Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway Signed Into Law

By Anne Trautner

Gov. Tony Evers came to Kewaskum on Thursday, Oct. 31, and signed 2019 Wisconsin Act 20 into law, designating the portion of State Highway 28 between Interstate 41 and State Highway 144 as the “Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway.”

The new highway designation will literally put Kewaskum on the map as the home of the new Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center. The memorial is being constructed in front of the Annex building in the Village of Kewaskum.

“This memorial will serve as an important reminder to the people of Wisconsin of the loved ones we lost, the heroes that ran towards danger without a second thought, and our nation’s grit and resilience in a time of tragedy. And it will provide a respectful place for reflection and remembrance well into the future,” Evers said in front of the crowd gathered in the Kewaskum Annex building for the signing of the bill.

The Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center is a community project in the Village of Kewaskum led by a group known as Kewaskum Remembers 9/11. The Board of Directors includes Gordon and Kathy Haberman of Farmington, who lost their daughter Andrea in the September 11, 2001, attacks.

Jerry Nigh Honored For Service

By Anne Trautner

Jerry Nigh went on the Stars and Stripes Honor Flight out of Milwaukee on September 28.

“It was great, really nice,” Nigh said.

The day started out with lots of excitement. As the airplane taxied out of the airport, firetrucks on each side of the plane sprayed water as a special salute. When the plane landed in Baltimore, it was greeted with the same thing at the airport there.

Four buses transported the veterans and their guardians from Baltimore to Washington, D.C.

“We had a police escort all day. That is the best way to get around all the traffic in D.C.,” Nigh said.

“You wouldn’t have been able to see half of what they saw if you had to drive through the traffic,” agreed Nigh’s daughter, Christine Sprung, who accompanied Nigh on the trip.

Christmas Extravaganza!

KHS Presents The Musical The Addams Family

By Anne Trautner

"They're creepy and they're kooky, mysterious and spooky. They're all together ooky. The Addams family."

Many are familiar with that theme song, but the Addams will take the stage at Kewaskum High School this weekend with new songs as students perform the musical comedy "The Addams Family."

The show will be presented in the Kewaskum High School theater on Friday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m., and on Saturday, Nov. 9, at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. There is a senior citizen performance on Thursday, Nov. 7.

It is a love story of two people that are opposites. The families meet for the first time during the show, and audiences will witness the uncomfortableness that comes along with that.

"It is typical Addams family stuff. You've got a lot of characters that people know. That's not changed at all. They are into death, into torture, that kind of stuff. The Beinecke family are your typical suburban family, and their kids have fallen in love," said Director Andrew Dahlberg.

Audience members will see all their favorite characters on stage, such as Gomez, Morticia, Wednesday, Pugsley and Grandma Addams. Uncle Fester and Lurch will also be on hand, of course.

"It is funny, that is for sure. There are a lot of one-liners in it," Dahlberg said.

The cast is made up of students in the high school, as well as the middle school and elementary school. Many of the lead characters are played by seniors. But there are underclassmen in the main roles as well. Pugsley is played by a seventh grader.

"It's a lot of fun," said Andrew Beine, who plays the lead role of Gomez Addams. "Compared to the rest of the family, Gomez is super flouncy, and it's pretty comical. There is a lot of dry humor too."

"They're creepy and they're kooky, mysterious and spooky. They're all together ooky. The Addams family." Students prepare for the upcoming musical, the cast has worked hard to develop their characters.

Working on such a funny comedy can be challenging also.

"I have a hard time keeping a straight face on stage," said Abby Prim, who portrays Morticia Addams.

"It has definitely been a growing year for us. We have a lot of experienced leads and a lot of unexperienced chorus members, so that has been an interesting dynamic," said Lindsay Dahlberg, co-director of the play.

cause we're such opposites. We complement each other really well. Plus working with Andrew is really fun," Abby said.

While there is the overall story going on in the show, each of the main characters has their own story lines within the big story.

"It makes it where the show is never dull. There is always something going on that you need to follow," Abby said.

This is the first time on the stage for Carter Gaudynski, who plays Uncle Fester.

"Last year I was in the stage crew, and acting looked like a lot of fun. I decided I had to get into it. I am having a great time," said Carter said.

Jayvon Martinson, who plays Lurch, had to learn how to walk on stilts for the show.

"He only fell into the wall once when he first put them on," Abby said.

Jayvon does have his lines memorized. He says the same line throughout the play.

"Uuugh," he grunted, in character.

The cast hope to entertain large crowds this weekend.

"Everyone who watches it will laugh. Come out and see the show," Abby said.

The cast has worked hard to develop their characters.

"I have spent many hours picking them apart and stopping them after one line, numerous times, as they work on how to portray an actual character. There was one rehearsal we got through two pages in two and a half hours, so it is a painstaking process. But it has been cool to see them actually start to get it," Lindsay Dahlberg said.

Perfecting character development has been the favorite part of working on the show for Abby.

"I just like exploring the relationship between Gomez and Morticia be-

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE REPORT

Train Versus Semi And Other Weather-Related Incidents

On October 31 at 5:32 a.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Office received a 911 report of a truck versus train accident near 2800 Scenic Drive in the Town of Polk. The truck driver reported that his semi-truck became disabled on the railroad tracks. He was attempting to get the truck started when the railroad warning stop arms activated and came down onto the truck. The driver quickly exited the cab and escaped as a northbound Canadian National Train struck the semi-tractor. The train engineer was able to see that there was a truck on the tracks but was unable to stop the train on time. The train came to a stop one mile after the collision.

The semi-truck was hauling a dump trailer loaded with 80,000 pounds of sand from a nearby gravel pit. The driver had just left with the load of sand when he began experiencing mechanical issues. He attempted to get the truck back to the pit when it became disabled on the tracks.

The collision resulted in significant damage to the tractor and a diesel fuel spill of 60 gallons. The locomotive suffered minor damage. There were no injuries as a result of this collision. The train was traveling at approximately 35 mph. The tracks were blocked for approximately two hours.

In addition to this accident, the Washington County Sheriff's Office responded to 59 weather-related traffic accidents from 5 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The Washington County Sheriff's Office increased staffing on the roads on October 31 to allow for a more effective response to the high volume of calls for service that this snow event caused. There were no significant injuries as a result of any of the accidents. The sheriff's office encourages people to decrease their speed and increase their following distance during times of inclement weather. We also ask that drivers give space to the road crews and emergency vehicles that are out working on the roadways in an effort to keep everyone safe.

A semi-truck became disabled on the railroad tracks at 5:32 a.m. October 31. The driver attempted to get the vehicle started, but was unable to do so before the train arrived. The driver was able to exit the cab before the crash occurred.

OBITUARIES

Laurel Degnitz

Laurel Degnitz passed away unexpectedly and entered Eternal Life on October 17, 2019.

Laurel was born to Willard and Florence Degnitz on December 22, 1949. She lived the majority of her youth in Boltonville, WI and graduated from Kewaskum Community High School in 1968. Laurel went on to attend the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, where she received her Bachelor of Science in Education degree in 1972.

Laurel worked for the Kettle Moraine YMCA, in West Bend, WI, as Director and Teacher for their child daycare program for 23 years. Later, Laurel worked for the state of Wisconsin as a daycare inspector, assisting with daycare inspection and licensure for 19 years, until she retired.

In retirement, Laurel loved to play cards, read a variety of books, spend time with friends and family, and travel to visit friends and family in other parts of the country. Laurel was a lifelong member of St. Martin's United Church of Christ in Fillmore, WI, where she sang and directed the church choir.

Church, family, and friends were all precious and important to her. Laurel attended every big event in her family and with friends. Laurel was always beaming with pride at each event. Without fail, Laurel would cry, and family lovingly made fun of her for that, but family members knew Laurel loved every one of them. Laurel proudly displayed pictures of family and friends in her home. Laurel loved all of her family and friends and they all loved her. Her family's greatest comfort is knowing that Laurel is in heaven with her Lord and Savior; singing in the choir, probably wearing a bedazzled gown, with her fabulous nails, and her loud infectious laugh that was so easily recognized.

Laurel is survived by her sisters, Nancy (James) Eberhardt, and Carolyn (Rev. Alan) Gumm, as well her sister-in-law, Lori Degnitz. Laurel is further survived by six nephews, four nieces, six great-grand-nephews, 10 great-grand-nieces, aunts, uncles, cousins, and many friends.

Laurel is preceded in death by her parents, Willard and Florence Degnitz; her brother, Rev. Thomas Degnitz; several aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

Memorial service for Laurel Degnitz, will be held on Saturday, November 16, 2019, at noon, at St. Martin's United Church of Christ, in Fillmore (592 County Road H, Fredonia) with Lay Minister Dan Noening officiating.

Laurel's family will greet relatives and friends at the church on Saturday, November 16, from 10 a.m. until the time of service.

Inurnment will be private with family at Fillmore Union Cemetery at a later date.

Memorials may be directed to the family of Laurel Degnitz, St. Martin's UCC Church, or the charity of the individual's choice.

The Myrhum Patten Miller & Kietzer Funeral Homes have been entrusted with Laurel's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.myrhum-patten.com.

October 26, 2019.

Tom was born on January 8, 1925, in Lancaster, Wisconsin, the son of the late Arthur and Ethel (nee McCartney) Williams. On August 15, 1946, he was united in marriage to Donna Barr in Burton, Wisconsin. He enjoyed fishing, camping, bus tours, and especially snowmobiling. Tom owned and operated Tom's Small Engine Sales and Service in Barton for 20+ years retiring in 1987. They moved to a hobby farm near Kewaskum. He was a lifelong member of the Moose Lodge in West Bend. Tom continued to enjoy working at his own pace on many things, always welcoming lively conversation. Tom always said, "With a good hammer and a screwdriver you can fix most anything".

Those Tom leaves behind to cherish his memory include his wife, Donna; a daughter, Bonnie; a son, Thom; a grandson, Dan; other relatives and friends. Pa (Tom) and Dan were good buddies.

In addition to his parents, Tom was preceded in death by three brothers, Jerry, Dick, and Jim; and three sisters, Ruby, June, and RaeAnn.

Tom's family will greet relatives and friends on Saturday, November 9, 2019 at the Myrhum Patten Funeral Home, 1315 W. Washington Street, in West Bend from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m., after which a short service of memories of Tom's life will be shared. Private burial will be later at Newark Cemetery.

Wreck Of The "Edmund Fitzgerald" Library Program And Circle Tour Of Lake Superior

It is the most well-known shipwreck of the Great Lakes. The Edmund Fitzgerald is not only known by name, but much has been written and studied about this shipwreck on Lake Superior.

Local author Rochelle Pennington is diving into this subject. Join Pennington on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 7 p.m. at the West Bend Public Library to learn more about the "Edmund Fitzgerald," the largest shipwreck ever to go down on the Great Lakes. The "Fitzgerald" had many Wisconsin connections and these details will be highlighted.

No other Great Lakes shipwreck is more well-known than the "Fitzgerald," which disappeared into a stormy Lake Superior on November 10, 1975, when wind gusts peaked at nearly 100 miles per hour and waves reached the height of three-story buildings.

Pennington will delve into the history and mystery of the vessel and will explore the opposing views of dive detectives who are still trying to determine what led to the demise of the 29-man crew.

She will ask the following questions:

Was the ship overcome by two or three massive waves and shoved under?

Were the ship's hatch covers not properly locked down at the docks before the ship departed?

Were the hatch covers leaking?

Did the Fitzgerald hit a shoal, an underwater area of rocks and injure itself?

Did earlier accidents the Fitzgerald was involved in compromise the structural integrity of the ship?

Was there an engineering flaw in the ship's construction?

Did the ship snap in half on the surface of Lake Superior, or break in two when the vessel slammed into the lake's

Had the ship been "cursed" by two eerie omens when it was launched?

Thrilling imagery will be used to take audience members on a complete circle tour of the Lake Superior region. Those in attendance will travel to the same places the crew members on board the "Fitzgerald" traveled.

She will talk about how the drowned ship is in two pieces on the bottom of Lake Superior in water over 500 feet deep. Half of the Fitzgerald's broken body is inverted, facedown, and is located in an area of Lake Superior called the graveyard because of all of the wrecks that have gone down in the immediate area.

The shipwreck is located in Canadian waters and is a protected sight. If you are caught trespassing in that cemetery you will be fined. Find out how much that fine is at Pennington's talk.

Pennington is author to books about other shipwrecks in the Great Lakes and she has given many talks about the Edmund Fitzgerald. But what makes this shipwreck such a popular one?

"It is my personal belief that the sinking of the Fitzgerald is the most known wreck on the Great Lakes because, in large part, of Gordon Lightfoot's haunting ballad about this drowned ship in 'an ice water mansion.' The song sold millions of copies immediately after the vessel's loss," Pennington said. "Lightfoot's lyrics were mysterious. He sang about the Fitzgerald being 'a bone to be chewed,' and about a 'witch' in November who 'came stealin'."

"Lightfoot also added a bit of science to his singing when he told listeners that Lake Superior 'never gives up her dead.' Lightfoot's words were both eerie and true."

According to Pennington, the ship was already a popular one before its demise.

"The Edmund Fitzgerald enjoyed fanfare right from the moment of its birth in June of 1958," Pennington said. "Over 10,000 people showed up to see the Fitz, the largest ship ever built on the Great Lakes up until that point. The freighter was a favorite of boat watchers for the whole of its life and the giant had many nicknames: Big Fitz, Mighty Fitz, Titanic of the Great Lakes, and Queen of the Lakes."

"To this day, the Edmund Fitzgerald remains the largest sunken ship on the Great Lakes."

"The freighter primarily hauled iron ore pellets, which were picked up at the docks in northern Minnesota. The ship's usual route was from the far western end of Lake Superior, through the Soo Locks, then south to the steel mills in Detroit, Michigan and Toledo, Ohio on the lower lakes. The Fitzgerald logged over a million miles in this way during its short life."

As mentioned, Pennington has written about and given talks about many other shipwrecks. Some of these include The Christmas Tree Ship that went down in Lake Michigan, and The Endurance that was crushed by ice near Antarctica.

"My interest in the Edmund Fitzgerald came as a result of my love for Lake Superior," Pennington said. "Our family purchased a 100-year-old, vintage cabin just south of Superior's southern shore 12 summers ago and I began writing my forthcoming book, Where the Hammock Hangs: A Love Letter to the Woods and Waters Surrounding an 'Up North' Cottage. The book includes extensive research on Lake Superior, which is the backdrop to both the Edmund Fitzgerald's life and to its loss. Historic lighthouses, shipwrecks, mines, logging camps, and lodges are all subjects included in the publication. I was further drawn to the Edmund Fitzgerald's story because of its tie to local history."

Make sure to check out Pennington's talk at the West Bend Public Library on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 7 p.m. This is a free program with complimentary refreshments.

DAYS GONE BY

5 Years AgoNovember 13, 2014

Students, area veterans and residents gathered at Kewaskum High School on Tuesday to mark Veterans Day. Sergeant William C. Robinson addressed those in attendance. He enlisted in the United States Marine Corps on March 11, 2003, in Los Angeles, California. He attended Marine Corps Recruit Training at MCRD (Marine Corps Recruit Depot) San Diego, from April 15, 2003 until graduation on July 11, 2003. The firing squad from the Robert G. Romaine Post American Legion Post from Kewaskum ended the ceremony with a 21-gun salute while a member of the KHS band played taps.

Kewaskum High collected plenty of gold and silver from the All-Eastern Wisconsin Conference football balloting that took place recently. Leading the Indian award winners were junior running back Brandon Thull and junior lineman Sam Fechter, unanimous picks at offensive tackle and defensive end. Also elected were Garrett Buth, Matt Elbe, Matt Hetebrueg, Josh Baker, Josh Limbach, Ben Watzig, Charlie Witek, and Prochnow.

Jessica Fieweger was honored by the coaches with a second-team silver medal on the all-EWC girls volleyball team.

In voting for the all-EWC soccer teams, Brian Wendelborn and Max Hardy received honorable mention.

McKenzie Rosenthal was the lone KHS tennis player to receive a post-season award from the EWC coaches. She received honorable mention.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club installed new officers on November 3. Steve Volm is treasurer, Charlie Walls is vice president, Kevin Bartelt is president, and Wayne Sargent is secretary.

KHS students will present Footloose this weekend. Performers include Alex Strack, Bille Lehmann, Heather May, Ana Gerhartz, Maura Roberts, Emily Tillmann, Thomas Kunst, and Hailey Taylor.

Adam W. Sanger, 18, passed away November 2.

15 Years AgoNovember 4, 2004

On October 25, the Kewaskum Board of Education passed the lowest tax levy in 25 years. The levy was set at $8.59, 76¢ less than previously estimated. Originally, the estimate was $9.35. Due to the increase in property values, it was decreased.

The Kewaskum village board approved the lease purchase of a squad car for the police department Monday night. The lease purchase is a two-year agreement. The cost for the vehicle is $21,956. Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt said the lease purchase option worked best within the village's budget.

The Kewaskum School Board has heard from the residents of the district. They now have a basis to proceed with future referendums, if they decide to do so. The first question regarding textbooks won, 3,794 to 2,655. The second question regarding technology also won, 3,750 to 2,662. Capital improvements were shot down, 2,754 to 3,551. Voters decided now is not the time to purchase land, voting that down 2,753 to 3,799. The biggest shortfall was the auditorium. It was voted down 2,328 to 4,049. Voters decided that remodeling the middle or high school would be a good idea, passing it 3,498 to 2,886.

Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt has worked out a preliminary 2005 budget indicating a revenue shortfall of approximately $30,000, even after eliminating some spending projects. Kewaskum native maltster August Groeschel is featured in 'Wisconsin Magazine of History.'

Katie Patterson and David Figge were recently named Kiwanis Students of the Month for the month of November.

Bye Bye Birdie will be performed this weekend in Rose Hall. Birdie is played by Alex Herriges.

The Northstar Boys' Choir Performance Has Been Cancelled

The North Star Boys' Choir performance scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 16, at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, Campbellsport, has been cancelled due to unforeseen difficulties, according to Jim Coursolle. At this time, no rescheduling date has been set. "More stringent Milwaukee Archdiocesan rules regarding children have been put into place which make it extremely difficult to provide overnight housing for the young members of the boys' choir," according to Coursolle. "Permission was received by the local pastor for the performance, but then had to be cancelled because of these rules." The Minneapolis North Star Boy's Choir performed at St. Matthew's in January 2016 and there was also a performance by The St. Florian's Boys' Choir from Austria in 2015. The same housing principles used in the past that were acceptable then, were to be employed for the cancelled performance. These are the same principles that are currently employed as the international recording artist and award-winning North Star Boys' Choir travels and performs throughout the United States and the world.

People preparing for Gov. Tony Evers visit by hanging up the 9/11 flag in the Kewaskum Annex building.

So It Goes Behind The Bill Signing

By Andrew Johnson

It was a huge milestone for the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial when Governor Evers signed the bill naming a segment of Highway 28 last Thursday. I thought some of our readers would like to know why and how this happened now. What it means and where do we go from here?

There has been an increase in momentum for building the project over the past 12 months. We broke ground earlier this year for the first couple of phases of the project even though the entire project is not yet funded.

Washington County gave its official recognition and many people from this area realized that this project had significance statewide. We worked with Rep. Ramthun and Sen. Strobel on options on what could be done. It was determined that naming the highway was the best possible idea to give recognition for this particular project.

At the same time, our committee was planning for a special service on September 11th like we did last year in Kewaskum. However, with construction underway, it did not make sense to have an event at the site in front of the Annex this year.

Instead, this year on September 11th a press conference was held at the Capitol in Madison announcing legislation the naming of the highway. This press conference gave the project huge statewide attention.

Our committee was told that the process of getting the legislation through both houses would most likely occur next February. To our surprise, the legislation gained a large number of co-sponsors and unanimously passed in both state houses in October.

Once the bill was passed, the Governor had a limited number of days to sign it into law. Governor Evers thought the legislation known as Act 20 was important and offered to come to Kewaskum which he did.

A few weeks before Governor Evers came, part of a steel beam from the North Tower was mounted in place in front of the Annex on the memorial site. Our committee had it covered and planned to have a separate unveiling ceremony sometime this fall. The Governors timing in coming to Kewaskum was perfect so both the bill could be signed and the steel unveiled on the same day. It is a very special thing to have a governor come to a village to sign a bill into law.

Governor Evers walked into the Annex building exactly when he said he would last Thursday at noon. He read some meaningful prepared remarks before signing the bill. He answered a few questions from the television media folks present and congratulated Gordon Haberman and his family members, committee members as well as other village, county, and school district leaders.

It meant the world to me that he immediately put his arm around me when I showed him a photo of my son who was killed in Afghanistan. I told Governor Evers that I was surprised he came because of all the snow we had that morning.

He told me that he did not know for sure if he was coming until the airplane he was in was able to land at West Bend airport just prior to the bill signing. He had another event earlier that morning in Wausau.

It was great that the man who represents all of the people of Wisconsin was able to sign the bill and be present to see the cover lifted off the beam at the 9/11 Memorial in Kewaskum.

It is hoped that the attention of this event will help attract the funding needed to completely finish the project. Approximately $376,000 has been raised locally along with over $250,000 in material and labor donations to date.

The project needs to raise an additional estimated $400,000 to complete all phases. It is hoped this could be done soon so that construction could be completed before September 11, 2020. Information and updates about this project can be found at www.wisconsin911memorial.com.

It is so appropriate that the coverage of this event just happened to be published in our annual Veterans Day edition. The military portion of the project that includes flag poles for each of the five branches of service is well underway. This special edition also contains many photos of many area veterans. The pages were sponsored by local businesses.

To all of our veterans, thank you so much for all you do and have done so we can be free. We honor you.

Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway Signed Into Law

“Now that we’re 18 years removed from the 9/11 attacks it’s important we remember and honor this history including the nearly 3,000 innocent lives lost that day, including 12 known individuals with connections to Wisconsin and of course Kewaskum’s own Andrea Haberman,” Evers said.

Following the bill signing, Evers and the crowd went outside in front of the Annex building, where the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial is being constructed.

With snow flying through the air, the crowd watched as firefighters removed a large tarp to reveal a steel beam that had been salvaged from the North Tower. The 2,200-pound steel beam has been raised into the air, pointing toward the east and New York City.

2019 Wisconsin Act 20

“This initiative will help this community and this state, and even perhaps elements of this nation to never forget,” said Rep. Timothy Ramthun, one of the sponsors of the bill who spoke at last week’s event.

Prior to becoming 2019 Act 20, the “Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway Bill,” the bill started out as Assembly Bill 451, which the Assembly passed with a unanimous vote of 96-0. The measure then went to the Senate as Senate Bill 433, and passed with a unanimous vote of 33-0.

“To see the entire body of the Legislature coalesce around such an important and worthy cause was quite a remarkable experience,” Ramthun said.

The bipartisan support reflected the unity that 9/11 brought to the nation.

“It really unified our country,” said Sen. Duey Stroebel, one of the senators who introduced the bill to the senate. “I am so thankful that again, in the idea of unity, this bill was bipartisan.”

“Bipartisan—it is a very strong bill that way. Assembly Bill 451 and Senate Bill 433 are now law. It’s Act 20. So one name, one number. And it’s a good number: Act 20,” Ramthun said.

2019 Wisconsin Act 20 does the following:

- Designates a portion of State Highway 28, starting at the Interstate 41 and State Highway 28 interchange in Dodge County to the State Highway 144 intersection in Washington County as the “Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway.”

- Requires the Department of Transportation to erect and maintain signage for the highway and the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center in the village of Kewaskum.

- Requires the Department of Transportation to identify the location of the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway and the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center on state highway service maps and folded highway maps.

Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial

The Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial will serve as a place of celebration and remembrance, as well as an education center.

“This will be a place that people can come to, they can learn about what happened, they can reflect, they can see how it impacted our country,” Stroebel said.

“It is also important to pay tribute to the countless heroes who responded during our time of need, from the first responders to those who helped clean up and rebuild for months after the attacks, many of whom are still suffering from the consequences of their service. Ensuring this heroic and fateful day lives in our collective memory; it is just too important, we have to do this,” Evers said last Thursday, the first time a sitting governor has ever visited the Village of Kewaskum.

The memorial was designed by Peter Kudlata, of Flagstone Landscaping in Cedarburg, to be a place of reflection, education and respect.

“It is being built to withstand the test of time, both in stature as well as relevancy,” Gordon Haberman said.

The memorial is becoming a reality due to the support of the community.

“The response by both community businesses and individual supporters for the memorial has been inspiring. This memorial is truly a community-driven monument. For many of us here today, this memorial touches our hearts personally. Now, with the official State designation we will be able to reach out to the hearts of many,” said Julie Osmus, Andrea Haberman’s sister.

Funds are still needed to complete the memorial.

“It is our hope that we will complete the project within the next year so that the newly designated Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway can bring visitors from near and far to this place of remembrance,” Gordon Haberman said. “When the beam is surrounded by the various learning stations and more importantly by the caring hearts of visitors ... then it will truly become a memorial. The Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center.”

Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway Bill Signed Into Law

By Representative Timothy Ramthun

Assembly Bill 451/Senate Bill 433, which designates a portion of State Highway 28 as 'The Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Highway', became Act 20 last Thursday, when Governor Evers came to Kewaskum to sign it into law. This was a massive team effort, and I'm so grateful to everyone who played a part in making this a reality. The persistence and passion from the Haberman family was immeasurable, and played a tremendous role in making this happen. The members of Kewaskum Remembers, with their drive to help and do the right thing, will help us always remember. The strong support from village officials, the community, and Washington County officials was also instrumental in making this day possible.

There's a lot that can be said about the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Act 20, most of it having already been so eloquently stated, so I would like to simply add the following. I was born and raised in Kewaskum, I went to school here, and much of my family lives in the area. This is my community. Everybody has their own reasons for why the events of this past Thursday were special. It hits closer to home for me, because this is my hometown, and I'm its hometown son. It's a big deal, and was my privilege to be able to be involved in doing something so special for the needs of so many.

I wanted to, first of all, thank Governor Evers for coming to Kewaskum last Thursday and signing Act 20 into law. I asked him to come, and he could've said no, because bill signings are normally done at the Capitol. But, he came. That meant the world to me, and it meant the world to this community. I know it did, and I'm so grateful. His presence made the day even more memorable for us all.

I'd also like to thank my fellow legislators, especially Senator Duey Stroebel, for his efforts in authoring this bill with me. There were also a series of coauthors who helped us; Sen. Alberta Darling, Rep. Mark Born, Rep.

Robert Brooks, Rep. Janel Brandtjen, Rep. Rick Gundrum, and Rep. Dan Knodl. Roughly 60 legislators of both parties signed onto the bill as coauthors and cosponsors over the course of a week.

At every stage in the legislative process, this bill had unanimous, bipartisan support. From committee meetings in both houses of the Legislature, to the floors of the Assembly and Senate, the votes were always unanimous. I spoke to each member of the Assembly personally to ask them for their support.

All those efforts paid off. The highway designation will help direct people to a place to honor the victims of that tragic day, the heroic first responders who ran towards danger, and the courageous members of our military who responded to the threat overseas. This initiative, the memorial itself combined with the highway designation, will help this community, this county, our entire state, and perhaps elements of the entire nation, to never forget.

October 12 was a sunny day, perfect for setting the beam from the World Trade Center in place at the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial. Swenson Tool & Die in Campbellsport did the work on the beam. photo by Anne Trautner

School Board Discusses Accounts Payable

By Anne Trautner

At the October 14 Kewaskum School Board regular meeting, the board voted 6-1 to approve accounts payable for $348,309.43. Board member Timothy Ramthun voted against the measure.

The vote came after Superintendent James Smasal answered questions about line items on the accounts payable that Board Member Jim Leister had emailed him prior to the meeting.

"I'm glad I asked them because I learned a lot tonight," Leister said at the meeting.

"And to that end, Mr. Leister, I would encourage you to continue to ask questions because we are not here to hide anything," School Board President Mark Sette said.

Over the past several months, Ramthun, Leister and Doug Gonring have requested that the finance committee meet outside the scope of a board meeting to go over questions they have about accounts payable.

Accounts payable are typically an item under the section listed as "Items For Discussion And/Or Action" on the school board meeting agendas. The board then votes to approve Accounts Payable and payroll.

At the June 10 and July 8 school board meetings, both Accounts Payable and Payroll appeared under the Business Manager's Report as an item for discussion or report. The board did not vote on the items at those two board meetings.

Ramthun, Leister and Gonring have requested numerous times over the past year to have more information on some of the accounts payable items. They also have requested that a finance committee meet monthly to go over the budget.

Sette, as well as School Board Vice President Troy Hanson and Smasal, have requested that any questions that board members have regarding bills to be emailed to Smasal prior to the board meeting. Ramthun, Leister and Gonring have said they would like other board members to hear their questions.

"This discussion was very healthy.... Is it possible for us to look into this finance committee element and embrace Policy 155?" Ramthun said at the October 14 meeting after Smasal went through the Accounts Payable.

Sette said that the finance committee meetings had been eliminated in order to "save time and cost."

"I guess we can have the [finance committee] meeting, but then you have even more people and more time in order to answer the same questions. And I guess as a board we have to decide which direction we want to go," Sette said. "Is that a good value to our district to be having our administrator and our business manager and the building principals doing this? And then on top of that, we are going to have another finance committee meeting."

Leister said that having an explanation on the items was beneficial.

"For me, I can vote yes for this because I'm comfortable where we are spending it," Leister said.

"As a board, we have to decide where we want to spend our time and money. As a board, if we think this was a valuable discussion and as a board member you feel this is the best use of Mr. Smasal's time, if that's what you're saying, let's knock ourselves out, let's do it," Sette said.

Smasal said that it took time to get answers for all of the questions on how money had been spent.

"If you want us to spend our time giving input on all of these things, because I don't know about $14.69 to Starbucks, I had to ask [the business manager], and then Julie has to ask the bookkeeper, and then the bookkeeper has to ask the principal, and the principal has to ask the teachers, and so on and so forth on some of this stuff. If we are going to answer these questions, it does take time and energy away from other things," Smasal said. "I'm not making a judgment. I'm just saying, depending on what you want us to concentrate on, we will do whatever you ask.... But it's going to take away from other things that we do."

"Out of respect, I would request that you don't do that.... Frankly, it's ridiculous," School Board Member Troy Hanson said.

Smasal's explanations on items listed in the Accounts Payable report included:

• $229 for Kalahari;
$179.50 for Sprechers,
McAlisters, Starbucks and Coldstone; $82.98
for Summer House;
 Five Kewaskum Elementary School teachers were sent to a conference on PBIS (Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports). The district has a meal allowance of up to $40 a day when people travel, so this came below that cost, Smasal reported.

• $40.86 to Walmart: Snacks were purchased for a staff development meeting held after school.

• $1,070 for Steger Concrete: This went for the demolition and flooring of the fitness center project. Doug Franzen, facilities director for the school district, worked as construction manager for the project. Smasal named six school employees who worked on the project for various reasons, including demolition and construction.

"We used inhouse people when we could. We worked with some at night and on weekends by contractors to try to not disrupt the school learning environment," Smasal said.

Contractors included HJ Martin, Groeschel, Interstate Sawing, Steger Concrete, Preferred Electric, Pieper Electric and ADC Controls, according to Smasal.

"Groeschel, Interstate and Steger were all scheduled together because we also put in three water fountains," Smasal said.

• $6,355.43 for a washer and a dryer: This covered an industrial sized washer and dryer that best meets the needs of the district, according to Smasal. By purchasing an industrial strength washer and dryer, the district is saving money over time because it will not have to send items out to be cleaned, according to Smasal.

• $938.96 for airfare and Teachers College: These charges covered airfare, bags and tuition for the two administrators to attend a national convention.

"We had two of our administrators get selected in somewhat of a competitive situation to go to what is called Teachers College to learn how to do their craft better," Smasal said. "We never thought in our wildest dreams that both of them would be able to go on the same year. That is pretty awesome."

• $200 for Milwaukee Bucks tickets: This will cover the cost for the boys basketball team to play against West Bend West in the Fiserv Forum before a Buck's game.

• $3,727.68 for legal services: Of that amount, $2,500 covered the cost to have the district's legal counsel attend the district's annual meeting. Smasal estimated that the cost for the district attorney to attend a regular meeting is about $1,000.

• $140 for Coffee Corner gift cards: This covered the cost to give 28 bus drivers each a $5 gift for Bus Driver Appreciation.

• $735.53 for gift cards purchased at Piggly Wiggly: Gift cards were given to nine staff members who were recognized for employment longevity in the district, ranging from 10 to 40 years of employment with the district.

• $25.95 for Cousins: This covered lunch when an outside consultant met with staff members during their lunch hour. This averaged to roughly $6.50 apiece for lunch for those people who worked during their lunch hours.

• $176.35 for Michaleno's Pizzeria: To show appreciation for work done over the summer, the district provided pizza for 22 members of the custodial staff, according to Smasal.

• $14,750 for a Forklift: Doug Franzen, facilities director for the district said that he negotiated the price for a forklift, which was originally listed at $17,900.

• $17,315 for the Servery Floor Repair: In August 2018, the school board decided to redo the cafeteria as part of the building project, according to Smasal. After the cafeteria was completed, the building was flooded from storm water. Last year, the district spent $25,000 tearing up the parking lot at the high school and redoing the pipes so that the school would not be flooded again, according to Smasal.

Smasal reported that about 20 percent of the cafeteria floor was damaged from the flooding, so the that flooring was replaced. The flooring was not under warranty because the district did not spend the extra $15,000 to $20,000 to place a backing on the flooring when it was installed, according to Smasal.

"We took a chance. It was break even or win. So when I have that decision in front of me, I'm going to roll the dice and try to at least break even and hopefully win. And we didn't. We broke even," Smasal said.

Moraine Park Wellness Initiatives Earn National Recognition

Moraine Park Technical College earned fourth place in Humana, Inc.'s Go365 National Step Challenge. Go365 is Humana's health and wellness rewards program focused on improving the fitness of employees from companies across the country. Moraine Park has been utilizing the Go365 wellness platform for three years as an employee benefits tool.

"We implemented Go365 in 2016," Lori Schrage, benefits coordinator at Moraine Park said. "The tool not only encourages employees to be more active, it also provides rewards for doing so."

The National Step Challenge is a competition in which employer groups with two or more Go365 members compete for the highest team average step count. All winning teams receive a donation to their local member food bank of Feeding America® in their name.

As a result of Moraine Park's efforts, they placed fourth earning 10,000 meals, which will benefit individuals in eastern Wisconsin and the MPTC district, through Feeding America.

The Challenge featured 2,939 competing organizations that collectively logged 10.6 B steps earning one million donated meals.

To Whom Dale Served With

By Karl McCarty

Born March 7, 1932, in the Town of Addison, Dale Zingsheim was one of the youngest men (if not the youngest) drafted from Washington County when the Korean War started in 1950. It ended with an armistice in 1953. His stint in the U.S. Army lasted two years.

Dale didn't share much about his time on the Korea Peninsula. Much of the information of his wartime services comes from his wife Lois.

Meanwhile Dale's sister-in-law Jane Hutchinson recalled how Dale would not elaborate on Korea, besides a scary episode in enemy territory: "I only remember one story of him being on night patrol, in the rain and trying to get over a hill."

However, many friends who him well, like Dan Doyle and Ken Ketter, could not vouch for Dale saying much about his wartime service, if at all. Sue Doyle probably said it best: "From serving his country to serving his community, Dale was a generous person." That reference to community service includes his time where most in the Campbellsport area knew him — The Amber Hotel. His time at the restaurant will be covered next week.

What is clear is Dale's military service was punctuated by the relationship with his fellow men in his platoon, who happened to be African-American. So when thinking of Dale Zingsheim's service to the nation, one is left to conclude he'd like you to appreciate those who served with him more than himself. Accordingly, here is some necessary background.

African Americans were relegated to segregated units up to and in World War II. For those who served honorably and happened to be African American, they came home to a country still lynching in the South. Then there were others like Joe Louis, the famed boxer ("The Brown Bomber") buried in Arlington Cemetery, who served honorably during the Second World War and donated his earnings to the war effort. Then the government hounded him for not paying taxes on it.

Dale Zingsheim's service predated the Civil Rights Movement's milestones of Brown vs. Board of Education in 1954, Rosa Parks, and Martin Luther King around 1955. Two years prior to Dale joining the military, President Harry S. Truman decided to desegregate the U.S. military in July of 1948 by signing Executive Order 9981. This decision split Truman's Democratic Party and allowed a Southern Democrat turned Dixiecrat, Strom Thurmond, to take four states (Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina) from Truman, who still somehow won the '48 campaign against Thomas Dewey (R-NY).

In this context, there was a price to pay with desegregating the army. Just because it was done in 1948 didn't mean it was popular in the country, much less within the military rank and file, or in either major political party.

Enter Dale Zingsheim from Nenno. For one, he was the youngest to serve in his unit. His inexperience and greenhorns may be an excuse for his placement in what became a dumping ground decided by his military higher ups: they put the youngest white guy with the African Americans shoved into one of the worst duties (via night maneuvers) in the Korean War.

The Korean War (1950-1953) was the first major conflict after the desegregation of the Armed Forces in 1948. The photo of the three men was labeled "Some of the guys that are in the same platoon as I am in."

This picture by Dale Zingsheim was saved in his Korean War scrapbook. It does a great job of symbolizing the alliance with South Koreans to push back communism. He labeled the picture "one of our Korean soldiers."

To Whom Dale Served With

It was clear to Dale the logic of his placement. Lois asked him, "And he said, 'I can tell you why. I was the youngest one there. I didn't have life experience.'" This was 1950, and given the demographics of Washington County at the time, it can be certain who became Dale's service buddies were not his childhood neighbors. Pictures in Dale's collection also indicate he served with South Korean soldiers as well, giving him an incredibly diverse experience.

Dale would never have used any offensive language when explaining his time with his buddies in service. In fact, when talking to his wife, one can conclude the most significant aspect of Dale's service was that he'd want you to remember the men he served with. That is why this article is more about his fellow men than himself. Make no mistake, said Lois, "Dale was very, very close to the African Americans in his unit."

And there it happened. Dale was thrown into the civil rights era, but at the time it seems Dale's interactions with people of color was a friendship which began due to survival. His African American buddies joked how the wartime necessity of Dale's face paint was ironic, as it was actually offensive back home in a different context. They painted Dale's face to hide in the evening with his fellow soldiers. He was always on night maneuvers, and for safety reasons according to Lois, "Dale was black faced for most of his time in Korea."

"You'd go and get his army pictures out, and it was like there were hearts coming out above his head. Because they protected him. The only thing you could see, he said, was the white of their teeth, 'cause they had to crawl under barbed wire fences." As Dale was shimming underneath, "He said, 'I was on my stomach or on my back, under barbed wire.' And he said he was 'always with my black soldiers.'"

The photographer has a knack for bringing out the natural and battle landscape of Korea, likely taken by Dale Zingsheim. Dale's collection also took the time to encapsulate the way of life for soldiers, like this picture of the chaplain he labeled "church services."

History On The Move

Century Farms and Historic Properties is the title of the next History on the Move at Oostburg Public Library on Thursday, Nov. 14, at 1 p.m.

The Century Farm and Home Program began in 1948 in conjunction with the State of Wisconsin's Centennial Celebration. There are currently 9,208 Century Farms and Homes nestled throughout the Badger State. The Sesquicentennial Program originated in 1998 as part of the State's Sesquicentennial Celebration. Since that time, nearly 1,000 families have been honored.

Sheboygan County also has dozens of noteworthy historic homes. We'll visit a number of century farms and other landmark buildings in our brick and mortar tour of the county.

Join us at the Oostburg Public Library, 213 North Eighth Street, Oostburg. This presentation is free and open to the public.

"To the One I Love"

Just thinking of you, makes me feel lonely,
 And forever you will be my one and only.
 Never forget, you are always in my heart,
 Even now, that we are so far apart.

Kisses, I will send to you every day,
 And I love you more than words can say.
 Soon I'll be home, and I must confess,
 That I hope forever, we'll share our happiness.
 Ending now, with a few words, so true,
 No one else could love you more than I do.

Love Lights For The Holidays

It is getting to be that busy time of the year, The Holidays. What beautiful holidays they are. Thanksgiving - giving thanks for all our wonderful blessings from God. Christmas - the day God became man for us.

How blessed we are to have such a loving God. He also blesses us with family and friends. Some of these family and friends He has called back home to Him. During the holidays, we especially remember those people.

That is why we started the "Love Lights For The Holidays." We like to think that the lights on the trees help people share their love with the entire community.

For just $5, you can purchase a light in remembrance of someone special, present or past, to be lit on the trees at the Mill Pond Park near the Milwaukee River in Campbellsport during the holiday season.

Tree lighting ceremony will be held Saturday, Dec. 7. Details to follow at a later date.

Lights will be available for purchase until December 2. Checks should be made payable to "Love Lights For The Holidays." Mail payment and form above to: Shirley Simon, 311 Windell Ave., Campbellsport, WI 53010. Anyone with questions should call 920-979-8704.

Thank you for your support to light up our community this Holiday Season. Sponsored by the Love Lights For The Holidays committee.

Time Travelers Return From The Valley

The Civil War Time Travelers, LLC, returned from a week-long visit to the beautiful Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

While there, the group visited little-known sites from "Stonewall" Jackson's 1862 Valley Campaign. These included the battles fought at Cross Keys and Port Republic. Smaller in scale than Antietam or Shiloh, the fights in the Valley cemented Jackson's reputation as a military genius.

They also prevented the Federal government from sending reinforcements to General George B. McClellan, who was moving on Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy, with overwhelming numbers.

In addition, Jackson's surprise victories over three separate Union armies seriously damaged Union morale and allowed the Valley, called "The Breadbasket of the Confederacy," to continue to supply the southern cause with food and supplies for another two years.

On October 22-23 the Time Travelers jumped from 1862 to 1864. A trip to New Market and the Virginia Museum of the Civil War introduced the group to the story of the VMI cadets. These teenage boys from the Virginia Military Institute plugged a gap in Confederate lines just as Federal forces were moving towards victory.

The trained but untried cadets not only plugged the lines, but also drove Union troops as they attacked through a spot on the battlefield called "The Field of Lost Shoes." There a field of winter wheat was churned into mud, pulling the brogans right off the boys' feet as they charged. Ten cadets died in this assault, among them Thomas Garland Jefferson, great-grand-nephew of our third President.

After New Market, the Time Travelers visited Third Winchester with historian Timothy Smith and Cedar Creek with NPS Ranger Eric A. Campbell. This use of historian and NPS Ranger is part of the format the group has followed with great success. Members of the group who belong to the Milwaukee Civil War Round Table also present topics related to the tour. This plan leads to excellent history content.

A more somber thing the group learned was the story of an episode called "The Burning." In 1864, Union General Phil Sheridan was told to make the Valley useless to the war aims of the Confederacy. Ulysses S. Grant ordered Sheridan to turn the Valley into a "barren waste."

In response to those orders, and in retaliation for raids and deaths caused by rebel guerillas and partisans, the war was taken to civilians. Barns, crops, mills, and anything else that could support the Confederacy were put to the torch. Horrible atrocities were committed by both sides as this new concept, now called "hard war" or "total war," was put into effect.

While in the Valley, visitors must also take time to enjoy the beauty of God's creation. After a very gray drive one day over the backbone of the Blue Ridge, the Time Travelers returned again on a day filled with sunshine. Skyline Drive takes travelers to incredible vistas and breathtaking views. It also provided an appropriate platform for the sharing of the Civil War history that occurred in the Valley that lay spread before the group like a three-dimensional map.

Civil War Time Travelers, LLC, is a tour group based out of Campbellsport. Led by Dave and Kay Wege, the group is in its third year of existence. Previous trips went to Gettysburg and Antietam, to Chickamauga, Chattanooga, and Franklin, and, now, the Shenandoah Valley.

2020 will find the group Time Traveling to Shiloh, TN, and Vicksburg, MS, from October 24-30. The group can be found on Facebook at Civil War Time Travelers, LLC or contacted at wegs1862@gmail.com.

With the sun setting behind him, Doug Haag of the Milwaukee Civil War Round Table told the story of Jedeiah Hotchkiss. Hotchkiss was ordered by Stonewall Jackson to "make me a map of the Valley."

November 4-8 Is Winter Awareness Week In Wisconsin

The winter of 2018-2019 was one for the record books in Wisconsin, with the state experiencing heavy snowfalls and dangerously cold temperatures brought on by the polar vortex. To help prepare everyone for what to expect in the months ahead, Gov. Tony Evers declared November 4-8, 2019 Winter Awareness Week in Wisconsin.

"The extreme cold felt across Wisconsin earlier this year is a reminder of just how dangerous winter can be," said Maj. Gen. Don Dunbar, Wisconsin's adjutant general and homeland security advisor. "Take time during Winter Awareness Week to make sure your emergency kits are fully supplied, have your furnace serviced and get your vehicle checked out to make sure its ready for winter road conditions."

"The time to get ready for winter weather is before temperatures drop and snow is on the ground," said Dr. Darrell Williams, Wisconsin Emergency Management administrator. "Getting prepared now could help save your life or the life of a neighbor during a winter storm."

Winter emergency kits should include items such as food, water, a flashlight and batteries, and blankets. In your vehicle, include a snow shovel, extra gloves and hats, and kitty litter or sand to help give your wheels traction on icy roads in case you get stuck.

According to the National Weather Service, Wisconsin experiences an average of three-six winter storms during a season. Last winter, the town of Saxon in Iron County received the highest seasonal snowfall total in the state at 208.3 inches of snow. Saxon also reported the highest daily snowfall total at 16.5 inches. The coldest temperature recorded in the state during the 2018-2019 winter season was the village of Butternut in Ashland County, which reported a reading of -49 degrees Fahrenheit on February 1, 2019.

Winter driving can be extremely hazardous. Between 2014-2018, the Wisconsin Department of Transportation says an average of 46 people were killed and almost 4,200 injured each year in crashes on icy or snow-covered roads in the state. On average, there are about 18,000 vehicle crashes in the state each year caused by poor winter driving conditions.

"When bad winter weather is in the forecast, drivers should always check current road conditions before they head out," Williams urged. "If you don't need to be on the road during a severe winter storm, then stay home. If that's not an option, carry an emergency kit in your vehicle, drive slow in treacherous conditions, and let people know where you are going and when you expect to arrive."

You can check travel conditions for most major roadways in the state by using 511 Wisconsin, which is updated with the latest traffic and road conditions. This information, along with live traffic cameras and traffic alerts, can be accessed through the free 511 Wisconsin mobile app, @511WI on Twitter, or the mobile-friendly site www.511wi.gov.

County Mental Health Center Offers Same Day Assessments – New Walk-In Hours Improve Service For Uninsured And Underinsured Clientele

The Washington County Human Services Department now offers same-day access for assessments in the Mental Health Center at the Public Agency Center at 333 E. Washington Street.

"Two years ago, we had a two- to four-month wait for initial access to our Mental Health Center for uninsured and underinsured individuals to receive therapy and psychiatry in Washington County," said Human Services Director Julie Driscoll. "After a nine-month process and quality improvement cycle, we are proud to say that we have fully implemented same day access for assessments, serving over 100 individuals on the same day they walk through the door, since July."

Walk-In Clinic hours are offered Mondays and Wednesdays, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m., and Fridays, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Residents are encouraged to call 262-335-4600 to confirm hours, as they may change. To qualify, an individual must be a Washington County resident and have state insurance or no insurance. Individuals should plan to be in the clinic for up to 2.5 hours and early arrival is not necessary, as it will only add to the wait time.

"Providing the opportunity for individuals to leave our campus with an initial treatment plan and recommendations for follow-up care is a tremendous step forward toward providing access to basic needs in our community," said County Administrator Joshua Schoemann. "Congratulations to our Human Services Department for this quality advancement helping our residents enjoy an authentic quality of life."

The Washington County Human Services Department is an active partner and leader in the mental health and substance use services in our community. If you or someone you know is struggling, please call 262-335-4600.

Wisconsin Tourism Industry Continues Annual Winter Tradition To Help State "Bundle Up"

For the ninth year in a row, Wisconsin's tourism industry is uniting to help collect new and gently used warm winter gear for those in need. Since the start of the Big Bundle Up campaign in 2011, Wisconsin residents, visitors and businesses have donated more than 155,000 winter items to charities across the state.

"This is what Wisconsin is all about — folks helping each other and doing what we can to support others in their time of need," said Gov. Evers. "Year after year, Wisconsinites donate winter items at collection sites across our state, and I encourage folks to participate in the Big Bundle Up by donating again this season."

This year more than 65 sites including Travel Wisconsin Welcome Centers, tourist information centers, businesses and offices are serving as drop-off sites today through November 25, 2019. A complete list of locations is available at www.travelwisconsin.com/bigbundleup.

"Community partnership in the tourism industry extends beyond merely providing a strong economic impact," said Wisconsin Tourism secretary-designee Sara Meaney. "I am grateful to our tourism industry partners for their willingness and generosity in helping those in need this winter."

Area drop off locations are the Fond du Lac Area Convention & Visitors Bureau, 23 S Main St. #201, Fond du Lac; and the Sheboygan Falls Chamber-Main Street 504 Broadway Sheboygan Falls.

Moraine Park Collects Christmas In A Shoebox Donations For Troops

Moraine Park Technical College students and staff will host a Christmas in a Shoebox drive, collecting items for our local troops who are serving our country overseas and away from family during the holiday season.

Donations will be accepted until Friday, Nov. 8, and can be dropped off at room K-323 on the Beaver Dam campus, or with the Student Veteran Specialist in room C-003.3 at the Fond du Lac campus Mondays, Thursdays, and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Moraine Park's goal is to collect enough items to fill 200 postal service large flat rate boxes and have them in the hands of our troops stationed overseas by the holidays.

The packages will be assembled on November 13 at the Beaver Dam campus, and students and staff will also have the opportunity to fill out note cards to send a personal message of encouragement, or holiday wishes.

Donations should be new and no larger than shoebox-sized. Some suggested items are personal hygiene products like deodorant, eye drops, Q-tips, and baby wipes, or snacks such as beef jerky, sunflower seeds, nuts, granola bars, and flavored drink mixes. Additionally, miscellaneous items like current magazines, batteries, paperback books, and small travel games are great ways to let the service members know they're remembered and help to bring some joy to their holiday season.

For questions on Christmas in a Shoebox, contact Steve Pepper, student veterans specialist, at spepper1@morainepark.edu or 920-924-3489.

MVP Honors Go To Marchello And Densow: Tennis Team Celebrates Its Second Place Conference Finish

By Judy Harlow

After finishing with records of 12-5 and 12-6 and earning a silver and bronze medal, respectively, for their play in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, sophomores Grace Marchello and Haley Densow were honored as co-MVPs at the girls tennis awards night.

It was a banner year for the Indians in conference play as they finished 8-1 to take second place. (In 1991, another KHS team placed second in the EWC, which, at that time had eight teams.) Powerhouse Kohler claimed another team title, winning all nine of its matches and losing just one single point in those matches.

"We had four matches that ended up 4-3 (in the Indians' favor)," KHS coach Peter Garcia said. The biggest win, over Plymouth, came last in the season finals, which was a battle for the runner-up spot, and it will be a win the Indians will relish in future years.

In that win, seniors Liz Beine and Abby Kopfhammer posted a thrilling three-set comeback victory, and they presented the second-place team medals from Garcia to their teammates. They received separate "Big Moment of the Year" medals from the coach for coming through in such a clutch manner.

Captain awards went to senior Megan Krolski and Sabrina Lor, who held down the tough number one and two singles positions and played some very good matches while finishing 8-9 and 8-10, respectively.

"The night went well," Garcia said. He later indicated he has resigned as head coach of the girls' program and assistant coach of the boys' team. Garcia was the girls coach for eight seasons and assisted the boys' program for four, one as a volunteer coach.

Garcia said a major reason he is stepping down is because of his wife's recent retirement. "I had promised her I would quit when she retired," he said. He said he enjoyed the opportunity to coach and see many of his players do well.

Participation Awards: junior — Chloe Vetter; sophomores — Sierra Heipp, Gracie Hughes, Ashlyn Kjer, Kelli Sullivan; freshmen — Jenna Vorwerk, Emily Vorwerk.

The Statesman also received word from Andrew Dahlberg that he has resigned as the boys head tennis coach as of October 31. He cited the growth of his family and his commitments with the KHS music and theater programs.

"The last four years have been an awesome opportunity to teach the game I love to some of Kewaskum's best students. I hope to be back in the future as my kids grow up," he said.

College Notes Of Athletes From Kewaskum School District

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum High's winningest wrestler, Eric Bauer, started his collegiate career on the right foot. Wrestling in UW-Parkside's Intrasquad Meet on October 31, Bauer won an 8-4 decision over another Ranger freshman.

Bauer, who finished as the runner-up at 160 pounds in the WIAA Division 2 State Wrestling Tournament last February, defeated Jamel Sheppard, who is a graduate of Plainfield Central High School in Juliet, Illinois.

In the first period, Bauer scored a takedown and added a three-point near fall with the use of a guillotine for a 5-0 lead. Sheppard got one takedown in the second period and another in the third for his points.

The Rangers entertain UW-Whitewater Saturday, Nov. 9, in a 2 p.m. non-conference competition. On Saturday, Nov. 23, the wrestlers will be in Mequon for the Concordia University-Wisconsin Open Meet which gets underway at 9 a.m.

 After sitting out two games because of a knee injury, Tony Steger, a red-shirt freshman slot receiver, is back playing for the UW-Oshkosh football team.

The Titans had been sporting a four-game win streak until they ran into UW-La Crosse on October 26, losing to the Eagles 31-3. In that game, Steger caught one pass for 10 yards.

On November 2, the Indians traveled to Platteville and handed the 13th-ranked Pioneers a 24-20 defeat, scoring the game-winning touchdown with 18 seconds remaining.

"That was a big win for us, because Platteville beat La Crosse," Steger said, reporting he did not catch any passes in the win but, "I had a lot of kick returns." Steger returned four kicks for 71 yards, the longest covering 27 yards.

Oshkosh is currently 4-1 in WIAC (Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference) play and 6-2 overall. The Titans host UW-River Falls on November 9 for Senior Day and Veterans Appreciation Day, then close the regular season at home vs. first place UW-Whitewater on November 16 in a 6 p.m. game.

"They will be tough games the next two weeks," Steger said, indicating "We have to win out" for a chance at a post-season bid.

Steger is still dealing with a knee issue. "I won't be 100 percent until spring ball ... I'm just going to play through this now," he said.

* Jeray Riffel, a senior midfielder/forward, helped the Milwaukee School of Engineering to a 2-1 win over Aurora College of Illinois in the quarterfinals of the Northern Athletics Collegiate Conference on November 3. The Lady Raiders scored one goal in each half en route to the win, their 13th of the season against five losses.

Riffel got two shots in the contest but did not score while playing 76 minutes for the Raiders.

Riffel played in 17 games for the Raiders this fall, starting in 16 of them. She scored four goals and contributed nine assists for 16 points. She had a pair of game-winning goals.

MSOE was scheduled to play Dominican College (Illinois) in the semifinals on November 6 at 1 p.m. at  Sophomore Gabe Christenson helped the Concordia University football team post a 41-27 victory over Rockford on November 2.

Christenson, a defensive halfback, had one solo tackle and one assist and also intercepted a pass and had one pass breakup.

With the win, the Falcons are currently 2-3 in Northern Athletics Collegiate Conference (NCC) action and 4-4 overall.

 With a thrilling 16-12 victory over Montana State on October 26, the North Dakota Flying Hawks improved to 5-3 on the season. In that game, Cade Peterson, the starting punter for the second year in a row, had five punts for a 40.8 yard average.

Peterson's longest punt of the day was a 57-yard effort that pinned the Bobcats on the goal line. This eventually led to the game-winning recovery after a blocked punt with just 4:21 remaining in the fourth quarter.

Fond du Lac, Washington County Businesses Accepting Donated Deer During Hunting Season To Donate To Food Pantries

The state's deer donation program operated by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources helps people in need by providing an opportunity for hunters to donate deer. The venison from donated deer is processed and distributed to food pantries across the state.

Since the program began in 2000, hunters have donated more than 90,000 deer which were processed into more than 3.7 million pounds of ground venison. Wisconsin has a network of venison donation partners including county land and water conservation departments, food pantries, charitable organizations, Hunt for the Hungry, USDA – Wildlife Services and participating processors who all help implement and administer the program.

To celebrate the success of the program, each hunter will receive a free hat upon donation of a deer through the program in 2019.

Deer harvested in one of the 24 CWD-affected counties listed below must be sampled for CWD either prior to or at the time of donation. The processed venison will be held until results are known.

All adult deer harvested in Crawford, Dodge, Eau Claire, Jefferson, Juneau, Kenosha, Lincoln, Milwaukee, Marquette, Oneida, Portage, Racine, Vernon and Waukesha are required to be tested for CWD.

All adult deer and fawns harvested in Adams, Columbia, Dane, Grant, Green, Iowa, Lafayette, Richland, Rock, Sauk and Walworth are required to be tested for CWD.

How To Donate A Deer

Hunters can help feed needy people throughout Wisconsin by taking five simple steps.

•Donate any legally harvested deer from Wisconsin by dropping it off at a participating processor, listed at dnr.wi.gov/topic/hunt/donation.html by February 1, 2020. Deer harvested outside of Wisconsin cannot be donated through the Wisconsin deer donation program.

•Prior to donating, field dress the deer, register it and write the registration confirmation number down. Hunters will need the registration confirmation number handy in order to fill out the hunter donation log sheet that the meat processor maintains.

•Call first. Contact one of the participating processors before dropping the deer off to verify the processor has space to accept a deer.

•Donate the entire deer to receive the processing for free. (Head and/or antlers may be removed for mounting.) Handle the carcass as if it were destined for the hunter's own table. A couple bags of ice placed in the cavity will help preserve the carcass in warm weather.

•When dropping a deer off at a processor, complete the log sheet indicating desire to donotate the deer. The DNR will do the rest. The donated deer will be processed and the venison will be distributed to charitable organizations to help feed Wisconsin's needy.

The following meat processors in Fond du Lac and Washington counties will be accepting deer for the DNRs Deer Donation Program:

•Brandon Meats; 117 S. Commercial St. in Brandon; 920-346-2227.

•Eden Meat Market; 115 Main St. in Eden; 920-477-2711.

•Loehr's Meat Service; 523 E. Main St. in Campbellsport; 920-533-4513.

•Gehring's Meat Market; 5618 Hwy K in Hartford; 262-644-6272.

Make A Financial

Donation To the Deer Donation Program

Hunters and the public can voluntarily donate $1 or more to the Deer Donation Program. Donations will be used to help cover meat processing fees. To donate, either go to any state hunting license sales location or donate online through a Go Wild account.

Non-Toxic Ammunition

Consider switching to non-toxic ammunition as even a very small amount of lead in a deer carcass may be toxic to humans and wildlife. Page 29 of the 2019 Deer Hunting Regulations [PDF] booklet lists recommendations to reduce the risk of lead in venison.

Lady Indians Are In With Fast Crowd At State Cross Country Test

By Judy Harlow

Yes, the Kewaskum girls cross country team hoped it would finish higher than 15th in the November 2 WIAA Division 2 state meet held on the Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids. For now, the Lady Indians can look at the 2019 season and say, "We made it there," and looking ahead can add, "We plan to be back."

The D-2 title was won by the powerful Shorewood Greyhounds, who posted, 1-7-16-17-20 finish to come in with 61 points, 41 fewer than runner-up Osceola's 102, which in turn was 47 points in front of third place Freedom (149). Kewaskum finished 15th in the field with 347 points.

"It's a tough meet. Obviously everybody that's there deserves to be there," KHS coach Eugene Peterson said, pointing out the hilly Ridges course was "the most difficult course we ran on this year."

As has been the case the entire year, junior Alyssa Butz led KHS, placing 56th overall (34th among those in the team competition) with a time of 20:37.4, while senior Faith Mertzig finished 75th (48th in the team count), 25.2 seconds behind her teammate with a 21:02.6. Then came first-year runner Andrea Butz in 95th place with a time of 21:33.9.

"All three of those girls were in the top 100," Peterson said. "That was a real good accomplishment. And Alyssa was 70 places ahead of her first trip to state (two years ago)."

The Indians' No. 4 runner was Tierney Herman, who was clocked in 22:50.8. The other KHS counter was freshman Kendra Schmitt, who had a clocking of 23:29.7. She was a little less than two seconds ahead of Courtney Zarda, who finished with a 23:31.4, while Emma Penfield ended up with a time of 24:39.4.

This was just Mertzig's second season in the sport, and she was thrilled to get to Wisconsin Rapids. "It was a pretty good accomplishment to get there and nice to be there as a team," she said Sunday evening, noting the Division 2 girls were fortunate to run first. "I think we were pretty lucky because it started snowing after we were finished ... It was pretty cold," she said

Mertzig went on that she stayed with Alyssa Butz for part of the race, but, "I wasn't as close as I have been. I kind of got separated in the pack."

What Mertzig said she will remember about the meet is "There were definitely more spectators, cheering through the whole race."

And was Mertzig happy she decided to participate in cross country? Oh, yes. "I'm so glad I decided to go out," she said. "It seemed like a good fit. I wanted to continue running throughout the whole year" not just during the track season.

"Overall, it was a real good learning experience. We have big goals for next year," Peterson said. "I'm just really proud of what the team did. We're really excited for what the future holds," with the Butz duo, Hermann and Schmitt back, along with Lisa Bolek, who missed several weeks because of an injury, and some strong eighth grade runners.

Division 2 State Cross Country Team scores: 1. Shorewood, 61 points; 2. Isceikam 102; 3. Freedom, 149; 4. Medford, 152; 5. Appleton Xavier, 188; 6. Winneconne, 189; 7. Port Washington, 198; 8. Hayward, 205; 9. Tomahawk, 205; 10. Lake Mills, 221; 11. Wisconsin Dells, 237; 12. Little Chute, 250; 13. Mt. Horeb, 256; 14. McFarland, 269; 15. Kewaskum, 347; 16. Jefferson, 385.

It was a frosty morning at the Ridges Golf Course in Wisconsin Rapids for the State Cross Country Meet on November 2. Members of the Kewaskum Girls Cross Country Team kept bundled up until it was time to run the course. Having the tent available allowed them to stay out of the wind if they wanted.

Memorial's Six First Half Touchdowns Too Much For Indians

By Judy Harlow

The Catholic Memorial football team already has three state titles to its credit, the latest in Division 3 a year ago. The way things are looking after just two games into the '19 series, it's a good bet coach Bill Young and the Crusaders will win a fourth, this time after dropping down to D-4.

After a 66-0 whipping over Milwaukee Obama SCTE, Memorial showed no letdown vs. Kewaskum in a game played at Carroll University on November 1, shutting out the Indians 39-0.

"It was a shellacking," Kewaskum coach Steve Tennes said about giving up six touchdowns in the first half and having just one real scoring opportunity. Still, Tennes commented, "We pitched a shutout in the second half. That was a moral victory of sorts ... Our kids never gave up. I was proud of that."

The Indians got the ball first and gained eight yards in three plays and was facing a fourth-and-two situation. "I knew in this game we were going to have to be ultra aggressive" to have any chance of winning, Tennes said, so he decided to try to pick up the first down rather than punt.

The Indians tried an option pass, with Joshua Bocher throwing the ball. "We had our man open, but we just couldn't connect," Tennes said.

Kewaskum did move the ball to the opponent's 35-yard line late in the second quarter. Tennes sent in Andrew Bolek to try a long field goal. "They ran into Andrew, so that gave us a second attempt," Tennes said, reporting, "That one was wide left."

The Indians did rush for 141 yards with quarterback Michael Daniel carrying the ball nine times for 47 yards, while Sam Lemler had 13 carries for 34 yards, Max Melzer ran nine times for 31 yards, and Kannon Muckerheide seven for 28 yards.

Daniel had a rough night passing, completing three of nine and getting intercepted three times. Bocher caught two passes for 15 yards while Sam Schultz caught the other for a five-yard loss.

Kewaskum ended its year with a record of 6-5 that included a 66-0 loss to Plymouth, two losses on last-second field goals, and a double overtime win over Berlin, which is still alive in D-4. Tennes said he will probably spend time trying to determine why his team was so inconsistent and remarked improving team speed will be a major objective during the winter lifting program.

"We've got a good core coming back next year," Tennes said, adding help will also come from the JV and freshman programs that were both successful this fall.

Playing in their final high school football games were seniors Bocher, Schultz, Hunter Brzozowski, Ben Frase, Alex Steiner and Lemler. Jonathon Gill was injured and not able to see any action.

Eight other Indians on suspension watched from the sidelines, and Tennes said, "I hope this will be the strongest deterrent for any future players (in the program)."

By Andrea Brossard
Wisconsin dairy farmer

Every week when I go to the grocery store, I pay close attention to the labels on the food products I purchase. It can be a bit overwhelming if you don't know what you need or want. I consider myself lucky to be a farmer because I am intimately connected to the food I eat and the milk I drink. This connection helps me navigate through some of the labeling and marketing of food products.

I know not everyone has an opportunity to connect with a farmer and that can make our food, and the labels on food packaging, seem like a bit of a mystery.

Our state legislature is considering three bills that will make our grocery shopping experience less overwhelming and provide more clarity and consistency in how meat, milk and other dairy products are labeled. All three bills are important, but since I am a dairy farmer, I am going to focus on Senate Bills 466 and 463 since these deal with milk and other dairy products.

As a dairy farmer, I stand behind the high-quality, nutritious milk that our cows provide. The need for accurate labeling of milk is significantly important to my family farm. When I think about the importance of labeling, I think about my responsibility to consumers. Consumers place trust in farmers like me, to provide safe, quality food. Farmers place their trust in the marketing of our products. This balance of trust is only achieved and safeguarded by regulation of how food is processed, packaged and labeled.

The dairy industry has built a solid foundation on the value of the word 'milk' because it represents a highly nutritious, tested, safe and wholesome food source. Ultimately, food companies are misleading consumers and damaging the integrity of the dairy industry by labeling nut- and plant-based beverages as 'milk.'

Dairy products are an important part of a healthy diet, and currently, most Americans are not meeting the recommended intake for dairy foods based on the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans. One serving of traditional milk contains 8 grams of protein while other imitation beverages including almond, coconut and rice have a lower protein content. In many cases, the sweetened versions of the imitation beverages contain more sugars and carbohydrates than non-flavored dairy milk.

Being an avid runner, the biggest area of concern for me is that mislabeling non-dairy beverages as 'milk' creates confusion about the nutritional characteristics of these products. Non-dairy products are heavily processed and include a variety of ingredients such as thickeners, sweeteners and artificially added nutrients. However, we are led to believe, based on marketing, that these artificial products are as natural and equally nutritious as real dairy.

We deserve accuracy and truth in our food product labels. Our grocery shopping experience should empower us to make healthy decisions for ourselves and our families based on sound science, not clever marketing schemes. I hope you will stand with me in supporting this proposed legislation that will give us fair, accurate and informative food labels for real dairy.

Jerry Nigh Honored For Service

"I was honored to be his guardian," Sprung said. "The way the Stars and Stripes runs it is just tremendous. Even on the flight out, they keep veterans together so they can visit, and the guardians are right behind them, and you make new friends sitting with the guardians, sitting next to you."

Nigh, who had never been to D.C. before, got to see numerous memorials during the trip, such as the U.S. Marine Corps War Memorial, the Vietnam War Memorial, World War II Memorial, World War I Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial, Korean War Memorial, Washington Monument, Air Force Memorial and Martin Luther King Memorial.

One of the things that stood out for Nigh was the Changing of the Guard at Arlington Na-many people were there," Nigh said.

"I had heard that the homecoming part was spectacular, but you can't imagine what it is like when you get off the plane," Sprung agreed.

The veterans were greeted with the sound of bagpipes, and the entire concourse was lined with military personnel, Vietnam veterans and Boy Scouts, all saluting the veterans.

Service

Nigh was 22 when he joined the Army National Guard in 1959. He and his wife, Beverly, were married about six months later.

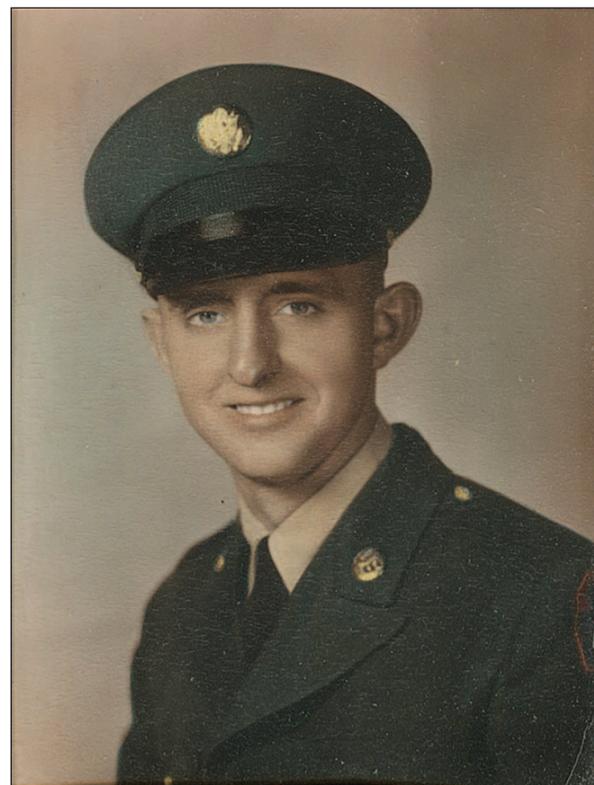

In 1961, he was called to active duty and went to train with the 32nd Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Washington.

At that time, the couple had one daughter, Christine, and Beverly was expecting her sectional Cemetery.

Nigh had heard a lot about the Honor Flight before he went, so he thought he knew what to expect.

"The thing I forgot about was the mail call," he said.

He received a package filled with letters and cards from family and friends from near and far.

"Even the great grandchildren each colored me a picture," Nigh said, as he glanced toward the pictures he has hanging on his fridge.

And Nigh was not fully prepared for the welcome he and the veterans received when they returned to Milwaukee.

"When I came back to Milwaukee, I never expected that much. I had heard it was really something, but it was just unbelievable how ond child.

Nigh went home for Christmas that year, and their son Bob was born on Christmas Eve, so Nigh was able to be there for the birth. They held a baptism right away for the infant, before Nigh had to return to Washington a week later.

"I know it was hard on Bev with me being gone that time. We had one newborn, and Chris had just turned a year," Nigh said.

Although Nigh was stationed in the States, his young family was not able to come and visit, so they stayed in touch through letters.

Nigh's basic training involved firing heavy artillery.

"We fired mortars and bazookas, and the only hearing protection you had was to cover your ears with your hands, if you got them there in time. I got home and my ears rang for weeks after I got home," said Nigh, who now wears hearing aids as a result.

While on active duty, Nigh also went to California for desert training.

"During the desert training, you froze at night, and during the day you had to sit around because it was so hot, so you didn't do much training. There was a lot of night training," Nigh recalled.

He was released from active duty in August 1962 and went on to serve a total of six years in the National Guard.

Nigh, who graduated from Kewaskum High School, got a real estate license, but also worked at Regal Ware for 37 years. After he retired from Regal Ware, he went to work full time in real estate until he retired about four years ago.

Jerry and Beverly have three children, Christine Sprung, Bob Nigh and Bill Nigh; five grandchildren; and are expecting their fifth great grandchild.

The Honor Flight was a way for the family to learn things about Nigh's service that they had never known.

"Anyone who is eligible should apply for the Honor Flight because it is just wonderful. It is like taking a picture of the Grand Canyon. You don't get a real feel for it unless you are there and experience it in person," Sprung said.
