During his tenure, Meilahn participated in special projects of the commission, such as updating the zoning code and the Extra-Territorial Zoning Committee.

"We are sad to see him go. He has a tremendous knowledge base of everything in terms of municipal code, certified survey maps, you name it. His skill set will be difficult to replace," Village President Kevin Scheunemann said at the Plan Commission meeting on September 24.

New Village Ordinance Prohibits Sexting Among Minors

By Anne Trautner

On Monday, Oct. 7, the Kewaskum Village Board unanimously approved an ordinance that prohibits sexting (sharing of explicit images and related activities) between minors.

"Unfortunately, we have seen quite a bit of sexting over the last few years from as young as sixth grade through high school. The appropriate charge in these types of cases falls under Possession or Distribution of Child Pornography or Exposing a Child to Harmful Material, which can be either a felony or misdemeanor. The Juvenile Justice System does have various options to handle these cases, but we are still requesting very serious charges under one of the aforementioned statutes," Kewaskum Police Chief Tom Bishop said.

The penalty for juveniles, depending on the case, will be $187, $218.50 or $313, according to Bishop.

"These cases involve children who don't quite understand the seriousness of their actions and the consequences thereof. Our options were to either request serious charges on the children involved, or simply warn them for their actions. The ability to issue a municipal citation in these cases is an appropriate level of enforcement for what most of these types of cases involve and gives our officers another level of enforcement to use based on the seriousness of the crimes committed," he said.

According to the ordinance, a minor (anyone under the age of 18) commits the offense of sexting if he or she knowingly performs one or more of the following:

- Uses a computer, or any other device capable of electronic data transmission or distribution, to transmit or distribute to another minor any photograph or video of any person which depicts nudity, and is harmful to minors.
- Possesses any such material, unless if the minor did not solicit the photograph or video; the minor took reasonable steps to report the photograph or video to a school or law enforcement official; and the minor did not transmit or distribute the photograph or a video to a third party other than a law enforcement official.
- Solicits the transmission or distribution of any text, correspondence, message, photograph or video from another minor that would itself be prohibited under municipal code.

"This ordinance prohibits graphic depiction; it does not prohibit free speech," Village President Kevin Scheunemann said.

Other Village Matters

In other action at the October 7 meeting, the Kewaskum Village Board:

- Unanimously approved an ordinance that outlines the Administrative Transportation Code so that it aligns with state traffic-related administrative regulations.
- Unanimously approved a Request For Proposal to be sent out for audit services.
- Unanimously approved a Library Tax Exempt Resolution because the Kewaskum Public Library serves the village.
- Unanimously approved proposed operator's licenses.

Village Considers 2020 Budget Proposal

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum Village Board got a first look at the preliminary budget for 2020 on Monday, Oct. 7. No action was taken on the budget.

"This is the first time the village board has heard budgetary information as a whole," Village Administrator Matt Heiser said. "It is very preliminary at this stage, and there is still some committee instruction that has not been put into the budget."

At last week's board meeting, Heiser walked through the various committee meetings and summarized the changes that were proposed or discussed in contrast with the 2019 budget.

Administrative Budget

Heiser showed a proposed 3.37 percent increase in the administrative budget, due mainly to increases in wages and benefits.

"Due to the upgrade in the administrative assistant position, if you remember, we changed some of the duties and upped the hours to 30 hours a week," Heiser told the board. "It does not include any outlay for the municipal building. In the past, we put small capital outlay amounts away for improvements to this building. Because there is a pending review of a space needs study and other renovations that are potential in the future, those are removed."

Public Works And Public Services Budget

There also was a proposed increase in the budget for the Department of Public Works and for water and sanitary sewer utilities.

"In terms of operations, we use a three-year rolling average for snow and ice. This particular year was a big weather snow and ice bearer of the budget, so that is proposed to go up, along with brush and leaf expenses because our chipping time is going up," Heiser said.

The Public Works and Public Services Committee also reviewed the next proposed street project, which would be Brooklane Drive. That is estimated to be a $1.3 million project, according to Heiser.

"That would not be in the immediate budget because it would be debt," Heiser said.

The proposed DPW budget includes storm sewer outlay for FEMA work that does need to occur in 2020, according to Heiser, as well as an outlay for the Clean River Program and for potential work for the village's MS4 program.

"We are envisioning engineering work will occur for the pond at Reigle Family Park and potentially some changes to the ponds in the TIF, just to make sure we are in compliance with our MS4 permit," Heiser said.

"The biggest change that was discussed for the DPW was the potential of adding a fourth person," Heiser added. "Right now the DPW consists of three people: the working foreman and two maintenance laborers that are also certified water operators."

If a fourth person is added, it would change water duties for the entire crew from once every three weeks to once every four weeks, and it would reduce contributions that the village is currently pulling from the wastewater plant, according to Heiser.

"Right now if we have water main breaks and other emergencies, we pull from the wastewater plant to help us with our DPW duties," he said.

If the wastewater plant was not called on as often to help the DPW, it could proceed with inspections around the village for other stormwater violations.

"One of the things the DNR wants us to do is reduce the amount of stormwater going into the treatment plant, and as we have been doing with street projects, is reducing anybody who has their foundation drain tile connected directly to the sanitary sewer. We have been requiring them to install a crock and then pump that stormwater into the storm system instead. So, if the wastewater treatment plant crew was less in demand to help the DPW, they would be able to inspect other homes outside of street projects to continue this effort," Heiser said.

If a fourth person is added to the DPW crew, 75 percent of the cost would fall under the general fund.

"I estimate at this point that with wages and benefits that would amount to approximately $62,000. Based on last year's mill rate and tax levy, it would be approximately 2.9 percent increase or $44 on a $200,000 house that would be on the overall budget," Heiser said.

Utilities are not tax supported. There currently is no proposed rate increases.

"The big discussion regarding the utilities was the elimination of the interest on the loan from the general fund to the sewer utility. As you know, the sewer utility does not earn enough money to pay all of its outstanding debt, so the general fund has been lending it money over the years," Heiser explained.

"The debate is if the sewer isn't making money to cover its own expenses, that becomes somewhat of an imaginary monetary flow of them paying us back. The committee talked about eliminating that interest charge. At this point, I couldn't say what the impact to the property taxes would be since the decrease in revenue to the general fund would be offset by the amount that the general fund has to lend to the sewer shortfall," Heiser said.

"The sewer utility currently operates in the black, which means it is making profit. However, accounting principles dictate that debt principal and capital are not part of its operating budget; only the interest on that debt. So, the sewer utility is currently operating in the black, but then when it comes to pay its debt payments, it doesn't have enough money to make those debt payments," Heiser explained.

Village President Kevin Scheunemann said he is in favor of eliminating the interest charge and instead paying back the internal loan.

Heiser said that he would have numbers together by the next village board meeting and confirm if that could be done.

Protection And Public Safety Budget

For the police and fire budget, an increase in the police chief's salary is being proposed to bring the amount more in line with the salary of police chiefs in other area departments.

"The village accomplished this with the lieutenant position last year, so this year the department is proposing do that with the chief position," Heiser said.

Normally, the department budgets a 2 percent increase based on merit, and the department is proposing a 4 percent increase for the police chief's salary.

There also is a plan to purchase a squad in September 2020, which would put the department on a 24-month cycle.

"This year's outlay for the squad has not been used, so it is proposed to go toward the purchase of a next squad," Heiser said.

Those changes bring a 2.83 percent increase in the police budget.

The fire department has proposed $13,900 in capital items for 2020, including replacing 15 pagers, installing some LED lights, a new high pressure nozzle and some new firefighter helmets.

"The fire chief also proposed the rescue squad budget to that committee," Heiser said. "Their big project moving forward is continuing with a new ambulance, which at this time is forecasted to be $243,700."

The net increase in the fire department's proposed budget is 10.4 percent.

Park And Recreation Budget

The Park and Recreation Committee talked about increasing the supply budget for replacement vests at the pool, according to Heiser.

"The park outlay has been setting aside money for a new mower, which the committee wanted us to continue doing. There are no new inflatables or shade structures proposed for 2020. However, there are a couple that are leaking, and the DPW is pursuing repair with the vendor," Heiser said.

The committee directed Heiser to increase wages for the pool because of an upcoming retirement. The committee would like the pool director's replacement to be able to work alongside the current director before retirement takes place.

The committee also recommended increasing the cost of swim lessons.

To save insurance money, the committee is recommending to eliminate Wildlife Park.

"I would like to pursue looking at liquidating Wildlife Park if we can," said Scheunemann, who asked the matter be added to a future agenda.

Scheunemann also asked for board feedback on adding a fourth person to the public works department.

"I'm in favor of it, providing that with the understanding of getting the fourth person to mow the lawn in Reigle Family Park," Scheunemann said. "Under that condition I would support it."

Village trustees Richard Knoebel and Richard Laubach said they were in favor of hiring a fourth person, but were opposed to the idea of that person mowing the lawn at Reigle Family Park.

"We had five on the village crew when I first started, and now we are down to three. We are going to find the same problems that we had downstairs by cutting back and cutting back and not providing enough people to do the job," Knoebel said. "I'm in favor of the position; I'm not in favor of cutting grass at Reigle Family Park."

Laubach said that volunteers from the Kewaskum Youth Soccer Organization and Kewaskum Athletic Association had agreed to cut the grass themselves when the park was created.

Village Recognizes Plan Commissioner Meilahn

New Commissioner Named

The Kewaskum Village Board appointed Nathan Wendelborn to the Plan Commission on Monday, Oct. 7.

"He cannot possibly replace Ted's knowledge base — nobody can — but I feel he will be an excellent replacement, perhaps the best we can find to replace that incredible knowledge base," said Scheunemann, who nominated Wendelborn for the position.

Wendelborn, who started working as the public works director in the Village of Newburg about a month ago, worked for three years as a public works technician for the City of West Bend.

"I run my own landscaping and contracting business on top of that, so I am familiar with building codes and processes and things like that," Wendelborn said. "I look forward to the opportunity."

OBITUARIES

Thomas J. Crawley

Thomas James Crawley, age 52 of Black River Falls, Wisconsin, passed away after a very brief battle with cancer, in the comfort of his own home and surrounded by family on October 7, 2019. He was a caring husband, father, and lover of fun.

Tom was born on August 13, 1967 in Oconomowoc, WI to James Marlin Crawley and Dolores Halaria Radtke. Tom's childhood memories consists of a lot of stories about the fun times spent with all of the neighborhood kids on Lincoln Street. He insists he never got into trouble as a child, but some of us have heard of the fun times.

He began his career as a truck driver at Christenson Building Center and then Thiensville Lumber where he met his future wife, Shelly (nee Richard) Crawley. On April 8, 2000, he married Shelly with their son, Myles, and step-daughters Leanne and Nichole by their side. Always the risk-taker, his entrepreneurial spirit led him to purchase a quad axle dump truck, of which he was an owner-operator for several years. He then found his true calling in Sales at Goeman Wood Products (Pallet USA) from 2007 to 2014.

After making the move from Kewaskum to Black River Falls, they became the fifth generation owner of the Crawley family farmstead, established in 1861, and loved to spend as much time there as possible. Again, his entrepreneurial spirit led Tom and Shelly to establish West-Wood Supply Company, which has become a flourishing wholesale lumber business and their biggest accomplishment.

Throughout his life, Tom had a passion for all things outdoors, including bow-hunting, turkey hunting and traveling. Family camping trips were frequent and Tom and Shelly continued this tradition after they became empty-nesters. Tom especially loved to spend time with his wife and they enjoyed snowmobiling and golfing together. He lived for their annual tropical vacations and loved to meet new people and see new places.

As obvious to anyone who has met him, Tom was quite the jokester and loved to have fun. He was known for his loud hello, fun-loving attitude and contagious laugh. He could quite literally carry on a conversation about anything, with anyone. His outgoing demeanor, sense of adventure and fun spirit will be fondly remembered.

Tom is preceded in death by his brother, Gary Schoenike.

He is survived and dearly missed by his wife Shelly; his three children, Leanne (Brandon) Koronkiewicz of Green Bay, Nichole (Kyle) Donaldson of Madison, and Myles Crawley of Madison; granddaughter, Harper Koronkiewicz; his father, James Crawley of Black River Falls; and his mother, Dolores Crawley of West Bend; his father-in-law, Keith and Margaret Richard of Saxon. He is also survived by his sisters, Roseann Crawley of Jackson and Sandra (Curt) Schmidt of Kentucky; his brother, Scott (Linda) Schoenike of Gillette, WY; sister-in-law Cindy Schoenike of McFarland; sister-in-law, Connie (Eric) Todd of International Falls, MN; and brother-in-law, Mike (Heidi) Richard of Sturgeon Bay. He is further survived by many cousins, nieces and nephews, lifelong friends and golf buddies.

True to Tom's spirit, there was a celebration of life at Tenba Ridge Winery at N27587 Joe Coulee Road, Blair, WI 54616 on Wednesday, October 9 from 2 p.m. - 7 p.m. The visitation began at 2 p.m., with a service at 4 p.m. and dinner served from 4:30-6 p.m. All were welcome to attend the celebration and encouraged to stay for dinner and swap memories of Tom. A private family burial was held on Thursday.

Torgerson's Funeral Home of Black River Falls, WI is assisting the family with arrangements.

After several months of training, he was sent overseas and landed in France. After more training, he entered the front line trenches at Alsace. Young Americans Perform In Kewaskum

By Anne Trautner

The field house at Kewaskum High School was filled with music on Saturday, Oct. 12, as a Young Americans performance was presented for the crowd.

"It was a downtown New York City Broadway show right here in our town. It was fantastic," School Board Member Timothy Ramthun said at Monday night's board meeting.

Performers included 104 area students in grades three through 12 from across the area. Most of the students were from the Kewaskum School District, but they came from outside the district borders as well.

Performers also included homeschooled students and members of the Shining Stars, a group of dancers with special needs.

The students performed alongside 40 performers from the Young Americans College. The Young Americans had led a three-day workshop of singing, dancing and theater performance.

"It really was amazing. The Young Americans took students aside and taught them a song in 30 minutes, and then they were able to come out and perform it," said Andrew Dahlberg, choir director at Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School.

The experience was about more than merely performing.

"The end result was it was a lot about character development, acceptance, self advocacy and self worth. I didn't know what to expect coming in, but from what I saw it was a really great experience," said Josh Michlig, band director at Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School.

Dahlberg said that the experience helped bring students out of their shells.

"There were students who were afraid to get up and perform, and then after working with the Young Americans, they got up and sang solos," Dahlberg said.

Area resident Joy Koepke, who performed with the Young Americans in the 1960s, was responsible for introducing the group to the Kewaskum area.

"It is awesome. I think it is something that hasn't ever been seen in Kewaskum before," Koepke said.

Area residents opened their homes to host members of the Young Americans during their stay in the area.

"The community really stepped up. We were able to house all of them with lots of help from my team," said Koepke, who worked with Dahlberg and four other adults to organize the entire production.

The Young Americans were impressed with all of the students here as well.

"The Young Americans said this was their favorite stop they ever had. They kept telling us that the kids here were so wonderful. I talked to them after they left, and they were still relishing in the experience they had here," Koepke said.

Mostly, Koepke was excited about what the Young Americans did for the students here.

"I told the kids that when I auditioned 55 years ago, Milton Anderson, the founder and director of the Young Americans, told all of us we were and would continue to be world changers," Koepke said.

Then she told the Kewaskum students, "You are world changers, and you were taught by world changers."

Koepke said the Young Americans program changes lives.

"A lot of the kids who were nervous found out they could do a lot more than they could," she said. "I think this made a statement to this community... Their children are awesome."

Besides planning the logistics of the Young Americans' stay, Koepke and Dahlberg performed in last weekend's show. Dahlberg performed some beat box and Koepke sang a solo.

The show closed with Koepke singing a few lines of the song "You Are So Beautiful."

"I sang it to the students and the Young Americans, and I meant every word of it," she said.

Koepke and Dahlberg hope to bring the Young Americans back to Kewaskum in 2021.

Village Approves Library Budget

By Anne Trautner

Last Monday, Oct. 7, the Kewaskum Village Board unanimously approved a village tax levy of $131,723.85 for the 2020 Kewaskum Public Library Budget. That is a 3 percent increase over the 2019 budget.

The book budget for 2020 increased by 2 percent over 2019. That will help purchase new materials, because the library has weeded out about 8 percent of its collection over the past year, according to Library Director Lori Kreis.

"We are down to weeding items out that people haven't checked out for five years, so it is becoming much more manageable," Kreis said. "Now I'd like to replace those with items that people want."

"We added about 1,500 items to our collection this year and last year. In a perfect library world, we would be withdrawing as many as we were adding. We have gotten rid of about double that this year, so I'm looking to replace about half of it with items that the public would use," Kreis added.

Previously, the library weeded out materials that had not circulated for 15 years, Kreis reported.

"That is pretty much unheard of in the smaller libraries. Sometimes you have that in academic libraries," Kreis said.

The 2020 budget also reflects an increase in fees for the Monarch Library System, which is a shared service with three other counties.

"They support our integrated loan system so that we can check out materials. Without that, we wouldn't have something we could afford," Kreis said.

The fees for Monarch and technology will be raised about 10 percent in 2020, due to a number of plans for the next five years, as well as the rising cost of the integrated library system, according to Kreis.

"I offset some of these increases by figuring in real time budgetary costs of various line items, such as hotspots and outreach, and reduced the shared facility by about $1,000 based on this year's and last year's numbers," Kreis said.

For revenue, it was determined that the Kewaskum Public Library will receive about $62,800 from Washington County.

The 2020 library budget, which was approved by the library board on September 9, reflects employee raises as well as a 5 percent increase in benefits over the 2019 budget.

Supporting Kewaskum Through Tourism

By Anne Trautner

Approximately 7,000 people in Washington County are employed through the tourism industry.

"That's about a $200 million impact into our area," said Elaine Motl, executive director of the Washington County Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Motl spoke at the Kewaskum Village Board meeting on Monday, Oct. 7. She gave information on how Kewaskum is promoted through "Visit Washington County," the tourism arm for Washington County.

"Visit Washington County" provides a Visitor Guide that features Kewaskum. In addition, Kewaskum is promoted in a Milwaukee magazine.

"That is just one of the samples of what we do for you and how we promote the area," Motl said as she showed the magazine to village trustees.

Visit Washington County is a not for profit organization and is not a department of Washington County.

"We are a separate organization that gets funded through municipality dollars, and through the sales tax dollars of Washington County. Our budget goes to promote, advertise and try to entice people to come to our area," Motl said.

"Kewaskum, of course, has so much to offer, and so it is our honor and our pleasure to be promoting you as well," she added.

Kewaskum, which has been dubbed the "Gateway to the Kettle Moraine Forest," is also home to tourist destinations such as Sunburst Winter Sports Park Hill. Therefore, it is one of the destinations "Visit Washington County" highlights as it promotes skiing and golfing in the area.

This was the first year the organization advertised in the Packer yearbook, according to Motl. The organization also promotes Kewaskum through social media, as well through phone calls.

"Oftentimes we have meeting planners contact us and we send those leads to places that can hold those meetings and to the hotels, so we are an organization that passes on information to create an economic impact in Washington County," Motl said.

"Visit Washington County" is a part of the Wisconsin Department of Tourism.

"The way that the structure works through the state, is you have the Department of Tourism, and then you have the County tourism, and then you have the individual municipality tourism," Motl said.

Through that connection, statistics are acquired to determine how much revenue comes to the area through tourism, according to Motl.

Village President Kevin Scheunemann asked if the organization will promote the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial that is being created in Kewaskum.

"We have actually already retweeted tweets and put out information. Of course, once you are ready to open it, ... we will definitely cover all of that with any pictures you can provide us and any information you can provide us. We are very excited for you. It is going to be a wonderful thing for Kewaskum," Motl said about the 9/11 Memorial.

Motl also said that the organization will promote the village's 125th anniversary celebration if the village sends information to her about it.

"Any type of information you would like to have included, we would be happy to include; send that information to me," Motl said.

Village Is No Place For Stray Cats

By Anne Trautner

Last Monday, Oct. 7, the Kewaskum Village Board unanimously approved paying the Washington County Humane Society $1,444 a year for maintaining its animal pound facilities, the pickup and disposition of wildlife when injured or poses a human health hazard and the holding and disposition of cats.

Last week was the first time the Humane Society has asked for an increase in its fees since 1999, when the Humane Society first started its contract with Kewaskum to handle stray cats, according to Chris Cowles, president of the Humane Society's Board of Directors. At that time, the village agreed to pay $1,000 a year for the services.

"What the deal was at that time was we would charge to hold stray cats for two days, even though the hold period at that time was longer than two days. We had that in place for 20 years," Cowles said.

The hold time for stray cats is now five days.

"What we are seeking here is to only recoup the expenses we incur for the cats that are brought in," Cowles told the village board last Monday.

The cost for a five-day hold for each cat that is brought in from the village is $76, according to Cowles.

"We look at the average number of cats that have been brought in for the past five years, and that has been 19 on average each year," she said.

With a yearly fee of $1,444, the cost would be $76 to care for each cat.

"What we are proposing going forward is we look at a two-year rolling average and charge the per diem, whatever that may be. Right now it is 15.50 per day to cover both the room and board and the administrative cost that we incur for the personnel that we have and increase that per diem by whatever the two-year average of the consumer price index inflation rate is," Cowles explained.

"We are not looking to make money. What this does, though, is it allows your residents to bring cats to the humane society and not be charged for them because you will be covering that cost," she told the village trustees.

That means that when stray cats get brought into the shelter, they are held for five days, and then they become the property of the Washington County Humane Society.

"We can spay and neuter them and adopt them out, and they won't be multiplying like cats tend to do when they are not spayed or neutered," Cowles said.

Over the last decade, the number of cats in the village has remained relatively constant in terms of the number of strays brought to the shelter.

"I think that is a real strong indicator that we are doing the job that we want to do because you are not ending up with thousands of cats that are multiplying because they haven't been spayed or neutered," Cowles said.

Even when a cat is reclaimed, the Humane Society still goes through all the administrative action of bringing in cats and processing them, so the cost remains the same for each cat.

"If you can imagine, we have 12 municipalities currently that we service in this way, and we have a very, very lean staff," Cowles said.

President Kevin Schunemann wondered why cat owners are not required to pay the fees when they pick up their cats.

"When they reclaim a cat, they do pay some fees, but we are not recouping everything from them," said Marnie Brown, executive director of the Washington County Humane Society.

"We are not trying to make money here. We are a nonprofit; we are totally supported by donors and grants. This is a situation where we have for quite some time been experiencing a pretty significant loss every year with respect to the stray program," Cowles said.

If the village would not move forward with this program, then residents would have to pay a surrender fee when they brought cats to the shelter.

"The reason we started this program in the first place, was we were afraid that the fee would deter people from bringing strays in. Then you are going to have a lot of cats on your hands that you don't really want to have," Cowles said.

The Village of Kewaskum requires cats to be licensed, but less than 10 are licensed, according to Police Chief Tom Bishop.

"People don't like to license their cats, but when their cats come in the Humane Society, they can't reclaim them without a license. So those 10 are probably all from us," Brown said.

"That is why we started this program, it alleviated all the problems from the police department when we drove cats down to Jackson," said Village Trustee Richard Knoebel, who used to be the police chief for Kewaskum.

Over the last decade, the Washington County Humane Society has reduced the number of stray cats in the county by 20 percent, Cowles estimated.

"That is a pretty amazing statistic, I'd say. I'd also say there aren't many places you can go where you can get the same price for 20 years without it going up, and that is why we are here as well," she said at last week's board meeting.

"If these cats would have been licensed previously, then the tag would have helped identify who the owner is," Trustee Dave Spenner observed.

He asked if the Humane Society would be willing to cooperate with the police department so that when the people come in to get their cats, they would be fined for having no licenses.

"In the City of West Bend, the police department likes to know everybody who comes to reclaim a dog or a cat, and they go right to their house and they issue them a citation," Brown said.

"It is going to be costing us money if cats are running loose. It shouldn't be our problem, it's their problem," Knoebel said.

Bishop said that the village police is willing to enforce cat licensing.

Letters Home...

11 February '46

Dear Irma,

I really don't know how to begin this letter for its a favor I'm asking, I need $15.00. Here's why I'm asking you, ordinarily I could get a partial pay, but as circumstances are, I'm getting out next month and we can't get a partial pay because it would screw up our pay roll for this month. I don't need it until after the 20th or thereabouts. I really should be sending you money for your birthday but here I'm asking for some. I can send it back right after payday which will be the 28th of this month.

The reason why I need it is next - I'm invited to three Marti Graus Carnival Balls so far and in away I feel rather lucky to get the invites because these balls are given by various organizations only, -like Elks, Sorities, etc. and as long as I'm down here I'm going to try and enjoy the event as much as I can and thats the only way to enjoy them - so they say. The parades and dances can be watched as spectators but thats like seeing a movie, practically. I know you understand what I mean. The time is moving by rather rapidly and I'm glad of it and it won't be long any more - a matter of about 3 weeks I'd say, until I get on orders then after that it'll only take about a week. I want to get discharged down here at Cp Shelby, Miss. but probably will be sent to Cp Grant IL or Cp McCoy, Wis. Be seeing you soon

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

This has been an eventful past couple of weeks for me. I completed my first budget as the director of the library and the Village Board passed it last week. At the same meeting, the Village Board accepted the land agreement from the Library Foundation gifting the adjacent land on the east side of the building to the village to continue our expansion/renovation project. I just completed my one-year mark as the Library Director and am still fairly sane. Finally, we had our first annual Family Fall Festival celebrating the above accomplishments.

We had extra money in this year’s budget due a summer performer cancellation, so we were able to hire Kettle Moraine Carriages for the awesome carriage rides they provided during the festival. We used the gifted land for the petting zoo provided by wonderful volunteers from Washington County 4H Club. I had my own personal celebration of my year anniversary by sharing the fun at the festival with my family.

I hope you were able to make it out on Saturday. The weather was not ideal but as one of the horse handlers mentioned, if this was early spring, we would be out in shorts. Even with the biting wind, it was a fairly perfect day. The sun was shining bright, something we have not seen in a while. There was a crispness of fall in the air and the goats appreciated the new fallen leaves for their noon snack.

We saw about eighty people come out for this event and I could see that they were having a good time. It was great watching the families enjoy the library inside and out on a Wisconsin autumn Saturday. Some memorable sights and sounds outside were families sitting on the hay bales waiting for their turn on the horse drawn carriage, giggling toddlers upon first sight of the ducks and chicken and the children running from their just parked vehicles to see the goats dressed up as a flower garden, bee and taco. Inside, I delighted in the abundance of creativity in the community room; whether it was painting the mini pumpkins, the construction of the pinecone bird feeders or the unique creations made at the apple dipping table.

I would like to express gratitude to all that helped contribute to the success of the first annual Family Fall Festival. The donation of delicious brownies from Janet and plentiful apples from Schoofs Cherry Grove Farm satisfied the stomachs of hungry attendees. The hay bales and pinecones were courtesy of the Trochell Family Farm. High school volunteer Drew was a treasure manning the treat table and keeping everything fully stocked. Staff members worked exceptionally hard planning and executing the program. And of course, a thank you to all that came out to celebrate the fall season, participate in a sampling of the relevance of libraries and gather on the land that shall soon be under construction.

Washington County Drug Take Back Day

The Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department and Washington County Sheriff's Office in cooperation with the Wisconsin Department of Justice (DOJ) and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), will participate in National Prescription Drug Take Back Day on Saturday, Oct. 26, at the Washington County Highway Department at 900 Lang St., in West Bend from 8 a.m. to noon.

This effort will continue to bring focus to the issue of prescription painkiller abuse in Wisconsin. Drug Take Back Day provides a safe, convenient, and responsible means of disposal, while also educating the community about the potential abuse and consequences of improper storage and disposal of these medications.

Unused or expired medicine should never be flushed or poured down the drain. Water reclamation facilities are not designed to remove all of them and trace amounts of pharmaceuticals are showing up in rivers and lakes.

Guidelines

All waste pharmaceuticals must be generated by a household – no businesses are allowed.

Bring: Prescription (controlled and non-controlled) and over-the-counter medications, ointments, patches, inhalers, non-aerosol sprays, creams, vials and pet medications.
Do Not Bring: Illegal drugs, needles/sharps, acids, aerosol cans, bio-hazardous materials (anything containing a bodily fluid or blood), personal care products (shampoo, soaps, lotions, sunscreens), household hazardous waste (paint, pesticides, oil, gas), mercury thermometers.

• Participants may dispose of solid, non-liquid medication(s) by removing the medication from its container and disposing of it directly into a disposal box or into a clear sealable plastic bag. Plastic pill containers should not be collected. Blister packages without the medications being removed are acceptable.

• Liquids will be accepted during this initiative. However, the liquids, creams and sprays must be in their original packaging. Liquids without the original packaging will not be accepted.

• Illicit substances such as marijuana or methamphetamine are not a part of this initiative and should not be placed in collection containers.

Washington County continues to offer permanent drop boxes for year-round prescription medication disposal. Drop boxes are available during regular office hours at the Police Departments in Germantown, Hartford, Jackson, Kewaskum, Slinger and West Bend.

Phone Service At News/Statesman Office Restored

By Andrew Johnson, publisher

Last week, the main phone number (920-533-8338) at the newspaper office was out of service from Monday morning until Friday at noon. Service is now restored.

A Frontier technician determined that a bird's nest and a wasp's nest caused damage to the wires. He also reported that a phone wire was cut at another location in the Village of Campbellsport.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused any of our customers or community members that tried to call us during the outage.

Students Take Stage In WSMA Middle Level State Honors Concerts

Many of Wisconsin's most accomplished junior high and middle school music students (band, choir and orchestra) will perform in Waunakee on Saturday, Oct. 26, at the Wisconsin School Music Association (WSMA) Middle Level State Honors Music Project concerts.

Kewaskum School District students who will perform in the concert include: Brianna Boegel (KHS band- clarinet); Jonathon Banovich (KHS band- euphonium); Mallerie Daley (KHS choir- soprano); and Abigail Gerhartz (KMS choir- alto).

Throughout the state, 311 students in grades six through eight were selected from over 1,000 who auditioned for the program in April. Auditions, included individual student performances and an ensemble class, taught by an Honors adjudicator. Selection was based on several elements of music performance.

WSMA State Honors Music Project brings Wisconsin's finest school musicians together to work with nationally known conductors in a professional setting. The 2019 WSMA Middle Level State Honors conductors are: band director Laura Sindberg, Minneapolis, Minnesota; orchestra director Tobin Stewart, Bozeman, Montana; and choir director Trey Davis, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

"Learning, interacting and performing with other inspiring musicians from across the state under the direction of a nationally recognized conductor and some of Wisconsin's finest music educators, offers students an incredible enrichment opportunity," said

Erica Ruppert, WSMA program director.

The Saturday, Oct. 26, concerts mark the 25th anniversary of the Middle Level State Honors Music Project. Students will perform for an audience of more than 1,200 at Waunakee High School Performing Arts Center. The concerts (1 p.m. – band; 2 p.m. – orchestra; and 3 p.m. – choir) celebrate the extraordinary accomplishments of Wisconsin's finest young musicians. Tickets for the concerts may be purchased at the door for $16 and each ticket provides admission to all three concerts.

Students in grades six through eight who attend a WSMA member school and participate in the school's music program will be eligible to audition for the 2020 WSMA Middle Level State Honors Project. Auditions will be held in April at six locations throughout Wisconsin. For more information on Middle Level State Honors and other WSMA programs, visit wsmamusic.org.

Founded in 1932, Wisconsin School Music Association (WSMA) is a non-profit service organization with more than 1,000 member public and private schools. Students from member schools are eligible to participate in WSMA programs, such as District and State Music Festivals, Concert Festivals, State Honors Music Project, State Marching Band Championships and Student Composition Project. WSMA is governed by a board of directors made up of superintendents, principals and other officers from all over the state. WSMA believes music is a basic human need and that all children have the right to experience all that music offers them.

Down 29-8, Indians Storm Back To Nip Berlin In Double Overtime Thriller

By Judy Harlow

In most high school football games, a 29-8 lead just before halftime would be more than enough for a victory, but there are rare exceptions to this rule.

Take the East Central Conference game between Kewaskum and Berlin on October 11. Host Berlin looked to be well on its way to its fifth victory in the EC, but the visiting Indians refused to lose, scoring a pair of touchdowns within 44 seconds, just before the end of the first half. The two scores changed the momentum, opening the door for a thrilling 36-35, double overtime comeback.

With the victory, the Indians improved to 4-2 in EC play and 5-3 overall, clinching a playoff berth.

"What a game!" Kewaskum's first-year head coach Steve Tennes said. "I'm very excited for the kids ... We were going down the road of another Plymouth game, but we turned it around in a hurry."

Kewaskum scored first in the game, on a short run by Kannon Muckerheide to cap a drive, and the Indians got the two-point conversion on a pass from Jed Ermer to Dylan Maechtle. KHS 8-Berlin 0.

That score changed dramatically when the hosts scored three times in a matter of 4:26, with Preston Morgan going in from the six-yard line for the first TD with 5:41 left in the period, then Alec Moriarity getting into the act with a two-yard TD run and a 48-yard run by Moriarity with 1:15 left in the period.

Morgan ran for the first point-after-touchdown, while Peyton LeBlanco kicked the other two. Berlin was quickly out front 22-8.

The Berlin team got its fourth straight TD with 6:30 left in the second quarter. Berlin now led 29-8, but fans who braved the cold and rain were about to be treated to an exciting turnaround in the final minute.

"I told the kids, we've got one chance to get back in the game ... take it down and score," Tennes said.

The Indians did get a score when quarterback Ty Cook hit Reagan Dricken with a 17-yard scoring pass with :53 remaining, making the score 29-14 after Andrew Bolek missed the extra point.

"Then they gifted us with an interception," Tennes said, referring to the fact for some reason Berlin decided to put the ball in the air. That backfired when linebacker Jay Horning picked off the pass.

"It was somewhere between (Berlin's) the 20 and 30 (yard line)," Tennes said, indicating Cook went to work again, hitting Maechtle for a 26-yard TD pass with 19 seconds left on the clock. The score now was a more manageable 29-21 after Bolek's successful kick.

The Indians tied the score midway in the third period on a three-yard run by Sam Lemler, and Lemler's two-point conversion.

"They had a chance for the winning field goal in the fourth quarter," Tennes said. "The kid (LeBlanco) just missed it to the left" from about the 30-35-yard line, and the score was still 29-29 when the final seconds ticked off.

Tennes said he was happy his team won the toss so it could go on defense first, and the plan worked when the Indians forced a Berlin fumble.

"All we needed was a score, but we fumbled it right back to them," Tennes said, reporting it came "on a toss play with Ty (Cook) and J.J. (Thull)."

To start the second overtime, Tennes said, "Michael Daniel was able to hit Reagan Dricken in the flat. He had a defender in front of him but, got around him and scored. Andrew Bolek came in and knocked through to set up the final score."

Berlin did get a TD on its series, and, "They decided to go for the win. They threw the ball, and they threw it right to (Kewaskum's) Trevor Degnitz," Tennes said. Then the Kewaskum celebration began.

KHS had 176 yards rushing, including 113 by Lemler, who carried it 29 times. Cook was 3x6 passing for 50 yards while Daniel hit 4x6 for 101.

Moriarity rushed 24 times for 202 yards in the losing cause. Krebs completed just two of five passes with two interceptions.

"Kannon Muckerheide had a great game defensively with 10 tackles," Tennes said, adding,

"The whole defense did. They turned it around in the second half."

The KHS coach also tipped his cap to Dricken, who missed the entire 2018 season with an injury and is new at the tight end position. "He's got five touchdown passes ... It seems like when he catches the ball, good things happen," Tennes said.

KHS ends the regular season by hosting Ripon for Senior Night on October 18. The next day, Kewaskum will learn who its first playoff opponent will be after the conclusion of the 11 a.m. seeding meetings in the state.

In other EC games, Plymouth shutout Winneconne 42-0; Ripon blasted Waupun 44-7 and Campbellsport edged KM Lutheran, 32-26.

Current EC standings: 1. Plymouth, 6-0; 2. (tie) Kewaskum and Berlin, 4-2; 5. (tie) Campbellsport, Ripon and Winneconne, 3-3; 7. KM Lutheran, 1-5; 6. Waupun, 0-6.

Indian Spikers Move Up In EC Standings After Tough Win Over Berlin

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum volleyball team improved to .500 mark in East Central Conference action this past week, after eking out a 3-2 victory over host Berlin on October 10.

The Indians prevailed in five games, 25-19, 21-25, 25-23, 24-26, 18-16 and are now 3-3 in the EC and a more impressive 22-7 overall.

"As a team, we did not play the best, but we fought through and got an important road win," KHS coach Laine Leitzke said. "Berlin played amazing defense and, combining that with a rough go from behind the serving line, we had to fight to stay in it all night."

The final game was especially close as the hosts had match point at 15-14, while playing in front of their Parents Night crowd. "The girls were able to play aggressive. We took a big swing on their game point and got a nice kill," Leitzke said. "Followed it with a block and then finished off the match."

Seniors Carolyn Stockhausen and Brelynn Scoles had big nights for the Indians. Stockhausen led the team in blocks, with six, and contributed seven kills. Scoles led the team in digs with 14 and also posted five aces and eight kills.

Another standout in the victory was Amanda Miller, who was credited with seven kills, two blocks and a team-high 30 assists, while Holly Henk had a team-high 17 kills and three aces. Leitzke also reported Amayah Thomas had 18 assists, while Jillian Rettler chipped in with 11 digs.

KHS hosted Weyauwega-Fremont in a non-conference match on October 10 and will close out the dual portion of the season by hosting Ripon on October 17. The EC Tournament will be held at Waupun on Saturday, October 19.

Coaches from the 30 teams in the Wisconsin Lutheran Sectional were scheduled to meet at the school on October 16 to seed the upcoming regional games that will be played October 22, 24 and 26.

Current EC standings: 1. Winneconne, 5-0; 2. KM Lutheran, 5-1; 3. Plymouth, 3-1; 4. Kewaskum, 3-3; 5. (tie) Berlin, 2-4 and Campbellsport, 2-4; 7. Waupun, 1-4; 8. Ripon, 0-4.

On October 5, the Indians rolled off five wins in a row to claim the title in the Cedar Grove Invitational.

"We came in the day with the idea we were going to win the tournament, and that is what we set out to do," Leitzke said. "It wasn't very clean to start, but the Valders match before lunch and the Cedar Grove-Belgium match right after, we played strong volleyball."

Leitzke said the team had "a hiccup" in the first set against Sheboygan South, but his Indians managed to take control in sets two and three.

The top two Indians in each statistic are as follows: kills — Brelynn Scoles, 38 and Holly Henk, 25; aces — Amanda Miller and Scoles, seven; blocks — Carolyn Stockhausen, five, and Jenna Butschlick, three; Assists — Miller, 64 and Amayah Thomas, 42; digs — Mikaela Marquardt, 39; and Henk, 32.

"A 5-0 day, 7-0 week, (I) can't be too upset, especially with everything else going on since it was homecoming week," the coach said.

Indian CC Teams Have Good Finishes At Campbellsport; Next Up EC Test

By Judy Harlow

In their final invitational before the East Central Conference meet and the Mayville sectional, the Kewaskum girls finished a strong second while the boys wound up fifth in the annual Campbellsport Cougar Invitational, held October 10 at Campbellsport Elementary School.

The Lady Indians, behind the 4-5 finish by Alyssa Butz and Faith Martzig, scored 69 points, but state-ranked Winneconne was still way out front with 69 points in the 10-team meet.

Brooklyn Luebke of Manitowoc Lutheran captured top individual honors in the meet with her clocking of 20 minutes, 33.85 seconds (20:33.85), 25 seconds ahead of Joey Perry of Winneconne (20:59.11).

Martzig continues to move up nicely, close to Butz. The two hit the finish line in 21:32.45 and 21:33.66, and Andrea Butz was not that far behind, placing 15th in 22:40.83.

"The girls had a really great race. Alyssa and Faith continue to lay down strong times in their pursuit of the state meet," KHS coach Eugene Peterson said.

The other two counters were Tierney Herman and Kendra Schmitt in 18th and 27th, respectively, with times of 23:14.70 and 24:13.21. Number six runner Courtney Zarda was among the top 35, finishing 33rd in 24:38.08.

"Andrea and Tierney had really strong races, holding their own against some strong competition. Tierney continues to post PRs, as she closes the gap on Andrea to make a really strong top four for the team," Peterson said. He indicated Zarda and Kendra Schmitt continue to improve and are working toward making a strong numbers two through six pack.

On the boys side of the ledger, it was again sophomore Isaiah Lubner leading the way with a top-five finish, placing fourth with an excellent time of 17:54.24. Junior Gannon Kreuser was number two for the Indians, placing 17th and dipping under 19 minutes with an 18:49.02.

Lance Grosskopf and Clayton Kappler stayed together for much of the race, finishing 26th and 27 with times of 19:15.64 and 19:19.63. The final counter was Isaac Schmidt who placed 30th (19:25.65) just ahead of Logan Haydin, who had a time of 19:25.65.

"The guys had a strong race. Isaiah continues his string of strong performances and is learning how to be a true front runner in the conference and sectional," Peterson said.

He also praised Kreuser for continuing to move up near Lubner, while the other counters, plus Adam Walls, work toward getting closer to Kreuser.

"In a bigger meet like conference or sectionals, our team's success will be determined by those five, who have a chance to surprise a lot of teams this year as we make a push for the top five at sectionals and work to reach our ultimate goal of top two," Peterson said.

Berlin is hosting the EC Conference Meet on October 17 at Mascoutin Golf Course.

After Nearly Three Decades, KHS Soccer Team Posts Win Over Plymouth

By Judy Harlow

In the world of college and professional sports, coaches work to get “signature wins,” which are victories over teams that have strong traditions in the sport.

That being the case, Kewaskum High’s John Kenworthy earned this designation on October 8, the night his team not only defeated, but shut out, Plymouth. Plymouth is one of the premier teams in the East Central Conference and the Eastern Wisconsin Conference before that.

“We have never beaten them ... We have never beaten them,” Kenworthy remarked while walking off the field at the “Doc” Mitchell Athletic Field after the 3-0 win. It wasn’t just five years or 10 or 15 the coach was talking about, but more like 29 years, although it is difficult to pinpoint since accurate records are hard to come by in some of the sports.

KHS improved to 5-6 in EC play and 10-8 overall while Plymouth dropped to 7-3 and 7-7 overall.

Kenworthy, the coach for the past 10 seasons, said, “I think we’ve scored seven (total) goals against them, and we had three tonight,” including one just 3:20 into the first half when Will Jens beat the Panther keeper. This set the stage for a much more competitive game than the 9-3 loss at Plymouth on September 12.

At the 27:39 mark, the Indians’ two most potent scorers, Isaiah Cochran and Jens, teamed up for goal number two. Jens broke through the middle of the Panther defense, then found Cochran to the right of him and sent the ball in his direction. Although he had a tough angle, Cochran managed to draw the Panther goalie out of the goal box, then booted the ball into the back of the net.

There was no letdown by the Indians after the break. They continued to play strong defensively and made the most out of a scoring opportunity at 62:07, when Cochran centered the ball to Ryan Buchel in front of the goal. Buchel headed the ball perfectly for a beautiful goal, just the second of his young career.

Now down 3-0, the Plymouth players looked a little flustered, but Lakas Sternad nearly scored at 88:00. The ball rocketed off the crossbar and fell harmlessly out of play. Kewaskum just kept hustling in the closing minutes to earn this “signature win.”

Did scoring first help the Indians? “Definitely,” Kenworthy said afterward. He added, “I think it was Will’s goal that gave us confidence,” and after getting the third one, “It really loosened things up. We could concentrate on our defense a little more and control the game.”

Kenworthy continued, “Top to bottom, everyone played fantastic. He indicated he was sorry he could not sub in more of the reserves, but, “It wasn’t the night for it ... This was such an emotional game.”

Kenworthy reported Plymouth was without its top midfielder, Clayton Lautenschlaeger, but said, “You know what, even with him, I don’t think they would have beaten us tonight.

“Carter (Curtin) played great in goal. The defenders played great. Everybody played great ... In a game like this, there are no heroes. There’s a team, and this team was fantastic.”

KHS got off seven shots on goal, while Curtin had eight saves in recording his third shutout of the season.

The Indians (6-6 in EC, 11-8 overall) finished off the week with a 3-0 shutout win over Campbellsport. Will Jens scored all three goals for a “hat trick” in the second half. The three goals gave Jens 28 for the season. With his 13 assists, he has 69 points to his credit.

The 28 goals is a single season record at KHS, according to Kenworthy, who said the prior record was 27 goals set by Jason Jahnke in 2005.

Teammate Isaiah Cochran has scored 21 goals, and with his seven assists, is currently sitting with 49 points.

The shutout was the fourth of the year for Carter Curtin.

Current EC standings: 1. KM Lutheran, 11-0; 2. Waupun, 10-1; 3. Plymouth, 7-4; 4. Ripon, 6-5; 5. Kewaskum, 6-6; 6. Winneconne, 2-10; 7. Berlin, 1-8-1; 8. Campbellsport, 0-9-1.

KHS Soccer Team Opens Tournament Play As the 12th Seed

By Judy Harlow

One wonders how the seeding was compiled in the WIAA D-3 boys soccer tournament when an 11-8 team is seeded No. 12 and a 5-13-1 team is seeded fifth?

That was the case on October 13 when coaches from 17 of the 18 teams in the Kewaskum Sectional met to determine the seeds. Kewaskum, 11-8, was seeded No. 12 and will face No. 5 Pius XI (5-13-1) in first-round action that will take place next Thursday, Oct. 24, in a game played at the Wisconsin Lutheran College field at 7 p.m.

“It is what it is,” KHS coach John Kenworthy said about his team’s placement, noting the first ballot had Kewaskum 11th or better on 11 of the 17 coaches’ ballots.

Getting the top seed was Shorewood, which currently is sporting a 12-3-2 mark, including a 9-2-1 in the 14-team Woodland Conference where the Greyhounds are in third place. The nod for the second seed went to Waukesha Catholic Memorial, which is 7-6 but plays some of the top D-1 teams in the state.

The winner of the KHS-Pius game will take on the winner of No. 4 Thomas More and No. 13 St. Anthony on October 26.

Kewaskum is hosting the D-3 sectional final on Saturday, Nov. 2 at 1 p.m.

Gridiron Results From October 12 Action

This past Saturday, all four levels of the Kewaskum Gridiron Youth Football traveled to Slinger to take on the Owls.

The eighth grade team was in a defensive battle with a 0-0 halftime score, but Slinger was able to punch a couple of runs into the end zone in the second half as they came away with a hard fought 15-0 victory. The Indians defense was stout in the first half, not allowing Slinger to get anything going offensively. The Indians offense had a nice drive inside the Owls 20 yard line but turned the ball over on downs. On Slinger’s first possession of the second half they got a nice drive going and capped it off with a 15 yard touchdown run. They added one more score on a 10 yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter to make the score 15-0. The Indians offense was led by the running of Casey Schmidt (seven carries for 41 yards) and Dylan Soyk (12 carries for 33 yards). The defensive line played well for the Indians with Matthew Miller, Kaiden Naumann and Jayden Choy being the main contributors. Schmidt was also able to force a fumble that was recovered by James Martin for the Indians.

The seventh grade struggled against a Slinger team who had their offensive run game rolling all game long in a 48-12 defeat. The Indians touchdowns were scored by Jesse Tesch on a 10 yard touchdown pass from Andrew Reichert and then Corbin Dexter was able to score on a 40 yard touchdown run for the Indians.

The sixth grade team had a defensive battle with the Slinger Owls. The Indians controlled the ball most of the third and fourth quarters, grinding out first downs on the ground led by Eli Steinbauer, Eli Ogi and Kingston Grisonolo running hard up the middle. Unfortunately, the Indians were plagued by a number of turnovers that stalled a number of the drives in Owls territory. On the defensive side of the ball the Indians held the Owls to only a handful of first downs. The defense was led up front by Gabe Halopka, Alex Bayer and Ogi, who caused havoc on the Slinger offensive lines, forcing a number of sacks and turnovers. On the Owl’s final drive, desperate for a scoring play the Indians defense came up big forcing an interception from Johnny Hooker, that he took all the way back for a touchdown with about 30 seconds remaining, allowing the Indians to get a 6-0 victory.

The fifth grade team played a tough game Saturday in a 28-12 loss against Slinger. Kyle Haim had a 50 yard touchdown run and Bryston Scoles carried defenders into the end zone with him for a five yard touchdown run. William Koch had a huge run on fourth and three to keep a late third quarter drive alive in the second half. Special teams came up big forcing and recovering three fumbles during the game, two of which were recovered by Tristan Bosselman and Quin Dornacker.

KHS Tennis Players Go Down Fighting In D-2 Tournament Action

By Judy Harlow

Talk about a “roller coaster” couple of days. The Kewaskum tennis team was on the top of the world after securing second place in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference a week ago, then the Indians came back down to earth in the sub-sectional on October 7 at the Kohler Sports Core.

At number three and four singles, sophomores Haley Densow and Sophie Marchello won both their matches and will move on to the Kohler Sectional, but the other Kewaskum players were eliminated from competition, ending their seasons.

“I was proud of all the girls today, but Haley and Sophie were really great today. They showed great heart... Both coming back from a first set loss,” coach Peter Garcia said. “I spoke with both after the set loss and as a coach it is rewarding when the athlete and coach agree to a strategy and the athlete implements it to perfection.”

Densow (12-3) started out with a convincing 6-2, 6-0 win over Kiel’s Analiese Olig and then battled hard to post a 3-6, 6-0, 6-4 victory over Ashleigh Brooks of Howards Grove.

“Aside from stroke strategy suggestions, I told Haley in her last match that she should not sit down on changeovers, she should take a quick drink, walk to the baseline and wait. I even stopped talking to her on changes as I told her it allowed her opponent to sit and drink longer,” Garcia said. “I told her that her opponent was clearly tired and I knew that she was too, but we needed to get in her head. I wanted her thinking about why was she so tired and yet this girl (Haley) is up and ready to go. I really think this turned the tide, but I confess it was a gamble.”

Marchello (13-5) opened play with a 2-6, 6-1, 6-2 victory over Grafton’s Andrea Vanderloop, then won in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, over Andrea Hicks of Sheboygan Falls.

“Sophie was simply told to have fun and whack ‘them’ like she did at practice yesterday. If you do, I said, you will beat this girl. Yes, you lost to her earlier this year, but now you are a better player and I know you will win... and she did,” Garcia said, noting she had lost to both Grafton and Falls earlier this year.

Senior Sabrina Lor, who won a “pigtail” match over Aria Lemke of Kiel, 6-2, 6-1, before losing in the quarterfinals 6-0, 6-0 to Kohler’s Anushka Mangal, Kohler’s sensational freshman, who is currently 25-1 on the year.

The number two doubles team, comprised of Audra Hurt and Madysen Schlosser, won their first match over Waupun’s Milly Bresser and Emmie Kuzulka, 6-3, 7-5 before getting shutout by a Kohler twosome, 6-0, 6-0.

Kohler took first place in three singles matches and all three doubles matches to score 24 points. St. Mary’s Springs finished second with 14, followed by Kewaskum, 10; Sheboygan Falls, Howards Grove and Ripon, all with six; Waupun and Kiel, with 4; and Grafton, 2.

Results of the other KHS matches are as follows: No. 1 — Megan Krolski lost to Alysa Pattee, Waupun, 2-6, 2-6; No. 1 doubles — Carly Meyer/Sydney Ostranger lost to Dulcie King/Olivia Grose, 3-6, 2-6; No. 2 — Liz Beine/Abby Kopfhammer lost to Katherine Dickrell/Caitlyn Mutem, Kiel, 2-6, 5-4, 6-7 (1).

Number three and four singles players cannot advance to the state tournament, but they do play a play off to see who is first, second, third and fourth in the sectional. Kewaskum’s Haley Densow and Sophie Marchello were back at the Sports Core on October 9 in an attempt to reach the finals, but neither was able to advance, taking fourth places.

Densow lost a tight 6-7 (4), 3-6 battle with Appleton Xavier’s Mary Von Statten in the first round and 0-6, 1-6 match to Macey Schaez of Fox Valley Lutheran. Garcia said, “In all honesty, Haley had two great matches against two better opponents. I am not sure she ever played better.”

At number four, Marchello lost to the eventual champion, Anna Vandacker of St. Mary’s Catholic, 1-6, 1-6 in the first round and then to Maddie McGinnis of Xavier.

“Displaying great effort, Sophie lost 6-1, 6-1,” Garcia said. Still, “Our KHS athletes did their team and school proud today.”

By Judy Harlow

After the first round of action in the WIAA State Girls Golf Tournament at the University Ridge Golf Course, Alyssa Dreher, a member of the combined Campbellsport/Kewaskum golf team, is sitting in a tie for 60th place.

Dreher, a four-year varsity player and the first Campbellsport girl to qualify for state, shot a 47-50—97 on October 14. Her round included five pars, including one on the par 4, 18th hole.

Freezing temperatures forced tournament officials to delay the start of Monday’s play by over an hour.

Sec. 62-78 Sexting Prohibited.

(1)Intent.

Put Fall Leaves To Work In Your Landscape

MELINDA MYERS

Raking fall leaves can seem like a chore and a never-ending one, at that. Reduce time and effort spent managing fall leaves by putting this valuable resource to work in your landscape.

Use your mower to recycle leaves right where they fall. As you mow the grass, you'll shred the leaves into smaller pieces. If they are the size of a quarter or smaller, your lawn will be fine. As these leaf pieces decompose, they add organic matter and nutrients to the soil.

Another option is to attach a bagger to shred and collect the leaves with every pass of the mower. Only use grass clippings collected from lawns that have not been treated with a weed killer this fall. Or burn a few extra calories and rake the leaves into a pile. Shred with a leaf shredder or mower and spread them over the soil surface around perennials. Leaf mulch helps insulate plant roots, conserve moisture, suppress weeds and improve the soil as it breaks down.

Bag shredded leaves you want to save for next season. Tuck them out of sight for winter under trees or around the foundation of your house for added insulation.

Dig extra shredded leaves into vacant annual flower and vegetable gardens or incorporate them into the soil as you prepare new planting beds. They will break down over winter, improving the drainage in heavy clay soils and the water-holding ability in fast-draining soils.

Create compost with shredded leaves and other landscape trimmings. Do not use meat, bones or dairy that can attract rodents. Avoid diseased, insect-infested trimmings and weeds that can survive in compost piles that don't produce enough heat to kill these unwanted pests.

Start with a compost pile that's at least three feet high and wide for efficient decomposition. Place a mixture of shredded fall leaves, grass clippings free of herbicides, vegetable scraps and other landscape trimmings in an 8- to 10-inch layer. Cover with compost and sprinkle with a low nitrogen, slow release fertilizer.

Repeat the layers until the pile is the desired height. Then moisten until it's the consistency of a damp sponge. Turn the pile occasionally, moving the material in the center to the outer edge and the less decomposed trimmings to the hotter center. It's a great workout and speeds decomposition. Or pile the materials in a heap and let nature do the work; it just takes longer.

Oak and large maple leaves both make great mulches and additions to the compost pile but are slow to break down. Shred them with your mower or leaf shredder first for better results. Avoid black walnut leaves that contain juglone, a compound which is toxic to many plants. Once the leaves are fully decomposed the compost is safe to use.

As you begin putting fall leaves to work in your landscape, you'll start considering them a gift versus a curse from nature especially as you see the results of your efforts – a more beautiful landscape.
