Following The Road To Forgiveness

By Anne Trautner

Many people are familiar with the photo.

If you google the words "Napalm Girl," the picture will appear. Taken by Nick Ut, the Pulitzer Prize-winning photograph captures the absolute horror of war.

A young girl runs naked on the road after the South Vietnamese military dropped napalm on her small village of Trảng Bàng. It is a picture of the girl's pain and fear. "Most of the people know my picture, but they don't know my story. They wonder what happened to that girl," said Kim Phuc Phan Thi, the girl in the picture.

The bombing occurred 47 years ago, on June 8, 1972. Kim was 9 years old.

Before that fateful day, Kim did not know pain. She supposes the worst pain she probably knew was maybe falling off her bicycle and scraping her knee.

But on June 8, 1972, she learned the pain that napalm can be cause.

Napalm is a gasoline mixed with chemicals. It sticks to anything it touches, including skin. And it burns.

It burns at a temperature hotter than a regular fire. Kim estimates that a building fire can reach temperatures of about 1,200 to 1,500 degrees.

Napalm, which can disintegrate just about anything it touches, burns at 5,000 degrees.

Thousands Enjoy Breakfast On The Farm

By Anne Trautner

The Enright family welcomed nearly 4,000 people to their farm as they hosted Breakfast On The Farm on Saturday, June 8.

"I thoroughly enjoyed myself. From the time I woke up in the morning, I felt so prepared. I just walked around and talked to people and enjoyed watching other people's kids doing things like archery and fishing. I thoroughly enjoyed myself," said Linda Enright, who owns and operates the farm with her husband, Mike, and their son Corey.

A total of 3,702 people were served breakfast at the Highland Dairy, LLC, a robotic dairy farm located at 1207 Highland Drive in Kewaskum.

"We had really good weather. Everything went well," said Mike Strupp, who is treasurer of the Washington County Dairy Promotion Committee.

"The committee works to promote dairy the best we can. We have a big audience in Washington County. Having this Breakfast On The Farm is important to let people see what an operating farm is and what it takes to run it," added Strupp, who co-chairs Washington County Breakfast On The Farm with Bernie Wolf.

Many of the attendees were impressed by the number of activities that were at the event.

There were wagon rides, barn tours, a petting zoo, a pedal tractor pull, live music, Roden Barnyard Adventures, antique tractors, games, archery and much more.

Dennis Rochwite Honored For Service

By Anne Trautner

Dennis Rochwite, a Vietnam War veteran, recently went on an Honor Flight to Washington, D.C.

Rochwite, a 1964 Kewaskum High School graduate who now lives in Birnamwood, flew with the Never Forgotten Honor Flight out of Mosinee on April 8.

"It was just an awesome experience. Really, you can't describe it," 73-year-old Rochwite said.

Rochwite was overwhelmed by the welcome he got when he arrived with the other veterans in Washington, D.C. And when he returned to Wisconsin, he couldn't believe the reception.

Thousands Enjoy Breakfast On The Farm

Of course, there also was an all-you-can-eat pancake breakfast, which also included a serving of scrambled eggs with ham, apple-sauce, cheese, sausage, milk and coffee. Chocolate or strawberry ice cream sundaes and root beer floats also were available.

Saturday marked the 32nd annual Washington County Breakfast on the Farm. It was the first time the Washington County Breakfast on the Farm was held at a robotic dairy farm.

Visitors were able to see how the robotic milking stations work on the state-of-the-art milking facility. The farm, which has a herd of 345 cows, features six DeLaval VMS robotic milking stations, automatic feed and manure pushing equipment, and Comfort Cow technology.

Many of the people who came to the breakfast were from Wisconsin, but there also were visitors from places as far away as Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, California, Colorado and Florida.

Nearly 250 volunteers donated their time to help things go smoothly at the event. Some volunteers gave farm tours while others prepared or served food.

"It takes a lot of man power to serve that many people," Strupp explained. "We have the capability to feed almost 1,000 people in an hour."

"I was impressed at how good the food was and how they were able to keep it steaming hot even after carrying it from one tent to another," Linda Enright said.

In addition to all the volunteers, Strupp expressed appreciation for the Johnson Bus Company from Kewaskum for transporting all the visitors to and from the farm.

"We are especially grateful to the family for putting this on and opening their farm for the public to see," Strupp said.

Highland Dairy is now in its fifth generation of farming.

The Enright family began farming in the 1800s in the Town of Farmington. Mike Enright grew up on the family homestead, working side by side with his dad, Ken Enright, his mom, Janet Enright, and two brothers.

Upon their oldest son's graduation from college, Mike and his wife, Linda, decided to branch off from the family farm and begin their own business. In 1997, the family moved their herd to Highland Dairy. In the early years, the herd was milked twice a day in a double-six parallel parlor.

Mike and Linda have two adult sons: Corey and Jason, a daughter-in-law, Jen, and eight grandchildren: Abby, Madison, Lauren, Kaitlynn, Ranen, Hadley, Eisley and Tysen.

Proceeds from Breakfast on the Farm help to fund Washington County Dairy Promotions Committee activities, such as the Ag Adventureland at the Washington County Fair, dairy programs at elementary schools throughout the county, 4-H activities, scholarships for students pursuing a career in agriculture, and much more.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

Motorcycle Crash With Injuries

On Friday, June 7, at 6:33 p.m. the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of an accident with injuries, involving two motorcycles on County Highway Q west of Highway 164 in the Village of Richfield.

Sheriff's deputies and rescue personnel from the Richfield Fire Department were subsequently dispatched to the scene. Waukesha County Sheriff assisted with traffic control.

An on-scene investigation revealed the following: a group of motorcycles were west on County Highway Q. The lead motorcycle slowed to turn north into a local establishment. The second motorcycle, driven by a male, and the third motorcycle, driven by a male, crashed into each other, causing both of the drivers to be ejected off the motorcycles.

One motorcycle driver suffered serious injury. This male driver was transported from the scene to Froedtert Hospital via Flight for Life. The other motorcycle driver suffered non-life threatening injuries and was taken to Community Memorial Hospital via Richfield Rescue Ambulance.

County Highway Q between Highway 164 and East Lake Road was closed for approximately one hour and 45 minutes to facilitate rescue, investigative and clean-up efforts.

At this time, speed appears to be contributing factor to the crash. However, the accident remains under investigation by the Washington County Sheriff's Office.

House Fire

On Thursday, June 6, at 2:17 a.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of a house that was filling with smoke at 870 Wildwood Lane in the Town of Jackson. All of the residents evacuated the home.

Washington County Sheriff's deputies arrived along with Wisconsin State Patrol to find the house filling with smoke. Personnel from the following fire departments responded: Jackson, Germantown, Richfield, Slinger, West Bend, Cedarburg and Hartford. Firefighters tended to any remaining fire and smoke.

Although the cause of the fire remains under investigation, it appeared to originate from a dehumidifier in the basement. No one was injured, and the damage was estimated to be approximately $50,000.

OBITUARIES

Edward J. Slegler Jr.

Edward Joseph Slegler Jr., age 92, passed away May 28, 2019, just five months after the death of his wife of 65 years, Diane.

He will be remembered by many who attended Kewaskum High School, from 1958-1987, as Mr. Slegler, the math and physics teacher and the football and track coach. He enjoyed it when former students would share how much they learned from him, and it wasn't always about math. His quirky "sayings" were oft repeated, and on any given day students would hear, "Now you know as much about it as I do," "clear as mud," and "you're a gentleman and a scholar."

Edward, born November 14, 1926, in Wrightstown, WI, to Edward J. and Caroline (Eckstein) Slegler, and grew up in the St. Joseph's Orphan's Home in Green Bay with his four older sisters, Ann Carava (deceased), Ruth Schmidt, Grace Lasee (deceased), Dorothy Roberts (deceased) and his younger brother, Robert.

He married Diane Otto on August 19, 1953, and raised 10 children: Edward J. 3rd (Patty), Helena Joy Kaiser, Jonathon (Val), Mark, Constance (Scott Giles), Renee (Daniel Boehm, deceased), David (Karen, deceased), Patricia, Robert, and Mary (John Murphy). They lived in rural Kewaskum for 54 years and recently resided at Kettle Moraine Gardens in Kewaskum.

A lifelong Green Bay Packers fan, Ed recalled once sneaking under a tent as a young boy when the game was played in a local farm field and players split the money from ticket sales for their pay.

Mr. Slegler was a brilliant math and physics teacher, but was also a high-school dropout, leaving school to train as a rifleman in the Army during World War II. He was training for the invasion of Japan when the United States detonated two nuclear weapons over the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki on August 6 and 9, 1945, respectively. He always felt he would have died if not for those events. Instead, he was part of the Allied Occupation Forces in the Philippines (1945) and Japan (1946), managing the PX at General Douglas MacArthur's Headquarters. He later earned his GED, Bachelor's Degree from Carroll College in Waukesha (1951), and Master's Degree from UW-Milwaukee (1965).

Edward will be remembered as a brother ("Bud"), Daddy, "Grampa," teacher, veteran, and truly "a gentleman and a scholar."

Edward is also survived by his 17 grandchildren: Emily, Annie, Joshua, Hannah, Gareth, Aaron, Clair, Andy, Sheyla, David, Maggie, Kate, Anne, June, Frannie, Grace, and Jack; and six great-grandchildren.

Services for Edward will be held at Campbellsport Alliance Church, N1876 Co Rd V, Campbellsport, WI 53010, on Sunday, June 23. Visitation will begin at 11:30 a.m., with the funeral at 2 p.m. with Military Honors. The family invites all friends and relatives to a meal following services.

Burial will be at Ledgeview Memorial Park, Veteran's Garden of Valor, N6250 Co Rd K, Fond du Lac, WI 54937 on Monday, June 24 at 2 p.m.

Memorials in memory of Edward may be sent to KEYS Scholarship fund benefitting Kewaskum High School Graduates at: KEYS, Inc. P.O. Box 124 Kewaskum, WI 53040 or online at <https://keys-scholarships.org/>

The family would like to extend love and appreciation to Pastor Doug and Jean Birr and Reverend Joseph Brath for their friendship and ministry to Edward, and to the nurses and staff at Kettle Moraine Gardens, ComForCare, and Aurora At Home Hospice for all their help, love, and care. Additional thanks and appreciation go to the U.S. Army personnel for their utmost respect and ultimate honor.

The Myhrum Patten Miller & Kietzer Funeral Homes have been entrusted with Edward's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.myhrumpatten.com.

Ground-breaking Ceremony Planned for 9/11 Memorial

By Anne Trautner

A groundbreaking ceremony for the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial is planned for this Thursday, June 13, at noon.

The event will be held on the front lawn of the Kewaskum Municipal Annex, 1308 Fond du Lac Ave. in Kewaskum.

The public is invited to attend. The ceremony is expected to last about 30 minutes.

The Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial is being built to serve as a place of reflection and remembrance for those lost in the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001, including Kewaskum High School graduate Andrea Haberman.

Seat To Become Open On Village Board

By Anne Trautner

Kewaskum Village Trustee Jim Wright and his family are planning to move out of the area to Arizona.

"The move is very bittersweet. This has been a great community to live in. It's why I served for a community that has given so much to us," Wright said.

Wright's house in Kewaskum is currently on the market. When it sells, Wright will move and his seat on the village board will become vacant.

When that happens, the board will have two options to fill it, according to Village Administrator Matt Heiser.

One option is for the board to appoint someone to the position, which the board has done before.

"What the board has done in the past is solicit letters of interest and then select some for interviews and pick one from those," Heiser said.

The second option is for the board to hold a special election in the next election cycle. State statute spells out that the seat would be included in the election next spring as a one-year term to complete Wright's regular two-year term.

"If that is the choice of the board, you would essentially do nothing, live with the six remaining votes, and then anyone who is interested in the seat would take out papers in December, and be on that ballot next April," Heiser told trustees at the Village Board meeting held last Monday, June 3.

Village Board President Kevin Scheunemann said he would support appointing someone to the position.

"I'm OK with taking applications for this. Let's say we get five or six, I would like the administrative committee to weed it down and make a recommendation to the board," Scheunemann said.

The board is expected to make a decision at a future meeting on whether they appoint someone to the position or hold a special election.

Last Monday, board members expressed appreciation for Wright's service.

"While we are sad to be losing Trustee Wright's services, we are happy for those changes he gets to make," Heiser said.

Library Report

The summer reading program has started, Lori Kreis, director of the Kewaskum Public Library, told the village board last Monday.

In May, the summer program was introduced to over 800 children at the i4Learning Community School, Holy Trinity School, St. Lucas School, Little Folks School House and Kewaskum Elementary School, Kreis reported.

Kreis also gave a report on the library's request for proposals for a space needs analysis of both a library expansion and renovation of its area and all other uses in the existing Municipal Building.

"The RFP deadline is June 14. I have had quite a few inquiries from people I didn't send it to, so the ad hoc committee will meet on Monday, June 17, at 10 a.m. so I can distribute the proposals to everyone," Kreis said.

Other Village Matters

In other action at the June 3 meeting, the Village Board:

- Approved Ordinance 19-05 Update to the Comprehensive plan.

- Approved a request from Andrew and Laura Johnson to rezone the property located at 1032 Fond du Lac Avenue (the former Kewaskum Statesman building) from B-2 Community Business to RS-2 Single Family Residential.

- Approved the following people to the Ethics Committee: Andy Pesch, Clark Pearson, Tammy Kral and Warren Dums (alternate).

Scheunemann said that although the ethics code ordinance calls for the village president to appoint people to the ethics board, all appointments were recommended by Village Administrator Matt Heiser.

"Rather than changing the code, we sort of have an informal policy in place now that the administrator is going to recommend who should be on the ethics board, and these names were completely drawn blind by him. I did not have any suggestions or recommendations, and he basically gave the list. I will disclose that I know everyone on this list and I am friends with everyone on this list, but these recommendations were completely brought forth by our administrator," Scheunemann said.

"I am going to recommend in the future the administrator make the recommendations on the ethics board because the ethics board is charged with overseeing this body, and it is really difficult for the village president to pick somebody without showing some sort of conflict," Scheunemann added.

Music In The Park Starts Tuesday, June 18

– Kewaskum Big Band To Kick Off Summer Series

The 2019 season of "Music In The Park" kicks off on Tuesday, June 18, with The Kewaskum Big Band.

The group was originally formed in April 2008 by former Kewaskum High School Band Director Larry Ammel and local jazz musician Howard Schneider. This group plays favorites from the big band era with plenty of George Gershwin, Glenn Miller and their contemporaries. The group also plays music by other jazz artists like Louis Armstrong as well as more recent show tunes. The band gets the crowd dancing with a polka every now and then too.

The Kewaskum Big Band is presently directed by Kewaskum High School Band Director Josh Michlig. Many of the musicians are home grown, but some come from as far away as Sheboygan and Chilton. The musicians range in age from retirees to high school students. The band is always looking for new members, too. If anyone has played a musical instrument and enjoys jazz music, they should contact Josh Michlig.

Music In the Park takes a two week hiatus after the Big Band for a couple of other big community events. The popular Chamber of Commerce celebration Party on the Pavement takes place on Tuesday, June 25. The following week, River Hill Park will host its biggest crowds of the year with the annual July 3 fireworks celebration.

The Music In the Park 2019 season resumes on Tuesday, July 9, with The Whiskeybelles who are one of the largest draws of the season.

Westbury Bank To Open Temporary Branch In Piggly Wiggly Lot

By Anne Trautner

Westbury Bank will open a temporary branch in the parking lot of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum.

The temporary facility will be used while the permanent Kewaskum branch is rebuilt after fire damaged the bank on Thursday, May 30.

"We are hoping to have the temporary bank open by the end of the month," Branch Manager Kristy Vogt said.

Although the fire destroyed portions of the building, no customer accounts were affected. All accounts are kept electronically, so nothing was lost from any of those.

There was no known damage to any of the contents in Kewaskum's safe deposit boxes, which have all been moved to the Westbury branch at 2501 W. Washington St. in West Bend.

Two doublewide trailers will be used for the new temporary facility. The temporary bank will house teller stations, four offices and restrooms.

"The space will be very nice, complete with teller stations and bank offices, so we will still be able to serve our customers inside a Kewaskum location," Vogt said.

Reconstruction of the Westbury Bank branch at 1052 Fond Du Lac Ave. in Kewaskum is expected to be completed in nine to 12 months.

Until the reconstruction is finished, the nearest drive-through and ATM services are at Westbury's two West Bend branches at 200 S. Main St. and 2501 W. Washington St.

"We are very grateful to Piggly Wiggly for offering space for us so that we can continue to provide services in Kewaskum as we rebuild," Vogt said. "And we appreciate all the support we have received from customers. This community is just incredible."

The cause of the bank fire is still under investigation and the extent of the damages is still being determined.

For more information about banking services, visit a West Bend branch or call 1-800-679-8287.

The Napalm burned her clothes away.

It burned away her flesh.

From her back, her neck, her arm.

As she ran in her small 9-year-old body, Kim screamed in her native South Vietnamese tongue, "Too hot! Too Hot!"

As her body burned, Kim finally collapsed and then passed out.

She does not remember being placed inside a morgue, left for dead.

A New Life

Somehow, Kim survived.

Her body still bears the scars of her childhood. She still deals with pain.

She has undergone countless laser surgeries. And she has learned to forgive.

Kim, who is now a Canadian citizen, has become an international speaker, focusing on the importance of faith, forgiveness and peace.

She spoke to a group of 44 people who gathered at the Old Courthouse on Sunday. Most were members of area book clubs.

They were familiar with her book, "Fire Road" and wanted to hear her message of how.

Kim, who was awarded the German Peace Prize earlier this year, told the group that she focuses on staying positive.

Kim, who became Christian, said one of the most difficult things was to learn how to follow Jesus' teaching to "love your enemies."

"I didn't know how I could love my enemies. I had so many of them," Kim said.

But she learned to do just that. She keeps God in her life, and he helps her to make the right choices, and to forgive.

If everyone could love their enemies, the world would be filled with peace, she told the small crowd.

Helping Others

Kim is married and lives in Canada with her husband. They have two grown sons and a grandson.

She started a foundation

"I really believe in education. Children are our future," Kim said.

She started her foundation and became connected with Chuck Theusch, the founder and CEO of the Children's Library International's Library of Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

Theusch has been working with Kim to raise funds to create a library in her hometown of Trảng Bàng.

When Theusch's sister-in-law, Marcia Theusch, heard that Kim was coming to Wisconsin, she asked if West Bend could be a stop. And she invited area book clubs to listen to Kim speak.

"Our book club read her book in anticipation of meeting her. The whole book club discussion evolved around the person she is and forgiveness," Marcia Theusch said. "If you lived the Vietnam era, you understand the impact her life has had on

The Washington County Sheriff's Department has arrested a 30-year-old Kewaskum man after a drunk driving hit and run crash Sunday. The Sheriff's Office was alerted to the situation after the man rear-ended an eastbound car that was turning from County Highway H to Sandy Ridge Road. # Partnering To Save Lives: Do Good. Feel Good. Give Blood!

Many openings are still available for blood donors at the June 26 American Red Cross Kewaskum Community Blood Drive, being hosted by Peace UCC in Kewaskum.

The event, which runs from 1 p.m.-6 p.m. on Wednesday, June 26, is fully accessible from the south parking lot on Highway 28, two blocks east of Highway 45. For more information or directions, please call 262-626-4011.

Registration is easy, and online now at red-crossblood.org or by calling 1-800-RED-CROSS. Simply select the date, zip code 53040, and Peace Church. Registration is preferred, but walk-ins are also welcome. Reserved appointments are scheduled every 15 minutes.

People 17 years old or older, who weigh at least 110 pounds, and have not traveled to restricted areas, are eligible donors.

Power red cell donations can make twice the impact for patients in need. It is an automated process that safely allows for the collection of two red cell units rather than one, while the donor's plasma levels are maintained.

If you gave blood at least 56 days before or double red cells at least 112 days before June 26, and have O negative, O positive, A negative, or B negative blood, you are strongly encouraged to consider giving a double red cell donation. Appointments are required and usually last 90 minutes.

Thousands of cancer patients, trauma victims, and people with life-threatening diseases rely on blood donors through the American Red Cross. Surely, someone you know has been impacted by a blood donation. When community groups partner with the American Red Cross by sponsoring a blood drive, life-saving services are provided to the community, and the world.

Together, we deliver the gift of life from those who care to those in need. Please call 1-800-RED-CROSS today to register to donate blood.

Check It Out!

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

Aging is an ongoing process and no matter how much effort was put into seeking the fountain of youth, it has not been found. Physically active older adults help keep the body from progressing quicker through the aging process. Incorporating exercise into your daily routine has been proven to slow bone loss, lower your heart disease risk and increase blood flow to your brain, which betters your brain function and reduces stress and depression.

In addition to physical activity, keeping cognitively active can keep the body young. A study from the Rush Memory and Aging Project in Chicago showed that cognitively active seniors, whose average age was 80, were 2.6 times less likely to develop Alzheimer's disease and dementia than seniors with less cognitive activity. Although research has revealed that those with more education and intellectually stimulating careers have a lower risk of dementia, it has also been proven that starting to engage in exercising your brain at any age will help slow the process of aging. Yep, the librarian is referring to lifelong learning again.

One reason I am writing about this is that we will have memory screenings here on Wednesday, June 19. I met with a dementia caregiver specialist from the Aging and Disability Resource Center of Washington County several weeks ago and we discussed ways the library can partner with the ADRC and help inform the public about the resources available for older adults. Our first program is the memory screening on Wednesday between 1 and 4 p.m. This is a way to help identify possible changes in memory and cognition. You will get immediate results that you can share with your doctor. Like most medical conditions, early detection is imperative to aid in prevention and receive better treatment. If you are interested in a memory screening, please make an appointment with the ADRC at (262) 335-4497.

Memory cafes are other programs that the ADRC sponsors with libraries. We do not have one here yet, but we are talking about it. What are memory cafes? They are social gatherings for people with mild to moderate memory loss. It is a way for people with dementia and their care partners to get together in a non-medical, non-judgmental setting and have fun. Chatting with like-minded people helps diminish feelings of loneliness and isolation, which are factors that may cause dementia. I am lucky to have had the experience in running memory cafes in my former positions and they were so rewarding. If you are interested in Kewaskum Public Library beginning a memory café, please stop in and talk with me.

Finally, we have our summer reading program for adults. One way to enter is quite simple; fill out a book review. The other is a bit more complex but loads of fun; completing a bingo sheet. Challenge your brain, lessen the effects of aging and come on in and enter the summer reading for adults.

Who's Your Daddy?

By Darlene Stern

One of the Ten Commandments God gave to Moses was: "Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long upon the land which the Lord your God is giving you." (Exodus 20:12) This week we're honoring fathers. We all have a father, whether he is living or deceased; known or unknown; nearby or afar; close in relationship or estranged.

Many of us come from various backgrounds. In times past, having a family composed of a father, mother and children was the norm. These days are different. More frequently these days, children come from one parent households; many don't know their father or don't have a relationship with him. How can we honor a father we may not know, or one we do not like?

Nothing about God's command regarding honoring our parents has options. It doesn't matter whether we get along with them or not, honoring them is mandatory. So it's a choice whether we obey God's command — and have long life on the earth; or not — and risk the consequences of not honoring them.

Several dictionary definitions tell us honor can mean to respect, hold as true, abide by, tolerate, even observe. If there is conflict with our father, can we at least respect that he gave us life? Can we thank God for the life our father gave us, even if he wasn't a model Dad? Can we at least tolerate him, even if we don't like him?

Perhaps honoring him this year will bring about a change in relationship that will continue to improve in the years to come. It's good to get past the conflict and on to resolution as everyone wins. Finding a way to make amends before we no longer have the opportunity is beneficial for everyone involved.

There is another answer to honoring our father on this Father's Day. There is one father who is the ideal candidate for fatherhood and that is Father God. He's the best daddy we could ever hope to have. He created us; he loves us; he watches over us; he has great plans for our lives; he has an inheritance for us to claim. What father could be better than that?

Interesting thing about God is that he's always ready to forgive us if we've gone down the wrong path. And there is no end to his patience with us till we get it right. He'll even wait years for us to honor him with our lips, our thoughts and our actions.

Father God thoroughly enjoys spending time with us and is always ready to lay down what he's doing to attend to us. He doesn't require a card, a tie or dinner out — he just wants us to spend time with him. When we don't have an earthly father, Father God is more than willing to pinch hit. When we do have an earthly father, he desires us to honor that father the way we would honor Him.

So on this Father's Day, when you're fulfilling God's mandate to honor your earthly father, consider spending some time communing with and honoring your Father God. You might be pleasantly surprised with how he responds to you wanting to spend time with Him!

There are five classrooms, three age separated fenced playgrounds, a coded secured entry and camera monitored classrooms. They also provide before and after school care at Little Folks and Kewaskum Elementary School. Little Folks also serves as a teaching center for Moraine Park Technical College. Students are placed with them every semester for their practicum experience where the Little Folks teachers mentor them.

Little Folks strives to form working partnerships with families. They respect the parent's insights and concerns and want them to feel comfortable leaving their children in their care, knowing they will be safe and nurtured as they help to develop and grow.

The Wonder Of Nature In Literature

– With Author And Master Gardener Rochelle Pennington

Join Rochelle Pennington for a walk through nature—along garden paths and forest floors—as she leads her audience into the lands of the wider world. The author will be sharing observations and poetry from some of the world's most remembered nature writers—John Muir, Emily Dickinson, Henry David Thoreau, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and others. She will reveal many mysteries that surround us daily in this world of wonders.

Come learn about theme gardens—moon, Biblical, animal, and gourd—and about historical gardens as well—Thomas Jefferson's, George Washington's and Empress Josephine's.

Audience members will even take a closer look at slugs and crickets and beetles and bees and bats and ants and "skeets." From planting spring bulbs to learning about the medicinal side of nature, there is little bit of a whole lot of information in this entertaining program.

The program will be held on Wednesday, June 19 from 7 - 8:15 p.m. at the West Bend

Public Library. It is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served. No registration necessary.

Members of the Washington County Master Gardeners organization will be present at this event to answer questions following the program.

Moraine Park Holds GED/HSED Graduation

Moraine Park Technical College held its 27th annual GED/HSED graduation ceremony on May 30. For the 2018-19 school year, 126 students received their General Education Development (GED) or High School Equivalency Diploma (HSED) certificates.

Rebecca Carreon of Fond du Lac, Natasha Peters of Ripon, Sandra Pfund of Slinger, and Betty Zimdars of West Bend served as student speakers.

Carreon and Peters, sisters and twins, spoke together on the struggles of life and how important it was to both of them to complete the journey together.

"I tried multiple times to finish my HSED on my own but never followed through with it because I never thought I could do it," Peters said. "The support of family, friends, the teachers at the Student Success Center, and my sister, gave me the courage and push I needed to finish."

Both Carreon and Peters plan to continue their education at Moraine Park this fall, with an overall goal to earn their college degree.

"I have always wanted to be a labor and delivery nurse, and I finally feel like that isn't just a dream anymore," Carreon said. "Now I can make it a reality! We plan on starting school here at Moraine Park Technical College in the upcoming year. After all the support we had to finish our HSED here, we can only imagine the support we will get once in our programs." Pfund shared her story of deciding to complete her high school diploma with the support of her friend and fellow GED student, Zimdars.

"We have maintained our friendship and motivated each other along the way," Pfund said. "My success has been helped with a special friendship and someone to hold me accountable. Nothing is impossible, no matter what age you are. Our journey was not an easy one, but our friendship helped immensely." Pfund and Zimdars have decided to continue their educational journey together as Moraine Park college students.

Abby McGeehen of Berlin and Zimdars were each the recipients of $500 student scholarships. These scholarships are awarded to GED/HSED graduates who are continuing their education at Moraine Park.

The GED/HSED students had to pass all four subject portions of the nationally recognized GED tests to receive their diploma. They also had to meet requirements in employability, digital literacy, health, and civics. Moraine Park's GED/HSED instruction is available year-round and is one of the many services at the College that is offered for free to the community.

For more information about Moraine Park's GED/HSED classes, visit morainepark.edu/GED.

JUNE DAIRY MONTH

Celebrate What Makes Us Great!

June is here and, in Wisconsin, that means one thing — it's National Dairy Month!

Wisconsin celebrates this national holiday bigger than anywhere, bringing communities together to toast to dairy — Wisconsin's signature industry. National Dairy Month honors Wisconsin dairy farmers, and the fruits of their labors, which represent the essence of what Wisconsin is all about.

"Each June we turn the spotlight on Wisconsin farmers who work tirelessly to produce our state's award-winning dairy products," said Suzanne Fanning, senior vice president of Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin and chief marketing officer of Wisconsin Cheese.

"Wisconsin is America's Dairyland for a reason: we do dairy better than anyone. That identity is Wisconsin's birthright — it's central to the state and defines how the rest of the world sees us."

June is the time for Wisconsinites to come together and share their pride for America's Dairyland, a rightly deserved title for the state that leads in dairy heritage, innovation and awards. This June, more than 70 Wisconsin farm families will hold dairy breakfasts across the state, keeping with a tradition upheld since the 1970s.

Each event is unique, but there's one thing you can count on — the chance to learn about the positive impact and important role farmers play in their communities while exploring the barns, seeing the cows and enjoying fresh, locally made dairy products.

"We are thrilled to kick off this annual celebration by inviting Wisconsin residents out to the farm to meet these farm families and see firsthand their passion and dedication to feeding their neighbors and our growing world," Fanning said. "But there are so many more ways to celebrate Wisconsin and honor our hardworking dairy farmers and Wisconsin's dairy industry this June."

You can celebrate National Dairy Month all month long by:

- Tuning in to the official June Dairy Month Spotify playlist

- Watching the "I'm a Wisconsin Dairy Farmer" short video series on YouTube, or catching them before movies at Marcus Theatres and pregame at the Milwaukee Brewers baseball games

- Purchasing Wisconsin dairy products with the Proudly Wisconsin Cheese™ and Proudly Wisconsin Dairy™ badges to make your favorite recipes at home

- Sharing access to high-quality nutrition, including milk, with kids this summer by donating at GiveAGallon.com for the Great American Milk Drive

Visit HoorayWisconsinDairy.com for more information and to find a farm breakfast or event near you.

Did You Know?

Certain types of dairy can have a positive effect on blood pressure. According to the Cleveland Clinic, people with high blood pressure, which occurs when the force of blood pushing against blood vessel walls is above normal range, can look to diet to help lower their blood pressure.

Among the foods that can benefit people with high blood pressure is low-fat dairy. Calcium-rich foods, such as low-fat dairy products like skim milk, one percent milk and Greek yogurt, can help lower blood pressure.

In addition, the Cleveland Clinic notes that low-fat and low-salt cheese also can help people achieve healthier blood pressure levels. People with healthy blood pressure can switch to low-fat dairy to avoid high blood pressure, which is often referred to as hypertension.

In a study of more than 5,000 adults, researchers in Spain found that those who reported including the most low-fat dairy in their diets were 54 percent less likely to develop hypertension over a two-year period than those who consumed the least amount of low-fat dairy products.

Directions:

Boil pasta in a medium pot until al dente, then drain in a colander.

Back in the pot, melt 4 Tbs. butter until foamy, then add the flour. Whisk until the mix starts to turn a golden brown, 1-2 minutes.

Slowly pour in the evaporated milk, whisking as it thickens. Then slowly add the regular milk, along with the mustard.

Season with a pinch of salt, and keep whisking until the sauce is a little thicker. Add cheese and continue to stir until the cheese is melted and the sauce is creamy.

Add the pasta to the sauce, stir to coat, and salt to taste.

Serve immediately.

JUNE DAIRY MONTH

The Many Health Benefits Of Dairy

Did you know that humans are the only adult animal species that continues to consume "milk" through dairy products.

While most animals wean off of their mother's milk after infancy, humans across the globe have been consuming products produced by cow, sheep or goat milk for thousands of years. And the benefits can be numerous.

Human Body Grows To Accept Milk

Although dairy doubters are quick to mention that it is not "natural" for humans to consume milk products into adulthood and that the body is not designed to digest the sugars and proteins in dairy, others are saying that centuries of farming have led to the evolution of human genes so that dairy products can be included in the diet.

According to a study published in 2013 in the journal Nature, archaeologist Peter Bogucki was excavating a Stone Age site in the fertile plains of central Poland in the 1970s when he came across various artifacts. One seemed to be an early pottery strainer used in cheese-making. The pottery was studied, and milk proteins were found on it.

As farming replaced hunting and gathering in many areas of the world, it's surmised that the human body slowly evolved to tolerate milk into adulthood, especially if it was fermented, such as in cheese or yogurt. Several thousand years later, it's believed that a genetic mutation spread through Europe that gave people the ability to produce lactase — the enzyme necessary to digest the lactose sugar in dairy — and drink milk.

Many people who retain the ability to digest milk can trace their ancestry to Europe, according to a group of scientists brought together to work on a multidisciplinary project called LeCHE (Lactase Persistence in the early Cultural History of Europe). There are other dairy pockets from West Africa, the Middle East and South Asia.

Dairy's Present-Day Benefits

Today we know that dairy is an important source of nutrients at all ages and stages of growth. Southeast United Dairy Industry Association, Inc. says that dairy is a great source of protein, calcium, carbohydrates, phosphorus, potassium, and vitamins A, D, B12, riboflavin, and niacin.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that the calcium in dairy products is used for building bones and teeth and in maintaining bone mass. Diets with sufficient potassium may help to maintain healthy blood pressure. Additionally, vitamin D functions in the body to maintain ideal levels of calcium and phosphorus so that bones are built and maintained.

The Australian Dietary Guidelines say that consumption of milk, cheese and yogurt is linked to a reduced risk of heart disease, stroke, hypertension, type 2 diabetes, metabolic syndrome, and colorectal cancer.

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans encourage children and adults to enjoy three servings of low-fat or fat-free milk, cheese or yogurt each day. Canada's Food Guide recommends between three and four servings for children in the preteen and teenage years and two to three servings for adults.

Dairy can be a nutritious part of a healthy diet, and history suggests it has been for quite some time.

Lemon Cream Cheese Pound Cake

Servings: 12-16 servings
Prep Time: 30 minutes
Cook Time: 1 hour, 15 minutes
Total Time: 1 hour, 45 minutes

Ingredients:

Cake:

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 8 ounces cream cheese, softened to room temperature
- 3/4 cup unsalted butter, softened to room temperature
- 1 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- Zest of 2 lemons
- 4 large eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Glaze:

- 1 1/3 cup powdered sugar, sifted
- 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- Lemon slices or zest, for garnish (optional)

Directions:

Preheat oven to 325°F. Grease a tube pan or bundt pan with butter and flour. Combine the flour, baking powder, and salt in a bowl and set aside. In the bowl of a stand mixer fitted with a paddle attachment, beat the cream cheese and butter on high until smooth. Add the sugar and lemon zest and beat until light and creamy, 2-3 minutes. Add eggs one at a time, scraping down after each. Mix in the vanilla. Add the dry ingredients and mix until just incorporated. Batter will be thick, do not overmix. Spread the cake batter into the prepared cake pan and bake until lightly golden brown and a toothpick inserted comes out with a few moist crumbs, 1 hour to 1 hour and 15 minutes. Cool in the pan for 15 minutes, then turn out onto a wire rack to cool completely. To make the glaze, whisk together the powdered sugar and lemon juice. Pour over the cooled cake and garnish with lemon slices or zest, if desired. Let glaze sit up for 15 minutes before slicing.

Weather Plays Havoc With State Tournament — Indians Finish Fifth Again

By Judy Harlow

Years from now, when the Kewaskum golfers look back at the 2019 WIAA state tournament, they're probably going to be proud about taking fifth place in Division 2.

Right now, however, Jacob Schlosser, Brad Buechel, Talon Ralph, Andrew Carlton and Toree Ralph may be a little disappointed, not just because they never got to finish the full 36 holes, but mostly because they missed a top-three finish they thought was a good possibility.

"We obviously had high expectations going in after finishing fourth and fifth the last two years," KHS coach Casey Scheel said. "We thought we could compete for a top-three finish."

The opening round went well as far as the weather was concerned, and KHS players knew they had the ability to improve on their first 18 holes score of 321, putting themselves in the fifth spot.

"We shot well the first day," Scheel said. "We were very consistent from (number) one to five. We just didn't have that one low score" like three of the four leaders had.

Mother Nature didn't cooperate the second round. After a two and a half hour lightning delay, the Indians started trimming the deficit between themselves and the others, but then the WIAA officials determined the Division 2 and 3 tournament would conclude after 27 holes.

Madison Edgewood, which had been several strokes behind Lakeland at one point before surging into the lead, won the title and successfully defended its 2018 crown. The Crusaders wound up with a 464 total, 305 from the first 18 holes and 159 from the final nine. Lakeland Union was the runner-up with 306-161—467, and Edgerton took third at 314-162—476, one stroke ahead of Rice Lake (477).

The Indians, behind Schlosser's excellent play both days, finished with a 321-161—482. Schlosser started off with a four-over par 76 and finished his high school career with a 40 and a 116 total, earning him a top-10 finish. Schlosser was tied for seventh place with five other players.

"Jacob played very well. He was striking the ball well," Scheel said, explaining the first round he started on the back nine with a four-over-par 40, then birdied numbers two and six to go two-under on the back. He closed out with bogeys on numbers eight and nine for a 36 and a 76.

On day two, Schlosser had just one bad hole, number four, where he took a triple bogey, then played the remaining five holes in even par, thanks to birdies on numbers six and nine.

"He hit his tee shot right into a penalty area," Scheel said about the triple but commending Schlosser for the way he battled back. "To keep his composure after that was pretty good," he said.

The Indians had two others, junior Carlton and senior Talon Ralph, crack the top 25. They were tied for 21st with Lakeland Union's Adam Lazaroff. Carlton, who did not play in the East Central Conference Tournament, the regional or the sectional, replaced Travis Griese in the state lineup and was very steady, shooting an 81 on the first day and a 40 on the second.

Carlton's 81 included an eagle three on number two but tripled number 11 and doubled number 13 on the back.

Ralph carded an 82 in the opening round and turned in a three-over par 39 the second day. To post the 39, he stayed away from high numbers with six pars and three bogeys. He also shot a 39 on the front nine in the first round, thanks to a birdie four on number nine.

The other counter was Ralph's younger brother, Toree. He shot 83 the first day in a roller coaster round, that included birdies on two of the par threes, two double bogeys and one triple.

Buechel, the Player of the Year in the East Central Conference, tied for 31st in the field of 52, with an 82 followed by a 46 the second day. His score did not count.

Scheel said Buechel had been consistent all season, then ran into difficulty with his driver the last week. "I thought we had it figured out," Scheel said, but that wasn't the case. "He grinded (out the round) Monday, then on Tuesday, he was fighting it all day," Scheel said. Buechel's card included just two pars, with four bogeys and three doubles for a 46.

Scheel said conditions were much more difficult the second round when the wind picked up but his players were gaining ground on the leaders, and he felt "third place was definitely within reach" had the teams been able to finish the final nine holes.

Despite the fact they finished fifth, Scheel said "This group of seniors has a lot to be happy about, including three trips to state and two conference titles (three for Schlosser, who was on the varsity as a freshmen when the team won). There couldn't be a more deserving group."

Jahnke-Anderson Go Seven-Under To Win Bestball

By Judy Harlow

With Sam Schlosser and Andrew Otto not in the field, new champions were given in the annual Hon-E-Kor Bestball Tournament which was played on Saturday and Sunday, June 1-2.

Claiming the 2019 title was the team of Jason Jahnke and Jeff Anderson, who put together rounds of 64 and 66 for a 130 total and a five-stroke advantage over the runner-up team of Craig Anderson, Jeff's dad, and Joe Doherty. This Doherty-Anderson duo came in with a 69 the first day and improved on that total by three shots the final 18 holes for a 66 and a six-under-par 135.

The Red and White Nines were used for the competition.

"We had 46 players," Kate Korth, the tournament director said, indicating this number was lower than normal because the dates had to be moved because of all the rain the area was hit with in early and mid-May.

The winners of the First Flight were Scott Leitheiser and his son, Eric Leitheiser, who had rounds of 73-77 for a 150. Chuck Silkey and Keith Wood finished second at 151.

In the Second Flight, it was Chip Faehling and Craig Busick in the winners' circle. They had rounds of 75-77 for a 152, eight strokes in front of Mike Biersack and Steve Cundy's 160.

Tom Miller and Dan Kaufmann were Third

Flight champs behind scores of 78-75 for a 153. Four shots back were Rob Bertram and Brian Dreher, who carded a 157.

The Fourth Flight champions, Kyle Kocinski and Ryan Blair, would have won the First Flight with the scores they had — a 65 and 74 for a 149. Dale Jung and John D'Angelo came in second with a 166.

This was the 33rd year Hon-E-Kor has hosted a spring bestball.

East Central Conference Softball Team Is Loaded With Lady Indians

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum hit the jackpot in the All-East Central softball voting that took place recently. The Indians landed four of their nine starters on the first and second units and had another three players receive honorable mention.

First team KHS selectees, as expected, included senior infielder Tara Theusch, senior outfielder Maddy Geidel and senior utility player Kaitlyn Miller.

Thuesch, one of six girls who were unanimous picks, batted an impressive .486 this spring, with a conference high 36 hits, including 10 doubles, two triples and three home runs.

"She's a great infielder, a great outfielder ... just a great all-around player," KHS coach Jeff Gosse said about Theusch. "She's an excellent hitter. She's got a smooth swing, a very natural swing."

If there was one regret Gosse had about Theusch, it was that she only played two years for KHS after moving back to Wisconsin for her junior and senior years. "I sure wish I could have had her all four years," he said, noting this was her second time on the all-EC first team.

Geidel was a four-year starter and a four-year, first-team all-conference player. "She was arguably the best outfielder in the conference," Gosse said. "She struggled a little with her bat this year but her defense was fantastic."

One of her biggest hits of the season was the home run she hit in game one against Waupun, which cleared the fence in left-center field at KHS and hit the middle of one of the tall trees beyond the field.

Next year, Geidel, who batted .386, with 27 hits in 70 at bats will play for Valley City State in North Dakota. She had eight doubles, one triple, one home run and 14 RBIs in EC play.

The third Lady Indian on the first unit is Miller, who was named as utility player, and she fit that title to a "T." Miller pitched for the Indians, played third base and helped the team out offensively.

"She did a nice job as a pitcher," Gosse said about Miller, adding, "She swung a real good bat for us," coming up with the clutch hits KHS needed.

Miller finished the year with a 5-2 pitching record and batted .418 with 28 hits, including six doubles and three triples. In the circle, she struck out 52 batters while walking just one. She had an earned run average (ERA) of 1.96.

Waupun, which shared the EC title with KHS, landed four players on the first team, while third place Campbellsport, which finished second in the D-3 state tournament, was represented by pitcher Alyssa Muench, who was named as the EC Player of the Year, and catcher Lauren Heisdorf, also a unanimous pick.

Ashley Trapp was a second team pick for the Indians, and this was her fourth straight year receiving second team honors. "She switched from shortstop to first base and a fantastic year at first. She was a defensive gem," Gosse said.

Trapp batted .323 with 20 hits, including three doubles and one triple.

Among the honorable mention picks were senior catcher Leah Theusch, junior outfielder Kaitlyn Leitheiser and sophomore designated player Ashley Clausing.

"Leitheiser did a real nice job for us in the outfield," Gosse said of the junior, who batted .349 with 22 hits, including one double.

About Theusch, a three-year starter behind the plate, Gosse said, "Defensively she did a good job," calling the defensive plays and helping the pitchers with their pitch selections.

Clausing came up to the varsity early in the season and was "a nice find for us," batting .345 with 20 hits, including six doubles and three home runs.

"It was a good year ... 19-6 is a good year," Gosse said, indicating one problem was coming up with the clutch hit with runners on base. Still the Indians captured a share of the EC title, and Gosse said, "A lot of kudos to the girls for all the hard work they put in."

East Central All Conference Softball First Team:

Pitchers — Alyssa Muench, Campbellsport, Sr. U and Katrina Pokorny, Waupun, Sr.; Catchers — Lauren Heisdorf, Campbellsport, Sr. U; Kyle Hraban, Waupun, Sr. U; Infielders — Sophia Heckendorf, KML, Soph. U; Izzy Arbuckle, Plymouth, Soph.; Kayla Rose, Waupun, Soph.; Tara Theusch, Kewaskum, Sr. U; Outfielders — Morgan Fryman, Campbellsport, Sr. U; Maddie Geidel, KHS, Sr.; Rachel White, Waupun, Sr.; Utility Players — Kaitlyn Miller, Kewaskum, Sr.

Prochnow And Buechel Voted To East Central Conference's First Unit

By Judy Harlow

Two veteran Kewaskum High players, Ryan Prochnow and Brad Buechel, were recently selected for first team honors by the East Central Conference baseball coaches, while three other Indians received honorable mention.

Prochnow hit at a .455 clip for the Indians, who placed fifth in the conference with a mark of 8-5. He had 20 hits in 44 trips to the plate with three triples, one double and 16 runs batted in (RBIs).

Defensively, the senior outfielder was very valuable. He covered a lot of territory in center field and was called on to pitch more than KHS coach Mike Heisdorf had initially anticipated. With one projected starter sidelined after having shoulder surgery and another out for half the season. Prochnow filled in and filled in nicely, posting a 1-0 record with many successful relief appearances.

"Ryan pitched well. He held down the fort for us," Heisdorf said after the season finale.

Buechel did double duty this spring, playing baseball and golf at the same time. He batted .381 in conference with 16 hits in 42 games, with six RBI. He was an excellent leadoff hitter for the Indians, often reaching base and scoring in the first inning.

Buechel was the team's shortstop. He committed just one error in the 14 EC games. Prochnow was also nearly perfect defensively, with just one error in conference action.

Neither of these two received all-conference attention last year when the Indians were playing in the North Shore Conference in summer baseball.

The Indians were not represented on the second unit, but seniors Colten Miller and Eric Bauer were honorable mention outfield picks, along with Carson Dogs as a utility player.

Miller, who had excellent speed for a big man, played left field and hit .282 on 11 hits in 39 trips to the plate, with one triple and a pair of doubles. Bauer, a lefty, hit .419 with 18 hits in 43 at bats. He had five doubles and five RBIs. Bauer had not played baseball since his freshman year when he saw little action. "I don't know what we would have done without Eric," Heisdorf commented after one of his team's wins.

Blackhurst Outduels Balog In IRA Thriller, Davis Claims PDTR 360 Sprint Car Triumph

The Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth served as the ultimate paradise for open-wheel racing lovers on Saturday, June 8, as it played host to three premier regional traveling series — Bumper to Bumper Interstate Racing Association 410 Sprint Cars, Plymouth Dirt Track Racing-Midwest Sprint Car Association 360 Sprint Cars and Badger Midget Auto Racing Association — for the first and only time in 2019.

On a beautiful night for racing, 85 open-wheel machines packed the pit area and the largest crowd of spectators of the season turned out to witness the only racing program featuring all three regional touring series in 2019.

The IRA A-main turned out to a barn burner as defending IRA champion Jake Blackhurst of Hanna City, Ill. edged eight-time IRA champ Bill Balog of Hartland in the closing laps in the 30-lap headliner. 2010 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champion Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee claimed the 25-lap Richard's of Dunbar PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main in wire-to-wire fashion. Point leader Jack Routson of Waterman, IL, secured his first career Badger Midget main event triumph in the 20-lap A-main.

Fast qualifier Ben Schmidt of Howards Grove used his outside front row starting spot to launch his way into the lead on the opening lap of the 30-lap IRA headliner. Schmidt led pole-sitter Dave Uttech of Kenosha during the initial stages of the event until lap five, when Jake Blackhurst moved up from his third starting spot to dive low in turn four to challenge Schmidt and Uttech in breathtaking three-wide fashion.

Uttech, who was in the middle of the three-wide sandwich, emerged with the lead exiting turn four on lap five with Blackhurst second before the first of three caution flags flew on lap six when Schmidt stalled in turn four. After Schmidt made repairs and restarted the race at the rear of the field, Uttech assumed command of the race on the restart.

On lap eight, Bill Balog, who started seventh, slipped underneath sixth starter Steve Meyer of Sheboygan Falls to seize second as positions were being jockeyed around throughout the 24-car field on the ultra-fast, but tricky racing surface.

Balog then bolted in to challenge Uttech for the top spot along the outside groove on lap 10 before the second caution flag was displayed on lap 11 when Wayne Modjeski of Oak Creek stopped in turn four.

After restart, Balog continued to hound Uttech along the heavy cushion of the tacky third-mile clay oval before finally moving into the lead in turn four on lap 13. Meanwhile, Blackhurst was also flexing his muscle as he maneuvered around Uttech into second on lap 14.

With Balog running predominantly the outside groove, Blackhurst stayed stuck to the bottom. On lap 16, Balog got boxed in behind two lapped cars, which allowed Blackhurst to dive low in turn four and wrestle the lead away from the high-riding Balog in heavy traffic.

The race was stopped on lap 17 when National Sprint Car Hall of Fame driver Danny Smith of Chillicothe, Ohio flipped in turn four. On the restart, Blackhurst fended off Balog's relentless assault on the top spot until lap 22 when Balog moved low as Blackhurst drifted high to regain the lead exiting turn four.

Undaunted, Blackhurst hung within striking distance as the laps wound down. On lap 26, Balog jumped the tall cushion in turn four, which allowed Blackhurst to dart into the lead. Blackhurst then held on over the final four laps to secure his fifth career IRA A-main victory and first IRA main event triumph of the 2019 season.

Balog had to settle for second, Meyer finished third, two-time IRA champ Scotty Neitzel of Beaver Dam placed fourth after starting fifth and Joey Moughan of Springfield, IL, moved up from his ninth starting spot to finish fifth in an entertaining race, which featured four different leaders and a total of six lead changes.

"It was definitely fun racing with Bill Balog there in the final laps," Blackhurst said. "Bill is one of the best drivers out there right now and a great guy to race with. Sometimes when you are leading one of these races, you are kind of a sitting duck and that's what happened a couple of times to myself and Bill. I started to hit the bottom pretty good in three and four and that is what eventually helped us win the race."

Ever the competitor with a total of 106 IRA A-main victories to his credit, Balog was disappointed, but gracious after the race.

"We were really good early and I got the lead, but then lost it in lapped traffic," Balog said. "I didn't want to do something stupid in that situation and tried not to get into trouble, but then Jake ended up getting by. We came back to get the lead, but then I jumped the cushion, let him by again right near the end. I am happy about how things are coming together. Right now, this Rhine Auto team is developing into a heck of a race team."

After an up-and-down race, Meyer was satisfied with his third-place showing.

"Navigating the track was a challenge tonight," Meyer said. "There were some daring moves that were made out there and some real close calls. I screwed up one time in turn two, which caused me to fall back several positions. Luckily, I was able to come back forward and pick up a third-place finish."

Kurt Davis, who started second, outpowered polesitter Wayne Modjeski to take the lead on the opening lap of the 25-lap PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main. The red flag was displayed on lap three when Chris Flick of Beaver Dam and two-time PDTR 360 Sprint Car champ Danny Schlafer of Sussex both flipped along the frontstretch.

On the restart, 2017 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champ Brandon McMullen of Oshkosh, who started eighth, dove low to work past Modjeski into second in lap seven. McMullen was closing on Davis in trapped traffic when the caution flag flew on lap 11 for the stalled car of Elkhart Lake's Preston Ruh in turn four.

Sixth starter Travis Arenz of Sheboygan pressured McMullen briefly for second on lap 14 before McMullen pulled away and set his sights on Davis as the leaders encountered heavy lapped traffic down the stretch. McMullen tried every move in the book over the final eight laps, but the cagey veteran Davis turned them back each time.

Davis successfully fended off McMullen's determined challenge over the final five laps to post his 21st career PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main victory and the Midwest Sprint Car Association's leading 58th A-main triumph of his career.

McMullen placed second, Arenz finished third, 10th starter Adam Miller of Plymouth charged up to finish fourth and Ben Schmidt started and finished fifth in the debut of his new 360 Sprint Car team.

In the Badger Midget Auto Racing Association A-main, Kurt Mayhew of Demotte, IN, led the first seven laps of the 20-lap headliner from the pole with third starter Ryan Probst of New Lenox, IL, giving chase.

On lap eight, Mayhew spun along the backstretch and tipped over on his side while leading the field. When the race resumed, Probst inherited the lead while 11th starter Jack Routson used the outside groove to take over third on lap 10.

Routson continued his march to the front by slipping into second place on lap 12. The fourth and final caution flag of the race appeared on lap 16 when Badger Midget legend Kevin Olsen spun to a stop in turn four on lap six.

Routson dialed up the pressure on the final restart in an effort to unseat the lead from Probst's possession. After two laps of dueling side by side, Routson surged ahead for good with a high move in turn two on lap 18. Routson then cruised away to secure his first career Badger Midget Auto Racing Association A-main victory.

Probst placed second, Chase McDermand of Springfield, IL, came home third after starting 10th, defending Badger Midget Series champion Scott Hatton came from 12th at the start to finish fourth and Matthew Recheck of Beaver Dam finished fifth after starting fourth in the first Badger Midget event to be contested at Plymouth since September 2007.

Lance Fassbender of Burnett won the 12-lap PDTR 360 Sprint Car B-main 1 and Paul Pokorski of West Bend claimed the 12-lap PDTR 360 Sprint Car B-main 2. Kris Spitz of Salem was victorious in the 15-lap IRA B main.

The fifth PDTR program of the 2019 season, which was presented by the Interstate Racing Association, featured a total of 85 cars, including 35 PDTR 360 Sprint Cars, 28 IRA 410 Sprint Cars and 22 Badger Midgets.

The next PDTR racing program on Saturday, June 15, will feature the PDTR 360 Sprint Cars, Late Models, Grand Nationals and B Mods. Hot laps will start at 5:30 p.m. with racing to follow at 6 p.m.

KHS Team To Compete In National Challenge

– Students To Compete To Win Up To $30,000 In Scholarships And Prizes

Four Kewaskum High School students are traveling to Pennsylvania this week to compete for $30,000 in scholarships and prizes.

KHS students Samuel Lemler, Andrew Carlton, Kennedy Adams and Andrea Butz were chosen for their work with the Fuel Up To Play 60 Program.

The students are among five finalist teams that will travel to SAP Headquarters in Newtown Square, Pennsylvania, to participate in the three-day AdCap (AdVenture Capital) Challenge Finalist Experience June 12-14.

Kewaskum High School's student team was selected out of 100 semi-finalist teams and hundreds of other entries from across the nation that submitted entries in the AdCap Challenge.

The student leaders spoke with different business and community leaders from Kewaskum before school each month. They met, often times with a healthy breakfast in hand, to walk and talk in the gym. They posed the question, "How can you help to ensure that everyone in the school community has access to healthy foods and activities?"

The last two meetings were spent compiling the information and refining an idea to submit for the AdCap Challenge. Their idea allows for a community partnership among the Kewaskum School Nutrition Service department, the Piggly Wiggly, and the Boys and Girls Club.

The Kewaskum team became a semifinalist in the contest, one of 15 in the nation. This selection led to them being interviewed by three AdCap judges and one researcher on their idea May 17.

"Mr. Vetter and I were in awe of their professionalism, insight and ease in conversing their idea to these important adults," said Paula Carlton, who is an advisor for the students along with Brian Vetter.

This first-ever AdCap Challenge was launched by GENYOUth, a national youth health and wellness non-profit.

The AdCap Challenge is a national teen social entrepreneurship competition where leading global companies challenge students to help solve real world health and wellness problems that incorporate themes of technology, recycling and sustainable nutrition. The Finalist Experience is a culmination of the national competition, during which, hundreds of student teams created solutions to questions posed by Challenge Partners; SAP, Corteva Agriscience, Domino's, Land O'Lakes with support from the National Dairy Council.

During the Finalist Experience, five teams will compete in mini-challenges and pitch their projects to a panel of judges for project funding, scholarships and other prizes. In addition, teams will get to interact with partners who will act as mentors, speakers and judges throughout the experience. On day three, students will make their final pitches and receive additional points from a panel of esteemed judges, with the final points tally determining the grand prize winner.

The grand prize-winning team will each receive a $5,000 scholarship per student, a grant to support their project, and a $500 gift card for their advisor. Runners-up will also receive $1,000 project grants and other prizes.

GENYOUth is a 501c3 nonprofit organization that empowers students to create a healthier future for themselves and their peers by convening a network of private and public partners to raise funds for youth wellness initiatives that bolster healthy, high-achieving students, schools and communities nationwide. We believe that all students are change-agents, who deserve the opportunity to identify and lead innovative solutions that positively impact nutrition, physical activity, and student success. GENYOUth has had Fuel Up to Play 60 and Adventure Capital programs in over 73,000 schools, reaching over 38 million students in nearly 10 years of operation.

The program is open to middle and high school students across the country and provides funding, resources and the support of business mentors to help students cultivate and implement their ideas that improves the health and wellness to their communities. GENYOUth's AdCap Challenge is a new national competition that ignites high school students' imagination, ideas and ambition — to help solve issues facing our world, our nation and all of us! The AdCap Challenge connects forward-thinking organizations with today's youth — the great innovators of our time. Through the process of thinking and acting like entrepreneurs, students develop 21st century skills that help them to succeed in school and in life.

Wisconsin Spring Turkey Harvest Unchanged From 2018

Preliminary totals show Wisconsin turkey hunters registered 38,556 birds during the 2019 spring turkey hunting season, virtually unchanged from the 38,885 birds registered in the spring 2018 season.

Although average temperatures were slightly below normal for the months of April and May, weather conditions were more favorable in 2019 than in 2018, specifically in the early and late seasons. This was especially apparent when comparing success rates during the Youth Hunts between 2018 and 2019. In 2018, a severe snowstorm covered much of the state and led to a below-average harvest of 950 birds for the Youth Hunt. In 2019, more favorable weather conditions led to a 49% increase in harvest, with a total of 1,953 birds registered during the Youth Hunt.

"We received a fair number of reports of uncharacteristic turkey breeding behavior this year, with toms being less responsive to calling in some of the early and middle time periods," said Mark Witecha, DNR upland wildlife ecologist. "Despite that, Wisconsin turkey hunters had another excellent year in the field."

A total of 213,078 harvest authorizations were issued in 2019, with 135,421 harvest authorizations awarded through the drawing and 77,657 sold over the counter. Harvest authorization sales were also virtually unchanged from 2018, when a total of 212,781 authorizations were sold.

Zone 1 produced the highest overall harvest, accounting for 10,334 birds, followed by Zones 3 and 2. Hunters registered 9,499 birds in Zone 3 and 9,321 birds in Zone 2. Overall statewide success rate was 18.1 percent compared to 18.3 percent in 2018.

The 2019 spring season started on April 13 with the Youth Hunt. The regular season began April 17 and ran through May 28, broken down into six separate time periods. Having separate time periods allows for maximum hunter opportunities and helps minimize interference rates. Recent surveys show over 75% of turkey hunters support the current season framework.

DNR staff in Wisconsin closely monitor harvest, hunter interference rates, and hunter satisfaction along with other information to track turkey populations through time and maintain a successful, sustainable, and enjoyable spring turkey hunt.

For the upcoming 2019 fall season:

As in the 2018 season, the 2019 fall turkey drawing has been waived. A fall turkey harvest authorization will be issued with every fall turkey or conservation patron license purchase. Hunters will choose a zone at the time of purchase for which their harvest authorization will be valid. Bonus harvest authorizations, formerly known as leftover tags, will be available for purchase in select zones starting in August.

The fall 2019 wild turkey season for Zones 1-5 is September 14 - January 5, 2020. For Zones 6 and 7, the season is September 14 - November 22.

The 2019 Fall Turkey and 2020 Spring Turkey regulations are included in the 2019 Wisconsin Small Game Hunting Regulations [PDF], available now online and at license vendors around the state.

For more information regarding turkey hunting in Wisconsin, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "turkey."

Fight The Bite! Take Action To Prevent Tick And Mosquito Bites

With the unofficial start of summer behind us, many Wisconsin residents are looking ahead to warmer weather and all the resources our state has to offer. The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) has launched a statewide campaign to help everyone Fight the Bite and avoid tick and mosquito bites this season.

Many people find ticks and mosquitoes to be annoying when they're enjoying outdoor activities; but even worse, bites from either can make you sick. Lyme disease, spread by ticks, and West Nile virus, spread by mosquitoes, are the most common diseases spread by these pests in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin is in the top 20 percent of all U.S. states reporting high numbers of illnesses spread by ticks. Thousands of Wisconsinites get Lyme disease each year and hundreds more get other illnesses spread by ticks, like anaplasmosis and Powassan virus. Last year, 3,105 cases of Lyme disease were reported in Wisconsin.

There were 33 human cases of West Nile virus reported in our state in 2018, many of whom were hospitalized for severe illness. Certain dead birds can be a sign of West Nile virus activity in an area. DHS urges anyone who finds a sick or dead bird to call the dead bird reporting hotline at 800-433-1610.

Wisconsin residents can protect themselves from illnesses spread by ticks and mosquitoes, yet still enjoy the outdoors. You can take these simple steps can take to stay safe and avoid getting sick:

- Use an EPA-registered repellent, such as DEET, and apply according to label instructions.

- Use permethrin-treated clothing and gear.

- Wear light colored long-sleeved shirts and long pants.

- Check for and safely remove ticks from yourself, family, and pets.

- Take steps to control mosquitoes outside your home.

June 22 Is Guided Paddle Of Horicon Marsh

On Saturday, June 22, canoeists and kayakers can join fellow outdoor enthusiasts on a 6.5-mile water trail through Horicon Marsh. Department of Natural Resources wildlife staff will be on hand to help guide paddlers and share information about wildlife of the marsh as boats go downstream through Horicon Marsh into the Rock River.

The trail starts at the Green Head Boat Landing and ends at Nebraska St. Landing in Horicon. Features of the day are the 6.5-mile trail at the Horicon Marsh State Wildlife Area, listening and talking to wildlife staff from the DNR, who will be posted at various stopping places along the canoe/kayak trail, a free shuttle back to vehicles, help loading and unloading vessels and free parking. Restroom facilities will be available at the beginning and end of the trail.

DNR wildlife staff will briefly cover topics related to the marsh's wildlife and will be available for any other questions. DNR staff will also be along the route in an airboat to show people one of the many management tools used on Horicon Marsh. This is a great opportunity to talk with experts and learn from some of the people that work at the marsh every day.

For people who have their own canoes or kayaks, there will be a free shuttle provided by Johnson Bus. It will run from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. from Nebraska Street Boat Landing in Horicon back to your vehicle at Green Head Boat Landing.

There is an open launch time between 7:30 and 10:30 a.m. at the Green Head Boat Landing. Launching after these times runs the risk of missing the shuttle back to vehicles. The route will take three to four hours depending on the wind conditions. This can be a challenging paddle in windy conditions and is not recommended for your first-ever paddle.

For trail maps or other paddle Horicon Marsh information, contact (920)387-7893 or go to www.horiconmarsh.org. GPS coordinates for Greenhead boat landing are N43 30 19.5 W088 35 31.3, and the physical address is N8600 Green Head Road, Horicon, WI 53032.

People who would like to participate but don't have their own vessel, can rent one at Horicon Marsh Boat Tours in Horicon. For convenience, Horicon Marsh Boat Tours will be running their own shuttles to the launch site at Greenhead for an additional fee. To inquire about canoe or kayak rental, contact Blue Heron Boat Landing at (920)485-4663 or visit www.horiconmarsh.com.

Landscape Structures Provide Function And Beauty

MELINDA MYERS

Incorporate arbors, trellises and other structures into your designs when planning new or updating existing gardens and landscapes. These structures help form the framework of any garden, add year-round interest and provide years of beauty and function.

Utilize arbors to define and connect distinct areas of the landscape. Invite visitors into your landscape with a vine-covered arbor. Guests won't be able to resist the invitation to enter and experience the beauty that lies beyond. Cover these structures with vines for seasonal interest, additional texture and blossoms. Combine two different vines to extend or double your floral display. Plant an annual vine for quick cover with a perennial that takes a year or more to establish and cover the structure.

Beat summer's heat by creating your own shade with vine-covered arbors. Plant annual or deciduous vines that let the sun and its warmth shine through during the cooler months. When the leaves return, they provide shade and cooler temperatures during warmer times.

Arbors are as much at home in the food garden as the flowerbed. Connect two garden beds with an over-the-top arbor. Grow pole beans, melons or squash up and over the Titan Squash Tunnel (gardeners.com). You'll expand your gardening space by going vertical and help reduce disease problems by increasing the sunlight and airflow reaching the plants. Secure large fruit to its obelisk with a net, cotton or macramé sling to prevent them from breaking off the vines.

Dress up any home, garage or shed with trellises covered with flowering vines, climbing roses or an espaliered fruit tree. Provide space between the wall and trellis when mounting them to a building. The space reduces the risk of damage to the wall and the plants benefit from the added airflow and light.

Many trellises are works of art in their own right, so when the plants go dormant the structure continues to dress up an otherwise blank wall. Whether you prefer simple squares and diamonds, circles, leaves or ceramic songbirds perched among the branchlike supports of the Enchanted Woods Trellis; select a design that reflects your personality and complements your garden design.

Combine several trellis sections to create a decorative screen or bit of fencing. This is a perfect solution for creating privacy or a bit of vertical interest in any size or shape of garden space. Add colorful glass bottles and contemporary design to a vertical planting with a trellis like Gardener's Achla Designs Vinifera Bottle Trellis.

Use obelisks as focal points and plant supports in the garden or containers. They're perfect for creating scale in the garden, especially when new plantings are small and immature. Select a support tall and sturdy enough for the plants you are growing.

Add a bit of beauty and elegance when growing watermelons, cucumbers, pole beans or tomatoes. Train them onto decorative obelisks and they'll be pretty enough to include in flowerbeds and mixed borders. Add more beauty and a bit of hummingbird appeal with scarlet runner beans. The bright red flowers are followed by green beans that can be eaten fresh or its large seeds harvested and used fresh or dried.

Always consider the function, strength and beauty when selecting structures for your landscape. Team them up with plants suited to your growing conditions and you will benefit from years of enjoyment.

Arbors can provide a beautiful framework and vertical gardening space for pole beans, melons, or squash in food gardens or serve as a support to climbing roses and flowering vines in garden beds. (Photo courtesy of Gardener's Supply Company)

Dennis Rochwite Honored For Service

"The support of the community was unbelievable. I don't know if they could have squeezed another 10 people into that airport," Rochwite recalled.

The entire adventure brought out the patriotism of the veterans, as well as the general public.

"I was amazed at all the young people — Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts — who turned out. It was a school night, and we didn't get back until 10 p.m., but they are standing there in line, waiting to shake hands with us," Rochwite said.

Rochwite was accompanied by Steve Steinke, his second cousin, on the trip.

While in D.C., Rochwite was even able to meet up with relatives. His cousin Lyle and Lyle's wife, Kathy, were there visiting from Campbellsport.

"Their daughter lives in Washington, D.C., and they were there babysitting for the week. So they came to the memorials and visited and spent some time with us," Rochwite said.

On the trip, the veterans got to see numerous memorials, as well as the Changing of the Guard of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

"The Honor Flight brought back so many memories of times served for everyone. I just urge anybody eligible to sign up. Because memorials are built for everyone," Rochwite said. "It really brought out the good in the country—the good in the people. Just overall, just super fantastic."

Military Service

Rochwite, who grew up near Boltonville, enlisted in October 1965 to serve four years in the U.S. Navy. Because he enlisted, he was allowed to choose when he wanted to go begin serving, withing 120 days of enlisting.

He went into the U.S. Navy on March 3, 1966. Once in the service, he went to boot camp. Then he went to equipment operator school.

"The Navy wanted me to go in a nuclear submarine because I scored high on the pre-induction test, but that would have required an extra two years enlistment. After 20 minutes in the Navy, I knew that four years was going to be enough," Rochwite said.

Rather than going in a nuclear submarine, Rochwite worked as a crane operator. He recalls going to Little Creek, Virginia, to an amphibious construction battalion, where the troops practiced executing amphibious landings with the Marines.

On November 3, 1966, Rochwite left for Vietnam. He remembers the extreme weather he experienced there.

"The first month I was there, it wasn't dry the entire month. I had a rash over my entire body because of being wet constantly. When the monsoon season was over, then of course, it was just so hot and dry," he said.

Rochwite usually worked the night shift.

"I tried to work nights as much as I could because number one, there wasn't a lot of officers running around at 2 in the morning, so some of the restrictions that they had weren't as much in play at night as they were during the day," he said.

"But I always had three meals a day, pretty much hot meals. Even during the night shift, we got hot meals brought out to the pier at midnight. We always had good food," he said.

While in Vietnam, he was in a secure area and never saw any combat.

"When I watch the series MASH on TV, that reminds me so much of my days in the Navy. Being in the Seabees, we didn't always follow directions to a T, as long as the job got done and nobody got in trouble doing it, they didn't care if your shirt wasn't tucked in or if you weren't wearing a shirt. Everything was pretty lax," Rochwite said.

During his service, he helped build roads and bridges at many places throughout the world. He traveled to Sardinia, Greece, Italy, Spain, France, Turkey and Crete.

One of the things that stands out is how he and some of the other men rigged up showers while serving overseas.

"We had a shower that we built with a barrel up on some tent poles. We would fill it in the morning with water. With the sun beating on it all day, by the time it got dark out, you could take a warm shower," Rochwite said.

He remembers how a young Marine officer wanted that shower torn down because his men didn't have showers.

"We had a young enlisted man that stood up to the Marine colonel and said, 'No, we're not going to tear down our shower. We will build you some. All you have to do is get us the parts.'"

The colonel was so impressed, that is what he did. He got the sailors numerous barrels and showerheads and parts to build more showers.

The crew was handy at fixing other amenities as well.

"We got a refrigerator that was not working, but we had a plumber that did refrigeration. He fixed the fridge, and we took that along, so we had cold sodas on the beach, among other things," he said.

Rochwite admitted they also got their hands on some wine, beer and alcohol.

"Summer in the Mediterranean is not a whole lot different from what it is here. It was 85-90 degrees, and a cold Coke or a can of beer really went good, you know?" he said. "And we had plenty of food. We grilled stuff on the beach."

Rochwite was transferred to Mississippi in 1969. He completed his service on September 17, 1969.

"My whole military experience was just fantastic. I got 3/4 of the way around the world, and got to see so many places," he said.

Family

Dennis Rochwite and his wife Barbara of 47 years have two children. Their daughter, Tracy lives in West Bend, and their son, Reginald, is in the Boltonville area. Dennis and Barbara have a 16-year-old step granddaughter, a 4-year-old granddaughter and a 2-year-old grandson.

Cedar Community And United Church Camps Form Partnership

Cedar Community and United Church Camps, Inc. (UCCI) have joined to create a ministry partnership to enhance programming and bring additional outdoor ministry opportunities to Cedar Community's Cedar Valley Retreat Center, located on Highway D in West Bend.

Cedar Valley Retreat Center has offered spiritual retreat opportunities for individuals and groups, artist workshops and a variety of classes since 1986.

"We are very excited about our new partnership with UCCI. Many of our residents have been active participants and volunteers in UCCI ministry programs over the years. Having a UCCI campus close to West Bend will benefit not only our residents, but the people of the greater Milwaukee area as well," said Lynn Olson, chief executive officer of Cedar Community.

United Church Camps, Inc. is an outdoor ministry program of the Wisconsin Conference of the United Church of Christ, its member congregations and ecumenical partners. The camps are open to everyone and provide a place where campers can relax and rejuvenate, and express faith. UCCI will bring its mission, "We will love God, one another, and the Earth by providing sanctuary, practicing hospitality, and performing ministry," to the 100-acre Cedar Valley campus.

"If ever a win, win, win situation existed, this is it," said Glenn Svetnicka, executive director of UCCI. "Cedar Valley continues to serve its community into the foreseeable future, UCCI gets another retreat facility to serve the Wisconsin Conference Churches and our ecumenical partners, Cedar Community gains a willing partner to spread the good news of their healthcare and retirement programs, and the Wisconsin Conference of the United Church of Christ gets another Outdoor Ministry Retreat Center to complement the indoor ministry of its churches. I look forward to a bright future together with Cedar Community."

UCCI will manage the day-to-day operations of Cedar Valley under a 30-year lease agreement with Cedar Community, which will continue to own the property. Current Cedar Valley team members will join the UCCI staff on January 1, 2020, when the lease agreement begins with Cedar Community.

"I am very excited about this partnership, which we have been working toward for several years, and am looking forward to great things to come. We are beginning a new relationship which we will build into a long-term, successful partnership with a shared vision, merged cultures and technologies, and happy guests. It is a win-win for all involved," said Rebecca Conde, director of Cedar Valley.

UCCI will provide capital improvements and technology upgrades to the Cedar Valley campus. It will also continue and enhance the animal ministry program, art workshops and retreat opportunities at Cedar Valley. This partnership allows Cedar Community to focus its time and resources on its mission of providing residents an opportunity to enjoy, explore and embrace their best life.

Madelynn Miezio, a Cedar Community independent living resident, has been actively involved with UCCI, attending eight camps over eight years. "I am greatly delighted that Cedar Community and United Church Camps, Inc. are forming a partnership. The combination of compassionate caring and environmental experiences brings about strong relationships and wholesome living," said Miezio.

KMS Destination Imagination Ties For 19th Place In Global Contest

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Middle School Destination Imagination team tied for 19th place at the Globals competition, which was held May 24, in Kansas City, Missouri. A total of 69 teams competed from around the world in the competition.

KMS team members include: Zachary Jacoby, Cassidy Krupp, Madison Legate, Samantha Staffin, Isaiah Knaus and Alexandra Taylor. The team is managed by Tina Knaus.

For this year's competition, the Kewaskum Middle School team, called "Who Lost a Snake/Turtle?", built a drone. The challenge was to build a flying device that would be able to carry what is called a payload and drop it in a designated area and then land in a designated area.

For the contest, the students devised a story that they were on the lost island of Atlantis, and two brave scientists are looking for artifacts. They find that there is a treasure on the island, and the drone drops necessary medical supplies and food they will need to get them through their journey.

The Kewaskum students researched and looked up components of a drone and were able to purchase the components that they needed to build the drone. The drone that they built is now an actual registered drone, Knaus explained.

The students also created props and sets for the competition.

At the global competition, the Kewaskum students faced an unplanned technical obstacle.

"Right before we went in, the payload got stuck on the drone," Samantha said.

When she saw the problem, Samantha, who is the one who programmed the drone, felt defeated.

"I can't fix it," she said.

But she was wrong. Samantha and the students worked together to disassemble the drone and fix the mechanical difficulty.

"It showed their perseverance. It didn't rattle them, and they were able to figure it out," said Sarah Moris, Destination Imagination coordinator for the Kewaskum School District.

This is the second consecutive year that Kewaskum has a team that qualified for the global competition. Only two of the students (Samantha and Isaiah) are returning team members. Knaus managed both teams that qualified for globals.

"That goes to show what a good team manager they had," Moris said.

Only 8 percent of teams from 35 different countries qualify for Globals in a given year, according to Moris.

The KMS team placed first in the state competition on April 13, for the Technical Challenge – "On Target."

At the state competition, the KMS team also finished first for the portion of their challenge called "Instant Challenge," which comprises 25 percent of the overall combined score. The Instant Challenge requires the team to solve a challenge in a matter of minutes with very few resources and are then scored.
