OVERCOMING ADDICTION

Exodus House Offers Second Chance At Life

By Anne Trautner

For most of his life, people have not trusted Joseph Klahn.

He started using drugs when he was 15. He stole from everyone he met. The 32-year-old convicted felon spent over seven years behind bars in jail or prison.

But on February 7, 2018, Klahn turned his life around when he moved into the Exodus House, a residential treatment facility in Kewaskum that helps men struggling with alcohol or drug addiction.

“What really got me was everybody here treated me with respect when I first got here. Nobody was hiding their purse from me or their wallet, like I’m used to being treated,” Klahn said.

It was the first time that Klahn can remember that happening.

Kewaskum Statesman Presents Letters From Home

By Andrew Johnson

This week (July 4th edition) we are starting a new page called “Letters from Home” as a way to honor our local past and current veterans.

Our nation was founded by a political declaration of our states backed-up by our continental army and thus started the Revolutionary War. We thought it would be appropriate to recognize the thoughts of many of our many brave veterans by publishing some of their letters home along with a photo.

Each of the pages will be sponsored by a local business (we have three more openings). The series will run each week until Veterans Day (November 11th).

We encourage readers to submit meaningful letters written by veterans while serving over-seas including from the current war to news@kstatesman.com or drop off at our office located in Campbellsport (101 N. Fond du Lac Ave.) for future consideration.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

Gunshot Fired Inside Hartford Residence

On June 30 at 2:17 p.m., Washington County Dispatch received a 911 call regarding shots fired from inside the residence located at 7175 Highway 60, in the Township of Hartford.

The caller stated that he had been threatened by his father, who was brandishing a firearm, and that the father had fired one shot inside the residence, but not specifically at a person. It was reported that there were three innocent parties who had sheltered themselves in the lower level and the lone suspect was on the main level of the residence.

Sheriff's deputies, along with Hartford police officers, were dispatched to the scene and immediately established a perimeter, surrounding the residence. Additionally, Highway 60 between Wacker Drive and Pond Road was shut down as the north side of the residence had an unobstructed view of Highway 60.

Phone communication was attempted numerous times by Washington County dispatch, but contact was never made with the suspect. The Washington County SWAT Team and crisis negotiators were paged and responded to the scene. Once the SWAT Team arrived, the rescue vehicle was used to assist in the removal of the innocent parties that were still inside the residence.

Approximately two hours after the initial call, with the use of the Rescue Vehicle Public Address system, verbal contact was made with the suspect. After brief negotiations with the suspect, he exited the residence and surrendered peacefully.

There were no reported injuries from this incident and the case investigation remains open to the Washington County Detective Bureau. Appropriate charges will be submitted to the Washington County District Attorney's Office upon the completion of the investigation.

Travel Trailer Fire

On June 29 at 6:45 a.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified that a Holiday Rambler travel trailer was on fire in a driveway in the 3400 block of Maple Drive in the Village of Richfield. The fire was reported by a subdivision resident who had been out walking and then tried to wake the occupants of the residence.

Deputies from the Washington County Sheriff's Office responded, and upon arrival of the first deputy, the travel trailer was fully engulfed and the residence was starting on fire. Members of the Richfield Fire Department arrived on scene and were able to quickly bring the fire under control, preventing the further spread of the fire to the residence and neighboring properties. Traffic on Maple Drive was closed for approximately 1.5 hours to assist in firefighting efforts.

Area residents reported seeing flames in the area of the battery compartment of the travel trailer, which was being charged at the time by the owner. There were no injuries to the homeowner or any personnel on scene as a result of the fire. The residence sustained minor damage due to the fire, smoke, and water. Preliminary damage estimates for the residence are around $40,000, and the motor home was a total loss.

Chief's Corner

By Kewaskum Police Chief Tom Bishop

July 2019

According to the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, in 2016 one bicyclist was injured or killed every 10.2 hours in Wisconsin. There were 918 crashes that involved bicyclists and out of those crashes, 11 bicyclists were killed and 849 were injured.

Bicycles are a heavily utilized mode of transportation in and around Kewaskum. I see bicycles on the Eisenbahn Trail nearly every day this time of year, but unfortunately motorists and bicyclists do not always understand all the laws associated with the operations of bicycles.

According to Wisconsin State Statutes, a bicycle is a "vehicle propelled by the feet or hands acting upon pedals or cranks and having wheels any two of which are not less than 14 inches in diameter." We receive a lot of questions about where children are supposed to ride their bicycles. Children's bikes usually have wheels smaller than 14 inches in diameter and thus, do not need to be ridden on the street. However, even in cases where a child's bike may have larger tires, I always encourage parents to have children ride their bikes on the sidewalk where they are out of traffic regardless of the size of their wheels.

The majority of accidents involving bicycles come from the motoring public not treating bicycles as 'vehicles.' Bicycles being operated on the roadway are considered vehicles and therefore, are subject to the rules of the road. Bicycles should ride with the direction of traffic and need to follow traffic signs and markings just as vehicular traffic. Bicycles operating on the roadway should ride along the right side of the roadway, but riders do need to enter traffic when desiring to turn left and should do so by signaling (via hand signals). Vehicles must yield to bicycles that have the right of way at the same locations that another vehicle would have the right of way; such as from a stop sign or traffic light for example.

According to the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, most bicycle accidents involving children occur from driveway "dart-outs." Children often fail to look for cars when riding out of their driveway and into the roadway.

For safety reasons, lights and reflectors are also required on bicycles when ridden at night. At a minimum, bikes are required to have a white light to the front and a red reflector to the rear. Riders are encouraged to wear bright colored clothing to increase visibility as well.

Helmets, although not required by law, should be worn while riding a bicycle. A few years ago I responded to a call of a bike versus semi accident, where a child had rode his bike underneath the trailer of a semi. As I was responding to the call, I was fearing the worse; however, when I got there I found the young bicyclists walking and talking with the driver of the semi. The child rode his bike straight into the trailer of the moving semi, but fortunately he was wearing his bike helmet. His head struck the metal rail of the flat bed semi-trailer and actually cracked his helmet in half! He suffered no injuries in the accident due to his helmet.

Our department believes that all children should be wearing bike helmets and we have teamed up with Cousins Subs in Kewaskum to offer "coupons" to kids for a free sub if they are "caught" wearing their bike helmets.

Summertime is great in Wisconsin. Enjoy the outdoors by going for a walk or riding your bike, but remember to do so safely. Drivers need to slow down and watch for pedestrians and bicyclists to prevent accidents from happening. Riders need to constantly be aware of their surroundings and take appropriate steps to enhance their safety; such as wearing bright visible clothing, having lights and reflectors and wearing a bicycle helmet. If everyone does their part, we should have a safe and fun filled summer.

Thank you and have a safe month,

Tom Bishop

Legislation To Permit Non-Profit Status For Newspapers Draws NNA Support

National Newspaper Association today applauded introduction of legislation that would make it easier for publishers to convert their newspapers to non-profit status if they choose. The bill, the Saving Local Newspapers Act, by Rep. Mark DeSaulnier, D-CA, would clarify that publishing can be an acceptable purpose under non-profit tax rules. It would also allow advertising revenues to support a non-profit operation without being taxed as unrelated business income.

NNA president Andrew Johnson, publisher of the Kewaskum Statesman, said the bill would increase publishers' options as they examine ways to keep newspapers running in a challenging economic environment.

"NNA realizes that not-for-profit status is not the solution for many newspapers, but we are aware that some publishers have looked into the possibility," Johnson said. "While getting the IRS sanction does not solve the need for sustaining revenues, it does open the door for charitable giving by those in a community who want to keep good journalism alive in their towns. We see Congressman DeSaulnier's idea as one of several that may appeal to publishers in the future, and we appreciate his interest in our industry."

DeSaulnier said, "Local journalism has been a bedrock of American society for over 200 years. I remember when dedicated reporters sat in the front row of city council meetings to keep communities informed and to increase accountability. Today many local newspapers are dying out – penny pinching until they close or are bought up and sold off piecemeal by hedge funds. This bill would allow papers to renew their focus on quality content and flourish unencumbered by ever-increasing demands for greater profits."

The bill summary is available at <https://desaulnier.house.gov/media-center/press-releases/congressman-desaulnier-introduces-legislation-eliminate-hurdles>.

Wisconsin's Hidden Debt

By Senators Tom Tiffany and Duey Stroebel

In Wisconsin, our natural resources are an essential part of who we are as a state. We value our outdoor traditions and the stewardship program has helped Wisconsinites preserve natural areas and expand access to recreational activities, all of which are beneficial.

Despite being well intentioned upon enactment in 1989, the stewardship program primarily allows the state to purchase land it cannot otherwise afford, through borrowing, pushing costs onto future generations. Initially authorized for a 10 year term, the program provided $250 million in total borrowing authority to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), but, in recent years, has grown exponentially in size and scope. Unfortunately, similar to many government programs, the stewardship fund has grown beyond its original intent, while leaving Wisconsin in a financial bind.

To the detriment of Wisconsinites, the stewardship program has accumulated far too much land, has incurred staggering debt, and has resulted in decreased funds for vital state needs. Currently, the DNR has either purchased or protected 1.8 million acres of land and the debt currently owed is $795 million. To put the land acquisition in perspective, that is more acreage than the entire state of Rhode Island or Delaware. Moreover, when land is owned by the state, it cannot be developed and is not on the tax rolls, impacting the ability of local communities to generate revenue. The program, in its current form, has run its course. The days of responsible borrowing are long gone.

It is incumbent upon the legislature and the budget writing committee to reform this program, to lower the risk to taxpayers, and to fund our top priorities. In 2015, lawmakers recognized the growing concern and required the DNR to sell 10,000 acres of land as a partial solution to rising costs. While a step in the right direction, further efforts are still needed to combat the excessive debt currently being incurred. The spending is so extreme that Wisconsin taxpayers are currently paying over a half a million dollars in interest every week on debt accumulated from the stewardship fund.

According to the non-partisan Legislative Fiscal Bureau, the stewardship fund, since its creation, has cost Wisconsinites approximately $871 million. Should our colleagues propose to reauthorize the program for an additional 10 years in this budget, the program would need to borrow an additional $332 million, an estimate that does not include interest. In total, with borrowed interest, taxpayers would be on the hook for $533 million. To make matters worse, that figure does not include the current $795 million in existing stewardship debt.

To be clear, if reauthorized, stewardship costs will soar to $1.329 billion dollars. In a budget in which Wisconsin needs significant investment in our roads, we need to seriously evaluate how we prioritize our spending. We must ask ourselves when enough is enough.

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

For the first time, the library was at Party at the Pavement and it was quite the experience. When I was asked if we wanted to have a booth at the event, I was very open to the idea. Besides the exposure the library would gain, it was also literally just across the street. I was very excited to be a part of this and began planning several months in advance.

I was notified that we would be near some children's activities, so I wanted to come up with ways to engage the children. A large bag of Kewaskum Public Library plastic straws was found in storage. Going with our summer reading theme, A Universe of Stories, we decided to have young visitors make a rocket and launch it by blowing it off the straw. It was a winner. We also purchased a sticker mosaic and engaged all ages to help us complete this super-secret picture. That was also a big hit.

We checked the weather off and on days leading up to the Party. It looked like it would be warm and sunny, with the chance of rain later at night. We do not have a tent to use for outdoor events. I asked around and a very kind Monarch Library Systems employee offered his personal tent.

Being a novice to putting up a tent like that one, I asked my husband to help. He carefully weighted it down in case it was windy. I promised him a brat that night if he would come after five o'clock and help me take it down.

All the staff that worked the booth had a great time while the weather held. Many wonderful people stopped by. The children were excited to make the rocket. People asked us what the super-secret mosaic picture would be, but we kept our lips sealed. I spoke about library programs and resources and helped some patrons add the library app to their phones. It was nice to see regular patrons and also nice to meet new ones. This was an awesome way to get out in the community and talk about everything the library provides.

It was going splendidly until the rain hit. We kept moving the tables in closer to keep the flyers from getting wet. Once the rain came in sideways, I told a staff member to grab the sticker mosaic and run it into the library. Miss Kim and I tried our best to hold down the tent, but it blew away, right into a tree. No one was hurt, so for that we are thankful. The flyers were a lost cause and Miss Kim and I were drenched.

One lesson I learned from this is to not borrow a tent. I will be tent shopping for future outreach events. And the sticker mosaic? A very crafty staff member found a way to salvage it. It is in the library awaiting the community to come in and finish it.

Now dried out and hoping to see you in the library soon.

Even 24 years after he retired from Kewaskum High School and nearly seven years after his death, Roy Esser is still respected by those involved in the field of agriculture. Just recently, Esser was posthumously inducted into the Wisconsin National FFA Organization Hall of Fame, an award created in 1995 to honor those individuals who made significant contributions to advance agriculture education and the FFA during their careers.

The leadership structure of the Kewaskum Police Department will soon change, as the Village Board approved adding a Lieutenant position within the department. Last month, the board approved a measure to hire additional part-time officers to assist the department.

Although much interest was taken during the past two months, by the citizens of this village and community, and much had been said as to whether or not prohibition would actually become a reality, and how great the celebration would be before the nation would go bone dry on July 1st, Kewaskum's farewell to John Barleycorn was taken care of in a very mild and decent way. During the day a number of citizens were busy taking a small supply of liquor to their homes where it will be kept in store for a rainy day. In the evening the saloons did no more than their usual business and all of them closed promptly at midnight. On Tuesday morning soft drinks took the place of liquor. All the saloons in the village will run their places for some time in the hope that beer will not be included in the prohibition movement.

While digging a well on the Alvin Wittman farm at Five Corners, Frank Rose escaped serious injury and possible death, when he fell into the well 28 feet deep, last week Saturday. Mr. Rose was about to lower himself into the well, and when he stepped into the bucket the rope which was fastened to the drum had become loose, causing him to fall with the bucket. Outside of slight bruises on his left leg, he escaped injury.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roman Smith of Kewaskum, a baby girl last week Saturday. Congratulations to the happy parents.

Sign-Up To Participate In October Deer Hunt For Disabled Hunters Now Open

Eligible disabled hunters hoping to participate in the 2019 gun deer hunt for hunters with disabilities must contact a hunt sponsor to sign up before September 1.

As of the June 1 sponsor application deadline, 62 sponsors have enrolled over 73,000 acres of land across 41 counties for this year's hunt, which takes place from October 5-13. For a complete list of 2019 sponsors, please visit dnr.wi.gov and search keywords "disabled deer hunt."

"We are very grateful to the sponsors that are willing to provide opportunities for hunters with special challenges in the field," says Matthew Gross, DNR assistant big game ecologist. "Giving hunters access to over 73,000 acres of land is instrumental in making this unique opportunity a success and continuing Wisconsin's deer hunting tradition."

Eligible hunters may sign up for one property per year and must possess a gun deer license.

Hunters or assistants must contact sponsors directly to sign up for a hunt. Hunters must provide their name, contact information, and DNR customer ID number. To be eligible, hunters must possess a valid Class A, C or D disabled permit or Class B permit that is issued for longer than one year, authorizing shooting from a stationary vehicle.

It is important for hunters to note that some properties can accommodate more hunters than others, so hunters are advised to contact potential sponsors as early as possible to determine if space is available.

For more information, interested hunters are encouraged to contact Gross by phone at 608-261-7588 or email at Matthew.Gross@wisconsin.gov.

The Ultimate Conspiracy Continues Today

By Darlene Stern

It began with a whisper of doubt into the ear of one dear to God's heart. "Did God really say you must not eat the fruit...?" This was the beginning of the deception that ended mankind's stewarding of the Garden of Eden and precipitated all the darkness this world has endured since that time.

In reality, the conspiracy began long before the Garden of Eden. God had created an angel named Lucifer (aka Satan) who was a musician, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty. He also was a guard over the Throne of God. But he got greedy and coveted the power and authority the God of the universe wielded. He conspired to raise a coup against God. He wanted to be served and rule all of creation. In the process, he convinced one third of the angels to go along with him.

They could not overcome God. Satan and his cohorts were disempowered, disgraced and tossed out of the presence of God in Heaven. After God created man and woman to fellowship with Him, the one who sought to be greater than God saw an opportunity to destroy what God had created.

He began to whisper to God's special creation and they listened! He set them up to betray the One who formed them, was their best friend and gave them stewardship over all of earthly creation. They had no idea they were being manipulated, but they fell for it. They ate the forbidden fruit. The one thing God had told them to refrain from became so desirable that they couldn't resist tasting it. Surely it wouldn't matter...

But it did matter. They had listened to evil and now they had to suffer the consequences. They had to leave the pristine Garden God had created for them. They had to work to survive and it was hard labor. And all the while evil was whispering in their ears about how bad God really was and how He had abandoned them.

That thief's plan always was to "... kill, steal and destroy..." mankind and our inheritance. (John 10:10) The next part of that verse gives us Jesus' assurance that He came to "...give them life in abundance."

As part of God's plan to redeem mankind, He sent His Son to the earth to be birthed by a woman so He could be the Son of Man as well as the Son of God. That part was crucial. He had to be flesh and blood to buy mankind back, to redeem us to the original intent of the Father at creation. He also had to be perfect — without sin — in order to compensate for us listening to and believing the conspiracy whispered in our ears all these years that God is not God and He has no love for us.

God made a way out of the mess we've been in through the suffering sacrifice on the cross of His Son for the sin of all mankind through all the ages since the Garden. Not only that — He wanted to restore to mankind stewardship over creation and fellowship with Him. That crafty deceiver, Satan, has tricked us for 2,000 years not to walk back into our inheritance.

His was the ultimate conspiracy and it continues! He uses every way conceivable to prevent us from knowing the truth about who we are in God's eyes and intention. That was never part of God's plan.

Our Savior's Lutheran Church in West Bend received a donation from a Greater Milwaukee Synod ELCA church to fund the addition of six chicken coops for a cooperative in El Salvador. Our Savior's and the West Bend Sunrise Rotary have been supporting this women's empowerment project since 2013, which benefits 30 families. Six more coops are still needed for more women in the community. Pictured are Our Savior's church leaders holding the check: (from left) Brooke Armstrong, David Slinde, Jon Coutts, Deacon Sherie Kruse, Nancy Slinde and Audra Arndt.

Voting 'No' On The Budget

By Tim Ramthun

On Tuesday, at the conclusion of a 10-and-a-half hour long floor session, the Assembly held a long-awaited vote on the state budget.

It was the culmination of months of work, beginning with Governor Evers' budget proposal back in February. I had long held the position that I would reserve making a final decision on the budget until I had seen the finished product and had time for extensive deliberation. My opinion had been influenced while pieces of the budget were revealed and approved by the Joint Finance Committee, but my final decision wasn't made until very recently.

I had asked for your input in my e-update last week, and many of you responded. The overwhelming majority of constituents who responded on my website, emailed or called my office, and those I talked to in person wanted me to vote against the budget.

After the finished product, The Wisconsin Budget, was revealed, it became clear that my constituents wanted a more conservative budget. I was elected partly due to my stance as a fiscal conservative, and I won't compromise on the values of the people who elected me.

Therefore, I felt it was my duty to the 59th district to vote against the budget, to remain in line with the values of my constituents. I was joined in voting no by my Republican colleagues Rep. Brandtjen (R-Menomonee Falls) and Rep. Gundrum (R-Slinger), and I thank them for doing so.

While all Democrats in the Assembly also voted no, I want to be clear that the reasons why they voted no and I voted no are completely opposite. Democrats voted no because the budget didn't spend enough money, I voted no because the budget spent too much. The contrast between the two positions is stark.

My key concern was the increase in total spending. Overall, this budget reflects over $83.5 billion (including bonding) in total spending, a six percent biennial increase from the last budget, which was also excessive. Over the past eight years of Republican control, the GOP averaged around 2.4% increases from budget to budget.

This budget spent over $7 billion more than the previous one, when the Capitol budget is included in the final numbers. Just because government has more revenues doesn't mean we should go on a spending spree and include unsustainable, cumulative funding increases. I'd rather see the process provide tax cuts or pay down the debt with that surplus, instead of simply spending it.

I had a few other concerns regarding this budget that swayed my vote towards no. The structural deficit with this budget will be $1.4 billion when all is said and done. With this, three percent economic growth will be required each year in order to maintain new and ongoing obligations from previous budgets.

Three percent growth is easily possible with a healthy economy like the one we currently enjoy, but should an unforeseen downturn occur, those obligations will become more difficult to uphold, which would place great burden on future budgets. This current structural deficit translates to the Legislature starting in the hole when crafting the next budget. Over the past eight years of Republican control, the GOP averaged around $674 million in structural deficits.

In addition, the closing balance for this budget at the end of the biennium will be $38 million. This amount leaves very little room for error in case revenue projections and actual revenue collections are off, and may require an emergency repair bill in case the economy slows or experiences a downturn.

At the beginning of this budget cycle, the Legislature started out with a $945 million hole resulting from spending after the budgets last session. If more spending after the budget is approved this session, that $38 million will be used very quickly. Also, the budget increased the Capitol Projects budget to $1.9 billion.

For comparison, that number was around $1 billion in Governor Walker's last budget. This new increase results in nearly a doubling in funding.

My last concerns related to transportation funding and the DOT. One of the most discussed issues this budget cycle was road-funding. I heard from numerous individuals that something had to be done regarding repairing the roads, and I agreed.

I was in favor of first placing efficiencies and cost-saving measures on the DOT to ensure every dollar was being spent effectively. However, this budget sought to address the problem by raising vehicle registration and titling fees. I was hoping to make sure taxpayer dollars were spent responsibly before increasing funding.

Despite my no vote, I did approve of multiple provisions in the budget. The healthcare funding, specifically the dollars going to nursing homes and care workers, along with increases in special education funding and student mental health services, were a great use of taxpayer dollars.

These funding increases are effective, and a great template for fiscal efficiency going forward. These, among others, were good provisions that I fully support. However, even with these included, I could not justify voting in favor of the budget when all my other concerns were not addressed.

In closing, I first wanted to thank the Joint Finance Committee for their efforts in dealing with the divided government condition in Wisconsin. Crafting a budget when the Legislature and Executive are of opposing parties is a daunting task, and though I voted against it, I'm grateful for the work the members and staff did over the past few months.

Second, I wanted to thank the Republican leadership team for their guidance and support during my first budget cycle. Having experienced members I could talk to and ask for advice was invaluable, and I'm very grateful for that.

I asked you for your opinion on the budget, I listened, and I acted based on your recommendations. I work for you, as your representative for the 59th district. If there's any other feedback or recommendations you'd like to provide, please reach out to my office. We are waiting for your calls and emails.

Hot Weather Increases Chances For Pavement Buckling

With hot, humid weather in the forecast, officials with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) are asking motorists to be alert for the potential of pavement buckling — and for highway maintenance crews making needed repairs.

Pavement buckles are most common during the first few heat waves of the season when the weather quickly goes from cool to very hot, causing pavement to expand. This can cause slabs of pavement to push against each other, and if the pressure becomes great enough, the pavement can buckle.

While it's difficult to predict exactly when or where buckling may occur, WisDOT offers the following tips for motorists:

- Ensure all vehicle occupants are buckled up. Slow down, eliminate distractions and scan the road ahead carefully.

- Watch for slowing traffic and be ready to move over for all roadside workers including highway crews as they repair damaged pavement.

- Before your trip, check the 511 Travel Information system (www.511wi.gov) for the latest on any incidents or delays.

- Report serious pavement issues by calling 911. Be ready to provide specific location information.

On June 12, at 5:07 a.m. the Campbellsport Police Department responded to the cemetery for a call of a person who was calling for help.

Employees of Campbellsport Piggly Wiggly called 911 after hearing someone calling for help at the cemetery across the street. Police Chief Tom Dornbrook responded from home and found a bike that had crashed and a backpack with belongings scattered on the pavement.

Close to the road, he found a 37-year-old man from West Bend who appeared to be in medical distress. The man was transported to St. Agnes Hospital and treated.

Four Fond du Lac Sheriff Department deputies also responded.

After being released from the hospital on June 13th, the man stopped at the Campbellsport Police Department for an interview. During the interview, he told Dornbrook that he was in Campbellsport to celebrate the death of a friend.

The friend is buried in the Campbellsport cemetery. He was going to pour whiskey on the grave and bury syringes somewhere in the cemetery for a different friend who had passed away.

After the interview, the man was placed on a probation hold in the Washington County jail.

Dornbrook is requesting charges from the Fond du Lac District Attorney for possession of drug paraphernalia.

2019 FOND DU LAC COUNTY FAIR

All About The Fond du Lac Fair

The Fond du Lac County Fair will celebrate its 168th fair in 2019.

The first county fair, held in Rosendale, began with an address at half past one on the first day, September 29, 1852. The event was held for two days.

Dairy cattle, fine wool, tools and manufactured items were exhibited at the first fair. Household arts and garden vegetables were on display to be judged.

The best stallion received a $4 premium. Working oxen and steers were awarded $3 for being the best in the class. The best sample of butter, not less than 50 pounds, was awarded $5. The best sample of sugar, also not less than 50 pounds, was given a $4 premium.

Numerous activities are being planned for the 2018 Fond du Lac County Fair, being held July 18-22, at the Fond du Lac County Fairgrounds.

The theme for the fair "Education, Entertainment and Affordable Family Fun" is the creative genius of Mr. Williard Henken, who retired from the Fond du Lac County Agricultural Society in November 2001. His background as the first dean of the University of Wisconsin-Fond du Lac and his love of the fair are certainly reflected in not only the theme, but also in the many years of service he gave to the fair organization.

What Is A Fair For?
 "The purpose of a fair is to educate; to help people learn about life and what is good; to find out what is new and how to improve; to understand about our heritage and agriculture; to find out what is profitable and what is enjoyable; and to learn how to adjust better to change, how to be better people, how to be responsible and better citizens, and how to be more self-sufficient," author unknown.

A flag raising ceremony is held on the first day of the Fond du Lac County Fair every year. This year it will be held at 10:15 a.m. on Wednesday, July 17, in front of the Recreation Building. The fair will be held July 17-21 this year, so stop out and check out all the food, rides and great entertainment.

Flag Raising Ceremony Starts Fair

A flag raising ceremony will officially open the 167th Fond du Lac County Fair. It will be held at 10:15 a.m., on Wednesday, July 17, in front of the Fair Office, located in the Recreation Building on the fairgrounds.

Members of the American Legion Trier-Puddy

Post 75 will raise the flag. The National Anthem will be sung after the flag is raised.

The flagpoles were donated in 2002 to the Fond du Lac County Fairgrounds by the Disabled American Veterans Chapter 11.

The fairgrounds are located in Fond du Lac.

The Ag Birthing Center is a great place to visit at the Fond du Lac County Fair every year. This year, there will be even more educational area set up.

Fond du Lac County Fair To Feature Annual Ag Birthing Center

Visitors to the Fond du Lac County Fair will again have the chance to see their favorite farm animals at the fair's CentralStar Ag Birthing Center. The Ag Birthing Center is celebrating its sixth year of being available to fair goers.

The Ag Birthing Center is a unique educational event at the Fond du Lac County Fair, as it showcases the birthing process for several farm animals. Several dairy cows are part of the exhibit and will give birth to their calves throughout the week of the fair for fair goers to watch and experience.

There will also be other animals to check out.

Visitors to the birthing center have the opportunity to ask questions about the birthing process and to learn more about the care farmers provide to their animals.

"This event was started to share our farm story with our local communities," says Katie Grinstead, co-owner of her family's dairy farm Vir-Clar Farm, LLC, in Fond du Lac.

"Seeing a cow give birth gives our visitors a first-hand look at the beauty of new life on the farm and how we care for our animals and raise them to be strong and healthy. What we as farmers experience every day might be a once-in-a-lifetime moment for some that get to see it for the first-time at the fair."

The Ag Birthing Center is staffed with those who have experience working with animals and caring for them, ready to answer questions and keep the animals comfortable and safe during the fair week. An experienced herdsman and veterinarian are also on staff to assist in the calving process.

This year, some new educational areas are being added to the exhibit.

The Ag Birthing Center is a free exhibit for all fair goers of all ages, and gives them the opportunity to see the miracle of life unfold. The CentralStar Ag Birthing Center will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. the first four days of the fair and 11 a.m.-7 p.m. on Sunday. Check out this exhibit and learn something new about Wisconsin Agriculture!

2019 FOND DU LAC COUNTY FAIR

Leinie Lodge Has Good Music Lined Up For Fair

If you're looking for a great place to meet up with friends and neighbors at this year's Fond du Lac County Fair, you will want to check out the Leinie Lodge. The Lodge will be located behind the grandstand, near the concessions area.

It will feature many great entertainment acts throughout the Fair.

On Wednesday, July 17, start the day with the popular local band Boogie and the Yo-Yoz from 6 p.m.-7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.-10 p.m. They are not a Pop band, a Country band, or a Rock band. They are an Everything band. It's safe to say, whatever your musical taste, they will have something for you.

On Thursday, July 18, keep Kickin' It Up with the popular band Star Six Nine from 5:30 p.m.-7:15 p.m. and 9 p.m.-11 p.m. Star Six Nine combines five individuals whose aspirations include one thing — great music and a fun show (... well two things).

They are of the opinion that the stage is the only barrier between the band and you... otherwise, the show is like partying with all of your friends. Rock? Pop? Country? You never know what you might hear next.

On Friday, July 19, enjoy the music of Saving Savannah from 5:30 p.m.-7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.-11:45 p.m. Saving Savannah is one of Wisconsin's top country/ rock cover bands. Since their formation in 2010, the band has continued to attract top talent and musicians from all over southeastern Wisconsin.

Performing everywhere from local clubs and fireman's picnics to Wisconsin's largest festivals and fairs — Saving Savannah comes loaded with superb four-part harmonies, creative crowd interaction and some completely stunning instrumental solos.

On Saturday, July 20, events will start with the RE/MAX Heritage Fondy's Got Talent competition from 1 p.m.-5 p.m. Got Talent? The Fond du Lac County Fair wants you to showcase it at this year's fair. Winners at the county level will win a cash prize and will move on to the Wisconsin State Fair to perform during the State Fair and compete for a major cash prize.

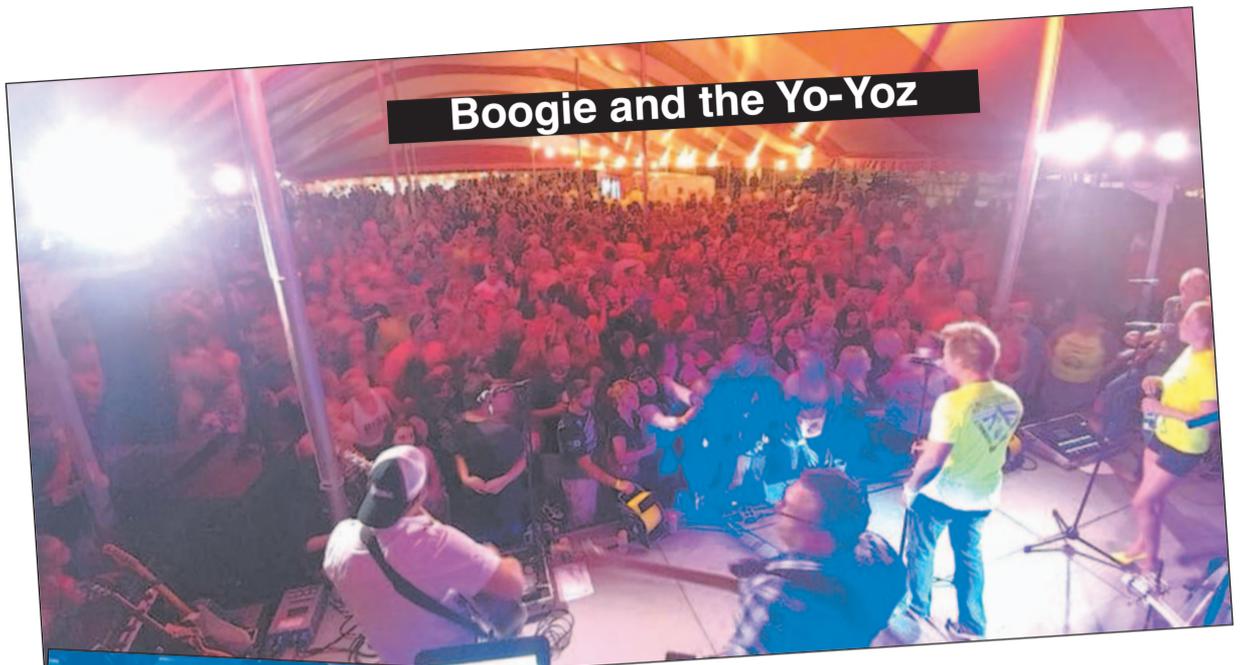

Contestants can register online or mail or email in their application and release form!

The music continues with Crankin' Yankees from 5:30 p.m.-7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.-11:30 p.m. The Crankin Yankees are made up of five seasoned musicians, with a pedigree of talent. The Crankin Yankees bring infectious energy to every show.

From face melting high notes to shredding guitars that you have not heard live since the '80s and '90s, The Crankin Yankees bring it. They also play pop, country, and love to hear your requests. Show up and be part of the show and learn what it is to be one of The Crankin Yankees.

On Sunday, July 21, enjoy the music of The Sound Exchange A Cappella from 12 p.m.-2 p.m. The Sound Exchange is a five member a cappella group based in the Twin Cities of Minnesota. They bring dazzling harmonies, great stage presence, and wise-cracking audience interaction together in a whirlwind a cappella experience that is not to be missed.

They truly love performing and do it with a contagious joy that will have you laughing and clapping right along with them. So, whether you love soulful ballads, blistering rock anthems, jazz standards or chart-topping singles... or, perhaps you just love to laugh and have fun, you're in for a treat with the hijinks and harmonies of The Sound Exchange!

The Leinie Lodge will offer many of its more popular beer flavors. Miller Lite and soda will be available for those who prefer that. Wine by the glass will also be offered.

The dates for this year's Fond du Lac County Fair are July 17-21. For more information or to see if any additional local talent is added to this line-up, check out the Fair website at www.fonddulacountyfair.com or the Fair's Facebook page.

name). But the quartet's music evolved and refined in a more mainstream direction as they developed their unique pop/rock sound, which led Rolling Stone magazine to christen them "the best unrecorded band in the country."

Classic Legends Of Rock Tour

On Friday, July 19, at 8 p.m., it is time for some classic rock with The Legends of Rock Tour.

The Classic Legends of Rock Tour will feature The Guess Who, Orleans, and Rare Earth.

The Guess Who

The Guess Who is a group that has connected with the masses throughout an exultant hit parade spanning 14 Top 40 hits including "These Eyes," "Clap For the Wolfman," "Hand Me Down World," "No Time," "Star Baby" and "Share the Land." Add in fellow classics and double sided singles like their number one rock anthem "American Woman" and "No Sugar Tonight," plus "Laughing" and "Undun."

Orleans

Orleans is best known as the pop/rock band that brought you the classic '70s hits "Still The One," "Dance With Me" and "Love Takes Time." Their first Top 40 hits included covers of The Temptations' "(I Know) I'm Losing You" and "Get Ready," which both broke the Top Five on multiple national charts, selling more than a million copies.

Formed in Woodstock, NY, in 1972 by John Hall, brothers Lance and Larry Hoppen and Wells Kelly, Orleans went about perfecting its recipe of eclectic material, including R&B seasoned with Cajun and second-line roots. Alan Toussaint, Neville Brothers and Meters tunes were among the mix (hence the choice of

was one of their most memorable concerts broadcast nationally in 1974.

Elite ticket holders enjoy parking and two drink tickets for $75. VIP ticket holders get general admission in the track standing section for $35 or get general admission tickets for $25. Buy tickets at www.fonddulaccounty-fair.com.

Brett Young

On Saturday, July 20, at 8 p.m., the fair will welcome country star Brett Young.

Brett Young has captured the hearts of fans everywhere through his honest lyrics and West Coast-meets-Southern sound, aptly dubbed "Caliville" style.

The 2018 ACM Awards New Male Vocalist of the Year recently released his sophomore album, Ticket To L.A. on BMLG Records. The 13-track project hit the number one spot on the Billboard Country Albums Chart upon release and features lead single "Here Tonight" which topped the Medibase and Billboard Country charts.

Written alongside Ben Caver, Justin Ebach and Lady Antebellum's Charles Kelley, "Here Tonight" marks Young's fifth consecutive number one single. The follow-up release, "Catch," is currently being introduced to country radio.

Ticket To L.A. follows his Platinum-certified, self-titled, debut album in 2017 with New York Times calling it "soothing, approachable." Recorded in Nashville with producer Dann Huff (Keith Urban, Thomas Rhett, Steven Tyler), the 2018 ASCAP Country Songwriter-Artist of the Year penned 11 of the 12 tracks on his Billboard Music Awards-nominated project, which also produced four consecutive number one radio hits: Platinum "Sleep Without You" and "Like I Loved You," 2X Platinum "Mercy," plus 4X Platinum "In Case You Didn't Know."

The latter was honored as the BMI Country Awards' 2018 Song of the Year. Along with the success of his over 1.7 billion in total song streams, he continues to impress the genre and beyond with nominations from the ACM, CMA, Billboard, Teen Choice, iHeartRadio and most recently a CMT Music Awards nod for Performance of the Year for his "Motownphilly" collaboration with Boyz II Men for CMT Crossroads.

Drawing in a devoted fan base with his unique voice that is "a gentle and seductive combination of silk and gravel" (All Access), Young has carved out his own lane in both performance delivery and songwriting. "Sleep Without You" earned Brett two Association of Independent Music Publisher (AIMP) Awards nods: Writer of the Year and Song of the Year in addition to being honored at the 2017 ASCAP Country Awards for a Top Country Song.

A Special Final Drive To Be Held At The Fair

A fun event will be held in the Cow Palace on Saturday, July 20, at 6:30 p.m. A Special Final Drive is a great event for the entire family to check out.

The show invites youth ages eight to 18 with an intellectual disability to participate in a swine show. These youth will be paired with two youth mentors and a pig from the Fair.

The youth exhibitors will work with the youth before the show to show them how to handle the pig and will be with them during the show.

All participants will meet at the Livestock Barn at 3:30 p.m. They will meet their mentors and spend time learning how to show a pig. At 5 p.m. they will break for dinner and then have a group photo taken at 6 p.m.

The show will start at 6:30 p.m. in the Cow Palace. The ring inside the building is surrounded by a fence to contain the pigs and keep them near the judge. There are bleachers surrounding the show ring for spectators to view.

The judge will assess how the mentors, participant and pig work together as a cohesive unit.

There is no cost to participate, however they wanted participants pre-registered by July 1. It is limited to the first 20 registered participants.

The mission for this show is to provide an inclusive opportunity for all youth to work together and share the experience of working and showing livestock in a competitive and friendly environment.

Sea Lion Splash Show

The rides along the midway are always a lot of fun for the young and old.

New to the Fond du Lac County Fair this year will be the Sea Lion Splash Show. There will be performance throughout the day during all five days of the fair. It will be located right outside the Recreation Building and Cow Palace.

Sea Lion Splash is a unique show that will have crowds cheering and laughing. The show is educational with a Splash!

The sea lions will amaze the crowd as they balance balls, shoot hoops, dance, perform handstands, and flash their pretty smiles. This is the only show in the U.S. to feature both Californian and South American sea lions.

The idea of the sea lion show originated when Squalus started taking in beached sea lions who were unable to be returned to the wild due to age or injuries and unable to provide food for themselves. Squalus provides a permanent home for these sea lions for the rest of their lives.

This show is the only traveling sea lion show in the United States. Squalus, Inc., ensures that the sea lions have more square footage of water per animal in the show than most sea lions have in the zoos. The animals' welfare and comfort is always placed first. Their transportation was designed specifically for the maximum comfort of the sea lions.

Squalus, Inc., is fully licensed by three federal agencies: National Marine Fisheries Department, Marine Mammal Protection Agency and the USDA.

The sea lion traveling exhibit is safe for the animals as well as the audience. Squalus team professionals are dedicated to providing your event with an attraction that will thrill visitors. This educational show appeals to all ages and is a definite crowd pleaser.

Shows will be held daily at 1:30 p.m., 3:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

We hope you will visit us at the Fond du Lac County Fair.

lowed to participate.

72nd Alice In Dairyland To Attend Agromatic Holstein Futurity

Abigail Martin, Wisconsin's 72nd Alice in Dairyland will attend the Agromatic Holstein Futurity on Friday, July 19, at the 168th Fond du Lac County Fair.

Martin, of Milton, is the fourth generation on her family's registered Holstein farm. It was there that she found a love for dairy cattle, and long summer days at the county and state fairs.

Her interest in agriculture led her to pursue a degree in dairy science at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She has held roles in marketing at the Rock County 4-H Fair, East Central/ Select Sires, and the Babcock Hall Dairy Store. Upon graduation in May 2018, she accepted a role with DeLaval Inc. in their North American marketing and communications department.

"Being chosen as Alice in Dairyland is an extreme honor," said Martin. "As Alice, I will demonstrate a strong commitment to learning and sharing about our great state and its robust agriculture industry."

The Futurity is a unique cattle show of animals entered as calves, by their owners, and are shown for the first time as a two-year-old.

Show sponsor, Agromatic, Inc. president, Dean Birschbach states, "we are happy to support the dairy producers who work hard to make quality dairy products for everyone to enjoy and we wish the best of luck to all the talented Holstein breeders in Fond du Lac County who work hard to make this show a huge success."

Agromatic Inc. has been providing America's dairymen with the industry's highest quality agricultural equipment since 1898. As a family operated business, they continue to grow and meet the needs of their customers with unmatched service.

Birschbach states, "We are dedicated to expanding our distribution network to better serve our customers. We strive to be in the forefront of technological advances and introduce that technology to the market only when it meets our rigid reliability and quality standards."

Agromatic's headquarters are in

72ND ALICE IN DAIRYLAND ABIGAIL MARTIN

Fond du Lac, but there are dealers throughout the USA and Canada. Agromatic strives to supply farmers with high quality equipment at an affordable price.

Other sponsors of the event include Fond du Lac County Agricultural Society, Fond du Lac County Holstein Assn., Summit Automotive, Inc., Woods Flowers and Gifts, Frey Livestock Trucking, LakeView IBA, Compeer Financial, Tari Costello and East Central/Select Sires.

For the 15th year, the show will consist of two age classes of Holsteins. The five-year-old show will begin at 6:45 p.m. in the Fairgrounds Cow Palace. The two-year-old class will follow. The judge this year is Mandi Bue Freedom, Wisconsin.

Futurity committee members include Rae Nell Halbur and Richard Julka, co-chair, Jim and Marlene Kelroy, Kurt Loehr, Fred Tidemann, Joe Sattler and Amy Ryan.

Letters Home...

Dear Mother & Dad,

Well I got one batch of mail so far, consisting of 18 letters, ones a telegram from Linda, also a card from Lucy Boegel. That one was a nice birthday card you sent, it was stamped the 31st of Dec., but I didn't get it until the other day. I haven't gotten any more packages yet, I sooner get letters anyhow. It would be nice to get some eating mail but I've done without so far and hasn't bothered too much. I know it's a lot of bother wrapping it up and also the stuff is hard to get, so never mind the eating mail unless I request it and if you haven't gotten a lighter yet never mind. I didn't know you were forbidden to send the fluid. We can get a little fluid here at the P.X. if we're lucky. I'm still in bed, I tried walking with crutches but it didn't work so hot, the circulation system is still a little wacky. Otherwise I'm okay, a little lonesome with all the excitement and staff gone. Johnny Garfield, a movie actor, and Eddie Loy, a comedian, visited our hospital. I wasn't too much surprised at Harold's discharge. They usually keep em so long and then if there no use to them they give 'em a release. I am always glad to hear from other letters that the folks are well. Also, got a compliment that your mother looked so nice at the wedding.

Regard to the rest. So long.
Love, Roger

Deer Hunts For Hunters With Disabilities At Horicon National Wildlife Refuge

Applications are now available for hunters with disabilities to apply for fall deer hunting within a 936-acre area of the Horicon National Wildlife Refuge.

The hunting unit is accessed off of County Road Z on the east side of Horicon Marsh. These refuge sponsored deer hunts require the appropriate state issued license and carcass tag(s). Hunters must have a State issued Class A, B, C, or D hunter disability permit for the hunts. Ten accessible blinds are available for use.

Hunters will have the opportunity to hunt in two hunts: one hunt on October 5-7, October 8-10, October 11-13, November 23-25, November 26-28 or November 29-December 1 (all gun hunts); AND one hunt on October 19-27 (archery/crossbow), December 2-11 (muzzle-loader), or December 12-15 (gun hunt).

Hunters are allowed to have an assistant with them. Assistants are allowed to hunt in all of the hunts except for the October gun hunts. Assistants who hunt must complete an application and pay $10 per hunt (via check, credit or debit only), prior to the hunt. There is no fee for the hunters with disabilities.

Applications are due prior to each hunt, but hunters should not delay sending in their application since hunters will be given their first choice based on the date of when the application is received. Early scouting is not permitted, but if hunters are new to the hunt, appointments are available to familiarize them with the boundary, location of the blinds, and access points.

Hunters interested in more information or in obtaining an application should call 920-387-2658 x200.

During this year's hunt, we encourage you to use lead free ammunition. Horicon National Wildlife Refuge is one of many refuges within the Midwest Region encouraging hunters to make the switch.

Bald eagles are present at Horicon during the deer hunting season and eat carcasses and gut piles. Each year across the midwest, thousands of gut piles from field dressed deer are left in the field. When those remains contain lead bullet fragments, eagles may eat lead and can die from lead poisoning.

We encourage you to switch to lead free ammunition and be our partner in this conservation effort. Together it is our goal to protect wildlife health on our national wildlife refuges.

Horicon National Wildlife Refuge is managed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The Refuge encompasses the northern two-thirds of Horicon Marsh and is part of America's National Wildlife Refuge System, a network of federal public lands covering more than 150 million acres.

Kettle Moraine YMCA Receives Donation From Russ Darrow Group

For the third consecutive year, the Russ Darrow Group's dealerships in West Bend participated in a program to support the Kettle Moraine YMCA's "Send a Kid to Camp Campaign."

During the month of May, the Chrysler Jeep Dodge RAM, Nissan, and Toyota dealerships in West Bend contributed a portion of their vehicle sales to the campaign. Darrow's $7,500 donation provided more than 100 local kids in need with the opportunity to attend Y Summer Day Camp.

"We are honored to again sustain this amazing community program and grant children the opportunity to participate in a range of activities that are fun, informative, and team building," said Mike Darrow, President. "We are grateful to our devoted West Bend area customers who allowed our dealerships to support these children as they become involved in nature, find new skills, and create enduring bonds and remembrances."

Russ Darrow Group, headquartered in Menomonee Falls, is Wisconsin's all-time volume auto retailer since 1965. Russ Darrow Group owns and operates dealerships in Milwaukee, Appleton, Green Bay, Madison, Waukesha, Wauwatosa, West Bend, and Greenfield representing Chrysler, Jeep, Dodge, Ram, Toyota, Honda, Nissan, KIA, Mazda, and Mitsubishi. All Hands Are On Deck To Stop Aquatic Invasive Species In Wisconsin

This time of the year is a great time for the annual Clean Boats, Clean Waters Landing Blitz. Department of Natural Resources staff, volunteers and regional AIS partners were at boat launches statewide to remind people that the power to protect against harmful species is shared by all who love Wisconsin's waters.

Aquatic invasive species, or AIS, such as Eurasian watermilfoil, spiny water fleas and zebra mussels, pose great risks to the health of our waters and fisheries, and there are often no known control options to rid the waters of these species. Prevention is the key and it's in the hands of visitors as well as full-time Wisconsinites. More lakes than ever are participating in 2019 with inspectors giving away Stop Aquatic Hitchhikers boat towels.

"This is the first time that these valuable educational events will be held simultaneously across the entire Great Lakes region. It's a chance to work directly with boaters and deliver a coordinated, regional message about the importance of AIS prevention during the busiest boating weekend of the year," said Bob Wakeman, DNR's statewide AIS coordinator.

Volunteers, AIS partners and DNR boat inspectors will be on hand at landings around the state to demonstrate the prevention steps and answer questions about invasive species. Their efforts will build on the success of last year's campaign during which volunteers inspected almost 9,000 boats and spoke with more than 18,000 people.

"One of the most exciting things about this campaign is the strong volunteer effort. Every year hundreds of concerned citizens participate as volunteers to help us raise awareness and empower boaters," says Wakeman.

Invasive plants and animals can spread easily by hitching a ride on boats and other equipment, including trailers. They can also hide in the water in livewells, bait and fish buckets and motors, so it's important to drain those and drain your boat. Because many invasive species can also be hidden in mud, it's vital to clean off anchors.

Always take the following simple steps before leaving a boat landing:

- Inspect your boat, trailer and equipment for attached aquatic plants or animals
- Remove all attached plants or animals
- Drain all water from boats, motors, livewells and other equipment
- Never move live fish away from a waterbody
- Dispose of unwanted bait in the trash
- Buy minnows from a Wisconsin bait dealer
- Only use leftover minnows when either 1) fishing with them on the same body of water or 2) on other waters if no lake/river water or other fish have been added to the container.

Following these steps also helps boaters comply with Wisconsin state law, which prohibits the transport of aquatic invasive species. To learn more about invasive species and their impacts to Wisconsin's waters and economy, visit DNR.wi.gov and search "Invasive Species."

For those who use social media, they can help spread the word about the importance of aquatic invasive species prevention by posting photos and messages using #CleanBoatsCleanWaters.

Moraine Park Celebrates Manufacturing Skills Academy Graduation

Moraine Park Technical College in Fond du Lac held its spring Manufacturing Skills Academy graduation on Wednesday, June 12. The College had 21 students graduate from the program; eight from the Computer Numerical Control (CNC) machinist boot camp and 13 from the welding boot camp.

This program was designed to combat the skilled worker shortage by offering a variety of boot camp sessions. The boot camp sessions are free to participants, teach skills that are unique to a particular pathway, and connect students with area employers. The program also combines a 144-hour paid internship with coursework, including Occupational Math, Print Reading, Team Building, Problem Solving, and program-specific courses. Participating internship sites for this session were Amerequip Corporation, Apache Stainless, Generac Power Systems, Mayville Engineering Company, Miba, Mid States Aluminum, Signicast, Tobin Machining, Weasler Engineering and X-Cel Tooling.

Moraine Park has had 377 participants in the welding and CNC boot camp programs since their induction in 2012. The spring 2019 CNC graduates are Michael Adam Abitz of North Fond du Lac, Cory Fleischfresser of Fond du Lac, Dustin Marx of Fond du Lac, Troy Riehl of Fond du Lac, Deavin Schaub of Waupun, Nancy Sery of Hartford, Demetrius Smith of West Bend, and Kou Vang of Fond du Lac.

The spring 2019 welding graduates are Christian Bailey-Steenport of West Bend, Peter Demmerle of Fond du Lac, Austin Fingar of Redgranite, Nathan Hankins of Chilton, Xavier Kitchens of Fond du Lac, Dimitri Lloyd of Fond du Lac, Ontarius McFerren of West Bend, Joshua Mikula of Plymouth, Armando Murillo of Fond du Lac, Taylor Nett of Fond du Lac, Shane Rau of Fond du Lac, Dani Schommer of Fond du Lac, and Bobby Wiercioch of Fond du Lac.

This year's graduation speakers were Smith and Hankins.

Smith, a CNC graduate, is grateful for the experience Moraine Park gave him through the boot camp program.

"This program has opened many doors," he said. "MPTC has given us opportunities that we otherwise would not have. This program was free, and it came with 16 college credits, so some would even say it's better than free. Some of us will add on to what we've learned so far. I know I will."

Smith served his internship at Weasler in West Bend and is now a full-time employee.

Hankins, a welding graduate, shared the story of how he thought the opportunity was too good to be true.

"I thought it was a scam," Hankins said. "It's so unique and unheard of that it's nearly unbelievable."

Hankins' hesitations quickly faded, and he embraced the entire experience, noting that he made some lasting connections in the process. He completed his internship at Amerequip in Kiel and is a current employee.

"Be confident in your abilities, but don't ever think you can just coast," he said. "You don't get to stop learning and trying just because you got a certificate or a job."

Moraine Park's Skills Academy boot camps are free to participating students, thanks to financial support from area businesses including Amerequip Corporation, Apache Stainless, Generac Power Systems, Mayville Engineering Company, Miba, Mid States Aluminum, Signicast, Tobin Machining, Wabash National, Weasler Engineering and X-Cel Tooling.

Additionally, the welding training was partially funded through a GPR grant that incorporates both Adult Basic Education and welding. The purpose of this training is to allow students to complete both their High School Equivalency Diploma (HSED) and the welding boot camp.

Individuals interested in learning more about the CNC and welding boot camp opportunities are encouraged to attend a Boot Camp Test Drive event scheduled at Moraine Park's Fond du Lac campus on July 16 and 18, and the Beaver Dam campus on July 23. For more information, visit morainepark.edu/bootcamps.

Stroebele Votes For Budget That Cuts Taxes

On Wednesday, June 26, the State Senate passed the 2019-2021 budget after hours of floor debate. Senator Duey Stroebele, (R-Saukville) issued the following statement in support of the state budget:

"This budget is far from perfect. It represents the reality of divided government in Wisconsin, melding Governor Evers' ridiculous budget proposal and what fiscally responsible legislators wanted. We have reshaped the Governor's budget to best fit within the means of state taxpayers.

"This budget spends more than I would propose, but less than the Governor asked for. This budget cuts income taxes, not in the exact way the legislature or Governor Evers would have done it, but in a way we should all be able to support. This income tax cut will put over $400 million back in the pockets of taxpayers, and that's a win for Wisconsin. Every one of these dollars helps constrain the growth of Wisconsin's government bureaucracy.

"Governor Evers proposed a variety of bad policies in his budget, including capping the enrollment at high performing choice and charter schools, giving driver's licenses to illegal immigrants and repealing Right-to-Work. I fought alongside my Republican Colleagues to remove these harmful policies, preserving the reforms of the last eight years. These reforms will continue to benefit all Wisconsin residents.

"I am proud of the increased accountability at the UW-System created in this budget. The UW-System will submit plans to the Joint Finance Committee before receiving most of their new funding, ensuring transparency and oversight for these expenditures.

"I urge Governor Evers to sign this budget and not degrade it with vetoes."

Man Arrested In Cemetery

On June 12, at 5:07 a.m. the Campbellsport Police Department responded to the cemetery for a call of a person who was calling for help.

Employees of Campbellsport Piggly Wiggly called 911 after hearing someone calling for help at the cemetery across the street. Police Chief Tom Dornbrook responded from home and found a bike that had crashed and a backpack with belongings scattered on the pavement.

Close to the road, he found a 37-year-old man from West Bend who appeared to be in medical distress. The man was transported to St. Agnes Hospital and treated.

Four Fond du Lac Sheriff Department deputies also responded.

After being released from the hospital on June 13th, the man stopped at the Campbellsport Police Department for an interview. During the interview, he told Dornbrook that he was in Campbellsport to celebrate the death of a friend.

The friend is buried in the Campbellsport cemetery. He was going to pour whiskey on the grave and bury syringes somewhere in the cemetery for a different friend who had passed away.

After the interview, the man was placed on a probation hold in the Washington County jail.

Dornbrook is requesting charges from the Fond du Lac District Attorney for possession of drug paraphernalia.

Funding Available To Assist In Promoting Safe ATV Operation In Wisconsin

Organizations interested in assisting the Department of Natural Resources in the recruitment and training of all-terrain vehicle (ATV) safety instructors and volunteer trail ambassadors may apply for funding through a two year program to promote the safe operation of ATVs and UTVs in the state. The program funding is for up to $297,000 for each year.

Eligible organizations must provide documentation that they are registered with the Wisconsin Secretary of State's office as non-stock organizations and have an established board of directors. Funding applicants must create and provide a business plan detailing the methods and approaches the organization will use to accomplish a number of requirements that will promote the operation of ATVs and UTVs that is safe and responsible, does not harm the environment and does not conflict with laws, rules and department policies.

Among these requirements are: assisting the DNR in recruiting, assisting and providing support to volunteer safety instructors, ATV/UTV clubs and organizations and promoting the ATV safety education program; assist the DNR and tourism in creating an outreach program to inform local communities about appropriate ATV/UTV use in their communities; the economic benefits that may be gained from promoting tourism to attract ATV/UTV enthusiasts; techniques the organization will use to recruit, train and manage volunteer trail patrol ambassadors to monitor the recreational operation of ATVs/UTVs on public trails; and improve and maintain its relationship with the DNR, tourism, ATV/UTV dealers, manufacturers, recreation partners and off-highway motorcycle clubs. Additional requirements apply and the organization that receives the funding must be able to provide supporting documents showing objectives have been met through the use of reports, receipts and audits.

Organizations interested in applying for the funds should search the DNR website, dnr.wi.gov, for ATV UTV Enhancement Funding.

The deadline for submitting funding applications is 5 p.m., June 28. DNR expects to issue the fund agreement to the successful applicant no later than July 19. The fund agreement will be effective as of July 1.

Rick Scheffler Keeps It All In The Family With Russ Scheffler Tribute Race Victory

For a driver that has raced sparingly in recent years, Rick Scheffler of Waukesha was certainly on top of his game in Plymouth Dirt Track Racing Late Model competition at the Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth as he powered his way to a fitting victory in the 30-lap Russ Scheffler Tribute race, a special event honoring his late brother's memory on Friday, June 28.

With a stellar field of 28 of the region's top Late Model competitors signed in, Rick Scheffler topped them all to bag the big $2,574 first-place check and gigantic trophy in the second edition of the Russ Scheffler Tribute Race presented by Allied Resource Recovery, which was organized by Late Model supporters Chad Marquardt and Greg Wester, along with promotional assistant Nicole Rehberg Carlson, who worked tirelessly to raise funds to support a huge boost in the Gasroots Project Late Model purse throughout the field.

Scotty Thiel of Sheboygan claimed his first PDTR Richard's of Dunbar 360 Sprint Car A-main victory of the season at Plymouth and second overall win of the 2019 season in Randy Sippel's 39s car. Josh Pierce of Random Lake pulled off a last-lap pass to claim his first career Klips & Tips Grand National A-main victory at Plymouth, while Chilton's Jesse Cullen earned his second Cellcom B Mod A-main triumph of the 2019 season in PDTR competition.

In the 30-lap Russ Scheffler Tribute Late Model headliner, polesitter Troy Springborn of Shawano bolted into the lead with Rick Scheffler, who started on the outside of the front row, in tow in second. On the beginning of lap two, a seven-car incident in turn two involving Green Bay's Joe Reuter, Nick Anvelink, Ron Stroika, Justin Reed, Turk Letizia, Brett Swedberg and Tom Naeyaert brought out the first and only caution of the event.

The incident knocked Anvelink, Naeyaert, Stroika and Swedberg out of the event. On the restart, Springborn again charged out to a solid advantage over 2010 PDTR Late Model champion Rick Scheffler on the smooth and multi-groove racing surface. As Springborn was showing the way at the front of the field, eighth starter Taylor Scheffler of Waukesha used the outside groove to power his way into fifth place on lap four.

One lap later, Taylor Scheffler, who is Russ Scheffler's nephew and Rick Scheffler's son, worked past 2016 PDTR Late Model champ Tim Buhler of Greenbush, who started fifth, to seize fourth.

On lap six, Rick Scheffler had closed the gap on Springborn and began applying heavy pressure for the top spot along the inside groove. After three laps of dueling side by side with Springborn, Rick Scheffler ducked low to power his way into the lead in turn two on lap eight.

Once in front, Rick Scheffler proceeded to pull away from Springborn along the inside line of the track. Meanwhile, Taylor Scheffler continued to put on a show on the cushion as he worked his way around Joel Bennett, who started third, to take over third place on lap nine.

Over the final 20 laps of the event, Rick Scheffler was locked in to the low groove and maintained a solid full straightaway cushion over Springborn and the fast-closing Taylor Scheffler on the way to his 14th career PDTR A-main victory and his first career victory in the Russ Scheffler Tribute Race.

Springborn finished second, Taylor Scheffler placed third, Bennett wound up fourth and Buhler rounded out the top five.

"This was a great race to win, that's for sure," Rick Scheffler said after the race. "There are a great group of people that worked really hard to put this race together. They raised a lot of extra money for all the Late Model drivers to race for tonight. I'm sure my brother would have appreciated it."

Outside front row starter Tyler Brabant of Waupun outpowered polesitter Anthony Knierim of Franksville to grab the lead of the 25-lap 360 Sprint Car A-main in turn three of the opening lap. On lap two, sixth starter Scotty Thiel bolted into third place with a power move along the high groove of the track. Four laps later, Thiel worked his way past Knierim to seize second place.

On lap 10, Glenbeulah's Jim Melis, who started fifth, maneuvered past both Knierim and third starter Brandon Berth of Cascade to secure third. Meanwhile, Thiel had cut the gap substantially on Brabant for the top spot as the leaders approached slower traffic on lap 11.

The first caution flag of the race flew seconds later when Waldo's Chris Clayton spun in turn three. Another caution was displayed on the ensuing restart when Josh Teunissen of Waldo, Chris Clayton, 2008 PDTR champion Lance Fassbender of Burentt and Shane Wenninger of Kewaskum got together entering turn one. All four drivers were able to continue the race at the rear of the field.

When the race resumed, Thiel went to work to wrestle the lead away from Brabant along the high groove exiting turn four on lap 13. Utilizing the low line, Brabant battled back three laps later to give Thiel a real run for his money over the closing nine circuits.

As the leaders worked their way through slower traffic over the final five circuits, Brabant pulled ahead with the high-riding Thiel on a couple of occasions exiting turn four. However, Thiel proved to be too strong as he held on to secure his second career PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main victory and his 12th career Midwest Sprint Car Association A-main triumph.

Brabant finished a career-best second in PDTR 360 Sprint Car competition, Melis finished third, defending PDTR 360 Sprint Car champion Justin Miller of Plymouth charged from the ninth starting spot to place fourth and 2010 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champion Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee finished fifth after starting eighth.

"Hats off to the track crew for getting the track ready tonight with all the rain we had," Thiel said. "It was really a great racetrack tonight. I can't thank Randy Sippel enough for giving me a great car to run. This is the second time I've won in this car now this year and it feels really good to get another win. I have to hand it to Tyler Brabant for putting up a good fight there at the end. He ran the bottom very well and I got a little nervous a few times when he pulled even with me for the lead in the closing laps."

In the 25-lap Grand National A main, polesitter Steven Weber of Plymouth dueled side by side with outside front row starter Donny Kulow of Elkhart Lake throughout the opening lap before finally taking the lead in turn four on lap two.

As Weber held the top spot, fourth starter Josh Pierce of Random Lake used the outside groove to challenge Donny Kulow for second starting on lap 6. Two laps later, Pierce surged into second along the outside groove and quickly set his sights on the lead. On lap nine, Pierce charged in along the high line to pressure Weber, who was clinging to the low groove of the third-mile clay oval.

The two drivers waged a heated duel for the remaining 16 laps while eighth starter Will Sorce of Franklin moved in to challenge take over third on lap 20. On lap 21, Pierce, who was the 2012 PDTR Outlaw Compact division champion, switched lanes, moving from the high to the low groove to mount one finish push for the lead.

After attempting to duck low to gain the top spot on three consecutive laps, Pierce eventually made it work on the final lap as he found an opening exiting turn two on the final circuit and charged underneath Weber for good entering turn three. Pierce then held on to secure his first career PDTR Grand National A-main triumph with a thrilling last-lap pass.

Sorce finished second, Weber placed third, Kulow wound up fourth and third starter Jason Juech of Plymouth rounded out the top five.

"We've been trying to get a win at Plymouth for seven years in the Grand National division and it finally happened tonight," Pierce said. "We've come close a lot lately, and it feels great to get the job done with a last-lap pass and a clean sweep too."

Polesitter Brian Wieland of Elkhart Lake grabbed the lead on the opening lap of the 25-lap B Mod A-main with outside front row starter Gary Glander of Sheboygan Falls falling into second. The first of three caution flags appeared on lap two when Rick Kretschmann spun in turn two.

Another yellow flag was displayed on lap three when Rory Welch and Phil Campanella collided in turn three. On the restart, Wieland again led while third starter Travis Schmidt of Waldo and Glander dueled side by side for second on lap four while Schmidt surged into second on lap five.

As Wieland continued to lead, sixth starter Jesse Cullen was making noise as he used the high groove to move into third place on lap eight. The final caution slowed the field on lap 16 when Justin Bauer stopped on the backstretch.

One lap later, Cullen bolted around Wieland to secure the top spot on lap 17. Fourth starter Barry Maas of Cascade also rode the high groove past Wieland into second on lap 18 and attempted to reel in Cullen over the final seven laps.

However, Cullen proved to be too formidable as he maintained the top spot over the final seven circuits en route to his second career PDTR B Mod A-main triumph. Maas placed second, Wieland wound up third, Schmidt placed fourth and 17th starter Tim Warner of Fond du Lac charged all the way up to post a fifth-place finish.

Brett Swedberg of Shawano won the Late Model B main and Kyle Raddant of Shawano captured the Late Model non-qualifiers dash. Travis Arenz of Sheboygan captured the first 360 Sprint Car B-main and Kewaskum's Shane Wenninger was victorious in the second 360 Sprint Car B-main.

The special second edition of the Russ Scheffler Tribute Race drew a PDTR season-high total of 104 cars, including 28 Late Models, 40 360 Sprint Cars, 22 B Mods and 14 Grand Nationals.

The Friday night event was a non-points program for the Late Models, B Mods and Grand Nations with full PDTR points distributed in the 360 Sprint Car division.

Next Saturday, July 6 there will be no PDTR racing in conjunction with the Fourth of July weekend.

PDTR Saturday night racing will resume on Saturday, July 13, and include a special Remembering Randy Tracy tribute in honor of the former Winged Super Modified racer, who recently passed away. Additional money will be awarded in the 360 Sprint Car division on July 13. Hot laps will begin at 5:30 p.m. with racing to start at 6 p.m.

DHS Has Sent New Groundwater Recommendations To DNR

Working together to make sure the water you drink is safe, the Department of Health Services (DHS), Department of Natural Resources (DNR), and the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) have reviewed key compounds that can be in Wisconsin's groundwater and the effects they could have on health.

State health officials provided groundwater quality standards recommendations for 27 substances to DNR as part of the state's process to protect public health. Two per-and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) — human-made chemicals used in many products, including non-stick cookware, fast food wrappers, stain resistant sprays, and firefighting foam — were among the contaminants reviewed.

"As Governor Evers declared, this is the Year of Clean Drinking Water, and we look forward to our continued partnership with the DNR as we work toward the shared goal of protecting the health of Wisconsin residents," said Julie Willems Van Dijk, DHS deputy secretary. "Using a rigorous, evidence-based process will help us assure that our water is safe, no matter where we live in the state."

"Clean drinking water in Wisconsin is a public health priority," said Elizabeth Kluesner, DNR deputy secretary. "The DNR has not revised our groundwater standards for 10 years and with these science-based recommendations in hand, we will immediately begin rulemaking to protect our citizens and our natural resources from harmful contaminants. This is another example of how we are working to return Wisconsin to being a leader in the field of environmental protection."

After DNR provided a list of substances to DHS, health officials extensively reviewed scientific literature about each substance, using federal quality standards as a starting point when available, and created a document describing the rationale for each enforcement standard. In order to make these recommendations, DHS toxicologists reviewed over 5,000 scientific findings.

State law outlines a process that DHS and DNR follow, ensuring a scientifically rigorous review of available technical information and clarity on how recommended groundwater standards are selected.

There will be a period for input on these proposed standards which DNR will announce in the coming months. Having received the DHS recommendations, DNR can propose rules to incorporate these new or revised standards.

Once the rulemaking process is complete, the new or revised standards will be added to the state's 138 existing NR 140 groundwater quality standards. These standards are used for regulating facilities, practices, and activities that can affect groundwater.

They apply to bottled water, approved agricultural chemicals, contamination site cleanup, regulation of solid waste landfills, and more. Groundwater standards have been set or revised in 1988, 1990, 1991, 1993, 1995, 1996, 1998, 1999, 2003, 2006, and 2010.

DATCP was another important contributor to the substance list, submitting several agricultural chemicals to DNR for review. DATCP will use resulting enforcement standards to guide its work in groundwater protection.

To further protect groundwater, DHS will review an additional 40 substances in 2019 and 2020, as requested by DNR in April. State law defines the review and rulemaking process for contaminants.

More information about the groundwater quality standards recommendations and rulemaking process is available on the DHS website.

CLASSIFIEDS Prevent Tick-Borne Diseases While Enjoying The Outdoors

MELINDA MYERS

You've grabbed your water bottle, sunscreen and hat for a hike in the park or some gardening. Add a bit of tick protection to your must-have items when you head out the door for an adventure, to garden or play.

Continue enjoying the outdoors by enlisting a variety of strategies to limit your risk of exposure to ticks and the disease pathogens they transmit. Here are just a few of the ways to increase your safety and enjoyment.

Wear light colored clothing to more easily spot the tick before it moves onto your skin. Wear long pants and tuck them into your socks and tuck your shirt into your pants. Ticks often gain access through pant legs or shirttails and crawl up looking for a place to settle in and feed.

Consider spraying your clothing with an insecticide labeled for repelling and killing ticks. Spray your clothing and let it dry before wearing. Or invest in pre-treated clothing for gardening, hiking or other outdoor activities. Read and follow label directions carefully.

Always conduct a tick check on yourself, children and pets after spending time outdoors. Studies show that regular tick checks are the most effective way to prevent diseases transmitted by ticks. Ticks can feed anywhere but are often found in and around the ears and hair, inside the belly-button, under the arms, around the waist, back of the knees and between the legs.

Check your clothing inside and out. Ticks can survive for several days in the house and even when washed in warm or hot water. An hour in the dryer on high heat will kill them.

Shower within two hours after spending time outdoors. The water can help dislodge any unattached ticks plus this provides a second opportunity to conduct a tick check. Studies found this practice greatly reduces the risk of tick-borne diseases.

Manage your landscape to reduce the tick population. Keep the grass mowed and remove brush, groundcovers, firewood piles and birdfeeders near the home or where the family frequents. Keep swing sets away from the woods and placed on woodchip mulch. Eliminate invasive barberry, honeysuckle and buckthorn that create a tick-friendly habitat.

Many of us are doing the opposite. We are eliminating lawns, increasing groundcover, planting more trees, shrubs and flowers to create more diverse wildlife-friendly habitats. There is limited evidence that increasing animal diversity may help reduce the rate of tick associated diseases. Unfortunately, the fragmented woodlands and ecosystems do favor deer and white-footed mice that are key to the maintenance and transmission of tick-borne diseases.

Consider creating a tick safe zone area where your family frequents and limit your time in tick infested areas. Widen pathways, prune trees to increase light, exclude deer and discourage rodents to reduce the risk of exposure.

And if additional control is needed to create a tick safe zone, consider using a pesticide like Summit Tick & Flea Spray that contains permethrin. You'll only need small amounts at the right time of the year for effective control. One application in spring or fall is usually sufficient for managing the ticks that can transmit Lyme disease. For the dog tick, also known as wood ticks, an application can be made anytime after the adults emerge. As always read and follow label directions.

Make these practices part of your routine so you and your family can continue to safely enjoy

Ticks, including the black legged tick, often gain access through pant legs or shirttails and crawl up looking for a place to settle in and feed.

Cool, Refreshing And Straight From The Garden – Mint

MELINDA MYERS

Add a bit of cool flavor to your beverages and meals this summer with homegrown mint. Try using peppermint leaves in fruit cocktails and ice cream. Add spearmint to your tea or use the leaves to season lamb and jelly. Or try chocolate mint for a unique sweet and refreshing flavor in desserts and drinks.

This vigorous plant is easy to grow and suited to container gardens. In fact, growing it in a pot will help keep this vigorous herb contained. Or sink a container of mint in the garden or plant where surrounding walks and walls will keep this vigorous plant contained.

Grow mint in a full sun to partial shade location with moist well-drained soil. Mulch the soil to conserve moisture. Though hardy in zones 3 to 11, you will need to provide a bit of winter protection when growing mint in containers in colder regions. Either sink the container in a vacant spot in the garden or move the planter into an unheated garage. Water thoroughly whenever the soil is thawed and dry.

Harvest the leaves as needed. Cutting leafy stems off the plant just above a healthy leaf or bud will encourage compact tidy growth. Pick mint just before flowering for the most intense flavor.

Include a container of mint in your patio, balcony or deck plantings. Keeping it close to the kitchen and outdoor living space will make it easy for you to harvest and use. Plus, your guests will enjoy plucking a few fresh mint leaves to add to their iced tea, mojito or favorite summer beverage or salad.

Not only does this easy to grow herb add flavor, but it also aids digestion. Add a garnish of mint to dress up dessert plates or provide it to a loved one to calm a queasy stomach. And use it to increase the manganese, vitamin C and vitamin A levels in your diet.

Make this the year you plant, harvest and enjoy some minty fresh flavor straight from the garden.

Exodus House Offers Second Chance At Life

"It was awesome. I finally didn't feel like a scumbag in the room anymore," Klahn said. "I finally felt like I belonged somewhere and had respect from people, and that was an awesome thing."

Life In The Exodus House

Klahn's first couple days in the Exodus House were rough.

"I was still going through withdrawals," said Klahn, who had used drugs up to the time he entered the large Victorian doors of the rehab facility.

"I used some Xanax right before I got here. I was actually scared of living the right way, or living sober. I had never done that, so it is a scary thing," Klahn said.

But Klahn did not want to continue living life the way he had been, so he endured the flu-like symptoms of drug withdrawal.

Klahn had gone through withdrawal many times before. Every time he had entered jail or prison, he went through it.

But this was the first time he was going through it by his own choice.

"I was content with being here because I was away from all the chaos and all the lies. Nobody was looking for me. Nobody was calling me complaining because I did something to them," Klahn said.

The entire way of life that the Exodus House offered was something new for Klahn. It was different than living on probation.

"I always have had a bunch of rules, with people telling me I can't do this, I can't do that. I was always trying to beat the rules," Klahn said.

In contrast, the Exodus House offered Klahn things that he could do. It offered him a new life.

Learning How To Live

Klahn spent the ma-majority of his life addicted to drugs. Each day he focused on how to get his next fix.

He had never learned how to do the basic things to survive in a life free of drugs.

"Having spent so much time in prison and being institutionalized, Joe had a lot to learn. It was just a constant redirecting and trying to help him make the right decisions," said Kim Goldman, a counselor at the Exodus House.

To help acquire basic living skills, residents of the Exodus House are required to do regular household chores, like cleaning, laundry and cooking.

"We do a lot of cooking here on Fridays because some of the guys don't know how to boil water," Goldman explained.

Residents also learn how to budget money.

"It is basic stuff like that they don't really know how to do those things because they have been using for so long," Goldman said.

About The Exodus House

The Exodus House is a 20-bed, drug and alcohol transitional living facility in Kewaskum. It is dedicated to helping men recover from alcohol and drug dependency and abuse.

Located at 1421 Fond du Lac Ave. in Kewaskum, is a large Victorian-style home that was built in the 1890s. Original woodwork, stained glass windows and handcrafted built-ins are still found throughout the building.

Originally a home of the Rosenheimer family, the house was established as the Exodus House in 1977 in order to assist men with overcoming alcohol addiction. Since then, the facility has expanded to help residents overcome both alcohol and drug addictions.

houses modern amenities and features a kitchen, game room and gym.

Today, people come from all over Wisconsin to the Exodus House. There also are people who come from out of state to the facility.

"It is about plucking them from their environment and getting them the help they need," said Nicole Thull, director of business development / counselor for the Exodus House.

The Exodus House offers individual counseling, group therapy, family counseling, relapse prevention, a 12-step program, vocational and educational referrals, and recreational activities.

In addition to learning how to live in the community, residents focus on giving back to the community.

"Helping out in the community is a big part of the program," Thull said.

Exodus House residents can be found doing yardwork for people in the area and doing things for the Humane Society. Residents volunteer to help with numerous activities in the community. For example, they help with the Mighty River Project in Kewaskum and will be cleaning up after the village's Independence Day celebration.

To live in the Exodus House, people must be 18 years or older remain clean and sober. They are required to be physically, mentally and emotionally capable and willing to secure employment or participate in a structured training program.

"I can't thank this house enough," Klahn said. "It is a pretty awesome place. It saved my life."

—This is the second part in a series about Joseph Klahn, drug abuse and the path to sobriety. The third part will be in an upcoming Kewaskum Statesman.

Kim Goldman, a counselor at the Exodus House, poses with Joseph Klahn, who has been drug-free since February 2018. A golf outing event to benefit the Exodus House will be held at the Golf Club at Camelot on Saturday, Aug. 3.
