Village Considers Not Enforcing Emergency Order #28

– Board Agrees To Comply With Order For Now

By Anne Trautner

At a special Kewaskum Village Board meeting on Monday, April 27, the board voted 5-2 against rescinding local ordinances that enforce Emergency Order #28.

The emergency order, which was issued on April 16, re-institutes the "Safer At Home" orders in Emergency Order #12 (with a few modifications) to be effective as of April 24, expiring on May 26.

Board President Kevin Scheunemann and Village Trustee Jim Wright voted to rescind village ordinances that enforce Emergency Order #28.

Monday night's meeting, which was held via a video conference due to the COVID-19 pandemic, started with a presentation by James Danaher, the village's attorney, who told the board that the village is not required to enforce Emergency Order 28.

If the village decided not to enforce the order, the board should rescind the ordinances that it put in place two weeks ago, according to Danaher.

Parade Celebrates Teen's 13th Birthday

By Anne Trautner

Dan Zeman was not expecting much celebration for his 13th birthday on Saturday, April 25. After all, he could not have a large group of people over to his home because of Gov. Tony Evers' "Safer At Home" order.

So he was very surprised when a parade of police cars and fire trucks came past his house, with the sirens blasting and emergency personnel yelling out Happy Birthday wishes for him.

"It definitely was a big surprise. I thought we were just going to be doing a little bit of family periodically coming over, and we were just going to be inside, like a normal birthday," Dan said.

But his family wanted to have something special for the new teenager.

"With everything going on — the coronavirus and the Safer At Home order — we wanted to do whatever we could to make it bearable and special. You only turn 13 once," said Dan's father, Matt Zeman.

Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Receives Support

By Anne Trautner

Last week, the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center received $67,096.20 from Washington County when Josh Schoemann forewent his severance package when he went from being county administrator to county executive. On April 21, at Schoe-mann's request, the Washington County Board of Supervisors approved dividing Schoemann's severance package of $141,833.70 between the Veterans Services Endowment Fund and the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial in Kewaskum.

"I am a veteran myself and a big part of the reason I decided to get into local government and run for office was as a credit to my fellow veterans, especially the ones who made the ultimate sacrifice, and to give glory to God and for my neighbors. Those things mean a great deal to me," Schoemann said. "All the credit really should go to the veterans who made the ultimate sacrifice, particularly the post-9/11 veterans in the case of the 9/11 Memorial, and to the glory to God."

KMS Student Plays In State Music Contest

By Anne Trautner

On Friday, April 24, Kaitlyn Blank made history when she became the first Kewaskum Middle School student to ever participate in a Virtual State Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Kaitlyn, who is an eighth grader at Kewaskum Middle School, performed a flute solo in the contest. Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, it was the first time a virtual state solo ensemble contest has been held in Wisconsin.

"My mom recorded me playing my solo, and then we submitted it on the website. Then a judge judged it and we got feedback," Kaitlyn explained.

Kaitlyn admits that she was not as nervous performing the solo at home as she was in front of a live judge. But that did not necessarily make it a better experience.

Metamorphosis

Dear Reader,

Oscar Wilde wrote, in his book The Picture of Dorian Gray, that "Every little action of the common day makes or un-makes character." Within our current situation, life as we once knew it has effectively been put on pause, and perhaps with it, our sense of place and purpose in the world.

While each daily action or inaction may feel like a repetition of the mundane, we are reminded through the words of Oscar Wilde, that we are not without effect or influence and that every small occurrence shapes our own growth or regression.

Time may feel as though it is standing still and yet spring is upon us, serving as a visible reminder of the constant state of change that we are in as our lives move forward to the rhythm of nature and time. Each day, we determine what that looks like, in the smallest or largest of ways, by how we handle the difficulties we face and, in turn, how we impact the world around us. We are in a unique period of metamorphosis.

A new dawn will be coming. At some point, we will pick up from where we left off, as best as we are able, and we will resume many of the activities we engage in from before. The world will start over again.

But when it does, will we be more sensitized to each other because of what we've experienced together and apart? Will we see our humanity in a different light? Will we treasure and cherish that which we still have before us? The answers to these questions are individually determined but the manifestation of their responses will shape whether we remain within our cocoons or choose to rise above the struggle of transformation and fly.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

Weekend OWI/Drug Enforcement

A Washington County Sheriff's deputy was on patrol around 2 a.m. on Saturday, April 25, when he observed a car traveling 30 mph under the speed limit, southbound on Interstate 41 in the Town of Addison. The deputy stopped the car after it drove in and out of the ditch and then began traveling down the middle of the interstate.

As the deputy began approaching the car he noticed that the female driver was completely naked. He also observed a male passenger slouched down in the front passenger seat. The deputy ordered the passenger to show him his hands prior to approaching the window. The passenger raised his hands while still holding a marijuana pipe. Both occupants appeared to be under the influence of alcohol and drugs.

The driver indicated that she had left her house to bring her passenger home and "had not thought to put clothes on." She also indicated she was doing it for "the thrill of it." She had left her residence in Juneau and was trying to get the passenger back to his Juneau residence. She was not sure where she was at the time of the stop. The deputy was able to find a sweatshirt for the driver to wear while field sobriety tests were given. The 29-year-old Juneau woman was arrested for Operating a Motor Vehicle While Intoxicated. The passenger was cited for possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

While the first incident was being investigated an alert citizen witness called into 911 to report a vehicle that was heading towards the first traffic stop. They reported that the car had struck several construction barrels. That vehicle was stopped by a deputy on I41 south of the other traffic stop. A 28-year-old Fond du lac man was arrested for third offense Operating While Intoxicated as well as possession of fentanyl, possession of cocaine, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Washington County Sheriff's Deputies also arrested a 29-year-old Neosho man for Operating While Intoxicated 2nd offense with a minor in the car after he crashed with his 7-year-old daughter in the car. This incident occurred on County Highway 0 near State Highway 83 in the Town of Erin on Sunday afternoon. The suspect was believed to be suffering from an opiate overdose at the time of the crash based on good Samaritans statements at the scene. The suspect was also arrested for possession of fentanyl and drug paraphernalia. There were no major injuries as a result of the car accident.

Sheriff Martin Schulteis said, "We want the community to know that our officers are out actively pursuing those that choose to endanger the lives of others by driving impaired. These examples illustrate people showing an utter disregard for human life. We are thankful that no one was injured; however, the consequences could have been tragic. The Washington County Sheriff's Office in partnership with observant citizens will continue to aggressively pursue justice on the roadways."

House Fire

On Monday April 27, at approximately 5:05 a.m. the Washington County Sheriff's Office received a 911 call reporting a house fire in the 6600 block of Arthur Road in the Town of Hartford. The home owner reported that there was smoke and flames in the basement and the occupants were evacuating the residence.

The Hartford Fire Department was paged and quickly upgraded the structure fire to a working still level. Deputies from the Washington County Sheriff's Office along with the Slinger Police Department responded to the residence to assist. Upon arrival of the Slinger Police Officer it was determined that two of the residents had entered back into the structure in an attempt to put out the fire. A short time later they exited the residence unharmed.

The following fire departments responded to assist in fighting the fire; Slinger Fire, St. Lawrence Fire, and Life Star Rescue. The fire was quickly brought under control and damage was confined to the kitchen/living room area around the fireplace. There were no reported injuries to fire personnel as a result of the fire.

An initial investigation revealed that the fire most likely started in the wall near a fireplace which was used the previous evening. Arthur Road was closed for approximately two hours to assist in firefighting efforts. Damage to the structure is estimated to be $95,000.

Caregiver Support Funding Available

Are you an unpaid family caregiver living in Washington County? Are you feeling additional stress due to the Safer at Home orders? ADRC of Washington County has caregiver support funds available to provide you a respite from your caregiving duties. The caregiver support programs with available funding are the Alzheimer's Family Caregiver Support Program (AFCSP) and the National Family Caregiver Support Program (NFCSP). Eligibility requirements differ for the two programs. To qualify for AFCSP funds, the care receiver must have an official diagnosis of some form of dementia. AFCSP also considers the income of the applicant and his/her spouse, as well as any expenses incurred as a result of the dementia diagnosis, including but not limited to cost of medications used to treat the dementia, insurance premiums and home modifications. Upon completion of the application, caregivers may be eligible to receive up to $4,000 for the calendar year. Applicants for the NFCSP program do not have diagnosis requirements of income limits. Unpaid caregivers providing care to a person 60 or older, or a person of any age who has Alzheimer's disease or other "degenerative cognitive condition," a grandparent age 55 or older who is primary caregiver for a child under age 19, or a relative caregiver of a person between the ages of 19-59 who has a long-term disability may qualify for NFCSP funds. Eligible caregivers will receive 112 hours of paid supportive services for the calendar year. If you are a caregiver in need of supportive services to assist you in providing care for your loved one, please contact Tammy Dickman to complete an assessment for these caregiver support programs at 262-335-4497.

Cedar Community Receives Grant

Cedar Community has received a $25,000 grant from West Bend Community Foundation's West Bend Mutual Insurance Company Charitable Fund to help Cedar Community offset healthcare costs directly related to the COVID-19 pandemic. "Our healthcare and support professionals are critical as the front-line defenders and caregivers for our residents," said Chief Executive Officer Lynn W. Olson. "We could not be more thankful for the generosity from the leadership of West Bend's charitable fund. This grant will help us serve residents who are at significant risk of falling victim to the COVID-19 virus." Like many other healthcare organizations, Cedar Community's healthcare professionals are working around the clock to ensure the highest levels of precautions and care for assisted living, memory care and long-term care residents. Cedar Community continues to follow federal, state and local health department guidelines — many of which result in rising costs for additional staffing and increased personal protective equipment. "We are incredibly grateful for the generosity of West Bend Mutual Insurance. For more than 125 years, West Bend has confirmed its commitment to its neighbors in Washington County and Southeastern Wisconsin through its philanthropic activities. Its unwavering support of our community's most vulnerable citizens in this time of crisis is deeply meaningful," said Sarah Malchow, Cedar Community director of philanthropy.

Leo H. Marquardt

Leo H. Marquardt, age 69, of Kewaskum passed away unexpectedly on Monday, April 20, 2020 at Froedtert Memorial Lutheran Hospital in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin.

Leo was born May 11, 1950, in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, the son of Jerome and Luella (nee Scheinoha) Marquardt. The family moved to Kewaskum when he was a small child, and he eventually settled in the family home. He was a graduate of Kewaskum High School and served in the U.S. Navy from 1968-1972.

He was a tool and die maker for all of his career. Leo liked tinkering and could repair anything mechanical put in front of him. What he really enjoyed, though, was all the family gatherings numerous times a year. His contribution was always a few bottles of wine to get everyone talking about current events. Not only was he an avid fan of the Green Bay Packers, but he was also the "Family Room" coach. He led his brothers, brothers-in-law and nephews in comical analysis of current political and sporting misdirection at every family gathering. In addition, he enjoyed gardening, fishing, and deer hunting. His most memorable hunt occurred in September 2019. Health restrictions limited his walking so his brothers helped him set up a blind for bow hunting, and he shot a buck on opening weekend. Then in November 2019, he shot another deer on opening day. He hadn't gone hunting for years, and he told the amazing 2019 deer hunting stories repeatedly to all of his family; and we enjoyed every minute of his hilarious rendition of the hunts. Leo loved us and we all loved him. He was an anchor in the family and he will be deeply missed.

Those Leo leaves behind to cherish his memory include five sisters, Mary Marquardt, Geri Marquardt, Lois (Robert) Yogerst, all of Kewaskum, Sandy (Tom) Gudex of Lannon, and Carol (Peter Carr) Marquardt of Brooklyn, New York. He is further survived by three brothers, Sylvester Marquardt of Brown Deer, Carl (Cindy) Marquardt of Kewaskum, and Herman Marquardt of Campbellsport; 14 nieces and nephews; seven great nieces and nephews; other relatives and friends.

Due to current restrictions, a private service and burial will be held for Leo's family. A military burial will be at Lutheran Memorial Park Cemetery, Kewaskum, Wisconsin. A memorial gathering is being planned for later in the year.

Please consider signing the online guest book (www.myrhumpatten.com) to share your condolences with the family. Cards addressed to the family may be sent in care of: Myrhum Patten Miller & Kietzer Funeral Home, 1315 W. Washington St., West Bend WI, 53095.

After retirement he started his new found passion of cutting grass and enjoying the outdoors, cutting grass for many people. He especially enjoyed spending time with his family and grandchildren. He will be missed by all who knew him.

Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Receives Support

The donation comes on the heels of significant donations the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center recently received from Regal Ware, Inc. and Delta Defense.

Last month, Regal Ware, Inc. made a significant donation and commitment to further assist in the underwriting efforts of the project. Then, Delta Defense made a $50,000 donation to the memorial.

"We truly appreciate their commitment in support of the memorial, which will both commemorate and also celebrate our community's response to an event which changed the lives of all Americans, as well as changed the course of our country's history," said Jerry Gosa, vice president of Kewaskum Remembers 9/11, Inc.

"It is important to recognize the people whose lives were lost and the tens of thousands of people who sacrificed one way or another on September 11. It is appropriate for Kewaskum to host this most important memorial," said Jeff Reigle, president and chief executive officer of Regal Ware.

Last June, ground was broken on the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial and Education Center, which is being built in front of the Kewaskum Annex building on Fond du Lac Avenue in the Village of Kewaskum. A 2,000-pound steel beam that was salvaged from the World Trade Center stands at the center of the memorial. When completed, the memorial will feature five learning centers to educate visitors about the events of September 11, 2001.

Community members continue to be supportive of the project. On April 10, Kewaskum Remembers 9/11, Inc., received a check for $1,222.85 from the Kewaskum School District, representing funds raised during the Kewaskum High School Student Council's Charity Week, when funds were raised at the high school and from customers at Geidel's Piggy Wiggly. Additionally, Kohn's Filling Station's "Fuel it Forward" campaign generated another $500 for the memorial. Brick sales are continuing; forms for this are available on the memorial's website.

"This overwhelmingly positive response we are receiving from local businesses and from the citizens of Kewaskum is truly humbling and deeply appreciated. As of now, we have had to pause construction due to the Covid-19 restrictions we are all facing, however we are poised to continue with construction beginning in late May or early June. Our goal is to substantially complete the Memorial in 2020. We still are in need of funds to complete the Memorial; however, we remain confident that the community will assist us in raising these funds allowing us to achieve our goal of providing Kewaskum and indeed the entire State of Wisconsin with a beautiful, meaningful and relevant memorial," said Gordon Haberman, president of Kewaskum Remembers 9/11, Inc.

For information about the memorial and how to donate, visit wisconsin911memorial.com.

Wisconsin Dairy Recovery Program Underway

—Thousands Of Pounds Of Milk, Cheese Distributed To WI Families

The newly announced Wisconsin Dairy Recovery Program — a partnership between Hunger Task Force, Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection — is in full swing. The first 2,480 gallons of fresh, whole milk were delivered to Hunger Task Force on Friday and has been distributed to area food pantries.

Hunger Task Force has committed up to $1 million to support the purchase, processing and distribution of milk from Wisconsin dairy farmers for hungry families throughout the state. With processing support from Kemps in Cedarburg and transportation support from Engelhardt Dairy in Kewaskum, milk deliveries began on April 27 to members of the Hunger Relief Federation across Wisconsin.

Milk isn't the only dairy item being produced. Hunger Task Force is also working with several Wisconsin cheese producers to offer variety and versatility to hungry families. Chalet Cheese Cooperative is one such organization that plans to produce award-winning Baby Swiss cheese for distribution. Chalet Cheese is a small cheese factory owned by 13 family farms in Green County, whose farmers and cheesemakers are heavily involved in the organization's decisions and operations.

"Chalet Cheese Co-op is grateful to be partnering with Hunger Task Force during this trying time," said Mike Hlubek, General Manager of Chalet Cheese. "We are honored to provide our nutritious cheese to the many people struggling to put food on their table. Hunger Task Force is not only feeding people in need, but is also helping to keep our historic Wisconsin farmer-owned cheese factory in business."

Chalet Cheese Cooperative was founded in 1885 by five dairy farmers and today continues to work solely with its members to supply milk. They specialize in making Limburger, Brick, Baby Swiss, and Swiss, with an emphasis on top quality and true workmanship. The quality of Chalet's cheeses are recognized often, winning numerous awards in national and worldwide cheese competitions.

In addition to Chalet Cheese Cooperative, Hunger Task Force will also be working with Clock Shadow Creamery in Milwaukee to create and distribute cheese curds, Rolling Hills Dairy Producers in Monroe for cheese curds, and Winona Foods, Inc. in Green Bay for cheese shreds and slices. This cheese will be produced and distributed statewide through Hunger Task Force to members of the Hunger Relief Federation of Wisconsin weekly for the next six weeks.

"It's been a pleasure working with the thoughtful, caring people in Wisconsin's dairy industry to get this milk and cheese to hungry families," said Sherrie Tussler, executive director of Hunger Task Force. "To be able to support Wisconsin farmers while also getting food to those who need it is difference-making during the pandemic."

Last week, long-time partner of Hunger Task Force, Sargento Foods Inc., announced that it would also be supporting Wisconsin families with a generous gift. The donation of $960,000 worth of cheese will benefit Hunger Task Force locally. The donation of 5.3 million cheese sticks will start arriving at Hunger Task Force next week and will continue for a total of six weeks.

Hunger Task Force will continue to support the purchase and production of milk and cheese statewide until any federal support is able to supplement Wisconsin's dairy industry. In the meantime, Hunger Task Force graciously accepts and encourages the public to support the Dairy Recovery Program with an online donation. Funds committed to the recovery will be used to purchase, process and distribute milk and dairy products. Donations can be made at www.HungerTaskForce.org/dairy.

seniors in the community absolutely free of charge. Hunger Task Force was founded in 1974 by a local advocacy group who then formed Milwaukee's first food bank.

Today, Hunger Task Force is 100 percent supported by the community and provides a safety net of emergency food with dignity to a network of 75 food pantries, soup kitchens and homeless shelters. Through legislative analysis, education and community organizing, Hunger Task Force continues to advocate for anti-hunger policy at the local, state and federal level.

State Now Recommends Health Care Providers Test All Patients With COVID-19 Symptoms

Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) has released updated guidance on who should get tested for COVID-19. Until April 20, testing had been prioritized to critically ill and hospitalized patients, long-term care facilities, healthcare personnel, or close contacts of a known positive case. Now, the state is encouraging health care providers to obtain COVID-19 testing for everyone who is symptomatic, even patients with mild symptoms.

COVID-19 symptoms can include fever, cough, shortness of breath, sore throat and body aches. Individuals that develop any of these symptoms should stay home and call their health care provider to see if they should be tested.

If you think you may have COVID-19, it is very important to call ahead before going to the clinic or hospital, unless it is an emergency, in order to keep other people from getting infected. Your doctor will provide instructions on where to get tested.

To learn more about COVID-19, visit www.coronavirus.gov or visit the Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department website at www.washozwi.gov.

Blueprint Created For Reopening Washington And Ozaukee Counties

On April 21, the following executive summary of the blueprint to reopen Washington County was presented to the Washington County Board of Supervisors.

The blueprint was developed in response to Gov. Tony Evers' "Safer at Home" order that was put into place on March 25, and was extended until May 26. The order was implemented to encourage Wisconsin residents to stay home, practice physical distancing, and avoid all non-essential travel.

The Blueprint for Reopening Washington and Ozaukee Counties is a guiding document specifically for Washington and Ozaukee Counties. The counties are in close proximity to Milwaukee and Chicago, which poses unique challenges, most significantly, increased risk of infection for the counties' residents. The Blueprint is written by the Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department and prioritizes the public's health while recognizing the impact on the economy.

Washington County Approach

Consistent with the AEI recommendations, to fully reopen Washington and Ozaukee Counties, the following items must be in place (bolded recommendations HAVE NOT been met):

1. 14 or more days of continuous decreases (downward trend) in statewide case counts and a decrease in hospitalizations.

2. Hospital capacity and operations back to near normal (beds and staff and PPE) and patients are treated safely without hospital resorting to crisis standards of care.

3. Enough testing capacity to test everyone who needs testing, and 4. Capacity to do contact tracing (active monitoring) on everyone who tests positive within 24 to 48 hours.

Immediate Policy Action

Tests must be available to any Wisconsin resident who requests one.

Primary Actions

1. Recommend PPE (cloth masks) be worn in public.

2. Resume low transmission risk recreation activities.

3. Businesses (including restaurants) can begin internal operations to prepare to reopen with physical distancing restrictions.

4. Individuals who are sick must stay home and contact their healthcare provider for testing.

5. Continue to practice good hygiene and sanitation.

Secondary Actions

Businesses and certain activities may begin to reopen, following physical distancing guidelines and other recommendations provided within the "Blueprint for Reopening Washington and Ozaukee Counties."

Decisions about opening a business or event should be made with consideration of how difficult it is to trace contacts of a positive case. (The more difficult to trace, the more risk is involved.)

Coronavirus In Wisconsin Update

By Rep. Timothy Ramthun

In the past weeks, the situation has evolved dramatically regarding the COVID-19 outbreak in Wisconsin. With conflicting reports and different accounts of what exactly is happening in our state, I wanted to clear up any confusion. As of April 23, there have been 4,845 total confirmed positive cases of COVID-19 in our state. For whatever reason, the Wisconsin Department of Health Services is not reporting the number of people who have recovered, which I am dumbfounded as to why. Regardless, as of today, there are currently 349 total hospitalizations for COVID-19 across Wisconsin, with 146 of them being ICU patients. The good news is those numbers are trending downward, with a decrease of 45 total patients over the past seven days. These numbers and more can be found on the Wisconsin Hospital Association's website.

With that being said, the economic impacts of the current public health emergency and Safer at Home order are growing exponentially worse by the day. Those impacts are becoming an emergency of their own. Around 400,000 Wisconsinites now find themselves unemployed, either laid off or forced to close their businesses, through no fault of their own. My office and I have received countless phone calls and emails from small business owners saying they won't be able to open their doors again if the shutdown continues much longer. I've personally talked with constituents who have not received any unemployment insurance compensation, and are fearful for their financial security. All of these conversations I've had are absolutely heartbreaking, and have hardened my already firm resolve to work diligently towards reopening the state.

I am completely opposed to Governor Evers extending his Safer at Home order to May 26. In the week prior to that announcement, I had been working with my Legislative colleagues on a proposal for reopening the state. The proposal I and around 20 other Republicans endorsed laid out a four week process for reasonable, responsible reopening beginning on April 25. I will do everything I can to help overturn and overrule this egregious extension that will kill small businesses and put an unbelievable number of people out of work.

The state needs a solid plan to implement a smart, safe, and incremental reopening to get people back to work as soon as possible. The Badger Bounce Back plan that Gov. Evers announced this week is not serious, nor is it even remotely tenable for Wisconsin. Under this plan, for our state to enter phase one of reopening, there would have to be a 14-day straight decline in all influenza-like illnesses. Not just a decline in COVID-19 cases, but all influenza-like illnesses. In addition, to get to phase one, Wisconsin would need to increase testing capacity to 85,000 per week, or roughly 12,000 per day. Currently, the state's capacity is around 7,200 per day. The Governor provided no indication of how that will happen, just that it must happen.

Earlier last week on April 21, the Legislature filed a petition against Wisconsin Department of Health Services Secretary-Designee Andrea Palm, who is acting at the direction of Gov. Evers, in order to curb egregious administrative overreaches. While in the office yesterday, I contacted the Supreme Court directly, and was told the court filed a scheduling order the same day the petition was filed. The good news is they're moving quickly on this. Secretary-Designee Palm must respond to the petition by the end of the day on April 28. Following, briefs must be filed by interested third-parties by end of the day on April 29. Finally, the Legislature may follow up to Secretary-Designee Palm's response by end of the day on April 30. All that being said, the Supreme Court will have everything it needs to make a judgment as early as May 1.

This form of governance solely by executive and emergency order must stop. The Legislature has an integral role to play in the response to this crisis, and to this point, the Executive branch has acted mostly alone. The Governor's actions forced our hand to act in order to not be ignored anymore. Republicans in the Legislature are ready and willing to negotiate with the Governor, he simply has to show an interest in doing so and have a serious commitment to do so in good faith.

It's time for both sides to come to the table and hammer out a plan for reopening Wisconsin. That plan must be safe and smart, but also must be done in a timely manner and have realistically achievable goals. Too many people's livelihoods are in jeopardy to do anything else.

BBB Tips: Protect Your Credit And Know Your Debt Repayment Obligations During A Crisis

The coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic has upended the global economy, disrupted countless companies' operations and shaken many Americans' personal finances. Better Business Bureau (BBB) reminds consumers who are concerned about debt obligations to know their rights, take steps to protect their credit and guard against debt collection scams.

Under the recently passed CARES Act, lenders must report to credit bureaus that borrowers are current on their debt obligations if the borrower has sought relief from those obligations because of the pandemic. Many other lenders have already taken proactive steps to help borrowers impacted by this crisis, offering forbearance, loan extensions, a reduction in interest rates or other forms of flexibility.

If the coronavirus crisis has affected your finances to the point that you're having difficulty repaying a loan, you should reach out to the lender right away to discuss your options. At the same time, don't let the current crisis mindset distract you from keeping a close eye on your finances and credit — and don't fall prey to scammers taking advantage of the crisis.

Consumers who are working with a lender on forbearance or other flexible repayment options should obtain written documentation of such arrangements. They also should monitor their credit report to be sure it accurately reflects their repayment efforts. Consumers can obtain a free credit report from all three major credit bureaus — Equifax, TransUnion and Experian — once every 12 months via AnnualCreditReport.com.

Debt collection scams are common. BBB Scam Tracker received nearly 1,700 reports of this fraud in 2019. The scammer calls and tells you that they work for a loan company, law firm or government agency, claiming to be collecting an overdue payment. They may make threats of suing you, having your wages garnished, arresting you, or forcing you to appear in court thousands of miles from home.

BBB received more than 15,700 complaints about debt collection agencies in 2019. In March 2020, a woman in St. Louis, Missouri told BBB she was alerted to a collection on her credit report for an account that did not belong to her. She said when she called the collection agency, its representative was hostile and accused the woman of identity theft before hanging up on her. The woman said the representative did not state her rights as legally required when they spoke.

BBB recommends consumers follow these tips to manage their debt safely and fairly:

Get it in writing. Not only should lenders document their arrangements with you, debt collectors are required by law to provide "validation notice" of your debt in writing. The notice must include the amount of the debt, the name of the creditor, and a statement of your rights.

Ask for more information. If you do owe money and aren't sure if the caller is real, ask for their name, company, street address and telephone number. Do not provide any personal or financial information over the phone. A legitimate debt collector should have details on the accounts in question. If the scammer has personal information, place a fraud alert with Equifax, TransUnion and Experian.

Think twice about paying for a credit report. While paid credit monitoring is available and multiple credit reports in a year from a single credit bureau may incur a small fee, the only legitimate website for obtaining the free credit reporting to which you are entitled yearly is AnnualCreditReport.com. Be alert to websites that offer a "free" credit report but charge a fee in the fine print.

Report scams. If you suspect you are being targeted in a debt collection scam or you have already fallen victim to one, report it to BBB Scam Tracker.

Report unfair dealings with debt collectors. File a complaint or leave a review at BBB.org. Your state attorney general's office, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) also have avenues for complaints against collection agencies.

For more information or further inquiries, contact the Wisconsin BBB at www.bbb.org/wisconsin, 414-847-6000 or 1-800-273-1002. Consumers also can find more information about how to protect themselves from scams by following the Wisconsin BBB on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube.

Village Considers Not Enforcing Emergency Order #28

"The village has passed several ordinances indicating that the police department has the authority to issue municipal citations and enforce on a local level all of the emergency order requirements," Danaher said.

Those requirements include things such as gatherings should include less than 10 people, residents should stay home and certain businesses need to close.

"Our position is that you are not compelled to enforce the order, and that's because based upon our belief, our legal research, our legal opinion, the emergency order far exceeds the authority set forth in the statute that it claims it gets its authority from," Danaher said.

"It claims to get its authority from Chapter 252.02. It is our opinion based upon that statute that the Department of Health Services secretary has grossly overstated the authority that she had, based upon the information and directives in the order," Danaher explained.

"Additionally, it is our opinion that the emergency order was not implemented properly. They did not go through the proper rule making procedures that are required for an order of this type, and specifically ... this order does not reference the executive order declaring emergency that Gov. Evers issued back on March 12. So based upon that, it is our legal opinion that this order is probably unlawful and if pressed, unenforceable," Danaher added. "The Wisconsin State Legislature has sued and they have asked for the court to find exactly the opinion that I have given you. I don't think that any lawyers that have reviewed the order and reviewed the lawsuit believe that the order will be upheld."

The Wisconsin Supreme Court is expected to issue a decision on the case around May 11, which is the day that the executive order from Gov. Tony Evers expires.

"As you may or may not be aware, when a governor declares an emergency, he can only do so for 60 days. That 60 days runs from March 12 through May 11. At the expiration of that 60 days, you have to have a joint resolution of the Wisconsin State Legislature to continue this executive emergency order," Danaher said.

This most recent emergency order took effect on Friday, April 24.

"Emergency Order 28 does not reflect or indicate that it gets its authority from the executive order, which was passed back in early March," Danaher said.

Danaher told the board that regardless of whether the village decides to ask the police to enforce Emergency Order 28, if someone claimed they went to a business and somehow contracted COVID-19, the village has insurance coverage and defense to that action.

"That has been verified by your insurance company," Danaher told the board.

Danaher also told the board that if it did nothing, he believes that on May 11 the village will be in a different situation, depending on what the State Supreme Court decides.

There is a statement in the statutes that indicates if local authorities fail to enforce an order issued under Chapter 252.02, the State can then step in, according to Danaher.

"So the statute in and of itself assumes that there are some local municipalities that may not enforce an executive emergency order akin or similar to Emergency Order 28," Danaher said.

The Washington County Sheriff's Office has indicated that it will not be enforcing this order in local municipalities.

"It appears that the Washington County Sheriff's Department has indicated that as far as they are concerned, if something against Emergency Order 28 was taking place in a municipality in Washington County, they are not going to enforce it, even if they were to drive by and see it.

Danaher said there is a possibility that someone could claim that the order violates first amendment rights.

"They could have an action under federal law that the village stepped in and enforcing an unlawful order, violated their constitutional rights," said Danaher, who did not give a legal opinion on the issue. "I don't think the village would have significant liability for any damages in a claim such as that. But it does exist."

Kewaskum Police Chief Tom Bishop said that the reason the village passed the ordinances was so that the police could issue a municipal citation instead of requesting criminal charges.

"By not having these ordinances in place we would only be forced to charge as a misdemeanor crime rather than a lower level fine," Bishop said. "I think it will make interactions with those who are violating much more difficult because I think the enforcement will be more severe than it would be under municipal code."

At Monday night's meeting, Kirsten Johnson, director of the Washington Ozaukee Health Department, also gave a report on COVID-19 to the village board.

"To me the most concerning issue is testing. As we gradually reopen, I am concerned if there are outbreaks like in Brown County. We don't have capacity to test, and without that capacity, we can't stop the outbreak," Johnson said.

Scheunemann said that the intention of the order was to flatten the curve.

"I still think COVID-19 is a serious issue," he said. "We have flattened the curve and our data shows we have stopped the spread."

Scheunemann said the village had five cases of COVID-19 on April 1.

"And we still have five cases 27 days later. So our curve is zero for the last four weeks," he said. "We have met the criteria."

Johnson said she remains concerned because COVID-19 cannot be contained in one community.

"We can't guarantee that people coming in or out of Kewaskum don't have the virus," Johnson said.

Governor Evers Suspends DOR Administrative Rules

Governor Tony Evers signed Emergency Order #33 ordering the suspension of Administrative Rules overseen by the Department of Revenue. The rules were suspended to allow for social distancing during business transactions.

On March 24, 2020, Department of Health Services Secretary-designee Andrea Palm ordered that all essential businesses and operations shall meet social distancing requirements between all individuals on their premises to the best extent possible.

Administrative Rules Wis. Admin. Section TAX 7.01(5)(f), 8.21(2)(g), and 9.47(1)(e) which require signatures for the receipt of fermented malt beverages, intoxicating liquor, and cigarettes, respectively, were suspended for the duration of the health emergency.

This suspension allows for distributors to conduct daily business, while still maintaining social distancing and other recommended public health guidelines. Current administrative rules require retailers to sign for deliveries of alcohol beverages, cigarettes and tobacco products. It is difficult to obtain signatures and maintain social distancing. Allowing flexibility for other types of delivery acknowledgements, like emails, are a better way to engage in business without putting critical employees at risk.

Additionally, Administrative Rules Wis. Admin. §§ TAX 61.08(11)(c), 61.04(1)(d) also temporarily suspends minimum sales requirements for lottery retailers to allow them to focus on the safety of customers and staff. The suspension waives the requirement that retailers must sell $1,200 worth of lottery products quarterly in order to remain a licensed Wisconsin Lottery retailer.

This Order is effective immediately and shall remain in effect for the duration of the public health emergency as declared in Executive Order #72.

Gov. Evers Expands Opportunities For Some Nonessential Businesses

On Monday, April 27, Gov. Tony Evers announced another turn of the dial in expanding allowed operations for nonessential businesses, providing even more opportunities for businesses to get back to work in a safe and responsible way.

The emergency order, signed by Wisconsin Department of Health Services Secretary-designee Andrea Palm, allows nonessential businesses to do curbside drop-off of goods and animals. This will allow businesses like dog groomers, small engine repair shops, upholstery businesses, and others to safely open. This latest order also allows outdoor recreational rentals, such as boats, golf carts, kayaks, ATVs and other similar recreational vehicles. Additionally, automatic or self-service car washes would be able to operate. All of these businesses must operate free of contact with customers by providing payment options online or over the phone, enact proper disinfecting practices, and operations must be able to be performed by one staff member.

"No one wants to reopen our economy as much as I do, and we're working to do everything we can to make sure we can do so as soon as we safely and responsibly can. That's why today we announced a new order that, coupled with our Safer at Home order that went into effect last week, turns the dial a notch by allowing non-essential businesses to do more than they were able to do before," Evers said on April 27. "This order means that every business across our state can do things like deliveries, mailings, curbside pick-up and drop-off, and it's an important step in making sure that while folks are staying safer at home, they can also continue to support small businesses across our state."

The April 27 order builds upon the last turn of the dial. When the Safer at Home order was extended last week, a number of additional options were made available for businesses to safely serve the public, including:

- Golf courses were opened this past weekend;

- All businesses are allowed to offer curbside pick-up, allowing customers to purchase goods online or over the phone from a local store; construction businesses can do aesthetic or optional construction work so long as it is performed by a single person;

- Public libraries can provide curbside pick-up of books and other library materials;

- Arts and crafts stores can offer expanded curbside pick-up of materials necessary to make face masks; and

- Landscaping businesses can do aesthetic or optional lawn care so long as it is done by a single employee.

Emergency Order #34 goes into effect at 8 a.m. Wednesday, April 29.

In addition to the requirements outlined above, all essential and nonessential businesses must continue to follow social distancing and safety practices required under the Safer at Home order.

Board Extends “Safer At Home” Practices For Village Staff

By Anne Trautner

To comply with social distancing guidelines, the Kewaskum Village Board meeting was held virtually on April 20, with trustees participating in the meeting via the internet or telephone. At the meeting, the board instructed village staff to continue operating as they have since Gov. Tony Evers extended the Safer At Home order.

The village office staff will continue locking the Village Hall doors to the public; staff will continue using phone and email service. In addition to phone and email, community members should use the dropbox or mail for any correspondence. The village will accept cash, but will not return change; overpayments will be applied to the residents' accounts.

The board agreed that curbside brush pickup will be postponed until the Safer At Home order expires. Residents are encouraged to continue dropping off brush and lawn debris at the village yard until the emergency order is lifted.

Board of Review Postponed

The Board of Review meeting, which was scheduled to be held on May 7, has been postponed until after the public health emergency is over.

“The Board of Review is not conducive to a zoom meeting in terms of analyzing the documents and dealing with the issues we have on the agenda, especially if there are some challenging of assessments. That is going to be very difficult to do by a virtual meeting,” Village President Kevin Scheunemann said.

“I would agree with that because if you have someone come in and refute certain issues, you have to be able to see the documents and discuss them,” Trustee Jim Hovland said.

Village Facility Rentals

The village board voted on April 20 to refund any deposits that have been made for village facility rentals if the rental is canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

New Ambulance

Kewaskum Fire Chief Mark Groeschel announced at the April 20 board meeting that the ambulance manufacturer is running one month ahead of schedule and the department would possibly be receiving the new ambulance on April 29 or 30.

Village Swim Pond

The village swim pond at Kiwanis Park has been filled and will be set to open whenever the Safer At Home order is lifted. People interested in working at the swim pond can apply, but training will not occur until after the emergency order is lifted.

Jake's Free Fishing Day Canceled

Village Trustee Dick Knoebel announced at the April 20 village board meeting that Jake's Free Fishing Day that was scheduled to be held at River Hill Park in June has been canceled due to COVID-19. The event may be rescheduled to be held sometime in August.

New Village Positions

The deadline to apply for the two administrative assistant positions was on Friday, April 17. A total of five applications were received for both positions, according to Village Administrator Matt Heiser. The village will go forward with interviewing applicants by meeting in the Community Room located in Village Hall. The Village Board determined at the April 20 board meeting that the space there is large enough for the Administrative Committee to conduct interviews while complying with COVID-19 social distancing guidelines.

The board also approved posting of the new full-time public works position, which is target to start on July 1.

Village Election Report

A total of 1,302 ballots were cast in the village at the April 7 election, of which 77 percent were absentee requests and 23 percent were in person on Election Day, Village Clerk/Deputy Treasurer Tammy Butz reported at the April 20 Village Board meeting.

“There were poll workers requesting not to work due to COVID-19. We were fortunate in having 10 poll workers throughout the day. This included two national guardsmen and one volunteer from the county, which was greatly appreciated,” Butz said.

The election had unexpected expenses, including $925 in postage for each absentee ballot requested by mail and about $100 for plexiglass shields that were used at the polls, Butz reported.

“I do anticipate that these expenses will be covered from FEMA Assistance for COVID-19. However, many of the absentee requests by mail included the August 11 and November 3 elections. Those expenses were not expected or budgeted for,” Butz said.

The village is required to include a metered stamp on the return envelope, and the outer envelope that everything is mailed in costs 65 cents, so that totals $1.15 for each absentee ballot requested by mail, according to Butz.

Village Welcome Committee

The board created a new Welcome Committee at the April 20 meeting.

“This will be an unpaid committee, but will give them access to the new utility billing so that they can conduct their welcome events. They are not requesting any funding from the village,” Scheunemann said.

In order to create staggered terms, the board appointed the following committee members: Keri Seiler, three-year term; Sarah Severance, two-year term; and Becky May, one-year term.

Permit Fees

After discussing the possibility of waiving permit fees or a portion of the fees for bars, tattoo parlors or other establishments forced to close under orders of Gov. Tony Evers, the board tabled the matter to discuss at the next regular board meeting.

Before making a decision, the board instructed Heiser to look into how much loss of revenue this would cause the village and if the municipality could possibly recover the expense from the federal government. In addition, the board would like Heiser to make sure that waiving permit fees would comply with any state licensing requirements.

“I am inclined to agree with the idea [of waiving permit fees] because many of the bars were forced to shut down under the emergency order. And it is really difficult to ask a bar owner to pay many hundreds of dollars in the alcohol licensing permit for the new year when they haven't been able to take in any revenue for the last 30 days and possibly 30 days in the future,” Scheunemann said at the April 20 meeting.

“I'm all in favor of reducing these fees of these licenses, but we need to reduce our 2020 expenditures by a similar amount. I would recommend that we come up with some measure of what we can cut out of the 2020 budget to balance the offset of lost revenue that we are going to see from this year because of COVID-19,” Trustee Dave Spenner said.

The issue is that the village has created a budget for 2020, according to Spenner. If the village does not get revenue permit fees, along with revenue that is not coming in for all the reservations for the various facilities, that changes the budget.

“I also checked with the police chief, who advised me that they have modified their policing policies and they are only engaging in police encounters that are of significant or high risk, which means that probably regular traffic stops or low level safety kinds of stops that would otherwise create citations or some sort of enforcement action, are also likely not occurring,” Spenner said.

All those things packaged together will cause overspending in the village budget, Spenner pointed out.

“All of these businesses have been slammed hard. I would like to see if there is a way that we can help all of them. And the way we can help them is not to say we waived the fees and then double tax everyone in 2021 because we don't have the money that we collected this year. That is just shifting the cost of this to the other businesses that don't get relief because they are not paying a village license. We need to actually cut costs or come up with new money in 2020,” Spenner said.

Brooklane Drive Street Project

The Village Board voted 5-2 on April 20 to approve a 20-year note from the state trust fund at 4 percent interest for street projects and storm water work. Scheunemann and Spenner voted no because they would have preferred a 10-year loan from a commercial lender at 2.95 percent interest to

The loan is for $1,010,907, which will cover the following costs: $891,715 for street construction costs for the Brooklane Drive street project; $48,000 for engineering for the Brooklane Drive project; $17,192 for alley reconstruction off of Forest Avenue; $50,000 for FEMA flood plain work; and $4,000 for clean level program.

The 20-year note will require a 2.62 percent tax increase in 2021, which will add 20 cents to the village's mill rate, resulting in a $40 increase on a $200,000 property, according to Heiser. The 10-year note would have required a 4.13 percent tax increase in 2021, which equates out to a 31 cent increase in the mill rate or an additional $62 on a $200,000 home, Heiser reported.

“Normally I would recommend a 10-year note for street projects, but this is a big one, plus we got some additional work thrown on there, so to minimize the impact on the community, I would recommend a 20-year note,” Heiser told the board on April 20.

“I would be sympathetic with the better interest rate in 10 years, now the question is for the hard pressed homeowner to pay $40 or $62, a $20 difference; it probably doesn't matter that much,” Spenner said.

Work has already started on the road project, so the board agreed that the village needs to go forward with the loan.

Farmer's Market

The board unanimously approved a proposal to hold the farmer's market this year in the downtown lot from 2 to 7 p.m. on Thursdays rather than from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

“I think they would get more people coming at that time; people who are working can come,” Knoebel said.

Gov. Evers Suspends Rules For DNR-Certified Operators

Gov. Tony Evers on April 21 announced the suspension of certain administrative rules pertaining to certification renewal deadlines, examinations and continuing education requirements for Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources-certified waterworks, septage servicing, water treatment plant operators.

The order recognizes that waterworks, septage servicing, water system and wastewater treatment plant operations are part of Wisconsin's essential infrastructure as defined in the Safer at Home Order, and ensures that Wisconsin residents and businesses will continue to be provided with clean drinking water, and have their wastewater treated and septage systems serviced by experienced operators.

The order will remain in effect for the duration of the public health emergency as declared in Executive Order #72.

Operator certification requirements suspended under this order include:

- Waterworks operator certification examination applications and application fees
- Waterworks, wastewater treatment plant and septage servicing operator certificate expiration and renewal dates
- Certain water system, wastewater treatment plant and septage servicing operators continuing education requirements

- Water system certification examinations
- Water system certificate expiration dates
- Wastewater treatment plant operator examination application deadlines.

The Department of Natural Resources will continue to prioritize any licensing, inspection, or permitting needs related to directly responding to the public health crisis.

Marketing Assistance Loan Maturity Extended To 12 Months

Agricultural producers now have more time to repay Marketing Assistance Loans (MAL) as part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's implementation of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act of 2020. The loans now mature at 12 months rather than nine, and this flexibility is available for most commodities.

"Spring is the season when most producers have the biggest need for capital, and many may have or are considering putting commodities under loan. Extending the commodity loan maturity affords farmers more time to market their commodity and repay their loan at a later time," said U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue. "We are extremely pleased that USDA can offer these marketing flexibilities at this critical time for the agriculture industry and the nation."

Effective immediately, producers of eligible commodities now have up to 12 months to repay their commodity loans. The maturity extension applies to nonrecourse loans for crop years 2018, 2019 and 2020. Eligible open loans must in good standing with a maturity date of March 31, 2020, or later or new crop year (2019 or 2020) loans requested by September 30, 2020. All new loans requested by September 30, 2020, will have a maturity date 12 months following the date of approval.

The maturity extension for current, active loans will be automatically extended an additional 3 months. Loans that matured March 31 have already been automatically extended by USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA). Producers who prefer a nine-month loan will need to contact their local FSA county office. Loans requested after September 30, 2020, will have a term of nine months.

Eligible commodities include barley, chickpeas (small and large), corn, cotton (upland and extra-long staple), dry peas, grain sorghum, honey, lentils, mohair, oats, peanuts, rice (long and medium grain), soybeans, unshorn pelts, wheat, wool (graded and nongraded); and other oilseeds, including canola, crambe, flaxseed, mustard seed, rapeseed, safflower, sunflower seed, and sesame seed. Seed cotton and sugar are not eligible.

Placing commodities under loan provides producers interim financing to meet cash flow needs without having to sell their commodities when market prices are low and allows producers to store production for more orderly marketing of commodities throughout the year.

These loans are considered nonrecourse because the commodity is pledged as loan collateral, and producers have the option of delivering the pledged collateral to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) for repayment of the outstanding loan at maturity.

MAL Repayment

Under the new maturity provisions, producers can still repay the loan as they would have before the extension:

- repay the MAL on or before the maturity date;
- upon maturity by delivering or forfeiting the commodity to CCC as loan repayment; or
- after maturity and before CCC acquires the farm-stored commodity by repaying the outstanding MAL principal and interest.

Marketing Loan Gains

A Marketing Loan Gain occurs when a MAL is repaid at less than the loan principal. If market gain is applicable during the now-extended loan period, producers can receive a gain on the repayment made before the loan matures.

For more information on MALs, contact the nearest FSA county office. USDA Service Centers, including FSA county offices, are open for business by phone appointment only, and field work will continue with appropriate social distancing. While program delivery staff will continue to come into the office, they will be working with producers by phone and using online tools whenever possible. All Service Center visitors wishing to conduct business with the FSA, Natural Resources Conservation Service, or any other Service Center agency are required to call their Service Center to schedule a phone appointment. More information can be found at farmers.gov/coronavirus.

Check It Out!

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

We have been busy at the library lately. Library To-Go at Kewaskum Public Library began this week. This unique service that gives you the opportunity to pick up your holds is a modification of what we did in late March. Instead of bringing items out to your car, you will need to make an appointment to pick up your holds. They will be on a cart set-up outside during the following times:

- Mondays 10 am – 2 pm
- Tuesdays 10 am – 2 pm
- Thursdays 10 am – 2 pm
- Fridays 10 am – 1 pm

With van service still not delivering holds between libraries in the Monarch System we will only be able to fill your requests for items we have here at Kewaskum Public Library, and we are excited to do that. New items have been received and will be ready for you to place holds on soon.

Here are some specifics of Library To-Go:

- Search our online catalog www.monarchcatalog.org or use the Monarch2Go app and limit your search to items owned by Kewaskum Public Library. Place your requests.
- You may also call the library at (262) 626-4312 or email us at kewaskum@monarchlibraries.org to place requests. You will be limited to five (5) requests per phone call or email.
- When you receive a notification that your holds are ready to be picked up, call us to schedule a time to pick up your items. They will be checked out to you, bagged, and placed on a cart near the outside book drops. Your bag will be marked with the first three letters of your last name. Pick up time slots are available during the hours listed above. Only one person per 10-minute pick-up time is allowed. Family items can be bagged together.

• All items checked out will have due dates of June 1 or later that will be extended as needed. Items you already have checked out are not due until June 1 and will not accrue any fines. We prefer you keep your items at home until we reopen, but you may return them in the outside book drops. Do not place returned materials on the pick-up cart. Items returned in the book drops will be quarantined for at least 72 hours before being checked in.

The library building will remain closed until further notice, but the library has never been closed completely during this time. We are open for all digital services, expanding access by adding more eBooks through our digital library and offering more resources that you can access from home such as Ancestry Library Edition. We have been open for virtual programming using Facebook Live for Wednesday morning story time and the Adult Recipe Club. Providing Library To-Go further indicates we are still open while keeping staff and the community healthy and safe.

Stay well. Hope to see you soon.

West Bend Theatre Company Announces Two Shows For 2020

The West Bend Theatre Company is pleased to announce a pair of shows in 2020, as well as a four-show season in 2021.

The West Bend Theatre Company is adhering to guidance being suggested by local, state and federal authorities regarding the COVID-19 pandemic. When it is appropriate to do so, the organization is excited to return to the stage and perform for local theatergoers. The shows are subject to change.

The West Bend Theatre Company wants to think positively during these unprecedented times and give people something to look forward to.

With that in mind, the 2020 shows include:

- "The GrandMaster's Feast" is a collaboration of traditional madrigal dinner and adlib acting generated by the performers. Show is Saturday, October 3, at the West Bend Masonic Center. In person auditions are set for September 1-2 and digital auditions are soon to be announced.

- Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" returns from a sold-out run in 2019. It has been produced annually for a decade. It will be performed at the West Bend Masonic Center. Auditions will be 9 a.m.-noon October 3 for the adult roles and 1-3 p.m.

October 3 for the children roles, digital auditions are soon to be announced.

Here are the 2021 shows with dates, times and venues to be announced at a later date.

- "Calendar Girls." A true story based on 11 ladies of the Yorkshire Women's Institute who pose for a nude calendar to raise unprecedented money for the British Leukemia Research Fund. In 2010, it was the "What's On Stage Award" for Best New Comedy, written by Colin Firth.

- "The Secret Garden." Winner of three Tony Awards – nominated for seven – in 1991, "The Secret Garden" tells the story of an 11-year-old orphan from India Mary Lennox who returns to Yorkshire to live with her embittered, reclusive uncle Archibald and his invalid son Colin. Story is based on the theme that a child's love and kindness can heal the emotional scars and overcome isolation.

- "End of the Rainbow." A musical drama by Peter Quilter focusing on the months leading up to Judy Garland's stunning final performances at Talk of the Town in 1968. In 2019, Renee Zellweger won an Academy Award for Best Actress for her portrayal of Garland. Features songs such as "Smile," "The Trolley Song," "Come Rain or Come Shine," "When You're Smiling", and "Somewhere Over The Rainbow."

- "Our Town." Narrated by a stage manager and performed with minimal props and sets, audiences follow the Webb and Gibbs families as their children fall in love, marry, and eventually – in one of the most famous scenes in American theatre – die. It was written by Thornton Wilder, a Madison native. It won a Pulitzer in 1938 and a Tony in 1989. The theme of "how precious life really is" feels even more important than ever.

"We're delighted to announce 'Our Town,' 'End of the Rainbow,' 'Calendar Girls,' and 'The Secret Garden' for our 2021 season," said Nancy Storrs, president of West Bend Theatre Company. "These shows were chosen to endorse the theme of 'Togetherness and Healing' in support of non-profit organizations in the greater West Bend area."

Performance dates for the 2021 shows will be announced at a later date. Digital auditions for all upcoming shows will be accepted. Watch for digital audition information to be posted at www.wbtheatreco.com.

Founded in 2010, incorporated in 2017, the West Bend Theatre Company is a non-profit theater entity presenting live theater, camps, workshops and special events. The mission of the West Bend Theatre Company is to celebrate, enhance, and inspire by producing excellent theatre and by giving back to our community.

What We Lost Part 4: Bits And Pieces

By Karl McCarty

Some of the stories we pass down end up being sentences. Maybe it is just a reference that took two minutes to speak. However, you look back and it sticks with you. The following tidbits are just stories of passing: not long, not deep, but very helpful in dating stories of the Native Americans on the east side of Fond du Lac County. It is part four of a series that reflects on the Native Americans who were once here, and the natural landscape and species that used to be.

A Stolen Pig

One of those stories came from Neal Straub (1924-2015). His father was Hugo (1900-1967), who grew up on a farm east of St. Kilian. What became the Straub farmstead had natives passing through it. Apparently they wanted something to eat, but that didn't happen as Casper and Susan said no. Hugo, their son, witnessed all of this and told his son Neal years later: a pig was taken anyways.

Neal didn't really say the story with malice towards the natives, as he could understand where the natives were coming from. Actually, I remember Neal smiling about the story.

The value of the story is many. First, because Hugo was a child, this story is at or around 1905, and gives a placement when "native attacks" was a plausible

Hugo Straub in his wedding picture in the 1920s. His lifetime spanned seven decades and witnessed many changes on the landscape in the area. He saw the original Straub homestead turn into a chicken coop as it was replaced by a new house built on the farm east of St. Kilian. In addition, he witnessed some of the last Native Americans in the area in a story that dates to around 1905.

fear. Second, it also illustrates natives no longer living on property in Fond du Lac County. Neal's version of the story was one in which the natives were begging. This contrasts to the story great-grandpa Nic Stoffel passed to Joe Koch, and how natives were living in a longhouse between 1860 and 1875ish (Part 3 of this series).

Third, Neal's story matches Dave Rose's timeline of the last Indians of Eden township (Part 2), in which Dave's uncle Paul Grahl recalled natives being booted out. This had to happen after 1880 (Paul Grahl was born in 1876), and closer to the century turning.

Fourth, accordingly, anybody can compare the early plats of Fond du Lac County (1862, 1874, 1893 and 1910) and see the forests dwindled. And of course in time nature shrinks because family descendants split the land, developed parcels or sold it to newcomers as the non-native population increased. In short, natives were running out of room. Natives can hide in the woods or be a tolerated squatter when the parcels are big (1860), but as the forests were cleared it

This postcard was labeled on the back as "A Typical Scene along Laona Lakes & Streams" and postmarked 1923. Although teepees were more common on the great plains, birch bark could be used in a similar way. In this image, natives use birch bark for both wigwam and teepee forms. Laona is in Forest County, Wisconsin, so it's likely this image is of the Forest County Potawatomi. -postcard courtesy of Karl McCarty was another story: "Get off my land!"

This is why some of the smallest stories are the best. I did not record Neal on this, but remembered him telling me the story. There are stories that, however short, indicated a cultural change. Hugo Straub caught the tail end of meandering Native Americans.

Wigwams In Ashford

Another one-liner comes from, "The History of St. Martin Parish. Ashford, Wisconsin," a book compiled by Gerry Jaeger with the help of many others listed in the book. It notes that in the 1850s, "There were six inhabited wigwams in the Town of Ashford. No horses, only oxen were used on the Indian Trails or for farming."

This picture of Neal Straub was taken by his wife Lyra and dated 1999. More than once Neal discussed how he was concerned that younger generations had no clue the struggles farmers and settlers had in the early 1900s. He also had the balance and wisdom to conclude what happened to Native Americans in the area was wrong, an understanding probably shaped by working land that was in his family for four generations from the mid-1800s to the 1980s.

What We Lost Part 4: Bits And Pieces

In another instance, Kenny Schaefer said when he moved into Ashford around the mid-1900s, he was told a local claimed that there used to be wigwams in the vicinity. That story implied the wigwams were actually in Ashford, as in the unincorporated hamlet, rather than a generic claim about the township. He said the story dated back to settlement days too, which correlates to around 1850. It is possible that the settlements were right in what became the hamlet, as those who grew up there in the 1930s and 1940s seconded that the water supply was so easy. One person said their water well was about 10 to 15 feet deep. Good water is good living.

That being said, those are two sources not exactly the same. In yet another story, one source, who spent his earlier years searching for arrowheads in the area, said he was told land north of Ashford but south of South Eden was another good location for natives, and perhaps wigwams too in settler memory. In addition, in that story the wigwams may have been in the shape of teepees.

Skeletal Remains

And yet other stories revolve around finding skeletal remains. Gary and Rosalie Henschel's

Museum by the Sheboygan Marsh has a neat collection of artifacts from Native Americans. Equally impressive is their collection and copies of documents regarding other native sites and discoveries. One of those copies included a story about native grave sites 125 years ago. According to the Racine Daily Journal (April 25th, 1894), "An Indian cemetery has been discovered near Fond du Lac. It is in a gravel pit and the men are finding any number of Indian skeletons."

On the same page of the above notes, there is a small story The Centralia Enterprise and Tribune published on June 10, 1899, (page 6), stating on June 6th "An Indian skeleton was dug up on the farm of Matt and Joseph Leon, one mile south of St. Cloud, Sunday. There is nothing strange in finding an Indian skeleton, but this one was a giant in size, his frame measuring seven feet. He must have been a man of note among his people, for he was buried in a large mound, 16 handsome arrows surrounding his body. The skull was brought to this city [Fond du Lac] and is on exhibition in one of the Main Street Windows. Near the Huber gravel pit, skeletons by the hundreds have been dug up for the past several years. Most of the bodies are in a sitting position, with the face towards the east, to face the rising sun."

Ironically, when verifying information with Gerry Jaeger about Ashford history, he also mentioned that skeletal remains were found east of the Town Hall where he used to farm in Ashford. They were removing ground around their pit area in an attempt to get some sand in the late 1960s, and the digging ended up hitting bones. He described them as mounds, but significantly small, not in the same context as other burial mounds (mentioned in Part 1).

Then they had to wait for the historical society, among others, that someone's body hadn't been buried there in recent years. Although the burials were not large, there were apparently at least three spots where there were bones, one being a child and the others apparently an older female and male. But the authorities involved could tell they were Native American by the way they were buried. The bones were removed, and they ran into nothing else after that instance. Nothing is left today, but the small story passed on.

What other native stories from the area are you aware of?

Prevent Underage Drinking: Have Small Talks

—New Campaign Gives Adults The Knowledge And Tools To Start Talking With Kids About Alcohol

In a major effort to prevent underage drinking, the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) launched Small Talks, a campaign to reduce the number of kids who drink alcohol before the age of 21.

This statewide effort, unveiled in conjunction with Alcohol Awareness Month, encourages adults — especially parents and caregivers — to have short, casual conversations with kids starting at age eight on the dangers of underage drinking.

"Underage drinking is a real problem in Wisconsin, and it starts earlier and can be more dangerous than you might think. But parents, loved ones, and other caring adults can make a real difference," said DHS secretary-designee Andrea Palm. "Research shows that adults are the most powerful influence on a kid's choices about underage drinking. All you have to do is talk. There's no big production necessary. You can have a small talk anytime, anywhere."

Many of these everyday opportunities to have a small talk are happening right now during the time spent at home during the COVID-19 public health emergency. Small talks can happen while watching a TV show, playing video games, and listening to music. Help a kid sort out what they see on TV, hear from friends, and hear from their favorite bands before someone hands them a drink.

Despite recent success reducing underage drinking, there is an ongoing need to prevent it. According to recent surveys, in Wisconsin:

- Sixty-five percent of teens have tried alcohol.

- Nearly 42,000 high school students report trying alcohol by age 13.

- Two out of three teens don't see underage drinking as a risk.

Underage drinking is risky. When youth drink alcohol, they can damage and even block the development of healthy pathways in the brain that shape how kids behave, feel, grow, and learn. Damage like that can have lifelong emotional, physical, and social consequences.

Visit the Small Talks campaign website — SmallTalksWI.org — for underage drinking talk facts and tips. Share your small talk moments on social media using #SmallTalksWI.

Governor Evers has proclaimed April 2020 as Small Talks Alcohol Awareness Month in Wisconsin. Alcohol Awareness Month is recognized nationally every April. People of all ages are encouraged to take time this month to learn about the health and safety impacts of drinking alcohol. A series of new data dashboards on the DHS website provides the most up-to-date data on alcohol use in Wisconsin and its consequences.

People struggling with harmful alcohol use, or whose loved ones are struggling, can call the Wisconsin Addiction Recovery Helpline at 833-944-4673. This free and confidential service is staffed by trained specialists who offer information on local treatment services.

THE HISTORY OF SAINT MARTIN PARISH

ASHFORD, WISCONSIN

The History of Saint Martin Parish, compiled by Gerry Jaeger and others, documents that there were wigwams in Ashford until the 1850s. Besides history, the book includes many pictures of the old parish, and documents those locals who attended the school and helped the church succeed over 150 years. Those interested in a book can call Gerry at 920-904-6518.

KMS Student Plays In State Music Contest

The Kewaskum Middle School eighth grade woodwind ensemble earned a first rating in Class B at the Solo Ensemble Festival.

"I think I prefer doing it in person rather than recording it,"

For the recording, Kaitlyn was not able to have her music teacher, Rachael Holmes, accompany her on the piano like she did for the district contest.

Kewaskum Middle School band students participated in the district Solo and Ensemble in Germantown on February 29, and this year marked the first time KMS students qualified to go to state for at least 20 years.

Earning scores to advance to state were Kaitlyn Blank on a flute solo and Alyvia Anderson and Kaitlyn Blank on a flute duet.

Because of the state's current social distancing rules, the duet was not able to perform in the state contest; only solos were permitted in the state's virtual program.

"Kaitlyn performed the Vivaldi Concerto in A Minor. I have hardly even heard high school flute players attempt this piece of music. Kaitlyn put countless hours in perfecting all of the technical passages and played it very expressively. Her performance at Solo and Ensemble was one of the best things I've ever heard as a teacher and it was an honor to be able to accompany her on this solo," Holmes said about Kaitlyn's solo.

Kaitlyn practices her flute at least an hour every day on the weekends and stayed after school to practice. The hard work paid off, and she scored a two at the state level, coming just shy of the top score.

About the flute duet, Holmes remarked, "Kaitlyn and Alyvia are in their third year of playing the flute. They have been stand out musicians since the very beginning. Alyvia could play a full range chromatic scale part way through sixth grade. It was incredible. They have pushed each other to be better musicians and have been playing duets all throughout middle school. Their work ethic and countless hours of practice have put them well ahead of their peers."

Overall, this is one of the strongest showings that Kewaskum Middle School students have had in recent years. All

This year, more students played advanced music than ever before.

Students earned the following scores:

First Place Rating In Class A Events Advancing To State: Kaitlyn Blank (flute solo), and Alyvia Anderson and Kaitlyn Blank (flute duet).

Parade Celebrates Teen's 13th Birthday

The parade of police cars and firetrucks was an incredible present for Dan.

"Just for them to come by here when they are probably on duty is amazing because they are actually taking time to realize it is my birthday, and it is just amazing," Dan said.

The day started out special for Dan. He woke up to a house decorated with birthday balloons. His mother, Melissa Zeman, and his 11-year-old sister, Sarah Zeman, had stayed up til 1 a.m. the previous night decorating the entire house.

"While they were doing that, I was just up in my bed," Dan said.

After eating his birthday breakfast of French toast, Dan played various games with this family. They played things like Wisconsinopoly, Mario Kart, and Super Smash Bros.

"We were just having family at the house, playing a couple games, just trying to make it like a normal party," Dan said.

"We usually have parties for both the kids. With us not being able to have a big party with all the family because we are under quarantine, we wanted to do something else," Melissa said.

Because the family had to stay at home, they decided to surprise Dan with a birthday parade.

In addition to having the police and fire department parade past the house, different friends and community members paraded past the house to wish Dan a happy birthday. One of the first ones to come past the house was Dan's friend Riley Kuehl.

Middle School, hasn't been able to see his friend since the school building closed last month.

Dan said it has been an adjustment not being able to see his friends.

"It's been a little bit tough. I can't go over to people's houses or anything. I talk to them on Xbox a lot. I also text them frequently," Dan explained.

Although he misses seeing his friends, Dan admits that he enjoys attending class from home. He said the adjustment has been fairly easy.

"It has been kind of like normal school because a lot of the stuff is already electronic," Dan said. "It really is not that much different, except we are at home."

What does Dan think is the best part about attending school from home?

"I can sit at home in my PJ's wrapped up in a blanket and do schoolwork," he said.

It is not all a breeze, though. Dan's mom has developed a rigorous chore schedule for both children to follow when they finish their schoolwork each day.

The online schooling may help Dan with planning his future. He would like to eventually attend college and start a career in information technology (IT).

"For my 10-year plan, I'm thinking about starting off at Piggly Wiggly, then moving on to Subway, and from there hopefully go into IT," Dan said.

Attending school from home has taught Dan other lessons as well.

"So you are stuck at home. That doesn't mean that you are in solitary confinement. There is stuff you can do at home. Try and make the most of it," Dan said.

Wisconsin State Parks And Forests To Reopen May 1

—Fees Required, Limited Capacity And Modified Hours

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources will reopen 34 state parks and forests on Friday, May 1, at the direction of Gov. Evers with special conditions.

Under Gov. Evers' Badger Bounce Back Plan, which outlines important criteria for Wisconsin to be able to reopen its economy in phases and includes steps to make sure workers and businesses are prepared to reopen as soon as it is safe to do so, the DNR will modify current operations to maintain the safest environment for visitors and staff.

Due to unprecedented crowds, litter, vandalism and the need to protect the health and safety of our visitors and staff, Gov. Evers directed the DNR to close 38 Wisconsin State Parks, Forests and Recreational Areas on Friday, April 10.

To minimize overcrowding, allow for social distancing requirements and to promote a safe and enjoyable experience for visitors, the following conditions will be put into place at all state park system properties until further notice beginning May 1:

Admission Required

An annual park sticker and/or trail pass will be required to visit state parks and trails.

Annual stickers will be available for purchase with credit card by phone 8 a.m.-3 p.m. seven days a week by calling toll free: 1-888-305-0398. We thank you in advance for your patience as we may be experiencing heavy call volumes.

Annual passes are

NOT available for purchase at individual properties. Visitors must have an annual admission sticker adhered to their vehicle or proof of purchase for entry.

Once proof of purchase is shown, visitors must place proof of purchase on the dash of the windshield while parked within the boundary of the property.

The 2020 annual vehicle admission sticker is valid through December 31, 2020.

Hours Of Operation

State parks and forests will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily, a change from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Properties will be closed to the public every Wednesday for maintenance and upkeep.

Northern Forests, Flowages, Lower Wisconsin Riverway, and Wild Rivers will be open 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week. Specific properties listed below.

- Black River State Forest
- Brule River State Forest
- Chippewa Flowage

- Governor Knowles State Forest
- Lower Wisconsin State Riverway
- Northern Highland-American Legion State Forest
- Pike Wild River
- Pine-Popple Wild River
- Turtle Flambeau Flowage
- Willow Flowage

Hunting and fishing will be allowed on all open properties in accordance with legal season structure and hours. Access to some areas may be limited to walk-in or water access only.

The following properties will remain closed for the health and safety of the public, staff, and property integrity:

- Gibraltar Rock State Natural Area
- Pewit's Nest State Natural Area
- Parfrey's Glen State Natural Area

Dells of The Wisconsin River state natural area

NOTE: Capital Springs State Recreation Area and Cross Plains State Park are managed cooperatively with multiple partners and municipalities and as such were removed from the closure list in April.

Boat Launches

DNR boat launches are open at open state properties.

All anglers and recreational boaters should practice social distancing and keep travel to a minimum.

If individuals can lawfully access Wisconsin's rivers and lakes, they are free to navigate upon them while engaging in outdoor recreation.

Trails

All linear/rail trails are open to the public, which includes ATV trails.

The Ice Age Trail remains open.

An annual state trail pass is required for anyone age 16 or older biking, cross-country skiing, horseback riding or in-line skating on certain trails. A state trail pass is NOT required for walking or hiking. The annual trail passes are valid through December 31 of the year they are issued.

Restrooms And Buildings

Restrooms at all state properties will be closed. This includes the closure of restrooms on properties currently open to the public.

All other facilities will remain closed, including towers, shelters, playgrounds, nature centers, headquarters, contact stations and concession buildings.

Attractions where social distancing cannot be achieved will be closed as needed at various properties.

Pre-Determined Safety Capacity Limitations

At times, many properties will likely reach their pre-determined safety capacity. When this happens, visitors may be denied entry to the park until existing visitors leave. Visitors are encouraged to explore other DNR recreation areas or visit during non-peak hours before 10 a.m. and after 4 p.m.

State Parks likely to temporarily prohibit additional visitors include:

- Governor Knowles State Forest
- Meadow Valley State Wildlife Area
- Tiffany Wildlife Area
- Van Loon State Wildlife Area

Volunteer activities remain suspended at DNR properties.

All events and special event permits are canceled until May 26.

"We are excited to reopen several of our state parks and forests for the public to enjoy. We want to thank everyone for their cooperation with our new operating schedule and procedures," said DNR secretary Preston D. Cole.

"We must do all that we can to prevent the spread of COVID-19. When visiting our treasured state parks and forests, remember to stay close to home, practice social distancing and carry hand sanitizer. Please enjoy the outdoors responsibly and be more than safe."

The DNR urges visitors to do their part when visiting DNR properties. Most Wisconsin state parks, forests and other day-use areas do not have garbage or recycling bins. When you visit, please take your garbage and recyclables home with you. We all play a vital role in taking care of our natural resources. Following the Leave No Trace principles helps protect the land for generations to come.

Visitors are reminded to practice social distancing of six feet, refrain from congregating in large groups, travel only within your home communities and follow all existing state park rules and guidelines. Visitors are also encouraged to wear masks in situations where social distancing is difficult.

The DNR continues to receive the most up-to-date information and will adjust operations as conditions change. We will also continue to monitor on-the-ground circumstances each day to determine additional conditions that may become necessary. Before visiting other properties, please check with individual parks regarding changes to park operations.

For specific information regarding the COVID-19 we encourage the public to frequently monitor the DHS website for updates, and to follow @DHSWI on Facebook and Twitter, or dhs.wi on Instagram. Additional information can be found on the CDC website.

DNR Recommends Avoiding Feeding Deer —Feeding Can Do More Harm Than Good

Despite relatively mild winter conditions, the sight of snow and cold temperatures often results in a desire for Wisconsinites to feed deer and other wildlife that typically adapt both physically and behaviorally to even the harshest winter weather.

Residents and landowners should consider the negative — and sometimes harmful — impacts of feeding wildlife. Consider alternatives that provide long-term benefits to help wildlife through a cold and snowy winter season.

Except for a few far northern counties, Wisconsin's deer herd appears to be faring well so far this winter. Relatively mild temperatures and only moderate snow levels have enabled deer to move freely throughout most areas of the state.

Feeding deer can draw them out of wintering habitats that would have had forage and cover to help them conserve energy. It can also increase the risk of disease transmission, such as chronic wasting disease (CWD). Feeding deer can also result in severe digestive issues and even death when inappropriate food types are provided.

"The best method of helping deer through the winter is to provide them with good habitat in summer and fall," said Tim Marien, DNR wildlife health biologist. "As winter conditions kick in, their metabolism changes, allowing them to eat less."

Deer also need to reserve energy by moving less, traveling the minimum distance necessary to feed until spring. Finding cover that protects them from wind, like cattail marshes, conifer tree stands or other types of cover can help deer survive through winter.

Landowners can help provide the necessary habitat to support wildlife throughout the winter in a variety of ways. Cutting trees and providing brush (leaves, twigs, and buds of woody plants) is a more natural food source than feeding deer and can also provide better habitat in the long run. Maintaining nutritious natural food sources like oak, aspen and crabapple provides summer and fall food, while evergreen tree stands create a winter food source and shelter. Good habitat fulfills the needs of many deer, rather than a few individuals.

Animals with adequate fat reserves and good winter cover are more likely to survive the cold winter months. "We all want to see healthy deer on the landscape, but winter feeding is not the best solution and can actually be harmful if done improperly," said Marien. "Clear cuts and other efforts to improve habitat can provide natural food sources that support deer and many other types of wildlife year-round."

As a reminder, feeding deer is illegal in more than half of Wisconsin counties. Where it is legal, regulations restrict the location and amount of food that may be placed. Additionally, it is illegal to feed elk anywhere in the state. If elk are visiting a bait or recreational feeding site, it is the responsibility of the landowner to immediately remove the food. For a full list of wildlife feeding regulations and counties where feeding is allowed, please visit the DNR's baiting and feeding webpage.

Visit dnr.wi.gov and search keywords "winter feeding" to learn more. A variety of resources are available to help landowners improve their land for wildlife, including the Deer Management Assistance Program, the Young Forest Initiative and the Landowner Incentive Program. More information on these programs and additional publications is available on the DNR website by searching keyword "landowner."

Please be advised of the following requirements to appear before the board of review and procedural requirements if appearing before the board:

1. No person will be allowed to appear before the board of review, to testify to the board by telephone, or to contest the amount of any assessment of real or personal property if the person has refused a reasonable written request by certified mail of the assessor to enter onto property to conduct an exterior view such property being assessed.

2. After the first meeting of the board of review and before the board's final adjournment, no person who is scheduled to appear before the board of review may contact or provide information to a member of the board about the person's objection, except at a session of the board. Open book shall occur no less than 7 days prior to the board of review.

3. The board of review may not hear an objection to the amount or valuation of property unless, a least 48 hours before the board's first scheduled meeting, the objector provides to the board's clerk written or oral notice of an intent to file an objection, except that upon a showing of good cause and the submission of a written objection, the board shall waive that requirement during the first 2 hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, and the board may waive that requirement up to the end of the 5th day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than 5 days with proof of extraordinary circumstances for failure to meet the 48-hour notice requirement and failure to appear before the board of review during the first 2 hours of the first scheduled meeting.

4. Objections to the amount of valuation of property shall first be made in writing and filed with the clerk of the board of review within the first 2 hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, except that, upon evidence of extraordinary circumstances, the board may waive that requirement up to the end of the 5th day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than 5 days. The board may require objections to the amount of valuation of property to be submitted on forms approved by the Department of Revenue, and the board shall require that any forms include stated valuations of the property in question. Persons who own land and improvements to that land may object to the aggregate valuation of that land and improvements to that land, but no person who owns land and improvements to that land may object only to the valuation of that land or only to the valuation of improvements to that land. No person may be allowed in any action or proceedings to question the amount or valuation of property unless the written objection has been filed and that person in good faith presented evidence to the board in support of the objections and made full disclosure before the board, under oath, of all of that person's property liable to assessment in the district and the value of that property. The requirement that objections be in writing may be waived by express action of the board.

5. When appearing before the board of review, the objecting person shall specify in writing the person's estimate of the value of the land and of the improvements that are the subject of the person's objection and specify the information that the person used to arrive at that estimate.

6. No person may appear before the board of review, testify to the board by telephone, or object to a valuation if that valuation was made by the assessor or the objector using the income method of valuation, unless the person supplies the assessor with all the information about income and expenses, as specified in the assessor's manual under s.73.03 (2a), Wis. stats., that the assessor requests. The Town of Farmington has an ordinance for the confidentiality of information about income and expenses that is provided to the assessor under this paragraph that provides exceptions for persons using information in the discharge of duties imposed by law or the duties of their officer or by order of a court.* The information that is provided under this paragraph, unless a county determined that it is inaccurate, is not subject to the right of inspection and copying under s. 19.35(1), Wis. stats.

7. The board shall hear upon oath, by telephone, all ill or disabled persons who present to the board a letter from a physician, surgeon, or osteopath that confirms their illness or disability. No other persons may testify by telephone unless the Board, in its discretion, has determined to grant a property owner's or their representative's request to testify under oath by telephone or written statement.

8. No person may appear before the board of review, testify to the board by telephone, or contest the amount of any assessment unless, at least 48 hours before the first meeting of the board, or at least 48 hours before the objection is heard if the objection is allowed under s.70.47 (3) (a), Wis. stats., that person provides to the clerk of the board of review and, if so, which member, and provides a reasonable estimate of the length of time the hearing will take.

Notice is hereby given this 30th day of April, 2020.
