Village Of Kewaskum Spends More On FEMA Corrective Action

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Village Board approved spending $14,000 on a FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) corrective action plan on Monday, Oct. 16.

The money will be used to survey 14 of 35 properties that may be out of compliance with the village's floodplain ordinance.

It is possible that there are no violations, and the village simply does not have paperwork on file to document that the properties are in compliance. Surveys will provide elevation certificates so that the village can determine if there is an issue.

"We don't know. That's the issue. That is the first step, we are trying to collect the data, to see whether we have an issue or not in these 14 properties," Village Administrator

Matt Heiser said.

Last week's action comes on the heels of the village board approving $11,600 on September 18 to hire M Squared Engineering, LLC, to identify any violations and to develop any necessary corrective action plans. That expense does not include the cost of surveying properties, according to Heiser.

American Horror Story Comes To Kewaskum Home

— Homeowner Creates Halloween Spectacle

By Anne Trautner

Lori Bersch has always liked Halloween.

In the past, the Kewaskum resident has decorated for the holiday with tombstones, homemade coffins and mummies. For many years, though, she wanted to do a big display with a theme that was different from the usual Halloween decorations. So a couple years ago, she chose "American Horror Story," a TV horror show that appears on FX.

"I'm a huge fan of the show and there are so many possibilities to be creative," Bersch said.

Two years ago, she started constructing one of the show's characters, Twisty the Clown.

"He's just been sitting around waiting for the big show," Bersch said.

That "big show" has arrived. Bersch now has a huge array of "American Horror Story" characters displayed in front of her home at 336 North Ave. To add to the ambience and create a carnival theme, Bersch even has a two-story ferris wheel situated on top of her roof.

Fire Destroys Home In The Town Of Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

Mark and Nancy Boden stood in the field across the street and watched helplessly as firefighters battled a blaze that engulfed their home at 8975 Highland Drive in the Town of Kewaskum last Wednesday, Oct. 18.

Neither of them had been home when the fire broke out.

That morning, contractors were at the house, working to replace the roof on their house.

At about 9 a.m., one of the roofers used a grinder to cut some tin flashing, according to Kewaskum Fire Chief Mark Groeschel. After grinding the flashing, that contractor left, and another worker stayed at the house.

The investigation revealed that the grinding had produced some sparks, according to the Washington County Sheriff's Office.

New Principal Settling In At Two Schools

– Farmington Elementary And i4Learning Community School Share New Principal

By Anne Trautner

Jacob Flood is the new principal at Farmington Elementary School and i4Learning Community School this year.

He replaces Dr. Paul Sanders, who retired from Farmington's part-time principal position at the end of the 2016-17 school year. At i4Learning Community School, Flood took over for Joel Dzedzic, who resigned last spring from his positions as i4L's principal and as Kewaskum High School's assistant principal.

When Flood learned that Kewaskum had an opening at the two schools, he was interested.

"I had really been hearing lots of great things about the direction that Kewaskum is going, and that motivated me to come to the Kewaskum School District," Flood said.

"People are saying that this is an up and coming district. Obviously, the referendum plays an important role with that, but it doesn't just stop there. I heard a lot of great things about where this district is going academically as well," Flood explained.

When Flood looked at Farmington Elementary School and i4Learning Community School, he was even more interested. The two schools reminded him of his own schooling.

Flood grew up in the Campbellsport area and attended Eden Elementary School. Like Farmington and i4L, it was a small school.

"I really did feel that was an excellent educational opportunity for myself growing up, so I can see how the opportunities here for our students are big," Flood said.

Flood, who has a master's degree, is in his 14th year working in education.

"I am very grateful of each stop in my career. I have had the opportunity to learn something valuable and take pieces that I have been able to kind of implement into the administrative world," Flood said.

He started his career teaching middle school literacy, social studies and math in Beloit. Then he worked for 10 years at a middle school in Lomira, teaching reading and social studies. He also served as a team leader/dean of students for five years there. He also has experience coaching basketball, baseball and football.

Last year, Flood worked in Waupun as a principal for a school that had students in second through sixth grade.

Working at two Kewaskum schools brings new challenges this year.

"The buildings are quite different from what I was used to in Waupun. Waupun was a grade two-through-six building with about 615 students. We had about 70 adults in that one building. So the size and the dynamic was much different. We had an assistant principal, so it was different in that aspect also," Flood said.

"I've had an opportunity already to start to meet some of the students and parents on a closer level than you would in a bigger building, so I think our small-town schools do provide us some big-time opportunities," Flood said.

Now Flood is looking at being the only administrator at two smaller schools. He wants to make sure that he is in both buildings every day.

Flood is currently following a rotating schedule, spending one morning at i4L and the afternoon at Farmington, and then reversing that schedule the following day.

"I didn't want to be an every-other-day guest in both buildings, so I decided that I would travel to each building every day," Flood said.

After a couple months, Flood will re-evaluate if it is best for the students and staff if he continues doing the 20-minute commute between the two schools each day.

"For right now, I think it's important for me to establish that rapport with the students and the staff in both buildings every day," he said.

The two schools have a different approach to learning, with the i4L having multiage classrooms.

"It doesn't mean either building is right or wrong. There just is a different approach to education in each building," he said.

The differences offer Flood a unique opportunity.

"I'm excited to try and see how, as a principal, I can facilitate each building and work in each building. I think it gives me a great opportunity for growth," he said.

Although each has its own unique characteristics, there are some similarities between the two schools.

"Both buildings are

Jacob Flood is the new principal this year at Farmington Elementary School and i4Learning Community School.

extremely welcoming. They have a small town feel to it," he said.

"The other part I've been impressed with both buildings they are both willing to work under the common vision of the entire district," Flood said.

Right now, Flood is doing a lot of listening to learn about the vision of both the district and governance council.

"By year's end, I want to be fully integrated into the leadership team and be a valuable asset to the leadership team in whatever capacity I can be," Flood said. "At each school, I just want to be somebody who provides consistency to each building and someone that the staff will have confidence in."

Flood is single and has no children. In his spare time, he enjoys cheering on the Packers, Brewers, Bucks and Badgers.

His favorite quote is: "It's never as good as it seems, and it's never as bad as it seems."

"I think that quote relates to education, whether it is on a daily basis or on a larger scale, you have these ebbs and flows. Of course, we want to celebrate the great things and improve the things that maybe aren't going so well, but just understanding that you'll have those ups and downs, allows you to be more balanced in the world of education and in life," Flood said.

HOUSE OF 1000 CORPSES

N3054 State Rd 67 • 920-533-5005

If the village does not begin corrective action process now, FEMA could fine it for noncompliance, according to Village President Kevin Scheunemann.

"The problem is if we do nothing, it's going to get shoved down our throat anyway and it could be worse," Scheunemann said.

Most of the permits were issued on the 35 properties in question during the 1970s, 80s and 90s, but a couple were as recent as 2015, Heiser said.

FEMA allows properties to be built on floodplains. The issue is not that the identified properties are built on a floodplain. Instead, the issue is that the identified areas built in the floodplain may have been built below the FEMA standard.

Municipalities are not required to adopt FEMA maps, but when they do, they agree to build according to FEMA standards. The Village of Kewaskum first adopted a FEMA map in 1982.

The village most recently updated its floodplain ordinance in 2009 to keep the village in accordance with FEMA regulations.

The goal of the ordinance is to protect residents and their property, as well as to reduce the amount of tax money spent on flood control projects. It also minimizes the cost of rescue and relief efforts in the case of a flood.

Each of the 35 properties in question will need to be looked at individually. If there are any violations, individual plans will need to be made for each case. The cost of bringing each property up to standard could fall on the village, property owner or a third-party inspector who issued a permit when construction occurred. That also will be determined case by case, Heiser said.

The $14,000 that was approved last week is being taken from reserve funds, under the land use account.

The 35 areas that FEMA identified include developed and undeveloped properties on Edgewood Road, Knights Avenue, Roseland Drive, Dream Catcher Drive, Bel Ric Drive, Linde Lane and the Woodland Creek subdivision. Three of the identified areas are culverts and bridges.

In 2013, FEMA redid its floodplain map, and some village properties were added to the floodplain that had previously not required flood insurance. This issue is not related to that change.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Car Crash With Minor Injuries

The Sheriff's Office, along with the Allenton Fire Department, responded to a traffic accident in the area of Interstate 41 and Wildlife Road in the Town of Addison at 3:13 p.m. on October 17.

The investigation revealed the driver of the van, a 74-year-old Franklin man, was southbound when he switched from the right lane to the left and struck the driver of a sedan identified as a 21-year-old Ripon woman. The van then spun and flipped on the side and came to rest in the northbound lanes while the passenger car came to rest in the median and sustained moderate damage.

There were minor injuries to the occupants of both vehicles. St. Lawrence Fire Department and West Bend Rescue also assisted at the scene. Interstate 41 was fully opened to traffic at 4:22 p.m.

The accident remains under investigation and enforcement action is pending.

Robbery Investigation

On October 17 the Washington County Sheriff's Office worked closely with the West Bend Police Department to assist the Dodge County Sheriff's Office with a robbery investigation.

At 1:44 a.m. a deputy stopped a vehicle for traveling in excess of 100 mph south bound on Interstate 41 near County Trunk K. The driver, a 19-year-old City of Milwaukee woman, told the deputy she was lost and trying to find a friend that ran out of gas. The woman did not have a valid driver's license and called a friend to pick her up.

That process took some time. At 2:31 a.m. another deputy stopped a second car for speeding, operating left of center and displaying false registration on southbound Interstate 41 at County Trunk D in the Town of Wayne. The driver, a 20-year-old City of Milwaukee man, did not have a valid driver's license and is currently on probation for auto theft. One of the other passengers, an 18-year-old City of Milwaukee female, is also on probation for auto theft and has a violent criminal history to include a robbery conviction in August 2016. During the course of that stop, another passenger, a 16-year-old City of Milwaukee female juvenile, was also taken into custody for obstructing.

During the contact the deputy observed evidence of drug use and a search was done. A small amount of marijuana, unauthorized prescription medication and a loaded handgun were located inside the vehicle. The deputy also determined that the three individuals were responding to the scene of the first traffic stop to pick up the 19-year old woman.

In the meantime, a West Bend Police Officer stopped a vehicle for reckless driving. The driver of that vehicle reported to the West Bend Officer that she was at a gas station in the Village of Lomira and robbed by a female who put a gun to her head and demanded money. West Bend Police contacted the Sheriff's Office after monitoring radio traffic and hearing that a deputy located a handgun in a vehicle. The West Bend Police Officer also advised our office that the victim's cell phone was taken.

Washington County Sheriff's deputies subsequently located the victim's cell phone hidden inside the vehicle stopped on Interstate 41 at County Trunk D. Dodge County Sheriff's Office was contacted and responded to the scene of the traffic stop to take over the robbery investigation.

The Washington County Sheriff's Office has the following charges as a result of the incident:

The 19-year-old female driver was cited for speeding and criminal operating without a valid driver's license.

The 20-year-old male driver was arrested for possession of marijuana, possession of stolen property and possession of a prescription medication without a prescription. He will also be cited for operation without a valid driver's license, operation left of center, no insurance and false display of registration.

His passenger, the 18-year-old woman, was arrested for felon in possession of a firearm.

The other passenger, the 16-year-old female, was arrested for obstructing.

Sentencing And Guilty Pleas Take Place In Drug Case

By Anne Trautner

In the past week, one person was sentenced and two pleaded guilty for their parts in a Campbellsport-Kewaskum area drug ring.

Rachel Kreif, 25, of Kewaskum, was sentenced to three years and six months in prison and five years of extended supervision Monday. Kreif had pleaded guilty on August 21 to possession of heroin with the intent to deliver in an amount of 3 grams or less. Three other charges were dismissed.

Andrew Simons, 33, of Campbellsport, and Katelyn Spang, 23, of Kewaskum, each pleaded guilty on Wednesday, Oct. 18, to a charge of possession of heroin with intent to sell in an amount less than 3 grams. They both faced several charges for their part in delivering heroin and opiate drugs.

Simons, who is being held at Fox Lake Correctional Institution in Dodge County, appeared by video. Spang, who is still out on $10,000 bail, appeared in person.

The District Attorney's Office recommended that Simons be sentenced to 11 years in the state prison system and Spang be sentenced to nine years.

Simons will appear before Judge Todd

Martens for his sentencing hearing. Spang will appear before Martens on Jan. 11. A pre-sentence investigation will be conducted on both defendants.

Spang remains out on bail. She has completed 90 days of inpatient treatment and is now beginning 90 days of outpatient treatment.

Spang's attorney, Daryl Laatsch, said that Spang is pregnant and that labor may be induced in a month.

Spang is the only person involved with the Campbellsport drug ring case who has not had bond revoked after a guilty plea.

Martens said that Spang's pregnancy was not a deciding factor in determining whether to revoke her bond.

"I'm not considering that in the slightest," Martens said.

Martens also warned there would be a consequence if Spang uses drugs before her sentencing.

"That will have a substantial bearing on the sentence you receive," he told Spang.

In total, eight people were charged in Washington County in connection with the drug ring on March 31 after a year-long investigation.

Walker Announces Grants To Local Governments

Governor Scott Walker announced that local governments received quarterly payments totaling $108,187,044 for General Transportation Aids, Connecting Highway Aids and Expressway Policing Aids from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT).

Payments to Wisconsin's 1,925 local units of government include: $104,915,193 in General Transportation Aids; $3,015,876 to 117 municipalities entitled to receive Highway Aids; and $255,975 to Milwaukee County for Expressway Policing Aids.

Local municipalities received the following in general transportation aids: Washington County, $498,235; Town of Addison, $35,535; Town of Barton, $25,472; Town of Farmington, $35,849; Town of Kewaskum, $20,947; Town of Trenton, $36,559; Town of Wayne, $31,560; Town of West Bend, $24,723; and Village of Kewaskum, $41,372.

General Transportation Aids help defray the costs of constructing, maintaining, and operating roads and streets under local jurisdiction. Connecting Highway Aids reimburse municipalities for maintenance and traffic control of certain state highways within municipalities.

For calendar year 2017, local governments will share an estimated $433 million from the state transportation fund to build and maintain local roads and bridges, which includes Expressway Policing Aids to the Milwaukee County Sheriff Department for patrol of Milwaukee expressways. Quarterly payments for cities, towns and villages are sent the first Monday in January, April, July and October. County payments are made in three installments, with 25 percent of the total annual payment on the first Monday in January; 50 percent on the first Monday in July; and 25 percent on the first Monday in October.

Communities also receive state transportation fund revenues for public transit, elderly and disabled transportation, and airport and harbor development. Local communities may also receive state and federal funds for specific highway and bridge construction projects.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

GOOD NEWS FOR CHOCOLATE LOVERS

A new meta-analysis by researchers in Italy found that eating chocolate (dark) may not only help improve memory and cognitive function, but long-term consumption may also help counteract cognitive decline. The benefit is derived from the antioxidant compounds in cocoa beans called cocoa flavanols. Cocoa flavanols have a beneficial effect on blood circulation in the brain and boost processing speed of visual imagery. The review also suggests that for the elderly, long-term ingestion of the cocoa has a significant effect on memory, attention and verbal fluency. This is especially true in those already experiencing cognitive decline.

Kewaskum Scouts Hold Food Drive

The Kewaskum Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts went door to door and dropped off their special donation bags for the annual Scouting for Food Drive, and then later returned to those same areas to pick up the bags that people had filled with food and set out to donate.

Between the Kewaskum Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, a total of 1,471 food items was collected and delivered directly to the Kewaskum Community Pantry.

It's not too late to help out. If someone would still like to donate, please bring non perishable food items to the Kewaskum Food Pantry or drop them off in the Food Pantry donation bin at Piggly Wiggly near the exit.

- Fazio Is Chairman And CEO Of Commerce State Bank In West Bend

The Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA) announced Joe Fazio, chairman and CEO of Commerce State Bank in West Bend, Wis., as its 2017 national Community Banker of the Year. This annual ICBA award recognizes the exceptional work and commitment of individual community bank employees and their dedication to local communities.

"We are pleased to honor and recognize Joe Fazio as ICBA's 2017 Community Banker of the Year," said ICBA Chairman Scott Heitkamp, president and CEO of ValueBank Texas in Corpus Christi, Texas. "As a dedicated, driven leader and compassionate and conscientious citizen, Joe's contributions to his community and the betterment of our industry are to be commended."

Perhaps the best example of Fazio's leadership and passion is his self-published book, "This might be a dumb question but...How Does Money Work?" which offers practical financial management advice for consumers. "Joe's passion for explaining money matters begins with the belief that we need to stop talking about financial literacy" and instead focus on educating consumers about how to make their money work for them, said the Commerce State Bank employee who nominated Fazio.

The community leader also actively supports the community banking industry through his service on various boards and speaking engagements. He serves as a board member for the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, was a Wisconsin Bankers Association board member, has testified before the State of Wisconsin Assembly Committee for Financial Institutions, and has traveled to Washington to advocate community bank-friendly policies. Fazio is also active in recruiting future banking talent, serving as a guest lecturer and panelist for Marquette University's banking career night.

In addition to Fazio being name ICBA's national Community Banker of the Year, three winners from the East, Central and West regions were also named. The winners will be featured in the December issue of Independent Banker, ICBA's award-winning monthly publication and the number-one source of community banking news for ICBA members. Fazio and the regional winners will also be recognized at the 2018 ICBA Community Banking LIVE national convention in Las Vegas.

This year's regional award recipients are:

- East: Kathy Underwood, president and CEO, Ledyard Bank, Hanover, N.H.
- Central: Peter Nelson, president, Glenwood State Bank, Glenwood, Minn.
- West: Christopher Palmer, president and COO, Pioneer Bank, Roswell, N.M.

ICBA seeks nominations from community bankers, customers and community leaders to identify passionate, innovative and savvy community bankers for this prestigious award. This is the fourth annual contest the association has held. SHAZAM is the sponsor.

TRISTIN MARX

—St. Norbert College student Tristin Marx, a sophomore majoring in communication and media studies with a business administration minor from Kewaskum has been selected to receive a CIC/UPS Scholarship of $2,750 provided by the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities (WAICU) and its national partner, the Council of Independent Colleges (CIC) in Washington, D.C.

Nationally, CIC and the UPS Foundation provided more than $1.5 million in student scholarships through state-based associations to make private colleges and universities more accessible to underserved students. This year, WAICU awarded $66,000 in CIC/UPS Scholarships to 24 low-income students at private institutions across Wisconsin.

“At a time when college graduates are more critical to Wisconsin’s economy than ever, we are especially grateful to CIC and UPS for their partnership in making students’ aspirations in higher education a reality,” said Dr. Rolf Wegenke, president of WAICU.

The Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities (WAICU) is the official organization of Wisconsin’s 24 private, nonprofit colleges and universities. WAICU is dedicated to expanding educational opportunity for students and is nationally recognized for its innovative programming to control college costs and for its partnerships with employers to provide skilled graduates. www.waicu.org.

The Council of Independent Colleges (CIC) is an association of nonprofit independent colleges and universities, as well as state-based councils and other higher education affiliates, that works to support college and university leadership, advance institutional excellence, and enhance public understanding of independent higher education’s contributions to society. CIC offers conferences, seminars, publications, and other programs and services that help institutions improve educational quality, administrative and financial performance, student outcomes, and institutional visibility. It conducts the largest annual conferences of college and university presidents and of chief academic officers. Founded in 1956, CIC is headquartered at One Dupont Circle in Washington, D.C. www.cic.edu. Established in 1951 and

Kewaskum School Board Updates Policies

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum School Board completed updating the district’s policy manual at the October 9 board meeting.

The updates and revisions were based on recommendations that the School Board received from Neola, a company that helps develop school board bylaws and policies, as well as administrative guidelines/procedures and forms. Neola’s services enable districts to update their policies as laws change.

The Kewaskum School District is one of 202 clients in Wisconsin that contract with Neola. In all, Neola has about 1,450 school districts in six states that it serves.

Twice a year, Neola makes recommendations for district policies to keep them in line with state guidelines. The school board then goes over the recommendations and decides which changes it wants to make.

The recommendations may include grammatical changes or more substantial policy changes. Before any changes are final, the board is required to complete two readings of the policies it wishes to adapt.

The October 9 meeting included the second reading of Neola policy revisions to finalize all changes. The first reading began at the Kewaskum School Board’s meeting in April.

At that meeting, the District’s Policy Committee had posed a question about the district’s conflict of interest policy. Specifically, it was questioned whether Board Member Tim Ramthun had a conflict of interest when he had voted against paying payroll and accounts payable.

The issue was on the Policy Committee’s mind because in March a similar issue had made headlines in West Bend when Therese Sizer resigned from The West Bend School Board because her daughter was a teacher for the district there. Sizer said she felt that she would need to recuse herself from so many votes that she would not be able to fulfill her responsibilities as a board member.

The Kewaskum School Board discussed the conflict of interest issue, and at the June 12 meeting, Superintendent James Smasal brought forth an opinion from the district’s legal counsel on the issue. The attorney wrote that Ramthun did not break any state law.

However, when it comes to board policy, it is important that all board members, not just Ramthun, are aware of any potential conflicts of interest and recuse themselves from voting on those issues, Smasal said.

At the October 9 meeting, the board completed second readings of 40 policy revision, as well as two new policies on crowd-funding and district-issued student e-mail accounts.

The policies can be accessed on the district website, www.kewaskum-schools.org.

Little Folks School House

Little Folks School House is owned by Dodie Sargent. She brings 33 years of experience, receiving her training at U.N.H. and UW-Milwaukee. The Assistant Director, Jennifer Melzark has 16 years in the field and received her training at Marian College. Along with Dodie and Jennifer are 23 employees.

Little Folks is rated 5 stars by the Wisconsin Youngstar program and Nationally Accredited. The majority of the teachers have two or four year degrees and are dedicated to providing quality childcare.

Dodie provided licensed family childcare from 1983-1997 and opened the group center (Little Folks School House) in 1997 in the Town of Wayne. After outgrowing the Wayne building, they built a bigger center in Kewaskum which opened in 2006. There are five classrooms, three age separated fenced playgrounds, a coded secured entry and camera monitored classrooms. They also provide before and after school care at Little Folks and Kewaskum Elementary School. Little Folks also serves as a teaching center for Moraine Park Technical College. Students are placed with them every semester for their practicum experience where the Little Folks teachers mentor them.

Little Folks strives to form working partnerships with families. They respect the parent's insights and concerns and want them to feel comfortable leaving their children in their care, knowing they will be safe and nurtured as they help to develop and grow.

Kewaskum High School Students Learn About Philanthropy

Casey Scheel's Leadership class has included Main Street Philanthropy (MSP) into their curriculum. MSP is a 10-week class in which students learn meaningful giving through fundraising and analysis of charities they chose. This program is supported financially by area businesses. The students are organized into teams depending on which charities mean the most to them. In Scheel's class there are five teams exploring the needs of disabled kids, veterans, animals, and local families. Students participated in a panel discussion with leaders from the Washington County Humane Society, Make-A-Wish Foundation and the Kewaskum Food Pantry. Please visit the MSP website for more information and to see the students' progress each week. To read the Kewaskum student blogs, Click on the Student tab, scroll down, then click on Kewaskum H S Fall 2017. For many of the students the transformation in their lives is both apparent and heartwarming.

Kewaskum Boys & Girls Club Gets New Director

By Anne Trautner

Bryanna Juers grew up in Kewaskum, and now she is working here as the new unit director of the Boys & Girls Club in Kewaskum.

"I love it. I'm just really excited to come back to my hometown. The best part about working in Kewaskum is having that community feel again, like the football games on Friday," said Juers, who graduated from Kewaskum High School in 2012.

Juers has replaced Max Roy, who is now working for the Boys & Girls Club in West Bend.

Right after graduating from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee with a degree in social work last December, Juers started working for the Boys & Girls Club in Hartford. After about six months, she was promoted to the West Bend center.

She then started in Kewaskum two weeks before school started. Eventually, the Boys & Girls Club of Washington County would like Juers to be able to do some social work for the other clubs in the county while she runs the Kewaskum office.

"The idea is that at some point, I could help out in the social worker role, help out all the other clubs with kind of some issues that we see going on," she said.

Last year, the Boys & Girls Club in Kewaskum started a middle school program. The students meet after school in the middle school on Mondays and Thursdays and at Kewaskum Elementary School the other days of the week.

"This year we are focusing a little more on getting them involved in the community," Juers said.

For example, the students are helping with the community coat drive.

Through the Boys & Girls Club "Keystone Program, the students will go out into their community, and getting to know their police officers, and firefighters, as well as visiting other organizations, such as nursing homes.

"On a smaller scheme of things, they will come to the elementary school and help the younger ones with homework, so they can help them be successful," Juers said.

Because of the school district's building project, Juers has been able to connect with the middle school students in a unique way already.

"I was in elementary school when the new elementary school building was being built," she said. "So how those kids are watching the middle school be built, that was me when I saw the elementary school being built. That is pretty cool."

Juers likes being able to work with students directly in the school buildings, a feature that the other Boys & Girls Clubs in Washington County don't offer.

"Working in the schools has a lot of perks. I can talk with teachers, so our homework program is extremely strong. If a kid maybe is struggling in his or her classroom, then the teacher can come and talk with me about it, so we are able to get those wrap-around services," Juers said.

The Kewaskum program has about 75 elementary school students in its after-school program, about 60 elementary school students in its before-school program and about seven to 10 middle school students.

Participants benefit from a number of programs.

The Impact Program teaches basic skills to help the students throughout life.

For example, the students are taking part in a pen pal program, writing letters to students in the Boys & Girls Club in West Bend.

"It taught them one, how to handwrite a letter, which was something that surprised me that kids don't know. Also, some of the older kids realized that spell check doesn't exist on a piece of paper," Juers said. "They also learned how to address an envelope, which was really interesting to watch them figure out where everything goes."

The younger students also take part in the Torch Club, which raises community awareness. There also are sports and crafts programs offered for the students after they complete homework.

On Thursdays, Creative Chem is offered for students to conduct science experiments.

"That one is extremely popular. And it is kind of my favorite, too," she said.

But the best part for Juers is seeing the students each day.

"My favorite part is seeing how excited the kids get to see staff or friends here. When they have a rough day, they come here, and they are like I am ready to start over. You can tell they are comfortable here. That is my favorite part," Juers said.

KHS Key Club To Raise Funds For UNICEF

For well over 10 years, the Kewaskum High School Key Club has been trick or treating for the UNICEF Eliminate Project.

Last year the club raised nearly $350. The proud tradition continues this year as Key Club members knock on community doors on Saturday, Oct. 28, from 5 to 7 p.m., asking for help preventing maternal and neonatal tetanus.

For a donation of $1.80, a woman will receive the three shots necessary to protect her and her future newborn from this deadly and painful disease. Over 100 million women in 38 different countries are affected by this. Please support our students' efforts and the health of women and infants by making a donation.

KHS Key Club To Hold Thanksgiving Dinner

On Saturday, Nov. 18, the Kewaskum Key Club, in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club of Wisconsin, will hold its annual Senior Citizens' Thanksgiving Dinner.

The menu will include traditional holiday favorites such as turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, vegetables and dessert. This is an opportunity for seniors in the district to come and enjoy a good meal in the company of other local seniors.

There is no cost for this outing, and no reservations are needed. Just come as you are and enjoy a pleasant gathering.

The meal will be served from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Kewaskum High School cafeteria. All community seniors are invited to attend.

Kewaskum High School Holds Fiesta Fun Night

On Tuesday, Oct. 10, over 400 people attended Fiesta Fun Night, hosted at Kewaskum High School by the Spanish Department.

Kewaskum Spanish Department teachers, (Brenda Grass, Rita Szukalski, Troy Parnitzke, Anna Baltz, Kaitlyn Nikodem and Michael Mandujano) and students from the High School volunteered and helped prepare for the night.

Students of all ages made and decorated different crafts and got their faces painted for different Spanish holidays. The crafts included making sugar skull necklaces for Dia de los Muertos, Cascarones/egg shells for Easter, masks for La Carnaval, and mini paper bag piñata for birthdays. There was also a dance station for students to learn different Spanish dances, including the salsa.

All attendees had the chance to taste authentic Hispanic food donated by Qdoba and Casa Tequila Restaurants of West Bend. Spanish Travelers, who are traveling to Peru this summer, also held a delicious bake sale to raise money for their trip. Many attendees swarmed to the Sugar Skull cookies to decorate them with frosting and sprinkles. Cookies were purchased for $1 each and all proceeds were donated to Casa Guadalupe in West Bend.

Brenda Grass, Spanish teacher at Kewaskum Elementary School said, "This was such a great event to not only learn about Spanish Holidays and customs, but it was also a fun and engaging environment for the KSD community to attend."

Kewaskum High School To Hold Veterans Day Assembly

The public is invited to attend a Veterans Day Assembly at Kewaskum High School on Friday, Nov. 10, at 10:40 a.m.

The greatest gift one can give to their country is their service. In recognition of the sacrifice our veterans have made, the Stars and Stripes Honor Flight has made it their mission to honor all veterans by flying World War II, Korean, and Vietnam War veterans, as well as terminally ill veterans from other conflicts, to Washington, D.C., to visit their memorials.

Last year, the Kewaskum Key Club decided to help in this mission. The idea of Kewaskum School District students buying airplanes to show their appreciation for our service men and women was born. Amazingly, $985 was raised.

Again this year, the Key Club is selling paper airplanes for $1. All donations will be given to the Honor Flight to ensure that as many veterans as possible, receive the opportunity to visit the memorials dedicated to them.

The buyer of the airplane can decorate, sign or write a note of gratitude on the plane. The planes will be hung in the KHS Fieldhouse to show support to our local veterans.

Presentation of the gift will take place at the Veteran's Day Assembly on Nov. 10, at 10:40 a.m. in the high school fieldhouse. The public is welcome to attend.

To make a donation, please contact Stacy La Ronge at 262-626-8427, ext. 4252 or email her at slaronge@kewaskum-schools.org.

Next Playoff Opponent Is Green Bay Notre Dame

By Judy Harlow

It's starting to sound like a broken record.

Senior quarterback Tony Steger was phenomenal offensively; the defense was physical and opportunistic, and the Kewaskum High football team romped over another opponent.

On October 20, the Indians made visiting New London their 10th straight victim, winning their D-3 Level 1 football game 46-6, with 13 of those points coming before they had picked up one first down.

"Wow, when you think of that ... That's efficient," a drained but happy KHS coach Jason Piittmann said afterward about having a 13-0 lead without a first down.

Kewaskum had punted on its first and second possessions and after the second, Bulldog receiver Brayden Kurth had a chance to give his team a 7-0 lead as he was all alone about the KHS 40 when he dropped a Jack Noffke pass that was a sure touchdown.

Kurth didn't get a chance to redeem himself, as on the next play, Makao Harn fumbled, and Faton Elmazi was right there to pounce on the loose ball, giving his team a first down at the NH 15. Three plays later, Steger faked out the Bulldog defenders converging on him, tossing a short pass to Elmazi for a touchdown.

On the PAT (point after touchdown) try, the "Daffy Duck" formation run failed, but the Indians were up 6-0.

"On the fumble, I was trailing on the play. I saw the ball on the ground, and I wanted to give our offense more possessions," Elmazi said.

New London went three-and-out on its next offensive series, and it was costly because Cole Surprenant gathered in Noffke's punt at the 18-yard line, headed to the right sideline, found a seam and raced 82 yards to the end zone for a second touchdown.

"I think it was our first special team touchdown of the year," Surprenant said. "The return team did a good job. Once I got to the wall, I saw a lot of green jerseys (in front of me)."

When asked if anyone got a hand on him, Surprenant said, "I think one guy might have gotten a hand on my leg ... nothing much."

After Cade Peterson kicked the PAT, the score was 13-0, and the Indians added another touchdown and a field goal before half. It was Elmazi catching a 15-yard pass from Steger for the touchdown after out-jumping two Bulldog defenders.

"When the adrenalin's going, my body just takes over," the 6-0 Elmazi said about his Giannis Antetokounmpo-type leap.

New London gave the Indians the final scoring opportunity after getting hit with an unsportsmanlike conduct call following a tackle on Peterson, which took the ball down to the 13-yard line with just seconds remaining. Piittmann decided to go for the field, and Peterson nailed the 30-yard attempt for a 24-0 halftime lead.

New London, which had not been in the playoffs since 2007, had deferred its coin flip choice to the second half. The Bulldogs took the ball and picked up eight yards to the NH 42 on its first three runs, and decided to go for it on fourth down. The middle of the KHS line refused to give ground as several players combined to stop Noffke for no gain.

"The defense really played well. We stuffed their running game," Piittmann said. "I'm really happy with the play of those kids, and we had a couple of picks," referring to interceptions by Tyler Degnitz and Jerod Ott, first-year varsity starters. Both had two interceptions. Otto now has four on the year.

Degnitz had to come out of the game in the first half because of an injury. "He has a bruise on his shin. I don't know if he got kicked or what. He stuck it out, went back in and did a heck of a job," Piittmann said.

The interceptions set up a 32-yard touchdown drive, capped by Steger's seven-yard pass to Gabe Christenson and a four-play 49-yard drive with Steger scoring from the eight.

The final KHS score came via a seven-play, 80-yard march that ended with Patrick Krier plowing over the goal line from the 12-yard line.

New London avoided the shutout with a touchdown in the third quarter. Harn got the touchdown on a four-yard run, capping a short drive after Calvin Kapitz recovered a KHS fumble.

For the game, Steger rushed for 147 yards in 23 carries and passed for another 99 yards passing with three touchdowns.

Krier rushed for 31 yards and added 20 more on three pass receptions.

"Tony's a special athlete, he makes a lot of things happen," Piittmann said, indicating there were adjustments made at half time that were helpful. "We went to the weakside a fair amount," he said because New London was overplaying the Indians' strong side.

About the punt return, the KHS coach said, "We've been working on that all year," and he was pleased to see such a good wall set up.

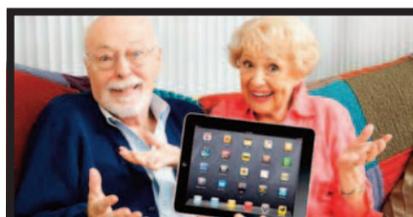

"We played real well, but at the same time, we've got some things we have to focus on for the next opponent," Elmazi said, referring to Green Bay Notre Dame, a 33-13 winner over Luxemburg-Casco.

For now, Surprenant was content to savor this victory. "It feels good to continue in playoffs, especially that we played well," he said.

Notre Dame will be coming to Kewaskum tomorrow night (October 27) for the right to play the winner of West DePere, a 44-7 winner over Seymour, and Berlin, a 34-27 overtime winner over Fox Valley Lutheran.

Golf Coaches Association of Wisconsin Announce Academic All-State Honoree

The Golf Coaches Association of Wisconsin (GCAW) is pleased to announce that Taylor Cook of Kewaskum High School is an Academic All-State honoree for the recently concluded 2017 girls' golf season, receiving a designation of High Honors. Students are nominated by GCAW member coaches if they meet the following criteria:

1. A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.25,
2. Participation in at least 75 percent of their team's varsity matches,
3. And are at least a sophomore in high school. Taylor is a student-athlete who serves as a great example to others, proving that academic and athletic successes are not mutually exclusive.

The coaches association is proud to announce that 305 girls from 97 high schools have been honored this year for maintaining high academic standards in the classroom while competing in varsity golf. In fact, the average cumulative GPA of this year's honorees is an exceptional 3.785.

The GCAW was formed by high school golf coaches in 1986 to help build Wisconsin's reputation for developing quality junior players by promoting golf in our schools and communities. Besides honoring both boys and girls who succeed as student athletes, the association also selects an annual All-State team for boys and girls based on their playing ability. An academic 'Team' award honoring high school teams with the highest cumulative GPA is also acknowledged. The girls' team award will be announced in February, 2018.

After Settling A Score With Martin Luther, Indians Are Blanked By State's Best

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum boys soccer played a lot of good teams this fall, but none of them could hold a candle to defending D-2 state champion Delavan-Darien, which scored seven goals in the first half against the Indians on October 19, knocking the Indians out of the tournament.

"They're a great team. There's a reason why they are top rated in the state. There's a reason why they are defending state champions," KHS coach John Kenworthy said about the 11-0 defeat to the Comets, who are averaging six goals per game and are now 22-1-3.

"I wouldn't say we did anything badly," the coach said. "We played to our abilities."

Kewaskum, which finished at 8-14-3, had trouble just getting across the mid-field in the first 45 minutes, when the host peppered junior Brenden Rice with shots.

The Comets have a solid 1-2 punch in Zeus Huerta and Jason Cano. Herta scored four goals in the first half, including a pair at 21:37 and 22:51, while Cano chipped in with three goals and two assists.

Together this duo has scored 95 goals and currently stand in a tie for points scored in the entire state — 117.

"Cameron Dodge played really well," Kenworthy said, adding Rice played "super."

Spectators arriving in the second half of the Indians' lead-in game against Greendale Martin Luther would have missed most of their scoring. Kewaskum fired up its jets early in this contest, scoring three goals in the first half on the way to beating the Spartans 4-1.

Kewaskum had lost to Martin Luther 4-0 early in the season and wanted to prove it was a better team now. The Indians did just that, getting off plenty of shots and using superb defense, including some outstanding goal-keeping by Brenden Rice.

Senior Luke Bindrich opened the score when he beat the Spartan goalie just 14:36 into the contest. This was Bindrich's second goal of the season, and it had to be thrilling for him since it came in his final appearance on the Indians' home field.

A trip by one of the Spartans gave the Indians a penalty kick at 21:35, and Hunter Schmitt was right on target as he drilled the ball into the net.

Despite the fact his team was up 2-0, Kenworthy remarked it wasn't over, saying, "You've got to weather the storm. It's a 90-minute game."

The storm never really came, however, as the Indians Isaiah Cochran got in the scoring act at 37:40, taking a beautiful cross from Will Jens and finding the back of the net for a 3-0 advantage.

Considering Rice was turning back all their shots, the Spartans looked a bit flustered and were even more so after Cochran got goal number two on a header after taking a pass from Jens.

Rice kept his shutout until late in the game when the KHS subs were playing. Before that, he had one good save after another, including a diving effort in the final 20 seconds of the first half when he stretched out and managed to get a hand on the ball, sending it harmlessly to the right side of the net.

Kenworthy praised his junior keeper, along with defenders Gavin Curtain and Tanner Jacak, who both played 86 strong minutes.

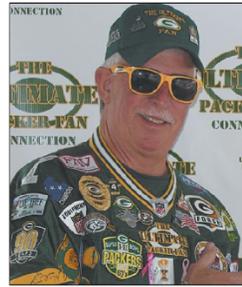

Time For Good "BYE"!

The Packers, coming off a loss to the Saints are going into a "BYE" week. This off week couldn't come at a better time.

The Packers, faced with an injury-prone team along with the loss of Aaron Rodgers, are struggling. Brett Hundley started his first game as only the sixth quarterback in a span of 25 years to do so. He appeared to be restricted only by the coaching and questionable play calling of Mike McCarthy. If it wasn't for the superior running of star rookie Aaron Jones, (131 yards and one touchdown) the outcome would have been much worse.

Many of you are calling for the resignation of Defensive Coordinator Dom Capers. I'm not in total agreement, but at the same time there's plenty of room for improvement.

Here are some surprising facts. The Packer's defense gave up over 500 yards of offense. However, Drew Brees has faced the Packers in seven games, and in each of those seven games he has thrown over 300 yards in each game. Think about that. It wasn't just this year's defense, Brees has had his way since game one.

Brett Hundley threw for zero yards in the first quarter. Why was that? With the core of receivers the Packers have, that would have never been imaginable. Is this a sign that Coach McCarthy's "three years of investment" as a backup to Aaron is now questionable? Why doesn't McCarthy let Brett throw the ball? After all, wasn't this team built for offense? Don't we boast having some of the finest receivers in the league? Why not use them?

As I had stated earlier, the Packers can lose seven games and either win the division or earn a Wildcard spot in the playoffs. At this rate, it may be the latter.

GO PACK GO!

Due to the Packers having a Bye Week, there will be no Ultimate Packer Fan Giveaway drawing this week.

Congratulations to this week's winner, James Mielkie!

James' name will be put in the drawing to win Packers tickets for next season.

Each week that the Packers play, the Campbellsport News and Kewaskum Statesman are holding an Ultimate Packer Fan Giveaway contest. There is no charge to enter. There will be two winners announced at the end of the season. Each winner will receive a pair of tickets to a 2018 Packers home preseason game.

For your chance to win and complete details, go to www.kstatesman.com or www.thecampbellsportnews.com and make your picks by 5 p.m. on the Thursday preceding the game. Winners will be announced in next week's paper.

Chargers Turn Back Kewaskum In Regional Final

By Judy Harlow

After posting two impressive tournament victories, the Kewaskum High volleyball team could not come up with a third at Kettle Moraine Lutheran in Jackson on October 21.

It was pretty much all Chargers in this Division-2 regional final. The hosts went 3-0, winning 25-17, 25-14 and 25-15 over the Indians, who played hard but came up short.

"KML is the number one ranked team in D-2, and they showed us why," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "We knew we were going to have to work all night and play at our best, but unfortunately, we could not get it going. We kept fighting, but we just did not have an answer for their middles."

Most of the KHS statistical numbers were down from what they had been in recent matches. Liz Lightner led the team in kills with just seven, followed by Amanda Schaller's four and two by Brellynn Scoles and Morgan Kappler.

Scoles had the most aces - three, while Sarah Butschlick was the assist leader with nine, followed by Morgan Denlinger's three. The Indian's top blockers, Lightner and Carolyn Stockhausen, were limited to two and one, and in digs, Lightner had three, and Tara Theusch and Holly Henk chipped in with two each.

"Losing is never the way you want to end, but losing to a top opponent, in their gym, while still giving it your all, that is about the best type of loss you can ask for," Leitzke said. "I am very proud of the senior class and how they handled their responsibilities as leaders, and I am disappointed, that I did not prepare them better for this match."

Seniors playing in their final high school matches included: Lightner, Butschlick, Kappler, Denlinger, Schaller and Paige Airaudi. They led the way for a third-place finish in the East Central Conference, wins in Fall River, and Cedar Grove/Belgium Tournaments and an overall record of 26-10.

First Two Tournament Matches Go Well For Indian Spikers

By Judy Harlow

The match didn't start out very well, but the Kewaskum volleyball team certainly ended on a high note on October 19, winning three games in a row to defeat visiting Plymouth 3-1 and earn a berth in the regional final against top-seeded Kettle Moraine Lutheran.

"It was a good team win ... no one player, definitely a team win," an excited KHS coach Laine Leitzke said after the thrilling 23-25, 25-23, 25-22 and 25-15 victory over the Panthers, a team the Indians lost to last weekend in the East Central Conference Tournament.

"Honestly, I thought it was going to be a pretty hard comeback," senior setter/all-around Sarah Butschlick said about falling in the first game, but she was confident in her teammates.

KHS started slow, falling behind 3-7 before coming alive and tying Game 1 at 11-11. It was tied once more at 14 before the Indians scored four straight points on Butschlick serves (including two aces) to take an 18-14 lead.

Plymouth was also resilient and surged back behind several power kills by Maggie Staehling to tie the game at 22-all. It was tied again at 23, then Kewaskum had a hit down the line go out of bounds, and the official called the Indians for a double hit end the game at 23-25.

Game 2 featured an Indian comeback after starting 2-7. This time it was Elizabeth Lightner serving a scoring run with some great play at the net by Morgan Kappler, who had a pair of kills and a well-placed winner to get the Indians back in the game at 6-9.

It was about this time that Staehler served a couple aces for a 15-9 Panther lead, but the two KHS Morgans, Kappler and Denlinger, made their presence known. Behind Kappler's kills and Denlinger's serves, the Indians rallied to tie the game at 18. It was tied at 21-21 and 23-23, then the Panthers were whistled for back-to-back double hits, giving the Indians a 25-23 win, and the match was tied at 1-1.

In Game 3, it was Kewaskum jumping out to a 9-4 advantage, and Butschlick said, "If we get a lead, that's good for us ... We feel better and play harder."

Now it was the Panthers on the ropes, and they battled back with four straight points to tie at 11-11 then took a 16-12 lead on some power blocking. Leitzke called a time out to settle his troops, and after losing the first three points after the break, the Indians went on an 8-1 run to tie the game at 20-all. Butschlick's kill started the run and she served five big points.

Momentum had definitely gone back to KHS, which used a kill and a well-placed dink by Kappler to take a 22-20 lead.

Amanda Schaller gave KHS a 24-22 lead with a crosscourt kill, and she finished off the game by pounding down a ball which the Panthers had no chance at returning.

Starting Game 4, the KHS fans were firing up the Indians with encouraging chants and after starting fast, they just kept rolling. In this game, Hailey Hasenberg had a great run at the serving line with Brellynn Scoles making her mark in the front line with back-to-back kills for a 12-5 lead.

"It was pretty cool to feel I was helping my team get back in the game and helping them win," Hasenberg said.

This time Plymouth, which has just two seniors on the team, was unable to get any closer than five points (14-9), as the Indians could smell victory.

Lightner's kill put the Indians one point from victory and on her serve return, the Panthers hit the ball out of bounds. Kewaskum was a 25-15 winner, and the players started to celebrate.

"We tried to keep the revenge factor out of the match and focus on our game plan and commitment," Leitzke said. "After a tough loss to them at the conference tournament, we saw the potential match upcoming and wanted to make sure we came prepared and committed."

Leitzke went on that after losing Game 1 and falling behind 13-9 in Game 2, "We committed ourselves to play games to two. We won every game to two from that timeout until the end of the set and took the set in the process."

Statistical leaders included: Kills — Kappler 15, Schaller and Scoles 11, Lightner 10; Aces — Hasenberg 5, Butschlick 2; Blocks — Carolyn Stockhausen 10, Butschlick 9; Assists — Butschlick 26, Denlinger 18; and Digs — Hasenberg 19, Butschlick and Scoles 15.

The Lady Indians opened tournament play with a convincing 3-0 win over Brown Deer by scores of 25-15, 25-8 and 25-16.

"We defended well tonight. A bit more hitting errors than I'd like but we were pushing aggressive attacks for most of the night, so errors were going to happen," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "We talked about not looking past this match all week and we did a great job staying focused. Hailey Hasenberg did a great job being the rock in the defense and serve receive as we adjusted players around her. Now we start prepping for Plymouth."

Kill leaders in the victory were Elizabeth Lightner (7), Amanda Schaller (7) and Brellynn Scoles (5) while the top ace providers was Lightner with four.

Amanda Schaller soars above the net to score for Kewaskum in a home victory over Plymouth on October 19.

Three KHS Runners Qualify For The State CC Test

By Judy Harlow

The outcome of the Division 2 sectional was far better than Kewaskum coach Kris Evans dreamed it would be.

The third-year coach was optimistic his senior ace, Justin Reck, would qualify as an individual, and he did by placing fifth overall in the field of 107 with a time of 17 minutes, 16.61 seconds (17:16.61).

Reck wasn't the only Indian qualifier, however, as sophomore Andrew Carlton turned in a personal best time of 17:26.19 to finish seventh.

The two will be joined by freshman Alyssa Butz, who finished 10th in the girls field with a time of 21:16.38. All three qualified as individuals by being among the top five runners from non-qualifying teams. Taking out the team qualifiers, Reck and Carlton were third and fourth while Butz was fifth, .37 of a second ahead of the next finisher.

"We had a great Saturday," Evans said. "Three going to state ... Unbelievable!"

"Boy, he deserves it," Evans said about Reck. "He attacked his senior season with vigor. I'm so happy for him."

"Going in, I knew time-wise he was 10th. (The question was) Are the right people going to be ahead of him," Evans said. "I told him just be in the top five, and then you don't have anything to worry about. That's what he did."

"He knew the same thing going in," Evans said about Carlton, adding, "He's a strategic runner. He got where he needed to be in the pack and managed to hang on there at the end."

"It was a very big day for her," Evans said of Butz, who was successful in middle school competitions. "She was just smiling the rest of the day."

Evans went on, "She just loves to run, and this is what happens when you attack something you love."

Cedar Grove/Belgium claimed the boys title with 83 points, 15 ahead of Grafton, which also advances to the state competition. The Grafton and Random Lake/Ozaukee girls teams were 1-2 with 47 and 60 points, respectively.

The sister act of Elise and Kelley Large of Random Lake/Ozaukee finished first and second for individual honors. Elise Large came in with a sizzling time of 19:18.45 while her sister was second at 19:49.27, nearly nine seconds ahead of Winneconne's Allison Butte, who had a 19:58.06 clocking.

Butte was the first individual qualifier, joined by Katie Miller of Kettle Moraine Lutheran (fifth, 20:18.82), Payton Navis of Cedar Grove/Belgium (20:32.34), Berlin's Nya Osterberg (20:44.66) and then Butz in the final qualifying spot.

Maella Olla, a junior homeschooler who lives in Kewaskum, finished 12th, missing a trip to Wisconsin Rapids by two places and 4.04 seconds. She covered the 5,000-meter course in 21:20.42.

"Maella didn't have her fastest day, but we love Maella. We wanted her to go to state," Evans said. "We have our fingers crossed she will make it next year."

The KHS boys finished ninth in the field of 16 teams with 220 points. With Reck and Carlton, the other counters included Kyle Toth, who was 54th with a time of 19:12.58, Lance Grosskopf, 74th in 20:03.76 and Blake Miller, 80th in 20:25.93. Freshman Gannon Kreuser was close behind in 85th in 20:40.41.

The Lady Indians had the two runners in the top 12, and the other counters included Courtney Zarda, 62nd in 23:36.56; Emma Penfield, 73rd in 24:12.46 and Erika Bolek, 81st, 24:47.20.

The state meet will be held at the Ridges Golf Course on Saturday, Oct. 28, for Division 2. The girls race will start at 1:20 p.m. with the boys race set for 3:10 p.m.

Reck Was Number Two; Backhaus Won A Conference Crown In 1973

By Judy Harlow

It turns out Justin Reck was not the first Kewaskum High cross country runner to win top individual honors in a conference meet, but he was the first at the current distance - 5,000 meters.

A former coach was not aware of any others who finished first in the conference test, but Randy Backhaus recalls a previous winner — himself.

Backhaus finished first in the Scenic Moraine Conference back in the fall of 1973. The meet was held at Pewaukee, and the Indians placed fourth behind Kettle Moraine, Arrowhead and Grafton.

Concerning the time of his winning effort, Backhaus thought it was somewhere under 12 minutes but later found it was 12:30. "We ran 2.5 miles then ... I don't know what year they went to 5,000 meters," he said, indicating others on the KHS varsity team that year were Dale Secor, Doug Wilson, Kurt Schmidt, Wayne Kleinman, Russ Wilson, Steve Miske and Daryl Holtz.

To win the race, Backhaus had to beat Jeff Stuetgen of Arrowhead, the defending conference champion.

When asked who challenged him during the '73 season, Backhaus said, "That year, I didn't have any (in the conference) ... The only challenger I had was Al Floeter of Campbellsport, and Campbellsport had already moved into a different conference."

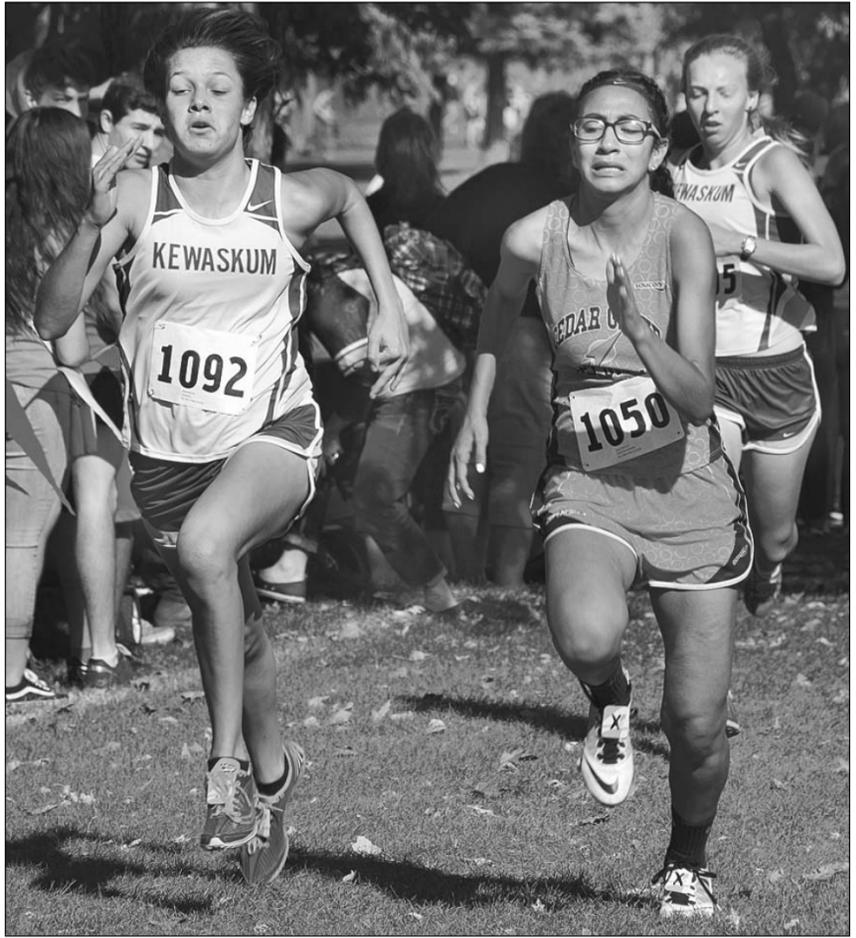

Backhaus also qualified for state where he had a bit of bad luck during the event which was held in 40-degree and rainy conditions. Backhaus was leading in the state meet when he went "around a corner, and down I went." Quickly scrambling to his feet, Backhaus was running close to Floeter with a half-mile to go, and then "I stepped in a hole" and ended up hobbling to the finish line.

Backhaus had to settle for 15th that day with a time of 13:16, while Floeter ended up placing fourth.

The 1974 yearbook reports Backhaus finished second in that sectional in '73, covering the course in 12:49. He also won the regional the week before sectional.

"I set records that year at Hon-E-Kor, Hartland, Homestead and Pewaukee," Backhaus said. Not bad for a young man who participated in cross country for just three years. "I actually went out for football my freshman year," he said, "but in track that year, I found out I was a better two-miler than a 130-pound football player."

Kewaskum High School freshman Alyssa Butz has a fierce finish at the Sectional Cross Country Meet at Lake Breeze Golf Course in Winneconne on October 21, with Maella Olla not far behind. She qualified for the state cross county meet with her finish at sectionals.

Eighth Grade Gridiron Kewaskum 8, Mukwonago 0

The eighth grade Indians survived a tough battle against Mukwonago and came away with an 8-0 win.

The Indians wasted no time getting on the scoreboard, taking their opening drive, marching down field, and scoring on a 25 yard touchdown run by running back Max Melzer. Kicker Andrew Bolek made the two-point kick to make the score 8-0.

The Indians moved the ball pretty well during the entire game with Mukwonago not putting together any scoring threats until the closing minutes of the game where they moved the ball down to the 15 yard line, but the defense stepped up and stopped them, to hang on for the win.

On offense, tight end Ben Butler had a good game making five catches. On the defense, defensive tackle Avery Donovan made several standout plays and defensive back Damarion Walters had an interception.

Seventh Grade Gridiron Kewaskum 21, Mukwonago 6

Sixth Grade Gridiron Mukwonago 26, Kewaskum 12

The sixth grade team had a well fought battle with Mukwonago starting with only 15 players and ending the game with 13. They could not overcome the lack of players and injuries. Oliver Voight went out early in the second half with a concussion, and Dawson Stahl got hurt, but toughed it out to help his team.

The Indians first score came in the third quarter, with a 40 yard touchdown run by Mitchell Becker. The other score was a 10 yard slant pass from Dawson Stahl to Mitchell Becker.

A fine day was had by the interior linemen, Matthew Miller, Jacob Ebert, Matthew Oelhafen, Adavion Vang, and Andrew Simpson who played both ways all game.

Also playing well today were, Zach Heiser, Bruce Penfield, James Martin, Jayce Rhoads, Casey Schmidt, Jayden Choy, and Bailey Ralph. The final score was Mukwonago 26-Kewaskum 12.

Fifth Grade Gridiron Mukwonago 12, Kewaskum 7

The fifth grade closed out their season on Saturday with an excellent defensive battle, but could not pull out the win. Losing 12-7 to Mukwonago.

The Indians put together a nice offensive drive to score their touchdown, with Landon Daniel running it in. The extra point pass was caught by Austin Nagel. The defense was stingy all day. Although they gave up two touchdowns, they did not give up either of the extra point tries. Corbin Dexter had another great day on defense. On offense, Brock Bonlender did a great job running the ball along with Daniel.

October 28 is the last day of Gridiron football. The sixth, seventh and eighth grade teams will be playing at home starting at 9 a.m. on Saturday. Come cheer on the future of Kewaskum football!

Ten Towns To Discover Along Wisconsin's Great River Road

The Great River Road is one of the best scenic drives in the entire state with some of the most beautiful locales along this side of the Mississippi River. Whether you are seeking a wild time with your best buds, a romantic getaway with that special someone, or you're a history buff interested in the regions expansive legacy, there is something for everyone here. Let's plan your next road trip as we stop at each prime location along The Great River Road.

1. Stockholm - Considered one of the most beautiful towns in the Midwest, Stockholm features an assortment of culinary and shopping establishments. Start off your day at the Bogus Creek Café for some Swedish Pancakes before doing some craft shopping at Antique Future and Ingebretson's, among other shops. This small, cozy town has a lot to offer.

2. Pepin - Traveling further south we find the birthplace of the acclaimed author Laura Ingalls Wilder. Capture the beauty of late Wisconsin summer during Labor Day weekend by reserving a spot at Pepin Campgrounds, just blocks away from beautiful Lake Pepin. Once you arrive at Lake Pepin you can view the Pepin Marina, the only marina on the Wisconsin side of the Mississippi.

3. Alma - Alma is the ideal location for anyone who appreciates wildlife and bird watching. Explore along the coast of the Mississippi, housing an assortment of fish, plants, and natural sites. Once you have finished your kayaking along the river, head over to Buena Vista Park & Overlook for the best view in the area, overlooking the Mississippi 500 feet above Alma.

4. Trempealeau - Need somewhere majestic and quaint for your next getaway? Let us recommend to you this vacation town. Talk a hike around Perrot State Park just north of the town and appreciate the bluffs' green landscape. Later, reserve a stay at one of the many local cabins as you watch the beautiful sunsets.

5. La Crosse - There is just so much variety of fun to be had in La Crosse, you cannot pass up this bastion of the Mississippi. There are plenty of bar crawls and music festivals happening year-round, such as Oktoberfest or Mid West Music Fest. Enjoy some of the many local eateries, such as Two Beagles Brewpub or Pickerman's Soup Café.

6. Genoa - If you prefer to avoid the bustle of the city, the perfect alternative is Genoa. New Orleans is not the only part of the Mississippi that has held steam boats; Genoa has a long history of being a port town with stories of steam boats like "Bella Danger", which is said to have sank nearby on the Mississippi. This unique locale and its historic legacy is sure to interest any history buff.

7. Prairie du Chien - Considered one of the most beautiful towns in Wisconsin for its terrific views of the Mississippi and majestic wildlife, the once great frontier of colonial times now thrives as a vintage town housing an assortment of shops and lodging. Learn Wisconsin's history as you drink a brewski on a river cruise. There is sure to be something of value for everyone visiting this gorgeous location.

8. Cassville - There are just so many camping locations in Wisconsin that it can be difficult deciding where to wrap up your last summer stay. Set up your tent on one of the local sandy beaches along the scenic bluffs of Cassville before taking a refreshing swim. Maybe take a ferry ride down the Mississippi in the summer sun where there is a good chance you'll spot a bald eagle.

9. Potosi - Potosi Brewery offers a wide selection of beverages that have popularized the township. After checking out the famed brewery, head just a little south to the Potosi recreational area while appreciating the Mississippi river and soaking in some rays.

10. Nelson - We all know Wisconsin is known for its cheese, and Nelson does its part in this tradition as the home to the Nelson Cheese Factory. Taste the delicacies of a large cheese and wine selection. The nicest part is that there are plenty of small communities and parks to explore in between your food tastings.

We hope you have painted a much bigger picture of these fantastic destinations. Who knows what other underappreciated gems you might discover along the Mississippi. If you know of any favorite spots or towns we had not mentioned, then let us know in the comments. Until next time, travel safe and have fun.

Stay Safe This Halloween With NFPA's Fire Safety Tips

Halloween is creeping up on us. The rush is on to find the perfect pumpkin, the spookiest costume, and the best candy for trick-or-treaters. However, along with all this excitement comes potential fire hazards related to seasonal decor and costumes. Fortunately, fire risks can be avoided by following the National Fire Protection Association's (NFPA) Halloween safety precautions.

"Halloween brings out creativity in people of all ages. Children enjoy dressing up and going door-to-door collecting candy, and adults go all out decorating their homes with spooky accents," said Lorraine Carli, NFPA's vice president of Outreach and Advocacy. "The festivities, however, can be dampened if the proper safety measures are not put in place ahead of time and while out canvassing the neighborhood for treats."

From 2011-2015, U.S. fire departments responded to an estimated average of 840 home structure fires per year that began with decorations. These fires caused an average of two civilian deaths, 36 civilian injuries, and $11.4 million in direct property damage, per year. Fire can start when candles are too close to decorations or when long, trailing costumes come into contact with candles.

To safely enjoy the Halloween holiday, NFPA has created a Halloween safety video that emphasizes preparedness and the importance of flame-resistant costumes and decorations. NFPA also offers parents and teachers tip sheets, kids' activities, a pumpkin-carving template and more at the Sparky the Fire Dog® website. NFPA's simple Halloween fire safety tip graphic is also great for sharing on social media so that people can enjoy a spooky and safe Halloween.

To ensure that your loved ones and home are free of fire this Halloween season, follow these safety guidelines:

Candles:

- Refrain from having an open flame.
- Use battery-operated candles or glow sticks in your jack-o-lanterns.

Costumes:

- Choose the right costume. Try to stay away from long or flowing fabric, and remain vigilant of extraneous costume pieces.

Decorations:

- Avoid flammable decorations including dried flowers, cornstalks and crepe paper that are highly flammable.
- Keep decorations away from open flames and other heat sources, including light bulbs and heaters.

Exits:

- Remember to keep all decorations away from doors so that they are not blocking any exits or escape routes.

Smoke Alarms:

- Make sure all of your smoke alarms are working and up to date.

Visibility:

- Provide flashlights to children or have children carry glow sticks as part of their costumes.
- Make sure if a child is wearing a mask that the eye holes are large enough so he or she can see out of them.

For this release and other announcements about NFPA initiatives, research and resources, please visit the NFPA press room.

Five Things To 'Focus' On This Fall

In between watching football and foliage this fall, it's also time to prepare for what comes next.

Wisconsin's Focus on Energy program helps eligible homeowners lower their energy bills and improve home comfort with financial incentives and technical support. These five tips will help keep homes warm and reduce energy waste before winter arrives.

1. Get a Home Performance with Energy Star® Assessment

Consider it a physical for your home.

One of Focus on Energy's participating Trade Ally contractors will perform a visual examination of your home that includes a blower door test that exposes where air (and money) are slipping through the cracks. Trade Ally contractors also perform a combustion safety check to ensure proper ventilation for added health and safety.

Proper air sealing and insulation is one of the most basic and important steps you can take to achieve year-round comfort while lowering energy costs. Most homes can benefit from additional insulation in the attic, exterior walls, overhangs, sill boxes or the foundation.

Home energy assessments include a customized report with recommendations unique to your home, as well as a Home Energy Score. The Home Energy Score provides an easy-to-understand 1-to-10 score of your home's energy efficiency.

Cash incentives are available for eligible home improvements (up to $2,250). Assess your home's eligibility with a Focus on Energy Trade Ally contractor. Get started at focusonenergy.com/wholehome or by calling 800.762.7077.

2. Check or Replace Your Furnace

Oil-fired systems need annual maintenance. Gas systems and heat pumps typically need a checkup every two years. A new filter is a fast and inexpensive way toward maintaining the efficiency of your furnace and controlling your heating bills.

Heating and cooling accounts for nearly half of the average home's energy usage. It might be time for an upgrade if your furnace is unreliable, inefficient, or over 15 years old. Focus on Energy offers eligible homeowners incentives on heating and cooling improvements.

Be sure to work with one of our Trade Ally contractors with Focus on Energy. To find a qualified contractor, visit focusonenergy.com/findatradeally.

Once projects are complete, submit your incentive application with 60 days of installation. Applications and complete details are available at focusonenergy.com/heatingandcooling.

3. Get a Smart Thermostat

Lower the heat as you leave for the day and before going to bed. It costs less to heat up a house as needed than to always keep it warm. Smart thermostats learn your schedule and can turn down the heat and warm the house for you, saving you time and money.

A smart thermostat saves up to $120 annually and typically pays for itself in two years. You'll save even more with a $75 Smart Thermostat Incentive from

Focus on Energy. Learn more at focusonenergy.com/smart.

4. Do your Homework Before Appliance Shopping

If you're buying new appliances or home electronics, look for the Energy Star label to find the most energy-efficient, high-quality models on the market. Smart shopping is made easier thanks to Focus on Energy's online Appliance Marketplace.

Focus on Energy has partnered with Energy Star and participating retailers to make high-performing, high-quality products more affordable. That means you'll save on your purchase, reduce energy waste, and save energy and money year after year. Learn more at focusonenergy.com/appliancemarketplace.

Did you know retiring your old refrigerator or freezer can earn you cash? Focus on Energy's Appliance Recycling Program will pick up your old, working refrigerator or freezer for free, responsibly recycle it, and send you $35.

Getting rid of an inefficient refrigerator or freezer can also save $150 per year on your electric bill. Schedule your free pick up by visiting focusonenergy.com/fridge or call 800.354.1898.

5. Get a Free Energy Saving Pack

Wisconsin's Focus on Energy program is offering free packs of energy saving products to customers of participating Wisconsin utilities.

These energy saving packs include items such as light-emitting diode (LED) light bulbs, high-efficiency showerheads, water-saving bathroom faucet aerators and showerheads, pipe insulation, and advanced power strips for home entertainment centers and office areas.

Choose which of the six energy packs best suit your home at focusonenergy.com/simple. Products can also be ordered by calling 800-230-4701.

Participants must be residents of single-family homes or multifamily residences of three or fewer units. Those in apartments or condos with four or more units will be eligible in January 2018.

About Focus On Energy

Focus on Energy is Wisconsin utilities' statewide energy efficiency and renewable resource program funded by the state's investor-owned energy utilities and participating municipal and electric cooperative utilities. Focus on Energy works with eligible Wisconsin residents and businesses to install cost-effective energy efficiency and renewable energy projects.

Focus on Energy information, resources and financial incentives help to implement projects that otherwise would not be completed. Its efforts help Wisconsin residents and businesses manage rising energy costs, promote in-state economic development, protect our environment and control Wisconsin's growing demand for electricity and natural gas.

Continued From... American Horror Story Comes To Kewaskum Home

Bersch has spent hundreds of hours over the last couple of months creating the horror display.

"I have a commercial art degree that hasn't been put to use in over 20 years, and it's something that I've been wanting to get back into. Not as a career, but more as a hobby," said Bersch, who works as a licensed massage therapist out of her home.

Bersch's clients have watched with intrigue as Bersch worked on the display over the past couple of months. After receiving treatment from Bersch, one client returned to the house with her grandchildren so they could see the decorations.

Bersch also has been getting lots of compliments from people who drive or walk past the house. It has become commonplace for people to scream out their car windows or honk as they drive by.

And many have stopped by and taken pictures.

"There has been kind of a buzz since we put the ferris wheel up," Bersch said matter-of-factly.

Bersch knew her dream of creating an "American Horror Story" display was coming close in August when she stumbled across an opportunity to get some mannequins.

"That's when all the ideas started flooding in. Since then, I've been spending all my free time working on characters and props for the display," Bersch said.

Most of the items have been handcrafted in some way using materials that Bersch had lying around the house and garage.

Bersch has put her craft skills to use, using styrofoam heads, duct tape, conduit and wigs.

"My family joined in on the efforts and it's really taken off since then. It has become a lot bigger than I originally planned," Bersch said.

Bersch's daughter, Jordyn, has been in charge of makeup and special effects. Bersch has spent countless hours with her mother, Sandy Brzozowski, shopping at garage sales and second-hand stores to find clothing and accessories for the characters.

Bersch's father, Duane Brzozowski, has been the construction force behind it all and built the ferris wheel. And Bersch's brothers have helped with some large props that couldn't be done by hand.

"It's really been a huge family effort. I'm just the one with all the ideas. They don't even watch the show, but they've come to know the characters and plot line of the show well," Bersch said.

Even though Bersch loves the show, she advises against her mother watching a single episode.

"I can't even stand a scary commercial," Sandy Brzozowski confessed before adding, "but making all of this has been fun."

The weather has created some issues for the Halloween spectacle.

"It's been pretty windy and that has delayed putting up the circus tent material to showcase the display. We've had to repair a few props that were damaged by the wind and rain," Bersch said.

Bersch's goal is to provide a lot of entertainment for Halloween weekend.

"For trick or treat we decided to stick with the carnival theme of Freak Show and hand out popcorn and cotton candy instead of traditional treats," Bersch said.

The enthusiastic creator would like to keep the "American Horror Story" theme going every year. To store all of the decorations, she had to obtain a building permit to put a shed in her backyard. Bersch affectionately refers to the shed as the "Mannequin Motel."

Bersch is already planning future additions.

"My plans are even bigger for next year. AHS has a different theme each season so the possibilities are endless. I have more characters and props that are in the works already," she said.

Maggie, the unfortunate fortune teller and Chester, the unmagical magician, are two of the "American Horror Story" characters that stand in front of Lori Bersch's home in Kewaskum.

"The sparks got into the attic, and a couple hours later there was smoke coming out of the house," Groeschel said.

The contractor who was at the house saw the smoke and called in to report that flames and smoke were coming from the house at 12:09 p.m.

"The thing of it is they had a portion of the roof tore off already, and that is an older type house. The roof boards were actually boards, so there were gaps in between the boards. Nowadays they put plywood on and the joints are all tight. The sparks apparently must have gotten through those gaps in the roof board and gotten into the attic. And then the wind would have been able to get into the gaps," Groeschel said.

There was a strong wind that day, which enhanced matters, Groeschel said.

The southwest wind measured 24 mph, with gusts up to 31 mph, according to the weather station at nearby i4Learning Community School.

The Kewaskum Fire Department was paged and the call was upgraded to a MABAS call. Fire Departments from West Bend, Allenton, Kohlsville, Jackson, Boltonville, Fillmore, St. Lawrence, Slinger, Newburg and Campbellsport responded to assist.

Many of the trucks that responded were tenders that transported water to the scene.

Traffic on Highland Drive was shut down to allow fire departments to work. The fire was reported to be extinguished at 1:52 p.m.

No injuries associated with the fire were reported. The house suffered significant damage, and the Bodens' insurance company declared the house a total loss.

The Bodens remain grateful for the help they received.

"We would like to thank the Kewaskum Fire Department, all the other responding fire departments and law enforcement personnel for the quick response and the wonderful job that they did for us," Nancy Boden said.
