Transplanting Goodness

– Area Women Participate In Paired Kidney Exchange

By Anne Trautner

Jessi Steinert and Carley Treichel met for the first time about a month ago.

They found out that they both have the same picture hanging in their dining room that says, "Believe There Is Good In The World." Highlighted are the words "Be The Good."

That is not all the two have in common. They both recently donated a kidney.

And they both have a friend who received a kidney.

The two women were part of a paired donation program. Steinert donated a kidney that went to Treichel's friend Laurie Forssberg. Treichel donated a kidney that went to Steinert's friend Michelle Schweizer.

The four women, known affectionately as the "kidney ladies," met for the first time in August, about a month after the transplant surgeries.

"We can't say thank you enough. They saved our lives," Forssberg and Schweizer agreed.

"Jessi and I keep saying they don't have to thank us. They are the rock stars. They are the ones who went through all this," Treichel said.

A Rough Start

Michelle Schweizer was born with three kidneys and two bladders. One bladder was inside the other one, and two of the kidneys were not really working.

By the time she was three months old, Schweizer had three surgeries: one to fix her bladder and the other two to remove two kidneys.

"I ended up with one bladder and one kidney," Schweizer said.

However, she continued having frequent bladder infections, which decreased her kidney function. Every time she had an infection, her kidney took a hit.

This went on for 34 years, until in March 2016, Schweizer was told she needed a kidney transplant. She was evaluated and placed on the transplant list.

When Jessi Steinert found out about the situation, she immediately wanted to donate her kidney. She and Schweizer had gotten to know each other because their husbands were friends. Steinert called the hospital and made an appointment to begin testing to see if she was a match.

Residents Weigh In On ATV Use In Village

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Village Board met in the Kewaskum Annex on Monday, Sept. 16, because of an anticipated large turnout for a public hearing to gain feedback regarding a proposed ordinance that would allow ATVs on some village streets that have a speed limit of 35 mph or less.

Approximately 31 people attended the public hearing.

"We are asking the village to allow ATVs on the roads so residents can get out to these trails and so that people on the outside can get in for gas and restaurants and food in town," said Tom Kempke of kettle-trails.com.

About 10 people in attendance expressed support of ATV use on village streets.

Residents Weigh In On ATV Use In Village

"I would love to see it available for me to leave my house in Kewaskum to go out of town. I am definitely for it," said village resident Phil Stoffel.

"I think it would be very beneficial for gas stations and restaurants," said Mike Kunkel, who lives in the Town of Kewaskum. "There is a lot of economic value for this."

However, Police Chief Tom Bishop said he is not in favor of allowing ATVs on village streets.

"In many casual conversations I have had with residents in our Village, not one person I have spoken to supports this measure," Bishop said.

Bishop talked about whether the ordinance would improve tourism.

"I do think that we are the 'Gateway to the Kettle Moraine State Forest' and therefore, should promote outdoor related tourism activities. If we could point to a large increase in tourism, then there may be some merit to consider this ordinance change; however, the Kettle Moraine State Forest does not allow ATV operation. I do not see any nexus that allowing ATVs will increase tourism in Kewaskum to a great enough extent to warrant dealing with the issues that will accompany this ordinance change," Bishop said.

Over the past year, Kempke and other ATV enthusiasts have been approaching town and village boards in the area, requesting they open roads to ATVs. The proposal has been well received by many of the municipalities.

ATVs are currently allowed on town roads in the Town of Scott, Town of Wayne, Town of Kewaskum and the Town of Farmington, as well as all roads in the Village of Campbellsport. The Town of Ashford, Town of Auburn and Sheboygan County have all approved ordinances that allow ATVs on certain roads, but the ordinances will not go into effect until signs are installed.

Bishop said that the Village of Kewaskum has a population of over 4,100 and has 18,500 cars per day at our busiest location, Fond du Lac Avenue at Badger Road. Campbellsport, on the other hand, has one-half the population of Kewaskum and a traffic count of only 3,600 cars per day at its busiest location.

"ATVs are now allowed in Dundee, from the Ice Age Center all the way up," responded Tom Thompson of the ATV group. "We have had no problems out there, and our population is very heavy out there during the summer months. I'd say it is probably 6-7,000 in Dundee and Osceola, and everybody seems to be playing well together, and we have had no problems and all the roads are open in Dundee."

Bishop voiced concern about OWI enforcement.

"Someone who has been convicted of Operating a Motor Vehicle while Intoxicated (automobile) will have their driver's license revoked and may even be required to have an Ignition Interlock Device (IID) installed on their vehicle. However, these sanctions do not have any bearing on recreational vehicles. Thus, this ordinance would create a loophole for those convicted of OWI and we will have given convicted drunk drivers the ability to still drive around our town legally," he said.

Bishop also voiced concerns about young, inexperienced riders on roadways.

Tim Rohrer, who is president of the Kettle Moraine ATV Club and a former police chief, responded to that concern.

"When it comes to enforcement [of underage drivers], there are ways to enforce it. There are ways we can work this out," Rohrer said.

Bishop said he also is concerned with safety.

Kempke replied that there are fewer ATV accidents than automobile accidents, with a lower fatality rate.

"It is relatively safe," Kempke said.

Village Trustee Dave Spenner said he has heard concerns from constituents that there would be only a few access points for ATVs to enter the village, and that ATV operators would go joyriding in circuits around the community.

Village President Kevin Scheunemann said he supports ATVs on village streets.

"This is one of those rare occasions that I disagree with the chief," Scheunemann said. "I feel some of these issues can be overcome in our ordinance."

The Village Board is expected to vote on the issue on October 7.

Possible Library Expansion

The Kewaskum Village Board continues to negotiate terms with the Kewaskum Library Foundation for a donation of the land located directly east of the library to be used for a library expansion.

On Monday, Sept. 16, the Village Board went into closed session to discuss an agreement regarding the land donation. When the board returned to open session, trustees voted to come to terms within 14 days.

"I am going to make a motion that we accept the land donation unconditionally and set a 14-day time limit on it," Village President Kevin Scheunemann said.

The motion was unanimously approved. Village Administrator Matt Heiser was instructed to send a letter to the Library Foundation detailing the Village Board's motion.

The Library Foundation is expected to respond by Monday, Sept. 30.

Village Financial Audit

The Village Board voted 4-3 to approve an audit report prepared for the Village of Kewaskum by John Knepel of Baker Tilly Virchow Krause LLP, for the year ending December 18.

Knepel gave a presentation to the Village Board at last Monday's meeting, and Trustee Dave Spenner asked why there had been some recommendations for the 2017 audit that were not made on the 2018 audit. After Knepel replied there had been an oversight, Spenner, Jim Wright and Dick Laubach voted against accepting the audit report.

Clean River Program

At the September 16 Village Board meeting, Mandy Zopp from the Riveredge Nature Center presented information on the Clean River Program, which is a community-based program designed to improve water quality of the upper Milwaukee River watershed. The program focuses on three tiers: engaging residents, inspiring them and educating them on taking care of the river, according to Zopp.

The board is expected to vote on whether to adopt the program at a future meeting.

Other Village Matters

In other action, the Kewaskum Village Board:

- Approved a plan for the Kewaskum Athletic Association to add concrete to Kiwanis Field 2 along first and third bases and around the backstop.

- Approved closing Reigle Drive and Railroad Street on October 13 for the 26th annual KEYS Run/Walk.

- Approved submitting a Wisconsin DNR Tree Grant application for 2020. The grant includes an obligation for the village to match $5,000 for trees.

- Discussed a proposed sexting ordinance.

- Approved operators licenses.

Kewaskum Fire Department Prepares For Fire Prevention Week

The Kewaskum Fire Department is teaming up with the National Fire Protection Association, the official sponsor of Fire Prevention Week for more than 90 years, to promote this year's Fire Prevention Week campaign, "Not Every Hero Wears a Cape. Plan and Practice Your Escape!" The campaign works to educate everyone about the small but important actions they can take to keep themselves and those around them safe.

NFPA statistics show that in 2017 U.S. fire departments responded to 357,000 home structure fires. These fires caused 2,630 fire deaths and 10,600 fire injuries. On average, seven people died in a fire in a home per day during 2012 to 2016.

"These numbers show that home fires continue to pose a significant threat to safety," said Lorraine Carli, NFPA's vice president of Outreach and Advocacy. "In a typical home fire, you may have as little as one to two minutes to escape safely from the time the smoke alarm sounds. Escape planning and practice can help you make the most of the time you have, giving everyone enough time to get out."

While NFPA and the Kewaskum Fire Department are focusing on home fires, these messages apply to virtually any location.

"Situational awareness is a skill people need to use wherever they go," said Lt. Amy McCartney. "No matter where you are, look for available exits. If the alarm system sounds, take it seriously and exit the building immediately."

The Kewaskum Fire Department is hosting a series of events in support of this year's Fire Prevention Week and home escape planning, visit www.fpw.org.

Wears a Cape. Plan and Practice Your Escape," including presentations for area daycare and grade school students during Fire Prevention Week. Through these educational presentations and activities, your students can learn more about the importance of having a fire escape plan and practicing it.

Also, the Kewaskum Fire Department is hosting an Open House at the Kewaskum Fire Station at 1106 Fond du Lac Ave. on October 10, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., in support of Fire Prevention Week and this year's campaign. Everyone is invited to come with family, friends and neighbors for an evening of fun, learning and fire prevention materials for all ages.

Everyone will have a chance to meet firefighters in gear, get guided station tours, and inspect the facility and equipment. EMS staff will be available to assess people's blood pressure if they choose.

For the kids in attendance, the department will host pretend fire drills. The department will sound a real smoke detector and practice two ways out. The lights will be out and we will simulate smoke with blankets overhead. Children will learn the proper way to crawl, check doors for heat and find a way out. Next, they will be taught to dial 911 and talk to a dispatcher to call for help. They will also practice stop, drop and roll, and will even use a small fire hose while putting out a pretend fire. There will be many other activities for all ages but you will have to come visit the fire station to find out what we all have in store for you.

For more general information about Fire Prevention Week and home escape planning, visit www.fpw.org.

Dorothy worked as a secretary at West Bend Aluminum Company. She also worked as a legal secretary for Gerald Otten of West Bend and Ed Ritger of Random Lake. She independently prepared taxes for numerous clients.

Dorothy was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church in the town of Scott. She was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary Group at Immanuel until her illness.

Funeral services for Dorothy were held at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, September 24, 2019, at Immanuel Lutheran Church (W8497 Brazelton Dr. - Corner of HH and Brazelton Dr. - the town of Scott). Rev. Brian Krueger officiated with burial following in the church cemetery.

The Janz family greeted relatives and friends at Church on Tuesday, September 24 from 2 p.m. until the time of service.

The family would like to extend their gratitude to the Sharon Richardson Home Hospice and to the Home Instead Caregivers who helped care for Dorothy following her stroke.

Dear Irma,

Well I'm back in dear old Africa again - hell-hole-of the world to me. Although the weather is nice during the day at night it gets very cool. It rains oftener than the sun shines. I had my cast changed for the first time in 2 months. With support the leg feels well enough to walk on but I found out different when the cast was off. They were gonna put on a half-leg cast but I guess it didn't look too good so they plastered on another full length (very interesting oh-what). A boy from Hartford whom I know was also injured his sister wrote and told me. You say Donnie is in 2-C, good for him. Right now I'm in class C, but sure went through hell and high water to get it. I hope it's over with before I'm ready to go again, because that also is only temporary, some boys are going home from here-but oh boy-medics work miracles but still they are in bad shape. Sorry but the mail leaves soon I'll write a line or two more next time. So long,

Love,
Roger

P.S. Next letter I'll probably write in the states - well I can dream can't I-haha

Check It Out!

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

Censorship Leaves Us in the Dark. Keep the Light On! That is the theme of this year's Banned Books Week which is going on right now. Banned Books Week began in 1982 as a method to defend everyone's right to choose whatever they desire to read. Of course, libraries are anti-censorship and fight the good fight to encourage free expression. Celebrating Banned Books Week is one way we do that. This week we have been promoting it on social media, have a display of banned books in the library for you to check out and will talk about the dangers of censorship with you.

One of the most important reasons to celebrate Banned Books Week is to uphold our First Amendment Right to read and view what we wish. Censoring books and other materials take that right to read and other freedoms away from us. When people decide to censor, they are trying to suppress ideas and information that need to be available for all. I am sure you have heard or read about different kinds of censoring. Schools pulling books off the shelf because some people believe the ideas imparted in these books are dangerous, public hearings where citizens are arguing from both sides about what is considered to be controversial and even incidences of book burning.

You may be surprised by the titles of some of the books that have been challenged in recent years. Libraries see challenges with children, teen and adult materials for a variety of reasons. Teen novels tend to be the most targeted because of the focus on controversial issues. Limiting the topics that young adults read would result in stunting both their intellectual growth and their ability to think freely. For children, the Captain Underpants series has been on the ALA's top ten most challenged list at least six times in the past ten years. One of the arguments is that it encourages disruptive behavior in youth. One of my best-loved books, To Kill a Mockingbird, is a favorite for challenges. I cannot imagine my life without that novel in it because someone pulled it from the shelf citing that it was racist and inappropriate. Other commonly challenged books include Toni Morrison's Beloved, the Harry Potter series and quite frequently, the Bible. I encourage you to support the freedom to read and celebrate Banned Book Week. Some ways to do this are to write a letter to a banned and challenged author telling them how their works have inspired you, spread the word through social media or read a banned book this week. See you in the library.

Washington County Register Of Deeds To Serve On Board

Washington County Register of Deeds, Sharon Martin, has been elected to serve a two-year term on the Property Records Industry Association (PRIA) executive board.

PRIA is made up of professionals dedicated to addressing issues of common concerns in the world of property transactions. The Board of Directors includes five recorders, five business directors and three at-large members, representing land record companies, banking partners, and the 3,600 recording jurisdictions nationally. Martin will be the first female public official elected to the Board. (Martin will be the only public official from Wisconsin on the Board).

"This is a huge honor for me and I am excited to bring my knowledge and experience from the Washington County property records industry to the national scene," said Martin. "My goal is to continue recommending educational opportunities to members as well as outreach and networking between business partners and government agencies."

Martin worked in the Register of Deeds office for 10 years before elected as Register in 2002. Martin has served in several Wisconsin Register of Deeds Association (WRDA) capacities for 15 years, including district chair, President and Treasurer. She continues to serve on the county Land Information Council, is liaison between WRDA and Internal Revenue Service, and was appointed by the Governor (two-three year terms) to Wisconsin Electronic Recording Council. Martin was instrumental in coordinating with Washington and Racine county to start electronic recording in 2003. Martin also served on committees to pass legislation that enabled Wisconsin to standardize recording fees.

"Sharon is constantly being a team player, working to make government more efficient and contribute to our authentic quality of life," said County Administrator Joshua Schoemann. "She is constantly pushing technology forward and will be a perfect fit for the PRIA Board."

Annual Life Chain Returns

The annual national event known as Life Chain returns to Kewaskum on Sunday, Oct. 6. Beginning at 1:30 p.m., pro-life individuals and families will gather at the Kewaskum Municipal parking lot on Main Street where uniform signs will be distributed. The display will line Fond du Lac Avenue and Main Street beginning at 2 p.m. and continuing until 3 p.m.

Held each year on the first Sunday of October, Life Chain is a legal, peaceful, quiet demonstration of people in our area communities who gather to publicly agree that abortion is wrong. There are no disturbing images for passing motorists or pedestrians, only thought provoking statements including "Adoption, the Loving Option", "Abortion Kills Children" and "Abortion Hurts Women."

On the back of each sign, participants will find Scripture and prayers on which to meditate and praise songs and hymn lyrics to sing quietly.

For more information, please call Joan at Kewaskum House of Prayer at 262-626-8337.

Washington County Releases Video Depicting Need For Foster Families In Our Community

In an effort to raise awareness about the need for foster parents in Washington County, the Human Services Department is taking a new approach. The Foster Care Program recruits, licenses and trains foster parents to provide loving and stable homes for children and youth when it is not safe for them to remain in their natural home.

The video highlights the staggering fact that since 2017, the need for foster parents in Washington County has increased by 35 percent. During that time, 167 children have been removed from their home because of abuse or neglect by a primary caretaker, including 36 children in 2019. Most often, the children in need of foster homes are teenagers, sibling groups, or children with special needs, such as mental health, behavioral, or emotional difficulties.

"Currently, there are no foster homes in our community who are licensed to take placement of teenagers and siblings are often split up and placed into separate homes," said Coral Kline, Children and Families Manager. "This results in kids being placed outside our community where they cannot remain in their schools or near their families."

The needs in Washington County are aligned with state and national trends that kids are staying in out of home care longer because parents need time to get treatment services and stabilize their ability to access basic needs such as housing or employment. In 2017, The WI Department of Children and Families identified substance use treatment as a significant parental need in 21 percent of all CPS cases statewide.

In addition, children and youth have a higher level of need than we have previously seen or understood. Exposure to trauma (parent's substance use, domestic violence, neglect, etc.) has contributed to mental health and developmental delays that often appear to be behavioral concerns. This creates additional challenges for parents and caregivers who are trying to create safe environments for kids to grow and develop.

"Our greatest need is foster parents who are willing to open their homes for boys of any age, girls ages 7 to 15 and for families who are able to keep sibling groups together."

For information on becoming a foster parent or to support the foster parent community, contact the Washington County Human Services Department at (262) 365-5100 or at FosterCare@co.washington.wi.us.

Halloween Nature Hikes

Are you looking for a non-scary, but fun-filled Halloween event? Travel to Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit for its 22nd annual Halloween Nature Hikes on Friday, Oct. 18, and Saturday, Oct. 19, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The hikes take place at the Mauthe Lake recreation area located at N1490 County Road GGG (Campbellsport) just south of County Road SS near New Prospect. Guided groups leave every six minutes with the last hike going out at 8:30 p.m.

Each hike lasts about one hour. The event is most appropriate for those over the age of five years old. In case of severe weather, the event will be canceled for that particular night.

Come hear the tales of those animals with wings including the fast-fly little brown bat, the radiant scarlet tanager, the dazzling dragonfly, and many more. It's sure to be a fantastic adventure through the dark autumn woods!

Don't miss playing exciting games and creating clever crafts before or after going on your hike. The Friends of the Kettle Moraine provide hot and cold cider and popcorn (free of charge) for all the hikers to enjoy by the glow of a blazing campfire.

A Wisconsin State

Park System vehicle admission sticker ($8/vehicle for state residents) is required for this event. If you already have your State Park System sticker, the event is free. We gratefully accept donations to help us continue to offer this event into the future.

Join us for a wonderful evening of educational entertainment for the entire family! For more information, contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center (920-533-8322). The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Village of Kewaskum president Kevin Scheunemann, right, testified in favor of Assembly Bill 451 at a public hearing held on Tuesday at the state capital. The bill would designate part of State Highway 28 as the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway. Scheunemann was joined by several others including Ronald Naab, left, from the Allenton Volunteer Fire Department. After hearing testimony, the Transportation Committee unanimously approved the bill. It is expected that the entire Assembly will consider the bill on October 10.

2018-19 Kewaskum State Assessment Data

Kewaskum School District state assessment results were released for the 2019 Wisconsin Forward Exam, the ACT Aspire test, and the ACT Plus Writing test. The Kewaskum School District outperformed the state in all subjects.

In grades 3-8 the number of Kewaskum students who were proficient or advanced in English language arts (ELA) was 58.0 percent, which was 17.1 percent above the state average.

The number of students proficient or advanced in math was 59.4 percent, 16.0 percent above the state average.

The Wisconsin Forward Exam also tests students in science in grades 4 and 8 and social studies in grades 4, 8, and 10. The percentage of students proficient or advanced in science was 66.4 percent (13.1 percent above the state average), and the percentage of students proficient or advanced in social studies was 60.0 percent (11.0 percent above the state average). Approximately 371,000 students statewide participated in the Wisconsin Forward Exam last year.

"We continue to take pride in how hard our staff and students work to improve the teaching and learning in our district. We are very appreciative of their continued efforts in making the Kewaskum School District a top-performing district in the state of Wisconsin," said District Administrator Jim Smasal.

This year the Kewaskum School district improved the percentage of students passing Advanced Placement (AP) tests for the fourth year in a row, with over 67 percent of students scoring a passing grade. Advanced Placement tests can be used by students for college credit, saving parents and students tuition costs.

Students in grade 11 took the ACT Plus Writing test as part of the Wisconsin Student Assessment System. On the ACT the number of students proficient or advanced in Kewaskum School District was 6.1 percent above the state average in ELA and 6.2 percent above the state average in math. Students in grades 9 and 10 took the ACT Aspire test, and the Kewaskum School District again surpassed the state average by 7.9 percent in ELA and 8.4 percent in math. Approximately 65,300 students took the state-wide ACT and 136,000 students took the Aspire test in Wisconsin.

"We continue to put a high level of emphasis on making all Kewaskum students ready for college, career and life when they graduate. These scores are one indicator that we are preparing our students to compete in a global environment," said Curriculum Director Mark Bazata.

Transplanting Goodness

– Area Women Participate In Paired Kidney Exchange

The day before Steinert's appointment, she got a call that she did not need to be tested. A match had been found for Schweizer.

So in December 2016, Schweizer underwent a kidney transplant.

Unfortunately, that surgery had some complications, and ultimately Schweizer lost the new kidney that same week.

During that hospital stay, Schweizer underwent three surgeries. When she left the hospital, she remained stable for about three years before her kidney took another dive.

"And it really took a dive this time. I was within 1 to 2 percent of them evaluating me for dialysis," Schweizer said.

So she was made active on the transplant list again.

Symptoms

Symptoms of renal failure are different for everyone.

For Schweizer, her failing kidney caused constant back pain.

She had gout.

She had developed restless leg syndrome.

And she was very tired.

"My tiredness is usually right away, even when I wake up. I would feel myself starting to fall asleep driving to work in time morning. By 10 or 11 a.m., I would start to feel my eyes burning as if it were later at night and it was time to go to bed," she said.

And she felt just "blah."

Another Transplant

When Schweizer found out that she needed another transplant, she had to come to terms with the situation.

"I wasn't as nervous for myself, I was more nervous about her," Schweizer said, choking back tears. "It was very hurtful that the last donor had to go through that. That was the worst. She made that sacrifice, and she had to go through it with me. I didn't want to put someone through it, and then also be healing, and take that time from her kids."

But Steinert knew she wanted to donate.

"When she was originally going through the process in 2016, I had this plan in the back of my head, that I'm going to help her and everything is going to work out fine," Steinert said.

So now, it was as if time had paused for three years, and now her plan had picked back up where it had left off.

Steinert called the transplant coordinator, who asked if anything had changed in her health over the past three years.

Steinert said everything was the same, and the testing picked up where they had left off, and her tests were completed in April.

In May, Steinert was at Kewaskum Elementary School, where she teaches, when she got the phone call.

"Unfortunately, you are not a match for Michelle," the transplant coordinator told Steinert over the phone.

Instantly Steinert was devastated because she had been sure that this was going to work.

In the next breath, the coordinator added, "But we have two other people that are willing to do a paired exchange."

She asked Steinert if she was interested in being part of a paired exchange program in which Steinert would donate a kidney to someone, and Schweizer would receive a kidney from another person.

"Yes," Steinert replied.

The Other Match

Meanwhile, Laurie Forssberg, a 55-year-old woman from Illinois, was undergoing dialysis. She was fighting hereditary kidney failure.

Carley Treichel, a 35-year-old lady who was friends with Forssberg's daughter, had wanted to donate her kidney to Forssberg. Unfortunately, she was not a match.

But Treichel, who lives in Plymouth, was a perfect match for Schweizer, and Steinert was a perfect match for Forssberg.

On July 24, the transplant surgeries were held at Froedtert Hospital in Milwaukee.

Schweizer and Treichel were scheduled for that morning, and Forssberg and Steinert were underwent surgeries that afternoon.

All the surgeries went well, and there were no issues.

Donate Life

More than 113,000 people in the nation are waiting for a lifesaving transplant. Many face a lengthy wait for an available organ. Relatives, friends and even individuals who wish to remain anonymous are heeding the call to serve as living donors. In fact, nearly 7,000 transplants, in the U.S. were made possible in 2018 by living donors, according to Donate Life Wisconsin.

Donate Life Wisconsin is an alliance of organizations and caring individuals across the state committed to increasing the number of donated organs, eyes and tissue available for transplant to save and enhance lives. The organization provides donor awareness, education, registration, advocacy and support.

For information on how to become a donor, go to donatelifewisconsin.org.

Meeting One Another

Because of privacy issues, the hospital staff could not tell anyone who the donors or recipients were.

But the women wanted to know who had saved their lives.

While they were in the hospital, Forssberg and Treichel walked through the halls and looked in rooms, trying to find the other transplant participants.

"Apparently the other two were a little better at scheming and trying to figure out who we were. We were the rule followers, and were like OK, we'll figure it out later," Steinert said, although Schweizer admits she (unsuccessfully) tried to get the information from nurses.

It did not take long to figure out the mystery. They had mutual friends on Facebook, and were able to find one another. They messaged one another and started group chats.

"We instantly started texting each other. And I could tell right off the bat that we seemed similar, with personalities, which is kind of cool," Steinert said.

In August, the four "kidney ladies" met in person.

"When we met them, it was like we were just all old friends. We all just really meshed really well together. I feel like if somebody walked in they would have thought we were just catching up on old times, and it was our first time meeting. Just a lot of happiness," Steinert said.

A Healthy Future

Today, all four women are recovered from their surgeries and doing well.

Forssberg and Schweizer are living life in a way they never before knew.

They are no longer tired all the time and don't need all the medications they used to take.

"It always felt like I had the flu before," Forssberg said.

For the first time, she knows what it is like to feel "normal."

The transplants have changed the lives of their families as well. They have more energy so can now spend more time with those they love.

Steinert and Treichel hope that their own children have learned about the importance of giving the gift of life.

Treichel said that she learned about how important donation is when she was 12 after her mother donated bone marrow to a boy.

"I don't want my children to ever be afraid to help someone. We are all human and we need to help each other if we can," Treichel said.

Jessi Steinert and Michelle Schweizer spend time together after participating in a paired kidney donation program.

Indians' Offense Puts 43 Points On The Board In Win Over KML

By Judy Harlow

Turning its opponent's early errors into touchdowns, the Kewaskum High football team put 20 points on the board in the first quarter and rolled to a 43-0 victory over Kettle Moraine Lutheran in a game played at the "Doc" Mitchell Athletic complex on September 20.

With the win, the Indians improved to 2-1 in the East Central Conference and 3-2 overall while KML dropped to 1-2 and 1-4 overall.

Jermaine "J.J." Thull had perhaps his best game of the season as he rushed for 107 yards on 15 carries and two touchdowns, including an exciting 43-yard scamper.

"His (Thull) play tonight was awesome," KHS coach Steve Tennes said afterward. The coach also praised the efforts of the defense and his two quarterbacks, Ty Cook and Michael Daniel.

KHS won the toss and elected to defer its choice to the second half, giving the ball to the Chargers. KML picked up two first downs before quarterback Nick Ninmann fumbled and Jay Horning recovered. That gave the Indians the ball on the KML 39-yard line.

It took the Indians just three plays to score. After gaining two and four yards, Thull took a handoff, broke a tackle close to the line of scrimmage and another 15 yards down the right sideline before sprinting to the end zone. Andrew Bolek's point after touchdown kick was good, and the Indians were up 7-0 just 3:56 into the game.

The next touchdown came a minute and a half later, thanks to a mental mistake by the KML receiving team. Perhaps thinking the ball would reach the end zone, the Charger return man watched as the ball settled on the turf, forgetting it was a live ball.

Dylan Maechtle pounced on the ball at the KML seven yard line. Two plays later, Daniel faked into the line and scampered around the right end for the Indians' second TD. Bolek's kick was no good, making the score 13-0.

On the first play of the Chargers' next possession, Ninmann stepped back to pass and threw the ball right to KHS cornerback Trevor Degnitz near midfield. Degnitz stepped into high gear down the right sideline down to the KML 14. There were two penalties on the play, an illegal block by the Indians and a late hit by the Chargers. They offset each other, so Kewaskum started the drive on the 14.

This drive took four plays, starting with a 10-yard pass from Cook to Joshua Bocher. Sam Lemler then got his number called three times, and he scored on a one-yard run. After the PAT, the Indians were up 20-0.

Mixing running and passing, KHS put together an 86-yard scoring drive early in the second quarter. Included in the drive were a couple penalties on KML and three catches by Bocher for 34 yards. It ended with Bolek connecting on a 23-yard field goal. KHS 23, KML 0.

The Indians would score twice more in the final eight minutes of the first half. The first was on a 20-yard run by Thull, capping a 48-yard drive after KML's John Ehlike was stopped cold on a fourth down run.

KHS got the ball back again with 1:46 on the clock, and the Indians passed on seven of eight plays when Daniel hit Bocher in the end zone for a 23-yard TD pass. KHS 36-KML 0.

In the third quarter, with a running clock, Kewaskum put together a 13-play drive, capped off by Maechtle's catch of a 21-pass from Cook. The score could have come earlier as Jed Ermer gathered in a pass and sprinted 61 yards for an apparent score only to have the play called back by a holding penalty.

"The offensive line did a phenomenal job," Tennes said. "The goal this week was to bounce back and get on the right side of the scoring ledger ... and staying healthy, and we did that."

About Thull's efforts, Tennes said, "If the people would know what he went through this week, they would be impressed. I am very proud of him."

Regarding alternating Daniel and Cook, Tennes said, "It takes two special individuals to do this. It's a testament to their character."

Daniel was 7x11 for 118 yards, while Cook completed nine of 15 for 98 yards. Bocher was on the receiving end of six passes for 117 yards.

"A shout out to my defensive coaches, coach (Rick) Schlein, coach (Bryon) Vandlen and coach (Jim) Hall," Tennes said.

One of the leading defenders was tackle Sam Amerling playing in his second game. Tennes said the team is getting healthy. "We're going to need all of them (players) next week" for the game at 3-0 Plymouth.

Soccer Team Builds Plenty Of Momentum With Four-Win Week

By Judy Harlow

After two big East Central Conference victories last week, the Kewaskum boys soccer team reclaimed some of its confidence, especially senior forward Will Jens, who scored a total of four goals in the 6-0 victory over Berlin on September 19 and three in the 4-2 win over Campbellsport on September 17.

The wins brought the Indians' EC record back up to the .500 mark at 3-3 and 6-4 on the season.

The Indians scored two goals in the first half against the host Berlin team, then exploded for four more after the break for the impressive win. KHS beat Berlin 2-1 on September 7.

"That was a complete game, probably the one where all aspects of our game clicked," KHS coach John Kenworthy said.

Isaiah Cochran also scored a goal in the contest, while Dennali Fellenz chipped in with a goal and an assist. The goal was Fellenz's first, so that was a highlight, according to Kenworthy.

Goalie Carter Curter stopped six shots to earn his first-ever shutout. "The goalie gets credit for the shutout, but really it's the entire team," Kenworthy said.

Current EC standings: 1. KML, 6-0; 2. Waupun, 5-1; 3. Plymouth, 4-1; 4. (tie) Kewaskum, 3-3 and Ripon, 3-3; 6. Berlin, 1-4-1; 7. Campbellsport, 0-5-1; 6. Winneconne, 0-5

After the two tough losses to Kettle Moraine Lutheran (KML) and Plymouth, Kenworthy wondered how his Indians would play in their next game at Campbellsport (September 17). He didn't have to worry long as Jens scored a three-goal, "hat trick" en route to a 4-2 win over the Cougars.

"We scored three goals in the first 4:38, and the game was pretty well over," Kenworthy said, indicating this gave him a chance to play a lot of the underclassmen.

About Jens' "hat trick," Kenworthy said, "He's playing really well." He also praised Ryan Buchel who "has stepped up and is getting solid minutes as a sophomore."

KHS got off 18 shots, including six by Jens, who was on target on four of those chances for three goals. He also helped out with an assist.

Cochran scored the others goal. He took six shots in the contest.

The Indians were on the road September 21, competing in the Kiel Invitational where they went 2-1 to finish third.

"That was a fun one," Kenworthy said. "We started a little slow; gave up a goal to New Holstein. Then we warmed up and played great for the rest of the day."

Kenworthy continued, "We played especially well against Winnebago Lutheran, which is ranked fourth in the state and previously beat KML. We had shots but they didn't go in."

In game one, the Indians outscored New Holstein 3-1 with Jens contributing two goals and an assist. Cochran also scored once and set up another goal. Trevor Geldnich was credited with an assist.

Game two saw the Indians fall to Winnebago Lutheran Academy, the eventual champion, by a score of 3-0. Kewaskum, now 8-5, managed eight shots against the Vikings but none of them got past the WLA goalie.

In the final game of the day, the Indians mustered enough energy to score three second-half goals for a 4-1 win over host Kiel. In this one, Jens had a goal and an assist to lift his season numbers to 20 goals and 10 assists, while Cochran chipped in with a pair of goals and now has 19 on the year to go with four assists. Fellenz had the other goal while Andrew Carlton helped out with one assist.

Curter stopped six shots against the Raiders.

September 26 Gridiron Results

All four levels hit the road this past Saturday, with the eighth, seventh and sixth grades traveling to Cedar Grove-Belgium and fifth grade going to Grafton.

The eighth grade played a back-and-forth game with the Cedar Grove-Belgium Broncos finally pulling away in the final couple minutes, defeating the Indians 38-26. The loss put the Indians at a 1-2 mark through the first three games.

The Broncos opened the scoring by returning the opening kickoff for a touchdown and making the two-point kick for an 8-0 lead. The Indians answered right back with some nice blocking from the offensive line leading to big gains by the running backs. Running back Dylan Soyk capped off the drive with a one-yard touchdown run and Casey Schmidt made the two-point kick to make it an 8-8 game.

After a couple of first downs on the next possession, the Broncos were able to bust off a long 52-yard touchdown run and make the two-point kick for a 16-8 lead. Once again though, the Indians answered right back as quarterback Dawson Stahl hooked up with wide receiver Bailey Ralph for a 50-yard pass. Soyk finished the drive with a four-yard touchdown run. The two-point kick failed so the score was 16-14.

The Broncos came back again with another nice drive, ending with a 30-yard touchdown run and a good two-point kick for a 24-14 lead. The Indians remained resilient though and again had an answer with another 50-yard Stahl to Ralph connections; this one for a touchdown. The two-point kick failed, so the Indians were trailing 24-20.

After an interception by Ralph on defense, the Indians had a chance right before half, but the Broncos were able to tackle Ralph at the two-yard line after another catch as time expired in the half.

The Indians were marching the ball down the field to open the second half, but unfortunately lost a fumble deep inside the Broncos territory. The Broncos then marched the ball down the field and finished the drive with a three-yard touchdown run. The two-point kick failed, making the score 30-20.

On the ensuing kickoff Soyk, the Indians return man made a couple men miss and was off to the races for a 75-yard kickoff return for a touchdown to cut the Broncos lead to 30-26. With a couple minutes left in the game, the Indians had the ball inside the Broncos 20-yard line but came up short on a fourth down play. The Broncos then busted off an 80-yard touchdown run on a third down play to seal the 38-26 victory.

The Indians defense was able to force two turnovers on the day with a fumble recovery and an interception by Ralph. The offense was balance with 191 yards through the air and 152 yards rushing. Stahl completed 12 of 18 passes for 191 yards on the day with his main target being Ralph, who hauled in eight of those passes for 163 yards and a touchdown.

The Indians ground game was led by Soyk with 19 carries for 102 yards and two rushing touchdowns. Nicholas Deheck chipped in with 10 carries for 47 yards.

The seventh grade played a great all around game and was able to come away with a convincing 26-6 victory against the Cedar Grove-Belgium Broncos, evening up their overall record at 1-1-1 on the season.

The Indians defense was dominate all day long and was credited with providing the team with the spark they needed for the victory. Erik Krier was able to come up with a fumble recovery to help with the defensive performance.

The offense scored four touchdowns on the day, with running back Corbin Dexter getting two of those on impressive long runs. The other touchdowns were through the air with Cooper Petermann catching one from Andrew Reichert and Jesse Tesch catching one from Landon Daniel.

The sixth grade was able to get into the win column on the season with a solid 25-8 victory over the Cedar Grove-Belgium Broncos.

The Broncos scored on their first possession of the game, but then the Indians defense stepped up and completely shut them down. The defensive performance was a great team effort as they shut down the Broncos' run game. Switching to the pass game led to two interceptions.

Johnny Hooker had one of those interceptions and returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. Cole Loser was able to come up with the other interception.

On the offensive side of the ball, the offensive line did a nice job opening up holes that allowed running back Eli Steinbauer to score two rushing touchdowns and quarterback Anthony Coleman to bust off a long 30-yard touchdown run. Gabe Halopka, Alex Bayer and Diesel Bonlender were cited for their contributions across the offensive line.

The fifth grade played another tough and close game this week, coming up just short against Grafton by a score of 8-7.

The defense had another great performance in this game, with Carson Anderson being cited for his play on that side of the ball with several tackles for losses and a sack. The touchdown for the Indians was scored on a run by Kyle Haim and the extra point was run in by Jack Krenzke.

All four levels will return home next week for games against West Bend East. The games will begin at 9 a.m. Come on out to the Doc Mitchell Athletic Complex to support the hard-working youth football players.

Indian Netters Turn Back Waupun In Key EWC Match

By Judy Harlow

Second place was on the line September 19 when the Kewaskum tennis team took on host Waupun and wound up with a tight 4-3 victory, giving the Indians a 4-1 record in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play.

Even though they played well, KHS' number one and two - Megan Krolski and Sabrina Lor - lost to Waupun's best players in straight sets. This put pressure on Haley Densow and Sophie Marchello to come through at numbers three and four, which they did in grand style. Densow defeated Moran Flier 6-4, 6-1 to improve her EWC record to 4-1 and overall mark to 8-2. Then Marchello, also 4-1 in conference, easily topped Danielle Dewar 6-1, 6-2, and the match was even at 2-2.

The number two doubles team of Anna Christenson and Alivia West put the Indians in position to win with their 6-3, 6-2 victory. At the start of the day, West wasn't in the lineup, but coach Peter Garcia said when Chloe Vetter got injured in a physical education class, West was called on to fill in. "They played really well and pulled off the upset," he said.

It all came down to the number three doubles team of Liz Beine and Abby Kopffhammer.

"They found themselves in a pressure cooker match," Garcia said. "With all eyes watching, they won a close match by a 6-4, 6-3 score to keep Kewaskum in second place in the EWC. This was a big conference win coming off our disappointing non-conference loss to Mayville."

KHS, 7-4 overall, still has two EWC matches left.

Kewaskum tennis coach Peter Garcia thought his team's 6-1 victory over Sheboygan Falls would serve as a springboard for the remainder of the season, but it didn't turn out that way as the Indians (6-4) stumbled in a non-conference meet vs. Mayville, a team it had beaten 5-2 in the Brown Deer Invitational.

"Strong play at numbers one and four singles, coupled with a tremendous come back effort at number two singles by Haley Densow were all for naught as the doubles teams played poorly," Garcia said.

The highlights were "continued consistent play from our four singles players," according to Garcia, who said, "In particular, Haley's ability to overcome an opponent's numerous questionable calls was inspiring. She never reciprocated."

At number one, Megan Krolski was a 6-1 winner over Jenne Pasbrig in the first set. Then Pasbrig came alive in the second until Krolski went 15-love, 30-love, 40-love, game in the final game of her 7-5 win.

At number four, Sophie Marchello won twice, first finishing off a match that was called because of darkness in the Brown Deer Tournament. She won that one 6-3, 6-2, then defeated Maddy Wendt, 6-1, 6-2 for a sweep.

College Notes

By Judy Harlow

Brady Hanson is in his third season as starting defensive back for the Northern Michigan University Wildcats, who won their opening game against McKendree, 30-9 before dropping back-to-back games to UT Permian Basin (24-40) and Davenport, 21-7 in the annual Homecoming game.

In their latest loss, which came on September 21, Hanson, who wears No. 9, had two solo tackles and a pair of pass breakups. The 6'-5" 222-pound Hanson currently has 12 solo tackles and five assists for the year.

 After back-to-back wins over Finlandia (38-7) and Augsburg (31-0), the Concordia University Falcons suffered their first loss of the year to Trine by a score of 21-15.

The Falcons were down just 7-3 at half-time, then gave up 14 points in the third quarter en route to the loss.

Sophomore defensive back Gabe Christenson, a 2018 KHS grad, was credited with eight solo tackles.

 Tony Steger, a starting slot receiver for the UW-Oshkosh football team, missed the Titans' games against Salisbury University (Md.) and Huntingdon College (AL.). He is recovering from a knee injury he sustained in the team's 20-19 victory over Carthage College.

Steger will not require surgery and should return to the lineup in a couple weeks.

 Former KHS volleyball assist leader Hailey Hasenberg is getting playing time with the Marian University Crusaders. Marian is currently 3-10 in matches. The most recent match ended with the Sabres losing a very close, five-game match to Milwaukee School of Engineering, 27-25, 29-27, 21-25, 21-25, and 15-17.

Hasenberg has seen action in 10 matches and currently had 62 digs, five aces and 17 kills.

 Jeray Riffel, a standout in her days at Kewaskum High, is a senior midfielder for the Milwaukee School of Engineering. The Raiders, currently 3-3-1, lost to St. Norbert's 1-0 on September 21. Riffel got off two shots in that contest but did not score.

 Lizzy Bauer has played in five games, starting in three, for the Wisconsin Lutheran College soccer team. The Warriors are still looking for their first win in the 2019 season.

Kew-Cats Combine For A 183 At Fire Ridge

By Judy Harlow

The combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport golf team was on tour the past week. The team went to Hartford and Cedarburg to close out the regular North Shore Conference season, then headed north to Appleton for a tournament at the Winagamie Golf Course.

At Hartford Country Club, the Kew-Cats placed sixth with a 201 total. As has been the case all year, Cedarburg came out on top with a 175, six shots ahead of the host Orioles.

Highlights for the Kew-Cats were the 46 by their number one player, Alyssa Dreher, and the 49 by Maddy Thull.

"I was happy that Maddy broke through and shot in the 40s. I know she's been really working hard at that all year, and it's nice to see her putting together a solid round," Coach Amy Uhlig said. She added, "Alyssa also had another good performance, but I know she was a little disappointed because putting was rather difficult with the pin placements."

The other counters were Karissa Lange and Rachel Anderson with 53s.

On September 18, at Fire Ridge, the Indians shot an impressive 183 to place third, the highest place they have had all season. Cedarburg and Whitefish Bay finished one and two with 174 and 178, respectively.

Both Dreher and Lange shot 41, while Thull had her second straight 49, and Rachel Anderson came in with a 52.

"We had our best team performance of the season there," Uhlig said. "While the course plays shorter than most, it can still be a challenge, and you really have to work hard around the greens. The girls definitely did that that evening."

"It was awesome to see Alyssa and Karissa both come in with 41. They were very excited," the coach said. She added, "Maddy had another great round of 49, and Rachel came in with a 52 despite being ill."

"I was very proud of the girls, and they were very excited once they saw the results. It's pretty neat to see our improvement over the last few conference matches," Uhlig concluded.

At the Appleton West Terror Invitational on September 21, the combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport team placed 16th with a score of 390. Brookfield Central and Sheboygan North, both strong Division 1 schools, finished one and two with scores of 314 and 320.

Leading the Kew-Cats was senior Alyssa Dreher, who carded a 91 and was tied for 30th place with four other girls. Next came Rachel Anderson in 61st place with a 98. The other Kew-Cat counters were Karissa Lange and Maddy Thull with 100 and 101, respectively.

Rachel Kaufflin of Wauwatosa East captured the medal with a fine 73.

"The rain held out on us just long enough to get the tournament in, which was a positive," coach Amy Uhlig said. "We played OK. I was thinking we would come in a little bit lower as well, but it is still a positive thing that we kept the team score under 400."

Anderson Runs Away With Title In KMA Tourney

By Judy Harlow

Craig Anderson was not able to defend his Hon-E-Kor Club Championship this summer, but he certainly made his presence known in the annual Kettle Moraine Amateur Tournament which was held September 14-15.

Anderson, who is from West Bend, had two "lights out" rounds of 70 and 71 for a 1-over-par 141, and a eight-stroke victory over Jason Jahnke who came in at 70-78—148.

Jay Krueger, who won the HEK men's title the week before, finished third in the Championship Flight with a 151 on rounds of 78 and 73. Dan Gibbon finished fourth with an 80-74—154, and fifth in the field of 16 players was Ryan Newberry, who shot 73-82—155.

First Flight champion Joe Volesky won a playoff over Jim Rohlinger after the two came in with 152s, which would have been good enough for fourth place in the Championship Flight. Eric Leitheiser finished third with a 155.

Rick Averill topped the Second Flight with a 169, six strokes ahead of Scott Rindt's 175.

The winner of the Senior Flight was Bob Deters, who was tied with Gary Curreri at 176 and won a playoff.

In conjunction with the regular medal play tournament was a best ball. The top finishers were as follows: Championship Flight — First place, Anderson and Jahnke at 130; Second place, Anderson and Ryan Newbury, 133; third place, Anderson and Andrew Otto, 134, tiebreaker; fourth place, Anderson and Dan Gibbon, Jr., tiebreaker; fifth place, Anderson and Michael Korth, tiebreaker. First Flight — First place, Volesky and Rohlinger, 138; second place, Scott Leitheiser and Rohlinger, 139; and third place, Volesky and James Livingston, 143, tiebreaker. Second Flight — first place, Rindt and Averill, 157.

After Stumbling In First Match, KHS Spikers Run The Table At Pulaski

By Judy Harlow

Despite the fact they weren't 100 percent healthy, the Kewaskum volleyball players prevailed in four of five matches to win the annual Pulaski Red Raider Invitational on September 21.

The Indians' lone loss came in the first round when they dropped a 19-25, 15-25 match to NEW Lutheran. After that they were perfect, defeating West De Pere 25-21, 25-14 and Oconto Falls 23-25, 25-15 and 15-12. Kewaskum earned a spot in the Gold Bracket as the No. 4 seed.

Against Seymour in the semis, it was KHS winning 25-17 and 26-24, and that put the Indians in the finals against the host team. The Indians weren't about to be stopped now. They won 25-19 and 25-14 to earn their first title of the 2019 season and improve to 11-5 overall.

"With almost the entire team fighting colds, we came off a long bus ride and played very flat against a solid NEW Lutheran team," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "We made way too many errors."

The Indians got a whole lot better after that, according to the coach. "As the day progressed, we started to get a little swagger for ourselves. Our defense really showed up and Holly (Henk) and Brelynn (Scoles) were workhorses as OH (outside hitters)."

The Indians did stumble a bit in game one against Oconto Falls. Leitzke said. "We needed to win the second and third sets to get into the Gold bracket. We were pretty convincing in the second and kept our momentum through to the third, to punch our gold ticket."

KHS had the lunch break to rest. "We were able to minimize our errors and swept both teams in the Gold bracket, Seymour and Pulaski," Leitzke said, adding, "Every single member of the roster contributed to this tournament championship, and our defense really picked up throughout the day."

Leading the team in kills were Henk and Scoles with 49 and 43, respectively. Other statistical leaders included: aces — Scoles and Henk with five each and Mikaela Marquardt with four; blocks — Carolyn Stockhausen, eight and Jenna Butschlick, seven; assists — Amanda Miller, 100; and digs — Marquardt, 48, Henk and Miller, 37, and Scoles and Jillian Rettler, 24 each.

Kewaskum had the upper hand early, nipping visiting Kettle Moraine Lutheran 25-23 in the first game of their East Central Conference match on September 29. The Chargers roared back to win the next three in one of the most hard-fought, closest competitions the two teams could ever expect.

KML won games two and three by identical 25-23 margins. Then came game four, with neither team able to gain the upper hand before the Chargers prevailed, 32-30.

"We are in the middle of a three-match conference run against the top teams in the conference. Coming out of a close four-set loss in Winneconne (who beat KML), we had KML at home. We came out pretty strong against them in the first set, but we lost steam in high pressure moments in sets number two, three and four," coach Laine Leitzke said. "We were right there and that is the gut punch. We had the opportunity to walk away with the W, but we did not get it done."

The kill leaders were Carolyn Stockhausen and Brelynn Scoles, who was returning after an injury. They had 13 and 11, respectively. Stockhausen led the team with three aces, while Scoles, Kiley May and Stockhausen each had two blocks. Amanda Miller and Amayah Thomas had 27 and 16 assists, respectively, while Scoles and Mikaela Maequardt came up with 17 and 13 digs. With the loss, the Indians are 1-2 in EC play.

Current EC standings: 1. (tie) Plymouth and Winneconne, 3-0; 3. (tie) Campbellsport and KM Lutheran, 2-1; 5. (tie) Kewaskum and Berlin, 1-2; 7. Waupun, 0-3; 8. Ripon, 0-3.

Indian CC Runners Are Competitive In Pair of Invationals

By Judy Harlow

Competing in two cross country meets in the same week usually takes a bit of a toll, but the Kewaskum runners were up to the task, finishing with a good showing in the Kris Greening Invitational in Ripon on September 21.

"We finished fifth in both the boys and girls (races), which is really quite good," KHS coach Eugene Peterson said. He explained the top team finishers are all "highly regarded in the state," and "we were within striking distance."

Freedom and Kenosha Tremper were one and two in the boys' race with 23 and 79 points, respectively, while the Freedom girls were also victorious with 36 points, just ahead of Winneconne which had 44.

The KHS boys, led by Isaiah Lubner's seventh place, came in with 164 points. Lubner had another good outing with his clocking of 17:53, 30 seconds behind the winner, Jack Reiter of Freedom (17:23).

All of KHS' other counters finished between 30th and 49th places. Gannon Kreuser placed 30th with a time of 18:55, then came Lance Grosskoth in 36th with a 19:11; Logan Haydin, 46th in 19:40 and Clayton Kappler, 49th in 19:47.

On the girls' side, Joey Perry of Winneconne was the overall winner with a time of 20:18. For KHS, fifth in the field of 13 with 166 points, Alyssa Butz just missed a top-10 finish, winding up in 11th with a 21:42

The other KHS counters were Faith Mertzig, 23rd in 22:27; Andrea Butz, just getting over a recent illness, in 32nd in 23:18; Kendra Schmidt, 52nd in 25:22 and Emma Penfield, 53rd in 25:23.

"Our pack is getting tighter," Peterson said, figuring both teams will be ready when the East Central and sectional meets come around.

Peterson said the course was "deceptively hilly," with a steady uphill for the first half of the race and narrow lanes in other areas, making it difficult to pass.

Kewaskum hosts the Dave Drexler Invitation September 26 at Hon-E-Kor CC. Peterson encourages KHS students and others to come out and watch the races.

The Middle School race will be held first, at 4 p.m., followed by the girls varsity and JV at 4:30 and the boys JV and varsity at 5 p.m.

At the Fond du Lac County Park near Waupun on September 17, both KHS teams did well. The girls finished second with 45 points, just 14 points behind the champion Luther Prep (31) team, while the boys finished third with 70, 34 points behind Luther Prep.

As has been the case all season, junior Alyssa Butz led the Indians, taking third place with a time of 21:55. Two other KHS runners, Faith Mertzig and Andrea Butz, placed in the top 12 at fourth (22:08) and 12th (24:04), respectively.

"Times were slower this week across the board," KHS coach Eugene Peterson said. "The weather, race size, and course set up really affected the runners from all of the teams. They got way more spread out, and the turns in the woods led to you losing touch with the runners in front of you."

Other KHS counters included Kendra Schmidt, 15th, 24:54; and Lisa Bolek, 16th, 25:15.

Leading the boys was Isaiah Lubner, who placed third with a time of 17:45. Gannon Kreuser was next in 15th place at 18:52. Lance Grosskoth dropped out of the race with an injury, and Logan Haydin didn't run because of an injury.

"With Lance and Logan in the race, I think we had a legitimate shot at finishing first or second," Peterson said. "Adam Walls, Clayton Kappler, and Isaac Schmidt all finished within 14 seconds of each other" in 20th (18:50), 21st (20:06), and 23rd (20:23).

Officials announced that country music superstars Luke Bryan and Chris Janson will serve as honorary co-chairs for the 48th annual celebration of National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHF Day.)

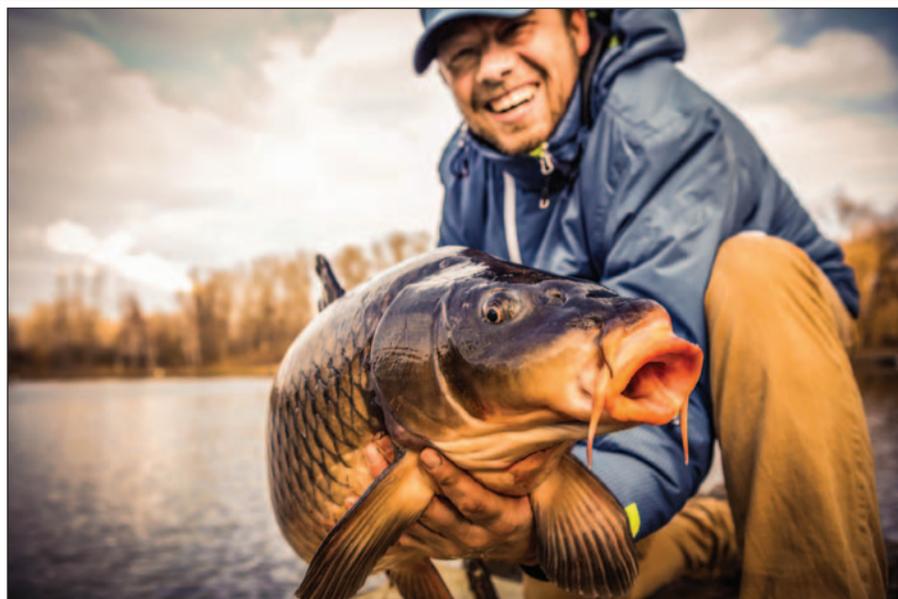

Recognized on the fourth Saturday of every September, National Hunting and Fishing Day serves as a reminder to the American public that wildlife and wild places will join forces as honorary co-chairs in 2019 to reach more people than ever with NHF Day's inspiring mission. Together, more than 34 million outdoorsmen and women keep the unique American conservation system strong by raising $100,000 every 30 minutes through self-imposed fees and excise taxes.

Get Started Hunting

Getting the right introduction to hunting ensures a quality experience and the start to a lifetime of enjoyment. Many hunters receive their first introduction to hunting from family or friends as a tradition passed down from generation to generation.

For all hunters, whether they have mentors to guide them or not, the most important first step into the woods begins with a state-certified hunter education course.

NSSF's WhereToHunt.org gives you quick access to your state's wildlife agency website where you can find a hunter education course near you. To help prepare you for your class you can also access

"Introduction to Hunter Education," an on-line hunter education course provided by the International Hunter Education Association (IHEA) in partnership with the National Shooting Sports Foundation. In some states, hunter education students may take the written portion of this on-line course toward certification. Your state agency also provides information on season dates, application deadlines, license fees and more.

Hunting is a useful and beneficial wildlife management tool that ensures and maintains the health and abundance of game species and the balance of our natural resources. There are a number of species, from upland birds to big game animals to hunt. Learn more about these species from game bird and game animal organizations.

Once you have received your hunter education certification, you become part of the largest group of contributors to conservation and wildlife management in America. It's the start to an honored tradition that you too have the opportunity to pass on to the next generation.

Championship, Rookie Battles In Spotlight As MSA Closes Out 2019 Season

After five grueling months and countless miles of travel to eight different tracks throughout the state of Wisconsin, the 20th season of Midwest Sprint Car Association competition is set to draw to a close with a doubleheader weekend of action. It will decide this year's hotly contested battles for the 2019 series championship and rookie of the year award.

The final two races of the 2019 campaign will take place on two vastly different tracks as the weekend will kick off with the first annual Fuzzy Fassbender Memorial Race at the high-speed horsepower half-mile at the Dodge County Fairgrounds in Beaver Dam on Friday, Sept. 27. Then the season will wrap up on Saturday, Sept. 28, at the third-mile Plymouth Dirt Track bull ring at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth.

Heading into the season finale weekend, four-time MSA champion Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee holds a 38-point lead over second-year MSA competitor Travis Arenz of Sheboygan. The two hard-charging drivers traded the top spot throughout the season and there is no doubt sparks will fly as they square off with the coveted MSA title on the line.

In addition, 2018 Plymouth Dirt Track Racing 360 Sprint car champion Justin Miller of Plymouth remains in mathematical contention for the title heading into championship weekend 133 points behind Davis.

A perennial fixture at the top of the MSA standings, Davis has put together another stellar season. This includes three A-main victories, 14 top-five and a series-leading 23 top-10 A-main showings in 24 MSA races this season.

Although he did not originally intend to run the full MSA schedule in 2019, everything has fallen into place for the 2018 MSA champion to make yet another title bid.

"We were only going to race part time this year and have my son, Tyler, do the whole season," Davis said. "Then we started running really well, took the point lead and decided to keep going. My season started out with a junked race car. My crew put together another car and here we are winning three features so far, including my 60th MSA feature victory and leading the points."

"I love the competitive challenge the MSA group has," he said. "This group of cars has the most underrated weekly racers in the country. We've had 12 different winners this year so far with some racers that have won in the past, but yet have not found the winner's circle so far this season."

Davis is eager to put a bow on his fifth MSA championship with strong performances to close out the season at Dodge County and Plymouth.

"My approach to the last weekend of the season is to go through the car from front to back, prepare the trailer, get some new tires and go out and win," Davis said.

Arenz has been nothing short of spectacular this season as he has racked up a series-leading six A-main victories in 2019, to go along with a series-leading 15 top-five and 18 top-10 A-main showings in 24 MSA events.

"I personally set a few goals at the beginning of the year," Arenz said. "I wanted to be a top-three points contender throughout the season and be able to battle for a championship at season's end. My other goal this year was to keep getting better week in and week out and to be consistent every race unlike last year."

While Arenz has never been a driver to lack confidence in his abilities behind the wheel, he has been pleasantly surprised by his victory output against a deep and highly competitive field of MSA competitors.

"I can't say I was expecting to crank out six wins this year so far," Arenz said. "And to have done so against the fierce competition in the 360 group says a lot. I knew if I was consistent and kept the car in one piece throughout the season, that I would have a potential shot at winning a championship. I have a lot of keys to my success this season. I can't really say it's been one thing. Everything from the time spent in the shop, good equipment, advice/help from veteran racers and the mindset to never give up and to keep getting better have contributed to the success this year."

Arenz heads into the final weekend of the 2019 MSA season with a clear goal of adding to his resume of seven career MSA A-main victories.

"My approach to the last weekend of the season is simple," Arenz said. "I need to be out there and win the last two nights. We've got nothing to lose."

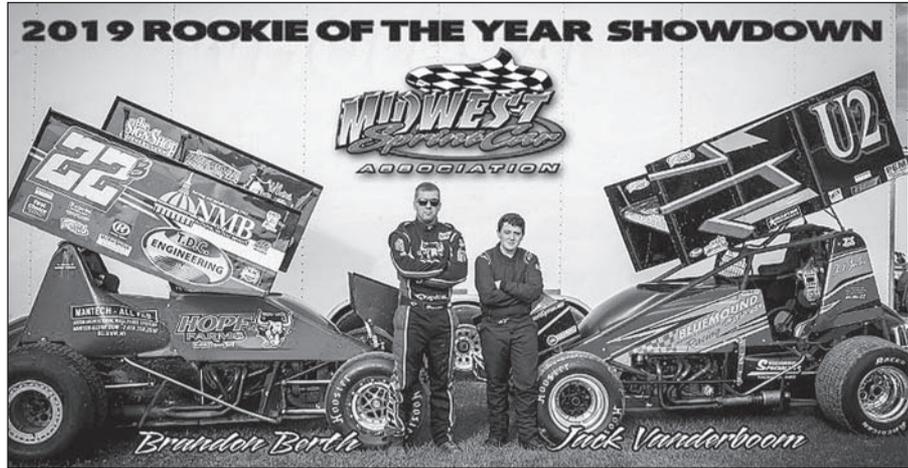

This year's MSA rookie of the year battle has been one for the ages with no less than 13 rookies joining the fray this season.

Former Plymouth Dirt Track Racing B Mod champion, Brandon Berth of Cascade enters the final weekend with a 28-point lead over former Micro Sprint competitor Jack Vanderboom of Dousman in the chase for the MSA Rookie of the Year Award.

"Going into the season, our goals were to race the full MSA schedule and try for rookie of the year in MSA and at Plymouth," Berth said. "I wanted to try every race to learn as much as we could. The biggest challenge this year has been adjusting to the tracks. With the Sport Mod, we didn't do as much traveling and were pretty comfortable when running Plymouth. It has shown at times when doing some of our traveling shows, we've struggled at times. But it's been great to learn so much while traveling like we have."

Berth, who has racked up two top-five and five top-10 A-main showings in MSA action this season, is coming off a career-best third-place A-main showing at Plymouth on Saturday, Sept. 14.

"The highlight for this year has been winning my first heat race at Beaver Dam Raceway a few weeks ago," Berth said. "It was pretty special because it was my nephew Kason's third Brandon Berth of Cascade and Jack Vanderboom of Dousman will decide this year's Midwest Sprint Car Association rookie of the year during the final weekend of the season Friday, Sept. 27, at the Dodge County Fairgrounds in Beaver Dam and Saturday, Sept. 28, at The Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth.

Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee, Travis Arenz of Sheboygan and Plymouth's Justin Miller will be vying for the 2019 Midwest Sprint Car Association championship during the final weekend of the season Friday, Sept. 27, at the Dodge County Fairgrounds in Beaver Dam and Saturday, Sept. 28, at The Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth.

birthday. He's been sure to remind me most nights that I didn't win, so getting the win for his birthday was pretty special for both of us."

Berth says earning the MSA Rookie of the Year Award would be an achievement that would serve as a fitting culmination of countless hours of hard work and dedication from those associated with his team.

"Winning the rookie of the year for MSA would be really special due to all the time and work we've put into everything," Berth said. "Everybody that races puts in so much time and to be able to come out and get our goal that we set out at the beginning of the year would be special. We've been talking about running this whole schedule for over a year, so it has been a pretty big focus for a while. We've had great competition all year for this title and everybody we race against has been super awesome. It has been fun no matter what happens in the closing nights of the year."

Berth is highly focused on the task at hand as he heads into the final MSA doubleheader weekend of the 2019 campaign.

"My approach for the final weekend is do what we have been doing the last couple of weeks," Berth said. "Don't put ourselves in positions we shouldn't be in, race our own race and don't think about where we need to be. We need to go out and do our thing and whatever happens happens. Jack has been a great competitor and it has been fun. I'm glad there's some pressure going into the final weekend to make things really interesting. Anything can happen yet."

As one of the youngest competitors in the MSA ranks, 16-year-old Jack Vanderboom has turned many heads this year in his rookie season behind the wheel of a full-sized Sprint Car after enjoying success in the Micro Sprint ranks.

"The transition from the Micro Sprint to the 360 Sprint Car has definitely been a challenge, especially at the start of the season," Vanderboom said. "I'm trying to figure out how to drive the car depending on the setup or the conditions of the track. The biggest challenge for me has definitely been the car count because in the Micros, the car count was slim. It was a great class to get started in, but I personally haven't raced with more than 16 cars at max on a good night in the Micros and that has been a struggle for me this season."

Vanderboom, who has tallied one top-five and two top-10 A-main showings this year, points to a career-best runner-up showing at The Plymouth Dirt Track has been the highlight of his 2019 season so far.

"I think the highlight of my season so far was my second-place finish in the feature a few weeks back," Vanderboom said. "I definitely learned a lot that night racing alongside Jim Melis that whole race. We had a great battle going between the two of us that night. Jim is a great driver and tough to beat. He proved that to me that night, but I learned a lot from watching him and getting through traffic and picking the best line for me that whole race was a big stepping point for me as a driver and also for our crew involving setup and everything that goes into the car on a weekly basis I wouldn't be here without all the help we've had the whole way."

"I think winning the MSA rookie of the year title would definitely be a huge accomplishment and goal of mine because it shows how much I improved over the course of the season," he said. "With the amount of rookie drivers we have, it has proven to be a very difficult task, but it would be a huge accomplishment to achieve for me as a driver."

Vanderboom is taking a cautiously optimistic approach to the last weekend of the 2019 MSA season.

"Truly our goal for the final weekend of the season is to keep the car in one piece and finish as best as I can in the last two," Vanderboom said. "Our focus at Dodge County is to keep the car together and just finish before the championship night at Plymouth."

Kewaskum Youth Soccer Results

September 16 Kewaskum U7 Lions 8

The U7 Lions continued their undefeated season with a 8-0 victory.

Brady Beck started the Lions off with a goal in the fifth minute, and would end the evening with an impressive five goals. Owen Rabuck used his aggressiveness to earn the remaining three goals. Mason Cornelius had some close calls, including a break-away shot in the second quarter that missed by mere inches.

Isley Herriges showed off her ability to multitask by simultaneously chasing the ball and waving to her baby brother on the sideline. Camille Miofsky held down the defensive zone in the third quarter and took some powerful goal kicks. Connor Yapp showed off his sweet throw in skills and even tossed in a few random somersaults to keep things interesting. Way to go, Lions!

September 16 Kewaskum U8 Hornets 0 Slinger Phoenix 5

The Kewaskum U8 Hornets lost 0-5 against a strong Slinger Phoenix team.

The Hornets were tested all game and despite some solid defense led by Owen McHenry and Carson Butzlaff, the Phoenix scored three in the first half. Hornets didn't give up all game, but they seemed to always be a half step behind a speedy Phoenix team. Despite their best efforts, Coaches Tom Bishop and Curt Marquardt's matching neon zoomer pants couldn't get their team energized.

September 18 Kewaskum U7 Lions WCFC

The U7 Lions faced off against WCFC and were able to continue their undefeated season.

Caleb Crass started the team off strong with a goal in the first. Camille Miofsky teamed up with Mason Cornelius for a goal in the second, and then she headed over to Isley Herriges for a pretty sweet celebratory handshake. Seriously, they had to have practiced it ahead of time!

Harper Crass took a hard hit in the second, but bounced back like a champ. Connor Yapp had his game face on, especially during the second and third quarters with some pretty aggressive play. Owen Rabuck must have eaten his Wheaties for breakfast because he walked off the field with six hard earned goals. Keep up the hard work, Lions!

September 21 Kewaskum U14 Hurricanes 10 Slinger 2

The entire team showed good hustle, effort, and teamwork!!

Sam Rinzel had an assist to Alexander Severance early on in the game. That was followed by another assist from Diesel Fellenz to Sam Rinzel for the goal. Later Luke Grover had a break away with some fancy foot work and shot one in for a 3-0 lead.

Slinger then returned the favor of a goal, but that didn't stop our team's momentum.

Sam Rinzel passed up to Austin Jantz and he assisted to Alexander Severance for a goal.

Shortly after that, Alexander Severance had a break away and took it to the goal and punched it in for another goal.

Luke Grover followed that goal with a goal of his own.

Dan Jungers assisted by sending a pass across to Sam Rinzel for a goal.

Zavier Chipman was feeling pretty good when he sent a long kick lofty ball into the goal after the half time break.

Diesel Fellenz also wanted to try a long kick lofty ball to the goal and succeeded.

With a few minutes left to play, Riley Kuehl took a shot goal and scored!!

September 21 Kewaskum U14 Cyclones 7 Slinger Storm 1

The U14 Kewaskum Cyclones played a great game against the Slinger Storm, beating them 7-1.

Three goals were scored by Caitlin Finger, as well as one each from Abigail Gerhartz, Mara Butschlick, Ava Schiller, and Rowyn Wiedmeyer. The Slinger Storm had some aggressive players, but Maddie Legate, Josie Volesky, and Ally Heipp showed their strength in the midfield and kept them at bay.

The entire team worked hard, communicated well, and played with determination.

September 14 Kewaskum U10 Fire 8 Hartford Orange Blasters 2

U10 Kewaskum Fire kept the pressure on the Hartford Orange Blasters throughout the game on Saturday, September 21.

Landon Scheel slammed one into the back of the net, scoring the only goal of the first quarter. Leviathan Whitfield deflected a shot off an Orange Blaster for the second goal, while Carter Unger and Ella Schmidt each contributed goals, leaving Fire in the lead with a score 4-1 at the half.

The second half proved to be just as exciting as the first. Carter Unger started off with a goal for the Fire, after several attempts made by the team. Owen Alles hustled down the field and was next to score with a fierce shot, leaving the Blasters scoreless in the thrrd quarter. With great communication and passing between Fire teammates, Cameron Jones and Chayse Hall were able to score goals in the final quarter.

Cameron Jones and Landon Scheel had several great saves as goalkeepers throughout the game. The Fire worked hard for their victory with a score of 8-2.

September 21 Kewaskum U10 Comets 8

Erin Emeralds 1
The Kewaskum U10 Comets came up with a great team win led by Jaxon Vogt's four goals.

It was the Comets great passing, especially from Ryan Perales' two assists, that led to so many goals with Addison Melzark, Oliver Grover, and Easton Sabish adding to the scoring.

The highlight of the game was Brady Flood's amazing score on the corner kick. The team came together and showed what they can do when they play as 11.

September 21 Kewaskum U9 Rebels 8

Slinger Panthers 6
The KYSO U9 Rebels took on the Slinger Panthers on September 21 and came away with an 8-6 victory.

Veronica Hoell had three goals and Ryland Ciriacks had two goals to lead the team. James Lawrenz and McKinley Timblin each had one goal and played tough defense at the goal.

Kaiden Wagner provided a much needed spark on offense with hard work and his first goal of the season! Gabrielle Hoell and Erin Michlig worked hard on defense to help the team get the win. Hustle and hard work by the team has led them to a 2-1 record.

September 21 Kewaskum U7 Coed Wolves 7 Slinger Hornets 3

The Wolves played another outstanding game on Saturday, Sept. 21, as they defeated the Slinger Hornets 7-3.

Bentley Kuhfuss had several shots on goal and connected with the back of the net for five goals. Josie Whitfield scored two goals, one off of a nice corner kick by Bentley Kuhfuss. Isaac Honeyager, Athena Perondi, Dawson Scheel, Veronica Goetzinger and Oscar Cannestra also played very well and fought hard to keep the ball out of their goal and on the other side of the field.

Overall, the Wolves played very well both on offense and defense.

September 21 Kewaskum U7 Jaguars 4

Erin Emeralds 6
The U7 Jaguars played a tough game against Erin.

Easton and Maisie each hustled and were able to score. Malachi, Mya and Coralee worked hard in the middle trying to get the ball. Ella and Owen did a great job on defense and played their positions well. Joey and Beckett worked together at the end with two assists from Joey to Beckett!

Final score Kewaskum 4, Erin 6.

Washington County Mountain Bike Team Does Well In Wausau

The Washington County Trail Sharks Mountain Bike Team was at it again in Wausau. The bicyclists had another race of good weather, with the rain holding off. They came home with three more medals: Anja Lanser, first in her one-lap race; Kendra Schmitt, first in her two-lap race; and Mike Spangenberg, third in his two-lap race.

Kendra and Mike pushed hard for a better place than last weekend. There were also many other outstanding races, with five more athletes getting top 10 in their race. Besides those places, the other athletes placed better in this race than in the past.

It is so great seeing how much they are pushing each other and working hard for their personal goals. This course had 50/50 of single and double track. Depending on what you like, part of the course was for you. Their next race will be at Nordic Mountain.

Prepared, Not Scared – September is Preparedness Month in Wisconsin

Disasters happen, which is why it's important for everyone in Wisconsin to learn how they can protect themselves, their family, and their community. To help encourage everyone to be ready, Gov. Tony Evers has declared September Preparedness Month in Wisconsin. The declaration coincides with the observance of National Preparedness Month.

"Preparedness month is the time for everyone to review personal plans to ensure they can take care of themselves and their loved ones during a disaster," said Maj. Gen. Don Dunbar, Wisconsin's adjutant general and homeland security advisor. "Public officials will do all we can to ensure public safety; however, it is incumbent on each of us to have a personal plan - a family plan. It's the flash light in the closet, the candles in the drawer, the water, food and medicine for family and pets. You can count on us to do our part, but the most important part is yours."

"During the past year, Wisconsin has seen damage caused by flooding, tornadoes, and heavy snow," said Dr. Darrell Williams, Wisconsin Emergency Management administrator. "Disasters can strike at any time, which is why it's so important to be prepared."

During the month of September, ReadyWisconsin asks everyone to review four key areas:

Prepare Financially For A Disaster

- Review your insurance policy to make sure you have adequate coverage for your home and other property. Remember that most policies do not cover flood damage, which will typically require its own policy.

- Have copies of important financial and personal documents in a safe location. Create digital backups that can be stored online in a secure account.

- Build up your savings. During a disaster, you may need a reserve of money available if you are forced to leave your home, are unable to work, or are waiting for an insurance payment.

Create Or Update Your Disaster Plans

- Write a family emergency plan in the event a disaster or emergency forces you to remain at home for several days, or if you were forced to leave the area quickly. Practice the plan.

- Create a family communications plan, which includes important contacts to notify in an emergency. Be sure to include an out-of-town contact, such as a family member or close friend.

- Make a disaster kit that includes key supplies, such as water, non-perishable foods, a first aid kit, and any medications you are taking. Don't forget to include supplies for your pets!

Teach Children About Preparedness

- Talk to your children about what to do during an emergency at home, school, or when they are away. Make sure they know who to contact and identify a safe meeting place.

- Many schools in Wisconsin offer the Student Tools for Emergency Planning (STEP) program to fifth grade students. If you have a child in fifth grade, ask their teacher to register for this free program offered by ReadyWisconsin, which teaches students about the importance of preparing for disasters. Find out more at <https://readywisconsin.wi.gov/step/>.

- Update your contact information at your child's school and designate a backup emergency contact who is authorized to pick your child up if needed.

Prepare Your Community For A Disaster

- Identify the types of disasters that are most likely to affect your community and the resources that would be available to respond to them.

- Get involved with local volunteer organizations that may be able to aid your community during a disaster.

- If you are disabled or have other special needs, identify and contact community resources that are available in your area. Many organizations maintain lists of people who may need help during a disaster.

"Taking time before a disaster strikes to review your plans, talk to your family, and find out what resources are available in your community can go a long way towards making sure you and your family remain safe," Williams said. "Preparedness Month is a great time to make sure you are ready when the time comes."
