Village Approves Revised Concept Plan For Reigle Family Park

– Revised Plan Replaces Baseball Fields With Nature Area

By Anne Trautner

Reigle Family Park will offer a nature area rather than baseball fields under a new concept plan that the Kewaskum Village Board approved Monday night.

"We are very excited to be able to create more than just a sports complex. We are planning to develop a prairie, complete with nature trails for people to enjoy," said Aaron Laatsch, a volunteer who presented the new plan to the board.

The prairie will be a mix of grasses, wildflowers, trees and plants native to the area. The development of the prairie area will be overseen by experts in that field, Laatsch told board trustees.

The park originally was going to offer two baseball fields and one softball field. However, when the school district added a baseball field and a softball field on school property earlier this year, it eliminated the need for additional ball fields, according to Chad Cook of the Kewaskum Athletic Association (KAA).

"We don't want to force baseball fields for the sake of building them, if no one is going to use them. This opens the opportunity for us to add some needed elements to the park," Cook said.

The new conceptual drawing of the 31-acre village park outlines the plan for a two-acre catch and release fishing pond, two basketball courts, a link to other village parks, family picnic areas, walking/nature trails, a playground area, nine soccer fields, central parking, concession stands and a family pavilion. The KAA will continue holding its baseball programs at Kiwanis Park.

School Board Discusses Censuring Board Member

By Anne Trautner

For the second month in a row, the Kewaskum School Board discussed censuring a board member.

On Monday night, the board discussed the possibility of censuring board member Timothy Ramthun for violating School Board policies. Ramthun was excused from Monday night's meeting, so was unable to respond to any of the discussion at the meeting.

The school district's attorney, Tony Renning, attended the meeting and advised the board on the matter.

The board decided to put the item on the agenda for January's board meeting.

Last month the board censured the board's vice president, Jim Leister, for making rude comments at football games. Leister claims the action was in retaliation because he voted against serving beer during Kewaskum A's baseball games on school grounds.

On Monday, the board discussed whether Ramthun broke board policies regarding public expression of board members, use of electronic mail and board-staff communications.

"Public expression of board members has been something on the docket to talk about for several months. Simply put, [board policy] states that the board president is the spokesperson for the district. And the superintendent is the spokesperson for the operational part of the district," Superintendent James Smasal said.

Under board policy, board members are not to speak on behalf of the board, according to Smasal.

– Revised Plan Replaces Baseball Fields With Nature Area

The Village Board unanimously approved the new plan.

“It is a great plan,” Village Trustee Dave Spenner said.

Reigle Family Park was created last year on land that was donated to the village. The park is located on Edgewood Road, just north of Highway H.

The park was formed in response to overcrowding at Kiwanis Park. Over the last few years, the Kewaskum Youth Soccer Organization (KYSO) and KAA have experienced growth. The KYSO has about 490 registrants participating in its spring and fall soccer seasons. The KAA currently serves over 500 children annually through its baseball, volleyball and flag football programs.

The situation at Kiwanis Park has become so crowded that young athletes have been playing baseball in the infield while soccer is being practiced in the outfield simultaneously.

“The new park will give us space for soccer that we never had before,” KYSO President Dan Fischer said.

A concession stand with restrooms will be located centrally to the soccer fields.

Residents have indicated to Reigle Family Park committee members that they would like nature paths in Kewaskum, according to Laatsch. Now that hope can become a reality.

The new plan includes a shelter to be built between the prairie and the fishing pond. That building could be a family pavilion or an enclosed lodge that people could rent out for family reunions, birthday parties or weddings.

“Depending on finances, that building could be the focal point of the park while visitors enjoy nature and all that the area has to offer,” Laatsch said.

Another need that the park committee has identified is the demand for more basketball courts in the village. Kiwanis Park is the only village park that currently offers basketball, and basketball and tennis players have been sharing space there since 2016, when basketball hoops were added to the tennis courts. Basketball has been mentioned as a possibility since the park’s inception, and there are now plans for two full-size basketball courts to be built on the north side of the new park.

Another building is drawn to the east of the basketball courts. That building could become an athletic training facility or a storage building. It could even become an educational center of some sort, Laatsch said.

“There are a lot of options that we are considering for that space,” Laatsch said.

“Concept plans are meant to be fluid,” Village Administrator Matt Heiser pointed out at Monday night’s meeting.

A groundbreaking ceremony was held at the park in August, after the KYSO received a $100,000 donation from West Bend Mutual. Progress was hampered this fall by unseasonably high rainfall totals.

“We had the funds, the workers and the plans, but Mother Nature did not cooperate,” Fischer said.

Organizers plan to have water lines installed into the park in January. Then, in early spring, volunteers will prepare the ground and plant grass seed to establish soccer fields. Soccer will most likely be played for the first time in spring 2020.

The cost of developing the park is estimated at $2.1 million. When the park was formed, the village entered into a partnership with the KYSO and KAA, two organizations that are now responsible for building and maintaining the park. No tax dollars have been used on the park.

For more information about the park, visit reiglefamilypark.org.

The Kewaskum Village Board approved this new concept plan for Reigle Family Park on Monday. With the school district’s new ballfields, there is no longer a need for additional baseball fields at the park. The new plan includes a prairie and nature trails where baseball fields had previously been drawn.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE REPORT

School Bus - Passenger Vehicle Crash

On Monday, Dec. 10, at 6:07 p.m. the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of a two-vehicle crash involving a school bus that occurred on Highway 45 at County Highway V, in the Township of Kewaskum. Sheriff's Deputies, Kewaskum Police and Kewaskum Fire/Rescue were also summoned to the scene.

Upon the arrival of the first squad, it was determined that there were 10 occupants on the bus: a 63-year-old driver from West Bend, eight juvenile passengers and one adult chaperone. The second vehicle had two occupants; a 36-year-old Campbellsport man and a juvenile passenger. In total, four patients, all with minor injuries, were transported to St Joseph's Hospital via Kewaskum Rescue.

The crash investigation showed that the school bus was heading eastbound on County Highway V and disregarded the stop sign at Highway 45. A second vehicle was going northbound on Highway 45, slowing to turn westbound on County Highway V when it was struck by the school bus entering the intersection. Speed appears to be a contributing factor to the crash. There were no signs of impairment for either driver.

The investigation remains open at this time and there is no further information being released.

House Fire

On Friday, Dec. 7, at approximately 5:17 a.m., the owner of a single family residence located at 5820 Shannon Road in the Town of Erin, contacted the Washington County Sheriff's Office to report that her house was on fire.

Deputies and firefighters from the Hartford Fire Department were subsequently dispatched to the scene. Due to the residence's location, construction type, and cold temperatures additional assistance was requested from 17 area fire departments, the Town of Erin Highway Department, the Washington County Highway Department, the Washington County Office of Emergency Management and the American Red Cross.

Upon their arrival, deputies observed smoke and flames coming from the residence. The owner and sole occupant of the residence was able to self-evacuate, and was transported by Hartford Rescue to Aurora Medical Center in Hartford for non-life threatening injuries associated with a fall. The residence is considered a total loss estimated at approximately $225,000. There were no firefighter injuries associated with the fire, but three family dogs perished inside the house.

A preliminary investigation suggests that the fire likely originated in the basement. The fire does not appear to be suspicious, but the matter remains under investigation by sheriff's fire investigators.

School Board Discusses Censuring Board Member

Smasal questioned whether policy had been broken when Ramthun spoke at a Kewaskum Village Board meeting in August regarding the school district's cell phone policy.

"Mr. Smasal had indicated to me that he was concerned about Mr. Ramthun's comments to the media after the August 20 Village Board meeting where the issue of the cell phone policy was brought to the Village Board. ...I did not attend the meeting, but I heard from some other people that Mr. Ramthun had made some comments where he was clearly representing himself as a spokesperson for the board, and I thought it was of some concern," School Board Member Mark Sette said.

A clip from an audio recording from the August 20 Village Board meeting was then played during Monday night's meeting. The Village Board was discussing a proposed ordinance that would enable village police officers to give citations to Kewaskum High School students who violated the school's cell phone policy.

On the recording, Village President Kevin Scheunemann asks, "Is there anybody here from the school district that wants to speak on this issue?"

On the recording, Ramthun replies, "As a seated board member for the Kewaskum School District and the newly elected representative of the 59th, my understanding of this issue is a little different than what administration presented on July 16. At that board meeting, there were two items on the agenda that were not clearly specified, and I called it out at the beginning of the meeting, seeking better specificity on things like cell phones. That's all it was on the agenda item, and it was on the report element of our meeting.

"There wasn't any action the board took. It was an informative moment for administrative staff to say we have one-for-one technology equipment in the schools. It made sense to ask the question. If you have one-to-one Chromebooks, you don't need a cell phone. So OK, you want to put a policy in place for cell-phone use? Go ahead. I never thought it would get to an ordinance request to the village. I have no idea what the effect on the village is, I have no effect what the...I don't know what the liability issues are. Can the village be sued? Can the district be sued?" Ramthun continues on the recording.

"I am a board member. I was never asked the question how I felt about the ordinance. I heard the statement they wanted to put a policy out. I was OK with our policy, but that is in our home, in our own house. It didn't affect me when I was any place else. And I don't think it should.

"If the school district. I wish they were all here, I really do. I wish the whole board was here. And then I would ask the question. Why did it go past the district? Why did they come to you? I don't know why. I don't agree with it.

"The school district should be able to manage its own house, and not leverage law enforcement and paid personnel on tax dollars to compensation levels, and I don't agree with it. That's how I feel about it. I am disappointed that I as a board member that I wasn't asked a question how I felt," Ramthun says on the recording.

However, the entire recording was not played at Monday night's meeting. Had it been, the recording documents that Ramthun went on to say he was not speaking on behalf of the School Board.

"Now, I'm just me. I'm Tim. We don't have the full board here. We never were asked a question. There wasn't a motion on it. So I don't know what the full board thinks on it. I am speaking for myself," Ramthun said at the August 20 Village Board meeting.

Still, Smasal said that some of the comments lacked clarity and accuracy.

"First of all, We have a school resource officer. We partner and we have had one for many, many years, we partner on a daily basis with our village police department. And we do it very well," Smasal said.

School administration meets with Police Chief Tom Bishop and officer Kevin Kohn, the school resource office, on a regular basis, Smasal said.

"That statement is very inaccurate," Smasal said.

"Another inaccuracy that wasn't shared is the assistant principal, Mr. Bingham, on two occasions addressed the board. One at the board retreat early July, where we spent 45 minutes going over the entire policy change," Smasal said. "He gave the exact same presentation that Mr. Ramthun was at the

Ann M. Krahn

Ann "Annie" M. Krahn (nee Sullivan), 75, of Beechwood passed away unexpectedly on Friday, Dec. 7, 2018 at her home.

She was born on April 21, 1943 to the late Elmer and Marcella (nee Heinecke) Sullivan in West Bend. Annie graduated from West Bend High School.

On November 6, 1965 she was united in marriage to Eugene Krahn at Holy Angels Catholic Church in West Bend.

She worked as a factory worker for 50 years at the Amity Leather in West Bend until retirement. Annie and Eugene loved to go up north to their trailer in Wild Rose and enjoyed snowmobiling. They were charter members of the Night Fliers Snowmobile club of Beechwood and she served as secretary for many years. Annie enjoyed many hobbies including bowling, putting puzzles together and doing Sudoku, and playing cards with her friends Frank and Elaine. She was also starting to crochet baby blankets for charity. She will be dearly missed by all who knew her.

Those Annie leaves behind to cherish her memory include her loving husband of 53 years, Eugene Krahn; brothers and sisters-in law, Doris Krahn of Beechwood, Shirley Mull of West Allis, Ellis Krahn of Beechwood, Eleanor (Syl) Stern of West Bend, Wesley (Sandy) Krahn of Arizona, Donna Wimmer of North Carolina, Sylvester (Jean) Krahn of Beechwood, Neil (Barb) Krahn of Kansas City, MO., Karen (Ray) Borchert of Arizona, and Dianna Bellin of Florida; many nieces, nephews, and other relatives and friends.

In addition to her parents, she is preceded in death by her brother James Sullivan; father- and mother-in-law, Ervin and Marie Krahn; three brothers-in-law, Adrian Krahn, Gaylord Krahn, and infant Ronald Krahn; and two sisters-in-law, Marjorie Krahn and Monica Krahn.

board meeting in July."

However, a recording shows that Mark Bingham did not present any information about potential citations for cell phone usage at the regular July School Board meeting. He did present the high school's new policy, though.

Based on the fact that the high school had one-to-one technology so that each student would have access to a Chromebook, cell phones were not needed in class, Bingham reported at the July meeting.

"Security is a top priority. Removing cell phone usage will allow us to prevent any inappropriate messaging, texting, pictures during the school day," Bingham said at that meeting.

Students would be asked to silent their cell phones during the day and not use them in class.

"If not, if there is a situation that occurs during the day, students will be asked to turn them into the office. There will be a tier system as to how we will handle those. It could be as simple as you will be issued a detention, you receive your cell phone at the end of the day, or it could be contacting your parents and having a discussion with them," Bingham told the School Board at the regular meeting in July.

However, there is no recording of the board retreat that was held this summer, so there is no record as to what the board was told at that time.

School Board Member Mary Miller said Monday night that Ramthun left the board retreat early, and she thought he left before the presentation on the new policy.

"If you weren't at the meeting, you probably should not comment on it," Board President Troy Hanson said Monday night.

"So that was at the board retreat. I can assure everybody here that Mr. Bingham went through the entire policy, and the entire policy was based off a 10-year-old policy that was adopted in Germantown, with their police department, with their village, with the ordinance. That was completely covered during that time," Smasal said.

"I also will point out that Chief Bishop and I had worked out a deal ahead of time because Mr. Bingham did go to the August Village Board meeting and made the presentation on behalf of the school district, and Chief Bishop and I met between the 16th and the 20th and we sat down and talked about how to proceed with this policy. ... Chief said that it would probably be better for everyone if we didn't come to that meeting, so we purposely didn't come to the meeting because he was going to take care of it with his board. It's their ordinance, it's their policy, he wanted to handle it with the board," Smasal said.

"The thing I would say to the board, on behalf of the administration, Mr. Stier and Mr. Bingham and all the other members of the leadership team spent a lot of time with Officer Kohn going through this. This wasn't a rogue administrative thing we tried to do. We were disgraced in public, on TV, as well as in the print, with no accuracy tied with it. Which, it is embarrassing, it is undermining the ability of administration to do their job. So it's one thing to have a personal viewpoint. It's another to throw your high school administrators under the bus," Smasal said.

"Jobs are tough enough. The cell phone is a tough enough thing to purposefully try to hurt administration or to categorize us as not wanting to work with the board or with the village on something," Smasal said.

Regarding the other two policies in question, Smasal said that the board has made a commitment to go paperless to save money, time and energy, so Ramthun will need to receive his board packets via email, and that no one can bring work into the schools for students to do unless they are family members.

A group of 15-year-old youths from the Kewaskum area have been charged with burglary after an incident at Engelhardt Dairy in Kewaskum. According to an incident report from police, at approximately 10:01 p.m. on November 30, Kewaskum police officers and Washington County Sheriff's deputies responded to a possible burglary at Engelhardt Dairy, after a rooftop alarm had been activated. The business is located in the 100 block of First St. and fronts Fond du Lac Avenue. Officer Chris Janich apprehended two male juveniles exiting the building as backup arrived. Backpacks full of various items were removed from the suspects as they were apprehended. Upon questioning the two juveniles, officers discovered the subjects had been responsible for two previous burglaries at the business, and had unlawfully gone onto the premise two times prior. The second burglary included spray-painted graffiti with the words "I hate my job" as an attempt to deflect blame from them. Officers also discovered two other male juveniles had been involved previously. Officer Janich spoke with the other male juveniles who were identified. Both confirmed previous burglaries, but failed to tell police. Both were released to their parents with charges being referred to juvenile authorities for burglary. The juveniles apprehended at Engelhardt Dairy are being charged with three counts of burglary for each building entry and one count of criminal damage to the property.

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

Have you finished your holiday shopping yet? If you are like me, even though I think I am done, there is always more to buy; whether it is something I happened upon that would be perfect for a family member or last-minute gift for those lucky ones I forgot. Don't judge me, I am sure it has happened to you.

I doubt you will be surprised to discover that I find books to be perfect presents. I can usually find something for anyone. It may be the next best seller in a series or a much-needed self-help book; the latest cookbook craze or one of those fun little gift books.

My mother gives books as presents and one thing she does is write an inscription inside the cover. Writing in a book is not something that I ever felt was a good idea. The thought of defacing a book in that way has horrified me as much as dog-earring pages instead of using a bookmark. When my mother has ever received a book from me, she would ask me if I had written in it. I would tell her, "of course not" possibly with some disdain and then she would tell me to write a note in it to her. Fine - I would write, "To Mom, Love Lori" and date it.

Since I have worked in libraries, I have handled many donations and realize that people besides my mother do write inscriptions in books. Some of them are thought-provoking in a way that they have me wonder what went on in these people's lives that motivated that note. In time, I've realized that an inscription in a book is not a defacement of the property but instead it is an additional gift; a note that provides insight into why this book was given. It may have something to do with the relationship of both parties or a time in their life that they can recall fondly. A book can be a very personal gift and the added inscription enhances that. I have now become the person that writes inscriptions and spend just as much time deciding on the perfect inscription as I do the perfect book.

So, if you give the gift of a book this holiday season, I hope you emphasize the joy of that present with a personal message inside. I know I will.

"Passed along with love - MK" - found in a novel at a used book store.

Citizen Advocates Announces New Executive Director

Citizen Advocates Board of Directors are pleased to announce the promotion of Jessica Frederick as the organization's new Executive Director.

Frederick has been a part of Citizen Advocates for 11 years, serving as a community organizer, then as the program coordinator. She has played a large role in the expansion of citizen advocate programming into the schools as well as the addition of monthly respite events. With these program expansions, over 200 people of all ages and abilities are involved in monthly programming that creates opportunities to build relationships.

"I am happy to be a part of doing the unique work of creating opportunities for relationships between people of all abilities," Frederick said. "The growth of the program in the last year has been amazing and I am very excited to be able to continue to grow and lead Citizen Advocates going forward."

Jessica has a bachelor degree in social work from UW-Whitewater and has worked in non-profits in Washington County since moving into West Bend 14 years ago. She and her family are actively involved in many community activities.

Citizen Advocates is a 501(c)(3) that has been creating opportunities for unpaid relationships between people of all abilities in Washington County since 1978. Relationships are being created through peer to peer groups in six county schools with students meeting monthly, building friendships, some lasting through high school and beyond.

The Citizen Advocates Respite program is a monthly respite opportunity for families that have children with disabilities. Each month students with disabilities are matched with peer volunteers for an evening of fun and learning from each other. Adult and young adult programming has kicked off with large group activities and will soon include smaller group activities.

Keep Holiday Plants Looking Their Best

MELINDA MYERS

The holiday season has arrived. That means you will be on the giving or receiving end of a poinsettia, Christmas cactus, cyclamen, amaryllis or other holiday plant. Extend the beauty and longevity of these holiday beauties with proper care.

And that starts the minute you leave the florist or garden center. Always protect your gift plants from the harsh outdoors. Professional florists and garden center staff will provide a care tag and wrap your plants in a plastic or paper sleeve.

Remove the wrap as soon as you arrive home. This is especially important when caring for poinsettias. The up-turned leaves emit ethylene, a ripening hormone, that can shorten the longevity of your poinsettia's colorful display.

Rewrap your holiday plant anytime you move it outdoors and never leave it sitting in a cold car while running errands. A chilled plant looks fine until it thaws. By the next day the plant turns grayish-green, wilts and may die. Not such a nice gift after all.

Once your plant arrives home, place it in a cool, brightly lit location. The cool temperatures and indirect light help the blooms last longer. Avoid drafts of hot and cold air. These can dry or chill the plant, resulting in leaf and blossom drop. Fold down the foil wrap to allow sunlight to reach all the leaves.

Keep the soil moist, like a damp sponge, but not wet. A quick touch of the top inch or two of soil will let you know when it is time to water. Water thoroughly whenever the top few inches of soil are crumbly and just slightly moist.

Pour out any water that collects in the foil, basket, decorative pot or saucer. Or place pebbles in the bottom of the container or saucer to elevate the plant above any sitting water.

Plant your amaryllis bulb in a container that is slightly larger than the bulb and has drainage holes. Set the bulb in a well-drained potting mix with 1/3 of the pointed end exposed. Water the potting mix thoroughly and place the container in a cool sunny location. Continue to water thoroughly, but only often enough to keep the soil barely moist.

Or go soilless. Place several inches of pebbles in the bottom of a glass vase or watertight container. Cover the pebbles with water. Set the bulb on top of the pebbles, adding more stones around the bulb to hold it in place. Leave the top one third of the bulb exposed. Add water as needed to maintain the water level just below the bulb.

Now relax and wait the month or more needed for your amaryllis bulb to wake up and start growing. Water more often once sprouts appear.

Keep your floral display looking its best by removing spent flowers from azaleas, Christmas cactus, cyclamen and kalanchoes. This keeps the plant looking fresh and often encourages more blooms. Remove the true flowers, those yellow knobs in the center of the colorful leaves of the poinsettia. This extends the longevity and beauty of the poinsettia plant.

And once the holidays are past, keep enjoying these plants through the gray days of winter. Move the plants to a sunny window, fertilize with a dilute solution of complete or flowering plant fertilizer and water as needed.

Add some artificial berries, cut flowers in water picks or silk blooms to replace the faded flowers. Use colorful stakes or natural twigs for added beauty and to support floppy leaves and stems.

Be sure to add a few holiday plants to this year's gift list. They're guaranteed to brighten everyone's holiday celebrations.

Enjoy The Holiday Season Keeping Fire Safety In Mind

Festive meals, flickering lights and holiday decorations are all hallmarks of the holiday season. However,

Christmas trees, candles, electrical decorations and cooking all contribute to an increased number of home fires during December, making it one of the leading months for U.S. home fires.

To help everyone enjoy a fire-safe holiday season, the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) is encouraging everyone to be aware of potential fire risks, and to take steps to minimize them.

"Fire can quickly turn this festive time of year into a tragic one," said Lorraine Carli, vice president of NFPA's Outreach and Advocacy division. "Fortunately, when decorating your home and entertaining guests, following some simple safety precautions can go a long way toward enjoying a fire-safe holiday season."

Following are NFPA's holiday-related fire statistics:

- Christmas trees. Christmas tree fires are not common, but when they do occur, they're much more likely to be deadly than most other fires. One of every 45 reported home Christmas tree fires results in a death, compared to an annual average of one death per 139 reported home fires.

- Candles. December is the peak time of year for home candle fires. In 2016, the top three days for candle fires were Christmas Day, New Year's Day and New Year's Eve. More than half (56%) of the December home decoration fires were started by candles, compared to one-third (31%) the remainder of the year.

- Holiday decorations. Between 2012 and 2016, U.S. fire departments responded to an average of 800 home fires per year that began with decorations (excluding Christmas trees.) These fires caused an annual average of two civilian deaths, 34 civilian injuries and $11 million in direct property damage.

One-fifth (19%) of these home decoration fires occurred in December. One-fifth (21%) of decoration fires started in the kitchen; 15% started in the living room, family room or den.

- Holiday cooking. While cooking fires are the leading cause of U.S. home fires and injuries year-round, Christmas Day ranked as the second-leading day for home cooking fires in 2016 behind Thanksgiving Day. On Christmas Day in 2016, there was a 73% increase in the number of home cooking fires as compared to an average day.

NFPA offers a wealth of holiday fire safety tips and information for consumers, along with tools and resources for local fire departments to promote holiday fire safety in their communities. More information is at www.nfpa.org/holiday for more information.

Paulowske, Adams Provide Good 1-2 Punch For Lady Indians

By Judy Harlow

Fans of the Kewaskum High girls basketball team expect junior Maxine Paulowske will always score her share of points, and she did in the Indians' recent game against arch rival Campbellsport, hitting a game-high 25 points.

What helped the Indians get the 65-58 victory, however, was the fact sophomore Kennedy Adams added a personal-high 20 points, and no one was happier about that than Adams. "Campbellsport and Kewaskum ... They're rivals," Adams said, and, "We were defending our home court."

Adams started the game with a bang, scoring the Indians' first five points on a couple of layups and a free throw. Near the end, when the game was still in doubt, the 5-foot, 6-inch guard helped out with three free throws and a basket.

And was the 20 points her all-time high?

"I had 13 last year in our second or third game," she said. "I've been trying to beat it ever since."

Adams was good on eight of 12 free throws, and she said when she went to the line, she kept thinking about what her dad told her about "following through and keeping my elbows in."

"Kennedy did a fantastic job," KHS coach Russell Thull said, indicating he was a little concerned in the second half when Morgan Fryman started to connect for the Cougars. She had the hot hand a year ago when Campbellsport won the game at Kewaskum by four points.

"I knew they (Indians) were getting tired," Thull said, adding in the late timeouts, he kept stressing, "We can't give up any easy baskets inside."

And they didn't. Paulowske provided the Indians with some great outside shooting, with five baskets from beyond the arc. She had back-to-back threes in the first half, the first with 7:59 remaining to tie the game at 16-all, then another with 6:26 left to put the Indians out front 19-18. A couple minutes later she fed Anna Christensen for a three from the left baseline for a 24-20 advantage.

Grace Nerat, playing with an injured thumb, came off the bench to spark the Cougars with seven, first half points. She ended up with nine, while Fryman hit 13 and Shayley Narges 10.

The spark plug guard Evonna Engel hit four of six free throws late on the way to a team-high 18 point effort. She had help from Amber Kissinger, who hit a pair of three-pointers to keep Campbellsport in the game.

For KHS, Courtney Zarda helped with six points on two of three shooting from three-point land.

Was this win any bigger because it was Campbellsport?

"We just need wins. We're building on each other," Thull said. "To me, it's about the season" and not one game.

Kettle Moraine Lutheran Game

On December 4, the Indians ran into a powerful Kettle Moraine Lutheran team and wound up on the short end of a 72-36 score. The Chargers led at half 37-14.

KHS coach Russ Thull called KML "a phenomenal defensive team," adding, "They just take you out of your rhythm."

Anna Christensen was the only Indian to finish in double figures. She scored 11 points. Maxine Paulowske was held to just three. Fourteen Chargers scored, led by Emma Thistle's 11.

Six Pins Propel KHS Wrestlers To EC Win

By Judy Harlow

Posting six pins in a row, from 145 pounds to 195, the Kewaskum wrestlers came home with a 45-36 victory over host Winneconne in the opening East Central Conference match of the year on December 6.

Down 18-0, the Indians weren't worried because the strength of their lineup starts with Braden Maertz at 145, and he needed just 3:02 to put away Seth Schnell for the first six of their 36 straight points. Following suit, Alex Deheck, Eric Bauer, Tanner Goeman, Sam Larson and Kannon Muckerheide all won by pin at 152, 160, 170, 182 and 195.

Deheck and Bauer have won their first six matches of the season, and Bauer moves closer to being the winningest wrestler in the history of the sport at KHS. He currently has 132 victories. With nine more, he passes Brett Scoles' record of 140.

Heisdorf Takes Over The Reins Of KHS Baseball Program

By Judy Harlow

When the spring baseball season rolls around, Mike Heisdorf will move from first base to third without ever swinging a bat.

How so, you might ask. Well, Heisdorf has been the volunteer first base coach for the Kewaskum High baseball team the past four years, and he recently was named as its new head coach. He takes over for the veteran Doug Gonring, who announced his retirement from the sport at the conclusion of the 2018 summer season, the final summer season the WIAA (Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association) will sponsor.

Heisdorf, a 1982 KHS graduate, who participated in basketball, baseball and golf — he once had a hole-in-one in a match against Chilton — when he was in high school. He brings experience both as a player and coach. At KHS, he played in the outfield for all of his varsity career, and he was the head coach of the West Bend East Suns for seven years.

When asked about his best year at East, Heisdorf said, “My best record was 22-6 ... I think it was in my first year.”

Concerning his philosophy, Heisdorf said, “We’re just going to try to play the game right ... play good defense, and the rest will fall into place.” Going on, the new coach said the Indians may play a little more “small ball” and work on bunting the ball better.

“In the end, it comes down to pitching and catching,” he said.

While the team will be playing many new opponents — except for Plymouth and Kewaskum, all the East Central teams have been playing spring baseball — Heisdorf likes the fact he has worked with the KHS program for four years.

“I know most of the kids who are coming back. They are kind of used to me,” he said about making a smooth transition.

Heisdorf said he has made several trips to the school to look at the new field and feels the artificial surface on the infield “is going to be nice,” especially with some of the weather conditions the players might face in the spring.

“I’m excited” for the opportunity, he concluded.

“Coach Heisdorf comes with good qualifications. He has a solid vision for the program,” KHS Athletic Director Jason Piittmann said. “He is familiar with our student-athletes from having been a volunteer assistant with Coach Gonring.”

Piittmann said there were three candidates for the job, and two for the JV coaching position, with Erik Gotthard, a special education teacher at Kewaskum Middle School getting the job.

“He is young, enthusiastic, and his vision meshes well with Coach Heisdorf’s,” Piittmann said.

This first day of practice for the spring season is March 15, and the Indians open the year against Hartford Union High School on March 28.

Bauer And Goeman Are Perfect; KHS Matmen Take Ninth In The Dells

By Judy Harlow

There was no time for water park activities in Wisconsin Dells on December 8. The Kewaskum High wrestlers were focusing on having a good showing in the Devil Duals, and they did just that, going 4-1 on the day to finish ninth in the championship bracket in this rugged dual meet event.

To start out, there were 32 teams in the opening round with winners going to the championship bracket, and the losers to the consolation bracket. KHS defeated Whitnall 48-31 to advance to the championship field.

The lone Indian loss came in their first match when they were dominated by Prairie du Chien, 58-18. Then, in order, Kewaskum defeated Boyceville 39-36, topped Kimberly 39-36, and outpointed SPASH (Stevens Point Area High School) 48-36 in the finale.

Two of the Indians, 160-pound Eric Bauer and Tanner Goeman, who wrestled at 170 and 182, both came away with perfect 5-0 marks. Bauer is currently 11-0 and closing in on Brett Scoles’ record of 140 victories.

“It was better than I anticipated,” KHS coach Scott Rhoads said about placing ninth and considering his team did not have a full lineup.

KHS had no entry at 106, 120 and 126, so they were giving up 18 forfeit points in each of the matches. Mason Pomeroy had finished 3-2 (fourth place) at the GunSlinger meet, but, “He broke his collarbone, unrelated to wrestling,” according to Rhoads.

“We hope to have him back in time for regionals,” Rhoads added.

Still, the team’s veterans, including Bauer, Goeman, Nathaniel Droese, Braden Maertz, Alex Deheck, Sam Larson and Kannon Muck-erheide, posted enough pins to wipe out the deficits. Bauer wound up with four pins, the fastest in 0:12, and a forfeit, while Goeman posted five pins, including four in the first period.

“We’re just preaching about pinning right now,” Rhoads said, indicating he is especially happy with the commitment Goeman and Bauer have made to getting pins.

The junior Maertz (9-2) lost his opening match to Prairie du Chien’s Traeton Saint 4-7, then roared back with a pair of pins and two decisions for a second straight 4-1 day.

Muckerheide, a sophomore and a light 195-pounder, went 4-1 with four pins. His lone loss came via pin to a wrestler from Boyceville.

Deheck (9-2), who breezed his way through the GunSlinger meet, had a rough draw in his first two matches in this meet, losing to Boyceville by major decision, 2-11 and getting pinned by his Kimberly opponent. He rebounded with first-period pins in the next three matches to end the day at 3-2.

Droese (8-3) also started out 0-2 but won his final three matches, all via pin. He is currently 8-3 on the year.

Results of the other Indian starters are as follows: Christopher Kennedy, 0-5 at 132; Alex Butler, 1-4 at 138; Sam Larson, 3-2 at 170 and 182; Tristan Rayburn, 3-2 at 220; and Nate Lawrenz, 2-3 at 285 where he was much lighter than his opponents.

Rhoads said Larson “had a good day,” and Rayburn came up with a big pin against SPASH in a match he was losing.

Perennial power Stoughton captured top honors in the tournament, going 5-0 on the day. Had the Indians beaten Prairie du Chien, they would have faced Stoughton in the second round.

The Indians host Berlin in an East Central Conference match tomorrow night (December 15), then it’s off to the annual Marty Loy Tournament in Fond du Lac on December 16.

Hecker Douses Kewaskum's Comeback Bid

By Judy Harlow

Winneconne senior guard Austin Hecker looked as good in person as he did on the scouting film to Kewaskum coach Don Gruber and the Indians in an East Central matchup in Kewaskum on December 6.

The 5 foot-11 inch Wolf guard drives, plays good defense, is a solid free throw shooter and he can hit the three-ball. He certainly carried the load for Winneconne, scoring a game-high 32 points, including 21 in the first half for a 58-50 victory over the Indians, who battled back from an 11-point halftime deficit to challenge the visitors.

With the win, Winneconne is 1-1 in EC play and 4-1 overall, while Kewaskum is 0-2 and 0-4.

Kewaskum had three players in double figures, starting with 15 by Joshua Bocher. Then came 6 foot-2 inch Carson Dogs, who scored 11 going up against the Wolves' big boys, Hunter Ingles and Greg Murawski, who both stand 6 feet 4 inches.

Senior wing Jacob Schlosser came alive with eight of his 11 points in the second half, including a pair of rainbow jumpers, including a "line driver" that swished and cut the Wolves' lead to just one point, 46-45 with 5:24 remaining.

Momentum was definitely on the Indians' side, but Winneconne reclaimed it with an 8-0 run down the stretch. A clutch trey by Ingles from the right wing put Winneconne up 56-47 with 1:45 remaining, then Hecker swished a pair of free throws for a 58-47 lead with 1:04 left on the clock.

Schlosser hit his final 3-point basket with 0:51 left, but neither team scored again so the game ended at 58-50.

While he was proud of his players' efforts, Gruber said, "We didn't make shots when we needed to ... We just didn't get in done."

As has been the case in a couple other games, turnovers were also a problem. "My thought is we had too many turnovers ... I think the second half was better than the first," Gruber said.

The play of Dogs was cited by Gruber, who said, "I thought all the guys hustled well. There were a couple times when we didn't get back (on defense), and they made us pay when we didn't get back."

Muraski got in early foul trouble and sat most of the first half. He scored all seven of his points after the break.

After a home game against Mayville on December 11, the Indians go on the road to Berlin tomorrow night (Deember 14).

Owls' Threes Too Much For Indians

By Judy Harlow

It was a “close but no cigar” performance by the Kewaskum High boys basketball team on December 4. The Indians led early, fell behind when the visitors canned a bunch of long range jumpers in the second half and wound up losing to Slinger, 57-48.

Junior John Mark Bocher and senior Jacob Schlosser led the Indians in scoring with 14 points each. Next high was Brad Buechel with eight points and a team-high five assists to the effort.

“We started out with a little lead,” KHS coach Don Gruber said. “They were pressing, and we were scoring off the press.”

When the Owls

switched defenses, the Indians struggled a bit while the Owls were successfully going to the basket or kicking out the ball for successful three-point goals.

KHS was down 37-27 at the break, but thanks to a successful 1-3-1 defense, kept cutting into the deficit.

“They (Owls) turned it over quite a bit,” Gruber said, adding, “We had it down to four or five,” and finally three with 5:00 to go.

“Then we had three empty possessions,” the coach said. “We couldn’t hit anything. I think the guys were tired. They worked pretty hard in the second half.”

Rebounding against the Owls was another problem, according to Gruber, who said, “In the crucial part of the game, they had a couple multi-ple shot (possessions). I know one, they came back to make a three on it.”
