shoot with a compound bow as well as a conventional bow and arrow. There was a six-station trap shoot and a spot to take a golf shot.

Plus, there was an opportunity to enjoy food, beverages, raffles and other activities.

"It's one of our most labor intensive events, that's for sure," Richards said.

Fortunately, the Kiwanis Club gets plenty of help every year. This year, members of the Kewaskum High School Key Club, Boy Scout Troop 744 and the Kewaskum High School trap team were all helping out.

In addition, West Bend Barton Sportsmen's Club president, Sasquatch, is always supportive, and Regal Ware has been at the event for decades.

Spikers See Win Streak Come To An End In Close Match

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High volleyball team is certainly playing better this year than it did a year ago, but the Indians still have to learn how to come up with points at the end of close game in order to come out on top.

That was the scenario on September 7 when the Indians battled a good Winneconne team at home. All four games against the Wolves were close, but the Indians came up just short, losing three in a row (21-25, 17-25 and 25-27) after winning the opener, 25-23.

With the win, the Wolves improved to 2-0 in East Central play, while Kewaskum ended a five-match win streak and is now 1-1 in the EC and 7-4 overall.

Six-foot senior Elizabeth Lightner is still out because of illness, and the Indians are trying their best to win without her.

"Winneconne is a good team. We got frustrated at times and lost control of our game plan," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "In the end, we were four points away from the W. It is a frustrating loss, but we fought hard."

Sophomore Brelynn Scoles stepped up big in the front line for KHS, coming up with a team-leading 10 kills. Seniors Amanda Schaller and Sarah Butschlick were next with seven and six, respectively.

Butschlick led the team in blocks with 5.5, while Carolyn Stockhausen and Morgan Kappler added 4.5 and 3.5, respectively.

The dig leaders on the night were Hailey Hasenberg and Scoles, who came up with 14 and 11, and three girls, Butschlick, Tara Theusch and Hasenberg, all served two aces. Butschlick and Mogan Denlinger topped the team in assists, with 17 and 15.

"We made them earn the victory. Towards the end, we scared ourselves and lost our aggressiveness," Leitzke said. "We will learn from this and move forward. This team showed a great amount of character tonight."

The Indians are at Ripon this evening (September 14) for a conference match.

On September 5, the Indians turned back Mayville in three straight games, 25-21, 25-19 and 25-12.

"It was a good win for us. We did what we needed to. We controlled the match from early in Set 1 all the way to the finish. We had three keys to the game, and we followed the game plan well," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "We still aren't playing to our best, but we continue to work hard to get there, and that is great to see."

Leading the way in the front line for KHS were seniors Morgan Kappler and Amanda Schaller. Kappler provided seven kills, 1.5 blocks and six digs while Schaller had five kills, as did Holly Henk.

Brooke Espitia had a team-high three aces on the night, while Sara Butschlick was the block leader with 3.5; Morgan Denlinger and Espitia had nine and seven assists, respectively; and Hailey Hasenberg was flying all over the court digging up ball, 19 in the three games.

PRs Highlight Runners' Efforts At Mayville

By Judy Harlow

The Number One and Two runners continue to shine, but the Kewaskum High cross country teams still need the others to move in the pack if they are to be successful in the final team standings.

Justin Reck and Andrew Carlton placed ninth and 12th, respectively, while Maela Olla and Alyssa Butz finished eighth and 11th in the annual Mike Hulbert Invitational hosted by Mayville on September 7, leading the KHS boys to a ninth place out of 29 teams (255 points) and the girls to 10th place out of 22 teams (302 points).

"It's a similar situation for the boys and the girls," KHS coach Kris Evans said over the past week-end about his squads. "We're working hard in practice to get those Number three, four and five runners closer together."

Sheboygan Lutheran

won the boys team title, coming in with 89 points, followed by Berlin and Ripon, two East Central teams, who finished tied for second with 104. Kiel was fourth with 106.

On the girls' side, it was powerhouse Random Lake taking the trophy with 60 points, 17 ahead of Kiel (77) and 40 ahead of Berlin's 117.

Random Lake's Elise Large won her third straight individual title, covering the 5,000 meters in 19 minutes, 17.07 seconds (19:17.07). In the boys race, Kiel's Ashton Arnold had an excellent outing, covering the course in a personal record (PR) of 16:53.41 to lead the boys.

Reck has started off his senior season with three excellent races, including this one where he crossed the finish line in a season-best 17:37.35, while Carlton was just seven seconds back in 17:44.46.

"We had a lot of PRs for the season," Evans said. "Mr. Reck and Mr. Carlton are running close to their lifetime bests even at this time in the season ... It's awesome."

The other KHS counters were Kyle Toth, 54th, 19:08.62; Blake Miller, 71st, 19:34.11 and young freshman Gannon Kreuser, 114th in 20:32.35. All three were PRs.

Evans can count on Olla always being right around the top 10, and she did it again, placing eighth in 21:06.27, while the freshman Butz turned in a PR of 21:21.90.

The other counters were Courtney Zarda, 81st, 23:57.76; Emma Penfield, 88th, 24:15.79; and Abby Meidl, 133rd, 26:44.11.

The Indians will have an early wake-up call on Saturday (September 16) when they head to the Ripon Invitational, which starts at 9:30 a.m.

Indians Pile Up The Points, Yards Against Winneconne

By Judy Harlow

Following their rather subpar effort against Campbellsport, the Kewaskum High football team bounced back with a vengeance on September 8, whipping defenseless Winneconne 55-20.

Scoring a pair of touchdowns in the first quarter and adding another two in the second, the Indians rolled to a 30-8 halftime lead and never looked back.

With the win, Kewaskum improved to 2-0 in East Central play and 4-0 overall. Winneconne fell to 0-2 in the EC and 0-4 overall.

Senior quarterback Tony Steger got back on track offensively, scoring three rushing touchdowns, passing for another, and adding one running point after touchdown (PAT). Steger rushed 15 times for a whopping 224 yards (a 14.9 yard per carry average) and completed 4x8 passes for another 53 yards, giving him 277 all-purpose yards.

"A good part of it (his running yardage) was designed runs for him," KHS coach Jason Piittmann said about Steger, who also "made some good reads" for big yards. "He's a good athlete ... fast!" the coach said.

Kewaskum scored just four minutes into the game, with Patrick Krier, who rushed for 96 yards in 15 carries, going the final two yards and Steger running in the PAT.

Just before the first quarter ended, the Indians got on the board again, capping a nice drive with a 5-yard run by Steger and a 2-point conversion pass from Gabe Christenson to Faton Elmazi.

"I think that was the 99-yard drive," Piittmann said, reporting Winneconne punted and pinned the Indians deep in their own territory before the Indians called on Cade Peterson to run a reverse and he galloped 54 yards before being stopped. "That knocked the wind out of their sails," the coach said.

In the second quarter, the Indians went to the air to get touchdown number 3, a 30-yard pass from Steger to Joshua Bocher, who is subbing for the injured Cole Surprenant and has scored two touchdowns in the two games he has played.

"That was a great play," Piittmann said, noting J.J. Thull went in motion and several defenders went with him, "and that left Bocher open over the middle."

Steger put the finishing touches on a good first half, breaking loose for a 47-yard scamper with 8:03 left in the second quarter. After Cade Peterson's PAT kick, Kewaskum was ahead 30-0.

The Wolves struck quickly after taking the ensuing kickoff, capping a drive with an 18-yard pass from Harrison Roubidoux to Danny Lallier.

Winneconne, which is predominantly a passing team, rushed just 14 times in the game and not very successfully. Its leading rusher was Lallier, with four yards in six carries. Roubidoux's was sacked four times for minus 34 yards.

After the break, the Indians just kept the pedal to the metal, scoring four more times, including three touchdowns in the third quarter, two within less than two minutes of each other after the Wolves went three-and-out.

Steger scored on an 11-yard run, then Krier scored his second touchdown of the night on a 6-yard run, and finally the coaches called Christenson's number for his only run of the evening, a 3-yard touchdown.

In the final quarter, which was played with a continuous clock, Peterson attempted his first field goal and nailed it from 37-yards out.

The Wolves only stopped the Indians on one drive. Peterson had to punt just once, booting a 22-yarder.

Leading the defensive effort for Kewaskum were safety Tyler Degnitz and linebackers Krier and Elmazi. Degnitz was in on nine tackles, including a team-high four solos, while Krier had seven tackles, including one sack. Shawn O'Keefe was also a thorn in the Wolves' side, sacking Roubidoux twice, and Colton Miller had a sack.

Looking at the line, Piittmann said, "I thought the freshman center, Jonathon Steger did a nice job and Riley Donovan did a nice job offensively and defensively."

In the EC headliner, Berlin nipped Plymouth 28-21 while Ripon defeated Campbellsport 26-6 and Waupun edged Kettle Moraine Lutheran 14-7 in overtime.

Up next for Kewaskum is a road game at Ripon on September 16. "They're physical. They play good defense," Piittmann said.

Kenworthy Says Indians Must Shore Up On Defense

By Judy Harlow

Changes are in the works for the Kewaskum High soccer team after tough back-to-back losses to Milwaukee Veritas/Tenor and Berlin.

Looking over some team statistics, KHS coach John Kenworthy discovered the Indians have scored more goals in its first nine games than they did a year ago, but, "We've given up too many goals," including seven to Veritas/Tenor in a 7-0 shutout and the same amount to Berlin in a 7-3 defeat.

So Kenworthy has drawn up new defensive schemes and formations which he is planning to implement soon.

Veritas/Tenor was "a beautiful team to watch if you don't have to play them," Kenworthy said. "We couldn't do pretty much anything," against them, but he didn't feel the opponent was seven goals better than his.

When asked how many shots the Indians had, Kenworthy said, "We had a couple good looks."

In the East Central loss to Berlin, Kenworthy was pleased to see the Indians roar back to just a one-goal deficit at 4-3 early in the second half. "We fought back. We never quit. We had them on their heels," the coach said, reporting then a couple players started going solo. Plus, "We gave up three soft goals," including an "own goal," which ended any thoughts of a comeback.

Scoring for KHS were Isaiah Cochran at 16:11 of the first half, Will Jens at the 33:47 mark and Matthew Krautkramer at 49:48. Kenworthy said Krautkramer's goal was a perfect example of how the Indians can play and score. "We took the ball outside, then inside, then outside, then inside again, and then we scored," the coach said about the exhibition of good passing leading to a goal.

Goalie Brenden Rice made 15 saves in the loss, which drops Kewaskum's record to 0-2 in the East Central Conference and 3-6 overall.

While the Indians have picked up their third win this season faster than they did in 2016, Kenworthy said more emphasis must be made on defense, which will necessitate changes. "Some of the boys might not be happy, but we have to do it. We are a team," the coach concluded.

After an EC game at Ripon on September 12, the Indians will host a triangular on September 16 with Messmer High School and Milwaukee School of Languages. The first game will be held at 9 a.m.

Kew-Cats Post Two More Fifth Place Finishes

By Judy Harlow

Homestead and Cedarburg continue to dominate the North Shore in girls golf. No matter where the teams play, the Highlanders and Bulldogs are 1-2 in the standings and were in those positions September 7 in a match held at the Washington County Golf Course.

Homestead, with three girls at 41 or better, came in with an impressive 169, seven strokes ahead of Cedarburg. Hartford finished third, with a 190 total, followed by the combined West Bend team, 200; the combined Kewaskum/Campbellsport team, 202; Whitefish Bay, 203; Nicolet, 220; and Slinger, 253.

Trinity Pate of Homestead and Cedarburg's Elise Hoven share medalist honors by shooting 3-over par 39s.

"She was on all day. She stays very poised, which has helped her become one of our most consistent golfers," Kew-Cats coach Amy Uhlig said about Alyssa Dreher's career-low 43, which put her in a tie for fifth place overall. Dreher's card included one three, four fours and one five. "She's a competitor and is always looking to compete with the top performers in conference."

After struggling a bit in the match at West Bend CC, Taylor Cook came back nicely with a 50, and the other counters were Karissa Lange and Grace Kober with 53 and 56, respectively.

"Taylor continues to be very consistent for us. I know she wants to break 50 so badly... we all know it's coming. We have to keep pushing for that goal," Uhlig said.

Playing on the long and tough front nine at West Bend Country Club on September 5, the Kew-Cats slipped a bit, coming in with 225 strokes for its four low counters, but they still finished in fifth place.

Once again, Homestead was Number 1, coming in with an impressive 181 behind the 1-2 finish of Speedy Kent and Isabelle Maleck, who shot 38 and 40, respectively.

Cedarburg was six shots behind the Highlanders with a 187, followed in order by: Hartford, 200; Whitefish Bay, 209; Kewaskum, 225; 6. the combined West Bend East/West team, 234; Nicolet, 247; and Slinger, 259.

Sophomore Alyssa Dreher turned in a solid round, a 52 that was good enough for 13th overall. Next came Alivia Wisniewski and Grace Kober at 57. Karissa Lange was the final counter. She carded a 59.

All six of the girls who played had one or two bad holes that ruined their chances of a very good round. Number 3 was especially tough for the Kew-Cats with one five, five sixes and a seven. Madelyn Thull, playing in her first varsity match, played very well with the exception, a 15 on Number 3 for a 64.

The Kew-Cats played in the tough 18-hole Catholic Memorial Invitational on September 9, finishing eighth out of nine teams with 412 strokes. Kettle Moraine was the winner with a 317.

Alivia Wisniewski turned in the low round of 95, putting her in a tie for 16th place.

"I thought we performed well for our abilities. This was a competitive field," coach Amy Uhlig said. "It was nice to see Alivia settle in and find her confidence again. I was ecstatic to see that lead to a solid score for her."

Taylor Cook shot a 104 while Ashley Trapp and Mandy Goeman, newcomers to the varsity, shot 106 and 107. Alyssa Dreher missed the meet because of a family wedding. "We definitely missed her," Uhlig said.

Results Could Have Been Better For KHS Tennis Team

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High tennis team won just one match but held its own in three others in the annual two-day Brown Deer Invitational held on various courts on September 8-9.

The Indians defeated Brown Deer 6-1 and lost to St. Mary's of Menasha, Mayville and Grafton, all by 3-4 scores.

"That was disappointing... Any time you lose to teams you feel you can beat," KHS coach Peter Garcia said. "For some reason, we just couldn't put it together. It was just a matchup issue."

Still, Garcia is convinced playing in a meet like Brown Deer will help his Indians in the future. "It was a good experience for them," he said.

Over the two days, Emma Preder, Amanda Krotski and Megan Krotski all finished 3-1 at Number 2-3-4 singles, while Grace Marchello ended up 2-2 at Number 1 singles, and Nikki Bruss and Nicole Brzozowski were 2-2 at Number 3 doubles.

Garcia said Preder had an impressive 7-5, 6-3 win over Grafton's Kate Aleknovicus on Saturday. "I have never seen her play better," Garcia said, reporting Aleknovicus "was good at ground strokes but Emma just kept her moving, up and back. Every shot she (Aleknovicus) had to move for," and eventually wore down.

Because of work, Kallie Hoefft missed the competition, and Rebecca Meltz did a good job filling in for her at Number 2 doubles with Sydney Donath. They got a win over the Brown Deer team.

At Number 1 doubles, Ariahna Grossenbacher and Brandi Geldnich struggled in a couple matches, but against Grafton's Ari Loughlin and Sierra Loughlin, "They played like I thought they could play," Garcia said about their 6-4, 6-4 victory.

Marchello's best match came against Taylor Trost of Mayville. "Against a very good player Grace gets off to a fast start and appears to coast to a 6-1, 6-1 win based on the score. Garcia said. "You had to watch this match to appreciate both the effort displayed by each player as well as just how close the match really was."

Kewaskum's match against Sheboygan Falls (September 7) was postponed because of rain and is rescheduled for September 18.

A New Mercedes For The Packers

By Wayne Sargent

WAYNE SARGENT

The Green Bay Packers (1-0) will travel to Atlanta's new Mercedes Stadium to take on Matt "Ice Man" Ryan and the Falcons (1-0) for this season's second game on Sunday night. This is the first home game for the Falcons in their new stadium.

The Falcons, still licking their wounds from last year's embarrassing loss to the New England Patriots in the Super Bowl may still have the potential of obtaining a winning season, but with a lack of chemistry on offense with their new coordinator and an unproven defense, they will have their work cut out for them.

The last time the Packers met the Falcons was in the NFC Championship Game last January in Atlanta. Green Bay lost hard to the Falcons 44-21.

Coming off a controversial defensive win over the Seattle Seahawks, (17-9) last Sunday at Lambeau Field, the Packers need to focus on the powerful arm and accuracy of Matt "The Ice Man" Ryan. Stopping Ryan is the key to winning this game.

Look for Green Bay's dominant front defensive line led by the power of Mike Daniels, Clay Matthews, Nick Perry, Jake Ryan and Ahmad Brooks to force the "Ice Man" out of the pocket, scrambling for his life.

The Packers Ty Montgomery had a fair game against the Seahawks running for 54-yards on 19 attempts. He also caught four passes.

Aaron Rodgers had a slow start in the first half but still finished the game while completing 28/42 passes for 311 total yards. He had an 86.5 pass rating. Devonte Adams, Randall Cobb and Jordy Nelson all had impressive performances. I expect their play will only get better as the season progresses.

This week you can count on cornerbacks Damarious Randall, Quinten Rollins and veteran Devon House to come up big along with safety's Ha Ha Clinton-Dix and Morgan Burnett to make some big plays as well.

Last week, the Falcons narrowly won their season opener over the Chicago Bears, 23-17. The Falcons exhibited a struggling offense and a defense weakened to the run.

The Falcons first joined the League as an expansion team back in 1965. The first meeting between these two franchises was held at Milwaukee County Stadium on October 23, 1966. Green Bay had a dominating 56-3 win. Since then they have met 31 times with Green Bay leading 17-14. The last time the Falcons won a regular season game was at Lambeau Field on November 28, 2010.

This will be a tough win for the Packers on the road, however I have the "Ultimate Prediction" as the Packers go 2-0 taking this one in a possible shootout, 38-10.

Congratulations to this week's winners, Sandy Sanville and Carrie Guse!

Their names will be put in the drawing to win Packers tickets for next season.

Each week that the Packers play, the Campbellsport News and Kewaskum Statesman are holding an Ultimate Packer Fan Giveaway contest. There is no charge to enter.

There will be two winners announced at the end of the season. Each winner will receive a pair of tickets to a 2018 Packers home preseason game.

For your chance to win and complete details, go to www.kstatesman.com or www.thecampbellsportnews.com and make your picks by 5 p.m. on the Thursday preceding the game. Winners will be announced in next week's paper.

Eighth Grade Gridiron Indians 6 Whitefish Bay 36

Saturday, Sept. 9 at Kewaskum

Saturday was the first weekend of Kewaskum Gridiron football. It was a slow start for the eighth grade as they fumbled on their first possession. Then Whitefish Bay scored on their first two possessions. Kewaskum was behind 28-0 at half-time. In the second half the Indians started to move the ball, but were stalled by penalties and turnovers. The final score was 36-6. Highlights of the game were a 32-yard and 33-yard pass by Ben Butler to Matthew Buechel and a 1-yard touchdown run by Ben Butler. Also helping to move the ball was Max Melzer with some tough runs. On defense, tackles by Jackson Fleischman, Matthew Blank, and Kyle and Jacob Brzozowski. There was a fumble recovery by Brady Bastian, and a sack and tackle for a loss by Tim Wilcox. Eighth grade's MVP of the game was Matthew Buechel.

Sixth Grade Gridiron Indians 6 Whitefish Bay 33

The sixth grade came out a little slow as well. They were down 13-0 at the half, as penalties and turnovers plagued them as well. Second half the offense moved the ball with a solid running game. Dylan Soyk had two-touchdown runs for 39 and 45-yards respectively. The 45-yard run came on the last play of the game. Even with these two nice runs, Kewaskum could not make up the difference and the final score was 20-12. Some other highlights were a defensive stop at the goal line, tough running by Casey Schmidt, and tackles for loss by Ashton Poppy, Nicholas Deheck, and Zach Heiser. Sixth grade's MVP of the game was Nicholas Deheck.

Fifth Grade Gridiron Indians 6 Whitefish Bay 7

The last game of the day was the fifth grade. Penalties and turnovers were the problem for this team as well. Whitefish Bay scored first and had a 13-0 lead when Landon Daniel took one to the house for six. The extra point was no good. The halftime score was 13-6. Mistakes and missed opportunities plagued our youngest Indians. The final score was 33-6 Whitefish Bay taking all four games. Highlights were Landon Daniel's tough running throughout the afternoon. Tackles by Corbin Dexter, Nathan Vlotho, and a pass blocked by Cooper Petermann. Fifth grade's MVP of the game was Landon Daniel.

Seventh Grade Gridiron Indians 6 Whitefish Bay 7

For the seventh grade team, Whitefish Bay ran an 80-yard touchdown run, and made the extra point. That was their only score for the day, however, Kewaskum could only come up with six points. Dillian Steger scored on a 39-yard touchdown reception, but they missed the extra point. The game was a defensive struggle. Penalties and turnovers stalled any Kewaskum drives. Defensive highlights came from Carson Rolf and Hunter Loser on their tackles. Adam Gliniecki had a sack for a loss. seventh grade's MVP of the game was Dillian Steger.

Saturday, September 16 the Gridiron Indians will be hosting Pewaukee. The eighth grade game starts at 9 a.m., with the other teams following. Please come over to the high school football field and cheer them on.

– Majority Support Creation Of New Park At Townhall Meeting

"I believe that this is a once in a lifetime opportunity to improve the village and we need to take advantage of it," echoed village resident Dennis Butz, in a letter he wrote to the board. "I believe this is a golden opportunity to create a long lasting impact for current and future families in our community."

Gathering Opinions

Bob Zarling, who is a member of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club, spoke at last week's meeting about what Reigle has done for the Kewaskum community over the past 70 years.

"Jim Reigle was a member of Kiwanis for well over 50 years and he has always been a very adamant and generous supporter of this community, and particularly for the young people of the community.... His love of the village is apparent from what he has done over time," Zarling said. "To turn down a gift, a gift of $649,000, would be a real slap in the face to a man who has given his entire life freely to this community," Zarling added, and applause filled the room.

A couple people at the meeting said that the new park is needed because Kiwanis Park has become so overcrowded that they are concerned about children's safety.

"There were two different instances where the high school boys were practicing baseball and our U7 kids were practicing soccer, and we almost had two kids get hit by baseballs because the older kids were practicing," said Dustin Melzark, who has coached both soccer and rubber ball.

However, some residents at last week's meeting had concerns about the proposed park.

Several residents were concerned that kids would walk through their yards to get to the proposed park. Roland Case, who lives near the Reigle property, suggested that the village consider installing a fence around the new park.

Justin Weninger, who lives near Kiwanis Park, said he has not had people walking through his yard to get to the park during the five years he has lived there.

"People know where the entrance is, they use it," he said.

Some residents wondered if the conceptual plan offered enough parking.

However, Chad Cook, vice president for the Kewaskum Athletic Association, said that the conceptual drawing contains about 40 more parking spaces than what are at Kiwanis Park.

The goal is to retain as many trees as possible at the new park, Cook said. The conceptual drawing includes a tree border around the entire park, with paths meandering through the woods.

Still, some residents were worried about losing trees and wildlife.

However, the Reigle property is currently zoned as residential, so if the land does not become a park, the alternative is for it to be converted into a subdivision filled with single family houses.

A two-acre pond that is situated on the Reigle property offers the opportunity for other recreational activities. At the meeting, some voiced concerns whether that posed a safety hazard.

Village Trustee Richard Knoebel did not feel that was an issue.

"West Bend has got Regner Park with a great big fishing pond; I don't think a pond would be a problem at all. As a matter of fact, West Bend put in fishing piers for kids," Knoebel said.

Having additional park space would attract young families to Kewaskum, some argued.

"Part of the reason we moved to Kewaskum as a young family, we want our kids to be out there in sports, here is another opportunity for them to get involved," said village resident Andrea Flood.

"We really have to think about how wonderful this opportunity is to keep our children off the streets and occupied," added village resident Joyce Kral.

"We are Kewaskum. We are for the children. Let's grow this place," resident Megan Sargent chimed in.

The Proposal

The opportunity for a new village park came about after James D. Reigle, 91, read an article that ran in the Kewaskum Statesman on April 27 about the community's need for more athletic fields. The article explained that the Kewaskum Athletic Association (KAA) and Kewaskum Youth Soccer Organization (KYSO) were considering purchasing property outside the village to build athletic fields.

The KAA and KYSO currently have about 761 youngsters participating in youth sports at Kiwanis Park in Kewaskum. The park has become so overcrowded that while some children play baseball on the ball diamonds, other youngsters play soccer simultaneously in the outfield.

After reading the article, Reigle reached out to the KAA and KYSO to see if they would be interested in the Reigle family's property in the village.

"We recognized early on that we had an opportunity to create much more than just a sports complex," Cook said.

The Cost

The total amount of taxes paid on the Reigle land is currently about $11,000 a year, but the village only receives about 36 percent of that, or about $4,000 annually, Village Administrator Matt Heiser said.

"In the discussions that have occurred at this point, the village is not anticipating any expense for development or maintenance," Heiser said.

The village is currently considering leasing the land to the Kewaskum Athletic Association (KAA) and the Kewaskum Youth Soccer Organization (KYSO). The KAA and KYSO would develop and maintain the land, but the village would still own the land and would still have final say to any changes that occur on the land.

The KAA and KYSO plan to raise funds through private and corporate sponsors to create and maintain the park, so that there would not be any impact on village taxpayers, Cook said.

Looking Ahead

If the Reigle property is converted into a village park, both the KAA and KYSO plan to continue using Kiwanis Park. The new park would simply provide additional space to alleviate the current overcrowding situation at Kiwanis Park, Cook said.

"We anticipate this experience to be an extension of our community park system, not just an athletic complex," Cook said.

In addition to the sports fields, there could be a variety of opportunities for smaller spaces like basketball hoops. There has been some discussion about some sort of solid surface volleyball courts, pickleball courts, foot golf and possibly disc golf.

In addition, the land offers an opportunity to link the village's park system together via some sort of walking trail that would lead from River Hill Park to the new park.

The conceptual plan that was presented at last week's meeting is not set in stone. It is expected that the plans will change to conform to various needs as they arise.

"I adamantly call it a concept plan every time we meet, because to me concept plans are entirely fluid," Cook said.

If the park is approved, Village Trustee Dave Spenner requested that the KAA and KYSO be in regular communication with homeowners who live adjacent to the park as they develop the park plan.

The board is expected to vote on September 18 whether to accept the offer. If the board accepts, the area will need to be rezoned for park use.

"If that were to successfully pass, then at some point there is going to be a possible lease negotiation with the KAA and the KYSO to develop this park, Village President Scheunemann said. "Currently there are no plans by this village board to make any investment in the development in the park. There will probably be some discussion on whether or not the village will have to invest in the park improvement at some point down the road."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I would just like to add another perspective on the proposed sports complex project. While development seems very likely to go ahead, and there's plenty to be said about the benefits of having additional space for children and families to gather and play, I think it's important to keep in mind — or at the very least be made aware of — what is lost when you cut down swaths of trees and the sort of benefits they provide.

Forests and Water:

•More than half of U.S. drinking water originates in forest.

•One large tree can capture and filter up to 36,500 gallons of water per year.

•On average, a mature tree can absorb 26 percent of the rainfall it comes in contact with.

•Forests capture rain in the canopy and on the forest floor, reducing stormwater runoff and flooding.

•Healthy forested watersheds provide high-quality habitat for sensitive aquatic species.

•Forests help improve water quality by extracting pollutants through tree roots.

Forests, Air, and Climate:

•One mature tree absorbs carbon dioxide at a rate of 48 pounds per year.

•In one year, an acre of forest can absorb twice the CO₂ produced by the average car's annual mileage.

•Deforestation accounts for up to 15 percent of global emissions of heat-trapping gases.

•Two mature trees provide enough oxygen for one person to breathe over the course of a year.

•Forests are the largest forms of carbon storage, or sinks, in the U.S.

•In one day, one large tree can absorb up to 100 gallons of water and release it into the air, cooling the surrounding area.

•Forests improve public health by keeping pollutants out of our lungs by trapping and removing dust, ash, pollen and smoke.

More information can be found at www.americanforests.org. As the site plainly and accurately states, "forests provide for the health and well-being of the entire planet." And that includes our community. It may not seem like a small (but sizeable) lot of trees in Kewaskum makes that much of a difference, but that attitude on a large scale adds up.

To that end, it's said that this sports complex would be a great resource for our children, but so too is a forest. In a time of rising climate and more extreme weather, trees are some of our most precious and productive natural resources — globally and locally.

To reiterate some of the above bullet points, they not only help filter pollution and act as incredible carbon sinks, but absorb tons of water. So another thing to consider is how this complex might exacerbate run-off and flooding during storms. Large tracts of empty turf grass don't absorb nearly as much water as trees, and impervious surfaces like parking lots absorb nothing.

Not only that, whereas now zero chemicals are being used to keep the forest going, will a fair amount of herbicides and fertilizers be necessary to maintain the fields? If so, how much would run off into the nearby pond and creek?

Also, while I didn't have a chance to attend the initial town hall meeting on the matter, I was told that only one person asked what might become of the creatures who inhabit the area. I'm reminded of something said by farmer Joel Salatin, who is famous for grazing cattle in a way that mimics the way large herds move through the wild (and building healthy/robust soil in the process):

"When I speak to a group, sometimes I'll ask, 'The last time you presented a business plan to your banker, did he say, 'Wow, this is the best business plan I've ever seen.' But I have one question: What is this going to do to the actinomycetes in your community? How many people have been asked that?"

"Yet every one of us is profoundly dependent on the actinomycetes, this community of soil bacteria. Everything we are, see, and can do is built upon this unseen world of microscopic beings. And yet we don't have a way to measure it or put it on a business plan."

"If you destroy the soil, water, and air in the name of efficiency, that's not truly efficient. Efficiency is only one component within a greater framework of ethical, unseen values that each of us knows intuitively."

Yes, it's private property, and the Reigles are free to do with it as they please. And it's a generous and thoughtful gift to the village. And, whereas land that has already been cleared for farming would, in my mind, be preferable, I understand the financial appeal of the land being donated. I even wonder about other exciting possibilities at the park, like converting the pond to an ice skating rink in the winter.

That being said, someone's gotta speak up (to the best of my limited ability) for the trees.

Online Public Comment Period For Deer Population Held

Early in September, County Deer Advisory Councils will provide preliminary recommendations on county deer population objectives for the next three years and potential changes to Deer Management Unit (DMU) boundaries for online public review and comment.

The online public comment period regarding these recommendations will begin after noon on September 11 and run through September 22.

Preliminary deer population objective recommendations received from the councils will be to increase, decrease or maintain the size of the local herd over the next three years. Changes to DMU boundaries will influence the area where antlerless tags may be used within the county and season structure options in those areas. Final recommendations will go into effect in 2018 and will guide annual antlerless quota recommendations for the next three years.

"Councils will be reviewing deer herd metrics, talking to stakeholders and listening to public comments and concerns when developing their preliminary recommendations," said Kevin Wallenfang, deer and elk ecologist with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. "We want to make sure anyone with an interest in deer management has an opportunity to provide input on these important decisions before the final recommendations are made."

Preliminary population objectives and DMU boundary recommendations for each CDAC will be posted online at dnr.wi.gov by searching keyword "CDAC." After reviewing the recommendations, the public can enter opinions and comments into a web-based survey, also on the CDAC Web page.

Once the online public comment period has closed, CDACs will receive feedback from the surveys to consider when developing their final recommendations. Recommendations will be finalized at public meetings in early October. Public comments are also welcome as the DNR reviews the recommendations in November and can be submitted through email at DNRCDACWebMail@Wisconsin.gov.

For more information, including October meeting dates and locations, visit the CDAC web page, or email DNRCDACWebMail@Wisconsin.gov.

American Legion Post 384 takes part in an 9/11 Memorial Ceremony as Kewaskum High School student Melissa Hutchins plays Taps.

Kewaskum Police Chief Tom Bishop welcomed the community to the ceremony and introduced speakers State Rep. Jesse Kremer and Village Administrator Matt Heiser. Kewaskum High School students provided music for the program, while members of American Legion Post 384 posted colors and gave a 21-gun salute.

During his talk, Kremer shared how the events of September 11 changed his life.

He woke up that day to begin work on wedding plans that day, since he would be getting married in less than three weeks.

At the time, Kremer worked as a reserve pilot. He called into work to find out if there were any pilot shortages that he would have to cover that day.

A somber dispatcher told Kremer, "There will be no more flying today. Turn on your television."

When Kremer turned on his TV at about 9 a.m., he saw a smoking World Trade Center, a building that just a month earlier he had taken pictures of from the Ellis Island ferry.

"We don't want to admit it, but our lives changed that day," Kremer said.

Heiser agreed with that statement, adding that it was a watershed moment for his generation in particular.

"My grandparents would talk about always remembering where they were when they heard the news that Pearl Harbor had been attacked, December 7, 1941. And my parents' generation, I can remember them always talking about always remembering where they were when they heard the news that President Kennedy had been assassinated on November 22, 1963," Heiser said.

"And so my generation will always remember where they were on the morning of September 11, 2001," he added.

Heiser remembers that he was at home that morning.

"I was getting my oldest child ready for 4K at that time and I heard on the radio that a plane had struck the World Trade Center, and so I interrupted my morning routine to turn on the news," he said.

To help people remember the events of 9/11, work on the Kewaskum Remembers 9/11 Memorial began about six years ago. The plan is to build a permanent memorial in front of the Annex building.

The goal of the memorial project is to create a place to reflect on the events and aftermath of September 11, 2001, as well as to serve as an educational center. The hope is to remember not only all the civilians who were lost on September 11, 2001, but also to pay tribute to all military and first responders, both past and present.

Kremer's Korner

— 9-11 Speech By 59th Assembly District Representative Jesse Kremer

The following is the speech that Rep. Jesse Kremer gave at the 9/11 ceremony in Kewaskum Monday morning.

September 11, 2001, was a beautiful, crisp, sunny fall morning — exactly as you see it today. I woke up with the goal that I would be working on wedding plans during the day. Janet and I were getting married in less than three weeks.

As newly minted, 24 year old airline captain, just back from training in New York City, I called in to work to discuss potential flights. Junior pilots will typically hold a "reserve" schedule and remain on call to cover for a maintenance issue or sick crewmember. I called our dispatch center just prior to the start of my shift because I wanted to be aware of any known shortages for the day. A somber dispatcher told me there would be no flying for the day and that I should turn on the news.

At 8:46 a.m., hijackers aboard American Airlines Flight 11 crash the plane into floors 93-99 of the North Tower of the World Trade Center.

I tuned in just prior to 9 a.m. to witness a smoking World Trade Center; a building that less than a month earlier I had taken pictures of from the Ellis Island Ferry. My head was spinning and the adrenaline began pumping, as were most of us who were watching the events of that fateful morning unfold before our eyes. My immediate thoughts were a bombing or missile attack by a foreign nation.

Within a few more minutes, at 9:03 a.m., a second hijacked airliner, United Airlines Flight 175 from Boston, crashed into the South Tower of the World Trade Center and exploded.

Nearly a half hour later, Ben Sliney, chief of air-traffic-control operations at the FAA's command center in Herndon, Virginia, gave the order to ground more than 4,000 airplanes across the nation. It was his first day on the job and this was the first time in history that the FAA grounded all flights. Three minutes later, the Pentagon was hit.

Terry and Greg were both excellent pilots, friends and co-workers of mine. Terry was a line check airman and I would train with Greg during one of our simulator sessions a few years later. As they were flying from Grand Rapids, MI, to Reagan International Airport in Washington D.C., they were unaware of what was occurring in New York City. As they turned final for runway 33, a runway that is lined up with the Pentagon about a mile off of the departure end, they witnessed a fireball at the massive Pentagon building. Terry, the captain, turned to Greg and said, "I think the Pentagon just blew up." Another airliner on the frequency queried tower, "Do you see that?" Silence. Again, "Reagan Tower, do you see that?" "Yeah, a plane crashed." Immediately after they arrived at the gate, they were notified that the District was evacuating.

By 10:48 a.m., police confirm a plane crash in Pennsylvania.

That fall morning was the deadliest terrorist attack in history — four airliners turned human missiles, the economic and military heart of the nation in shambles, 2,996 killed, more than 6,000 wounded: firefighters, police officers, paramedics, military personnel and civilians — mothers, fathers, sons, daughter, grandfathers and grandmothers.

We don't want to admit it, but our world has never been the same since that day.

Yes, we were flying again in the short term, but change was here to stay. The terrorists had accomplished their mission — fear. Never again would we be allowed to leave the cockpit doors open for kids to awe as the pilots managed the cockpit. Our prior training advising us to give a hijacker what they demanded was no longer a viable solution. There has been a continual heightened terror threat for the past sixteen years and government intrusion into our private lives via telephones and electronic media are common place.

And the response and recovery efforts began.

On September 11, Bob Beckwith, a seven year retired firefighter from the Fire Department of New York (FDNY) hurried to the hospital to tend to his grandson who was hit by a car while riding his bike to school. While monitoring his grandson's now-stable condition, Bob watched on the in-hospital television as the south tower collapsed. Bob rushed home, grabbed his old fire gear, bluffed his way past the barricades and began to aid in the search for missing and injured.

A few days later, on September 14, President Bush visited Ground Zero. Bob and his comrades had recently unearthed a fire engine buried in the rubble. The secret service asked them to create a safe and stable platform for the President. A few minutes later, the President proclaimed, "I can hear you, the rest of the world can hear you and the people who knocked these buildings down will hear all of us soon."

We did take the fight to the terrorists. They did awaken what many have called the sleeping giant. Although I have my doubts that our nation could ever rival the greatest generation and pull off a D-Day invasion or a Battle of Okinawa with our 24/7 instantaneous media coverage, we were united in the days and months afterward — National Pride. Civic Duty. Unity. Patriotism.

You couldn't drive under an overpass without seeing a flag or signs and banners proudly proclaiming "God Bless the USA." We even drew a massive flag with window markers on the back of our car for our honeymoon drive to Kentucky a few weeks later.

I distinctly recall stopping at a gas station on the way to our first destination and catching a glimpse of a small television behind the counter while employees and customers cheered as missiles were being sent into Afghanistan and special forces put boots on the ground.

Within the coming days, weeks and months, thousands of civilians, myself included, raised our right hands in service to our state and nation to take the fight to the enemy and defend our homeland on foreign soil... and we are still doing so to this day; I have an office staffer leaving for Southwest Asia within the next few weeks.

I will never forget the one year anniversary. I was in the middle of Basic Recruit Army Training. Prior to dawn, we marched down to the parade grounds in Ft. Benning, GA. The view was spectacular — thousands of soldiers standing in formation. I don't remember much of the ceremony, but I do recall a massive video screen with footage of the prior year's events that sent shivers up and down my spine and tears rolling down our cheeks as Lee Greenwood's "God Bless the USA" cut through the silence.

Let me finish with a story about Heather Penny, but before I do so, I will quote Winston Churchill. "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few."

Heather Penney, a rookie, was the first female F-16 pilot the 121st Fighter Squadron in D.C. ever had. The squadron had just finished two weeks of air combat training and were sitting in the briefing room when someone announced that a plane had hit the World Trade Center. A few minutes later, the Pentagon was hit and a fourth plane was reported to be on the way. Nothing was prepped and the jets were still equipped with dummy ammo. Weapons or not, somebody had to fly — and now. It was decided that Penney would fly with Col. Sasseville.

As they scrambled to suit up, Sasseville volunteered for the cockpit. Without hesitating, Penney agreed to take the tail. Doing away with the usual half hour of preflight checks and with the crew chief still scrambling to pull the safety pins, she powered up the engines. They took off to the northwest, flew over the Pentagon and scanned the sky. During the flight, they contemplated the mission. Thoughts of how to ram the jet without allowing it to hit a target were racing through their minds. Penney later reflected that the thought of failure was worse than the thought of a kamikaze mission. However, thanks to brave passengers willing to give all for their country, they didn't have to take out the airliner. Penney and Col. Sasseville were able to return to their families after learning United Airlines flight 93 crashed in Pennsylvania.

God bless all who have served and are voluntarily serving in the armed forces and as first responders to ensure that we continue to live in the greatest nation on earth.
