Harold Haack Receives Honorary Diploma

By Anne Trautner

When he attended the Kewaskum High School Class of 1960 class reunion on September 21, Harold Haack was awarded something he never thought he would receive: an honorary high school diploma.

"It is something that was a shortcoming in my life for many years. Having this is quite a blessing," Haack said.

Haack attended Kewaskum High School back in the 1950s, but he never graduated. He dropped out his junior year in order to help out at his family's dairy farm.

Haack was raised on a farm in the Kewaskum/New Fane area. When his older brother left to serve in the U.S. Army Reserve and attended college, Haack needed to pick up his share of the workload.

He worked on the farm for about two hours in the morning before attending school and another two hours when he returned home.

"It shortened up my day quite a bit. I couldn't do a good job in school because I was preoccupled with everything else," Haack explained.

In 1964, he moved with his family up to Fond du Lac, where his father had bought a farm. He helped out with the farm and then worked for about 10 years as a contractor for an excavating business.

Haack also served six years in the U.S. Army Reserve. Through his service there, he helped with different emergencies, such as riots in Milwaukee and Madison in the late 1960s.

Haack figured that he would never be able to obtain a high school diploma.

But Haack's classmate, Tim Coulter, who was the class president for the Kewaskum High School Class of 1960, made sure that Haack received the honor.

An Honor

About 20 years ago, Coulter, who now lives in Missouri, was traveling through Iowa. He stopped at a restaurant in Iowa and purchased a local newspaper.

Young Americans To Hold Performing Arts Workshop

By Anne Trautner

Next week, a three-day performing arts workshop will be held at Kewaskum High School for students in grades three through 12.

For the event, 40 performers from the Young Americans College will lead the workshop for singing, dancing and theater. With about 80 students already signed up, the program is open to students in the Kewaskum School District as well as students outside the district.

The workshop, which will be held October 10-12, will culminate in a performance in the Kewaskum High School fieldhouse at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 12.

Five ambassadors visited music students at Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School on September 19 to introduce the program.

The ambassadors have all participated in the Young Americans program, a two-year performing arts college. They travel a couple weeks ahead of the larger group, paving the way for the Young Americans to lead workshops throughout the United States and Europe.

that is to be located on the northeast side of Kewaskum High School.

Work has already started on the building, but last week was the first time any sort of plan for the building came before the Plan Commission.

Kewaskum Man Arrested For Drug And Weapons Charges

The Washington County Drug Task Force arrested 33-year-old Kewaskum resident Joshua Warren on August 26 in the Town of Barton for multiple sales of cocaine. These drug sales occurred in the City of West Bend, the Town of Barton, as well as in the Village of Kewaskum. Following the arrest, a residential search warrant was executed in the Village of Kewaskum. A total of 24.43 grams of cocaine were recovered through this investigation, along with one firearm which was recovered from the residence in Kewaskum.

Joshua Warren was charged in Washington County Circuit Court on August 28 with six counts of delivery of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to deliver, as well as a felon in possession of a firearm, receiving a $25,000 cash bond from the Honorable Judge Andrew T. Goring. The Village of Kewaskum Police assisted with this case and with the execution of the search warrant. Also removed from the residence was a large reticulated python, which was being kept in violation of Village Ordinances.

tip that Washington County's Most Wanted was in the area outside of Aurora Sinai Medical Center. Two district three officers were dispatched to the area. These officers researched and learned that the subject they received the tip on was most likely King. They responded to the area.

After not locating anyone outside they decided to walk around on the inside of the hospital. They located a man that matched the description. They made contact with the suspect who identified himself as someone other than King. The suspect was taken into custody and eventually confessed to being Brandon Cortez King. King had made changes to his hairstyle in an effort to disguise himself.

The Washington County Sheriff's most wanted suspect has been taken into custody by authorities in the City of Milwaukee. Law enforcement has been searching for Brandon Cortez King since August 6th after he walked away from a halfway house in the Town of Jackson only five hours after being released from his 14-year prison sentence which he served for committing various child sex crimes. King then cut off his GPS monitoring bracelet in the City of West Bend and disappeared.

On Thursday, Sept. 26, the Milwaukee Police Department received an anonymous

King has been charged in Washington County Circuit Court and could face an additional six years in prison for Tampering with a Global Positioning System. He also has an outstanding warrant through the Wisconsin

Department of Corrections. Law enforcement officials will continue to investigate who may have been assisting him since his escape.

The Washington County Sheriff's Office recognizes all law enforcement officers, all partners with the Wisconsin Department of Corrections and community members who have been diligently searching for King since his escape in early August.

Washington County Sheriff Martin Schulteis would like to extend special gratitude to the two district three Milwaukee Police Officers who captured King. These two officers took an anonymous tip with limited information and developed a known suspect which they then went and located in a busy hospital environment and took him into custody without incident.

"I commend these officers for their dedication, commitment, and thoroughness, the community is a safer place because of them," Schulteis said.

Lobbying team that worked in the state capitol last week on testifying in the Assembly Transportation Committee to support a bill that would name part of Highway 28 the "Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway." The committee unanimously approved their version of the bill on September 24th after testimony and it should be ready for the entire Assembly to vote on it October 10th. The senate committee on Transportation and Veterans Affairs also heard testimony from members of the team last Wednesday and is anticipated to pass it soon and should be ready the entire Senate to vote on it October 8th. Once passed by both legislatures, the bill will be ready for the Governor's signature, which would most likely happen this year. Testifying For 9/11 Memorial Highway Bill

By Tim Ramthun
State Representative
59th Assembly District

What a rewarding day it was. On Tuesday, Sept. 24, I had the tremendous honor and privilege of testifying in favor of the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway bill in front of the Assembly Committee on Transportation.

Joining me in testifying was Sen. Duey Stroebel (R-Saukville), along with a spectacular group of individuals from Kewaskum Remembers, officials from Washington County, and members of surrounding communities representing first responders. It was a perfect chance for the merits of a great bill to be presented to the committee.

From Kewaskum Remembers, Gordon Haberman (father of North Tower victim Andrea Haberman), Julie Osmus (sister of Andrea Haberman), and Andrew Johnson (Gold Star father and publisher of the Kewaskum Statesman) gave testimony. From Washington County, county administrator Josh Schoemann, county supervisor William Symicek, and county clerk Ashley Reichert spoke. Kewaskum Village president Kevin Scheunemann and Badger Firefighters Association president Ron Naab closed out the group.

Each person who testified offered a unique perspective on how the highway designation will boost the profile of the memorial, increase tourism to the memorial, and popular support in the surrounding communities.

Following testimony, Rep. Beth Meyers (D-Bayfield) requested to be added as a coauthor of the bill, joining the list of over 50 representatives who had already done so in a three day period. Those who spoke did such a fantastic job of conveying the importance and significance of the bill that committee members were convinced without needing to ask clarifying questions.

At the conclusion of the public hearing portion, the committee voted unanimously in favor of passing the bill out of committee. The bill now is awaiting a floor vote in the Assembly and Senate, where it will presumably pass with complete bipartisan support. Then, it will be sent to Governor Evers for signature into law, permanently creating the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway.

When asked how I "felt about the day," my response was one of humility and honor for the community, and the people I serve. Just playing a part in making this permanent action possible was an amazing feeling, that's what I'm here for.

For information and artistic renderings of the memorial itself, please visit the memorial's website, www.wisconsin-911memorial.com.

A GLANCE BACKWARD

Leah Wilde's performance in the Division 1 golf regional hosted by Oshkosh North (at Westhaven Golf Course) will be a heavy favorite to go down as the top individual honor by a Kewaskum High School female athlete during the fall season. In the October 1 competition, Wilde fired a sizzling 10-over-par 40-40-80 to finish third overall and earn a spot in next week's sectional. Coach Amy Uhlig called the placement "a huge accomplishment and a stepping stone for Leah."

This week Kewaskum High School students have been celebrating Homecoming with the theme Rock & Roll All Night Long. The 2014 Homecoming Court includes Tabitha Schicker, Marisa Stahl, Madeline Kreis, Amanda Plachinski, McKenzie Rosenthal, Bille Lehmann, Matt Hetebrueg, Adam Ratliff, Jake Keller and Alex Strack.

To recognize the National School Lunch Program and the 30 million children it serves every day, Kewaskum School District schools will recognize National School Lunch Week from October 13-17. The theme is Get In The Game With School Lunch.

Kewaskum High School seniors Becca Strigenz and McKenzie Rosenthal have advanced to the Division 2 tennis sectional after placing second in competitions at Flight 1 and 4 singles hosted by Wayland Academy in Beaver Dam.

Glenn Carl Gerlach passed away September 30.

One northbound lane of US 45 opened Monday morning to motorists headed out of West Bend. The Wisconsin Department of Transportation will be splitting traffic to one lane in each direction as they work on the median. Project coordinator Jeanne Marchant said the most confusing area will probably be County Highway H near Dairyland Seed. Marchant said within the next couple of weeks, orange barrels will be replaced by traffic signals.

Traffic on CTH D west of US 41 in the Town of Wayne will be restricted to one lane for a one-week period beginning Monday, October 4, if weather conditions are favorable. The Washington County Highway Department will be repairing the driving surface on the bridge carrying CTH D over the Rock River.

Kewaskum High School will celebrate Homecoming this weekend. Festivities are scheduled to kickoff Friday with a parade at 5 p.m. The game is scheduled for 7 p.m. The dance will be held at Rose Hall with the grand march at 9 p.m. Court members and their dates include Adam Jung and Cassie Delgado, Alex Herriges and Paige Thelen, Sam Lieven and Danielle DeGroot, Tyler Hickmann and Katie Uelmen, and Michael Neuman and Maggie Dickman.

The Statesman is now located inside Kuehl's Suds and Spirits, with office hours from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday.

The Village of Kewaskum can now check off the finished box on one of its road projects for this year. Riverview Drive received a major facelift this year, getting all new sanitary and storm sewer as well as reconstruction of the road itself. Clinton Street is also nearing completion in the village. That road had a similar facelift. Edgewood Road is the last project that will be finished up by the beginning of next month.

With a 24-6 victory over the 0-3 Kiel Raiders, the Kewaskum football team is 2-1 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play and 4-1 overall.

With a time of 11:34.54, Lauren Steinhart surpassed her goal in the September 12 Iron Man Triathlon in Madison. By finishing second in her age group, Steinhart earned a berth in the championship Iron Man scheduled for 2005 in Kona, Hawaii.

The Wisconsin Association for Talented and Gifted has selected Mrs. Peggy Henke, elementary art instructor for the School District of Kewaskum, as its recipient for "Outstanding Educator of the Year" for 1994. She was being recognized for her outstanding contributions in developing an art enrichment program for students in grades three-five.

The 1994 Homecoming Court was pictured. The dance is scheduled for October 8. Sandy Melzer and Rich Farchione, Shelly Williams and Eric Beck, Cory Rammer and Becky Braun, and Paul Reis and Mary Yahr are all senior football representatives. The king and queen will be members of this group, with the announcement to take place at the pep assembly on Friday. Also on the court are David Gosa and Suzi Gauvin, representing boys cross country, Denis Tarakanov and Christine Neumann, representing girls cross country, Tim Strigenz and Tracy Jacak, representing girls volleyball, Dan Survis and Sabrina Maul, representing girls tennis, Josh Barrett and Julie Froemming, representing soccer, Jon Schultz and Becky Yogerst, representing cheerleading, and Joe Rettler and Jessica Gerlach, Nathan Scheel and Laura Fleischman, and Jason Schmidt and Heidi Bertram, all representing junior football.

Kattie Lauton from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture addressed Town of Kewaskum residents and board members regarding the Farmland Preservation Program. She was invited to speak at the monthly board meeting by Town Chairman George Allmann as the town was receiving more and more requests for rural land rezoning and was seeing neighboring townships experiencing land development. Lauton explained the history of the Farmland Preservation Program, the importance of land planning, current law and pending changes.

Several pages in this week's paper are dedicated to Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Colors Festival planned for October 8 and 9 at River Hill Park.

At its monthly board meeting, Town of Wayne officials voted to direct the zoning/building inspector to proceed with the inspection of Special Souvenirs, Inc., an adult-oriented establishment. The Town of Wayne plan commission and attorneys recommended the plan. Town residents and board members were reassured no permit would be issued until every item and condition was met and appropriate fees submitted. On an annual basis, Special Souvenirs must return before the board for an occupancy renewal permit 60 days prior to the expiration date. Special Souvenirs opened for business in the summer of 1993 without securing proper town permits and was forced to close by court order last fall.

The ambassadors agree it has changed their lives.

“The whole thing is an experience. We get to travel to a new place every day. Everything that we do in this group is an experience that we will take with us for the rest of our lives,” said Ryan Castro, an ambassador from Los Angeles.

When they left Kewaskum, the ambassadors were headed to Chicago and then to Ireland.

But the stop in Kewaskum was memorable. They got a taste of Wisconsin food when Woodland Creek Supper Club hosted a dinner for them.

They also learned a little about Kewaskum and visited the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial that is currently under construction.

The Young Americans knew that they were seeing something historical when they visited the memorial and are dedicating their concert to the memory of Andrea Haberman and David Johnson. Haberman was a KHS graduate who was killed in the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001. David Johnson was the son of Andrew and Laura Johnson, who own the Kewaskum Statesman. David Johnson was serving in the United States Army when he was killed in Afghanistan on January 25, 2012.

Local resident Joy Koepke, who performed with the Young Americans from 1964 to 1966, has been working with a team of people in order to bring the Young Americans to the area.

While in Kewaskum, the Young Americans are staying with host families who are opening their homes to them.

“I think the connection we make with the families we stay with is the best part of this experience,” said Giorgi Nowicki, an ambassador from Michigan.

“It reminds you of the good in the world when you meet these people. They welcome you into their home and take care of you, and you get to pull the best out of their kids. It’s special,” added Andrea Sarasin, who is from New Hampshire.

To register for the workshop or to volunteer to host a Young American in your home, visit youngamericans.org/US. Registrations will also be taken Thursday, Oct. 10, at 3:30 p.m. at Kewaskum High School.

The cost of the workshop is $59; a limited number of scholarships are available. The workshop will be held at Kewaskum High School on Thursday, Oct. 10, 3:30–9 p.m.; Friday, Oct. 11, 8 a.m.—5:30 p.m.; and Saturday, Oct. 12, beginning at 3:15 p.m. and ending with the show.

Young Americans Show

The Young Americans show will be held in the Kewaskum High School fieldhouse on Saturday, Oct. 12.

Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults and $8 for students.

The show begins at 7 p.m. and ends at 9:15 p.m.

Harold Haack Receives Honorary Diploma

An article about a World War II veteran caught his eye. There was a picture of the veteran dressed in a cap and gown, receiving his honorary high school diploma.

He told his children about it, and the next month they gave Coulter a copy of The Greatest Generation, by Tom Brokaw.

Coulter read the book as he traveled for work. And he read it again.

As he read each chapter, he would tear up.

"This is the greatest generation. They are called that for a reason," Coulter explained.

After reading the book several times, Coulter decided he was going to do something back home in Kansas City.

He met with the American Legion commander, the school superintendent, school principal and a local newspaper reporter.

"I showed them the article that I had kept from the previous November. I told them I want to do that here and asked if they would support me," Coulter explained.

"Absolutely," they all responded.

The reporter wrote an article seeking any veterans who would like an honorary diploma.

There was no response.

Then, three months later, Coulter received a phone call from a veteran. He had just returned home after wintering in Texas, and his son had sent him the article.

Coulter readily agreed and contacted the local television station, which did a feature on the man. Coulter made arrangements with the school for the big ceremony. He got a hold of the local grocery store had them make a cake with the school colors.

Then he called the man and told him he had set it up for Monday at 2 p.m. The man asked if they could make it 4 p.m. because he would like to have his granddaughters there.

So the ceremony was held at 4 p.m. The veteran wore a cap and gown, and his granddaughters ushered him into the room. His family was there. American Legion members and school personnel were there.

"Needless to say, he was emotional; he had finally gotten his high school diploma," Coulter said.

The man, who had served at the Battle of the Bulge in World War II, became the first person to receive an honorary diploma from Coulter.

A Tradition

Since that first honorary diploma, Coulter has presented honorary diplomas to veterans across the country. There have been veterans from World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War.

"What was the most striking thing is these guys were in their late 70s or 80s. Their kids went through school, got married had kids, who went through school, and Grandpa just sat in the back. He is the one who wrote out the check most of the time, but he was never the center of attention," Coulter said.

"But on that particular day, that was his graduation." "Now, that graduate was the center of everybody's attention," Coulter said, choking up. "You could just see the glow on their face that they finally received it. They didn't give up."

The Kewaskum Honor

Haack became the 50th person to receive an honorary diploma from Coulter.

Coulter had talked to Haack at their class reunion last year to see if he would be interested in receiving a diploma.

Haack had said yes at the time, but he did not know that it would happen at this year's reunion.

Unbeknownst to Haack, Coulter contacted KHS Principal Scott Stier to make arrangements for Haack to receive a diploma.

"It was a surprise, yet it was something I was looking forward to," Haack said.

At the reunion, Coulter got everyone's attention as they gathered to take a group photo. Coulter told his fellow classmates that he was going to share the same commencement speech that Winston Churchill gave in 1941 at Harrow School.

"Never. Never. Never give up," Coulter said.

"And Harold, you didn't give up," Coulter added as he presented Haack with an honorary diploma.

The diploma bears the signature of Stier, along with those of members of school administration and the Kewaskum School Board.

"I greatly appreciate all the support I received from Scott Stier and the school board in getting this for Harold," Coulter said.

Haack currently has the diploma in his office. It means a lot to him and his wife, Karen, as well as their five children.

"I appreciate what the class president did for me. It is something words can't explain. He is quite a guy," Haack

Best Friends Forever

By Darlene Stern

When the song "I Am a Friend of God" came out in the early 2000s, it took people aback. The commonly accepted theology of God being a judge just waiting for you to make a mistake so he could punish you was being questioned. How could anyone dare to believe they were God's friend?

Let's look at what scripture says about the matter. In Exodus, the Lord spoke to Moses face to face, as a man speaks to his friend. Abraham was called God's friend forever several places in scripture, both Old Testament and New Testament. David was called God's beloved.

Jesus, in the gospel of John 15:15, tells his disciples that he no longer calls them his servants (one version says slaves), but they are his friends. Any disciple, or follower, of Jesus is his friend. What do Jesus' friends do? In the same chapter, Jesus lets them know his friends obey his commandments, the most important of which is to love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul and with all your mind. (Matthew 22:37 NKJV) How does one treat a friend? Friends hang out together; they communicate. They go places together, do things together, share things. They laugh together and cry together. They have each others' back when trouble comes.

How does one get to be a friend of God? I suppose initially one must believe that God is, that he exists. You must believe in God and his desire to have a relationship with you.

One more strategy has to be satisfied in order for us to have a friend relationship with God. We have to make a 'friend request' by inviting Jesus to be Lord in our lives. He wants to be our friend, but we also have to want the friendship; it's a two way street. When we make that friend request he eagerly responds.

This fresh connection opens up a whole new world and there are benefits to this new-found companionship! We begin to see life from his perspective. We begin to understand how valuable we are to him. We begin to find joy in living and peace in the midst of the turmoil and storms in our lives. We begin to "...experience partnership with the divine nature..." (2 Peter 1:6 Passion Translation)

In the next verse, Peter enlightens us with the outcome of that partnership: faith, goodness, understanding, and strength of self-control, patient endurance, godliness, mercy toward your brothers and sisters and unending love. That is a boatload of side effects! And not a one of them is against the command of God or injurious to your spiritual well-being.

When you come to understand God's love for you, then the lyrics of the only verse of "I Am a Friend of God" become compelling: "Who am I that you are mindful of me that you hear me, when I call. Is it true that you are thinking of me? How you love me, it's amazing!"

Once you experience the friendship of God you will truly say it's amazing! It's even more satisfying to know he's in it for the long haul. He's willing to be your BFF — best friend forever.

United Way Volunteers Fight Against Hunger

On September 26, 500 volunteers of the local Uniting Force for Good took action against hunger in Washington County. Company teams, organizations and individuals packaged 100,000 meals for distribution to local non-profits, churches and schools.

United Way of Washington County Executive Director Kristin Brandner said, "We have a great team of principals from area Washington County schools as our campaign chairs this year. They are on the front lines in our schools and see how issues like hunger impact their students' lives. One in five students in Washington County receive free or reduced lunch."

Campaign Co-chair Dave Uelmen, principal of West Bend Badger Middle School said,

"Everyone plays a part when it comes to helping our local community and this event is a remarkable example of how a group of people, no matter the size, can make a positive impact on their local community."

The event, sponsored by Sysco of Jackson, helped to officially kick off United Way's annual fundraising campaign, which runs through December 31. Campaign

Co-chair Phil Ourada, principal of Slinger High School, spoke about the fundraising effort saying, "We hope that the momentum generated by this event motivates people to continue giving, as well as finding ways to help in their local communities." United Way of Washington County provides an opportunity for community members to give, advocate and volunteer as ways to give back and pay it forward. Funds raised during the campaign will support over 20 programs aligned under the pillars of education, financial stability and health. To join the Uniting Force for Good in making an online donation, go to www.UnitedWayOfWashingtonCounty.org.

After Fatal Crashes, Advocacy For Median Barriers on I-41 Gets Results

– Wisconsin DOT To Complete First Installation Phase By Mid-November

When three crossover deaths occurred along Interstate 41 in 2018, Washington County leaders and the public applied pressure to the Wisconsin Department of Transportation. As a result, WisDOT will be installing a new cable barrier system on Interstate 41 between Cabela's and the Dodge County line sooner than originally planned. The first portion of the project from State Highway 144 to County Highway K will be completed by November 15. The remaining portions will be completed by October of 2020.

"We've felt that safety improvements here were a priority for years," said Scott Schmidt, highway commissioner. "The three crossover fatalities during the summer of 2018 on the stretch between Highway 144 and Highway 28 were really the straw that caused us to double our efforts."

Following multiple accidents and deaths last summer, Schmidt, the Sheriff's Department and County Administration engaged in conversations with Sen. Duey Stroebel, Rep. Rick Gundrum and the public. Local leaders and organizations requested WisDOT take action on the stretch immediately. The Washington County Farm Bureau passed a resolution requesting action and many members of the public came to support the projects throughout the process.

"We thank the WisDOT for their support on the two projects to tackle the long problematic cross-over accidents on I-41," said County Administrator Josh Schoe-mann. "This project is a direct result of the Washington County Board passing priorities of safe and secure communities and effective mobility and reliable infrastructure."

WisDOT has confirmed that cable guards will be added to the entire stretch before October of 2020.

The county reminds motorists to be mindful of workers installing the cable barrier system. In addition, the public should be aware of potential lane closures on I-41 during the projects.

Construction Continues On Highway H

Traffic control on Washington County Highway H between U.S. Highway 45 and County Trunk Highway HH in the towns of Kewaskum and Farmington has been modified in stages over the past week.

The road had been completely closed between Oak Drive and Kettle Moraine Drive to accommodate the application of a high friction surface treatment. Installation of the high friction surface treatment was completed on Wednesday, Sept. 25, but the project is not completely finished. The curves are now temporarily open to traffic and reflective centerline markers have been placed on the roadway. "Loose gravel" and "no pavement marking" signage has been placed on each end of the project area.

The detour signage will be removed as soon as the painting and the overall project is completed.

The bridge over the Milwaukee River just west of Oak Drive is scheduled for reconstruction in 2022. In preparation of that project, boring samples have been extracted over the past week. While crews are taking the boring samples, traffic will be controlled utilizing flaggers. With the curves being temporarily opened to traffic, please anticipate delays and be aware of this activity.

The Washington County Highway Department appreciates your patience and understanding as a hazardous segment of roadway is improved and the county strives to provide a safe and reliable infrastructure and improve mobility on the county highway system.

Dear Ma, Pa, & Carol,
I received your Oct. 17, letter yesterday, after we came back from Seattle. We went down to see Walter, but couldn't find him. I think he shipped out. Ask his mother where he is. On the way to Seattle it started to rain, boy did we get wet. I sure would like to get out of this state, because of the weather and you have to go so far to do anything, or take ferries, which cost too much. Well your at least going to get mail at the house, bet it'll seem funny at first. The sun was out for a while yesterday, but today it's cold and cloudy. Harry and I are going to try and get to go to school in Virginia. The schooling would be for about nine months. If you make it you get a good rating. We make about $200 a month at first.

It would be a good job after I get out. I could get a job with Dupont or some big construction company. Also while at school I would be closer to home. This truck driving job is just for the time being, as soon as boat training starts I'll go back to boats.

Josh Wege Celebrates His 10th Alive Day

By Andrea Hansen Abler

This Friday, Oct. 4, Josh Wege, a Campbellsport area native, is celebrating a big anniversary. It is the 10th anniversary of his "Alive Day."

An Alive Day is the anniversary of a day that you came close to death. For Josh, this day was 10 years ago.

On October 4, 2009, Josh was a member of the Marine Corps and was stationed in Afghanistan. While his group was on patrol, the truck they were riding in hit and IED (improvised explosive device).

The explosion cost Josh his legs, below the knee, but not his life. Since that day, he was fitted with prosthetic legs and has thrived.

"It's hard to believe 10 years has gone by this fast," Josh said. "It doesn't really hit until I take a step back to reflect on my life. I've been an amputee for almost one third of my life."

"It's just crazy to think about that, but it is who I am. This is my new normal and honestly I'm a better person because of my injury. I was blessed with a different perspective early in my life and it taught me what's truly important and what's trivial."

With the support of his family, parents David and Kay Wege and four siblings. They helped him through the most tragic experience of his young life.

"Ten years ago was the worst day of my life, but I never felt alone," Josh said. "I always felt if I did my job to the best of my ability, God would take care of the rest. That may not seem comforting, but it acted like a shield because I knew any time I stepped out of the wire, it wasn't in my hands anymore. All I had to do was focus on my job. Faith, family, and my fellow Marines helped me get through the day by all rights I should have died."

After being injured, he went to a hospital in Germany for a little while. Then Josh was transferred to the Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Bethesda, MD, where he spent the rest of his recovery time.

"My family supported me throughout my recovery," Josh said. "They met me in the hospital and were relieved to know I was still alive. We took things a day at time. My twin brother, Joe, stayed with me through it all. He refused to leave my side and became the cornerstone of my recovery."

After recovering and trying to figure out what to do next, a great opportunity fell his way. He was asked to become a member of the Wounded Warrior Amputee Softball Team, now called the USA Patriots. Being athletic all his life, this was perfect for Josh.

With the team, Josh has traveled throughout the country playing softball and inspiring others. The team has come to this area many times over the past 10 years to play in front of Josh's home crowd.

"I currently enjoy playing softball with the USA Patriots," Josh said. "It's a team comprised of wounded veterans who share the trauma of blast injury and who still selflessly serve beyond the military uniform. We use the game of softball to recharge, heal, inspire, and most importantly lead by example. The team has created lifeline friendships for me and adds to the support structure in my life." The team plans to be in the area again next summer. They may even host a camp for amputee children. More information about this will be in future editions of the Campbellsport News.

He has even more big plans for his future.

"I'm currently going to school at Florida Gulf Coast University studying exercise science," Josh said. "After I finish my bachelors degree, I'd like to apply to a grad school for a masters in prosthetics and orthotics. In the future, I'd like to help fellow amputees and continue the legacy of Mr. Greg Davidson from Puyallup, WA. He has been a role model for me in choosing prosthetics as a career. I'd like to shadow him and learn under him."

Though he has gone through a lot, Josh wouldn't change a thing and is very grateful for what he has been able to accomplish. His family, friends and area residents have been very supportive over the years and encouraging.

"My injury has been the biggest blessing of my life," Josh said. "It has shaped me into the man I am today. I always asked God for a challenge and he answered me in a unique way. He took something from me, but gave me the opportunity to serve and help others."

"To the residents of Campbellsport: don't forget what it means to serve. Remember to reflect regularly and find meaning in your life. I'm proud to have grown up in this small Wisconsin town and wouldn't change a thing about my life."

Happy Anniversary Josh!

Applicants Sought For Ag Literacy Teaching Award

Do you know a teacher who does a great job educating students about agriculture? If so, encourage him or her to fill out an application for the Wisconsin Ag in the Classroom program's Outstanding Teacher Award.

Wisconsin Farm Bureau's Ag in the Classroom program annually recognizes a Wisconsin teacher or a teaching team for their achievements in educating students on the importance of agriculture while integrating agricultural concepts across a curriculum.

Certified teachers currently integrating agricultural concepts into non-agricultural curricula in the pre-K through high school are eligible to apply. Applications may be from an individual teacher or a teaching team. Certified agriculture education instructors are not eligible.

Learning activities may include, but are not limited to, understanding agriculture's impact on personal lives, our national heritage, the environment, national security and the economy. Innovative and interdisciplinary programs are encouraged.

The state winner(s) will receive a plaque and a $500 stipend to attend the National AITC Conference in Salt Lake City, Utah in June 2020. The winner(s) will also represent Wisconsin as the state's nominee for the Excellence in Teaching about Agriculture Award Program presented by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Ag in the Classroom program. Applications are avail-

MPTC to Host Discover Moraine Park in October

Moraine Park Technical College will be hosting its annual community event, Discover Moraine Park, to help attendees jump-start their education and career. High school students, displaced workers, and individuals looking for a career change are encouraged to attend this event at any of the College's three campuses.

Discover Moraine Park is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 9, at the West Bend campus; Wednesday, Oct. 16, at the Fond du Lac campus; and, Wednesday, Oct. 23, at the Beaver Dam campus. Participants may stop in anytime between 4 and 6 p.m.

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

It's October already and that brings a bundle of new books to the library. October is one of the major publishing months of the year. One reason is that it's just a couple months before Christmas and publishers want the new books fresh in shoppers' minds and on display tables in bookstores.

Here at the library, we have ordered a great selection of new books for this month. In adult fiction, there is a new Jack Reacher by Lee Child coming at the end of the month called Blue Moon. Remember Elizabeth Strout's Olive Kitteridge? Olive, Again is the sequel and it will not disappoint. October will bring out many holiday titles. James Patterson and the Women's Murder Club is back with 19th Christmas. The Christmas Shopaholic revisits Becky Brandon and her adventures during the Christmas holiday. Debbie Macomber releases A Mrs. Miracle Christmas. Full Throttle is Joe Hill's newest which is full of horror stories, but that is to be expected by Stephen King's son. Finally, John Grisham's classic legal thriller called The Guardians will be on the shelf in the middle of the month.

We have some wonderful books coming out in October in non-fiction also. We will have new biographies by Demi Moore, Julie Andrews, Kyle Carpenter, Elton John and more. Bill Bryson is releasing an owner's manual for every person called The Body.

This book is full of remarkable facts and anecdotes all about the human body. No Stopping Us Now: The Adventures of Older Women in American History written by Gail Collins is a highly acclaimed book about woman and aging in America. In celebration of the team's 100th anniversary, The People's Team: An Illustrated History of the Green Bay Packers by Mark Beech will be ready to check out next week.

In young adult fiction, look for a collection of short stories by Divergent author Veronica Roth titled The End and Other Beginnings: Stories from the Future. Marie Lu returns with her next in the Legend series, Rebel. The Fountains of Silence is new historical fiction about Spain under Franco's dictatorship and is written by Ruta Sepetys.

For the youngest readers there will be some fun new board books such as This Little Scientist and Meet Baby Shark. Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire is the fourth in the series to be released as a fully illustrated edition. Look for a new Amelia Bedelia, Dork Diaries and Wings of Fire 3 in a graphic novel. Little cooks and their parents will be delighted with The Complete Baking Book for Young Chefs released by America's Test Kitchen Kids.

All this and more at your local library!

Come on in and check us out.

Rabies Found Recently In Bat

The Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department would like to alert the public to a recent report of rabies in a bat. Rabies is known to cycle periodically – estimated to reoccur every eight to ten years. Animals reported with rabies include skunks, bats, cows, dogs, cats, horses, foxes, and raccoons. Wild animals at risk, particularly skunks and bats, often expose domestic and farm animals. Most rabies exposures to humans or animals occur through a bite or scratch of a rabid animal.

Due to the presence of rabies in our community, the public is advised of the following:

- Any exposure (bite or non-bite) to bats should be discussed as soon as possible with your physician or your local health department.

- Check your pet's vaccination histories and update as necessary. Keep vaccine records and note type of rabies vaccine (one year or three year duration). Indoor pets need rabies vaccine.

- Do not keep wild or exotic animals as pets.

- Do not handle wild animals – dead or alive.

- Teach children to safely approach animals, including others' pets.

If you or a family member get bitten or scratched:

- Wash the wound immediately with liberal amounts of soap and water.

- Call your medical clinic.

- Call your local public health department for instructions.

- Call local law enforcement, even if you own the pet.

If your pet has been in contact with a wild animal:

- Call your veterinarian.

- Call your local health department for instructions.

Plan Commission Discusses School Storage Building

However, no drawings detailing the exterior elevations or what the building looks like were presented, so the commission voted to table the issue until the Kewaskum School District submits building permit plans.

The next regularly scheduled plan commission meeting is scheduled for October 22.

The 600,000-square-foot storage structure in question is being constructed to the north of the tennis courts. The estimated cost of the building is $300,000, according to the building permit application.

"I got state approved plans for the entire structure of the building. And we have the issued permit from the City of West Bend to build the building. So that's why I'm not so sure why everybody is up in arms over all this, because we have everything, and the foundation was covered under the building site permit," said Doug Franzen, facilities director for the Kewaskum School District.

There also has been some miscommunication between the village's building inspection services and the Wisconsin Department of Safety and Professional Services, according to Village Administrator Matt Heiser.

The state granted a permit to the school district to proceed with work on the structure, which then presented to the village's building inspector service in West Bend.

Work started on the building over the weekend of September 22, under that approved permit, according to Heiser.

However, inspectors told Heiser they found an issue on Monday, Sept. 23, with the way that the floor, the block and the footings were joined. Therefore, an inspector told Heiser that the plans need to be revised with the state.

In the process, the plan never came before the village's plan commission.

"I would like to talk about the process in terms of how a permit gets issued, and in my experience, the builder, which is the school in this case, or the architect has the ability to do this as well, should submit plans to the state for approval. Once they receive that approval from the state, the state would submit those to the village, and that would go to Plan Commission," Plan Commissioner Chad Cook said.

"So now tonight I hear that the inspection service has issued a permit before we really reviewed," Cook added. "There are no building plans here, and when we provide Plan Commission approvals, we're kind of the last guy that looks at any commercial structure that is above a one- or two-family dwelling. So if it's a storage garage, a factory, a retail store, an apartment building of three units or greater, we have to look at that proposal in its entirety."

The state approved plans in 2017, according to Franzen. The district did not know when it would have funding for the building, so it planned to only lay the foundation for a future building, according to Franzen.

Franzen said he decided not to pour the concrete at that time because it was a poor design, so it has since been redesigned.

He said that one of the inspectors out of West Bend gave him the go-ahead to start construction, and now a different inspector out of West Bend is saying that the plan needs to be resubmitted.

"This is all in emails, so there is transparency," Franzen said.

"I think the issue is the fact the fact that this project has moved forward without due respect to the village permitting process," Village Trustee Dave Spenner told the Plan Commission. "There is not misunderstanding about the fact that they know that they needed a permit from the village because they made application to go through that process. But they decided that our efforts are irrelevant."

"I think that there is a process in place for citing people when this happens, and I think that citation needs to be given to the school administration for their action, because they understand the building process," Spenner added. "How in the world can we hold some private citizen accountable and suggest that they are going to get a ticket or they are going to be held accountable for some minor construction project that they do on their little 40 by 100 square foot lot and then we look the other way for the other people. That is just fundamentally wrong. It is morally wrong, and I think you should take that into consideration."

Water Retention System

The Plan Commission approved the original proposal for the middle school project in 2017.

"At that time, there was a large stormwater biofield kind of in the middle, just east of the new building in the parking lot. After that time, the biofield was shrunk and other changes around that area revised the plan. And due to miscommunication, the village wasn't in the loop on that piece," Heiser said.

Franzen said that when the school building project first started, representatives from the district met with village representatives.

"When the project started, the district had tried to partner with the village on helping them with some of the stormwater retention stuff that comes down Third Street and floods the bottom of our fields," Franzen said.

At that time, the village elected not to partner with the school, according to Franzen.

"When you guys elected not to go that route, that biofield got shrunk, and that site got revised at that time because it was only handling our parking lot and the new building stormwater. The Third Street stormwater would still continue down the runoff discharge and flow directly through our fields and into the river," Franzen said.

"This is the first I've heard that the biofield was modified that we failed to invest in it. My impression was that the school district was still going to allow the Third Street water to go through the biofield for MS4 permitting, and we were going to have a discussion about maintenance.... This was the first I'm hearing that the biofield had been modified from the original plan. So I'm a little taken aback by that issue," Village President Kevin Scheunemann said.

"I believe the village position was if we did invest in that, then we would be required to take over maintenance of it, to control it, so that we could continue to comply with MS4 going forward," Heiser said.

Walk To End Alzheimer's Projected To Raise $100,000

Washington County residents showed their support on Saturday, Sept. 21, as nearly 600 participants turned out to support the Walk To End Alzheimer's at Regner Park in West Bend.

The walk, chaired by Dr. Larry Sullivan, neurologist at Froedtert Health, and Debbie Spaeth, president of SSA Sales Reps, is projected to raise $100,000. Fundraising will continue over the next few months as walkers forward additional donations by mail, drop-off or online.

"The residents of Washington County have embraced the Walk To End Alzheimer's for the last eight years and it continues to play a key role in advancing our mission in the fight against Alzheimer's disease," said Dave Grams, executive director of the Alzheimer's Association Wisconsin chapter. "Over the years, through strong leadership and passionate community support, the Washington County Walk is a leader in Wisconsin and has raised nearly $700,000 to provide education, care and support services to local residents, and fund promising Alzheimer's research."

Donations can still be made to the Walk to End Alzheimer's and should be directed to the Alzheimer's Association, Southeastern Wisconsin chapter at 620 S. 76th St., Suite 160, Milwaukee, WI 53214. Please designate contributions to the Walk to End Alzheimer's, Washington County Walk. Donations can also be made online through November 30 at www.alz.org/wi

The money raised in Washington County is used to fund research and services including support groups, information and referral services, care consultations and a 24/7 Helpline – 800-272-3900.

Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's is the nation's largest event to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer's care, support and research. Held annually in hundreds of communities across the country, this inspiring event calls on volunteers of all ages to become Champions in the fight against Alzheimer's. Champions include people living with the disease, friends, families, neighbors, caregivers, and business and community leaders, all getting involved in Walk to End Alzheimer's.

Soccer Players Suffer Through A Tough Week

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum soccer coach John Kenworthy walked off the "Doc" Mitchell Athletic Field shaking his head. His Indians played as hard as visiting Ripon in their East Central Conference matchup on September 24, but once again the Tigers prevailed, winning 2-0 with both goals coming in the last 38 minutes.

With the loss, KHS dropped to 3-4 in the East Central Conference and 8-6 overall.

"I honestly think we are the better team," Kenworthy said. "We had some opportunities."

The game was scoreless at the half, then at 52:29, Tiger striker Jordan Whitrock came right up the middle of the KHS defense and was bearing down on keeper Carter Curtin when he put the brakes on and booted the ball into the back of the net for a 1-0 lead.

Kewaskum threatened 17 minutes later when its leading scorer, Will Jens, drilled a ball toward the goal from the left side. It hit the crossbar and dropped right down to the turf. "I thought we scored," Kenworthy said, indicating there are times like this when the ball settles in the goal area, but the official near the play said it did not, and the teams played on.

"He (the official) had a better angle than I did," Kenworthy said.

Ripon's second goal came off the toe of Thomas Schramm at 81:43. Schramm dribbled the ball toward Curtin, waiting to see what he would do, and when Curtin came forward, he popped it over Curtin's head.

Kenworthy gave his players credit for never quitting and hustling until the end, but, "It didn't come out with the outcome we were looking for."

KHS came up with six shots on goal, while Ripon had 15. "Carter (Curtin) had 13 saves, and that's a high number," noting the defenders all played well, especially Kaeden Capozzo, who "had another good game," along with outside defender Andrew Bolek.

Dating back to 2011, Kewaskum is 0-14-3 against Ripon and will have one more chance to end that streak, October 17 at Ripon.

On September 27, the Indians had to travel to Waupun for a rematch with the Warriors, and it wasn't pretty. The hosts scored six times in the first half and five in the second toward an 11-1 victory.

"I felt in a lot of ways we lost that game on the bus," Kenworthy said, indicating several players were late, and when the game started, "We came out distracted and slow ... and you just can't do that."

Jens scored Kewaskum's lone goal. It came at the 11-minute mark and pulled the Indians even with the Warriors at 1-1. "It was Will from Isaiah (Cochran)," Kenworthy said. "It was a pretty play."

Baron Buchholz led the winners with a three-goal, "hat trick." Waupun got off 45 shots in the 80-minute contest.

Kenworthy cited Trevor Geldnich for playing "a real smart game," and he said he was happy to be able to give Luke Johnson some playing time.

KHS, 3-5 in the EC and 8-7 overall, hosted Winneconne on October 1 and has a tough assignment at KM Lutheran October 3. "Our goal this week is to focus on the things we do well," Kenworthy said.

Kewaskum Youth Soccer Results

September 28 Kewaskum U10 Comets 7 Hartford Orange Blasters 4

The Kewaskum U10 Comets won a hard-fought, back-and-forth game on Saturday.

Great team passing proved to be the difference in the game, highlighted by a Brady Flood to Easton Sabish to Jaxon Vogt score. Jaxon also scored after taking three consecutive shots on goal that deflected off the goalie and goal posts. One of Oliver Grover's two goals was shot so hard it deflected off the goalie and still went in.

With assists from almost half the team, this game proved what can be done with teamwork.

September 26 Kewaskum U8 Hornets 6 Slinger Tide 3

The U8 Kewaskum Hornets beat the Slinger Tide Thursday night, 6-3.

The Hornets came under fire early, but the stiff defense of Lily Dorn and Bristol Bishop kept the score 0-0 for the most part of the first quarter.

Bennet Bishop assisted on Asher Charlton's second quarter tally, followed quickly by goals from Gavin Vandlen and Sullivan Marquardt.

Leading 3-1 at half, Carson Butzlaff scored three times in the second half to put the game away. The team played with a lot of energy and that can be attributed to a good practice earlier in the week, and Coach Tom (Bishop) and Coach Curt wearing bright neon zoomer pants to get the Hornets buzzing.

September 28 Kewaskum U14 Cyclones 2

Jackson Cheetos 3
The U14 Kewaskum Cyclones played tough against the Jackson Cheetos.

They gave themselves opportunities, but fell just short.

Caitlin Finger and Abby Gehartz scored goals. Abby played physical all game offensively while Elizabeth Erdmann and Emily Melzer played strong keeping the Jackson Cheetos away from their goal.

Kewaskum U14 Hurricanes 5 Erin 0

Alexander Severance scored the first goal to get the momentum going.

Oliver Haydin sent a high sailing ball into the net, right over the goalie's head.

Riley Kuehl scored a goal off a great assist from Dan Jungers.

Zavier Chipman was a very focused goalie and didn't let a single ball past him.

Alexander Severance scored another goal off a break away.

Diesel Fellenz took a shot from farther out and knocked it into the high corner of the goal.

Timmy Hafemann, Jayson Maas, and Dan Hoogervorst played some aggressive defense and kept the ball out of scoring range.

September 28 Kewaskum U10 Fire 1 Juneau Rage 1

U10 Kewaskum Fire duked it out with the well-matched Juneau Rage on Saturday, September 28.

The Rage gave everything they had, but with some amazing defense played by Ella Schmidt and Joel Maas, as well as some great stops by Cameron Jones and Landon Scheel, they were only able to score once. This left the score 0-1 with the Rage in the lead.

During the second half, the Fire turned on their aggression and had several close attempts on goal. Toward the end of the third quarter, Leviathan Whitfield slammed one into the net with a direct kick.

The matchup was intense and teams gave it their all, ending with a tie score of 1-1. It was a great, nail-biting game for spectators to watch!

September 26 Storm 1 Richfield Gunners

In a tough defensive game against the Richfield Gunners, the Kewaskum Storm lost 2-1.

Olivia Gurrola scored the lone goal. At goalie, Leeliuna Deleon had two saves.

September 28 Kewaskum U9 Rebels 6 Erin Cyclones 5

The Kewaskum U9 Rebels played a tough game against the Erin Cyclones and came away with a 6-5 win.

Ryland Ciriacks had five goals and Veronica Hoell had one goal in the win. Cailyn Beres and Landon Herriges had their best games of the season, being aggressive on offense with the ball.

The team showed great improvements in passing the ball and went to 3-1 overall.

September 26 Kewaskum U8 Dragons 2

We won 2-1. Goals scored by Carson Eilbes and Riley Jenkins.

Great defense by Oliver Fideler and Paxten Boeldt.

Way to be aggressive Dragons!!

September 21 Kewaskum U8 Stars

After last week's impressive win, this may have been a tough loss but the team work was impressive.

Luke made an excellent long kick to score our first goal. The second goal resulted from some great team work between Decklan and Cash. Decklan took the ball down the field and passed to Cash for a goal. Great awareness of your teammate!!

It may have been a low scoring game from our end but there were great blocks at the goal. Ryker had an excellent block at the goal that made the crowd roar!! Justin and Bella had some wonderful kicks that dropped the ball down field making opportunities for a goal.

Thanks to all the defense that sacrificed their bodies at times to stop a goal. Great team work from all. Hard work by all kids this week. Now let's take all that we learned and go strong next week.

September 28 Kewaskum U7 Wolves 4

Hartford Orioles 1
The U7 Coed Kewaskum Wolves played a great game against the Hartford Orioles. The Wolves dominated the entire game and defeated them 4-1.

Isaac Honeyager, Dawson Scheel, and Athena Perondi played great defense and helped keep the ball out of the goal. Bentley Kuhfuss connected with the back of the net for two goals, Aubrey Long also connected with the back of the net for two goals with an awesome assist by Josie Whitfield.

Overall, they demonstrated great teamwork offensively and defensively.

Kewaskum U7 2 Games Lions

The U7 lions had two games in the last week.

The first was their toughest match yet, and it ended their winning streak. They fought hard and stayed aggressive until the very end. Owen Rabuck bounced back from multiple injuries.

Great defense was played by Mason Cornelius and Camille Miofsky.

Caleb Crass played his most aggressive game yet, and his twin sister, Harper, felt the impact of this when he accidentally hit her in the face. She rebounded like a trooper, though, and almost had a breakaway goal.

Eisley Herriges saved a goal during the game despite losing her shoe in the process! Connor Yapp had some great throw-ins and even found time to wiggle his loose tooth during the game. Overall it was a great game fought by all!

The second game of the week went much better, and the Lions came away with a victory against Hartford.

Harper Crass was so close to scoring a goal that an official review almost needed to be called! Camille Miofsky continued her great defensive streak. Owen Rabuck showed off some impressive passing and throw in skills.

The offense was led by Brady Beck, Mason Cornelius, and Caleb Crass. Eisley Herriges showed her aggressive side on defense and Connor Yapp had great field position throughout the game.

The Lions are really starting to look solid out there on the field thanks to a great coaching staff!

With Two More Wins, KHS Tennis Team Closes In A Chance For Second Place

By Judy Harlow

Even since Peter Garcia came on board with the Kewaskum girls tennis team (the boys team, too), good things started to happen. Displaying better fundamentals and more strategy, the Indians kept moving up the Eastern Wisconsin Conference ladder, and this could be their best year ever.

On September 26, the Indians outplayed the Roncalli/Two Rivers co-op team 5-2 in a match at Kiwanis Park to improve to 7-1 in the EWC. Now all that remains is the match against Plymouth (October 2) set to determine which team will finish second in the EWC behind unbeaten Kohler.

"The team has already exceeded my expectations," Garcia said. "In a season of numerous close matches throughout the conference, we have been able to win while others suffered 4-3 losses knocking each other off."

KHS won all four singles match, with senior Megan Krolski (5-3 EWC) leading the way at number one with a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Erin Schermetzler. At number two, Sabrina Lor was dealing with back discomfort; but knowing the importance of her match, she ignored the pain and came up with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-1 victory.

Haley Densow continued her fine season with a 7-6 (1), 6-4 win, boosting her conference record to 7-1 and overall mark to 11-2. Sophie Marchello (7-1 and 10-5) ended up with a default win over Ashlyn Dellemann, who twisted an ankle and could not continue.

Kewaskum's numbers one and two doubles teams both went to third sets but lost their matches. At number three, sophomores Annie Christenson and Madysen Schlosser needed just two sets to erase their opponents for the Indians' fifth win.

Should the Indians beat Plymouth, unofficially they would post their highest finish ever in the sport.

"Either way I couldn't be prouder of this group," Garcia said. "I am still amazed at what we have accomplished given we are winning with four sophomores in their first year of varsity experience ... Shocking to say the least."

On September 24, KHS sailed through its match against host Howards Grove, winning 5-2, although the Tigers took numbers two and three doubles teams into third sets in key matches.

At number three, Annie Christenson and Madysen Schlosser won a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 marathon, with darkness "closing in fast," according to KHS coach Peter Garcia.

"With the win we remain tied for second place with Plymouth," Garcia said about his team, which is currently 6-1 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play and 9-5 overall.

Garcia praised his number one, Megan Krolski, for "winning convincingly," 6-2, 6-3. He was also pleased with his sophomores, Haley Densow and Sophie Marchello, at numbers three and four.

Youth Gridiron Results From Last Weekend

All four levels hit the road this past Saturday, with the eighth, seventh, sixth and fifth grades hosting West Bend East.

The eighth grade team got out to a fast start but couldn't hold off West Bend East Suns as they came back for a 14-12 victory over the Indians. The Indians got on the board on just the second play of the game when running back Dylan Soyk busted away for a 49-yard touchdown run. The two point kick failed making it 6-0.

The Indians defense played well throughout much of the first half and in the second quarter the Indians were able to find the end zone again with quarterback Dawson Stahl hooking up with wide receiver Bailey Ralph for a 10-yard touchdown pass to make the score 12-0 Indians.

East got on the board late in the second quarter with a 40-yard touchdown run and made the two point kick making the score 12-8 going into halftime.

In the third quarter neither offense was able to get anything going, but in the middle of the fourth quarter East was able to bust off another long touchdown run making it a 14-12 East lead and the Indians couldn't get anything going offensively at the end of the game.

The Indians defense was led by Matthew Oelhafen, who had a couple tackles for losses. The offense was led by the running of Soyk who rushed for 90 yards on eight carries.

The seventh grade Indians got off to a hot start with Landon Daniel taking their first offensive play all the way for a 46-yard touchdown run and they never looked back from that point in route to a 24-0 win.

The defense forced several turnovers with a forced fumble by Karter Fell and recovery by Brock Bonlender, along with interceptions by Everett Donath and Austin Reichel. Other touchdowns on offense included a pass from Daniel to Jesse Tesch for a 45-yard touchdown and then two touchdown runs by Corbin Dexter, one for 58 yards and the other covering 12 yards.

The sixth graders allowed West Bend East to get off to a fast start, leading 20-0 at halftime but the Indians continued to battle back and came up just short in a 20-13 defeat.

The Indians defense was again led by the stellar play of Gabe Halopka, who recored a quarterback sack and several tackles for losses. The Indians scored two fourth quarter touchdowns, the first was a three-yard run by Kingston Grisolono and the second was a four-yard pass from Chase Cook to Cole Loser.

After the Loser touchdown, kicker David Brown had a great on-side kick that the Indians recovered but the clock expired after a pass completion as the Indians were out of timeouts.

The fifth grade team gave a great defensive performance by both teams, which led this game to end in a 0-0 tie (no overtime is played below the eighth grade level). The Indians defense on the day was led by Quin Dornacker making some nice plays in the West Bend East backfield.

All teams will be at home this coming Saturday, October 5, as they play host to the Cedarburg Dawgs beginning the eighth grade at 9 a.m. Come cheer on the teams as we'll also celebrate Parent's Day and have the drawing for the prizes of our fundraising raffle.

Trio Of Indians Runners Place High In Drexler Test

By Judy Harlow

Top-six finishes by Alyssa Butz, Faith Mertzig and Isaiah Lubner highlighted the efforts of the Kewaskum High cross country team in the annual Dave Drexler Invitational at Hon-E-Kor Country Club on September 26.

Butz, a junior, stayed close to the lead runners for nearly the entire 5,000 meters and was clocked in 21 minutes, 30.9 seconds, 57 seconds behind Mya Hartjet of University School of Milwaukee, who won the race in 20:33.5.

Mertzig, who continues to improve in the sport, was very steady and took fifth with a time of 21:47.3.

On the boys' side of the ledger, it was the sophomore Lubner up near the front, with his clocking of 17:57.1, good for sixth place.

The KHS girls finished third as a team, coming in with 58 points, 20 behind the victorious USM squad. Hartford Union High was second with 47. Hartford captured the top spot among the boys team. Behind a 2-4-8-9-12 finish, the Orioles posted an impressive 35 points, while USM was second with 42; Kettle Moraine Lutheran, third with 72; and Kewaskum in fourth with 82.

"All of the girls had PRS (personal records) for the course, not the season," KHS coach Eugene Peterson said, adding, "The boys all ran good races. It was a good outcome for them," considering Hartford is a strong D-1 program and University School normally had good teams.

"I felt good, but I had a lot of cramps," Lubner said of his race. "My calves were really hurting at the end." Still, he sprinted the final 50 meters to improve his finish. "I passed two guys and I almost passed a third," he said.

A year ago, Lubner was running for a home school team, and now he is happy to be running for Kewaskum.

Alyssa Butz said she thought she placed fourth or fifth a year ago, so she moved up for the lone KHS home meet. For part of the 2018 season, she was slowed by a foot injury. "I'm healthy this year," and happy she is. "I've just got to run a little faster," she said.

The runners started the race with a long downhill section, and Butz was glad to have the experience since the Indians still have at least one race on a challenging course. "Soon we'll go to Campbellsport, and they have a pretty big hill," she said.

Junior Gannon Kreuser placed 11th (18:49.7) for the KHS boys, then came Lance Grosskoph in the 20th spot (19:22.3), followed closely by Clayton Kappler in 22nd (19:37.3), and Logan Haydin, 23rd (19:44.19).

Top individual honors went to Austin Knoeck of Kettle Moraine Lutheran, who had a good lead at the finish line with his time of 17:28.7.

In addition to Alyssa Butz and Mertzig, other counters for the Lady Indians were Andrea Butz, who finished 12th over with a 23:04.5; Tierney Herman in 18th (23:41.1) and Courtney Zarda two places back in 20th (23:48.9).

The Indians were missing Lisa Bolek. Peterson said she recently suffered a concussion in another school activity.

KHS teams are at Homestead Hollow October 3 for the Slinger Invitational. Because of the strength of the field, Peterson said, "We will be more concerned about our times and our (teams') places."

College Sports Notes On Former Kewaskum High School Grads

By Judy Harlow

There are currently five former Kewaskum High golfers who are now playing at the collegiate level. They include Sam Schlosser, Andrew Otto and Jordan Carlton at Concordia University, Brad Buechel at the University of Dubuque in Iowa and Ashley Trapp at Lakeland University.

Trapp and her Muskie teammates just finished competing in the NACC (Northern Athletics Collegiate Conference) Women's Golf Championship at Meadowbrook Country Club in Racine. Lakeland finished in third place with 1,151 strokes, behind Aurora and St. Norbert College with respective scores of 1,054 and 1,108. There were nine teams in the competition.

Trapp, one of three freshmen on the team, wound up in 30th place with a 117-111-115-343.

At Dubuque, a Presbyterian University with approximately 2,000 students, Buechel has competed in three events, including the Milwaukee School of Engineering Men's Golf Invitational, which was held on The Highlands and The Brute at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Dubuque placed fourth in the event with a 301-296-597, with Buechel finishing in a tie for 19th place with a 75-75-150.

In his first met, the Tim Kopka Memorial host by Carthage College, Buechel shot a 79-82, good for a tie for 82nd in the field of 105. At that Clarke Fall Classic, he shot a 78-80-158, good for 12th out of 70, and at the Loras College Fall Invite, he shot a 7-over-par 78, good for a tie for 46th in the field of 46.

The Concordia Falcons finished third out of 14 teams and second out of 16 at their most recent events, the Wisconsin Lutheran Fall Invitational held at the Washington County Golf Course in Hartford and the MSOE Fall Invitational at the Grand Geneva Resort in Lake Geneva.

Helping the Falcons to a 591 total at the MSOE event were Otto, who shot a 2-over-par, 74-70-144, good for third place in the field of 83; Carlton, who carded rounds of 73 and 76 for a 149 and a tie with seven others in 11th place; and Schlosser, who was one shot back with a 150 on rounds of 71 and 79.

At the Wisconsin Lutheran Fall Invitational, both Schlosser and Carlton came in with 5-over-par 77s, while Otto did not play in this event.

 After his excellent effort in the 21-16 loss to Trine, Concordia's Gabe Christenson, a sophomore defensive back, was named as the Northern Athletics Collegiate Conference Special Teams Player of the Week. Christenson had eight solo tackles, and he recovered a blocked punt for a touchdown.

 The North Dakota University football team is currently sporting a 2-2 record after suffering a 35-20 loss to Eastern Washington in a game played on September 28 in Cheney, WA.

Kewaskum's Cade Peterson is the punter for the Fighting Hawks. Peterson punted six times in the game for a 31.3 yard average. His longest punt carried 42 yards.

North Dakota plays its Homecoming game at home this Saturday, October 5, against UC-Davis.

Schultz, McMullen, Crane, Malueg Bag Wisconsin Sprint Car Championship A-mains

—Davis Secures Second PDTR 360 Sprint Car Crown

On a cool and crisp early fall evening, 106 Sprint Cars packed the pit area and a large contingent of dirt-track racing enthusiasts filled the stands as four drivers secured 2019 season championship hardware in five Sprint Car divisions at the season-ending Wisconsin Sprint Car Championships at The Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth on Saturday, Sept. 28.

The final event of the 2019 Plymouth Dirt Track Racing season saw former series champion Jeremy Schultz of Beaver Dam come home victorious in a wild incident-filled 30-lap Bumper to Bumper Interstate Racing Association A-main.

Former PDTR 360 Sprint Car champ Brandon McMullen of Oshkosh used a dramatic late-race pass to earn the victory in the 25-lap Richard's of Dunbar PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main. Derek Crane of Waukegan, IL, posted a wire-to-wire victory in the Wisconsin Wingless Sprint Car A-main and C.J. Malueg of Johnsbury, IL, was victorious in the IRA Lightning Sprint Car A-main.

Hartland's Bill Balog wrapped up his ninth career IRA 410 Sprint Car Series title, Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee claimed his second PDTR 360 Sprint championship and fifth Midwest Sprint Car Association 360 Sprint Car title. Chris Dodd of Trevor earned the Wisconsin Wingless Sprint Car season title and Mike Neau of Kenosha secured the IRA Lightning Sprint Car championship.

In the headlining 30-lap IRA 410 Sprint Car Series A-main, Australia native and current Prairie City, IA, resident Lynton Jeffrey used his outside front row starting spot to power into the lead on the opening lap with two-time IRA champion Scotty Neitzel of Beaver Dam in tow.

On lap three, Joey Moughan of Springfield, IL, who started fourth, used the high groove to power his way into second place. Moughan continued to hound the low-riding Moughan over the next several laps before the leaders caught the back of the 24-car field on lap seven.

Two laps later, three-time NASCAR Cup champion Tony Stewart of Columbus, IN, who was the fast qualifier for the evening, moved up from his third starting position to slide past Moughan into second place in heavy lapped traffic in turn four on lap nine.

On the following circuit, Stewart spun to a stop in turn four to bring out the first of five caution flags. Stewart, who won the previous IRA event at Plymouth on August 31, restarted the race at the rear of the field and was closing in on her top 10 in the running order before retiring from the race with less than 10 laps to go and finishing 22nd.

On the restart, Moughan again used the high line to pressure Jeffrey, who stayed glued to the bottom of the track. The second caution flag appeared on lap 14 when rookie Hunter Custer of Chippewa Falls stopped on the backstretch.

When the race resumed, Jeffrey continued to fend off the determined Moughan as the two drivers pulled away from the rest of the field. On lap 23, the red flag appeared when Moughan hooked the thick cushion and flipped in turn four. Despite the flip, Moughan was able to return to the race at the rear of the field.

With Neitzel elevated to second and seventh starter Austin McCarl of Altoona, IA, lining up third, McCarl got on a big run along the high groove on the restart to vault into second on lap 24 and immediately pressure Jeffrey for the lead.

McCarl pulled even with Jeffrey on lap 26 and the two Knoxville Raceway regular competitors duelled for the top spot as the leaders moved into lapped traffic. On lap 28, Jeffrey moved to the middle of the track to work past a lapped car, while McCarl used a big run off of the cushion in turn two to seize the lead down the backstretch. However, seconds later the two drivers made contact sending Jeffrey flipping and McCarl off the track with tire and suspension damage.

The incident gave the lead to Jeremy Schultz, who had worked his way to the front of the pack from the 16th starting position. On the restart, Schultz worked the high groove, while Neitzel stayed low before the race was stopped for the fifth and final time when Plymouth's Josh Walter flipped in turn four on lap 29.

Just as the race resumed, Neitzel lost power to give second place to 2018 IRA champion Jack Blackhurst of Hanna City, IL, who started ninth. Schultz maintained the lead during the final two laps to earn his fourth IRA A-main victory of the 2019 season, fourth IRA A-main win at Plymouth and 11th career IRA main event triumph.

Blackhurst was second, Bill Balog, who started 21st after a heat race accident, secured his ninth IRA series championship with a hard-charging third-place finish, sixth starter Russel Borland of Kewaskum finished fourth and Steve Meyer of Sheboygan Falls, who started 10th, rounded out the top five.

After the first attempt to start was negated by a three-car incident in turn two involving Anthony Knierim of Franksville, Chris Larson of Greenfield and Chris Clayton of Waldo, Kurt Davis, who came into the night looking to secure both the PDTR and MSA 360 Sprint Car titles, grabbed the lead on the drop of the green flag of the 25-lap PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main from the pole position.

On lap three, 2017 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champion Brandon McMullen used the high groove to sweep past second starter Brandon Berth of Cascade to take second. Three laps later, 2018 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champ Justin Miller of Plymouth worked around Berth to secure third.

By lap 12, the low-riding Davis had built up a half-straightaway lead over McMullen, who was using multiple lines to try to track down the leader. With lapped traffic becoming a factor on lap 12, McMullen began to gradually reel in Davis.

By lap 21, McMullen had pulled to within five car lengths of Davis and two laps later the three-time MSA champion used the high line to power around Davis and into the lead exiting turn two.

McMullen pulled away over the final two laps to earn his second PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main victory of the 2019 season, 17th career PDTR main event win and 23rd career MSA A-main triumph.

Davis secured his second PDTR 360 Sprint Car title and fifth career MSA championship with a second-place finish, eighth starter Travis Arenz of Sheboygan placed third, Justin Miller was fourth and Berth completed the top five.

Derek Crane grabbed the lead of the Wisconsin Wingless Sprint Car A-main from the pole with third starter Allen Hafford of Beach Park, IL, following in second and Tim Cox of Park City, IL, who started sixth, in third.

The first of two red flags appeared on lap four when Randy Stanford of Kenosha and Vince Bartolotta of Muskego flipped simultaneously in turn two. On the follow lap, a seven-car incident in turn three resulted in Dennis Spitz of Lewisburg, KY, flipping.

As a result, Crane continued to hold down the top spot with Hafford hot on his heels. Second starter Zach Raidart of Gurnee, IL, who was one of the only drivers to venture up to the high groove, worked his way into fourth place and was challenging for third when he collided with the front stretch wall and flipped on the final lap just as the leaders took the checkered flag.

Crane held on to score his first A-main victory of the 2019 season in flag-to-flag fashion. Hafford was second, Cox finished third, fifth starter Chris Klemko of Bristol placed fourth and third starter Ryan Zielski of Oconomowoc placed fifth.

Chris Dodd placed 14th in the final A-main of the 2019 campaign to complete a championship season in the Wisconsin Wingless Series.

C.J. Malueg of Johnsbury, IL, grabbed the lead on the opening lap of the 20-lap IRA Lightning Sprint Car A-main from his outside front row starting spot with Mark Heinert of Oak Creek, who started sixth, falling into second.

The two drivers stayed first and second throughout the 20 laps and two caution periods, with Malueg leading all the way en route to the commanding victory. Heinert placed second, Mike Neau wrapped up the 2019 IRA Lightning Sprint Car title with a third-place finish, after starting fifth, Ron Branham finished fourth and Jeff Schmidt, who started 10th, completed the top five.

Bill Balog won the IRA 410 Sprint Car B-main, Nich Melis of Plymouth and Lance Fassbender of Burnett each notched Plymouth 360 Sprint Car B-main victories and George Gaertner Jr. of Salem captured the Wisconsin Wingless Sprint Car B-main.

Tony Stewart was the fast qualifier in IRA 410 Sprint Car Series time trials with a lap of 11.905 around the third-mile clay oval.

After 39 years in the cockpit, Jim Melis of Glenbeulah announced his retirement following the PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main. He ended his long and successful racing career with a second-place finish in his heat race and seventh-place showing in the A-main.

Melis' career began in the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Winged Super Modified division at Plymouth in 1981 and included many years competing with the IRA 410 Sprint Car Series and PDTR and MSA 360 Sprint Cars mainly at The Plymouth Dirt Track.

Melis' final year of racing saw him finish fourth in the PDTR 360 Sprint Car point standings and tally A-main victories at The Plymouth Dirt Track and the Dodge County Fairgrounds in Beaver Dam.

Along with three IRA 410 Sprint Car Series A-main victories, Melis captured 21 MSA 360 Sprint Car A-main wins, including 17 career PDTR 360 Sprint Car main event victories in his career.

A total of 106 cars checked in for the event, including 33 PDTR/MSA 360 Sprint Cars, 31 IRA 410 Sprint Cars, 30 Wisconsin Wingless Sprint Cars and 12 IRA Lightning Sprint Cars.

Kew-Cats Wind Up Fifth In North Shore Golf; Dreher Earns First Team Honors

By Judy Harlow

What a great way for three seniors to end their high school golfing careers in North Shore Conference play.

Four-year starter Alyssa Dreher, along with two-year starters Karissa Lange and Maddy Thull, all shot under 100 in the North Shore Tournament held September 24 at the Washington County Golf Course near Hartford.

"We placed third today and all four girls (counters) were under 100," Amy Uhlig, coach of the combined Kewaskum-Campbellsport team, said afterward.

As expected, powerhouse Cedarburg won the meet. The Lady Bulldogs came in with a 357 to wrap up a perfect year — Cedarburg won all eight of the NSC mini-tour meets — and a second straight North Shore title.

Leading the Kew-Cats was Dreher, who carded a 91. Dreher struggled on the front nine with a 49, but, boy, did she come back strong, shooting a six-over-par 42 on the back. With this round, Dreher finished fifth in conference action to earn first-team all-NS honors, moving up from the second unit in 2018.

Thull was next with a very consistent 47-48—95. Uhlig said, "The past few weeks she's kind of honed in and put some nice rounds together."

Lange carded a 48-48—96, while junior Rachel Anderson was one shot back with a 49-48—97, giving the Indians a 379 total behind Cedarburg and Hartford (377) but ahead of Homestead (395) by 16 shots.

Despite the fact they placed third in the tournament, the Kew-Cats had to settle for fifth place overall in league standings because of the slow start they had at the beginning of the season.

Along with Dreher, Lange received some all-conference acclaim. By finishing 15th overall in scoring for the year, she earned third team all-conference honors. "It's kind of nice to have back-to-back years with two girls getting all-conference," Uhlig said.

At the Hartford Invitation on September 27, the Kew-Cats finished sixth in the field of 12 with a 403 total. The host Orioles won the meet with a 361, 15 strokes ahead of Homestead.

For the Indians, it was Alyssa Dreher tied for third with an 89, then came Rachel Anderson, who carded a 96, good for a tie for 15th. The other two counters were Karissa Lange with a 104 and Maddy Thull with 114.

The Kew-Cats were scheduled to play in the Fond du Lac Regional at Rolling Meadows in Fond du Lac on October 2. The top four teams, and top four individuals not on the qualifying teams, advance to the Oshkosh West Sectional on October 7.

Plymouth Unleashes Potent Offense In Lopsided Victory Over Indians

By Judy Harlow

Scoring on each of its first seven possessions, the host Plymouth High football team took a 45-0 lead at halftime and rolled to a 66-0 shutout victory over Kewaskum in a key East Central Conference football game that many thought would be decided in the fourth quarter like several of their previous encounters.

"The best I can tell you is they were ready, and we were not," first-year KHS head coach Steve Tennes said. "We never got off the bus."

He continued, "Going in there, I felt good where we were at." Tennes noted the players did have a sub-par practice early in the week but came back with better efforts the next two. It didn't show on the field Friday.

Quarterback Cole Booth and running back Cooper Gosse were the main culprits for the Panthers, who remained perfect in the EC at 4-0. The two combined for 283 yards rushing, five touchdowns and a field goal, and the Indians, who fell to 2-2 in conference play and 3-3 overall, had no answer for them.

The Panthers' first possession ended with Gosse scoring on a 21-yard run with 10:52 left in the first quarter, and Booth broke loose for a 54-yard scamper a little over two minutes later, giving the Panthers a 14-0 lead.

After Kewaskum was forced to punt, the Panthers moved deep into the Indians' territory before stalling, so Gosse was called on to try a 29-yard field goal, which he made, giving the hosts a 17-0 lead.

The Indians mustered very little offense against a tough Panthers defense, punting several times in the second quarter.

Plymouth scored on four of its possessions, including a 10-yard TD pass from Booth to Gosse, a 30-yard run by Gosse, a 1-yard run by Mark Nehring and a six-yard run by Gosse.

Gosse was good on all four PATs, so Plymouth left for intermission with a comfortable lead.

"On paper, we are as big as they are, but that's only on paper, not on the field," Tennes said, indicating the Panther line was "gaining the point of attack."

The Indians, who continued to struggle in the second half, were held to just 19 yards on the ground. Jermaine, "J.J." Thull, the team's leading rusher, gained just 13 yards in seven carries, while Sam Lemler gained 13 yards in three carries.

"We had a first down or two, but when you have less than 100 yards in total offense, you didn't do much," Tennes said.

The KHS passing game was also stymied. Junior Michael Daniel had the most success, completing five of 10 passes for 35 yard. Senior Ty Cook completed just two passes in 11 attempts for nine yards.

The Indians' leading receivers were Reagan Dricken with one catch for 15 yards, Joshua Bocher, two catches for 14 yards and Dylan Maechtle, two catches for 12 yards.

KHS ended the night with just 63 yards of total offense and three first downs.

Daniel, the punter, was a busy man, punting a total of eight times, and Max Melzer added two in the fourth quarter. Kewaskum is hosting Campbellsport on October 4, and it is Homecoming Week for the Indians.

"Certainly this game takes on added meaning," Tennes said, pointing to the fact both teams are 2-2 in conference play. He believes, "If there is one team we can come back from a big loss for, it's Campbellsport."

In other EC games, Berlin knocked Winneconne from the unbeaten ranks, 46-8, while Ripon pounded Kettle Moraine Lutheran, 48-13, and Campbellsport shut out Waupun, 52-0.

Current East Central standings: 1. Plymouth; 2. (tie) Berlin and Winneconne, 3-1; 4. (tie) Kewaskum and Campbellsport, 2-2; 6. (tie) Kettle Moraine Lutheran and Ripon, 1-3; 8. Waupun, 0-4.

KHS Spikers Bring Home Another Title, But Lose Important EC Match

By Judy Harlow

Their tournament schedule has been rigorous this year, but the Kewaskum volleyball team continues to be up to the challenge.

In their latest tournament appearance at Kettle Moraine High School on September 26, the Indians were the champions of the Silver Division after just missing a spot in the Gold Division.

"Kettle Moraine is a tough tournament, and we played well on the day," Kewaskum coach Laine Leitzke said. "We needed to start the day with a win versus Monona Grove, and we should have done it in two (games), which ultimately knocked us out of gold. We got the win and followed it with a match against Kettle Moraine, the number one seed. We played them tough, but when it got to crunch time, their players made plays and shut us down across the net."

Scores of the games against Monona Grove were 25-19, 23-25 and 15-10. The second match didn't go quite as well as the Lansers were a little stronger unit and won 25-14 and 25-21.

"We lost the tie-breaker criteria by six points and were put in the Silver (Division)," Leitzke said. "In the Silver bracket, we overpowered both Edgerton and Dominican with strong serving and a balanced offensive attack."

One of the Lady Indians' standouts was Carolyn Stockhausen, who had 11 kills, a team-high 10 aces and three blocks on the day.

"Stockhausen ran a consistent day, being an anchor on our team," Leitzke said, adding, "It was a solid team effort, with a lot of room for improvement."

Brelyn Scoles, Holly Henk and Amanda Miller also had good outings. Miller came through with 18 kills, three aces and a team-high 53 assists, while Henk chipped in with a team-high 29 kills, four aces, three blocks and 16 digs. Scoles was credited with 19 kills and 24 digs.

After this tournament, KHS is 11-5 on the year.

In an East Central match at Plymouth on September 26, the Indians went five games with the Panthers but did not come away with the victory. The scores were 21-25, 25-22, 25-20, 13-25 and 13-15. This was the second time in a row the Lady Indians have lost a close match in the conference, the other coming against Kettle Moraine Lutheran.

"It was a disappointing night; not because we lost, but because we did not play well and still could of and should of won," Leitzke said. "Three conference losses all coming in close sets, it really comes down to a mindset. Right now, Kewaskum volleyball does not have the right mindset. That is the focus of our coaching staff. Tonight, we had two or three players with statistically off-nights, and some others stepped up, but it just was not enough."

The KHS coach went on that the Panthers were celebrating Parents Night. "So they had some extra excitement on the court that we could just not match."

The Lady Indians didn't have a lot of kills in this match. Holly Henk was the only one who hit double digits. She contributed 13. Next came Brelynn Soles and Kiley May with eight each, while Jenna Butschlick chipped in with seven.

Other leaders were: aces — Amanda Miller, three and Amayah Thomas and Scoles, two each; blocks — Butschlick and May, 2 each; assists - Miller, 30; and digs - Henk, 17; Mikaela Marquardt, 10; Scoles, eight; and Miller, nine.

Current EC standings: 1. Winneconne, 4-0; 2. Plymouth, 3-0; 3. KM Lutheran, 3-1; 4. Campbellsport, 2-2; 5. Kewaskum, 1-2; 6. (tie), Waupun and Berlin, 1-3; 8. Ripon, 0-1. Results of some of the matches may be missing.

Bold And Beautiful Alliums For Every Garden

MELINDA MYERS

Short or tall, big or small, ornamental alliums are a treat for flower gardeners and for butterflies, bees and other pollinators. Plant the bulbs in fall and enjoy months of colorful spring and summer blooms – this year, and for years to come.

Just like their relatives, onions and chives, ornamental alliums are easy to grow and trouble free. Pests, diseases and even deer don't bother them. Most types are reliably perennial and winter hardy in zones three to eight. Alliums prefer well-drained soil and full sun, though they will also grow in partial shade.

You can choose flowers that are white, yellow, pink, purple or even blue. All are long lasting and combine nicely with other perennials. They are also excellent cut flowers. When alliums finish blooming, their foliage fades away quickly, so surrounding flowers can take center stage.

Alliums bloom at different times during the growing season, starting with early spring and continuing to midsummer. Consult Longfield Gardens' allium bloom time chart (longfield-gardens.com) for help choosing which alliums you want to plant in various spaces around your yard and garden, or in containers.

Plant Allium hollandicum 'Purple Sensation' for a burst of color just prior to peony bloom. These raspberry-violet globes measure three to four-inches across and are held high on three-foot stems that rise above most newly emerging perennials. The bulbs are inexpensive, so it's affordable to create large displays. Plus, they multiply over time, so are a great choice for naturalizing.

Be sure to include some show stopping Globemaster alliums. These flowers are the size of bowling balls, on sturdy, three-foot-tall stems. Bloom time is the same as most peonies, which make excellent companions. The dried seed heads are striking when left in the garden and will usually last into early autumn.

Shorter but just as impressive, allium christophii has eight-inch diameter flowers atop 12- to 18-inch-tall stems. The spiky, violet-pink blossoms have a silvery sheen that adds to the stunning appearance. Plant the bulbs in flower beds, along pathways and in rock gardens where their late spring blooms can be admired close-up. Allow the dried seed heads to remain in the garden for months of added interest.

Plant the drumstick allium, Allium sphaerocephalon, amongst ornamental grasses or allow it to grow up through other perennials. The two-toned, raspberry and green flowers have long, slender stems and are a fabulous addition to early summer arrangements. Drumstick alliums will self-sow, so they're ideal for naturalizing.

Add an exotic look to the late spring garden with allium bulgaricum, also known as Nectaroscordum siculum or Sicilian honey garlic. The sprays of dangling, cream and burgundy florets have a look that's completely different from other alliums. Plant them in flower gardens, informal naturalized areas and cutting gardens. They will return to bloom again year after year.

Once you start growing ornamental alliums, you'll find yourself looking for more varieties and more ways to include these beauties in the landscape. Their long-lasting, pollinator-friendly blossoms and easy-care nature make them a good choice for any gardener.

Pansies Add Color And Interest To Every Occasion

MELINDA MYERS

Pick a few pansy flowers and add a smile to any occasion. No matter where you live, pansies provide color, and in some cases, fragrance to the garden and containers during the cooler months of the year.

Pick a few flowers and freeze them in ice cube trays to serve in your favorite beverage. Or float them on top of your favorite seasonal punch. They will brighten any occasion, especially when snow is in the forecast.

Set a few flowers on a bed of greens for unique flavor and added color. Or garnish your entrée. Just be sure to tell your guests the flowers are edible. Otherwise you will end up with a pile of pansies at the edge of each plate.

Decorate cookies and cakes to make any dessert extra special. The cheerful flowers will generate happy thoughts and for some of us, a way to enjoy the last of this season's garden.

Make crystallized sugar pansies. Beat an egg white until it is foaming. Add water as needed to make the glaze easier to spread. Paint each blossom then sprinkle with sugar.

Use only pansies and other edible flowers that have not been treated with pesticides. Removing the reproductive parts in the center of the flower helps eliminate some of the bitter flavor. Complete the setting with a pumpkin planter. Cut a hole in the top of the planter just large enough for the pot of pansies to fit through. Punch a couple drainage holes in the bottom and set your pansy plant inside. Place your pumpkin planter on a decorative plate to protect your tabletop.

Purchase a few extra pansies and create a special planter to show your appreciation to the teachers in your life.

You'll need two yardsticks, a 4" x 4" wooden planter box, a potted pansy and saucer that will fit inside the planter box. Gather your glue gun and glue sticks, sandpaper and a hobby knife to create your gift. Cut the yardsticks into 4" lengths and sand the cut edges smooth. Glue the yardstick pieces vertically and next to each other onto all four sides of the planter. Set the saucer in the bottom of the planter box and place the potted pansy on top of it.

Your project is complete and sure to make the teacher's day while creating a fun memory with the youngsters in your life.

Pansies can add a fun twist to any celebration, appreciation gift or meal. So, get creative and make your next occasion stand out with the pansy flower.

Special credentialing/schooling. Sandra attended University of California Riverside in 2008, but the business life is much more interesting.

Why do you think your craft is important to the community/people? Everyone who walks through our door, whether it's their first time or 100th time, we treat everyone like family. We want Kewaskum to grow as a town. Leaving an amazing impression to visitors outside of Kewaskum means a lot. The goal is to grow together as a town.

What sets you apart from the competition? The attentive customer service in this establishment is something we pride ourselves with. Everyone deserves to be treated like kings and queens. We are young people with positive energy that like to spread our youth out. You're having a bad day? Come by, we will lighten the mood up.

Interesting fact/story about the business or history. The name 'El Pig's Butt' was inspired by our specialty pork. The logo is just fun, we serve chicken, cow and pig so why not have fun with it.

Favorite hobbies, family life (Married, Children, Pets). We have one child, Shayanne, 6 years old. No pets. We love to step out to other restaurants and see what makes them great. We come from the retail industry in Los Angeles, California. As a couple we have about 30 years in customer service experience, so we are always looking for new ideas.

Other Proud Accomplishments/funny talents. Sandra has ran 5 Los Angeles Marathons, 26.2 miles. Shayanne can run one mile in 10 minutes, not bad for a six year old. Chas is a pro amateur gamer.

Anything else you would like to add or tell about yourself or the business? Teamwork makes the dream work. We would not be where we are today without the leadership and guidance of my Executive Chef, also my uncle, Eli. Here at El Pig's Butt we care for each other, are always there for each other and most of all we push each other to be better.
