Sign Welcomes Visitors To "Little Canada"

– Canadian Tradition Dates Back To 1800s

By Anne Trautner

A small sign is posted on the lamppost near the Main Street bridge in Kewaskum, welcoming people to "Little Canada" as they head east across the bridge.

The white sign, which features a red maple leaf and red lettering, was posted on Friday, Dec. 13.

It is at least the fourth sign that has welcomed people into the "Canadian" side of Kewaskum in the past 50 years. The last sign was removed from a lamppost when road construction was done on Main Street and the bridge in 2014.

At the village board meeting on September 13, village trustees approved posting the new sign as part of the signage of Kewaskum's 125th anniversary celebration.

Kewaskum Historical Society volunteers Aaron Laatsch and Anne Trautner had asked the board to revive the Little Canada tradition, which dates back to the 1800s, before Kewaskum was incorporated as a village.

There are numerous references to the eastern side of Kewaskum being called "Canada" in newspapers dating back to 1893.

"We are not sure how the subdivision got its name. Maybe it was because some of the early settlers in the area were from Canada," Laatsch said.

The United States census shows that some Canadian natives lived in Kewaskum sometime between 1860 and 1880. There also were many early settlers who came to the Kewaskum area via Canada as they immigrated to the United States.

KMS Has Something To Cheer About

By Anne Trautner

For the first time ever, a cheerleading squad from Kewaskum Middle School will compete against cheerleaders from other schools.

On December 21, the local cheerleaders will compete in East Troy against other cheer teams from other middle schools across the state.

"I am really happy they brought cheerleading to the school," said Katie Quinn, an eighth grader at KMS. "I think it is really cool that we get the opportunity to go to the competition."

In recent years, KMS has had a dance team. In September, the school offered a cheerleading squad in place of the dance team. The KMS has been practicing its routine that is filled with stunts since September. The group meets after school and practices the high-energy routine to music.

"It is so fun. After school I just look forward to coming here because it is something I just love doing," said Katelyn Scannell, an eighth-grade cheerleader.

Fathers' Club A Place For Healing

It is a group that none of them wanted to be a part of, but now they can't live without.

The Father's Group that meets in Campbellsport is a place for these men to find camaraderie, support and a special bond through their unique circumstances. Each of these men have suffered the loss of a child.

They are always welcoming new members in order to support these men as they go through this journey.

"We are a Christian-based group of dads that meet periodically," said Tim Scannell. "We are Christian, yet non-denominational — all fathers who have suffered the loss of a child are welcome, believers or not. We will open and close with a prayer (unless we forget)."

Washington County 4-H Key Award Winners To Be Recognized At Washington County Board Meeting

The 2019 Washington County 4-H Key Award winners, Andrew Beine, Veronica Duffek, Elizabeth Rhinehart, and Micah Stege, will be recognized by the Washington County Board of Supervisors at their January 8, 2020 meeting.

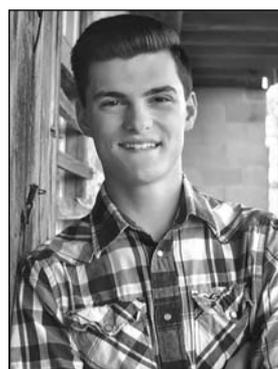

"We see the impact that 4-H makes in the lives of our youth," said Amy Mangan-Fischer, Washington County 4-H Coordinator. "4-H's relevant programs allow our young people to learn real-world skills that will prepare them for the challenges of today and tomorrow. We are encouraged to think how these 4-H youths will move our country and the world forward."

The Wisconsin 4-H Key Award Program recognizes a select group of 4-H participants who have demonstrated consistent growth in their 4-H involvement, developed and applied their leadership skills and actively participated in the function of their 4-H Club and Community.

2019 Washington County 4-H Key Award Winners

Andrew Beine

Andrew has been a member of Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club for 13 years, serving as club president, vice president, and reporter. He is currently serving in his second year as a youth representative on the Washington County Leaders Association Board.

Andrew Beine

Andrew participated in several educational travel opportunities available to 4-H youth including American Spirit East, Citizenship Washington Focus, and most recently, National 4-H Congress.

At school, Andrew tutors math and English, serves as a vocal leader in his high school show choir, and is the assistant vocal director of middle school show choir.

Andrew's future plans include studying at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Seminary in Winona, Minnesota, and then St. Francis de Sales Seminary in Milwaukee.

"4-H has helped me develop life skills such as communication, professionalism, responsibility, organization, cooperation, and so many more. I am so thankful for the time I've spent in this program, and for everything I learned along the way," Andrew said.

Veronica Duffek

Veronica has been a member of the St Lawrence Eager Beavers 4-H Club for 10 years, and during that time served her club as historian, reporter, secretary, and vice president. Throughout her 4-H career, Veronica explored various projects including Crocheting, Foods, Leathercraft, Basketry, Air Rifle, Youth Leadership, and Archery, and served as a youth leader in the Archery and Exploring projects.

As a 4-H member, Veronica traveled with other 4-Hers from around the state and country, participating in experiences such as American Spirit East, Citizenship Washington Focus, and the National 4-H Congress.

Veronica is currently a freshman at Marquette University majoring in Civil Engineering, and looks forward to joining the Engineers Without Borders organization.

"Everywhere I go at Marquette, I see the motto, 'Be the difference.' It really was a natural fit for me after being in 4-H. Every day in 4-H, I saw adult leaders being the difference in youths' lives. I witnessed leaders like Agnes Wagner, Norb Yogerst, Sue Kirsch, and Christine Gerhing personally 'be the difference' in my life. These amazing people have not only taught me their craft, but to be passionate about everything I do. They let me make decisions on my own and learn from my mistakes. I would like to thank all the leaders like them who have helped me become the responsible, focused, and confident leader that I am today," Veronica said.

Elizabeth Rhinehart

Elizabeth is a 10-year member of the Thompson Irish Settlers 4-H Club. Throughout these years, Elizabeth has taken an active leadership role, serving as a county Archery and Clothing Youth Leader,

Elizabeth Rhinehart

and as president of her 4-H club. Additionally, she served as a lead at the countywide Art Discovery Day, and participated as a member of both the Special Emphasis and the Communication & Arts Festival Planning Committees. In her 4-H career, Elizabeth has been honored with several County 4-H awards including the Agnes Schaefer Clothing Award, the Family Living Career Award, the Arts/Communication Career Award, and the Brenda Oelhafen Memorial Award.

Elizabeth participated in numerous 4-H events which allowed her to make connections with people from both around the state and the country, including Summer Camp, Arts Camp, Fall Forum, Space Camp, Madison 4-H and Youth Conference, and the educational travel opportunities of American Spirit East, and Citizenship Washington Focus.

Elizabeth looks forward to attending college next fall to study literature and music, with future plans to become a librarian/music librarian.

Elizabeth is grateful for the skills she's gained through 4-H: how to speak to people; how to create lessons and engage with others; and how to be confident in her own ability and voice while always being kind and supportive. "It has been a fantastic growing experience to be a part of this amazing program," Elizabeth said.

Micah Stege

Micah is in his tenth year as a member of the

Micah Stege

St. Lawrence Eager Beavers 4-H Club. He is currently club president, and has served as a youth leader in the Poultry, Lamas, Wildlife, Forestry and Archery projects. After attending 4-H Summer Camp for years, he stepped up as a camp counselor. He took part in the American Spirit West educational travel experience, where he learned about America's National Parks. He has also participated in Tri-County Shooting Sports, Space Camp, State Conference, and Fall Forum.

Micah was privileged to be awarded the Pat Wagner Shooting Sports Outstanding Youth Leader Award and County 4-H Career Awards in Animal/Veterinary Sciences, Shooting Sport/Natural Sciences, Achievement and Leadership. He also placed 4th in the nation in the 2019 National WHEP Competition in Kansas.

"4-H made me a leader and a friend; it taught me forest and wildlife management, crafting techniques, animal handling skills, leadership, group management, and so much more!" Micah said.

Fathers' Club A Place For Healing

This group got its start in January of 2013. This was one year after a tragic car accident killed three Campbellsport High School students. The idea for the Fathers' Group kind of came from this tragedy.

"With Caitlin, Katie and Sabrina, we had three fathers that had just lost a child," Scannell said. "The four (Richie Leider also) of us went out to eat and I brought it up."

Scannell knew that his wife Jelaine was going to meetings to help bereaved parents. He also knew that this group was primarily women, not men. A lot of the bereavement groups and programs attract women but men rarely go or don't continue with the program.

"That is where I got the idea," he said. "I realized that men probably wouldn't come or they wouldn't come back again."

But, Tim knew that men still needed that outlet. They needed a way to be able to handle the grief they were feeling and wanted a way to help others in their same situation.

"You can say stuff there that you can't say anywhere else," Tim said. "It means a lot to hear about the other's child. The fathers are great listeners. They want to hear what you have to say about your child."

At first, they weren't sure how the group would go over. They didn't know how many fathers would attend, how the meeting format would go or if fathers would continue to come.

"We didn't know if we'd meet once a month or every other month," Scannell said. "I hoped that word of mouth would stimulate a few members. I had coffee with a few fathers."

The group does meet about every other month, but they might add an extra meeting in there or go a little longer between meetings depending on circumstances or what the group wants to do. Scannell comes up with a basic agenda, but he generally just lets the meeting go where the attendees want to take it.

"It has to go where it has to go," Scannell said.

They generally meet at 7 p.m. on a Thursday and enjoy soda and pizza.

"If you can make it, you show up," Scannell said. "We always meet at Ty's Place. That is like sacred ground for us. We'll talk about the weather and the crops and the Packers, Brewers, Bucks and the Badgers. It's gone until 9:45 or 10:30. I act as a facilitator. It's the other fathers who have some profound ideas."

Many bring ideas for the meetings or for a couple special speakers. They have had Father Tony Scannell, a capuchin priest from Fond du Lac; and Sam Floyd, owner of Operation Coffee in Campbellsport. Father Tony came to meet with the fathers again this summer.

"I think this was his fifth year coming to the Fathers' Club," Scannell said.

During a meeting or in an email before a meeting, Scannell will recognize dates of significance.

"I refer to your child's Birth date as the day

Members of the Fathers' Club meet at Ty's Place recently. The group gets together on a regular basis to talk and have fellowship with each other.

your child is born to this Earth, and the day that your child dies is the day that your child is born into Heaven," Scannell explained. "I post these around the first of each month for the dates of children who were born or died in that month. I include the parents' names along with their child's. We are to especially keep these children and their families in our thoughts and prayers."

If a father would like to talk about something specific at a meeting, they let him. Or, if they need to just talk about their children, that is okay too.

"Fathers will just show up and be there," Scannell said. "I've had the guys bring pictures of their child. There's no barriers. I think we're very unique in that way."

The fathers who are part of this group have many different reasons for continuing with the group.

Wayne Rimmel had three reasons:

"#1, The opportunity to bring some comfort and help to another grieving parent.

"#2, means a place of support where men can relate to other men that have lost a child.

"#3, The leadership and compassion of our leader Tim Scannell is the glue that holds this group together," Rimmel stated.

Gordon Haberman stated, "The camaraderie of fathers who have experienced an unfathomable loss and are able to speak freely and openly with others who have also had this happen to their loved one and their family.

"A resource which is available which helps one keep a perspective: that we are not alone in this unfamiliar and unnatural path our lives have taken.

"I highly advise that dads who have had this tragedy affect them and their families, regardless of the cause of death of their son or daughter and the time which has passed from their death, to attend a meeting!"

Ken McKee stated, "I like the instant bond between the fathers who attended."

Philip Guell said, "The reason I go is that it is a good place to meet fellow Dads of Heaven Children. It is very special to talk and share our experiences of our children. It assures that we are not alone in our grief and I feel free to share my thoughts that might help someone else in their journey."

Scannell is glad that this group has been there to help these fathers through some of the worst times of their lives. They want to continue to be a stable force in their lives and help where they can.

"The fathers are always thinking about the other fathers," Scannell said. "For me, when I reach out to someone else, the pain goes away a little bit."

The group always meets at Ty's Place in Campbellsport on a Thursday at 7:30 p.m. This is a fitting place for the group since the restaurant is in honor of Tyler Batzler.

Anyone who would like more information about the group can contact Tim Scannell.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

OWI/Fentanyl Arrest

A 41-year-old Beaver Dam man was arrested on multiple charges yesterday at 1:10 p.m. after the Washington County Sheriff's Office received a report of a car traveling recklessly at a high rate of speed. Reports were that the car had nearly caused several accidents in the area of Interstate 41 and State Highway 33 in the Town of Addison. The Sheriff's Office is appreciative of the alert citizen who called 911 and followed the car until he could be stopped by law enforcement. The citizen followed the car on State Highway 33 to the Dodge County line at which point the suspect vehicle turned back around and began driving back into Washington County toward a Washington County Sheriff's Deputy who was responding to the call. The car was subsequently stopped.

The driver attempted to identify himself as his brother; however, he provided the wrong date of birth. When the officer asked for his phone number he indicated that he did not have it memorized. The suspect then proceeded to look in his phone contacts under the name that he had provided to the officer and provided the phone number to the deputy. The diligent deputy became suspicious and contacted the brother on the telephone who verified that it was most likely his brother posing as him. The deputy also recognized signs of opiate impairment on the driver. The driver was subsequently arrested for OWI for being impaired by drugs. As a result of the arrest, a search for evidence of his impairment was conducted and a white rock-like substance was located along with other drug paraphernalia. The suspect warned the deputy that the substance was fentanyl. A fentanyl test kit was also located in the vehicle.

Less than five weeks ago, the suspect was arrested by Washington County Sheriff's Deputies for OWI, Operating a Motor Vehicle without Consent, Possession of Narcotics, and Bail Jumping. As a result of that stop, as well as previous arrests the suspect was currently out on bond. Washington County Sheriff Martin Schulteis said, "It does not matter if it is the middle of the night or the middle of the day, our deputies, assisted by alert citizens, are out there in relentless pursuit of those that choose to endanger the public by possessing deadly substances and driving while impaired."

The suspect was booked in at the Washington County Jail for Possession of Fentanyl, Possession of Drug Paraphernalia, Bail Jumping, Obstructing, OWI and Operating without a Valid License, and remains in custody.

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

I celebrated a birthday this past weekend and it was a very nice day. I spent time with family, ate good food and saw a fantastic show. I also received some wonderful gifts including a large assortment of themed socks from my family. It was a blessed day. That said, raise your hand if your birthday falls near a major holiday. Raise both hands if it is anywhere near Christmas. Ah, you understand.

I will preface this by stating my family did not celebrate Christmas when I was growing up. We spent Christmas Eve driving around looking at the decorations. I don't know how many years I believed they were just for me. One year we saw Santa gassing up his sleigh disguised as a car, at a gas station. I don't remember much when I was that young but seeing Santa Claus for the first time in person doing something ordinary like that made such an impression on me, I still feel confounded about it.

There are some great things about having a birthday so close to the winter holidays. The general celebratory feelings all around are amazing. Decorations, music, sales galore – it really is a special time. There are holiday events to attend and as Tchaikovsky is my favorite composer and I love ballet, attending The Nutcracker Ballet around or even on my birthday is a treat. Additionally, the parties and festivities all month long are fun to attend.

Therefore, having a birthday late in the year can be great.

On the other hand, a birthday near Christmas can be a pain in the behind and not just for the birthday boy or girl. First, I want to clarify that it was not my fault to be born on that day. Blame my parents, not me. Ignoring my birthday because there is so much to do, forgetting it because you are so busy this time of year is just not nice. Again, the day of my birth was beyond MY control. It has never been fun to receive a combined gift for Christmas or Hanukkah and my birthday because it was easier for you. By the way, you is a general term. I am not calling anyone out and you know who you are regardless. What I say to those with birthdays like mine and get slighted for it, don't stress about it. Look around at all the celebrations going on and imagine they are just for you.

In truth I am mellow when my birthday is forgotten or tacked onto another holiday. I am a middle child and used to being ignored. But that is a story for another day. As it is, I did have a marvelous birthday and was spoiled plenty by my family. And about those themed socks – next time you are in, ask to see my Harry Potter socks because I now have enough to wear well into next year.

The corner of Badger Road and Prospect Drive in the Town of Kewaskum became part of the Village of Kewaskum as the Kewaskum Village Board voted unanimously to annex 94 acres from the town at its meeting December 13. The land, known locally as the Behnke farm, is being proposed as a subdivision by local developers Gary and Linda Gavin. Land owned by Ted Mielahn is also part of the annexation. At that same meeting, the village board accepted another petition for annexation for a parcel of land east of the newly annexed parcel. The next annexation proposal is part of a multi-million dollar TID project that will result in an industrial park for the village. That proposal will bring in an additional 82.9 acres.

A few village of Kewaskum residents are not fazed by the recent vandalism done to their Christmas decorations. One village resident has even taken it upon himself to help his fellow decorators by fixing their decorations. Last week, vandals hit a number of large, blow-up Christmas decorations by slashing them, thus destroying them. A few days later, many of the decorations were back up, repaired. One resident put up a sign that said "Frosty's back and he's ticked off. Any punks want to try again, he's ready. Smile for the camera."

It was a late night session for school board members at last week's school district meeting. The action-packed agenda drew record crowds that poured out into the hallways. The majority was comprised of Farmington residents alarmed by a recent decision to recite the Pledge of Allegiance once a week at Farmington Elementary School instead of the traditional daily requirement. The decision was made by staff and principal Steinhilber, who cited the reason being time restraints and a very tight schedule with buses not always arriving at the same time.

from 20 to 25 feet tall and are adorned with more than 6,000 white lights.

Because of its massive size, setting up the towering tree required the help of many volunteers. With a simple pulley system assembled, one person pulled at the rope as half a dozen others lifted from the base of the tree until it was upright, turned just so, and stood straight in its stand.

Our Savior's decorates its Christmas tree with simple white lights, symbolizing God's love that shines into every dark and forbidding corner of our troubled world and into every heart. The tree is surrounded by small Norfolk pines, representing us, God's children, who aspire to the full glory of Christ.

The community is invited to worship at Our Savior's Lutheran Church on Tuesday, December 24 on Christmas Eve at 4 p.m. for a contemporary service or 6:30pm for the traditional service. Christmas morning worship is a traditional service on Wednesday, December 25 at 10:30 a.m.

Justice Department Awards More Than $333 Million To Fight Opioid Crisis

—$2,076,810 Will Support Efforts To Combat Drugs And Crime In The Eastern District Of Wisconsin

The Justice Department's Office of Justice Programs announced awards of more than $333 million to help communities affected by the opioid crisis.

A total of $2,076,810 will help public safety and public health professionals in the Eastern District of Wisconsin combat substance abuse and respond effectively to overdoses. OJP principal deputy assistant attorney general Katharine T. Sullivan made the announcement during a visit with local, state and federal officials in West Virginia, one of the states hardest hit by the epidemic.

"The opioid crisis has destroyed far too many lives and left too many Americans feeling helpless and hopeless," said PDAAG Sullivan. "This epidemic — the most deadly in our nation's history — is introducing new dangers and loading public health responsibilities onto the public safety duties of our law enforcement officers. The Department of Justice is here to support them during this unprecedented and extremely challenging time."

With more than 130 people dying from opioid-related overdoses every day, the Department of Justice has made fighting addiction to opioids — including heroin and fentanyl — a national priority. The Trump Administration is providing critical funding for a wide range of activities — from preventive services and comprehensive treatment to recovery assistance, forensic science services and research — to help save lives and break the cycle of addiction and crime.

"Too many families in Wisconsin have suffered the loss of loved ones to the opioid crisis," said United States Attorney Matthew D. Krueger. "The awards being announced here underscore the Justice Department's commitment to supporting a comprehensive approach to fighting the opioid crisis."

The awards announced today support an array of activities designed to reduce the harm inflicted by these dangerous drugs. Grants will help law enforcement officers, emergency responders and treatment professionals coordinate their response to overdoses.

Funds will also provide services for children and youth affected by the crisis and will support the nationwide network of drug and treatment courts. Other awards will address prescription drug abuse, expand the capacity of forensic labs and support opioid-related research.

The following awards were made to organizations in the Eastern District of Wisconsin:

Milwaukee County Behavioral Health Division — $1,199,999

Waukesha County — $376,811

Washington County — $500,000

For more information about OJP awards, visit the OJP Awards Data webpage.

The Office of Justice Programs, directed by principal deputy assistant attorney general Katharine T. Sullivan, provides federal leadership, grants, training and technical assistance, and other resources to improve the nation's capacity to prevent and reduce crime, assist victims and enhance the rule of law by strengthening the criminal and juvenile justice systems. More information about OJP and its components can be found at www.ojp.gov.

The Coming Of The Son Of God

One day a young girl named Mary was minding her own business when suddenly an angel appeared to her. Since the appearance of an angel is not an everyday occurrence, I can imagine Mary was a bit shocked.

Luke 1:28-30 tells us this angel, Gabriel, was sent by God to tell her she had found favor with God. As a matter of fact, "...the angel reassured her, saying, 'Do not yield to your fear, Mary, for the Lord has found delight in you and has chosen to surprise you with a wonderful gift. You will become pregnant with a baby boy, and you are to name him Jesus.'" (Luke 1:30-31, TPT)

Whoa! That's a pretty big life prescription for a adolescent girl just betrothed and looking forward to her marriage to Joseph. It didn't take long for her to realize that if what the angel said was true about this child she would bear, she would be breaking all laws and traditions of her people, not to mention doing something never done before. She would be ostracized and possibly stoned for being pregnant outside of marriage and her child would be rejected.

When she asked Gabriel how it could be that she was still a virgin and would have a child, the angel from God replied the Spirit of Holiness would fall upon her and almighty God would spread his shadow over her in a cloud of glory. It would be an immaculate conception; nothing like it had ever been recorded. Furthermore, the angel gave Mary another piece of information to confirm he knew what he was talking about — her elderly aunt, Elizabeth, was going to have a child as well, even though she had been unable to bear a child her entire life.

That was enough for Mary. She trusted in the word of Gabriel and accepted the commission the angel of God had brought for her. Soon thereafter, Mary went to visit Elizabeth. As soon as Mary called out to her, Elizabeth's baby leapt in her womb.

It was an acknowledgement of the Holy Spirit's conception within Mary by Elizabeth's baby, even though Elizabeth had no knowledge Mary was with child. Elizabeth proceeded to speak over Mary's life, calling her favored by God because she had believed everything the Lord had spoken to her. Mary responded with her own song of praise to God for having chosen her to bring the Son of God into the world.

Then Mary had to return to face Joseph, the man she had promised to marry. When he learned of her pregnancy he must have been sorely vexed. All his plans for a wonderful life with his new bride were out the window. While he was debating the best action to take and planning to quietly break the engagement to Mary because he didn't want to disgrace her (see Matthew 1:19, TPT), he fell asleep and had a dream.

An angel visited him in that dream and instructed him to proceed with the marriage, for the child Mary was carrying was conceived by the Holy Spirit and would give his life to save his people from their sins. Joseph knew the scriptures and he knew what he was hearing was the fulfillment of the prophecy that the Savior would be born of a virgin spoken by Isaiah 700 years beforehand.

Joseph obeyed the directive of the angel in his dream and took Mary for his wife so she could give birth to the Savior of the world, who was the Son of God. Imagine knowing Jesus' destiny the entire pregnancy, birth and raising of Jesus. Joseph and Mary stewarded the life of the Son of God for many years, protecting and raising him in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

Luke 2:52 (KJV) tells us in those years Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man under their guidance. Consider in this time before Christmas when we celebrate the birth of our Savior that it was no easy undertaking to say yes to God, but they did it willingly and successfully. We are the beneficiaries!

There are five classrooms, three age separated fenced playgrounds, a coded secured entry and camera monitored classrooms. They also provide before and after school care at Little Folks and Kewaskum Elementary School. Little Folks also serves as a teaching center for Moraine Park Technical College. Students are placed with them every semester for their practicum experience where the Little Folks teachers mentor them.

Little Folks strives to form working partnerships with families. They respect the parent's insights and concerns and want them to feel comfortable leaving their children in their care, knowing they will be safe and nurtured as they help to develop and grow.

KMS Has Something To Cheer About

The team cheered at middle school basketball games, which included performing stunts during timeouts and at halftime. The group is now preparing for several competitions.

“Our first competition is going to be December 21. So that one is coming up quick, and then with the possibility of doing two more in the year 2020. We are very excited,” said cheerleading coach Stacy Brzozowski.

All but three of the 14 girls on the squad have cheered before for the Gridiron program, an extracurricular cheerleading team for middle schoolers.

Both coaches, Brzozowski and Allsun Molenda, coach the Gridiron cheering team also. Brzozowski coached high school cheerleading for four years and Gridiron for two years, while Molenda’s background is in dance.

“Hopefully this will help them go up to the high school. The kids have fun. We have fun with it,” said Brzozowski, who cheered all four years that she was in high school.

Kewaskum High School just started a cheerleading program this year, so many of the middle schoolers hope to be able to cheer once they are in high school.

“They brought it back to the high school finally. We brought it back here too,” Brzozowski said.

Until now, the middle school had a dance program for girls. But there was a push to start a cheer program.

“With us doing cheer with the Gridiron program, people were asking us to change the middle school program to a cheer program also,” Brzozowski explained.

Cheerleading is not something new to the majority of the middle school group.

“Most of them have done Gridiron cheer now for two years, and others have come from the Gridiron dance team. A lot of the girls have a gymnastics background and dance experience also,” Brzozowski said.

Katelyn said she has learned many of the skills during the after-school practices.

“I learned a lot here,” Katelyn said. “Trying new stuff just takes time to learn, especially like stunting, but after a while you just get used to it, and it just becomes normal. I just love cheer.”

This was the first time that sixth graders Isla Peck and Lexie Hering ever cheered.

“It is really fun,” Isla said.

Neither girl is afraid to do the stunts where they lift one another high into the air.

“I’m kind of nervous that we are going into a competition. I’m scared that we are not going to do well, but I’m not afraid of going up in the air,” Lexie said.

The team members agree that the best part of being part of the squad is working with the other girls.

“It is fun working with other people,” Lexie explained. “Everyone on our team is really fun and serious at the same time.”

The girls hope all their hard work pays off at this weekend’s competition.

“I am a little nervous about the competition, but I also am going to have a fun time with it because it is only like a one time opportunity,” said Katie, who hopes to cheer once she is in high school.

What is the best part about being part of the cheerleading squad?

“I just like having the whole team to be there for you, and you get to go out onto the field and have a good time and work your best, have fun with it, Katie said.

One of County's Most Dangerous Intersections Will See Safety Improvements

— Roundabout Construction On CTH Q And Hillside Set For 2023

After being marked as one of the most dangerous intersections in the County's 2019 Traffic Safety Analysis Plan, the intersection of County Highway Q (County Line Road) & Hillside Road will be reconstructed with a new roundabout.

"A roundabout will address the severe angle crashes observed at this location," said Highway Commissioner Scott Schmidt. "We're in the business of providing safe, efficient and effective mobility and this is an exciting project for those reasons."

2013-2018 saw 37 accidents at the intersection. With support from the Village of Richfield and the Town of Lisbon, Washington County applied for and obtained Highway Safety Improvement funding for the project from the federal/state government in the amount of $1,620,000. The remaining $180,000 of the project will be funded through local contributions.

The Village of Richfield has been assisting in monitoring crash data at this intersection for years and had made temporary modifications as part of the State Highway 164 reconstruction efforts, only allowing right-turn movement from Hillside Road. As part of intersection safety priorities in 2019, Washington County reached out to SEWRPC and Department of Transportation Safety engineers for further review. The conclusion: a bigger step is needed to make this intersection safe.

"We're elated that Washington County secured this grant to address this long-standing safety concern," said Village of Richfield Administrator Jim Healy. "We'll be working throughout the construction process to ensure that our residents have ample opportunity for feedback and discussion on plan design."

Town of Lisbon Administrator, Gina Gresch added the following, "We are delighted to see Washington County feels this project is important enough to approve funding to improve this intersection for the safety of our residents and everyone traveling through our communities."

Allenton Fire Department Receives Grant

On Monday evening, December 9, the Allenton Volunteer Fire Department accepted a grant from Compeer Financial to help with purchase of rope and rope accessory equipment to help with equipping the department Grain Rescue team. Included in the equipment purchased were two 300-foot lengths of rope, harness for fall protection, carabiners and fall protection limiter devices. Fall protection limiter devices will provide a tie-off with a locking device to prevent individuals from falling when working on an elevated area for rescue operations.

Compeer Financial specializes in agriculture and rural financing assistance and support. Representing Compeer Financial was Philip Binversie from the Fond du Lac office.

Deputy Chief Mark Steger stated, "We are very grateful to Compeer Financial for their support to allow us to expand our response equipment to be used in the event of someone becoming entrapped in grain-type products or high angle rescue."

Allenton regularly participates in training for high-level and below-level rescue.

River Restoration Project Offers Tribute Cards

Trees and native plants are being planted along Riverview Drive in Kewaskum in 2020 as part of the Mighty River Project.

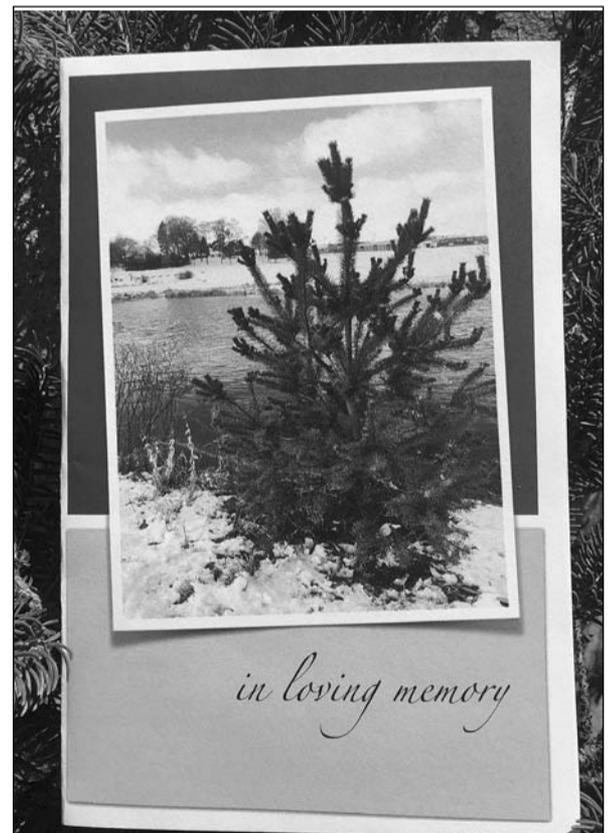

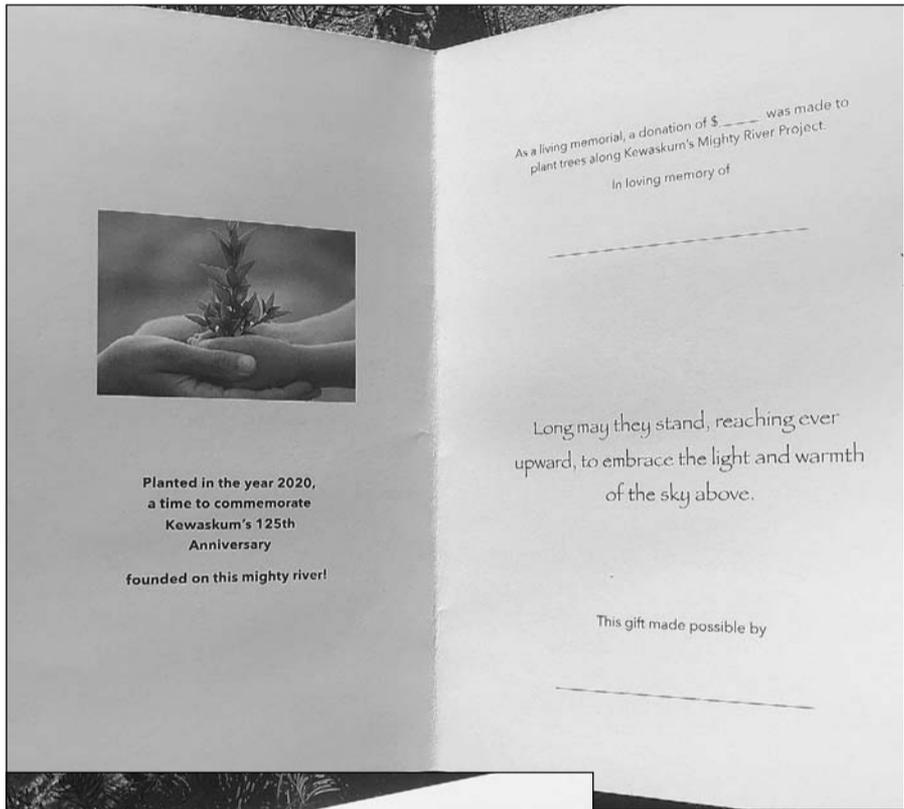

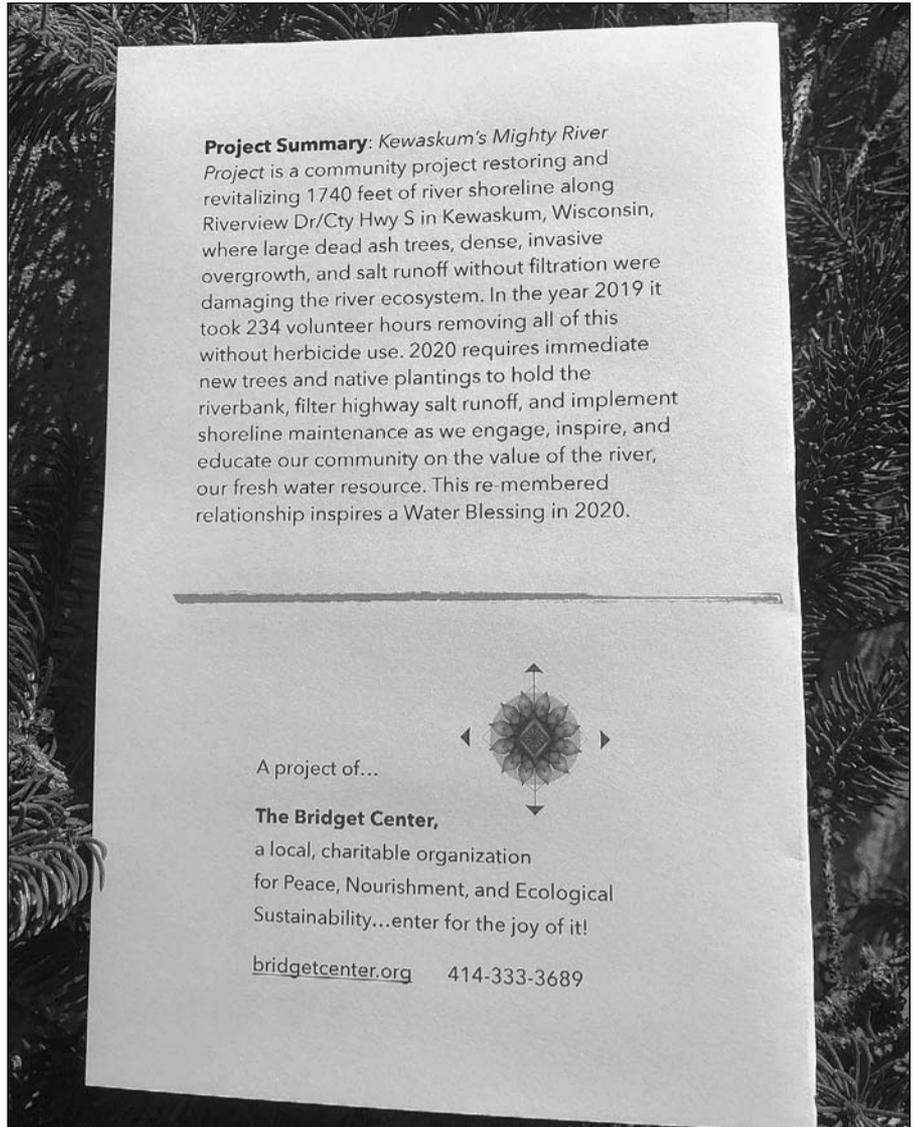

The public is invited to participate by purchasing trees in honor or in memory of a loved one. There are Living Tribute Cards now available as part of this fundraiser. The cards, which will be issued with the purchase of a tree, are available at PNC Bank and Westbury Bank.

The cards are a perfect gift for Christmas, a birthday or anniversary to show that you appreciate someone.

There are also "In Loving Memory" cards available to memorialize a loved one.

The cards support Kewaskum's Mighty River Project, a community project restoring and revitalizing 1,740 feet of river shoreline along Riverview Drive/ County Highway S in Kewaskum. Along the shoreline, large, dead ash trees and dense, invasive overgrowth, along with salt runoff without filtration were damaging the river ecosystem. In the year 2019, it took 234 volunteer hours to remove all of this without herbicide use. 2020 requires immediate new trees and native plantings to hold the riverbank, filter highway salt runoff and implement shoreline maintenance as the river supporters work to engage, inspire and educate the community on the value of the river, a fresh water resource.

This fundraiser will be offered through 2020. See attached. If questions call 414-333-3689. Thank you for valuing the community in this special way.

The Mighty River Project is a project that is restoring the banks along the Milwaukee River in Kewaskum. Cards are available at PNC Bank and Westbury Bank in Kewaskum for those who would like to donate trees in honor or in memory of a loved one. Pictured (clockwise from top) are a card explaining the project; a card for a gift in memory of a loved one; a Christmas card; a card in honor of someone; and a card in memory of someone.

Allenton American Legion Post's Wreaths Across America Well Received

Committee member Ralph Hagner and Washington County American Legion Commander Julie Muhle take part in the Wreaths Across America program. photo submitted

On Saturday, Dec. 14, over 100 volunteers showed up to help place wreaths on the graves of the 270 veterans buried at the 8 cemeteries that Allenton Fohl-Martin American Legion Post 483 are responsible for remembering our veterans. The cemeteries included: Sacred Heart just outside of Allenton; St. Mathias in Nabob; Saints Peter and Paul in Nenno; St. Anthony, St.

Lawrence, St. John U.C.C. at the intersection of Beaver Dam Road and County Road WW; Zion Lutheran at Interstate 41 and County Road D; and St. Peter at Beaver Dam Road and Town Line Road.

Those helping the veterans included over 40 students from Slinger High School, Allenton's Girls Scout Troop, Eager Beavers 4-H club and many family survivors. As participants placed a wreath for a veteran, a dedication statement was read.

The purpose of the Wreaths Across America Day is to remember the veteran's life, each wreath is a gift of appreciation.

According to the Wreaths Across America organization the purpose of this day is to "Remember our veterans who are devoted sons and daughters, fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers in the line of duty to protect our freedoms. Honor our veterans by participating in our wreath-laying ceremony on the National Wreaths Across America

Day. Teach our younger generations about the value of their freedom and the importance of honoring those who sacrificed so much to protect those freedoms."

This was the first year that the Allenton post decided to decorate each veteran's grave in the eight cemeteries for which they are responsible. The committee members are very grateful to all the support they received to accomplish this goal. According to people at Worcester Wreath Company the producer and promoter of the Wreaths Across America organization, 2.8 million wreaths were made and shipped via 500 semi-trailer loads.

The Allenton American Legion Wreaths Across America Committee reports that there are a limited number of wreaths available for purchase until Friday, Dec. 20. If interested, contact Ron Naab at 262-629-9749 or rjnaab@frontier.com; Mark Schellinger at 262-628-1529 or smark11@att.net; or Ralph Hagner at 262-224-5395.

What Christmas means to me is family because at my grandma's house we sit around the tree. Me and my dad and my mom & sister always cook a beef wellington. Christmas is special in so many other ways.

You get toys and you get to play with it all the time. Fourth, God, Christmas is God's birthday, that's important to me. Last but not least, waking up mom and dad to watch me opening gifts. Every year mom and dad video tape me opening gifts. I wake up at 5:00 to open gifts. And that's what means most of Christmas to me.

What means is decorating Christmas trees; then making lots of cookies — sugar, peanut butter, ginger-snap, and chocoete chip. Then getting all bundled up for sledding, snowball fights, or building snowmen.

Then eating cheese, crackers, ham, and turkey. Then after dinner we all eat cookies and watch Christmas movies then we go to bed on Christmas Eve night, barely sleeping. Then in the morning we come up to see all gifts under the pretty Christmas tree. We eat something like pancakes, then exchange gifts, beaming.

Christmas can mean a lot of things to different people, and for me, it is spending time with my family and celebrating the birth of Jesus. On Christmas, people meet up with their family and they open gifts together. Christmas is a very happy time because that's when our Savior, Jesus, was born. Lots of people hang out with their family on Christmas because it is a time to celebrate the birth of Jesus, and most people give each other gifts to show their love for them. In my family, we always go to my grandparents' house with all my aunts, uncles, and cousins. We open presents and have a really good time. Christmas is a very joyful time for all to spend with family sharing love for each other and love for our Savior, Jesus born for all of us.

—Amanda Hanson

Christmas, despite being during one of the coldest months, is a time when hearts are warmest and spirits are the highest. There is merry music in the air, making everyone feel the holiday spirit. There are some songs that make you want to sing along—songs of Jesus Christ, songs about Santa and reindeer, and others that everyone knows the words to. While such music lifts spirits, it is not at the heart of what makes Christmas merry or important for me. One of the two most important aspects of the joy of Christmas to me is family. They stick with me through the Christmas flu when I get it—which is most years—and can always make me laugh. They all give me one of the most wonderful gifts: their love. The other most important aspect is Jesus Christ, our Savior. He was born into this world of the Virgin Mary, born to die and save us. He is the true meaning of Christmas. This is what Christmas means to me: the warm and merry music, the love from my family, and the gift of the birth of Jesus.

Maertz Goes 5-0; KHS Matmen Finish 15th In Devils Duals

By Judy Harlow

The first and last matches had happy endings for the Kewaskum High wrestlers. But in between the Indians' wins over Cumberland and Reedsburg, the three other dual meets at the Devil Duals on December 14 were extremely difficult vs. two strong Division 1 teams and a perennial Division 2 power.

Kewaskum finished 15th out of the 32 teams that battled for the team title at Adams-Friendship by virtue of its 38-36 win over Cumberland, which boosted the Indians into the Championship Flight. There they were beaten by defending state champion Stoughton by a score of 62-12, followed by a tough 61-12 loss to Stevens Point Area Senior High (SPASH).

Next Kewaskum, which was giving up 24 points in every match for four forfeits, drew Freedom and came out on the short end of a 39-27 decision. The Indians then got win No. 2 in the fifth and final match, tying Reedsburg 39-39 but got the "W" on criteria.

"It was a long ride," KHS coach Scott Rhoads said about going to the Dells. Even though his team had to face some stiff competition, he said, "It was good we ended up on the championship side ... Good competition for the state level kids."

One highlight of the day was having senior Braden Maertz post a perfect 5-0 mark. This included three pins, one decision and one forfeit. With the results from the Gunslinger meet and the first dual meet of the year, Maertz is now 10-1.

Rhoads said, "Yeah, Maertz is having a great year." He noted his senior leader started the day with a convincing win over Bennett Schramski, a Division-3 wrestler from Cumberland, pinning him in 2:25.

Freshman Braeden Scoles had a good day at 134, going 3-1. He pinned opponents from Cumberland and Reedsburg while taking a decision vs. Stoughton and losing by pin to Freedom. Rhoads did not have him wrestle in the match against SPASH, instead giving senior Alex Butler (0-2) the opportunity to see action.

Rhoads said Scoles was leading in his match with Ben Bredael of Freedom, when Bredael used "a desperation throw" to pin Scoles, handing him his lone loss of the day.

The next best KHS records were 3-2 by Jadon Rhoads, the coach's nephew, at 160 pounds, and Kannon Muckerheide. Rhoads had one pin and two decisions while losing two matches via pin. Muckerheide, the team's 182, had a pair of pins, one decision and two losses. He is currently 7-4.

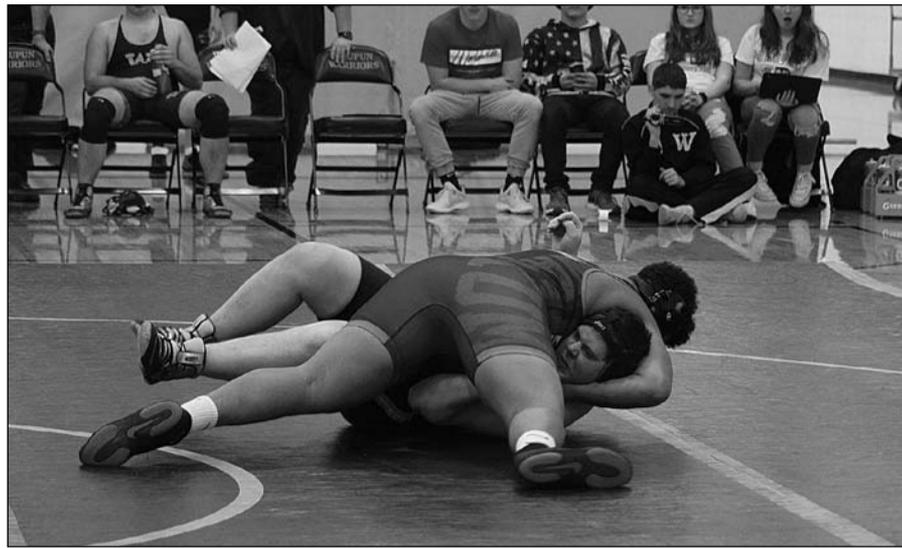

Jessiah Martinson also went 3-2 on the day with a pin and two forfeits.

The other Indian participants finished as follows: Nathan Heberer, 2-3 at 132; Mason Pomeroy, 1-4 at 138; Isaiah George, 2-3 at 170; Jordan Mixon, 2-3 at 220 and freshman Sam Gauthier, 0-5 at 285. Josh Vogt was unable to wrestle because he didn't pass the skin test.

About facing Winneconne December 19, Rhoads said, "They're going to be tough." He pointed out the Wolves on the EC title last February and "have a full lineup so we're going to have to make up 18 (forfeit) points."

On Saturday, December 21, the Indians are at the Fond du Lac Invitational, which traditionally has a strong field.

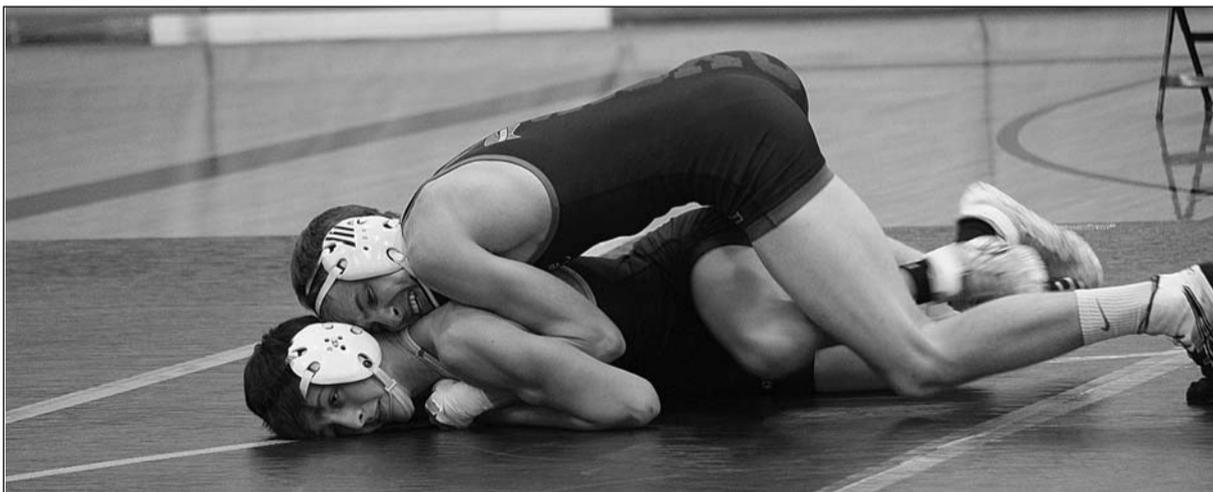

Jordon Mixon wrestled Dane Fix of Waupun during the dual on December 12. Kewaskum won the meet 38-15.

Only a freshman, Braeden Scoles won by tech fall 15-0 over Trevor Roecker. The six points helped Kewaskum beat Waupun 38-15 on December 12.

Winning an 8-2 decision over Isaac Glewen of Waupun on December 12 is Nathan Heberer. Kewaskum won the dual 38-15.

On December 12, the Kewaskum wrestling team beat Waupun 38-15. The dual was the East Central Conference opener for both teams. Jessaiah Martinson lost his match by a score of 6-5 to Zackry Pemperton.

Indians Take Care Of Business, Beat Waupun

By Judy Harlow

The Kewaskum wrestlers used three pins and a technical fall to easily defeat host Waupun 38-15 in the December 12 East Central Conference opener for both teams.

Josh Vogt needed just 35 seconds to end his match over Zeke Kelly at 126. Isaiah George pinned Ethan Nighbor in 1:10 at 170 and Jordan Mixon posted an 11-second pin at 220 pounds.

The tech fall was recorded by freshman Braeden Scoles at 145. He defeated Trevor Roecker of Waupun, 15-0 in his first varsity match for the Indians.

Lady Indians Come Close Yo Knocking Off Powerful Waupun

By Judy Harlow

Basketball fans who enjoy a good defense should have been at Kewaskum on December 12 for the Lady Indians' game against Waupun, the pre-season East Central Conference favorite. It was a battle for every point, one that was won by Waupun 44-41 after the Indians led 37-30 with 5:43 remaining.

"Our defense was good the whole game," KHS coach Russ Thull said afterward. He was encouraged by the effort but discouraged by the outcome because "We had 'em where we wanted to" but unfortunately couldn't finish because of the Warriors' trapping defense down the stretch.

Waupun led the majority of the first half, including once by eight points, 15-7, before the Indians came flying back thanks to a three-point basket by freshman Morgan Adams with 5:46 remaining (15-10) and back-to-back threes by Maxine Paulowske at 5:11 and 2:16.

The latter shot hit the rim, bounced high in the air and found nothing but net, and the Indians were down only one at 17-16. Not for long, however, as Madilyn Dogs hit one her first of two free throws to tie the game at 17-all. Dogs missed the second, but thanks to a lane violation got another opportunity, made it, and KHS took its first lead at 18-17.

KHS held Waupun's hot-shooting guard, Abby Aalsma to one 3-pointer and nine points in the first half. She opened the second with a long-range bomb, but Kewaskum kept pressing and gave up only two points the next five minutes until Aalsma hit a three from the top of the key, giving her team a 25-20 advantage.

Once again, the Indians fought back, tying the score at 27-all on Paulowske's successful drive with 10:43 remaining, then Kewaskum went down one when Peyton McGinnis made one of two free throws for the Warriors.

It was here the Lady Indians started a run which got their adrenalin going and excited the KHS fans who were eager to witness an upset. First, Kennedy Adams went in for a nifty drive, then Paulowske connected on a long three from the left wing; Grace Leitheiser connected on a drive after a pretty pass from Paulowske; and Leitheiser hit a three from the right wing for a 37-30 advantage.

Five minutes to go. Could the Indians hang on? They stayed in the lead for several minutes, but the Warriors were double-teaming the ball and getting extra possessions from travel calls.

Aalsma and Gaby Matamoros, a 6-0 post player, carried the load for the Warriors at the end. Aalsma hit a short jump shot with 3:20 left to cut Waupun's deficit to one at 37-36, then Matamoros made a layup for the lead with 2:39 left on the clock.

Kennedy Adams got the lead right back when she was perfect on two free throws (39-38) but Kewaskum would score just two more points in the final 1:59 on a layup by Morgan Adams with :15 left. Waupun went ahead for good on a move in the paint by Matamoros and her breakaway layup with :04 remaining.

"The girls played their hearts out. They played hard," Thull said. "We just had some costly turnovers in that stretch. It's something we're going to have to learn from ... We're going to be more prepared the next time."

Paulowske and Kennedy Adams led the Indians' scoring with 11 and eight points, while Morgan Adams chipped in with seven. With the 11 points, Paulowske now has 891 for her career, 109 from 1,000.

Even though she did not score, Kaitlyn Leitheiser drew praise. "Kaitlyn played well. She does a lot of little stuff really well," Thull said, pointing to the fact she had a couple big steals.

KHS ended up with eight more turnovers than Waupun, 19 to 11 and gave up 13 offensive rebounds, while hauling down seven. "That's six more possessions they had," Thull said about the latter statistic.

KHS, now 1-1 in EC play and 3-2 overall, is at Winneconne December 19.

Indians' Big Second Half Scores Win Over Waupun

By Judy Harlow

The "O-for" tag against Waupun was ended by the Kewaskum boys basketball team on December 13 when the Indians turned a sizzling 39-point second half into a 60-48 victory over the defending champion Warriors.

Before this, Waupun had won all eight matchups in the East Central Conference vs. the Indians, including two last season by respective scores of 61-33 and 81-36.

No one was more aware of the history between the two teams than KHS head coach Don Gruber. In his pre-game talk, he reminded the Indians about it but stressed to the Indians that it doesn't have to stay that way, noting "Today it's anybody's' game."

At half, it still was anybody's game with the score at 21-20 in the Indians' favor. Joshua Bocher scored eight of Kewaskum's points while John Mark Bocher added four and Michael Daniel had a little spurt toward the end with two free throws and a drive toward his six first-half points.

The second half didn't start out all that well for KHS as Gabe Keach, the only Warrior who played regularly last season, scored the first two buckets for a 24-21 Waupun lead. Also KHS senior guard Toree Ralph picked up his fourth foul with 15:02 remaining. Gruber was forced to take out Ralph in favor of Isaiah Cochran, who turned out to be one of the Indians' heroes.

KHS took back the lead on a three-point basket by Josh Bocher with 11:26 left. After the Warriors committed a couple turnovers and missed two shots, it was Daniel coming through with a three from the right baseline, giving the Indians a five-point, 33-28 lead. That was stretched to nine after Cochran connected for two baskets, including a three-pointer in a matter of 30 seconds.

The Indians were starting to gain confidence. They were defending well and playing together, all key ingredients for the win.

"We weren't defending like we should have been at the start of the second half," Gruber said. "Overall, I thought we played some good defense."

With 7:14 left, John Mark Bocher scored from inside after taking a nice pass from brother Josh, then Cochran came up with a huge three-point play on a twisting layup. He was fouled on the shot and promptly made the free throw for a 43-33 lead.

Several minutes later, Brady Navis hit a three to cut the Indians' lead to six, 47-41. Keach's three with 2:24 left made the score 49-43, but the Indians connected on 11 of 14 free throws down the stretch to build on their lead.

Cochran made three of four toward his 11 points, while Ty Cook was good on six of eight.

Keach was the game's high scorer with 23 points. Josh Bocher was high man for the Indians with 19. Then came Cochran and John Mark Bocher with 10 and Daniel with nine.

"This was a total team win. At different points of the game, everybody put something in the pot," Gruber beamed. He played only six players in the second half, saying, "The second half, I thought that group was playing well ... I kind of go by the rhythm."

"It feels real good," Cochran said about getting the victory, indicating, "When the time comes for me to go in, I feel I need to step up my game. Once I got in, I was pretty comfortable, especially with the guys I've been playing with for a long time."

About the season, Cochran said, "I think we've got a real good team going here. We all want to win."

Kewaskum, now 1-0 in the EC and 2-1 overall was at Mayville and was at Winneconne Decem-ber 17.

Sign Welcomes Visitors To “Little Canada” – Canadian Tradition Dates Back To 1800s

The neighborhood's moniker “Little Canada” got news coverage again in the 1980s. In October 1982, a group of Kewaskum businessmen and residents held a flag ceremony to pay tribute to the area's namesake. Former village president Charles Miller, along with Kewaskum residents Harry Koch, Marvin Martin, Rich Johann, Harry Heinecke, and Merle Dreher led the service. During the ceremony, the group raised a Canadian flag to fly just below an American flag on the roof of Serwe's Tavern, owned and operated by Norbert and Gloria Serwe. The tavern was located on the northeast corner of Main Street and Riverview Drive.

According to a report in the West Bend News on October 11, 1982, the Canadian flag nearly got caught in a Heileman beer sign on the building during the original ceremony, so the flag was raised a second time for an official photograph.

In 1985, the tavern was taken over by new owners, Gary and Joan Bickelhaupt, who re-named the building

Riverview Inn. Residents decided to raise the American and Canadian flags on the roof once again that year.

Led by Harry E. Koch, unofficially dubbed “mayor of Canada,” the ceremony was held on Flag Day, June 14, 1985. A “Little Canada” handmade sign was posted near the Main Street bridge at that time.

Mike and Judy Berger, who lived near the bridge, recall a sign being posted even earlier than that. They were awoken during the night one night in the 1970s, when three men hung a “Little Canada” sign on the lamppost. Rumor is that the men had visited a nearby tavern before hanging the sign.

The newest “Little Canada” sign was posted last week by village employees Denis Thull and Gus Karoses. Laatsch and Trautner designed the sign after researching the Canadian namesake for a book they are working on about the history of the village.

“It is neat to see a piece of our history posted on the lamppost,” Laatsch said.

Pictured Left: A sign was posted last week to welcome people to “Little Canada” as they head east across the Main Street bridge. The area east of the Milwaukee River in Kewaskum has been referred to as “Canada” since the 1800s.
