Unveiling New Book About Kewaskum

A new book about the history of Kewaskum was released last Tuesday, March 3.

The book, "Kewaskum Wisconsin: The Making of a Village," was written by Kewaskum Historical Society volunteers Aaron Laatsch and Anne Trautner in commemoration of the village's 125th anniversary in 2020. The 320-page, hardcover book contains historic photos and a comprehensive village history. This "coffee-table" style book also contains memories of local residents scattered throughout the pages.

tion of over three years of research by Laatsch and Trautner. Laatsch is a fifth-generation Kewaskum resident with a passion for researching and preserving local history. Trautner is an award-winning journalist with the Kewaskum Statesman who shares an interest in Kewaskum's treasured past.

"The goal was to create a book that would carry out the mission of the Kewaskum Historical Society of preserving and documenting Kewaskum's past," Laatsch explained.

"The book is out-of-this-world interesting. It is a treasure trove of information, beautifully written, with so many photos, which will mean so much to so many," Kewaskum resident Joyce Kral said.

Laatsch and Trautner are not making any money from the book; 100 percent of all proceeds benefit the Kewaskum Historical Society.

School District Staff Members Receive Awards

– Three Staff Members Help Save A Life

By Anne Trautner

Kewaskum Police Chief Thomas Bishop presented awards at the school board meeting on Monday, March 9, to Kewaskum School District employees Laurie Beimborn, Doug Franzen and Jason Piittmann for their actions in helping to save the life of a 17-year-old male at Kewaskum High School on February 13.

"I am here to give a couple awards out to some school staff members who acted in a very professional and fantastic manner. Last month we had a medical emergency at the high school, and the building emergency response team was called. The three members that I saw arrive on scene before we got there immediately put their training to work and their actions directly allowed us and the fire department to do our action and definitely saved this person's life," Bishop said.

The three staff members responded to a medical emergency at Kewaskum High School. While putting themselves into a potentially dangerous situation, they focused solely on saving another life, according to Bishop.

Washington County Leaders Request $1.6 Million

“Brownfield” Investment

– Brownfield Developments Restore Communities And Preserve Farmland

At the site of one of the several projects redeveloped utilizing an EPA grant, Washington County leaders joined local officials to request $1.6 million in funding to double down on brownfields redevelopment. The county board will act on the request on Wednesday, March 11, at the regular board meeting.

Brownfields are sites requiring some type of environmental remediation, such as a former industrial site. These sites create blight in communities and whenever a brownfield is redeveloped a “greenfield” such as farmland is preserved. In total the program has redeveloped 32 brownfield acres, constructed 262 new housing units, and invested over $43 million in new construction.

“We have heard from our residents in our rural communities that farmland preservation is important,” said County Administrator Josh Schoemann. “Each brownfield redeveloped helps us achieve this goal and allows us to revitalize our communities with new workforce housing, hotel accommodations, commercial properties, and job creating businesses.”

“Today, we are coming together as leaders in Washington County to praise the success of the site redevelopment program through collaboration,” said County Board Chair Don Kriefall. “This program is a partnership between municipal governments, the county, the state, and the federal government. No one government is doing this great work alone.”

“The program helped develop Rincon 225, a six-story, 82-unit apartment building in the heart of downtown Hartford,” said Mayor Tim Michalak. “This luxury apartment really gives us city living and helps us recruit young professionals to work and more importantly live in the city of Hartford.”

State Health Agency Offers Tips For Travelers In Response To COVID-19

– Advice Is For People Who Are Planning And Returning From Trips

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) is urging people who are planning trips and returning travelers to pay attention to guidance for travel provided by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to avoid catching or spreading COVID-19 (2019 Novel Coronavirus).

“The reality is that we really have to carefully consider our travel plans as COVID-19 affects more countries,” said state health officer Jeanne Ayers. “The CDC provides travel notices that can help people make informed decisions about their travel plans. These notices are based on the potential health risks involved with traveling to a certain area, and it should be frequently monitored as guidance is evolving rapidly with COVID-19.”

Travel notices fall under different levels, with level 3 travel health notices indicating widespread and sustained transmission of COVID-19 and level 2 travel health notices indicating sustained, but not widespread, community transmission. As of today, the countries with level 2 and 3 travel health notices include: China, Hong Kong, Iran, Italy, Japan, and South Korea. Check the CDC’s Travel Information page for details on the various risks in those countries.

Out of an abundance of caution, DHS is also recommending that travelers returning from countries with a CDC level 2 or level 3 travel health notice follow guidance for travelers returning from countries with a CDC level 2 or 3 travel health notice. This includes limited self-quarantine for people traveling from countries with a level 3 notice. All returning travelers should monitor themselves for symptoms of the illness, such as fever, cough, and difficulty breathing. People should keep in mind that this may be re-evaluated as new guidance becomes available.

For travelers who develop symptoms of COVID-19 within 14 days of leaving the country with a level 2 or 3 notice:

•Call your health care provider. Call ahead before you go to your doctor’s office or to an emergency room. Tell them your symptoms and that you traveled to an area of the world experiencing a COVID-19 outbreak.

•Do not use public transportation, ride-sharing, or taxis.

•If you have a face mask, wear it if you need to be around other people.

•Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough and sneeze.

Anyone needing emergency medical attention during their monitoring period should call 911 and let them know that they traveled to an area of the world experiencing a COVID-19 outbreak.

“We will continue to provide information about COVID-19 as DHS prepares for a possible pandemic, but I want to reassure people that the risk of getting COVID-19 in Wisconsin remains low,” Ayers said. “We can all do our part to prevent the spread of illnesses by thoroughly and frequently washing our hands, covering coughs and sneezes, and staying home when we are sick.”

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF’S REPORT

Community Notification

The Washington County Sheriff’s Office is releasing the following information pursuant to WI Statute 301.46(2m) which authorizes law enforcement agencies to inform the public of a sex offender’s release when, in the discretion of the agency, the release of information will enhance public safety, awareness and protection. The individual who appears on this notification has been convicted of a sex offense. Further, his criminal history places him in a classification level which reflects a low potential to re-offend.

Sean T. Benson will be released from prison on March 10. After his release he will reside at 1725 County Highway NN in the Township of Jackson. In 2014 Benson was convicted of Possession of Child Pornography. Benson will be on probation until March 15, 2040 and will be monitored closely by WI-DOC Division of Community. Benson will have numerous rules and restrictions to follow including wearing a live tracking GPS unit. The GPS monitoring unit will have exclusion zones setup alerting WI-DOC if there is a violation of the exclusion zones rules.

This sex offender has served the prison sentence imposed on him by the courts. He is NOT wanted by law enforcement at this time. This notification is not intended to increase fear, but rather it is our belief that an informed public is a safer public.

Sex offenders have always lived in our communities; but it was not until the Sex Offender Registration and Community Notification Law was enacted that law enforcement was able to share this information with the community. More information can be located at <https://apps-doc.wi.gov/public/faq>.

For more information, contact Probation/Parole Agent Mandy Lange at 262-388-8286, Sex Offender Registration Specialist Gina Carney at 414-491-4335 or Sgt. Michael Hennes at 262-365-5054.

Book Release Event For 125th Anniversary

Hats off to all of those at the Kewaskum Historical Society who made the extraordinary special book signing event possible last week. It was incredible to see so many people in one place who care about and support the history of the village.

Special recognition should be made for Anne Trautner, a reporter for this newspaper, and Aaron Laatsch, the manager of Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, the authors of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, The Making of a Village. Both of these individuals have very public full-time jobs that often require extra hours and working on evenings and weekends.

Over the past four years they have both spent thousands of volunteer hours doing research that required them to not only review historical documents and photos but travel around the state to conduct interviews to make sure they got the history right. They did it because they really care about the community.

It was interesting listening to them talk about how they originally planned on making a 200-page book but ended up publishing a 14-chapter, 309-page high quality hardcover book. One of the most interesting things about the event last Tuesday was the excitement and enthusiasm of the audience as Aaron and Anne told about many of their interesting behind the scenes stories.

As time passes, we will forget about the details of this special event but the historical record including the thousands of details about Kewaskum's history created by these authors in their book will be available for future generations to come! Thank you.

Reminder To Area Businesses And Organizations – Founder's Day Edition Selling Out

The pages of the upcoming special Founder's Day edition of the Kewaskum Statesman are selling fast. It appears the edition will be sold-out before the April 23rd deadline.

This edition will be mailed to every address in the Kewaskum zip-code on June 4th right before the village's 125th Founders Day Celebration on June 12-13th. Since space is limited due to press capacity, participation will be on a first-come, first-serve basis. The pages are selling fast, 28 of the 40 planned pages are already spoken for. It appears the section will be sold out before the April 23rd deadline.

Please contact Kathy Marin-Kopping as soon as possible at the Statesman office at 920-533-8338 to reserve a space.

School District Staff Members Receive Awards

"They administered lifesaving measures until officers arrived on scene and administered further lifesaving action," Bishop said.

On February 13, a medical call that was made at approximately 9:30 a.m. for a male who possibly overdosed at the Kewaskum Career Academy located inside Kewaskum High School.

Upon arrival, officers began life-saving measures as the male was unconscious and turning blue, according to the criminal complaint in the case. Narcan was administered to the male and, after a short time, the subject regained consciousness. He was then transported via Kewaskum Rescue to Froedtert West Bend Hospital.

The 17-year-old male has been charged with Possession of Narcotic Drugs and Possession of Drug Paraphernalia. He was released on $2,000 cash bail with the condition that he maintain absolute sobriety. A hearing was scheduled for February 26.

It was announced at Monday night's school board meeting that the Kewaskum Fire Department is donating Narcan to be kept at both Kewaskum High School and Kewaskum Middle School so they will be readily available if a similar emergency occurs in the future. Narcan is used to combat potential overdose deaths associated with opiate use and addiction.

Beimborn is facilities secretary for the district; Franzen is facilities director for the district; and Piittmann is athletic director/physical education teacher at the high school.

"On behalf of the Kewaskum Police Department and the citizens of the Village of Kewaskum, thank you for your action and your service to our community," Bishop told the trio.

Anne Trautner pauses from signing books for a moment at last week's Kewaskum Historical Society dinner event. Anne and Aaron Laatsch, right, worked thousands of hours while maintaining full-time jobs over several years to gather information for the book.

OBITUARIES

William F. Burris

William F. Burris, 85, of Belgium died on Thursday, March 5, 2020 at The Waterford in Plymouth with family at his side.

He was born on August 12, 1934 in Massena, IA the son of Fred and Ethel (Johnson) Burris. In 1956 he moved to Wisconsin and on June 29, 1957 he married Patricia Tackes at St. Nicholas Church in Dacada. Mr. Burris served his country honorably in the Army during the Korean War. He was a member of V.F.W. Post 5373 Ozaukee County Memorial Post. William (Bill) was employed by Gahan Construction, formerly of Port Washington, Port Washington Lumber, and lastly as a supervisor at Cedarburg Lumber Company.

Bill was very proud of and enjoyed spending time with his children and grandchildren. He enjoyed being outdoors, including hunting, fishing, and working with dogs – most recently his dog Jasper. He also loved to shoot pool, go dancing, play sheephead, and socialize with friends and family.

Survivors include his wife Patricia; four sons, Phil (Linda) Burris of Augusta, GA, Pat (Kathy) of Madison, AL, John (Amy) Burris of Jacksonport, and Bill (Jenna) Burris of Kohler; four daughters, Karen Burris of Chicago, IL, Sandy (Tim) Wolff of Fredonia, Julie (Keith) Carbaugh of Plymouth, and Jackie (Dan) Nowacki of Kewaskum; his grandchildren, Nina Burris, Michael, Shawn, Kevin, and Daniel Burris, Britany, Jake, Amy, and Carla Wolff, Stephanie Carbaugh, Emily (Mitch) Kuster, Megan, Adam, and Tessa Carbaugh, Ellie Burris, Ben and Jill Burris, and Nora and Ted Nowacki; his siblings, Jack (Mary) Burris, Diane Petersen, Judy Wohlford as well as nieces, nephews, and numerous other relatives.

William was preceded in death by his parents, a granddaughter Dana Nowacki, and sisters June (Curt) Davis and Lois (Gene) Mullen.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 14, 2020 at Our Lady of the Lakes – St Nicholas Chapel, Dacada (W4274 Co Hwy K, Random Lake, WI 53075), with Father Gideon Buya presiding. The family will receive guests at the church from 10:30 a.m. until the time of service. William will be laid to rest at St. Nicholas Catholic Cemetery with military honors.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to The Gathering Place & Memory Matters in Sheboygan Falls are appreciated.

The family would like to thank the staff and volunteers at The Gathering Place & Memory Matters, Sharon S. Richardson Community Hospice in Sheboygan Falls, and The Waterford of Plymouth for their compassionate and loving care.

The Eernisse Funeral Home of Belgium is honored to assist the family with arrangements. Online condolences may be left at www.eernisse-funeralhome.com.

Donna M. Panko

Donna Mae Panko (nee Pospisiel), age 82, passed away on Monday, March 9, 2020 at Froedtert of West Bend Hospital.

She was born on March 25, 1937 in Wisconsin Rapids to Walter and Florence (nee Kath) Pospisiel. God was number one in Donna's life followed by her family. Donna was the valedictorian of Rudolph

High School class. She loved music and flowers and enjoyed working at St. Joseph's in West Bend Hospital for over 25 years in the laboratory as a microbiologist.

Donna is survived by her loving husband of 62 years, Marvin; children, Kenneth (Amphone "Noy"), Daniel (Mary), David (Brenda), and Shari Bobb; 11 grandchildren; 21 great-grandchildren; sister, Carole LeMay; brother, Donald Pospisiel and sister-in-law, Ruth War-golet. She is further survived by nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Donna is preceded in death by her parents; two grandchildren, Jessica Mae Bobb and Bud Panko; and her great-grandson, Gerald Bobb.

A Funeral Service will be at noon on Friday, March 13, 2020 at St. John Lutheran Church (N665 Hwy S., Kewaskum, WI 53040) with Rev. Mark Eckert presiding. Visitation will be at church on Friday, March 13, from 10 a.m. until 11:45 a.m. Interment will follow at St. John Lutheran Cemetery.

Florence V. Simon

Florence Valeria Simon (nee Miller), 95, of Campbellsport, died on Thursday, March 5, 2020, surrounded by her loving family at St. Francis Home in Fond du Lac.

She was the daughter of John and Eleanor (Gremminger) Miller born on August 10, 1924. She married Linus J. Simon on May 1, 1945 at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, in Campbellsport. They were the parents of seven sons: twins, Rev. John Simon of Beaver Dam and James Simon of Campbellsport, Lester (Shirley) Simon of Campbellsport, Dale (Shelly) Simon of Fond du Lac, Kenneth (Lauri) Simon of West Bend, Paul (Jane) Simon of Campbellsport, and Steven (Ronda) Simon of Boerne, Texas.

Florence was a stay-at-home mom for her sons until the youngest started school. She then became a hot lunch lady at St. Matthew's School eventually becoming head cook for many years. She was a founding member of the Campbellsport Fire Department Auxiliary, the Thursday Morning Breakfast Club, and St. Matthew's Christian Women.

Preceding her in death were her parents; her husband, Linus in 2006; a granddaughter, Jessica Simon Abnet in 2001; sisters, Rita Zehren, Julia Broecker, and Agnes Schenk; brothers, Francis, George, and Benno; brothers-in-law, Eugene Zehren, Norbert Broecker, and Robert Schenk; sisters-in-law, Mary Miller and Mary Ann Miller; and numerous other relatives and friends.

She is further survived by 13 grandchildren, Michael, Thomas (Stacy), Lisa (Brian), Jeffrey (Emilee), Jenny (John), Jacob (Leanne), Dean (Betsy), Tracy (Daniel), Kelly (Jared), Matthew (Angela), Nathan (Jera), Nicole (Wes), and Kimberly (Nick), 29 great-grandchildren (plus one on the way), and numerous nephews and nieces. She is further survived by her special friend, Jacki Cisco.

Visitation was held on Tuesday, March 10, from 3 to 6 p.m. at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, 406 E. Main St., Campbellsport with Mass of Christian Burial following at 6 p.m. at the Church. Florence's son The Rev. John L. Simon officiated and a private burial was held in St. Matthew's Parish Cemetery.

The family of Florence would like to sincerely thank her extended family at St. Francis Home, the staff and fellow residents for their concern and consideration for the past 17 months. We also thank the Hospice staff for their comfort and support in her last days.

Twohig Funeral Home is serving the family with condolences and guestbook at www.twohigfunerals.com.

The Kewaskum community came out in large numbers to attend the first ever Driven To Better Health Night held at Kewaskum High School on March 12. The purpose of the evening was to help raise awareness about how important it is to challenge kids to make healthy eating and physical activity a part of their daily life. The Kewaskum School District has already made a positive impact on the kids in the community by committing to many programs such as the nutrition program, wellness program, Fuel Up to Play 60 program, and most recently the Donald Driver Driven to Better Health program.

After winning the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title at 195 pounds, placing first in the D-2 regional hosted by Lomira and finishing 11th in the rugged Oshkosh Lourdes On the Waters Tournament, junior Ben Watzig was an obvious choice as the MVP of this year's Kewaskum High wrestling team.

Two Kewaskum men were hospitalized Tuesday morning, March 8 as a result of serious injuries they received in a head-on crash in the Town of Wayne. Kohlsville Fire Department/First Responders handled the scene with the Washington County Sheriff's Department while Kewaskum Rescue Squad transported both victims to St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend. West Bend Intercept also provided mutual aid.

The University of Wisconsin-Washington County just wrapped up the most successful men's basketball season in the school's history, and helping toward the solid 16-8 record that set the record were four former Kewaskum High athletes. J. P. Repovsch, Kyle Rabuck and Kyle Darmody were all sophomore Wildcats, while Russ Thull, who played at UWWC the past two seasons, helped Scott Poole as the team's assistant coach.

One of the best gifts Chad Harlow received for his college graduation was luggage. Since graduating from UW-Stevens Point in 1997, the 29-year-old former Kewaskum resident, who now resides permanently in New York City, is certainly making good use of it. As a musical theater actor/singer/dancer, Harlow has traveled to 48 of the 50 states, missing only Hawaii and Alaska.

Farmington Historical Society Presents Program This Saturday

Join the Farmington Historical Society for a performance by Edith Wilson, the widow of President Woodrow Wilson, as portrayed by Jessica Michna.

Prohibition is the law of the land as the new year of 1925 begins. The decade will become known as the "Roaring Twenties". The "war to end all wars" is now a memory. Mrs. Wilson has greeted another New Year quietly after the death of the President in February 1924. Edith Galt Wilson sits alone now, answering the hundreds of letters of condolence.

The program will be presented at 1 p.m. on Saturday, March 14, at the St. Michael Church Hall, Highway 28, east of Kewaskum. It is free and open to the public.

The program will last approximately one hour. Jessica Michna is widely known for her riveting portrayals of First Ladies, notable women of history and fictitious characters. (www.historicalfirstimpressions.com).

College and Career Fair Aims To Educate Juniors In Washington County

High school students have the opportunity to engage with local businesses, colleges, military and service organizations at the Washington County Workforce Alliance's 2020 College and Career Fair on March 18 from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Hartford Union High School and March 19 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Ziegler Family

Expo Center at the Washington County Fair Grounds.

"We encourage parents and students to attend this valuable event," Server Products Human Resources Director Holly Adams said. "It's a great opportunity for students to learn what companies are looking for and what skills and training are required to qualify for positions of interest to them."

The Workforce Alliance was formed to help students understand career and education opportunities available in Washington County. Students will see how careers and education are connected and use that information to make the very important decisions related to what comes next after high school graduation.

Kewaskum Middle School To Present “Moana Jr.”

By Anne Trautner

Kewaskum Middle School students will perform the Disney musical “Moana Jr.” in the Kewaskum High School theater on Friday, March 13, at 7 p.m., and on Saturday, March 14, at 1 and 7 p.m.

“We picked this show because we knew it was one that the students would be excited about,” said Assistant Director Lindsay Dahlberg. “It is a middle school show, so they are young, but they are very talented. There is some really good stuff happening up there. We have some really good singers. It will be a very good show.”

The musical is based on the Disney film about Moana, the daughter of a Pacific island chief. People who live on this island believe it is too dangerous to go past a certain point in the ocean. They fish in the ocean that surrounds the island, but they are not able to find enough food. Princess Moana feels a tie to the ocean and wants to go past the reef, where the people believe it is unsafe.

“It is the story of how Princess Moana brings her people back to what they used to be. She discovers that they used to be voyagers and used to go past the reef, so it is her journey to save her island and her people. She eventually takes them back to their heritage that they had shut out because they thought it was too dangerous,” Dahlberg explained.

The musical is based in the Pacific, so it is written in a variety of Oceanic languages.

“It has definitely been challenging for them because they had to learn not only the normal music and words, but they had to memorize words in Samoan and a variety of other Oceanic languages. So the music that you hear in the movie is what they are singing up there, which was tricky. They do better than I do,” Dahlberg said.

The students had to learn how to portray more than just the regular Disney characters.

“The Disney Junior shows are made to be done a little more simply than some of the other shows. So a lot of the costumes, props and set pieces will be suggested; rather than having a bunch of big canoes on stage, there is going to be the suggestion of a canoe,” Dahlberg said.

is so tied to nature, and so it is written so that the actors are playing the wind and the ocean and all the different parts of the island, as well as the people. That is kind of interesting to see,” Dahlberg added.

Tickets for the show are $10. They are available at Geidel’s Piggly Wiggly, at the Kewaskum Middle School office and at the door.

Wednesday, March 25 — Nature Tots: Gifts from Trees, 10 a.m.-11:30 a.m. Tots will be enjoying all sorts of gifts from the trees! We'll start indoors with a simple craft, focus activity, and story. Then head outdoors to the forest to play a matching game, meet a maple tree, and taste a sweet treat!

Thursday, March 26 — Little Explorers Playgroup, 10 a.m.-11:30 a.m. We will focus on baby animals and plant buds, while leaving lots of time for puddle stomping and mud painting! Nature sensory experiences for babies and exploration tools for older children will be available. Indoor activities will be planned in case of inclement weather.

Saturday, March 28 — Nature Play: First Nations Games & Past-times, 10 a.m.-11:30 a.m. Unplug and connect with games passed down from generations of First Nation Native American Tribes. Stars and Moons, Moccasin Game, Ball and Triangle, and other games will require concentration, dexterity, and skill! Pre-registration is strongly suggested!

An Upcoming Calendar of Events for the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest...

Thursday, March 12 — Two Sides of Fire An Evening with Nature at the Ice Age Visitor Center, 7 p.m.-8:30 p.m. Many plant communities need periodic fires to remain healthy, while wildfires can cause great devastation to ecosystems and human structures. DNR staff will share how they use fire as a management tool and how to prevent wildfires and the great harm they cause.

Saturday, March 14 — All Things Maple Exploring Nature Program at the Ice Age Visitor Center, 10 a.m.-11:30 a.m. Discover what kinds of maples grow in Wisconsin and how to identify them. Find out what products humans make from maples and sample that most famous maple treat — maple syrup. This program is best for people over eight years old.

Friday, March 20 — Spring into Spring Nature Storytime at the Ice Age Visitor Center, 9:30 a.m.-10:30 a.m. Through songs, stories, and games, we will welcome spring back to Wisconsin. We'll go outside to explore for signs of its return, weather permitting. This hour of nature fun awaits three to six year olds with accompanying adults.

For more information about the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest or the upcoming naturalist programs, please contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center at (920) 533-8322. The Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center is located 1/2 mile west of Dundee off of Highway 67. The center is open seven days a week.

If you are out of the area on April 7th, it takes a few minutes to request an absentee ballot.

•www.myvote.wi.gov

•Click "Vote Absentee"
•Request must be made no later than 5pm on the Thursday (April 2) before the election.
VOTE April 7, 2020!

Thank you,
Joan Daggett

"At The Movies" Scheduled For Wednesdays, March 18 And 25

"At the Movies" will show the movie Splendor in the Grass, starring Warren Beatty and Natalie Wood, in the Kewaskum High School Theater on Wednesday, March 18.

Doors open at 1:30 p.m. and the show starts at 2 p.m. All shows are free of charge.

Snacks will be served free of charge at intermission. Donations are accepted.

On Wednesday, March 25, the featured film will be East of Eden, starring James Dean.

"At the Movies" was started as a collaboration between the Kewaskum School District, the Kewaskum Public Library and the Kewaskum Area Arts Council. Hosted by retired KHS literature teacher James Westphal, the "At the Movies" series highlights award-winning, popular American films of the 40s, 50s, 60s and 70s.

All movies are shown at the Kewaskum High School Theater and are free.

Kewaskum Catholic Parishes Present Mission Nights

The Catholic parishes of Kewaskum will present a mission titled "The Amazing Gift of the Eucharist," with Fr. James Kubicki. The public is invited to attend and enhance their Lenten journey.

On Saturday, March 14, Mass will be held at 4 p.m. at St. Michael, with a Mission Kick-off Social to follow the Mass.

On Sunday, March 15, at 5 p.m., at Holy Trinity a program titled "A Mystery to be Believed" will be held, followed by a social.

On Monday, March 16, at 6:30 a program titled "A Mystery to be Celebrated" will be held at St. Michael at 6:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, March 17, Mass will be celebrated at 5 p.m. at Holy Trinity, followed by the program "A Mystery to be Lived" at 6:30 p.m.

About The Presenter

Fr. James Kubicki was born and raised in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He entered the Jesuits in 1971 and was ordained in 1983.

From 1989 to 1995 he worked at the Sioux Spiritual Center, a retreat house for Native people and the center for the Rapid City Diocese's Deacon and Lay Ministry Formation program. From 2000-2003 he was the assistant director of Dementreville, a Jesuit retreat house in Minnesota.

In 2003 he became the national director of the Apostleship of Prayer, the Pope's Worldwide Prayer Network, and traveled around the country giving talks, parish missions, and retreats. He is a regular contributor to Catholic radio stations throughout the country via the Relevant Radio Network.

His book "A Heart on Fire: Rediscovering Devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus" was published by Ave Maria Press in 2012 and was awarded third place in the category of "Best Prayer and Spirituality Book of the Year" by the Association of Catholic Book Publishers. His second book, "A Year of Daily Offerings," was published in October, 2016. In 2017 Fr. Kubicki became the Director of St. Francis Mission on the Rosebud Reservation in western South Dakota (www.sfmission.org).

A limited supply of Fr. Kubicki's books available for purchase at the Parish Mission.

Schedule

Monday - Social begins at 5:45 p.m., St. Michael Hall

Tuesday - Adoration to follow the 5 p.m. Mass. Social begins at 5:45 p.m. in the Holy Trinity Cafe. Benediction to follow the 6:30 p.m. talk.

Daily - opportunity for confession before and/or after the talk.

Locations

St. Michael Church, 8883 Forest View Road, Kewaskum

CAMPUS NEWS

– University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

Simon McGhee from West Bend, who is studying BFA Performance at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, is a member of the Cast, serving in the role of Mal Beineke in "The Addams Family Musical."

The production runs Feb. 25-28 in Barnett Theatre in the Greenhill Center of the Arts.

The spotlight of this musical focuses on Wednesday Addams, the princess of darkness, who asks her father, Gomez, to keep the secret of her love interest from her mother, Morticia, whom he shares everything with. When The Addams Family and the family of Wednesday's love interest meet for dinner, madness and hilarity unfold.

"This is an oddly wonderful show. Despite its Gothic tone, the Addams Family checks all of the boxes for classic, Golden-Age musical fun. Beneath the monster-movie motif burbles the familiar impetuous whirlwind of young love and the fond and affectionate misunderstandings that families can fall into," said Bruce Cohen, director and assistant professor of theatre/dance. "Indeed, for a show that has mined the pop culture ocean so deeply for inspiration, this is also a unique story of adorable characters who are well supported with an excellent score by award-winner Andrew Lipka and a very witty book by Marshall Brickman and Rick Elice. We have a stage full of energetic, young performers, lovely voices under Robert Gehrenbeck's expert direction and captivating dancers translating Piper Morgan Hayes' effervescent choreography. Thank you for joining us for all the creepy kooky, mysteriously spooky and charming, heartwarming oookiness of it all."

For ticket information and pricing please visit tickets.uww.edu or call 262-472-2222, Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For additional information about the UW-Whitewater Theatre/Dance Department visit at uww.edu/cac/theatre-dance.

Fourth Graders Learn About Life As Lumberjacks

By Anne Trautner

Last Friday, March 6, fourth-grade students at Kewaskum Elementary School got a glimpse of what life was like in Kewaskum over a century ago.

Members of the Kewaskum Historical Society visited fourth-grade classes to share local history with the students.

To get a feel of what life was like during that time in Wisconsin's history, the fourth graders dressed in flannel and participated in some hands-on activities. The students saw some of the tools that lumberjacks used in the 1800s.

Kewaskum Historical Society members Matt Harvey and Mike Paul showed the students how those tools worked.

The students also learned about household items that early settlers used in their everyday lives. Kewaskum Historical Society member Eva Harvey dressed in period costumes and shared early pioneer artifacts. She showed the students how different household items were used.

A highlight was when Joe Hoerig, a custodian at the school, autographed the book "Kewaskum, Wisconsin: The Making of a Village."

Hoerig served as one of the proofreaders for the book, and he talked with the students about the experience.

The book's authors, Aaron Laatsch and Anne Trautner, wrote the book as Kewaskum Historical Society volunteers. They brought the book to share information with students about Chief Kewaskum and the history of the village.

The students also participated in reader's theaters and created soap carvings. They got a taste of what life was like for lumberjacks by enjoying a pancake breakfast.

Unveiling New Kewaskum Book

Close to 300 people attended the book launch, which sold out in two days. At the event, Laatsch and Trautner spoke about the story behind making their new book.

The two co-authors will give a second presentation about the making of the book on Thursday, April 30, at 6:30 p.m. at The History Center Old Courthouse, 320 S. Fifth Ave. in West Bend. The event is free of charge; hors d'oeuvres will be served and there will be a cash bar. The book also will be available for purchase.

Last week's talk started with the showing of a video which was created by Kewaskum High School student Madelyn Thull, who created it as a senior project. Her teacher, Eric Joslin, was on hand to help with audio and visual technology at the program.

The event was held in the gymnasium at Holy Trinity School. Russell and Janice Oelhafen displayed their private collection of Kewaskum memorabilia along one wall of the gym. It was the first time that the extensive collection has been displayed publicly. The collection contains a rare artifacts from early Kewaskum businesses, as well as antique photos, dishes and trinkets that are exclusively from Kewaskum.

Local resident Tim Stoffel also shared his collection of early farm equipment and Native American points that have been found on his farm. Kewaskum Women's Club scrapbooks also were displayed.

In addition, the foil stamps that were used to create the book cover were set out for people to view. Page proofs and metal plates for the book also were displayed.

Mike Paul, Kewaskum Historical Society volunteer, served as emcee at the book unveiling.

"Mike has been an invaluable resource throughout the entire process of creating the book. He is an expert on the history of Kewaskum and all things Kewaskum," Trautner said.

To create the book, Laatsch and Trautner researched information by visiting government offices, libraries and museums. They read many books and newspapers. They did thousands of online searches. They met with dozens of local residents.

The book contains over 600 photos. The majority of the photos are part of the Kewaskum Historical Society collection, while some belong to private collections.

But not all of the pictures in the book are photographs. Trautner's son, Eddie Trautner, created illustrations for the book.

"He took whatever stories we threw his way and helped bring them to life with his artwork," Laatsch said.

Other people helped with the book as well. A total of 20 people served as proofreaders for the book. Many live in the Kewaskum community, while others contributed from outside the area. The proofreaders range in age from middle school students to senior citizens.

"Each proofreader brought his or her own expertise to the table. Some know a lot about grammar. Some know a lot about Kewaskum's history. They all gave really great feedback on what they read," Laatsch said.

"I was thrilled when I was asked to help with the book. I learned a lot of new things, and had lots of fun learning how a book is made. In my opinion (and many others), this piece of literature is phenomenal," said Taylor Muraski, a middle-school student who was one of the proofreaders.

Proofreaders include: Natalie Cycenas, Wendy Koch Dorn, Aggie Fleischman, Sara Grover, Madison Johnson Hass, Isabel Hayward, Joe Hoerig, Grace Lehner, Grace Marchello, Taylor Muraski, Mike Paul, Jason Piittmann, Betsy Cycenas Preston, Dean Roe, Wayne Rimmel, Tim Stoffel, Sarah Tye, Amy Uhlig, Cathy Weinreich and Jim Westphal.

"This book really was a village-wide effort. Between all the help we got from proofreaders and the information that residents shared, we never could have done this by ourselves. Hundreds of people offered words of encouragement all along the way," Trautner said.

The community helped make the book launch go smoothly as well. The dinner was catered by J.O.'s, and volunteers helped serve the crowd. Diane Schickert, facilities manager for Holy Trinity School and Parish, worked with Laatsch and Trautner to plan the special occasion.

"Diane and her team at Holy Trinity were outstanding. They helped us with anything we needed," Laatsch said.

The dinner and program about the book was held to kick off the village's 125th anniversary celebration. The Kewaskum Historical Society will sponsor other special events throughout the year as well.

Nearly 300 people packed the Holy Trinity gymnasium on March 3 for the Kewaskum Historical Society program held for the release of the book "Kewaskum, Wisconsin: The Making of a Village."

A weekend celebration will be held on Friday, June 12, and Saturday, June 13, at River Hill Park. The celebration will include a parade, music, historical re-enactors, Native American dancers, vendors, fireworks, a 5K Historic Hustle, petting zoo, entertainment, and plenty of food and fun.

The book is being sold for $35, with 100 percent of the proceeds benefiting the Kewaskum Historical Society. The organization maintains a museum and log cabin, as well as an extensive digital collection of photos and documents. Each year, the Kewaskum Historical Society sponsors Early Farm Days for the entire community. Society members also visit local schools to educate students about the village's history through regular classroom and summer school programs in the Kewaskum School District.

Since its release last week, the book has been getting rave reviews on Facebook.

"We picked it up last night and just kind of breezed through it. Now I'm going to start reading it. It is way more than I expected and they did such an awesome job — They hit it out of the park! I'm thinking best seller for sure!" Ruben Oppermann wrote.

"One of the BEST books I ever read, couldn't put it down," Jim Wright commented.

"Fantastic book! What a treasure for the community!" Sara Lehner wrote.

"I love to see the enthusiasm and passion both Aaron and Anne have put into this book and the June event. Congratulations!" the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce posted.

"Amazing job, Aaron and Anne! Great job this evening and appreciate all the hours you spent on the book — great job!" Cindy Shaske wrote.

"Kewaskum now and in the future will be indebted to you for the gift you have given to us!" Aggie Fleischmann added.

"I was expecting

What We Lost Part 2: Old Eden's Natives

By Karl McCarty

"You know the area where the last Indians were? The last Indians were on that road by Bratz's."

That was just one of the many recollections of a Dave Rose interview from July 2019. The way it came out from this elder was just matter of fact: short sentences or fragments.

The style was often and plentiful, just as the recollections streaming from his memory. Perhaps it was just the sheer fact that Mr. Rose was a good story teller. There was something about the way expressions came out of him that made you want to know the next.

Who was the source for Dave? "My mother's uncle, Paul Grahl. Not the one that was Ted Grahl's son. But this Paul Grahl, he knew those Indians. They were in that swamp that's right over in there."

The exact location I didn't have time to clearly document to a tee. With Dave's health fading, we weren't obliged to get in a car and have him point exactly to the spot. We did get out a plat map and he could confirm the last of the natives in the Town of Eden was somewhere in Section 1 or Section 2.

"That's where the last Indians were, before they put 'em on the government reservation — they loaded 'em up."

Importance Of Old Native Stories

This article is part of a series on Native American legends, facts and recollections from the area. It's not exclusive nor will it be finished, but Dave Rose works diligently through family records at his kitchen table last summer.

FEATURE BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

Little Folks School House

Little Folks School House is owned by Dodie Sargent. She brings 36 years of experience, receiving her training at U.N.H. and UW-Milwaukee. The Assistant Director, Jennifer Melzark has 19 years in the field and received her training at Marian College. Along with Dodie and Jennifer are 23 employees.

Little Folks is rated 5 stars by the Wisconsin Youngstar program and Nationally Accredited. The majority of the teachers have two or four year degrees and are dedicated to providing quality childcare.

Dodie provided licensed family childcare from 1983-1997 and opened the group center (Little Folks School House) in 1997 in the Town of Wayne. After outgrowing the Wayne building, they built a bigger center in Kewaskum which opened in 2006. There are five classrooms, three age separated fenced playgrounds, a coded secured entry and camera monitored classrooms. They also provide before and after school care at Little Folks and Kewaskum Elementary School. Little Folks also serves as a teaching center for Moraine Park Technical College. Students are placed with them every semester for their practicum experience where the Little Folks teachers mentor them.

Little Folks strives to form working partnerships with families. They respect the parent's insights and concerns and want them to feel comfortable leaving their children in their care, knowing they will be safe and nurtured as they help to develop and grow.

it has become quite clear that many locals are unsure of the native legacy to the area.

In addition, it is the hope that more stories of the past will come forward, as we are broaching a point when some of the last native stories are dying. Those who are 80 to 90 years old and raised on farms in the area have heard stories about settler-to-native communication.

For those elders still alive, it was their grandparents and some parents who saw the last natives in the late 1800s or early 1900s. If we don't document such stories, we lose a huge tie to the past. Dave Rose is an example of providing such a link, and the hope is to find more to document.

Paul Grahl

"He told me that he knew the Indians there. This Uncle Paul Grahl married a Perron, he was 49 or 50 years old. He married Elsie Perron."

When one reads this it's important to take into account how Dave told stories, as they were in bits. And things come to mind, which turns into phrases, and more importantly interesting details. Although it may not read smooth, if you knew Dave's voice you can appreciate the layers his stories polished.

When Dave told the story of Paul Grahl's background, it should be noted that he chose his words carefully, but did not censor. He mentioned the 50 years in Paul's age, as Dave's storytelling implied Paul Grahl was judged heavily by some at the time. In fact, if you go to findagrave.com, one will notice Elsie's obit. She married Paul Grahl in 1923 around the age of 33; by then Paul was about 47.

It's in this context that Dave stammered during the interview: "People thought," and added after self-reflection: "I don't know what people thought. The guy." Dave stopped and redirected the story: "He had money." He paused, then defended Paul and presented the story as if who are we to judge, as Dave added, "They had a good life together."

This story of Paul Grahl's background doesn't have a lot of detail, and comes across as more a testament to Dave. When he told his stories, he did not make fun of others. It was as though he saw the people we met in life as a collection of characters, and they make our lives way more interesting.

In one part of this interview, he laughed about two farmers in Eden who acted as if they hated each other all the time — but were more than willing to be best friends when they had to hitch a ride to the tavern. Just interesting. Funny. But Dave was never patronizing. He thoroughly enjoyed narrating local history.

What We Lost Part 2: Old Eden's Natives

In this context, the way he told the story of his great Uncle Paul was not to tease, but rather to appreciate a link of history for a man who had been dead since mid-century. And if he married a woman who was quite younger, who cares. Just respect people's private decisions.

Dave finished explaining that when Paul and Elsie were married, they did not farm. "They lived in Eden. They lived where," he paused, "You know where the bank building is there in Eden? Well, there's a garage over there, that first house over there. That was Paul Grahl's."

He could remember when Paul died. Heart attack. "We come home from church, and then they said that they found him dead." He was the last one who saw the last Natives Americans of Eden, Dave said.

Uncle Paul's Story

Paul Grahl, Dave said, "That's the original Paul Grahl. He was my mother's uncle." And he owned the farm in the vicinity of Sections 1 & 2 of Eden Township in the early 1900s. The family research on the Grahl family Dave provided showed that Heinrich and Wilhelmina had a photo taken in front of their farm house for their 50th anniversary, and, "Thru the years this farm was owned by Paul Grahl, John Grahl, Anton Goebel, and Greg Halbur." A plat map of Eden from around 1930 indicates a "J. Grahl" owning 117 acres in Section 117 of the township. However, this was a substantial cut in property when Paul's dad Heinrich owned more land into Section 2 in the 1890s.

So prior to sometime before moving to Eden, Paul farmed out by the north east corner of the Eden Township.

Dave wasn't sure on the exact timing of those natives. "He was a boy. Or a young guy. He was farming over there." Dave affirmed the natives were somewhere in the "Henry [Heinrich] Grahl vicinity." If Paul was a boy at the time of the Native American story, he'd be four by 1880. If he was farming over there as a young adult, the story seems to be, at latest 1910.

Dave was clear that Paul Grahl's story was not in the sense that he only heard Indians were there, but rather that "he was in contact with 'em." He dug deep into his memory. Did Dave remember what contact Paul had with those Indians? "I don't know how he was able to talk to them. But he interacted with them somehow.

And he felt bad — you know, that they were moving the Indians out. Cause jeez, them Indians, they treated them terrible. Put 'em on those reservations."

When pressed how long a conversation Paul Grahl had with those natives, Dave could not confirm how often Paul talked with them, but concluded there was a lasting impression on his mom's uncle.

"He was in contact with them. I don't know how he could have communicated with them. The language must have been somewhat different, or if the Indians must have been here long enough where they acquired some of the language." We are left to wonder if this meant the natives understood some type of German or English.

Was there sign language used? Or did some of the locals understand some of the native tongue. There was no mention of the tribe name of the last natives of Eden in this story.

Dave reflected on Paul compared to neighbors. "See, I think most of the farmers wanted them Indians out of there."

"And he was, I guess different about it — I don't know what," as Dave paused about the unorthodox position for Paul's time. He then added: "I don't know what brought that attitude to where he was." There was a connection there between Paul Grahl and those natives that was rare, and real.

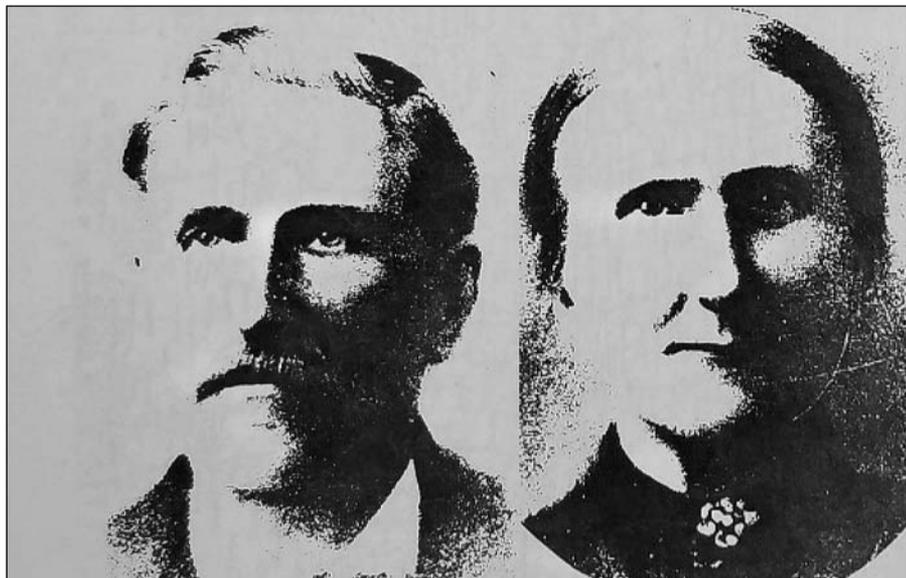

There were a lot of questions left unanswered more than a century after the actual event. How were these natives rounded up in Eden? And who exactly told them it was time to leave: military or some form of police? How did these Native Americans respond to the order? What did they think as they left Eden for the last time? What did they call it besides Eden?

Then again, there are other arguments that they were not native indigenous people to the area, but rather people who had been from other regions out east and were on the move for years. For example, maybe they weren't Menominee or Ojibwe from Wisconsin. Indeed, who exactly where they?

What would Paul Grahl say today if he was alive? Ooh... if we could only ask him. What is certain is gratitude that Dave Rose passed on a story about the Native Americans who lived in Old Eden. Hopefully we can find more stories.

Either way, it gets us thinking about who was here before "us." More importantly, was Dave Rose's keen conclusion that we lost something in the Eden area that was significant. We are left to ponder the consequences.

Dave Rose was intertwined with Eden history, and probably the number one reason was his lineage to the Grahls. Over a copy of an 1893 plat of Eden Dave said: "Here's the originals. These are the ones that came over, Heinrich Grahl and Wilhelmina Grahl." Dave said once Heinrich got over here, they called him Henry.

Heinrich Grahl and Wilhelmina Grahl had nine sons and one daughter, but Dave said he only had records on seven sons and the daughter, as he believed the couple might have had two babies born in Germany who died in infancy. There was a time lapse from when they were married to the birth of the first son, of which I think Dave meant the first son born in the United States. Therefore his records for these Grahl children allowed enough time for two babies who might have died in Germany but were not counted in existing records.

There was a sense of pride when Dave was explaining his lineage. It made one wonder what it was like for Heinrich & Wilhelmina to leave deceased children behind, and start anew in Eden. As Dave said: "Well, I've made Eden a legend. Because I contend that Eden is at the center of the universe. You know, the thing that we found out from Eden: You can go anyplace in the world. That makes it pretty important. Isn't it?" He smiled. Laughed and waited for me to realize it was a joke. Then matter-of-factly punctuated: "From Eden, you can go anyplace in the world."

At least Heinrich & Wilhelmina proved you could be from anyplace in the world and get to Eden. They apparently were from Pomerania, but specifically northeast of Stetin, which is now in Poland. Dave considered them German. However, Germany wasn't really unified until the 1870s. In many cases, it's more important to label family roots by regions in Europe. Today they'd be Polish. In the 1900s they'd likely be German; but they are always Pomeranian.

They celebrated a 50th Anniversary on the homestead. Their kids documented in the U.S. had births which spanned from 1862 to 1880, the last child being Julius. Their son Paul was born in 1876, and thus was a later birth in the family. This might explain some of the extra years of life that got him to the mid-1900s to share the Native American story with Dave. Julius and Paul's brother was Ernest Grahl (1868-1925), who had a daughter Marie, who married William Rose and together had the Dave interviewed here. In regard to Dave's grandpa Ernest: "He died before I was born." It was cancer around Christmas. In those days for a funeral, "The undertaker would come out, and they prepared the body, and they buried him. He's buried out in Empire Cemetery too."

Weathered hands of Dave Rose touch a copy of a 1890s plat map of Eden, as his flashlight points closer to where the last natives of Eden were. He sat down for an interview in July 2019. Despite his health, he was happy to discuss one of the loves of his life: Eden.

Although it is hard to pinpoint exactly where the last Native Americans of Eden township settled, Dave Rose was positive that it was in the vicinity of Sections 1 & 2 of the Town of Eden. The map above corroborates when Paul Grahl, son of Heinrich (Henry) & Wilhelmina Grahl likely saw the natives.

Indians Use Strong Defense, Scoring spurts To Beat Berlin For A Third Time

By Judy Harlow

In recent games, the Kewaskum boys basketball team has been hanging its hat on defense, and it did so again March 3 in a D-2 tournament game against Berlin. The Indians held the visitors to just nine points in the first half en route to a 41-26 victory.

"I told the boys this time of year it's all about moving on," KHS coach Don Gruber said after the victory, his first in the post season and the team's third over Berlin this season.

Seniors Joshua Bocher and Ty Cook came up with big games for the Indians, who are now 11-12 on the year. Bocher scored a game-high 18 points, hauled down eight rebounds, had two blocked shots and four assists. Among his baskets were a slam dunk midway in the second half and an impressive rebound basket after a miss by his brother, John Mark Bocher.

Cook added 11 points; the most important was a baseline jumper with 6:06 remaining after Berlin scored eight straight points, cutting the Indians' lead to five at 27-22.

Bocher and Cook also provided back-to-back three-point plays late in the game to push a 31-24 lead into a more comfortable 37-24 advantage.

"I think we had some timely rebounds, and Ty hit that shot from the baseline," Gruber said about the point in the game when he felt more secure about getting the victory.

Reserve Isaiah Cochran also helped toward the win with his back-to-back three-point goals in the first half to give the Indians a little confidence after some sluggish offensive possessions. His six points stretched a 10-4 lead to 16-4 before Berlin closed out the first half with baskets from Ryan Bartol (a three-pointer) and Kobe Krebs.

Freshman Antoine Coleman-Thull was a target of Berlin's defense, especially in the first half when he never got off a shot. "It's tough to score in the paint against Berlin," Gruber said, noting when Coleman-Thull did get the ball, "There were three guys on him."

Berlin, which ended its season at 4-19, was led by Bartol, who hit 16 points, while Trevor Boening was next high with four.

"You could see both teams were nervous trying to shoot the ball," Gruber said.

Josh Bocher shot well, hitting seven of 14 tries and Cook was 5x9, but two other starters combined to go 1 for 14 from the field.

This was the final home game for the five seniors, Joshua, John Mark and Joseph Bocher, Cook, Toree Ralph and Cochran. All scored except Ralph.

Lady Indians Battle Hard To The End, But Come Up Short In Sectional Semi-Final Game

By Judy Harlow

During the warmups before the March 5 Kewaskum-Sheboygan Falls girls D-2 sectional semifinal basketball game, it would have been hard not to notice the Falcons' post player, 6-foot, 2-inch Emma Wollert, and 5-5 Madeline Specht, who was making shot after shot from the outside. Then there were their six senior teammates listed in the program.

A combination of the three earned Sheboygan Falls a slim 41-39 victory over the Indians in a game that could have been described as a 400-meter sprint to the finish.

The Indians got out of the blocks fast, Falls gaining ground and taking a good lead at the midpoint and staying in the lead on the backstretch. Kewaskum came back, putting together an impressive spurt that put the Indians in front before the Falcons regained the lead and leaned into the finish line with a slim advantage.

"The big kid (Wollert) only had 14 points. If you would have told me before the game she gets 14, we would have been in a good spot," a heart-broken KHS coach Russell Thull said after watching his team's dream season come to an end.

"We were trying to help out on her, but you pick your poison," Thull said about one possession when an Indian defender went to double up on Wollert. "Then they (Specht) hit the big three," to break a 35-all tie and go ahead 38-35 with 1:56 remaining.

Kewaskum started out fast, using two three-point bombs by Maxine Paulowske, a drive by Paulowske and a successful move inside by Annie Christiansen to jump out front 10-3.

With 2:11 remaining in the half, Wollert swished a pair of free throws to draw even with the Indians at 16-all. The score was also tied at 18-18, Then Specht gave the Falcons their first lead by two free throws with 13 seconds to go.

While the score was close, the number of fouls called on each team was not. Somehow KHS was whistled for 10 fouls the first 18:00 while the Falcons had only three calls on them.

About the second half, Thull said, "We didn't shoot well from the outside." Thull said this was especially noticeable in the early stages of the second half when the Indians went several minutes without scoring, either because of misses or turnovers.

With the score at 22-28, Thull called a timeout to calm his troops. When play resumed, KHS missed a couple extra chances to score after the Falcons were called for a travel and threw away the ball.

Slowly Sheboygan Falls worked into a 31-22 advantage, and it was here the Indians put together an impressive and exciting 11-0 run. First Morgan Adams got the lid off the basket with a three-pointer, then Madilyn Dogs made two free throws and followed them up with a drive for a layup, making the score 29-31 with 5:35 remaining.

Momentum was changing, and the energized Indians were making every possession count. After Specht missed the front end of a bonus, Kewaskum came down the court, moved the ball around and Christenson drilled a perfect pass to Dogs under the basket. It was up and in, and the score was tied at 31 with 5:00 to go.

The Falcons became very deliberate, moving the ball back and forth before finally missing two shots, and the Indians got the rebound. The ball went to Paulowske on the wing, she saw a little opening and drove the right baseline for a basket and a 33-31 KHS lead.

The Falcons missed on their next shot, but the Indians threw away the ball, and then Wollert was successful on a drive, tying the score for a third time (33-33). Two free throws by Morgan Adams put KHS ahead 35-33, and Kennedy Adams nearly stole the ball. She tapped it away but was unable to save it from going out of bounds.

Falls got the ball into Wollert, who scored and was fouled on the play (35-35). She missed the free throw, but Kewaskum lost the ball and Specht made perhaps the biggest shot of the game from beyond arc on the right wing.

Two free throws by Kennedy Adams drew the Indians within one (38-37), then Specht made one of two free throws with :38 to go and two more with :12.4 left for a 41-37 lead.

KHS set up a play but Kaitlyn Leitheiser's three-pointer rimmed out. The Indians got the ball back, however, and Dogs was fouled with :03.9 to go. She made both free throws, cutting the Falcons' lead to two. KHS got a steal on the inbound pass. Kennedy Adams appeared to be fouled as she shot at the buzzer, but there was no call.

About the 11-point run, Thull said, "It gave me the chills a little bit when we tied it at 31. He admitted he was optimistic at that point.

Thull tipped his hat to the Falcons. "They won 20 games (this season) for a reason," he said. "They're a tough defensive team."

About the Indians, who finished 20-5, finishing second in the East Central Conference, setting a new school record for wins and getting to the sectionals, Thull said, "The way this team came together ... I've never seen anything like it. It started with the seniors, Megan Winkler, Kate Leitheiser and Max (Paulowske), the leadership they gave this team ..."

He continued, "There was no hierarchy ... We were just a team." Thull noted that sometimes in sports, there's a lot of drama. "Not with us. Not with us at all."

Paulowske ended the game with 14 points, giving her a total of 1,164 in her career, good for second highest in the school's history.

KHS Boys Bow Out Of Tournament At Laconia; Finish With 11-13 Record

By Judy Harlow

Kewaskum's high scorers, John Mark Bocher and Joshua Bocher, matched the numbers of Laconia's Reed Gunnick and Eli Leonard, but the Indians got only seven points from the other players in their March 5 Division 3 regional semifinal game, resulting in a 49-34 loss to the host Spartans.

Laconia moved on to the finals, falling to second-seeded Columbus by a score of 60-55, while Kewaskum's season concluded with an 11-13 record.

"I think Laconia beat us up on the boards," KHS coach Don Gruber said. "They got quite a few second chances on us."

Kewaskum led by three points at intermission, and it could have been a six-point advantage had Jack Walters not connected on a three-point basket just before the buzzer sounded. Gruber said Laconia had missed a shot but came up with an offensive rebound and got the ball to Walters, who hit his only basket of the night from beyond the arc.

"It just carried over to the second half," Gruber said, reporting the Spartans took control, outscoring the Indians 29-11. "They were up seven or nine points most of the way."

He continued, "I thought we played a pretty good game as far as turnovers (totals), and we played good defense. You are not going to win many games scoring 34 points."

The outside shooting woes were evident just like they were in the victory over Berlin, and similarly, the Spartans "weren't going to let us work the ball inside."

Two of the three Bocher triplets ended their careers on high notes. John Mark Bocher tallied 16 points to match the total put up by the Spartans' big man, Gunnick. Josh, who missed 10 games because of an ankle injury, chipped in with 11 points. "Josh started off pretty fast. He blocked a couple of shots," Gruber said.

What hurt Kewaskum's offense was shooting too early in possessions, according to Gruber, who said his team was not able to get any fast break opportunities.

The 11 wins is the most by a Kewaskum team in at least 20 years. The 1915-16 team and the 1910-11 teams both recorded 10 victories. "We had three, three-game win streaks this year, but we couldn't get over the hump and get four or five," Gruber said, certain that would have been a different story had Josh Bocher been healthy all season.

Two East Central Conference teams, Kettle Moraine Lutheran and Waupun, are still alive in the Division 3 field. Waupun, which nipped Ripon 44-42, plays Columbus at Oshkosh North while the KML Chargers take on Brown Deer at Brown Deer on March 12 in sectional semifinal games.

NOTICE TO ALL
WASHINGTON COUNTY
DOG OWNERS

Pursuant to Section 174.052, Wisconsin Statutes, notice is hereby given to all owners of dogs in Washington County that dog licenses and rabies vaccinations are required.

Vaccination by a licensed veterinarian against rabies is required of all dogs (Section 95.21(2)) within 30 days after the dog reaches 4 months of age and revaccinated within one year after the initial vaccination. The owner of a dog shall have the dog revaccinated against rabies by a veterinarian when the certificate expires or within three (3) years of previous vaccination. The certificate of rabies vaccination must be presented to the collecting official before a dog license may be issued.

All dogs five (5) months of age or older require a license. The minimum license fee for neutered males or spayed females is $3.00, upon presentation of evidence attesting to the same, and $8.00 for the unneutered male or unspayed female dog or one-half of these amounts if the dog became five (5) months of age after July 1, of the license year. The governing body of any town, village, or city may raise the minimum dog license tax. Any person who keeps multiple dogs or operates a kennel may apply for a multiple dog license. The fee is $35.00 for twelve (12) dogs or less and additional $3.00 for each dog in excess of twelve (12).

Dog licenses may be obtained from your local town, village or city treasurer or designee during the course of any given year. Dog owners should notify their treasurer if their dog is given away or has died, so that you will not be considered delinquent. An affidavit of death is available.

PENALTY

Every owner of a dog 5 months of age or older who fails to obtain a license by April 1, will be assessed a late fee of $5.00.

ORDINANCE NO. 20-01

ORDINANCE TO REPEAL AND
RECREATE SECTION
14-331
OF THE MUNICIPAL
CODE SUMP PUMP
DISCHARGE PIPING

Section 1. That Section 14-331 of Chapter 14 of the Municipal Code of the Village of Kewaskum, relating to Sump Pump Regulations is hereby repealed and recreated as follows:

(1) DEFINITIONS. As used in this section:

(a) Sump Pump Discharge means all clear water discharged from a sump or other source which is pumped or otherwise channeled across real estate, greenway, or terrace area piping. Generally to the storm water system.

(2) RESTRICTIONS. Except as otherwise provided in this section, where existing sump and storm water drainage lines exist, all sump pump discharges shall be connected directly to a storm sewer by means of an underground closed pipe. Where storm laterals are not present, upon review, permission may be granted to discharge sump pump storm water into open curb and gutter.

Permission may be granted based on criteria such as, existing topography, alternative options available, and any other site specific conditions which may justify the installation. Sump pump discharge piping shall not lie across public sidewalk or the surface of the street terrace area.

(3) PROHIBITED. Sanitary sewer discharges. The connection of roof downspouts, sump pump discharges, exterior foundation drains, area drains or other sources of surface run off or ground water to a building sewer or drain which discharges directly to a public sanitary sewer is prohibited. The connection of roof down spouts, or other sources of direct surface run off discharge is prohibited to the sump pump discharge piping system.

(4) TIME FOR CONNECTION.

(a) New construction connections.

1. Where storm sewer lateral is available. The sump pump discharge line shall be connected prior to building occupancy. This requirement may be waived by the Public Works Committee on written request of the property owner, for good cause shown. Any request must be written and submitted with the building permit application.

2. Failure to comply with connection requirement shall be viewed as a violation with fines applied.

(b) Existing building connections.

1. In the event of a new installation, or underground piping becoming available, existing sump pump discharge lines shall be connected within 45 days of the lateral being available. This requirement may be waived by the Public Works Committee on written request of the property owner, for good cause shown.

(5) INSTALLATION REQUIREMENTS. All laterals on private property shall conform to COMM 82.36, Wis. Adm. Code. The sump pump lateral material shall be PVC Schedule 40 pipe and fittings with a minimum diameter of 4 inches, or schedule 80 piping will be permitted. Installation shall be made by a licensed plumber following plumbing permit issuance, and must be inspected by the Village. The Director of Public Works shall determine lateral locations on street reconstruction projects.

(6) DEVELOPMENT COST. The developer constructing a new street shall pay for the installation of laterals, where determined necessary through engineering review, from the storm sewer system, (including down the greenway or terrace), and to each lot, to the right-of-way line. Requirements will be part of the engineering review of the subdivision. This requirement also applies to PUD, planned unit developments.

(7) MAINTENANCE / REPLACEMENT COST. The property owner shall be responsible for any and all cost of maintenance, repairs, or replacement of the sump pump discharge line. This includes the cost of connecting to the piping in the greenway or terrace area, leading to discharge in a catch basin or storm sewer main. The Village is responsible for maintaining the piping in the greenway/terrace area in the public right-of-way.

(a) In the event that the Village makes repairs, performs maintenance, hires a contractor or performs any other service, property owners shall be billed their portion of the costs.

(b) When work is completed the village will prepare and mail an invoice to the registered property owner as shown on current tax records. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the work being completed, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such special charge, including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

(8) RIGHT OF ENTRY, IDENTIFICATION AND COMPLIANCE.

(a) Right of entry. The village building inspector or other duly authorized employee of the village, bearing proper credentials and photo identification, shall be permitted, at all reasonable times, to enter all properties with a sanitary sewer connection for inspection, observation or testing for the purposes set forth in this section.

(b) Identification, right to enter easements. The village building inspector or other duly authorized employee of the village, bearing proper credentials and photo identification, shall be permitted to enter easements for the purpose of, but not limited to, inspection, observation, measurement, sampling, repair and maintenance of any portion of the sewage works lying within said easement, all subject to the terms, if any, of this duly negotiated easement.

(c) Compliance. The property owner will be provided 30 days to comply with any compliance deficiencies. Reinspection will be performed after 30 days to verify satisfactory compliance.

(9) ENFORCEMENT. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be fined $25.00 for each separate violation. Each day in which a violation continues may be deemed a separate offense. This section shall not preclude the Village from enforcing compliance with this ordinance by any other means. The building inspector, after providing written notice to the owner, shall assess the fine.

(Code 1983, § 15.07; Ord. No. 08-04, § 1, 10-20-08; Ord. No. 09-07, §§ 1, 2, 10-5-09)

Section 2. Severability. The several sections of this Ordinance are declared to be severable. If any section or portion thereof shall be declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful or unenforceable, such decision shall apply only to the specific section or portion thereof directly specified in the decision, and shall not affect the validity of any other provisions, sections or portions thereof of the Ordinance. The remainder of the Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect. Any other Ordinances whose terms are in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed as to those terms that conflict.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall take effect immediately upon passage and publication as provided by law.

Passed and adopted by the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, this 2nd day of March, 2020.

58-117 & 58-118
OF THE MUNICIPAL
CODE MAINTENANCE OF PROPERTY, COST OF CUTTING AND
REMOVING TREES,
REMOVAL OF DEAD
WOOD, DISPOSAL OF TREES

THE VILLAGE BOARD OF THE VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM, WASHINGTON COUNTY, WISCONSIN, DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That Section 58-78, 58-114, 58-117 & 58-118 of Chapter 58 of the Municipal Code of the Village of Kewaskum, relating to Nuisances is hereby repealed and recreated as follows:

Sec. 58-78. - Maintenance of property.

(a) Duty of owner. All owners of lots, parcels and tracts of land within the village shall keep their property in a safe, clean and presentable condition and shall remove all surplus grass, saplings, weeds and other growth and all trash and rubbish and fill in all excavations and hazardous depressions thereon. Grass clippings and other waste produced by yard maintenance shall not be deposited in the streets. Maintenance criteria is based on the following property descriptions:

(1) No person shall permit on any property with completed building(s) and landscaping, referred to as improved properties in this section, owned, leased or occupied by him or upon any sidewalk abutting the same, any weeds or grass to grow to a height of over six inches from the ground. Saplings, bushes, and hedges shall be maintained at a reasonable height.

(2) No person shall permit on any vacant infill lot owned by him or upon any sidewalk abutting the same, any weeds or grass to grow to a height of over 12 inches from the ground. Vegetation within 20 feet of a public or private street, alley, and within ten feet of adjacent improved property shall be maintained not to exceed six inches from the ground. Saplings, bushes, and hedges shall be maintained at a reasonable height.

(3) No person shall permit on consecutive vacant lots owned by him or upon any sidewalk abutting the same, any weeds or grass to grow to a height of over six inches from the ground within 20 feet of any public or private street, alley, and within ten feet of adjacent improved property. The areas on the property beyond the required maintenance perimeter shall be evaluated from time-to-time and maintenance may be required as deemed necessary by the zoning administrator or director of public works. Saplings, bushes, and hedges shall be maintained at a reasonable height.

(b) Notice; time for compliance. Whenever it shall appear to the designee of the Village Administrator that any lot, tract or parcel of land within the village is in such condition due to overgrowth of grass, saplings, underbrush and weeds in excess of the criteria listed in this section, he shall give notice to such person who appears to be the owner of such property, according to the records of the village, at the address specified on such records. Such notice shall be given by certified mail with return receipt requested, to the effect that the lot, tract or parcel of land belonging to such person presents a condition the continuation of which is contrary to the public health, safety or welfare of the inhabitants of the village, and that unless the condition is remedied within five days from the date of the notice, the village will undertake to correct the conditions by whatever means may be necessary and will charge the expense thereof against such owner. If any subsequent violation occurs within a 12-month period of first violation, no further notice is required.

(c) Charge for work done by village. If it becomes necessary for the village to do the work to put the property in safe and sanitary condition, the following charges shall be made: mowing, trimming shrubbery, raking, removal of debris, and other miscellaneous work shall be charged on the basis of time consumed to do the work times the hourly rate of the number of employees required plus the equipment hourly rate. In addition, a twenty percent handling fee shall be included for staff time.

(d) Penalty for noncompliance. In addition to the other costs of having the village perform property maintenance the police shall issue a citation if the lawn is not cut when the five-day period of notice expires. If any subsequent violation occurs within a 12-month period of first citation the subsequent citations will escalate as defined in section 1-11.

PUBLIC NOTICES

(e) Cost assessment. The administrator shall keep an itemized list of expenses and penalties of doing such work, and the costs thereof shall become a special charge against the property. The Village shall, upon completion of the work, send a bill to the registered owner as shown on current tax records for the costs thereof; and if the costs be not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the work being completed, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such special charge including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

(Code 1983, §§ 10.03, 17.20; Ord. No. 10-08, § 1, 8-2-10; Ord. No. 14-05, § 1, 7-21-14)

Sec. 58-114. - Cost of cutting and removing trees.

(a) Private property. If an examination made as provided in section 58-113, or made at the request of the owner, discloses that the tree has Dutch elm disease, the chief of police shall give notice to the owner, at his last known address, to have such diseased tree cut down within 15 days of such notice. If the owner does not cut down the diseased tree within 15 days after notice is given, such tree shall be cut down and destroyed on order of the chief of police. The Village will prepare and mail an invoice to the registered property owner as shown on current tax records. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the clearing or treating of the sidewalk, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such charge including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

(b) Tree lawns. The cost of cutting down any tree located on a tree lawn (more particularly described as the area between a sidewalk and a curb) pursuant to notice, shall be borne half by the village and half by the owner thereof. Where such a tree is located on private property, the owner shall bear the entire cost of cutting down a tree pursuant to notice. The Village will prepare and mail an invoice to the registered property owner as shown on current tax records. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the clearing or treating of the sidewalk, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such charge including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

(c) Stump removal. The cost of stump removal from tree lawns or on private property shall be borne 100 percent by the property owner.

(Code 1983, §

10.06(4), (8))
Sec. 58-117. - Removal of dead wood.

Each owner of real estate in the village shall cause all dead wood to be removed from every elm tree on his real estate and disposed of. If it appears to any village employee that there is dead wood in any elm tree on private property in the village, the clerk shall give notice to the owner to remove such dead wood. If such dead wood has not been removed within 15 days after such notice is given, village employees shall remove the same and dispose of it. The Village will prepare and mail an invoice to the registered property owner as shown on current tax records. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the clearing or treating of the sidewalk, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such charge including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

Section 2. Severability. The several sections of this Ordinance are declared to be severable. If any section or portion thereof shall be declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful or unenforceable, such decision shall apply only to the specific section or portion thereof directly specified in the decision, and shall not affect the validity of any other provisions, sections or portions thereof of the Ordinance. The remainder of the Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect. Any other Ordinances whose terms are in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed as to those terms that conflict.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall take effect immediately upon passage and publication as provided by law.

ORDINANCE NO. 20-03

ORDINANCE TO REPEAL AND RECREATE SECTION 82-6, 82-203, 82-206 & 82-208 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE SNOW & ICE REMOVAL AND SIDEWALK MAINTENANCE

THE VILLAGE BOARD OF THE VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM, WASHINGTON

COUNTY, WISCONSIN, DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That Section 82-6, 82-203, 82-206 & 82-208 of Chapter 82 of the Municipal Code of the Village of Kewaskum, relating to Snow & Ice Removal and Sidewalk Maintenance is hereby repealed and recreated as follows:

Sec. 82-6. - Snow and ice removal.

(a) Sidewalks to be kept clear. The owner or occupant of any lot or lands within the village abutting upon a public street along the line of which a sidewalk shall have been constructed shall, whenever such sidewalk shall be encumbered with snow or ice, clear the same therefrom within 24 hours after cessation of each storm. If it is impossible or impractical to remove the ice therefrom, he shall treat the same with sand, cinders, ashes, salt or some other substance continuously until removed so that such sidewalk will not be slippery or dangerous to pedestrians. If any such owner or occupant fails to remove such snow or ice from such sidewalk or to treat such ice within 24 hours after cessation of each storm, a designee of the Village Administrator may do so; and the expense of such removal or treatment shall become a special charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in subsection (c). After the second occurrence of sidewalks not treated within the 24 hour time period, the homeowner will receive a citation. The charges for such snow or ice removal shall be periodically established by the village board.

(b) Snow not to be deposited in streets. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises on the sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the village without a permit from the director of public works, who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the village for the cost of removal of the snow. The expense of such removal or treatment shall become a special charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in subsection (c).

(c) Assessment of cost. After clearing or treating any such sidewalk as provided in this section, a designee of the Village Administrator shall file with the Village Clerk/Treasurer a written report or electronic communication containing the address or lot number of such lot or tract charged and the amount of the expense chargeable to the same. The Village will prepare and mail an invoice to the registered property owner as shown on current tax records. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the clearing or treating of the sidewalk, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such charge including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

(Code 1983, § 8.09; Ord. No. 12-01, § 1, 1-9-12)

Sec. 82-203. - Complaints.

Information received regarding hazardous sidewalk conditions in the village right-of-way at a specific location will be transferred to the public works department.

A sidewalk inspection will be performed within five working days of the complaint, and the property owner(s) for the address(es) in which the hazard is at will be notified and given 30 days to repair the sidewalk. If the complaint is based upon someone having tripped and fallen, the property owner will be given 20 working days to begin repairs. In addition, a sidewalk inspection will be performed in the general area for defects and notification sent accordingly. A guideline for the "general area" is the block face involved with the initial complaint.

Following the inspection of a property, if defects are found, a sidewalk repair notice will be created, stating the date of inspection, legal property description, and a description of the hazardous condition. Property owners will be given a maximum of 30 days, with extension as granted by the public works foreman (ref. Sec. 82-206) upon property owner request, to make repairs. If the property owner does not make the repairs village contracted crews will perform the repair work.

Sec. 82-206. - Time extensions.

Requests for extensions will be granted by the public works foreman if reasonable cause exists. The following conditions may cause the public works foreman to grant extended time, more than 30 days, to property owners to make sidewalk repairs:

(a) New property owner. When the previous owner did not disclose the initial sidewalk inspection report stating there was a hazardous sidewalk to repair/replace to the new property owner who acquired the property.

(b) Legal questions. When there are legal questions/matters concerning ownership, responsibility, property lines, etc., extensions may be granted until legal questions have been answered.

(c) Plans for construction/remodeling. When the village right-of-way area of posted properties will be affected by construction and/or remodeling plans. In some cases, temporary repairs may be required before the extension is granted.

(d) Unavailability of contractors. (Ord. No. 16-11, § 1, 12-12-16)

Sec. 82-208. - Village repair.

(a) The goal of the sidewalk maintenance program is to repair sidewalks, driveway approaches, corners, and curbs in the village right-of-way. The village is responsible for sidewalk repair and replacement of hazardous sidewalks abutting to property owned and/or maintained by the village.

PUBLIC NOTICES

(b) The village shall repair/replace hazardous sidewalks when a property owner has not taken the appropriate steps to remedy the hazard within the time limits set in this document, or when a property owner has requested the village to make the repairs and bill them.

(c) When the original notices for sidewalk defects have been sent to the property owners, they have 30 days to repair/replace the hazardous sidewalks (unless someone has already tripped, when they shall have only 20 days). If the property owner fails to repair/replace the sidewalk within those 30 days, unless an extension has been issued, the village will then begin the process of having the hazardous sidewalks repaired/replaced.

(d) The repair fees are calculated to recover all direct costs, a twenty percent handling fee shall be included for staff time.

When repairs have been completed the village will prepare and mail an invoice to the registered property owner as shown on current tax records. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on November 1 following the work being completed, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such special charge, including interest in the general tax roll of the village.

(Ord. No. 16-11, § 1, 12-12-16)

Section 2. Severability. The several sections of this Ordinance are declared to be severable. Early Spring Preparation For A Beautiful Summer Garden

MELINDA MYERS

As winter fades into spring, gardeners can't wait to get busy in the garden. Pruning, cutting back perennials and ornamental grasses and preparing the garden for spring planting are just a few of the tasks. Keep yourself and the pollinators overwintering in your garden safe as you start the cleanup process.

Always prune with a purpose. Start by removing any damaged and diseased stems from shrubs and roses. Watch for insects like swallowtail butterflies that overwinter in protective cocoons and the egg masses of some like the hairstreak butterflies. Prevent problems by destroying overwintering non-native pests like the gypsy moth. Search the internet and insect books for help identifying the good and bad guys you may find in your landscape.

Additional pruning may be needed to manage the size and shape or encourage better flowering and bark color. Wait to prune spring flowering shrubs like lilacs and forsythia if you want maximum flowering. Prune these shrubs right after flowering before they set their floral buds for next spring.

Keep yourself safe by wearing safety glasses and gloves. It's too easy to focus on the task and end up with a stick in the eye. Heavy duty gloves protect and support your hands, allowing you to garden longer with less stress, scratches and bruises. Consider synthetic leather gauntlet style gloves like Foxgloves extra protection gloves (foxgloves inc.com) that protect hands and forearms from harm yet are supple enough to allow you to work efficiently. The breathable fabric is durable, machine washable and puncture resistant.

Lightly rake any debris off the lawn and add it to the compost pile. Check for damage and lightly tamp any disturbed areas back in place. Reseed bare spots so grass, not weeds, fill in these spots.

Brush leaves off the crowns of perennials but leave the rest in place for insects that spend winter or summer in the leaf litter. Plus, the leaves help preserve moisture, suppress weeds and improve the soil as they break down.

Pull mulch away from tree trunks and shrub crowns that may have shifted over winter. Keeping mulch off the stems reduces the risk of future problems that can lead to decline and even death of the plants.

Leave perennials and grasses stand as long as possible since many are homes for beneficial insects. Bundle grasses for easy cutting and removal. Once cut, loosely stack or stand perennial stems and grasses at the edge of the garden or natural spaces. This allows any insects still present to safely emerge when it's time to move to their summer homes. Plus, birds will appreciate the easy access to nesting material.

Enjoy the changing of the seasons and the beauty of nature hidden among the plants in your garden. Protect yourself

When pruning, start by removing the damaged and diseased stems of shrubs and roses and wear heavy duty gloves to keep yourself free from scratches.

when preparing the garden for spring so you won't lose time recovering from injuries. And keeping the pollinators and other beneficial insects safe will improve your garden's health and productivity throughout the growing seasons.

Theresa American Legion St. Patrick's Day Dance To Feature Jon Dietz And The Twin Lakes Trio

Theresa American Legion Post #270 will host a St. Patrick's Day dance on Saturday, March 14, from 1-5 p.m., at the Mayville Park Pavilion, located at 475 Park St. in Mayville.

Music will be provided by Jon Dietz & the Twin Lakes Trio of Slinger, and sponsored by Don Ramon Mexican Restaurant and Schmidt Farms of Theresa. The event is supported by Chuck's Lawn Service of Theresa.

Cost is $10 for adults and $5 for students, ages 18 and younger. Food and beverages will be available inside the handicapped accessible venue overlooking the Rock River.

Jon formed his band, The Twin Lakes Trio with two friends from school in Montgomery, Minn. as a talent contest entry for the FFA, earning its way to a second place finish at the state contest. When trying to think of a name for their group they looked to one of their favorite places nearby, a pair of lakes separated only by a small bridge, known as Twin Lakes.

According to the band's promotional material, it is a small band with a big sound featuring masterful concertina playing, sizzling drum beats and spectacular fills – guaranteed to keep an event hopping.

Band members are Jon, his son, Zack on drums, Andy Hacker on tuba, Danny Jerabek on accordion and more and Jason Anschutz on bass guitar and vocals.

Mayville dances continue on March 21, with John Valenta; March 28, with Barefoot Becky & the Ivanhoe Dutchmen; the April 18, with the Ryan Kautzer Band, sponsored by Friends of the Mayville Public Library; April 25, with Gary & The Ridgeland Dutchmen; May 16, with Brian & The Mississippi Valley Dutchmen; and June 6, with the Back 40 – the June Dairy Dance.

Questions may be directed to Donna Gudex-Kamrath, dance organizer, at 920-960-5318.
