Wanted: A Few Good Volunteers

– Kewaskum Fire Department Looks For Help

By Anne Trautner

When there an emergency, sometimes the only thing you can do is pick up a phone and dial 911 and ask for help.

In Kewaskum, volunteers for the Kewaskum Fire Department often respond to the calls.

The volunteers are there to help if there is a medical emergency, a traffic accident or a fire.

“We get the privilege, and it is a privilege, to actually show up and be there for that person when they need help the most,” said Jeremy Simonson, who is a volunteer firefighter for the Kewaskum Fire Department.

There currently are about 52 volunteers on the department’s roster. The Kewaskum Fire Department is currently looking for more volunteers to serve the community.

Village Considers Ordinance That Prohibits Students From Using Cell Phones At High School

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum School District is implementing a new policy that does not allow Kewaskum High School students to use their cell phones during the school day. The district is now asking the Kewaskum Police Department to help enforce the new policy.

At the Village Board meeting on Monday, Aug. 6, the village trustees discussed a proposed ordinance that would allow the police department to give citations to students who do not follow the school’s cell phone/electronic communication devices policy.

Kewaskum High School Associate Principal Mark Bingham told the board that students will be allowed to bring cell phones to the school, but they must keep them in their lockers during class time.

A first offense would result in a 30-minute lunch detention, and a second offense would give a student two 30-minute lunch detentions. If a third offense would occur, the school district is requesting that the case be referred to the Kewaskum Police Department, according to Bingham.

Each student will have access to a Chromebook, so cell phones will not be needed classrooms, Bingham told village trustees.

“It has become a distraction, and first and foremost, safety is our concern, and with social media concerns nowadays, having that cell phone readily available during the school day has really caused some problems during the school day,” Bingham said.

Bingham said there have been problems with pictures being taken and being sent through social media.

“We truly want to eliminate that concern during the school day,” Bingham said.

Germantown has a similar policy that Municipal Court Judge Steve Cain prosecutes, Kewaskum Police Lt. Mark Steiner told the Village Board Monday night.

“It is our hope that we don’t have to take it to this level,” Bingham said.

Village Trustee Dave Spenner said he is concerned with this as a school problem, but is not sure that it is something that police department should enforce.

“I’m not real comfortable with this policy,” Spenner said.

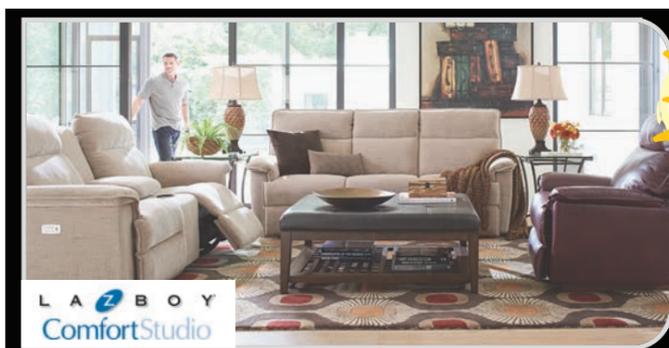

Kewaskum Middle School already has a no cell phone policy in place.

The Village Board is expected to discuss the ordinance ant its next meeting.

Volunteer firefighters for the Kewaskum Fire Department take part in a recent practice. The department is looking for more volunteers.

Emma Nuernberg Is 55th Baby To Wear 140-Year-Old Baptismal Gown

Emma Louise Nuernberg, daughter of Andrea and Ryan Nuernberg, became the 55th baby to wear a 140-year-old baptismal gown when she was baptized at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in West Bend on July 29.

The baptismal gown has been passed down through six generations.

The gown was handmade in 1878 by Maria Stutz in Washington, D.C. Stutz made the gown before Thomas Edison invented the light bulb, so it was most likely sewn by gas light or daylight.

The first baby to wear the gown was Laura Sieck, Stutz's granddaughter.

Laura Sieck's parents lived in Memphis, where her father was a Lutheran pastor. It is believed that there was a yellow fever epidemic while Laura's mother was pregnant with her, so Laura's mother went to Washington, D.C., where Laura was baptized.

Over the years, members of the family have worn the baptismal gown. The gown has traveled across the United States for Lutheran and Catholic baptisms in Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin.

The family is following guidelines from the Smithsonian to properly store the gown.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE REPORT

Fatal Car Crash

On August 5 at 11:50 p.m. the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of a single vehicle accident on Interstate 41 northbound underneath State Highway 144 in the Town of Polk. The callers indicated that the vehicle struck the bridge embankment. They also reported that the person inside the car was unconscious. Washington County Sheriff's deputies, along with Lifestar Rescue and the Slinger Fire Department, were dispatched to the scene. The first arriving deputy was on scene within minutes and found the lone occupant of the vehicle was trapped in the car and unconscious. The car had struck a utility pole alongside the interstate. The driver, a 31-year-old

City of Fond du Lac man was pronounced dead at the scene. The accident remains under investigation by the Washington County Sheriff's Office Accident Reconstruction Team. The initial investigation revealed that the northbound car drove onto the median shoulder and then overcorrected and lost control before veering off road right. The vehicle then struck a utility pole on the driver's side door. The driver was wearing his seatbelt and speed does not appear to be a factor. Both lanes of Interstate 41 northbound were shut down for 1.5 hours. This is the seventh traffic fatality of the year in Washington County. The name of the driver is not being released at this time pending notification of the family.

Notables

The Kewaskum School District received a School Safety Grant Award. Police Chief Tom Bishop attended the press conference with KSD Curriculum Director Mark Bazata and Attorney General Schmel. KPD officers perform many activities to serve the community that may not necessarily be considered "police work." Some examples of those activities are:
- Each night officers secure the restrooms in Kiwanis and River Hill Parks.
- Officers will lock up the gate at DPW on Saturday afternoons.
- Officers have delivered 97 packets this year to Village board members or planning commission members.

- Officers report many water main breaks or other hazards to DPW.
- Officers advise DPW of road conditions to determine if plowing is needed in the winter.
- Officers will look for junk, grass, snow and other property maintenance violations.
- Officers deliver and pick up Village mail and packages daily.
- The department provides fingerprinting services to the community.
- So far in 2018, officers have reported 19 street lights out to We Energies.

Junior Police Academy

This year marked the third year of teaching a summer school class called the Junior Police Academy. Officer Kevin Kohn and Chief Bishop teach the students about law enforcement to help them gain an understanding and appreciation for the job that officers do on a daily basis. This class would not be successful if not for the assistance of the following:

- Washington County Sheriff's Office
- Detective Mark Sette, Detective Chris Killey and K9 Gunner, SWAT Team, Jail Staff
- Washington County District Attorney Mark Benson
- Washington County Judge Todd Martens
- Flight for Life
- Kewaskum Fire Department
- Wisconsin DNR Warden Dan Nehls
- Kewaskum School District
- Cousin's Subs (donated subs for the last day)

Independence Day fireworks took place on July 3. There were no major incidents to report. Traffic control went very well after the conclusion of the fireworks display.

Tobacco Compliance Checks were performed by Elevate on July 23. No violations were reported.

Officer Kohn provided a tour of the Police Department to students at Little Folks School House on July 16.

Donated Sign Stolen From KPD

The July 3 fireworks event brings about a lot of traffic to the community. In the grass lot behind Holy Trinity School is where the police department parks a lot of vehicles. This year, the department had signs to assist with traffic flow. These signs were generously donated by Trend Setters Sign Shop in Kewaskum.

However, on the night of July 3, someone stole one of the new "EXIT" signs. These signs are 25 by 42 inches and have green stakes on each side.

Anyone who has any information on this theft is asked to contact the police department.

Kewaskum Police Department Holds Back-To-School Scavenger Hunt

August means it's time to start getting ready to go back to school. For the Kewaskum Police Department, it means it's time to get ready for the Back to School Scavenger Hunt.

The department's fourth annual Back-to-School Scavenger Hunt will begin on August 13. Police Chief Tom Bishop will hide a junior police badge somewhere in the Village of Kewaskum, and the lucky winner will win a ride to school in a police car (must be at a school within the Kewaskum School District, public or private). More information and rules will accompany the first clue.

Watch the Kewaskum Police Department Facebook page for clues on the hidden location beginning at 8 a.m. on August 13.

Raccoon Tests Positive For Canine Distemper In Kewaskum

Earlier this summer, the Kewaskum Police Department was experiencing an increase in the amount of sick raccoons it was encountering and euthanizing. The police department contacted the local Department of Natural Resources (DNR) warden to assist in determining the cause of this increase. Upon further testing of one of the deceased raccoons, it was determined that the animals were sick with canine distemper.

According to the Wisconsin DNR, canine distemper is a common virus found in sick raccoons. An animal with this virus will show symptoms common with rabies. In fact, the only way to determine if the raccoon is sick with rabies or canine distemper is through testing.

Canine distemper is contagious to other animals, including dogs. It is important that residents ensure their dogs' vaccinations are current to protect against contracting canine distemper or rabies. The law also requires current vaccinations and licensing for pets.

It is not uncommon for parents opting to name a son after the father. At the birth of a son in March of this year, Henry and Jeanna Schacht chose to do just that - name their son Henry. What is unusual, however, is the fact not only is newborn Henry's father Henry, his grandfather is Henry. As is his great-grandfather, his great-great grandfather, his great-great-great grandfather and yes, even his great-great-great-great grandfather was named Henry Schacht. In case you have lost track, this makes little Henry Griffin Schacht the seventh in a long lineage of family history.

Chester J. Dombrowski, 31, a former police officer of Chicago, was sentenced to life imprisonment last Thursday in the slaying of another Chicagoan Herbert L. McKinney, 27, last September. Sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge Jerold E. Murphy at Fond du Lac, who ordered Dombrowski confined at the state prison at Waupun after denying a request by Dombrowski's attorney for a new trial. On July 18, Dombrowski was convicted of first degree murder by a circuit court jury at Fond du Lac. The jury found him guilty in the slaying of McKinney, whose badly beaten body, with a bullet wound in his head, was found in a farm field atop a pile of rubble in a seldom used dump area in Fond du Lac County, approximately 1 1/2 miles north of Kewaskum on September 12. The farm on which the body was found was owned by Dombrowski and a brother. Attorneys for Dombrowski had asked for an order dismissing the murder charge and for a judgement for acquittal or an order to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. The life term is mandatory in a conviction of first degree murder charge. Dombrowski had pleaded not guilty to the charge of first degree murder following his indictment. No motive for the killing has ever publicly been established. Throughout the trial, attorneys for Dombrowski had stressed a lack of proof regarding venue in the case, claiming the prosecution had failed to establish that the murder took place in Fond du Lac County. Judge Murphy directed Sheriff Harry E. Rozek to take Dombrowski to Waupun the same day sentence was imposed.

Arnold Nichols, 34, of Campbellsport, was taken to St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac Tuesday morning the victim of a peculiar accident in which he lay for six hours in the Milwaukee River after his car had crashed into a bridge on County Highway V near the Washington-Fond du Lac county line, a short distance north of Kewaskum. Nichols, employed in a West Bend defense plant on the night shift, left work at 2:30 a.m. on Tuesday and started to drive to his home in Campbellsport. He apparently dozed at the wheel of his car as he approached the bridge, and the vehicle crashed into the right railing of the steel bridge. He sustained seven rib fractures and a severe injury to one foot. He also had a severe gash near one eye requiring several stitches, but was reported to be in fair condition. Despite his injuries, Nichols was able to extricate himself from the damaged vehicle. Apparently stunned, he walked to the rear of the car, then past the railing, and fell down a steep embankment into the river. Police said he

The damaged car was at the side of the bridge and a number of motorists stopped to view it over the next several hours, but failed to notice Nichols in the river. Around 9 a.m. Wallace Geidel of this village stopped to view the wrecked vehicle. He noticed blood on the bridge and a trail of it leading toward the river bank. Then he saw Nichols, who had regained consciousness by that time and was able to climb up the side of the bank with the assistance of Geidel and another passerby. The victim had lost a considerable amount of blood, but it was thought he would recover.

Seminar Offered On Tile Drainage On Agricultural Lands

The economics of grain production has created a greater interest among growers to consider installing additional drain tile on agricultural lands. While the practice of installing drain tile has come a long way since installation by hand of hardened clay tiles, the science of tiling continues to evolve today utilizing new technologies.

The seminar will cover a wide spectrum of drainage subjects from installation principles to understanding drain tile water outflow and strategies for improving drain tile water quality. Subjects will include engineering principals of sub-surface drainage systems, the permitting and approval process for field drainage and wetland projects, research results on drain tile water quality, and BMPs that help protect the quality of drain tile water quality.

Presenters include: John Panuska, UW Biological Systems engineer; Amanda Mink, DNR; Mike Patin, NRCS

- Sheboygan, Ozaukee and Washington counties; and Mike Ballweg, UW-Extension Sheboygan County.

The seminar will be held August 22 at Sunrise Acres, N2560 Mill Road in Waldo, from 6 to 9 p.m. The cost is $5. For registration information, visit <http://sheboygan.uwex.edu>, call the Sheboygan County UW-Extension Office at 920-459-5904 or email Michael.Ballweg@ces.uwex.edu.

Why Should You Be Physically Active? It's Great For You

The American Heart Association recommends that adults get at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity physical activity each week. You know exercise is good for you. But have you ever considered why it matters?

"Physical activity can improve your health and reduce the risk of developing several chronic diseases like type 2 diabetes, cancer and cardiovascular disease," said Elaine Auld, CEO of the Society for Public Health Education (SOPHE).

Even better, physical activity and exercise can have immediate and long-term health benefits. Regular activity can improve your quality of life. Physical activity strengthens your heart, lungs, bones and muscles. It also gives you more energy and strength. Exercise helps control your weight and blood pressure, while assisting you with handling stress. It can also improve your sleep quality and help you feel better about how you look.

While scheduling gym time and workouts can make a huge difference in your activity level, it also helps if you can integrate your physical activity into your lifestyle. Here are some tips to help:

- Try standing while at your desk. Get a standing desk. Or try a balance ball. If you have a conference call or long phone call, stand.

- Get up and move around regularly. For every hour you sit, move for five minutes. If you cannot do this every hour, do it every two hours and increase the time to 10 minutes.

- Walk more. A recent 2017 study showed over the last decade men and women are walking more. You can be part of this trend by walking for pleasure or to get around.

- Move your meetings outside and keep them active. Try a walking meeting. If just 25 percent of your meetings are active, you will make big strides in health.

- Add steps to your day. Park at the back end of the parking lot. Take the stairs instead of the elevator or escalator. Walk to run errands. When you get to a store, do a few laps around the outer edge of the aisles before starting your shopping.

- Be intentional about walking. Go for a walk in the evening with your family or in the early morning with a pet. If the weather is bad, go to a shopping mall to walk around. Many malls have "walking fitness" programs.

- Find a partner. A friend can motivate you to be active and encourage you when you need it. Having a buddy to meet up with will encourage you to stay active.

- Use technology to get active. Try a smartwatch, Fitbit or pedometer. Many smartphones have pedometers and nutrition apps installed. Websites offer charts, activity ideas and more.

Auld points out that earlier this year, the U.S. Surgeon General has called on Americans to walk more, and for communities to be more walkable too.

To help promote healthier communities, SOPHE partnered in a three-year national initiative, Partnering4Health, which has projects in 97 communities across the country.

The Plan4Health project is part of the initiative's work and led by the American Planning Association (APA). The project encourages city planners to consider public health when making decisions about how cities are structured and developed.

That means they are working to help communities be more pedestrian and bike friendly. That includes helping communities figure out how to calm traffic so it's safer to walk, and encouraging people to embrace the idea of walking or biking instead of driving.

In addition to SOPHE and APA, Partnering4Health partners also include the National WIC Association, the American Heart Association, and the Directors of Health Promotion & Education.

— Kewaskum Fire Department Looks For Help

Volunteers do a variety of jobs. Some drive trucks and some help with medical calls. Some transport water to needed locations and others extinguish fires. Each volunteer can choose which type of job best suits them.

"You don't have to be a firefighter that runs into a burning building. You don't have to be the EMT on a call," volunteer firefighter Jim Steinmetz said.

No special background is required to become a volunteer; the fire department offers training for all the different jobs. With that training, the department is equipped to answer just about any call.

"We are ordinary people who regularly get put into extraordinary situations," Simonson said.

Different Walks Of Life

Volunteer firefighters come from all different walks of life. There are electricians, plumbers, managers, business owners, welders, truck drivers, village employees, assembly line workers, print shop workers and teachers.

"We are the ordinary Joe Shmoes out in the community. We are everybody's neighbor. Some of us have kids, some of don't. Each of us has a different kind of job," Simonson said.

Steinmetz, who works as a plastics engineer in Grafton, moved to Kewaskum about two years ago. He wanted to help out the community, so he became a volunteer firefighter.

"Everybody here is more than friendly and accepting to anybody that comes on. It really is like a big family," he said.

But the best part is serving the community.

"It's a fantastic feeling being there at somebody's worst moments and being able to help them," Steinmetz said.

Chris Weninger joined the volunteer fire department in 1999 when he got out of high school.

"I like to help people. It is a way to give back to the community," said Weninger, who is a welder by trade.

Allen Phillips, who volunteers as an ambulance driver, has been with the department for about five years.

"If I had known then what I know now, I would have joined a long time ago," Phillips said. "When you see people run away from an event, like a fire or an accident, we go to it. We are just helping out the community because if we don't do it, who is going to do it?"

Phillips also appreciates the camaraderie that exists within the department.

"They all welcome everybody, no matter how big you are, no matter how small. They don't judge you, because everybody has the proper training, and we are all coming together as one," Phillips explained.

Rewards

Zach Garbisch, who has been with the department for 11 years, is a third generation volunteer firefighter.

"I grew up in a house where I got used to the sound of a pager going off. We lived literally within eyesight of the firehouse. When I was 5 or 6, if there was a big fire, I would go to the bay window and watch my dad and all the guys leave in the trucks," Garbisch recalled.

Garbisch moved to Kewaskum when he was in about fifth grade, and his father joined the Kewaskum Fire Department.

"I waited patiently until my 18th birthday and I had a chance to apply," he said. "I got on the year I graduated high school, and ever since then, it has been as rewarding as my father and everybody else in my family had made it out to be," said Garbisch, who is a certified driver operator for the department. "you get a sense of satisfaction knowing that you helped somebody out in their time of need, whether it be a fire or a car accident."

Garbisch's mother, Sheryl Garbisch, and his brother, Craig Garbisch Jr., also volunteer for the department.

"I wanted to be there when people needed somebody there," Sheryl Garbisch explained.

Those that are helped by the volunteers feel that they cannot adequately express their appreciation.

Take Wednesday, July 11, for example. When fire struck a barn located just north of Kewaskum in the early morning hours that day, volunteer firefighters from the Kewaskum Fire Department were the first to arrive on the scene.

The volunteers worked with members of other area fire departments, as well as the Fond du Lac and Washington County sheriff's offices to extinguish the fire. They were able to prevent the blaze from spreading.

The barn was a total loss. But the response prompted the owners of Buss Farmland and J+T Buss Farms to write a heartfelt thank you to everyone who helped with the fire.

"You all worked very hard and were very professional. We are so blessed to have people like you to help keep all of us safe," Jim and Terry Buss wrote.

That response makes it all worthwhile.

"It warmed my heart, gave me goosebumps. These people had just lost their livelihood, and they came up and thanked us for being there," Sheryl Garbisch said.

"This is what we do," she said.

To find out more about how to become a volunteer firefighter, contact the Kewaskum Fire Department at mgroeschel@village.kewaskum.wi.us or 262-626-6731.

Kondex Senior Application Engineer Andy Theisen holds his award for outstanding leadership as ASABE conference chair.

Theisen Recognized By ASABE

Kondex Senior Application Engineer Andy Theisen was recently recognized by ASABE (American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers) for outstanding leadership as conference chair over its 2018 AETC (Agricultural Equipment and Technology Conference) event. Theisen's efforts were acknowledged at ASABE's Annual International Meeting in Detroit, an event that drew approximately 1,300 attendees from all continents.

Theisen joined ASABE in 2012, and has attended the annual meeting and AETC conference every year since. While he has served on the AETC committee for the last six years, this was his first year as chair. In this role, he oversaw all conference planning and meetings, as well as efforts to enhance and elevate the event for future years.

"It was a pleasure and privilege to serve as AETC chair this past year. Our team did a phenomenal job to ensure the conference was a success," commented Theisen. "With the world population continuing to grow and our natural resources becoming more strained, the work ASABE members perform is critical to our future. Events like AETC provide a forum for the type of open discussion that is required to drive new technology forward - something that is imperative in my role at Kondex."

In addition to his AETC work, Theisen is active on several standard development committees, and currently serves as chair of ASABE's Wisconsin Section.

ASABE is an international scientific and educational organization dedicated to the advancement of engineering applicable to agricultural, food, and biological systems. It was founded in 1907, and is comprised of members in over 100 countries. Its 2019 AETC event will be held in Louisville, Kentucky February 11-13. For more information on the Society, or to become a member, visit www.asabe.org.

Commerce Department Revises Newsprint Tariffs

By Julia Hunter

The U.S. Department of Commerce on August 2 reduced tariffs imposed earlier this year on Canadian newsprint producers, offering a partial reprieve to publishers who have struggled to absorb increased newsprint costs.

In January, the Commerce Department set temporary tariffs of up to 32 percent on uncoated groundwood paper from Canada in response to a single paper mill located in Longview, Wash. Today's announcement reduces the tariffs to just over 20 percent for one large Canadian producer, Catalyst Paper Corp, just under 10 percent for two other big producers, and as little as around 1 percent for others.

"These import duties on newsprint have already caused job losses in the printing and publishing sectors and have resulted in decreased news coverage in local communities," News Media Alliance CEO David Chavern said in a statement from the STOPP Coalition. "Although this is a step in the right direction, the reduced rates only lessen the pace at which the tariffs are harming the industry. We hope that the International Trade Commission will entirely reverse these misguided tariffs at the end of the month."

The Commerce Department decision is not final. The International Trade Commission can reverse the tariffs in its final determination at the conclusion of its investigation. The ITC is expected to vote on August 29 and issue a ruling on Sept. 17.

Common Ground Healthcare Cooperative Board Elects Officers

The Common Ground Healthcare Cooperative (CGHC) board of directors voted to elect Keisha Krumm as chairman of the board at its June meeting. Amy Murphy was elected as the board's vice chair, and Mary Rehberg was re-elected as the board's secretary/treasurer.

CGHC is a member governed, cooperatively owned health insurer that began providing health coverage to individuals and small businesses in 2014, when the health insurance market was undergoing significant change. Krumm was first elected to serve on the board at the end of that first year, once the cooperative had signed up enough members to hold an election.

In a nonprofit cooperative business model, it is the people buying the services that vote to elect the board, and all voting board directors must be purchasing their health insurance through the cooperative. Any profit made is returned to members in improved services or lower rates.

"It is a real honor to be elected by my peers to help lead an organization that is dedicated to fixing the problems in healthcare," Krumm said. "For nearly four years, I have had the privilege to be a part of the Common Ground Healthcare Cooperative decision-making process that puts members first, in a way that for-profit insurance companies simply cannot do."

Murphy, who was also elected in 2014, echoed those sentiments. "The past four years have been a time of great uncertainty for the health insurance industry, which has caused other insurers to leave the individual market," she said. "Our board room discussions center around service to people, especially areas of the state that otherwise would not have an insurance option."

Krumm is a community organizer working toward social change, while Murphy is a long-time public health advocate and consultant. Rehberg is an independent CPA with significant experience in the financial services and credit union industries.

CGHC provides health insurance to those that have been traditionally underserved by health insurance companies, including individuals, small employers and nonprofits. Its mission as a nonprofit cooperative is to change the health insurance experience through open dialogue, powerful advocacy and the delivery of trusted and understandable information to members and stakeholders.

CGHC's headquarters are based in Brookfield, Wisconsin. It now serves 20 Wisconsin counties including Brown, Calumet, Door, Fond du Lac, Kenosha, Kewaunee, Manitowoc, Marinette, Milwaukee, Oconto, Outagamie, Ozaukee, Racine, Shawano, Sheboygan, Washington, Waukesha, Waupaca, Waushara and Winnebago counties. State Criminal Justice System Offers Access To Data On Sexual Offenses

Attorney General Brad Schimel announced the launch of new interactive data dashboards regarding criminal sex offenses with incident-level details, in order to improve transparency in criminal justice data for citizens, policy makers and researchers.

"We cannot forget that behind all of these numbers are survivors; survivors who have gone through one of the most traumatic events somebody can experience," said Attorney General Brad Schimel. "Making this information easily available to the public is critical to creating evidence-based decisions in the criminal justice system that will improve outcomes for survivors of crimes and initiate prevention methods to prevent others from becoming crime victims. As society is taking a more critical look at sexual assault occurring in our society, it is so important that the public have access to this data set. We're grateful to survivors who came forward. Without their help, we could not hold offenders accountable and make our communities safer."

The interactive data dashboard on sex offenses is the first Wisconsin Department of Justice (DOJ) dashboard developed offering incident-level detail. Users can view the number and rate of six different sex offenses reported by each law enforcement agency over the last five years. Additionally, incident-level details including weapons, locations, victim and offender demographics, and the relationships between victims and offenders is available per county, year, and type of sex offense. Previously, only aggregate-level information for rape offenses and arrests was available. View the sex offense data dashboard at <https://www.doj.state.wi.us/dles/bjia/ucr-sex-offense-data>.

Data from 2013-2017 are currently available on the dashboard, and the data will be refreshed quarterly. Additional information regarding the six sex offenses and methodology are available on the dashboard page. These data are based on sex offenses reported by Wisconsin law enforcement agencies to the BJA through the Wisconsin Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program, using definitions of offenses as defined by the FBI. Law enforcement agencies are responsible for the completeness and accuracy of the data submitted under the UCR program.

This data dashboard was developed by the DOJ Bureau of Justice Information and Analysis (BJIA), which works to inform criminal justice policy and practice by conducting objective research, analysis, and evaluation of information. BJA first launched interactive data dashboards in 2016. Other dashboards currently available, which include data from 2013 to 2017, are arrests by location, arrest demographics, offenses by location, and offense and arrest data by agency.

Attorney General Schimel has made supporting victims of sexual assault one of his top priorities. Under Attorney General Schimel's administration, DOJ has reformed sexual assault response protocols, advocated for legislation that protects survivors, trained communities to respond to sexual assault with a trauma-informed, victim-centered approach, and championed the testing of previously unsubmitted sexual assault kits in Wisconsin.

CAMPUS NEWS

– University of Wisconsin - Madison

Nearly 7,500 students received degrees during the University of Wisconsin-Madison's spring commencement ceremonies, May 11-12.

The ceremony for doctoral, MFA and Medical Degree graduates was May 11 at the Kohl Center, bachelor's, master's and law graduates received their degrees May 12 at Camp Randall.

Chancellor Rebecca Blank told graduates they've been educated in the proud tradition of the Wisconsin Idea — the commitment to public service. She urged graduates to focus on the question, "What am I doing for others?"

"If you keep asking that question, you will keep finding ways to use your knowledge and skills to make the real world a little better," she said.

During his remarks, David Muir, anchor of "ABC World News Tonight," emphasized two themes: our shared humanity and the need to overcome fear.

Moraine Park's Promise Program Begins

Moraine Park Technical College is proud to announce that its first class of Promise program students is scheduled to start their college career this fall. The 33 students in this inaugural class are the first to take advantage of this unique, tuition-free, college opportunity.

In April 2017, Moraine Park Technical College announced the Promise program, which will offer five consecutive semesters of free college tuition, as well as additional services including mentoring, tutoring, career guidance, financial aid workshops, and counseling services to low-income students. The purpose of the program is to offer the opportunity for a college education to individuals who otherwise couldn't afford it. It will also help to address the employment gaps across the workforce by supplying businesses with skilled and educated individuals.

"The Promise program is so much more than just the promise of free education for these students," Bonnie Baerwald, president of Moraine Park Technical College said. "It also serves as a promise to our communities that our students will leave here skilled and trained, and ready to influence the local workforce with their knowledge. I look forward to watching them grow and excel in all of the opportunities that are presented to them."

The Moraine Park Promise program's initial fundraising campaign received substantial community support towards this organized effort to build a free-tuition scholarship fund. As a result, this program will be able to benefit future students for generations. The following lead gift donors have made investments of $10,000 or more to the Moraine Park Promise Scholarship program: Agnesian HealthCare, Agnesian HealthCare Foundation, Alliance Laundry Systems, Apache Stainless, Baker Cheese, Beaver Dam Community Hospital, Beaver Dam Community Hospital Foundation, Bonnie Baerwald, C.D. Smith Construction, Duane and Kathleen Foulkes Foundation, Excel Engineering, Holiday Automotive Foundation, Horicon Bank, J.F. Ahern, Jack (John) and Joan Shanahan, Jim and Judy Flood, John and Eileen Pfeifer, Kondex Corporation, Manowske Welding, Mayville Engineering Company, Mercury Marine, Mike and Nancy Berg-Summit Automotive, National Exchange Bank Foundation, Rick and Joni Parks, Russ Darrow Auto Group, Silica For Your Home, Society Insurance, Steve and Karla Peterson, The Grande Foundation, Tobin Machining, Uecker-Witt Funeral Home, Van Horn Automotive Group, and West Bend Community Foundation's Ziegler Family Foundation Fund.

"A strong workforce has always been critical to the success of this region," Steve Peterson, Promise program campaign chair said. "The Promise initiative is a long-term investment in the future of the workforce in this area. No longer will students who have the drive and talent to pursue a technical college education be left behind because of financial barriers."

Many of the donors that have offered their support to the Promise program understand the economy's current need for knowledgeable and skilled workers. Moraine Park is proud to cultivate these beneficial and lasting partnerships as an option that will provide future business solutions.

"The Moraine Park Promise program offers an innovative opportunity for students, who would otherwise be left behind, to gain the skills to better care for their families," Kim Miller, president and CEO at Beaver Dam Community Hospital and Moraine Park Foundation Board Chair said. "We are also excited about the program's potential to train even more healthcare professionals, helping Beaver Dam Community Hospital continue to deliver excellent care."

The Promise program began with an overall fundraising goal of $1.2 million, and thanks to community support, it has raised nearly 92 percent of its goal. The Moraine Park Foundation is looking to reach their goal through newly gained partnerships. Cultivating these additional partnerships for this program is vital to ensuring educational opportunities for future Promise students and will aid in the expansion of the program from 33 students to 100-200 students per year.

"We are proud to offer the Promise program and are grateful for the community support that makes this unique college opportunity a possibility," Baerwald said. "We have made huge strides towards our goal, thanks to the generosity of our donors. Our goal for longevity is to expand our partnerships so that we can be ready to fulfill the needs of future students, both financially and within the workforce."

For more information on the Promise program or how to become a donor, visit morainepark.edu/promise.

Moraine Park Offers Business Solutions For Community

By Anne Trautner

In response to industry demands, Moraine Park Technical College is offering a Business Analyst program this fall 2018.

This two-year associates degree program is offered online and allows individuals either established at an organization and looking for growth, or those seeking a business career to take the program designed for school-life flexibility.

"In the world of business, making data-driven and need-based decisions is vital to be competitive," said JoAnn Giese-Kent, business analyst instructor at Moraine Park. "Business analysts are trained to define stakeholder needs and recommend solutions that will support decision makers in moving the business forward. Business analysts keep an eye on the business landscape and create value by helping the company navigate in a positive direction."

A business analyst is a career path that focuses on performing a set of tasks and the use of analytic techniques to understand the structure, policies, and operations of an organization. They are the cultivators of change that enable the organization to have better business outcomes. Graduates with a business analyst degree serve jobs in the Management Analyst occupation which include titles such as Business Analyst, System Analyst, Process Analyst, Database Analyst, Market Research Analyst, Supply Chain Analyst, and Management Consultant.

"Employers are taking advantage of this program as a professional development tool," said Fred Rice, dean of applied technology and trades at Moraine Park. "Offering this program is one way that we are responding to the industry needs that are present right here in our communities. This program is offered with a hands-on approach, completely online, so that students can take advantage of implementing their education into their everyday work life."

Individuals specializing in this degree are in high demand by many industries including healthcare, insurance, manufacturing, finance, and retail. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor statistics, employers throughout the United States will need 861,400 management analysts by 2024. In Wisconsin, employers will need 13,151 by 2024. That's a growth of 14 percent, almost double compared to all occupations nationally. The median annual wage is $71,230 for an experienced analyst.

Moraine Park is now accepting program applications for the fall 2018 semester. Interested individuals can find more information online at morainepark.edu/programs or by calling 800-472-4554.

JANELLE WIECZOREK

Janelle Wieczorek Honored With DAISY Award

Janelle Wieczorek, West Bend, Emergency Department RN, has been recognized with Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin St. Joseph's Hospital's fourth quarter DAISY Award for her "loving soul" and compassion.

"I experienced my first miscarriage and had to come to the hospital," said the award nominator. "Words cannot describe how thankful I am to have had Janelle as my nurse. Janelle is an unbelievably kind and compassionate person, always there checking on me, by my side and saying soothing words. She works with such elegance and has an energy that is very motherly. And even though she isn't my mom, I love her and am grateful for her as if she was. Janelle's hugs and kind words made me feel incredibly safe and warm. I don't think I have ever met someone that matches Janelle's loving soul."

The DAISY Foundation, an acronym for Diseases Attacking the Immune System, recognizes nurses as unsung heroes of our society who deserve more recognition and honor than they receive. More than 1,900 hospitals throughout the United States participate in the DAISY Award program.

The DAISY Foundation provides each recipient with a sculpture, "A Healer's Touch," which is hand-carved for the foundation by artists of the Shona Tribe in Zimbabwe. The sculpture is made of Serpentine stone that comes from the mountains "where the most powerful shaman" live in Zimbabwe. The foundation chose this design not only because it depicts the relationship nurses have with their patients, but also because the Shona people hold their healers in a position of great importance to the community and feel about their healers the way The DAISY Foundation and St. Joseph's Hospital feel about nurses.

At St. Joseph's Hospital, Janelle was honored at a recent ceremony at which she received a certificate, pin and the sculpture.

Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin St. Joseph's Hospital, founded in 1930 by local doctors, community leaders and the Sisters of the Divine Savior, is a full-service hospital serving residents of West Bend and Washington County. St. Joseph's Hospital specializes in women's health and birthing services, cancer care, surgical procedures and rehabilitation services. It's part of the Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin health care network, which includes four community hospital campuses, more than 1,600 physicians and nearly 40 health centers and clinics, drawing patients from throughout the Midwest and the nation.

Diggers Hotline Reminds Everyone To Call 811 Before Digging

August 11 is almost here, and Diggers Hotline hopes this date on the calendar, 8/11, will serve as an easy reminder for everyone to call 811 prior to any digging project to have underground utility lines marked.

Anyone in Wisconsin digging with a shovel, posthole digger or anything else that disturbs the soil is required to contact Diggers Hotline, either by phone by dialing 811 or at www.DiggersHotline.com. Diggers Hotline is a free service that helps protect Wisconsin residents from injury and repair costs that may occur when striking a buried utility line.

Installing a mailbox, building a deck, planting a tree and laying a patio are all examples of digging projects that need Diggers Hotline before starting.

It doesn't matter how deep the digging project will go. The depth of utility lines can vary for a number of reasons, such as erosion, previous digging projects and uneven surfaces. Utility lines need to be marked because even when digging only a few inches, the risk of striking an underground utility line still exists.

Anyone digging in Wisconsin, homeowners or professional contractors, is required to contact Diggers Hotline three working days before they start their digging project. Diggers Hotline can be reached via phone by dialing 811, or at www.DiggersHotline.com.

Residents Invited To Monitor Wisconsin's Water During Snapshot Day

Washington County invites residents of all ages to participate in the state's fifth annual Snapshot Day on Saturday, Aug. 18, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at five locations throughout the county.

The fun, hands-on citizen science event relies on volunteers to help search for aquatic invasive species in local lakes, rivers and streams. The statewide effort is hosted by River Alliance of Wisconsin in partnership with UW Extension's Citizen Lake Monitoring Network and Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"The volunteers play a vital role in protecting Wisconsin's waters by detecting potentially harmful plants and animals," said Brad Steckart, AIS coordinator for Washington and Waukesha counties. "We are excited to take part in this great opportunity for our community once again."

Snapshot Day is free and does not require any previous experience. Local coordinators will train attendees and provide any tools needed for the day. Volunteers can monitor from the shore with binoculars and rakes or wade in to get a better look. The event is recommended for ages 8 and up; minors must be accompanied by an adult.

Register and see all event details at www.wisconsinrivers.org/snapshot-day/. Advance registration is recommended by August 3 to receive a free Snapshot Day tote bag with supplies. Registration will remain open until Aug. 17.

For more information, contact Brad Steckart, AIS coordinator for Washington and Waukesha counties at 262-335-4806 or bradley.steckart@co.washington.wi.us. T.J. Kreye Honored Posthumously With First Sunflower Award

T.J. Kreye, critical care technician in the Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin St. Joseph's Hospital Emergency Department, has been posthumously recognized with St. Joseph's Hospital's first-ever Sunflower Award. Kreye died unexpectedly April 18 after a long battle with epilepsy.

"T.J. was a very devoted, compassionate, and enthusiastic co-worker," said an award nominator. "He was always pleasant to the patients and their families. He made them comfortable and kept them knowledgeable of what is going to happen. If there was a change in condition for the patient he would let the doctor or nurse know. He was a great critical thinker. He could anticipate what the doctor or nurse was going to ask. There have been so many times that T.J. would cheer us up, especially after a bad day. Everyone in the emergency department truly enjoyed working with him. Even after a 16-hour shift T.J. always had a smile or wanted to make sure you had a good day before he left. T.J. said, 'You all are my work family. Why wouldn't I take care of my work family?' T.J. had the biggest heart for not only the patients but for his coworkers also."

The Sunflower Award was created by the hospital's Nursing Division to honor extraordinary nursing support staff who demonstrate devotion, strength and compassion to ensure the well-being of patients, family and staff. St. Joseph's Hospital will recognize one nursing support staff member twice a year. Each Sunflower honoree will be recognized at a public ceremony in his/her unit with a certificate, a Sunflower Award pin and a hand-carved stone sculpture titled "Supporting Heart." The sunflower was chosen as the award theme because the sun symbolizes warmth and strength, and the flower represents devotion, compassion and enthusiasm.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

Candidates listed as they appear on the ballot.

Rep. In Congress – District 5 Republican

Name:

Jennifer Hoppe Vipond

Office for which you are a candidate:

Representative in Congress, District 5

Your Occupation/ Employment History:

I have been a pediatrician with Medical Associates/Prohealthcare in Waukesha for 27 years.

Educational Background:

Children's National Medical Center - George Washington University: Residency

University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health/University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health: Medical School

Family Information:

I am one of 10 children raised in Wauwatosa. My husband, Mark, and I raised six children while I maintained a full-time medical practice.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

I have spent the majority of my life in Wisconsin's fifth district. I have been ingrained in this community my entire life and have been involved in the daily challenges and successes of thousands of families.

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

As a physician, I have practical solutions to reduce healthcare costs. I will work to develop a policy based on price transparency, consumer-driven price reduction, bundling of payments, expanded HSAs and population health systems.

What inspired you to run for office?

I entered the GOP race to replace Congressman Sensenbrenner because I am frustrated by the lack of a sensible approach to healthcare policy. I respect the congressman's decades of service, but for years Congress has issued policies to shift rather than reduce healthcare costs. This has resulted in American families being crushed by out of control increases in the cost of care. We need sustainable healthcare policies now.

What are your top three priorities?

With a fresh approach to healthcare delivery and billing, my employer has been able to reduce costs for Medicare patients by 28 percent while at the same time improving the quality of care. These are the healthcare changes we should be promoting at a federal level and we need physician guidance to ensure that the decisions made have input from a representative with a true understanding of what is happening to real people who need healthcare help.

In the last 10 years, I've seen very little meaningful legislation to combat the opioid epidemic. As a pediatrician I have seen the effects of the opioid epidemic in all of its ugly forms. I have had patients die of overdose. I have had patients left orphaned and in foster care. I have seen the struggles of grandparents and other family members who struggle to keep families together. I have seen children subjected to horrible abuse while their parents were incapacitated.

The "Ensuring Patient Access and Drug Enforcement Act of 2015," for example, supported by pharmaceutical companies and coincidentally passed unanimously by Congress, worsened the crisis and allowed huge shipments of pain pills to flood small town America. Bills that offer hope are grossly underfunded. Clearly we need an experienced physician rather than special-interest-funded lawyers to address this problem.

I will not be a career politician and do not have or need the baggage of special-interest support. I will be working for the American people and specifically for the people of District 5. I will take a break from my practice for a maximum of six years to work toward these and several other goals including workforce development and school safety.

Name:

Jim Sensenbrenner

Office for which you are a candidate:

Representative in Congress, District 5

Your Occupation/ Employment History:

Lawyer and Congressman

Educational Background:

I attended Stanford University for my undergraduate degree, and the University of Wisconsin – Madison for my law school degree.

Family Information:

I have been married to Cheryl Warren Sensenbrenner since 1977. Together we have two adult sons, Frank and his wife, Margaret, and Bob and his wife, Diana, and a 1-year-old grandson, Kevin.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

St. Mary Catholic Parish, Menomonee Falls.

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

As the only candidate unanimously endorsed by the Republican Party of Wisconsin's Fifth Congressional District Caucus, I am energized to continue serving my constituents in Wisconsin's Fifth Congressional District.

During my time in Congress, I have achieved a principled bi-partisan record as the lead sponsor on 500 bills or amendments, 99 of which passed the House, 34 that became law.

What inspired you to run for office?

In high school I decided the way to make our state and country better was to run for office, and serve honorably.

What are your top three priorities?

It is important that we keep prosperity growing by making middle class tax cuts permanent after 2025, and continuing to roll back job killing regulations.

During the last Congress, I was the principal House author of the flagship legislation to combat the opioid epidemic, the Comprehensive Addiction Recovery Act, which was overwhelmingly passed by Congress and signed into law by President Obama. I want to go back to Washington next year to finish up the job, which means funding the bill to provide first responders, physicians and pharmacists with the resources they need to educate, treat, and prevent this epidemic from spreading.

I also introduced the Stopping Overdoses of Fentanyl Analogues (SOFA) Act, and will continue to work for its passage. There is no law making trafficking fentanyl analogues illegal, and the SOFA act does that. I will use my effectiveness to push both of these issues through Congress.

Your Occupation/ Employment History:

Retired – 34 years of experience in the Professional Staffing Industry

Educational Background:

B.S. Biological Science; Chemistry minor

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

Fond du Lac County Board Supervisor (since 2013) and Town of Auburn Chair (since 2013). Vice-President of Campbellsport Public Library Board. Fond du Lac County Finance Committee Vice Chair. Chair of Town of Auburn Planning Commission and on the Board of Review. I am a member of the Wisconsin Counties Association Steering Committee on Transportation and Public Works. Previous Fond du Lac County committee assignments: Chair, University of Wisconsin Education, Extension, Ag and Recreation; Vice Chair of Land Conservation Committee; and Executive Committee. Experience and Proven Leadership – I have shown that I am a fiscal conservative with a moral conscience in the various elected offices that I hold.

What inspired you to run for office?

Since I am retired, I have the time to serve the community. I want to represent the 59th Assembly District to maximize the quality of life in our district.

What are your top three priorities?

Taxes and the elimination of waste in government to keep from raising taxes. Transportation and how the state is currently operating, with the transportation budget being unsustainable. Currently about 21 percent of the transportation budget is used to pay bonding and interest. We can't have our roads and bridges continue to deteriorate until there is a crisis. For the district my concern isn't just for the everyday drivers but also for manufacturing, farmers, cheese companies and their need for well-maintained roads to move product. If you want tourism, you also need good roads and bridges. Wisconsin needs to come up with a long-term sustainable solution to solve the transportation problems. I am not interested in raising taxes, but we have to find out some way to do this. We have to look at the budget very closely and see where our priorities are. When it comes to any type of taxes, I am concerned about the little guy taking on the brunt of the responsibilities. We need everyone, including businesses and trucking operation, to pay their fair share of taxes. Other important issues are Education, High Speed Internet, Agriculture, Human Services, Veteran Services, and legislation to ensure elimination of health insurance restrictions that restrict coverage because of pre-existing conditions.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

- Church Elder Intern for Essential Rock Church in Fond du Lac
- NRA Member
- Farm Bureau Federation Member

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

I have a lot of experience in the private, public, and nonprofit sectors. I believe that I can bring fresh and relevant ideas to the state legislature. I also believe my farming and agriculture background can be helpful when communicating and working with our farmers. I grew up in a politically charged family and working for strong conservative candidates has always been the norm in my family. I love working for a good cause. I have been doing lit drops since I was in a stroller and was making my first campaign calls for candidates when I was in 6th grade. My education experience as well as my work for public officials makes me an excellent candidate for this position.

What inspired you to run for office?

Some of my earliest memories were on the campaign trail with my family. My family spent a lot of time working for the Fond du Lac County Republican Party. Gov. Scott Walker has always been an inspiration to me. My passion for politics really grew during the recall. Our governor went against the status quo and put the taxpayers in front of special interests. In addition to that, Scott Walker was elected to the State Assembly at the age of 25. I am 24 and, if elected, would assume office at 25. I am a public servant and I would love to serve the people of the 59th Assembly District.

What are your top three priorities?

- Make sure that the highway 23 expansion project is completed!
- Pass heal without harm legislation and end the sale of aborted fetal body parts.
- Work with farmers to make sure Wisconsin's dairy industry continues to thrive.

Rachel Mixon

Office for which you are a candidate:
Representative to the Assembly, District 59

Your Occupation/ Employment History:

Teaching is my passion. For the past 21 years I have been a teacher at Brookfield Academy. My favorite subject to teach is history. I have taught Ancient Greek History, Classical Roman History, Ancient Mesopotamian History, Ancient Egyptian History and American History, including the Constitution.

Educational Background:

I am a graduate of Cedarburg High School and I went on to college at Cornerstone University in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Family Information:

Dave, my husband of 21 years, Luke, our 17-year-old son, and I have lived in Hartford for 14 years.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

My family and I attend Wellspring Community Church in Hartford. We are involved with many activities there. I am an Alderperson for the City of Hartford. I have been a part of the Common Council for nearly seven years. In addition to my role on that board, I am the chairperson of the Public Works Committee and the Liaison to the Police and Fire Commission. I am a graduate of the Citizen's Academy, a program offered through the Hartford Police Department.

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

I am a pro-life conservative. I believe in the Second Amendment. These are two skills and experiences that have defined my world view. In addition to these, I bring a wealth of general knowledge, an intellectual curiosity, and a strong desire to do what is right and good. When an issue comes up, I do as much research and learning about it as I possibly can before making a decision. I have energy, determination, and motivation.

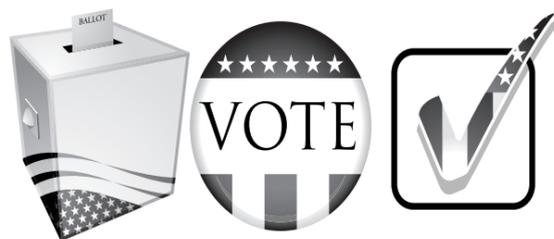

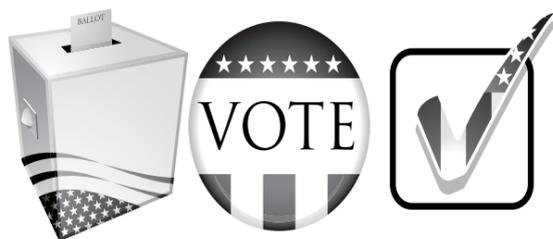

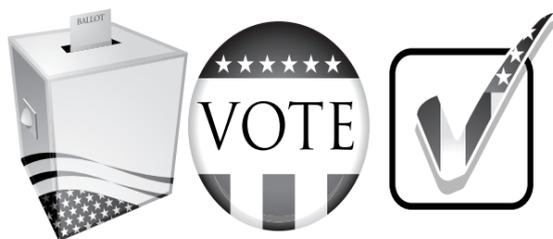

What inspired you to run for office?

Seven years ago during a history lesson on government, I told the students that citizens need to take an active role in their government. I explained that people should take turns as "citizen legislators." When one of my students asked what I do to take an active role, I told her that I vote. She asked if that was all I did. That was the year I became an alderperson. I have worked diligently in those seven years to learn the needs of my community and I would like to expand my representation to all of the 59th District.

What are your top three priorities?

As a teacher, a mom, and a member of the community, a top priority is School Safety and Education. My experience as an alderperson and a candidate for the 59th have shown me that local governments also need more support at the state level. Agricultural needs are also at the top of my list for the citizens of the 59th. I have put a great deal of time and effort into learning and understanding the needs of the farming industry in the 59th District.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

Washington County Sheriff

Name:
Marty Schulteis

Office for which you are a candidate:
Washington County Sheriff

Your Occupation/ Employment History:

I have been with the Sheriff's Office for 27 years, rising to the rank of captain of administration and delegated undersheriff.

Educational Background:

Bachelor's Degree from Carthage College with a double major in Criminal Justice and Sociology.

Family Information:

Married to Shelly for 21 years with two children ages 13 and 15.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

- Member of Holy Trinity Church
- Kewaskum Gridiron Coach for past six seasons

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

As second in command of the Sheriff's Office I have had the unique opportunity to develop collaborative working relationships with individuals from many different areas. The broad range of professionals that have publicly endorsed my campaign demonstrates this partnership. The endorsements include local fire chiefs, local police chiefs, local and county government members and state representatives.

I also understand that public safety operations come from your hard earned tax dollars. Over the past 11 years I have been responsible for the budgeting of multi-million dollar cost centers and have found ways to save money without impacting public safety. I always look for efficiencies of your money.

Demonstrated leadership is also critical to the office of sheriff. In 2017, I had the honor to serve as the deputy incident commander for the globally televised 2017 U.S. Open, where there was coordination from over 40 public safety agencies.

What inspired you to run for office?

I have the strongest desire to keep Washington County the safest place to work and live by keeping public safety operations paramount with transparency and ethical accountability.

What are your top three priorities?

It is imperative that law enforcement understands and dedicates resources to address crime trends. Crime in Washington County is actually lower now than it was in 2013 in all FBI tracked categories such as robberies, burglaries, assaults, thefts and arsons. The major exceptions to this downturn are stolen vehicles, drug distribution and abuse, and Internet crimes involving sex crimes and fraud. Ongoing strategic plans need to be implemented to address these trends. Specific examples are coordination with other local and regional law enforcement organizations, reallocation of manpower and aggressive/proactive enforcement techniques. Part of this plan would be to concentrate joint enforcement efforts along the I41 corridor throughout the entire county for a wide assortment of illegal activity.

School safety has been a priority for our office and will continue to be. I am a firm believer that schools need to be fully sanctioned to decide how to most effectively change the perception that schools are a "soft target" through a close law enforcement partnership. These solutions can range from enhanced perimeter/interior design protection to additional law enforcement presence within the schools to civilian CCW with proper joint training.

We will continue to aggressively target the distribution of drugs in our community but it is important to understand that we are not going to be able to "arrest" the drug problem away. Drug abuse is not an excuse to victimize our community, but to really solve the problem it is my belief that we need to engage the community to target the addiction itself. I would fully support community initiatives that target the cause of addiction.

Name:
Jason W. Guslick

Office for which you are a candidate:
Washington County Sheriff

Your Occupation/ Employment History:

As an experienced supervisor and career law enforcement professional for 17 years, the roles under which I have served have provided significant cross-divisional experience. I am currently a lieutenant in the Washington County Sheriff's Office.

Educational Background:

I earned my Police Science Degree from Madison College (National Honor Society Phi Theta Kappa), with further studies at Herzing College and in the UW System.

Family Information:

I currently reside in the Town of Germantown with my wife and two daughters.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):

I am proud to be a life-long resident of Washington County. Growing up in the Town of Jackson, two of the most memorable and positive influences of my youth included earning the rank of Eagle Scout and being selected for induction in the Order of the Arrow.

What skills and experience do you bring to the position?

During my tenure with the Washington County Sheriff's Office, I have gained significant experience through these key departmental roles:

- Supervisor roles as Sergeant and Lieutenant
- Supervisor of the Court Services Division
- Veteran SWAT Team Crisis Negotiator and member of the SWAT Incident Command structure
- Leader of the SWAT Crisis Negotiation Team
- Manager of the Part-time Deputy Program
- Experience as a Patrol Deputy.

What inspired you to run for office?

I am running for Sheriff of Washington County because I believe it is important to have a Sheriff that aggressively and fairly upholds and enforces the law. Exceptional organizations understand that respect and the right to lead are earned. We are facing critical issues such as violence in schools across the nation, an epidemic of opioid/heroin abuse and a dramatic increase in Washington County residents being victimized by criminals coming here from surrounding counties. I want the voters of this county to cast their ballot for me because those who have done the job expertly elsewhere believe I am the right choice.

What are your top three priorities?

Empowering schools to decide how to best protect children through collaboration with law enforcement and parents. The right to keep and bear arms should be protected. I'm a life member of the NRA.

The heroin/opioid epidemic is spreading. I believe people must take responsibility and be held accountable for their actions and the laws vigorously enforced. Let's protect local residents and businesses from criminals coming into our county from surrounding areas.

A mental health crisis threatens all of us. It's vital to take more proactive intervention measures to reach people before they are in crisis and engaging in violent or criminal behavior.

Have The Proper ID To Vote? If Not, Start The Process For A Free ID From DMV

The Wisconsin 2018 partisan primary is weeks away and the Wisconsin Department of Transportation Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) wants to be sure people know how to obtain identification, free of charge, that is valid for voting.

Most persons already have valid identification for voting purposes (driver license, identification card, military or student ID card, passport, etc.). There is no separate "voter ID." Anyone unsure if their identification meets the requirements should visit the Wisconsin Elections Commission website to check.

For persons who need identification to show at the polls for voting, DMV offers free Wisconsin IDs and has a process, called Voter ID Petition Process, if the required documents needed for an ID are not readily available. This process, available free of charge, can be used to quickly obtain a receipt valid to take to the polls for voting while the remaining documents or verifications are obtained. A list of the required documents is available at wisconsinidmv.gov.

Anyone with questions related to obtaining an ID to vote should call DMV's Voter ID hotline at (844) 588-1069. Any questions regarding voter eligibility, poll locations, voter registration information or other election information should be directed to the Wisconsin Elections Commission at <http://elections.wi.gov/>.

Start now at wisconsinidmv.gov or at a local DMV Customer Service Center. To find a DMV, check hours, services and wait times, visit wisconsinidmv.gov/centers.

Ideas For Parents: Easy Things To Help Your Child Succeed – Religious Community

Why do some kids grow up with ease while others struggle? Search Institute Researchers identified specific, practical things that can have a tremendous and lasting positive impact on youth. Rather than focusing on the problems, this research concentrates on the Developmental Assets™ – the positive things (such as parent support and commitment to learning) that help young people thrive. The assets are 40 values, experiences and positive qualities that young people need to help them make wise decisions and choose positive lifestyles. The more assets they have, the better.

Religious Community

Youth are more likely to grow up healthy when they spend one or more hours per week in activities in a religious institution.

Although talking about religion can be very sensitive researchers have found that young people involved in the religious community reduce risky behaviors, build a value base, and are exposed to more people.

Ways To Encourage Religious Involvement

1. With your child, visit various congregations. Include your child in decisions about how and where to be involved.
2. Work faith and spirituality into your daily life. Choose ways that best fit with your values, traditions, and culture.
3. Have a family meeting to talk about your family's religious involvement. What does each person like or not.

NOTICE OF PARTISAN PRIMARY AND SAMPLE BALLOTS
AUGUST 14, 2018

OFFICE OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY CLERK
TO THE VOTERS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a partisan primary to be held in Washington County on August 14, 2018, at which the nominees for the offices named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office under the appropriate party, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, if any, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

Upon entering the polling place, a voter shall state his or her name and address, show an acceptable form of photo identification and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. If a voter is not registered to vote, a voter may register to vote at the polling place serving his or her residence, if the voter presents proof of residence in a form specified by law. Where ballots are distributed to voters, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the voter shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that a voter who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the voter's minor child or minor ward.

An election official may inform the voter of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice. At the partisan primary, the voter shall select the party of his or her choice. Voting for candidates of more than one party may invalidate the ballot. You must cast a vote for individual candidates.

Where Optical Scan Voting is Used

- If a party preference is designated, and votes are cast for ballot candidates of another party or write-in votes are cast in another party, only votes cast in the designated party will count.
If a party preference is not designated, and votes are cast for candidates (or write-in votes are cast) in more than one party, no votes will be counted.
Within the party of his or her choice, the voter shall fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote, and fill in the oval next to the write-in line. On referendum questions, the voter shall fill in the oval next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the voter shall fill in the oval or connect the arrow next to "no" if opposed to the question.

When using an electronic ballot marking device ("Automark") to mark an optical scan ballot, the voter shall touch the screen next to the party of his or her choice. The voter shall then touch the screen at the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall type in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote. On referendum questions, the voter shall touch the screen at "yes" if in favor of the question, or the voter shall touch the screen at "no" if opposed to the question.

Sample ballots or other materials to assist the voter in marking his or her vote may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

If a voter spoils an optical scan ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one voter. If the ballot has not been initiated by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the voter shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.

After Voting the Ballot

After an official optical scan ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the security sleeve so the marks do not show. The voter shall then insert the ballot in the voting device and discard the sleeve, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. If a central count system is used, the voter shall insert the ballot in the ballot box and discard the sleeve, or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit. The voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

A voter may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the voter declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the voter's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the voter.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF KEWASKUM

JASON GUSLICK

WASHINGTON COUNTY

SHERIFF

Jason Guslick: Here's my take – He's fearless!

Here's my take on Jason, seven things I believe will make him a great County Sheriff:

- ✓ Jason takes pride in doing the right thing but his pride doesn't get in the way of being wrong.
- ✓ "Look what I've done" is not in his vocabulary.
- ✓ He's here to serve you, not the other way around.
- ✓ No "good old boy tactics" here. His campaign hasn't and isn't driven by ego.

- ✓ This is a guy who works to support, inspire and develop others. Not just be the top law enforcement officer in the County.
- ✓ Jason has the ability to put his personal agenda last not first.
- ✓ His success is not based on legacy but on the vast skills he possesses as a law enforcement officer.

SPORTS

Several KHS Sports Teams Are Already Practicing, Others To Start Soon

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum High School fall sports season is officially underway after the girls golf and girls tennis candidates took part in their first practice sessions on August 6 and 7, a week after the football teams completed their first week of drills and began preparations for the scrimmage that will take place at Concordia University this Friday, Aug. 10.

Veteran coach Amy Uhlig is very upbeat about her combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport golf team that will again compete in the rugged North Shore Conference against the likes of Homestead, Cedarburg, Hartford and Whitefish Bay.

A trio of seasoned golfers, Alyssa Dreher, Ashley Trapp and Grace Kober, return with high hopes of a successful season after finishing fifth in the eight-team league and advancing to the sectional a year ago.

The Kew-Cats will be on the links in Watertown today (August 9) for the annual Watertown Invitational, then have 11 days to prepare for the North Shore opener.

Tennis coach Peter Garcia will have good depth at certain positions, but the Indians are also in a tough conference (Eastern Wisconsin) with perennial powers like Kohler and Manitowoc Roncalli and a couple newcomers.

Many of the top KHS candidates took part in open practice programs at Kiwanis Park during the summer and should be ready for their first match at Mayville on August 14.

Football practice opened on August 1 in anticipation of the first night of games, Friday, August 17. The game will be especially exciting because they will be the first team to play on the new artificial surface at "Doc" Mitchell Athletic Complex.

Installation crews are finishing up on putting the hash marks on the field, and it should be ready for the August 17 non-conference game against Milwaukee Lutheran.

"It will be ready for the first game, how far in advance of that I'm not sure," KHS Athletic Director/head football coach Jason Piittmann said August 6, reporting finishing early will depend on weather issues because the glue cannot be applied to the surface when it is wet.

Once all the pieces are in place, Piittmann said the surface will be leveled, rubber pellets will be added and a machine grooms the field so the turf stands up like real grass.

Football players will not need different shoes to play on the new surface, according to Piittmann, who said, "The kids can use their regular cleats, like always."

The scrimmage is set to begin at 4 p.m., according to Piittmann, who said the other teams participating include New Berlin Eisenhower, Sheboygan Falls and Nicolet.

When asked about field use by other programs, Piittmann said the soccer teams will also play on the high school field, moving their start times back from 4:30 to 6:45 p.m.

Three other sports, boys and girls cross country, boys soccer, and girls volleyball begin on Monday, Aug. 13.

The Kewaskum High School football players practice on Monday afternoon in the practice fields located to the east of the school building. Artificial turf is being installed on the football field at the school's "Doc" Mitchell Athletic Complex.

Rohlinger Successfully Opens Defense Of His HEK Title

By Judy Harlow

The battle for the Hon-E-Kor Men's Club Championships is underway, and defending champion Jim Rohlinger is still in the running after eking out a victory in the first round.

Rohlinger defeated Ryan Newberry in a tight match that went 20 holes.

"We both shot 74," Newberry said while working in the Hon-E-Kor pro shop on August 6.

Other first-round winners in the Men's championship bracket included: Eric Cain, Evan Doherty, Tony Gonring, Michael Korth, and Curtis Koth. Cain eliminated Casey Scheel, while the others received byes into the quarterfinals.

Two matches are still to be determined. Newberry said the match between Jay Krueger and Joe Doherty was scheduled to take place on August 7, and Ryan Doherty must still play Craig Anderson to determine the quarterfinal field.

Finals are scheduled to be played on Saturday, Aug. 25, with a rain day set at August 26. All matches are 18-hole competitions and are going to be played on the Red and White Nines. The Championship and First Flight matches will be played from the Blue Tees; the Second and Third Flights from the Whites, and the Seniors from the Gold.

Golf Notes

Just one less putt or chip was all Kewaskum's Sam Schlosser needed, and he would have made the cut in the Wisconsin Men's State Amateur Golf Tournament held at Minocqua Country Club on July 24.

Schlosser, a 2016 graduate of Kewaskum High School and currently a member of the Concordia University golf team, put together rounds of 78 and 76 for a 154 in the first two days of play in the 72-hole event. Players needed a 153 to continue playing.

Andrew Otto, Schlosser's high school and collegiate teammate, also missed the cut. He struggled the first day, carding an 87, then came back with a 78 for a 165.

Two members of Hon-E-Kor Country Club in Kewaskum also missed the cut. Craig Anderson of West Bend came in at 158 with rounds of 83 and 75, while Jason Jahnke posted an 80-79-159.

Schlosser and Otto will be returning to Concordia University in the fall to begin their junior years on the men's golf squad. The first meet of the fall season, the Culver's Edgewood will take place August 31-September 1 on the Glen Erin Golf Club near Janesville.

Recent Kewaskum High graduate Jordan Carlton is also attending Concordia this year and is out for the team.

Davis, Jim Schmidt, Sorce Jr., Travis Schmidt, Rein Stand Tall In PDTR A-Main Action

On a night when previous track champions were honored for their past title-winning accomplishments, five present-day drivers turned in impressive performances to notch A-main victories in Plymouth Dirt Track Racing competition at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth on Saturday, Aug. 4.

Former PDTR Sprint Car champion Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee claimed his second A-main victory of the 2018 season in the 25-lap Richard's of Dunbar Sprint Car A-main. Jim Schmidt of Cleveland earned his second 25-lap Gasroots Project Late Model A-main triumph of the year.

Two-time PDTR Grand National champ Don Sorce Jr. of West Allis claimed his second 25-lap Klips & Tips Grand National A-main win of the season. Plymouth's Travis Schmidt racked up his first career 25-lap Cellcom B Mod A-main triumph and Andy Rein of West Bend notched his first 15-lap Kristine Hartmann Pleasant View Realty A-main win of 2018.

Two-time PDTR Sprint Car champion Danny Schlafer of Sussex led the opening lap of the 25-lap Sprint Car A-main from his outside front row starting spot followed closely by Campbellsport's Jason Johnson, who started on the pole.

On lap three, fifth starter Justin Miller of Plymouth moved in to challenge Johnson for second along the low groove as the two veterans traded the position several times in the ensuing laps before Johnson secured the position and proceeded to track down Schlafer.

Six laps later, Schlafer encountered slower traffic, which allowed Johnson to cut the gap significantly. Eighth starter Bill Taylor of Boltonville made his presence known starting on lap 16 when he wrestled third place away from Miller and two laps later he worked past Johnson along the extreme inside groove to seize second.

However, on lap 19, Johnson and third starter Kurt Davis powered past Taylor in heavy lapped traffic to work their way into the top three. On lap 20, Davis slipped under Johnson for second and one lap later Davis ducked under Schlafer, who was hung up behind a slower car, to gain the lead exiting turn four.

On the following lap, Schlafer spun his machine in turn two to bring out the lone caution flag of the race and set up a four-lap dash to the finish. As Davis bolted away to a solid lead on the restart, Miller took second from Johnson, while a heated battle brewed just behind the top three cars.

Davis went on to post his 19th career PDTR Sprint Car A-main victory and Midwest Sprint Car Association leading 55th overall A-main triumph. Miller secured second, Johnson wound up third, 12th starter Josh Walter of Plymouth charged up to finish fourth and ninth starter Jim Melis of Glenbeulah rounded out the top five.

The opening lap of the 25-lap Late Model A-main saw third starter Jim Schmidt power under front row starters Eric Michaels of Cleveland and Milwaukee's Jim Letizia to seize the lead in turn two.

Schmidt held the lead throughout the non-stop event with Michaels giving away to Justin Schmidt of Cleveland, who started fifth, for second on lap two.

By lap eight, Jim Schmidt had built up a full straightaway cushion over his son, Justin. As Jim led Justin by a comfortable margin, fourth-time PDTR Late Model champion and current point leader Brad Mueller of Random Lake dueled with Michaels for third for several laps until finally securing the position on lap 19.

Jim Schmidt skillfully weaved his way through lapped traffic over the final circuits to collect his 13th career PDTR Late Model A-main triumph. Justin Schmidt placed second, Mueller was third, Michaels notched a solid fourth-place showing and 2016 PDTR Late Model champion Tim Buhler of Greenbush finished fifth after starting sixth.

Polesitter Don Sorce Jr. outpowered outside front row starter Steven Weber of Plymouth to lead the opening lap of the 25-lap Grand National A-main.

Two successive caution flags slowed the pace on lap eight for an infield tire moved onto the track in turn three and a multi-car spin in turn four on lap 10. Sorce Jr. maintained the top spot after both restarts with Weber in tow.

By lap 13, Sorce Jr.

had built up a full straightaway cushion over Weber. In the closing laps, 13th starter Chad Espen of West Bend charged in to pass seventh starter Justin Erickson of Plymouth for sixth and 2008 PDTR Grand National champ Matt Yancey of Sheboygan, who started third, for fourth on lap 23.

Sorce Jr. cruised to his 12th career PDTR Grand National A-main triumph, Weber had to settle for second, fifth starter Kurt Davis placed third, Espen was fourth and Yancey completed the top five.

Polesitter Travis Schmidt paced the opening lap of the 25-lap B Mod A-main followed by outside front row starter Tim Sheppard of Beaver Dam. As Schmidt held down the top spot along the preferred low groove, third starter Barry Maas of Cascade moved to seize second from Sheppard on lap 12.

As Schmidt encountered dense lapped traffic on lap 14, 2017 PDTR B Mod champion Justin Green of Sheboygan Falls, who started seventh, worked his way into fourth with a nifty move past fourth starter Sawyer Haese on lap 14.

On lap 22, Maas closed in to Schmidt's rear bumper as the leaders worked through heavy lapped traffic, while Green dove under Sheppard to seize third on lap 24. Although within striking distance, Maas was unable to make a move in the closing laps as Schmidt held on to post his first career PDTR B Mod A-main victory in the caution-free race.

Maas was second, Green placed third, Sheppard wound up fourth and Haese rounded out the top five.

Andy Rein jumped into the lead of the 15-lap Micro Sprint A-main from his outside front row starting spot and never looked back. Rein paced the field throughout en route to his third career PDTR B Mod A-main triumph in the non-stop event.

Dave Collins of Madison placed second, 2017 PDTR Micro Sprint Champ Preston Ruh of Elkhart Lake was third, Emily Portschy of Plymouth placed fourth and Jake Dohner of Milton finished fifth.

Donny Singer of Waldo won the B Mod B Main. In the third Sprint Car heat race, Plymouth's Adam Miller made hard contact with the turn four wall before flipping. He emerged uninjured, but his car suffered significant damage and did not to return to competition.

The evening also featured an appearance by the Vintage Modifieds and introduction of many past champions from the rich history of racing at the Plymouth facility during a special intermission program.

The PDTR program, who was sponsored by Pit Stop Pizza, featured 89 cars, including 22 Sprint Cars, 27 B Mods, 22 Grand Nationals, 11 Late Models and seven Micro Sprints.

The next PDTR program will take place on Saturday, Aug. 11, with extra purse money added to the A-main events in each division. Hot laps begin at 5:30 p.m. with racing to follow at 6 p.m.

The Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth is located at 229 Fairview Drive in Plymouth. For more information, visit www.plymouthdtr.com or check out Plymouth Dirt Track Racing on Facebook.

Plant Now For A Beautiful Garden Next Year

MELINDA MYERS

Don't let the summer heat keep you indoors. Now is a great time to dress up those garden beds in need of a facelift.

Always start by contacting Diggers Hotline first. Simply call 811 or file a request online at DiggersHotline.com. They'll contact all the appropriate companies who will mark the location of their underground utilities in your work area. This helps eliminate the danger and inconvenience of accidentally knocking out power, cable or other utilities while you create a beautiful landscape.

And remember to look up as you begin this process. Avoid planting trees and large shrubs under overhead utilities. These small transplants may grow into the wires when they reach their mature size. This can cause a hazardous situation and result in severe pruning that leaves you with an unnatural looking plant.

Now that you know the areas to avoid, start looking for opportunities to add color, texture and a bit of bird and butterfly appeal to your landscape. Identify areas in need of seasonal color, winter interest or screening to mask bad views.

Tuck fall blooming annuals among other plants to provide instant color and a beautiful end to the season. Hardy pansies provide nectar for late season pollinators and many will survive the winter and return next spring. Dianthus, stock, snapdragons and sweet alyssum also thrive in the cooler fall weather. Add these to containers or use them to fill voids in the garden.

Add perennial flowers for multiple years of beauty. Consider those with several seasons of beauty and nice foliage all season long. Look for features like long bloom time, attractive seedpods and fall color. Walker's

Low catmint, threadleaf coreopsis, and Rozanne geranium are a few examples of Long blooming, low maintenance plants. End the growing season with flowers like goldenrod, mums and asters or colorful foliage like perennial geraniums, hosta and amsonia. Include some ornamental grasses such as switchgrass and prairie drop seed that add motion and texture to the garden all year round.

Include trees and shrubs to provide year-round structure in the garden. Look for those with colorful or interesting bark like red twig dogwoods, paper bark maple and Heptacodium that provide year-round interest. Look for flowering plants like viburnums, St John's wort, summersweet and repeat blooming lilacs. Set the fall landscape ablaze with chokeberries, witchhazel and maples. And brighten up the winter landscape with holly and winterberry or the interesting form of Harry Lauder's walking stick, redbud and weeping trees.

Plant a few bulbs this fall for a beautiful start to next year's landscape. Early blooming bulbs provide nectar for pollinators and help extend the growing season. Mix bulbs in with perennials to reduce maintenance by masking the declining bulb foliage as the perennials emerge in spring. Select animal resistant daffodils, hyacinths, squills and grape hyacinths if deer, rabbits and squirrels have been a problem.

Once the plants are in the ground be sure to provide a bit of tender loving care. Water thoroughly whenever the top few inches of soil are crumbly and moist. Spread a layer of shredded leaves, evergreen needles or woodchips over the soil surface to conserve moisture, suppress weeds and keep the roots cool and moist. Keep mulch off the crowns of plants and trunks of trees.

Your efforts this summer and fall will be rewarded with a beautiful landscape all year round.
