Work Continues On Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial – No 9/11 Service To Be Held In Kewaskum Due To Construction

By Anne Trautner

Because it is currently under construction, a service will not be held at the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial site in Kewaskum on September 11 this year.

The site, located in front of the Kewaskum Annex building on Fond du Lac Avenue, has been a hub of activity over the last several months. Trees have been cleared, electrical work has been done and an amphitheater is nearing completion for what will soon be a 9/11 memorial and education center.

A concrete base is now in place, and will soon hold the memorial's centerpiece: a steel beam recovered from the North Tower of the World Trade Center.

"This artifact will be the focal piece of the memorial, a link to a past event in our country's history — an attack which was intended to bring this country to its knees. Rather than do that, however, what emerged from the ashes was the true core of America: the infinite compassion and resolve of its people," said Gordon Haberman, whose daughter Andrea Haberman, a Kewaskum High School graduate, was killed in the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001.

where it is being prepared to be raised at the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial.

Workers at Swenson Tool and Die created pieces of 3/4-inch plate steel to hold the steel beam. It is a project unlike any they have done before.

"We have built big fixtures, but nothing of this historic significance," said owner Wayne Swenson. "It is an honor to be a part of it."

To create a strong enough bond to hold up the massive steel I-beam that was recovered from the World Trade Center, workers are fillet welding the steel plates together. The plates will create a V-shaped mount that is an abstract representation of the twin towers.

Public Hearing To Be Held On ATV Use In The Village

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Village Board is considering a proposed ordinance that would allow all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) and utility vehicles (UTVs) to drive on village streets.

To receive input from village residents on the issue, a public hearing will be held on Monday, Sept. 16, in the Kewaskum Annex building at 7 p.m.

"What we are proposing is to open the whole village to ATV /UTV use so that people on the outer areas of Kewaskum Township, which is open to ATVs, can get in here to get gas, get to restaurants, things like that," Tom Kempke of the Kettle Trails organization told the Village Board on August 19.

The Eisenbahn Trail is not included in the proposed ordinance. In addition, the ATV group is not requesting that the village open Highway 45 (Fond du Lac Avenue) to ATV traffic.

"We will stay away from that; it is a busy road," Kempke said.

Instead, the ATV riders would like to be able to cross Highway 45 so they can get to each side of town.

The village can decide to open any road that has a speed limit of 35 mph or less to ATVs/UTVs. The state and county would have to approve ATVs on any of their roads that have speed limits above 35 mph.

To drive on roads, ATVs and UTVs are required to have headlights and taillights, and the headlights must be on at all times, according to Kempke. Each vehicle must have a registration tag on the back. Blinkers are not required, although many ATVs have blinkers, according to Kempke. For ATVs that do not have blinkers, operators must use hand signals.

On roads that are open to ATVs and UTVs, the vehicles are required to travel in single file on the far right side of the paved portion of the road.

Members of the Kettle Trails organization have gone to other municipalities requesting that the ordinances be passed. After it was approached, the Village of Campbellsport passed an ordinance that allows ATVs on its roads.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my concern for both the manner and the methods I have observed our current school board moving forward to fill their vacancy. I attended the open-to-the-public meeting on 8/26/19 and afterwards I feel compelled to share my thoughts.

How the vacancy is being filled: In the July meeting, the board decided to conduct interviews amongst the four candidates who applied for the position: Dennis Aupperle, Mary Miller, Wayne Sargent and Neal Weare. Each candidate would be asked the same seven questions:

- What strengths or qualities would you bring as a board member?
- What led you to apply for the vacancy?
- What is the role of a school board and what do you consider to be the most important part?
- What would you do if you were approached with a complaint?
- How do you envision keeping the kids first in your role as a school board member?
- What do you envision for the future of education in our community?
- Do you have any questions for us?

-According to state law, if the current board (six members) cannot reach a majority vote (four), then the board president makes the nomination by default. This is also the same case if a sherriff or judge were to step-down mid-term.

State law indicates the current governor would appoint an interim candidate to serve the remaining time of that term, then at the end of that term the position would be up for election and the voters to decide.

The term is up for this vacancy in April of 2020 at the next election; in just eight months the Kewaskum community will decide who obtains this seat on the board.

The candidate interviews:

Neal Weare did not even show for the interview. Dennis Aupperle (to the best of my recollection) only said the words "kids" or "students" or "children" a couple times in his responses to the questions above.

While I absolutely applaud and respect anyone who decides to run for the school board and to make such a personal commitment, I must question one's motives. In Mr. Ramthun's comments after all the interviews were conducted, he stated that the key word he was looking for in the candidate's responses was "oversight" and when Mr. Aupperle said that word during his interview that was the deciding factor for him.

I found this comment interesting because I was dumbfounded after Mr. Aupperle's interview that he didn't once reference his obligation to provide the best possible educational experience to the students of this district.

Wayne Sargent referenced the kids of this district being the most important numerous times during his interview. Saying things such as "students should always be first and foremost with regard to any decision made by the school board."

He also mentioned the direction of the board being of a concern for him and that was a reason he was applying for the vacancy. In another response he stated he would help maintain a positive, professional attitude and help the board comply to its own code of ethics policy.

I felt Mary Miller came prepared by distributing a copy of a letter she had previously provided to the board highlighting her qualifications. One most notably is her 12 years of experience as a KSD school board member.

Mary referenced the kids and providing them the best possible education while balancing the responsibility of a board member to do their best to operate within their fiscal constraints.

Of the most impressive answers, in my opinion, was her last: when the board asked her if she had any questions for them her response was 'No, not really because I pride myself in the fact that in the past 12 years I have only missed one board meeting and that was when my daughter was elected into the National Honor Society. So, I pretty much know all the activities of the board and their positions and policies on things.' WOW!

The actions of the board after the interviews:

Doug Gonnering nominated Mr. Aupperle and Tim Ramthun seconded the motion, even though this candidate didn't reference the students of the district once. Troy Hanson nominated Mary Miller and Sue Miller seconded the motion.

Even though Mr. Sargent's interview demonstrated a focus of balancing the students, professionalism, positivity and following a code of ethics, he wasn't even nominated.

Upon voting the board did not reach a four-vote majority needed to nominate one candidate. The decision now lies upon the board president, Mark Sette, who spoke favorably of Mary Miller's experience.

My thoughts and concerns:

To my knowledge, Mr. Aupperle, Mr. Sargent or Mr. Weare haven't even attended a recent (or ever in the past in one case) school board meeting. Even when Mary Miller lost to Doug Gonnering in the last election, she has attended every subsequent meeting, in her role as a citizen.

While Mr. Weare was a board member many, many years ago, he has certainly not recently attended any board meeting.

So how are they getting their news about the board? Certainly, they are relying on second-hand information rather than showing the commitment needed to just personally attend the meetings. I know we're all busy, but if you're going to nominate yourself to be on the board, at the very least attend the meetings beforehand so that you know what you're talking about!

Mr. Gonnering, Mr. Ramthun and Mr. Leister stated in their comments after the interviews that they didn't feel that someone who was recently voted out should be put back into office. That 'the people of Kewaskum spoke at the last election.'

While I honestly can say that I see their point, I have to disagree based on this particular situation. This position is up for election in April 2020. If someone with no experience is put into this seat, it will take them several months just to 'learn the ropes' and become acquainted. This is simply a practical decision for the board to decide upon, but they have (once again!) made it into a political one.

I feel the duty of the current board members is to appoint the most qualified person for this vacancy to make the board the most effective as possible for the sole purpose and benefit of the students. Then... as they themselves have stated... let the voters decide come April 2020.

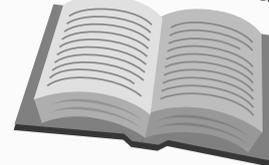

If any of them were business owners and they had an open position, would they fill that position with someone who has no experience or little knowledge of the job duties?

I feel there is no doubt that the most qualified person for this vacancy is Mary Miller. The "motives" of some on the board are obvious: "oversight" OVER "children."

My bottom line: I just wish this board would always put the kids first, consistently behave in a more professional manner and put more focus on the numerous positive things happening in our schools. Is that too much to ask?

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

Hello September. The month of leaves changing and cooler evenings, football and Packers and going back to school. In the library world, September is also Library Card Sign-Up Month. This is when libraries promote getting a library card; as it is an important step in academic achievement and lifelong learning. The ALA (American Library Association) is promoting this with the cast from Toy Story 4.

The ALA has recommendations on how to partake in this celebratory month. The first and foremost is to visit your library. Talk to others about how you use the library and if your friends or family members (or you, my delightful reader) do not have library cards, sign up for one this month. We are making it extra special this month for new library registrants or renewals. Every person from age 5 to 105 that signs up for a new card or renews their expired card will receive an entry form for a prize drawing. Toys, books, gift cards and more will be given away to some lucky card holders.

Social media has a huge presence during September for this promotion. Patrons are being asked to help spread the word about the value of libraries. Instagram asks you to share a photo of yourself with your library card with a chance to win $100. More information on this is at #GetLibraryCarded. Library Card Sign-Up Month will also be endorsed on Facebook and Twitter with a lot of encouragement to become involved and spread the word.

I end with this proclamation: Whereas, a library card is the most important school supply of all; Whereas, signing up for a library card is the first step towards academic achievement and lifelong learning; Whereas, libraries play an important role in the education and development of children; Whereas, library programs serve students of all ages, from early literacy to homework help to GED classes; Whereas, librarians lead the way in creating inclusive spaces and developing diverse collections for children and people of all backgrounds to connect and learn together;

Whereas, libraries bridge the digital divide by providing a full range of information and services to children and adult learners; Whereas, libraries continue to transform and expand their services in ways that meet the needs of the communities they serve; Whereas, libraries open a world of infinite possibilities through resources and services to help people pursue their passions and give students the tools to succeed in school and beyond;

I end with this proclamation:

Whereas, a library card is the most important school supply of all;

Whereas, signing up for a library card is the first step towards academic achievement and lifelong learning;

Whereas, libraries play an important role in the education and development of children;

Whereas, library programs serve students of all ages, from early literacy to homework help to GED classes;

Whereas, librarians lead the way in creating inclusive spaces and developing diverse collections for children and people of all backgrounds to connect and learn together;

Whereas, libraries bridge the digital divide by providing a full range of information and services to children and adult learners;

Whereas, libraries continue to transform and expand their services in ways that meet the needs of the communities they serve;

Whereas, libraries open a world of infinite possibilities through resources and services to help people pursue their passions and give students the tools to succeed in school and beyond;

Therefore, be it resolved that I, Lori Kreis, Library Director, proclaim September Library Card Sign-up Month in Kewaskum, Wisconsin and encourage everyone to sign up for their own library card today.

See you soon.

Washington County And FRIENDS, Inc. Signed Agreement To Improve Services

Washington County Children and Families and Friends, Inc. signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) this week to set ongoing expectations of both agencies to the community and to outline the most effective way to provide services and care for the families served.

"Child Protective Services and Friends, Inc. have had a positive, long standing relationship," said Julie Driscoll Human Services Director. "This agreement represented a renewed focus on streamlining communication and ensuring that safety and therapeutic services for kids and families experiencing both child maltreatment and domestic abuse are coordinated to the highest degree possible."

There is a well-established overlap between domestic abuse and the maltreatment of children. Nationally, the reported rate of overlap between violence against children and violence against women in the same family is 30-60 percent. Studies also show that children who witness domestic abuse have dramatic physiological changes to their brain and experience similar trauma to that of physical abuse.

"Yet, there are recognized barriers to providing the best care possible like confidentiality laws," added Friends, Inc. Executive Director Kate Nickel. "We were happy to be one of three partnerships within the state that received an award from the Wisconsin Department of Children and Families and End Domestic Abuse WI for technical assistance to break down these barriers."

"Partnering to ensure the community's basic needs are met providing care and assistance to improve the circumstances of those at-risk is a high priority for us and through this effort, we believe that we will enhance the safety of our children in their homes," added Driscoll. The Washington County Human Services Committee will hear from Children and Families and Friends, Inc. at their standing meeting in October.

The services of the Children and Families division support and enhance safe, responsible family functioning and the protection of children and our community. We help families to identify unsafe/risky behaviors and overcome struggles that limit ability to properly care for their children, including those challenged by disabilities. Our juvenile supervision services hold young people accountable for their behavior and assist them in developing the skills and abilities necessary to lead a safe productive life.

Serving Washington County since 1978, FRIENDS, Inc. is the sole provider of domestic and sexual violence programs. FRIENDS provides the following services confidentially and free of charge: emergency shelter, individual advocacy, case management, support groups, a transitional living program, legal services, children's individual and group art therapy, teen counseling and support groups, community education, and a 24-hour crisis line.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

OWI Case

A 50-year-old Town of Cedarburg man was arrested for his eighth offense OWI during this holiday weekend. Sheriff's deputies responded to the 2700 block of Hwy 175 on Sunday, Aug. 28, at 10:09 p.m. after the man attempted to leave a bar and tipped over his motorcycle twice.

The man failed sobriety testing, and a preliminary breath test showed a reported value in excess of .20. The man was arrested for OWI, Bail Jumping and Operation After Revocation. He remains in custody at the Washington County Jail.

So far in 2019, Washington County sheriff's deputies have arrested 133 individuals for drunk driving. Sheriff Schulteis indicated the main goal of OWI enforcement is reduce victimization to our community members on our highways by impaired drivers. The secondary goal is to raise the perception among drinking drivers that they will be stopped and investigated for drunk driving.

The sheriff further commented, "My message to drivers who don't heed the multitude of public safety warnings about drunk driving is simple. That was your warning."

Scam Alert Issued

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection is conducting an investigation and is seeking any Wisconsin businesses or farms who received a letter or email from "DotService.Com," informing them that their DOT number must be updated, or they may be fined up to $1,000 a day and have their DOT number deactivated. The sender of the letter is a privately owned business and is not affiliated or associated with the DOT.

The letter instructs the recipient to log into the website www.DotService.com and pay a $149 fee to complete their biennial update with the Federal Motor

Boltonville Street Dance Set For This Saturday

By Anne Trautner

The Boltonville Fire Department will hold its 24th annual Street Dance this Saturday, Sept. 7, in front of the Boltonville Fire Station, located at 9336 Bolton Drive in Boltonville.

"It's hard to believe it's our 24th year already. We try to make it bigger and better every year," said Dennis Fechter, a volunteer for the Boltonville Fire Department.

The evening will kick off at 5 p.m. when the grills are fired up to make hamburgers and brats. Food and beverages will be available for purchase in the upper floor of the firehouse.

The group Rebel Grace will perform live country music from 8:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m.

"The band always tells us that if they could perform at only two events during the year, they would be at Boltonville Rain Days and Boltonville Street Dance," Fechter said. "It is such a fun picnic atmosphere when you come to Boltonville."

In addition to food, beverages and music, the event will feature raffles. All proceeds will go toward the remodeling project that the Boltonville Fire Station went through this past year.

"We totally renovated the exterior of the building, with new roofing, new overhangs and new windows," Fechter said. "If you haven't seen it, you should stop and take a look at it — it is one of the nicest looking firehouses in the county. It is really gorgeous. The community did a fantastic job on it."

The renovation did more than improve the building's looks. The new exterior also helps keep the building cooler during the summer and warmer during the winter. Plus it fixed any leaks that previously existed.

Boltonville Street Dance traditionally marks the end of the picnic season, which started with Boltonville Rain Days in May.

"Be sure to come out this weekend to Boltonville, where the picnic season begins and ends. It's a fun night for family and friends to hang out at one of the last bashes of the year," Fechter said.

He reminds everyone to mark their calendars for Boltonville Rain Days, which will be held on Memorial Day weekend in 2020...only 37 weeks from now.

Road Work Completed On County Trunk WW

The Washington County Highway Department has repaved Washington County Trunk Highway (CTH) WW from CTH D in Kohlsville to State Highway 33, and the road is now open to all traffic.

Sight distances have been improved at the intersection of CTH WW and Beaver Dam Road and drainage improvements have also been made on this three-mile stretch of county highway in the towns of Adison and Wayne.

The Washington

County Highway Department appreciates everyone's patience and extra caution as the department improves and maintains Washington County's roadways, striving for effective mobility and reliable infrastructure.

OBITUARIES

James R. Bauer

James R. "Jim" Bauer, 75, of Kewaskum, passed away on Thursday, August 29, 2019, at Kathy Hospice in the town of Polk, with his family at his side.

Jim was born on May 27, 1944, in West Bend, the son of the late Alvin and Rose (nee Devidek) Bauer. On October 16, 1971, he was united in marriage to JoAnn Thill at Holy Angels Catholic Church in West Bend. Jim loved gardening, mowing the lawn, playing cards, sheephead and his most beloved game, Coufere. He could predict a snowstorm better than any meteorologist around and he enjoyed gambling and going on daytrips with JoAnn and their friends. Jim loved going out to eat and always had a good joke to tell.

Those Jim leaves behind to cherish his memory include his wife, JoAnn; three children, Jennifer Sheehy (Steven Rindt) of West Bend, Thomas Bauer of Kewaskum, Michael Bauer of Kewaskum; his mother-in-law, Ann Thill; his in-laws, Donald (Cheryl) Thill, Kathleen (Roger) Mertz, and Robert (Diane) Klesmith; other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents, Jim was preceded in death by a daughter, Mary Bauer; a son-in-law, Michael Sheehy; a nephew, Steven Mertz; a niece, Jodi Klesmith; and his father-in-law, Elmer Thill.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Jim was held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, September 4, 2019, at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, 331 Main Street, in Kewaskum. Rev. Jacob Strand officiated and burial will take place at 10 a.m. on Thursday, September 5, at Holy Trinity Catholic Cemetery in Kewaskum.

Jim's family greeted relatives and friends at the church on Wednesday from 3 p.m. until the time of Mass.

The family would like to express their appreciation to Dr. Burfeind and Dr. Lacey and the whole cancer center; the wound care staff; and to Kathy Hospice for their wonderful care and concern for Jim.

Memorials can be sent to Kathy Hospice or Interfaith in Jim Bauer's name.

The Myrhum Patten Miller & Kietzer Funeral Homes have been entrusted with Jim's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.myrhum-patten.com.

united in marriage to Elizabeth "Betsy" Walker at St. Bernard Catholic Church in Wauwatosa, WI. Together they had nine children, all of whom are either physicians or attorneys, of which he was most proud.

After serving as a Captain and a dentist in the United States Army in Germany, Tony practiced dentistry for nearly 50 years. He never turned down a patient, whether they had the ability to afford the services or not. He moved his family from Milwaukee to his beloved farm in Farmington in 1969, where he enlisted in his children a strong work ethic. In his free time, he enjoyed polka music and playing the accordion. He especially enjoyed spending time with Betsy, his children and grandchildren around the big farmhouse kitchen table. He will be dearly missed by his family and friends.

Those Tony leaves behind to cherish his memory include his nine children, Deborah Strigenz of Kewaskum, Michael (Mary) Strigenz of Fond du Lac, Mark (Christine) Strigenz of Wauwatosa, Andrew (Christina) Strigenz of Clyde Hill, Washington, Anthony (Diane) Strigenz of Fond du Lac, Elizabeth (Mark) Bensen of West Bend, Thomas (Mandy) Strigenz of Papillion, Nebraska, Timothy (Dierdre) Strigenz of Bozeman, Montana, and Carrie (Greg) Miljevich of Rhinelander; 22 grandchildren, David, Rebecca, Sarah, Daniel, Michael, Catherine, Anna, Adam, Nathan, Alec, Matthew, Scott, Heidi, Elizabeth, Hannah, Ally, Quinn, Grace, Evelyn, Sophie, Ella, and Max; three great-grandchildren, Belle, Miles, and Emmie; his sister, Maryanne New; two brothers-in-law, David (Thelma) Walker and Thomas II (Mary Jean) Walker; a sister-in-law, Mary (John) Closs; and many nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents, Tony was preceded in death by his wife, Betsy Strigenz; his brother, Ken (Pat) Strigenz; and his two brothers-in-law, Wade and John Walker.

A Mass of Christian Burial in remembrance of Tony was held on Monday, September 2, 2019 at 10 a.m. at St. Michaels Catholic Church, 8883 Forest View Road, Kewaskum, WI.

The family greeted relatives and friends at the church on Monday from 8:30 a.m. until the time of Mass.

A special thank you to the staff at St. Agnes Hospital and Father Strand for all their help and care.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to St. Michaels Catholic Church, the Dr. Anthony and Betsy Strigenz Youth Scholarship at Kewaskum High School or Marquette University Dental School are appreciated.

The Myrhum Patten Miller & Kietzer Funeral Homes have been entrusted with Tony's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.myrhum-patten.com

Public Hearing To Be Held On ATV Use In Village

ATVs are also now allowed on roads in the towns of Kewaskum, Wayne, Farmington and Scott. The towns of Auburn and Ashford have passed ordinances that allow ATVs on the roadways, and the ordinances will go into effect when signs have been posted on the roads.

ATV club members have been raising funds for all signs that have been posted in surrounding areas. They would do the same if an ordinance passes in Kewaskum, so there will be no cost to the village.

"We actually go to the businesses that are going to benefit from this," Kempke said. "We raised all the money for the signs, and so far not a single town has paid a dime."

ATV club members also coordinate the signage with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation to ensure that the signs are posted correctly.

"We are going out of our way to make sure it is done right and properly and legally," Kempke told the village board on August 19.

"I support the idea; I just want to make sure that everyone is comfortable with the idea, because there are concerns in our village," Village President Kevin Scheunemann said.

Police Chief Tom Bishop raised some questions at the August 19 board meeting.

"I have some concerns, such as you only have to be 12 years old to operate an ATV," Bishop said. "The enforcement of that is pretty difficult for officers."

Kempke said that ATV drivers who are younger than 16 must be within verbal distance of a parent.

"That is not in your house looking at them, it is verbal distance," he said.

Other Village Matters

Other action at the August 19 Village Board meeting included:

- The Village Board approved the Kewaskum Way Triathlon, part of which will be held on village property, on September 14. The triathlon will include kayaking 1.5 miles on the Milwaukee River, biking five miles on the Eisenbahn Trail and running two miles on the Eisenbahn Trail and ending in the village. The event will raise funds for the Kewaskum High School PBIS (Positive Behavior Intervention System) program.

- The Village Board approved a gift of a pool season pass for Kewaskum Youth Basketball raffle.

- The board directed Village Administrator Matt Heiser to come up with wording to clarify a zoning code to say that parking lots should be made of paved asphalt; however, the planning commission can make an exception that allows for crushed asphalt for low use, low density parking lots.

- Following a closed session, the board tabled taking action on an agreement regarding a Kewaskum Library Foundation land donation.

- Following a closed session, the board tabled taking action on a contract with T-Mobile.

Dr. Anthony J. Strigenz

Dr. Anthony "Tony" Joseph Strigenz, DDS, 87, of Kewaskum was born into Eternal Life on Wednesday, August 28, 2019 at St. Francis Home in Fond du Lac.

He was born on November 25, 1931, to the late Anton and Catherine (nee Hoffer) Strigenz in Milwaukee. He graduated from Custer High School and went onto Milwaukee State Teacher's College, then graduated from Marquette University Dental School in 1955. On August 20, 1955, he was

Women's Day In The Outdoors

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit announces a brand new event — Women's Day in the Outdoors. The event will be held on Saturday, Sept. 14, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area. Mauthe Lake, which is located off County Road GGG south of County Road SS near New Prospect. There is a $5 per person fee to cover the cost of the lunch.

We invite women (ages 12 and up) to join us for an action-packed day of learning outdoor skills. Everyone will learn how to avoid outdoor hazards and what to pack for a day of adventure. With a team of accomplished experts, safely build a fire and cook your lunch over the open flames.

Participants then pick two of the following skills for the afternoon sessions: archery, fishing, wild edibles, knot tying, setting up camp, and staying found. By the end of the day, women will have gained basic skills for safely enjoying a variety of great outdoor activities.

For further information and to register by Monday, Sept. 9, contact the Ice Age Visitor Center staff at (920) 533-8322. The center's hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Solving Mysteries Of Hibernation

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit kicks off this season's Evening with Nature series with "Solving the Mysteries of Hibernation."

The program will be held on Thursday, Sept. 12, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center is located at N2875 Highway 67, Campbellsport, which is a half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

Here in the North Country, many mammals cope with winter's hardships by hibernating. Now with autumn's arrival, they are preparing for their winter slumber and starting the yearly cycle once again.

Join UW-Madison hibernation experts as they unravel the mysteries of how hibernation works for mammals. Learn how the gut microbiome factors in this incredible adaptation for surviving frigid temperatures along with the lack of food, and how any of these hibernation discoveries relate to humans taking long spaceflights.

For further information or directions contact the Ice Age Visitor Center staff at (920) 533-8322. The center's hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

One person is dead after a crash on Highway 41 involving three vehicles closed the north and south lanes of the road for almost five hours. The Wisconsin State Patrol reported the crash occurred at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 9, on a stretch between Highway D and Highway 28 in the Town of Wayne.

Residents in Beechwood woke up Friday morning to some changes at Beechwood Lake. An overnight weather event is believed to have shifted about one-half to one-acre of cattails on the lake from the north to the south side taking the fishing pier along on the ride. In the process, the cattails covered an aerator in the lake, however no damage affected to aerator. The cattails were reported to have shifted back to their original location, but with a storm pending it is unknown if they will stay.

Area volunteer fire departments had a busy day and evening Friday as two residential fires broke out in Washington and Sheboygan Counties. The first fire occurred at 3:22 p.m. when the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of a possible garage fire in the Town of Farmington. The entire home suffered severe damage and is believed to be a complete loss. Damage estimates to the home are between $300,000 and $350,000. Later Friday evening at 9:30 p.m. the Sheboygan County Sheriff's Office was notified of a fire in the roof of a home owned by Chris Morin in the Town of Scott. Batavia Fire Chief Dennis Schulz said the fire ignited due to the homeowner placing a bug bomb in the eaves of the structure to smoke out a large hornets' nest. The bomb quickly caught fire and the fire spread throughout the attic of the structure. Firefighters were on the scene for more than nine hours.

In July, a Kewaskum police officer apprehended an off duty Cedarburg Police officer for stealing a trailer hitch from a truck from a downtown tavern's parking lot. Now, that officer has resigned. Twenty-four year-old Thomas Boisvert had been with the Cedarburg Police Department for a little over a year. He quit the force after receiving a $145.40 citation for the theft. Boisvert has pleaded not guilty and he's set to appear in court September 18.

Eugene Hetebrueg from Allenton has received a $3,000 grant from the Department of Commerce's Dairy 2020 Program. The grants are designed to revitalize the dairy industry. Hetebrueg says he will use the funds to hire professional services necessary to evaluate expanding his dairy farm. Hetebrueg received one of ten grants handed out by the state.

A donation of $2,547.98 was proudly presented to the Muscular Dystrophy Association in Milwaukee by Kewaskum Fire Department members Larry Martin and Tim Miller, in the culmination of the department's "Fill the Boot" campaign. Several area businesses continue to respond. The department sincerely appreciates the support.

While it's nice to have a few easy matches during the course of a season, many coaches would like to see their teams tested in the early going. That has not happened yet for the Kewaskum girls tennis team, which once again rolled to a convincing 7-0 victory last Thursday. The romp came over a very inexperienced Chilton squad, and it left KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt eagerly waiting for a tough opponent.

Day football made its official debut here last Friday afternoon, and just like the old deteriorating lights that had to be taken down, Kewaskum offense didn't sparkle too brightly. Despite rolling up large chunks of yardage, the Indians couldn't convert when it needed to against Horicon in a non-conference affair. In addition, a pair of miscues by the KHS offense led to eight Marshmen points, giving the visitors a 14-7 victory.

A son, Matthew Lehman, was born to Lay and Diane Rosenheimer, West Bend, on August 23,

A son, Zachary Allen, was born to Dean and Rachelle Gassner, Campbellsport, on August 24.

On Sunday afternoon, fire of unknown origin, completely destroyed the barn on the Henry Opper farm, located in the Town of Auburn, formerly known as the Frank Quandt farm. A threshing outfit, belonging to Fred Zielicke, was in the barn at the time, and Mr. Zielicke was looking over the machine, preparing same for Monday's work, when smoke was noticed. Through the able assistance of Mr. Opper and sons the threshing machine was saved. The fire consumed this year's entire crop of hay and grain. The loss is estimated at $3,000 partly covered by insurance.

Last week Friday, George Petri of Wayne sold his entire stock of merchandise to Friend Brothers of Chicago. M.D. Davidson, a representative of Friend Brothers, has been appointed manager of the entire stock and will hold a big sale beginning September 9, during which time all groceries, hardware, tinware, crockery, paints, oils and all household utensils will be disposed of at greatly reduced prices. Mr. Petri intends to retire from business and offers for sale all his property at Wayne. With the closing of this business one of the oldest stores in Washington County goes out of existence. The store was built about sixty years ago by the late Wendel Petri, who continued to manage same until his death when his son George took charge of it, who managed same up to the present time. As this was the only store in Wayne, the citizens of that place will in the future have to travel a great distance to buy their merchandise.

Miss Josephine Blum, daughter of Mrs. Ida Blum and Edward Bassil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bassil of this village quietly married on Tuesday at the Evangelical Lutheran St. Lucas Church.

The work of razing the old Casey residence, located on Main Street, and recently purchased by the Theresa Telephone Company, was commenced this week. As soon as the old buildings have been torn down the company will immediately start to build a new modernly equipped central station on said place.

9/11 MEMORIAL

So It Goes

Patriot Day

By Andrew Johnson
Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial board member, Gold Star father

The terrorist attacks on the citizens of the United States on September 11, 2001 forever changed how every one of us lives. It represents an era of terrorism from enemies both foreign and domestic. Although the enemy may differ, terrorist attacks continue, even within our borders at places such as schools.

The terrorists want their way and want Americans to live in fear. Americans clearly reject these ideas and instead will do everything necessary to prevent further attacks and will use force to defend against our enemies when necessary, and sometimes with great cost.

Unfortunately, the new reality since 9/11 is that this fight will never end as long as Americans embrace the idea of freedom. We need to learn from our past experiences and move forward with a new normal.

On a local level, this is the very purpose of the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Kewaskum Remembers project. It is Wisconsin's physical memorial which represents the events of 9/11, a place of reflection and inspiration to positively move forward.

The events of 9/11 affect us daily. To me, it is most apparent at airports or when I walk into a school or mail a package at the post office. Security is a real concern and it should be. It seems like the number of stories carried by the national media about domestic or foreign terrorist activities has increased the past few years.

Another change is the way our police, fire, EMS and first responders work together to keep us safe – even right here at home in rural Wisconsin. More of our local resources are being dedicated to prevention and dealing with terrorist-related attacks. These folks need our full support.

In June, my wife and I visited the National Infantry's Museum's national memorial to the Global War On Terrorism which honors all who have served and continue to serve since 9/11, located at Fort Benning near Atlanta, Ga. The memorial includes eight granite panels etched with the names of nearly 7,000 Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Marines who have died in service since 9/11.

There were more than 4,400 killed (more than 31,000 wounded) from fighting the terrorists in the Iraq War and 2,300 killed (more than 20,000 wounded) in the Afghanistan War. My wife, Laura, found our son's name on the 2012 panel and traced it on paper.

It was interesting to see that the central part of the memorial is part of a beam from the World Trade Center North Tower. A piece of a similar beam will also be the central part of the memorial in Kewaskum currently under construction. I think the beam is a physical reminder of the death and destruction caused by terrorists on that fateful day, as well as America's response which includes a huge military sacrifice.

It is appropriate that Wisconsin's 9/11 memorial is being built in Kewaskum. It is the only place in the state where a family lost a loved one, Andrea Haberman, who was killed in the World Trade Center on 9/11.

It is located within two hours from the state's most populated areas. Earlier this year, the Washington County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed a resolution recognizing the memorial as the county's official 9/11 memorial. This laid the groundwork for obtaining some kind of official recognition from the state legislature which we (the 9/11 memorial board) anticipate will happen soon.

It has been an exciting year for the memorial in Kewaskum. There was much public awareness and the project's influence changed from a local-only project to a countywide and now statewide influence.

Design plans were completed and actual construction along the Hwy 45 site, situated in front of the Village of Kewaskum's Annex building across the street from Miller Furniture store, started and is well under way for two of the five phases of the project which are building of the inner circle, complete with learning centers and part of a steel Tower and military flag display and tribute area.

Our board wanted to hold our annual ceremony this year at the Kewaskum site on Wednesday, Sept. 11, but decided it would be impractical due to current construction. However, we do plan on having an unveiling when the steel from the North Tower is mounted at the site, which we anticipate will be sometime this fall. We will keep you posted.

It is also our hope that the state's official annual service on September 11 will be held in Kewaskum next year.

Part of a beam from the North Tower of the World Trade Center is the central component of the U.S. Army's Global War on Terror Memorial at Fort Benning, GA, for all members of the military who gave the ultimate sacrifice.

Wayne Swenson and Gordon Haberman examine dents on a steel I-beam that was recovered from the World Trade Center. The beam will be raised at the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial in Kewaskum. photo by Anne Trautner

The idea comes from a conceptual drawing done by architect Dustin Melzark, a Kewaskum High School graduate. Peter Kudlata of Flagstone Landscaping took that concept and designed the entire memorial.

When completed, the 2,200-pound steel I-beam will be raised into the air at an angle, which is an engineering feat in and of itself. Matt Christianson, an engineer with CORE4engineering in Mequon, donated his time to ensure the design is structurally sound.

There are bubbles and dents along the surface of the steel beam. It is scarred from when the World Trade Center collapsed.

"That took a lot of force to make those dents in the one-inch thick I-beam," Swenson said.

In order to attach the beam to the base, one of the steel plates was cut so it would go around the contour of a dent.

"We don't want to take out any of those dents; we wanted to leave everything on the beam the way it was. The beam is sacred to me," Swenson explained.

The steel beam will be covered with a clear patina paint to preserve its rust color.

The beam is expected to be brought to its new home at the memorial site this fall. Once it is attached to the base, the steel beam will be raised at an angle, pointing east toward New York City.

Learning Stations
 The steel beam will be placed on a pentagon-shaped piece of concrete that is now in place at the center of the site. Each point of the pentagon is oriented toward what will be one of five interactive learning stations that will educate visitors about:

- The twin towers.
- The airline crews and passengers.
- The first responders who gave their lives.
- The volunteers who worked at Ground Zero during the aftermath.
- The military flag display and tribute area.

Future Plans

The Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial is still in need of funds to complete construction and to build up an maintenance endowment fund.

The plan is for the learning centers to be encompassed by a circular, bluestone patio ringed by red granite, which is Wisconsin's state stone. Surrounding the granite will be a ring of pear trees, anchored by Calatrava white roses.

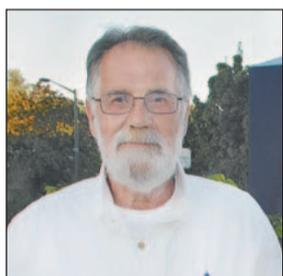

The second stage of construction includes completing an outer circle around the memorial, featuring a corten steel wall with the names of all those who were lost on September 11, 2001.

The final phase will include finalizing the parking area and walkways to the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial.

9/11 Reflections From A Father

By Gordon G. Haberman

As the 18th anniversary of the cowardly, yet bold attacks, of September 11, 2001, fast again approaches, I have been asked to write my thoughts on the passage of years as our family marks yet another one since our beloved daughter and sister Andrea was killed along with 2,976 other innocents that day.

For me, it is on the anniversary that her loss hits me, with full force, in the center of my heart. I remember it all; the feeling of frantic hopelessness at home, our attempts to find her in New York, which then turned to utter disbelief and shock when I first

My heart still sinks at those memories. I still get anxious when I think of what Andrea endured before the North Tower collapsed and she was killed.

And while the years have passed, and the grief does not fade, the pain has become less sharp and the memories of her life before 9/11 have become more enjoyable and laughter is easier to come. This process of remembering those happy family memories and events, as opposed to being consumed with attempting to understand those who hate and were responsible for committing the monstrous act of 9/11, has taken me many years.

While I am still determined to seek justice against those individuals and those countries responsible for 9/11, I am less inclined to anger.

Despite losing a family member, we have gained a new family, one bound together by tragedy. We as individuals and collectively as a country, have become stronger by denying the perpetrators the victory they so desperately sought. Along this journey, I have learned a great deal about our communities, our country and our citizens. America and its people are compassionate, resilient and are capable of infinite kindness.

However, the facts of the events of the 9/11 attack, of the bravery of our first responders and our brave servicemen and women, are becoming foggier. It is important that this be combatted with knowledge and facts.

Construction has begun on the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial, Kewaskum Remembers. It will stand to educate visitors to the memorial of the individual facets of 9/11. It will stand to honor the victims, those who responded and saved thousands while facing death themselves, and of the bravery of those in the airplanes who prevented the attack from becoming a worse atrocity.

Those who toiled to recover the pieces of shattered lives for the families will also be honored. Many of these tradespeople are succumbing to terrible diseases as a result of their volunteer service at Ground Zero. It is predicted the number killed by these diseases will eclipse the number who were killed on 9/11.

Prominent within the memorial will be a designated area which honors the brave members of America's armed forces who have voluntarily placed themselves in harm's way in the ensuing conflicts in which this country has been involved. Nearly 7,000 have been killed since 9/11, with another 53,000 injured. Suicide among returning servicemen has become an epidemic, with 21 dying per day.

should be more than words on a bumper sticker. The cost has been too great.

That Kewaskum has embraced the memorial is a testament to the compassion and giving nature of this community. From the start, by initiating the process to obtain an artifact from the North Tower, to the design now being constructed, citizens and businesses, local and statewide, have embraced the importance and need for a place which will combat the misinformation which surrounds 9/11, and to promote discourse about an event which changed the course of all of us.

The Wisconsin 9/11

Memorial, Kewaskum Remembers, will also stand in celebration of the power which one small municipality in America and in Wisconsin wields.

Please consider purchasing an engraved brick to be placed in the memorial walkways and please visit our website www.wisconsin911memorial.com for further information.

—Editor's note: Haberman's daughter Andrea Haberman, a graduate of Kewaskum High School, was killed in the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001.

Early Farm Days To Be Held This Sunday

By Anne Trautner

People can step back in time on Sunday, Sept. 8, at Early Farm Days in Kewaskum. The event, which is free of charge, will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at River Hill Park, located between the Milwaukee River and the Eisenbahn Trail.

Sponsored by the Kewaskum Historical Society, the event dates back to 1975. As usual, the event will feature steam and gas engines, as well as threshing and antique farm machinery.

This year's celebration will highlight model makers and toys.

Ron Markus of the Kewaskum Historical Society is one of the model makers that will have a display at the event.

Markus started creating models in the 1950s. Since then, he has made somewhere in the neighborhood of 30 detailed models. Most are of farm machinery and things from the past.

He spends many hours working on each item.

"It is a labor of love," he explained.

Markus does not follow a kit to create his masterpieces.

"I usually take pictures of what I'm going to make, and then I do my best to reproduce what I saw," he said. "I have a fairly good eye for details, and I try to make the item as close to the original as I can."

His latest creation is a potato digger that he made last winter.

"I had taken pictures of the potato digger at our Early Farm Days last year," Markus explained.

Like all of his models, Markus used whatever he could get his hands on to make the miniature potato digger.

"I made it out of steel, as I do most of the stuff that I make," the former toolmaker said. "I have a team of horses on it, which I carved out of wood."

Markus finished off each piece with a coat of paint. Like his other models, the potato digger is an exact replica with moving parts.

"The wheels go around, and the potato digger goes into action as the wheels go around, although I don't have any way of making it go without manually turning the wheels. I can't get them horses to pull it," Markus joked.

When he completed the potato digger, he placed it into a spot on a trailer where he stores his other models.

"The potato digger is about 24 inches long, with the team of horses on it, so it is a rather nice size — it fit into the spot on my trailer where there was a vacancy," Markus said.

He is not sure how many other model makers will be at this year's Early Farm Days.

"The poster says model makers and toys, and some boys have all kinds of bigger toys. I would imagine that there are going to be many, many bigger toys there," Markus said.

Those toys will include old farm equipment and antique cars.

"I heard some fellows talking about bringing their Model T's," Markus said.

Exhibitors are expected to come from all around the area for Kewaskum's Early Farm Days event.

"A lot of really good exhibitors that are not exactly from Kewaskum always come because they like the show-grounds," Markus stated.

Anyone with old farm equipment is welcome to display their items at the show.

"We hope there is some good and strange farm equipment that comes to surface," Markus said.

The event, which has become a tradition in Kewaskum, offers a chance for the entire community to share and enjoy the area's past through exhibits and demonstrations. There is food, music and fun for the whole family.

Both the main museum building and the log cabin will be open for the day. There will be horse-drawn wagon rides, a petting zoo and live music. Food and beverages will be available for purchase, including homemade pies.

"There is free admission and very good food," Markus said. "Everyone should come and have fun."

Little Folks School House

Little Folks School House is owned by Dodie Sargent. She brings 33 years of experience, receiving her training at U.N.H. and UW-Milwaukee. The Assistant Director, Jennifer Melzark has 16 years in the field and received her training at Marian College. Along with Dodie and Jennifer are 23 employees.

Little Folks is rated 5 stars by the Wisconsin Youngstar program and Nationally Accredited. The majority of the teachers have two or four year degrees and are dedicated to providing quality childcare.

Dodie provided licensed family childcare from 1983-1997 and opened the group center (Little Folks School House) in 1997 in the Town of Wayne. After outgrowing the Wayne building, they built a bigger center in Kewaskum which opened in 2006. There are five classrooms, three age separated fenced playgrounds, a coded secured entry and camera monitored classrooms. They also provide before and after school care at Little Folks and Kewaskum Elementary School. Little Folks also serves as a teaching center for Moraine Park Technical College. Students are placed with them every semester for their practicum experience where the Little Folks teachers mentor them.

Little Folks strives to form working partnerships with families. They respect the parent's insights and concerns and want them to feel comfortable leaving their children in their care, knowing they will be safe and nurtured as they help to develop and grow.

Kewaskum Bookies Book Club Announces Book Selections

The Kewaskum Bookies Book Club meets the last Tuesday of each month, excluding December at 9:30 a.m. in the Kewaskum Public Library. New members are always welcome.

The following is the Kewaskum Bookies Book Club List for 2019-2020:

- September 24 — I Am Malala, by Malala Yousafzai: Autobiography of the girl who stood up for education and was shot by the Taliban.

- October 22 — The Bean Trees, by Barbara Kingsolver: Clear-eyed and spirited Taylor Greer grew up poor in rural Kentucky with the goal of avoiding pregnancy and getting away. But when she heads West with high hopes and a barely functioning car, she meets the human condition head on.

- November 26 — The Library Book, by Susan Orlean: Chronicles the unsolved mystery of the most catastrophic library fire in American history, and delivers a dazzling love letter to a beloved institution—our libraries.

- January 28 — Little Fires Everywhere, by Celeste Ng: A riveting novel that traces the intertwined fates of the picture-perfect Richardson family and the enigmatic mother and daughter who upend their lives. The setting is Shaker Heights, Ohio where the author grew up.

- February 25 — Eleanor Oliphant Is Completely Fine, by Gail Honeywell: The story of an out-of-the-ordinary heroine whose deadpan weirdness and unconscious wit make for an irresistible journey. No one's ever told Eleanor that life should be better than fine.

- March 24 — The Death And Life Of The Great Lakes, by Dan Egan: The Great Lakes hold 20 percent of the world's fresh water and provide sustenance, work and recreation for tens of millions of Americans. But they are under threat as never before, and their problems are spreading across the continent.

- April 28 — The Next Year In Havana, by Chanelle Cleten: After the death of her beloved grandmother, a Cuban-American woman travels to Havana, where she discovers the roots of her identity.

- May 26 — Less, by Andrew Sean Greer: This book follows gay writer Arthur Less while he travels the world on a literary tour as his fiftieth birthday looms. Winner of the 2018 Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

Letters Home...

Dear Irma,

May 14, 1943

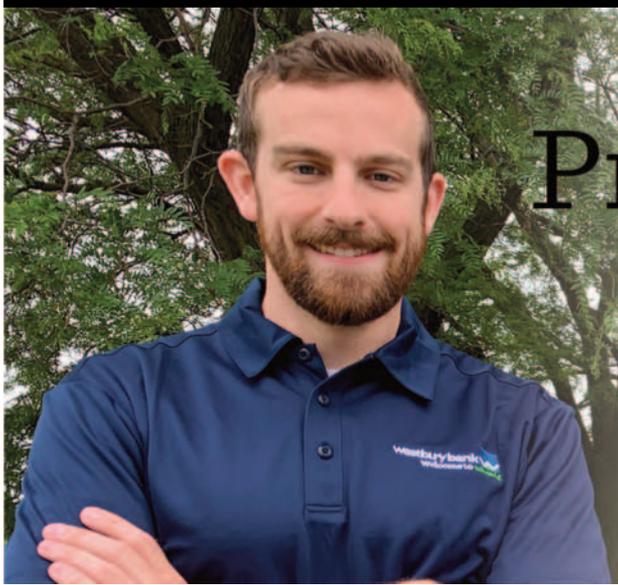

Your certainly a life saver because today, Friday, was a really tough day, about 90 degrees to 100 degrees in the shade and then march, drill and carry pack bayonet rifle and gas mask all day, double time run about each 200 yards in 3 miles length then when we came back to camp and had supper the nights kitchen duties fellows were read off everyone in my barrack on the list. But first the mail was handed out and I got your letter and believe me I didn't mind the work at all for I hadn't heard from anyone from home in 2 weeks (except from mother in the noon mail). I really felt that I had dropped off from the edge of the world in those 2 weeks as far as hearing from friends at home. I never cared much for letter writing, but since I'm in the army thats about the best thing for fellows that get lonely streaks (usually Sunday nites). In your doing ok made me feel good all over, but don't spoil your chances of having a good time, not that I don't care but hate to see you lonely (splash is all in fun). I bet you had a rampus at our house (boy that gave me a itching to be home that supper, lake opening, ball game the gang and you). But the war still goes on. Notice the change of my address from the 16th Bat to the 15th Bat. This battalion as our Capt. said is the "Cream of the Crop" in which I only got 4 weeks basic training and the other 9 weeks schooling, in "Message Center" this schooling consists of coding and decoding, messages and carrying them out to proper places, it also deals with radio, wire & telephone. Out of approximately 45,000 men in camp - 200 men were picked in this branch of message center. I think the only reason that I'm in this is that I got my schooling in Campbell School District No3. So this is as close as I got to the Air Corps so far. About your picture I do want one because each one in my barrack (16) is waving some female picture around, so I'll give them some competition. I had my picture taken yesterday (it was compulsory for military files) but if they turn out decent which I have little hopes of I will send you one if you like to have one. I'm feeling fine and doing very well under this Alabama sun. thank you and hows yourself. hope its answers your question. I found your pictures alright, but that one where the both of you are in night gowns I'm wondering whether your still sleeping and come home with a hang over (Say your dog really looks cute on there) I can talk freely because Alabama is more than a arms length away so you can't pull my nose. (but wouldn't mind having it pulled once ever so often again). In the past 2 weeks and 2 days I haven't been to bed later than 10:30p getting to be a army habit not a hobby. I wonder if Sally stayed at our house that Sun. nite or don't you know who drove that night, tell me more about the ball game, yourself, and the like, so don't tell me you don't know any news. Say hello to Cd, Lauretta and Beulah for me please. Tomorrow is inspection so I better get my rifle cleaned or else it gives K.P.

Love Roger

P.S. Write soon because you wouldn't realize what a letter means to anyone in the army and so far away, it's a little more than a quarter of a mile now and to skate this distance is what you would call tough sledding. no ice get it.

Letter sent home from Roger Reindl to Irma during WWII.

Over 200 Attend County's Fiscal Health Informational Presentation

– County Officials Recommend Dumping POWTS Fee

Following hundreds of public comments to a fee for mandated services regulating septic systems, county officials responded by scheduling an informational session on the county's fiscal health forecast. The session held on Tuesday, Aug. 27, was attended by over 200 citizens, featured a presentation by County Administrator Joshua Schoemann, and included the participation of many county board members. The meeting follows an August 22, Land Use and Planning Committee recommendation of a "no" on the proposed fee. A final vote by the full County Board is likely to occur in October.

"I will be recommending that the County Board vote no," said County Administrator Joshua Schoemann at last night's informational meeting. Regardless of the vote on the fee proposal, the proposed fee will not be included in the administrator's recommended budget which requires a 2/3 majority vote to pass. "Simply put, an $11 fee is not worth tearing apart Washington County."

The Fiscal Health Informational meeting focused on the county's structural deficit and the challenges caused by annual expenses outpacing property tax limits. The result: shrinking government, seeking shared services with surrounding units of government and discussing revenue diversity. Details were provided about how Washington County is accomplishing these results:

- 2019 marks the lowest tax rate in 100+ years

- 2019 property tax levy (the amount collected by the county) is lower than 2009

- Total employees have decreased by 6.2 percent (54) since 2009

- Low priority programs have been cut completely

- Shared services are being implemented to save taxpayer dollars.

The presentation named the county's park entrance fee, solar now initiative, and facility rental program as revenues that have been implemented. Other, less popular, revenues did not move forward. The POWTS fee is another revenue diversification discussion.

"We 'fail fast' in Washington County," added Schoemann, "and we will continue to propose new ideas, seek feedback, implement and repeat."

County officials called on constituents to get involved, continue providing feedback and be a part of the solutions.

Kettle Moraine Angels Going Strong

By Andrea Hansen Abler

A new group formed in the Long Lake area a year ago with a goal to help their community. The Kettle Moraine Angels were formed in the summer of 2018.

"We have 27 members and are always looking for more," said Mary Fuller.

Mary along with Terry Mahler, Diana Corbeil and Patty Colon were four of the founding members of the Angels. They had all been involved in a similar group in another town and wanted to try to bring something like that to this area.

"We decided why don't we do this ourselves," Terry said.

"It was a reason to get together, really," added Diana. "There was nothing like it in this area."

The group has become a non-profit with a goal of fundraising to help local people in need. Their meetings are one way they raise money.

"We have a monthly meeting," Terry said. "We are a legit non-profit."

The meeting is always the third Thursday of the month. They like to go somewhere for their meetings.

"Sometimes it's a fun dinner," Terry said. "We try to support our area businesses."

At each meeting, someone signs up to bring a raffle basket. The basket can contain whatever the person decides or the theme they chose.

This basket is then raffled off during the meeting, with the money raised going toward the group's charities. They have been working on some other fundraising projects.

"We have a meat raffle in the works," Mary said. "We're starting slow but steadily."

As for where the money is given, that is a group decision. They try to stay away from donating to organizations or other established charities.

The Angels like to donate their money to area residents who are in need. They may have had a fire or an accident or a health issue or any number of reasons a family or person is going through a hardship.

"We've donated to people mostly in crisis," Mary said.

For example, at the time of this interview, the group was planning to donate some money to the Olla family. This Kewaskum family lost one son and four others were injured in a terrible car accident in May.

Though the main function of the group is to help others in need, another perk is the friendships. They all enjoy getting together and socializing with each other once a month.

"We've become like a family," Mary said. "The camaraderie is great!"

Though the group only started one year ago, it has grown quite a bit. This is especially impressive because they have only looked for members by word-of-mouth.

"I think we were shooting for 15-20 members," Mary said. Now they have close to 30. "We're proud of that. We could have only dreamt for this number."

They would encourage members to bring a friend to a meeting as a way to introduce new people to the Angels. "We give gifts to whoever brings a guest and the guest," Diana said.

As the group continues to grow, they are also continuing to work on the basics of the organization. A time consuming and difficult step was recently achieved when the Angels were classified an official non-profit organization.

"That was a long process," Diana said.

Next is organizing the group a little more. They are planning to have committees and a board.

"We have a strategic plan," Terry said.

Mary added, "We're trying to get more people involved."

They are hoping to get a website going in the future and currently have a Facebook page for members only. They are working on bylaws, articles of incorporation and a brochure about the Angels.

"Our next thing is to get cards (about the Angels) to hand out to people," Terry said. "We're also trying to assess our resources."

They will present a lot of this to their membership at their annual meeting in October.

If you are interested in the Kettle Moraine Angels, just contact any group member.

This group is growing fast and is eager to help their community.

Inkan Wisdom Series Will Be In West Bend

Individuals will have the opportunity to hear and learn directly from an indigenous wisdom keeper from the Sacred Mountains of the Andes.

The event will take place over four days in West Bend.

The first, titled Introduction to Inkan Ancestral Wisdom Talk, is scheduled for 7-9 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 19, at History Center Washington County. Pre-registration is $25; at the door is $30.

Exploration of Self Healing and Energy Management is scheduled at Soul Source, LLC, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 20. Pre-registration is $110.

At the same location from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. on September 21 and 22 will be Deepen Your Sacred Connections Workshop. Cost is $395.

The teachings will center on the theme of Tupay Pacha. Deepening sacred connections to the energies of mother earth, father sun, the cosmos, nature and the elements will be explored.

At the series, individuals will learn how indigenous wisdom can help integrate and create partnerships with all relations from the earth, to the cosmos, to our ancestors. One of the classes will delve into self-healing and energy management from the perspective of a tradition that emanates from the heart to restore balance and harmony.

The Inkan Wisdom Series events features International Master Teacher and Healer T'ito (Rodolfo) Q'osnipa Kuntur from Cusco and Pomacanchis Peru. T'ito is an Inka Hamawt'a, a carrier and guardian of the sacred knowledge of the Tawatin-suyu, and an Inti Yaya, a solar priest whose life and work is dedicated to transmitting sacred ancestral knowledge and awakening solar consciousness.

Cedarburg Tops NS Golf Teams; Dreher Leads Kew-Cats

By Judy Harlow

After two North Shore Conference golf meets, it's obvious Cedarburg is going to be the frontrunner this season. On the Red Nine at Kewaskum's Hon-E-Kor Country Club on August 29, the Bulldogs shot an impressive 177 to finish five strokes ahead of Homestead (183) and 10 in front of Hartford's 187.

The combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport team continues to improve, carding a 202, good for fifth overall. Once again, senior Alyssa Dreher led the Kew-Cats, carding a fine 8-over-par 44. The other counters were all at 54 or better, with Karissa Lange and Maddy Lange firing 52s and Rachel Anderson finishing with a 54.

"Alyssa was pulling a lot of her shots at North Shore Country Club. She was not real happy with her round there. She's a mentally tough golfer and very competitive, which really helps her on the course. She always wants to do better," coach Amy Uhlig said. "At HEK, she was a lot more consistent and really came back nicely with a 44."

Yes, I was very pleased with our numbers two through four," Uhlig said. "We just need one or two of them to break 50 which would really help us with our competitiveness in conference." Uhlig noted Thull has really been striking the ball well and Anderson definitely is capable of breaking 50 as well.

NS Golf at Hon-E-Kor: 1. Cedarburg, 177; 2. Homestead, 183; 3. Hartford, 187; 4. Whitefish Bay, 197; 5. Kewaskum, 202; 6. Nicolet, 213; 7. West Bend East/West, 215; 8. Slinger, 216. Medalist — Chloe Sileno, Homestead, 38.

The August 26 meet at Hartford CC was postponed by rain, but all the girls in the North Shore Conference took advantage of beautiful conditions on August 27, ringing in the conference season with some fine scores at the North Shore CC near Mequon.

As expected, Cedarburg won the meet, carding a sizzling 181 behind the 1-2 finish of Maddie Wilke and Elise Hoven, who shot 42 and 43, respectively.

The combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport team shot a 213 to finish seventh out of the eight teams, three strokes behind Slinger. Leading the way was number one Alyssa Dreher, who came in with a 50. Then came Karissa Lange, three shots back with a 53 and Maddy Thull, four back with 54. Rachel Anderson was the final counter with a 56.

North Shore Golf Match at North Shore CC: 1. Cedarburg, 181; 2. Hartford, 191; 3. Homestead, 2-3; 4. Whitefish Bay, 203; 5. Nicolet, 207; 6. Slinger, 210; 7. Kewaskum, 213; 8. West Bend East/West, 235.

After Rolling Past Lomira, KHS Soccer Team Is Beaten By Warriors

By Judy Harlow

It was definitely a game of spurts. Kewaskum scored two goals in a matter of three minutes, 43 seconds to draw even with visiting Waupun in the East Central opener between the two teams on August 29.

The more experienced and speedy Warriors came back, however, scoring four times within 11:38 to leave the "Doc" Mitchell Athletic complex with a 6-2 victory.

KHS coach John Kenworthy had indicated during his pre-season interview that Waupun, which features 15 seniors, was a team that had enough talent to challenge perennial powers Kettle Moraine Lutheran and Plymouth this season. Unfortunately the Warriors proved him right.

Kenworthy was correct on another statement he made then about the importance of his team staying within its game plan against the better teams, or winning would be a struggle.

"We drifted away from our game plan," Kenworthy said afterward. "We started to play the game they wanted us to play ... They got us to play chippy and frantic and out of control."

Waupun scored two first-half goals, including a tally by Jared Bucholz (assist Brayden Sanders) at 13:07, and an unassisted goal by Sanders at the 24:13 mark.

Kewaskum did not throw in any white towels, however, roaring back with consecutive goals by Will Jens and Isaiah Cochran at 59:15 and 62:58, respectively. Cochran's goal was a dandy. He dribbled through a couple Warrior defenders, faked a pass to a teammate, then drilled a kick past Waupun keeper Caden Bernier.

At 2-2, it appeared the Indians had momentum on their side, but just 12 seconds later, Waupun re-gained the lead as Daniel Benitez drove right down the middle of the field, then lofted a hard kick that soared over the head of KHS keeper Carter Curtin right into the net.

Several minutes later, the Warriors' Baron Buchholz got into the scoring act (assist Trevor Rocker), putting the score at 4-2.

The Indians were having difficulty mustering any offense, and Waupun just kept pushing, scoring again at 69:30 on a header by Aaron Jahnke (assists to Jeremy Jimenez and Benitez). They got goal number six at the 74:48 as Warrior speedster Baron Bucholz scored after Curtin attempted to come out of the net and missed as he dove for the ball.

"When we play these type of teams, we have to keep our composure," Kenworthy said, indicating, "The good news is we get to play them again."

Also helpful, according to Kenworthy, is "Fortunately we have the weekend and three practices before we play again."

KHS, now 0-1 in EC play and 1-1 overall is at Winneconne September 5. Kenworthy is confident his team will rebound with a good effort. "When we play smart, we're going to score a lot of goals this fall," he said.

The Indians had a successful opener against Lomira on August 27, winning 13-3 behind some potent offense. The offense was led by seniors Isaiah Cochran, who scored five goals and contributed two assists, and Will Jens, who had three goals and three assists.

Also getting in the scoring act were Justin Anderson, two goals and one assist, and Andrew Carlton, two goals. The third goal bounced off a Lomira defender into the net so it was not attributed to an Indian.

Freshmen James Maas and Carter Curtin each played a half in the nets and did well in their first high school competitions.

"We got a lot of people in the game and had a lot of goals," coach John Kenworthy said, indicating he can't recall a KHS team scoring more than seven goals in one game. The 13 is a new school record.

Thunderbirds Score Early And Often, Handing Kewaskum First Defeat

By Judy Harlow

It was obvious early on the Victor J. Andrew High School football team didn't have many flaws.

The visiting Thunderbirds, a much larger Division A-6 school from Tinley Park, Illinois, scored four times in the first half and held host Kewaskum to just one first down during that time en route to a 39-3 non-conference victory over the Indians in a game played August 31.

"They're what we went to be," new head coach Steve Tennes said afterward, indicating his Indians didn't have much success in the contest but, "We've got eight games ... nine games to get better."

After the Indians went three-and-out on their first possession, the Thunderbirds showed their power and explosiveness, covering 81 yards in five plays for their first touchdown, a 37-yard scamper by quarterback Trevor Griffin on a keeper. John Bickel ran for the two-point conversion, giving the visitors an 8-0 lead.

Victor J. Andrew scored three more times in the first half, including a 27-yard field goal by Peyton Benes, a 20-yard touchdown run by Griffin and a 17-yard run by Griffin, capping a four-play, 60-yard drive that took just under one minute to complete.

Highlights for the Indians in the first half were a 21-yard pass from Ty Cook to Dylan Maechle, that was right on the money, and a 43-yard kickoff return by Joshua Bocher, who dropped the ball, picked it up and rambled down the middle of the field until he was tackled at the 50-yard line. The third was an acrobatic interception by junior safety Bret Fahrenkrug, stopping a Thunderbird drive. It was his second pick of the season.

KHS struggled in the first half to gain any yards on the ground, winding up with 16 yards rushing while Thunderbird workhorse, Rocco Iannantone was piling up 171 yards toward a 220-yard rushing effort.

The Indians' line had difficulty opening any holes, and they missed Eli Bartelt, who was slated to be their bread-and-butter runner this fall but suffered a season-ending injury returning a kickoff in the win over Milwaukee Lutheran in the season opener.

"We talked about that in the pre-season," Tennes said about not having many good running backs. "We don't have much depth."

In the second half, the Indians had some success with senior Sam Lemler, a 215-pounder, carrying the ball. He wound up with 24 yards on seven carries while speedster Jermaine "J.J." Thull was limited to 12 yards in six carries.

Neither Cook nor Mike Daniel had much time to set up to throw the football. Cook completed 5x10 passes for 46 yards and sacked twice for negative nine yards, while Daniel went 3x8 for 32 yards. He carried four times for negative two yards. Thull went 0x1 passing on a third down, halfback option pass in the third quarter right before sophomore Andrew Bolek set up for a 37-yard field goal he connected on, putting the score a 39-3.

The Thunderbirds were hit with two major penalties, for unsportsmanlike conduct and unnecessary roughness, during Kewaskum's drive to the nine-yard line. Then Daniel and Cook were both tackled for losses on blitzes and Thull missed on his pass attempt to Sam Schultz before the field goal.

When asked if he planned to continue having his quarterbacks alternate plays, Tennes said, "Time will tell." The new coach went on that his team made some good plays, but "Out of 150 of them tonight, we didn't have enough of them."

The defensive leaders were linebackers Kannon Muckerheide and Jay Horning, who were credited with 22 and 17 tackles, respectively. Lemler was next, getting in on 13 tackles.

When asked if anyone played well, Tennes said, "When you win, it's easy to point people out. When you lose, I'm not pointing any one (player) out. It's on all of us, including myself."

KHS, now 1-1, starts its Eastern Wisconsin Conference season Friday night (September 6), entertaining Waupun, which is currently 0-2 and has only won 10 games over the past five seasons.

In other games involving East Central teams, Berlin steamrolled Wautoma, 51-0; Winneconne shut out Omro, 40-0; Plymouth nipped Sheboygan Falls, 14-7; Campbellsport lost to Lomira, 38-7; Waupun lost to Racine Lutheran, 57-20; KML was defeated by Watertown Luther Prep 42-19; and Ripon came up short against Kiel, 30-13.

Kewaskum's JV team was lauded by Tennes for coming up with a late drive for a touchdown to tie the game at 20-all. The Thunderbirds responded, however, moving into position for a game-winning 40-yard field goal for the 23-20 victory.

Indian Runners Make Successful Debuts For New Coach

By Judy Harlow

New head coach Eugene Peterson beamed about the third-place finishes his girls and boys cross country teams earned at their opening meet. The New Holstein Invitational was held August 29.

"Overall, two third-place finishes are a great start to the early season," Peterson said about the Indians' (and his) debut.

As expected, Winneconne is strong again and won both ends of the meet. The boys had 33 points, and the girls pulled off a big victory over defending state qualifier Plymouth, 44-45.

The Kewaskum boys, behind the efforts of newcomer Isaiah Lubner and veteran Gannon Kreuser, came in with 79 points, while the Lady Indians had three runners in the top 10, led by junior Alyssa Butz, who was third overall.

"I feel that the girls competed really well with both Winneconne and Plymouth, which will be some of the better teams in the state," Peterson said. "I was really impressed with the start by Alyssa, Faith, and Andrea. They have put in hard work in the off-season and will be a strong front three for us throughout the year."

The boys race winner was Xavier Lasee of North Fondy/Oakfield. He toured the 5,000 meters in an impressive time of 17:40.1. For the girls, Plymouth sophomore Olivia Rabe hit the finish line first in 21:36.2.

A now-healthy Alyssa Butz was just 13 seconds behind with a time of 21:49.2, then came Faith Mertzig in eighth place with a time of 23:43.4 and Andrea Butz was ninth in 23:44.2. The other KHS counters included Courtney Zarda, 20th in 26:04.8 and Lisa Bolek, 33rd in 27:23.9.

Lubner, who is home-schooled, had an excellent first race, finishing third in 18:40.7. Then came Kreuser, Logan Haydin and Lance Grosskopf in 15th, 18th and 20th respectively, with times of 20:08.4, 20:27.6 and 20:30.3. The other Indian counter was Clayton Kappler in 23rd (20:47.8).

"I was happy with the spread for the guys. As some of them find their legs, I expect the numbers one through seven guys to really shift that spread into the 17-19 minute ranges, which will put us in a really solid place," Peterson said, adding, "Isaiah, Logan, and Lance in particular had really strong races and Gannon, Clayton, and Adam showed enough to get really excited about where this team is headed over the next few weeks of the season."

The Indians are at Kiel, this afternoon (September 5).

KHS Netters Move To 3-0 With Shutout Victory

By Judy Harlow

With momentum on its side, the Kewaskum High girls tennis team was a good bet to post two more victories the past week. The Indians got the first, shutting out visiting Kewaunee in a match played August 27, but two days later, Mother Nature foiled their plans with storm warnings leading to the postponement of the match at Howards Grove.

Still, the Indians are 3-0 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 3-0 overall after the sweep over Kewaunee in which they all won in straight sets.

"This year has been one amazing win after another," KHS Coach Peter Garcia said.

What was kind of interesting was both teams defeated Ripon by identical 4-3 scores.

For senior Megan Krolski, this was her second win in as many matches and she came out on top convincingly, only giving up one game in the two sets. The number three doubles combo of Audrea Hurt and Madysen Schlosser were equally as "stingy," allowed their foes to win just one game.

At numbers three and four singles, Haley Den-sow (3-0) and Sophie Marchello (3-0), remain unbeaten in their first seasons on the KHS varsity.

The match against Howards Grove is now set for September 24. Next up for Kewaskum is defending EWC champions Kohler, which is also 3-0 and also a perfect 21-0 in individual matches. This will be the final home meet of the year as construction on the new courts will begin soon.

Lady Indians Are Successful In Dells Tourney

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum volleyball team got its season off to a good start August 29-30, going 5-2 and finishing second in the Silver Division of the annual Friendship Tournament in Wisconsin Dells.

"To leave your opening weekend with a 5-2 record, where both losses came in a third deciding set, you have to be pretty excited for the season," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said.

He reported his team started the first day with a 25-23, 25-19 win over Peshtigo, followed by a 26-28, 25-8 and 15-5 victory over Shawano and ran its win streak to three with a 25-14, 25-14 effort over Ripon.

That put the Indians up against Green Bay Preble in the match that was decided by four points, 15-11 in Preble's favor after the first two games went 25-17 and 21-25.

On day two, the Indians went 2-1, breezing through its match against Wisconsin Dells, 25-13 and 25-14 and dominating Riverdale, 25-12 and 25-14 to earn a spot in the finals of the Silver Division. Kewaskum beat Antigo in game one, 25-19, but the Red Robins came back to take the second and the third, 25-15 and 15-12 to take the title.

"We faced some adversity going into our final match when our senior outside hitter went down with an ankle injury in the Silver semifinal," Leitzke said. "We played well in the final, but broke a couple times under pressure, something we will address and focus on this coming week."

The kill leader for the two days was Holly Henk with 37. Brelynn Scoles, Jenna Butschlick and Carolyn Stockhausen had good outings, contributing 29, 27 and 25, respectively. Also Nicole Butz added an even dozen.

In serving, it was Amanda Miller and Henk tied for top honors with 11 aces apiece, while Amayah Thomas contributed six.

Stockhausen and Butz led the team in blocks. Both had eight while Kiley May chipped in with four.

Miller was easily the assist leader with 79, while Thomas added 35. There were four players who came up with between 45 and 30 digs, starting with 45 by Henk, followed by freshman Mikaela Marquardt with 38, Scoles with 32 and Miller with 30.

Leitzke summed up the two days by saying, "We tried different personnel groupings and saw production all over the lineup. Defensively, we were strong in the back row, but our front row adjustments need to happen quicker."

The Lady Indians jump into East Central Conference action September 5, hosting Waupun.

Stewart Smokes IRA Field At Plymouth Dirt Track

After coming up just short at The Plymouth Dirt Track on three occasions last year, retired three-time NASCAR Cup champion Tony Stewart of Columbus, IN, broke into the winners circle by edging eight-time series champion Bill Balog of Hartland in the 30-lap Bumper to Bumper Interstate Racing Association A-main during the Sheboygan County Fair in Plymouth on Saturday, Aug. 31.

In the companion 25-lap Richard's of Dunbar Plymouth Dirt Track Racing 360 Sprint Car A-main, 2017 track champion Brandon McMullen of Oshkosh claimed his first main event victory of the 2019 season, after vaulting from third to first following a late-rate caution with just four laps remaining.

With a capacity crowd packing the stands on the third day of the 2019 Sheboygan County Fair, the 30-lap IRA A-main got off to a rough start when Sheboygan's Scotty Thiel flipped in turn two of the opening lap, while collecting two-time IRA champion Scotty Neizel of Beaver Dam. Thiel was done for the night, but Neizel returned at the rear of the field after a trip to the work area.

After a complete restart, Tony Stewart jumped out to the lead in turn two of the opening lap from his outside front row starting spot with fourth starter Joey Moughan of Springfield, IL, moving into second and polesitter Dave Uttech of Kenosha seizing third.

On lap three, Bill Balog, who started seventh, pulled off a slide job in turn two to take third from Uttech, while Stewart had built up a half-straightaway cushion over Moughan at the front of the field by lap four.

One lap later, the second caution flag was displayed when Steve Meyer of Sheboygan Falls spun in turn one. On the restart, Balog executed another slide job to take over second in turn two on lap five and quickly set his sights on Stewart.

Stewart moved into heavy lapped traffic on lap eight, which allowed Balog to cut the gap dramatically. Over the next eight laps, Stewart and Balog weaved their way skillfully through thick lapped traffic before Balog made a bid for the lead on lap 17, which Stewart successfully held off.

Three laps later, Balog attempted to pull off a slide job for the lead in turn four, but the attempt fell short as Stewart used the high groove to power away from the current IRA point leader.

On lap 22, Joey Moughan looped his machine, which brought out the third and final caution flag of the event. Following the restart, Balog made another big run at Stewart. However, Stewart again held off the hard-charging Balog, who had defeated Stewart on the final lap on two different occasions at Plymouth last September, including an IRA event held on September 1, 2018, during the Sheboygan County Fair.

After notching three consecutive second-place finishes in IRA action at The Plymouth Dirt Track last year, Stewart broke through to earn his ninth overall A-main victory of the 2019 season and second career IRA main event triumph, both of which have come at The Plymouth Dirt Track.

Balog had to settle for second, 2016 IRA champion Jeremy Schultz of Beaver Dam finished third after starting third, Uttech held on to place fourth, which was his first IRA top-five A-main showing of the 2019 season, and 11th starter Mike Reinke of Howards Grove rounded out the top five.

Considering his string of second-place showings at Plymouth last September and after spinning out while leading an IRA event on Friday night at the Wilmot Raceway, Stewart was overjoyed with the win in victory lane.

"I love coming to this track," Stewart said. "I'm glad I didn't screw this one up like I did last night at Wilmot. This place is really cool. The fans are just great. I love it here."

It was Stewart's first A-main victory since recently switching to a Ford engine package.

"This is the eighth night we have run the Ford powerplant and the first victory we've had with it under the hood," Stewart said. "Every time we hit the track we've been trying some different combinations with the engine and the car. I have to hand it to my crew — Ricky Warner, Jimmy Carr and Ayrton Olsen, for everything they've done to make this car so good. This win means the world to me. It's great to get a win at this track and for it to be the first one using Ford power."

After an uncharacteristic string of on-track incidents have plagued his efforts in the last three IRA events, Balog was pleased with the second-place performance.

"We were pretty good all night," Balog said. "I got next to Tony a couple of times, but just couldn't quite pull it off. It was good to finally get a good finish tonight after what's been happening lately. We needed it."

Schultz, who won an IRA event at Wilmot Raceway the night before, was happy with his podium finish.

"We were hanging right with the leaders at the end, which was a positive for us," Schultz said. "Overall, it was a good night for our team."

Polesitter Kevin Karnitz jumped out to the lead on the opening circuit of the 25-lap PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main with third starter Shane Wenninger of Kewaskum following into second. On lap five, sixth starter Jim Melis of Glenbeulah used the high groove to move in to challenge the low-riding Wenninger for second.

By lap eight, Karnitz had built up a half-straightaway cushion over Wenninger. However, on the next lap, Melis finally surged ahead of Wenninger into second. Two laps later, Wenninger got a big run off the inside lane to regain the runner-up spot and close in on Karnitz.

As Karnitz began to negotiate slower traffic on lap 15, Wenninger moved in to close the gap on the leader. Wenninger attempted to wrestle the lead away from Karnitz by moving up to the high groove on lap 16.

However, heavy lapped traffic impeded Wenninger's progress as 2011 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champion Ben Schmidt of Howards Grove, who started fifth, bolted in to take second from Wenninger along the high groove on lap 20 while three-time Midwest Sprint Car Association champion Brandon McMullen, who started eighth, followed into third on lap 21.

Schmidt appeared poised to launch himself into the lead along the high line on lap 22 before the lone caution of the race appeared on the same lap for Chris Clayton of Waldo, who spun in turn four.

On the restart, McMullen got a huge run along the high groove to vault past Schmidt into second and challenge Karnitz for the top spot on lap 23. One lap later, McMullen powered into the lead along the high groove entering turn three and held off Karnitz, who stayed in close quarters over the final circuit, to secure his 16th career PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main victory and 22nd career Midwest Sprint Car Association main event triumph.

Karnitz placed second, Schmidt wound up third, Wenninger placed fourth and Melis rounded out the top five.

Danny Schlafer of Sussex won the IRA B-main behind the wheel of the Darrell Dodd-owned number 11 car.

Tony Wondra of Campbellsport won the first PDTR 360 Sprint Car B-main and Tyler Davis of South Milwaukee earned the victory in the second PDTR 360 Sprint Car B-main.

Bill Balog was the top IRA qualifier with a time of 11.601 on the third-mile clay oval.

The event drew a total of 60 Winged Sprint Cars, including 26 IRA 410 Sprint Cars and 34 PDTR 360 Sprint Cars.

JDL Automotive was the evening's trophy sponsor and Professional Plating added extra purse money to the top three finishers in both the IRA 410 Sprint Car and PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-mains.

The next race at The Plymouth Dirt Track will take place on Saturday, Sept. 14, featuring the Dirt Kings Late Model Tour, along with the PDTR 360 Sprints and the final points night of the 2019 season for the PDTR Grand National and B Mod divisions. Hot laps will start at 5:30 p.m. with racing beginning at 6 p.m.

Two events remain on the 2019 PDTR schedule, which concludes on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Plant A Few Edible And Decorative Containers For Fall

MELINDA MYERS

End the growing season with an extra burst of color and nutrition with a few fall containers. A pot of mums or asters can add color to your front steps and a container filled with kale and greens adds fresh flavor to your fall meals. But don't stop there. Create attractive potted gardens by combining asters, mums, grasses, cool weather edibles and other fall beauties.

Spruce up an existing container by replacing weather worn annuals with fresh fall favorites. Pansies, sweet alyssum and dianthus are just a few annuals that hit their stride as cooler weather returns.

Or plant new container gardens for your fall landscape. Just select a pot with drainage holes and fill it with a quality planting mix. Or upcycle items like a wicker basket, small bushel basket, wooden crate or galvanized tub into a fun fall planter. Just add drainage holes before planting. Or scoop out a pumpkin and set a pot of pansies or ornamental peppers inside.

Use ornamental grasses, kale, black-eyed Susans and Swiss chard for vertical interest. Complement your plantings and containers with garden art, gourds, mini pumpkins and berry-covered branches. Add a mum or aster for a vibrant surge of color.

Include some trailing plants like golden moneywort, trailing lobelia and ivy. Fill any voids with snapdragons, ornamental peppers, colorful greens and coral bells. Just be sure to protect peppers and any other frost-sensitive plants on those chilly nights.

Grow a container of Bright Lights Swiss Chard, colorful leaf lettuce and pansies – the flowers are edible – for an attractive and edible combination. Make your fall centerpiece an edible part of your gatherings. Fill a metal colander or basket with red dragon arugula, red mizuna mustard, red sails lettuce, bull's blood beets and other colorful greens in a metal colander or basket for your outdoor gatherings.

Test your container designs while shopping.

Grab a cart and gather the plants you would like to grow. See if the colors and textures work well together. The bold leaves of plants like ornamental cabbage contrast with the fine leaves of ornamental grasses to create a focal point. Repeat colors from the flowers or leaves of one plant to another to unify your planting. For example, use a purple aster or pink mum to echo the colors of decorative kale, pansies or the colorful leaf stems of Swiss chard.

Set containers on the front steps as a colorful autumn welcome. Group several containers together for a garden of containers to display on the deck, patio or balcony. This collection of container gardens is sure to brighten your day when relaxing outdoors or enjoying the view from inside the house looking out.

Go one step further and create a stunning autumn display by combining fall planters with gourds, decorative squash and pumpkins. Use corn stalks or broom corn for vertical interest or as a backdrop. Then include bales of hay to elevate a few of the pots and pumpkins for multiple levels of fall beauty. Dress it up further with sprigs of American bitter-sweet, grape vines and other fall décor.

Mix ornamental and edible plantings in fall container gardens for some added color and nutrition. (Melinda Myers, LLC)

A few fall planters can go a long way to help celebrate the transition from summer to winter. The last blaze of color will warm you as the temperatures start to drop.

New Coach Is Optimistic KHS Cross Country Teams Will Move Up

By Judy Harlow

When the cross country coaching job opened last spring, Kewaskum High science teacher Eugene Peterson jumped at the chance to take it.

Not only did Peterson run cross country and track in middle school and high school, he also competed in both sports collegiately. He has worked coaching club runners and on a volunteer basis with various teams since then.

Peterson eagerly awaited the first day of practice, August 19, and now is looking forward for the teams' first meet, which is at New Holstein on Thursday, Aug. 29.

"Right now, it looks like we're going to have between 11 and 13 boys and 11 and 13 girls," Peterson said, indicating he is familiar with some of them because "I coached the sprinters in track at KHS the last two years."

While Peterson is unsure which returning runners won letters last year, he does know there is potential, so both the boys and girls squads can move up in the East Central Conference standings this fall. The girls finished in fifth place — the Lady Indians lost a tie-breaker to Waupun for the fourth spot. The boys finished in seventh place (160).

Winneconne and Berlin were 1-2 for the boys with 56 and 89 points, respectively.

On the girls side, it was the state-qualifying Plymouth team running away with the title with an impressive 23 points. Kewaskum, with Maela Olla 11th overall, had 139.

Olla, a home schooler, has finished her prep career, but junior Alyssa Butz is back and already has a solid resume, including a trip to the WIAA State Meet her sophomore season, finishing 126th with a time of 21 minutes, 58.34 seconds (21:58.23). She was slowed a year ago by a foot injury but is back at full strength and ready to lead the Lady Indians.

Peterson is also happy to see senior Faith Mertzig return for her second year in the sport. "She was No. 3 (last year)," he said.

The coach reported that Andrea Butz, a second of the Butz triplets, has decided to come out for the sport this fall.

"Andrea doesn't have the base Alyssa does," Peterson said, but she did run cross country in middle school. "She has a chance of being very successful."

Peterson is also confident sophomores Lisa Bolek and Emma Penfield will be better this year. Bolek was hampered much of last year with an injury but is now at full strength.

Other candidates include freshman "Sam" Melkie, and sophomores

Lydia Steinbauer and Tierney Hermann.

"They (girls) have the talent and the depth to be a successful team," Peterson said.

The boys will be led by junior Gannon Kreuser. "He's looking right now like our No. 1 guy," Peterson said.

The coach reported a home schooler, Isaiah Lubner, could be No. 2, and then perhaps Adam Walls and Clayton Kappler, who "have shown a lot of growth from cross country and track last year."

Kreuser finished 41st out of 112 runners at last year's Mayville Sectional with a time of 18:57.49.

Two other veteran participants decided to go in a different direction this fall, according to Peterson, who said he had three seniors on the team, Josh Hahn, Lance Grosskopf and Brendon Krazcik.

At this point, Peterson said he doesn't know a great deal about the teams in the EC. "It's going to be a learning experience," he said.

Kewaskum will host its only home meet, the annual Indian Invitational on September 25 at Hon-E-Kor County Club.

Tennies Eager To Lead KHS Football Back To Playoffs

By Judy Harlow

Steve Tennies grew up in West Bend and had a successful career at West Bend West High School and UW-La Crosse. He is familiar with the recent winning tradition of the Kewaskum High football program.

This fall Tennies takes over the program and will attempt to continue the run started by his predecessor, Jason Piittmann who resigned after last season due to health issues. Tennies inherited a host of veteran players, including five who sustained season-ending injuries. That played a part in the Indians 4-5 mark a year ago and the end of a 13-year run where they earned berths in the playoffs.

Those players, running back/linebacker Eli Bartelt, running back Jermaine "JJ" Thull, defensive back Jed Ermer, linebacker Reagan Dricken and quarterback Ty Cook, are all back and healthy. Along with several veteran linemen, they are providing optimism in the Indians' camp this fall.

"I was pleased with the turnout," Tennies said recently, pointing to the fact 80 players reported for the three (varsity, JV1 and JV2) teams. The new coach also liked how his team performed in the scrimmage on August 16 vs. New Berlin Eisenhower and Sheboygan Falls. (The third part of the scrimmage was cancelled because weather forced the teams inside for a portion of the time allotted.)

"The experience we got going against New Berlin Eisenhower is about as good as we're going to see," Tennies said, pointing to the fact the Lions have a strong tradition and are coming off a 12-1 season. Falls was also a good test for the Indians.

Offensively, the Indians started a bit slow but picked up steam on an exciting play by Kannon Muckerheide on a trap play, followed closely by a Bartelt run. Thull also picked up good yardage. Bartelt and Thull are expected to carry the running load for the Indians.

Bartelt went out with a foot injury vs. Winneconne in the third game of last year, while Thull, who gained 371 yards, suffered a knee injury at Plymouth, which ended his season.

The passing game in the scrimmage was a bit disappointing, according to Tennies. He said, "Our passing game is not where we want it to be." He reported the team completed only four passes in about 20 attempts in the scrimmage.

At this point, Tennies said both 185-pound junior Michael Daniel and 160-pound senior Ty Cook are having difficulty processing the new offense. A starter will be determined after the first game, according to the coach.

The offensive and defensive lines will be solid for KHS this fall, according to Tennies. He pointed to veterans 225-pound center Jon Steger, who worked his way into the starting role halfway through his freshman season; 260-pound Trent Riekkoff; 245 pound Ben Leister; and 235-pound Hunter Brzozowski, along with senior Alex Steiner and junior Sam Amerling.

Tennies Eager To Lead KHS Football Back To Playoffs

"The O-line and D-line are our strengths and need to be our strengths," Tennies said. The line-backing crew is also very good, with Muckerheide, Bartelt, Sam Lemler, and Jay Hornung, who did not play football last year but is back out this fall.

Concerning the kicking game, Tennies said sophomore Andrew Bolek has the job. Bolek is a soccer player, who will compete in both sports this fall. "He's shown a knack for striking the ball," Tennies said.

Looking at the scrimmage, Tennies did not want to single out any one defender, instead saying, "I was pleased with how the defense played - gang tackling and doing a good job carrying out assignments. We're using a base 3-4 (defense) and are trying to keep it as simple as possible," he said. "We want to attack the football."

In Tennies' opinion, Sheboygan Falls did the best job offensively in the scrimmage. "I thought Falls was more consistent and more dynamic," he said. He was glad for the opportunity to get a look at the Falcons because they are coming into the East Central Conference for football only, beginning next fall.

Speaking of the EC Conference, Tennies looks at Plymouth, Winneconne and Berlin as being this year's contenders. He was also expecting a good battle from Milwaukee Lutheran in the opener (August 23). "They're (Red Knights) talented, especially on the perimeter. It will be a good test for us."

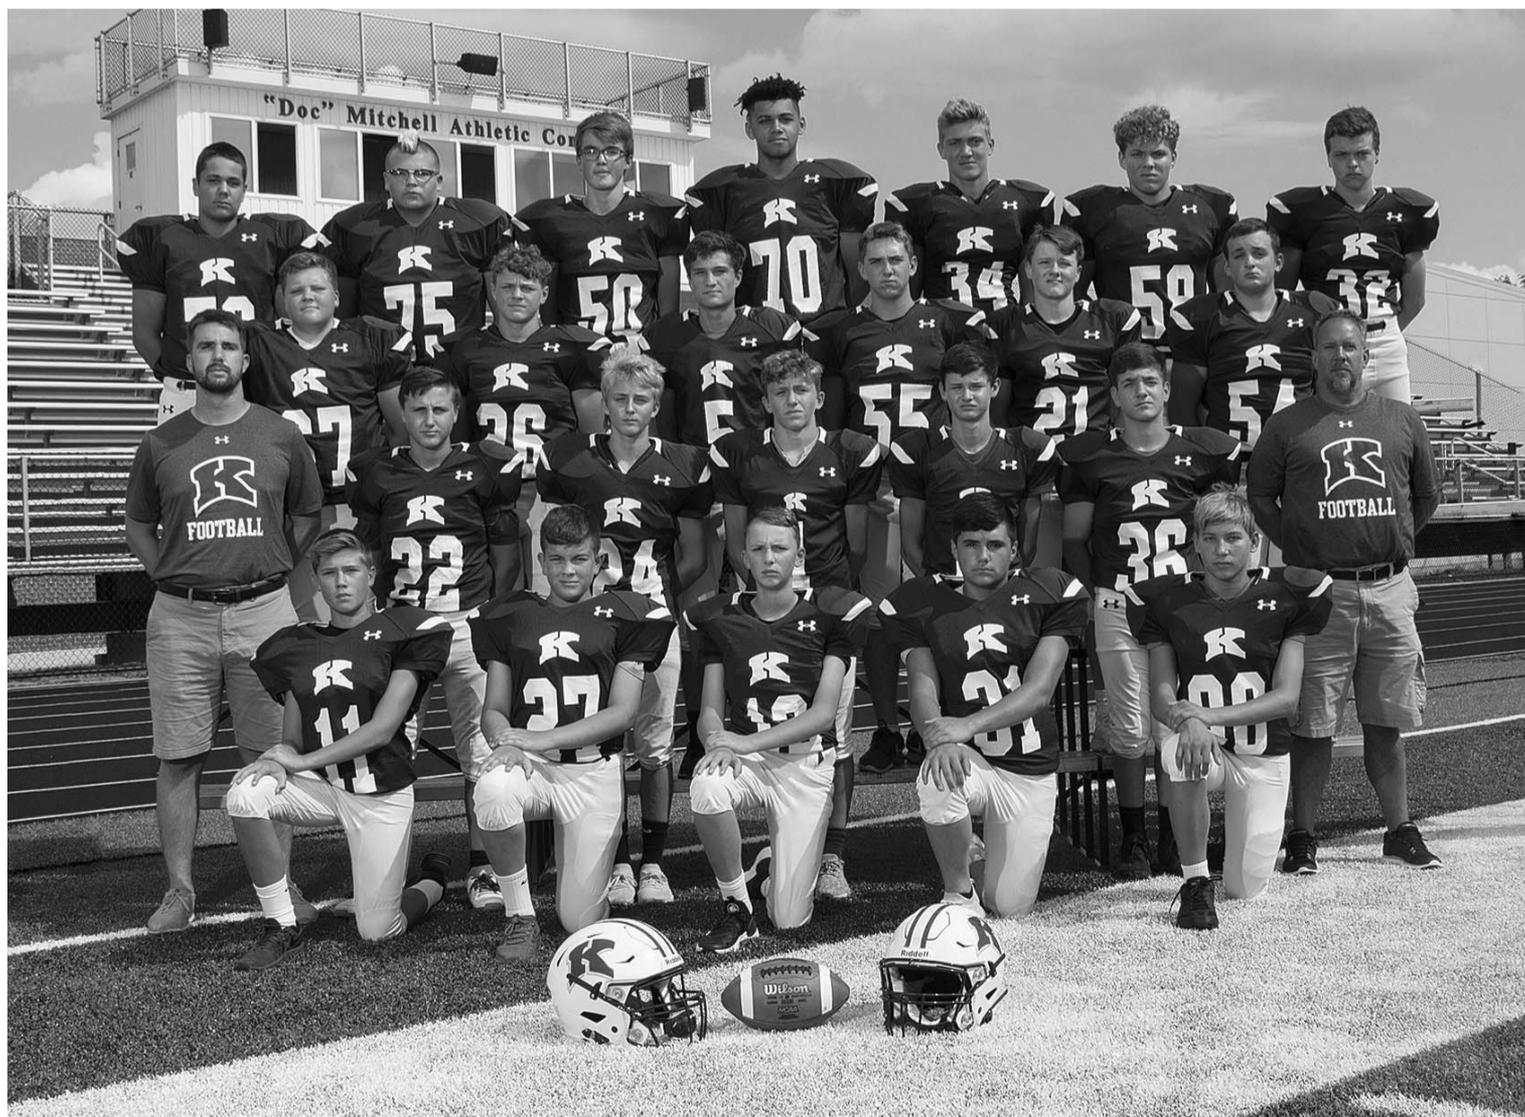

Tennies will be assisted on the varsity level by veteran Jason Last, who will be in charge of the offensive and defensive linemen; Rick Schlein, who has joined the squad as the receivers/defensive back coach; and Jim Hall, who will be the defensive co-ordinator. Tennies will be in charge of the offense.

After the opener at Milwaukee Lutheran, the Indians will take on Victor J. Andrew High School from Orland Hills, Illinois in a rare Saturday afternoon (August 31) game at 4 p.m. on the Doc Mitchell Field.

Indian Spikers May Be Ready To Challenge KML

By Judy Harlow

The volleyball banner in the Kewaskum High Field House indicates there were championship seasons in 1985, 1995, 1999, 2000, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006 and 2011. Veteran coach Laine Leitzke and the Indians would like nothing better than to add 2019 to that list.

Leitzke, starting his sixth year as head coach, has a formidable list of veteran players returning, including seniors Brelynn Scoles, Holly Henk, Carolyn Stockhausen and Anna Peterson.

Scoles is a 5-foot, 7-inch (5-7) outside hitter who earned second team All East Central honors a year ago after leading the team in kills. Stockhausen, at 5-11, was the middle hitter and the leading blocker on the squad, while Henk is a 5-5 middle hitter and Peterson a 5-9 setter and hitter.

Leitzke opened camp with 45 players. After holding tryouts for three days, he announced his varsity team would be made up of 14 players. They included the four previously mentioned, plus Jenna Butschlick, a 5-10 junior setter and middle blocker; Nicole Butz, a 5-10 junior middle blocker and setter; Courtney Duren, a 5-6 sophomore defensive specialist; Mary Green, a 5-4 senior defensive specialist; Kiley May, a 5-10 junior blocker; Amanda Miller, a 5-9 junior setter; Jillian Rettler, a 5-4 junior defensive specialist; Nora Sebo, a 5-6 junior setter; and Amayah Thomas, a 5-6 junior setter.

Also making the varsity squad was 5-2 freshman Mikaela Marquardt, who is expected to battle for the Libero spot, which was held by Hailey Hasenberg. The lone senior on the team a year ago, Hasenberg set a new record at KHS for digs, posting more than 1,000 during her successful career. She has moved on to Marian University in Fond du Lac, where she is hoping to continue her volleyball career.

"We graduated Hasenberg ... She was a good leader. She's going to be hard to replace," Leitzke said, indicating returnees also in the mix to replace her are Rettler and Duren.

Otherwise, the Indians all return after posting a mark of 23-10, including a 3-4 record in the East Central Conference, where they finished in fourth place.

Standing in the way of the Indians' hopes for a title are defending champion Kettle Moraine Lutheran and runner-up Plymouth. "I think it's going to be the same (top) four from last year," Leitzke said, starting with KML.

"You're got to give credit where credit is due," he said, adding, "Plymouth is up there as well," along with Winneconne, a team the Indians defeated in the EWC Tournament last fall.

"We split with Winneconne. They got third based on points. We pretty much had the same record," Leitzke said.

About his team's strengths this year, he pointed to "experience. We've got 13 who are returnees. We are very athletic, very quick ... A little short, but hopefully the quickness will make up for the shortness."

The Indians open the season with a 24-team, two-day tournament at Wisconsin Dells on August 29-30. Leitzke explained the teams start out in pools of three, then move into other pools of three based on their wins and losses. After that, the teams go into brackets or various levels of play.

As far as what offense he will use this season, Leitzke said, "Undecided yet," and planned to look at several options at the scrimmage at Waunakee on August 24. "We're going to try different offenses, different lineups."

Whatever and whoever he settles on, the KHS coach is optimistic his team will be very successful. "There is better skill level top to bottom, which is a good thing but still, it makes it difficult when you are trying to come up with lineups that are viable."

KHS opens EC play on September 5 when it entertains Waupun.

Leitzke will be assisted by Glen Grisolono on the JV1 level and newcomer Wendi Becker for JV2.

KHS Tennis Team Will Rely On Newcomers In Singles Positions

By Judy Harlow

After the departure of its No. 1 and 2 singles players via graduation, senior Megan Krolski has drawn the unenviable task of jumping up two spots in Kewaskum's singles ladder, but veteran tennis coach Peter Garcia is confident she will do OK there.

Garcia, starting his fifth year as head coach and eighth overall, says "Megan is a little superstar" after finishing the 2018 campaign with an 13-5 record. Her record included a mark of 8-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, where she earned a silver medal for being named to the All EWC second team.

No question the road to a winning season will be difficult, playing against girls from Kohler, Roncalli, Plymouth and Ripon, but Garcia said, "If she finishes at .500, the coach will be happy."

Krolski, the team's 2018 MVP, is one of a half dozen returning letter winners. The others are juniors Carly Meyer and Sydney Ostranger,

The Kewaskum High School Tennis Team include Elizabeth Beine, Anna Christenson, Haley Densow, Sierra Heipp, Gracie Hughes, Audra Hurt, Zoey Johnson, Ashlyn Kjer, Abigail Kopfhammer, Megan Krolski, Sabrina Lor, Sophie Marchello, Carly Meyer, Sydney Ostranger, Madysen Schlosser, Kelli Sullivan, Chloe Vetter, Emily Vorwerk, Jenna Vorwerk and Alivia West. The Indians are coached by Peter Garcia and assistant coach Nichole Brzozowski.

who are joining forces to take over at No. 1 doubles. Ostranger played No. 1 doubles last year, but her partner, Nicole Brzozowski, has graduated and is now the team's new assistant coach. She is attending Moraine Park Technical College this fall.

Seniors Elizabeth Beine and Abby Kopfhammer are moving up from No. 3 to No. 2 and should have a winning season.

After just a couple practices, Garcia is predicting Sabrina Lor or Haley Densow will fight it out for the Nos. 2 and 3 singles spots, and sophomore Sophie Marchello could start at No. 4. "That's my take on it," Garcia said about the younger Marchello, whose sister, Grace, was No. 1 for the Indians a year ago.

There are 20 girls out for the sport, including five seniors, four juniors, nine sophomores and two freshmen. One of the juniors, Anna Christensen, is currently out with a physical issue according to Garcia. "She may not be able to play this year. (It's) Still up in the air... She probably would have been on varsity."

Kewaskum finished 5-4 as a team a year ago, but Garcia was never informed by the league of the final standings. Kohler is the defending champion in the EWC, which is made up of teams from the East Central, Eastern Wisconsin, and Big East Conferences.

About a favorite this fall, Garcia points to Kohler and reports Manitowoc Roncalli and Two Rivers will be a combined team, so "They could be bad or they could be good." He noted Ripon usually has a good program, while Waupun usually has some good players

As far as his Indians, the coach said, "We've got some good potential" but adds, "We might look like an older team, but we are not." He is anticipating a finish in the middle of the pack.

What might interfere with the Indians' progression is the fact the six courts at the high school will be closed down soon when construction begins on new courts. "September 5 will be the last day on these courts. After that, all home matches will be at Kiwanis Park. All practices will be at Kiwanis Park," he said. At Kiwanis, there are just three courts after the fourth was turned into a basketball court several years ago.

"This is a great group of girls," Garcia said, noting they listen and are working to get better, and, "A coach can't ask any more than that."

Dreher, Lange Expected To Lead Kew-Cats To Successful Season

By Judy Harlow

After losing three regulars from last season, which produced a second straight trip to the sectional and a third place finish in the North Shore Conference, Amy Uhlig, coach of the combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport team, knew she was in need of reinforcements.

Amy Uhlig, now the dean of coaches at Kewaskum High, is starting her 14th season as head coach. She was greeted by nine candidates for 2019, including six from Kewaskum and three from Campbellsport.

Uhlig has three returning letter winners, led by Campbellsport senior Alyssa Dreher, who is starting her fourth season on the varsity team. A year ago, Dreher averaged 45.0 and finished in a tie for second place in the regional with a score of 44-41-85.

Others returning are KHS seniors Karissa Lange and Madelyn Thull. Lange averaged 51.7 strokes per nine-hole round a year ago, while Thull's average was 54.98.

"We are lacking the depth we had last year, but I'm hopeful that our seniors can set the tone for us early in the season," Uhlig said. She added, "Alyssa has been our most consistent and fundamentally sound golfer over the past few seasons, and we are looking for significant leadership from her again this season."

Uhlig went on to say, "Maddy and Karissa have the ability to break 50, and we will be looking for them to be consistent counters for us all year. Hoping our juniors, Anderson and (Kendra) Hewitt, step up and contribute to varsity this year for the first time. They have both improved their games since last year, so I'm excited to see what they will bring to the table."

Another player Uhlig is counting on is Grace Lee. "Grace Lee has also worked very hard on her game during the off-season (at the Washington County Course), and I anticipate her playing JV and possibly some varsity this season," Uhlig said.

Gone are veterans Grace Kober, Ashley Trapp and Tina Bolek. They graduated in June, and all will be missed.

About the NS conference race, Uhlig said, "Cedarburg won the North Shore Conference title last year. We finished in third place in conference, which is our best in the North Shore thus far. The top challengers for the conference crown this year will be Cedarburg, Whitefish Bay and Hartford. I'm hopeful that we can compete right around the middle of the pack this year in conference."

This is the third season in the North Shore since the conference realignment by the WIAA.

Kewaskum finished 20th out of 24 teams in the August 15 Washington County Invitational, and Dreher was tied for 22nd in the field of 125.

Despite Loss of 10 Players, Soccer Coach Is Very Optimistic

By Judy Harlow

The 2018 Kewaskum High boys soccer team made history by finishing with a winning record (11-10-3) for the first time in program history. Now the question is what can the Indians do for an encore, one with a good chunk of last year's starters gone via graduation?

"We lost 10 players, nine seniors and Cole Schlieter moved to Colorado," said John Kenworthy last week as he watched his 23 candidates go through their paces in preparation for the team's first game against Lomira on August 27. He is starting his sixth year as head coach.

"That means an entire rebuild," Kenworthy said. Still he is optimistic, looking at the fact he has eight seniors out for the sport this fall, including six with lots of experience.

The Indians will definitely have some scoring punch with Will Jens and Isaiah Cochran back at forward and midfielder, respectively. Jens led the team in scoring in 2018.

He had 11 goals and 12 assists for 34 points, while Cochran scored 13 times and provided four assists for 30 points.

"We are also really lucky to have a couple seniors who came back" to the sport, Kenworthy said, pointing to Andrew Carlton and Lucas Becker. "He's a nice leader," Kenworthy said of Carlton, who is expected to be a consistent scorer.

"Becker played his first two years, then missed last year," Kenworthy said, happy he had a change of heart.

Along with these two,

"We have a large freshman class. A lot of them played KYSC (Kewaskum Youth Soccer Club), so they have experience," Kenworthy said. He was quick to point out they have to keep improving because player soccer at a high school level is a lot different than at younger levels.

Two of the freshmen, Carter Curtin and James Maas, are candidates to take over in the nets for the Indians, replacing Brendon Rice, who played 1,710 minutes his senior season, making 190 saves while giving up 46 goals for an average of 2.42.

"Both are very talented," Kenworthy said of the two goalkeeper candidates, indicating freshman Denali Fellenz is going to see action as is midfielder Dylan Strankowski.

To help the young goalies, the coach said he plans to "compensate for that (their youth) by having four in the back instead of three," noting junior Hunter Koss, senior Kaeden Cappozzo and sophomore Andrew Bolek will take three of those spots and, "We have a competition for that next spot. Two freshmen will probably switch off in that spot."

Seniors Justin Anderson and Mason Pomeroy are expected to play key roles in the midfield.

As far as who will be strong in the East Central Conference this year, "Kenworthy said, indicating, "We have two teams who went to state last year," referring to Kettle Moraine Lutheran (Division 3) and Plymouth (D-2). "They will be the top challengers," he said, noting, "Waupun is always right there. I expect them to challenge ... and I expect our guys to be part of the discussion."

"For as many changes as we've had, I still think we'll do better this year (than we did last year)," Kenworthy said.

One big change this year is the East Central will go back to each team playing the other seven times, instead of the single rotation with a round robin among the top four teams and the bottom four teams at the end of the year. "It was the athletic directors' decision," Kenworthy said, adding he has no problem with the change.

Kenworthy is being assisted by Chuck Grove, and KHS captains will be Jens, Cochran, Anderson, Carlton and Pomeroy.
